

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

FLORENCE LAWRENCE, IMPERIAL TOMORROW

Famous Star Returns to Screen in Splendid Story by Jacques Futrelle

At the Imperial tonight the spectacular production of "The Heart of Maryland," featuring Mrs. Leslie Carter, will receive the final presentation. Tomorrow a brand new programme will grace the Imperial's screen. The special feature for this mid-week will mark a return to the Keith curtain of that well-known favorite, Florence Lawrence, who a few years ago was the best-known actress appearing before the camera. Miss Lawrence has been retired for a number of years and her appearance in the Bluebird five-part story, "Elsie Isabel," will be of much interest to picture lovers. "Elsie Isabel" is a secret service official playing between English and American circles, also in the creation of that master-story writer, Jacques Futrelle. It is an extraordinary screen offering and has elicited much favorable comment from officials and others who viewed it in private a few days ago. Wednesday's programme at the Imperial will also include a splendid one-act weekly, which among other subjects will show Red Cross nurses at the Italian front, Zepplins over England, Ruth Law, the dare-devil woman, New York cops joining the army, celebration at Yale, canals in war, etc. The vaudeville offering this week is a breezy bit of picture, good songs and some violin playing. The performers are Force and Williams, who are well-known in the vaudeville houses of America.

THE GEM

See the programme at the Gem tonight and you'll surely enjoy it. Six reel dramatic story, "Judge Not," featuring Julia Dean of Broadway and see show comedy, "A Dip in the Water."

Mr. Carey expressed satisfaction with the success of the department in improving the grading and packing of fruit. An interesting tendency was the great increase in the number of apples packed in boxes for home consumption as well as for export.

THE WAR NEWS

The war situation has developed some new phases. The Rumanians and Russians are now reported to have halted in Dobruja, and instead of retreating farther have assumed the offensive. They are also holding their own in Transylvania. If they can hold the enemy in check a little longer, the latter will not be able to over-run Rumania this winter, and the spring will see the whole situation more favorable for the Allies.

The torpedoing of a steamer with Americans on board has roused new interest in Washington, and may lead to more severely strained relations. Greece is roused against Germany by the destruction of a Greek steamer. Germany's submarine activity has already aroused bitter feelings in Norway, and seems likely to alienate still more the neutral nations.

On the Somme front the French have gained some trenches and have temporarily lost some, while the British have conducted some successful raids and are keeping up their deadly pressure against the enemy's front.

Mr. Curran, the Boston writer who has been writing a series of sensational articles on conditions in Germany is mentioned usually as "Curran" in today's edition that British interests are behind a great German bank, and that Germany has powerful friends in Montreal. It may be taken for granted that this statement will be promptly denied.

President Wilson denied that there was any postscript weakening the force of his Lusitania note to Germany. As American Consul Frost, who investigated the Lusitania affair, now reports that the Lusitania was torpedoed without warning and had Americans on board, the president will apparently have an opportunity to prove that he meant what he said.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING People naturally ask why the price of rubber has not advanced in proportion to the price of other footwear. The answer is both illuminating and suggestive. The British government controls the great bulk of the world's output of raw rubber, and the British government after the war began fixed the price of the raw material. This cuts out the speculator and keeps down the price. Of course labor costs more, and some articles entering into the manufacture of rubber goods have advanced, and this has caused some advance; but there has been no such sky-rocketing as in the case of products where the speculator has had an opportunity to get rich by the manipulation of markets and prices.

ity, the net result being a lowering of the standard of intelligence in the community. The Times on Saturday printed a strong article from the New York Medical Journal on the subject of segregating mental defectives. Not only should we have medical inspection in the schools, but such a mental examination as would determine the feeble-minded, and these should be segregated and given special instruction suited to their capacity and needs. Schools for the mentally deficient are provided in American cities. The province of Ontario has made a beginning. Quite remarkable results are obtained in some of these schools, where the teachers are especially gifted and the individual training given is suited to the capacity of each pupil. When will the people of these provinces rouse themselves to a right sense of their duty—not merely to the mentally deficient—but to their own children and the community at large? This is a community problem. The lower the general standard of intelligence the heavier the burdens to be borne; and the less attention is paid to the children the larger will be the proportion of defectives as time goes on. The bugbear of taxation rises whenever a practical movement for child-betterment is proposed. In other words, we are too much slaves of selfishness and indifference, and too short-sighted to realize that in justice to our own children we should endeavor to elevate the whole fabric of child-life. An excellent beginning would be medical inspection of the schools, provision for special training for the mentally deficient, and the segregation of those who ought not to be permitted to marry and rear children. When the improvement of the human breed becomes of as much importance in the public mind as the matter of dogs and horses and hens, the matter of expense will not be considered.

AVAST THERE, COMMODORE Commodore Stewart of the Chatham Water is vexed. He is even disappointed, and the voice of his complaining is heard all along the lovely waters of the Miramichi. His mental perturbation is due to a recent paragraph in the Times, which said:— "Worse than the violation of a prohibitory law is the employment of boys to carry and serve liquor. But it does not appear to be a very serious offence on the Miramichi, where the fine is ten dollars. The Christian folk in that neighborhood should bestir themselves."

Having read this paragraph and dived into the recesses of memory the Commodore sat him down and penned the following fierce enquiries:— "Is there a hotel in St. John where bell boys do not carry liquor from the bar to guest rooms? Why doesn't the Times draw the attention of Christian men and women to St. John hotels instead of calling on the Christian people of the Miramichi?"

What have St. John hotels to do with the liquor trade? The Commodore stands for the law on the Miramichi? Not by a smoky sou'wester. St. John has neither prohibition nor the Scott Act. It is behind Northumberland in this respect. It looks to Northumberland for light and leading and respect for law. When the argument is presented by a Northumberland man that the law should not be enforced, but that thirst should be quenched, law or no law, we are grieved thereat, and hope for a better frame of mind or a nobler thirst in Chatham. When St. John does adopt prohibition, next May, there will be no more serving liquor in hotels by boys or men. When the Commodore comes to town thereafter, he must bring his grog or go without, though it shiver his timbers and shatter his bilge-keel.

Prohibition has proved a great success in Ontario. Quebec is now to be urged to follow the example of the other provinces. With coal at $12 in New York we may soon see it still higher in St. John. The coal has assumed a new and startling importance. Mrs. Kubring and the Women's Canadian Club are alike to be congratulated on her re-election as president. The Club has been doing a most valuable patriotic work along many lines. The Apple Pair is a fine illustration of the fruit growing possibilities of New Brunswick, and the citizens generally should not fail to see the splendid display in St. Andrew's Park. Toronto Star.—The Canadian government is making an inquiry into the high cost of living. The high cost of living is due largely to excessive profits, including those of middlemen who handle food products. All these excessive profits should be taken for the use of the nation, and the consumer relieved of taxation to that extent. Elephants travel from three to four miles an hour, and cannot cover more than fifteen or twenty miles a day with comfort.

LIGHTER VEIN. Some Definitions. A clever writer has written a few definitions of words as follows:— Alcohol—A liquid good for preserving almost anything but secrets. Athlete—A dignified bundle of muscles, unable to split the wood or fetch the coal in. Appendicitis—A modern pain costing about 240 more than the usual stomach ache. "The trouble with you is the same as with Mr. Brown," said the doctor. "He worried and got nervous dyspepsia. He was worrying himself to death about his grocer's bill. Now he is cured." "But how did you cure him?" asked the patient. "I told him to stop worrying, and he has," replied the doctor. "I know," was the sad answer; "I know he has. But I am his grocer."

Why Surgeon Was Called In By Sir Sam (Toronto Star) Surprise is expressed in many quarters that Sir Sam Hughes appointed, as a special inspector of the Canadian overseas hospital and Army Medical Service, such a man as Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, of Toronto, whose report on conditions as he found them is about the most scathing arraignment of any public service ever presented to any government. This report, as published in The Star in the last few days, exposes the entire Canadian hospital and medical service overseas as grossly mismanaged in every way and the most convincing details are given on each point. A contemporary condemned Sir Sam Hughes, as the minister responsible for this overseas service, for having allowed the state of affairs to grow up as is now exposed by his own special inspector, we replied that at least he had a bold holding of a bad situation. The next best thing, we said, to preventing government mismanagement was to remedy it thoroughly. The surprise, however, continues to be expressed on all sides that Sir Sam Hughes appointed the inspector who has so scathingly censured the entire service which Sir Sam set up overseas, and that this slashing condemnation of the whole service did not find its way into the fire or the waste basket, into which the impulsive minister throws so many documents without even glancing at them. There is a reason. The auditor-general was on his way to England. Something had to be done and there was not much time in which to do it. The whole service could not be reformed before the auditor-general got there, but some competent and fearless authority had to be appointed for thorough reforms. The case was desperate; nothing but a serious operation would serve. The Dr. Bruce, eminent surgeon, was called in and the case placed in his hands. He had a free hand and was to be thorough, and he was to be quick about it. He was to be quick because the auditor-general was coming. And was to be thorough for the same reason, because the auditor-general would be examining the suggestions in regard to the lands and called "Kamerad, kamerad!" He is a hard old man, the auditor-general, and he wants to know all about everything. More than that, Sir Sam was especially apprehensive of him. It is not so long ago that, in his zeal for his friend Allison, he flouted the auditor-general contemptuously in public. Sir Sam on that occasion declared that he "was after" the auditor-general and would "get him yet." It would never do, therefore, for the minister to let the auditor-general see his list instead. He preferred the surgeon's knife.

WOOD MAY SUPPLANT LEATHER FOR FOOTWEAR Sabots Likely to Be Substitute For Shoes; High Prices for Hides the Cause Boston, Mass., Oct. 30.—"The clang of the wooden shoe" may soon be heard throughout the land. A new market for American lumber that will consume many millions of feet may soon develop if the embargoed nations of Europe continue to snarl and tear at one another's throats. This is the suggestion made by shoe and leather men of New England, the real center of the American shoe industry, who say that skins and hides have now become so scarce that wooden shoes are likely to be the only solution of the problem. Several woodworking factories already have placed wooden shoes on the market and they are being worn in Hoboken, it was explained, and also in the privacy of the homes of many Dutch and German, and Danish and Scandinavian colonists who are busy accumulating Yankee dollars. This situation has arisen through the increased consumption of shoes in this country resulting from the general business prosperity and the tremendous exports to Europe of finished footwear made by American manufacturers. The retail price of shoes in this centre of the industry already has increased fully 50 per cent since the outbreak of the war, and dealers say that $6 is likely to be the least cost of a decent pair of shoes before the winter is over. One-half of the leather used in American shoes comes from abroad and one-quarter from Europe itself. Russia has just placed an embargo on leather, holding up $25,000,000 worth of calf-skins alone which had been ordered by American manufacturers. Because of the high cost of preservatives and lack of transportation to carry them to Russia all of these calf-skins are likely to be ruined. A few days ago the British government announced that it had requisitioned all British sole and upper leather for military purposes, and every effort is being made to conserve these supplies for the United Kingdom and its military allies. So the stage is set for a new branch of activity for the trade extension department of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, and now comes forward a Hungarian inventor with a discovery for substituting wood for leather. The captain's invention since his inception to inventing a wood-soled shoe that shall have the virtue of flexibility, and he has just announced that he has solved the problem, the hardest that has confronted wood-soled shoe enthusiasts. The captain's invention is a sole that, instead of being made of one solid piece of wood, is constructed of a number of layers joined together by heavy oils or fats that thicken and grip the layers of wood together. Captain Kohler declares that wooden shoes constructed in this manner have the elasticity of leather soles, and in addition can be made of old and worn material worked over, thus costing but a mere bagatelle when compared to what leather soles cost today.

This Ointment Possesses Power to Heal the Skin Two Cases Which Prove the Extraordinary Healing Power of Dr. Chase's Ointment The use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is wonderfully satisfactory because you can actually see the results accomplished. It is surprising what change can be brought about in a single night by this great healing ointment. Mr. George Beavis, 119 James street, Peterboro, Ont., writes: "As a healing ointment, I consider Dr. Chase's the best obtainable. I had a large running sore on my leg, and although I had tried all the prescriptions of two doctors I was unable to get any relief from the pain or to get the sore healed. One day my druggist handed me a sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I used it with such good results that I decided to give the ointment a fair trial. Altogether I used four boxes, and an ointment to be able to say that the sore on my leg is entirely healed up. Since this experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment I have recommended it to many people."

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe It is quite refreshing these days to read a clearly defined and reasoned exposition of La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet" written by Dr. James H. T. Spence, he says he is convinced that too much medicine is given to influenza and that the fever is present as the chill which occasionally labors in the disease, has practically disappeared. Dr. Bell then orders that the bowel be opened freely with castor oil, and a citrate of magnesia. For the high fever severe headache, pain and general weakness an anti-tetanic tablet every 4 hours is quickly followed by a course of 100 Ask for A-K Tablets. Men From New York Laboratory Accompany Detectives

Blood Tests Important—A Quick Determination of the Nature of Suspicious Stains Saves Hours in Hunt for Assassin

New York, Oct. 31.—Chemistry is becoming an important factor in helping the police to solve murders committed in this city. Commissioner Woods and Fifth Deputy Commissioner Scull decided recently that the use of detective devices would be greatly expedited if, when they first started out to investigate a murder, they could have at their elbow a trained chemist to assist them in making a preliminary examination.

Blood stains often play an important part in tracking down an assassin. A chemist can determine by a quick analysis whether stains are blood or some other substance, and thus save the police loss of time and the danger of being led astray in their investigations.

The aid of Dr. Otto H. Klein, director of the Central Testing Laboratory at 125 Worth street, which is maintained by the city, and Dr. Albert B. Pacini, his assistant, has been enlisted and they are now working in conjunction with the police in criminal cases. The two men are at all hours of the day and night at the call of the police. As soon as the police receive news of a murder the chemists are notified and they hasten to the scene of the crime. They carry small kits containing chemicals, a pocket spectroscope, and a high-power portable microscope. They carry small kits containing chemicals, a pocket spectroscope, and a high-power portable microscope.

In connection with the work of the chemists a special laboratory devoted exclusively to police cases has been opened at the headquarters of the Central Testing Laboratory. Here Dr. Klein and his assistant make an analysis of clothing and other articles brought to them for examination. This laboratory is equipped with the most approved chemical apparatus. There are high power microscopes and a microphotographic apparatus for photographing blood stains.

The Chemical Testing Laboratory employs about eighteen chemists, whose duty it is to analyze the various kinds of supplies purchased by the city. If Dr. Klein wants to determine the fabric in a piece of cloth which has some bearing on the case, he sends it to the laboratory.

The chemists make the most searching investigation of a crime. Dust, bits of hair, wood, metal and other sources of clues are collected. Without loss of time rough tests are applied at the place of the crime. In these investigations of the chemists scrapings from beneath the finger nails have revealed significant fibers of cloth, and a microscopic examination of scrapings from the shoes of a murdered person has often showed that the soles bore dirt from some other locality than that in which the body was found.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914. "For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends." DAN McLEAN.

ing on a murder case he summons the specialist on textiles to his assistance. If he wishes to identify a certain kind of metal, leather or rubber he enlists the services of the chemist who specializes in one of these commodities. The police laboratory is locked and sealed and carefully guarded at all times. It contains, besides chemical apparatus and acids, a collection of gruesome relics such as knives, daggers, hatchets, and other weapons and implements with which persons have been slain.

The laboratory work for the police is divided into departments, and consists in the identification of narcotics and habit-forming drugs, the detection and identification of poisons in bodies in which it supplements but in no way infringes on the work of the coroner's physicians, and in aiding by analysis the detection of crime in general.

The work of the narcotic squad of the laboratory takes up the entire time of three chemists and part of the time of another. Thousands of samples of heroin, cocaine, opium, yen shee, and morphine are analyzed. The chemists, when necessary, appear in court to testify to their findings. Although the laboratory has been working but a short time in conjunction with the detective bureau, it has produced results which are highly satisfactory to police officials.

ENGLISH AS TEA DRINKERS

Why the Custom Has Grown in Few Years

One remarkable feature of English domestic life has been the increase in tea-drinking. In 1876 the consumption of tea per head of the population in the United Kingdom was four and a half pounds. In 1913 it was six and three-quarter pounds. The increase has been all the more rapid from the point of view of the nation's sobriety. It represents a real change in habit.

Formerly it was customary for business men to clinch a bargain over a glass of wine or ale. Now this custom is far more honored in the breach than in the observance. In busy cities tea is the beverage. The clerk, the foreman, the operative, the working woman, all drink tea, greatly to the advantage of health and pocket.

The great increase in the consumption of tea is very largely due to the efforts of British planters in India. Formerly all tea came from China. Fortunately, however, it was discovered that the tea shrub is a native of Assam, one of the Indian provinces. Enterprising Britons started planting in Assam. The present-day Indian planter is a very different individual from the luxurious gentleman of the past.

The planters are men conversant with modern science and use ingenious machinery well adapted to the purpose it serves. Large gardens, carefully planted, are cultivated by experts. After plucking the leaf undergoes many processes. It is withered to condense the sap. It is rolled to squeeze the juice on to the surface. It is oxidized to develop the flavor and aroma. It is fired to dry it. It is packed in clean, lead-lined, airtight chests.

All these processes are performed by clean automatic machinery. Thus the teas from India are pure and free from all contaminating admixture. Coming from healthy, well-natured plants, they contain all the essential elements in rich abundance.

INCREASES PRODUCTION OF WOOD ALCOHOL

Southern Plant Utilizes Method of Forest Products Laboratory and Makes Greater Yield

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30.—One of the largest grain alcohol manufacturing plants in the world has increased its profits $300 a day as a result of cooperative investigations carried on by the plant and a representative of the United States Forest Products Laboratory at Madison. Not only has this large increase in profits been effected, but this is actually the first time that the manufacture of alcohol from wood waste has been made commercially successful.

F. W. Kressmann, a Forest Service chemist, who has just returned to Madison from the Louisiana plant of the company, reports that the increased profit is due to cutting down the operating expenses and increasing the yield. In carrying on the investigation, the data of the Forest Products Laboratory were applied.

The Louisiana plant, which is manufacturing over 4,000 gallons of alcohol a day, makes its entire product out of wood waste. The expert points out that it would be highly profitable for sawmills to go into the manufacture of alcohol by this process since it has now been proved commercially feasible.

Under normal operating conditions most mills, particularly the large ones, produce waste in excess of their own power requirements and in large mills equipped with efficient power plants this excess will be from 30 to 60 per cent of the total produced, says Mr. Kressmann. The disposal of this waste by means of a burner is, therefore, almost invariably necessary. The cost of burning this waste varies widely with the size and efficiency of the mill, but from figures gathered by the Forest Products Laboratory this expense ranges from 30 to 60 cents a cord, or from 11 to 22 cents per 1,000 feet on all of the lumber cut, and means that the present cost of waste disposal amounts to about $6,000,000 annually, in addition to the value of the wood so burned. All waste, therefore, that could be disposed of for the production of alcohol would not only net the sawmills about forty cents a cord but would also relieve them of the charge of burning.

In other words, an operation of this kind in conjunction with the sawmills would add from twenty-two to forty-five cents a thousand to the value of all lumber cut. This applies particularly to mills cutting coniferous species. From work going on at present it seems that the yields from some of the hardwoods will not be so great as those obtained from the coniferous species. Since the war the price of alcohol has gone up from 38 1/2 to 50 per cent and as long as the war continues no appreciable decrease in price seems probable, because of the demand for grain and molasses for other purposes and because of the enormous amounts of alcohol being used. Before the war from 10,000,000 to 11,000,000 gallons of denatured alcohol were being produced annually. This production has now increased to over 30,000,000 gallons.

PROGRESS MADE BY LATEST ALLIED DRIVE ON THE WESTERN FRONT

MORNING WAR CABLES

British troops made two raids on the German trenches west of Kytschelt, Belgium, and east of Boesighe last night. A number of prisoners were taken. The British forces on the Dolran front on Saturday night raided the enemy position, inflicting considerable loss on the Germans and Bulgarians. The Russians, Serbian and Roumanian forces in Dobruja have assumed the offensive. The Roumanians have taken 812 additional prisoners and four machine guns in the region of the Valcan Pass. The Greek government will protest to Germany against the sinking of the steamer Angeliki. It is said in Washington that the sinking of the Donaldson liner Marina presents the gravest situation which has arisen since the sinking of the steamer Sussex, which brought the German and

U. S. governments to the verge of a break. President Wilson has denied Senator Lodge's charge that he had seriously considered adding a weakening postscript to his "strict accountability" Lusitania note. A Swiss paper prints a statement to the effect that both the Bremen and the Deutschland have been lost, the latter having disappeared after sailing again from Germany for the United States under the name of the "Weser." The U.S. was sent in search of them, but found no trace of either. On Oct. 11, the young folks gave an entertainment, and pie social for the benefit of the Soldiers Comforts Association. The sum of $80 was realized. Mrs. Clark and mother, Mrs. J. W. Toole of P. E. Island, have been visiting friends and relatives in this place. The many friends of Mrs. J. D. Urquhart wish her a speedy recovery from her illness. Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Weslie Vanwart over the loss of their baby "Georgie." The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hopkins, pastor, on Oct. 26, at Tennant's Cove. WOMAN. "What is woman?" asked the speaker at a public meeting. "Woman," replied a man in the audience—a married man—"is an animate being, with the power of speech abnormally developed, and entirely surrounded by a dress that buttons up the back."

ADVISORY COMMITTEE IN THE BOYS WORK

A meeting of the leaders in boys work was held last night in the Centenary church parlors, with the idea of forming a local advisory committee in boys work in the city. Lou Buckley, maritime boys' work secretary, and T. H. Hutchinson, national high school secretary, spoke on organization in following up the conference. The different denominations then got together, and elected their representatives which included one clergyman and two laymen. They formed some of the special undertakings for the year, followed by various other reports which showed that during the year the club had received donations to the extent of $1,000 for the prisoners of war fund, $3,071.09 for the soldiers' club, and $1,800 for the Packer convalescent home. A report on the halls committee was read by Miss Leavitt and a vote of thanks was passed to the president and particularly to Mrs. Lawrence, A. M. Belding, Miss Alice Fairweather and Mrs. Chisholm for special assistance. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Kuhn; first vice-president, Mrs. H. A. ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

The annual meeting of the St. John Women's Canadian Club was held last evening in the schoolroom of St. David's church with the president, Mrs. G. A. Kuhnring in the chair. The meeting opened with an address by the president in tribute to the fallen heroes. This address was followed by a speech by Major C. R. Goggin, medical officer of the 296th Battalion, formerly of the 14th Battalion, on "Surgical help on the battle field." A report was then read by Mrs. H. A. Jewell, some of the special undertakings for the year, followed by various other reports which showed that during the year the club had received donations to the extent of $1,000 for the prisoners of war fund, $3,071.09 for the soldiers' club, and $1,800 for the Packer convalescent home. PAPER IS A DRUG ON GERMAN MARKET

Berlin, Oct. 31.—The threatened paper famine, which months ago caused cries of distress among the publishers, appears now to be a thing of the past. Claiming a shortage of labor, high wages and the general cost of production, the manufacturers have sharply advanced prices since the outbreak of the war, and the publishers several months ago reduced the number of pages in their papers to save expenses. The government and other authorities also inaugurated a propaganda for the economical use of paper. All this apparently has had the effect of markedly reducing consumption, and the manufacturers already feel it necessary to take steps to encourage consumption. The Association of Sixteen Paper Manufacturers has just issued a circular asking its members to co-operate in counter-acting the view that a paper famine exists and in combating the paper-saving crusade.

Three More Battalions

It is rumored in military circles that three additional battalions will be located for the winter in New Brunswick, in addition to those already quartered in various parts of the province. St. John, it is understood, will have two of the units and Moncton the third.

Infantry School Here

Whether or not St. John is to have a branch of the R. S. I. here this winter depends entirely upon the young men of the city. If one hundred applications are received, including the C. O.'s from units quartered here who desire to qualify, the school will be authorized; otherwise it will not. This is a splendid opportunity for young men who desire to get to England as officers because of the fact that subalterns are badly needed at the present time and no doubt the young men who qualify will be given places in the C. E. F. units. Applications should be made through the officers commanding militia units.

The Real Lady Cut Colt Records Two Year Old Trotter One of the Sensations of the Year

Excepting Lee Axworthy's 1,681-4, the most important trotting record made in a year is that of the two-year-old filly, The Real Lady, 2,048-4, owned by A. H. Loden, of New York, and developed and trained by Thomas W. Murphy, of Poughkeepsie. She was not broken to harness until last winter, and as late as June 26, when she started in public for the first time, making a record of 2:10 1/2 against her watch at Poughkeepsie, she was not regarded as anything more than a promising Futurity prospect.

At the second Cleveland meeting, on Aug. 21, The Real Lady trotted her first race, winning the American Horse Breeders' Futurity in 2:08-4 and 2:10 trotting the last half of the first race in 1:02-4, officially timed. Murphy said to Mr. Cosden on getting out the next best faster than any 2-year-old filly ever trotted, which was 2:07-1/2. Her second start was at Poughkeepsie, where she met the best two-year-olds of the Orange circuit and beat them in straight sets, but not without being sprung out the utmost limit of her speed. Anty forcing her to trot in 2:08-4 and 91-2 with the last half of the second at 1:02-2 and the last quarter in 01-2, a 2:02 clip.

ON THE RIVER. The steamer May Queen, which runs on the Grand Lake route, arrived at In-diantown this morning about nine o'clock. She came down the river last evening, but got caught in fog in Grand Bay and anchored until this morning. It is said to a large freight, she brought sixty passengers.

THE STEAMER HAMPTON. The steamer Hampton went to Seville's wharf this morning to get a cargo of turnips. She has been making special trips up the river for the last couple of weeks. The Viking, owned by the same company, is still running on the St. John-Fredericton route.

THE SIDEWALK OPENINGS. Among the matters which were taken up at the weekly meeting of the common council this afternoon is the report of the commissioner of public works on the proposed amendments to the by-law relating to sidewalk openings. The law was adopted about two years ago, and one of its chief provisions was the fixing of a rental to be paid for the privilege of maintaining such openings. Some of the property owners paid, but others did away with their sidewalk hatches instead. It is understood that the report, based on opinions of the city solicitor, will recommend that new legislation be secured and that, in the meantime, the collection of fees be deferred.

MAIN STREET WORK. Only one more day's work is required to complete the surface of the section of pavement being laid by the city in Main street from Sheriff to Douglas avenue. When this can be laid and the street will be opened to traffic depends on the recommendation of the road engineer with regard to the condition of the concrete base. If the balance of the surface can be laid tomorrow, it is possible that the street may be opened to traffic by Saturday evening. The work was delayed somewhat by the difficult job encountered in installing a new water pipe at the corner of Elm street, which it was found necessary to quarry out solid rock to make room for the needed facilities.

Assistant to Vice-President Says Railway Still Holds Six Million Acres, Steady Flow of Settlers

Montreal, Oct. 31—According to J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C. P. R., and head of that railway's department of natural resources, the flow of American settlers into Western Canada points since the beginning of the war has been constant and is increasing. He made this statement this morning in answer to questions submitted to him by the Dominion's Railway Commission sitting in Montreal, in its inquiry into the conditions of the Empire.

Mr. Dennis said the C. P. R. was anxious to obtain as large a number of colonists as possible from Great Britain, and established an organization in Great Britain, covering 150 agencies, in an endeavor to induce people to come to western Canada. He prepared one hundred "ready-made farms" to start with. They comprised an area of 160 acres each, and were restricted entirely to British colonization. The company secured one hundred families from Great Britain to take up these farms, but it did not have very much success because it was unfortunate in its selection.

EXTENDING CROWN STREET TO MECKLENBURG. The work in Crown street, which is being carried out with the labor of the jail gang will carry this street right through to Mecklenburg. At present it is not used much beyond Lester street, although it is open to the foot of Orange street, but, with the roadway provided to the foot of Mecklenburg it is believed that this level roadway will be found of great use for traffic in that part of the city as it will enable vehicles to avoid the steep grades now encountered on the other streets.

FAIRVILLE PEOPLE GIVEN IDEA OF CONDITIONS IN SOME ST. JOHN HOMES

Teachers and officers, representatives of the various Fairville Sunday schools, were given a glimpse into certain conditions existing in St. John last evening, when Rev. W. R. Robinson delivered a striking address at a meeting of the Sunday School Institute of the Baptist church. He described homes he had visited in the city, places where the filth and filthiness were found, the pitiful condition of the children, the toll of ignorant, ill clad, and under fed in charge of disolute parents with no rare as to the responsibility of parent hood. The speaker cited instances where the children of the Society excised its benevolent offices, taking the little ones out of such environments and placing them in the Sunday schools to assist in this practical work. The address was closely followed and attracted a revelation to many as to circumstances such as they never dreamed existed.

Wm. Kingston presided and Rev. W. A. Cross, Sunday school secretary, spoke on "Factors in Sunday School Success." At an afternoon meeting Rev. Mr. Ross delivered an address on Sunday school needs in St. John and how to meet them.

W. J. HALL TRANSFERRED TO 112TH FROM 115TH BATTALION

Mrs. Walter J. Hall of 46 Brussels street has received a letter dated Oct. 16 from her husband, who has been transferred from the 115th to the 112th battalion. Because of a visit to the dentist he was unable to go to France with the first draft from the 115th, but expected to cross in a few weeks. The Hall says that Col. Wedderburn broke down when the boys left for the front and again when they were transferred to the 112th, for he had fondly hoped to take the 112th to France as a unit. The 112th, to which part of the 115th was drafted, is a Nova Scotia battalion. That unit was also being up and some of its men drafted to France, and those who remained were getting ready to go forward soon.

National Sweepers

Have the adjustable brush, which is a feature not supplied with any other sweeper. This not only enables you to adjust the brush to suit the different kinds of carpet on which you may wish to use it, but also lengthens the life of the brush, for, after years of use, when it does not brush the surface as firmly as at first, you only have to lower the brush a little, when it will do as good work as when new. These are the same sweepers as shown in the full page ads. in the Saturday Evening Post, Women's Home Companion, etc., and, when manufacturers will spend thousands of dollars on such ads, they certainly must have quality behind them. Let us show you the different styles, which we have always in stock.
