The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail asserts that a Chinaman who was employed at the British legation as a writer and interpreter, has escaped from Pekin to Niu Chwang, and that he declares that at the time he left Pekin most of the members of the legations were dead, and the condition of the others was hopeless. Salisbury Takes No Stock in Chinese Reports-More Rain in India, But Not Enough Yet.

THE BOER ENVOYS. Paris, July 26.-Messrs. Fischer, Wolmarans and Wessels, the Boer delegates, were received yesterday by President Loubet in the Palace of the Elysee. They were presented by Mr. Leyds, the diplomatic agent of the Transvaal.

WILLIAM BUYS A VILLA. Berlin, July 26.-The Emperor William has bought from Crown Prince Frederick William a villa in Bonn. The former owner was Prof. Finkler, who superintended the German University exhibit at the Columbian Exposition. The villa will be the home of the crown prince and his brothers during their university course.

DISCREDITED REPORTS. London, July 26.-The British premier, Lord Salisbury, notified United States Ambassador Choate that it was impossible to accept the evidence so far submitted by the Chinese, or that transmitted by the United States, regarding the safety of the foreign minister at Pekin, and that until their safety should be thoroughly established the British Government would be unable to discuss any question of mediation or kindred matters. PROSPECTUS CRITICISED.

London, July 26.—There are some criticisms of the prospectus published of what the papers call Le Roy, No. 4, being issued by the London Globe Finance Corporation, and British-American Corporation, of Kootenay Mining Company, Limited. The capital stock is £400,000. The object is to acquire a group of mines or mineral claims known as the Columbia, Kooteproperty embracing an area of 126 acres. The purchase price was £350,-000. The Westminster Gazette says that the prospectus, in its bareness, is too impudent for criticism. It merely says: "Furnish us with £400,000, for the directors anticipate satisfactory dividends."

RAIN IN INDIA.

London, July 26.-The governor of Bombay Presidency, Lord Northcote, of Exeter, reports a general rainfall, sufficient for agricultural purposes, in Surat and Southern Gujarat. He says that two and a half inches of rain has fallen since Tuesday in Godhra and Panch Mahals, an inch in several parts of Ahmedabad, over half an inch in parts of Kaira, and sufficient in portions of Baroda adjoining Surat. the remainder of Baroda no rain has fallen, and an extensive failure of crops is inevitable unless there is immediate relief. In Okhamadal the rainfall has been insufficient, and cultivation is at a standstill in almost the entire Province of Kathiawar, where cattle are dying of starvation and scar-city of water. There have been good rains in Bombay, Khandeish and the Deccan, where prospects are greatly improved. The death rate in Gajarat has decreased nearly one-half as com-pared with that of May.

Mr. Chamberlain welcomed the issue raised by the motion, which he declared meant that the war was wrong. Proceeding, he spoke of the Government's present policy, which he said was not vindictive, proposing only to disarm rebels politically for ten years. He believed the hope of a reaction at home was prolonging the war.

The opposition did not spare Mr. Chamberlain, Liberal members sharply interrupted him and charged him with misquoting other speakers, and reminded him that the whole history of South Africa the past seven years had furnished substantial ground for him to be suspected in all his actions. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House of Commons, declared that Mr. Chamberlain had prostituted the occasion to the purpose of making an electioneering

Of the Tragedy of the Century.

What a Writer Who Visited China Thinks of the Situation in the Far Task Ahead-The City of Canton and Its Inhabitants.

Mr. Robert Paterson, who was in China some two years ago, while traveling for a firm in Scotland, writes the following interesting letter to the Ad-

Some fears are entertained for Canton. The hot blood of the Southern Chinese, once set aflame by rapine and riot, would be a fire difficult to quench. Canton is some 60 to 70 miles from Hong Kong, and is a peopled city of 1,000,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the river, line peculiarity of the situation is that the European population lives on an island which lies close to the main shore and city and is connected with Canton by a drawbridge. Some 60 villa and office buildings are erected on this island, and there all the white people live. The French predominate, as Canton is the great silk market of the world. The large silk houses of Lyons, France, have their buyers and warehouses situated there. The German and English merchants are also represented, besides quite a few missionaries. The writer spent a most interesting day in Canton, sight-seeing under the guidance of that prince of guides, Ah Cum. accident tied one end of the rope This most intelligent and refined Chinaround his left arm. He was just in the This most intelligent and refined Chinese courier conducts parties daily through the labyrinths of the wonderful old Chinese town.

Canton is a walled city, and when one realizes the enormous population and bears in mind that the broadest avenue is not more than eight feet wide, some idea may be arrived at of the ant-hill nature of the city. Needless to say there are no electric cars in Canton. The means of locomotion is by palanquin; three Chinamen bear the visitor along through the narrow streets with a delightfully swinging motion, and apparent ease. The Cantonese may be likened to the hot may, Tip Top, Copper, Jack and South blooded Italians of Southern Europe, Kootenay, located at Rossland, the as the north country or Manchurian as the north country or Manchurian Chinaman may be compared with the phlegmatic Scandinavian of Northern Europe. These same Manchus are now in a state of rebellious frenzy, and as we hear of the atrocities committed. we can well fear the lighting of the torch of rebellion in this southern and inflammable Canton district.

Hong Kong is well protected. cannot say so much for Shanghai, where some 8,000 whites live. Shanghai is the great commercial center The English, German and French have concessions from Chinese government. The English settlement is in the best part of the city, now. while the French is, so to speak, pushed into a corner and is a dead alive district.

Bubbling Well Road, where Li Hung Chang is staying now, is the principal suburban English residential district, and between which and the business quarter or river front lies a great native city, densely populated by Chinese merchants and others working for a living on the foreigner. The native city is inclosed by walls and is a den that the writer did not feel anxious to explore. As a business man the Chinese native merchant is all that could be desired-honest and straightforward, and "his word is as good as his bond" every time. The city is govered municipally by a body of men, drawn from the European and Chinese population, who sit in council together and judge cases from both or mayor of the town, and is appointthe Chinese government Taotai Sheng seems to be a pretty slick customer, and his word just at present does not bear reliance. The civilized nations have a job on their hands which will prove to be a big one before it is with. Much blood will be shed, humanity and civilization will doubtless triumph in the end, and China will benefit at the expense of the European nations. As your able leader of Tuesday puts It China is a collection of different countries, and by no means under one organization, and there lies the difficulty of satisfactory government. What the end may be, who can say? It will be a bad day for China should the ministers prove to have been massacred. nations will have their revenge. and will not stay their hand for many days. A sheet of flame followed instantly, and the terror-stricken girls, with their clothing afire, crawled through the windows to the 15-inch coping running along the front of the building.

The coping extended 80 feet to the building adjoining, the windows of which were thronged with men calling encouragement to the terrified girls. As fast as they reached the adjoining East Civilized Nations Have a Big building the girls were drawn into safety.

Just as Mrs. McLaughlin was about to be helped through a window, the girl behind, in her haste, pushed Mrs. McLaughlin, who lost her balance and fell to the pavement, dying instantly. The two unknown dead girls jumped from rear windows. One was picked up dead and the other died at the hos

ADRIDGED PROSPECTUS.

Issue of £1,191,500 4½ per cent 30-Year (Ontario Division) First Mortgage Debenture Bonds of £100 Each,

Of which £700,000 are now offered for subscription at £90 per cent. Payable as follows:

£5 per cent on Application.

£25 " " Allotment. £20 " " 1st September, 1900.

£20 " " 1st October, 1900.

£20 " 2nd November, 1900.

Or the whole may be paid up in full on allotment, or on the date for payment of any installment, under discount at 41 per cent per annum

The Bonds are a First Mortgage on the Ontario Division of the Canadian Northern Railway (from Port Arthur to the point of crossing the Rainy River at the Western Boundary of the Province of Ontario, 290 miles) and upon its terminals at Port Arthur, and will be a First Mortgage upon 550,000 acres of the Company's land grant, and, subject to First Mortgage Charges, created or to be created, not exceeding $10,000 per mile on the various branches of the Ontario division of the Railway, and on the Winnipeg and Saskatchewan divisions and the branches thereof, the bonds constitute a general charge on its whole undertaking from Port Arthur to the Saskatchewan River. The Bonds are repayable on the 30th June, 1930, and the Coupons are payable half-yearly on 30th December and 30th June. Payment in either case will be made either at the Bank of Scotland, London, or at the fixed rate of $4.86.66 to the £ at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, Canada, at holders' option.

THE BANK OF SCOTLAND AND THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE are authorized to receive subscriptions for the above-mentioned Bonds.

The Canadian Northern Railway system connects the Great Lakes at Port Arthur, via Winnipeg, with the Great Saskatchewan River, at a point West of Cedar Lake.

Port Arthur, at the Canadian head of navigation on Lake Superior, from which there is direct communication with the sea for ocean-going vessels, is a great distributing point via the Great Lakes for the products of Manitoba and the North-West Territories. The object of the Canadian Northern Railway is to connect the fertile valley of the Great Saskatchewan River (navigable for many hundreds of miles) with Lake Superior, traversing the grainfields of Manitoba diagonally from the North-West to the South-East boundary of the Province; the agricultural districts of Rainy Lake, and the celebrated "Iron Range" country of Ontario and Minnesota, which has proved and is proving a great source of wealth to the various American Companies tapping it.

The main line is about 800 miles in length, exclusive of some 120 miles of branches. Of the main line 423 miles (including 36 miles of the Manitoba and North-Western, over which the Company has full running power for fifty years from October, 1896) are ready for traffic, and, it is expected that 200 miles more will be ready for traffic during this year. The remainder will be completed by the 31st December, 1901, by which date the contractors have undertaken to have the whole line fully completed, equipped, and open. The specifications of the Government of Canada, subject to compliance with which the various subsidies have been granted, call for a very complete railway, with low maximum curves and grades, and ample general equipment and terminal facilities. These conditions the contractors have to comply with, and have complied with on the portions of the road already opened, as is shown by the fact that these portions have been passed by the Dominion Government.

The position of the Railway renders it absolutely independent of any other railway, and it passes through rich country, which has almost all hitherto been without railway facilities.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS.

The Company has issued on its Winnipeg and Saskatchewan Divisions 4 per cent. 30-year Gold Bonds, at the rate of $8,000 per mile, which may be increased to $10,000 per mile as above mentioned, which Bonds are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Government of Manitoba.

The present bonded indebtedness of the Company, including the present issue, amounts to $12,531, say, 575 per mile (of main line), and the interest thereon to $539, say £110 15s. per annum per mile.

This low rate of fixed charges results largely from the liberal aid granted to the Company towards construction by the Parliaments of the Dominion of Canada, and the Provinces of Ontario and Manitol a.

INTEREST DURING CONSTRUCTION.

Interest on the present issue of Bonds is guaranteed by the well-known contractors, Messrs. Mackenzie, Mann & Co., of Toronto, Canada, during construction and for one year after the line is opened for traffic.

By yesterday's game of lacrosse between the teams of St. Marys and London, the occupants of the grand stand as well as the members of the local team, became finally convinced that the visitors knew a thing or two about this speedy and fascinating sport. Although there were several extenuating circumstances that would tend to lessen the sting of defeat, a full quota of credit must be given to the clever stick-handlers from the stone town. Their combination work, in several instances, was superb. They caught and passed with rapidity, and with accurate judgment. In this they signally outclassed the boys who were striving to tally on the local side. The result of this evident superiority was that when time was called the score stood 7 to 1 with the locals owning the unit. London notched a goal a few minutes after the game started, and their consequent elation apparently had a bad effect. Although they lacked combination work entirely. they often managed to get the ball within shooting distance, but their shots were always neatly and effectively turned aside by Farr. In the meantime the St. Marys boys tossed the ball at will, from one to the other, and tallied their fourth goal before half-time, and three in the second half.

The line-up was: London-Goal, Gibbons; point, Collison; cover, Smith; defense field, Modeland, Reid, Avey; center, Galbraith; home, Mills, Carter, Vanderburg; outside, Fleming; inside, Foley. The True Relief,

Raduay's Ready Relief
For Internal and External Use. In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Cloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shut up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

The Chinese Situation.

It is still very difficult to tell how matters stand in China and what is the precise relationship of the Chinese Government to the commotions within the Empire, and to the Powers ly and honestly enough desired, you outside. The rumors are varied and conflicting, but one thing is certain, that China is face to face with a crisis may work untold mischief before the chaos le again reduced to order.

for some time. The far eastern ques- rate it is based upon a sound principle. tion has for some time been a sort of It will not do at this time of the day reality. What the full consequences his schemes are too grand to be measwill be no one can forestell. The relationship of China to the rest of the world will be altered, though we cannot yet say in what way and to what extent. What effect it will have in China and the rest of the world, if that great nation can be really brought into the community of nations, so as to share the world's life in the spirit of "give and take." It is difficult to say.

Such a change can only take place gradually. The world, as well as China, will have time to readjust itself to the new conditions. But without looking that far ahead, we can see some immediate effects of the present crisis. Missionary work has received a decided setback. It will no doubt recover, perhaps more quickly than at present seems possible, but only through patient waiting and prudent, courageous effort. Commerce will be affected disastrously. Not only will the fortunes of those who deal in guns be affected, but also those who handle teas, silks and cottons will suffer.

Unless order can soon be restored, some near at home may suffer commercially from the disorders in the Far East. Then the diplomacy of the world will be so much taken up with China for some time that other less clamant interests must fall into the background. If recent accounts are true, Russia will have so much to do in that quarter that she will not be eager for anything else. Now that America is in it she will have to carry out her part, and stand on the side of justice, order, and opposed to any mere land-grabbing. Japan also will have to be recognized and come to a fair influence in the Orient.

We are not pessimistic. We believe that the movement is onward and upvard, though the price may be high. Ve watch with patience and interest hese events, because we are face to lowing Broadwood." ace with a great thing, the meaning of which we cannot yet fully understand.

The Position of Mr. Rhodes.

If there is one thing more than another upon which the best British pinion is thoroughly divided it is as to the character and capability of Mr. Pecil Rhodes. One thing is quite clear, ind that is that on the whole his reputation is much lower than it was ome years ago, and there are many able thinkers who concede his great abilities as a speculator and pioneer, who yet feel that he is no real empireuilder, and that the future peace of Africa depends upon a clear demonstration of the fact that Rhodes is not the incarnation of British policy.

In the July number of the Fortnighthat "the time has come to put aside he prejudices caused by the raid, and avail ourselves freely of the services If the British party, of which, in fact, not in name, Mr. Cecil Rhodes still emains the leader. We have a hard ask before us, and we need the help statesmen who, whatever errors hey may be deemed to have commited, have always been loyal in their llegiance to the mother country."

This is combatted by the Spectator, journal that has long exercised its ritical faculty on Mr. Rhodes as virally asking that the home governent should do its best to back up fr. Rhodes and support his influence South African politics. This is bad lvice, because there is no proof that fr. Rhodes, after all his political bluners, is capable of better things.

The Spectator's indictment against e South African millionaire includes such points as the following: That he hrew £10,000 into the lap of Mr. Parell, not inquiring whether it was to used for "bread" or "lead." Thus the great imperialist, helped those ho were trying to disintegrate the apire. Further, he encouraged the frikander Bund, which was distinctly ti-British in its secret motives and s. He was also responsible for meson's mad action, and, indeed, has otly appointed Dr. Jameson as his factotum and representative. We shall only add one more instance. We believe that the foundation of the Chartered Company and the management of its affairs have shown the same foolish recklessness, the same want of judgment, the same lack of a sense of proportion. The aim has no doubt been good enough-the development of the empire-but the methods by which it has been pursued have been reckless, hasty and ill-considered."

Continuing, the Spectator gives its view of Mr. Rhodes thus: "He appears to hold that if your end is only big enough, and good enough, and sincereneed not trouble about the means, but may plunge recklessly into any and every form of action. In truth, the end is usually, if not always, only a of immense importance to itself and coral island made up of minute cells, the rest of the world. There is a spirit which are the means, and if you are of unrest and suspicion in the air that careless about them you cannot build up a fabric that will last."

We are afraid that there is much China is likely to occupy the stage force in this criticism, and at any ghostly presence troubling the councils to say with some of Mr. Rhodes' deof the nations, but now it is a grim fenders that he is too big a man, and ured by common moral standards. The best British statesmen have surely learned by this time that if you are to build well you must act righteously, and whatever Mr. Rhodes may or may not do in the future, we trust that there will be many strong men in South Africa who know their own minds and who seek the good of the country in their own way, without being enslaved by one big "boss," who represents the money power, and is too ready to sneer at conscience.

Cape Town, July 25 .- In the Cape Assembly yesterday the government indignantly refused to accept a motion in favor of the repeal of martial law in Cape Colony, made by Mr. John Xavier Meriman, former colonial treasurer. Mr. Rose-Innes, attorneygeneral, expressed the readiness of the government to repeal the law whenver repeal should become practicable, but said that the time had not arrived. The house cheered the government's

SENSATIONAL STORIES DENIED. London, July 26.-Both at the Imperial and Canadian Government offices a complete denial is given to the sensational stories set affoat in regard to the war office's treatment of 33 convalescnt Canadians inspected at Golder's Hill by the Prince and Princess of Wales. The war office explanation takes this form:

The Canadians returned from South Africa have, when convalescent, the option of going to a convalescent home or to any friends, if they prefer the latter, as they very often do. They receive an installment of their pay but are still entitled to arrears of their pay allowance. They frequently get rid of the money very quickly, but they have a printed statement with them, informing them that if they get sick they can report memselves at their own quarters or call upon a civil 154 Ptc. A. G. Willoughby, 3rd P. of for whatever services they render, so ing in the parks or being left to starve or die are simply absurd. If wounds or sickness lead to their discharge, they appear at Chelsea and obtain from the service commander daily rates, varying from one shilling sixpence to two shillings sixpence, in case of wounds or physical injuries, and a somewhat lower rate in case of incapacity from sickness. Thus, there is ample provision, but there is nothing to prevent a man from squandering his money.

The military authorities do their best to urge the men to enter the convalescent homes, but it is hard to deny them the privilege of visiting their friends. Recently similar complaints were made, but the explanation proved entirely satisfactory to the House of

Gen. Eaton has made arrangements with Gen. Trotter, commanding the London district, to supply the needs of the invalided Canadians. Gen. Eaton was commandant at Bisley and has taken an active interest in the young soldiers from Canada who have been invalided from South Africa. The Canadians located at the Soldiers' Home have sent in their names, desiring to return to Canada. The Canadians short of funds must blame themselves, as they failed to exercise

BOERS ON THE RUN

With Gens. French and Hutton in Hot Pursuit.

London, July 26 .- Lord Roberts reports to the war office, under date of Balmoral, July 25, as follows: "We marched here yesterday without seeing the enemy. The Boers, on July 24, engaged French and Hutton I six miles south of Balmoral. While that the statements as to their sleep- Alderson's Mounted Infantry attacked the Boers' right French made a turning movement around their left. Seeing their retreat threatend, the Boers broke and fled. French and Hutton followed, and proposed to cross Oliphant's River today, at Naauwpoort. Our casualties were one wounded."

THE MARKETS

Local Market.

London, Thursday, July 26. Anything of a noteworthy character was hard to find on the market this morning. The offerings of fruit were quite large, although it was by no means as abundant as on Tuesday. Red raspberries sold freely for 7½ and 8 cents; and the black ones for 5½ and Black currants were quite plentiful and sold freely at $1 and $1 10 per basket. It is useless at present to quote prices on peaches and pears. They were much in evidence today in basket lots, but the dealers accepted almost anything to make sales. To-matoes sold for 75 cents and $1 10 per basket, and apples for 15 and 20 cents

The trade in poultry was decidedly slow today, but it is anticipated that the supply will be more plentiful after the harvest is completed. Prices will probably drop then. At present they range from 40 to 50 cents per pair. Ducks go for 50 to 75 cents.

Meats were supplied abundantly, in fact, beef was too plentiful. The demand was fair and prices remained

WEAKNESS OF HOSPITALS

Said to be Incapable of Curing One of the Most Deadly Diseases of the Age.

Montreal, July 23.-Mr. William Brownley tells an alarming story of uiter failure of the hospitals to cure him of Bright's disease. He was treated in the best hospitals both in Canada and the United States. They gave him up as incurable. Medical science had failed; the hospitals were powerless to help him. Nevertheless, Mr. Brownley is cured. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him and he is a well man Says Mr. Brown himself: "I have been a subject to Bright's Disease of the Kidneys for twenty years. have been in all the best hospitals in Canada and the United States. I could get no relief. I have just finished eleven boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am completely cured. I am a locomotive engineer and well known, so many can vouch for this statement.

White Men Go Gunning For Negroes.

Three Killed, Three Fatally Wounded and a Dozen Injured.

White Man Arrested and Fined for Expressing Sympathy With the Negroes.

New Orleans, July 26 .- Three negroes dead, three fatally shot and twelve men seriously wounded is the known result of a mob's work in this city last night. Three of the wounded are white men, who were hit by stray bullets. There are many battered negro men and women in the hospitals.

Public feeling here has reached its highest tension, and armed mobs are searching various parts of the city in an effort to apprehend Robert Charles (negro) who shot and killed Police Captain Day and Patrolman Lamb Tuesday morning.

A BIG MOB. Last night a mob composed of several thousand persons formed at Lee Circle, and marched out Charles avenue in a body. It was reported that the mob would and demand the Negro Pierce, who was with Charles when the police officers were killed. The police accordingly sent strong reinforcements to the prison, and when the mob made its appearance its leaders were told that an effort to secure the prisoner would be resisted to the bitter end. Wise counsel prevailed and the members of the throng slowly disappeared.

PROMISCUOUS GUNNING. Small bands of men and boys were soon formed, and scattered to several parts of the city. Many negroes who were on the streets and riding on cars were fired upon with more or less suc-cess. Not since the lynching of the Italians several years ago has there been such general excitement. FINED $25 FOR EXPRESSING HIS OPINION. Edward McCarthy, a young man who came to this city from New York sev-plight. eral days ago, appeared before a police magistrate yesterday. He had been arrested to protect him from a mob which was endeavoring to lynch him because of some remarks in connection with the negro riot. McCarthy had said that negroes had white hearts, were as good as white men and all of them should not be lynched because of the action of two individuals. "Do you consider a negro as good as a white man?" asked the judge, "In body and soul, yes," replied the

He was fined $25, or 30 days in the parish prison. At midnight the mayor issued a proclamation commanding all good citizens to go to their homes. SEVERAL PERSONS SHOT DOWN. All through the night mobs ran riot on a hunt for negroes. The latter became terrorized, and took shelter in their homes and the outhouses of white people who protected them, so it was only the unsuspecting and inoffensive negroes who were the victims. Those the mob got hold of who were not killed were so badly wounded they were left for dead. The police were powerless. As fast as they dispersed a crowd in one section, it reformed, and moved to some other point to continue its devilish work. notorious character took the lead and they headed for the neighborhood of Franklin and Custom House streets. Suddenly they spied a negro in a crowded Villere street car. They halted the car, pulled the trolley off, ordered about 20 passengers out, and then murdered the black. He was dragged out and filled with lead. He was evidently a laborer. His name is not known.

AN OLD MAN MURDERED. About 3 o'clock this morning in the French section of the city, Baptiste Thillo, colored, aged 75 years, was killed and an unknown negro so badly shot that he cannot recover.

in London that the Russian claim to control of the railway from Taku to Pekin will delay the proposed advance of the allies to Pekin.

Washington, July 25. — The Chinese minister said today that while he had been in favor of an instant advance on Pekin, he believed now, in view of the information of the past few days, that such a move would do more harm than good by fanning into greater fury the flames of revolt. A forward movement of the allies would be herelded by come Payers extract be heralded by every Boxer outpost as an advance of the "barbarians" on their way to sack the imperial city. He believed it would be better for the allies to give his country, which he sincerely believed was now in a position to protect foreigners and escort them to Tien Tsin, a chance to do lits best.

ANARCHY AT THE CAPITAL. Che Foo, July 26 .- Gen. Li, commanding the Pei Tang forts, near Talu, reports to the British officer commanding at Tong Ku, that a runner who left Pekin on July 14 reports that Pekin was in a state of absolute anarchy, that the regular troops were fighting the Boxers, and that the latter were getting the better of the struggle; that the Maxim ammunition of the legation guards was exhausted, and that they were using their rifles sparingly; that the guards recently silenced the Chinese guns; that a few princes were desirous of protecting the foreigners, but were in the minority. Gen. Li is anxious to avoid fighting the allies Another version of the story which reached Gen. Li says the British legation was being bombarded when the messenger left Pekin, July 14. Prince Ching, this report says, was assisting the ministers, and his palace was protected by ten thousand Chinese troops. Prince Ching, according to this report, considered himself able to cope with the situation.

IN A BAD WAY.

St. Petersburg, July 25 .- In the opinion of the Russian general staff, the protective force on the railway be-tween Charbin and Tielin must be in a critical position, since no definite news of the situation has been received. All that is known is that the wives and children of the workmen have fled to Charbin. The detachment, which numbers 200, was, at the end of June, threatened by 15,000 Chinese, with artillery. As late as July 17 it had not been heard of, either at Charbin or Sungariver, and it is feared that the force has been annihilated. Russian troops from Nikoisk and Sunga River are hastening to the relief of Charbin and other places in a similar

PRESS CRITICISM.

London, July 26.-The Morning Post's attitude of the United States Government on the Chinese Emperor's appeal is regarded as a dreaded triumph for Chinese diplomacy.

The Daily News says the attitude of the Washington authorities is regarded in Berlin as a regretable error. Similarly the London afternoon papers regret "that the President of the United States has taken a line that can hardly fail to encourage the Chinese to further duplicity." And that 'this is no time for tea table talk.' The press of Berlin continues to sup-port Count Von Buelow's reply to the Chinese minister, Lu Hai Houan, which one journal points out "is all the more welcome as it denotes complete accord with the attitude France and Japan towards the unknown rulers at Pekin." The National Zeitung says Germany cannot consent to support China until she has atoned for the murder of Baron Von Kettler. The Boersen Zeitung says "At all events Pekin will learn that the attempt to detach one or other of the powers from the coalition is a fu-

I blame myself for the mistake made in taking their position by the Ninth Regiment, not remembering that troops fresh to the scene of action and hurried forward in the excitement of attack were likely to lose their way. Still the position they took and gallantly stuck to all day undoubtedly prevented a large body of the enemy from turning the right of the attacking line and inflicting serious loss on the French and Japanese." Gen. Dorward also expressed sympathy with the Americans in the loss of Col. Liscum, commander of the regiment, and commended several officers.

DOUBT GROWS.

Washington, D. C., July 25 .- The re celpts at Tien Tsin of an undoubtedly genuine and autographic message from Minister Conger has done nothing to dissipate the doubt as to the situation at Pekin. The message, which was forwarded by the naval officers at Tien Tsin, Taku and Che Foo, has indeed served only to deepen the darkest and saddest mystery of the century. The official conclusion

Those who notice the difference in name, think perhaps "it's about the same thing." It isn't. Nothing else equals Pearline, the original and standard washing compound. 578 remains unchanged, of course, but it is admitted that a careful scrutiny of the autograph message, in com-parison with the famous cipher message from Minister Conger, admits of the belief that the two messages were indited by Mr. Conger at about the same time. It develops that one of the state department's cipher code books has been stolen, and it is thought to have fallen into the hands of the Chinese government.

It is stated that on the way to the McFarlane home he stopped at the house of the neighbor who had warned him against his son, and there had a will drawn up in which he revoked the provisions of his former will and bequeathed all of his property to his brother and to his promised wife. MOYLAN-CONNELLY. A Chicago correspondent writes: Monday night there was considerable excitement in the neighborhood of the Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago, when thirty or forty St. Thomas people could be seen, accompanied by their Chicago friends, entering that sacred edifice. At 6:30 p.m., Edward J. Moylan, M. C. R. conductor, met Miss Susan Connelly, sister of Mr. Albert Connelly, of the Arlington Hotel, St. Thomas, at the altar, and Father Fitzsimmons, with the aid of the Roman Catholic service, made them man and wife. The bride looked sweet and pretty in white moire satin, with a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Marie Dallaghan, of Chicago, who wore a sky blue organdie, with Honiton lace trimming. The groom was supported by Mr. James Connelly, of St. Thomas. sumptuous breakfast was given by Mr. and Mrs. James Dallaghan, of 293 Rush street, and after the bride and groom had been toasted and had dodged the ordinary amount of good luck articles, they left to enjoy their honeymoon in Milwaukee and the dells of Wisconsin. Wedding presents were handsome and very numerous.

FAMOUS CHICAGO BAND COMING. Secretary Bell, of the Old Boys' reception committee has received several cuts and some reading matter about the Pullman First Infantry Band of the Illinois National Guard. It is the intention of the Chicago branch to bring this band with them when they visit this city on Aug. 6. According to the many newspaper cri-ticisms, it stands in a foremost place among the musical organizations of the state. Indeed, its reputation extends throughout the country. It has been brought to its present state of efficiency largely through the efforts of its leader, Mr. J. F. Hosbrawser, who is an old London boy himself. Some 20 years ago he played with Bandmaster Hiscott in this city. An idea of the band's standing can be gained from the fact that it has delighted thousands at the World's Columbian Exposition (60 days), Illinois State Fair (five seasons), Chicago West Side Park, 1898; Democratic National Convention, Chi-cago, 1892; Republican National Convention, St. Louis, 1896; Sioux Cary Corn Palace, 1891; Washington Park Corn Palace, 1891; Washington Park Club (four seasons), and at many other big events. It comprises 48 musicians of rare ability. Their appearance together is decidedly striking. Their uniform is of Hussar type. The Chicago Times-Herald says that "few if any bands in the country present a more gorgeous appearance." In securing this band to accompany them. curing this band to accompany them, the Chicago Old Boys only give further evidence of an enterprise that has ever been one of their most noticeable

London Builders the Guests of Their Cleveland Brethren-Hearty Reception and a General Good Time.

"They are great entertainers over there," said one gentleman this morning. "They certainly know how to give a person a good -Mrs. A. Fortner, of 60 Mount Pleas- | time." The hosts of yesterday were the guests of the local builders a year ago, and as a good time was then prounturned to reciprocate.

The excursionists arrived in Cleveland from Port Stanley about 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and were met at the boat by a committee from the Cleveland Exchange. They were escorted to the Weddell House for breakfast, after which an informal reception was held at the rooms of the exchange. At 8:30 o'clock the visiting party was escorted through the various public and official buildings of the city. A trolley party was participated in at 9:30 o'clock, and at that time the visit-ors were taken out Euclid avenue to Wade Park and back. From 11 to 1 o'clock a general reception was held at the exchange rooms, and an informal luncheon was served. At 1 o'clock special cars conveyed the visitors and members of the Cleveland Exchange to Scenic Park, where a programme of games and contests was carried out. The first event on the programme was an international game of baseball between the teams of the visiting and local exchanges. This was won by the Clevelanders. Other features of the programme were two tug-of-war contests between teams of 170 pounds or over, and another between teams of less than 170 pounds. Last year the Canadian team carried off the prize for the game of ball, and the tug-of-war contest was won by the American con-testants. The heavy-weight tug-of war team of the Cleveland Exchange was captained by W.J. Warden, and the light-weight team by W. H. Waterbury. The former won this year, and the latter lost.

President McCormick, of the local exchange, was unable to attend, and in his stead Vice-President James Young delivered the address of wel-come on behalf of the exchange. The response was made by the president of the London Exchange. A representative of the Cleveland city government then delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the city, and responses were made by the mayor and ex-mayor of London, the presidents of the boards of trade of London and St. Thomas, and others, Postmaster C. Mysterious Henry Alford, a young Englishman, who has recently been working at Gorman & Eckert, has mysteriously disappeared. Since a week ago Thursday nothing has been seen of him. Those who have met Alford speak of him as a quiet, gentlemanly chap. As far as is known he is not a man of habits such as would lead him to go away in such a manner. It is understood that he does not drink. While here he claimed to be a graduate of an were not any 1-cent pieces coined in English university, and his speech and manner were such as to give the impression that he was of good family. He came to Canada some time ago to learn farming, but, as is so often the case, he was utterly unsuited for an agricultural life. He was dissatisfied with it, and determined to come to this city, where he readily found employment with the firm mentioned. During his residence here he constantly received allowances from the old country. One of these he received on July 19, and since then nothing has been seen or heard of him. His pay from Monday until he went is still owing to him. He lived at a boarding-house near the market. He did not owe the owner any money. His clothing is still there.

ELECTROCUTED

Death of a Lineman on Winnipeg Fair Grounds.

Winnipeg, July 26.-About 9:50 last evening the light in the exhibition grounds suddenly went out. A man who was standing near the electric light transfer just outside the ticket office, saw a brilliant flash, and a lineman who was working at the wires fall from his position near the crossarms of the pole. The spectator ran to the spot at once, lifted the fallenman's head, and found him to be stone dead, having been electrocuted. The deceased man's left hand and arm were badly burned, but his face was not disfigured, and he was identified as William Clark. He had been for some time in the employ of the Electric Street Railway Company. How the accident occurred is a mystery. An inquest will probably be called.

It Is Said That the Boy Herbert Told of the Plans to Kill Sifton.

The Crime Said to Have Been Pre-Ar ranged Between the Son and Himself-Sifton Alleged to Have Struck His Father With the Axe. Since the arrest this morning of

When the elder Sifton was called to the barn he came up the ladvided for them, they left no stone der into the hay-mow. Herbert struck him the first blow with the side of the axe, but his heart failed him, and he dropped the axe and grabbed the old man's arm to keep him from falling. Young Sifton then grabbed the axe and struck two or three blows, then drew the old man up through the ladder hole and struck a couple of more blows as he lay on the floor. The two then carried the unconscious man across the floor and threw him through the hole in the gable to the ground below. They then went down and placed the axe and some bricks under his head. Sifton then told the boy to run and tell the neighbors, while he got a doctor. Barrister T. W. Scandrett, who was this morning called in by Sifton and Herbert, says he asked the boy if he had made any incriminating state-ment, and this the boy denied doing. Mr. Scandrett had a long conversation with the prisoners, and says that Sifton tells a straightforward story of his movements and actions on the night preceding and the morning of Sifton's death. This he claims to be able to substantiate by evidence, and is confident of clearing himself of the dreadful charge.

Young Herbert is a lad of 20. home is in the 2nd con. of Biddulph, about 21/2 miles beyond Lucan, where his father and step-mother live. Herbert, however, has spent much of his life with his grandmother, Mrs. Crawley, of St. Johns.

Advance of the Allies the Only Way to Solve the Mystery.

Japan's Division of Troops Likely to Be at Taku by July 31. London, July 26 .- While the latest impression derived from the array of conflicting telegrams from the Far East is that a portion of the foreign colony at Pekin may have escaped slaughter until a recent date, the general consensus of the best informed opinion of Europe seems to continue to favor the acceptance of the worst Disappearance news and prompt action thereon, the contention being that the only possibility of definitely ascertaining the truth is by the allied commanders inquiring at Pekin. Judging from the news from Tien Tsin, however, recording divisions among the admirals there, the prospects for a speedy advance seems to be endangered unless the governments speedily agree upon a supreme leader. LI HUNG SEEKS SAFETY.

Telegrams from Shanghai report that Li Hung Chang has taken up his abode at the arsenal as a measure of precaution. It is not stated whether he feared attack by Chinese or attempts of the powers to curtail his liberties. Apparently the foreign consuls at Shanghai have informed the viceroy that unless he should obtain definite patches from Pekin within five days, they would conclude the ministers had been murdered and would act accordingly. Reports are current that a number of missionaries, either American or English, have been murdered in Shan Si. One of the dispatches from Shanghas, published here today, says: "The Canadian missionaries, who escaped from Honan, had a terrible experience en route home. The natives every-where were hostile. The rabble attacked the refugees, beat them, and tore the clothes from their backs. The ladies suffered cruel indignities." The dispatch continues: "Canton remains comparatively quiet. The natives, however, are beginning to fear that the reinforcements arriving at Hong Kong intend to attack the the Bogue forts and occupy the city. The military mandarin has asked the colonial secretary at Hong Kong for assurances that Great Britain does not intend to take Canton.'

A dispatch received here today from Yokohama states that the Japanese division will all be landed at Taku by July 31, and will reach Tien Tsin Aug. The Legislature of New South Wales has resolved to dispatch a military contingent to join the imperial troops in China. FROM REMEY.

A COREAN DENIAL. Washington, July 26 .- Mr. Ye, the Corean charge here, took to the state department this morning a dispatch from his government denying positively the published stories that the Boxer movement had extended to Corea or that any Chinese Boxers had crossed the Corean frontier.

LEFT A BAD IMPRESSION. Washington, July 26 .- Notwithstanding signs of activity the state department had nothing this morning of interest touching the Chinese situation.
The imperial edict promulgated yesterday by Viceroy Tak at Canton has left a disagreeable impression here. This edict is looked upon as suspiciously like a preliminary to a formal declaration of war, and as only one step toward securing time to move Chinese forces into a better position for defense against the internationals. The notice that came to the state department that Corea was free of the Boxer agitation was well received. It was believed that Russia would now be enabled to spare many more troops from her Siberian army for use in the international column.

A FATEFUL... DIAMOND

CHAPTER VII.

"I do mean to be a good man-I will be a good man," resolved Louis Dunbar, with a grave, earnest face, as he finished perusing Margaret Houghton's simple, girlish letter, so full of sincere interest and hearty good will; while the possession of that beautiful book of poems sent a thrill of delight over him such as he had never before experienced.

After thoroughly examining it and reading again his letter, he put them both away with that other book and his mother's ring, and henceforth numbered it among his most sacred treasures, while he mentally registered a vow that if he would live to see Margaret Houghton return to America, he would indeed be worthy to be recognized as her friend; he would bend every energy toward becoming wise and good, as well as a rich man.

"Louis, what are you going to do this summer?" Mr. Allen asked him on the last day of the spring term, when, the examination over, he had done credit to both himself and his teacher.

I suppose I shall remain with Mr. Brown; there seems to be nothing else for me to do," the boy responded, thoughtfully, but with a regretful sigh, es if his soul were longing for something more congenial than strawberry fields and humdrum farm life.

"I do not believe you could do better for this summer," Mr. Allen returned; "b_t I have been thinking you might improve your condition somewhat after that. A farmer's life is a good and honorable one, but I believe you bught to be fitted for something different. Now, I have a proposition to make to you.'

"All right, sir," Louis answered, looking up with a smile, and speaking eagerly. 'I do not intend," resumed his friend, "to retain my position here after the close of this school year. I contemplate opening a law office in the city next fall. I shall need a boy to perform small services for me and assist me somewhat in copying. I shall not, however, be able to pay very much at first—not over a couple of dollars a week for the first six months. Now, if you think you will like to come to me for that, I shall be glad to have you, for I feel that I can trust you thoroughly. You can go on with your studies with me, and I will do all that I can to help you acquire a good education; and if, with experience, you think you would like to become a lawyer, too, I may be able to fit you for the bar. I want you to think this over carefully this summer, and when you are sure of your decision, come and make it known to me."

"I believe I shall like what you propose very much, sir," Louis said, his tace as bright as a new dollar at the prospect spread out before him.

"Do not decide rashly, my boy," re-plied the teacher, smiling at his en-"You have a good place here with Mr. Brown; he is fond of you, and no doubt will do well by you if you remain with him. The remuneration I offer you will be very small at first, hardly enough for your support; in my office, which would save you the expense of a lodging, and the rest could manage some way. But, Louis, I want you to have an education, and I am afraid if you are left to yourself you will neglect it until it is too late.'

All summer long, at morning and evening, no matter what he was doing, this offer of Mr. Allen's was constantly in Louis' mind. He had had a sip at the chalice of knowledge, and he was thirsting for more. He had begun to prize wisdom even above

Two dollars a week would, indeed, be very little to earn: he certainly would not grow rich very rapidly at that rate, but he realized a need which he had never felt before, and he knew he should never be worthy to be Margaret Houghton's friend when, by and by, she should return from Europe, polished and educated, unless he seized every opportunity to store his mind and fit himself for a position which would enable him to meet her upon an equal footing.

Besides all this, he had begun to love study for learning's sake. Mr. Allen's teaching had given him a mental impetus, and he knew he should never be satisfied with himself until he was fitted to mingle with refined and cultivated people.

I shall go with Mr. Allen to Boston," he at last decided, and then applied himself with tenfold diligence to the business of making all the money he could before the time of the contemplated change.

His waving chestnut hair lay glossy masses above a broad, intelli-gent forehead; his bright brown eyes met yours with a frankness and honesty of expression which prepossessed you in his favor at once, while a winning, genial smile lighted up his whole face whenever he spoke, showing that a warm, kind heart lay beneath his attractive exterior. "I am loth to part with you, Louis,

"You must always regard us as your friends," he added, "and come to us whenever you can. I've no children, you know, and I've grown to look upon you almost as belonging to me dur-great deal of interest, and if you make a brilliant mark in the world no one will be more proud of you than I."

He puresented him with a handsome new suit and twenty-five dollars in money, besides what he already owed him; while Mrs. Brown gave him a good, serviceable silver watch, and with motherly interest looked after his supply of underwear. 'It'll be a good time-keeper for you until you can afford to have a better one," she said, when giving him the she said, when giving him the watch; "and, Louis, be sure to let it tick off some good deed done every day of your life, for the deeds of this world make the blessing or the curse of the next. Don't forget it, dear, and Heaven bless you."

Louis resolved he would not forget, and thought that no boy in the world had ever received greater kindness than these good friends had bestowed

"What are you going to do with your money?" the farmer asked, the day before he was to leave him.
"Leave it in your care still, sir, if you are willing to be troubled with it. I know it could not be in safer hands."

"All right, I shall be glad to take care of it for you. I will continue the six per cent. interest the same as I have done, and if you allow it to accumulate, you'll have a snug sum by the time you are twenty-one. I must say I think it is pretty thrifty in a boy of your age to save up three hunderd dollars in a little more than two years." "I do not think the credit all belongs to me, sir," Louis answered. "You have been very kind to me, and have given me every opportunity to earn, and I am very grateful to you." The boy's first months in the city were rather uneventful ones. He slept in Mr. Allen's office, or rather in a tiny room leading from it, and took his meals with Mrs. Jones, who said she would be glad of the two dollars a week, which his employer paid him

A BRITISH SOLDIER

Tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Conquer Disease.

Like the conquering armies of Britain, which are marching to victory in every quarter of the globe, Milburn's Heart and P'erve Pills are everywhere triumphing over sickness, weakness and suffer-ing, and freeing those who are bound by the shackles of disease.

Mr. David Walsh, of Carleton Place, Ont., a man who has served with distinction and credit in the British army, and is now an employee of the C. P. Railway, says, "While in the army I got broken down, and my nervous system was completely shattered.

"I was much troubled with liver complaint, loss of appetite, etc. My rest became broken and was disturbed by vivid dreams. This had been going on for 14 years, although I took a great many remedies to escape from the troubles which afflicted me. "However, I got no relief until I started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I used together with Laxa-Liver Pills, and now after having used a few boxes, I am better than I have been for years. My nerves are restored to full force and vigor, I eat and sleep well, and my entire system has been toned and strengthened."

-The Woodstock Sentinel-Review says: So far as is yet known, the late Robert Bird, Q.C., left no will. A dillgent search was made Tuesday after-noon by friends, and was continued in the afternoon, but in vain. It is almost inconceivable that a legal man and a man of business like Mr. Bird should not have made a will, which would have enabled his heirs to wind up the estate much more economically if none existed. The estate is believed to be a good one, amounting probably to from $50,000 to $60,000. It is known that apart from his real estate, which is considerable, he held securities, chiefly mortgages, to the value of $40,000 or $50,000.

-Mr. William York, who resides near Belmont, must be convinced that some dark-eyed Nemesis has recently been hovering about his home. Some time ago, at a barn-raising on his farm a man was severely injured. The day after, Mrs. York fell down cellar and broke her leg. Later the same day, a carpenter who was working there happened to be on the same spot that was chosen by a sledge that fell from the barn. He was knocked senseless. To the ordinary mind it would appear that enough fractures and injuries had been received for one family, but they did not cease then. Shortly af-terwards Mr. York fell off a load of hay and broke his arm, and one day last week a son, aged 9, fell 28 feet out of that same barn, and broke his arm, besides injuring himself in other ways. HIT WITH A SHOVEL

John Gray's Face Severely Cut in a Fight With Willis Moxley.

While Willis Moxley, of Grey street, and John Gray, of 446 Hill street, were driving home in a wagon yesterday afternoon, they became involved in a spirited argument. At the corner of Colborne and Simcoe streets they broke the board seat of the wagon in half, ley, finding that Gray was getting the best of it, grabbed a scoop shovel from the bottom of the wagon and struck his antagonist a vicious blow across the face, inflicting a nasty cut across the upper lip, which required several stitches to close. Both men had been drinking, and had been refused liquor at several hoteis before their disagreement. Moxley was arrested about 6:30 by P. C. Greene and P. C. Woolway. Gray will be unable to appear against Moxley for several days. Moxley has an unenviable police court record. Moxley appeared in the police court this morning, and was bailed to appear on Saturday. Moxley's version of the affair is to the effect that Gray received his injuries by falling from the wagon.

FATIAL SCRIATICH.

Toronto, July 26.—Patrick G. Close, for many years a prominent citizen, died yesterday under peculiar circumstances. About two weeks ago he was bitten in the neck by a mosquito, and scratched the spot until the blood came. A few days afterwards he began to show symptoms of blood pol-soning, and died as stated. Mr. Close was a wholesale grocer in his earlier years, and about 20 years ago became interested in real estate. Latterly he had been a member of the assessment court of revision. FAVORABLE VERDICT

Returned by Coroner's Jury in the In-However, Be Instituted.

The inquest into the death on Saturday, July 14, of the infant child of and with the aid of the pieces of Lily Errol, which was adjourned from board, continued the argument. Moxthe night of Monday, July 16, was concluded at the police court last night. Several additional witnesses were examined. The jury brought in the fol-lowing verdict: "We find that the infant came to her death from either suffocation or hemorrhage, or both, due to want of attention at time of birth. We find no evidence to incriminate the mother of having intentionally caused the death of the child." The girl, who is only 19 years of age, is still in the hospital, but is recovering. Criminal proceedings will be instituted against her when she recovers, but what the precise charge will be has not yet been decided upon by the crown authori-

> WALKERTON OLD BOYS. Walkerton, July 26. — The opening day of the old boys' reunion here Tuesday was in many respects a great success. Former residents of Walkerton turned up from all parts of the continent, and even Australia and South Africa were represented. The streets were handsomely decorated with arches and bunting. Unfortunately the proceedings were somewhat. marred by a heavy rain which fell during the afternoon. It cleared up long enough to enable the parade to be held through the streets, but a portion of the programme had to be dispensed with. The speaking took place in the building on the exhibition.
