THEOLOGIAN'S WAGE BIG BATTLE

English Church Is Divided Over Trouble In Africa.

HOW THE TROUBLE AROSE.

C. of E. Clergyman Officially Stated In a Presbyterian Church.

London, Feb. 5.—The battle of the Anglican bishops over the alleged heresy of the bishops of Uganda, Mombassa, continues to rage furiously. The controversy arose over the action of the Bishop of Mombassa in celebrating Holy Communion in a Presbyterian Church.

Dean Hensley Henson, one of the ablest living Anglican divines, says if the Church is to uphold the charge of heresy and rigidly exclude other Protestant Christians from religious fellowship, then the only possible unity for the English Churchman is unity with Rome.

On the other hand, Athelstan Riley, a distinguished leader of the High Churchmen, says to-day that it is essential for the Anglican church to keep intact and definite the catholic tradition of Episcopacy and holy orders.

Unit Against Islam

The leading Anglican journal, the Guardian, pleads for a form of working agreement between the Church of England and the great Protestant bodies in order to meet the rapid advance of the Moslem faith. It says such a union against Islam would be the greatest religious event since the Reformation.

The Church of Scotland, which, being established, stands to the Scottish people much as to the Anglican Church stands to England, issues a statement recording gratitude to Almighty God for notable Christian conduct between the missionary societies in British East Africa and for the aspiration after ultimate union of the young churches there.

Broad Ideas

The well known cleric, Dean Hensley Henson, formerly of Westminster, now of Durham, writes to the Times agreeing with Dr. Sanday that the national Church of England should be wide enough to include as many professing Christians as possible.

The so-called Catholic party in the Church continues, however, to threaten secession if the heads of the Church approve of united Communion between established Christians and Presbyterians, Methodists, and other dissenters, as practised at Kikuyu.

KIKUYU OCCURRENCE IS SEED OF REUNION.

The Action Of The African Bishops Aply Defended By Canadian Arch-Deacon.

BROAD CHRISTIANITY.

The Church of England Is Comprehensive And Not Exclusive, Declared The Speaker.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—The Kikuyu controversy and the problem it raises as to the attitude of the Church of England towards other Protestant bodies was ably discussed by Ven. Arch-deacon Cody in a sermon at St. Paul's Church. Dr. Cody, defending the action of the Bishop of Uganda and Mombassa in their attempt to solve the difficult problem of a divided Protestantism in the mission field, and seeing in their action the seed of a union among all the churches which take their stand upon the principles of the Reformation in which number he included the Church of England. The Trouble Reviewed

Taking as his text the words of St. Paul to the Ephesians, "Giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." Dr. Cody commenced by reviewing the occurrences which had led to the charge of heresy being made against the Bishop of Mombassa for his action in celebrating the Holy Communion in a Presbyterian place of worship when there were present missionaries of the four chief Protestant bodies, following a conference of the missionaries in which they had decided upon a basis for concerted action and apportionment of the territory in equatorial Africa, and a standard upon which all could agree as to the essentials of the Christian religion that should be taught, and upon which they hoped a native African church might later base its faith.

Great Awakening

It was explained that with the building of the Uganda Railway a great awakening was commencing in the country, and that with it the old religions were breaking down, while the strong forces of Mohammedanism were ready to take their places, being able to present a stronger front than

BIG BOOM AT SYDNEY NOW

Steel Plants Have Many Big Orders To Fill This Season.

TO RUN NIGHT AND DAY.

Sydney Plant To Turn Out 500,000 Tons of Steel This Year.

Sydney, Feb. 6.—The local steel plant is in full operation to-day and the works from end to end will be running double shift every day during the remainder of the year.

After six years constant operation the steel plant was, immediately after the new year, closed down for general repairs. The employees, however, were not thrown out of employment but engaged upon the repair work.

Big Outputs.

The big plant is now in first class condition and with six blast furnaces in full operation new high records will be made in the outputs of the day departments.

Large orders have already been booked by the company, sufficient to operate all the mills to their fullest capacity well beyond midsummer, and several additional important contracts are assured and will be closed within the next few weeks.

Steel Production

It is estimated that during the present year Canada will make over 1,000,000 tons of steel, of which the Sydney plant will take care of and supply considerably over half. This is more than the United States produced in 1879. Prior to 1902, Canada made very little steel, about 26,000 tons,—in 1913 the home production was over 800,000.

The present year promises to be the most prosperous period in the history of the steel and coal industries of Cape Breton, and all other lines of local commercial ventures will feel this upward lift.

THE HIBERNIANS' AND HOME RULE.

New York, Feb. 5.—Believing that Home Rule in Ireland will become a fact before another year passes, many prominent members of the ancient order of Hibernians are of the opinion that March 17th, St. Patrick's day, will mark the end of the annual parade of Fifth avenue.

With Home Rule in force many members of the order feel that there would be little necessary for holding the parade, which has been an event in this city for fifty years.

This year, however, the Hibernians plan to eclipse all previous efforts to make the parade a notable occasion.

the various Protestant bodies, because of the lack of unity among the latter. The conference at Kikuyu last June, it was further explained, was not the outcome of a sudden enthusiasm, but the culmination of a series of meetings in which the problem was that of so presenting the fundamental truths of Christianity that no obstacles would be placed in the way of the formation later of a native Christian church. The scheme, moreover, was to be submitted to the ecclesiastical authorities of the Mother Land, there being no idea of arbitrarily setting up a new church.

After setting out the fundamental truths upon which it was proposed to work—acceptance of the Bible and the two great creeds with the privilege of common membership and intercommunion—Dr. Cody explained how the proposed basis of union would be adaptable to every form of (Continued on page 3.)

FORTHCOMING SESSION OF BRITISH PARLIAMENT WILL BE EPOCH-MAKING.

Unionists Are Determined To Make It Unpleasant For Asquith--Will Endeavor to Force a Dissolution.

London, Feb. 9.—The Parliamentary session opening to-day will be an epoch-making one.

A strong determined Government is faced by an Opposition who are equally determined that the Government's chief legislative proposals shall not go into operation, even if passed.

The only possible way out seems to be that modifications may be offered and it is expected that Asquith will announce these in the course of the debate on the Address to the Throne.

It is believed the Unionists will seize the very earliest opportunity of raising the Ulster issue, thus precipitating the beginning of an historic struggle immediately.

There is much talk of forcing a general election, May being mentioned as the time, but the Opposition are some what divided in the opinion as to the wisdom of this, owing to a doubt as to the possibility of success attending their efforts.

Asquith is credited with the intention of remaining in power till the spring of next year, as two other measures, Welsh Disestablishment and the abolition of plural voting are still to be completed before the Liberal program will be accomplished.

Discussing the situation on the eve of the Parliamentary session, The Daily Telegraph says: "It does not expect the Speech from the Throne to give any intimation of the way in which the Government propose to deal with the burning questions which will demand settlement within the next few weeks."

It is reported that the latest Unionist device to force a dissolution of Parliament, and thus to defeat the measure providing for Home Rule for Ireland, is for the Lords to reject the Annual Budget Bill. If this were done the army would cease to exist and the Government would be compelled to appeal to the country.

BLAME BANDITS FOR MURDERING NINE AMERICANS

Freight Train Was Held Up, Backed Into a Tunnel and Set On Fire—Fifty Mexicans Also Suffocated.

Juarez, Mexico, Feb. 9.—Nine Americans and forty or fifty Mexicans whose fate has been a mystery since the destruction of the Cambr Tunnel last Wednesday have been found suffocated. The tragedy is laid at the door of Maximo Castillo, the bandit leader.

Tuesday twenty-two of his men were captured and executed by rebels, and next day, apparently in revenge, he captured a freight train, ran it into the south end of the tunnel three hundred feet, and there set fire to it.

The missing Americans were all employees of the railroad.

KING OF SWEDEN RAISES BIG ROW IN PARLIAMENT

Talks Too Much About Armaments and His Cabinet Threaten to Resign.—Speech Severely Criticized.

Stockholm, Feb. 9.—King Gustave's speech to thirty thousand peasants who attended the demonstration yesterday favors an increase in armaments and threatens to lead to a serious conflict with the Cabinet, the members of which hold that the speech is tantamount to a severe censure of their policy and they claim that it is of language stronger than a constitutional monarch is justified in using.

During the course of his remarks the King said that the problem of defence is one which must be solved without loss of time, and declared that on that point he was determined not to yield.

The whole Cabinet intimated their desire to resign from both Chambers. The King's speech is severely criticized.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN NEW TUNNEL

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 30.—Two men lost their lives by asphyxiation yesterday at Rogers Pass, where work on the C.P.R.'s great tunnel to bore the Selkirk has just been commenced. The dead are C. J. Powell, of Denver, foreman for the contractors, and D. Turner, a carpenter, formerly of Vancouver. Nine other men had exceedingly narrow escapes. The eleven men had been caught inside by the fumes following a blast.

BOTHA'S ACT MAY IMPERIL BRITISH RULE.

Regarded as Utterly Repugnant to the Principles of the British Constitution.—May Cause the Dissolution of the Union of South Africa.

London, Feb. 5.—Premier Botha's coup in deporting labor leaders from Capetown has now come to be regarded everywhere here, irrespective of party, as possibly fraught with the gravest consequences. Even if the men obtain immunity from the South African Parliament the trouble will only be beginning and a stormy time in South Africa politics is immediately ahead, in which the Union will be imperilled.

Bitterly Resented

Though Botha's autocratic methods find favor with the Tory element here, it is recognized that they are utterly repugnant to the principles of the British Constitution and that their endorsement in any form would be bitterly resented in Australia and Canada, where popular government is dearly prized.

The policy of the British Cabinet is to decline to take part in the quarrel as being purely domestic to South Africa, though doubtless private sympathy for the Union Government will be made to the Union Government to withdraw its edict of punishment against the labor leaders.

Sympathy for Gladstone

Great sympathy is felt for Lord Gladstone, the Governor-General who couldn't possibly approve Botha's methods, but whose resignation at such a crisis would bring about a conflict between Downing street and South Africa which might easily result in the revolt of the South African colonies. Botha is stated never to have consulted him on the matter of the deportation of the strike leaders.

Of the Ministry thus elected seven were members of the outgoing Cabinet, and three are newcomers.

Big Number of Volunteers Enrolled.—Will Abandon Regular Employment and Live in Barracks, Receiving $5 a Week.

Belfast, Feb. 3.—A standing army of 33,000 men is to be formed from the Ulster volunteers. It will be modeled after the British Army. Sections of the volunteers are to serve in rotation in this army. They will live in barracks and will be paid $5 a week which will enable them to abandon their occupation during their term of service. It is said that a large number of the volunteers are anxious to serve in the standing army.

BIG SUMS INVESTED IN NOVA SCOTIA FOX FARMS.

Forty New Concerns Were Incorporated During the Past Year and Five of These Represent a Total Capitalization of $500,000.

Halifax, Feb. 5.—In about a year to date there have been just forty companies incorporated in Nova Scotia to breed and deal in black foxes and other fur-bearing animals, so that P. E. I. is not having it all her own way in the fur bearing animal ranching and incidentally in the profits therefrom.

Following are some of the more recently incorporated companies that are doing, or will do business in Nova Scotia.

Wilden Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd., with capital of $150,000 and its registered office in New Glasgow.

The shareholders named are Wm. F. Fraser, Dennis McCormack and Hiram K. Fitzpatrick, of New Glasgow.

Burgoe Co-operative Fox Breeders Co., Ltd., with registered office at Halifax and capital of $60,000. The company has the usual powers of incorporation to deal in fur bearing animals, and the shareholders named are G. M. Daly, E. C. Adams and H. M. Burke, of Halifax.

The Doctors Pedigreed Silver Foxes Ltd., with capital of $100,000 and registered office at Truro. The shareholders named are E. Ambrose Randall, Wm. B. Armstrong, John W. T. Patton and E. James Anderson, all of Truro.

Seaside Fox Co., Ltd., with capital of $10,000 and Lunenburg the place of business. Howard Whynacot and Gabriel C. Berringer are among the shareholders.

Dominion Karakule-Arabi Sheep Co., Ltd., (incorporated also under Dominion charter). The capital of the concern is $150,000 and the place of business is Bridgetown, N. S. Harry Ruggles, of Bridgetown is one of the parties interested.

300 KILLED WHEN RIVAL HAITIANS MEET IN BATTLE.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Feb. 3.—Three hundred men of the rival revolutionary armies were killed in the hard fought battle reported in progress yesterday at Gouaves, in which the adherents of Senator Davilmar Theodore were signally defeated by the followers of General Orestes Zamore, formerly government delegate at Cape Haitien.

Senator Davilmar Theodore and his men were driven back in a northerly direction of Plaisance, on the road to Cape Haitien. After the conclusion of the fighting General Orestes Zamore proclaimed himself chief executive of the republic.

General Carlos Zamore, government delegate at Gouaves, assisted his brother in the battle, and General Desormos fought by his side.

The fire which broke out in the city of Gouaves during the battle was not so serious as at first believed. Fifteen houses were destroyed, but no foreign property was damaged.

PATHETIC CLOSE TO P. E. I. MAN'S WILDERNESS ROMANCE.

Duluth, Feb. 2.—A romance made pathetic by a lonely life on the trail in the wilderness of Alaska, was revealed to-day in a telegram received by Mrs. I. H. Haslam of this city. The telegram was sent from Candle, Alaska, where the body of William H. Meyers, her brother, was found.

Beyond the statement of the death no particulars were given.

Meyers was a placer miner and had extensive holdings in gold and coal mines about Candle and White Horse passes. For fifteen years he operated in Alaska, where he met Miss L. B. Hayes, a Kentucky girl, who went into the Yukon to teach school. Meyers planned to amerge from the wilderness last Christmas and marry the young teacher. The girl is thought to be in Seattle.

Relatives expect to have the body brought out to the place of his birth, Prince Edward Island, when navigation opens in the spring. The telegram stated that Meyers was frozen to death. His last letter said he had found a fortune.

Infernal Machine Burst, 13 Year Old Boy Killed.

Found a Small Tin Box and Was Trying to Open It When the Contents Exploded.—Nature of the Explosion is Unknown.

Montreal, Jan. 31.—One boy was killed instantly and another seriously injured last evening when a small tin box which they had found in the street exploded and burst into a thousand atoms. Denville Gilbert, aged 13, son of Napoleon Gilbert, of 310 Mazarin Street, who had the box in his hands was struck dead when it exploded, while twelve year old Dauboise Divere, a companion, who lived next door, had his right arm badly burned. The body of the little dead boy was taken to the Morgue, where an inquest into the cause of death will be held to-day.

The police are completely baffled in their attempts to ascertain what were the contents of the box or how it came to be left in the street. They have only the story of the Divere boy, who narrowly escaped the sad fate which befell his little playmate. He told them that while playing in the street yesterday afternoon, near their home young Gilbert and himself discovered a tin box tightly sealed. He stated that it was very small and that there was apparently no cover, for efforts to open it were of no avail. For some time they played with it, speculating as to its contents, then Gilbert tried to pry it open with a knife. There was a terrific explosion, and, staggering back with his right arm badly scorched, Divere saw his little companion stagger and without a word fall to the ground.

X-RAY COST HER HAIR.

The suits of Miss Cathryne A. Roby of Boston, against the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital and two doctors for being made bald by an X-ray machine have been settled, and in each judgment for the defendant has been entered.

Miss Roby underwent the X-ray on Feb. 3, 1913, and alleged she was made bald by the machine burning her head. She brought $1000 in suits against the hospital, which she alleged owned the machine, against Dr. Gardner H. Osgood of Boston, who she alleged operated the machine, and against Dr. George B. Rice, who she charged advised her to have the X-ray used on her head prior to an operation.

church government, and meant that the whole field would be occupied against the common foe.

A Natural and Instinctive Action

"These people under the shadow of a dark paganism, felt the Spirit of God within them. They had at least Apostolic precedent if not—in the base use of a noble word—"Catholic" precedent for their action," declared the speaker, who quoted the Times that it was "a natural and almost instinctive action for people who were out against the forces of paganism." "Instead of thanksgiving and the benediction of Christian people we have heard from certain quarters anathema, and the charge of heresy," continued Dr. Cody.

The Universities' Mission to Central Africa, it was then explained, had refused to take part in the movement, and the saddest thought of all in the opinion of Dr. Cody, was that the mission which had been called into existence as the result of the labors of David Livingstone, was now represented by such a man as the Bishop of Zanzibar, who stigmatized these men as "heretics." "David Livingstone, who opened Africa to the Gospel, would be repelled by Bishop Weston because he was not an Anglican," declared the speaker.

Episcopacy Not Essential

The controversy started by the publication of the letter of the Bishop of Zanzibar in the Times was then reviewed, the speaker stating that while the Bishop of Durham had raised the question as to whether episcopacy was an essential of the Church of England, and had decided it was not, Bishop Gore, of Oxford, had practically threatened to secede in a repetition of the Communion were to occur, and Dr. Cody asked, "Which is comprehensive? Which is Christian? Which is in accord with the spirit of the Church of England?"

FIRST WIRELESS MESSAGE FROM GERMANY TO U. S.

Direct Communication Across the Atlantic by Radio Telegraphy on the Occasion of the German Emperor's Birthday.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Direct communication by radio between Germany and the United States, without any relaying, has been established and the first message ever transmitted by this direct means, was sent by Emperor William to President Wilson. The Emperor's message was received at the White House Tuesday night, having been sent over land telegraph lines from Tuckerton, N.J., where it was taken at the radio station established there. The message was as follows:

"President Wilson, Washington.

"I send you my best greetings hoping the wireless communication will become a new link between our countries.

"WILHELM."

Yesterday was the birthday of the German Emperor and it was supposed at first that this wireless message was sent in response to the congratulations called to him by President Wilson.

A reading of the message, however, convinced officials that the Emperor's purpose in sending the wireless dispatch was to emphasize the establishment of direct radio communication between the German Empire and continental United States.

"It is pitiful the things by which we are rich or poor—a matter of coins, coats and carpets; a little more or less stone, or wood, or paint; the fashion of a cloak or hat, like the luck of painted Indians, of whom one is proud in the possession of a glass head or a red feather, and the rest miserable in the want of it.

The doctrine of exclusiveness in the Church of England, Dr. Cody pointed out, had its rise at the time of the Tractarian movement, in the middle of the last century, but Dr. Newman, who developed it, had found it unsatisfactory for himself and had gone over to Rome. Repudiating this which he called a modern doctrine, Dr. Cody concluded with the declaration that the Church of England stands for "God's inclusive love for all the brethren."

BLACK MAGIC.

Black Magic is by no means so rare a thing nowadays as the sceptical and unsuperstitious would think.

"There are people in London to-day who practise witchcraft," declared Monsignor Benson, the well-known Catholic author, to a surprised Daily Mail representative recently.

"Oddly enough," he went on, "the two persons whom I have in my mind are not women, but a middle-aged man and another male somewhat younger, so I suppose one should call them wizards, rather than witches."

"In League With Evil Spirits."

"Mediæval rites," was Monsignor Benson's brief description of the performances of these persons—"rites which involve fasting and obscenity. They claim that they are in league with evil spirits, exactly as the old witches did. They are well educated; whether they are mad or not, or whether they are liars or not, are points on which I would not care to commit myself. But I know they attempt this witchcraft."

Explaining what may be called the psychological view of the phenomena of black magic, Monsignor Benson pointed out that the wizards use their rites as a means of mental concentration, by which, it is suggested, they exercise influence on the people they wish to injure. Their intentions, by the way, are always malevolent or selfish.

"But what I particularly want to say," he remarked, "is that while there is an enormous amount of nonsense, exaggeration, and self-deception, and self-deception in it all, that does not prove that there is not a grain of substantial fact underneath."

Benevolent "White Magic."

It is not only "black magic," however, which is raising its head once again in twentieth century London. There are, according to Monsignor Benson, people who also practise "white magic." These claim to be benevolent or altruistic in their objects.

"The 'Black Mass,' too," the interviewer was assured, "has been said in London. I was told of it about four years ago. The 'Black Mass' comprises every horror that it is possible to imagine. The object is to insult the Christian religion. Probably those who recite it—they believe, by the way, in the reality of the Sacrament—are insane.

"I would sooner not say what these people do. It is quite indescribable in its offensiveness and blasphemy. The 'Black Mass' has been said in Rome. But France is the country for it."

Sign of Decadent Civilisation.

Usually, Monsignor Benson pointed out significantly, the practice of these arts of black magic appears in periods of national barbarism and decadence. All the Egyptian occultism came to Rome before its downfall.

"I am afraid," he said, "that we are living in a period of decadent civilisation."

VACCINE PREVENTS TYPHOID. Disease Practically Wiped Out From U. S. Army.

The U.S. army got through the year 1913 with only two cases of typhoid fever among a total of more than 50,000 officers and men. One was that of a man who had not been treated with the typhoid vaccine and was believed to have contracted the fever before he enlisted; the other case was among the troops in China.

Before the vaccine was adopted typhoid cases in the army averaged about three to every 1,000 men, or in the neighborhood of 250 cases a year.

The worship of pleasure, above all else, and the decay of family life, are unmistakable signs of this.

"The number of people in this country who would believe the magicians to whom I have referred is increasing—not necessarily among the poor people. On the whole the poor people are much sounder in their instincts than the well-to-do.

"The wealthy are continually seeking fresh stimulus and sensation, and their minds become exhausted, morbid, and decadent. We see the decadence of which I have spoken in the growing worship of occultism.

"Personally," concluded, Monsignor Benson, "I think that England may crumble, either from internal deterioration or external attack. That is my own private view."

Important Announcement For Union Fishermen!

We have entered into an agreement with

THE FRASER MACHINE & MOTOR COMPANY, OF NEW GLASGOW,

For the manufacture of a large number of two cycle engines, which we will sell to F. P. U. Members at prices that will stagger the sales of all other first-class engines. We have used the FRASER engine for two years and found it satisfactory as a two cycle engine, and the engines to be built by FRASER for us will be supplied with the latest improvements in engines. No carburetor will be used with our engines. An adapter and igniter has been invented that does away with the carburetor, and our engines will all receive the fuel from the top of the cylinder, instead of from the bottom. Only one tank will therefore be necessary. No gasoline tank will be required. The engine will start on gasoline, supplied through a starter, and as soon as started will use kerosene oil. A Circular Letter describing the engines and giving prices and terms has been mailed to every Council and Union Store. Those engines can be had on terms allowing two years for payment. Altogether we have contracted for the delivery of 3500 engines, including "The Coaker," "The F. P. U.," "The U. T. C." and "The Advocate," for 1914 and 1915, and during the last two weeks we have received 100 orders and 250 enquiries. Consequently we are safe in asserting that the F.P.U. will handle 75 per cent. of the Motor Engine business transacted in the Colony. Union Members buying from the Trading Company save the following amounts: On "The Coaker" $75.00, on "The Advocate" $65.00, on "The U. T. C." $55.00, on "The F. P. U." $50.00. Not only are those amounts saved but any poor member is enabled to purchase for two years payment, while Agents of other engines require full payment within six months after delivery of engines.

We Also Sell "The Coaker" 4 Cycle 6 h.p. Engine on Easy Terms

ST. JOHN'S, N.F.L.D., FEB. 9, 1914.

OUR POINT OF VIEW.

STEALING IDEAS.

"Imitation," runs an old saw, "is the sincerest form of flattery." It is the brand of practical admiration that the Premier is handing out to the members of the Union wing of the Opposition.

Two weeks ago Mr. Coaker introduced in the House a Private Bill intended to embody in statutory form the provisions of the famous Sealing Agreement whereby the condition of sealers on our steamers was materially improved.

It now transpires that Sir Edward Morris is himself introducing a series of Resolutions dealing with this matter and is thus in a manner unblushingly stealing the ideas of the President of the F.P.U.

For the information of readers of The Daily Mail we are publishing the Coaker Sealing Bill in the form in which the member for Bonavista introduced it in the House. It will be instructive to compare it with Edward Morris Sealing Resolutions. These Resolutions, being fathered by the Government, will, of course, take precedence over Mr. Coaker's Bill which is a private measure.

This much is certain. No act of the Government, cute, underhand or otherwise, will succeed in depriving President Coaker of the credit for starting the agitation which resulted in so many practical benefits to the sealers. It was his own handiwork; he it was who persuaded the owners to consent to the Agreement; and his are the thanks of thousands of grateful fishermen all over the Country.

When it comes to originating, advocating and carrying reform measures into practical effect, the Union members of the Opposition prove themselves the brains of the House on every occasion.

And Sir Edward Morris proves this fact by playing second fiddle to W. F. Coaker, M.H.A., for Bonavista, in the Sealing Bill connection.

The Danish court says the tango is all right, but, then, it said the same thing of old Doc Cook.—Washington Post.

OBSERVATIONS.

One never realises how expensive talk is until he visits the House and meditates on the fact that the group of speakers on the Government benches have let us in for extra expenditures totalling One Million Dollars in six years.

If we may judge from the frost, the snow, the rain and the thaws that have characterised the last few weeks, even the Clerk of the Weather is so interested in affairs at the House that he is forgetting his business just now.

So the Government repudiates the suggestion that some of our local farmers are characterised by "milk and water" actions. Well we wouldn't be a bit tempted to fasten such a charge on the senior member for Harbor Main or the junior member for Harbor Grace.

Judging by their passive conduct in the House the Minister of Finance and the Hon. J. C. Crosbie are becoming, in some measure, resigned to their fate. But what's the use of their kicking against the Opposition pricks, anyway? Mere bluff and bluster cannot scare off the dogged critics across the House.

So the Government fought the elections in the North "on principle." And, judging by Mr. Cashin's complaint that the electors of Bonavista showed marked ingratitude by voting down the Morris candidates in spite of Branch railroads and other extras too numerous to mention, the Government evidently believed that the more dollars they spent the more convincing their "arguments" appeared to the electors.

He Had Designs

A P. M. G. reader sends us the following little story, certainly one of the best of its kind:

To the great god Buddha came the representatives of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religions to pay him homage. Buddha, very flattered, told each of them that if they would express a wish it would be fulfilled. "What do you wish?" he asked the Catholic.

The answer was "Glory." "You shall have it," said Buddha, and turning to the Protestant, "What do you wish?"

"Money." "You shall have it." "And you?" This to the Jew. "I do not want much," quoth he; "give me the Protestant's address!"—Pall Mall Gazette.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

CURRENT OPINION ON HOME RULE.

Conference Desirable.

The more this question is studied the more inevitable will be the conclusion that the representatives of the four portions of the United Kingdom should meet together in the conference chamber as equals, representing as near as possible an identical amount of public backing; and if the solution, whatever it may be, of our present difficulties is to have any value or any permanence whatever the way surely points to a reform of the House of Commons as an essential preliminary.—Major Clive Morrison-Bell in The Nineteenth Century.

Ulster's Case.

The case which Ulster Protestants present to us in justification of their attitude can be stated in a sentence. They tell us that they are a minority of the people of Ireland, and that they will not get justice from the Romap Catholic majority in an Irish Parliament. The fear is undoubtedly real; but there is surely ground in the history of England and of Scotland, to say nothing of the history of other countries, for the view that in Ireland it is a bad inheritance of bad governments. More fully perhaps than any other people in the world, certainly at an earlier stage in their history the peoples of England and of Scotland have recognised for themselves that the one condition of stable and harmonious progress in their common life is that differences of opinion, of all kinds and on all subjects, shall be brought into the open, and be there freely and fully discussed and decided in the light of their common reason and their common sense. It is, moreover, the recognition of this, as the condition of progress, that constitutes freedom and that is of the very essence of democratic government. To ignore it, or to seek to over-ride it, is to divide a community into perpetually warring, irreconcilable sections. It is to do what the government of Ireland by Great Britain has done in Ireland. And to continue to do it, as Irish Protestants desire, is to perpetuate the evils and the weaknesses of Irish life which all unite in deploring.—J. A. Murray Macdonald, M.P., in The Contemporary Review.

Settlement By Consent.

But is settlement by consent possible without sacrifice of principle? And how can two parties confer where a vital difference of principle exists? Writing as one of those who, sat in the House of Commons through the Home Rule controversies of 1885 and of 1893, it is difficult to refrain from the very obvious criticism that were settlement by consent possible the question of Irish Home Rule should long since have been solved. Public memory, we are always told, is short; but no one who listened to the debates on Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Bill of 1886, the measure which, being rejected by a majority of thirty in a Liberal House of Commons, renounced its party in twain and relegated its remnant to the cold shades of Opposition for the next six years; and again to the debates and public controversy on Mr. Gladstone's second Home Rule Bill of 1893, during a Session which lasted for fifteen months, can ever forget or fail to realise the apparently irreconcilable nature of this vital conflict of opinion and of principle.—Sir Henry Seton-Karr, in The Nineteenth Century.

Let King Intervene.

If Ministers will not appeal to the country because they cannot, and can not because they dare not, let the Crown intervene. If Ministers are so entangled with party cords that they will make no honest effort to avert civil war, let the Crown appeal from them to the people. We believe that there would be such an uprising of loyal men in response as would surprise our brawling demagogues. The heart of England craves for fair compromise and decent, quiet, honest government. If the King will but step forth and appeal to his people, all the best elements in the nation will rally to his side.—The Fortnightly Review.

Not High Enough.

It seems to follow that, if a statute establishing Home Rule for Ireland is to be not only theoretically enacted, but also brought into practical effect, such statute must be based on the decision of some body or assembly, formal or informal, which possesses a much higher moral authority than does the House of Commons. Such a body is unquestionably to be found in the general electorate of the United Kingdom, and indeed it seems natural that the electorate should, rather than any other set of persons, exercise or refuse to exercise the right of mandate in such a matter. It is certain that it has not yet given the mandate; at the very outside it may be said to have somnoiently muttered a sentence of uncertain sound. It there fore remains, not as a last step, but as a first step, to consult the electorate, preferably by referendum, seeing that Home Rule involves a constitutional change of the first magnitude, and ought not to be confounded with the subject-matter of ordinary legislation.—The Editor of The British Review.

Everything To Lose.

Sir E. Carson has nothing to gain and everything to lose by the extraordinary course he has adopted. But he is, above all things, an Irishman, proud of the name and an honest believer in the solidarity of Ireland. Himself a Dubliner, he has devoted himself unsparingly to what he believes to be the interests of Belfast. He must realise that the Covenanters' war-cry, "We won't have Home Rule," is a declaration that the Irish are the one people in the world incompetent to govern themselves. No need to argue that question now. Sir Edward Carson believes this calumny against the majority of his countrymen, but we may at least assume he is sorry to believe it, and would rejoice to be convinced to the contrary. He would rejoice in a self-governed Ireland, a loyal and united Ireland where bigotry would be extinguished and feuds forgotten, where Belfast would co-operate with Dublin to promote the general welfare of the country. Civil war remains as a last desperate resort when everything else has failed; but conciliation is first entitled to a trial.—An Outsider in The Fortnightly Review.

How To Solve It.

I plead for a solution on federal lines, but I do not dogmatise. The question should be discussed in conference. The utility of attempting a settlement on party lines has been demonstrated. If agreement is to be achieved it can only be by gratifying the Prime Minister's desire to lift the question out of the cockpit of British party politics. A conference under those conditions is necessary. I tremains with party leaders to say whether, for the settlement of great constitutional questions affecting the future of the United Kingdom and of the Empire, personal feelings should stand in the way and whether party acts and party advantages should be temporarily laid aside.—The Earl of Dunraven in The Nineteenth Century.

Serious Situation.

No thoughtful Englishman can fail to be concerned at the general situation in which Parliament attempts to deal with the affairs, not only of the United Kingdom as a whole, but also of each of its component parts. . . . Parliament passes more laws, and new departments are created for their administration. . . . The bureaucratic elements are ever eager to divest themselves of supervision, and Parliament will inevitably play into their hands by devolving more of its work upon the departments until it is able to devote it upon other elective bodies which are in regular contact with public opinion. Herein we have the only effective remedy for the existing Parliamentary failure, and one of the most potent justifications for Home Rule, which would relieve Parliament of the responsibility, not only of Irish legislation, but, what is perhaps even more important, for the supervision of Irish administration.—I. de R. Walker in The Contemporary Review.

The man whose brow is highest may not always know the most; The hero who is bravest may not make the loudest boast; The arm that is the strongest may not have the farthest reach; And the man who talks the longest may not have the finest speech. shall be ingredients in the soup supplied on Saturdays.
(e) Fresh beef shall be supplied to each member of the crew once each week.
(f) Cooks shall be prohibited from any other work than cooking.
3. It shall be the duty of the owner, master or person on whose account any steamer shall prosecute the seal-fishery in any year to observe or cause to be observed regulations set forth in the two preceding sections.
4. The Owner or Master of any steamer offending against any of these regulations set forth in Sections 1 and 2 of this Act shall be liable to a penalty of not less than Five hundred dollars for every such offence, to be recovered in a summary manner by any person who shall sue for the same before a Stipendiary Magistrate.
5. Sick and disabled men on wooden ships shall be transferred when possible to steel ships belonging to the same owners as the wooden ships.
6. Wooden ships shall not depart for the fishery outside the Gulf of St. Lawrence before 8 o'clock a.m. on the 12th day of March in each year. Steel ships shall not depart from St. John's or any port South or West thereof before 8 o'clock a.m. on the 13th day of March in each year, or any port North of St. John's before 8 o'clock on the 14th day of March in each year, under a penalty of Four thousand dollars, to be recovered in a summary manner by such person as may sue for the same before a Stipendiary Magistrate from the owner, master or other person on whose account such wooden or steel ship shall be sent to such fishery.
7. No hood seals shall be killed by the crew of any ship prosecuting the Northern fishery during the years 1914 and 1915, or the pelts thereof taken on board under a penalty of $100.00 for each hood seal so killed or for each pelt so taken, payable by the persons killing the said pelts or taking the said pelts on board, any pelts so taken shall be confiscated.
8. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Custom Officer of any port that a wooden ship has landed more than one half of her crew because the season has become so far advanced that a full crew is no longer necessary, and if the said ship shall not land any portion of her cargo of seals or reef she shall again be cleared for the seal-fishery by the said Customs Officer, and shall not be deemed to go on a second trip provided she leaves port before the 10th of April in any year. No ship shall be allowed to land more than once in any season under the provisions of this section.
9. Steel ships under 850 tons gross shall for the purpose of this Act be considered as wooden ships.
10. No seals shall be killed by the crew of any ship or by any member of such crew before the 15th day of March in any year, nor shall seals so killed be brought into any port of this Colony or its dependencies in any year under a penalty of Four thousand dollars to be recovered from the master, owner or other persons, in whose account such steamer shall have been sent to the fishery.

The Sealing Bill As Introduced By W. F. Coaker, M.H.A.

Brought in Two Weeks Ago and Now Sir Edward Morris is Introducing Resolutions Covering Some Ground.

PREMIER ATTEMPTS TO TAKE CREDIT FROM F.P.U. PRESIDENT.

The Sealing Bill introduced in the House by President Coaker, which has been awaiting its second reading for two weeks:
A Bill to amend 55 Victoria, Cap. 2, Entitled "An Act to Regulate the Prosecution of the Seal Fishery."
BE it enacted by the Governor, the Legislative Council and House of Assembly in Legislative session convened, as follows—
1. The following Regulations shall apply to all steamers built of steel prosecuting the seal-fishery—
(a) The sides of the ships where men sleep shall be sheathed internally with wood.
(b) Decks not permanently sheathed shall be sheathed temporarily for the voyage with three inch plank properly secured.
(c) All ships shall be fitted with portable iron frame berths for sleeping accommodation of the crew.
(d) The companion way and hatchways shall be boarded in to protect men from draughts and weather. All hatches shall have water-tight coverings.
(e) The sleeping quarters of the crew shall be heated by steam pipes.
(f) A room shall be supplied for the accommodation of sick and disabled men.
(g) The use of rifles by the crew or any member thereof for the purpose of killing seals shall be prohibited.
(h) Wherever practicable a doctor shall be carried in each ship.
2. The following Regulations shall apply to all steamers prosecuting the seal-fishery—
(a) Not less than one pound of soft bread shall be served to each member of the crew three times each week.
(b) Beef, pork, potatoes and pudding shall be supplied for dinner three times each week.
(c) Stewed beans and fish brewsee shall be supplied for breakfast on alternate days.
(d) Onions, potatoes and turnips

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR IS VERY BADLY INJURED.

Ell Lilly, While Working On The Sweeper, Has Hip And Ankle Dislocated— Taken to Hospital.

Ell Lilly, a conductor of the street car service, was the victim of a serious accident at midnight Saturday, and is now at the General Hospital. He was working on the sweeper, endeavoring to keep the line open, and as the car was going down Water Street, just east of Adelaide Street, the accident happened.

leaving the foot turned in at a right angle.

Attended by Dr. Roberts
Dr. Roberts dressed the wounds and ordered the patient to the hospital where he was taken in the ambulance, accompanied by Dr. Roberts and Constable O'Neil.

Owing to the condition of the roads much trouble was experienced reaching the institution. At times the horse became bogged and the driver and constable had to beat a track for the horse.

An operation was performed yesterday morning and the patient was greatly relieved by it.

This morning the sufferer was doing well and it is hoped that the leg will be saved.

Mr. Lilly is married and resides at Allan's Square. He has met with a number of accidents during the last year or two.

Injured by Horse
He was injured by a doctor's horse and while employed as express man with a wine merchant he met with another accident.

He was on the car that got out of control going over Theatre Hill recently, but Saturday night's accident is worse than all.

Difficult to Clear

Great difficulty was experienced in clearing him, a dozen or more men being employed. He was then tenderly carried to Mr. P. Butler's restaurant where Dr. Roberts attended him.

The doctor found the limb in a very bad state. The leg was dislocated at the hip, the ankle was out of socket,

"JOHN LLEWELLYN" REACHES WALES.

Bound to St. John's from Bahia.—She is Driven to Port Madoc.—Badly Damaged.

Mr. A. S. Rendell had a cablegram from Port Madoc to-day that the John Llewellyn had arrived there seriously damaged. She is leaking badly and must undergo extensive repairs. She had to abandon the voyage to St. John's.

The John Llewellyn left Brazil on Dec. 11th for this port in company with the Blanche Curry, Nellie Louise, and her arrival has been expected daily for the last fortnight.

Those interested in her were getting anxious.

From the contents of Mr. Rendell's message she must have had a fearful time to bring up at her home port when this side of the Atlantic was her destination.

The Blanche Curry which passed Cape Race inwards at noon Tuesday last has not been reported since. It is thought that she too may have been driven across the Atlantic.

SANITARY INSPECTION IS VERY NECESSARY.

The Appointment of Inspector N. J. Murphy is a Move in the Right Direction and Should Result in Much Benefit to the City.

The appointment by the City Council of an inspector whose duties will be solely to look after the insanitary conditions of the higher levels, is an up-to-date movement, for owing to the want of sewerage side drains, etc., the various streets are often in a most unsightly and unhealthy condition.

Those conditions are very often brought about through carelessness on the part of the residents, who for some reason or other persistently disobey the all sanitary rules.

Hence the appearance of Inspector N. J. Murphy's daily visits will have a most decided effect on all guilty ones in this respect. We congratulate the Council in securing the services of Mr. Murphy, as he is well fitted for the job, being a sober and attentive man.

CLERICAL "OLD BOYS" MEET AT CARBONEAR.

Revs. J. Lynch, W. P. Finn, and Drs. Murphy and Whelan Pay Social Call on Mons. McCarthy at Carbonear.

Yesterday afternoon the Reverends J. Lynch, of Northern Bay; W. P. Finn, of Holyrood; and Doctors Whelan and Murphy, of North River and Brigus respectively, paid a visit to the Rt. Rev. Monsignor McCarthy, V.G., of the Diocese of Harbor Grace, and were hospitably entertained in the Rt. Rev. Monsignor's clerical style.

The three last mentioned clergy members happened to be natives of Carbonear. They very happily took the occasion to present a very useful and neatly portmanteau, in their own name, and that of their contemporaries of their school days, to the Monsignor, as a slight token of their affection and esteem, and of the Monsignor's intended tour abroad with His Lordship the Bishop of Harbor Grace.

The priests wished the Monsignor a pleasant trip, which he richly deserves after his thirty years of missionary labors in Newfoundland, chiefly in Carbonear.—Bon voyage!

BIG AVIATION STORY AT NICKEL THEATRE

The programme arranged for the Nickel to-day is an excellent one. The feature film will be a two reel story entitled "Wrecked in Mid Air," a sensational picture of aviation. It tells of two air experts who are rivals in business and love. There is a clever piece of detective work in the film which is certain to please St. John's audiences. It is of absorbing interest from start to finish.

The balance of the programme is the best that can be procured and will give pleasure to all.

Mr. Koch will be heard in a new song to-day.

Mrs. S. H. Logan entertained her friends to a novel competition tea on Friday last. A most enjoyable time was spent by those present.

Mrs. J. A. Clift and Mrs. W. Marshall entertained their friends to bridge parties on Wednesday afternoon and evening last respectively.

His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Davidson gave a luncheon party to some of their friends at Government House on Wednesday last. Sixteen guests were present and a most enjoyable time was spent.

His Excellency the Governor, Mrs. Davidson and suite attended the hockey match between the Crescents and Victorias on Wednesday evening last. His Excellency's interest in our local sporting events is much appreciated by our citizens.

We are sorry to note that Mrs. E. R. Bowring has been confined to her house for the past few days as the result of a nasty fall on the ice she sustained last week. Her many friends hope to see her fully recovered within the next day or so.

Waterford Hall was very well patronized on Wednesday afternoon last when many of our society folk drove out and took afternoon tea there. When the sleighing is good a very pleasant afternoon can be spent at this popular country hostelry.

The tea in aid of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held in the Presbyterian Hall on Wednesday next. Many of our prominent ladies will have tables and as the object is a worthy one the tea should be well patronized.

The marriage of Miss Enid Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baird, to Mr. T. Bruce Carman, of the Bank of Montreal, will take place in April next. Both young people are very popular here and their friends will join in wishing them the best of good luck.

Mrs. John Browning read a very interesting paper at the Current Events Club—a branch of the Ladies' Reading Room—on Saturday afternoon last. The subject was "Art and Literature in the Colonies," and was much enjoyed by the large number of ladies present. After the paper had been read tea was served to those present.

Word was received from Doctor Carberry by last mail saying that the doctor, who has spent some time at the King George Hospital, London, undergoing an operation on his leg, is now fully recovered and will take two months holidays before resuming work. His many friends here will be glad to hear that Dr. Carberry has fully recovered from his operation.

MORE DIPHTHERIA

Another case of diphtheria was reported from the quarantined house at King's Bridge yesterday. The patient is being nursed at home.

The B.I.S. Society meets to-morrow night to nominate officers. The election takes place to-morrow week.

TO-NIGHT'S MATCH.

The Feldians and St. Bon's are the contestants in to-night's League match. The game promises to be exciting.

THE CITY'S HEALTH

During last week there were four new cases of diphtheria and one of scarlet. In the hospital at present are 3 scarlets, 1 typhoid and 25 diphtherias. Three scarlets are being nursed at home.

C.C.C. ATHLETES.

The C.C.C. athletes met at their armory at noon yesterday, when the contests for this week were arranged.

This evening there will be two hand ball games, the first between teams captained by A. O'Brien and J. Summers; and the second by J. Reardon and J. Cahill.

There will also be a game of basket ball between J. Murphy and J. J. Donnelly's teams.

Friday, Feb. 20th, there will be exhibition games of basket ball, field hockey and tug-of-war between the Club and Reserves, for which a small admission fee will be charged.

TO ENTER HOSPITAL.

George Best of Merasheen arrived by Saturday night's train for hospital.

NOT THE REPORTER.

A Mr. W. O'Neil made application for a job at last Friday's meeting of the Municipal. It was not the reporter.

M. G. DRILL.

The Methodist Guards drill this evening at the Highlanders Armory. A social in aid of the new armory fund will be held on the 18th in the College Hall.

THE 'SAINTS' FOOTERS

Some of the 'Saints' are talking football again, and it is hoped St. Andrew's will be represented in the league again next season. Everyone will be delighted if they form up.

SATURDAY'S BLIZZARD.

Saturday's blizzard was very severe, and citizens found it no easy matter getting around. Had the frost been kept conditions would have been worse. No damage is reported.

POLICE INVESTIGATING

Sergt. Cox, of Bell Island, and the assistants from St. John's, are now working on the alleged larceny case at Bell Island Friday, when the Goldstone fire was in progress. Up to 2 p.m. to-day no word had been received of arrests being made, though it is very likely that a couple of residents of the Island will be taken in charge.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE HOLD GENERAL MEETING IN THE COLLEGE HALL.

Gathering Addressed by Bishop Jones and Many Other Prominent Clergymen and Citizens.—Sentiments Favorable to the Preservation of an Absolutely "Closed" Sunday.

The meeting under the auspices of the Lord's Day Alliance in the Methodist College Hall last night was largely attended.

His Lordship Bishop Jones in his opening remarks stated that he had attended every public meeting of the Alliance since its inception. He has observed a great change coming over our people regarding the observance of Sunday, and he feared that the change was not in the right direction.

Serious Question.

This was a question which very seriously affected the welfare of the working classes, and everything that might be viewed as an encroachment on this day must be regarded with grave concern. What was desirable was not a Puritanical Sunday, yet as the trend to-day was towards the other extreme, there was great need to begin to take care. It was not a day of pleasure or idle slothfulness.

His Lordship then raised the question, what sort of day should it be? First, a day of rest; 2nd, of recreation; 3rd, of giving joy to others; and 4th, and above all, a day of worship.

Concerning recreation the difficulty was how far to go, and where the line must be drawn, and what sort of recreation it might be. First, it should be innocent in itself; 2nd, helpful to body and mind; 3rd, used in moderation; 4th, a fulfillment of the Golden Rule, "Do unto others, etc."; 5th, it must not be such as to cause scandal to a weaker brother; and 6th, it should not spoil the hallowed influence of worship in God's house.

Guard Our Sundays.

He hoped that day was far off when we should know in Newfoundland what a Continental Sunday meant. Once we lose our Sunday we shall never recover it, therefore, hold it fast and unite in effort to maintain it.

The next speaker was Mr. W. H. Jones, and he spoke interestingly of the existing conditions in the Old Country and other parts of Europe. He is a firm supporter of the Alliance and believes that every working man should associate himself with it.

Out of Town.

Mr. R. A. Squires intended speaking, but being out of town, Rev. Dr. Curtis was requested to take his place.

The Doctor was glad that the observance of the Sabbath was not yet dead. He asked the question, is there need for the Lord's Day Alliance here, and the answer is yes.

Conditions Abroad

The Doctor then spoke of the conditions in the States, where one man in every five has to work on Sundays. They had waited for legislation to remedy the evil, only to find they had lingered too long, because when it was brought up the English speaking people had been out-voted by the foreigners, who had arrived in the meanwhile, and to whom the Sabbath was of little importance.

He quoted Cardinal Gibbons' statement that it would be a dangerous time when more would be found in the theatre than the church, and pointed out the danger of Christianity falling on such times.

Rev. J. S. Sutherland and Rev. Mr. Thomas spoke briefly, proposing a vote of thanks to his Lordship, which was carried by acclamation.

Mr. A. H. Allen, of the C. E. Cathedral, presided at the organ.

T. A. & B. SOCIETY MONTHLY MEETING.

Fourteen Applicants Are Initiated.—Society Will Make Some Improvements to its Building.

The T.A. & B. Society held its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, the attendance of members was unusually large.

Fourteen applicants on presenting the pledge of total abstinence were duly elected. President Ellis spoke kind words of welcome to the newly-elected asking all to be true to their pledge by shunning the demon "strong drink." The taking of the pledge from your respected clergy is in itself a good thing, but by being admitted to the T. A. Society and remaining a constant member for life shows the true character of a man.

The meeting decided to make some necessary alterations and plans for up-to-date sanitary improvements are being submitted. Tenders for the work will be asked for during the week.

After the routine business was finished the large meeting then adjourned.

ATLANTIC LODGE L.O.O.F.

The regularly weekly meeting of Atlantic Lodge, L.O.O.F., No. 1, takes place at the Odd Fellows Hall at 8 to-day, when the Initiatory Degree will be put on by Past Grand Spurrell.

The Degree Team has gone to considerable trouble preparing special features for this Degree and every Odd Fellow will make a special effort to attend.
