Terrific Fighting Is Again Reported In Rhineland District WOMEN TO ELECT BRITISH PREMIER

70 REPORTED KILLED IN ONE BATTLE

One Hundred and Thirty Separatists are Among the Slain.

ENTENTE SURIVES

Paris is Hopeful Despite the British Delay in Sending Note.

(British United Press Cable.)

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Terrific fighting in Rhineland in which more than 130 separatists were killed in the last week, was reported in delayed despatches today from Cologne. Seventy were reported killed in one battle between separatists and citizens loyal to the German Reich near Aegidienberg.

Serious fighting was also reported in the Siebenberge district.

ENTENTE TO SURVIVE

Paris, Nov. 21.—Despite Britain's delay in deciding to accept the text of the ambassadors' conference's note to Germany demanding imposition of Allied control of her military strength, the feeling in high quarters today was the Anglo-French Entente would survive.

Conference Delayed.

It was hoped that the Marquis de Creve, British ambassador, would receive instructions from his Government early enough today to permit the twice postponed ambassadors' conference to meet.

Intercalled action on the return of the Crown Prince to Germany was held up, meanwhile, pending decision of the French cabinet regarding the note drafted Monday by the ambassadors. In this the allies said in strong terms that Germany must see that the Crown Prince did not engage in political activities, but made no actual threats of penalties.

Ray of Hope.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—A small ray of hope in Germany's desperate food situation was seen today when the Government verified reports that Chancellor Stresemann had gone to Holland to negotiate food credits amounting to $50,000,000. It was reported that the chancellor was to meet the Dutch banker Van Aalst and President Vising of the Holland State Bank, as well as representatives of English and American financial groups.

BOTH SPEAK OF INTERFERENCE

Engineer and Power Co. Manager Heard—Company Clears Wires.

Barry Wilson, engineer of the Civic Power Commission, said this morning there was no interference with the primary wires of the New Brunswick Power Co., at the places specified by M. A. Pooler yesterday. He said the wires of the commission were four or five feet away from the company wires and that if the interference did exist it would be commission which would suffer not the company.

Mr. Pooler when asked about the matter said it was true the interference did not exist today but the reason was because the Power Company had cleared them, as they did not care to allow such a hazardous condition to remain.

S. B. Weston, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, spent yesterday at Musquash and reports that the water is rising steadily in both branches and the fall load is still being carried by the west branch on the natural flowage.

New York, Nov. 21.—The parents of Elizabeth Rupprecht, 15, of 283 Cooper avenue, Ridgewood, Queens, told the police this week that Elizabeth had run away because her friends made fun of her in school. The girl weighs more than 200 pounds.

She has been missing since November 5. Her parents said she went away with Hans Fitch, 13, of 293 Cooper avenue. A few days ago Mrs. Rupprecht had a letter from Elizabeth saying she and Marian had found work, were happy and that it would do no good to search for them.

HOTEL MEN SAY NO MONEY WAS MADE

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—It is possible that all standard hotels in Ottawa will be exempted from business tax hereafter, as the result of strong representations made by 17 hotel proprietors to the local board of control last evening, representing nearly all the hotels of the city and members of the Ottawa Hotelmen's Association.

It was declared that not one member of the association was able to show a profit and most of the hotels were operating at a loss.

ST. JOHN VESSEL CRIPPLED IN GALE

The James Barbour, Leaking Badly, Saved by U. S. Cutter.

With her sails torn away as the result of a gale which struck her off Cape Elizabeth about 10 o'clock Monday morning and her hull leaking badly, the boat was engaged in the lumber trade between St. John and Boston.

The schooner was on her way from Boston to St. John. The crew was able to get the vessel in under the shore at Richmond's Island, although in doing so she touched the ledges and began leaking badly.

The Barbour was in command of Kenneth Seban of St. John, N. B., and the other member of the crew was Eldin Seban, also of St. John. The vessel is owned by the captain's father, and the boat is engaged in the lumber trade between St. John and Boston.

PLAN TO WAR ON MONTREAL BANDITS

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Drastic measures to quell the bandit gangs operating in the downtown business sections, involving armed guards and the expenditure of substantial sums of money are being actively planned by the merchants of Montreal.

The crime wave which has swept the city during the past two weeks resulting in two major payroll robberies, a series of smaller outrages and one $200,000 fire has impressed the necessity for immediate protective action with the result that a series of conferences between officials of the Merchants' Association and Chief of Police Belanger will be held during the week.

GERMANY IS IN FRENZY OF FINANCE

Prices for Necessaries Have Gone Beyond All Reason.

TALK IN TRILLIONS

Sixty Cents for Apple—Beggars Ask Millions to Get Bread.

(By Canadian Press)

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Germany is in the midst of a financial frenzy. Prices have passed all reason. Figures in trillions and handling hundreds of billions mark notes has seemingly unbalanced the minds of some of the producers, stockholders and restaurateurs. An ordinary omelet of two eggs costs five gold marks or more than one dollar, and meat dishes twice that sum. The price of a single apple in the cafes is two and one half gold marks, or more than sixty cents. The prices of chickens and leather goods are proportionately high and are still soaring. The cost of food in the markets is beyond comprehension, as the supply is short and the producers are unwilling to accept paper marks.

Practically all the financial operations in Germany now take place outside the banks, as the official rate on the mark is one hundred per cent higher than the rate on the "blackmarket."

The illicit money dealers not only pay twice as much as the banks, but they have actual marks while the banks pretend not to have them.

Every man, woman and child in Berlin is searching for bargains in exchange in efforts to meet the excessive living costs.

The crowds in search of cheap markets are indifferent to thousands of beggars who throng the principal streets of the German cities seeking every million mark notes to buy a slice of bread.

It is hard for the weak, the old and the infirm. Only the Salvation Army, composed of women and children in leads their cry and the funds of this army are insufficient.

London, Nov. 21.—The German Reichsbank, beginning tomorrow, it is reported here, will not accept notes issued by towns and railways. This is expected to result in stopping the supply of inter-medial currency.

WILL TAKE MEN BACK AS NEEDED

Supplying Federation's Answer to 'Lionshomem' of Vancouver—Men to Vote.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 21.—Recognition of the "union shop" principle becomes a question to be decided in the settlement of the lionshomem strike which began nearly two months ago. Negotiations between strikers' committees and the shipping federation closed last night.

The employers announced they were willing to take back the striking waterfront workers at the old rates of pay as workers were needed. They could not undertake to dismiss strike-breakers to make room for the regular lionshomem.

A secret ballot will be taken on Wednesday by the lionshomem.

Boy, Playing Bad Man, Is Hanged

Chicago, Nov. 21.—While reacting a Wild West film he recently had seen, Frederick Roschke, accidentally hanged himself by a necktie in the attic of his home here.

Stephen, his brother, eight, told the police he and his brother were playing "movies," and when it came time for the death of the "villain," Frederick adjusted the necktie about his neck and went through the process of being hanged. While he gasped for breath his younger brother tried unsuccessfully to free him.

WENT INTO HIS WASTE BASKET

Lawyer Presented Copy of Lost Document and Court Allowed.

New York, Nov. 21.—Because the will of Corrie Mayer, who died July 14 last at 522 West 187th street, was thrown into a waste paper basket by a janitor in the office of her attorney, Jacob I. Wiener, Surrogate Foley admitted a copy of the will to probate.

The will, Mr. Wiener explained, was valued at $50,000 to her husband, Jacob Mayer. A contest was brought by Mrs. Mayer, Mrs. Joanna Solomon of Sherman avenue, on the ground that the document offered was only a copy of the real will.

Mr. Wiener stated that Mrs. Mayer's death he took her will and other papers from his safe and put them on a chair, forgetting to restore them to the safe when he left his office for the day.

ADVISES LIBERALS AGAINST GROUPS

Ontario Leader For Unity of Party Opposed to All Alliances.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 21.—Seeing a better day in store for the Liberal party in Ontario, W. E. N. Sinclair, provincial leader, told local Liberals last night that the fruition of their principles is contingent upon the freedom from all entanglements or alliances with other groups, unity of action and support, and the grasping with problems as they arise.

The keynote of Mr. Sinclair's address was unity. Toward this end renewed vigor was being injected into the organization plans the party throughout Ontario. Hen Cackle Proves Too Much For This Winterport Man—Here Is Reason Winterport, Me., Nov. 21.—When Mr. and Mrs. George Nash were working in an upstairs room of their house yesterday afternoon their attention was called by a squawking in the hen yard. Going to the window they saw a partridge which appeared to have been crippled and did not seem to be on very friendly terms with the rooster and even the old hens showed him a ruffled feather.

Attempting to feed him, Mr. Nash says that he took wing and refused hospitality. But the next day he disappeared and when caught was placed in a hen coop. He drew so much attention, however, that his temporary owner attempted to transfer him when he again made his escape. Spectators admired his graceful flight, all but Mr. Nash who believes in "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

The third time he appeared and again was placed in a hen coop and Mr. Nash was wretched in smiles—until a neighbor came onto the scene and demanded her pet bantam hen. Now Mr. Nash keeps away from the chicken yard for the hens are cackling.

Hildebrand, of Waterfoot, and Eric Elliffson, of Siox Falls, leaders in the fight to pledge delegates to the state convention for Henry Ford, issued a statement claiming four full counties and scattered individual delegates, yielding a total convention vote of approximately 8,000.

The Democratic meetings generally were of unexcited delegates though several counties went on record with specific orders to their representatives.

LABOR CONFIDENT

Many Baldwin Followers Fear Premier's Speech Did Him Harm.

BY HARRY N. MOORE (British United Press.) London, Nov. 21.—The women electors of England will decide who will be the next Premier when they go to the polls on December sixth. This is recognized by all parties and the prospective candidates are all angling for the feminine vote and doing their best to secure it.

The Conservatives claim that the majority of women will support their cause owing to the general desire of the sex for tranquility and for their dislike of a prospect of a second election in the near future, which would have to eventuate if neither party gets a clear working majority.

The Liberals, on the other hand, maintain that the policy of protection has thrown the women vote their way to a large extent. Housewives believe that it will raise the cost of living.

Labor also claims that it will receive the majority of women votes, claiming that the majority of them sympathize with the broad social policy of betterment of living conditions which they put forward. All parties, however, are making the most strenuous efforts to attract the feminine vote.

Many Baldwin followers fear that the Premier did much harm with the reference in his last speech to the awkward question of prices when he admitted that the policy might cause a rise, although he declared that such an increase would only be temporary.

The Liberals have already grasped the point, giving the widest publicity to the sentiment thus expressed, especially among the housewives of the nation. The growing Conservative confidence also received two shocks. One was Premier Baldwin's frank admission that he was in doubt as to the result of the election, and the other misgivings expressed by Lord Birkenhead, who, while giving support to the Premier, damned the proposals with faint praise. The greatest blow of all, however, is the fact that a record as a politician, but perhaps the worst of his defects is that he is the exponent of half truths and the apostle of half measures.

Opens Bitter Attack. In subsequent comment, Rothermere opens a bitter attack on the Premier's proposal for the relief of agriculture. It is a curious fact that all the newspapers persist in referring to the Conservative platform as Baldwin's policy rather than the Government policy. Perhaps this is due to Premier Baldwin's inevitable habit of using "I" rather than the traditional "we" when explaining his policies in the House of Commons.

The Liberal reunion is not so perfect in its accord as was at first believed, for there is a split in several constituencies which appears impossible to heal, with the result that two Liberal candidates will be put forward. So far Labor has only adopted 162 candidates, and it appears that they are finding it difficult to get sufficient men to contest enough seats to give them a chance of a majority in the next House of Commons.

Reports Say O'Dowd Had Edge. Athens, Ga., Nov. 21.—Tim O'Dowd of Atlanta, southern featherweight belt holder, and Joe Ritchie of Philadelphia, fought ten rounds to a draw here last night. WHAT WE TALK ABOUT

A Bi-Product of The Real News

The Japo-German war is in its first phase. Already in soldiers, wind-up aeroplanes, gun carriages and other implements of Yuletide warfare are struggling for supremacy in the affections of the child-shopper. Santa Claus is wearing the mask of Mars again this year.

Slumps may come and slumps may go but good old St. Nick and the spirit of Christmas—with its inmost meaning—go on forever. For five weeks every day's activities, in fact each evening, are confronted with the happy prospect of our trying to make one another joyful and pleasantly surprised. It is odd stuff, but awfully good.

One of the local lanks is displaying a bulletin-board to report the varying rates of exchange for our fellow residents. There are several perpendicular spaces on the board to show for the changing figures. A local citizen asked for the chief accountant yesterday and upon being enquired what the Chinese rate was today. He explained that the accountant scratched his head, turned to the board and the prohibition sign was on him.

Couldn't help thinking one day this week when walking under the Newmarket freighter "Kongshavn" in the dry dock—what an Upper Canadian newspaper editor said during the war about this Courtney Bay project. "You never see a ship in a Courtney Bay drydock, my friend," was the cool answer to another prophetic telegram.

The old tower coming back to normal faster than some think. Before next spring there promises to be a revival of the city, and the pretentious kind with cut-throat and social investiture galore. St. John's is a city of a million people. It is not a city of a million people. It is a city of a million people.

A good and faithful servant went to his reward yesterday. Just what the reward of a fifty-year-old printing press is must be figured by the printer. To the printer the reward is a piece of machinery—a mechanical citizen—would be to allow it to reproduce in the city of St. John's.

UNDERWRITERS CHOOSE OFFICERS

Life Insurance Men in Annual Session—M. L. McPhail New President.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick branch of the Life Underwriters of Canada was held last night at the Clifton House with the president, Robert C. Cruikshank, in the chair. The president outlined what had been accomplished during the last year, which he described as the most successful in the history of the association from the viewpoint of work accomplished. The reports of L. A. Bly as treasurer and C. Marlin Merritt as secretary, showed the provincial branch to be in a very healthy condition. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, M. L. McPhail, of the Imperial Life Assurance; vice-president, J. J. Murray, of the Dominion Life Assurance; secretary-treasurer, C. Marlin Merritt, of the Great West Life Assurance; additional members of the executive, Spencer Gale, Metropolitan Life Assurance; F. O. Conlon, Sun Life Assurance; Robert Reid, Northern Life Assurance; J. W. V. Lawlor, New York Life Assurance; J. W. McCarthy, London Life Assurance, and F. W. Gilvan, North British and Mercantile Life Assurance. Addresses were delivered by F. O. Conlon, John MacKinnon, Spencer Gale, J. W. McCarthy and J. J. Murray. A vote of appreciation of the services of R. C. Cruikshank was passed unanimously. A programme for the winter will be outlined at an early date.

A CONTINENTAL QUESTION.

The press of Canada and the United States is giving much attention to views and opinions regarding prohibition and other liquor legislation. The report of the Quebec Liquor Commission just issued is a very important document. It enters upon a series of comparisons designed to show that the Quebec law is superior to others, and is a success from the moral and social, as well as the financial and material point of view. The Commission says it would prefer not to make such comparisons, but offers this rather heated justification—

"Unfortunately, such a campaign of calumny has been undertaken against our province and our commission by numerous prohibitionists, with whom the coarse and violent language takes the place of logic and argument, that we have found ourselves under the obligation to refute the accusations against ourselves, and to re-establish the facts, which redound very much to the honor of our people, and speak highly in favor of our Quebec liquor law." The Province of Ontario is selected for one comparison to show that during a five year period ending September 30, 1921, the number of convictions in the province for indictable offences was 291 per hundred thousand, compared with 168 in Quebec. For other provinces the average was—Prince Edward Island, 32; Nova Scotia, 141; Saskatchewan, 168; Alberta, 180; British Columbia, 247; Yukon, 176. The average for Canada for the period was 211. The Commission attributes the low average in the Maritime Provinces to the large agricultural population; but points out that the average in Nova Scotia was nearly as large as in Quebec, and that in 1921 it was actually larger. It is also shown that in all the provinces except Quebec and Prince Edward Island criminality according to the record of convictions has been increasing during the five year period. The Commission also says that Quebec has only 400 convictions per hundred thousand per year for drunkenness, compared with 450 for Ontario and 420 for Nova Scotia. Quebec has decreased since 1920, but has increased in prohibition provinces. It further asserts that Ontario has a long way to go before attaining the sobriety of Quebec. Comparisons are made between Montreal and Toronto, and the Commission says—

"It appears evident that the population of Montreal is more temperate than that of Toronto, in spite of the fact that Toronto is under prohibition, while one can procure in Montreal all the drink that one reasonably could desire. It is incontestable, moreover, that the statistics which we quote do not render complete justice to our province, particularly to the city of Montreal. It is easy to demonstrate in truth that a great proportion of the abuse committed in the use of alcohol in the limits of the province of Quebec is attributable to the visitors who have difficulty in procuring good drinks home and who come in great numbers to our province."

Special emphasis is placed upon the assertion that tourists do the heavy buying in Quebec. Turning next to the United States the Commission says that the figures which it contends are wholly favorable to the Quebec law as contrasted with prohibition. In short, the report is a highly controversial one, which will undoubtedly call forth sharp comment from both sides of the border.

Turning to Ontario we find one member of the Legislature who is against prohibition declaring that as soon as the House meets he will demand from the Ferguson Government a declaration of the Commission which Moderationists in that province are urging another plebiscite, to which the prohibitionists vigorously object. In Nova Scotia the Halifax Recorder has declared itself in favor of Government sale of liquor, and urges the formation of a Moderation League for the province.

Following the decision of Alberta in favor of government sale of liquor, the Moderationists of Saskatchewan are urging a plebiscite in that province; but Rev. Hugh Dobson of Regina, chairman of the prohibition committee of the Social Service Council of the province, refuses to concede victory to the former, and declares that Saskatchewan gave the largest backing for prohibition of any province in Vancouver last week. Rev. T. Albert Moore sounded a note in favor of a fight for national prohibition, and a press dispatch says the people of British Columbia will probably soon be asked to vote on these two questions.

1. Do you favor Government control or prohibition? 2. If you favor Government control, do you want the present system of sale of beer by the glass in licensed premises? There is also the question whether a liquor plebiscite should provide for local option or a law province-wide.

the very valuable museum of the Society. Rev. H. A. Cody's regret that so much that is valuable in local history is being lost by the death of those who could contribute to such a history is shared by all who are interested in the story of the past.

It is announced that the Canada Colonization Association, which when first organized was designed to get settlers for the west, will now embrace all Canada, and will have a Dominion-wide organization to place settlers in the Province of their choice. It will have a strong organization in the United States to induce as many former Canadians and others as may be influenced to settle in Canada. The Maritime Provinces should derive some benefit from this source.

A cable to the Montreal Star last week said—Lloyd underwriters are accepting 10 per cent against a Labor victory in the general elections, 20 to 30 per cent against a Liberal win and 10 per cent against another general election at the end of next year. One wonders if the latest political developments will make the heavy odds against the Liberals popular in betting circles.

Halifax, indeed all Nova Scotia, will honor Hon. W. S. Cuddy on his birthday. The veteran statesman is still able to perform the very arduous duties of Finance Minister of Canada. His has been a remarkably successful political career.

Press Comment

A LIVE CITY.

The public spirit which is being exhibited in Lewiston is worthy of comment. It has manifested itself in the building of a splendid armory which not only offers shelter and facilities for the National Guard units located in that city but also affords a magnificent auditorium which will be available for the holding of conventions, large public meetings and many other things. But the building of the armory is not the only way in which Lewiston is exhibiting its public spirit. A committee of citizens is working on this project and is meeting with encouragement. The opening of the million dollar highway between Portland and Lewiston has given an impetus to this undertaking. Lewiston people are quick to realize the benefits which will come to the city because of this highway and are disposed to take advantage of the opportunity it affords them to have Lewiston become the mecca for automobile tourists.

In other ways Lewiston is exhibiting its faith in its future and is showing a spirit of progress. It has organized a community service which is doing fine work. To provide recreation for its children it is planning the construction of skating rinks in various parts of the city and it has also been maintaining playgrounds. The city has some progressive leaders, among whom is Mayor Brann, who seem disposed to go ahead with any project which will make for the betterment of the city and the happiness of the people.

This is a healthy sign. It means that Lewiston will make rapid strides in the future.

TWO MORE CANADIANS.

It is announced in a London cable that Capt. Peter Macdonald, a descendant of Sir John Macdonald, is the Unionist candidate in the Isle of Wight, in opposition to General Seely. Capt. Macdonald is not generally known in Canada. Who's Who gives this record: Capt. Peter Macdonald, D. S. O., 1902; Hon. Capt. and Adjutant 9th Australian Light Horse Regiment, N. S. W.; born 1869; served South Africa with New South Wales Contingent, 1901.

Major J. F. Molson, another Canadian, is the Unionist candidate in Gainsborough, which he has represented since 1918. He is a son of the late Samuel Elsdale Molson of Montreal, and is sixty years old. He was educated at Cheltenham College and Emmanuel College, Cambridge. In 1910 he contested N. E. Bethnal Green, but was defeated, and served in the army in England and Egypt, 1914-1918.

An interesting review of playground and boys' club activities was given last evening at the annual meeting of the Playgrounds Association. Three of the four Improvement Leagues continue their activities with excellent results, and the fourth may become active next year, as the city is providing the West Side with a new playground. Outdoor skating rinks will be conducted this winter by the South and East End Leagues, and the two boys' clubs have entered upon their season's work with good prospects. The Playgrounds Association is the parent body, with which the Leagues are affiliated, and if it conducts the supervised summer playgrounds and one boys' club, its activities are of great benefit to the city.

Capt. Robert Dollar, the shipping magnate, said to a Vancouver audience recently—"In my opinion the Pacific coast has only taken its first steps into the wonderful possibilities of trade that lie to the westward, and the next 20 years will do for Pacific commerce more than the past hundred has done. Trade is at the door and the city first to open its doors to receive this friend will be the first to benefit."

The plea for a new and larger building for the Natural History Society, made by Dr. H. A. Powell last evening is a plea that is well based. The structure might well be such as would house war memorials in addition to wealth, population and public improvements. The Twin Cities on the Androscoggin are setting an example to the rest of the State which may well be emulated. There are no "knockers" in either Lewiston or Auburn. The leading citizens have adopted the California plan of speaking well of the cities in which they live and in trying to help the state by supporting every progressive enterprise. They have not lost any of the impetus which was gained during the war when all classes of citizens got together to work for a common cause. If they can keep up the pace they have set there is no limit to what can be accomplished.

BOOK REVIEW

FICTION.
Here's to the Gods. By Austin Parker.

(Reviewed by John F. Carter, Jr.) Here is worse than heresy; here is lese-majeste. This book advances an idea which should make it profoundly repugnant to the sentimental reading public. Mr. Parker has the temerity to suggest that the love of woman is not the essential goal of a man, but accidental; that adventure, high-throned and colorful, a career, independence, can exert a sway more powerful than the homely manacles of marriage or the lure of unpermitted liaison. All of which the writers of Europe, who hold that "love is woman's life; life is man's love," have proclaimed for centuries, which is not argument that it is a true theory, nor proof that it is false.

To fancy that the mechanism of life is all powerful is to ignore many exceptions. To argue from these exceptions that man's real desire is for a life in which he can "put another with a machine gun, take a drink because he's thirsty, and love a woman because he wants her," is also bad reasoning. There are many men who hanker after a grand, free, and glorious existence, but who are really too completely wedded to orderliness to relish such a change as their wives would imply, and there is a large body of feminist opinion which holds, with much force, that men alone are responsible for marriage, morality, and kindred shibboleths. To point to exceptions in the vast army of married men does not mean impending mutiny in their ranks, and Mr. Parker has not advanced so absurd a thesis, but it does supply fascinating material for a novel, and of this material Mr. Parker has taken advantage.

TRAVEL.
We Explore The Great Lakes. Recorded by Weston Waldron. Picture by Marion Patton Waldron. New York: The Century Company. One can scarcely imagine a more varied and fascinating trip than that which Mr. and Mrs. Waldron describe in these pages. Starting from Buffalo in a Great Lakes freighter, they steamed up those inland seas, part of the "pageant of inland commerce," in ships of every kind and size, and often in ludicrous contrast, lumber and ore and wheat meet cool and cement and machinery in the mighty streams of traffic between East and West, and then by passenger boat, row boat, fishboat, railmotor, motor bus, automobile and on foot they visited great lake-shore cities, sleepy hamlets, sand dunes, islands, and straits here and there as fancy led them. But they always found fascinating things to investigate and interesting people to talk with. So charming from beginning to end is the book they have made about their journey that it is difficult to give in short space an adequate idea of its varied contents.

of the same into all sorts of meters, taken from Horace, Catullus, and Martial; its purpose was to amuse some school children whose progress in the classics would put most American sixth-formers to the blush; and beneath the badinage of the preface lies a serious mission—the value of discipline in the classics, and the value of pure nonsense was neither outside the range of the Latin mind nor outside its impulses. There is the same whimsicality which marked the Latin letters of Charles Lamb, the letters of Calverley, Mr. Ramsey's Pion experiments of "Inter Lilla" in 1920, and the "Fifth Book of Horace's Odes," by Graves, Godley and Kip-Sing. Unlike the last-named, the MS of the present book was not collated in the "Grand Pantheon Library" of Baden, but was done from an original, which, like Horace's own, had for many years been dog-eared by countless children. The only serious error in the omission of a carbon print frontispiece of R. L. S., which the English edition contains.

BIOGRAPHY.
Louis Imogen Guiney by E. M. Tension. The Macmillan Company of Canada, Toronto.
The younger authors of the day advertise themselves so much that it is almost incredible to find, says Toronto Saturday Night, that an American poet and essayist of the merit of Miss Guiney has lived and died with such a large proportion of even the bookish public unaware of even her existence. This is due partly to the fact that all her books but one have long been out of print, and partly, perhaps, to the fact that she was a passionately loyal Roman Catholic, and readers may have been frightened away thinking groundlessly that her writings would be narrowly sectarian. Whatever the cause, the large volume describing her life and works will be the first contact that many will make with the distinguished author, who was born in 1861 and died in 1920. Remembering these points, her biographer has included (very wisely) extensive quotations from Miss Guiney's principal works, so that the reader may judge for himself of their literary quality. It is to be hoped that the process of education thus begun so badly will be supplemented in the near future by the issue of a complete set of Miss Guiney's writings.

Colonel E. J. Drake in 1888 drilled the first oil well.

The Baptist Ministers' Institute of the city convened at 8:30 a. m. and evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Tedford 13 Waterloo street with Rev. Dr. S. S. Poole in the chair. Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. G. B. MacDonald, Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Poole, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Sweetnam, Rev. James Dunlop, Mrs. C. T. Clark, Rev. Dr. R. Heine, Rev. O. S. Morse, Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Kobbins. Mr. Dunlop opened the session with prayer. Rev. Dr. H. T. Crossley and J. H. Leonard were introduced and Mr. Leonard sang a solo very effectively. Dr. Crossley spoke on the characteristics of a successful minister. A resolution of sympathy was to be forwarded to Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson in his recent bereavement. Mr. Robbins presented a report on church advertising and the executive reported on the programme and entertainment for the year. Dr. Poole presented a very scholarly paper on "The Second Coming of Christ." An interesting discussion followed. The meeting adjourned to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Tedford, to whom a hearty vote of thanks was extended.

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man purchased a number of stamps for $1.25; he received a number of two, five times as many ones, and the rest in fives. How many of each did he receive? The number of fives was less than the number of twos.

Yesterday's Answer.

The drawing shows how an oblong, five times as long as it is wide, may be divided into five pieces that will form a square, or vice versa.

as she approached a large patch of water-reeds, a flock of wild geese rose in the air, "honking" in alarm. Instantly the rifle was at her shoulder, and as she fired, a gander jerked in the air, and then fell like a stone back into the reeds. It took her some time to retrieve it, and when she had done so, she looked round again. Puzzled, she returned to the camp, looked at her own fire which was burning low and which could not possibly be the explanation of that which was perplexing her, and without saying anything to her companion about it, turned in for the night.

Mrs. A. B. Gilmour and her daughter, Miss Margaret Gilmour, were guests yesterday afternoon at a very pretty tea at her residence, 178 Duke street. Mrs. Gilmour received her guests in a handsome model-gown of black vella-vela, with jet trimming, while Miss Gilmour was very becomingly gowned in tangerine headed georgette. Mrs. F. E. Williams and Mrs. R. Duncan Smith presided in the dining room, where the tea table was very attractively centred with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Mrs. Claire Gilmour assisted. Mrs. F. G. Spencer and Mrs. R. R. Black, of Fredericton, replenished. Those who assisted as waitresses were Miss Annie Rankine, Miss Marion Paterson, Miss Esther Welford, Mrs. Charles H. KING'S DAUGHTERS HOLD A MEETING

The semi-annual meeting of The King's Daughters held last night at the Guild was a very pleasant and greatly enjoyed occasion and it marked the close of the 29th year of the work of the order in St. John. Mrs. H. W. Robertson, the president, presided, and there was a large attendance, the girls in residence being special guests. Mrs. C. A. Clark, led the opening devotions and Mrs. Robertson gave an inspirational address on "The King's Daughters." Mrs. E. J. Alexander gave an excellent paper on the "Life of Elizabeth Frye." Mrs. Lewis Langley with Miss Bethel Blanche as accompanist sang delightful solos and Miss Alice VanWart gave a reading that was most impressive. Miss E. C. Lee made the presentation of a beautifully illuminated wall motto which was the work of Miss Helen Lee of New Jersey. The words on the motto were "Be ye kindly affectionate, one towards another." The semi-annual meeting always takes the form of a "Sweet and Sour" shower when the members bring preserves and pickles for the pantry shelves at the Guild and a beautiful supply of these gifts were received last night. During the evening the members sewed on the garments they are making for the orphan and at the close refreshments were served under the direction of a committee consisting of Mrs. R. A. MAN'S LEGACY Woman Continues Thrift Work Started by J. H. Patterson

Dayton, O.—One of the greatest business men in the country educated a woman to carry on his work!

The man was the late John H. Patterson of National Cash Register fame, and the woman is his niece, Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson.

At the height of his career, explains Mrs. Patterson, her uncle's chief interest lay in instilling thrift among his workers and their families. "Probing below the surface for the real key to the evidences of unsmooth health, worry and uneasiness," Mrs. Patterson explains, "he found the trouble usually lay in the home."

Unwholesome living, inefficient spending methods and undue extravagance, she says, were the causes. "Having analyzed the problem, Patterson decided to help educate workers to use business methods in the management of their homes."

He struck upon the budget system. "It is this work that I am carrying on for him," she adds. She is budget specialist for the General Federation of Women's Clubs and for the National Educational Association. At the same time she has a desk in the personal department of her uncle's establishment, so that her influence toward thrift goes into the homes of the workers employed there.

Those who served were Mrs. L. D. Spence, Mrs. George Higgins, Mrs. A. Burke, Miss Mary Thorne, Mrs. Fred Leonard, Mrs. W. Seely, Mrs. Fred Whelpley, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. George Porter, Mrs. Charles Wason, Mrs. Charles H. Rankine, Miss Ada Hill and Mrs. Herbert W. King.

The apron table, trimmed with red roses, was looked after by Mrs. Hugh Tait, Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mrs. A. Powers and Miss Florence Wilson; home cooking, Mrs. Charles Cowan, Mrs. Rankine and Mrs. George Macdonald.

STORE COMPLEXION NOT INJURIOUS, IF

Those who can remember fifty years back will recall that Canadian women had the clearest and ruddiest complexions that the world could tolerate. Today how rare it is to see a clear and rosy skin. The cause is improper food. Then women ate no "denatured" white flour, prepared or refined cereals or white sugar sweets for they were not known. All these things are "Excess Alkali," because their alkaline salts are largely removed in milling the grain. This makes the blood acid and these acids are thrown out mostly by the skin, which irritates it, dries it, makes it shiny, pimply and murky. If women would use very much more brown flour and brown whole grain cereals, milk, nuts, beans, eggs, leafy vegetables and fruits, all excess alkalis foods (opposite of acid) and less acid-forming white flour, refined cereals, meats and sweets, they would again have beautiful skins and store complexion would not injure them. EGGLESS RECIPES.

If you would make a boiled cake, frosting without eggs or butter try this recipe. The frosting is soft and creamy and has a delicious taste.

Boiled Iceing.

One and one-half cups granulated sugar, 2-3 cup milk, 2 teaspoons flour, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Put sugar and milk in a smooth sauce pan. Let stand until sugar and milk are well blended. Cook until a soft ball is formed when a few drops are tried in a saucer of cold water. Do not stir after the sirup begins to boil. Put the flour in a bowl. Just before the sirup reaches the soft ball stage pour a little over the flour, stirring to make a smooth paste. Add two tablespoons more of the sirup and stir until smooth. Return the sirup to the fire and finish cooking. Pour into flour and sirup mixture and let stand until cooled. Add vanilla and beat until creamy. Spread on warm cake.

Caramel sauce is always good on a pudding or as a "chip" for ice cream.

Caramel Sauce.

One and one-half cups granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 dessertspoon cornstarch.

Melt sugar in an iron or aluminum frying pan. Put over a hot fire and stir constantly until melted. Let the sirup become a golden brown. Add boiling water and simmer until sirup is dissolved. Add butter and cook ten minutes. Dissolve cornstarch in a little cold milk and stir into boiling sirup. Let boil one minute and put over hot water to keep hot.

Steamed puddings are always light and moist and altogether rather better than the average baked pudding.

Two tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons molasses, 4 tablespoons milk, 1-4 cup white flour, 2-3 cup Graham flour, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg, 1-2 cup stoned dates.

Melt butter. Add molasses and milk. Add Graham flour and mix well. Mix and sift white flour, soda, salt and spices. Add to first mixture. Stir in dates. Turn into a buttered mold and steam one and one-half hours. Serve with lemon sauce.

Eggless Cake.

Two cups flour, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons lard, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup seeded and chopped raisins.

Rub shortening into flour with tips of fingers. Stir in sugar. Dissolve soda in sour milk and stir into mixture. Beat well and add cinnamon, salt and raisins. Turn into a buttered and floured loaf cake pan and bake

Lemon Sauce.

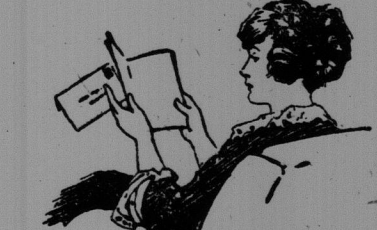

One and one-half cups boiling water, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 dessertspoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, few grains salt.

Mix sugar and cornstarch. Slowly add water, stirring constantly. Boil until clear and thick, stirring to prevent sticking. Add butter, lemon juice and rind and cook two minutes longer. Remove from the fire and serve warm. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

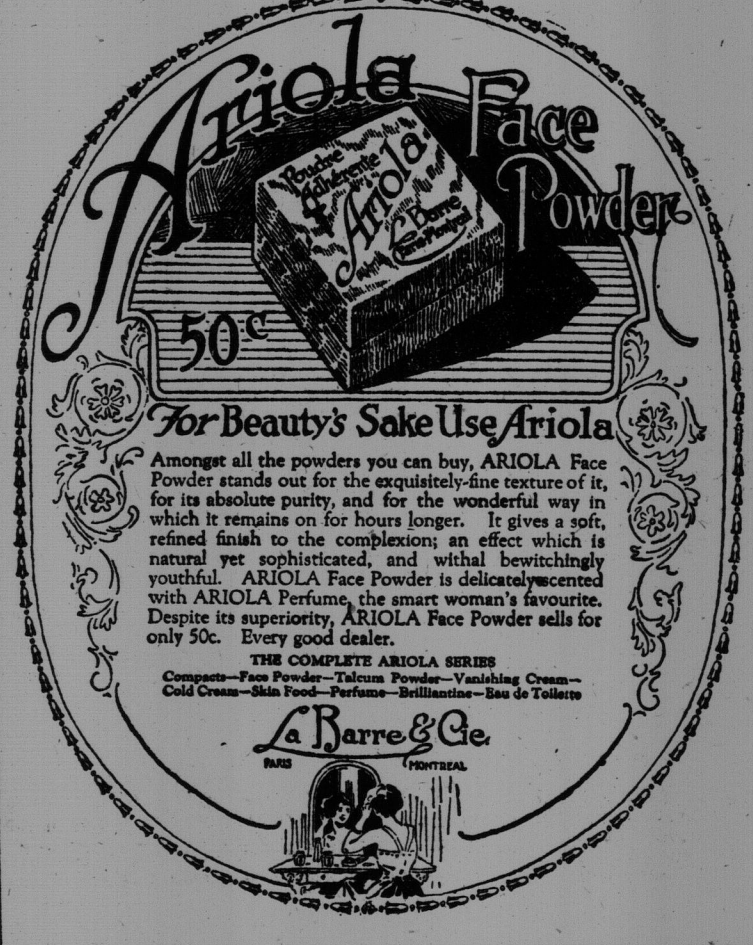

TEACHERS BEATEN.

The teachers' basketball team lost out to Grade XI of the High School, by the narrow margin of 3 points in a closely-contested game yesterday afternoon on the Y. M. C. I. floor. "Ernie" Sterling handled the whistle. The final score was 20 to 17. The lineup were: Teachers—Alexander and F. Ritchie, forwards; Panjoly, centre; Bell; Grade XI—Whittrien and Plimpton, forwards; Humphreys, centre; Ewing, Rice and Barker, defence.

Dear Marie,
Guess again old dear! It was the best prize ever. I told the girls that at first, as they all played side by side, I said it was something that would made them much more beautiful—something that would made their skin so smooth as a kitten's waist—so they all treatably washed the lucky lady full forth a big bottle of Campenar's Italian Balm. The result was as magic as Campenar's itself. We are soon going to enter a Beauty Contest "en masse!"

FATALLY HURT IN FALL FROM AUTO

No Inquest Necessary in Case of Edward Appleby's Death.

There will be no inquest as the result of the death of Edward Appleby, a highly respected farmer, who died in the General Public Hospital here yesterday as the result of a fall from an automobile near Hamptstead last night. The body was taken to Hamptstead by the steamer Hampton yesterday and will be buried there at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Mr. Appleby, while on his way home from milking, was given a ride on the running board of a car owned by E. B. Palmer, of Hamptstead, and driven by his son, Arley. The car ran into a rut in the road and, when the car skidded slightly, Mr. Appleby was thrown against a rock on the side of the road, receiving a fracture of the skull and a dislocated shoulder. Dr. Davis attended him and accompanied the injured man to J. A. Vanwart's car to St. John. Mr. Appleby was conscious all the way to the city. He passed away about nine hours after the accident.

Arley Palmer had invited Mr. Appleby to enter the car, but the latter said he would stand on the running board as he had but a short distance to go. No blame is attached to the motorist.

The death of Mr. Appleby has cast a gloom over Hamptstead. He was highly regarded and was an industrious resident and a good neighbor. He was born in Gagetown 33 years ago, the son of the late Edward Appleby. He never married. He is survived by five brothers and five sisters, as follows: Andrew, of Springfield, Mass.; Luke, of Woodstock; Thomas and Guilford, of Gagetown; Melbourne T., of Hamptstead; Mrs. George Devlin, of Hibernias; Mrs. Charles Devlin, of West Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. William Marr, of Millville, York county; Mrs. John DeLong, of Gagetown, and Mrs. David I. Taylor, of Sussex.

ST. ANDREWS DEBATE

The resolution "That the Maritime Provinces would be benefited by annexation to the United States" was ably debated by the members of St. Andrew's Young Men's Club at a meeting of the club last evening. A popular vote was taken and resulted in a tie, and the chairman, Fred Smith, the president of the club, cast the deciding vote in favor of the affirmative side. The vote was taken on the merits of the arguments. The affirmative was upheld by a team with Roland Trentowsky as leader and Stan Rankin and Alastair Morrison as the other members. The negative team was captained by Everett Megarity and its other members were Wallace Brander and Benson Robinson.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.00. It is pure, and you can feel this takes hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs, croup, and colds. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money returned. The Pine Co., Toronto, Ont.

PREPARE FOR TALK ON LIQUOR

U. S. Commission to Confer With Canadians in Ottawa. AGREE ON SUBJECTS Rum Running, Drug Smuggling and Ship Liquor Question.

(By Canadian Press.) Washington, Nov. 21—Members of the U. S. commission which will confer with Canadian authorities at Ottawa late this month on liquor and narcotic border smuggling problems began work today on an agenda to place before the conference. The commission is headed by Assistant Secretary Moss of the treasury. Members of the delegation declined to discuss the meeting further than to say that there was unanimity of opinion as to the subjects which the Canadians would be asked to consider.

It has been stated officially at the treasury that the conference would encompass not only the question of rum running across the border, but narcotic smuggling as well and that in all probability, the ship liquor question would be taken up. Support has been lent to the belief that the question of handling ship liquor supplies would be taken up before the conference through the appointment as a member of the delegation of Geo. E. Boren, a special assistant to the attorney general, who has been the department of justice specialist on ship liquor questions.

WILSON WAS RIGHT
ASSERTS OTTO KAHN

Represented America That Europe Needs Now, Declares
Financier.

New York, Nov. 20.—After listening to speakers who blamed the United States for the gravity of the situation that has arisen in Europe, Otto H. Kahn, in an impromptu speech at a luncheon of the Foreign Policy Association at the Hotel Astor, called upon this country to again take the moral leadership it held in 1917. He refused to "criticize American policy," but admitted that it had not been what he called a "red-blooded policy." Mr. Kahn followed Leaburn E. Willey, who was Attorney General of the Philippines from 1901 to 1906, and M. E. Ravages, author of "The World is Waiting for America."

"In 1917, before we had become a military force, President Wilson," said Mr. Kahn, who paused, and by way of explanation remarked, "I'm not a Wilsonite. I'm a Republican, but I'm just the same—from that great platform in Washington, President Wilson crystallized the sentiment the world was fighting for and shook the Prussian throne. That can be done again."

"The world is waiting for America to say the word. America must say the word that will break the spirit of militarism. The moral power of America is irresistible."

Recalls a Harriman Story.
Mr. Kahn then told a story of the late E. H. Harriman, because he thought it revealed the railroad magnate in a position analogous to that of the United States. Harriman made a move to have himself elected a member of the Board of Directors of one of the great transportation systems, and this question was put to him by Mr. Kahn:

"Harriman, why do you want to be on that board? You are only one, and there would be fourteen against you."

"Kahn, all I ever wish to be is one of fifteen men sitting at a table."

"And that's all America should want," continued Mr. Kahn. "Let the United States Government determine what ought to be done and let it take the public into its confidence as to how it should be done. Let it mobilize the moral forces of the United States, which are tremendous. Let it make a plain statement—not a diplomatic statement—but an open and frank statement—setting forth the issues, the conditions, our responsibilities and the circumstances under which the United States would help and how."

"I am convinced that American and the American people will help, and I am convinced that the world will follow America. Whatever America has to say the people will hear gladly."

Our Policy Now Red-Blooded.
"I will not criticize American policy, but certainly it has not been a red-blooded policy. The time calls for intelligence. The world is waiting for America to say the word."

Mr. Kahn related a story of a schoolboy, Johnny, whose teacher asked him the shape of the world. The lad hesitated to make his answer, and the teacher interposed with:

"Why, Johnny, you know the earth is round!"

"Well, last night I heard father talking to mother," interrupted Johnny, "and father told mother that the world was in a hell of a shape."

"Quite right," continued Mr. Kahn. "The world is in a hell of a shape. What are we to do about it? The League of Nations is not a mathematically working thing. It is merely an instrument."

In his attack upon the League of Nations, Mr. Kahn described what he called its "congenital talia," which he said grew out of the fact that the League was built on a spirit of compulsion instead of moral force. He said it could not be expected to work when "three men of limited vision made the Treaty of Versailles."

Calls America "Chief Offender."
Mr. Willey described America as the "chief offender" in the present situation, which he traced back to America's refusal to sign the Peace Treaty. He said that action inspired the Germans to start out upon a policy of violating every term of the treaty. He said that Great Britain, with Germany destroyed, with German shipping swept from the high seas, with German colonies in British possession, and with mandates, giving the British control of vast new oil fields, was one of the big winners in the World War. France, when deserted by the United States and Great Britain, chose a course left only to a nation which had to choose between life and death. Then, he said:

"This talk about France being militaristic is without foundation—"

"Oh, oh, oh," came from all over the room, and for a few moments the speaker was unable to proceed. When he resumed he said that the armistice had revealed no Napoleon. If Foch had been Napoleon he would not have waited for Wilson. He said that Foch resembled Napoleon only in respect to his military genius.

LIMITS LANDLORD'S ROOMS. Six Enough for Average Family, Yorkers Judge Decides.

New York, Nov. 21.—Holding that six rooms are enough to accommodate the average family, Judge Morris L. Rosenwasser of Yorkers City Court advised James Colgan, landlord of the apartment house at 123 Downing street, Yorkers, to give up efforts to oust another tenant. Colgan recently obtained possession of the second floor by asserting that he desired the room for his own use, the only ground, under the rent laws, upon which he could evict a tenant. Then he asked to have the family of John Torma, on the third floor, evicted, saying that he also needed their rooms for his own use.

The judge advised him not to ask for too many rooms, even in his own property, so Colgan withdrew his request after the Torma family agreed to move out next spring.

Then Rhinesmith went home to break the news to his wife. He says he will not go hunting again until next year.

Indigestion-- Eye Strain?

Saturday's Globe had this in the column of scientific facts—

"Indigestion is mentioned by an eye specialist as a frequent effect of eye-strain. Certain types of eye-strain bring about nerve waste, and in persons already deficient in nerve energy, the driving power may be so reduced that the stomach will not work properly, the fermentation is set up, with dyspeptic symptoms. Eye treatment often results in almost marvelous disappearance of the stomach trouble."

THE TIMES-STAR SPORT REVIEW

Breezy Briefs on Current Pastimes on Events of Interest to Fans.

The sporting editor of The Times is receipt of an enquiry about a recent bout staged in Boston between Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion, and Paul Reed of Natick. The bout went ten rounds, and Wilson was awarded the decision. This was not favorably received by many present, and the announcement was greeted with boos and jeers. The ex-champion weighed in at 161 1/2 pounds, and Reed at 160. Wilson relied on straight right lunge to the face, despite the fact that he is a southpaw and is able to use it effectively. Reed punished Wilson with left swings whenever he was able to break through his guard and get into close quarters.

One of the big questions among turf followers today is: Were the judges mistaken when they awarded Zev the race over in Memoriam at Louisville, Ky., last Saturday? Photographs are said to show the two horses on practically a dead line, with In Memoriam having a fraction the better of it, if anything. As a result the race has established the best three-year-old in America. The only logical way to again try to determine this is to bring Zev, In Memoriam and My Own together and let the three of them battle it out.

Will Be Racing Tonight

Glady Robinson, world's lady champion skater, who will take part tonight in the first skating meet of the season in Toronto.

Wladek Zbyzsko has started something among wrestlers. He recently made an offer to meet "Strangler" Lewis for the championship, and expressed a willingness to post $20,000 on the result. So far the Pole has not heard from Lewis, but he is flooded with offers from a score of heavyweights who are confident that they can give him all the wrestling he wants. Richard Shtak of Germany was the first to demand a match with him, and this was followed by a challenge from Renato Gardini, who recently returned to the United States from Italy. Pat McGill, an Irish grappler, and John Taylor, a Canadian heavyweight, are also "right on the job" apparently anxious to get a slice of the medal Wladek seems so anxious to stake. Zbyzsko seems to forget the outcome of his last attempt to wrestle the championship from Lewis. Readers will recall how "Strangler" took the Pole's head under his arm and by a method unlike moral suasion took all notions of acquiring the championship out of his entire system. Wladek went to the hospital following the bout. An ordinary mortal would be content to have one taste of that loving embrace and then let Lewis claim all of the titles in the world.

Bob Levy, "Battling" Siki's trainer, announced prior to the bout last evening that "Kid" Norfolk is Madison Square Garden that the Semegalese would leave in a few days for Europe and will remain with them for a short time and will then return to America in quest of a match with Mike McGraw. Levy, American light-heavyweight champion, Tom Gibbons or Harry Greb.

The first skating meet of the season will be held in Toronto this evening at the "Kid" Norfolk is Madison Square Garden, and Eddie Gloster will compete. Jackie Marr, a youngster who has the "seamarks" of a future champion, and who is now apprenticed to the Livingstone stables as a jockey, will start in junior events. The trophies will be awarded to the winners by the Toronto Skating Club. Both Gladys Robinson and Gloster are well known to local skating enthusiasts and their showing in the meet will be a source of interest to all.

From recent reports professional hockey will be started this winter in Sydney and Glace Bay. The possibility of labor trouble is one of the questions being given serious consideration, positions as to the professional baseball league last season was forced to disband. A number of propositions as to the formation of a league are also being given considerable thought and various proposed circuits are being mapped out, with a hope that one will materialize. Glace Bay fans are confident that a league will be formed and that they will see some high-class hockey this winter.

ST. DAVID'S BADMINTON

The Badminton Club of St. David's church met last night for organization and elected the following officers: President, Miss Edith Cameron; vice-president, Kenneth Robinson; secretary, Miss Florence Rayworth. The club starts the season with 20 playing members and the prospect of enrolling many more. The outlook appeared bright for a successful season of badminton.

McGraw's Trade Puzzles Critics

They are Careful, However, About Questioning His Judgment.

The most puzzling trade-off late years in baseball was that last week which sent Captain Bancroft, Stengel and Cunningham of the Giants to Boston in exchange for Captain Southworth, an outfielder, and Pitcher Oeschger. John McGraw has given up his field leader, who is also one of the best shortstops in baseball and the keystone of his infield, along with his two regular center-fielders, for an outfielder who has had a bad leg injury for two seasons and a pitcher who is a fading star, not a center-fielder. Southworth undoubtedly is better than Stengel and Cunningham in the field, but McGraw or the moment has pulled the props out from under his famed "million dollar" infield. Now McGraw has a twenty-year-old boy, Travis Jackson, for shortstop, and if Henie Groh, a chronic victim of injuries, should break down next season as he has during the last two, McGraw will have to depend on Maguire, a weak hitter to fill in third base. Apparently, then, by robbing the Giants of their infield reserve, the trade was a had one for the National League champions. But even on this score one should be careful before questioning the baseball acumen of McGraw. He may be the chess player who sacrifices his queen for a pawn on the next move, perhaps, the Little Napoleon will have the other fellow's king neatly trapped.

FIRPO'S HANDLER SAYS FORCE USED

Buenos Aires, Nov. 20.—Defending himself for his failure to protect the alleged evasion of the rules governing the contest by Jack Dempsey during Dempsey's recent fight with Luis Angulo at the Polo Grounds in New York, the handler of the Argentine boxer, in a statement printed by El Nacion today declares that during the first round he attempted to enter the ring to lodge a protest, but that he was forebly prevented from doing so by two members of the boxing commission who threatened him with the police if he made any protest during the match.

After the struggle with me, I was obliged to step down," the statement added. Lavelle explained that while in the United States he never publicly announced the charges that he had been defamed because of the laws existing in the United States which provide severe punishment for a statement which might injure the interests of any enterprise.

Continuing, the statement said that when Firpo knocked Dempsey out of the ring, the referee did not begin to count, immediately and that eighteen seconds elapsed before Dempsey was then up again. Before the match Lavelle said he did make protest against Dempsey wrapping three meters of bandages around his left hand instead of the sixty centimeters allowed by the rules and that his protest was upheld. Declaring that he did not make any protest after the fight against Dempsey's violations of the rules, Lavelle said that this was due to the fact that Firpo did not wish to accept a victory if it were not won from the ring.

MUST RETIRE TO NEUTRAL CORNER

New Rule Adopted by State Athletic Commission.

New York, Nov. 21.—A rule requiring pugilists who have felled opponents to retire to a neutral corner while the referee tolls off the count was adopted yesterday by the State Athletic Commission. The rule also provides that counting shall not be started until the knocker down has moved away from his fallen opponent. The ruling was drawn by newspapermen and commission officials following the Dempsey-Firpo heavy weight championship match, in which the world's champion stood directly over the Argentine during the numerous times he was on the floor.

NORFOLK DEFEATS "BATTLING" SIKI

Is Awarded Decision Over the Semegalese. "Kid" Norfolk was awarded a judge's decision over "Battling" Siki in a fifteen-round bout staged in Madison Square Garden, New York, last evening. Siki, as predicted, was wild, and after the fourth round failed to land many telling blows. On the other hand, Norfolk landed many stiff jolts to the Semegalese head and had him bleeding quite freely.

Controversy Over Selection of Epinarud for International Cup Race. There is a contention in some quarters that M. Wertheimer's horse should not be allowed the unquestioned supremacy of the French turf without elimination trials, and partisans of Nicas, Checkmate, Massine, Le Capucien and Filibert de Savoie are asking that these feet runners be given a chance to challenge Epinarud's claim. M. Wertheimer refuses, however, taking the stand that he was invited to enter Epinarud and has accepted. Le Capucien was this year's winner of the French derby, and Filibert de Savoie won the Grand Prix de Paris.

One never grows too old to forget the delights of eating. And yet old people will sometimes play on these memories and bring on dyspeptic attacks even though the diet be simple.

From childhood to old age they daily overcome or prevent the distress due to indigestion. They sweeten the stomach by giving it the alkaline effect as in health, they absorb the gases, they lift off the feeling of heaviness, they stop sour risings or heart burn, they actually assist in the digestion of food, and from all points of view are one of the most invaluable aids to health to be found.

Police Magistrate Has Word When Truant is Before the Court.

"Take him below to the big policeman with the whip" ordered Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning when a juvenile appeared in court on a charge of truancy. He had been reported on other occasions and had promised to go to school. When asked why he had not done so he refused to answer and was sent below until his parents could be present. The threat of taking him to the big policeman with the whip failed to move him and he appeared perfectly composed as he went to the guard room. Magistrate Henderson remarked that a good beating was what a lot of boys needed in this city.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "where they're givin' free bus rides to church in one town in the States, an' hev'n' barefooted dancers in another."

"That ought to help some," said the reporter. "You can't preach at them if you don't get them in the pews."

"Well," said Hiram, "if you hev to get 'em that way I ain't sure the Lord'll add His blessing." I think the church orter hev the folks there—but they orter be there because they know it'll do 'em good—an' because they're willin' to go jist so's they kin git a better grip on things an' do their share to help their neighbors git, too. An' what they do get aint from the Lord if it any makes 'em thankful for their own blessing."

"I don't get somethin' that makes 'em think about things they orter do to make things better in their little corner of this world—then the preacher he's nothin' but a voice cryin' in the wilderness. The feller that says this is my church, an' my pew, an' my preacher, an' my choir—an' then settles down to feed what a noble feller he is, an' what a fine easy road he has to Heaven, aint nothin' but a cumber of the airth—no, sir."

When the charge was read to the defendant she pleaded not guilty and the complainant was sworn. When she said it had not been the case was dismissed. The Magistrate said that no action could be taken in the police court against a persons for speaking to one person about another unless the one interested were present.

THREE MORE COMING TO DRY DOCK HERE

F. M. Ross Makes Announcement—Sir Geo. Hunter to Visit City.

Announcement that three more steamers will be brought to St. John and placed in the big dock of the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company in the near future was made by F. M. Ross, general manager of the company, on his arrival at noon today from Montreal. Mr. Ross was accompanied to the city by Mrs. Ross and John Clarke, consulting engineer of London, England.

Mr. Ross said that he was not in a position at present to announce the names of the ships which are coming nor to which line they belong. One of them was expected to arrive within the next two weeks and the others at about monthly intervals thereafter.

Referring to the visit to America of Sir George Hunter, chairman of the shipbuilding firm of Swan & Hunter of England, Mr. Ross said that Sir George would visit St. John in the near future, and he was planning to go to New York to bring the British magazine here in about a week.

MAY REDUCE THE INSURANCE COST

Commissioner Bullock Plans Asphalt Flooring for West Side Sheds.

Commissioner Bullock said this morning that one of the things he had in mind for 1924 was the placing of an asphalt flooring on the sheds on West Side and he hoped to make a start with No. 2 shed. He said that in Montreal this was the practice, a small quantity of cement being added to the asphalt to stiffen it.

It was found that this type of flooring lasted longer and was more economical in cost than planed lumber and also gave a smoother surface for hauling on. It had no other advantage in that it reduced the fire risk and he was hopeful if his plan was adopted that insurance rates on the sheds might be reduced somewhat.

FIRST C.G.M.M. SHIP OF SEASON ARRIVES

Conqueror, in Today, was the Last to Leave in the Spring.

The S. S. Conqueror, which arrived in port this morning from London and Antwerp, has the honor of being the first Canadian Government Merchant Marine liner to come to St. John to open the winter season. She was also their last sailing from here in the spring.

The Conqueror is in command of Captain Foy. She is one of the largest of the Marine fleet. She brought out 900 tons of general cargo. Upon her arrival she was towed to Long Wharf where she will discharge her cargo and load for London.

START WORK ON SOMERSET STREET

A start was made today to remove some of the rock on the northern end of Somerset street, Commissioner Frink said, in order to provide a three lane road at that end of the street. The soil will be dumped into the ravine at the end of the street.

The Commissioner pointed out that it was very difficult to do much there as many of the houses had been built from the top of the rock and to widen the street to its proper width would have taken away up in the air. It would also uncover their water and sewer pipes.
