POWERLESS TO CORRECT PHONE SYSTEMS EVIL

Matter for Dominion, Declares Hon. I. B. Lucas to the Legislature—Opposition Too Generous.

TORONTO, April 3.—The Ontario Government is powerless to remedy the provincial telephone system by legislation. This was the substance of a government announcement made by Hon. I. B. Lucas last evening in the course of a short debate on the possibilities of public ownership of this utility. The whole matter, said the minister was one which came under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government. They had granted the concessions in the first place, and any remedy, if remedy were necessary, lay in their hands.

Late on the previous evening, J. C. Elliott of Middlesex, had moved a resolution calling for a study of the whole situation by the government, and especially urging attention to the problem of trunk lines with a view to operating in connection with the Hydro Electric Commission.

An Amendment
After a short discussion, Geo. Pattinson, of South Waterloo, moved in amendment a regret that the Federal Government in 1906 had granted an extension to the Bell Company without entailing that the line must interchange with others.

Hon. Mr. Lucas gave the substance of his European investigations and explained the British system in full. Originally there had been a private company and then the government had taken hold and the two worked in rivalry. To his mind the resultant competition had worked in a great economic waste even although the two systems had interchanged their services on occasion. He emphasized the extreme undesirability of such a situation.

In comparison with Ontario the English systems did not have to struggle against a series of complicated rural telephone services. He stated that it was quite proper for the opposition to bring in an amendment expressing their views, but that had not been done, and not a single feasible suggestion had been made.

A Laurier Blunder.
Mr. Lucas agreed that the conditions at present were troublesome and had been ever since the Bell Telephone Company had been granted a 30 year franchise extension by the Federal Government in 1906. They held now a monopoly of the telephone business and when the case came before the Government for clearing up it was not helped whatever. At present they had a right to refuse the request of 10 or 12 farmers who came asking for a special line for their benefit, and there was no legislation, either federal or provincial to compel them to do it. That was the reason for things being tied up to-day.

He wished to know if the Opposition would urge the taking over of long distance lines. Such an enterprise would mean a duplication of plants and a great waste spent in years of bitter fighting.
Mr. Elliott in a brief response felt that the government should not let the matter rest. He understood that the Minister of Power had some ideas, which might be worked out into definite steps.
The amendment expressing confidence in the action of the present Government was passed in division.

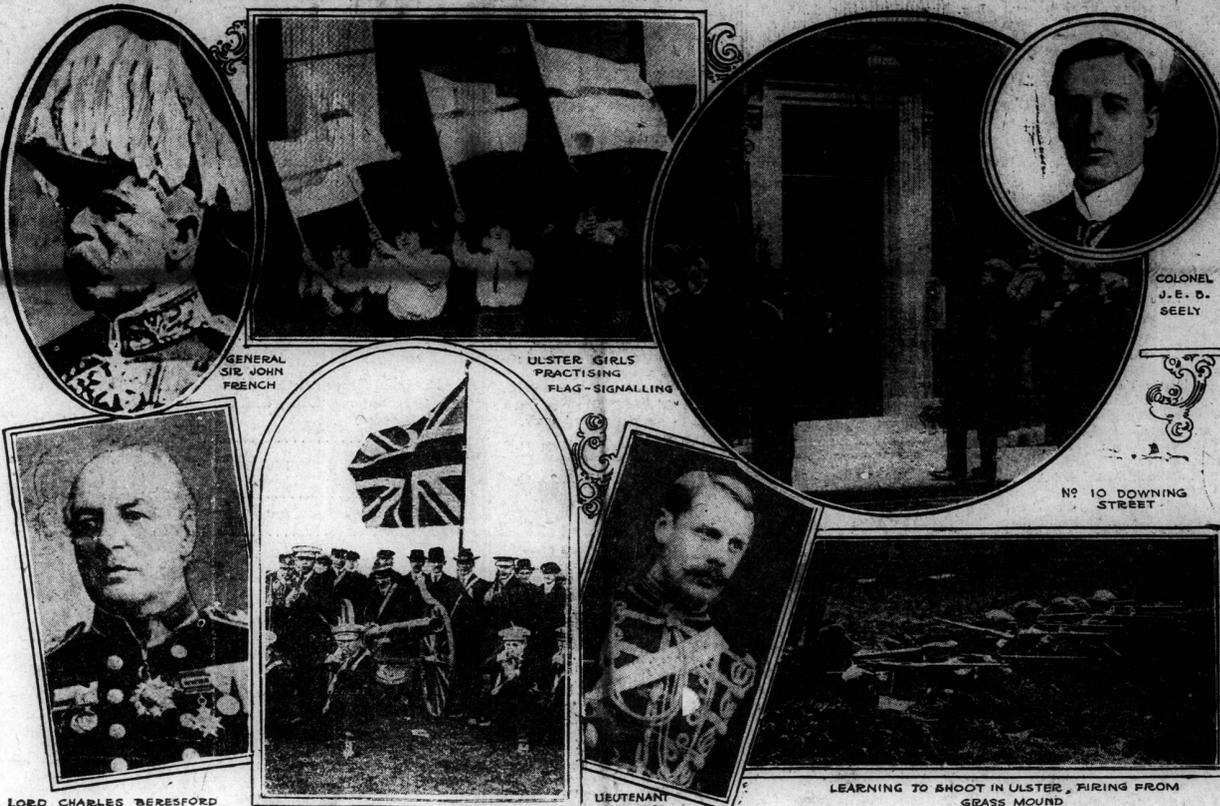

WANT GOOD ROADS

Grand View Improvement Association Adopts Slogan.

Good roads was the slogan of the meeting of the Grand View Improvement Society, which met last night. President William Eastcott was in the chair. Complaints have been numerous on the hill against the indiscriminate dumping of cinders on the roads, and various vehicles have been doing somersault acts to the discomfort of drivers. The matter will be taken up at the township council meeting. The association now has a membership of 60, and arrangements were made last night to hold a booster night at the next meeting, when important committee reports will be presented.

A. M. Crombie, formerly manager of the Montreal branch of the Bank of Commerce, also connected with other banking and commercial institutions died at Montreal in his 77th year.

BRITISH LEADERS CONFER WHILE ULSTER PREPARES FOR CIVIL CONFLICT

GENERAL SIR JOHN FRENCH
ULSTER GIRLS PRACTISING FLAG-SIGNALLING
COLONEL J. E. D. SEELY
Nº 10 DOWNING STREET
LEARNING TO SHOOT IN ULSTER, FIRING FROM GRASS MOUND
ULSTERMEN PRACTISING WITH WOODEN CANNON
LIEUTENANT COLONEL ARTHUR F. BAILEY

The Archbishop of Canterbury, who is deeply interested in the situation, had conferences with the Premier, Mr. Asquith, at his residence, No 10 Downing street. General Sir Arthur Paget, commanding the troops in Ireland, had them paraded and told them, according to the letter, that he had "an express order and request from the King himself to ask every officer to go as ordered; that he might never be called upon to fight, and that if they refused to go there might be mutiny in the army, which would mean a revolution in England, and in six months there would be no King and no army." In the meantime in Ulster toasts are being enthusiastically drunk to the King and to the success of Sir Edward Carson. Also the mobilization of the Ulster army goes on, and it will be quite ready for action.

Ulster is still in a state of calm, but there is no lessening of the gravity of the situation. So important does King George consider it that he has decided he should remain in touch with his ministers, and has cancelled all his engagements. Among those the King is consulting are Colonel Seely, Secretary of State for War, Sir John French, Field Marshal, and Lord Beresford, a strong advocate of the Ulster cause. Lord Beresford, in a letter to the press, says:—

"I know for a fact that many naval officers, including those of high rank and some of the best men we possess, will resign their commissions if ordered to take part in the coercion of Ulster, or even if the army alone is utilized for that purpose."

Lord Charles contends that the argument that the officers and men who refuse to coerce Ulster might refuse in the future to participate in the quelling of riots does not hold good. There being no comparison, he says, between civil war and a riot.

WELCOME ASQUITH IN FIFE

Liberals Gave Their Leader a Great Reception.

He Will Speak on Monday on Home Rule Question.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
NEW YORK, April 14.—A cable to the New York World from London says:
Premier Asquith had triumphal progress yesterday on his way to East Fife, Scotland, for his re-election, which has been necessitated by his acceptance of the portfolio of secretary for war. When he left the King's Cross Railway station the platform was crowded. Cabinet ministers and Liberal Nationalist members of the House of Commons assembled there to give him a send-off. There was great enthusiasm.

Mr. Asquith, who appeared to be in splendid health and spirits, replying to an address from the London Liberals thanked them for the demonstration and said he was glad to be carrying with him their good will and confidence in the coming fight.
Outside the station vast crowds assembled with his arrival and long after the train departed.
Though the demonstration was almost entirely spontaneous, the event was one of the most remarkable political demonstrations seen in London for many years.
At all the railway stations on the way north the addresses to Mr. Asquith, who replied in a spirit of confidence and determination to carry the struggle to a successful issue for her efforts in the past.

Would Annul This Marriage

Girl of 17 Years Involved—Father Issues a Writ.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
TORONTO, April 4.—Another action to annul a youthful marriage has been brought before the Ontario courts. A writ was issued at Osgoode Hall this morning for declaration that the marriage of Martha Broad, 602 St. Clarence Avenue to Joseph William McKee on the evening of March 25 last, was null and void ab initio. The action is brought on behalf of Miss Broad by William Broad.

Rev. T. E. Barlley, Methodist, who tied the wedding knot states that the two young people came to him two weeks before the wedding and told him that they wanted to get married. He told them it would be all right if they brought him the license, that he would make the entries in his book.

"I thought everything was all right," he said. "Because runaway couples do not as a rule give you notice." The age of the young man was given as 22 and that of the girl 19 years, whereas it is understood that the girl is 17 years of age, and the boy a little younger.
After the McKee-Broad wedding, the witnesses, a boy and girl of about the same ages also went through the wedding ceremony. There has not as yet been a second

At The Y. W. C. A.

Blodgett Bible Class
The last meeting of the Blodgett bible class took place yesterday in the Y. W. C. A. when the subject of an interesting discourse was "Jesus, the ever present comforter." This is the last of the series of portraits of Jesus given by Mrs. G. W. Barber, and a very large attendance was present to hear the speaker, who has gained the good will of many ladies who have attended the classes. In view of the success which has resulted from the never-tiring efforts of Mrs. G. W. Barber, a continuation of the meetings is expected next year. On behalf of the ladies, the eloquent speaker was thanked heartily for her efforts in the past.

VANCOUVER IS SHOCKED BY WOMAN'S MURDER

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
VANCOUVER, B. C., April 4.—"We have found enough evidence to justify us in the statement that Mrs. Millard was foully murdered," was the statement given out by the police this morning after spending forty-eight hours of constant labor upon one of the most startling crimes that has occurred in this city. For two days the police have searched the premises at 1050 Pendrill street, inside and outside, for some trace of the missing woman and it was not until last night that definite traces of the horrible crime were discovered. According to various clues discovered, Mrs. C. J. Millard, wife of the chief ticket agent of the C. P. R. station, was done to death and the police suspicion rests on her Chinese servant, Jack King.

Traces of human flesh and blood were discovered in the furnace by the police and carefully removed for analysis. An inquest will be held to-day.

Blood hounds were used inside the house and the dogs picked up the scent which resulted in the finding of parts of the body in the furnace. The body had been hacked to pieces with an axe.

The Chinaman was put under the third degree, but maintained silence, but it was seen several times that his lips twitched when he was asked if he had committed the crime. Mr. Millard had been on a trip to Victoria, and returned on Wednesday to find his wife missing. He telephoned relatives of her's but they had not seen her and then he called in the chief of police who found the ashes and bones.

THE FIRST READING FOR CITY BILL IN THE HOUSE TODAY

Operation of Street Railway and Other Matters Are Dealt With.

The City of Brantford's private bill received its first reading in the Ontario Legislature yesterday, Mr. W. S. Brewster, M.P.P., acting as sponsor for the measure. The bill covers various matters of civic importance. It gives the municipality the right to own and operate the Grand Valley Railway, although no details as to how the operation should be conducted are outlined in the bill. It further gives the city power to guarantee the bonds of the Industrial Realty Company, whereby buildings can be erected for rental to new industries. It also refers to an important matter in connection with civic improvement, transferring the care of the boulevards of the city to the Parks Board. The sanction of certain money by-laws is also incorporated in the measure.

Thos. A. Cox

Well Known Importer of Horses Passed Away Yesterday

General regret will be felt at the death of Mr. Thos. Cox, who passed away yesterday at his home on River Road, suddenly, after a brief illness. The late gentleman was born in Hamilton fifty years ago and has resided in Brant County some twenty-six years. Happily married, he had eight children, who are Agnes, Ruth, Jean and Harry at home, Richard of Kendersley; Frank of Detroit, James of Detroit and Albert of Outlook, Sask., all of whom survive to mourn the loss of a good and faithful father with Mrs. Cox, who has lost an exemplary husband. The deceased was extensively known as a breeder of pure farm stock and he was especially prominent as an importer of the famous Hackney and Welsh ponies. He was a popular member of Brant Lodge of the Masonic Order and was a Presbyterian in religion. He was formerly the manager of the Langton Stock Farm and at one time conducted the Oak Park farm and at the time of his death he was resident upon the River Road.

The sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved relatives.

Premier Asquith arrived in East Fife after receiving a series of ovations en route from London.

GAS BILL MET WITH APPROVAL

Brantford Deputation Made Good Impression in Toronto.

Mr. Brewster and Others Put Up a Strong Fight.

That the Brantford deputation made a good presentation of their case before the private bills committee of the Ontario Legislature yesterday, was the opinion of all the members this morning. It is believed that Mr. Brewster's bill to force the gas company to supply pure gas, will go through, although some protective clauses may be added so as to protect the western part of the province where the interests are heavy and where, as Mayor Spence said to-day they apparently love sulphur and lots of it.

Mr. Brewster, M.P.P., put up a splendid fight for the remedial legislation which he introduced in the House, and which will virtually make the gas company either inaugurate a new order of things or go out of business. A sub-committee was appointed by the municipal committee of the Legislature to consider all the circumstances surrounding the Dominion Gas Company's failure to supply pure gas to Brantford, Paris and Galt and will try to suggest a remedy to be considered along with Mr. W. S. Brewster's bill providing that such concerns must supply a pure product or forfeit their franchise. The sub-committee will be composed of the following members: Messrs Brewster (South Brant), Atkinson (North Norfolk), Pattinson (South Waterloo), Sulman (West Kent), Westbrook (North Brant) and Dr. Anderson (South Essex).

RECOGNITION OF CARRANZA BY U. S. IS ASKED

Foreigners Owning Property in Mex. Consider Rebel Victory Should Justify Wash. in Step.

EL PASO, April 4.—The effect of the rebel victory at Torreon was felt here in a stiffening of the market for constitutionalist money, and in the beginning of a movement to organize foreigners owning property in Mexico to appeal to Washington to recognize the Carranza government.

The latter idea originated with former Governor George Curry of New Mexico, but having placed the matter in the hands of certain leading Democrats to work out as they promised to do he expressed a desire to serve only in the ranks for the success of the movement. Gen. Carranza declined to comment on the movement, but there was much favorable comment at Juarez.

No Counter Revolutions.
The movement is said to be significant of a local sentiment that if the revolution is carried to a complete success the counter revolutions which it has generally been predicted would follow, really would not materialize.

Mr. Curry said he was convinced that foreign sentiment upheld in the belief that recognition of Huerta being out of the question, the time has come for foreigners to lend such aid to the Carranza revolution as will help it to a speedy conclusion. Telegrams sounding senators and representatives at Washington on the proposed propaganda were sent last night.

Federal Loss Heavy.
EL PASO, Texas, April 3.—Federal sympathizers in this city last night claimed information to the effect that the Federals who escaped from Torreon numbered a force of 5,000. This would indicate the dead, wounded and prisoners of the Huerta forces numbered about 5,500.

The Federals believe that Velasco and the remnant of his army will attempt to join with the Monterey garrison said to number 4,000. General Pablo Gonzales, the rebel leader operating in that section, is believed to have a following of 3,000.

WHY THE COURIER IS THE PEOPLE'S PAPER

Words of Praise From Head of Live Advertising Agency.

"Send us ten more papers every day and fifty more every Saturday," was a message received this week at The Courier office from Stedman's Book Store, Limited.

Last week Pickle's stores telephoned for ten more every day at each store and a larger order for Saturdays.

Last week Ayliffe's store added to their daily order recently and a number of new agencies have been opened in the outlying districts.

"The Courier has undergone a wonderful change in the past year," said Mr. G. F. Hobart, manager of the Hamilton Advertising agency to a Courier representative recently. He said that advertising agency men are usually slow to admit great improvement in a paper or its circulation, realizing it means advanced rates. "But we must admit the Courier is going ahead amazingly. Our agency is sending you a nice contract for the F. F. Dalley Co., manufacturers of 2-1 shoe polish, and you can look for further contracts from us."

Here are some of the features that have helped to make the Courier "the people's paper" of Brantford.

The four page comic supplement every Saturday.

"Pa's on-in-law," the comic strip that appears every day.

The International Syndicate's fashion hints and pictorials that are published on age 2 frequently.

Programme for the Week
The programme of meetings in connection with Old Home Week for next week consist of the sub-committee on sports of the Fraternal Day on Monday night. Tuesday night the parade general committee will hold a big meeting at headquarters and every member is requested to attend. Wednesday night the general fraternal committee meets in the city hall and as this is an important meeting it is hoped every member will be present.

Church Choir Puts on An Old Time Concert
Thursday Night.

With ye old time mirth and lafter ye choir of Colborne street Methodist Church Thursday evening put on a grand old concert which was much enjoyed by all present. To say the least it was a success. The church was packed to hear the fifty members of the choir, dressed in old time costumes sing the old songs of long ago.
Each number was greeted by a great round of applause. The costumes were extremely funny and the members of the choir each took their parts to perfection.
Rev. T. E. Holling made a decided hit in his rendition of "The Model Church", accompanied by the rest of the choir.
Mr. Sanderson and Miss Mildred Sanderson won great applause in their "Musick by ye Fiddler and Harpischorder." The Misses Berry and Gould won hearty applause in their humorous dialogue which was exceptionally well rendered. All the other members of the choir acquitted themselves in a splendid manner.
Special mention must be made of the work of Mrs. Leeming as Mitreff Belinda Fitepanfitch and Mr. Geo. C. White as Mitfer Urah Fitepanfitch. To these members of the choir belongs the credit of the originality of the programme. Mrs. Leeming worked night and day on the programme and last night nothing but praise was heard for her splendid work. The following is some of the notes which were attached to the programme:
"Note—All those who are so blest as to have good lungs and religious training are expected to stand up and sing ye last tune which be ye National Air about ye King (all ye people must keep awake which, then depart to they're abodes in a comely manner, ye married folks by themselves and ye single menne and wimmes one each by themselves. Ye Parson hopes that all ye neighbors will take off their head gear and not put them on until all ye songs is ended."
N. B.—Babies in arms may be left with the gentlemen ushers at ye floors.
Ye concert will begin at earlie candlelight and ye price to see and hear will be two yorke shillings and if you have two children ye can pay two more yorke shillings and if you set in two seats at once you must pay four yorke shillings.
P.P.S. Ye syngers will wear their ancestors old clothes.
P.P.P.S.—There will be lots of fine and goodlye musycke.
P.P.P.P.—If ye can't laff, don't come.
Another P.S.—Positively no produce such as ye butter and eggs will be tuk as barter for ye seats as ye company can't be pestered with 'em.
N. B.—Between the first and second parts, will ye who have brought snuff pepperminis, cookies and other refreshments be good enough to pass them around and visit.
P.S.—If ye like to hear ye tunes two times ye may clap ye hands but ye boys must be careful of ye meet-in-house carpet and not stamp they're feet lest they disturb the dust, then the caretaker will be cross.
P.P.S.—Those who may be late and have to stand uppe will not be charged extra.
N. B.—Ye menne and wimmes may together but any unseemly levitic or giggling will peradventure be mentioned from ye pulpit on ye next Lord's day.
R.S.V.P.—Put ye shells of ye peanits in ye pockets, as the Sexton already hath enough.
P.S.—If ye want to sneeze, wait till ye concert is over.
No spye glasses will be allowed as ye spinsters who take part are shame faced and bashful.
Bring this programme with thee as we have big demand.
Although there are no instruments capable of measuring it, by scientific calculation of the effect it has been estimated that the wind has blown as rapidly as 600 milgs an hour.

Galt Paper Thinks L.E. & N. Will Acquire the Grand Valley

Says the Galt Reporter editorially: Brantford now virtually owns the Grand Valley road and their city street railway. By a very large majority the voters declared in favor of municipal ownership, and only the legal formalities remain to place the reins of ownership in the hands of the people.
The citizens of Brantford have taken up the venture with confidence and they should not regret it. The experience of Berlin and Guelph in the way of civic operation of street railways has been decidedly satisfactory—in the latter city, the profits being quite a factor in keeping down the tax rate. With their railway in the hands of a competent commission, there is no reason why municipal ownership should not prove equally advantageous to Brantford.
The city's disposition of the Grand Valley line will be awaited in Galt with interest. It is not likely they will attempt to operate it permanently, especially against the competition of the Lake Erie & Northern Railway, it would not be surprising if it should be acquired by the Lake Erie and Northern Company, as it would prove a useful auxiliary for the movement of freight and for switching uses.

Catholic Duty
Is Expounded

"The Duties of Catholics" formed the subject of an eloquent discourse by Rev. Father O'Reilly at the St. Basil's Mission last night when a large gathering of men was present. To-night a shrine will be erected in the church in honor of the Mother of God, and to-morrow the mission closes with a special appeal to men in the afternoon and in the evening an address to the entire congregation.
Father O'Reilly in his discourse last night related how the Catholic church was commissioned by Christ to do his work on earth. Without apology the church commanded all Catholics to obey its precepts. It was not a question of extending the glad hand at the church door to those who had failed, but a case of the backsliders coming to do what was their duty. "He that healeth you healeth me, and he that despiseth you despiseth me and Him that sent me."
The great duty of all Catholics was assisting at the Holy Sacrifice of Mass. The Catholic who misses Mass was a selfish christian, who missed many other christian duties and was more or less a degenerate. If he were faithful he received grace to love God and to do his duty to God and to his fellow man. Father O'Reilly made a severe attack on those who missed recalling the days of the pioneers who frequently walked 20 and 30 miles to attend. There was no difficulty in finding news of the church but there remained a percentage who attended Mass irregularly. Other duties of the true Catholic were fasting, abstaining, doing penance during Lent and going to the sacraments. It was the duty of a Catholic to make a sacrifice for his church and the Catholic who did not do so was cheap and not worthy of the name. He congratulated the people of St. Basil's on the improvements in the parish. They had shown great generosity, but better still they had merely done their duty and given justice. To those who followed the precepts of the church would come not only prosperity on earth but eternal happiness.

WOMAN'S MUSICAL
CONCERT EXCELLENT

Decidedly Clever Program is Rendered at the Y.M.C.A.

One of the finest entertainments of its kind ever presented in Brantford was held last night in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. when the Women's Musical Club gave their annual concert. It was a feast of delight. The select of the cream of the musical talent of the city was assembled and they held the well filled hall to the sway of haunting melodies which under their excellent execution were revived with every emotion thrilling the chords. The Pied Piper of Hamelin could not have been more entrancing.
Miss Marie Jones rendered famous selections from the classical composer in masterly style, her touch being delicately fine. Among her most appreciated numbers were "Meditation" (Chablis) (Massenet); "Se Pleure dans mon Coeur" (Debussy); "Oriental" (Cui); "Caprice Viennois" (Kreisler). Beautiful bouquets and a great ovation rewarded her efforts.
Miss Hazel Sinner excelled in a difficult selection "Rhapsodie Hongroise, No. 11 from Liszt, and had to respond to an encore, which was the rule of the evening. She received a most beautiful bouquet.
Mr. Arthur Blight a sonorous singer of splendid voice added laurels to his crown of glory. He worthily upheld his high reputation as a singer of great merit. The best compositions of Loht, Verdi, and Hatton came rippling from his lips as naturally as a bird would sing. His interpretation was magnificent and he repeatedly bowed his acknowledgements to most cordial applause. His selections were: (Lohr) Romany Songs (a) The Wind on the Heath, (b) Miri Dye (Mother Mine), (c) Where My Caravan Has Rested, (d) The Magpie is a Gipsy Bird, (Hatton) The Wreck of the Hebrides; (Verdi) Scene and Aria "Eri tu che Macchiavi" (From "Un ballo in Maschera"; (Cadmus) At Dawning; (Homer) A Banjo Song; (Tosti) Beauty's Eyes.

Much of the success of the evening depended upon the accompanist of the production, Miss Vera M. Hagerman, and the position could not have been better filled. She deserves great praise for her success in almost the most trying part of the concert. A pretty bouquet of American Beauty Roses were presented to her.
The National Anthem, sung by all, ended a most successful effort.

Obituary

Late Mrs Jane Middlemiss
Last night there was removed by death Mrs Jane Middlemiss, an aged and well known and highly respected citizen of Brantford, at her home, 154 William street. It is over sixty years since the deceased, who was in her 86th year, first came to the city, and she could recall many of the early days of the struggling town. She was one of the first members of Brant Avenue church when it was under the wing of the Wellington Street Methodist church. The late lady's husband predeceased her many years ago, and there is left to mourn the sad loss of a good mother, five children, three sons and two daughters, Miss M. Middlemiss of the city, Miss K. Middlemiss of Moose Jaw, Peter of Aylmer, J. W. of Wolsely, Sas., and Robert of this city. The funeral takes place on Monday at Greenwood cemetery at 3 o'clock from the residence.

The marriage took place on Tuesday of John Dehner Whiting to Miss Hattie K. Rutherford, by the Rev R. D. Hamilton. On Thursday the marriage took place of Frank Jolly to Miss Jessie Robinson Corbett, by the Rev. J. W. Gordon.

PRICES ON THE LOCAL MARKET

THE MARKETS
The report circulated last week that the supply of maple syrup is about done is correct. This morning only two rigs on the market had syrup, and their supply was very limited. $1.50 was the price asked for it, and the vendors had not long to wait before it was snatched up. Both parties stated that the lack of frost in the ground was the reason for the small supply this year. The market was largely attended this morning by both buyers and sellers. Prices in some goods advanced considerably, while eggs and butter dropped a few cents. Eggs now are selling from 20c to 22c per dozen, while butter is worth 30c.

Potatoes sold at $1.10 per bag, but other vegetables remained at about the same price.

To-day's quotations were:

LOCALS WON

B. C. I. Team Defeated the Woodstock Basket Ballers Last Night—The Score.

Before a large crowd of basketball enthusiasts last night the local Collegiate Institute team defeated a team from the Woodstock College, at the Collegiate gymnasium, by the score of 29 to 21. The game was fast throughout, and marked by the splendid work of both teams. The Collegiate team, if anything, had a little on the visitors in shooting, but the combination of both teams was evenly divided. Slemm and Woods on the forward line were wonders, the shooting of these boys being remarkable. Hitchon, on the defence, with Secord, also played a wonderful game, getting his man all the time. MacDonald at centre played a steady game all the way and was in a great way responsible for the win.

The Brantford boys lined up as follows: Slemm and Woods, forwards; MacDonald, centre; Hitchon and Secord, defence.
Jack Orr referred to the satisfaction of both teams.
In the preliminary game between the B. C. I. Noon Day Club and the Junior Leaders' Corps of the Y. M. C. A., the former team won by the close score of 11 to 8. It was a close game throughout, both teams playing a good defensive game. Ken Woods and Lyle refereed satisfactorily. The teams:
B.C.I.—Dempster and Stewart, forwards; Hyde, centre; Palmer and Moses, defence.
Y.M.C.A.—Verity and Waddington, forwards; Buckenrough, centre; Deagle and Smith, defence.

HEATHER CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Annual Meeting Was Held Last Night—Wm. Lahey President.

There was a crowd of enthusiastic bowlers at the annual meeting of the Heather Bowling Club which was held at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. It was the opinion of every member present that the year just closed was the best in the history of the club, and the fact that the directors were re-elected and the personnel of the committees for 1914 remains practically the same as last year is in itself sufficient criterion that the members were more than satisfied with the manner in which the affairs of the club have been handled.

It is already well known how successful the Heather bowlers were in the various tournaments held last year not only locally but in out of town competitions as well, but a few items from the report of the match committee are most interesting. Out of twenty-four games played only six were lost; the total Heather score was 2721, while their opponents score was 1760. Ten afternoon games were played, and fourteen night games; a total of 1073 ends were played, of which the Heather won 1037.

Only words of praise were handed to the retiring president, Mr. E. C. Tench, whose untiring efforts have had a great deal to do with the success of the club. The new president, Mr. W. J. Lahey, was the unanimous choice of the meeting, and was accorded a rousing reception upon taking the chair. Mr. Lahey was one of the first members of the Heather Club, and has always had nothing but the best interests of the club in view, and as a member of the board of directors has rendered valuable assistance in the work of placing the club where it is today. As a playing member Mr. Lahey has always been most popular, so that his election to the highest office has been well earned, and is most acceptable to the members.

The directors re-elected are: Messrs E. C. Tench, B. J. Wade, W. J. Lahey, D. G. Husband, Dr. Gamble and Dr. James.

Mr. B. J. Wade was elected vice-president; Mr. B. A. Caspell, secretary; Mr. Frank Read, treasurer; Messrs Wm. Bentham and D. H. Coates, auditors; Rev. G. A. Wood, side, chaplain.

The grounds committee is D. G. Husband, I. Simpson, J. S. Howie, S. Pilling.

The Reception committee—A. F. Wicks, A. L. Vanstone, Dr. Gamble, Glad. Raymond.

The Membership committee — T. Logan, Frank Read, T. L. Wood, D. H. Coates.

The Match committee—A. N. Pequegnat, H. B. Beckett, I. Newsome, B. A. Caspell.

With the City Police

There was only a light list at the court this morning. Two drunks, a disorderly, and a case of non-payment of wages comprising the complete docket.

George Robinson sued his late employer George Haas for the payment of $37.75 wages due. The defendant said there was no dispute about the amount but there was two or three items which he had deducted from that amount on account of breakage and damage. According to complainant the articles broken, which consisted of a crow bar, a rocking chair and a whip were damaged accidentally. His employer thought he was justified in deducting the amount of the damage done. Robinson would not accept his wages less this amount and brought the case before the magistrate who took his views upon the matter and decided that Haas should pay the full amount claimed and gave judgment for the plaintiff.

The drunks were leniently dealt with.

W. H. A. Appoints A Social Service Comm.

The Women's Hospital Aid met in the Public Library on Friday morning with a good attendance of interested workers, presided over by the president, Mrs. J. E. Waterous. The minutes having been read and approved the treasurer gave the financial statement which showed a balance in each department.

Fees $1.00 were received from Mrs. Mitchell, centre city.

Accounts were presented and passed for payment for one dozen back rests, four invalid chairs and six rugs for use in the hospital and a carpet sweeper for the Nurses' Home.

A report of the visiting for March was given by Mesdames Hutton and A. Patterson who had distributed flowers, fruit, candy (where allowed), and magazines at each visit. Patients were always very glad to see the visitors and showed appreciation of any kindness rendered.

Mrs. Waldron and Graham Bros. are thanked for their donations of flowers during the month.

Visitors for April will be Mrs. S. F. Passmore and Miss Jones.

At Easter individual gifts of flowers and Easter cards are always made to all the patients public and private alike, and arrangements for this were left in the hands of Mrs. Henwood, and the April visitors.

Mrs. S. M. Fry stated that the Sunshine Club wished to present the children in the hospitals at Easter with cards and eggs.

Miss Preston reported for the Junior O. H. A. that their members were resting at present from their friendly warfare, having almost finished their campaign. A committee of the Juniors is always attending to the wants of the patients in the maternity ward at the hospital.

Mrs. Colquhoun, convener for East Ward Children's branch announced a tea and violet bazaar at the home of Mrs. W. F. Cockshutt, Chatham St., on Saturday afternoon, April 4th from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The Local Council of Women having stated their wish that the W. H. A. form a social service committee to visit convalescents from the hospitals at their homes, who need sympathy, care or comforts, it was moved by Mrs. George Watt, seconded by Mrs. P. H. Secord and carried that the social service committee consist of Mrs. Boyce, convener and Mesdames Hatley, Colquhoun, G. D. Watt, S. M. Fry Mitchell and Hutton.

The best wishes of all present were tendered to Mrs. George Watt, treasurer of the W.H.A., who sails for Rome on the 18th of April to attend World's Council of Women, and Mrs. F. D. Reville, was on motion, appointed treasurer pro tem during her absence.

The need of some definite line of work for the auxiliary to take up in order that the interest might be maintained was next discussed and it was moved by Mrs. Reville, seconded by Mrs. Henwood and unanimously carried that the W. H. A. concentrate their energies on the furnishing of one of the new public wards for women.

In this connection Mrs. Cummings Nelles gave notice of motion that "in view of the decision of the W. H. A. to work for the furnishing of a women's ward that the balance still in the Nurse's home fund (about $300 when the screens are paid for) be transferred to the general fund and used for this purpose." This is likely to be a popular move, and it is not probable that any objections will be raised, but an opportunity will be given at the May meeting should anyone so desire, before the transfer is made.

It was mentioned that a new goods table will be held in connection with the annual rummage sale and each member is asked to present at least one new article for this purpose.

Several resolutions of sympathy with members who have been ill or suffered loss through bereavement were passed and the meeting was adjourned.

In The World Of Labor

A Budget of News For Those Interested in Labor

By G. A. M.

Gleaned From the Exchanges and Other Sources

A Measure Of Justice

With a fair and equitable workmen's compensation act enacted at the present session of the Ontario legislature, we believe the way will be paved for more harmonious relations between employer and employe than have previously prevailed. The representatives of organized labor who have been active in their agitation for such legislation are not animated by any hostile feeling whatever against the manufacturers.

They honestly believe that with an equitable measure in operation it will not in the long run entail much more if any, added expense upon the employer than he is at present called upon to sustain. In other words, they believe it will be in the best interests of both parties eventually that such legislation should be enacted.

In the first place the government proposes to appropriate one hundred thousand dollars per annum to cover the operating expenses of the act, and it must be acknowledged that this is going a long way to meet one of the previous objections of the employers.

Then the money now wasted under the present obsolete employers' liability act in lawyers' fees and law suits will be obliterated, and these amounts will figure in the state insurance payable by the manufacturers.

Then the system of state insurance will give protection at the lowest possible margin, and will save the dividends now paid over to the shareholders of employers' liability corporations.

The adoption of life saving and safety devices in workshops and factories, which are inevitable under the operation of such a compensation act as that recommended by Sir Wm. Meredith, will reduce casualties a minimum, not only lessening the cost of compensation, but in many cases adding to the output of the factory, for the workman who feels he is safe can work to better advantage.

The employer and the employe, it is true, may view the question from a different angle, so to say.

"Bills are human, and it is to be regretted that both are also the victims of the social system under which modern industry is carried on.

The employer desires to get the largest possible returns from the capital he invests in his business, while the worker desires to secure the largest return for his expenditure of brain and muscle.

These facts being so, they should be duly recognized and acknowledged. As we have already said, we be-

What is in the Single Tax?

The single tax is a fiscal method of securing a great moral reform. The basic principle is, that the earth, being created by God for the use of men, and all men being equally the children of God, all have an equal right to the use of the earth. In order to secure the equal right to use the earth and at the same time encourage industry to secure to the man, who builds a house or sows a crop, absolute ownership of the house, he had made or the crop he planted, it is necessary that security of possession be arranged for. All this is obtained through the single tax and without any serious disturbance of the present system of land ownership. Land values now are taxed, and all that is necessary is to abolish every sort of tax except that on the value of land, and then gradually to so increase this until there can be no profit in land ownership apart from its best use. When this is done, no one will want to buy a piece of vacant land to make a profit out of a future user, and land will then be easily and cheaply had for houses, factories, farms or business.

The first step is to secure an amendment to the Assessment act, permitting municipalities to reduce the tax on improvements and to increase the rate upon land values until buildings and business is entirely exempt. In this way industry will be encouraged instead of penalized as now, and as a result, more buildings will be erected and more men employed, and as the system is extended, the benefits resulting therefrom will be increased until demand for labor and labor products will be such that homes will be so multiplied that rents will fall, while wages will rise involuntarily and the poverty that it produces will be a thing of the past.—The Square Deal.

Machinists' Meet In St. Louis

A Referendum Vote to Be Taken Upon the Question of Amalgamating All the Metal Trades

The big meeting of the active spirits of the International Association of Machinists, which last week concluded its labors in the City of St. Louis, marks a new epoch in the history of that big and growing organization. It was the first time since the International Association was brought into existence, that such a meeting has been held for the purpose of bringing together the international officers and executive, the general organizers, vice-presidents and business agents from every state in the American union and every province in Canada to confer together to bring about a common understanding as to the best methods to be pursued in forwarding the work of organization.

Those in attendance at the big meet claim that one and all manifested a most optimistic spirit, for the past year has been a splendid one for the association, which has gained rapidly in membership and has secured better conditions in the shape of increased wages and shorter hours throughout the length and breadth of the continent.

The keynote of the gathering was more complete and effective organization. There was a practically unanimous sentiment in favor of one big organization of the metal crafts. The purpose of this department is to place the machinists in a position to tie up a complete industry, if necessary. Immense enthusiasm was evoked by the adoption of a resolution calling for a referendum vote on the amalgamation of all the metal trades. If this referendum is carried, there will be but one big organization of all metal workers. Each particular craft will have its own department, but the grievance of one will be the concern of all.

There are a large number of the workers in Orillia, Ont., idle at present, several of the factories are running with reduced staffs on short time, and the motor and implement employees have been especially hard hit.

What Men Strive For

The greatness of a nation does not lie in its wealth and power, but in the character of its men and women. With greatness in the people all the rest will follow, as surely as when the greatness of the people wanes the rest will quickly be lost. The history of all great empires tells us this, Japan is just now repeating the lesson.

What is it most men strive for? Wealth and fame. These are prizes for little men, not for big men. They are prizes that often inflict untold misery in the winning, and are nearly always a curse to the winner. Vice and crime are fostered by luxury and idleness on the one hand, and by ignorance on the other hand. The poor are poor that the rich may be rich; and the riches and the poverty are a curse to both.

Consider all the pride and barbaric pomp of wealth and fashion, and all the mean envy of the weakly snobs who revere them, and would sell their withered souls to possess them. Is this decorative tomfoolery, is this apish swagger and blazoned snobbery worthy of men and women?

The powdered flunkies, the gingerbread coaches, the pantomime processions, the trumpety orders and fatuous titles; are they any nobler or more sensible than the paint and tomtoms and the Brummagen jewels of darkest Africa?

And the cost! We are too prone to reckon cost in cash. We are too prone to forget that cash is but a symbol of things more precious. We bear too tamely all the bowing and kowtowing, all the fiddling and fuffing, all the stalling and gartering and be-gathering and begeming, all the gambling and racing, the saluting and fanfaring, the marching and counter-marching, all the raking in of dividends, and the building up of mansions, all the sweating and rack-renting, all the heartless vanity, and the brazen luxury, and the gilded vice; we should think of them more sternly did we count up what they cost in men and women and children what they cost in brain and honor and love, what they cost in human souls—what they cost in Bottom Dogs. — From Robert Blatchford's "Not Guilty."

Industrial Canada

The steam engineers of Regina, Sask., have organized a local union of the craft.

The Monetary Times' estimate of Canada's fire loss during January, 1914, was $3,164,312. The loss for the month of February amounted to $2,920,790.

A despatch from Ottawa shows the revenue of Dominion for the month of February 1914, totalled $9,132,762, as against $6,293,098 in 1913, an increase of nearly fifty per cent.

Nearly nine million dollars was expended in the erection of new buildings in Calgary during 1913. The municipally owned street railway system now operates 70 miles of track and carried eighteen million passengers during the year.

All building operations and railway construction work has been discontinued in Moose Jaw. A number of train crews have also been laid off, and there is an army of idle men in evidence, with no prospects ahead until the advent of spring.

Unemployment in St. John, N.B., has been most pronounced during the present winter, more men have been idle than ever was known before; in some of the crafts fifty and sixty per cent. of the workers have been thus affected.

The question of making preparation for the next Dominion general election is now being taken up by Winnipeg and Manitoba laborites. The labor representation committee has passed a resolution to confer with representatives of the Social Democratic Party for the purpose of taking joint action.

J. L. Sugrue, president of the New Brunswick Federation of Labor, also of the St. John Trades and Labor Council, is at present in Fredericton, where he will keep a watchful eye upon the legislation to be enacted by the local legislature. His expenses will be financed by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Plans to build the largest drydock in the world are being prepared in Halifax, N. S., by the public works department, and surveyors have been sent to determine the act location of the big dock. As soon as the site is selected work will at once be commenced and the construction rushed with all possible speed.

Even we may live to reach that new height in the ascent of man, and look back upon the days of industry by starvation, by injunction, riot drills, with as much amazement as the people of the South feel for the day, only of yesterday, of industry by slave-pens and blood-hounds, and the fear of servile insurrection.—Henry D. Lloyd.

On Friday evening, March 6th, a local union of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners was put in at Grimsby by Organizer Tom Moore. A number of the brethren from Local No. 18 of Hamilton were on hand to help on the work. The new union will start out with a good membership and will materially strengthen the organization in this district.

According to the Eastern Labor News the Chinese problem is getting to be a live issue in Moncton, N.B.

Must Stand by Agreement

It has always been the boast of organized labor that it lives up to its agreements. That good record we are bound to retain. When a matter is by mutual consent referred to a board of arbitration, we are morally bound to accept its decision, even though it be self-evident that the employer has received the best of the bargain. We learn by experience and no award or agreement is eternal or for all time to come. If we receive the best end to take, we must remember that when things turn out the other way we must be prepared to show equally good grace. As a rule corporations are opposed to arbitration, and when after a struggle they consent to conciliatory measures that act in itself can be accepted as a victory.

The first thing to remember is the honor of the union, to demonstrate that labor organizations are reliable, and if there is a spirit of disappointment that we have not received as much as we looked for, we must remember that we have the future before us. In nine cases out of ten it is the employer who goes back on his award or who violates an agreement. On this point labor takes high ground. Its word is as good as his bond. That high standard of honor we must resolutely maintain while still pressing onward for more and better conditions.

"KEPHALDOL" CAN NOW BE HAD AT YOUR DRUGGISTS.

Herr Doctor Stohr, the famous Austrian nerve specialist, first used KEPHALDOL prescription in his private practice and hospital work in Vienna. Other noted physicians and surgeons adopted this formula in treating severe cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago, La Grippe and Colds, Neuralgia and Headaches. The wonderful properties of KEPHALDOL became known in England, where a company was formed to prepare KEPHALDOL Tablets and supply them to the public at a nominal price.

Canadians, visiting the Old Country, heard of KEPHALDOL—tried them—and brought them back to Canada. So great became the demand for KEPHALDOL here, that a Canadian office was established to distribute these tablets on this side of the ocean.

So what one famous physician did in Austria, has resulted in thousands and thousands of sufferers being cured of pain.

KEPHALDOL is absolutely safe, having no ill-effects on the heart or other vital organs.

If your druggist should not have KEPHALDOL, a 50c. tube of tablets may be obtained by remitting the price to Kephaldol Limited, 31 Latour Street, Montreal.

MILITANTS SET FIRE TO IRISH CASTLE

Edifice Was About to Become a Public Technical Institute.

LONDON, April 3.—Suffragettes tried yesterday to burn Lisburn Castle, County Antrim, Ireland, which was formerly owned by the late Sir John Murray Scott, who bequeathed about $5,000,000 to Lady Sackville, and over whose will there was a bitter contest last July. The castle was about to become a technical institute. Inflammables and the usual Suffragette papers were found in the vicinity. The damage to the castle was slight.

May Richardson, the militant Suffragette, who slashed the Rokeby "Venus" in the National Gallery, has been on a hunger strike since she was sent to jail for six months on March 12. The authorities have now resorted to forcible feeding.

Laundry workers of Victoria, B.C., have fallen in line and organized a union.

HIGH SEAS PIRATES CAUGHT IN 'FRISCO

Are Accused of Theft of Money Orders Worth $50,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—David Williams was arrested here yesterday for the robbery of Australian registered mail on the high seas, it being alleged that he stole cheques and money orders worth from $40,000 to $50,000 on the liner Ventura.

The Federal authorities are working on the theory that he was one of a gang of sea mail pirates. A hunt for the higher-ups in the ring has been started. With Williams there was arrested Joseph Egan, a vaudevillian actor, who is alleged to be an accomplice.

After abstracting what valuables they wanted, it is said the thieves threw the mail sacks overboard.

NO WONDER THIS IS PERFECT BEER

At the annual convention of the Builders' Exchanges held in Medicine Hat last week, a scale of wages was adopted for workmen as follows: Bricklayers, 70 cents per hour; carpenters, 50 cents per hour; electricians, 62 1/2 cents per hour; plasterers, 70 cents per hour; plumbers, 68 1-2 cents per hour; tinmiths, 55 cents per hour; stonecutters 60 cents per hour; painters 50 cents per hour; laborers, $3 per thousand; bricklayers' laborers, 35 cents per hour; plasterers' laborers 43 3-4 cents per hour.

Things have been especially dull in Port Arthur and Ft. William throughout the entire winter. The building trades are at a standstill with an army of craftsmen out of work. In all industries large number of men have been laid off and the remainder placed on short time. The same state of affairs prevails in the lumber camps and in regard to railway construction work. Never before in the history of the twin cities and district have times been so hard or the existing destitution been so pronounced.

According to the Labor Gazette issued by the Dominion Government, Welland, Ont., men have made a considerable spurt during 1913, as witness the following: A review of public and other works in 1913 shows one and a quarter miles of brick pavement, one and a half miles of sewers, and four and a quarter miles of concrete sidewalks built; 260 new houses built, or under construction, valued at $213,000 and new factories and public buildings valued at $398,000. The town's advancement for the year far exceeded all prior records. In January there was a good deal of unemployment, chiefly of unskilled men.

BILL INTRODUCED TO RAISE SALARIES OF POSTAL CLERKS

Hon. Mr. Pelletier Makes Minimum of $500 and Maximum of $1,400.

OTTAWA, April 4.—After the big debate of Thursday, yesterday was a quiet day in the House, but like most quiet days it was marked by the advance of business, and half a dozen important measures were advanced a stage further before the adjournment last night.

For one thing the Government was richer last night by over $2,000,000 than when it met yesterday afternoon. The supply bill of $2,253,007, which went through the Commons at three o'clock yesterday morning after the A. T. R. debate was concluded, received royal approval yesterday afternoon. This was made up of supplementary estimates of last year, and one-sixth of the main estimates of the present year.

Raise Salaries.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier introduced his resolution providing for increase of salary to clerks in city post offices, and the bill for carrying out the increase was given first reading. The bill raises the minimum salary from $500 to $600, and provides that increase may be granted of $100 a year up to a maximum of $1,400.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux urged the extension of competitive examinations to the outside service. He said that there were cases in which that system would not be applicable, but thought the various offices should be classified. He was heartily in favor of the increase in salary.

When Mr. Pelletier's second resolution relating to railway mail clerks was under consideration, several members took a sling at the class of examinations that are held by the civil service commission. "I can't see that it means much to a man to know the capital of some obscure state in China," said F. B. Carvell.

"Or in Siam?" added Mr. Lemieux. "I am glad to tell my honorable friend that railway mail clerks are not subject to the ridiculous questions set by the civil service commission," remarked Mr. Pelletier.

The postmaster-general said the department was trying to keep the men in the service who had made good. For this reason it was provided that "temporary" employment might extend over five years, but they must first pass the elementary examination. Unless they passed the regular examination in the five years they would rise to no higher salary than $1,000.

Surveying the Grand.

Galt Reporter: Two civil engineers from the Dominion Public Works Department were in Freepont on Saturday making surveys and taking levels in connection with the proposed erection of large dams across the Grand River for the conservation and regulation of its waters, with the object of abating the spring freshet damages and of securing a more regular flow in the summer months. Four engineers are engaged in the work and have been at Blair, Doon, Chicopee and Breslau. It is not unlikely that a large dam will be built at Freepont immediately above the railway bridge.

They Consider It a Trespass

The Executive Committee of Old Home Week are very indignant over the action of a city employee who has been visiting a number of the merchants and manufacturers of the city, soliciting advertisements for a souvenir of Brantford which he is preparing for Old Home Week. The executive claim this gentleman is taking advantage of them, and has no right to do the work he has commenced, as they had signified their intention some time ago of getting out a booklet and give the merchants and manufacturers a cheap rate for advertising. Some of the members of the executive wanted to bring the law on this individual, but others said "No," and as a result an advertisement was inserted in the local press warning the manufacturers against his work.

Hydro Electricised

The whole of Brantford city now rejoices in Hydro Electric illumination. There is not now a single district which is not connected up with the system. Except for an odd light here and there, every light is on and the benefits will soon be apparent.

LONDON, April 4.—The flotation of the Eastern Canada Fur Trading Company, with a capital of $2,000,000 is one of the projects in connection with which C. P. McLennan of Halifax is now visiting London. He informed a correspondent that the issue was now being underwritten, and also that in all probability several other Prince Edward Island fox companies would come to the London market in the course of the present year. Mr. McLennan would not admit that the time was unfavorable for the new ventures, for he declared that the fox industry was booming. He had seen silver black fox pelts sold to an Oxford street furrier which yielded 50 per cent higher prices than last year, showing the upward tendency of prices.

ARE STARVING BY THOUSANDS

Galician People Reported to be in a Terrible Plight.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] MONTREAL, April 4.—A Herold-Telegraph cable from Cracow, Poland, says: Plentiful supplies are being enacted daily at Mielowitz, Silesia, and the immediate vicinity. Thousands of men, women and children, facing starvation in Galicia, have been pouring into Silesia, begging frantically for bread, their harvest in Galicia having been a total loss.

So extreme is their distress through the failure of the harvest and the enforced service of able-bodied men in the army during the mobilization caused by the Balkan war that the men are willing to sell their daughters and even wives for a morsel of bread. Many hundreds are already dead from starvation and exposure.

Despite the terrible plight of the refugees the Prussian police are driving the famished peasants back across the border like so many cattle.

The whole journey has no parallel since the days of Gladstone's famous Midlothian campaign. The enthusiasm shown for the premier has greatly disgusted the Unionists, more especially in view of their claim that their decision not to oppose him is due to patriotic motives. They complain that the nature of the journey is a provocative one, and they threaten that if Premier Asquith's speech to his constituents at Ladybank to-day is to be conceived in a similar spirit, they will feel safe in putting up a candidate at the last moment.

Mr. Asquith dealt with this as a humorous suggestion on his arrival at Edinburgh, ridiculing the idea that the question of the contest should depend upon his good behavior, and telling the Unionists that if they thought "his action" would be determined by any hopes or fears on their part they were much mistaken. The belief is that whatever Mr. Asquith does the Unionists will not dare to face a contest which in all probability will result in an increase of Mr. Asquith's majority, especially as James Larkin has now declared that he has no intention of intervening.

Boy of Nine Attempts Suicide in Terrible Manner on Detroit St.

WINDSOR, April 4.—Students of sociological subjects are given much food for thought in the attempt of Mason Brown, a nine-year-old boy, to commit suicide here last night. The lad placed his body on the street car tracks on Woodward Ave., Detroit, and deliberately laid his neck across the rail, with the idea of being decapitated by a car. By-standing ers pulled him aside just in time. Young Brown, who is a small, undeveloped child for his age, has a long criminal record in Detroit. He has been arrested at least a score of times for minor offenses, and for one or two serious ones. Three times he has escaped from the detention home. The boy's father is a lifer in Jackson prison, while his mother died in an asylum a few years ago.

Lord Roberts is Chosen Head Of The British Covenanters

LONDON, April 4.—Lord Roberts last night was elected president of the League of British Covenanters at a meeting held in Caxton Hall. Resolutions were adopted at the meeting pledging the British covenanters to do all in their power to prevent the establishment of home rule in Ireland without sanction of the nation and the support of the people in Ulster "their gallant struggle to maintain their constitutional rights." Speeches were made at the meeting by Walter Home Long, former chief secretary for Ireland; Lord Milner and Sir Edward Carson. Sir Edward said the government either would have to exclude Ulster from their bill or make up their minds that they would have bloodshed and coercion.

LIEUTENANT COLONEL J. E. B. SEELY.

GENERAL SIR JOHN FRENCH

GENERAL SIR A. PAGET

Wholesale resignations of the officers of noted Irish regiments, and even a reported mutiny of some of the troops when ordered to Ulster to suppress the impending revolt of the Orangemen against home rule showed the British government the danger of a crisis in the army. Field Marshal Sir John French is in Dublin to investigate the resignations of officers. King George is constantly consulting Colonel Seely, British Secretary of State for War, concerning the critical situation in Ulster. Armed police are being sent from Dublin into Ulster and batteries of artillery are posted about Belfast. The "Ulster Volunteers" are ready to mobilize at a moment's notice, although Sir Edward Carson is advising coolness. Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland, is directing the disposition of the troops to preserve order.

City News Items

Invited to Join.—The City of Brantford has been invited to send delegates to the conference of representatives of several municipalities interested in the case of the feeble minded, with the members of the Ontario Legislature to be held in the parliament buildings next Wednesday.

At Riverside Church.—"Three Classes" was the subject of the address given by Evangelist Wilson at the Riverside Baptist Church last night. The speaker took for his text the words of God to Adam, "Adam, where art thou?" He emphasized the fact that God was speaking as clearly and as truly to men and women to-day as in the days of old, and to all this question was being asked. At the close a number again manifested a desire to begin the Christian life. The large audience, which completely filled the church, entered into the service with a zest which reminded one of the old-time revival. The singing was led by a men's choir which also rendered two special numbers. Mr. Wilson left this morning for his home in London, and is followed by the best wishes of his many friends whom he made in Brantford. The meetings will be continued, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week.

Inspector Bennett Has His Troubles

There is some discussion going on between the residents of William St., Building Inspector Bennett and Mr. Alf. Patterson, over the latter's right to erect a verandah on his ice cream parlor.

Mr. Patterson took out a permit for a verandah to be partially enclosed which he intended to use this summer for an ice cream parlor. It was his intention to enclose it with lattice work and some of the residents took exception to the proposition, claiming it would mar their view of the street.

Not wishing to incur any disfavor with the residents along the street, Mr. Patterson agreed to leave the verandah open. Then the people tackled the Building Inspector, who went to Mr. Patterson and learned his intention. The people claimed he had no right to build so close to the sidewalk, that the verandah should be kept back in line.

The original plan of the verandah was for a round front, and he immediately started to erect brick posts. Inspector Bennett asked him to make the posts of wood as they would not take up as much space. This Mr. Patterson agreed to do, and now Mr. Patterson is threatening to ask for an injunction against either Mr. Bennett or Mr. Patterson.

Mr. Bennett has been put in an awkward position, and a fine point is involved. An endeavor is being made to settle the matter amicably.

LO! THE POOR INDIAN WHEN CONKLE ARRIVED

Hank Peters and Hamilton Man in Wrestling Match Last Night—Conkle's Ability Made Him Easy Winner.

"The boys will all be out of here by 10.30 and the lights will be out," said Charlie Conkle, the Hamilton mat artist as he faced big Hank Peters, the 180 pound Indian wrestler, who recently has been scaring off all the local wrestlers. As Mr. Conkle himself tips the scales at 147, fans were wondering just what the big Indian would do. The lights were out at 10.30 and boys were out of their seats, as Mr. Conkle predicted. It closed the best program of boxing and wrestling put on this year. There were no knockouts and the order and decorum of the audience were much improved. The affair was under military auspices for Capt. Newman's company. The crowd was large and enthusiastic. It was a night seemingly chock full of challenges, announcements and acceptances. Such a brain fever of 'Let me get at you' never filled the atmosphere before. Even a Berlin promoter got in an advertisement. Hamilton fans came up with Conkle 25 strong, including the famous promoter Bobby Robinson of the Spectator. Paddy Jones of the Herald saw Conkle eat the big Indian. They saw that in Hamilton the sport of boxing and wrestling has been put on the blink, hence the avidity with which the Hamiltonians went for the stuff last night. And it was fairly good stuff, too. Three boxing and a wrestling bout formed the program. Fred Johnson's two little sons, scarcely in their teens started things in four short rounds. The ability of these youngsters to punch and take punches put the crowd in happy vein. The little fellows were distinctly clever and enjoyed the milling as much as the audience. Some day they will be cleaning up the whole school if they haven't started already. Brooks, the Hamilton boxer with the punch, who put Carpenter to sleep a few weeks ago and Wag Bremner of Brantford, then engaged

NEW BIPLANE WINNER OF HEIGHT RECORDS

Much attention has been centred in aeronautical circles recently on the contest for altitude and duration records between French and German aeroplanes and aviators. Three new passenger height records have been made by one French biplane of new type, the Schmitt, which has also been entered in the big safety prize contest now in progress in France. Stability is claimed for the new biplane because of wings of variable angles. The records were won by the French aviator Garais on the biplane, which was built by Paul Schmitt. A picture of the new biplane shown above has aroused interest among members of the Aero Club of America.

President Bowtle On the Local Soccer Situation

Players Warned to Keep Off Baseball Diamond Until Ground is Dry—Referees League May Settle Up.

Sporting Editor Conries: Sir,—On behalf of the Brantford and Paris Football League, I desire to state that the Executive have issued instructions to all league players that they (the players) are not to practice or play football on the baseball diamond at Agricultural Park. All our games will be played on the football ground provided by the Parks board. Should it be deemed necessary to play any of the Cup Final games on the diamond the executive will apply to the proper authorities. It is the earnest desire of this league that the baseball diamond be not injured in any way by any of our members. The men referred to as "Bonehead Footballers" who were kicking a ball around the diamond are not members of this league, as far as we know. I would thank you to publish this letter, as it may be the means of bringing to the notice of the players our wishes with reference to the diamond. As regards last season's referees, there is yet the possibility of a settlement suitable to the league and themselves, but the constitution put before the league officials has been turned down for good for the reason stated by our secretary, but Brantford may yet have a Referees' association, as it is realized it would be beneficial to the game in general. Thanking you for the space given our league. Yours very truly, A. G. BOWTLE, President.

ALL SCOTS MEET SUNDAY LACROSSE IS WANTED BY ST. KITTS

Strong Team Welded Together For Season—J. Morrow Captain.
An enthusiastic meeting of the Scots United football club was held on Thursday night at No. 21 George St. There were quite a number of players and members present. President J. McDonald opened the meeting first by congratulating the committee for working so hard and getting together such a strong team. Considerable business had been transacted and are now in splendid shape for the opening of the season. J. Morrow was elected captain and T. Forgie vice captain. We are glad to say that the best of last year's players have re-signed along with quite a few others which makes us a much stronger team than last year. The Scots are getting right down to business, and want to play good and clean football. The Scots United wishes to make known that it was none of their players that was playing football on the diamond at Agricultural Park. The Legislature defeated the Liberal motion for public ownership of telephones.

Sporting Comment

They will be here April 18th, and then people can talk as much as they like. Rube will do.
Artie Latham: "Ladies and Gentlemen, I'm glad to see such a large and respectable crowd, I'm large and your respectable."
"Rube's" not a slave driver, but he has the knack of getting work out of a team. Some way or other they just can't help working for him.
By all indications cricket will boom in this city this year. The club has a hustling president in Mr. Van-Lane, who is a cricket enthusiast from the word "go."
The lacrosse enthusiasts are going to have their little say on Wednesday. It's to be hoped they have a larger crowd in attendance than at the soft ball organization meeting.
The soft ball officials believe in the motto, "Try again," and are going to hold another meeting next Thursday night. Here's hoping all the bunch will be out to start something.
Manager "Rube" Deneau will be here to-night loaded down with a bunch of new contracts which promise some surprises. Who are they? No one knows not even President Nelson.
The "Rube" has a funny habit of keeping things to himself until after May 7, and then look out. What he won't do to London is hard to say. He don't have to apologize this year for anything he says to the Cocksyes.
Mayor Spence has signified his intention of going into training with the Red Sox in order to strike out. P. Kellett on opening day. Aid Ward will also work with him, doing the receiving for His Worship's rapid fire delivery.
Come all you girls, if you want to flirt, Here comes a ball-player in a new white shirt. You can flirt and tease just as much as you please. But never make a ball player get down on his knees.
Sounds from Agricultural Park, on May 7th.
"Isn't he just grand, and so good looking too?"
"Gabby" Ivers hasn't lost a bit of his weight, Doesn't he look funny?"
"Mayor Spence ought to join the twirling outfit. He's as good as we had last year."
The following conversation took place between President T. J. Nelson and a reporter:
Reporter: "Who looks best to you?"
Mr. Nelson: "I don't know, but I'll tell you one thing, the cellar position isn't going to be between Brantford and some other team."
Reporter: "The Red Sox looked good last year, didn't they?"
Mr. Nelson: "Yes; at the first of the season the race was between Brantford and seven other teams—but we raced the wrong way."
Reporter: "What was the matter?"
Mr. Nelson: "The brakes wouldn't work. That was once Westinghouse wouldn't work."
Which all goes to show how we lost the 1913 race.
The contract has been let for a high school at Winchester, the fifth in Dundas county.

Dufferin Bowlers Off To Excellent Start Again

Annual Meeting and Supper Held Last Night—Officers Are Chosen For the Year—Members Are Enthusiastic.
Between 75 and 100 members of the Dufferin Bowling and Lawn Tennis Club sat down to a sumptuous repast at the Tea Pot Inn last night prepared by Mine Host Crumback. After the splendid supper the annual meeting of the club was held and election of officers for the ensuing year took place.
In the absence of Mr. A. P. VanSomeren the president of the club, who was unable to attend Mr. R. C. Burns, 1st Vice-President, took the chair and read Mr. VanSomeren's address, which contained many useful and inspiring suggestions for the work of the coming year.
One of the main features of Mr. VanSomeren's address was the suggestion to change the date of the payment of the fees from July 1st, to June 15th. Business reasons were suggested for making this change, which was afterwards passed.
The report of the Treasurer Mr. A. Dymond, was read showing a small balance on hand and was adopted.
An enthusiastic report was read by the Secretary, Mr. H. A. Lister in which he stated that the club now has a membership of 156 an increase of 28 over last year. Mr. Lister referred to the treasurer's report and suggested some ways of raising money for this year.
The Finance Committee's report followed and was read by Mr. W. F. Wilson one of the most enthusiastic and earnest workers of the club.
The report of the grounds committee was read by Mr. T. A. Cowan, who suggested some improvements, which could be made and also told of the work accomplished last year.
Mr. Chalcraft, president of the Horticultural Society, spoke advocating the putting in of a number of flower beds on the premises to beautify the grounds.
He also spoke of the pleasant relations he had with the Dufferin Club and of the splendid organization which they had.
Mr. Chris. Cooke also spoke of the good work of the club, and Mr. Dowling and Mr. A. Thornburn, secretary of the tennis club followed him with short speeches.
During the evening Mr. W. J. Feldcamp rendered their mouth organ and guitar solos, which were heartily enjoyed. In one of his numbers Mr. Feldcamp blindfolded himself and gave the selection, while in the meantime a collection of coppers was taken up and given him amid much laughter. Mr. Feldcamp, in a few witty words, thanked the gathering for their kind donation, but stated that if he accepted it he would become a professional.
A solo by Mr. J. Howarth and two readings by Rey A. E. Lavell, delighted the crowd and received hearty response.
The report of the nominating committee consisting of Messrs J. H. Minshall, chairman, F. E. Sheppard, A. A. Lister, A. I. Gardner, H. B. Howie and G. Broatch brought in the following nominations which were accepted and elections made:
Hon. President—Harry Cocksbut.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—A. L. VanSomeron.
President—R. C. Burns.

Boy Knight Notes

A most successful social was held at the Boy Knight Armories on Thursday evening.

Despite the disagreeable nature of the weather the building was well filled with the appreciative and attentive audience.

The social was under the auspices of the Boy Knights and the Good Templars. Prof. Hunt acted as chairman, and a very attractive and interesting program was presented. A number of young ladies under the direction of Miss Goodson rendered several choruses with good effect. A Dialogue, "Three Little Mothers," was very effective and caused much laughter. Mr. Earl Matthews contributed a solo, which was sung with much expression. Miss Goodson sang in her usual pleasing manner. Many fine recitations were given, emceed by the rule in all cases, these were by Mr. Weaver, Mr. Bennett, Miss Callender, Beatrice Kendrick, Mr. John Hawke and Lillian Clarke.

Miss Hamilton sang a dialect song that was well received.

Mr. James Hawke, on behalf of the Good Templars, made a splendid address setting forth the aim and object of the society and the work that they were doing. He also commented most favorably on the work of the boy knights and their steady and progressive growth.

good work that they were doing. It was the intention of the trustees to try and furnish every boy belonging with suitable recreation and amusement.

They would therefore take a leading part in such sports as it was possible for them, and participate in. At the conclusion of the program the Boy Knights distributed the Cup Lancers etc., and served coffee while the girl companions served the cake in their usual pleasing manner.

Cricket

The Brantford City League Schedule has been drawn up and the dates set are as follows:

May 23rd—Grace Church at St. Georges.
June 13th—St. Georges at Paris.
June 20th—Paris at Grace Church.
July 11th—Grace Church at Paris.
July 25th—Paris at St. Georges.
Aug. 1st—St. Georges at Grace Church.

Only three teams have entered so far, but it is hoped more entries will come to hand before the closing date which is May 4th. If not, the executive will, in all possibility, arrange for a double schedule with the three teams already entered.

The Western Ontario Cricket League is meeting to-day in Galt, the Brantford representatives being Messrs. J. F. Bryden and Charles Smith.

Various Pennant Chances

In a trifle over a month's time the Canadian league pennant chasers will be off on their four months' fight for the championship of the J. P. Fitzgerald circuit and the consolation that goes with the highest honors. To attempt to pick out the winner would be suicide, for the personnel of the clubs is not yet decided on, and in the case of at least four of the eight cities very few of last year's squad remains.

Of course Frank Shaughnessy with his 103 stars who hogged the honors of combat, is conceded the usual first place position by the dyed in the wool fans, but Shaq will have to improve that pitching corps materially if he expects to make it three straight championships, also New York Giants and others of big league calibre. Kane, Kubat, Donovan and a few other pick-ups, who so far have been mentioned as the Senator's hearing brigade, will not do, and probably no person realizes this better than Mr. Shaughnessy. So much for Ottawa. They will be up there fighting as usual, but their pitchers will hardly do. Look out for several changes in that department.

In the case of London, one has to depend on Doc Reising's ability to produce. The former Washington twirler has good financial backing and the chance to go the limit to give the Cocksney a winner, and if he does any better than Ruben Deneau when the reuben was in charge of affairs up west, he will have accomplished some feat. London appears to be the second choice in the winter books, although their squad is still an unknown quantity. The same applies to Brantford, Erie, Toronto and Peterboro. St. Thomas, with its refusal to bid high for ball tossers, will enter the fight with practically the same club as last year. In Midge Craven the Saints have a hustling pilot who never stops fighting till the game is over and the decision announced. They'll be somewhere in the vicinity when the laurels are being distributed.

Now for Hamilton. All this city has up to date is a muddy, improvement needing ball park on Barton street; four or five of last year's stalwarts whose ability can be testified to, and a number of new aspirants who will not show their wares till April 8. However, to counteract this lack of evidence, Hamiltonians have unbounded enthusiasm in the ability of Manager Bob Yates the Philadelphia lad, to come through with a first division club, and the fans are hoping and praying that the new manager's connection with Connie Mack will result in several likely looking recruits from the Athletics and Baltimore Orioles coming this way. The whole city is behind Yates, and he will be encouraged.

This is the situation. When the local squad arrives for spring practice one can talk more intelligently of their abilities and failings, and in this way get a correct line on their chances in the hunt for honors.

Baseball nearly dead in Galt, for several years, promises resuscitation at a meeting to organize a semi-professional baseball team to be entered in the Western Ontario League, tomorrow evening. The league will be composed of six teams—Stratford, Berlin, Woodstock, Guelph, Galt and Brantford. Those behind the movement have a team in Galt say the prospects are exceptionally good and lines have been secured on five players. At present a big baseball campaign is on in Galt. Four teams will constitute a town league and a strong team will enter the county league.

That mysterious figure 13. On the 13th of May last year "Wild Bill" Baker, the big St. Thomas hurler, held Berlin hitless, and on August 13 Kirley, of Guelph, held the Saints without a bingle. The only other no-hit game was registered against Peterboro, Baker doing the trick on May 17. Baker was the record holder of the league that week. Well, and if you look up the records, you will probably see that Brantford released this fellow Baker on the thirteenth.

Tarzan of The Apes

CHAPTER XIII. The Jungle Trail.

EARLY the following morning Tarzan awoke, and the first thought of the new day, as the last of yesterday, was of the wonderful writing which lay hidden in his quiver.

Hurriedly he brought it forth, hoping against hope that he could read what the beautiful white girl had written there the preceding evening.

At the first glance he suffered the bitter disappointment of his whole life. He was baffled by strange, uncouth characters the like of which he had never seen before! Why, they even tipped to the opposite direction from all that he had ever examined either in printed books or the difficult script of the few letters he had found.

For twenty minutes he porered over them, when suddenly they commenced to "take familiar" though distorted shapes. Ah, they were his old friends, but badly crippled!

Then he began to make out a word here and a word there. His heart leaped for joy. He could read it, and he would.

In another half hour he was progressing rapidly, and, but for an exceptional word now and again he found it very plain stilling.

Here is what he read:
West coast of Africa, about 10 degrees south latitude. (So Mr. Clayton says.)
Dearest Hazel—It seems foolish to write you a letter that you may never see, but I simply must tell somebody of our awful experiences since we were sailed from Europe on the ill-fated Arrow.

If we never return to civilization, as now seems only too likely, this will at least prove a brief record of the events which led up to our fate, whatever it may be.

As you know, we were supposed to have set out upon a scientific expedition to the Congo. Papa was presumed to entertain some vague theory of an unthinkably ancient civilization, the remains of which lay buried somewhere in the Congo valley. But after we were well under sail the truth came out.

It seems that an old bookworm who has a book and curio shop in Baltimore discovered a letter written in 1550, detailing the adventures of a crew of mutineers of a Spanish galleon bound from Spain to South America, who had treacherously buried somewhere in the Congo valley. But after we were well under sail the truth came out.

The writer had been one of the crew, and the letter was to his son, who was at the time the letter was written master of a Spanish merchantman.

Many years had elapsed since the events the letter narrated had transpired, and the old man had become a respected citizen of an obscure Spanish town, but the love of gold was still so strong upon him that he risked all to acquaint his son with the means of attaining fabulous wealth for them both.

The writer told how when but a week out from Spain the crew had mutinied and murdered every officer and man who opposed them. They defeated their own ends by this very act, for there was none left competent to navigate a ship at sea.

Cape Verde group, which lie off the west coast of Africa in about 16 degrees of 17 degrees north latitude. His letter described the island minutely, as well as the location of the treasure, and was accompanied by the crudest, funniest little map you ever saw, with trees and rocks all marked by scrawly X's to show the exact spot where the treasure had been buried.

When papa explained the real nature of the expedition my heart sank, for I know so well how visionary and impractical the poor dear has always been that I feared that he had again been duped, especially when he told me that he had paid a thousand dollars for the letter and map.

To add to my distress I learned that he had borrowed $10,000 more from Robert Canler and had given his notes for the amount.

Mr. Canler had asked for no security, and you know, dearie, what that will mean for me if papa cannot meet them. Oh, how I detest that man!

We all tried to look on the bright side of this, but Philander and Mr. Clayton—he joined us in London just for the adventure—both felt as skeptical as I. To make a long story short, we found the island and the treasure—a great iron bound oak chest wrapped in many layers of oiled sailcloth and as strong and firm as when it had been buried nearly 200 years ago.

It was simply filled with gold coins and was so heavy that four men bent beneath its weight.

The horrid thing seems to bring nothing but murder and misfortune to those who come to with it, for three days after we sailed from the Cape Verde islands our own crew mutinied and killed every one of their officers.

It was the most terrifying experience one could imagine. I cannot even write of it.

They were going to kill us, too, but one of them, the leader, a man named King, would not let them, and so they sailed south along the coast to a lonely spot where they found a good harbor, and here they have landed and left us.

They sailed away with the treasure gold, but Mr. Clayton says they will meet with a fate similar to the mutineers of the ancient galleon, because King, the only man aboard who knew any thing of navigation, was murdered on the beach by one of the men of the day we landed.

I wish you could know Mr. Clayton. He is the dearest fellow imaginable, and, unless I am mistaken, he has fallen very much in love with poor little Hazel.

His is the only son of Lord Greystone and some day will inherit the title and estates. In addition, he is wealthy in his own right. But the fact that he is going to be an English lord makes me very sad. You know what my sentiments have always been relative to American girls who marry into the aristocracy. Oh, if he were only a plain American gentleman!

Then we have another weird neighbor, who printed a beautiful sign in English and tacked it on the door of his cabin, which we have been exploring, warning us to destroy none of his belongings and signing himself "Tarzan of the Apes."

We have never seen him, though we think he is about for one of the sailors who was going to shoot Mr. Clayton in the back received a spear in his shoulder from some hidden hand in the jungle. The sailors left us but a meager supply of food, so, as we have only a single revolver with but three cartridges left in it, we do not know how we can procure meat, though Mr. Philander says that we can exist indefinitely on the wild fruit and nuts which abound in the jungle.

from which it had disappeared two nights before. She was mystified, but when she saw the printed words beneath her signature she felt a chill run up her spine. She showed the letter, or rather the last sheet with the signature, to Clayton.

"You think," she said, "that uncanny thing was probably watching me all the time that I was writing—oh, it makes me shudder just to think of it."

"But he must be friendly," reassured your letter, nor did he offer to harm you, and unless I am mistaken he left a very substantial memento of his friendship outside the cabin door last night, for I just found the carcass of a wild boar there as I came out."

From then on scarcely a day passed that did not bring its offering of game or other food. Sometimes it was a young deer, again a quantity of strange cooked food, cassava cakes pilfered from the village of Ilbonga, or a boar, or leopard, and once a lion.

Tarzan derived the greatest pleasure of his life in hunting meat for these strangers. It seemed to him that no pleasure on earth could compare with laboring for the welfare and protection of the beautiful white girl.

Some day he would venture into the camp in daylight and talk with these people through the medium of the little bugs which were familiar to them and to Tarzan.

But he found it difficult to overcome the timidity of the wild thing of the forest, and so day followed day without seeing a fulfillment of his good intentions.

The party in the camp, emboldened by familiarity, wandered farther and farther into the jungle in search of nuts and fruit.

Scarcely a day passed that did not find Professor Porter straying in his preoccupied indifference toward the laws of death. Mr. Samuel P. Philander, never what one might call robust, was worn to the shadow of a shadow through the ceaseless worry and mental distraction resultant from his herculean efforts to safeguard the professor.

A month passed. Tarzan had finally determined to visit the camp by daylight.

It was early afternoon. Clayton had wandered to the point at the harbor's mouth to look for passing vessels. Here he kept a great mass of wood piled ready to be ignited as a signal should a steamer or a sail boat of far horizon.

Professor Porter was wandering along the beach south of the camp, with Mr. Philander at his elbow urging him to turn his steps back before the two became again the sport of some savage beast.

The others gone, June Porter and Esmeralda had wandered into the jungle to gather fruit and in their search were led farther and farther from the cabin.

Tarzan waited in silence before the door of the little house until they should return.

You are mine. We will live here together always in my house, will bring you the best fruits, the tenderest deer, the finest meats that roam the jungle. I will hunt for you. I am the greatest of the jungle hunters.

I will fight for you. I am the mightiest of the jungle fighters.

You are Jane Porter. I saw it in your letter. When you see this you will know that it is for you and that Tarzan of the apes loves you.

As he stood, straight as a young Indian, by the door waiting, after he had finished the message, there came to his keen ears a familiar sound. It was the passing of a great ape through the lower branches of the forest.

For an instant he listened intently, and then from the jungle came the agonized scream of a woman, and Tarzan of the apes, dropping his first joy letter upon the ground, shot like a panther into the forest.

Professor Porter and Mr. Philander, by merest chance, came upon the prostrate form of Esmeralda.

He stooped beside her, feeling for her pulse and then listening for her heart beats. She lived. He shook her. "Esmeralda!" he shrieked in her ear. "Esmeralda! Where is Miss Porter? What has happened? Esmeralda!"

Slowly the black opened her eyes. She saw Clayton. She saw the jungle about her.

"Oh, Gabriel!" she screamed and fainted again.

By this time Professor Porter and Mr. Philander had come up. "What shall we do, Mr. Clayton?" asked the old professor. "Where shall we look? Heaven could not have been so cruel as to take my little girl away from me now."

"We must rouse Esmeralda first," replied Clayton. "She can tell us what has happened. Esmeralda!" he cried again, shaking the black woman roughly by the shoulder.

"Oh, Gabriel. Ah wants to die!" cried the poor woman, but with eyes fast closed. "Lemme die, but don't lemme see dat awful face again. Whafer de devil runn' after me? Oh, Esmeralda? She ain't done nuffin' to nobody."

A Thrilling Story

Of Revolution, Intervention and War

By FREDERICK STARR, of the University of Chicago

MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES

Tells not only what is known of the earliest inhabitants of the country, but it also gives a careful, most absorbing account of the course of government and the conditions and modes of life of the people since the invasion and conquest of the Spaniards. It traces the development of railroads, commerce and progress, and the vital part which foreign capitalists and adventurers have played. It portrays the cruel rule of the Spanish viceroys, the terrors of slavery and peonage, and the oppression of the working people. It describes the winning of freedom in Mexico, the Texan revolution, the war with the United States, the French invasion, the empire of Maximilian, the rise of Diaz and the development of the peculiar, complicated conditions that have resulted in the present situation.

A Country Exploited for Benefit of the Few

It is in the revelation of Mexico's intolerable political and economic conditions that the book possesses one of its chief values. The story of the evils which exist in Mexico has never been adequately told. All previous attempts have been suppressed by powerful influences. Now, however, in this volume is given a complete description of the conditions which exist—a description which will arouse a nation and compel reformation.

The Eyes of the Civilized World are upon Mexico. All nations are to-day watching unhappy Mexico, where bullets are more potent than ballots, and where the force of arms has replaced the consent of the people in maintaining a form of government. The struggle which is being carried on for the establishment of justice and civil rights is of greater moment than merely its effect upon Mexicans.

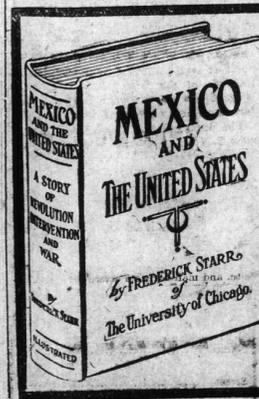

To be fully informed on this very vital question one must read this book. Over 400 large octavo pages. Fine super paper. Over 100 great photographs, maps and portraits. Artistically EDITED bound in fine book cloth. $3.50

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND OF NOD.

Come, cuddle your head on my shoulder, dear,
Your head like the golden rod,
And we will go sailing away from here
To the beautiful land of nod.
Away from life's hurry, and flurry and worry,
Away from earth's shadows and gloom,
To a world of fair weather we'll float off together,
Where roses are always in bloom.
Just shut up your eyes and fold your hands
Your hands like the leaves of a rose,
And we will go sailing to those far lands,
That never an atlas shows.
On the North and West they are bounded by rest,
On the South and East by dreams,
'Tis the country ideal, where nothing is real,
But everything only seems.
Just drop down the curtains of your eyes,
Those eyes like a bright blue bell,
And we will sail out under starlit skies,
To the land where the fairies dwell,
Down the river of sleep our banique shall sweep,
Till it reaches that mystical isle,
Which no man hath seen, but where all have been,
And there we will pause awhile,
I will croon you a song as we float along,
To that shore that that is blessed of God,
Then, ho! for that fair land, we're off for that rare land
That beautiful land of Nod.

MOIRE COATS THE FAD AT ATLANTIC CITY

Along the boardwalk, on bright Sundays, at Atlantic City, spring fashions are blossoming out; and not the least charming of the new togs are the little wraps of moire silk which seem just the thing for wear over silk frocks. Here is a wrap of prune colored moire Egyptian crepe, made with a slightly gathered front, attached to one of the deep, oblique yokes which extend downward to form the sleeves. The cord and tassel fastening is a modish new touch.

What with the red hand of Ulster, the green flag of Ireland and the blue outlook for certain eminent politicians, the political situation in Great Britain at present does not lack color.

The height in heels makes a difference in the color of the complexion, according to Dr. Mary Crawford who makes physical examinations of women applicants for civil service positions.

Mrs. VanAllen, Miss Marjory and Mr. Marston VanAllen, who have been spending the winter abroad, returned to Toronto on Monday, the latter going on to his ranch in British Columbia.

Mrs. Roy Seccord, wearing a sweet gown of white satin, trimmed with shadow lace, entertained Wednesday evening at a beautifully appointed dinner and miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Louise Newham, whose approaching marriage takes place in the near future. The table was artistically done with red and yellow tulips, at which covers were laid for eight.

Lord Frederick Blackwood, who goes to Australia as military secretary to the new Governor-General, Sir Ronald Munro-Ferguson, is, of course, the brother-in-law of the latter, as he is a younger son of the late Lord Dufferin and the Dowager Lady Dufferin, so much beloved in Canada long ago. Lady Dufferin is one of the many prominent women strongly supporting Ulster in the present unhappy disagreements.

Miss Gardner was the hostess on Thursday at a prettily arranged little luncheon of six covers in honor of the bride-to-be, Miss Mary Louise Newman, who looked charming in a gown of violet satin, trimmed with shadow lace. The spacious rooms were bright and spring like with daffodils and tulips placed about them as well as on the prettily bedecked table. Although it was informal, it was much enjoyed and many regrets were expressed at the departure in the near future of the popular bride-elect.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foy Park Avenue was the scene of the annual masquerade which was held on Wednesday evening last by the O.N.O. Some of the costumes worn by the crowd represented Queen Mary, Bill the Kid, Chief Brant, Aunt Ann etc. After the usual games were played dancing was indulged in. A faintly lunch was served later and Victorola music enjoyed until the wee 'ow' hours of the morning, when the crowd departed to their homes, after wishing the host and hostess adieu.

Lent is nearly over and Easter will be here before we know it. All the lucky people who have been south are returning, though it seems only to get new gowns and hats, and then off to Atlantic City for the holidays. The Toronto Horse Show on April 28th will, however, see all Toronto society home, and many will be the delightful teas and dinners to be given, while all the events in Bermuda, Nassau and Florida will be discussed with great interest.

Mrs. Orr wearing a becoming gown of yellow charmeuse, with a corsage bouquet of sweet peas, received for the first time since coming to town at her home 17 Dufferin avenue, on Tuesday afternoon. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Edson. The table and rooms were prettily arranged with pink carnations. Mrs. Whitlaw of Woodstock (sister of the hostess) poured tea and Mrs. George ate coffee, assisted by Miss Ross, Miss Sadie Scarie, and Miss Nan Powell.

When introduced at Court, Miss Isabel Law, the debutante daughter of Mr. Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Union in the British House of Commons, was wearing an ivory charmeuse gown over a petticoat of creamy lace the bodice of lace and charmeuse being draped with Dorothy Perkins roses. Miss Law, in whom Canadians have a very special interest owing to the fact that her father is a native of New Brunswick, is just eighteen and was presented by the Marchioness Londonderry.

Mrs. C. C. Fissette wearing a stylish gown of grey embroidered voile trimmed with shadow lace, was the hostess on Wednesday afternoon at a very pleasant bridge. Cards were played at four tables and later a few guests came in at the tea hour. The table was artistically arranged with a shower of spring carnations, Mrs. G. H. Wilkes poured the tea and Mrs. H. McKenize Wilson the coffee. The girls assisting in serving included, Miss Marion Yeigh, Miss Nora Wallace, Miss Marjory Wilkes, Mrs. E. L. Gould and Mrs. Wilson were highest scorers.

As the season comes and goes the annual concert of the Musical Club is an event of much interest to local music lovers. Last night the well known and talented artists were greeted with a large and appreciative audience, who were delighted with the classical programme given. The playing of Miss Marjorie Jones was a joy and a delight to her many musical friends in town, who are pleased to see her progress in her delightful art.

The executive of the Musical Club are to be congratulated on their enterprise in securing such excellent artists for their concert.

Mrs. Gordon M. Hanna formerly Miss Bance, held her first reception since her marriage on Wednesday afternoon at her residence, 72 Chatham street. The bride looked very pretty in her wedding gown of white charmeuse draped with nixon, and receiving assistance by her mother-in-law Mrs. F. Hanna. It was a pleasing contrast to leave the gray outside atmosphere and enter the pretty rose bedecked drawing room thronged with many smartly gowned ladies chatting or sipping tea. In the dining room the table was artistically arranged with pink carnations and pink lights, always a favorite color scheme. Mrs. Bruce Gordon and Mrs. Percy James presided at the tea and coffee urns, whilst Mrs. Charles Verity looked after the guests, assisted by Misses Nora Hanna, Edna Spence and Madeline Fissette and Edna Verity.

It is many years since Lansdowne House was the scene of a big ball, so that the June entertainments in preparation there will be welcomed by youthful members of the society. The ball is being given to celebrate the debut of Lord Lansdowne's eldest granddaughter, the second child of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire. Lady Maud Cavendish is a handsome, dark-haired girl, who has enjoyed the society of Princess Mary since their nursery days. Her Royal Highness has shared lessons on many subjects with Lady Maud, who, more over, attends the dancing class held at Buckingham Palace twice a week.

Of even greater importance is the ball to be given at Devonshire House in honor of Lady Mauds coming out, which will be attended by the King and Queen and probably by the Prince of Wales.

Wireless Mystery Now Explained

The wireless mystery which had developed at the Y.M.C.A. was satisfactorily solved yesterday by the young men of that association in charge of the instrument. It was found to be a broken wire on the Paris road of the Hydro-Electric system. This bears out the theory held by those who had investigated without result the cause of the disturbance. A high current was on the broken wire, and when it became super-charged the current would jump, causing the violent noise heard on the local instruments. The local wireless men are very glad that the mystery has been solved, as it was causing a good deal of trouble.

Mr. G. K. Chesterton, as is generally known, is an unusually stout man. Somebody was recently describing a meeting at which Mr. Chesterton was one of the principal speakers. "Mr. Chesterton then mounted the platform," said this reporter, "and the chairman was seen no more for half-an-hour."

Mrs. R. L. Borden was the hostess last week in Ottawa of one of the prettiest and most enjoyable of luncheons. Her lovely home was beautifully decorated with tulips and daffodils, and gave one the impression that spring had really come. A few of her guests were: Lady Evelyn Farquhar, Madame Emelia Conti, Miss Warner, of Dublin, Mrs. David MacKeen, Miss MacKeen, Mrs. Geo. Fowler Mrs. E. A. Lancaster, Mrs. G. H. Barnard, Mrs. E. S. Houston, Mrs. J. F. Smellie, Lady Teschereau, Mrs. H. P. Hill, Mrs. Alan Palmer, Mrs. Grace Drayton, Miss Muriel Anglin.

To Be Married in the White House.

Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, whose engagement to William Gibbs McAdoo has just been announced by the White House. The wedding will take place in the East Room, the scene of all the White House weddings, including that of Miss Jessie Wilson to Francis B. Sayre. Miss Wilson will be the fourteenth bride of the White House. She is twenty-four years old. Mr. McAdoo is Secretary of the Treasury. He is fifty-two years old, a widower with six children. He is a grand father. He has two married children and a grown daughter, Miss family home in Washington Avenue, Washington. He is the builder of the Hudson River tubes.

The First Lady of the Empire

There are probably many thousands of British subjects in different parts of the Empire who have little or no conception of the ordinary homelike characteristics and virtues of the Royal couple whose lot it has been to be placed at the head of the most widely extended realm the world has yet seen. Queen Mary is gaining a European reputation amongst royal householders. Foreign visitors to the English court note the perfection of its manage not excepting that eminent authority on the domestic sphere of woman, the Kaiser. The habit of looking after things herself, which the Queen acquired as a young housekeeper in the comparatively small abode of York Cottage, Sandringham, has been continued in the large and complicated household of the court. To Queen Mary belongs the credit of furthering in every way the officers of the household in their efforts to keep the huge domestic machinery in perfect order.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS USED FOR YEARS.

When a mother uses only one medicine as long as there are little ones in the home it certainly bears grand testimony to the value of that particular remedy. Thousands of mothers use nothing else but Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. M. LeBlanc, Memramcook West, N. B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little ones for the past ten years and know of nothing to equal them during teething time or for colic, constipation and indigestion. All my neighbors who have used them think as I do." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It is a wonder there are not more inns in Ontario, quaint and interesting places where motorists can halt and enjoy rest and refreshment. There is one inn between Toronto and Hamilton, with a delightful old world atmosphere and environs. "Blue Dragon Inn." The sign itself has a fascinating look about it, the blue metal dragon himself performing the gyrations which his name would suggest to your mind. Over his blue head hangs a quaint lantern which by night makes a comforting little pocket of light on the dark road. Blue Dragon Inn—it has a savor of things pleasing to the inner man, and so it is that motor people and others turn in at the gates-leading to the peaceful looking country house. Wayside inns being so rare perhaps that is one reason why one is so charmed with the "Blue Dragon Inn." COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma Kept Her Locks, Dark, Glossy Thick with a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Agent, George Bowles.

'MENACE' ABOUNDS IN PERSONAL ABUSE

Minister Explains Why the American Publication is Barred From Mails

OTTAWA, April 3.—Postmaster-General Pelletier, answering a question put by W. E. Knowles, of Moose Jaw, stated in the House yesterday afternoon that the Post-office Department had prohibited from transmission through the mails the Menace, a weekly newspaper published at Aurora, Missouri, and that a authorization to establish a similar paper at Aurora, Ontario, had been refused. The reason for the prohibition was contained in a memorandum signed by the Deputy Postmaster-General, containing extracts from the Menace attacking the Roman Catholic religion and priesthood in language which, according to the departmental ruling, brings the publication under the regulation for prohibiting the sending by post of anything indecent, obscene, immoral or scurrilous.

"To show you how some well-meaning people may be led into hatred and contempt of their fellow-citizens and fellow-countrymen," the memorandum quotes a letter from a man who expressed approval of the Menace and confidence in its allegations, and urged that the paper be allowed transmission through the mails.

Breaks the Law.

"However," the memorandum proceeds, "it seems that the above quotations and many others which could be given, because the Menace does not publish any news as an ordinary newspaper does, but devotes almost its entire space to this stuff, makes it quite plain that this paper conforms within the law prohibiting the transmission of indecent, obscene, immoral or scurrilous literature. Any paper discussing religion in an abstract way is responsible for its own opinions, and we do not in any way interfere with such papers. Men may be Protestant or Catholic in the extreme and may hold their view in the extreme and give pronounced expression to them in a most extreme way and the department would not interfere at all, but when personal abuse reflecting on the honor and chastity of women and clergy of any denomination as a whole is indulged in, or when women of a certain faith are reflected on, as has been done in the Menace, then this department understands it as its duty not to allow such things to pass through the mails. This is a law which the department has followed in the past and intends to follow in the future. It has been and will be applied impartially to all papers, Protestant or Catholic, which may indulge in such things. If any Catholic paper had indulged or should indulge in such reflections as have been indulged in by the Menace, most certainly its privileges of the mails would have been or would be cut off at once, and when this case was brought to the attention of the department and the columns of the paper examined, the statements contained therein were found to be so scurrilous, so abusive and derogatory to a great many of the people of our country that there was nothing for the department to do but to live up to the law and abolish this paper from the privileges of the mails.

Criminal Offence.

"Under section 209 of the Criminal Code anyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to two years' imprisonment who posts anything of an obscene, immoral, indecent or scurrilous character. This, however, is not a matter for enforcement by this department and therefore the department has simply contented itself with

JUBILEE PLUNGER

Old Creditors Want to Have Some of His Estate—Historic Gambler.

Memories of one of the most notorious spendthrifts the Turf has known were recalled in the Court of Appeal on Wednesday when six creditors appealed from a decision of Mr. Justice Warrington, disallowing their claim to prove as creditors in an administration action relating to the affairs of Henry Ernest Schlesinger Benson, who was known as the 'Jubilee Plunger.'

Mr. Hansell, for the appellants, said the late Mr. Benson was twice bankrupt, and had not obtained a discharge in either case. In the first bankruptcy five of his clients proved and they received a dividend of 5s. 2d. in the pound. The amount now due to them was, in the aggregate, £2,705. In the second bankruptcy the other client was the only creditor, the amount due to him being £118.

Counsel argued that Mr. Justice Warrington's decision, precluding them from proving for the balance of their debts against the residue of the estate because they had proved in the bankruptcy, must be wrong. Their lordships reserved judgment.

The 'Jubilee Plunger' was left £250,000 by his father, a wealthy merchant in the Midlands. Benson was unable to touch this until he became of age, and he then obtained world-wide notoriety as a reckless spendthrift.

After a tour in Australia he returned to England, and in two years he dissipated his entire fortune. It was the year of Queen Victoria's Jubilee that his freakish behavior reached its height, hence the name 'Jubilee Plunger' by which Benson was quickly known.

He lost his money chiefly in horse-racing, but he would bet on cards, dominoes, shove-ha'penny, or anything. In fact if he met an acquaintance in a public house he would almost invariably produce a sovereign and insist upon tossing for it.

Clothes were one of his chief passions. He was always buying them. He never wore a collar twice, and it was said he had thousands of them. After his money had been squandered he wrote a book, 'How I Lost £250,000 in Two Years.' Benson died in Geneva in December, 1911 at the age of forty-six.

Gen. Sir Charles Douglas Will Lose Sum of $5000 Annually in Salary.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] MONTREAL, April 3.—A London cable to the Daily Mail, says: General Sir Charles Douglas will take over the duties of chief of the Imperial forces in succession to Gen. Sir John French, on Monday next. It is curious to note that Sir Charles Douglas makes a financial sacrifice by accepting his new position. Sir John French was paid $15,000 as chief of the Imperial general staff; General Sir Charles Douglas is getting $20,000 as inspector-general of the home forces, and will thus lose five thousand dollars a year unless the new war minister comes to his relief.

Sir Ian Hamilton, who is inspector general of the overseas forces, and who visited Canada last year, and who is now in Australia, is paid $25,000 a year, or $10,000 more than the chief of the general staff. There will certainly be a financial evening up and down, and if the salary of the inspector general of the home forces is reduced there is little likelihood that Sir Ian Hamilton will accept it unless under great pressure.

MISS SMITH WILL RECOVER

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 3.—A force of workmen to-day began clearing away two blocks of charred ruins, left in the wake of yesterday's fire in the historic water front section of St. Augustine. Plans already have been made for rebuilding the Florida, Marjorie, Clairmont, Central and Atlantic hotels, and the St. Johns county court house, which were destroyed. It was estimated that property loss in the fire which owners of the burned buildings said might reach $750,000 was one third covered by insurance. Physicians to-day said that Miss Alice M. Smith, of Amherst, N.S., the only person previously believed to have been fatally injured during the fire, would recover.

URGES COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING

Defence Forces Are Wholly Inadequate, Declares General Otter.

HUNTSVILLE, April 3.—That the defence force in Canada was wholly inadequate for an emergency was the opinion expressed before the Canadian club by Major-General Otter. The general declared that Canada should have a staff of 9,000 trained officers and 250,000 militiamen. He also thought that the military situation in Canada was alarming. He believed Canada to be in more imminent peril from invasion than either South Africa or Australia. He deplored the apathy shown by the Canadian people and thought that compulsory military training should be instituted in the Public and High Schools and Universities of Canada. Such, he declared was not militarism, but the essence of patriotism.

Her Charge Against Her Second Husband Fails—Now She Admits a Third One.

ST. CATHARINES, April 3.—A charge of drinking while on the Indian list against William Pennell, of Thorold, preferred by his wife, who at the previous hearing admitted having been previously married to Edward Bradley, who is still alive, was to-day dismissed by Magistrate Campbell. As the woman was not his wife, the court ruled she had no right to take out the papers against the man, which nevertheless did not reach him until a day after the alleged drinking took place. The woman yesterday under cross-examination further admitted that since her marriage to Pennell she had gone through a third marriage ceremony with Henry Herbert at Niagara Falls. Until last night no charge of bigamy had been laid against her.

CIGARETTE SMOKING AMONG ENGLISH WOMEN INCREASING

Excesses Are Rare, but It Is No Longer Considered "Unwomanly" to Indulge in the Practice—Should Women Ride Astride? Kaiser's Veto Discussed.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. ENGLISH women, unlike their Chicago sisters, have no desire to be cured of the cigarette habit. Clinics, such as have been opened in America for the treatment of feminine tobacco victims, are not needed in this country. At any rate, that is what I am led to believe.

"I rarely encounter cases of women who smoke excessively," said a prominent London doctor to your correspondent. "Women smoke quite moderately, as a rule. There is no doubt, however, that the cigarette habit is growing."

Five years ago the woman who smoked was associated with Shavianism and suffragism; she was called "unwomanly" and "respectably" of feminine suburbanites smoke as a matter of course. One used to see the warning, "Ladies are requested not to smoke" in most West End restaurants. To-day the legend is antiquated. Only in one or two places does the restriction linger.

Inquiries at West End tobacconists elicited the fact that women have long since passed the stage when they demanded "ladies' cigarettes." A well known tobacconist said that his lady customers smoked much the same brands as men. A hospital nurse told me that almost every member of her profession smoked—usually in their bedrooms—and that it required some ingenuity to evade the vigilance of the matron.

The Kaiser's veto on the wives of German army officers riding astride has aroused widespread discussion in London. "There is no doubt that in recent years riding astride has become more and more popular with women. In the country it is quite common, while in Rotten Row some women may be seen astride most days of the week."

It is suggested in support of the Kaiser's command that the practice of riding astride involves risk of internal injury to the women who follow the practice, although the effect may not make itself apparent for a long time. This view, however, is by no means generally accepted.

One of the most famous riders in the world, Mr. Heap, the manager of the Regent's Park Riding School, told me the other day that he knows many women, including several doctors' wives, who have ridden astride for years, and are none the wiser for it.

"Several of them," added Mr. Heap, "are mothers of families, and so far from having in any way suffered from riding astride they enjoy splendid health, and tell me they attribute it to regular exercise on horseback."

"It depends on the woman and it depends on the horse. I should not advise a heavily built, stout woman to ride astride, and I should advise no woman to ride a horse with a back like a table."

"But a tallish, athletic woman, up to ten-stone weight, will suffer no harm from riding astride, provided she has a suitable horse. Such a woman, trained to ride astride, would ride thirty miles astride more comfortably than one riding side-saddle, and riding easily would suffer no ill effects."

A young typist working in a certain city office received a great surprise the other day. Her employer called her into his room and said to her, "Oh, Miss W., I want you, if you don't mind, to go out and buy a sachet, one of those French perfume sachets, you know. Go and get something really nice."

Delighted with her strange commission, the girl went out and returned with a sachet. "Excellent," said the business man, as he smelt it. "Now will you please write out for me a copy of this letter on this paper?" He took some hand made azure blue paper. "And write it in as sloping, unbusinesslike, 'womanly' hand as possible. When you have written the letter I want you to keep it for a day or two in your handbag, along with the sachet, till it is thoroughly scented with the perfume. Then post it."

KING GEORGE DROPS IN ON THE TENANTS OF MODEL FLATS OWNED BY THE PRINCE

Lady Evelyn King is the eldest daughter of the Earl and Countess of Lovelace and a charming debutante of the coming season. Lady Evelyn was born in 1896 and will be eighteen this year. Lady Mary Hamilton is the eldest daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Abercorn, who will make her debut in the coming season. She will be eighteen this year.

England's Ruler Surprises Some of the Housewives at Their Work and Chats with Them Concerning the Interest He Is Taking in Endeavouring to Provide Comforts for the Lower Classes.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. THE political situation, serious though it is, has not interfered much with the gaiety of London life, except that it curtailed the King's and Queen's proposed stop of a week with Lord and Lady Derby to two days. The King would not have gone at all, but he disliked disappointing the humble subjects who had made great preparations for his reception at Port Sunlight, Birkenhead, Chester.

The King was constantly in touch with the government each night at Knowlesy Hall, the residence of Lord and Lady Derby, and received telegrams, one being despatched from the House of Commons giving a summary of the proceedings, and another from Lord Stamfordham, who remained behind to watch events dealing in a more intimate manner with the political crisis.

The King's and Queen's most intimate friends were invited to Knowlesy Hall to meet them. Included were Count Albert Mendorsoff, Lord and Lady Essex, Lord and Lady Pembroke, Lord Durham, Lady Anne Lambton, Lady Mar and Kellie and Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild.

Before going north the King and Queen once more showed their deep interest in the people by a surprise trip to the cottages and flats at Kennington, where the Prince of Wales recently became a landlord of model dwellings housing sixty families. No hint of the journey was given. The monarchs first observed an aged charwoman polishing the brass knobs of a door.

Looks Over Son's Flats. "Couldn't have believed my eyes," the woman said, "that they even were coming near us. A fine lady is Queen Mary. The trip was productive of many amusing incidents, all enjoyed by the King and Queen."

Ascending to the first floor of one of the flats, the King tapped on a door in a simple, unaffected way and said to the housewife, "I've come to inspect the cottages and flats I've built for my son. May I come in?"

"Although I recognized the King and Queen at once," said Mrs. Charlton, who occupies the flat, "I remained glued to the spot for several seconds while they passed through all the rooms inspecting everything."

At another flat Mrs. Marshall was just clearing away her husband's luncheon and a comedy was played. On a table was a glass and empty stout bottle, which Mrs. Marshall endeavored to hide and, failing, apologized. The King and Queen laughed heartily, but the King kindly put the woman at ease, saying he was glad to observe that she attended to the comforts of her husband.

The King, practical in all things, inquired how the flats and cottages compared with the incomes of the tenants. "I am anxious to make provision for the lower and middle classes," the King said, "I am anxious for the welfare of the working classes, but in London I have realized that these classes find it difficult to obtain a house within their means not too far from the centre. I had that in view when I decided to have these dwellings erected for my son, for this is a social problem to hundreds in London today."

Royal and other society leaders are busy with works of charity. Under the patronage of Princess Christian and Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein an excellent matinee was held at the Victoria Palace in aid of the North London Home for Stray Dogs, established by the Dumb Friends' League.

Queen Mary Refitting Room at Windsor Like an English Manor

Collection of Wedgwood and Other China Ware, Together with Some Fine Old Jacobean Furniture, To Be Placed in the Renovated Chamber When Completed.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. FOR some time Queen Mary has been engaged upon the formation of a new room at Windsor Castle that promises, when completed, to possess unique interest. While stopping there last summer the Queen found an unused room in one of the older parts of the castle, the oak paneling of which strongly appealed to her. She resolved to have this renovated and to convert it into a typical room of an English manor house, and the necessary work has since been carried out.

For some years the Queen has been making a collection of Wedgwood and other English china, this being now scattered between York Cottage, Sandringham, Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle. It is now to be placed in this new room, where some fine old Jacobean furniture also is to be kept.

Prince Albert, the King's second son, has now started off on a cruise on the dreadnought Collingwood, which is expected to last for several months, the vessel being attached to the First Battle Squadron as flagship of Vice Admiral Sir Stanley Colville. This probably will be the last occasion upon which the Prince will serve with the fleet until he has undergone a two years' course at Cambridge, where, it is understood, he will be educated at Trinity College after the summer vacation. It is expected that when he severs his connection with the Collingwood the Prince will be specially advanced to the rank of sub-lieutenant as a recognition of the amount of hard work he has done since he entered upon his regency experiences.

The Duchess of Somerset held a big sale of art at her house, in Grosvenor square, in aid of the International Hospital at Venice, founded by the late Lady Layard.

The Princess Royal, accompanied by Princess Maud, opened the new premises of the Church Army Medical Mission and presented comfortable garments to the patients and toys to the children. The Princess Royal accepted a bouquet from Mrs. Hollings, the oldest patient, much to her delight.

BRIDE'S SACRIFICE FOR HER PARENTS

(Special Dispatch.) CALCUTTA, April 4. SNEHALATA, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Babu Harendra Mukherjee, a broker of this city, burnt herself to death to save her father from ruin through the payment of an excessive marriage portion to her bridegroom.

Babu Harendra having asked a young undergraduate of the university in marriage for his daughter, the youth's father asked a price for him which for a time frustrated Harendra's hopes. After a second interview the sum was reduced to $5,000, two-thirds of which was to be paid in cash and the remainder in jewelry. Harendra decided to raise the money by a mortgage on his house.

Snehalata, who was a girl of exceptional beauty, thereupon resolved to sacrifice her life to preserve the fortune of her parents, and on the day before the transaction was to be closed she dressed in her best clothes, and climbing on the roof of the house, drenched her clothes with oil and set them on fire.

A Brahmin who happened to pass saw her and raised an alarm. The flames were put out with great difficulty, and Snehalata, still smiling, though enduring terrible agony, was conveyed to the medical college hospital. She died later in the evening.

How Shamrock IV. Is Built

British Cup Defender Will Have Metal Frames with Wood Skin—Other Details.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. AS the time approaches for the completion of Shamrock IV, interest in all the details relating to the new challenger is increasing. Various rumors have been current during the last week or so, and with the view of obtaining the latest and most authentic information your representative called upon Mr. Charles Nicholson at Gosport, where the vessel is in course of construction.

Mr. Nicholson entered fully into all details, and further favored me with a view of the yacht, or as much of her as is to be seen at present. Obviously, there are certain details to which it would be even yet unfair to refer, although as time progresses the need for strict secrecy becomes less urgent.

Shamrock IV. is of composite build—that is, metal frames with a wood skin. In this respect she differs from the three preceding Shamrocks, which were of aluminum, bronze and steel, respectively. Mr. Nicholson explained his reasons for deciding upon the wood skin. He said that in the first place metal plates would be so thick that there would be great difficulty in getting the rivets to hold, as their heads have to be countersunk flush to give a perfectly smooth surface. Then, Mr. Nicholson believes that the lines of the vessel will be more truly preserved with the wood skin than with metal plating, as the thin metal plates are apt to buckle between the frames. In support of his contention he referred to torpedo craft, whose sides often present a wavy appearance, due to the buckling of the plates. Then, again, there is more resistance in wood, which is a point to be considered in a racing yacht. When the metal hull vessel strains it means the loosening of some of her fastenings, but this is not necessarily the case when wood is used. It will be remembered by all who have followed the course of recent cup contests that in Shamrock II. the loosening of rivets was a constant source of trouble.

In the construction of the vessel methods very similar to those adopted in building small raters are being employed. Moulds are set up to insure the frames coming to the exact form. The vessel is now up in frame, and a few planks on the starboard side are already fastened. The wood skin will be of mahogany.

ARMY ISSUE NOW EXPLAINED BY MR. ASQUITH

He Made a Modest Speech to His Constituents at Ladybank Saturday—Was Held as Great State

LONDON, April 6. — A Spring day and notable scenic enthusiasm at Ladybank marking opening Saturday by Right Hon. Asquith of the bye-election in East Fife, rendered necessary his acceptance of the Secretary of War. The meeting took place in the village assembly room, opened by the usual formalities, including the adoption of the Minister as the Liberal candidate. Mr. Asquith, Mrs. Asquith's daughter were given a rousing ovation. Sir James Scott, who had welcomed the Premier, cheered as the greatest Parliamentarian they had known. Mr. Asquith returned thanks for his adoption of the Liberal candidate. He said a novel experience contesting election, but they lived in a time, and in no respect was more strange than in the which credulity dogged the invention, and invention strove, in vain, to keep pace with it.

In the course of the last continued the Prime Minister had the ridiculous legend of that the Government select any moment in which the making proposals for the seat of the Home Rule difficulty to see a plot to provoke Ulster. The same quarters it had been gestured that he took the new Secretary of State for War, purpose of escaping a formidable ordeal in crossing with the Opposition. He said that, instead of stealing away the fight in disguise and by a route in the ordinary way, a met by expressions of welcome hopes of good luck. (Cheers was what they called a protest. England Losing Its Landmarks

Old Ship-inn, Near Hammersmith Bridge, and George Hotel, at Reading, About to Go.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. STILL more ancient landmarks dear to Londoners and interesting to tourists are to disappear. A few weeks ago it was stated that as London had suffered a year ago because so little was done to attract American tourists to London during the season, an effort was to be made to keep them longer during the forthcoming season and this is the way it is being done.

What with the closing of all places of interest owing to the growing danger of suffragette outrages and the demolishing of old buildings, there will soon be hardly anything in London worth seeing by tourists.

Great indignation has been aroused by the news that the Old Ship-inn, which stands on the Mall near Hammersmith Bridge, is to be destroyed. This is one of the best known landmarks in the famous course between the Nelson and Mortlake, but the licensing magistrates have ordered the extinction of the license on the ground of redundancy.

The original Old Ship was built on the site of the present building nearly three hundred years ago. Part of the old structure still remains, in the form of a very fine portico of red brick. This is a subject of great interest to antiquarians, for it is one of the oldest examples of brickwork in the neighborhood.

During the latter half of the century there fell out from the frontage of the house the original Hammersmith Pier, which was served by the "penny steamboats" that plied up and down the river. A private terrace leads from the house to the water's edge, and from this a magnificent view of the inter-university boat race can be obtained. On a fine morning the outlook is charming. Old Christ Church stands in the foreground, while in the distance are the hills of Richmond.

"If this building," said the landlord of the Old Ship, "is demolished it will, no doubt be replaced by a factory or some other eyesore. This is a very dangerous part of the river, and no fewer than twenty lives have been saved, from my terrace during the last three years. Without it there would be no landing stage on this side of the river for quite a long distance. Many well known authors frequented the house in years gone by."

And the old George Hotel at Reading, is going, too. This ancient house was doing business in the days when the Abbot of Reading was one of the great men in the land, and it stands to-day in dignified repose in a busy street, not far from the ruins of the great abbey. High over its arched entrance, on a little shield, is the date of its foundation, 1568.

A Symptom. Louisville Courier-Journal:—Here's a critic says the drama is in its second childhood. "Notice it has taken to playing in the mind."

Famous Castle on the Market

Ancestral Home of Chiefs of Clan Menzies Will Be Sold in London May 29.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. The ancient, historical and sporting domains of Castle Menzies, extending to about ninety thousand acres, including the well known shootings at Castle Menzies, Foss, Rannoch Lodge, Cranaroun, Corrievale and other moors, are to be offered for sale by Messrs. Knight, Frank & Rutley, at No. 20 Hanover square, on May 29, unless previously disposed of by private treaty.

Castle Menzies, the ancestral home of the chiefs of the Clan Menzies, and one of the finest baronial structures in Scotland, nestles at the base of the Rock of Weem, in the fertile district of Upper Strathgry, known as Appin na Maynerich. For centuries the whole district has belonged to the Menzies family. The scenery around Weem and Aberfeldy is world-famed, and immortalized in Burns' poem "The Birks of Aberfeldy," wherein mention is made of the Moness or Menzies Burn, with its cascades and wooded ravines.

The date of the building of the castle is not definitely known, but it is said to have been as early as 1261. Built of slate and whinstone, it has defied the centuries, but certainly the inflammable portions were destroyed by Neil Stewart of Garth, in 1503, and restoration was carried out between 1571 and 1577.

The picturesque stronghold, with its original old iron barred door, ancient turrets, crenelated battlements, carved coats of arms and dormer windows, is in a remarkably good state of preservation and the outer walls are from six to seven feet thick. The royal arms, granted by Queen Mary, on her trip in 1561, appear in the front; and Charles II.'s cypher over the Old Gate commemorated his call after the battle of Worcester. The additions to the building were made about 1840, when the new wings and porch were added.

The reception rooms include the banquet hall, now used as a drawing room, decorated in panels divided by mouldings of the Georgian period; Queen Mary's sitting room, with old Tudor mantelpieces, and ceiling with pendant centre, designed probably for the Queen's sojourn in 1562; the library, dining room and business room.

Thackeray Year in Salesrooms

Autograph Collectors Are Interested in Manuscripts Soon To Be Sold in London.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, April 4. Among autograph collectors, who become more and more numerous, this will be remembered as a Thackeray year, as last year was a Browning.

Though the most important Thackeray manuscripts are now placed all more or less permanently, there still remain some valuable ones to be snapped up. There are four appearing at Sotheby's rooms in the first week of next month. They belong to Thackeray's daughter, Lady Ritchie, and some of them fit in with others originally in her possession and sold from the wonderful Thackeray collection of Major Lambert recently in New York.

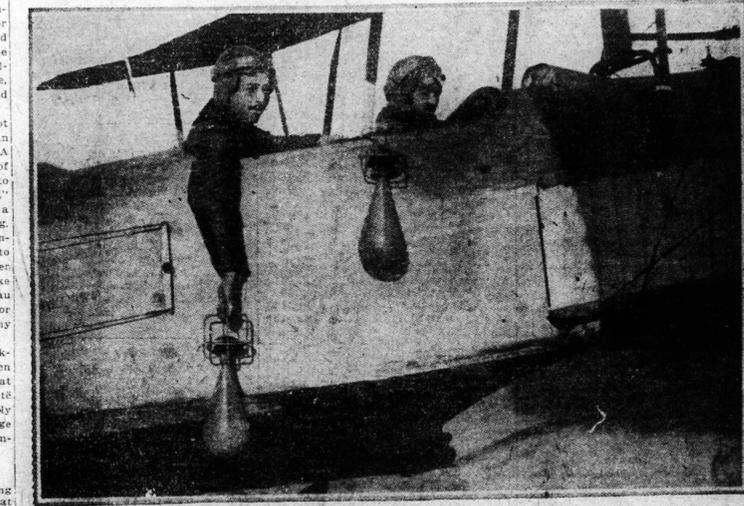

At that sale, for example, were nine drawings illustrating Thackeray's letters to Edward Fitzgerald. They were only a few among many dated between 1829 and 1850, and Fitzgerald gave them to Miss Churchyard, with the remark that they would prove valuable one day. At the Lambert dispersal these nine were bought for $550. The remainder, more than one hundred and fifty in number, were passed by the translator of Omar Khayyam into a volume which he bequeathed to Lady Ritchie, and this is the volume that is to be sold in London next month.

Along with it will come a manuscript fragment of unpublished travels, more than seventy original drawings to illustrate "A Journey from Cornhill to Cairo"—some of them used from the book—and a quarto manuscript, "Notes for the Four Georges," running into a hundred pages, about a fifth of them in Thackeray's handwriting. Into this notebook the author brought anecdotes and other materials relating to manners and customs of the period under headings, also in his own writing, like "London Streets 140 Years Ago," "Beau Nash," "Account of Rice, Executed for Forgery," "Lies in History" and many more.

It is the autographic relics of Thackeray's pencil even more than of his pen that are keenly sought for. His great gifts as an artist, which Charlotte Brontë perceived, are only now being adequately recognized, as was seen in the large amount paid for drawings from the Lambert "Thackerayana."
