and let our expert repairers diagnose its case? An erratic unreliable Watch is little better than no Watch at all. The longer you allow it to misbehave the more difficult the repairer's task will be in the end and the greater the cost of repair. Putting off the fixing of a Watch or Clock that has gotten out of order is a losing and shortsighted policy. Has this any home application to any of your timepieces? If so our Repair Department is ready and waiting.

HEARTS APART.

To count the days until we twain May read each other's eyes again And dwell once more in Arcady, Is all my joy away from thee— Is all my joy and all my pain.

When leaden-footed minutes wane To hours that burden heart and brain, 'Twere but a useless agony

To count the days, Did thy most gracious heart not deign To bid my own heart entertain The hope of better things to be; Did I not know thy constancy And that, until we meet again, Two count the days, T. A. D.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders contain neither morphine nor opium. They promptly cure Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Headache of Gripe, of delicate ladies and Headache from any cause whatever. Price 10 and 25.

At a large emporium in Brooklyn a rather antiquated dame was requested, upon entering, to "Walk this way, ma'am" by an affable but very bow-legged floorwalker. The old dame looked at the bent-legged floorwalker in astonishment, and said:—

"Why bless me, my man, I couldn't walk that way if you was to give me the whole shop!"

Clears Away Worms

Mrs. Wm. Graham, Sheppardton, Ont., writes: I have given Dr. Lows Worm Syrup to my boy time and again and find it a good worm medicine. It is nice to take and never makes the children sick like powders." Price 25c.

It happened in a little church where the motive-power for the organ comes from the strong arms of an industrious villager.

At a recent service the choir got into trouble and, while confusion reigned, the organ suddenly stopped. The situation was not relieved when a hoarse voice came from behind the organ and floated out into the auditorium.

It said: "Sing like thunder, me boys! The bellows is busted!"

There is nothing better for children's Coughs and Colds than Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is very pleasant to take and always cures the little one's cough promptly.

St. Martin, Que., May 16, 1895. C. O. RICHARDS & CO.

Gentlemen,—Last November my child stuck a nail in his knee causing inflammation so severe that I was advised to take him to Montreal and have the limb amputated to save his life.

A neighbor advised us to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, which we did, and within three days my child was all right, and I feel so grateful that I send you this testimonial, that my experience may be of benefit to others. LOUIS GAGNIER.

JUST A COLD SETTLED IN THE KIDNEYS, BUT IT TURNED TO DROPSY.

IT WAS CURED BY
DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Read of This Wonderful Cure. It May Do You or Your Friends Some Good to Know About It. Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithfield, N.S., writes:—About 18 months ago I caught cold. It settled in my kidneys, and finally turned into Dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet were very much bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and before I had used half a box I could notice an improvement, and the one box completely cured me. I have never been troubled with it since, thanks to DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. Price 50c per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25; all dealers, or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Items of Interest.

The newly elected municipality of Toulon have forbidden the Little Sisters of the Poor to solicit alms from door to door in that city.

Father Marianus Holguin, general definitor of the Franciscans, has been appointed Bishop of Huarez in Peru. He is a native of that country.

A decision was given the other day by the Irish Court of Appeal reversing the decision of Judge Barton providing for the training in the Catholic religion of the children of a man named O'Neill, a Catholic, who had gone to America and had left his wife, a convert who reverted to Protestantism after his departure, the care of the children. Judgment was given by four Appeal judges, not one of whom is a Catholic.

On a recent Saturday, in the Church of St. John Lateran, Rome, the following former Anglican clergymen were admitted to sacred orders: Rev. W. W. Hume, late of St. Michael's, Shoreditch, London, and Rev. C. F. Norgate, formerly Anglican curate of St. John's Sutton-on-Flynn; Rev. E. R. Grimes, formerly of the "Cowley Fathers;" Rev. W. H. Drage, formerly curate of All Saints, Plymouth; Rev. H. M. M. M. Evans, formerly vicar of St. Michael's Shoreditch, London.

St. Beda's College in Rome is mainly for English converts who wish to study for the priesthood, and it is one of the late foundations of Pope Leo XIII., of blessed memory. Last year it had sixteen students, all but one of whom were converts. Seven of them had formerly been Anglican clergymen. The Beda College is connected with the English College.

In many of the comments upon the results of the Belgian elections it has been assumed that the Catholics have suffered something of a check. In reality they have strengthened their position. For this reason—that though they have lost a few seats, their total poll has been higher than it was in 1900 and the true losers have been their only formidable opponents, the Socialists. The Liberals have had some gains, but at the expense of the Socialists, who have come out of political fray with seven seats less than they had when they entered it. There has been a considerable falling off in the Socialist vote almost in every district.

As a red rag will infuriate a bull, so anything colored with religion maddens a French radical, observe the "London Catholic Times." In 1873 France, still chastened by the scourge of war, had solemnly consecrated herself, amid the joy of the people, to the Sacred Heart. This act of consecration still adorns the statute book, and consequently is an offense in the eyes of anti-clerical legislators. So M. Djeante asks the House to abrogate the law, and M. Valle, Minister of Justice, horrified at the memory of his country's piety, claims urgency for the motion, and succeeds in getting the proposal sent to the committee now sitting for the purpose of drawing up terms to govern the separation of Church and State. While the Radicals in the Chamber win this victory, the Senate is gravely discussing the removal of the crucifix from the law courts. It heard evidence from several competent quarters and then, of course, accepted the governments' order of the day. So things continue in France. Every week sees some act of irreligious persecution consummated, to the horror and disgust of the Catholics, who weep and wail and lo—nothing else!

A memorable audience was the recently granted by Pope Pius X., to the artists' society of Rome known as "La Corporazione Artistica Romana." Christian artists have ever found their most powerful protection and stimulus in the Papal palace, and the meeting between Pius X., and the artists' society must have brought to the minds of those present scenes which the Roman Pontiff played a similar part. The Holy Father spoke to them in tones full of kindness and encouragement. He dwelt on the immense patience of the old master. "The feverishness of our times," said his Holiness, "is unfavorable to artistic perfection. Work is done with all possible haste and orders are given which place the highest excellence out of the question." His Holiness in this connection referred to the beauties of the Venetian palaces, and Professor Seitz remarked that there is no artist of our day who could produce equal work. The Pontiff accepted an address which was presented by Professor Seitz, as well as a book on the laws of form tendered by Professor Boehnek, and familiarly patted Professor Gerhardt on the back when he learned that he had been busy for sixty years in Rome as an artist.

Laymen and the Church.

(True Witness.)

The question of the status, the rights and privileges of Catholic laymen in the affairs of the Church is one that affects every diocese, every parish, every family. The priesthood is the administrative body of the Church, established to carry on the work of Christ; created to administer the Sacraments and spread the truth. But, if there were no faithful to receive the Sacraments, the priesthood would be simply for itself. But Our Lord instituted the Sacraments and the priesthood for the people. Consequently the layman has his important place and important functions in the Church. Rarely have we ever found this subject more clearly, concisely and logically treated than in a letter signed by the Most Rev. John J. Glennon, and published in a Catholic Exchange. After showing how the Church always invites to co-operation and the activity of the lay element, Mgr. Glennon makes an appeal to history. It is this part of his letter that so impresses us, that we will give it in full.

"When days of trouble came to the Church, when men strong and devoted were needed to protect Christendom from the savages of the north and the Mohammedans of the east, it was to the Catholic layman that the Church turned for her defense. That very tomb that was offered by a layman as a resting place for the Saviour in the long ago, became during these ages an inspiration to the Catholic laymen of the west to go forth and rescue it from the hands of the Saracens. Hence, we see that gallant band unite with all the fervor of religious consecration, and with all the valor of the knights of old, to go forth to battle for the Cross, bearing on their breasts the red cross of the Crusaders, and beneath these crosses hearts as brave as ever beat in the history of humanity. I need mention only Tancred, Godfrey of Bouillon, or our own glorious St. Louis, to bring to your minds what in days of old, the knights did for religion and humanity. These were laymen, and they were the real defenders of Christendom. And when the tide finally changed, when the last strand had been made for Christian or Saracen dominion, was it not with the sword of that grand Polish leader, John Sobieski, that the Turks met their final defeat?"

"If the Church had no use for the Catholic layman, what think you would be her idea of Sir Thomas More, who appeared almost to stand alone to brave and answer the passion of a tyrant king, and who resigned all rather than betray his faith. Even the last century witness the re-emergence of Catholic faith in France, under the guise of Chateaubriand and Count de Maistre and the emancipation of Catholic people under the great laymen and leaders, O'Connell and Windorst. "Just as in the days of the past as to day we need strong men and true, the stronger and truer from the very strength of the temptations that beset them. These temptations arise from political, commercial and social conditions, which have become in these days so complicated that old principles of honesty, fair play and equal rights appear to be fast disappearing, leaving only the principles that they who succeed, no matter what the manner of their success, shall be assigned to oblivion and decay. When you are told that it matters not the means you employ, what the shrewdness of the plot, or the secrecy of the execution, if you merge therefrom rich and successful; that it is not the world's intention to reason why, but to crown you with success; indeed it looks as if there were almost a bribe given to dishonesty, deceit and fraud.

"We need men who will withstand the temptations, who will die rather than betray the trust their manhood and their God imposed on them; who realize that it is only noble to be good; that to live pure; speak true, right wrong, and to follow the King even though that should mean crucifixion and the grave. This, after all, is the duty to be done by those who realize their Christian faith and place it before the world, as Christ expected his followers should do."

Soldier's Decorate a Nun's Grave.

The Buffalo Catholic Union and Times, contains the following clipping from the Cincinnati Post, relating a pleasing Memorial Day event:—

"The grave of Sister Anthony, one of the women who went to the aid of the soldiers at the battle of Pittsburg Landing, was decorated by a body of veterans Monday. The old soldiers marched to the famous nun's grave, at the motherhouse of the Sisters of Charity, back of Price Hill, where services were held, in addition to the decoration of the grave. Sister Anthony commended a boat which went to the rescue of the wounded soldiers, and went among the dead and dying, directing the rescue of the wounded, whom she had placed aboard the boat and taken to Cincinnati for treatment. Sister Anthony's grave is decorated yearly by the surviving veterans."

This clipping was accompanied by the following self-explanatory note from a buffalo business man:—

"Cincinnati, O., May 30.

"Dear Mr. Rambler—I was present today at the cemetery here, and of all the ceremonies, that at the grave of a Sister of Charity, Sister Anthony, to my mind seemed the most impressive. A Protestant minister, Rev. Watson W. Tranter, knelt and prayed on the grave of a Catholic nun, whose whole life was that of a saint, devoted to the suffering, an angel on earth, followed by an oration by General Michael Ryan. Thousands listened, their heads bared, tears on every face.

"I don't blame the Catholic Church for having saints. A few of those saints might not hurt the Protestant Church and might fill some wants.

"Sincerely and fraternally,
"Victor R. Blebbon."

A Catholic Page in Japanese History.

Whatever way our sympathies may lie, it is certain that anything relating to the Church in Japan or Russia, past or present, has today for Catholic readers a more than passing interest. The story of Catholic missions in Japan is a sad yet glorious recital. About the end of the sixteenth century a great number of Japanese had become Catholics, but the Government took alarm at the progress of the faith, and a bitter persecution wiped out all the outward traces of Christianity. Before this persecution the Church was making great strides among the people; and A. M. Knapp in his work "Feudal and Modern Japan" gives the following interesting account of a Japanese embassy to Rome in those days:—

"A little more than 300 years ago the city of Rome was the strangest sight which even her streets, trodden by pilgrims from all the corners of the earth, have ever witnessed. Guarded by the cavalry and Swiss Guards, accompanied by the foreign embassies, and the Roman princes and nobility, with the officials of the Cardinals and of the Vatican company of Japanese ambassadors, themselves of princely birth, were conducted into the presence of the Pontiff. The vast crowds thronging the streets and filling the windows looked on in almost breathless silence as the strange visitors, in their splendid embroidered robes, and wearing in their girdles two swords, the symbols of Japanese gentility passed onward to the Hall of Audience. Reaching the Bridge of St. Angelo, the guns of the castle joined with those of the Vatican in welcoming the ambassadors. Unhindered into the presence of the Pontiff the Japanese approached the Papal throne with their credentials. Prostrating themselves at the Pope's feet, they declared that they had come from the extremities of the East to acknowledge, in the presence of the Pope, the Vicar of Jesus; and to render obedience to him in the name of the princes of whom they were the envoys."

"The appearance of the young men, described by the chronicler as 'modest and amiable, yet with a conscious sentiment and nobility,' together with the extraordinary character of their message, drew tears and sobs from the greater part of the audience. The Pope himself, greatly agitated, hastened to raise them up, and kissed their foreheads."—Sacred Heart Review.

THE HERALD

WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1904. SUBSCRIPTION—$1.00 A YEAR, PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY JAMES MCISAAC, Editor & Proprietor.

Our Ottawa Letter.

"It is for the people to decide. Let them determine whether Canada shall have a Government owned railway or a railway owned Government." Mr. R. L. Borden, announcing the Conservative policy of Government railway ownership.

THE WEEK IN PARLIAMENT.

The week in Parliament resulted in the transaction of a lot of important business. Mr. Fielding announced a number of changes in the tariff along the line of the free-trade-protectionist policy of the Government.

Supplementary estimates amounting to $1,865,693 were brought down. This brings the estimates of the session up to $70,267,541, with many millions to follow.

A bill to amend the railway act so as to safeguard the country in the G. T. P., deal without inconveniencing the Grand Trunk was considered.

The opposition introduced a resolution condemning the Government for concealing documents covering important public questions. There was a weak defence offered by the Premier, but the Minister who was directly criticised, Sir Frederick Borden, had not a word to say in explanation of his conduct in failing to make public the first annual report of Lord Dundonald.

The leader of the opposition gave notice that he would fully investigate the Davis contract for lighting the Cornwall canal. This is the deal which caused the Auditor General to hand in his resignation. The Conservative party intend to stand by the man who is entrusted with the guarding of the treasury.

It was decided that commencing July 5th, Parliament should meet in the morning in order to rust through the business now before it.

WHERE DID THE TIP COME FROM.

The Dundonald report of 1902 has been treated as a confidential document by the Minister of Militia. How does it happen then that the leading Liberal newspapers are in a position to positively announce that in that report Lord Dundonald made recommendations involving the expenditure of millions of dollars?

There is every sign of another glorious row in the ranks of the Laurier cabinet. It was the Siftonian prestige that forced Hon. Mr. Tarte to retire. Mr. Blair's resignation was, in a very large measure, due to the same influence.

But the former is not going down and out without a fight. Mr. Prefontaine wants to retire Premier Parent from the Quebec leadership. Mr. Parent is Mr. Fitzpatrick's law partner and the Minister of the Interior planned a coup d'etat which would restore the old time system of revising the lists of Manitoba, whereby Conservatives were not given the ghost of a chance and Liberals got a "soft snap."

But things are not coming the way of Siftonism this time. The Liberals have faced badly in the province of Manitoba under the leadership of Mr. Sifton. They are demoralized. The Minister of the Interior planned a coup d'etat which would restore the old time system of revising the lists of Manitoba, whereby Conservatives were not given the ghost of a chance and Liberals got a "soft snap."

present Minister of Militia wants it understood that in future the General Officer Commanding shall be nothing more than an automaton. This means that the Minister of Militia, a person, who, as a rule, knows nothing of military matters, is to be in a position to overrule his military expert in all questions affecting the welfare of the Militia. Was there ever such an absurd doctrine advanced in this or any other country under responsible government? The Liberals have lost their heads in the Dundonald matter and if they adhere to the absurd policy of making the Militia the creature of men who are utterly lacking in military knowledge, the sooner Canada's Militia is wiped out the better for all concerned.

COVERING UP THE SCANDAL.

Commenting on the effort of the Government to cover up the scandal which Lord Dundonald attempted to expose in his report of 1902, Mr. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader said in a speech on the question:—"And does not my right hon. friend (Sir Wilfrid Laurier) do not hon. gentlemen in this House think that there was some reason for receiving a report from the principal adviser of the Government in that regard, when an hon. gentleman on the other side of the House, an expert in military affairs, the hon. member for Haldimand, (Mr. A. T. Thompson) from his place in this House, last year described, in terms, I will venture to say, more scathing than any that Lord Dundonald had used, the condition of the militia in Canada. He said that the militia called out for annual training were intended to be a skeleton, but from that they had diminished to a skeleton of a skeleton and now they had come to the condition that they could only be described as the shadow of a skeleton of a skeleton. When this is the condition, and we have a report of the General Officer Commanding suppressed, and when we find that gentleman stating, as a man who had occupied high rank in the army and who has held a high position in Canada, that this report contained a description of the militia of Canada, and when we find that the very report was required by law to be published in fact suppressed, is there not some room, in the view of my right hon. friend for criticism in this House and in the country concerning the action of the Government in this regard. * * * Suppose the Auditor General's report contained something not exactly gratifying to the administration, would it be a proper thing for the suppression or publication of that report was a matter absolutely within their discretion."

A GLORIOUS ROW PENDING.

There is every sign of another glorious row in the ranks of the Laurier cabinet. It was the Siftonian prestige that forced Hon. Mr. Tarte to retire. Mr. Blair's resignation was, in a very large measure, due to the same influence.

But things are not coming the way of Siftonism this time. The Liberals have faced badly in the province of Manitoba under the leadership of Mr. Sifton. They are demoralized. The Minister of the Interior planned a coup d'etat which would restore the old time system of revising the lists of Manitoba, whereby Conservatives were not given the ghost of a chance and Liberals got a "soft snap."

impending struggle between Siftonism and the Minister of Justice.

PARLIAMENT IS AN NONENTITY.

Parliament, under the direction of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has developed into a mere machine to record the wishes of the Liberal leader. Documents concerned with most important questions are pigeon holed and hidden from public view, provided it suits the purpose of Government to hide the facts from the responsible representatives of the people. During the past two years this policy has been so closely followed, that it has become a scandal. Messrs. Cox, Hays and Wainwright applied for a subsidy for the Grand Trunk Pacific. The petition was addressed to the Premier. That document was suppressed for nearly two years. Why? Because its publication would have damaged the Liberal cause. The same course was pursued in respect of Mr. Blair's denunciation of the Cox deal. Lord Dundonald's report of 1902 was similarly treated. And letters calculated to connect Hon. Sydney Fisher with political exigencies of the Liberal party. The Prime Minister has evidently reached such a lofty opinion of his own importance in this country, that he hopes to treat the humble elector as a mere pawn on the nation's chess board. If Canada has sunk to that level, she has no longer need for a Prime Minister or a Parliament. That Parliament should be ignored all questions of vital importance, is a doctrine that should not be tolerated for a moment.

LAURIER TRYING TO HEDGE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier labored hard to make it appear that the Liberal party have no quarrel with Lord Dundonald. But his apologies came at a late hour. The Premier himself referred to the late General Officer Commanding as a "foreigner." He allowed the Minister of Militia to call Dundonald a dishonorable man. He permitted Mr. Fisher to openly insult the hero of Ladysmith. He sat silent while the office secker, Mr. Russell, of Hants, said in so many words that Lord Dundonald was drunk when he made his speech in Montreal. All of these insults called for from Sir Wilfrid Laurier not one word of protest. It was not until the leader of the government realized that public opinion was very strongly in favor of Lord Dundonald that he commenced to praise the best fighting man that Scotland possesses today. The shallowness of the compliments which were heaped on Dundonald are apparent to any who have followed the debate on his conduct, in the house of Commons. Canada need not thank the Liberals for any words of commendation of Lord Dundonald. The Liberal press not as wise in its generation as the man who is supposed to lead it is still after the scalp of Lord Dundonald. That shows how the wind is blowing. It is not endeavoring to explain by what right the Minister of Agriculture interfered with Lord Dundonald in matters which alone concerned the General Officer Commanding and Minister of Militia. The idea is to blacken the soldier who refused to allow the puny Mr. Fisher to make a tool of him.

News of the War.

Cherbourg, July 2.—What should prove to be a decisive naval engagement was in progress yesterday, midway between Cherbourg and Port Arthur. The steamer Chuffo, passing within fifteen miles of the Japanese fleet consisting of two battleships and five cruisers all actively engaged.

Tokyo, July 4.—The Vladivostok squadron, chased by the Japs, extinguished their lights and escaped in the darkness.

St. Petersburg, July 4.—Official news indicates that the Japanese advance from the south is suspended along with all other important movements at the sea of war. The authorities do not expect much more desultory skirmishing until the weather improves. The situation is considered satisfactory from a Russian standpoint. There is evidence of considerable sickness in the Japanese camp. It is believed here that the Japanese will suffer more from the rainy weather than will General Kuropatkin's forces.

Tokyo, July 4.—It is reported that Russia, through France, has offered to surrender Port Arthur to the Japanese together with all ships and arms, providing the garrison is allowed to go free. Confirmation of the report is impossible.

Shipwreck and Loss of Life.

LONDON, July 4.—700 Danish and Norwegian emigrants bound for New York are believed to be drowned in the North Atlantic. There were nearly eight hundred souls on board the Danish steamer Norge which left Copenhagen on June 22nd. Only twenty seven are known to be alive and for the rest no hope is held out. When last seen the Norge was sinking where she struck on the Isles of Rockall, whose isolated peak rises leafless from a deadly Atlantic reef some 200 miles off the west coast of Scotland. Early on the morning of June 29th the Norge which was out of her course in heavy weather ran on Rockall reef which in the distance looks like a ship mired in full sail. The Norge backed quickly off but heavy sea poured in through the rent in her bows and she quickly began to sink.

Eight boats were lowered and into them women and children were hurried by punt. Six boats were smashed against the side and the hapless occupants were swallowed up by the heavy seas. Two boat loads got away safely from the side of the sinking and the many emigrants who were left on board seeing life belts threw themselves into the sea and were drowned. Capt. Gundel stood on the bridge of the doomed vessel, until he could be seen no more.

DIED

At Treason Friday July 1st, Emma R. MacAnlay aged 15 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. MacAnlay. May her soul rest in peace.

At Clermont, Lot 19, on Wednesday June 23rd, J. W. Cyril, infant son of T. A. and Marguerite Duroval, age 4 months.

Glencoe Notes.

The crops in this vicinity are looking fine with the exception of hay which will be only an average crop owing to the continued dry weather. Our lobster fishermen are all doing well. Although the weather has been slightly unfavorable we understand this has been the best season in the history of the lobster industry on this part of the coast. Mr. Peter McIsaac of Gloucester Mass., is spending a few days with his sister Mrs. Joseph McDonald. Mr. McIsaac has been absent from the island for upwards of twenty years.

Mr. John A. McIntyre has purchased the McCormack homestead a short distance west of his own place. This is one of the oldest and most fertile farms in this settlement. Mr. McIntyre is one of our most progressive farmers, and is meeting with the success which always follows persistent and well directed industry.

A link connecting the past with the present is Mr. John McNeill, who has recently attained the ripe age of ninety years. Mr. McNeill is still hale and hearty and can relate many interesting stories of "ya olden time." Some years ago he informed your correspondent, that as a youth, he was present when the late Bishop McEachern acting as road Commissioner laid out that part of the old North side road to East Point which runs through this settlement. This part of the road is still in use and curious to note it is the only part of that ancient road still open to the public, the remainder having been closed when the new road was opened at the rear of the farms.

Our school is doing well under the skillful management of our teacher Miss Sarah McLaren.

By reference to the island census of 1798, we find that Lot 41, had at that time only five settlers. Three of these were; Angus McIntyre, father of the late lamented Bishop McIntyre, Angus McIsaac, great grandfather of our worthy representative Mr. McIsaac, M. L. A., and John McDonald, [Jan Ruaidh] who was the writers great grandfather. The descendants of these men now probably number up in the hundreds. Each of the three pioneers acquired comfortable homesteads which are still held by their direct descendants. Each died at a good old age and was buried in the Catholic cemetery at St. Peter's Bay.

"There they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

"Beneath those rugged elms, that yew tree's shade, Where heaves the turf in a moldering heap, Each in his narrow cell forever laid The brave forefathers of the hamlet sleep.

"Oft did the harvest to their sickle yield, Their furrow out the stubborn glebe has broke, 'How jocund did they drive their team afield! How bowed the woods beneath their sturdy stroke!"

"No further seek their merits to disclose, Nor draw their frailties from their last abode, There they alike in trembling hope appear, The bosom of their Father and their God."

Ian Dhu.

Fifty firemen were overcome, four probably fatally by the smoke and gas at the fire in a sub cellar of Douglas street brick building, Broadway, extending through Mercer Street New York on Thursday last. Half a hundred employees were driven from the building and the damage is estimated between $150,000 and 200,000.

LORD Stratford presided at the Dominion Day dinner in London last Friday night, 300 guests were present including the Duke of Argyll, Lord Hrasey, Sir Henry, Elmsley, Tascobereau, Sir Charles Tupper, the Duke of Marlborough, all the agents General of Canada, Sir Henry Edward McCallum Governor of Nova Scotia and other prominent persons. After the usual loyal toasts were honored the Duke of Marlborough proposed the toast of the evening, "The Dominion of Canada."

He said Canada is bound to become one of the great wheat growing countries of the world and any differences of opinion between Canada and Great Britain could only be temporary as the great common aim was the maintenance of the Empire.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula as ugly as ever since time immemorial. It causes blemishes in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"Two of my children had scrofula sores which kept growing deeper and kept them from going to school for three months. Ointments and medicines did no good until I began giving them Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine caused the sores to heal, and the children have shown no signs of scrofula since." J. W. COCHRAN, Woodstock, Ont.

Hood's Sarsaparilla will rid you of it, radically and permanently, as it has rid thousands.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

The town of New Boston twenty miles south of Texarkana was wiped out by a Tornado last Wednesday evening and several people were killed. Particulars unobtainable.

Hon. John Aldous, for some years, Surveyor General and Commissioner of Crown Lands in this Province, died at his home at Bridgetown, N. S. on Friday last, aged 83 years. He leaves a widow one son and one daughter.

A heavy wind and rain storm struck Winnipeg on Saturday and raged furiously for two hours. The wind rased small buildings in the suburbs and the lightning caused many minor damages. No fatalities are reported.

A special from Letchfield, Illinois to St. Louis Mo. says the Chicago limited on the Wabash, ran into an open switch on Friday last and was derailed and twenty persons were killed and from 30 to 40 injured.

In the trial of Mrs. DesRoches for concealment of child birth, at the present term of the Supreme Court, the jury brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty," and the prisoner was discharged.

OVER five hundred homes, business houses and school houses a short distance from Pittsburg, on the Pan-Handle railroad, were inundated in from ten to eleven feet of water in Robinson's Ran Hollow and the Chariters Valley by a cloudburst there a few days ago.

Dr. Fraser, Principal of the Halifax School for the Blind, accompanied by several pupils of the school, who had visited several parts of the Province during last week, gave two very interesting entertainments in the Opera House, Charlottetown, on Thursday and Friday evening of last week.

WHILE the clergy of the diocese are in retreat, this week, Father Reardon is stationed at the Palace, Charlottetown, Father McQuillan is at Summerside, and Father Donohoe is at Cardigan. These priests will attend, as far as possible, to the sick calls and other urgent spiritual requirements of the people.

DOMINION Day, Friday last, was very generally observed as a holiday. Business was almost entirely suspended in this city and a great many went away in the morning by the train and ocean boats. Many more drove out to different parts of the country during the day. The Militia encampment at Victoria Park attracted a number of visitors during the day and Father McGuigan's Tea Party at York Station was well attended. A notable omission in the observance of the day was the usual salute from the Battery at the Park. It is stated the want of ammunition was the cause of this omission. It seems a little strange that this small matter should be bungled.

C. M. B. A.—The following resolution of sympathy was passed at the regular meeting of Branch 254, C. M. B. A. Kensington, on the 23rd, ult.

Whereas, Divine Providence having called out of this world our esteemed and beloved brother Joseph McMillan; and

Whereas, We, the members of Branch 254, desire to testify our respect to his memory and express our earnest and affectionate sympathy with the household deprived of a loving husband and father;

Therefore Resolved, That by his death Branch 254, C. M. B. A., has lost a devoted and worthy brother; this community a conscientious, loyal and honored citizen;

Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the grief-stricken family of our late brother, that they be spread on the minutes of this meeting, and also a copy be sent to The Canadian and local press for publication.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

GROVER Ismon, aged 45, was drowned in the Northwest Arm, Halifax last Friday evening.

DURING the summer months James Paton & Co's big store closes on Monday afternoons.

C. P. Flecton, the actor, who has of late years made his summer home at Bay Fortune, died in San Francisco on Dominion Day.

This clerical retreat for the priests of the diocese commenced at St. Dunstons College on Monday. The retreat is presided by Rev. Father Knapp a Dominican from Lewiston, Maine.

Not only Shorthand, but practical office training will be taught at our Summer School, opens July 6th. Your time to enter. Don't overlook it. Union Com. College, W. Moran Prin, Queen St.

WANTED—the names and addresses of every person on P. E. Island who is thinking of going to Business College next term, send to Union Com. College, Officer's Bldg. Queen St., W. Moran Prin.

Send your sons and daughters to the Union Com. College where they will receive a sound business education, where no time is wasted. Where the latest up-to-date methods of teaching have been introduced. Write for particulars to Wm. Moran Prin., Ch'town.

The strike situation at Sydney has reached a crisis. The local Militia have been called out and two companies have been ordered from Halifax. This is in consequence of the strikers preventing intending workmen to enter the works.

When about to board the last express from Sydney to Point Tupper at North Sydney Junction last Friday evening. Harry Wolfall, locomotive engineer at the Steel Coy., fell underneath the train while backing into the station and sustained injuries from which he died. One leg was severed and the other badly crushed, while one of his hands was also taken off and his head badly cut. Wolfall accompanied by his wife was on his way to spend a few days at Point Tupper. He was off duty at the works on account of the strike.

Rev. William J. Power, a native of this city, recently ordained priest in the Redemptorist Order, in the United States, sang his first High Mass in St. Dunstan's Cathedral on Sunday last. It was a solemn High Mass, the celebrant being assisted by Rev. Father McQuillan, of Halifax, a native of Charlottetown, as deacon, Rev. Mr. Gaudet, sub-deacon, and Rev. Dr. Morrison master of ceremonies. Rev. James M. Reardon, of St. Paul, preached a masterly, logical, powerful and most eloquent sermon on the dignity and power of the priesthood, taking his text from the Gospel of the fifth chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Hebrews: "For every high priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in the things that appertain to God, that he may offer up gifts and sacrifices for sins."

We have received from Principal Moran of the Union Com. College a circular descriptive of the Summer School of Shorthand and Typewriting, which will open on July 6th. This will be a splendid opportunity for anyone who wishes to take up those branches, and no young man or young woman's education is complete without them. Mr. Moran is a practical exponent of many years experience and the only one teaching Shorthand in a Business College. Many of his pupils are now holding excellent positions. Every moment of time will be put to good advantage and students can depend on getting through in the shortest possible time. Those who cannot attend the Summer course should write the Principal for circulars etc for Fall term which opens Sept. 1st. For full particulars address Wm. Moran, Prin. Union Com. College, Officer's Bldg., Queen St.

Examinations for entrance to the Prince of Wales College commenced yesterday. Examinations are taken at Charlottetown, Summerside, Souris, Alberton and Montague, and there are altogether three hundred and eighty trying for entrance.

The annual convention of the Provincial Teachers Association will not be held next week as announced some time ago. At the request of a great number of teachers it has been decided to hold the convention in September next instead of July.

Feast of the Sacred Heart.

Two lights on a lowly altar; Two snowy cloths for a Feast; Two vases of dying roses.

The morning comes from the east, With a gleam from the folds of the vestments And a grace for the face of the priest.

The sound of a low, sweet whisper Floats over a little bread, And trembles around a chalice, And the priest bows down his head.

As red as the red of roses, As white as the white of snows. But the red is a red of a surface Beneath which a God's blood flows;

And the white is the white of a sunlight Within which a God's flesh glows.

Ab! words of the olden Thursday! Ye come from the far-away! Ye bring us the Friday's victim In his own love's olden way.

In the hand of the priest at the altar His Heart finds a home each day. The sight of a Host uplifted! The silver sound of a bell!

The gleam of a golden chalice, Be glad, and hear! 'tis well; He made, and He keeps love's promises, With thee, all days to dwell.

From his hands to his lips that tremble, From his lips to his heart a thrill, Goes the little Host on its love path, Still doing the Father's will;

And over the rim of the chalice, The blood flows forth to fill. The heart of the man anointed With the waves of a wondrous grace;

A silence falls on the altar— An awe on each bended face— For the Heart that bled on Calvary Still beats in the holy place.

The priest comes down to the railing, Where brows are bowed in prayer; In the tender clasp of his fingers, A Host lies pure and fair,

And the hearts of Christ and the Christian Meet there—and only there!

Oh! love that is deep and deathless! Oh! faith that is strong and grand! Oh! hope that will shine forever, O'er the wastes of a weary land!

Christ's heart finds an earthly heaven In the palm of the priest's pure hand.

FATHER RYAN.

Good Health.

A writer in the Sacred Heart Review makes the following observations: Good health is so important, especially to a woman, that it is well worth a great deal of hard work to acquire it.

Good health is so important, especially to a woman, that it is well worth a great deal of hard work to acquire it and to keep it when you have it.

bad days may be reduced to a very small number.

In the first place if you want good health you must think health and not sickness. Our minds have more to do with our physical condition than we are apt to believe.

Don't talk sickness with anybody except your doctor. At sanitariums, where they understand such things, patients are forbidden to discuss their symptoms or to talk about ill health.

While it's of first importance not to talk about your symptoms, thinking about them is almost as bad. Interest yourself in something outside yourself, get busy at some absorbing work.

If you have anything serious the matter with you, go and see a good doctor at once. But if you simply don't feel well, try what a little work for health will do.

Modern Cave Dwellers.

Houses built of chunks of sod out from the prairie still abound in remote parts of the Western plains, but are nowhere nearly so numerous as they were a generation ago.

On a featureless plain farm a sod house is an inconspicuous object. The eye wanders over great level stretches of corn and wheat fields, across a sparse collection of cotton-wood trees, a rude coral of horses and cattle and a few ragged outbuildings with sod roofs, but no farm dwelling is in sight.

We like best to call SCOTT'S EMULSION a food because it stands so emphatically for perfect nutrition. And yet in the matter of restoring appetite, of giving new strength to the tissues, especially to the nerves, its action is that of a medicine.

square chunks of hard, dry prairie piled one upon another. The framework is of wood and the walls are composed of cakes of turf held together by mud smeared in the interstices.

The habitation is the most primitive occupied by white people in America, but it serves the purpose. The floor is hardened earth, and in wet weather there may be pools of water and mud on the floor, but the place is a domicile, nevertheless.

A "Calvary" Dedicated in Treguier, Brittany.

(Sacred Heart Review.)

It will be remembered that the French Government lent the full force of its power and prestige to the atheistic demonstration which occurred in Treguier, Brittany, on the occasion, last year, of the unveiling of the Roman Statue.

Another Diocesan.—Still does the Church go on extending her limits and increasing her influence and strength in every land. and end in honoring the Lord Christ. I do not think I ever said anything to anybody about it, but he succeeded in upsetting all my notions about the Roman priesthood.

"No race suicide in Laureroc," was the thought suggested to many minds as our beautiful May procession of nearly 2,500 children, slowly wended its way through the tens of thousands of spectators thronging the route of the procession, May 22," says Our Parish Calendar, of Lawrence, Mass.

News of the War.

New Chwang, June 22.—While the Russian force of eight thousand under General Kondratovich were traversing the Marungo ravine they were surprised by concealed Japanese artillery.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—It is not surprising that Admiral Skrydloff's plans to say that important naval developments are imminent.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The expectations of a great land battle is intensified by a Chee Foo despatch which says that the Japanese made a determined attack upon Port Arthur by sea and land yesterday and last night.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The General Staff reports all well there. An immense battle in the northern part of Liao Tung peninsula is admitted by the War office and indicated in despatches from correspondents at Liao Tung.

Says the Sacred Heart Review: The Rev. E. Donohoo, whose name sounds Irish and Catholic enough, but who is, nevertheless, a Protestant minister of Pittsburgh, on the occasion of the recent celebration of Bishop Phelan's golden jubilee, sent a letter to Father Price, of St. James' Church, that city, wherein he expressed his regret at being unable to attend the exercises.

Lao Yang, June 25.—It is reported that Generals Oku and Kuroki have joined their forces and are attacking from the direction of Yafangow. There is talk of a serious engagement shortly.

New Chwang, June 27.—A courier who was out three days returned last night and reports Japanese forces ten miles southwest of Kaichow. Information from private Russian sources indicates that the Russians have only a few pieces of field artillery between Liao Yang and Kaichow.

London, June 25.—The Japs are within twenty-five miles of Port Arthur. New Chwang, June 27.—A courier who was out three days returned last night and reports Japanese forces ten miles southwest of Kaichow.

LOADED UP WITH IMPURITIES.

IN THE SPRING THE SYSTEM IS LOADED UP WITH IMPURITIES.

After the hard work of the winter, the eating of rich and heavy foods, the system becomes clogged up with waste and poisonous matter, and the blood becomes thick and sluggish.

This causes Loss of Appetite, Biliousness, Lack of Energy and that tired, weary, listless feeling so prevalent in the spring.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. eliminates all the pent-up poison from the system, starts the sluggish liver working, acts on the Kidneys and Bowels, and renders it, without exception, The Best Spring Medicine.

Little Bo-Peep, she lost her sheep, But little Bo-Peep was wise. She wrote an "ad" and now she's glad.

A box of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills will be sent free to any one who suffers from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago or Neuralgia if they never tried these pills before.

"A blue shirt waist suit would be just the thing for me," Mrs. Percy Vere continued. "Of course I could get that brown one, but few women look well in brown."

Mary A. O'Connell, Middle Stewards, N. S. says: "I have used Lax Liver Pills for serious Liver Complaint and they have done me a world of good making me smart and healthy."

Hostess's Daughter (trying desperately to keep the conversation going).—Did you ever hear the joke about the curio dealer who had two skulls of Columbus—one when he was a boy and the other when he was a man?

Mrs. A.—You say brandy is a good remedy for colic, but I don't agree with you. Mrs. B.—What do you know about it?

Mrs. A.—A great deal. My husband had brandy in his house my husband never had colic more than once or twice a year, but as soon as I kept a supply he had colic almost every day.

All-Round Remedy

Mrs. Haneson Binscarth, Man., writes: "I have used Hayward's Yellow Oil for Sore Throat, Cuts, Scalds and Probstries for a long time and consider it the best all-round household remedy made. Price 25c. all dealers."

The law of compensation holds good in all things. The homeliest spinster, according to her lady friends, always has the "most beautiful hand" or the "tiniest foot," or the "sweetest smile."

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff.

When I hear of a married woman seeking to bring good influence to bear upon a wicket young man, I at once begin to speculate upon what lawyer would get the divorce case.

High Grade Seeds For Particular Farmers.

Every farmer is proud of his farm, this is right and the best farmer will become discouraged if he finds noxious weeds getting the upper hand of him.

Now the first thing of importance is sow only the BEST SEEDS procurable, procure such seeds from reliable long experienced seed dealers who know where to get seeds best suited to our soil and climate.

Our Knowledge of the Seed Business.

Has been gained by twenty four years of research, experiment and study. Our claims are, that we know where to get the best Seeds, and that we know good seed when we see it.

We don't know anything about the Dry Goods business, don't want to, but our knowledge of the Seed business is worth a good deal to the farmers of P. E. Island. We don't sell cheap seed but sell as cheaply as good reliable seeds can be sold for.

Our present stock of Clovers, Timothy Seed, Wheat, Peas, Vetches, Fodder Corn, Barley etc., etc., is the best we have ever handled
