French Writer With Inside Inside Information Declares the Time Has Come For New Leadership of the Republic's Forces.

New York, Dec. 6 .- The New York Times this morning publishes a special cable from Paris based on a statement from a "Frenc'h political writer who has exceptional inside knowledge of affairs," intimating the possibility of a change in the supreme command of the French military forces. In part he says:

Real Hand-Worked Madeira Linens Wonderful Pieces---Wonderfully Low-Priced

By importing these direct from Madeira (which is only possible by making large contracts) we are able to effect great savings for our customers. This is the second shipment we have received of our order placed for Christmas trade-the first lot, which included hundreds of pieces of every description arrived in October and was practically all cleaned out in a few days (many bought their Christmas gift pieces then). It is most fortunate that these should arrive at this time, fresh for Christmas buying, and we are informed that to duplicate these in future the prices will be very much higher, so much so, that it may be good business to buy now for next year as well as this.

Doilies, Centres, Scarfs, Trays, Lunch Cloths, Napkins, Oval Pieces, in all sizes, Muffin Cases, etc., ranging in prices from 121/2c up. Hundreds of dainty gift suggestions on sale Thursday and following days. The slogan for this sale-Early for choice pieces,, commencing 8:30 Thursday morning.

WEST LORNE SOLDIER

WENT TO LOOK FOR MISSING SON AND REMAINED TO CIVE HOSPITAL SERVICE

Many friends in London will be interested to learn that Mrs. Groshow, matron of the Victoria Home for Incurables, this city, who is on leave of absence overseas, has received a promotion in an appointment in London, England, as matron of a Canada Army Medical Corps institution, on captain's pay.

Last March Mrs. Groshow obtained leave of absence to go overseas to try to discover some trace of her youngest son, Sergt. "Billy" Groshow, who enlisted immediately after the outbreak of war with the Nova Scotia Highlanders. The visitors commenced to arrive at Schools Act, 9 Edw. VII., chap. 90; this He was later attached to the 48th Highlanders, and was missing after the battle of Ypres in which the battalion suf-

Mrs. Groshow decided, instead of returning home, at once to offer her skilled services for the care of the > wounded soldiers. She was able to remain away owing to the fact that her sister, Miss Walker, a trained nurse, was filling the position as matron of the Victoria Home for Incurables in a capable manner, entirely satisfactory to the Mrs. Groshow was fortunate in securing an appointment almost immediately with the R. A. M. C. as matron of the Hillhouse Hospital, Minster, near Ramsgate. The picture herewith reproduced shows her in the centre of a group of convalescent soldiers, and seated beside her, Major Sutton, O.C., also a Canadian.

POPULAR AT HILLHOUSE. She was transferred in November to the C. A. M. C., leaving Hillhouse Hospital on November 19th. An evidence off her popularity as matron at Hillhouse lies in the fact that previous to her departure a party was given in her honor, when the nurses presented her with a handbag, and the wounded soldiers gave her a gold wrist watch.

Mrs. Groshow's second son, Roy, is in France with the 113th Battalion, with which he enlisted in Calgary, and her elder son, Sergt. "Jim" Groshow, who went to England with the 135th, is acting as instructor of musketry at the Witley Camp. Sergt. Groshow last winter took his officer's training course, but in his desire to get to the front did not wait to obtain a commission.

A GREAT WAR FIGURE PASSES.

DESPOTIC RULE such as the Emperor of Germany maintains can be sure of itself up to the point of popular revolution. A democratic rule such as the British empire maintains is mercurial and feels the effect of warm winds and cold almost instantaneously. In these times of political cyclone, blizzard and typhoon, when life or death may hang on the pen point of a statesman, how can any single personality stand up before the elements when he bears in relation to his people only the strength of a citizen, only the power of a single unit among mil-

The man on horseback in the Allied camps is a rare figure. Only the stern military system of France keeps the great Joffre in his saddle. Premiers and state leaders of all other Allied countries, save shattered Belgium, have been swept into the vortex. Asquith has maintained that rare balance since war began, chaining the lightning of Lloyd George and the other fiery spirits until now, but eventually falling before the constant demand for action and a single merged individuality of force for the empire and the

For Asquith his retirement cannot be figured as defeat. How typically he maintained the calm philosophy and dogged persistence of the race, Anglo-Saxon in his contempt for rude procedure and cleaving to his faith in the measured way. Tomorrow the empire may weep for his return. The Celtic fires that have made his cool logic fade, as the chill of a room before the warmth of a grate fire, will now be put to the grim test of supreme leadership. The spirits of impulse and rapid movement are to hold the stage. Until now they have not had to hold supreme control. How will they measure up to the titanic task? Can they mix their abilities and characters into the one great chemical that will react for victory? Have they more skill than this master chemist who has just been deposed, who has presided at the crucible for so long?

The prosecution of the war must go on with the spurt of a relay team which has been given a new runner. The strength of Lloyd George has counted in every task to which it has been applied. He has always, through their days of tremendous upheavals in state reforms, had the fatherly philosophical premier at his hand. They have worked wonders together. Lloyd George seems the inspired youth; Asquith the great, sympathetic judge.

Many must have misgivings in the change. The loss of such man means that he takes something that cannot be given by anyone else, yet his work, like Kitchener's, has been the foundation builder of the war machine. He may have been a master builder of the great machine, but others may operate it to greater advantage. The voice of Britain is certain to be heard; all other changes seem to have wrought for more certain progress toward triumph. The new cabinet comes untried for its tasks in one sense, yet fully equipped in another. It will succeed if it is able to replace but memories of his father's years of and sought refuge alone, where she the leadership that Asquith gave. Jones said Delegates Decide to Try Out the Six-Man Team

> [Special to The Advertiser.] PALMERSTON, Dec. 5 .- The 16th annual meeting of the Northern Hockey eague held here this afternoon made n what it lacked numerically in delegates in enthusiasm, and prospects were never brighter for a fine season. Officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, W. J. Blackburn, Lon-Chesley; vice-president, R. J. Currie, Wingham; secretary, W. J. Rhodes, Marconis London; treasurer, A. N. Kirkwood, Brunswicks Palmerston; executive committee: Bert Bamford, Listowel; Stanley Burns, Cavill, Chesley.

The principal amendment discussed men who have enlisted it was the genficials. All those present spoke in loud praise of the enlistment records of the D. north, and a proposal to have an honor M. roll with the names of all hockey players now in khaki, was unanimously adopted. Some of the speakers declared that when the population of the district and other factors are taken into consideration and the honor roll is M. portion the Northern League will make a showing that will equal and perhaps T. Premier Hearst added that the evidence which came to him was that the act had been of great benefit to the people of the province generally. There had no doubt been resultant depreciation in values of hotel properties, and losses in business to certain classes, but much good had flowed from the act, and this had more than counterbalanced the losses referred to. The deputation was received by Premier Hearst, Hon. I. B. Lucas, Hon. T. W. McGarry, Hon. Dr. Pyne and Hon. Findlay G. McDiarmid, Dr. W. R. Riddell, superintendent of the recently organized trades and labor department, was also present.

BYLAW Asquith Drops the Helm; Resigns Premiership Over Row in Cabinet The General Treasury Fund

Denouement Surprises, Britain, as It Was Considered the Least Probable of Practical Alternatives Forced on the Government by Demands of Lloyd George Faction.

LONDON, Dec. 5.-The court circular announces tonight: "The Right Honorable Mr. Asquith had an audience with His Majesty the King, and tendered his resignation as prime minister and first lord of the treasury, which the King has been graciously pleased to accept."

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Government crisis found a solution the least probable of practical alternatives. Herbert H. Asquith resigned the premiership, which he has held throughout eight stormy years of domestic and foreign history. The Unionist leader, Andrew Bonar Law, was summoned to the palace in seems it advisable to submit to the stormy years of domestic and foreign history. EXTRAORDINARY ACTIVITY.

The premier's decision to resign cabinet was taken after a day of extraordinary political excitement and activity. There were con-stant comings and goings of the political leaders between Downing street and the various Government departments. WELSH WIZARD'S PART DEMONSTRATED.

The part David Lloyd George is playing in the crisis was demonstrated plainly today by the fact that he remained in his office while the premier conferred separately with the Liberal and Conservative nembers of the cabinet. Mr. Lloyd George's policy had supporters in both camps. His strongest Liberal friend, Lord Reading, carried messages between the premier's councils and Mr. Lloyd George's desk.

The Press Association suggests that it is possible for Mr. Bonar Law to form a Unionist ministry with Mr. Lloyd George included, for which it could find justification in the fact that the Unionists supported a purely Liveral Government during the first stages of the war.

The Sweepstakes steer is a superb specimen, and difficult to find fault with anywhere, and the reserve champion is so good that no one would have been much surprised had he won the sweepstakes. In the horse classes the interest centered on the Percherons, of which the exhibit is simply amazing. CANADIAN EFFICIENCY TEST BEST FOR BOYS

So Speaker Declares at Banquet Held in Cronyn Hall-The "Gang" Instinct.

Many attended the banquet given in Cronyn Hall Tuesday evening. The banquet was for the purpose of discussing the Canadian Standard Efficiency Test, which has recently been introduced in the Young Men's Christian Association, and is being used by many Sunday schools of all denominations in this

R. E. G. Davis of the Young Men's Christian Association gave a very interesting address on the Canadian Standard Efficiency Test. "I think that I am safe in saying that the Canadian test is the best course that has yet been introduced in the Sunday schools of this city, and also in the Y. M. C. A. This system is in China. The reasons that it has been such a success is that it recognizes the great "gang" instinct. It keeps the boys ner and puts him with the right kind of gang, the gang of his Sunday school

Mr. Davis also spoke on the schedule of practical talks for the coming term from January until April. The churches which take this course will have ban-quets once a week, and will use a course of topics for each evening of the term. Educational trips will be arranged for the boys, with camperaft talks, and in the spring a big athletic meet will be held either in the Y. M. C. A. or at one of the parks, in which all the churches E. E. Reid of the London Life Insurance also gave a short talk and stated that something ought to be done for the Sunday schools to make them more interesting for the boys.

Another banquet of this course will be held next Tuesday night, in New St. James Church.
