

Got Divorce

Edinburgh, Scotland, March 10.—John Alex. Stirling, laird of Kippendare, Perthshire, to-day won his divorce suit against his wife, Clara Elizabeth Stirling, who was formerly a Miss Taylor, of New Jersey. Lord Guthrie, in the court of sessions, granted Stirling's petition awarding him the custody of the child, and denied the cross petition of Mrs. Stirling.

CONFERRED RE CAR SHED.

Plan Will be Prepared for Mass Meeting To-night.

No Exclusive Franchise for the Radial on Wentworth St.

The Technical School Deputation Went to Guelph To-day.

Yesterday afternoon a sub-committee from the Board of Works conferred with the officials of the Dominion Power & Transmission Company about the application for permission to lay tracks on Wentworth street, north of King, giving the company connection with the new car shops. The company wants running rights on both streets for its suburban lines, and is pressing for an exclusive franchise on Wentworth street for the radial. The aldermen say they will not consent to this. A plan will be prepared for the meeting of property owners to be held to-morrow in the Board of Trade rooms to discuss the matter.

The following building permits have been issued:

William Phillips, frame stable, Head street, between Sophia and Dundurn streets, for Thomas Hyslop, $200.

A deputation representing the Technical School Committee went to Guelph this morning to inspect the machinery department in the institute there.

KING'S HEALTH.

Report From Biarritz That His Majesty is Seriously Ill.

London, March 10.—There is absolutely no confirmation in London of the reports emanating from Biarritz that King Edward is seriously ill.

King Edward was reported yesterday as being in good health and he had quite recovered from the signs of fatigue noticed at his arrival at Biarritz. He walked through the town and visited the golf links in the afternoon.

It was announced from Pau last night that King Edward was planning to go there from Biarritz at the end of the week to witness a series of aeroplane flights by Wilbur Wright.

ITALIAN SHOT IN GUELPH ROW.

Cousin of a Noted Brigand May Have to Stand Trial on Charge of Murder.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Guelph, Ont., March 10.—A shooting affair, which may mean murder, for the victim is not likely to recover, occurred last night in St. Patrick's Ward, as a result of which Giuseppe Mosolino is in the police cells, charged with shooting a fellow countryman, Mike Silvestro, the bullet penetrating the body within an inch of the heart and going through to the shoulder. The shooting occurred about ten o'clock last night and threw the whole Italian section into an uproar of excitement. In the excitement Mosolino and a companion, Tony Prince, got away. The police were thrown off the trail by being unable to get to the bottom of the affair. The town was secured perfectly, as well as the Italian houses, but no trace of the fugitives could be found. The wires were then kept hot and at 5 o'clock this morning word was received from Berlin that the pair had been captured within a couple of miles of the town. From what can be learned of the particulars of the affair, Mosolino seems to be a cousin of a noted brigand of Italy.

LIGHT TO-NIGHT OR MYSTERY FOR ALL TIME

DR. JAS. ANDERSON, Coroner, who has taken over the Kinrade inquest.

ST. JAMES'.

Rev. S. B. Russell the Speaker Last Evening.

The opening services at St. James' Presbyterian Church were continued last night by the Rev. S. Burnside Russell, of Erskine Church. He spoke from Col. iv. 2-5, pointing out that the Christian life had an inward and an outward side. There was first an exhortation to a life of prayer—to a constant life of prayer. He referred to the different elements in prayer, viz. aspiration, communion, submission and gratitude. Then he dealt with the precepts affecting the outer life. Christians are to walk in wisdom towards those that are without. Many see Christ only as He is manifested in the lives of Christians. Special singing by Miss McMannus, Mr. John Porter, and Miss Elford and Miss Bessie Goddard was enjoyed by all. The service to-night will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Fletcher. Erskine choir will take charge of the music for the evening.

SKIRTS CUT SHORTER

Cleveland Alderman Advocates Step in Fashion Reform.

Cleveland, O., March 10.—Passage of an ordinance prohibiting women from wearing skirts that touch the ground when they walk was urged to-day by Councilman Flower at a meeting for the consideration of a resolution calling for the purchase of anti-spitting signs for street corners. "Women should not wear skirts that touch the ground," he said. "Reform in this direction is in line with the steps the city has taken in an effort to prevent the spread of tuberculosis."

EMPEROR JOSEPH

Sued For Money Loaned to His Father in 1848.

Budapest, March 10.—Julius Geney, a rich apothecary, has sued Emperor Francis Joseph in the Royal Courts here for six hundred thousand francs ($120,000). He has deposited papers and documents showing that his grandfather, in 1848, loaned to the Emperor's father, the late Archduke Francis, six thousand ducats, and he asks for the principal and compound interest.

Such is the View of the Police Authorities in Regard to the Kinrade Murder Case.

They Have a Strong Chain of Circumstantial Evidence But Lack the Essential Connecting Link.

Body of Ethel Exhumed Yesterday; New Autopsy Made and the Inquest Begun Over Again.

Light will pierce the pall of mystery that envelops Hamilton's most sensational murder to-night or never. That is the honest opinion of the police.

If Ethel Kinrade's slayer is not made known at the investigation to-night, this shocking tragedy will be chalked up in the police ledgers with the other sensational mysteries the records of which are stored away in musty vaults, with no hope of ever solving them.

The statement may surprise the public, which has been led to believe that the authorities have trump cards up their sleeve and will play them to-night, but it is a fact. The police have no surprises to spring. They admit it. They have a chain of circumstantial evidence, but one good tug may break it. They have a theory, but it will practically require a confession to sustain it.

In brief, witnesses who have so far failed to throw any light on the mystery must talk to-night if Ethel Kinrade's murder is to be explained or avenged. The authorities are practically pinning their faith on George Tate Blackstock, the lion of the Ontario criminal bar, as he is called at times, to bring out the facts with which the police hope to solve this crime.

For two weeks the papers have published the usual number of conjectures, the usual reports of the detectives' movements, and the usual statements of what witnesses will have to say, but the news, read light upon the Kinrade tragedy, must develop at the inquest to-night.

Florence Kinrade, sister of the murdered girl, regarded as the chief witness, will be the first witness to take the stand to-night. Although she will not be compelled to face the stares of the back benchers who usually pack the court room when a case of importance is being probed, she will be obliged to tell her story in the presence of a staff of newspaper correspondents, witnesses and officials, numbering in all about one hundred people. She has an ordeal to go through to-night which may cause her to break down in the witness box, although the authorities have been assured by eminent physicians, who have examined her, that by to-night she will be prepared to tell her story. She will be closely examined as to the shooting of her sister, a subject that threw her into hysterics every time the detectives approached it while she remained in Hamilton. She will be obliged to go into details in connection with the police say they find in the different stories she has told them. They expect that she will be able to go on the stand to-night and tell a story that cannot be shaken.

Then will follow the medical evidence and the testimony in rotation of those who were alarmed by Florence when she ran out of the house and who went to the place and found Ethel Kinrade's body, the hair soured with blood, and seven bullet wounds in her breast and head. Associated with Mr. Blackstock will be Crown Attorney Washington, Thomas Hobson, of Lees, Hobson & Stephens, will act for T. L. Kinrade. Mr.

R. B. SPIERA, Foreman of the Coroner's Jury in the Kinrade case.

Blackstock has been here consulting with the crown and police, and has been put in possession of all the facts and information they have.

One feature of the case that has been played up by the newspapers and which gave promise of opening up a new line of investigation was the time at which the crime was committed. The police received the report at 4:03. They were told that ten minutes before that Ethel Kinrade was shot. Then came the story of Motorman Stone, who thought he saw the girl dash across the tracks in front of his car at 3:25 and the reports that reached the police of witnesses who were said to have stated that they heard shots in the house at 3 o'clock. One of these was Mrs. C. N. Shafer, formerly of Glenora, but who now resides in Angola, New York State. The Times immediately investigated this story and although it was not possible to get Mrs. Shafer direct, there was reason to believe that the report was unfounded. Mrs. Shafer will not be at the inquest to-night, and the police practically admit that they will be unable to disprove the statement that the crime was committed at a few minutes to 4 o'clock.

Motorman Stone, who was reported to have said the girl wore no hat when she crossed in front of his car, is not sure whether she did or not. He did not see her face, and is not sure that he would recognize her again.

D. M. Brown, the butcher, to whom Miss Kinrade ran to give the alarm, thinks Motorman Stone is away out. He says that when Florence Kinrade entered his store she wore no hat, and this corroborates the story of Mrs. F. J. Hickey, who says the girl left her hat there.

The police now take little stock in the story that the murdered girl was sitting in a chair when shot. From the direction of the bullets the doctors say it is possible, but not probable.

The sensational reports about the finding of the revolver, which were circulated a week ago, were revived yesterday afternoon. The police declare they have not got the revolver. They took W. D. Smith, a plumber, to the house yesterday and the plumbing was opened, but the revolver was not found.

THE BODY EXHUMED.

As announced by the Times yesterday afternoon in a special edition issued immediately after the application had been made at Crown Attorney Washington's office by the Provincial authorities, an order was issued to have the body of Ethel Kinrade exhumed and a new jury empanelled to conduct the inquest. This was done to permit Coroner McNichol, who was first on the scene of the tragedy, to testify at the investigation to-night. Had he presided as coroner it would have been impossible for him to have told his story, and the police regard him as a very important witness.

While the doctors were instructed that no useful purpose would be served in further mutilating the body, to search for the bullets in the breast, in view of the difference of opinion over the number of shots fired, it was decided, when the body was exhumed, to make a second post mortem.

CORONER ANDERSON RETAINED.

Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the undertaker who buried the remains of Miss Ethel Kinrade got an order to exhumate the body, and within an hour his men had opened the grave and lifted out the body. The body was taken at once to the City Morgue at the Hospital. It was once more laid out on the marble slab.

Constable Lentz was called to Crown Attorney Washington's office, while the three detectives were there making the application. It was his who summoned the jury previously, and he was instructed to notify the same jury to attend the new inquest. Coroner Anderson was retained as coroner by the Crown and is issued the precept calling the jury to meet at 8 o'clock last night.

After being sworn anew the jurors adjourned to the morgue to see the body again. Coroner Anderson pointed out the wounds and showed them that eight bullets had struck the girl. An order was made to have Drs. Balfe and Edger perform a second post mortem, more complete than their last one, and they did so immediately after the inquest.

The jurors had all had the wounds explained to them on the previous inquiry, which ended so abruptly, and were not long in examining the body.

The inquest was then formally adjourned till to-night, and the time was changed to 8 o'clock. The jurors who have acted on both inquiries are:

- R. B. Spiera, 239 King street east, foreman.
John Noble, 3 Elgin street.
John Brown, 318 Jackson street west.
Ald. W. Ellis, 136 MacNab street north.
John Work, 51 Erie avenue.
Fred Skerritt, 156 King street east.
John Wells, 197 King street east.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

Family Afflicted, He Ends His Life.

Pierces Chest With Knife Until He Falls Exhausted and Dies.

New York, March 10.—Discouraged by his own illness, the death of his mother and the fact that his daughter had to undergo an operation for appendicitis, Thomas J. Splain, of No. 500 West Thirty-second street, last night ended his own life.

Three times he stabbed himself with a penknife the blade of which was scarcely more than two inches long. Indications were that he had stabbed himself at intervals near the heart until his strength failed him. Coroner Harburger, who examined the body, thinks that probably five minutes elapsed between the first and last wounds.

Mr. Splain was of great bodily strength. Last October he was operated on for appendicitis and refused to take an anesthetic.

Last week his mother died and he was unable to attend her funeral. Yesterday his daughter Susan was operated on at the Presbyterian Hospital for the same trouble that had laid him low. These things, according to his son, John, weakened his mind.

About seven o'clock last night Mrs. Ellen Splain, his wife, heard him breathing hard, and summoned Dr. Robert S. Bickley, of No. 492 West Thirty-fourth street, who was unable to save the man's life.

BEARINGS CO.

Shareholders, Outside of Directors Hold Only $26,000.

In connection with the assignment of the Canadian Roller Bearings Company, it is stated that the entire amount of paid up stock held by all the shareholders, outside the directors, was $26,000. Mr. Robertson, of Toronto, the chief financial backer, and the other directors, have put in $53,000 of their own money, besides guaranteeing the bank. The real cause of the failure is said to be that the cost of developing the concern was much greater than had been anticipated, and that, just as the company was ready to place its product on the market, the supply of funds, through outside influence, was cut off.

It is also explained that while the company voted the President and Manager, Mr. Jones, a salary of $2,600 a year, there is at this minute over a full year's salary unpaid.

WIRELESS FLEET.

Seventeen Vessels and 1,000 Men in Newfoundland Sealers.

St. John's Nfld., March 10.—Equipped with a wireless telegraph outfit, and manned by 1,000 men, the Newfoundland sealing fleet of 23 steamers sailed to-day on its annual cruise among the dangerous ice floes of the North Atlantic.

Seventeen of the steamers will go to the Grand Banks and the remaining six will enter the Gulf of St. Lawrence. In their year's fleet are five new steamers, four of which cost $150,000 each. The fifth, the Florizel, cost $300,000. This vessel is equipped with a wireless outfit and it is expected that much of the anxiety of past years will be absent this year as almost daily reports from the sealers is anticipated.

HIS BRACELET.

Kaiser Takes It Off as It Caused Comment.

New York, March 10.—A cable despatch to the American from Potsdam says: It was noted at the recent festivities that the Kaiser no longer wore the gold bracelet that had adorned his right arm for the last 20 or 25 years. It is said that criticism of the habit, which was declared to be entirely feminine, caused the Kaiser to give up his pet decoration, which in late years was adorned with a tiny watch.

Inspector Birrell claims that he knew nothing of the round-up till the evidence was turned over to him and he was asked to swear out informations. The cases will be tried to-morrow.

MR. T. L. KINRADE GIVES INTERVIEW.

Tells of the Doings of the Family Before and on Day of the Murder.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Toronto, Ont., March 10.—Mr. Kinrade gave the following interview to the Star at the Arlington Hotel this morning: "The Tuesday of the week of the fatality Ethel and I went to a concert, in the production of which we were both interested. I had wanted to go to the Canadian Club instead to hear the speech of a man from New York. However, Ethel wanted company to the concert, so I went with her instead. The next day, Wednesday, members of our family received two frights from unknown men. About 6:30 my wife heard a ring at the outer door. Inside the short entrance there is another door of heavy glass, like the outer door. As my wife opened the inside door she saw a man's face pressed against the glass of the outer door. Remembering the unwelcome visitor of the previous day, she hesitated about opening it. The man lurched against the glass, pressing his body close-

Five Drowned

Montgomery, Ala., March 10.—Five persons were drowned in the Alabama River here in the rising waters, which followed last night's storm. Three whites and a negro were drowned from a ferry and William Dillard, a white boy, fell in and was drowned.

Last night's rain was the heaviest here in twenty years. Five and a half inches fell in a little more than five hours.

SELL CANDY AT ANY TIME.

Such Were Clerk's Instructions at King Street Store.

Lord's Day Act Case Before the Police Magistrate.

Two Sociable Fellows Sent to Castle Osgive.

The proprietor of the Palms restaurant, 175 King street east, appeared before Magistrate Jeffs at the Police Court this morning, charged with breaking the Lord's Day act on Sunday, Mar. 7th, by selling candies. Two small boys, Harry Connells and David Cohen, testified that they had bought candy at this restaurant upon the date mentioned above.

P. C. Gibbs, who watched the place, intercepted the boys, and asked them if they had been able to buy any candy. Upon their replying in the affirmative he entered the store, and enquired from the lady clerk if she sold candies on Sunday. She replied that she did, and that she had instructions to sell candies at all times and to every person who wanted them.

"That is what I want to know," said Gibbs as he left the establishment. John Farmer, K. C., on behalf of the defendant, asked that the case be dismissed, contending that there was no breach of the Lord's day act, as candy is a food. "Parallels have been drawn and dismissed by you," he said to the Magistrate.

"No," replied the Magistrate; "candy can be sold to those who are taking a lunch, but it is not permissible to sell candies on Sunday otherwise."

The Magistrate, at the request of the lawyer, postponed the case for a week to have him quote authorities on the matter.

The case of Samuel Goldberg, who was summoned on a charge of breach of the Lord's Day act, was adjourned until next Wednesday at the request of the defendant's counsel.

It would seem that Gladstone Davis and Frederick Thompson, two Bethel lodgers, are sociable fellows. When the police saw them yesterday they were stopping people on the street. Their sociability, however, did not appeal to the guardians of the peace, who accused them of vagrancy. "We are not begging," spoke up the twin with pride. But what they were doing they did not divulge. They may be a little more communicative by the time their three months' visit at the jail is finished.

LIQUOR CASES.

Five of Them Will Come Up Tomorrow Morning.

The Government is behind the prosecution of five of the hotels in this city for selling liquor after hours. The spotter who claims he has the evidence is said to be the son of a local police officer. George Roach, of the American Hotel, will face two charges of illegal selling; John Staunton, Revere House, two charges; Thomas Kirk, Woodbine Hotel, two charges; Frank Post, White Star Hotel, and the Waldorf Hotel, one charge each.

Inspector Birrell claims that he knew nothing of the round-up till the evidence was turned over to him and he was asked to swear out informations. The cases will be tried to-morrow.

HARD COAL Provided for in United States Tariff Bill. Washington, March 9.—Probably never before in legislative history has any proposed bill been so jealously guarded as the tariff bill, which is now in the hands of the Government Printer. From incomplete but apparently reliable sources it has been learned, however, that reciprocity with Canada, so far as coal is concerned, is to be included in the bill. Through this arrangement the soft coal of the Canadian seaboard can be floated to the Atlantic coast cities of this country, while the Pennsylvania mines will not lose any great amount. This will be due to the fact that, although the Pennsylvania mine-owners will lose considerable of their natural market in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other coast cities, they will be able to ship into the central Canadian provinces. The exchange of coal with Canada is of special benefit to New England, which will profit further by the provision placing hides on the free list. The big boost and show interest have been fighting for this concession for years, and the bill is said to have finally recognized their demands. New England manufacturers made some effort to have the high duty on foreign shoes maintained, but the attempt was half-hearted. With free coal and free hides, the mills of New England feel that they can defy foreign competition in finished goods. Fell Off Bridge and Killed. Breslin, March 9.—Wood was received here to-day from Wahnapiate, of the death of John McNabb, who was killed by falling off a bridge. Mr. McNabb was working with a C. P. R. bridge gang. He has many relatives in this place, where he had spent the greater part of his life, and leaves a host of friends. He leaves a young wife, whom he married a few months ago. Toronto will not press the proposal for an additional Police Court this year. Reports received at Winnipeg indicate that very heavy snowstorms raged in the middle west, during the past two days. C. P. R. passenger trains are blocked about four miles east of Melita. The storm was not general, but was severe in sections.

HOME CIRCLES. TWO HAPPY WEDDINGS.

Annual Meeting of Supreme Body—Progress in All Branches. Toronto, March 10.—The annual convention of the Supreme Circle of the Order of the Canadian Home Circles commenced in Victoria Hall yesterday afternoon, with nearly three hundred representatives present. From points as far west as Winnipeg and as far east as Halifax, Supreme Leader W. B. Graham, President of the College of Pharmacy, Toronto, presided over the meeting.

The total membership is now 19,234, a net increase of 280 for the year, and the aggregate insurance carried is twenty-six millions. An interesting feature referred to was the life expectancy scheme, under which $27,170 was paid to old members.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the discussion of reports, the matter of lapses receiving considerable attention. A special committee was appointed to consider the form of beneficiary certificate used by the order, the action arising out of a lively discussion as to whether such an order can raise the rates on the earlier members and enforce the increase in court, and whether a beneficiary certificate is a contract which may not be affected in value by future legislation in regard to rates.

FOOLED BY PHOTO. Cost Swain $500 to Relinquish Option on English Lassie.

Vancouver, B. C., March 9.—Miss Annie Banderson and her woman companion are to-day on their way back to England, and Fred Spearman, a young farmer of Deloraine, the girl's spouse-elect, is trying to be philosophic over an expenditure of $500, money forwarded to Miss Banderson to pay her passage across the ocean. The coming of the English maiden was the result of a 12-months' fountain pen courtship, set in motion through the machinations of a matrimonial agent.

After the exchange of many love-laden letters, matrimony was decided upon, and the girl forwarded her photograph and a request for $500. Such a divinity as the photograph revealed was considered by the farmer as cheap at the price, and the money was forwarded.

Then ensued a long wait. Finally Spearman's patience was rewarded, and the sweetheart of his dream, accompanied by a chaperon, arrived at Deloraine, Spearman was on hand.

He gave a prolonged and rude stare at the younger woman, whose photograph had been taken many, many years ago, and decided there would be no wedding.

Miss Banderson insisted on a marriage. Spearman demurred. A compromise was eventually reached by the farmer paying the fares of the woman as far as Montreal.

A GOOD ONE. Central Ladies Preparing For a Spring Fete.

Yesterday afternoon the Ladies Aid Society of Central Presbyterian Church met in their room in the Sabbath school building. In the absence of the President, Mrs. W. R. Davis, through illness, Mrs. M. A. Pennington, First Vice-President, occupied the chair. Mrs. James Dickson, Treasurer, reported over $400 in the bank. Mrs. George Lowe, Secretary, read reports of the last regular and one special meeting. She explained the nature of the entertainment, called "A Spring Fete," which is to be given March 25th, afternoon and evening. When the business was finished, afternoon tea was served on a table decorated with carnations and ferns. The hostesses were Mrs. Harry W. Hart and Mrs. James King. These monthly informal teas are much enjoyed by the ladies of Central Church.

HAT WAS OUT OF DATE And Purchaser Goes Back and Shoots Clerk and Self. New York, March 9.—An unidentified man entered the hat store of A. Wheeler in Brooklyn to-day and shot and badly wounded a clerk named Norman Bush, 23 years old, and then killed himself with the same weapon.

Bush was taken to a hospital, where his injuries were said to be dangerous. To a note found in the dead man's pocket the name of Charles Leffler, Newark, N. J., was signed. The note made the charge that the store had sold him a hat "of a style in vogue 20 years ago."

Two Montreal Firms Sued by Government for Heavy Penalties. Montreal, March 9.—The case of the Damascene Jewelry Co., being used by the Government for penalties up to $15,000, and Margill Lawande, $20,000, for alleged smuggling from New York State, began to-day before Judge Cassels.

An ex-employee named Candor swore that he had been employed by the jewelry firm to smuggle goods into Canada. He had the goods sent to him at Lisbon, N. Y., opposite Iroquois, Ont, after which he would bring them over to his home in Iroquois at night, later on shipping them to the firm in Montreal.

The mortgage of $12,000 on Yonge Street Methodist Church, Toronto, having been wiped out, the mortgage papers were burned at a celebration meeting on Tuesday evening.

EIGHT BULLETS ACCOUNTED FOR. Speaking of what the first post-mortem examination of the body of the girl revealed, one of the physicians who performed the autopsy said that three bullets only had been found. One of these was found by the police the morning after the murder, and the other two were found by the doctors, one in the girl's hair and one loose in the left pleural cavity, the space between the pleura and the lungs. This doctor stated that there were still five shots in the girl's body. They had been left there, as the Crown was satisfied with the doctors discovering the course of the bullets, and did not want the body mutilated when the family viewed it. The five bullets remaining in the body were extracted last night.

THE BODY REENTERED. The body of the victim was reentered this morning, and the grave filled in for the last time. There were no services in connection with the reinterment, and none of the relatives were present.

DID MURDERER TURN BODY? The further the police probe into this sensational mystery the more horrible are the details which are being disclosed. The doctor stated that the wounds were as follows: One in the left side of the face in front of the ear, one in the scalp which made two holes, two in the mouth and three in the left breast. The eighth bullet made two holes, one was imbedded in a hair pad. The two bullets the doctors recovered in their examination were the one in the hair pad and one of those which had penetrated the left lung. The one in the heart, and three in the muscles of the back, and one in the head are still in the body. The bullet which the police found in the floor is thought to have been the one which made the scalp wounds. It had made two holes, one in the right side of the skull, but had not penetrated through the skull. Passing out, it had buried itself in the floor. The three in the head are thought to be imbedded in the right upper jaw or in the neck, back of the throat.

DETERMINED TO HEAR DR. McNICHOIL. Speaking to some of the jurymen at the inquest last night a Times reporter discovered that if the move made yesterday afternoon to secure Coroner McNichol as a witness had not been made, the jury would not have agreed to the inquest going on to-night without some arrangement being entered into whereby his evidence could be taken. At the first meeting of the jury, which was held at the morgue on Thursday night, a few hours after the shooting, Coroner McNichol made the statement that the hands and face of the girl were cold when he got to the scene of the shooting. He was supposed to have reached the Kinrade house about the time that the shooting was over, in fact, there were some minutes before the police arrived.

"Surely his evidence that the girl's hands were cold when he got there would be worth while," said one of the jurymen. He advised that he intended to bring this point up before any evidence had been taken if the inquest had proceeded the way it had been intended.

On the new witness summoned are Charles Hossack and Miss Phyllis Hossack, his daughter, 141 Herkimer street; Mrs. W. Acres, who lives next door to the Kinrade house, and Dr. McNichol.

DOCTOR HIMSELF WILLING. Dr. McNichol realized, as fully as any one, the fact that the jury would be a potent witness for the Crown. He was the first person to whom Miss Kinrade told the story of the murder after she had given the alarm. He knew that the Crown was anxious to have his statement, and he was anxious to give it, believing that it would have a bearing on the case. On Monday, therefore, Dr. McNichol interviewed Dr. Anderson with a view of having him sit as associate Coroner in order that he could take his testimony. The least that would be asked of him was to look up, and it was found that there is no legal authority for this proceeding in Ontario. In this regard the law is the same all over Canada except in Nova Scotia, where provision is made for taking the evidence of a coroner. In England the law is the same as has been adopted in Nova Scotia.

In view of the provisions of the Ontario act there was no other way that Dr. McNichol's testimony could be taken than by appointing a new Coroner, re-empowering the jury and viewing the body again.

DOCTORS' FIRST STORY. The story which Dr. McNichol told to S. F. Washington, K. C., Crown Attorney, the day after the murder, was as follows: "I was ready to go out and make some calls when I received a telephone message to go at once to the Kinrade home. My buggy was standing at the door, and, jumping into it, I drove away as quickly as I could. On entering the house I found no person there, but the body of the murdered girl lying at the foot of the rear staircase in the dining room. I had a quick examination and found several bullet-holes in her head, face and breast. She was dead, and in the post-mortem it was found that one bullet had pierced the right ventricle of her heart. This would cause death immediately.

"The room in which she lay was full of fumes from powder and some smoke was still there. Shortly after I arrived several persons gathered about, and I was informed that Miss Kinrade was at Mrs. Hickey's home across the street.

"I went over there and found her in a state of collapse. She was helpless and seemed to be unable to think, let alone talk about the terrible affair. I gave her some sedatives and shortly after she became calmer and I asked her to tell me about it and to give me a description of the police who had come to get this for the one who she alone could describe the man who murdered her sister."

"She said she and her sister were about to go out when she heard a knock at the door. I am not sure whether she went to the front or rear door, but I inferred that she went to the front door and opened it. A man appeared before her and as soon as she opened the door he pushed her away, and as soon as he was inside he demanded money of her. She became terrified at this demand, and probably seeing the look on her face and fearing she would make an outcry, he pulled a revolver from his pocket and threatened that he would shoot her if she called for help.

"Miss Kinrade," said he, "backed down the hall, before the man, until they came within view of the dining room. She supposed that her sister came down the rear staircase on hearing their voices, as she heard a scream which was followed by a shot from a revolver. This was followed by several shots, and she ran from the house and went to Mrs. Hickey's home."

In view of the fact that he has been subpoenaed as a witness, Dr. McNichol, when seen by the Times to-day, declined to say anything except that his story, as first told, was just what he got from Miss Kinrade.

ALL BULLETS FOUND.

Asked this morning if there was anything to be given out in the matter of the post-mortem on the body of the dead girl, which was completed last night, Drs. Baile and Edgar said there was nothing to be made public through them till the inquest. The bullets have all been found, it has been learned, however, and there will be nothing startling in their report other than the already known. Their most important testimony will be in regard to the length of time between the firing of the bullets into the dead girl's head and the firing of the fatal bullets into the breast. Several other doctors will give testimony. Dr. James White, who attended the family while they were in this city after the crime, has been subpoenaed. He will testify as to the condition of Mrs. and Miss Kinrade during the time he was in attendance.

THE BODY REENTERED. The body of the victim was reentered this morning, and the grave filled in for the last time. There were no services in connection with the reinterment, and none of the relatives were present.

DID MURDERER TURN BODY? The further the police probe into this sensational mystery the more horrible are the details which are being disclosed. The doctor stated that the wounds were as follows: One in the left side of the face in front of the ear, one in the scalp which made two holes, two in the mouth and three in the left breast. The eighth bullet made two holes, one was imbedded in a hair pad. The two bullets the doctors recovered in their examination were the one in the hair pad and one of those which had penetrated the left lung. The one in the heart, and three in the muscles of the back, and one in the head are still in the body. The bullet which the police found in the floor is thought to have been the one which made the scalp wounds. It had made two holes, one in the right side of the skull, but had not penetrated through the skull. Passing out, it had buried itself in the floor. The three in the head are thought to be imbedded in the right upper jaw or in the neck, back of the throat.

DETERMINED TO HEAR DR. McNICHOIL. Speaking to some of the jurymen at the inquest last night a Times reporter discovered that if the move made yesterday afternoon to secure Coroner McNichol as a witness had not been made, the jury would not have agreed to the inquest going on to-night without some arrangement being entered into whereby his evidence could be taken. At the first meeting of the jury, which was held at the morgue on Thursday night, a few hours after the shooting, Coroner McNichol made the statement that the hands and face of the girl were cold when he got to the scene of the shooting. He was supposed to have reached the Kinrade house about the time that the shooting was over, in fact, there were some minutes before the police arrived.

"Surely his evidence that the girl's hands were cold when he got there would be worth while," said one of the jurymen. He advised that he intended to bring this point up before any evidence had been taken if the inquest had proceeded the way it had been intended.

On the new witness summoned are Charles Hossack and Miss Phyllis Hossack, his daughter, 141 Herkimer street; Mrs. W. Acres, who lives next door to the Kinrade house, and Dr. McNichol.

DOCTOR HIMSELF WILLING. Dr. McNichol realized, as fully as any one, the fact that the jury would be a potent witness for the Crown. He was the first person to whom Miss Kinrade told the story of the murder after she had given the alarm. He knew that the Crown was anxious to have his statement, and he was anxious to give it, believing that it would have a bearing on the case. On Monday, therefore, Dr. McNichol interviewed Dr. Anderson with a view of having him sit as associate Coroner in order that he could take his testimony. The least that would be asked of him was to look up, and it was found that there is no legal authority for this proceeding in Ontario. In this regard the law is the same all over Canada except in Nova Scotia, where provision is made for taking the evidence of a coroner. In England the law is the same as has been adopted in Nova Scotia.

In view of the provisions of the Ontario act there was no other way that Dr. McNichol's testimony could be taken than by appointing a new Coroner, re-empowering the jury and viewing the body again.

DOCTORS' FIRST STORY. The story which Dr. McNichol told to S. F. Washington, K. C., Crown Attorney, the day after the murder, was as follows: "I was ready to go out and make some calls when I received a telephone message to go at once to the Kinrade home. My buggy was standing at the door, and, jumping into it, I drove away as quickly as I could. On entering the house I found no person there, but the body of the murdered girl lying at the foot of the rear staircase in the dining room. I had a quick examination and found several bullet-holes in her head, face and breast. She was dead, and in the post-mortem it was found that one bullet had pierced the right ventricle of her heart. This would cause death immediately.

"The room in which she lay was full of fumes from powder and some smoke was still there. Shortly after I arrived several persons gathered about, and I was informed that Miss Kinrade was at Mrs. Hickey's home across the street.

"I went over there and found her in a state of collapse. She was helpless and seemed to be unable to think, let alone talk about the terrible affair. I gave her some sedatives and shortly after she became calmer and I asked her to tell me about it and to give me a description of the police who had come to get this for the one who she alone could describe the man who murdered her sister."

"She said she and her sister were about to go out when she heard a knock at the door. I am not sure whether she went to the front or rear door, but I inferred that she went to the front door and opened it. A man appeared before her and as soon as she opened the door he pushed her away, and as soon as he was inside he demanded money of her. She became terrified at this demand, and probably seeing the look on her face and fearing she would make an outcry, he pulled a revolver from his pocket and threatened that he would shoot her if she called for help.

"Miss Kinrade," said he, "backed down the hall, before the man, until they came within view of the dining room. She supposed that her sister came down the rear staircase on hearing their voices, as she heard a scream which was followed by a shot from a revolver. This was followed by several shots, and she ran from the house and went to Mrs. Hickey's home."

In view of the fact that he has been subpoenaed as a witness, Dr. McNichol, when seen by the Times to-day, declined to say anything except that his story, as first told, was just what he got from Miss Kinrade.

Another reason, it is understood, is that more may be hoped for the evidence if it is made with the restrictions and fears that an arrest may induce.

A person who is under arrest is rarely compelled to give evidence at all, even at an inquest.

In such a case the witness is allowed to give evidence on the understanding that what he says will not be used against him.

The appointment of Mr. George T. Black, K. C., to be the chief counsel at the inquest implies that the examination of witnesses will be most thorough and conflicting stories may be sharply criticised.

The peculiar circumstances of the case have made it rather difficult for the officers to present the motives with individuals. Some have not even been questioned yet, but the inquest will allow an opportunity for a firm examination of all who may be able to throw any light on the murder.

EARL KINRADE'S SIGNED STORY. A signed story by Earl Kinrade, giving his theory of the case, was published in the Toronto Telegram yesterday. He sticks to the trap idea, declares the murderer was a bold robber, a stranger in the city, who became confused between the two sisters, and shot Ethel Kinrade because he thought she was escaping. His story in full is as follows:

The exact time at which my sister Ethel was shot, twelve days since, I believe, more or less conjectural so far. Report says that she was shot about 3:25, when it seems established that later than that, when she appeared at the house of Mrs. Hickey, she wore her hat. My belief as to this is that it was not Florence the motorman saw, but some one else.

So far as I have been able to learn, and from what I know of the case, the motive that lay behind the subsequent murder was robbery or burglary, pure and simple. The actions of the man indicate that pretty strongly. We had warned a few days before that desperate character, who was shot, might have a jimmy used in the endeavor to pry open the front window leading to the parlor. The man that tried to open that window may have been the one that did the shooting, or they may have been members of the same gang. My sister says that the man made a demand for money as soon as he entered the house. He knew evidently there were only the two girls in; probably he had been watching till he saw my mother go out. I do not think he had any but the burglary idea when he entered the house. The revolver he carried was to serve him if he got into a tight place, or perhaps to terrify the girls. I do not think it was intended to be used. That the man was a desperate character is shown from the fact that he came boldly in daylight, and was armed. Supposing for a minute that either of my sisters had an enemy desperate enough to commit murder—or suppose that any other member of the family was sought out, to end some score, or for revenge—can any one imagine that he would have chosen broad daylight as the time to enter the house and leave the house, and would risk discovery by firing seven shots once he was in? Common sense tells us that he would avoid daylight; otherwise he would take an awful chance of being caught. The man who shot me sister is surrounded by other reasons, and the occupants all know our family. If the man that shot Ethel was a resident of Hamilton, he would not have boldly marched up this street and gone in the front door. One cannot imagine a man possessing a money strong enough to lead him to shoot a member of the family, thus leaving the door open for his ultimate detection. The man, I take it, was a common thief or burglar, armed, and a stranger to the city.

I believe, from my knowledge of the case, that the murderer had an old-fashioned seven-chambered revolver, loaded, in his pocket, with no more cartridges to use once he had emptied the gun. The police should have a valuable clue there, because seven-chambered revolvers are scarce, and are so rare that they should be able to get information that would lead to the source of the obtaining of the weapon.

The fact that seven shots were fired almost leads me to think there was an insane man in the house. If that is not the fact it means necessarily that at the stage when the shots were fired the one and only object the man had was to make sure beyond any chance that he had killed his victim.

When the man came to the door, he demanded money. My sister Florence started to go upstairs to get it, thinking she could get rid of him that way, and being terrified at his appearance, as most young women would be. She went to the front stairs, turning the landing and walked along the upstairs hall toward her own room, in a direction leading towards the front door, which is north. As Florence passed Ethel's door she called out to her to look herself in. Ethel may not have heard this, or she may have sought to escape, instead of locking her door. Ethel walking along the upstairs hall in a southerly direction away from the room of her sister, she would have seen the plain sight downstairs as she reached the landing, prepared to descend the back stairs to the dining-room. The man looking up at the landing, would see the girl's back only. The color of her hair, the color of her dress, a brown. He would see this, whereas Florence had gone upstairs hatless, that the figure making for the back stairs was clothed to go out. My idea is that he slipped along the hall, through the dining-room door softly, and, being terrified that the girl was getting out to give the alarm, held the pistol to her head the minute Ethel appeared on the lowest step.

He was standing ready for her, and the sight of him would be a terrible shock. It may have been such a shock that Ethel fell down paralyzed, or possibly dead from fright. I know that often when I would go up one stairs, and she

In "The Music Master" "Miss Dale" made a distinct hit, and so heavily did the production score that Manager Butler urged the principals to use the vehicle a second week in his house. It might be added, at this juncture, that "The Music Master" was hatched in the brain of James M. Baum, who assumed one of A MYSTERIOUS STRANGER. Everything was running along smoothly on the second week, and all were in high spirits over the success attained in the first light vaudeville effort of "Miss Dale" and her associates when a stranger suddenly made his presence known in the city, and seemed to wield an influence over "Miss Dale." It was he, so it has since been learned, who threatened to make her presence on the stage, in this city, known to the girl's relatives in Canada.

To members of the house staff she confided this state of affairs, and announced her impending withdrawal from the cast, chided by them at the sudden turn things had taken, she overlooked the matter and remained in the production. Her

LIBERALS ARE UNDISMAYED.

Dominant Opposition Note in the Budget Debate.

Mr. D. C. Ross Bespeaks Spirit of Aggressive Optimism.

Mr. McDougall Refutes Some Conservative Allegations.

Toronto, March 10.—That Provincial Liberalism is alive, dominant and hopeful was the message of the Opposition speakers during the continuation of the budget debate in the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. McDougall (East Ottawa), who resumed the debate, proclaimed the loyalty of the members to their leader and their absolute confidence in the cause and its eventual triumph.

THE INCREASED EXPENDITURE.

In opening Mr. McDougall congratulated the Premier upon the honor recently bestowed upon him by the King. This honor was not a party-tribute, and all Ontario united in congratulatory comment that the leader of the Province had been thus honored.

The revenue, declared the speaker, had not been keeping pace with this increasing expenditure—and this despite the fact that the good roads account had been transferred to capital account to "escape the full penalty of figures that would not lie."

Passing on, Mr. McDougall referred to the wiping off of the "Soo" loan guarantee, and traced the history of the initiative negotiations and enterprise. He quoted the present Premier and other Government members who when in Opposition had condemned the guarantee.

FUTURE OF THE LIBERAL PARTY.

Mr. McDougall paid a compliment to the zealous and constant work of the Labor member for East Hamilton. He hoped the time would come, he said, when Labor would have a larger representation in the Legislature.

"On behalf of our party," concluded Mr. McDougall, amid Liberal applause. "I congratulate our leader upon his length and breadth of the Province and fought the fight practically alone. It is not his lot now to wear the laurel wreath of victory, but the exchange will be made four years hence, and it will be the reward of pluck, perseverance and valor."

DEFENDS THE GOVERNMENT.

Mr. T. H. Lennox (North York) opened amid Government plaudits by alluding to Mr. McDougall's statement that the Liberal leader went out to fight the campaign practically alone.

A MUNICIPALITY OF SERVANTS.

Mr. Duncan C. Ross (North Middlesex), who followed, opened by twisting the Premier's Treasurer on his visit to the North riding of Middlesex prior to the election and the failure of his efforts to hold the riding, even after the redistribution efforts made to create a safe Conservative seat.

Continuing at the evening sitting.

Mr. Ross dealt in detail with the Florence Mining Company's claim. As to its merits he offered no opinion, but it was a dangerous and improper practice for the Government to usurp the right of fair trial of the merits of any case.

Dr. Preston (Lanark)—The people passed upon it. "Ah, the election again," responded Mr. Ross. "The Conservatives should remember they are now upon the crest of the wave, eye, upon its very summit. But the higher the crest the greater the fall when the wave breaks."

THE MILITIA ESTIMATES.

Sir Frederick Borden Replies to His Critics.

Halifax and Esquimaux Garrisons Cost Money.

Central Organization Necessary to the Efficiency of the Force.

Ottawa, March 9.—On account of the criticism evoked by the decrease in the militia estimates for the current year, the annual statement by the Minister of Militia and Defence was anticipated with more than usual interest.

Sir Frederick Borden had his opportunity to-day, and he replied to his critics at considerable length and with some vigor.

THE EXPENDITURES.

"That the expenditure on the militia service for 1908-1909 shows a decrease of $46,813, as compared with the 1907-1908, in which year the financial effect of the transfer of Halifax and Esquimaux was first fully felt, while the estimates for 1909-10 show a still further decrease of $636,275."

"That while the expenditure for annual drill of the active militia rose from $699,724 in 1904-05 to $1,075,000 (exclusive of the cost of the Quebec celebration) in 1908-09, and is for the year 1909-10 estimated at $860,000, the increase in cost has been accompanied by a large increase in the number of men and horses trained, namely, from 32,000 men and 7,892 horses in 1903-04, to 47,300 men and 8,300 horses, in 1908-09."

"That the increases in the votes for clothing and necessities, provisions and supplies, transport and freight, and warlike stores, are directly consequent upon the increase in the numbers of the active militia and of the permanent force, due in the latter case to the garrisoning of Halifax and Esquimaux, and to additional requirements of the active militia."

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

"That the increase in the numbers of the permanent staff of the militia force at headquarters and in the military districts has been in accord with the views of all the general officers who had served in Canada during the past seventeen years has been largely forced upon us by the withdrawal of the Imperial troops from this country, and that it is absolutely necessary if the militia force is to be able to take the field and maintain itself there, and, lastly, is closely proportionate to the increase which has taken place in the militia force."

"That, further, no reduction is possible in the permanent force (outside the higher grades of pay granted in 1904) due to the additions to its establishment rendered necessary by its having to provide garrisons for Halifax and Esquimaux, when transferred to Dominion control; by having to provide instruction for a largely increased establishment of the active militia, and by having to provide for the organization of the subsidiary services required to enable the militia force as a whole to take the field."

IMPERIAL GENERAL STAFF.

Sir Frederick Borden touched upon the new scheme for the organization of an Imperial General Staff, the general idea of which he explained by references to the resolution passed at the last Imperial Conference and the despatches from the Imperial War Office. The point he chiefly emphasized was that the principle of local autonomy would in no wise be affected by the scheme, the Dominion Government through the Militia Department retaining absolute control of the staff.

Central Organization Necessary to the Efficiency of the Force.

Ottawa, March 9.—On account of the criticism evoked by the decrease in the militia estimates for the current year, the annual statement by the Minister of Militia and Defence was anticipated with more than usual interest.

HER LIFE BLOOD

FURNISHED BRITAIN BY FREE TRADE, SAYS MR. ASQUITH.

London, March 8.—Speaking to-night at a free trade meeting in Queen's Hall, Mr. Asquith referred to the allegations that capital had been driven abroad to the amount of £3,000,000,000 to the empire and foreign countries. Britain, he said, had gained the thing she needed most, "a cheap, abundant, world-wide supply of food, which forms the life-blood of our working population, and materials which form the life-blood of our trade." Where was the capital gone? What was it going for? He referred them to Canada, which in 1908 took £40,000,000, and quoted the Globe to the effect that for railways, power, light and heat the public and municipal services of Canada must apply to London, the world's financial centre. He contended that owing to the free trade system, British capital had not only exploited British industry at home, but had built up an empire abroad. More than two-thirds of the total capital sent abroad was invested in countries from which Britain's only imports were food or raw material.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

One of the most prominent of the New York contingent that will be here for the first night of C. W. Bell's play, "A Medical Mountebank," at the Savoy on March 29th, is Mrs. H. C. DeMille, well known through the writings of her famous husband, who collaborated with David Belasco on a long and successful political process, Mrs. DeMille has since his death achieved almost equal distinction through her work as author's representative. Through her instrumentalities "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Road to Yesterday," "Strongheart," "The Warrors of Virginia," and dozens of other brilliant plays have been given to the public. Mrs. DeMille, who is sole representative for Mr. Bell's work, writes the Savoy management that she is confident "A Medical Mountebank" will make a hit.

Expenses of Ancaster People at Pasteur Institute? The patients from the Pasteur Institute, New York, have returned to Ancaster. The physicians there said they should have come sooner. Consequently, they had to submit to the severest treatment to escape unpleasant results. Their expenses were heavy, and they intend asking the township to defray them out of the dog tax fund. If they do not, it will be exceptional, they say, as each state was defraying the expenses of the persons sent to the institute.

WHAT HON. G. F. FOSTER DEMANDS OF REV. MACDONALD.

Charges Were Specific—Counsel Says Defendant Should Not be Allowed to Scuttle to Cover.

Toronto, March 10.—The Master in Chambers heard yesterday morning argument by Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., in reply to that advanced by Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K. C., at the previous hearing on his motion for an order striking out certain paragraphs in the statement of defence filed by Rev. J. A. Macdonald in the libel suit laid against him by Hon. George E. Foster.

Mr. Rowell contended that the defence should be restricted to the two specific charges made by Mr. Macdonald against Mr. Foster, which the latter had made the basis of his libel suit, and to which he was ready to be tried.

ANGRY LACE-MAKERS

Threatened to Burn Down Factory at Calais.

New York, March 9.—The project of Caderas & Ozanne, a firm of lacemakers in Calais, to establish a factory in the United States, has aroused a storm of opposition. As soon as it was discovered that they were interested in a factory in Rhode Island and were contemplating the removal of French workmen and machinery to America, a boycott was declared. Workmen refused to continue in the Calais factory, and all sorts of threats have been made in all local papers. It has even been suggested to burn down the factory. M. Caderas is Calais protecting the property as best he can. However, he can get no attention from the butcher or baker, who refuse to provide him with food.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Young Man at Madoc Tries It With Strychnine.

Madoc, March 9.—Arthur Cronk, who has been in charge of a delivery wagon for J. Whytock & Sons, grocers, for some time past, attempted to commit suicide this afternoon. He purchased ten grains of strychnine at Alexander's drug store, stating that he wanted it to poison rats. He then went to the St. Lawrence Hall and procured a glass of water, emptied the strychnine into it and went into a back sitting room, already occupied by two or three other people, and there declared his intention to poison himself. One of the men took the glass from him, emptying the contents upon the floor.

Her house is some distance from the neighbors, and, after the flames were seen, help was some time coming. She was dead when found.

TIMES SPORTING PACE

Gossip and Comment

Success to the Hamilton bowlers. That was a great basketball match last night.

Professional basketball players are just like professional hockey and lacrosse players—they stop at nothing to win.

Now that a young theological student at a Methodist college has shown that in boxing he can punch the daylight out of all-comers, it looks as if the Carman-Jackson controversy will be switched, and a few odes to prize fighting sent out.

London Advertiser: Hamilton is still hankering for professional baseball, but it comes every spring with the flood, and will not last any longer.

As the Australian papers say Tommy Burns is still the idol of the antipodean fight fans, even as old by Jack Johnson himself, who has again landed on these shores, the ingratitude of the champion is best displayed in the treatment of his veteran manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, who made it possible for the negro to pursue the Canadian and land the championship in Australia.

Kid McCoy is in Paris, enthusiastically over the boxing game. The Jeannette-McVey bout drew $16,000. Willie Lewis is a hit over there.

Tommy Burns is in business in Australia. He was interviewed recently about it, and said: "Yes, I have practically closed with the leases of the Bion Theatre in Melbourne. It is to be called the Forum Theatre, and we are thinking of building a new theatre in Sydney."

"What are your feelings towards your opponents?" "I have always been good friends with all of them except Johnson. Immediately after I had one of the hardest fights of my life—with Twin Sullivan—we both drank out of the same glass. It was milk, and Sullivan had half and I had the remainder, as there was no more handy. We were the best of friends, as also have the other boxers been. Johnson is the only man who has been different. He does not get the same as other boxers and is different from the average. He is a big kid. He means all right, but acts as he does because he knows no better."

"No, I made the biggest mistake of my life in getting down as I did. I know I would not do myself justice, but I know him now. I have been beaten by Jack O'Brien and then defeated him, and the same happened with Shreck, one of the toughest men we had in America. In the latter case the papers all gave me the fight, but it was officially declared a draw."

GOOD FOR SHRUBB. English Runner Fed the Hungry in Toronto.

Alfred Shrubbs, who for some time past has been working for a fifteen-mile race with one Thomas Lombard, are a food to a few of Toronto's unemployed last night at the Irish Welcome League, and the affair was a complete success.

SIX-DAY GRIND. New York, March 10.—Five teams succumbed to the strain and retired from the six-day international go-as-you-please race to-day, so that at 9 o'clock last night but eleven of the 27 teams that started on Sunday night remained in the contest.

SHORT ENDS. Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far and Near. New Orleans, La., March 10.—Joseph A. Murphy to-day practically consented to serve as the presiding official at the coming meeting to be inaugurated at Jacksonville, Fla., the last of this month.

Death of Canon MacMorine. Portage la Prairie, March 9.—Rev. Canon MacMorine died to-day as the result of an attack of appendicitis. He was one of the foremost educationists of the Province, and a leading official of the Anglican Church, a Rev. Mr. MacMorine, of Kingston, is brother.

Buffalo Germans Would Not Continue.

An immense crowd saw the basketball match at the Alexandra rink between the Hamiltons and the Buffalo Germans, the third game in the series for the world's championship.

Buffalo Bowlers Did Well Yesterday.

Hamilton Teams Leave This Evening.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 10.—A Buffalo combination came near furnishing new leaders in the two-man event yesterday in the ninth annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress now running at the Duquesne Gardens here.

STRATFORD WON.

Railway City Hockey Team Defeated Lindsay.

Stratford, Ont., March 10.—By defeating the Stratford intermediates here last night by 5 to 3, Lindsay won the intermediate Ontario Hockey Association championship and established a clear title to the cup, which goes to them for the first time.

It was not until the second half was under way that it was certain that Lindsay would win the game. The Stratford seven opened up in championship form and held Lindsay down till at 27 minutes Lindsay scored their first goal, Stoddard doing the trick.

At full time the crowd surged on the floor, shouting that Hamilton had won, and the Germans declined to continue. The manager stated if Hamilton won the game at Buffalo next Tuesday night, the Germans will return here and play off the tie.

Ottawa, March 10.—The Capital Lacrosse Club has taken out a writ against the Teumseh Lacrosse Club for $500, claiming that that amount is due the Capital Club as a result of the agreement to play an exhibition game in Toronto on July 18 last, when the regular match was called off on account of rain.

Amos Turner, one of the familiar faces at the Woodbine, is also expected along with his string, including Clell Turner, the winner of the Toronto Cup at the last spring meeting.

Hon. Adam Beck's Photographer is in training again, and is rounding into form himself. Great things are expected of this horse this year, and if he shows the same form as he did last year he will be a hard horse to beat in the coming handicap. Last spring at the Woodbine Photographer won the Triple Race six furlongs, carrying 133 pounds, the highest weight ever carried by a winner of this race.

According to despatches the Montreal Jockey Club expect among other notable owners, S. C. Hildreth, and therefore it is a foregone conclusion that he will also race in Toronto. Included in his large stable are the King James, winner of the $50,000 Burn Handicap and other classical events; Joe Madden, winner of the Los Angeles Derby; Montgomery and Uncle. Also from the same quarter the news comes that Barney Schreiber has been promised to give the Canadian racing public a chance to see his great sprinter.

Judge Scores City and County Over Law Suit.

A Real Estate Case Heard Yesterday Afternoon.

Capt. W. G. Reid Won His Suit Against Robertson.

At the Assizes this morning, Justice Latchford continued taking the evidence in Barton Township vs. The City, to compel the city to pay to the township $232.38, as its share in the construction of a sidewalk on the mountain. At the outset of the case Mr. Hugh Rose, K. C., of Toronto, contended that his Lordship had no power to try the action, as it was a matter for the Railway Board to deal with. His Lordship, however, held that this court had the power, and directed that the parties proceed.

After one or two witnesses had been examined, his Lordship wanted to know why such a trivial dispute had been brought into court. No one on either side was particularly anxious to answer the question. It was evident to his Lordship's mind that the city and the township were at arms over the building of the sidewalk from the first. Each side was strongly insistent as to its strict rights in the matter. Looking at the matter from the correspondence that was read by Mr. Rose, the court came to the conclusion that the city had no reason to object to the building of the sidewalk.

His Lordship held that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover from the defendants the amount of the corresponding reasonable rate, that is to say, the cost of constructing a piece of the sidewalk about 25 feet in length, for which his Lordship held both parties responsible. The cost of this would be about $25, and he ordered the township to pay $12 of that amount, bringing the claim down to $232.38. The value of the old lumber is $157, and if the township does not return the lumber it will further reduce the claim to $62.

His Lordship did not think that the plaintiff was entitled to High Court costs on the County Court side. The defendants receive High Court costs as a set off. His Lordship said that it was with unseemly haste that the writ had been issued in this action.

In the action of Reid vs. Robertson, tried last week, His Lordship gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff, Capt. W. G. Reid. The company is ordered to deliver to Mr. Reid 100 paid-up shares in the company. Mr. Reid is not to receive his full claim for salary, but allowed two months' salary at $100 per month, and the costs of the action.

The action of Brown vs. Lea, damages for wrongful detention of machinery, has been settled out of court. Justice Latchford's remarks from the bench yesterday afternoon, at the assizes, in the action of Burke vs. Launders, caused those present to sit up and take notice.

Some time ago Thomas Launders employed Burke & Company to buy a sand-pit on Burlington Heights. The pit, according to the evidence, was bought by Burke and company for $550, in their own name, from George Burwell, and sold to Launders for $1,550. The defence stated that Burke pretended that the $1,550 was Burwell's, and that the pit, Burke got a mortgage from Launders of $1,000 and also received $550 in cash. Later the mortgage was assigned to Mrs. A. L. Burke.

Launders found out that the price paid to Burwell by Burke was not $1,550, but $550, and he refused to pay any money on the mortgage. Mrs. Burke then brought the present action against Launders to compel him to pay the money on the mortgage. After hearing the case, His Lordship said that he had to reject the evidence of the Burkes, and accepted the evidence of Launders.

"Where one person employs another to act in the capacity of agent, it should be the duty of the agent to do everything in his best and most straightforward manner. The agent is not entitled to make any more profit than what comes from his regular commission," said His Lordship, who held that Burke was the agent for Launders and was bound to give the latter the land at the price he had paid for it, viz., $550. Burke should have disclosed the amount he paid to Launders. His Lordship said that he had further found that Burke had pretended to Launders that he had paid $1,550 for the land, this was not proper. Mrs. Burke could not hope to succeed under the existing conditions. He dismissed the action with costs. Hugh Rose, K. C., of Toronto, appeared for Burke, and George Lynch-Staunton, K. C., for the defendant.

The defence have offered to pay the balance owing to Burke, about $400, if he will pay the costs of the action. In the action of McGregor vs. Van Allen Shirt Company, His Lordship directed that the matter be taken before the Local Master, who will decide just how much Mr. McGregor is entitled to, in wages, if at all. McGregor is suing for $1,215.61 wages, which he claims is due him for his services to the company, when he was acting in the capacity of manager of the company.

man was at her heels, but she was afraid to look around. She cried out, "Lock yourself in your room, Ethel," but she says that she did not raise her voice very much, and thinks that her sister did not hear her. Upstairs she went to her room and got the money. In the meantime Ethel went down the back stairs, as she was always in the habit of doing. She had an additional reason because her furs were on the table in the back dining room. When the murderer saw Ethel dressed and apparently going out he fired at her. Florence ran down stairs, and thinks she must have swooned. She thinks she gave the man the money and then attempted to get out of the back parlor window, but that she was dragged back. "I can feel his hands on me yet, father," she says at times.

Mr. Kinrade is certain that Florence swooned while the murderer made his escape through the back door. "Then she ran out and gave the alarm. It is wonderful that she escaped, and probably owes her life to the presumed fact that the revolver was empty."

Mr. Kinrade then told of receiving the terrible news. "Gertrude was at the Collegiate; my wife had gone down to the police station to complain of the suspicious characters who were house-breakers, who would haunt the house, if, as usual, was at my school. The oldest son, Ernest, is married, and does not live at home. On that day he was working at his business of building contractor in another part of the city. This accounts for the fact that the two girls were home alone. I usually remain in the school until 4.15. About 4.10 one of the teachers told me I was wanted at the 'phone. I asked if it were urgent, and she picked up the receiver. "A tramp had broken into your house and shot your daughter, Ethel; she is dead," was what I heard."

"I rushed home as quickly as possible. Entering I saw a girl lying on the floor, with her hat on and a veil over her face. Lifting the veil I saw that it was my poor Ethel."

Mr. Kinrade went on to state that there was no possible theory, but the deed was done by a homicidal maniac. "Neither of my daughters had any enemies."

"Had you?"
"None that I am aware of."
"Do you make a habit of keeping money in the house?"
"At times I have considerable. I own considerable property in Hamilton, and rents and other incomes amount to $500 a month. The rents come in irregularly and sometimes accumulate."

Mr. Kinrade then touched on the personal side of the tragedy. "I have lived for my children," he said. "My life was bound up in my family. I have married only once, and my wife is still living. I have five natural and legitimate children: Ernest, the eldest, who is married; Ethel, who is dead, Florence, Earl and Gertrude. Ethel was 24 years of age; Florence is two years her junior."

"Ethel was frail, slight and spiritual," continued Mr. Kinrade. "She looked much younger than she was. She and her sister were constant friends and companions."
Mr. Kinrade then turned his attention to firearms. "I have never had firearms of any sort in the house since I married," he said, "and there was no gun in my home at the time of the tragedy."

GOT HIM?
Constable Robert Leutz was allowed to visit his injured brother officer, Harry Smith, at the City Hospital, last night. "Hello Bob. Have they got the man that shot me yet?" was the wounded man's salutation. Bob told him that his assailant had made a clean getaway. Smith said he was feeling rather weak, but was recovering rapidly. He does not yet understand the serious nature of the wound and the operation. Mrs. Smith is recovering from her nervous collapse and the shooting of the officer will have no serious results.

FOUND BULLET.
The bullet which wounded Police Constable Harry Smith last Thursday night when the unknown burglar shot him down, was from a 32 calibre revolver. A porter at the City Hospital found a 32 calibre bullet in the corridor the night Smith and James Hanley were taken into the institution.
