WHAT a glorious country is the East, where they have no such thrilling winds, and cold stormy blasts, to wreck the constitution. But yet, although the climate here is considered the best, Nature has kindly endowed mankind with the conquering power of wielding an all-sufficient weapon against the enemy Disease, Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, &c., are here most prevalent, and for their cure we have nothing to compete with the great Swiss-ness Remedy. Purify the Blood.—If the blood be pure the body which is formed from and by the blood cannot be diseased. But if there be in any part of the body any affection, such as a boil or ulcer, even a bruise, the blood circulates through that part takes up impure matters from the local affection and carries it to the general system. This is the cause often of sudden death to persons of full habit afflicted with boils and ulcers, and who use no medicine; the matter gets into the circulating system and chokes up the fine blood vessels which supply the brain with vitality, and life ceases as if

Struck by Lightning. Now, we can be remedied.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS take all impure matter from the circulation, and save the general health, soon curing local affections also. Brandreth's Pills protect from febrile attacks of sickness and often save life. It is sold by all druggists. Oct. 3-1m

COUGHS AND COLDS.

Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should be at once had to 'Brown's Bronchial Troches,' or Lozenges. Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough, or 'common cold,' in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. 'Brown's Bronchial Troches,' or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, having a direct influence on the affected parts, as there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine. Sold by all dealers in medicine at 25 cents a box.

Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night and broken your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, it will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, opening like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents sold everywhere. Be sure and call for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. All others are base and dangerous imitations. Oct. 3-2m

THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 17.

Local News.

FOR NEW ZEALAND.—This (Thursday) morning three families of the name of Dickie, from North Dunfries, left by the Grand Trunk en route for New Zealand. The adventurous band, comprising seventeen individuals, came to Guelph last night accompanied by a number of their friends who watched with tearful eyes, until she had disappeared round the curve, the train that bore those whom they loved, on one stage of their long journey towards the genial clime of that far distant isle of the Pacific.

"NO MORE SUNDAY SHAVING.—Hereafter every gentleman among us who has a beard (as almost every gentleman has), will be obliged to have it shaved on Saturday, if he does not intend to wear it over Sunday, or what his razor and go to work himself. The law gives barbers the privilege of shaving people six days and nights in the week, but prohibits them from putting soap on the face, or scissors in the hair of any person on the seventh. This law will henceforward be strictly enforced in Guelph, so that those who neglect to go through the necessary operation to their heads or faces on Saturday night need not look for admittance to the shops of any of the knights of the razor on the following morning. This is no hardship; it would be a far greater pity if barbers were to be compelled to accommodate on Sunday morning those who might have had their hair dressed or their beards shaved the previous day or night without the slightest inconvenience. Every barber in town was notified this morning that the law will be rigidly enforced.

The Fox Hunt.

Sir.—I noticed in your issue of Tuesday evening, under the heading of 'Honour to whom honour is due,' a statement that Mr Hall did not join the chase until the finale, and that he was last in the hunt and did not take his fences. Now, I was present and made one of the party, I am not a member, and am certainly astonished that any one could make the statements contained in the letter, as I saw Mr Hall join the hunt when we got into the second field, after starting, and saw him take all the fences, which Mr Gaughan did not do. As I rode the latter part of the hunt with Mr Gaughan and myself got down at a fence and levelled it to enable him and me to get through. There was no question about Mr Hall's being first at the death; the dispute was simply that he sat on his horse over the fox and did not dismount and cut off the brush, which he could easily have done had he wished. Yours, etc., A SPECTATOR. Guelph, Oct. 15, 1867.

Mr. Stone's Annual Stock Sale.

Mr. F. W. Stone's annual sale of thorough bred stock, sheep and pigs took place yesterday afternoon at his farm, Moreton Lodge. There was, as usual, a very large attendance, some of the parties being breeders from the States, as well as from the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. There were also present most of our prominent local breeders and farmers. Mr. W. S. G. Knowles was auctioneer, and discharged his duties with his usual ability. Only a few short horns were offered, which brought fair prices. There was little demand for the Herefords, and only a cow and heifer were sold out of the list. The Cotswold sheep sold well, large prices being obtained for some of the shearing rams, which were all sold. There was not the same demand for Southdowns, which did not fetch anything like the same prices. We give below a list of sales:—

DURHAM.—Cow, calved March, 1856, sold to James Davidson, South Dumfries, for $120; heifer, calved April 4th, 1865, to Mr. Craig, Beachville, for $150; heifer, calved March 1866, to Mr. Craig, Beachville, for $205; bull, calved Nov. 1866 to Robt. Powrie, Nichol, for $100; bull, calved Nov. 1866, to F. Chadwick, Guelph Tp., for $100; bull, calved Dec. 1866, to J. R. Martin, Cayuga, $100; bull, calved March 1867, to Mr. Craig, Beachville, for $150.

HEREFORDS.—Cow, calved Feby, 1863, to Hon. Mr. Foster, Lower Canada, $90; heifer, calved Oct. 1866, to Hon. Mr. Foster, $95.

Ploughing Matches.

COUNTY PLOUGHING MATCH.—This ploughing match, as we stated last week, comes off on the 23rd instant. It is to be held on the farm of Mr F. W. Stone, in Guelph township. Competitors are divided into three classes: First class for men; second class for competitors between the ages of 17 and 21 years; and third class for boys under 17 years of age.

WEST PUSLINCH PLOUGHING MATCH.

The ploughing match will be held on the farm of Mr John McLean, near Moriston, on Saturday, the 26th instant, when four prizes will be awarded in the men's class, and four in the boys' class, under 18 years of age. The match will be open to the township.

ERIE PLOUGHING MATCH.—This match in connection with the Township Agricultural Society, will be held on the 23rd instant, on the farm of Mr Robert Kennedy, lot 14, in the 7th concession. The prizes in each of the three classes are $4, $3, $2 and $1. The first class comprises ploughmen who have taken a first prize since they were 18 years of age; the second Garibaldi's Latest Words to the Italian People.

The official Gazette of Paris, alluding to the release of Garibaldi, says that, as he had expressed a desire to return to Caprera, and that intention conforming to the wishes of the Government, the ministry at once agreed to it, and the General forthwith left for that island in a state vessel. Before embarking at Genoa the Esploratore for Caprera, Garibaldi stopped a short time at the house of a friend near the railway station, where an immense crowd had assembled. He afterwards drove in a carriage to the city with Gen. Indica, his son-in-law Casio and Gen. Fabuzzi. Addressing the people, whom he prohibited from drawing his carriage, he said he was perfectly free, and was going to Caprera without any condition whatever. Speaking sometimes in Italian and sometimes in the Genoese dialect, he told the people never to forget Rome—to continue the common work of that succouring their brothers at Rome. They might rely upon him being at his post; he would go to Rome in spite of any demon, whether he was clothed as a priest or here the report in the Movimento abruptly closed—saluted by the officers of the navy and by the troops, who presented arms to him, he shortly after embarked on the F. Verbeke. Three of Garibaldi's friends, M. I. Libero, Bottero and Pugno, who obtained permission to see him at Alessandria, have published in the Turin Globe an account of their interview. They found him reading the Decade of Livy. The narrative says: Not a word of anger escaped from him against the authors of his arrest. During the two hours we were with him the conversation turned upon the Roman question, history and literature. "They talk," said he, "of getting to Rome by moral means. Do you believe that such means will ever cut the Gordian knot?" "No," he answered. "Well," said he, "tell Italy by every means in your power, that the Roman question will be settled by Italian steel, and not by the moral paths of any Ministry whatever. Above all, let it be known that the Roman question is not solved by any arrest. Tell Turin that she knows what she has to do; she has given proofs of it at many times." Then, turning to Mayor Chiesa, he said: "Tell Milan that I have never ceased to be with her, and that now I hope much from the Milanese. Believe, despite the efforts of governments and unfriendly and perfidious plots abroad, Italy will be the first nation in world, were it only through its noble past. Stand on the place of St. Peter; question with the look and mind those eloquent souvenirs; carry yourself back to the time of the Brutuses and the Camillas, and say to yourself with pride, 'I too, am an Italian.' O what a noble Republic was that Roman Republic! What men it contained! Think of the time when poor Rome, the battle lost, sent its legions to Spain, and on the same day put up to public auction the Roman territory occupied by Hannibal, and there were great citizens who bought it at the highest price. We, on the contrary, hesitate to approach the Eternal City, where we are defeated by feeble and contemptible enemies. I assure you, my friends, that when the day comes on which we put our foot upon the Vatican, that day will be the most beautiful of my life, when I shall be willing to die." The General at this moment seemed inspired, and his face to be transfigured by his enthusiasm.

Break-up of Mormonism.

The recent disturbances among the Salt Lake Mormons are regarded in England from whence many converts have come, as premonitory indications of a general break up in Brigham Young's "Dynasty." The Pall Mall Gazette, after arguing that the Mormon system contains the seeds of its own dissolution, affirms that the growth of the most startling religious imposture of modern days is about to witness its collapse and utter abolition. It continues: "The reports which reach us of the internal dissensions of the chief men in the community, and of the rebellion of sundry unquiet spirits against the authority of the 'prophet' are not only full of details, but they are so exactly what might be looked for in the present stage of Mormonite history that we should scarcely be surprised if we were suddenly to learn that a formidable schism had actually taken place, and was sending in twain the most highly disciplined body of people in the whole western world. That such a schism, ending in a total disruption of the whole Mormonite body, is sooner or later a practical certainty can, in truth, hardly be doubted 'by any reasonable person who will take the trouble to compare the phenomena and position of Mormonism with the history of two religious communities to which it bears the most striking resemblance, that is Judaism and Mahomedanism, to the former of which, indeed, it appeals as supplying a precedent for its most characteristic practice. The reports of difficulties at Salt Lake City will doubtless place a check upon European emigration thither."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Tristram Shandy's father contended that there was a great deal in a name, for he had never known men of common names to do anything but the most common things, and therefore he was going to have his son endowed with the euphonious cognomen, Tristram.

Democrat's Assurance.

The Democrats of the United States generally seem to look upon the recent elections as a guarantee of their speedy return to power. They feel strongly enough now to put anybody on their tickets with a certainty of electing him.

SHOCKING CALAMITY IN KENTUCKY.

The Bowling Green (Ky.) Democrat of the 6th relates the following:—On the 16th ult. Mrs. Blankenship, (who had been but a few days before bereaved of her husband, leaving her with three interesting little children, two boys and a girl just old enough to walk alone, and beguile the lonely hours of the mother with her innocent prattle, for the purpose of washing clothes, retired to the spring branch near the house, taking her three children with her, the house dog following behind.

A correspondent of the London Times writes:—(Rome is in a state of squor and melancholy desolation to describe. The streets are deserted, those of Pompeii, while the few people who remain are pallid, and move about almost as if deprived of strength.

A Singular Suicide.

J. B. Whillbrite, a young man about 22 years of age, committed suicide at the Bates Hotel, Indianapolis, on Sunday, by taking morphine. He was from Owensboro, Ky., and left a letter to a brother residing in Indianapolis, in which, after giving some messages to his friends, he said:—

Executions are as common now in Spain as cigarettes.

Nine hundred and ninety millions of men use tobacco. In Russia, on the Volga river, a terrible accident recently occurred. It is reported that about one hundred persons were returning from a village, and entered a ferry boat to cross the river.

Special Notices.

WHAT a glorious country is the East, where they have no such thrilling winds, and cold stormy blasts, to wreck the constitution. But yet, although the climate here is ordered thus, Nature has kindly endowed mankind with the conquering power of wielding an all-sufficient weapon against the enemy Disease, Diseases, &c., are here most prevalent, and for their cure we have nothing to compete with the great Elixirs once Remedy.

Purify the Blood.

If the blood be pure the body will be formed from and by the blood cannot be diseased. But if there be in any part of the body any affection, such as a boil or ulcer, even a bruise, the blood circulates through that part takes up impure matters from the local affection and carries it to the general system. This is the cause often of sudden death to persons of full habit and appeared round the neck, the blood is thick and chokes up the fine blood vessels which supply the brain with vitality, and life ceases as if

ECONOMY IS WEALTH.

Why will people pay $50 or $100 for a Sewing Machine, when $25 will buy a better one? To the contrary, the subscribers beg to inform their numerous friends that the "Fancy" and "MIDALLION" Machines can be had in any quantity. This machine is a double-thread, consists of two needles, and new principles, and is superior upon any other in the world. It is especially the poor man's Sewing Machine, and is warranted to excel all others, as thousands of testimonials will testify.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often succeed speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should be at once had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges. Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough, or "common cold," in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, having a direct influence on the affected parts. As there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine. Sold by all dealers in medicine at 25 cents a box.

Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, it will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents. Sold everywhere. Be sure and call for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. All others are base and dangerous imitations. Oct. 3-2m

DRESSING YOUTH.

A Gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of his suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and the directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's cure, may send for it by enclosing a few cents in postage. JOHN B. OGDEN, 42 Cedar St., New York.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 17.

Local News.

FOR NEW ZEALAND—This (Thursday) morning three families of the name of Dickie, from North Dumfries, left by the Grand Trunk en route for New Zealand. The adventurous band, comprising seventeen individuals, came to Guelph last night accompanied by a number of their friends who watched with fearful eyes, until she had disappeared round the curve, the train that bore those whom they loved, on one stage of their long journey towards the genial clime of that distant isle of the Pacific.

No MORE SUNDAY SHAVING.

Hereafter every gentleman among us who has a beard (as almost every gentleman has) will be obliged to have it shaved on Saturday, if he don't intend to wear it over Sunday, or what his razor and go to work himself. The law gives barbers the privilege of shaving people six days and nights in the week, but prohibits them from putting soap on the face, or scissors in the hair of any person on the seventh. This law will henceforward be strictly enforced in Guelph, so that those who neglect to go through the necessary operation to their heads or faces on Saturday night need not look for admittance to the shops of any of the knights of the razor on the following morning. This is no hardship; it would be a far greater pity if barbers were to be compelled to accommodate on Sunday morning those who might have had their hair dressed or their heads shaved the previous day, or might without the slightest inconvenience. Every barber in town was notified this morning that the law will be rigidly enforced.

The Fox Hunt.

Sir—I noticed in your issue of Tuesday evening, under the heading of "Honour to whom honour is due," a statement that Mr Hall did not join the chase until the final, and that he was last in the hunt and did not take his fences. Now, I was present and made one of the party, also got a member, and am certainly satisfied that any one could make the statements contained in the letter, as I saw Mr Hall join the hunt when we got into the second field, after starting, and saw him take all the fences, which Mr Gaughan did not do. As I rode the latter part of the hunt with Mr Gaughan, and myself got a member, and am certainly satisfied that any one could make the statements contained in the letter, as I saw Mr Hall join the hunt when we got into the second field, after starting, and saw him take all the fences, which Mr Gaughan did not do. "WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

Tristram Shandy's father contended that there was a great deal in a name, for he had never known men of common names to do anything but the most common things, and therefore he was going to have his son endowed with the euphonious cognomen, Trismegistus, but as he was not present at the baptism a mistake was made, and his heir was called Tristram. What did it matter? The child grew up a youth, the youth a man, and he had as strange a history, and as odd an uncle Toby as he could possibly have had, even if there had been no blunder perpetrated, and he had borne the name that his father had designed for him. But while it may be a matter in debate whether a name carries with it prestige and influence, it is universally admitted, that a title is a great thing, and means a great deal. A title makes a great man, according to our notions, and as an inevitable consequence the longer the title the greater the personage. The latter assertion is under discussion at present. We have members of Parliament now of different grades, and there is a slight difficulty about the titles that should be applied to them. Indeed, so important did the subject become in the estimation of some of our grave, confusion-hating contemporaries that they began, a considerable time ago, the endeavour to invent a peculiar tail to be affixed to the name of all, and send a copy of the members of the House of Commons in order to distinguish them from the gentlemen who have to be satisfied with a more lowly position in the Local Legislature. Now there were at least four titles that might have been chosen, two for the members of each House. For instance, members of the Commons might have been distinguished by the letters M. H. C.; and those of the Local Legislature by M. L. C. But there was another choice, and as the former, and M. P. P. of the latter, is somewhat less of an innovation these are likely to be honoured by being brought into general use. We observe that some of our contemporaries have resolved to use them in future, unless a different style of nomenclature should be adopted, and as the application of M. (member of Parliament) to a Member of the House of Commons; and M. P. P. (Member of the Provincial Parliament) to the gentlemen who have seats in the Local Legislature makes a clear enough distinction we do not see why these affixes may not answer as well as any others.

Reform Pic Nic in South Wentworth

The Reformers of South Wentworth and adjacent constituencies held a picnic on Tuesday last, in the woods about a mile South of the Village of Ancaster. Over 2,500 persons were present, among whom were a large number of ladies. The cheer was occupied by Mr. Hall. Several of the newly elected members, and many notables were in the assembly. Addresses were delivered by the Hon. H. Smith, Mr. Sexton, Hon. D. Christie, Mr. John Smith, of Hamilton; Mr. J. Bymal, and two or three other gentlemen. The proceedings terminated about four o'clock in the afternoon; the whole having been a grand success.

Democratic Assistance.

The Democrats of the United States generally seem to look upon the recent elections as a guarantee of their speedy return to power. They feel strong enough now to put anybody on their tickets with a certainty of electing him. Naturally enough under such a state of things, the most bitter Copperheads are rushing to the front and taking the conduct and control of the party into their own hands. Fernando Wood is making nominations, laying down platforms and fixing things generally for the party in this city. He proclaims in the most self-complacent and confident manner, his determination to be the next Mayor, and is putting his most faithful henchmen in nomination for every office that is open. And thus far he seems to be having everything in his own way. The prospect now is, that the Democratic party here will very speedily swing back to its status ante bellum, with Wood for its leader, and Copperheads of the most pronounced type for subordinate officers. The Copperheads are so confident of their own self-confidence if it is careful; but the worse it behaves better for the Republicans.

SHOCKING CALAMITY IN KENTUCKY.

The Bowling Green (Ky.) Democrat of the 5th relates the following:—On the 16th ult., Mrs. Blankenship, (who had been but a few days bereaved of her husband, leaving her with three interesting little children, two boys and a girl just old enough to walk alone and beguile the lonely hours of the mother with her innocent prattle,) for the purpose of washing clothes, repaired to the spring branch near the house, taking her three children with her, the house dog following behind. She had been engaged in washing but a short time, when the dog was heard barking incessantly on the hill near by. Thinking that the dog had possibly treed a raccoon or had a rabbit at bay, the two little boys proceeded going at once to a cure the dog. With the mother's consent the little fellows started off in high glee. Alas! better had they never been born. On reaching the spot where the dog was barking they saw a short distance from the dog a large object coiled at the foot of a stump, in a hostile attitude, keeping the dog at bay. They looked but a moment. Eager only to capture the supposed game, and not thinking of danger, nor knowing the nature of the prey, they approached the hideous monster that in fatality of attack "outvenoms all the worms of the Nile." The oldest of the two boys approached first, and with his little hands outstretched and his face all aglow at the prospect of his prize, he said, "I'll get him, brother." One step more he rushed to a death more terrible and speedy than were the tortures of fabled Lascroon. With one dart of his forked tongue, with one death rattle of his tail, the huge rattlesnake—for it was nothing less—drew back his scaly folds and with one dart forward planted its venomous fangs in the flesh of the boy, and left the dead poison coursing hot through his young veins. Again and again was the boy bitten by the fatal reptile till he fell exhausted in the coils of the monster. The other little fellow rushed forward to the relief of his brother, and he also received the deadly fangs of the serpent in several places. The screams of the boy alarm the mother, who was still washing at the branch, and leaving her baby girl she rushed frantically to the spot. What a sight there met her gaze! Putrid with poison, swollen, black, and bitten in several places, one of her boys was already dead, and the other dying from the same cause. The snake had crawled away and the living boy lived just long enough to call the assistance of the doctor. Overwhelmed with an intensity of agony which mothers alone can feel, she remained at the spot a short time, when she thought her of her little girl at the branch, and hurried back. On reaching the spot, horrible as it may seem, she found that her little girl had walked to the wash-tub, into which she had fallen, and died before she was rescued. The mother's cup of misery was full; not another drop could be added. Perish of children, and almost of reason, she sank under the accumulation of horrors of the hour. Assistance was procured for the heart-crushed woman, and the remains of her young ones were taken charge of and carried for a short distance after a large rattlesnake with rattles were killed near the spot where the boys were bitten.

Present Condition of Rome.

A correspondent of the London Times writes:—"Rome is in a state of gloom and melancholy difficult to describe. The streets are deserted, those of Pompeii, while the few people who remain are pallid, and move about almost as if deprived of strength. It appears as if one were entering a vault where respiration is a labor. The air is full of miasma and of exhalations, heavy and fetid, which the first rains have raised from the Tiber, and which hangs like a cloud over the city. Close and hot during the night, the atmosphere seems to be poisoned. On the day of the Madonna, the 8th of September, the cases of cholera increased from forty to sixty and upwards, and now at the present time there are about forty daily, the great proportion of whom die. It is most distressing to hear continually the bell of the pestilence in the streets. Last Saturday the Cholera took the course of the Via della Concetta and Piazza dei Santi Apostoli with such violence that in three hours there were sixteen cases in this one street. It is impossible to describe the melancholy which is produced by the continual sound of that bell—the cholera bell. On the 8th of September there was scarcely any one present in the church of San Maria del Popolo, where the special services of the day were performed. The Cardinals who surrounded the Pope were few in number; while his holiness himself wore a sickly aspect; he was much thinner, and looked very pale."

A Singular Suicide.

J. B. Willbite, a young man about 23 years of age, committed suicide at the Bates House, Indianapolis, on Sunday, by taking morphine. He was from Owensboro, Ky., and left a letter to a brother residing in Indianapolis, in which, after giving some messages to his friends, he said:—"I believe, with due respect for the memory of our mother, that I have inherited this desire for death from her; for you know that she attempted suicide on one occasion at least. I believe in the old maxim, 'that the sins of the parents are visited on the children.' I would give a great deal to see you, Carrie and Maudie, but I know you would want to know why I was here, and I don't know what I could tell you that you would believe. I believe, brother, that if I had never read a novel I should now be on the high road to fame and fortune; but, alas! I was allowed to read the vilest kind of novels when I was eight or nine years old, always loved to read, and before I ever saw a novel I had read what few books there was at home. If good books had been furnished me and no bad ones, I should have read the good books with as great a zest as I did the bad ones. Brother, persuade all persons over whom you have any influence not to read novels. Excursions are as common now in Spain as cigarettes. Nine hundred and ninety millions of men use tobacco. In Russia, on the Volga river, a terrible accident recently occurred. It is reported that about one hundred persons were returning from a village and entered a ferry boat to cross the river. The vessel was unusually crowded, and when nearing the opposite shore, the ferryman demanded payment of the fares. The crowd of passengers was in consequence thrown into a state of motion, and the boat capsized. Not fewer than sixty-three persons were drowned. The aspect of the dead bodies was following Progress of Medical Science.

This was the subject of an introductory course of lectures about to commence before the Medical Department of the New-York University, delivered by Prof. Loomis, a few nights since, before a large audience of ladies and gentlemen, at the temporary Hall of the University, near of the City Hospital. The science of Medicine, which history dates back 23 centuries, was now, said the speaker, undergoing great changes, and the medical student of the present day entered upon his studies in what might be called an era of reconstruction. Old landmarks were passing away, and the changes going on in medical science were synchronous with progress, which could not be said of all changes. There was no more ignorant faculty than the prevailing idea that the science of medicine remained stationary. An eminent clergyman was complaining of this to the speaker not long since, and actually had the hardihood to say that the only progress medical science had made was in Homoeopathy. So far from its being true that the science of medicine had remained stationary, it was in fact almost the only art or profession in which there had been any progress. The chief progress made in this age was in the physical sciences, and it was with these sciences that medicine was so closely related, and from which it drew its largest contributions of wealth and advancement. In literature there had been but little progress; modern writers did not surpass the classics; modern orators could not equal Demosthenes and Cicero, modern poets were excelled by Homer and Virgil. Sculpture had fallen to produce a modern Phidias or Praxiteles; astronomy had improved little since La Place; law had learned little since Blackstone and Lord Mansfield; writers on moral science drew their chief inspiration from old authors. But the science of medicine had progressed with most rapid strides during the last half century. It had lengthened human life, diminished human suffering, and improved the sanitary condition and general health of the human race. It had learned perfectly surprising. The statistics of Paris proved that medical science had increased longevity 71 per cent since 1805. In London the deaths in 1780 were one in twenty of the population per annum; now they were one in forty. There was a greater difference in the average longevity between the Eighteenth and Nineteenth century in London than there was between a year of general health in that city and a year of cholera. The speaker then dwelt at length upon the specific discoveries in medicine that had been instrumental in advancing medical science—referring particularly to the discoveries of Salanaya, in occultation; of Bright, in the structural changes of the kidneys, &c.; of Marshall Hall, in the connection with the nervous system, &c. The aids to true diagnosis, which was the cornerstone of successful medical practice, had been incalculably increased during the last half century, and still further progress in this direction was constantly being made. Prof. Loomis closed his lecture by impressing upon the students the importance of industry and careful observation during their student life, reminding them that nearly all the eminent Professors of Medical Science had begun their discoveries while studying their profession. The lecture was listened to with deep attention by all. Among the audience were Chancellor Ferris, and Prof. Paine, G. W. Draper, Darling, Post, Board, and many others of the Medical Faculty of the University. The course of lectures will commence by a lecture from Prof. Loomis on the "Practice of Medicine."

NORAH CUSHALEEN

OR THE HAUNTED CASTLE.

Not catch her! Why not? asked Malvra, hastily.

'I'm ather takin leave to tink so,' rejoined the landlord, with a short significant nod.

'Speak out, Pat Connor,' said Mike.

'The smile upon yer lips says more nor the words ye go tongue. If ye're seen Mike Mary go past sure ye'll be polite enough to tell his honour, the Squire.'

'Ye call her Miss Mary,' remarked Pat.

'Arrah! now, maybe, it's very anxious ye are to catch hold of her.'

'We certain' are anxious,' said Malvra.

'If you saw her go by in the evening, say, and we'll know how to do.'

'Sure now,' said Pat, insinuatingly, 'yer honour wouldn't object to pay a decent by like me if I could ye where ye would be sure to get hold of the purty lady ye're seeking.'

'For shame, Pat Connor!' exclaimed Mike, in a tone of virtuous indignation.

'Sure its meself that's ashamed uv ye intirely for axin' anything jist for speakin' a word wid yer mouth.'

'If the word is much wanted, och, masha! and it's worth payin' for,' replied Pat, who was quite impervious to Mike's reproach.

'There,' cried Malvra, laying a piece of gold upon the table.

'Good luck to yer honour's glory,' said Pat.

'She's in this house!' cried Malvra in a tone of eager exultation.

'Arrah, and she's jist that same. She came in from the end of the pass when it was growin' dark, and if every bone in her purty body warn't achin' wid walkin, my name isn't Pat Connor.'

'She ate her supper as if she was famishing, and limped up the stair, and there she's lyin' at this blessed moment in the sweetest sleep she ever had in her life. Och, but it's in luck yer honour is, to come to this very house to find her.'

'And it's in luck you are, Pat Connor to earn a gould piece ather you've gone to bed,' remarked Mike as the landlord pocketed his fee.

'Masha! then, I wish I could get such a lodger every night,' observed Pat with a wink of great satisfaction.

'I hope there is no mistake,' said Malvra.

'It's mighty easy to see that,' suggested the landlord.

'We can go to her room wid a light and look at her purty sleepin' face, and if it's not her, sure yer honour, I'm an honest boy, and will give you back yer gould.'

'I must be satisfied,' rejoined Malvra, 'for it is of the utmost importance to know if we have indeed succeeded in recovering the prize. Get a light, and we shall go to her room. But let there be no noise, for I do not wish to wake her.'

'Never a fear uv that there is, yer honour,' returned Pat.

Mary had heard every word of the foregoing conversation. The terror which had first seized her on hearing the voice of Malvra, gradually gave way to her natural force of character and presence of mind.

The nature of the conversation that ensued did not add to her alarm, for she fully expected that a discovery of her presence there would be made, and anticipating that while she listened to the conversation, her mind was also busy in devising the course she would take.

When she heard the proposition made to visit her chamber, she instantly laid herself down again on the couch, with her face to the front, and prepared to exhibit an appearance of profound slumber.

She heard the rustle of footsteps on the stair, the handle of the door was cautiously turned, and through her nearly closed eyes she saw the landlord enter, shading the light with his hand.

He softly approached the bed, and gradually turned the light on her face, till he could see it calm and tranquil on the pillow.

So perfect was Mary's self-possession that not a muscle quivered, nor did a change of colour betray her consciousness of her fears.

Pat retreated a few steps, and whispered to Malvra to enter.

The latter came noiselessly forward and one glance at the features before him assured him that it was no other than Mary Kendal.

Mary, though she kept her eyelids carefully closed, was quite aware of the near presence of her persecutor, nevertheless she breathed with the regularity of one in a sound sleep.

HAUNTED HOUSE.—In the township of Howard, a Dr McDowell owned a farm, on which he built a house, but left the place last year, and the house is now inhabited by one Charles Peltier.

About three o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday last mysterious signs began to manifest themselves. A kettle was thrown from the stove towards the door; chickens with their legs tied were thrown about in all directions; apples were thrown in at the windows and lay where they fell on the floor without rolling; bricks were also cast through the windows; an axe fell upon the porch, and a piece of cordwood was thrown against the door, knocking it off its hinges.

Strange to add, one room of the house was never disturbed when all the rest were visited. These operations commenced daily for three days, about three p. m., and continued till 8 or 9 o'clock. Then the spirits took about two hours repose, and beginning again, continued till daylight. They have not returned since Friday, to the great disappointment of a large crowd of visitors.

Business Education!

THE importance of a thorough Business Education is every day becoming more and more every day, and its advantages are perhaps more generally shown by nothing more than by the vast ground on which it places the fully trained clerk above the imperfectly trained one, when looking for a situation.

THE BRITISH AMERICAN COMMERCIAL COLLEGE has in full operation such a course of instruction as to give a practical business education to the student. A prominent characteristic of this Institution is its naturally organized actual business system, whereby the College is made a type or model not only of an extensive business house, but even of a large trading community. Another distinctive feature of this College is that it attempts no extraneous teaching. Its work is one, and to the accomplishment of that work every effort is directed. Just as the University and Grammar Schools must be separate institutions, so the Commercial College and the Elementary School must be distinct. Common sense and experience alike show that such a combination is not compatible with efficiency.

The time required to complete the full course varies considerably, according to the attendance, attention and ability of each student. Young men however are expressly cautioned against the injurious practice of hurrying through the course from the mistaken idea that they will thus be gained by the saving of money in the item of board. It is more advantageous would it be to the student, since his full course of tuition is already paid for, to incur the comparatively small additional expense of a few weeks board in order to make himself completely master of the course; and thus, by a small present outlay, qualify himself for some lucrative situation. The readiness that such haste entails is highly detrimental, not only to the student himself, but also to the College where he graduates; and, besides, it is a gross opprobrium on Commercial Colleges generally. The common practice, therefore, of holding out this crowding system as an inducement to students is most deplorable and highly reprehensible.

We were again awarded the First Prize at the late Provincial Exhibition, Kingston, for the best specimen of business Penmanship, and an Extra Prize for our system of Writing.

INDIA & CHINA TEA CO'Y.

Home Depot at London and Liverpool. Canada Depot, 23 Hospital Street, Montreal.

THE India and China Tea Company beg to call the attention of the Canadian community to their directly imported Teas, which for purity and excellence will be found unequalled.

The Company have made arrangements whereby they have secured the entire produce of some of the best plantations in Assam and on the slopes of the Himalayas, and, by a judicious blending of these magnificent Teas with the best varieties of China produce, they are enabled to offer to the public Tea of quality and flavour hitherto unknown to the general consumer. These Teas are in high favour in England and France, and a single trial will prove their superiority.

The Company supply two qualities only, either Black, Green or Mixed. Their Black Teas will be found to possess great briskness and flavour, combined with colour and strength, and to be entirely different to the flat and rapid article usually sold as Black Tea; while their Green Teas are altogether free from the deleterious mineral powder so commonly used for coloring the leaf.

PRICES: Rich, full-flavoured Tea, for family use a real genuine and fine article 70 cents per lb. Finest quality procurable, one dollar per lb.

The above can be had either Black, Green or Mixed.

To be had in packets of Quarter Pound Half Pound, One Pound, and upwards, or in tin canisters of 5 lbs. and upwards, from the Company's Agents in all the chief towns of Canada.—N.B. All the packages are lined with tin foil paper, and the Tea will consequently retain its flavour any length of time.

Observe.—All packages have the Company's trade-mark, without which, none are genuine.

Great Cure of Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia in Canada.

Conseco, Prince Edward Co., C.W., March, 1867. Messrs. Young & Chamberlain, Sirs—Having procured in my own person that there is at last a medicine that will cure the Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, I am induced to make this statement, under oath, which is to certify that I have been severely afflicted for the last three years, according to the Doctors' statements, with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, had a feeling of sticking and vague uneasiness about the stomach, worse than pain, eructations of wind, occasional pain, distressing constipation, uneasiness in the right side, headache, a poor appetite, &c. I was greatly reduced in strength. Hearing your new Indian medicine, 'The Great Shoshonee Remedy,' I bought a bottle, and I must say I found but little change, but I took another, and then found my bowels opened, and I continued it until I have taken about ten bottles, using the Pills, and I find that I have quite recovered, I eat heartily without pain or uneasiness, I am well and have pleasure in attending to my business. The doctor remarked to me I was looking much better. I sold him that the Great Shoshonee Remedy was doing it. I have recommended the Remedy several cases, and it has invariably given good satisfaction, and I would strongly recommend it to all afflicted as I was.

PROOFS OF THE SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE AMERICAN WATCH MADE AT WALTHAM, MASS.

Referring to their advertisement in a previous issue of this paper, the American Watch Company, of Waltham, Mass., respectfully submit that their Watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for general use, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market.

They are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches. They are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces, while in an old English watch there are more than 700 parts.

How they run under the hardest trial watches can have, is shown by the following letters: PENN. RAILROAD COMPANY.

Office of the General Superintendent, Philadelphia, Pa., 14th Dec, 1866. GENTLEMEN—The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this railroad for several years by our engineers, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some 300 of them carried on our line, and we consider them good and reliable time-keepers. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying your watches give us less trouble, and have worn out more wear than longer without repairs than any other watches we have had in use on this road. As you are aware, we formerly trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation, but as a class they never kept time as correctly, nor have they done as good service as yours. In these statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years. Respectfully, EDWARD H. WILLIAMS, General Superintendent.

American Watch Co., Waltham, Mass. NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD. Locomotive Department, West Division, Rochester, N. Y., 24 Dec, 1866. GENTLEMEN—I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the great majority of Locomotive Engineers have found by experience that Waltham Watches are the most satisfactory of any for their uses. They are with the greatest accuracy and steadiness, so insuring the regular running of an engine, and as I have never known one wear out, they must be durable. I hope to see the time when Railway Companies will generally use your watches, for they are to all engineers and conductors. In my opinion they would greatly tend to promote regularity and safety. Yours, respectfully, CHAS. WILSON, Chief Engineer, Brother-in-law of the American Watch Co., Waltham, Mass.

We now make five different grades of watches, named respectively as follows: Appleton, Tracy & Co., Waltham, Mass. Waltham Watch Co., Waltham, Mass. P. S. Bartlett, Waltham, Mass. Wm. Elbery, Boston, Mass. Long Watch Company, Boston, Mass.

All of these, with the exception of the Home Watch Company, are warranted by the American Watch Company to be of the best material, on the most approved improved principle, and to possess every requisite for a reliable time-keeper. Every dealer selling these watches is provided with the Company's printed card, of guarantee, which contains an accurate and full description, so that buyers may feel sure that they are purchasing the genuine article. There are numerous counterfeiters and imitations of our watches sold throughout the country, and we would caution purchasers to be on their guard against imposition.

Any grades of Waltham Watches may be purchased of watch dealers. Testimonials can be obtained on application from many persons in Canada who have worn the watches with the greatest satisfaction.

RUSSELL WATCH! A FEW REASONS THAT MAKE IT SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

1st—It proves itself a reliable time-keeper beyond all question. 2nd—The RUSSELL WATCH being made on correct and scientific principles, it must follow as a natural consequence that it will keep time. 3rd—Each part of which the RUSSELL WATCH is composed is a reflex of the perfect machine which, under skilful direction, it is produced. 4th—Truth is the essential of each part. 5th—Uniformity and conformity must therefore characterize the several parts in fulfilling the purpose for which they are made and brought together. 6th—Reproduction, as regards watch work, is simply an application of the principle that "things which are equal to the same things are equal to one another," and if there is any merit, the RUSSELL WATCH possesses that merit to a demonstration. 7th—The greatest variety of price, quality and size, that confidence and perfection will admit, afforded by the RUSSELL WATCH. 8th—The RUSSELL WATCH stands pre-eminently above all competitors for public favor and patronage. 9th—Proofs of the foregoing—the universal testimony of all Watchmakers who have sold, and the positive statements of the thousands in Europe, the United States and Canada, who have worn the RUSSELL WATCH.

To Robert Cuthbert, Watchmaker, Wyndham Street, Guelph.

If Society was as perfect in its organization, and was as obedient to the dictates of truth as the RUSSELL WATCH I bought from you is in indicating time, evil would be swallowed up in good, and happiness would become monotonous. G. RENNIE, Guelph.

IMPORTANT! ROBERT CUTHBERT, WATCHMAKER, WYNDHAM-ST., GUELPH. has always on hand a large variety of the celebrated RUSSELL WATCHES. His stock of Clocks, Jewellery and Fancy Goods will be found equally large and attractive. Guelph, 20th July, 1867. dw-1f

VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY For Sale or to Exchange.

THE undersigned offers for sale, or to exchange for Real Estate in the Town of Guelph, the undivided interest in property, viz: First—A valuable improved Farm North of the Durham Road, in the Township of Bentinck, three miles from the Village of Durham, containing about 200 acres, of which about 100 acres are cleared and under fence. On the premises are a substantial Frame Dwelling House with good cellar, garden and well, with pump of excellent water. Also, a Frame Barn 60 x 30, with 18 feet posts and underground stabling, and a never-failing spring in the barn yard for the supply of water to cattle. This is a very eligible property, and well worthy the attention of those who wish to obtain a good farm.

Also—Lot 42, in the 3rd Concession of Bentinck, West of the Garafraxa Road, 100 acres, about 12 acres cleared, with a Frame House on the Lot—The Rocky Saugeen River crosses one corner of this Lot, and has a valuable water power on it, capable of driving any machinery.

Also—Lot 25, in the 1st Concession, South of the Durham Road, three miles from the Village of Pricewille, in the Township of Armetia. There are about 25 acres cleared and fenced on this lot, with a good new Log House. The above lands are well situated and timbered with the best kind of hard wood timber, with indisputable titles—the last two being direct grants from the Crown.

For further particulars, &c., apply to the proprietor. JOHN KAY, Brass Founder and Fitter, Upper Wyndham Street, Guelph. (d-1f) Guelph, 5th September, 1867.
