SATURDAY, March 29, 1913.

Notes and Comments.

On Thursday Mr. Kent delivered a smashing blow to the Morris Agricultural Policy when he pointed out that the imports of agricultural produce had increased from $2,717,000 to $3,300,000 during the Morris administration.

Mr. Kent pointed out that this shows a notable increase in the import of agricultural produce. Now the object of the Morris Agricultural Policy was to decrease these imports by fostering the production at home. To do this a grant has been made of $40,000 a year, and the grant largely over-expended. But the object of the whole grant has failed, and from the Morris point of view things are worse now than when the policy was inaugurated.

But nothing else could be expected from a policy which was vitiated at the outset by giving-out to provide salaries for three People's Party men, who had seats in the House of Assembly. These men had no special fitness to promote agricultural development. They had no training in scientific agriculture. They were in no way fitted to direct agriculture aright, and the money spent on them was wantonly wasted.

When the measure to promote the establishment of an Experimental Station was before the House of Assembly, Sir Edward Morris professed to be a supporter of it. He said, "A few years ago he had introduced resolutions which, if carried out, would have been similar to the effect of those at present before the chair." He thought everyone must be in favour of the establishment of a model farm if carried out in the right way. He wanted experts attached to the agricultural department.

Now, what was done? First a campaign was carried on against Zavitz. Then the expert engaged by the Bond Government found himself so harassed that he had to leave. Next the Government farm as an Experimental Station was destroyed, and three members of the House of Assembly, supporting the Morris Government, were given salaries which should have been devoted to agricultural experts. Money was poured out like water and the result has been an absolute fiasco, which has absolutely discredited the Morris Government and rendered their policy a by-word in the land.

Beothic Goes to New York for Repairs.

WHAT IS MORRIS DOING TO KEEP OUR MECHANICS EMPLOYED?
The Beothic will be sent to New York for repairs, thereby depriving our mechanics of the large sum necessary to make her seaworthy once more. The unfortunate accident in the Narrows which put her out of commission for the sealfishery, also worked damage to the extent of 25,000 dollars or more.

It may be asked of what advantage has the leasing of the Dock to the Reid Nfd. Co. been if even our locally owned ships find it cheaper to go elsewhere for repairs, for it may be assumed Messrs. Job Bros. & Co. the managing owners, would not send the ship to New York if the work could be done as cheaply and expeditiously in St. John's.

Has Morris any power over the Reid Company to force them to reduce their charges so that steamer owners may have their vessels repaired by our own mechanics? It is stated the repairs will cost $25,000. Cannot this large sum be kept in the country, to keep our labourers and mechanics busy?

The Dock is one of the assets of the Colony Morris was mainly responsible for handing over to the Reid Company under the '98 Contract. Under the new management we were led to believe that it would provide constant and increasing labor for the mechanics of the town. What has been the result? Our port charges, which are unnecessarily high, added to the docking charges, have had the effect of sending disabled tramps hundreds of miles further to find a port where repairs can be performed at a cheaper rate and where port charges are reasonable. Our local steamer owners also apparently find it cheaper to send their steamers to Scotland or America for repairs.

Can Morris do nothing with the Reids except pour millions into their pockets for building Branch Railways?

He has always professed a love for the mechanics of the West End, particularly near election times. Let him prove whether his affection is genuine or shoddy. Let him use his influence with the Reid Company to have the Dock charges so reduced that it will pay ship owners better to have repairs done at home.

Many mechanics are idle, while McGrath is daily shouting his parrot cry of Morris making good. Many would welcome the opportunity to earn a few dollars on ships that should be repaired at home. What is Morris's answer? Will he respond with the classical reply, "To hell with the mechanics"?

On Tuesday last Mr. Kent drew attention to the alarming decrease in the number of fishermen who had gone to the Labrador in 1912 as compared with 1911. He attributed it in part to the work on railway construction. In his reply, Mr. Cashin, the Minister of Finance and Customs, took exception to the suggestion, and said that there were practically no fishermen working on the Trepassey Branch. He had seen the men at work and they were merely the "cullage." We wonder what the men who have been working on the Trepassey Branch think of the Minister's classification of them. "Cullage" is a term which is most familiar to fishermen. Next fall they will have the chance of treating Mr. Cashin and his colleagues as political cullage.

Cullage.

'Cascarets' for a Sick, Sour Stomach.
Gently but thoroughly cleanse and regulate your Stomach, Liver and Bowels while you sleep. That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any. Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little intestines need a good, gentle, cleansing, too.

It's a Shame to be Without One.

Easter is over now. The styles are all fixed for the season. The hats this year are perfectly stunning. If you turn down Water Street, half the heads you see, go bobbing along with some attractive new spring creation. And this makes your winter hat seem so terribly out of place. And the hats this year are not very costly anyway. And you haven't had a new hat for a long time. And goodness knows you want one badly enough. And it's a shame not to have one. The new spring suits are jaunter this year than they have ever been before. They're just as attractive as a costume in a play. These new styles will make one look ten years younger and ten pounds thinner, and you're out now in your winter suit people look at you as if you were expecting to join a polar expedition. You certainly need a new spring suit. And it's a shame not to have one. Every woman is beginning to discard her high boots now. Every pleasant day the streets are just thick with the daintiest of low shoes and pumps. This makes your old wicker boots look big enough and heavy enough to go duck hunting. You certainly need a new spring pair. And it's a shame not to have them. Now after you have gone over this line of argument with yourself for a while, it is a good idea to go straight to the male beast of the family—husband or father, or whoever keeps chocking the money supply—and tell him how badly you are being treated. Then when he is sufficiently crushed in spirit, and apologetic in attitude all you have to do is to open this paper to the advertising, and show him how reasonably—how very reasonably—these new things can be purchased. Seriously speaking this paper is filled with good merchandise value to-day—values in the latest creations and the newest styles—others that are seldom duplicated so early in the spring. You certainly need a lot of these things now. And it's a shame not to have them.

Antonio Michael left Thursday night for Bay of Islands, to make enquiries concerning the missing men, Edward and Maurice Michael. He would urgently request the Government to take the matter up and send out search parties to seek to find out the fate of those unfortunate men. Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-Day. Railway and telegraph communication at Adrianople is being restored rapidly. Some idea of conditions of the city is beginning to reach the outside world. According to reports from Sofia, the condition of the population at Adrianople is not so desperate as has been depicted. While the Turks set fire to the grain store they overlooked the flour depot, the contents of which are being distributed among the poor. These reports declare that only a few buildings were damaged by bombardment. Nothing is said concerning the damage done by fire, which the Turks themselves started before the city fell. The last dispatch the Turkish Commander of the fortress sent to Constantinople said he was destroying the great National Religious Buildings to prevent them being profaned by impure feet. That he succeeded to a large extent in carrying out his intention is evident from the flames which rose as the invaders approached the town. Many Turks before the enemy arrived took time to break their rifles and render useless a number of siege guns, destroy all ammunition depots and even kill their horses in order to prevent their falling into the hands of the invaders. The wireless telegraph station and searchlights were blown up by order of Shukri Pasha, who on the whole seems to have made a pretty complete job of his work of destruction. All accounts reaching here agree that the Turks have suffered a severe defeat at Tchatalja. Some correspondents place the Turkish losses as high as 25,000 killed and 7,500 wounded. These figures, however, are probably exaggerated. Only a few wounded have reached Constantinople. Ice Patrols.

Special to the Evening Telegram. WASHINGTON, To-Day. The derelict destroyer Seneca and the revenue cutter Miami in a few days will make alternative cruises to the ice regions of the North Atlantic, each vessel remaining two weeks on the station. They will ascertain the extent and conditions of ice-fields, said Secretary McAdoo, and send this information by wireless each day to Navy Hydrographic Office for publication. They will also keep in touch with vessels in order to give them warning of conditions and locality of ice-fields.

Special to Evening Telegram. SAN FRANCISCO, To-Day. Capt. Amundsen has signed a contract to buy two hydro aeroplanes which he will take with him into the Arctic next voyage of exploration in 1914. Amundsen believes the hydro aeroplane will be useful in summer months when there is much open water, for reconnaissances and observations.

CROSBIE'S FRENCHMEN EMPLOYED.

Special to Evening Telegram. ST. LAWRENCE, To-day. The Sagona's French crew worked on the "Lucy House." The St. Lawrence men, twelve in number, were put off. Sagona's men are Crosbie's as much as the Portia's men are Bowring's. The concessionaire of the French Government is Miller, consequently when Miller puts his own and Crosbie's French men to work, having put aside St. Lawrence men, what is the average man to think. There is a nigger in the wood pile somewhere. The Sagona's crew have been ordered to discontinue work and have been conveyed to St. Pierre by the Pokota. We do not know whose agent Miller is in this present case, but the facts cited above are incontrovertible. V. P. TURPIN.

At the City Hall.

The weekly session of the Municipal Council was held last evening. Mr. C. P. Ayre called attention to a wall in the West End. Referred to Engineer. Mr. J. J. Evans asked Council to have their statement published in the Nfld. Quarterly. It was decided to pay Kam Lung $17 owing to water being shut off from his house by mistake. Solicitor Morris reported that the Council were not liable in the case of the award to Baine, Johnston & Co. It was a matter for the Government to consider. Ordered that claimants be informed. Solicitor reported that the promoters of the hockey matches were liable to a tax and a summons will be issued for the recovery of same. He also reported that the promoters of the Gymkhana were not liable for the tax. Plan of house to be built on Casey Street, by Jane Oliver, was approved.

GURES CAKED UDDERS OVER NIGHT

Saskatchewan Stockman's Experience With Douglas' Egyptian Liniment

The stockman, and more particularly the dairy farmer, has to keep a sharp lookout for caked udders, for he knows how seriously trouble of this kind is likely to affect the milk production of his herd. Mr. W. Robinson, of Ituna, Sask., does not worry about it any more, however, for he has found a quick and certain cure. He says: "I have used your Egyptian Liniment with splendid results. I have had cows calve at night with their udders so badly caked that it was impossible to milk them, but after one application of your Liniment they were all right next morning." Caked udders demand quick action. The safest, wisest plan is to keep a bottle of Douglas' Egyptian Liniment always on hand. 25c. at all dealers. Free sample on request. Douglas & Co., Napanee, Ont.

Dangerous Position.

While Miss Laura Judge, an assistant in Mr. N. J. Coady's grocery store, Dugan Street, was trying to light the fire in the store there, Thursday afternoon she threw in some kerosene oil and the flame coming out suddenly ignited her hair and the blouse she wore. The other assistants tore off the clothing quickly and she thus escaped serious injury. Dr. Anderson was called to attend her.

Evening boots are quite high, coming above the ankle, having absolutely no leather showing.

Coaker at Herring Neck.

Special to Evening Telegram.

HERRING NECK, To-day.

"Yesterday, Mr. Coaker arrived here and was met by the Unionists with flags, guns, and although a gale of wind was blowing the firing of guns were kept going quite a time. Almost every man carried a gun and powder horn; it was the best reception ever tendered a public man here. A Union meeting was held at 3 p.m. to arrange about enlarging the Union Store and other matters. At 5:30 p.m. more gun-firing was indulged in. At 7:40 the President entered the hall and received a great ovation; cheer after cheer greeted him, quite a few ladies being present. The Orange Hall was crowded, and at 8 the President began his speech, speaking for 2 1/2 hours. It was the best, largest and most orderly meeting ever held here. The speech was easily the best ever heard at Herring Neck. It captivated all present. The speaker was cheered repeatedly when speaking. All are Unionist to-day. None could withstand the eloquence and fluency of the President's remarks. Quite a few men from outlying settlements were present although the gale of wind was at its height. Men from Cobb's Arm, Pike's Arm, Too Good Arm and Merritt's Harbor attended. The meeting closed at 10:30 by singing the National Anthem and with cheers for Coaker and the Union. Another Union meeting was then held when arrangements were completed to enlarge the Union Store and take over the building now hired. An address of welcome was presented to the President, and thus one of the greatest days at Herring Neck has seen ended, and all went home proud of the Union and their leader. The President left for Dog Bay this morning where he will address a public meeting to-night."

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DISTEMPER.

The Lintrose Arrives.

After Long and Stormy Passage—Had Terrible Weather—A Magnificent Ship—Sumptuously Finished—Most Modern Equipment.

The S. S. Lintrose, Capt. Spracklin, arrived off this port last night at 11:30 and have up outside till daylight when she berthed at the Reid Co's docks.

The ship which is the new boat for the Sydney-Port aux Basques route, had a terrible time of it coming out and left South Shields at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, the 15th inst. From the start the ship had terrible weather with hurricanes of wind rising from S. W. to N. W. and with a sea which virtually ran mountainous high; this continued up to yesterday, and though the ship received damage she would have been disabled were it not for her solidity and staunchness and her splendid qualities as a sea boat. Neither Capt. Spracklin nor Chief Officer Taverner ever experienced such a tempestuous voyage. At 2:15 a.m. on the 17th a tremendous sea broke right over the bows and smashed the glass in the ladies' cabin, and such was the volume of water which poured on board that the mainhead forward was bent with the force of it and was twisted down to the "crow's nest." The chocks with the heavy lifeboats in them were also started from their position, and it took two hours to replace them. As a matter of fact the ship was sea swept all through her voyage of a fortnight and her speed was so impeded that although she can do 15 1/2 knots under ordinary conditions, this was sometimes reduced to 2 knots, while her best day's work was 260 miles. The seas sweeping on board poured the water down into the main hatch and the manholes had to be torn off to get at the coal in the bunkers which was flooded, so that steam might be kept up on the ship. The wheel box was carried away with a sea on the 26th March, and another bent up the heavy iron gangways as if they were so much wire. The past three nights it was very cold and ice made about her decks. Yesterday morning the ship ran through some slush ice and she arrived all were glad the voyage had terminated.

Description of Ship.
 The Chief Officer, Mr. Taverner, kindly showed a Telegram representative through the ship to-day, and it is safe to say that nothing on such a magnificent scale for a ship of her size has been built for local service. The ship has 3 decks—the boat deck on top; the shelter deck next and main deck below. On the upper or boat deck is a splendid promenade of over 100 feet in length running from the after hatch to the bridge, and on this same deck is the smoking saloon, a spacious and beautifully furnished apartment with every convenience and all that art can suggest for the comfort and pleasure of lovers of the weed.

The prevailing color in this saloon is blue with Morocco upholstery, and off this is situated the Marconi room and the bar, both these places being equipped on the most modern plans and beautifully furnished. The shelter deck below runs flush from the stern forward to the fore-castle head, and on this deck are the lockers, stowholds and other apartments, while forward is the spacious and magnificently furnished dining saloon. Right forward of this is the ladies' cabin finished in the rarest of wood, beautifully polished and set about with plate glass mirrors at intervals, richly carpeted and furnished in a most luxurious manner. The dining saloon to which we just alluded, is done mostly in mahogany with beautiful stained glass doors, mahogany sideboards, and 40 persons can dine there at one sitting. Tables run over the ship and are connected with the Marconi operator's, captain's, chief mate's, and chief engineer's apartments, and also with the engine room and main saloon and pantries. The pantries and kitchens are just off of this, and in them are every modern convenience for cooks and stewards, with great ranges for cooking the ship's food, in the main saloon, which is an apartment so beautifully adorned and perfectly equipped that one cannot begin to describe it, are seventeen staterooms, containing four berths in each, and also fitted with every convenience. The toilets, and also a bath, are other apartments up to date in every way, and the ship's lines are very pretty; she is considered to be a decided improvement on the Bruce. She is five feet longer than that ship, has a funnel more beam. The ship is well ventilated and lit with electric lights, and carries a system of Morse night signals, which hold a chemical light at night time and in contact with the water will show a bright light for hours. Several English stewards and engineers came out on her. Her dimensions are: Length 255 feet, beam 37 feet, depth 25 feet. Registered tonnage 583.44 gross. H.P. 32.50; Speed 17 1/2 knots. Her engines are triple expansion, direct acting, vertical inverted cylinders, 42 in. stroke. The ship leaves on the Sydney-Port aux Basques route, Monday.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY

The Wasteful and Stupid Agricultural Policy of Government Scored by Messrs. Clift and Kent.

Mr. Gear in a short but practice speech brought under the notice of the House the desperate condition of the roads in the District of Burin. The mileage of main lines had increased but the grants had decreased at these public conveniences were now a state of ill repair which rendered them impassable. He sincerely hoped the Government would give this matter attention and that the Burin road be put in proper order.

Mr. Clapp drew the attention of the Government to the steamship service on the N. E. Coast. Since the alteration in the service and the employment of the Duchess of Marlborough it had fallen to pieces. The Premier and Colonial Secretary as well as himself have had letters from mariners on the coast asking that something be done to better the service. It was never worse and is a disgrace. He did not bring this matter up for the sake of mere talk, but spoke of a distinct and unbearable grievance, the facts of which were in the possession of the Premier, and he asked again that the matter be given prompt and earnest attention.

The Premier said that his Government had given the district a steamship and the people express their delight with the change, though while he was there last year he had heard great objections to the Hon. and Solway.

Mr. Clift made a lengthy speech referring to the absence of information on public matters of expenditure which they sought for when the drafts were made and over expenditure occurring it was only right before they were asked to vote on such matters that all necessary information should be placed before them. On March 4th he had asked for a detailed statement of the expenditure of the Government last of $12,040 for agriculture. This would not take long to prepare and he could not understand why the information was denied. He wanted it so that he could criticize the report of the Minister of Agriculture and the agricultural policy generally of the Government. He then severely criticized the agricultural policy of the Government and he regretted that it did not embrace a scientific course and the creation of an experimental station. With the big vote of $40,000 much should have been done for agriculture but very little had been accomplished. He pointed out the good done in Canada by the experimental farms and the practical education received in them. Something should be done from a scientific standpoint if we were to improve agricultural conditions. The fact that our farmers proceeded to the "Truro College" for instruction would not be done here with such an institution and the great necessity there was for it. Last year there was an extra expenditure of $10,000 in the grant and he demanded details of this. He knew that out of the total grant $4,500 was spent on exhibits, grants to societies amounted to $7,000 and $9,500 for amounts for breeding purposes, salaries to members of the Board, secretaries, etc., $7,000. For this heavy expenditure one would expect good value but this was not getting nor would we until scientific training of farmers and a scientific agricultural policy was adopted. He referred to the big salary of $1,225 per year each being paid Messrs. Downey and Devereaux, but the Report was silent as to the nature of their work and the amount they perform. He then scored the Government upon the matter of the importation of seeds. In the act passed bearing on this matter it was provided to have an inspector of all seeds put on the market for sale so that only good seed might be used. The act made it unlawful for anyone to import seed without first getting a license. Before this was issued an inspector should grant certificates. As nothing had been done to enforce this provision in the past all who imported seed for sale since March 1912 were acting illegally liable to a penalty. No Inspector had been appointed and no license issued under the Sale of Seeds Act. He complained of the inadequate law. Why was the law there if it was not made to be enforced? Mr. Earle here referred to the utterly neglected state of the District of Burin. The breakwater at Barrage, though an allocation had been made for it, had been utterly neglected, and his patience had been exhausted in demanding a telegraphic notice for Carmanville, but he could not get it. It was a place of much importance, and should not be closed off from the outside world. The road from Fox Cove Harbor to Newtown, was in a desperate condition and he hoped the representatives of Bonaville would help him out in getting this matter attended to, as they were interested also. He referred to the office in Pogo, which he would not dignify by the title of a shack. He complained of the inadequate salary of the postmaster. He would like the Premier to give this appeal his for the rights of his district, a consideration it deserved.

Mr. Clift, in a short but incisive speech, destroyed the promising picture of the agricultural development of the Government, and took the list of imports and exports of produce as a text of the success or failure of their agricultural policy. We had heard a great cry about raising our own food stuffs, but instead we imported more now than ever before. In the report tabled by the Hon. Mr. Seymour, he found that in 1909 we imported $2,717,000 worth of produce, whereas to-day this had increased to $3,300,000 or an increase of $583,000. He held with Mr. Clift that scientific training in agriculture was necessary to success, and observed that it was a great mistake to interfere with the means of applying scientific tests in agriculture to every part of the country, they would never have a prosperous and numerous farming class in this country. He criticized the seeds act, showed it to be an expensive abortion and that men who knew nothing of the matter were to test seeds imported. He pointed out the difference in soil between Newfoundland and the Province, how it should be treated, and quoted the reports of Mr. Zavits, Scotch Thomas and other experts as to the best means of encouraging agriculture in the country. After the debate was continued.

The Labrador Railway Bill passed in Committee, the Wireless Telegraphy Bill passed its second reading and the Bill to consolidate the election laws was reported to the House, after which the House adjourned. (Continued on 8th page.)

Wedding Bells.

A quiet but pretty wedding ceremony was celebrated at Holyrood on Monday evening. The contracting parties were Mr. Patrick Corbett, of Duff's, and Miss Mary Walsh, of Holyrood. The groom was supported by Mr. John Walsh and the bride by Miss Hartery, of the city. The wedding guests assembled at the home of the bride, and awaited the arrival of Rev. R. M. Shean, P.P., Hr. Main, who came to officiate at the marriage ceremony, and who at the conclusion of the contract, happily and beautifully addressed the newly-married pair, on the duties and obligations of their new life. A reception and reception followed in which the best of the bride was proposed by Father Shean and responded to by the happy groom. The party then proceeded to the home of the groom, at Duff's, where the wedding supper was served and the festivities kept up till the broad daylight, in dance and song. Congratulations to bride and groom.—Com.

Fire Alarm.

At eleven o'clock last night the Central and East End men were called to Gower Street where a chimney fire was in progress in a house three doors east of Lawrence's Carriage Factory. Particles of fire were blowing in all directions but the firemen quickly mounted the roof, poured salt down the chimney and soon all danger was passed. This is the very same house that caught fire two months ago and which resulted in four families being left homeless.

Music Notes.

PADEREWSKI TO VISIT AMERICA.

It is said that Paderewski has decided to visit Canada and the States in September, remaining, till April 1914. Who is going to try to induce this great pianist to visit St. John's on his way, either coming or going?

DICKENS' LITTLE JOKE.

A very neat little anecdote is told of Dickens in Mr. Lightwood's recent book dealing with the novelist's references to music. One night a gentleman visitor insisted on singing "By the sad sea waves," which he did vilely. Moreover, he wound up by a most unexpected and misplaced embellishment or "turn." Dickens saw the whole ordeal very trying, but managed to preserve a decorous silence till this sound fell on his ear, when his neighbor said to him: "Whatever did he mean by that extraneous effort of melody?" "Oh," replied Dickens, "that's quite in accordance with rule. When things are at their worst, they always take a turn."

SCHWAB HAS THE MONEY!

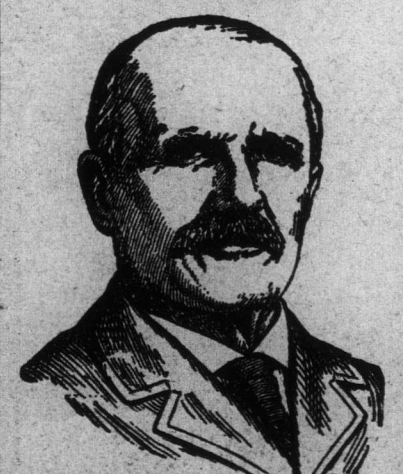

More than two hundred singers of the Bethlehem, Pa., Bach Choir gave a reception in that city on Tuesday evening, February 4th, to Chas. M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., who will again be a large guarantor for the eighth Bach Festival to be held at Lehigh University this coming spring. Several of the choruses from the Mass in B minor were sung by the choir under Dr. J. Fred Wolfe, the conductor. The Bach Festivals, held originally in the historic Moravian Church, have attained a reputation that attracts music lovers from all parts of the country to the annual renditions. This year it will take place in Packer Memorial Church at the University on Friday and Saturday, May 30th and 31st.

LOSSES TO MUSIC.

The year that has come to an end saw the death of many eminent musicians, foremost among them being Jules Massenet and Samuel Coleridge-Taylor. Dr. A. L. Peace, the Liverpool organist, H. Treloar and Frances Alltison, the well-known song writers, Jan Blockx, composer, Hamilton Clarke, composer and conductor, Guido Pappal, the Italian violinist, J. T. Field, the famous organist and composer of church music, and Wilhelm Kuhn, have all passed away within the last twelve months. Edward Terry, George Crossmith, W. S. Penley, Richard Temple, Florence St. John, and Marion Hood were primarily, of course, of the stage, but through comic opera and burlesque their connection with music was considerable. Crossmith was the composer of the words and music of several most and amusing little songs. His most ambitious effort was the light opera "Haste to the Wedding." Penley, first as a boy and then as a man, was a member of several church choirs. He had a fine bass voice, and was a very fair organist.

How He Escaped An Operation

And Was Completely Cured of Piles of 14 Years' Standing by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Chas. Beauvais. Doctors say that about one person in every four suffers more or less from piles, and who can imagine a more annoying, torturing, disagreeable ailment? After trying a few treatments without success, and as the ailment grows worse, the medical doctor is consulted. An operation, he says, is necessary. You think of the suffering, expense and risk to life itself and hesitate before taking such a step.

In many thousands of such cases Dr. Chase's Ointment has made thorough and lasting cures. Read this letter for the proof.

Mr. Charles Beauvais, a well-known citizen of St. Jean, Que., writes— "For 14 years I suffered from chronic piles, and considered my case very serious. I was treated by a celebrated doctor who could not help me and ordered a surgical operation as the only means of relief. However, I decided to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and obtained great relief from the first box. By the use of three boxes I was entirely cured. This is why it gives me great pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to all who suffer from piles as a treatment of the greatest value."

Not A Village In All Canada.

BUT CAN TELL OF GENUINE CURES BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Dunnet, Ont., Mar. 28.—(Special.)—That there is not a village or post office in Canada that cannot provide a genuine cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills has been shown again and again. In this little village many people bear grateful testimony to the wonderful curative powers of this simple remedy. Mr. Alex. Roy is one of these. "I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for a run-down system," Mr. Roy states. "My head ached, my limbs were heavy, my skin had a harsh dry feeling, and would itch and burn at night. Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply cure the kidneys. The work of the kidneys is to strain all the waste matter out of the blood. If the kidneys are out of order they fail to do their work, the waste matter remains in the blood, putrefies and causes serious diseases. The natural cure is to make the kidneys do their work. Dodd's Kidney Pills always do this.

Silks of all kinds are the prevailing fabrics this spring. They are apparently taking the place of voiles and linens to a great extent.

The S.S. City of Sydney leaves Halifax to-night for this port.

Fashions and Fads.

Cotton voile embroidered with small beads makes a very pretty gown for summer.
Evening gowns grow more elaborate, much cloth of gold and bugle trimming being worn.
The Bulgarian blouses are so new and so beautiful that they will be enthusiastically received.
All the ribbons are as filmy as the materials they adorn, being of gauze with satin borders.
When pleats are used on skirts they are stitched down to avoid extra fullness above the feet.
Many walking costumes have wire girdles, which extend even below the natural waist line.

Ostrich feathers made into fancy shapes have taken the place of algrettes on the new millinery.
Brilliant colored hose and low dress shoes will be a feature of extreme luxury this coming season.
Cordeliers and tassels are used extensively as a trimming on evening mantles, toilettes and day gowns.
Little turnover collars of different colored laces, suggestive of Joseph's coat, are making their appearance.
The prettiest nightgowns are the simple kimono style with French, slightly fitted backs and rounded necks.
Sulphur yellow is a very popular new shade; for one who prefers a less somber coloring, the raisin shade is good.

Poplins, a combination of silk and wool, will be very popular. It is of softer and more supple make than heretofore.
Charming Persian turbans of swathed white straw, trimmed with long, antennae-like peacock plumes, are very smart.
Evening boots are made to match the color of the gown. Some are of deep rose and gold brocade with small buttons of gold.
A pretty little novelty is the hatpin with a ball, which, when opened, is found to hold a few drops of some fashionable perfume.
Long gloves promise much popularity, as many of the smart little beceros and short cocis have short and three-quarter sleeves.

Happy Accidents.

Trifles Which Have Made Fortunes For the Quick-Witted.

When ever we now hear of some wonderful invention we usually regard it as a great conception of its inventor, yet it is a most remarkable fact that some of the greatest discoveries arose from the most simple and often trivial sources.

The discovery of the cheap durable glaze which is one of the chief causes of prosperity in the Staffordshire potteries, for instance, was due entirely to the blunder of a servant girl employed on a farm near Burslem. She was engaged one day in heating a solution of common salt to be used for the curing of pork, and during her temporary absence the liquid boiled over. The result was that the strong brine coating on the almost red-hot surface of the unglazed cooking vessel produced a coating of enamel which did not peel off when cold, and which experiment proved to be impervious to water. The discovery brought neither profit nor honor to the poor girl—only a severe scolding. But it created what was practically a new industry, provided permanent employment to tens of thousands of artisans, and put millions into the pockets of the master-potters.

Even from the flimsiest notion some great thing may arise. Graham Bell was led to invention of his telephone from watching the vibrations of a reed on an instrument he had made for the inter-communication of the deaf; Sir Isaac Newton was led from the falling of an apple to the laws which govern the falling of moons and stars and suns; and Brunel was able to burrow his tunnel under the Thames from watching how a worm pushed its way through wooden furniture. The most common incidents have also given rise to great inventions. Sir Hiram Maxim, when he was fighting in the great Civil War of America, was struck by the force with which his gun "kicked" into him when he fired. "The energy which is wasted in that kick could well be turned to the placing of another cartridge in position," he said, and so he experimented on those lines, with the result that he produced the famous Maxim gun.

The Tabloid Co.

Mr. J. P. Kiely the enterprising Manager of the Casino and Nickel Theatres, has prepared a rare treat for his patrons for his summer season at the Casino Theatre. After careful consideration of the theatrical field in New York, Mr. Kiely has decided to present tabloid plays as being most popular and calculated to please all classes of patrons. These tabloids are all the vogue in the United States, which can be easily understood when it is realized that with a cast of four men and three women, all the popular plays are presented in condensed form; all superfluous dialogue and characters being eliminated so that the public get the gist of it all in one act plays running from 35 to 50 minutes. Mr. Kiely has selected Mr. George Barr of New York to engage a company and select plays. Mr. Barr was formerly secretary of the Actors' Society of America, also Manager of International Play Bureau. He is an experienced Manager, actor, playwright and stage director. The best results may be expected, as Mr. Barr himself has tabloided all the plays to be presented here. They are of great diversity of style and subject, ranging from the emotional to farce comedy. He warrants each play to be a gem in its way. The company he has selected required considerable forethought as the members must possess versatility as well as special qualifications for their particular lines of business. He wires that he has succeeded beyond his expectations. The season will open on Thursday next.

Zam-Buk Does Cure Piles.

Mrs. C. Hanson, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, Poplar, B.C., suffered from piles for years. Went to doctor after doctor in vain. Finally went to Spokane and had an operation. Twelve months afterwards she was as bad again. She says, "One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zam-Buk was going to cure me. Well, I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured."

If you suffer from this painful ailment, or from eczema, ulcers or any skin disease, don't waste time. Try Zam-Buk, 50c. all druggists and stores.

"At Home."

The Highlanders "At Home," under the management of the non-com. officers came off in the British Hall last night and the attendance was the largest at any social event yet. At the opening an excellent concert was held in the ballroom. Those who contributed selections were: Misses Hamlin, Ross, Anderson and Strang and Mr. H. Baird. Dancing commenced at 10 p.m. and continued until 3 this a.m. At midnight a sumptuous supper was served by the lady friends of the brigade. The C. O. C. band furnished the music in their usual style.

Criticises Judgement.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—You don't hear often from Harbor Main. Not that there is anything of interest to write about, but that it is utterly useless to acquaint the powers that be of the doings of their official bosses in this District. I am now going to give you an account of a trial which took place here lately between a Liberal and Tory, and the circumstances that led up to it. A short time ago Mr. John Lacour, a respectable citizen of this place, made a business run to the city, and returned home the same day. Having detained at Woodford's, he went to where his horse and driver were in waiting, placed his grip on board and started for home. On the road home, a short distance from the station, a man named Ezekiel held him up and boarded his slide. Mr. Lacour attempted to push him off the slide, and in the struggle that ensued, his grip disappeared, and he himself was battered by his aggressor Ezekiel. Mr. Lacour sought redress by appealing to the court, and after two hearings, by Magistrate O'Toole, the case was dismissed.

Now, Mr. Editor, what are the facts of this case as can be gathered from the report. Mr. Lacour, a respectable and inoffensive citizen, is held up by a drunken man who forces himself on his (Mr. Lacour's) slide, against his will. In the struggle to dislodge his assailant, he gets his face battered and dispossessed of his grip valued at $10.00. He summonses the offender to court, and the judge dismisses the case. The judgment was received with dissatisfaction by the public as the sentiment was that the defendant in the case, should receive punishment. Perhaps there was no political prejudice to the plaintiff, or that the quality of mercy was not strained to the defendant. However, if rum and rowdiness are to be put down in Harbor Main, Morris will have to fit Mr. O'Toole with a bigger hood. In connection with this case, we ask what part did Constable Devine play in trying to bring the offender to justice? Did he find any clue to the missing grip? Not yet! Some outport constables don't worry over such trifles nowadays. The people pay them to conserve law and order. Yet they have to do their own detective work, while the constables act as flunkies for the magistrates or the Reids and their trains. The constable at Harbor Main was once a very vigilant and useful official but alas his day is done. Officers of the law should work hard to run down offenders of the law, yet they seem afraid to grapple with those difficulties and let the people do what they are paid for doing, their own detective work. I have just heard of a fight to a finish between a certain prominent Government official and a village smith, and when I become acquainted with the facts I will send you an account of the fight in rounds.

Yours thankfully,
SPECTATOR.
