Patriotic Service

The service in the Methodist Church last Sunday evening was very largely attended and proved to be of real interest and profit to all present. The special feature of interest was the unveiling of the Roll of Honor presented by the Utopia Bible Class to the church, and bearing the names of 26 soldiers and two nursing sisters, who had been members of the Methodist Sunday School in Watford. There are some more names to be added.

The unveiling was done by Miss F. Lovell and Miss Moore who performed their parts with becoming grace. Dr. Hicks and Mr. S. Stapleford made brief but grateful acknowledgements of the gift in appropriate addresses.

Perhaps the most touching part of the service was the announcement of the name of James Macklin Hagle by the pastor who related some of the incidents concerning his enlistment, service and tragic death at the battle of the Somme on or about Oct. 8th, 1916, and then asked the congregation in memory of the deceased to sing "Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep."

The main address was given by Rev. Mr. Tiffin, on the "Flag Our National Emblem." Mr. Tiffin spoke with much fervor and roused the patriotic sentiments of the large audience to a marked degree. The singing of appropriate hymns and patriotic choruses added much to the interest of the service.

Glenn Nichol Receives Medal for Bravery

John B. Nichol of Sarnia received last week from the military authorities in England a silver medal awarded his son Sergt. Glenn Nichol for "Bravery in the Field" which was sent home for safe keeping. The medal, mounted on striped ribbon, shows the head of King George surrounded by a wreath of laurel and surmounted by the royal crest and the Latin inscription as seen on British coins and on the obverse side the words "For Bravery in the Field." We learn that the honor was conferred last June.

Glenn seems to have borne a charmed life thus far. He enlisted with the first Contingent for overseas in 1914. At the time of enlisting he was engaged on the staff of the Guide-Advocate. His many Watford friends will be glad to hear that he is giving a good account of himself at the front. He with all others of the first contingent have well earned a furlough.

Necessary Farm Equipment

MORE and more the Ford car is looked upon by progressive farmers as necessary farm equipment, the same as the plow, the hay-rake, the drill, the mower, the harrow and other labor and time-saving machinery.

A farmer with a Ford car can dispense with one or two of his horses and make the trips to town, railway station, creamery, or to the neighbours in one-third the time. In fact there is no farm machine made that will save the busy farmer and his busy wife so much valuable time as a Ford. And it's so easy to take care of—far easier than a horse. No bed to make, or hay and oats to get, no harnessing and unharnessing, and no stables to clean. The Ford practically takes care of itself.

Ask any farmer who owns a Ford if he would ever again try to get along without it. His answer will hasten your decision to own one.

LEARN TO SAVE MONEY.

Banking Merely a Dollar a Week is a Good Investment.

"It is mighty hard," said an unfortunate workman some time ago to the writer, "to save up a thousand dollars by laying aside a dollar or two a week and then to take it out of the savings bank and lose it to a get rich quick swindler, as I have just done."

The poor fellow could work and save, but he had not had even a kindergarten education in finance, else his story would have been different. He had never given a thought to interest and so was absolutely ignorant of growth through compound interest and, of course, had never heard of that wonderful process of accumulation known as "progressive compound interest."

One dollar deposited in a savings bank that pays 4 per cent will amount to $2.19 in twenty years. This is simple compound interest. Now, if you deposit $1 every year for twenty years, or $20 in all, the sum to your credit will have grown to $30.97.

Any wage earner can put by $1 a week. That money deposited in a savings bank for twenty years will have increased to $1,612. A deposit of $5 a week will have grown to $3,000, and this at 4 per cent will be $320 a year. There is no secret, no mystery, about this. It is as clear as the cloudless sun, and the method is just as clean and honest.

HOW THINGS DO CHANGE!

Modern Improvements in the Lifetime of One Observer.

In the American Magazine Irvin S. Cobb has an article entitled "Looking Both Ways From Forty," in which he says:

"I've seen the Kansas cyclone find a worthy successor in Billy Sunday. I was present on the spot, so to speak, when the audible celluloid cuff, E. P. Roe, the pug dog, the congress garter, the hammer gun, the safety bicycle, the mustache cup, parchest, the catcher who took 'em off the bat with his bare hands, the peach kernel watch charm, the pousee cafe, the operation for deborning the human appendix and the Dowie movement gave way, inch by inch, to the spitball, the automatic ejection, the rest cure, the cold storage egg, Henry Ford, the cabaret, Orville and Wilbur Wright, eat-and-grow-thin, pay-and-grow-thinner, rural free delivery, the imported Scotch niblick, Ellen Glyn, middling meat at 42 cents a pound and stewed prunes at 4 bits a portion in any first class restaurant."

"And if I have luck I shall no doubt be an eyewitness to the fading away of these things into the background of the past and the oncoming of yet more timely evidences of the onward and upward march of progress, following along, one behind the other, in a mighty procession."

Warding Off Old Age.

A famous French general when asked how it was that he had such an erect carriage replied that it was because he bent over and touched the floor with his fingers thirty times every day. If he had acquired rigidity of the spine so that he could not do that he would have had with it weak abdominal muscles, which result in portal congestion. This portal congestion interferes with stomach digestion and with the action of the liver. The poison destroying power of the liver is lessened, auto-intoxication results, and arteriosclerosis and old age come on at a much earlier day. But by keeping the spine flexible and the abdominal muscles strong and taut the portal circulation is kept free and old age is held off.

Kid Gloves and Paper Collars.

The Twelfth corps of the Army of the Potomac was named "kid gloves and paper collars" by the Fourteenth corps of the Western army, owing to the West Point discipline of the Twelfth corps, which was the natural result of having been commanded first by Mansfield and then by Slocum, with as subordinate commanders such men as Williams, Hamilton, Gordon, Ruger, Andrews, Hawley and others. —Magazine of American History.

Mats For Potted Plants.

Leftover pieces of oilcloth or linoleum can be cut any shape or size and by being painted or varnished make excellent mats for potted plants and flowers. They can be painted any desired color and are easily cleaned by wiping with a damp cloth. These mats prevent the porch or stand from being scratched or stained by the pots.

Absinth.

Absinth, the most harmful and even fatal intoxicant, is made from a blue-green oil that is obtained from artemisia absinthium, a member of the worm-wood family. Several less harmful species of artemisia grow throughout California.

Kept Her Word.

Polly—Mrs. Dabaway used to say she wouldn't marry the best man living. Dolly—Well, she has the satisfaction of knowing she didn't.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 769 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGES A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundly St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KESSLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

A Simple and Cheap Medicine.

A simple, cheap and effective medicine is something to be desired. There is no medicine so effective a regulator of the digestive system as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple, they are cheap, they can be got anywhere, and their beneficial results will prove their recommendation. They are the medicine of the poor man and those who wish to escape doctor's bills will do well in giving them a trial.

Some people appreciate beautiful things, but most people merely care for ornaments.

READY, our display of Christmas towels.—SWIFT'S.

SOMEBODY ought to take a big stick and get after the writer who dates his letters by using a number to designate the month. The busy businessman has worries enough without having to solve, after numbering the months on his fingers, whether 11-10-17 means November 10, 1917, or 11 October, 1917. It wouldn't be so bad if everybody observed a uniform system of giving first the number of the day of the month, then the number of the month and the year—but they don't. Abbreviations are never in good taste, and the funny thing is they are used mostly by people who are not overly busy.

 A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McLean, Lake View Farm, on Wednesday, October 17th, when their second daughter Iva Pearl, was united in marriage to William Orville Edwards, of Wikie, Sask., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edwards, Warwick. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jas. Smith in the presence of the relatives. The bride looked charming in a dress of shadow lace and white satin. The bride was assisted by her sister Ethel while Mr. Bert Holmwood, of Wikie, filled the position as groomsmen. The presents were beautiful and costly including a cheque from the groom's father. The happy couple left on the evening train for their new home in Wikie amid showers of rice and good wishes.—From Bigger Independent.

What Will Canada's Answer Be?

OVER in the sodden trenches amid the bursting shells and the roar of artillery where Canada's boys are fighting and dying.

—they are waiting for Canada's answer when the sale of Victory Bonds begins.

CANADA'S soldiers expect that we at home will put up the millions they need to keep on fighting, —the millions they must have to win Victory for freedom, home and Canada.

What answer will Canada make? What answer will you make?

Shall it be said that Canada spares not her sons from the sacrifice of battle, yet withholds her dollars to give them victory?

Rather will it be said that Canada once more, for the fourth time in three years, cheerfully puts up her millions upon millions for the cause of freedom, righteousness and justice.

Canada's answer must be,

—that the Canadian hand to the plow of Victory holds steadfast and firm.

—that Canada is in deadly earnest when she says the "last man and the last dollar."

That is the answer Canada will give to our boys in the trenches, our kinsmen in Britain, and our Allies everywhere.

That is the answer we will give to the Huns who thought and said that Canada would desert the Empire before she would fight or pay.

Every bond you buy is an answer. Let the millions of answers from Canada's loyal men and women make a chorus of Victory to ring around the world.

A Blank Marriage Certificate

It Turned Up a Valid One After Twenty Years

By F. A. Mitchel

Every day the readers of fiction demand more and more stories illustrating what is happening among them. Improbable happenings are taboed. Nevertheless stories written many years ago, based on what was then a more or less common occurrence, are still read. The novel "Jane Eyre," by Charlotte Bronte, is one of these favorites.

This story is based on a mock marriage. A century ago British swells seemed to have no conscience in preying upon women. Mock marriages were by no means uncommon. But today we never hear of a mock marriage. This is due largely to a change in the times. Formerly formal certificates were required in marriage. Now any man and woman can acknowledge before witnesses that they are man and wife and the law recognizes the marriage.

During the early part of the nineteenth century there was a noted case of mock marriage between a British nobleman and an American girl. In those days America was a new country, and Englishmen who came over here were prone to look down on Americans. Nevertheless there were descendants, in the eastern states especially, of the younger sons of foreign noblemen, who settled on the American coast when the country was being occupied from abroad, dispossessing the Indians.

Edith Van Wyck, whose progenitor, Hulleger Van Wyck, came from Holland, where Philip II, of Spain was persecuting the Protestants, was a comely young woman, in excellent standing socially in New York. Lord John Turnbull, a son of the Duke of Averton, visited America, met Miss Van Wyck and fell in love with her. He did not consider a marriage with one who had neither fortune nor title, but, desiring to possess her, resorted to a device which was common at the time—that is, he married her, prearranging that she should not be able to prove herself a legal wife.

In those days the elite of New York lived on the southern extremity of Manhattan Island, the Van Wycks' home fronting on the Battery. Young Lord John courted Edith in the space surrounding the fort that gave the name to its location, for it was called the Battery from the guns mounted on it. He was a charming man in every thing except morality, and the young lady fell an easy victim to his wiles.

When they were married the groom handed the officiating clergyman a pen, which he dipped into a gold ink horn that bore the crest of his family, saying that for generations marriage certificates of members of his family had been written with ink from this ink-horn. No one thought to ask why the young lord had brought such a relic to America. There was not the slightest doubt that he was acting in good faith.

Lord John remained in America three months after his marriage, when he returned to England without his wife. He told her that there would be great objection on the part of his family to his marriage with an American commoner and he must prepare them for the event. Unless he could win his mother over to his side and through her influence his father the latter, who owned a large, unentailed fortune, would disinherit him.

Edith consented to his departing without her, he promising to return to her as soon as he obtained his father's consent to receive her. He set sail in a British ship, and his young wife tearfully watched the vessel from her window as it sailed down the bay.

A month was required to make a voyage to England in those days, and when another month had been added to the first Edith began to look for a letter from her husband. A month more passed and no letter came. Several more passed and still no word from her husband. At last the poor woman began to realize that she was deserted. She believed that her husband had failed to win his father's consent to his marriage and had concluded not to announce it; but, being married to him, she hoped that at some future day she would be acknowledged as his wife.

Meanwhile the Duke of Averton died, and his son, John Turnbull, inherited the title. Then, since his record seemed all right, he was considered a great catch by young women of the nobility.

One day Edith received a shock that brightened her life. A London paper came to America in which there was an announcement of the marriage of her husband to Lady Gladys Armstrong, daughter of the Duke of Milford. That her husband had deserted her was a blow; that he had committed bigamy was crushing.

 Her family, not being willing to submit to such treatment, took up the case, intending to prosecute Lord Averton for bigamy. The attorney they employed called for the marriage certificate. Edith took it out of a desk in which it had lain since the marriage and before turning it over to her father looked at it. What was her astonishment, her horror, to see that the paper on which it had been written was a blank!

The poor woman then knew that she had been tricked. She delayed turning the paper over or saying anything about it till she had time to think. A little boy had been born to her, and she dreaded the fact of his standing being known to the world. After deliberation she put the paper back where it had been before removal and refused to produce it, saying that she would not consent to a prosecution of Lord John. She resumed her maiden name and brought up her son as Francis Van Wyck.

II.

Twenty years later a young man stepped into a solicitor's office in London and requested him to demand of the Duke of Averton £20,000. When asked his name and why he made such a demand the stranger declined at present to give either. The solicitor declined to take the case, but when the client said that the amount was demanded for the support of a woman the duke had wronged many years before he consented.

Averton winced at the demand, but put on a bold face. He pronounced the case one of blackmail and declined to consider it. When the matter was announced in the newspapers he and his family gave out that the duke, as Lord John, had shown some attention to an American girl he had met in the United States. After a lapse of years she had concluded to claim that he had married her. There was nothing in it.

The case, notwithstanding this statement, excited a good deal of attention in London society, not because that society looked down with scorn upon the betrayal of women by their aristocracy—for in those days the British people regarded the peccadilloes of the nobility with far more leniency than today—but because there was a fear that the family occupying the title and the property might be dispossessed through some unfortunate marriage of the duke when he was sowing his wild oats. When the case came to be tried quite a number of the British aristocracy were present in court.

"We are prepared to prove," said the plaintiff's solicitor, "that about twenty-two years ago, when the Duke of Averton was in America, he married Edith Van Wyck of New York and lived with her as her husband several months, when he deserted her. The couple were married by the Rev. Thomas MacLaren in St. Mark's church, on a street called the Bowery. The officiating clergyman is now dead, but we will furnish a certificate that he was rector of the church at the time of the wedding. We shall also furnish the certificate of marriage written by said MacLaren."

The attorney held up a bit of blank paper. The defendant, who was in court, looked at it with evident solicitous interest.

Stepping to a table, the lawyer placed the paper under a microscope and said to the judge:

"Your honor, I desire you to examine this paper and give a ruling on it. Is it or is it not a valid certificate of marriage?"

The judge stepped down from the bench and critically examined the paper by means of the microscope. He saw indentations made with a pen constituting a certificate of marriage between Lord John Turnbull and Edith Van Wyck and signed by Thomas MacLaren. After the examination the judge returned to the bench. The lawyer continued:

"We claim that when the marriage certificate was made out the clergyman was handed an ink horn and a pen by the groom, who stated that marriage certificates had for hundreds of years been written in ink from the said ink horn. The clergyman therefore made out the certificate with ink taken from said ink horn. We claim that the plaintiff had filled the ink horn with ink that after a short period became invisible.

"I have also a certificate from a prominent London scientist that iodine combined with starch, called iodide of starch, will produce an ink that will in a short time entirely fade away. We charge the Duke of Averton at that time with procuring the writing of the certificate with iodide of starch, which will fade and cannot be reproduced. I therefore ask your honor to accept these pen indentations as a certificate of marriage between the defendant and the plaintiff."

While this address was being spoken Averton turned ghastly pale.
 The judge took time for consideration, then ruled that the certificate was a valid document.

Each member of the jury was given an opportunity to examine the paper through a microscope. The foreman read aloud a certificate given by the officiating clergyman that he had married Edith Van Wyck and John Turnbull in the city of New York on a certain date. The reading was effected by the pen indentations on the paper. After all had seen it the judge instructed the jury to accept it as valid testimony.

That settled the case in favor of Edith Van Wyck, Duchess of Averton. She was adjudged such by the court, which made the duke a bigamist and his London family illegitimate.

The young man who prosecuted the case was the son of the defendant. As soon as he had won a verdict in his mother's favor he entered upon negotiations for the payment by the duke of an annuity to his mother, and the case was thus settled. The Duke of Averton was never brought to trial for bigamy owing to his influence with the British cabinet.

His son returned to America, where he continued to live under the name of Van Wyck and became an eminent jurist in New York. His mother after her vindication returned to her social position and became a leader. She died during the war days of 1863.
 Since then there has been a notable change in the depredations of the young bloods upon the weaker sex. Mock marriages are no longer perpetrated.

Externally or Internally, It is Good.—When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissues as few liniments do, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will cure affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

WHY WOMEN CANNOT SLEEP."

The highly organized, finely strung nervous system of women subjects them to terrors of nervous apprehension which no man can ever appreciate.

The peace of mind, the mental poise and calmness under difficulties, which are necessary for happy womanhood, are only possible when the sensitive organism is in a perfectly healthy condition. If there be any derangement in this respect no remedy in the world so completely restores womanly health as the wonderful "Favorite Prescription" invented by Dr. E. V. Pierce.

Chatham, Ont.—"A few years ago I suffered a general break-down and got very weak and thin. I was in an awful state. I was very much discouraged and at times thought I would lose my mind. I knew of Dr. Pierce's medicines so I got his 'Favorite Prescription.' It gave me immediate relief, and completely cured me in a very short time. My sister used it with good results also. She was in a very delicate condition. I got her to take it and two bottles cured her completely.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's medicines; they are all that is recommended of them."—Mrs. MARGARET BRYANT, 87 Park Ave., Chatham, Ont.

Chatham, Ont.—"A few years ago I had a general break-down and got weak and thin. I was in an awful state. I was very much discouraged and I thought I would lose my mind. I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines so I got a great relief, and completely cured in a very short time. My sister used them with good results also. She was in a delicate condition. I got her to take two bottles cured her completely."

LEONARDO'S STYLE OF ART.

"Mona Lisa" is No Mystery, According to Kenyon Cox.

Leonardo da Vinci was a tireless student of all kinds of natural phenomena, and of many things he had learned a great deal that has been rediscovered only in our own time. Among other things, as his notebooks prove, he had studied effects of transmitted and reflected light, understood the difference between diffused daylight and sunlight with its crisp edged shadows, saw the blue shadow which has been introduced into modern painting by the impressionists and knew the reason of it.

He attempted none of these things in painting, and he tells us why. These things, he says, after a long description of the effects of sunlight upon foliage—of the color of the sky in the high lights, of the yellow light where the sun shines through the leaf and the interruption of this light where the shadow of one leaf falls upon another—these things should not be painted "because they confuse the form."

The Florentine ideal in art was the utmost realization of form. Leonardo was a true Florentine, and he introduced into painting just so much of light and shade as should assist in this realization, no more. It is his use of modeling that is his most personal contribution to art.

Much rhapsodical nonsense has been written about the "Mona Lisa" and her enigmatic smile, and there have been endless speculations as to her character and the meaning of her expression. It is all beside the mark. The truth is that the "Mona Lisa" is a study of modeling, little more. Leonardo had discovered that the expression of smiling is much more a matter of the modeling of the cheek and of the forms below the eye than of the change in the line of the lips. It interested him, with his new power of modeling, to produce a smile wholly by these delicate changes of surface, hence the mysterious expression.

Poets may find "La Gioconda" a vampire or what not. To artists with a sense of form her portrait will always be a masterpiece because it is one of the subtlest and most exquisite pieces of modeling in existence.

Our Government.
 We customarily speak of this republic as a new nation, although our senate has been in continuous existence as a legislative body since 1789. How many nations have maintained unchanged a system of government for a longer period? What a distinction it would be—for a republic—to present the oldest structure of government on earth, and we are well in the forefront of that race now. Look over the nations and see.

 Patient—Doctor, I'm having an awful lot of trouble with the gas in my stomach. Doctor—Yes, yes; I know. Those old fashioned fixtures are giving people a lot of unnecessary trouble these days. Just step into the next room, and I'll have my engineer wire you for electric lights.

FLAG OF THE MINUTEMEN.

The Banner Under Which the "Embattled Farmers" Fought.

Under what flag did the "embattled farmers" fight? There was no national flag then, no state or provincial flag even. But, says Peleg D. Harrison in "The Stars and Stripes and Other American Flags," there was a flag there nevertheless.

The farmers of Lexington carried the cornet or standard of the Three County troop. That banner was designed for a local company of cavalry raised in the counties of Essex, Suffolk and Middlesex, Mass., in 1659. The office of color bearer of this troop was a kind of inheritance in the Page family. The standard was carried in King Philip's war in 1676. When the minutemen were organized Nathaniel Page 3d of Bedford carried the old flag to the drills. At the midnight alarm Captain Page snatched up the standard and carried it with him to Concord, where it "waved above the smoke of that battle."

The flag is now preserved under glass in a fireproof safe of the Public library at Bedford, Mass., and can be seen by arrangement with the librarian. The ground is crimson colored satin damask emblazoned with an outstretched arm, in the hand of which is an uplifted sword. This representation is the color of silver, as are three circular figures that are probably intended to represent cannon balls. Upon a gold colored scroll are the words "Vince aut Moriture" (Conquer or Die). The flag is about two feet long by one foot six inches wide.

Opportunities.
 Thomas A. Edison said at a birthday dinner:

"What nonsense to declare that the trusts have gobbled up all the opportunities! Why, there are more opportunities than ever there were, but most of us are stupid and lazy and we don't grasp our opportunities. The successful man not only makes hay while the sun shines—he makes it from the grass that other people let grow under their feet."—Exchange.

WAR VETERAN SAYS:

"I have served in the British Army for 14 years, in South Africa, India and France. In my occupation of shoeing-smith I have met with a great many accidents, for which I have used various remedies, but never have I used anything that can begin to compare with Zam-Buk. As a healer and preventive of blood-poisoning Zam-Buk is in a class by itself. Every soldier should carry a box of it in his pocket."

The above is an extract from a letter received from S. McIlwraith, of the 2nd Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

For the many injuries incidental to a soldier's life Zam-Buk is certainly invaluable. Nothingsoquickly ends pain in a cut, a burn or a sprain, and for chapped hands, cold sores, chilblains and blistered feet it cannot be equalled. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

A Great Drawing Team

By Augustus Bridle
A good drawing team is just as much of a joy to the man that owns it as it used to be in the bush-log days. We talk a good deal—some of us—about the great horse we used to handle the ribbons over in the bush, lifting out great loads of elm logs, sometimes 1,500 feet or 2,000, sometimes more according to the man who is telling it, from the stump to the skidroad and the concession line. Certainly some of those teams could draw; and surely some of their drivers did use to be able to talk about it. But there are more good average hauling teams in the country than there were in the bush days. Farmers have gone in for specializing on draughts and roadsters, because they understand that a poor team is bad economy when work is to be done in a hurry. Getting stuck with a load in the field is a dead waste of time and temper. We used to be stuck often in the old days with some of those poor teams picked up any old way at an auction sale. But a good span of Clydes or Percherons nowadays is a real piece of insurance against wasting time with stuck loads. The only thing that happens in that line with such horses is a broken harness or a snapped doubletree. Of course a good deal depended on the driver as it does now. One of the best drawing teams ever known in an Ontario county would pull like a tractor engine for the boss, but when it came to the hired man they see-sawed and jumped in the collar like a pair of balky Texas steers. When the boss pulled the lines over them and yelled, "Git down together"—they got down, those Bob Hunters, and lifted the load—heavens, how they could lift it! No matter what the load was, grain, or logs, or gravel; it came out of the hole on to the high-road, just by the simple knack of getting down together. Just now the greatest hauling team ever known in Canada are engaged in lifting the biggest load that a team ever stood in front of. The load is, $150,000,000 of Canadian Victory Bonds.

That's a tremendous load. The load is there all right. Canada has the money; twice as much, ready to pile up for victory. It's a matter of lifting the load. It's a matter of what team is to do it, and who will be the driver. What's the best team for this job? The Canadian Farmer and the Government of Canada. If those two can't lift a great part of that load, you might as well leave it alone. Who is the driver? A great boss named Victory. Victory. VICTORY!

The Price of Hogs
MR. EDITOR :
In reply to an article which appeared in your paper a short time ago in regard to the price paid by me for hogs that week, I will give you a statement of the price of hogs on Toronto and Buffalo markets at that time. The best Toronto was bidding was $16.75 f.o.b. and Buffalo $17.75 fed and watered. On that day I paid $16.80. Up to Tuesday noon the best bid I could get from any of the packers was $16.75 f.o.b. However, on Tuesday evening I sold them to Mathews-Blackwell Co., Toronto, for $17.00—less half of one per cent. I loaded 154 hogs, the bank paid out $5,784.42, and I received in return $5,736.05, leaving a net loss to me of $48.37 for that particular lot of hogs which were bought so cheap. I still have those telegrams and bills in my possession, which any of those who were dissatisfied can come to me and inspect. In regard to the Kerwood buyers, they had their hogs sold at the week-before prices, and stated to some of the farmers that they could not have paid the high price only for that reason. The Forest buyer told me that he paid $17.75 expecting to get the former Buffalo price, which he failed to do. Chicago market dropped $3.00 per cwt., which sent all the other markets down. I advised several whom I met after I found out that the Kerwood people had their hogs sold at the week-before's prices to take their hogs to them. W. W. EDWARDS.

ling. His best work was possible done in hockey; for while he did not make the first team, he had the earmarks of a first-class forward. In temperament he was reserved and of most agreeable disposition. Little did those who knew him think, in the summer of 1916 that he would meet his death fighting in Flanders.

RHEUMATISM CURED

In the days of our fathers and grandfathers rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism, as well as many young people. Medical science did not understand the trouble—did not know that it was rooted in the blood. It was thought that rheumatism was the mere effect of exposure to cold and damp, and was treated with liniments and hot applications, which sometimes gave temporary relief, but did not cure the trouble. In those days there were thousands of rheumatic cripples. Now, medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and that with good, rich, red blood any man or woman of any age can defy rheumatism. It can be cured by killing the poison in the blood which causes it. There are many elderly people who have never felt a twinge of rheumatism, and many who have conquered it by simply keeping their blood rich and pure. The blood-making, blood-enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the more general use of these pills that has robbed rheumatism of its terrors. At the first sign of poor blood, which is shown by loss of appetite, palpitation, dull skin and dim eyes, protect yourself against the further ravages of disease by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have cured thousands of people—if you give them a fair trial they will not disappoint you. You can get the pills through any dealers in medicine or by mail at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BIRTH OF A NATION

At the Lyceum Monday next, Matinee and Evening
The magnitude of David W. Griffith's feat in staging "The Birth of a Nation," is almost appalling—at least to the devotees of the older forms of theatrical entertainment. Where now are the little groups of actors, the pinchbeck scenery and the petty properties of the so-called "legitimate" drama? By comparison with the new art, the "legitimate" measures to the mountain like a molehill. Instead of scenery for his background, Griffith has used Nature. For subject he has covered 150 years of American history. Eighteen thousand people have done his bidding and in the hair-raising rides of the KuKlux Klan three thousand riders and horses sweep over the dusty roads. No wonder that this magnificent historical spectacle is the talk of the country. It has established an entirely new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacle with a musical score perfectly synchronized to the action. Corp. K. Metcalf of the 13th line of Enniskillen has been reported wounded.

CLARENCE GIBSON KILLED FIGHTING IN FLANDERS

Son of Major Gibson Meets His Death in Recent Battles
(Moose Jaw News, Nov. 5)
Pte. Clarence Gibson, son of Major Dr. Gibson, 202 Athabasca street east, was killed recently in action in Flanders. Word to this effect was received by his parents yesterday. He was evidently in the severe fighting around Passchendaele ridge. It was his first time in the trenches. Deceased was 21 years of age, was born at Watford, Ont., and came to the city six years ago. He was very prominent in athletic circles and, before enlisting, was a clerk in the Railway Mail Service office. He went overseas with Lieut.-Col. Pickett's battalion and was subsequently transferred to the 46th. Clarence Gibson, familiarly called "Doc" by the boys, after his father, was one of the best known youths of his age in the city. He had his father's strong love of athletics, and, although not naturally the most rugged of physique was really one of the best all-round local athletes of his age. He played lacrosse, rugby, hockey, and also did a little cur-
