ROUGH TIME IN PAPER OFFICE

Barrett Brothers Swoop Down on the Glace Bay Labor Herald.

Sydney, N. S., May 12.—No arrests have been made nor warrants issued in connection with a raid made upon the offices of the Maritime Labor Herald at Glace Bay last night by Silby Barrett and his brother Tom, in retaliation for attacks made upon the paper. Authorities have made no statement regarding their probable action nor is it known that the proprietors of the publication have had any complaint.

In less than a minute the members of the paper's staff, and others who happened to be in the office at the time made a hasty exit. The last man out was Tom Bell, recently appointed editor of the paper.

The town of Glace Bay is congratulating itself upon having escaped a serious riot, because it is said that if the so-called Reds had been present in any numbers, a battle royal would have opened.

DRIVES BEING HANDICAPPED

Reports from Up River—Contract to Fredericton Man—Chicks Sent to Deer Island.

(Special to Times.) Fredericton, N. B., May 12.—The contract for building the Molasses Hill concrete arch culvert and roadway embankment, Paris of Hillsfield, Northumberland, has been awarded to Bruce L. Simmons of Fredericton, figure in the vicinity of $4,800. Eight tenders were submitted.

Low water is handicapping the drives in this section. Cold weather, which has prevented the snow from melting is assigned as the cause. On the Nashwaak the drives of the Nashwaak Pulp and Paper Company are progressing, but are having trouble at Pennac about one million feet of logs in the booms. The water there is low for this time of year. Rafting cannot be attempted until the St. John river drops to a lower level, as it is impossible to tow apparatus under the Fredericton and Grand Lake Railway bridge at the mouth of the river. A total of eighteen million feet is to come for Stanley Douglas, Ltd., and the other companies.

The drives of Fraser Companies, Ltd., in this section are well advanced. The Nashwaak is the only stream in which there has been delay. Low water is causing trouble. Somewhat less than two million feet is being driven there. The level of the St. John River is receding from freshet height very slowly. The steamer D. J. Purdy Friday was able to dock at the high-water wharf at the foot of Regent street.

The railway service out of Fredericton is now normal with the exception of the St. John River. Quebec and Fredericton sub-division of the New-Castle-Fredericton sub-division of the C. N. R. are moving carefully and running behind time. Service on the St. John-Fredericton sub-division is expected to be restored by Wednesday. Leslie Wood, poultry superintendent of New Brunswick has returned from Deer Island, where he has been in charge of 900 duck chicks obtained from G. H. Kinner of Sussex. 800 day old chicks from Hayesfield Farm, Ontario, are following because of depression in the fisheries the people of New Brunswick's southern islands are turning their attention to poultry raising with considerable success.

George Danby of the Provincial Horticultural Division has returned after a tour of the province, reviewing orchard sections, orchards suffered heavy damage from breakage under the weight of snow. One report from Lower-Loverdale, Albert County was that on April 30, there was five or six feet of snow in an orchard, the trees which were old and kept the snow from melting in as neighboring places.

THE SUGAR CASE. New York, May 12.—An agreement eliminating a drawn out injunction in federal district court restraining the New York Cofee and Sugar Refining Co. in futures was reached today between counsel for the government and the defendants.

David A. L'Esperance, special assistant to Attorney General Daugherty, announced that it had been agreed to treat the affidavits and pleadings on the temporary injunction petition, rejected by the circuit court as though they had been taken in the final hearing of the case. As a result, he said, the circuit court had dismissed the Government's petition for a permanent injunction, and the way was now clear for the government to appeal the case at once to the United States Supreme Court.

More Than $1-a-Minute Pay For Referee in Gould Estate

New York, May 12.—The seventeen law firms and nine individual attorneys representing the heirs and other persons interested in the estate of Jay Gould have agreed that former Justice Edward W. Hatch shall receive compensation at the rate of $65 an hour for his services as referee in the accounting proceeding brought by George J. Gould, a former executor of the estate of his father.

The proceeding was brought seven years ago, and more than 1,000 pages of testimony already have been taken. Judge Hatch was appointed referee on February 13 last. The stipulation of counsel and upon which Justice Hatch based his order provides that payments at the rate of $65 an hour shall be made for time spent at hearings in the action in determining questions of law and fact involved and in the preparation of the referee's findings and his report.

The payments to the referee are to be made quarterly, beginning August 7 next, and in the first instance shall come out of the Jay Gould estate, but payment to be made by persons held to be liable therefor by Judge Hatch.

If Judge Hatch spends an hour a day for 300 days on the Gould case at $65 an hour he will have earned $19,500 or $2,000 more than the annual salary of a Supreme Court Justice.

Besides holding hearings Judge Hatch will be required to read all the testimony already in the record before he can write his findings and report, and the work, too, will be chargeable at the $65 an hour rate.

England's Divorce Laws Worst, Says Lord Birkenhead

London, April 12.—(By mail.)—"With some experience of the Divorce Court, I have long reached the conclusion that our divorce laws are almost the worst in the world," said Lord Birkenhead, newly-elected president of the Divorce Law Commission, at a meeting held in the afternoon of that body at the Carlton Hotel, reports The Cardiff Times and South Wales Weekly Echo.

Lord Birkenhead, who is president of the Divorce Law Commission, said that the proposals now before the House of Commons as "the last word of the government," Lord Birkenhead said in the speech of the House Secretary was an "impertinent one." "Who are we," he asked, referring to the upper chamber, "to tell the House of Lords not to do anything?"

"There is no room in this country for a clergy for marriage to people who are not fit to be married," he said in a law in a church established by law," was another of Lord Birkenhead's points.

Lady Bonham-Carter, who seconded the resolution moved by Lord Birkenhead, asserted that there was a great deal of sympathy, cordiality and respect in the opposition camp. The divorce law reform supporters were not advocating easier divorce, but fairer divorce.

Use Toy Balloons In Gypsy Moth War. Gypsy moths may know more about the gentle breeze that wafts across the Massachusetts-Toronto line than the New York state conservation commission, but the commission proposes, according to plans announced, to break up the gypsy's gliding monopoly.

The gypsy moth does not fly; it glides. That is, the female or destructive sex, glides. The moth lays its eggs; the eggs become caterpillars; the caterpillars climb trees eating the foliage on their way up. When they reach the top they gradually enter the pupal stage, and a passing zephyr spread their wings and embark. The wing spread is enormous and the moth travels for miles, borne on the breezes and going where the wind wills.

The commission will compete with toy balloons, and where the balloons go, the gypsy will be likely to go, the commission argues.

In order to obtain data on lower air currents in western Massachusetts and eastern New York state, five temporary weather stations have been established on the Mohawk trail; at North Peterburg, N. Y.; midway between Williamstown and North Adams, Mass.; on Whitecomb summit of Hoozie mountain; at a point two miles west of Charlemont, Mass.; and at a point five miles east of Charlemont.

Toy balloons with fringed tags attached will be liberated daily from these stations during May and early June, and at times from other points in Massachusetts and New York.

The commission, in conducting its experiment, has asked the co-operation of persons who find the balloons in forwarding the attached tags to the conservation commission, Albany, N. Y. It has been requested that the tags be filled in with explicit information concerning the location of the balloon when found, and, when feasible, the distance and direction from the nearest postoffice.

The Railways and Forest Fires. Q.—Are not the railways chiefly to blame for some thousands of forest fires? A.—They are not. A large proportion of the railway fires are small ones and rapidly extinguished. The worst menace to the forest comes from campers, prospectors, smokers and others traveling through the bush for work or pleasure.

ANOTHER BUSY MORNING FOR THE SURGEONS

(Continued from page 1) Dr. Farris introduced a patient who had suffered from tubercular throat and had been sent home to die. With Dr. Chipman he had gone exhaustively into the case and the man had made an excellent recovery. He had gained eighty pounds and both doctors were proud of the results obtained.

Operation at Lancaster. A number of those attending the meetings of the Maritime Section of the American College of Surgeons were present at the Lancaster D. S. C. R. hospital this morning at a surgical clinic held by Dr. W. W. White of this city. Dr. White performed an operation in bone surgery calling for an unusual degree of care and nicety of work, the section of a knee joint, and exhibited several cases of bone surgery.

The operation performed by Dr. White was commenced about ten o'clock in the operating room of the hospital. The idea of the operation is to remove the diseased joint surfaces of the knee and to bring the bones of the thigh and lower leg in a position in such a way that they can be joined, as in the case of a fracture. When the union of the bones has taken place the effect is to eliminate the knee joint entirely and to make a single one continuous bone from hip to ankle. This operation is used in cases of diseased and tubercular knees and has been found to be successful.

Dr. White showed a case where this had been done some nine months ago and the result had been a complete success. Dr. White also showed some cases where operations had been performed, among them being a case of excision of the elbow joint. He pointed out the difference between this and the knee operation. It was not advisable in the case of an elbow excision, he said, to have the joint stiff and therefore it was necessary to form another joint.

He showed a case of an operation on the shoulder and explained some of the reasons for post-operative work, demonstrating its use. There were about thirty of the surgeons present at the luncheon in the dining room of the hospital.

In the Y. M. C. I. building this afternoon a scientific session was held at which the speakers were Dr. F. J. Cotton, professor of surgery at Harvard University; Dr. G. C. VanWart of Fredericton; Dr. W. W. Chipman, professor of gynecology and obstetrics at McGill University; Dr. G. B. of the Massachusetts Dental Association, which held a convention in the Copley Plaza Hotel.

Rain for While in New York But Tex Ricard Says the Show Will Go On.

Ringside, Yankee Stadium, May 12.—Tex Ricard, promoter of the heavy-weight boxing carnival this afternoon, for the benefit of the milk fund, announced a little before one o'clock that the show would be staged, rain or shine. A few minutes later all gates were opened and a crowd estimated at 10,000 for hours swarmed into the stadium. Few were in the Willard Weighs 248.

A light rain started to fall a little after ten a.m. threatening to cause postponement of the show. Prospects were brighter at 11:15 a.m. when it had stopped raining and the sun promised to break through overcast skies. Jess Willard tipped the scales at 248 when he weighed in. He will have an advantage of 33 pounds over his youthful opponent, Floyd Johnson. Fippo weighed 212 against an even 200 for Jack McAuliffe, opponent. Weights of other fighters were: Fulton 214; Benoit 190 1/2; Herman 218 1/2; Reich 206 1/2; Drake 198 and McCann 202.

DEMONSTRATION IN MOSCOW. Moscow, May 12.—All Moscow's factories and Government institutions were closed today to permit the employees to take part in a great demonstration against the British note. Surging crowds early began to fill the streets.

The intent of the demonstrators seemed to be peaceful, but it appeared evident that they meant to make the demonstration an impressive one.

CANADA AND THE U. S. Washington, May 12.—Such progress has been made by the U. S. and Canada toward modernizing the century-old Rush-Bagot agreement regarding the military and naval defenses along the international border, it was said yesterday by administration officials, that an announcement concerning the negotiations may be expected within a few days.

The Canadian position with reference to a restatement of the agreement in permanent form, it is understood, has been made clear to the State Department through the British Embassy, which is now awaiting a reply.

Hammo-Couches with Frills as You Will

You can start easy with a Simmons Hammo-Couch—begin with a chain-hung verandah dozer at $16, and add one thing on top of another until you have a canopied swing out on the lawn held up by steel standards, with an adjustable head-rest and matted wind-shield.

The $16 outfit boasts a Simmons rust-proof spring of link fabric, a Simmons felt mattress, all dressed up like the wind-shield in genuine khaki duck. You hang it anywhere, close your eyes and forget the world, or open and read away to your heart's content.

And if afflicted with further lazy ambition, add enough extras to create a de luxe swing. It is our first adventure in Hammo-Couches so the middle window is out to make a special showing. Look as you pass.

Red Cross Plans Service Extension

The monthly meeting of the New Brunswick Red Cross Society was held in the report rooms yesterday afternoon, with R. T. Hayes, M. P. P., presiding.

Several reports were read. The main feature of the business was the discussion of the extension of the public health nursing service to new parts of the province.

The financial statement prepared by the treasurer, C. B. Allan, showed expenditures totalling $6,498.17, including nurses' salaries, $488.20; depot, $198.50; Junior work, $169.88; expenses of attending central council, $100; hospital committee, $800; public health department, $8,000. The balance on hand amounted to $4,651.49 and in the month's receipts were $2,000, part of the $3,000 grant made for the year 1923 by the Canadian Red Cross.

Junior Work. The Junior Red Cross report showed receipts of $108.75, including contributions to the disabled children's fund from Hartland and New Brunswick branches. The members had made Easter cards and toys for hospital patients. Plans are made for giving prizes for the Junior branches at the close of the school term. The supervisors, Mrs. H. Lawrence and Miss Jessie Lawson, had gone to Fredericton to address the Normal School students.

Mrs. E. R. Taylor, for the hospital committee, reported three soldier patients had been discharged. She spoke of special cases in which dependents were destitute and asked what action should be taken. She reported that Dr. H. A. Farris was preparing the list of special cases for the tubercular patients care appeal to be sent to the Central Council.

The report of nursing services was sent by Miss H. Melkjohn, showing visits totalling 1,105 and 171 sick patients and 1,785 school children visited, also thirty-nine health talks given.

A request for an increase in salary from the Junior Red Cross supervisors was referred to the executive with power to act.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Part of an article in the Montreal Herald on "Confederation and the Maritime Provinces," written by Hon. A. D. Malcom, Premier of New Brunswick, says that the feeling of the people of New Brunswick is that the North American Act should be changed to guarantee that there will be no diminution of federal representation for the Maritime Provinces in the future.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. I. Fraser, formerly of Hipswell, were chosen as superintending and matron of the Maritime Oddfellows Home in Pictou at a meeting of the trustees last night.

Fire which broke out yesterday afternoon in the Keys Steam Laundry in St. Stephen completely destroyed the building and damaged two other buildings slightly in spite of the efforts of the fire departments of St. Stephen, Calais and Milltown. The loss will be about $15,000.

It was learned recently that Mrs. Mary Rosenfeldt, who was killed when struck by a motor car in the streets of Montreal, was standing on the sidewalk when the car ran away.

Her father, Mr. Herbert Cross, and William Swales, were held. Louis Rosenfeldt, a son of Mrs. Rosenfeldt, was formerly a resident of St. John and was here recently.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET. The C. G. I. T. group of St. David's church last evening held a mother and daughter banquet in the school room with more than seventy attending. Those in charge of the supper were Mrs. A. Morrison, Mrs. R. A. Jamieson, Mrs. D. Willet, Mrs. H. Brown, Mrs. J. T. MacGowan, Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. R. C. Craik, Mrs. P. C. Johnson, Mrs. Chisholm, members of the Women's Missionary Society, Miss Mary Allison, Maritime girls' work secretary, gave an outline of C. G. I. T. work. Toasts were proposed and responded to by Miss Bernice Somerville, Miss Annie McPherson, Miss Isabel Somerville, Rev. Hugh Miller, Miss Edna Sage, Mrs. Percival Foster, Miss Marjorie Clark, Mrs. P. C. Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Malcom, Miss Helen MacGowan, Miss Willa Woodley, Ronald Smith, Miss Helen Purchase, Miss J. Milligan, Miss Helen Clark, Miss Gladys Jardine, Mrs. R. A. Jamieson and Miss Edith Campbell.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP ANDOVER HOTEL. An attempt was made yesterday morning to blow up Dionne's hotel in Andover. Clement Dionne, proprietor when investigating the cause of the explosion found a bag of dynamite on the verandah, some of which had exploded. The building was quite badly damaged, but fortunately no one was injured. An effort is being made to learn the identity of the perpetrators.

TRINITY ENTERTAINMENT. A double programme consisting of a one-act play "Robin Hood," by a group of the Trinity High School of Wolf Cove trained by Charles Upham and Miss Ray Cawley and the Trinity Club's play, "The Arrival of Kitty," was given last night in the school room in aid of the Wolf Cove summer camp fund. Two members of the troupe were—Harold Brown, Thos. McClelland, Henry Darling, Henry Ellis, Douglas Smith, James Macdonald, Ronald Hornbrook, Hal Seely, Ford Hatfield, Walter Murphy, Walter Dunbrack, Kenneth Noneman, Daniel Robertson and Campbell Crighton. Miss Lella Koe was the pianist of the evening. Those taking part in "The Arrival of Kitty" were—A. E. Gabriel, Edward Walsh, Paul Walsh, Harold Holder, Richard Gowman, Miss Dorothy Ke, Miss Cecil Coleman, Miss Ernestine Fryer and Miss Isabelle Stevens.

THE BUDGET.
While Hon. Mr. Fielding's budget proposals do not provide for any sweeping reduction in the customs schedules, the changes he makes are in almost every case downward, and he announces a substantial increase in the British Preference. This will give general satisfaction, especially in view of the fact that the reduction in the preferential rate is to apply only when the goods are brought direct to Canadian ports. It is obvious that this will greatly stimulate the business of our own seaports and will show the advantage of shipping through them.
Mr. Fielding's proposal for a ten per cent. reduction in the British preferential tariff rate under the conditions he stipulates, and there is no doubt that this will work out to the benefit of the whole country. He has added a few items to the list of exemptions from the sales tax and has reduced the maximum tax on checks from two dollars to one. The excise tax on Canadian wines is cut from three dollars to $1.50 a gallon. The addition to the tax on cigarettes which was imposed last year is removed. Mr. Fielding pointing out that no Chancellor of the Exchequer would think of removing it under present conditions. Various provisions are made for the encouragement of Canadian industries.
The Finance Minister is strongly hopeful that a reciprocal trade arrangement will eventually be made between Canada and the United States, and he has moved a resolution designed to bring this about. He believes that Canada is bound to share in the prosperity which has come to the United States and that the great number of young men who have been attracted across the border by high wages will find their way back and assist in the development of their own country.
Mr. Fielding, in his analysis of the financial conditions of Canada, explains that the $88,000,000 surplus estimated for the last fiscal year was wiped out by the deficit resulting from the operation of the Canadian National Railways and the Government Merchant Marine. For this year, aside from the railway department, he expects a surplus of about $14,000,000. This year's revenue is not likely to be so great as that received during the last fiscal year, he says.
The tariff changes will no doubt be criticised by the farmers of the West and the high protectionists of the East, but he appears to have handled a difficult situation as well as could be expected. The war created special problems that are not easily solved, but Mr. Fielding believes that if the Canadian people proceed with the hope and courage which has sustained them in the past Canada will emerge triumphant from the crisis through which she is passing and will become once more on the high road to industrial and commercial prosperity.

CHILDREN'S WEEK.
The week of May 13 to 20 inclusive is the Children's Week in Canada and the United States. It begins appropriately with Mother's Day tomorrow. The Maritime Religious Education Council has been making a vigorous effort to have the week observed in as many centres as possible, giving emphasis to the religious phase of the movement, but every phase of work relating to children may properly be emphasized, such as the Junior Red Cross, the Free Kindergarten, health promotion and child welfare generally. In St. John, because of lack of organization this year, there will not be a complete programme, but special sermons will be preached tomorrow in many churches, the Sunday Schools will try to get closer to children and parents, and group story-telling and if possible some window displays will be features of the week. It is proper and desirable that every phase of religious, educational and welfare work for children should be brought strongly to public attention. A leaflet sent out by the Religious Education Council quotes the striking sentence—"The race moves forward on the feet of little children." Up to the present time Children's Week has not meant anything in particular in this city, but it is hoped to have such a programme for next year as will arrest universal attention and fix the thoughts of all upon the problems to be solved to make the home and the community safer and better for the child. Meanwhile, on tomorrow and during next week thoughts concerning the children should be in every mind to a very special degree, to the end that greater general interest may be manifested in the welfare of the little ones throughout the year, and that no appeal in their behalf may be disregarded.

HOSPITALS AND HEALTH.
The meeting of the Maritime Section of the American College of Surgeons in St. John this week, and the special attention directed to the hospitals and their work lends appropriateness to some reflections on recent progress in regard to matters pertaining to health in this city. We now have standardized hospitals. We have a Hospital for persons afflicted with tuberculosis, and an Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. We have a Health Centre which is increasing the number of its clinics and co-ordinating public health work in a most effective manner. We have the splendid work of the Red Cross. We have for the province a Minister of Health and at the Hospital have a bacteriologist whose services are for the benefit of the medical profession throughout the province. We have the medical inspection of all schools, and are moving toward the time when the few public health nurses will be reinforced to cover the whole province. The provincial and district Boards of Health are becoming more efficient. In St. John we now have pasteurized milk, and more and more attention is being paid to the health of infants, and of all children. A Social Hygiene Council is being formed to combat venereal diseases, in co-operation with the Health Department. The citizens who would have predicted five years ago that so much would have been accomplished by this time would have been derided, and yet all this and more was in the mind of Hon. Dr. Roberts when he entered public life to promote a matter of general concern to an extent never before approached in this province. Epidemics are promptly and successfully coped with, and smallpox, for example, is no longer a cause of dread. It gets no chance to spread. The handling of a recent typhoid epidemic proved the efficiency of the Health Department of the province.

The Marriage Game

The Snappiest of Pastimes As Played to a Decision Every Day
By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hatton

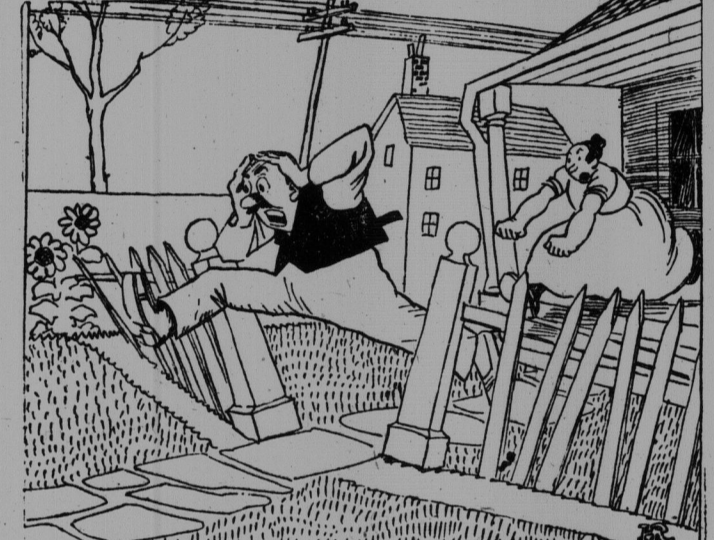

OUCH!
His Play—A wife is often bored to tears by the constant company of her husband—and an angry husband is a man who seldom cares to exert himself to make known a desire to spend an occasional evening with some friend—she bursts into tears and angrily expresses an affecting aversion, if he is getting tired of her! How can a man meet the situation which crops up in every married association? The point is that a man is capable of finding friendly contacts outside the family circle, but he seldom does so. The reason is that he has his own friends and seeks new interests. Most divorcees are nothing more than the natural result of emulthood with both parties bored stiff.
Her Counter-Play—How insulting! Not insulting to us women, dear, but to your own intelligence! It is true that most husbands have a suspicious attitude for finding new interests outside the home, as you naively express it. Perhaps they deliberately cultivate this gift for dodging the commonplaces of marriage. But a woman is different. The reason she does not try to make new contacts away from home is that she is aware that marriage is a price in which the principle of give and take forms the basic foundation. She doesn't expect marriage to provide a new thrill every fifteen minutes, it is only when a man seeks these new contacts that a wife must seek relief in divorce to preserve her own self-respect.
The Referee—Ouch! She wins!

MARITIME PROVINCE GRIEVANCES
To the Editor of The Toronto Globe:
It is interesting to note the mild publicizing of the Maritime Provinces are getting through letters, editorials, etc., and encouraging to hear that the long suffering people of the Bluenose coast are actually beginning to kick against their policies being directed by Quebec and Ontario.
What do you suppose was the significance of the statement of ex-Premier Foster in the New Brunswick Legislature not long since when he said that in order for one to reach heaven he must pass through Ontario? Is it not a fact that Quebec and Ontario guide the destinies of the Maritime Provinces and dictate to them what they shall do in regard to trade matters? Is it not a fact that they tell the Maritime Provinces that if they have anything to sell they must send their products to Montreal and Toronto, with a handicap of from 600 to 1,000 miles of freight by rail? Is it not a fact that the necessities of the household, farm implements, etc., they must pay the freight over that thousand miles of rail, not a fact that the products of Ontario, Quebec and Western Canada are shipped through Portland, Boston and New York summer and winter? Is it not a fact that Canadian money has been paid to foreign labor for handling Canadian freight, etc., are sufficient to double-track our own lines and pay our own men and give encouragement to our own people, for the Maritime Provinces are a part of our own Dominion? Would it not be well for our Federal legislators to look seriously into the handicaps under which the Maritime Provinces are laboring? Would it not be well for them to consider the subsidizing of that six hundred miles of rail and making it feasible to send Canadian products through

TEACHERS WILL KEEP SCHOOLS OPEN
Volunteer Services for June Without Salary, in Interest of Kindergarten Children.
It was announced this morning that the five kindergarten schools in the city would not close for the month of June, as had been anticipated, owing to a shortage of funds. The teachers, who have been put on the streets for that month, have volunteered their services without salary. Other incidental expenses will have to be met by the friends of the kindergarten but the matter is being eliminated, thanks to the unselfishness of the teachers.

YESTERDAY IN PARLIAMENT
(By Canadian Press)
Ottawa, May 12.—In the House of Commons yesterday Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, presented the annual budget. This was Mr. Fielding's seventeenth budget. After a few remarks, adjourned the debate.
The bill providing for the investigation of combines and mergers passed out of the committee stage, and stood over for third reading.
First reading was given to a bill to amend the Canada Shipping Act, providing for the refusal of pilots licenses under certain circumstances.
The bill to amend the Immigration Act was taken up in committee and given third reading. An amendment which would have made any person liable to deportation who should advocate assassination.
During the remainder of the sitting progress was made on estimates of the Department of Public Works.
In the House on Monday the budget debate will be continued by Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance under the former government.
The Senate will sit at 9 p.m.

THE BEEHIVE OF CANADA.
(La Patrie)
"The Senators and western members of Parliament who visited the district of Three Rivers at the invitation of Senator Smeaton White returned to Ottawa charmed and amazed with all that they had seen. They were particularly struck by the signs of contentment and well-being visible among the whole population. Not only did the guests of Senator White realize that the most favorable conditions for the province exist, but they saw that the province of Quebec, through its activities, its constant work, its clear-sighted initiative, is destined to become the beehive of confederation. The province stands to gain by making itself more widely known, and those who get to know it will become all the better citizens by following its example and marching in its steps. The cause of the 'bonne entente' is making progress every day."

Children at Recess Escape Injury

Gale Blows Roof off School in Framingham, Mass.
Framingham, Mass., May 12.—Swiftly from the gale itself flew word around town that the high wind had blown down the portable schoolhouse on Beaver street, burying all the children in its wreckage.
Pots boiled over and potatoes burned on hot, frantic mothers abandoned kitchens and raced toward the school. The children, who were in the act of learning, were a long time getting out. Those whose skirts caught in the wind arrived in time to see what greeted the eyes of the school superintendent, a physician and a ritual of frenzied hands by Chief Culler, of whom came as fast as powerful mortars could carry them.
The children, at recess, were in a section of the portable roof had carried away. Another, as large as a barn door, was

ATTENDED SCHOOL WHILE SICK WITH SCARLET FEVER

Lewiston, Me., May 12.—While visiting the Wallace school, Dr. L. J. Dumont, city health officer, discovered a pupil ill of scarlet fever, the disease having reached the "scaling" stage. This pupil had been a regular attendant at classes during the entire run of the disease. So many of the pupils had been exposed that Dr. Dumont ordered the school closed at once for fumigation. A special physician, Dr. E. N. Giguere, has been engaged to examine all pupils of that school daily.

RESCUES BOY ON MATTRESS CRUISE

Dives from Bridge and Nearly Loses His Own Life.

Boston, May 12—Diving from Dixey bridge to rescue a boy who had tumbled out on an old mattress into the South bay, Towerman John V. Murphy of the New Haven railroad, became entangled in floating debris from the dump and, holding the boy above the surface, struggled for more than twenty-five minutes before three men in a rowboat rescued him and the lad.

Murphy and the boy, twelve-year-old William Clash, a negro, of Fairweather street, South end, were taken in the police ambulance to the Athens street station to the City Hospital, where they were treated for immersion and exhaustion.

Blanket Makes Sail.
The boy was playing on the public dump near Dixey bridge, near the South bay tower of the Midland division of the New Haven, when he found an old mattress. He dragged it to the edge of the water, shipped a broomstick mast and spread a sail made from an old blanket, and set forth in quest of a land where the dumps are covered with gold and diamonds.

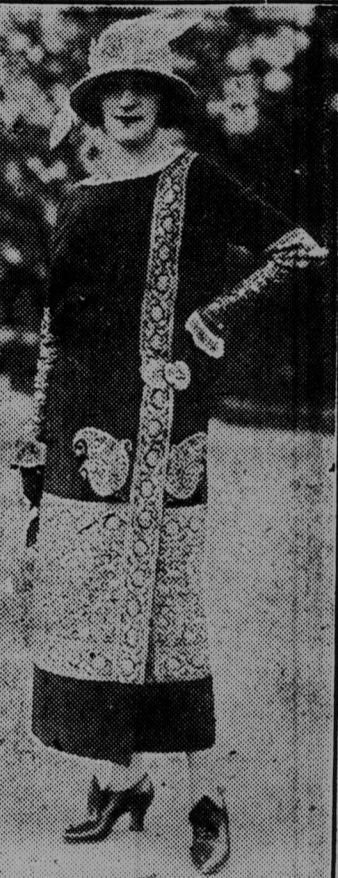

The current in that part of the bay was comparatively swift, and Willie was out about 100 yards from shore before his craft became water-logged and began to go down by the stern. The wireless apparatus had been carried overboard with the falling of the broomstick mast, but the boy's shouts were heard by Murphy, who was atop the tower at the bridge.

Murphy ran down the tower stairs and dived from the bridge. He swam swiftly toward the sinking mattress. He was still several feet from the boy when the wreck and the boy, who never had learned to swim, disappeared beneath the water. The towerman dived again and brought up the lad, who was clinging in a deathlike grip to his broomstick.

Towing Willie by the collar, Murphy was half way back to shore when he became entangled in the mattress that had drifted from the dump. Rusty wire dangling from pieces of broken boxes clamped about his feet and dragged and tugged like some fearful octopus of the deep trying to pull him and the boy to their death. Holding the boy with one hand and with the other arm, Middle-aged Heiress Does Not Regret Choice — Happy Washing Dishes for Husband.

Detroit, May 12—Florence Avery Barrigand, middle-aged spinster and daughter of John H. Avery, one of Detroit's oldest and wealthiest families, who gave up home luxuries and social position to marry Francis Barrigand, gardener on the Avery estate, insisted that she had nothing to regret in the step she took.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Barrigand left their tiny three-room apartment, located over a store in River Rouge, and went for a walk through the squalid district in which they live and where the groom earns his daily bread. As the couple left, Mrs. Barrigand wore a tailored blue serge, with walking shoes of excellent cut, a hand-made blouse, a sand-colored cape and a black and white sun hat. It is quite unlikely that anybody in River Rouge was aware of the fact that the suit bore a Piccadilly label, or that the shoes were hand-made, or that the cape was bought on Fifth avenue. She wore only two pieces of jewelry, her plain gold wedding ring and a gorgeous sapphire and platinum pin, which clasped the blouse at the throat. It was the only bit of splendor worn by the woman who had sacrificed wealth and social eminence to wash dishes for the man she says she loves.

Mrs. Barrigand says she likes her new life, and believes she always will.

THREE MEN DROWNED ON THE NEPISIGUIT
A sad accident occurred on the Nepisiguit River yesterday when three men lost their lives while engaged on the log drive of the Bathurst Lumber Co., Ltd. They were Warren Chamberlain, a young man of East Bathurst; Leo Boucher and a man named Albert. The last two were married. The fatality occurred about fifteen miles above the Great Falls and about thirty-five miles from Bathurst. From reports received the boat, containing five men, turned turtle while going through the turbulent waters of what is known as the Chain of Rocks. Two of the men were rescued by Indian boatmen named Risk. None of the bodies was recovered up to last night.

RECENT DEATHS
John Jennings, of Newburg Junction, Carleton County, died at his home on May 4. He was a native of England, coming to this country in the seventies. He is survived by four sons, one of them being Francis L. Jennings, of the Sun Life Assurance Company, of St. John. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Bigby, of Woodstock, and interment was in Lower Brighton.

Minard's Lulimant, Lumberman's Friend.
A vote of $860,000 for improvements to St. John harbor was passed in the House of Commons yesterday. Hon. J. B. M. Baxter and Dr. Murray MacLaren urged completion of the Negro Point breakwater. The sum of $600,000 of the amount voted is for completion of work at Courtenay Bay. No provision for work on the breakwater was made, though the matter is receiving consideration.

help, but the only ones who heard him were several small boys who were clustered on the shore, and they could give no aid.
Fighting gamely to free himself of the clinging wires and keeping his grip on the boy's collar, Murphy was struggling in the water for fifteen minutes before his shouts and the cries of the boys on shore were heard by James Purcell, yardmaster of the South bay yard of the railroad. Purcell and an engineer and a fireman from a switching engine in the yard ran to a wharf near the bridge and rowed out to Murphy and the boy. They had great difficulty in getting the pair into the boat. The boy was unconscious and the fingers of Murphy's right hand had become cramped, so that they could hardly belloosed of their grip on the lad's collar.
Murphy is thirty-two years old and lives at 164 Minot street, Dorchester.

ANGINA PECTORIS CURE REPORTED FROM VIENNA
London, April 10.—(By mail.)—General interest was created at a meeting of the Medical Congress in Vienna, says a London Daily Mail Exchange message, by a statement of Professor Wenckebach on the treatment of angina pectoris. By an operation, he said, total relief could be obtained from its pains.
"Attempts have been made before to cure this agonizing disease, which may be described as cramp of the heart, by operation, and with some success," said a doctor to a Daily Mail reporter yesterday. "Dr. Jenness, a French surgeon, by exciting a small portion of a nerve (the left cervical sympathetic nerve) completely cured a man who for years had been suffering from severe pain."
"The report does not indicate the nature of Professor Wenckebach's operation. Although there are many theories we are quite in the dark as to what causes angina pectoris, from which women rarely suffer. It is most a disease of men of the better classes, and is particularly common among doctors and among Jews. Mental strain and worry predispose to it.

CALL OF ARMY IN FRANCE
CAUSE OF LABOR SHORTAGE
London, April 20.—(By mail.)—The death of labor in France, on the land as well as in various industrial centres, is making itself more and more felt, and is naturally accentuated by the retention with the colors of the 230,000 men of the 1921 class, according to the Paris correspondent of The London Daily News.
The Minister of Agriculture announced this morning that an arrangement has been made with the Prussian Government for the dispatch of agricultural laborers from Czechoslovakia to France, and a first batch, destined for the best industry, will arrive soon. Recently an average of about 6,000 foreign workers have been coming into France every week, the very large majority being Italians, but in every part of the country, nevertheless, there is still a call for more labor—skilled and unskilled.

The Breaking Point

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

"From what the two men at the ranch told me when I got there, I think Hines stayed somewhere in the mountains for the next day or two, and that he came down for food the night Henry died.

"Just what he contributed to Henry's death I do not know. Henry fell in one room, and was found in bed in another. The hands had been off after taking the cattle to the winter range, and he'd been alone in the house.

"When I got there the funeral was over. I read the letter he had left, and then I talked to the two hands, Bill Arday and Jake Maitzell. They would not talk at first, but I showed them Henry's record and then they were free enough. The autopsy had shown that Henry died from heart disease, but he had a cut on his head also, and they believed that Hines had come back, and quarreled with him again, and had knocked him down.

"As Henry had in a way handed over to me his responsibility for the boy, and as I wanted to transfer the money, I waited for three weeks at the ranch, hoping he would turn up again. I saw the Thorwald woman, but she protested that she did not know where he was. And I made two attempts to see and warn Jud Clark, but failed both times. Then one night the Thorwald woman came in looking like a ghost, and admitted that Hines had been hiding in the mountains since Henry's death, and that he insisted he would kill Clark. The three of us, the two men at the ranch and myself, prepared to go into the mountains and hunt for him, before he got snowed in.

"Then came the shooting at the Clark place, and I rode over that night in a howling storm and helped the coroner and a Norada doctor in the examination. All the evidence was against Clark, especially his running away. But I happened on Hattie Thorwald outside on a veranda—she'd been working at the house—and I didn't need any conversation to tell me what she thought. All she said was:

"He didn't do it, doctor. He's still in the mountains."

"I said:

"He's been here tonight, Hattie, and you know it. He shot the wrong man."

"But she swore he hadn't been, and at the end I didn't know. I'll say right now that I don't know. But I'll say, too, that I believe that is what happened, and that Hines probably stayed hidden that night on Hattie Thorwald's place. I went there the next day, but she denied it all and said he was still in the mountains. She carried on about the blizzard and being frozen to death, until I began to think she was telling the truth.

"The next day I did what only a tenderfoot would do, started into the mountains alone. Bill and Jake were out with a posse after Clark, and I packed up some food and started, I'll not go into the details of that trip. I went in from the Dry River Canyon, and I guess I faced death a dozen times the first day. I had a map, but I lost myself in six hours. I had food and blankets and an axe along, and I built a shelter and stayed there over night. I had to cut up one of my blankets the next morning and tie up the horse's feet, so he wouldn't sink too deep in the snow. But it stayed cold and the snow hardened, and we got along better after that.

"I'd have turned back more than once, but I thought I'd meet up with some of the sheriff's party. I didn't do that, but I stumbled on a trail on the third day, toward evening. It was the trail made by John Donaldson, as I learned later. I followed it, but I concluded after awhile that whoever made it was lost, too. It seemed to be going in a circle. I was in bad shape and had frozen a part of my right hand, when I saw a cabin, and there was smoke coming out of the chimney."

"From that time on David's statement dealt with the situation in the cabin; with Jud Clark and the Donaldsons, and with the snowstorm, which began again and lasted for days. He spoke at length of his discovery of Clark's identity, and of the fact that the boy had lost all memory of what had happened, and even of who he was. He went into that in detail; the peculiar effect of fear and mental shock on a high-strung nature, especially when the physical condition was lowered by excess and wrong living; his early attempts, as the boy improved, to pierce the veil, and then his slow-growing conviction that it was an act of mercy not to do so. The Donaldson's faithfulness, the cessation of the search under the conviction that Clark was dead, both were there, and also David's growing liking for Judson himself. But David's own psychology was interesting and clearly put.

"First of all," he dictated, in his careful old voice, "it must be remembered that I was not certain that the boy had committed the crime. I believed, and I still believe, that Lucas was shot by the man Hines, probably through an open window. There were no powder marks on the body. I believe, too, and still believe, that Hines had had after the crime, either to Hattie Thorwald's house or to the mountains. In one case he had no access and could not be brought to justice, and in the other he was dead, and beyond conviction.

"But there is another element which I urge, not in defense but explanation. The boy Judson Clark was a new date to write on. He had never had a chance He had had too much money, too much liberty, too little responsibility. His errors had been wiped away by the loss of his memory, and he had, I felt, a chance for a new and useful life. I did not come to my decision quickly. It was a long fight for his life, for he had contracted pneumonia. In the long days of his convalescence while Maggie worked in the lean-to, I deliberately built up for Judson Clark a new idea of himself as my nephew, my brother Henry's son. He had the traditions of an honorable family to carry on, and those traditions were honor, integrity, clean living and work. I did not stress love, for that I felt must be experienced, not talked about. But love was to be the foundation on which I built. The boy had had no love in his life.

"It has worked out. I may not live to see it at its fullest, but I defy the world to produce today a finer or more honorable gentleman, a more useful member of the community. And it will last. The stake may come when Judson Clark will again be Judson Clark. I have expected it for many years. He will never again be the Judson Clark of ten years ago. He may even will to return to the old country, but I shall be here, perhaps never to see him, I say this: he cannot go back. His character and habits of thought are established and

"To convict Judson Clark of the murder of Howard Lucas is to convict a probably or at least possibly innocent man. To convict Richard Livingstone of that crime, is to convict a different man, innocent of the crime, innocent of its memory; innocent of any single impulse to lift a hand against a man of God or the state."

"For a month Haverly had buzzed with whispered conjectures. It knew nothing, and yet somehow it knew everything. Doctor David was ill at the seashore, and Dick was not with him. Harrison Miller, who was never known to depart further from his comfortable hearth than the railway station in one direction and the Sayre house in the other, had made a trip east and was now in the far west. Doctor Reynolds, who might or might not know something, had joined the country club and sent for his golf bag.

"And Elizabeth Wheeler was going around with a drawn white face and a determined smile. She faded the moment one looked away.

"The village was hurt and suspicious. It resented its lack of knowledge, and turned critical where, had it been taken into confidence, it would have been scoldious. It believed that David had been killed, for it knew, via Annie and the Oglethorps' laundress, that no letters came from Dick. And Dick, in a hot flame of mainly feminine anger.

"But it sensed a mystery too, and if it hated a jilt it loved a mystery. Nina had taken to going about with her small pointed chin held high, and angrily she demanded that Elizabeth do the same.

"You know what they are saying, and yet you go about looking crushed."

"I can't act, Nina. I do go about."

"And Nina had a softened moment. "Don't think about him," she said. "He isn't here, and he would have had some one wire or write. And he isn't dead, or they'd have found his papers and we know."

"Then he's in some sort of trouble. I want to go out there. I want to go out there."

"That, indeed, had been her constant cry for the last two weeks. She would've done it probably, packed her bag and slipped away, but she had no money of her own, and even Leslie, to whom she appealed, had refused her when he knew her purpose.

"We're following him up, little sister," he said. "Harrison Miller has gone out, and there's enough talk as it is."

"She thought, lying in her bed at night, that they were all too afraid of what people might say. It seemed so important to her. And she could not understand the conspiracy of silence. Other men went away and were not heard from, and the police were notified and the papers told. It seemed to her, too, that everyone, her father and Nina and Leslie and even Harrison Miller, knew more than she did.

"There had been that long conference behind closed doors, when Harrison Miller came back from seeing David, and before he went west. Leslie had been there, and even Doctor Reynolds, but they had shut her out. And her father had not been the same since. He seemed, sometimes, to be burning with a sort of inner anger. Not at her, however. He was very gentle with her.

"And here was a curious thing. She had always felt that she knew when Dick was thinking of her. All at once, and without any warning, there would come a glow of happiness and warmth, and a sort of surrounding and encircling sense of protection. Rather like what she had felt as a little girl when she had run home through the terrors of the twilight, and closed the house door behind her. She was in warm and lighted house, safe and cared for.

"That was completely gone. It was as though the warm and lighted house of her love had turned her out and locked the door, and she was alone outside, cold and frightened.

"She avoided the village, and from a sense of delicacy it left her alone. The small parties of the summer were on, dinners, dances and picnics, but her name made her absence incomprehensible. Mrs. Sayre, she tried to, at first, but that lady's insistence and her own spyness made it easier to accept than to refuse. Then, after a time, she fled the house rather a refuge. She seldom saw Walter, and she found her hostess tactful, kindly and unobtrusive.

"But she scissored and a basket, child, and cut your mother some roses," she would say. "If they would, I'd let the green houses, and going in the car to the cemetery, make of Jim's grave a thing of beauty and remembrance. Now and then, of course, she saw

Walter, but he never reverted to the day she had told him her engagement. Mother and son, she began to feel that only with them could she be herself. For the village, her chin high as Nina had said. At home, assumed cheerfulness. Only at the house on the hill could she be herself.

"She waited with a sort of desperate courage, for word from Harrison Miller. What she wanted that word to be she did not know. There were, of course, times when she had to face the possibility that Dick had deliberately cut himself off from her. After all, there had never been any real reason why he should care for her. She was not clever and not beautiful. She was not even as well educated as he, and this was the thing they were concealing. Perhaps he had gone back to Wyoming and had there found some one more worthy of him, some one who understood when he talked about the things he did in his laboratory, and did not just sit and listen with loving, rather bewildered eyes.

"Then, one night at dinner, a telegram was brought in, and she knew it was the expected word. She felt her mother's eyes on her, and she sat very still, with her hands clenched in her lap. But her father did not read it at the table, he got up and went out, and some time later he came to the door. The telegram was not in sight.

"It was from Harrison Miller," he said. "He traced him to a hotel in Norada, but he had left the hotel, and he hasn't got in touch with him yet."

"He went away then, and they heard the house door open Tuesday night. Nothing definite. "Think safe," she asked, breathlessly. "Then he had been in danger? What are you keeping from me? And when no one spoke: "Oh, don't you see how cruel it is? You are all trying to protect me, and you are killing me, instead."

"Not danger," her father said, slowly. "So far as we know, he is well. It's all right." And seeing her face: "It is nothing that affects his feeling for you, dear. He is thinking of you loving you, wherever he is. Only, we don't know where he is."

"But when he came back on Tuesday, after seeing Harrison Miller, he was discouraged and sick at heart. He went directly upstairs to his wife, and shut the bedroom door.

"Not a trace," he said, in reply to the question in her eyes. "The situation, as he outlined it in the letter, He elaborated, of course. The fact is, and David will have to see it, and that statement of his doesn't help at all, unless he can prove there is a Clifton Hines. There's a strong sentiment out there that Dick either killed himself or met with an accident and died in the mountains. The horse wandered into town last week."

"Over one possibility they faced each other, a tragic middle-aged pair, helpless as is the way of middle-age before the attacks of life on their young. "It will kill her, Walter."

"She's young," he said sturdily. "She'll get over it."

"But he did not think so, and she knew it.

"There is another queer element in it," he observed, after a time. "Another man, named Bassett, disappeared the same night. His stuff is at the hotel, but no papers to identify him.

He had looked after Dick that day when he was sick, and he simply vanished. He didn't take the train. He was under suspicion for being with Dick, and the station was being watched."

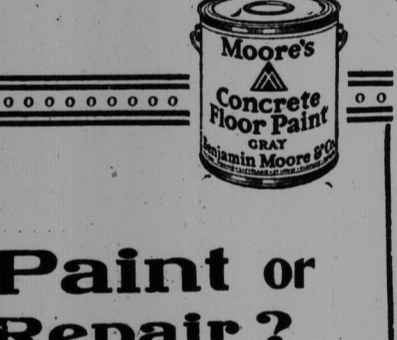

But she was not interested in Bassett. The name meant nothing to her. She harked back to the question that had been in both their minds since they had read, in stupefied amazement, David's statement.

"In a way, Walter, it would be better, if he—"

GOLF INSTRUCTOR SUES HASTY PUPIL FOR $25,000

New York, May 12.—Frank Eastman, professional golf instructor on the Van Cortlandt Park links, has filed a suit for $25,000 damages in the Supreme Court against Edwin H. Sylvester of 230 West Ninety-ninth street, a former pupil, for injuries suffered by Mr. Eastman when his eager pupil swung at the little white sphere with his maul while the instructor had his hand on the ball.

Since the unusual incident Mr. Eastman says he has been unable to follow his vocation of golf instructor, to his financial loss, and has suffered much pain. Mr. Eastman said his feared permanent injury, due to bruises and abrasions of the left hand and a fracture of two fingers of the same hand, which injuries he charges were due to the negligence of his pupil.

The members of the cast of Under Shifting Sands, which was staged by employees of the New Brunswick Telephone Co., Ltd., were entertained at a dance after the performance last evening.

Less Revenue In View,
But Hope Increase To Debt Will Be Reduced

FINANCE MINISTER, IN PRESENTING BUDGET, LOOKS FOR BETTER PER-FORMANCE BY RAILWAYS

Hon. W. S. Fielding Issues Standing Invitation to
U. S. to Negotiate Reciprocity Arrangement—
Sales Tax to be Collected from Manufacturer —Excise on Cigarettes Reduced—Decrease in Duty on Sugar and Some Farming Implements.

While anticipating less revenue this year, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, in the budget presented to the House of Commons yesterday, expressed the hope that the national railways would make a better showing and that increase in the national debt would not be greater than last year. In his speech the veteran Liberal statesman extended a standing invitation to the United States to negotiate a reciprocity pact with Canada.

One of the outstanding features of the budget was the increase of ten per cent in the British preference on imports passing through Canadian ports. Other interesting sections included the collection of sales tax from the manufacturer; a reduction in sugar duties which will mean direct saving of $2,500,000 to consumers; restoration of the old excise rate on cigarettes, and lower duties on machines imported for certain farm purposes.

Last fiscal year, said Mr. Fielding, there was an estimated surplus of ordinary revenue over ordinary, special and capital accounts of nearly $38,000,000. But advances to the National Railways and Merchant Marine took another $95,000,000, leaving an excess of ordinary capital, special and railway commitments, over revenue of rather more than $40,000,000. In that year the estimated increase in the net debt amounted to $40,000,000.

In the fiscal year which opened a few weeks ago Mr. Fielding estimated, taking the present taxation as a basis, the revenue would decrease by $21,000,000. The chief decrease would lie in income and business profits tax which were expected to yield $17,797,000 less than last year.

Respects a Deficit.
War tax inland revenue was estimated to yield an increase of $7,000,000; customs an increase of $6,000,000; excise a decrease of the same amount. He forecast a surplus over ordinary and capital expenditures of about $14,000,000; but railways, it was estimated, would require $77,400,000—taking all of the surplus and leaving a balance on the other side of the account.

There would be something over through the full amount of the estimates not being expended, yet there would be some addition to the national debt. He was hopeful, however, that the addition would be very small.

Chief Announcements.
This main announcement was: Increase in the British preference on goods shipped through Canadian river and seaports.

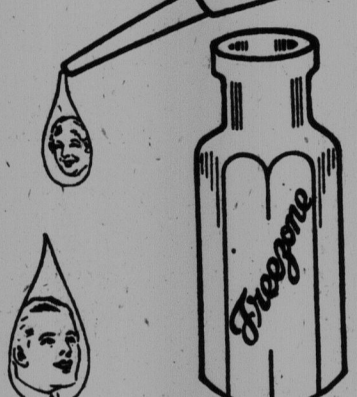

Sales tax to be collected at source at the rate of six per cent.
Reduction in sugar duties.
Excise duties on beet sugar dropped.
Cigarette tax reduced to former rates.

Tax on "soft drinks" replaced by tax on carbonic acid gas used in manufacturing them.

CORNS

Bird's-eye View of Changes
In Canadian Duties and Taxes

Customs and Excise Changes Go Into Force Today—Revised Sales, Check and Other War
Revenue Taxes Effective August 1.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on aching corns and you'll find it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bit of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

minion Lands, $200,000, War Tax and Inland revenue, $7,180,000; other war tax revenue, $85,000.

Income Tax the Same
For the present there would be no change in the income tax. If it was decided to make any change in this tax it would be embodied in another bill later.

Cigarette Duty Lower:
Suspects Smuggling
The Finance Minister said that last year there had been an increase in the duties on tobacco and cigarettes. The figures for the year seemed to show that there had been a falling off in the duties on tobacco and cigarettes. He doubted whether there had really been a decrease in consumption. His opinion was that there had been an appreciable increase in the number of cigarettes smuggled into Canada.

Potato Duties.
The duty on potatoes imported from the United States, or from any country imposing a duty on Canadian potatoes, is raised from 20 to 35 cents per 100 pounds under the general and intermediate tariffs and from 12 1/2 to 20 cents under the British preference.

There had also been advances to railways amounting to $97,900,000. This made a deficit for the year amounting to $1,280,864.77. The net result was an addition of $81,256,618.00 to the public debt.

Coming to the year 1922-23, Mr. Fielding said ordinary revenue had amounted to $898,618,000, while expenditures amounted to $931,760,000, leaving a surplus of $61,869,000. Everything taken into consideration for the year, the net result was shown to be an addition to the public debt of $40,293,082.

The addition of nearly $80,000,000 to the public debt last year had not, of course, caused much dissatisfaction. Some increases in Revenue Expected.
With regard to the year 1923-24 Mr. Fielding said it was expected that the income from customs would show an increase of $8,000,000 over the previous year, an increase in the Post Office Department receipts of $20,000,000.

A new item is inserted to put "unfinished" metal parts of spectacle and eye-glass frames on the free list.
Dentists may get the benefit of the low rates on composition metal and plated metal, which have in the past been opened to jewelers.

Scrap Iron Duties Halved.
The duties on iron and steel scrap under all three tariffs are cut in two. There is a new tariff introduced to limit the definition of what "scrap" is. There is also a revision in the definition of brass and copper scrap, there is a slight reduction in the duty on rolled iron and steel coming in under the British preference.

The item regarding typewriters is amended to provide that parts shall come in at the same rate as the complete machine, the rates being 17 1/2 to 25 per cent.

New Duty of Tire Fabric.
Machinery for printing by photographic means, including printing presses, the rates remaining unchanged at 5 to 10 per cent.

Iron and steel tubing for drilling for water, natural gas, etc., are put on the free list. In the same item as well-drilling machinery. A duty of ten to fifteen per cent is imposed on staves partly manufactured. This is a new item.

A duty of fifteen to twenty per cent is imposed on cord fabric for pneumatic tires; this also is new.

Cripples' Boots Free.
The section providing for the free import of antirachitic is amended to include lignite.

Boots specially manufactured for the use of cripples are put on the free list. Hatters' plash of silk and cotton, hatters' bands and bindings are removed from the section which formerly put them on the free list.

Cyanamid or lime nitrogen is put on the free list.
Carborundum wheels or stones not further manufactured than moulded and burned are put on the free list. They were formerly dutiable at 17 1/2 to 25 per cent.

Sticks and cunes for use in making umbrellas, partly manufactured, are set apart in a new item, dutiable at 10 to 15 per cent. In the rough state they remain free.

Dumping Duty Not Applicable to Raw Sugar.
In addition to the reduction in the duties on sugar, it is provided that the dumping duties shall not be applicable to raw sugar, or to refined sugar when the value at the place of shipment direct to Canada is more than eight cents per pound.

A new drawback clause is added to the tariff to provide for a drawback of 50 per cent on raw sugar and mo-

In Canadian Duties and Taxes

Customs and Excise Changes Go Into Force Today—Revised Sales, Check and Other War
Revenue Taxes Effective August 1.

Ottawa, Ont., May 11.—The following official summary gives a bird's-eye view of the principal proposals in today's budget:

Presidential tariff is reduced by a discount of ten per cent, on the amount of duty computed under such tariff, when such goods are conveyed without trans-shipment into a sea or river port of Canada.

Articles on which the discount will not apply:
(A)—On wines, malty liquors, spirits, spirituous liquors, liquid medicines and articles containing alcohol, sugar, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes, or (B)—On goods on which rate of duty does not exceed fifteen per cent.

(C)—On goods admitted into Canada under the Canada-West Indies Trade agreement.
Sugar, refined, reduced one-half cent per pound.
Sugar, raw, reduced about forty cents per 100 pounds.
Cigarettes, reduced to the former rate.

Fire brick for the construction or repair of a furnace is made a uniform rate of five per cent preferential tariff, 7 1/2 per cent intermediate tariff and ten per cent general tariff.

MACHINERY.
Steel stamping machines and "machinery for printing by photographic methods" are added to the item "printing presses" at the rates of five per cent preferential tariff, ten per cent intermediate tariff and fifteen per cent general tariff.
A drawback of sixty per cent may be paid on machinery and parts thereof of a class or kind not made in Canada when used in manufacturing or producing goods of a class or kind not made in Canada.

Stamping machines are reduced to the same rate as "other agricultural implements." Ten per cent preferential tariff, fifteen per cent intermediate tariff and twenty per cent general tariff. A drawback of forty per cent is to be allowed on materials used in the manufacture of these machines.
The entry of well-drilling machinery is extended to "parts thereof" and certain "drawn or seamless tubing."

SILK AND ARTIFICIAL SILK.
Artificial silk yarns or filaments are made dutiable at ten per cent preferential tariff, 17 1/2 per cent intermediate tariff and fifteen per cent general tariff.
All manufactures of artificial silk are made dutiable at the same rates as manufactures of silk. In some cases this is an increase and in others a decrease.

Usual coverings containing machinery are reduced under the preferential tariff from fifteen to 7 1/2 per cent.
A drawback of sixty per cent may be paid on machinery and parts thereof of a class or kind not made in Canada when used in manufacturing or producing goods of a class or kind not made in Canada.

Excise Duties.
The rate on cigarettes is reduced to the former rate of $6 per 1,000.
The section imposing an excise duty on sugar made from sugar beets is repealed.

THE SPECIAL WAR REVENUE ACT
The maximum rate of the tax on checks, notes and bills of exchange is reduced from $2 each to $1 each.

SALES TAX.
The consumption or sales tax will be collected at the source from the manufacturer or producer, and on imports, all at six per cent on the value of the goods. The tax on materials used in the manufacture to insure that only one tax will be paid on any particular article.

CONTRACTORY TAX REPEALED.
The tax on contractory and beverages enumerated in Schedule 1 and Schedule 2 of the 1922 Act is repealed. Carbonic acid gas in cylinders will be taxed at 20 cents per pound.

BOUNTIES.
The Petroleum Bounty Act is amended so that the present rate will remain until June 30, 1924, the rate will then be reduced to three-quarters cent a gallon until June 30, 1925, when the bounty will cease.
A bounty will be paid on copper in bars or rods. The rate for the first period will be 1 1/2 cents per pound. Such rate will be reduced each year and expire on June 30, 1928.

A bounty will also be paid on hemp grown in Canada used in the manufacture of yarn or twine, or in the manufacture of hemp cord. The rate will be 1 1/2 cents per pound during the first period from July 1, 1925, to June 30, 1926. The rate will be 1 cent per pound and will expire on June 30, 1929.

CLASSIFICATION OF ENFORCEMENT.
The customs and excise changes come into force on May 12, 1923, and the changes in the Special War Revenue Act on Aug. 1, 1923.

lasses used in the manufacture of molasses, used for sal soda, copper in blocks, ingots or bars for trolley, telegraph and telephone wires; while there is a drawback of 40 per cent on materials for stamping machines, and of 60 per cent on machinery or dies of a kind not made in Canada for the production of tubing for scientific apparatus, soda ash for sal soda, copper in blocks, ingots or bars for trolley, telegraph and telephone wires; while there is a drawback of 40 per cent on materials for stamping machines, and of 60 per cent on machinery or dies of a kind not made in Canada for the production of

Instant Beauty For Everyone
Says VIOLA DANA
Just Make This Simple Test

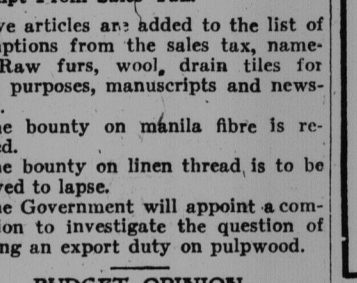

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I am often asked how I keep my complexion so fresh looking," says Viola Dana, the Screen Star. "It's a simple process for anyone to have a smooth, velvety, rosy-white complexion and unwrinkled skin if they will devote just a little time in caring for it."
"To have a clear healthy skin, cleanliness is absolutely necessary. For this purpose I use a good cleansing cream (Laska cold cream I have found to be the best). I then bathe my face with warm water, rinse with cold, dry thoroughly and apply Derwilly's simple toilet preparation."
"This marvelous preparation instantly beautifies the complexion and gives anyone a more youthful appearance. You can form no idea what a wonderful effect it has upon the skin until you test it. Here is the best way: Put it on one side of your face, then look in your mirror and note the difference. You will need no further argument to convince you that there is nothing like it for beautifying purposes."
The instant results it gives is the reason for its popularity with actresses and discriminating women who realize the value of a rosy-white, smooth, clear complexion.
Derwilly's is especially recommended for dark, sallow skin, tan, shiny nose, blackheads, coarse pores and numerous other facial blemishes. Men use it in preference to face powders or other beautifiers, as it is more Helike. Perspiration does not affect it, therefore it stays on better than face powder, does not rub off on clothing and its use cannot be detected.
It is absolutely harmless even on the most delicate skin and will not stimulate or produce a growth of hair. Over one million are now using it. Now that short sleeves are in vogue you will want to beautify your hands and arms. There is nothing like Derwilly's for this purpose. It comes in three shades—flesh, white and brunette. If you want a complexion which will attract favorable comment everywhere, just give Derwilly's a trial and you are sure to be delighted. Do not accept substitutes, then, as there is nothing "just as good," "better" or "just like it."

Viola Dana
Note—Here is a fair, honest proposition by the druggists and department stores of this city. Get a bottle of Derwilly's from any toilet counter, give it a trial for a few days and if you don't like it take it back and get your money. Could anything be fairer? It is sold by all up-to-date druggists including Ross Drug Company and Wasson's Drug Store.

The above is a typical hypothetical case, and it would seem that every man, no matter what his age, who wants to increase his strength and bodily powers, would try adding a little of this newer form of iron to his daily meals. Thousands of others have secured surprising results in even two short weeks. It has been widely prescribed by physicians everywhere. This newer form of iron is comparatively inexpensive and may be obtained from your druggist under the name of "Dodd's Kidney Pills." BRITISH BUDGET WAS NOT SURPRISE

Leakage of Information Concerning Chancellor's Intent

Some Stories of Klondyke Boyle-Liam Lynch-Theatrical and Other News Topics in Capital of the Empire.

(By mail from our own correspondent)

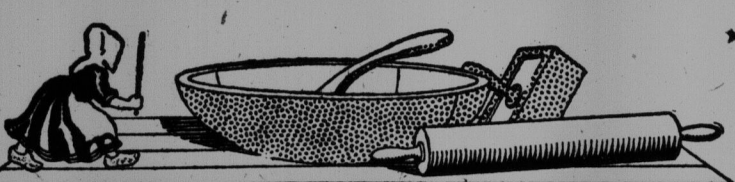

London, April 19.—The only surprise in Stanley Baldwin's budget was the astonishing leakage of information to certain quarters over the week-end. This was the Government which was not going to use the arts of publicity, but in practice there was more reliable information concerning the contents of Mr. Baldwin's budget than any previous budget within memory. Of course, the brewers knew about the beer rebate arrangement, but the very complete and accurate "forecasts" which appeared in favored quarters are a new feature of our financial system. The House of Commons was evidently "in the know," and I have never seen a budget statement listened to with so little interest and expectancy. And the pity of it was that the Chancellor's statement was a model of lucidity and sound finance. He has certainly spoiled the Liberal guns, for his speech was Gladstonian in its rigid adherence to "pure" finance. But I gather that none of the interests he has sought to placate is satisfied with its share of the £36,000,000 surplus.

Gathering Criticism.

Mr. Baldwin may have satisfied the disciples of high finance, but he will have to meet sharp criticism over the refusal to reduce the sugar duty, which is a necessary corollary to the lower beer duty. Instead Mr. Baldwin has cut the duty on sweet mineral waters and abolished the cider tax, this last being highly acceptable to the West County members, small though it be. Then it is argued on the income-tax that a stepwise reduction is not worth while, that the Chancellor should have made up his mind to devote this part of his surplus either to a shilling off the income-tax or the abolition of the Corporation Profits Tax—to one or the other, and not, as he has done, a little for both. Incidentally, there are still members foundering in the trap which caught such a distinguished person as Sir L. Worthington Evans, and asking as if the last year's surplus of £10,000,000 could be used for tax reduction this year. Mr. Baldwin explained that it could not, but, no doubt, he and his lieutenants will have to repeat the explanation many times before the fallacy is finally uprooted in the minds of members.

Lady Betty's Ballroom

The Duke of York and Lady Betty have been making many trips down to White Lodge. They are arranging the interior appointments of their future home to their taste, and have been buying a good deal of furniture in London and superintending its arrangement in their rooms. A room which has come in for much attention is the pretty small ballroom, which has had a new floor put down and special lampshades installed. This room is likely to see much use soon, for the Duke and his Duchess, who are ardent dancers, will be giving a number of informal dances to their friends.

cribes him as an Irishman of brilliant organization and improvisation, and had military talent of a high order. He used to be well up in the councils of the Sinn Féin movement, and was consulted by Michael Collins and other leaders of the rebellion in the early days. His decision, when De Valera stood out against peace, seemed for a day or two to hang in the balance, but then he threw in his lot with the Republicans, and his iron will, amounting to positive tyranny, became the dominating power in their campaign. Some time ago he drew his own conclusion as to De Valera's real status, and since then has taken the active leadership in committee and in the field. A tall, lanky figure, with a most impressive head, handsome and reckless, Liam Lynch may be regarded as a genius who had gone off the rails. There was no constructive bump in his attitude, in the larger sense. His capture and death—Liam was the last man to be taken with much life in him—was a tragedy which should hasten the already promising collapse of the irreconcilables. But his name has been taken into an Irish saga in the wild places.

How the Grains are Puffed

To the invention of Dr. A. F. Andersén, we owe the unique process of making Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice by shooting the grain from guns.

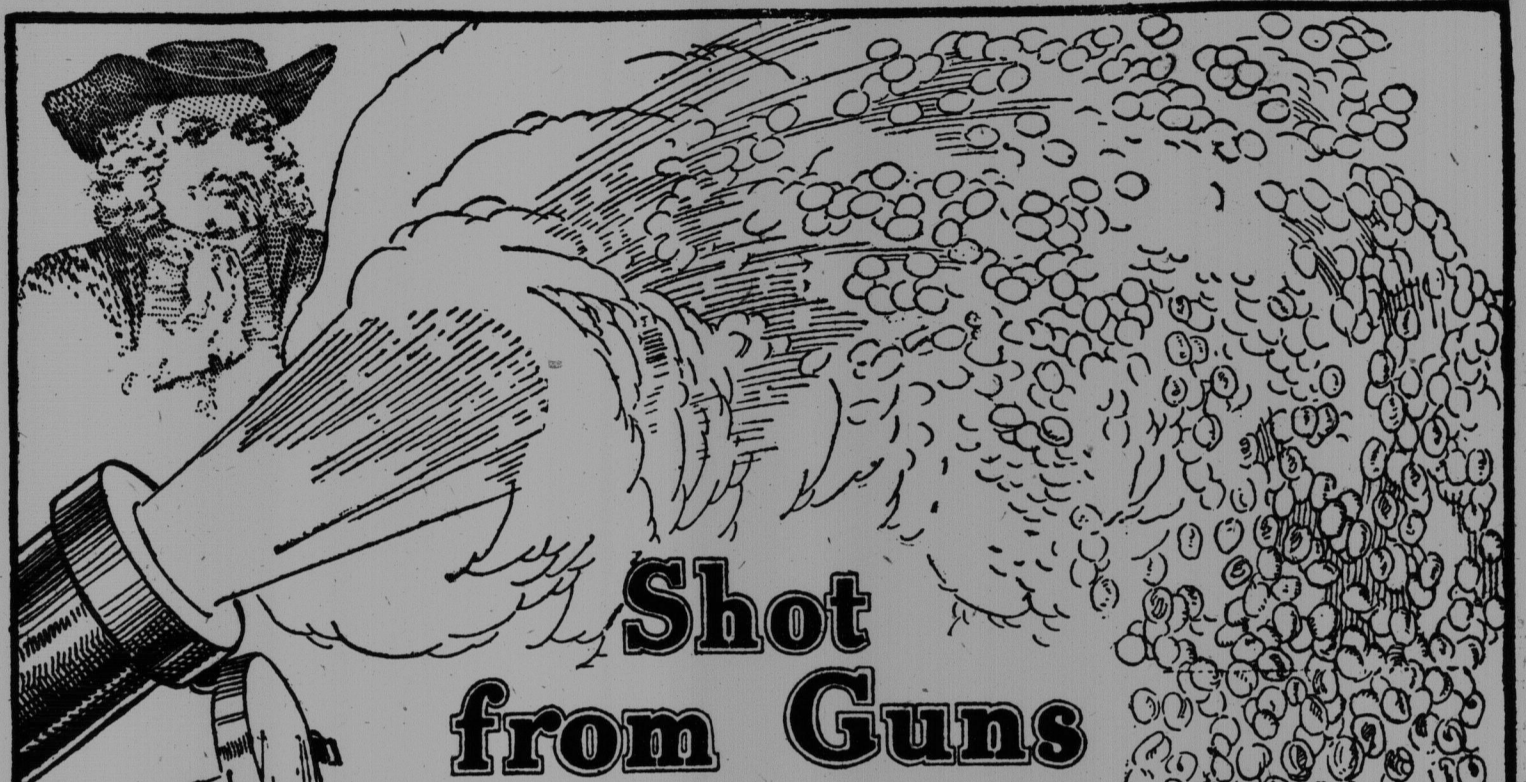

The selected grains are first cleaned and then sealed in huge guns of heavy iron. The guns revolve for an hour in a fierce heat. This cooks the grain and turns all its moisture to high pressure steam. When the guns shoot into a great room of fine wire mesh the grains are exploded. Each grain is puffed to times its normal size, and 125 million steam explosions take place in each kernel. Every food granule is thus broken into minute fragments and the whole grain becomes easy to digest and delicious to eat.

Shot from Guns
WHAT fun your children think it is—eating delicious food that has actually been shot from guns! It dwarfs any experience of "Alice in Wonderland!"

What a satisfaction to the mother to have her children prefer these wholesome steam exploded foods to anything else she can provide! At any hour of the day when children are hungry, puffed dainties are always ready and always joyously welcomed. Children love to carry the crisp grains in their pockets, and nibble them as they would nuts.

Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are nourishing, whole grain foods in the appetizing form of light, delicate, nutty morsels. Served with milk, they provide ideal nourishment, because they supply the food elements which milk lacks. They are delicious with berries and cream, or sprinkled with melted butter.

"MOUNTIES" ARE HONORED; ST. JOHN MAN IN NUMBER

Harold McMahon in Quintette Which Uncovers the Deeds of Firebug in London, Ont.

The London, Ontario, Evening Free Press of recent date contains an appreciative account of the arrest of John McMahon, a firebug, who confessed to having set eleven fires in London buildings in the last five years. His confession was followed by a checking up of his career by five members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The paper said that the chief work was the sole topic of conversation in the streets there. One of the five is Harold McMahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMahon, of 18 Hospital street, this city.

An excellent picture of the fire "Mounties" occupied the centre of the front page of the paper. In recognition of their valuable services the Mayor of London presented to each a gold signet ring bearing the crest of the city.

Referring to the capture and confession of the man the chief of police of London said, "Believe, men, when the Mounted Police get on a case they get their man every time."

HYDRO SUB-STATION COMPLETED TODAY

Now Ready for Installation of Switching Equipment, Which is Being Forwarded—Warehouse Also Ready—Meeting on Tuesday.

The civic sub-station for the hydro distribution to the city and surrounding districts was completed today by the contractors, H. O. Clark & Son, and is now ready for the installation of switching and measuring equipment.

W. Miller, construction engineer of the Westinghouse Electric Company, is in the city today and informed the officials of the Civic Hydro Commission that his company was ready to ship the switching equipment. He received orders to have it sent here immediately. It is expected that it will arrive within ten days and Mr. Miller will remain to superintend the installation.

The warehouse in Robeson avenue is about complete, and a carload of copper wire for the distribution system, which arrived today, will be there on Monday. Another carload of cedar poles from British Columbia also arrived today.

The Canadian General Electric Co., which has the contract for the erection of the ornamental lighting system, expects to receive some of its material for this work soon and has informed the commission that the system will be completed within thirty days of the arrival of all the material.

P. B. Yates, general organizer, is expected in the city on Monday from St. Catharines, and a meeting of the Civic Commission will be held that day to consider tenders for the distribution system.

GOLD IN COURT, SESSION BRIEF

Traffic Law Violations Principal Business of Saturday Morning Session.

Proceedings were made short and snappy in the police court this morning as a result of chilly atmospheric conditions. Magistrate Ritchie said the court room was too cold and was not fair to carry on under such conditions.

Three traffic by-law violations were taken up, one against H. G. Weeks for allowing his automobile to stand in Market Square longer than the law allows, and one against E. P. Dykeman on a similar report. Each was fined $10, which was allowed to stand.

The third was against George Erix, who was charged with exceeding the speed limit in Main street near the old car sheds. Joseph S. Stanton swore that the defendant was going about fifty miles an hour. He said his witness would have been endangered if he had stepped off the curb as would the lives of children coming from school. Questioned by the defendant he said he was sure he had the right man and the right automobile. The case was set aside until Monday at 12:30 to allow the defendant to procure a witness.

One man arrested for drunkenness was sent into jail as the magistrate said it was not fair to send him into one of the police cells as the building was so cold.

Scott, Douglas avenue, during the meeting of the executive board of the U. B. W. M. U. of this city. Mr. Clark, president of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union, was a guest of Mrs. H. G. Clark, Germain street, during the session. Miss Augusta Slipp of Fredericton was a guest of Mrs. W. H. Parley, Main street. All returned to their homes this morning.

NOT THE SAME BRUCE

An item in yesterday's Times said that Malcolm Bruce, who is charged with insulting the flag in Sydney, had been in St. John in connection with a labor dispute. This was incorrect. John W. Bruce was in St. John a few years ago on such an errand. He is now in Toronto, after spending some time as Canadian representative of an international union settling difficulties in Windsor, Ontario. Prior to that he was in Winnipeg. He has never been charged with any offence against the flag, but on the contrary has the confidence of the Dominion authorities.

DEATH OF JOHN BARTLEY

The death of John Bartley occurred early this morning at his home in Clarence street, after a lengthy illness. He was a son of the late Robert and Jane Bartley and leaves to mourn his wife and three sisters, Mrs. Jacob Camp of Model Farm, Mrs. B. R. Preston of New York and Mrs. Andrew Stain of St. John. They will have the sympathy of many friends. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon from Breun's mortuary chambers to Golden Grove for interment.

INVITE TENDERS FOR REPAIRS TO MUSQUASH DAM

Call Sent Out Today by the N. B. Electric Commission—Deposit of $7,000 Required.

The New Brunswick Electric Power Commission this morning issued a call for tenders for the restoration of certain portions of the best branch dam on the Musquash, washed out during the recent heavy freshet. C. O. Foss, chief engineer, said that so far it was impossible to estimate what cost of repairing the damage would be, but this would be determined by the figures submitted by contractors. Each tenderer is asked in the call to put up a deposit of $7,000.

Proposed contractors will be shown over the project work by a representative of the commission on May 15.

FREDERICTON STREETS COVERED WITH SNOW

Wet and Melts Rapidly—Arrangements for U. N. B. Centennial Exercises.

(Special to The Times.) Fredericton, N. B., May 12.—This part of New Brunswick is experiencing a snowstorm today. The snow began early this morning after a wave of low temperature. The snow was very wet and melted quite rapidly. Enough was left, however, to cover the ground and give the landscape a wintry appearance. May 12 is late for a fall of snow of this extent, but there are records of snow having fallen later than that. The most remarkable was on May 24, 1870, when six inches here and more in the surrounding country, staying on for some time.

Sir Douglas Haec, who had been invited to speak at a reunion of U. N. B. Alumnae at the University Arts building on next Wednesday afternoon, has found it impossible, because of court business, to reach Fredericton before a Senate meeting on Thursday morning.

Rev. Dr. E. M. Kierstead of McMaster University and Sir Geo. E. Foster of Ottawa are to arrive here today for the U. N. B. centennial. Sir George has been invited to speak on Sunday night in the George St. Baptist Church.

The plans for the new C. P. R. station here call for a structure about 150 feet long and extreme width 60 feet. There will be a cupola which will be used for offices for the Fredericton and Grand Lake Railway and for a private office. The material is to be stone for the lower walls with pressed brick for the upper walls. The roof will be of asbestos shingles.

BARN, COWS AND CALVES BURN

A Heavy Loss for Arthur Marr of the Gondola Point Road.

Two barns owned by Arthur Marr and situated on his farm on Gondola Point road were destroyed by fire about 12:30 o'clock last night. In addition to the loss of the barns, five cows and three calves were suffocated or burned to death, while a quantity of hay and a large number of farm implements were ruined. The fire was first noticed by Mr. Hayes, who resides a short distance from Mr. Marr, and he rushed to the barn, where two horses were stabled and succeeded in getting them out in safety. It is not known how the fire originated.

S. E. Rice Acquires A Third Interest In Moosepath

Start Work Next Week to Get Track and Park in Order for Horse Races.

Followers of the turf not only in St. John but throughout the Maritime Provinces, will be interested to learn that S. E. Rice has purchased a one-third interest in Moosepath Park, which formerly was owned by John Ross.

Mr. Rice, in conversation with a representative of the Times, said that repairs to the track, fence, grandstand and barns will be started next week and he hopes to have everything in excellent condition before the opening of the big circuit races here starting on August 2. In addition he is planning on an extensive programme for the season, which includes some feature events during exhibition week.

The big circuit races in the province this season will, it is expected, be outstanding events and the fact that Mr. Rice has a lease of the park and is also part owner assures racing enthusiasts of this city of a good season.

BISHOP GAGNON IS MADE AUXILIARY TO ARCHBISHOP LAROCQUE

ing in the rear of the car to get out of the way.

A good brake lining should wear for 5,000 miles of travel.

Always have the right and left wheel brakes operating with equal pressure.

Approximately five pounds of crude rubber is used in a 30x3 1/2 fabric tire.

Never drive more than fifteen miles an hour on wet streets.

It is dangerous to short-circuit a storage battery, and is also injurious to the battery.

A flat front tire causes the car to steer hard and will pull the car toward the side the flat tire is on.

Leaky inlet valves will cause an annoying backfiring through the carburetor.

The correct proportion of gasoline for a perfect fuel mixture is .07 of a pound of gas to a pound of dry air.

A backfire of an engine is sometimes caused when the fuel mixture is too lean, and there is an extra load on the motor.

When the gases or fuel have mixed with the lubricating oil in the crank case, they reduce the lubricating oil in body and value.

Despite the fact that a brake lining is made of asbestos, a dragging brake is fully capable of setting fire to rear wheels.

When greasing the king bolt, jack up the front end of the car. This will permit the oil to flow over the entire bearing surface.

Either Will Cause Stalling.
An engine will stall when too much gas is used, as well as when too little gas is being fed.

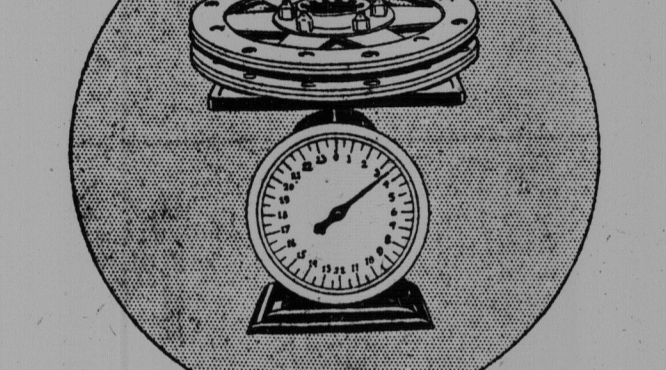

Tire Inflation.
Because a standard-make tire will hold at least three times the amount of air pressure recommended, there is no danger of putting in too much air.

When There Is Water in the "Gas."
Water in gasoline can be determined by the irregular misfiring of the engine. If much is present, it causes it to stop and makes starting difficult. If

Why Jewett never "stalls," "jerks," nor clashes Gears

YOU can change gears in a Jewett as fast as you can move your hand—or as slowly as you please. No "clash" is heard—and you never "miss." You can even drop from "high" to "second" at 30 miles an hour. Let up the clutch pedal as fast as you can move your foot, and Jewett neither jerks nor kills its motor.
Such superb handling ease comes largely from the new Paige-type Jewett clutch. Its driven member weighs less than 3 1/2 pounds, one-third the usual weight. So it stops spinning instantly—adjusts itself to speed changes quickly—helps you change gears. And the six clutch springs instead of one, and twice the friction surface of the ordinary clutch, give the smooth, gradual engagement which prevents jerking or motor stalling. Please try Jewett's ease yourself.

tween the gasoline and water is perfectly distinct. Liquid should be drawn until it comes free of water.

A Tip for Washing the Hood.
Never wash the hood of the car when the engine is hot. It is just the same as washing the surface with hot water, and will do the same amount of damage.

To Push the Car.
When Pushing the car around, keep your hands off the fenders, doors, tire carrier and radiator. The best and easiest way to grasp the spokes of the wheels.

Concerning the Crankshaft.
When the crankshaft or connecting rod bearings are found to be worn a little more on the ends than in the middle, it may be taken as a sure sign that the crankshaft is not quite true.

The ordinary screw type of grease cup can quickly be changed to an oil cup by removing all grease from the cup and recesses to be oiled and inserting a small sponge in the cup reservoir.

Rim Care.
Rims become rusty from water and for washing the car, and this greatly injures the tires. A coat of graphite or common stone polish will prevent the destruction and keep the tire from sticking.

When the Engine Is Cold.
To prevent the car from stalling, it is a good plan to accelerate the engine immediately upon releasing the clutch. The motor is more likely to run normally after this spurt of activity.

An Efficiency Tip.
The distributor head is one unit of a car that should have careful attention. Remove the different parts and clean out the dust with a cloth saturated with gasoline. If the parts are very black, use the sandpaper and afterwards wipe off carefully.

Out of That Bad Hole!
When the rear wheels get into a hole and it is difficult to obtain traction to put out, back the car up and shift gears quickly to take advantage of any forward momentum. This forward drift of the car may be enough to get out of the hole.

Harm Caused by Grabbing Clutch.
Avoid throwing in the clutch of a car quickly. This action has the same effect on the tires as if they were struck a severe blow. It may cause a blowout immediately or soon afterwards, as it has the tendency to break the cords and fabric parts of the tire.

Blowouts From Bruised Tires.
Tires frequently do not blow out at the time they are injured. Often they run for several hundred or even for a thousand miles after being seriously bruised. The cotton fibres in the ruptured carcass snap gradually, one by one. This breaking continues to weaken the tire until the final result is a blowout.

"Cut-Outs" and Mufflers.

Why You Can Afford To Own a Chevrolet

There Are Many Sound Reasons Why You Can Afford to Own a Chevrolet.

1. PRICE—Chevrolet is the world's lowest priced, fully equipped, quality car.
2. UPKEEP—The cost of operating Chevrolet is lower than that of any other car built. Gasoline mileage is very high. Frequent reports reach us of over 30 miles to the gallon. Oil consumption is proportionately low. Tire mileage is a maximum.
3. PERFORMANCE—Chevrolet is sturdily built to do anything and go anywhere possible with any car, and it will go where many others cannot. The valve-in-head motor is powerful, flexible and quick in the "pick-up."
4. APPEARANCE—Chevrolet is designed with beautiful stream-line bodies. The finish is of the highest grade and extremely durable. Chevrolet closed cars have Fisher bodies—the finest procurable and one with quality written in every line.
5. SERVICE—Over 1500 Dealers and Service Stations in Canada are in a position to offer Chevrolet maintenance service on a flat rate basis.
6. VALUE—Chevrolet gives you the best transportation per dollar invested that you can buy. Economy in first price and the lowest operating cost provide a value that stands first in comparison with any other car.

At this low cost Chevrolet is necessary to you in order that you may invest your greatest capital—time—to the greatest advantage in present-day competition with your fellowmen.
Prices are as follows: 2-passenger Roadster $695; 5-passenger Touring $710; 2-passenger Utility Coupe $910; 5-passenger Touring Coupe $1115; 5-passenger Sedan $1125.

PROFIT DOUBLED
BY CHAPLIN ON EIGHT PICTURES

By Shrewd Bargain, Drew $100,000 Extra on Each and $1,000,000 on "The Kid"—Less to Mary Pickford.

New York, May 12—Charlie Chaplin's shrewd business sense was shown to have been fully as highly developed as his art by the testimony given at a session of the Federal Trade Board's investigation into film monopoly charges against the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and six other motion picture producers. The comedian's brought him a return of $2,800,750 on the eight pictures he had contracted to make for the original figure. As related by John D. Williams, one-time president of the First National, who was a witness yesterday, it appeared that in addition to the stipulated contract price Chaplin received an additional $100,000 for each picture he made because the cost of the films had been considerably greater than the contract contemplated. But the comedian scored his shrewdest stroke when he convinced the directors of the First National that on one of the eight pictures, "The Kid," he ought to have a percentage of the gross receipts as well. So effective was his argument that they agreed to give him no less than 70 per cent on the gross sales of the film, and since the picture sold for about $1,400,000, Chaplin's bit was $1,000,000, or thereabouts.

DUNLOP

Mary Pickford was another of the First National stars who got an extra $100,000 on each picture when the cost of making them proved to run away beyond the estimates, but she was less successful than Chaplin in getting a percentage on gross sales in addition to the amount of her contract.

In the three days he has been on the witness stand Mr. Williams has testified repeatedly to the plans and methods of Adolph Zukor, of the Famous Players-Lasky Company, all of which, he contended, showed that the producer was determined to dominate and control the production of motion pictures. On cross-examination he admitted that the idea of dominating the business was shared by the First National and that it had sought to capture this commanding position for itself.

The regular quarterly social of the Ludlow Street Baptist church was held last night. The event was arranged by the social committee of the church, assisted by the Brotherhood. The programme was arranged by the men, who also served the refreshments. The programme was as follows: Piano selections by the organist, Miss M. Mullen; chorus by the choir; prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Robbins; two dialogues, the Misses Lemon; reading, Edwin Lucas; club singing, Miss Marjorie Robbins; selections by the Lancaster ladies' quartette, and a reading by Miss Peck. Several game contests took place and were heartily enjoyed by the large audience.

What Is a Tire's Worst Enemy?

It isn't broken glass or stones on the road; it isn't rut-wear or the grinding slide of your tire over asphalt when you suddenly lock your brake.

All these things take wear out of tires, but it's chiefly the heating caused by friction—usually the result of under-inflation—that is your tire's worst enemy. It can deprive you of thousands of miles of service if your tires are not built right.

And there you have the reason for the extra mileage Firestone Cords deliver. Their construction puts a coating of new live rubber around each separate cord that keeps it from rubbing against the cords that lie next to it.

The carcass of a Firestone Cord stays cooler—that's why it lasts longer. There is less friction to generate heat—and the body of the tire is stronger, more resilient, easier riding.

Canadian car owners are realizing that Firestone offers better value. Firestone Cords are selling in bigger quantities now than ever, because Firestone quality is at the highest peak in its history. More cars are coming from the manufacturer, Firestone-equipped.

Put them on your car for the open season of driving; you'll save money; you'll have less trouble, and you'll enjoy more every mile you travel.

Brooklyn Woman Asks $100 a Week Alimony; Attorney Hints Husband is Bootlegger.

New York, May 12.—While her husband, Isidore Levey, of 1460 East Thirtieth Street, Brooklyn, was spending $16 a week for cigars he was allowing her only $18 a week for household expenses and the support of their four-year-old son, Milton, Mrs. Anna Levey testified yesterday in her separation suit in the Brooklyn Supreme Court.

Mrs. Levey applied through her counsel, L. B. Kanter, 50 Court Street, Brooklyn, for $100 a week alimony and counsel fees of $1,000 pending trial of the action. She also charged that at the time Levey was allowing her only $18 a week he was lending large sums to friends and on mortgages in the name of a "dummy."

Mr. Kanter told the court he believes that Levey is a bootlegger, and that he had made arrangements, including a passport to sail on the Mauretania today. He contended a motion of Levey's counsel for the vacation of an order for Levey's arrest signed a week ago. The defendant was arrested as he was leaving his home late at night and spent some time in a cell before providing bail.

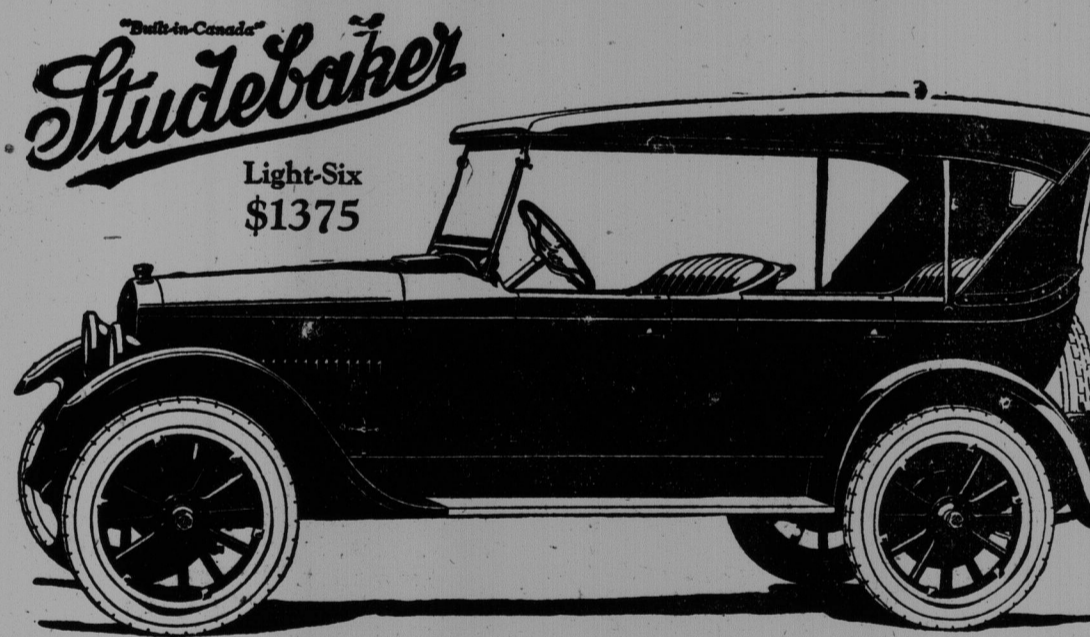

Levey denied all the charges, including the bootlegging one, and his attorney, Charles F. Caldwell, said Levey had given his wife $2,000 worth of jewelry and plenty of money for living expenses.

ACTRESS ONCE "TOO PRETTY"
FILES $50,000 LOVE SUIT

New York, May 12.—Mrs. Evelyn Carter Carrington Short, known on the stage as Evelyn Carrington, who ten years ago was dismissed from a comic opera company by Arthur Hammerstein because she was "too pretty" for the part, was the plaintiff in the Supreme Court in a $50,000 alienation of affections suit she has brought against Mrs. Alice Henley and her husband, David Henley.

Mrs. Short charges that Mrs. Henley won the affections of her husband, Reginald Carrington Short, and that Mr. Henley, when the plaintiff asked him whether he did not object to his wife's alleged conduct, replied: "I like a woman with a little devil in her."

All the persons involved in the case are in the theatrical profession. Mrs. Short testified Mrs. Henley threatened that if a suit was brought, "I'll put a weapon into my husband's hands that will put Reg Carrington in jail for twenty years." Asked what she replied to this threat, Mrs. Short remarked: "I said I thought it would be a good thing." Once when she showed Mrs. Henley love letters Mr. Short had written to her twenty years ago, Mrs. Short testified, Mrs. Henley remarked: "Well, my dear, Reggie certainly has a remarkable memory, as he has written the same letters to me."

THE Studebaker Light-Six offers you a fine car design and construction at a medium price. Its mechanical refinements insure superior performance, fewer repairs and longer life.

Great demand, with consequent large scale production; and complete manufacture in Studebaker factories, resulting in elimination of parts-makers' profits—are responsible for savings that make it possible for Studebaker to incorporate quality features of design in the Light-Six and still be able to offer it to you for $1375.

See the Light-Six before you buy—ride in it—and you will agree that it is the most remarkable automobile value in Canada.

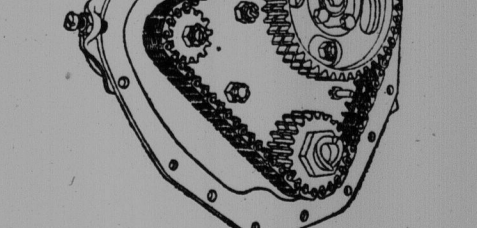

Light-Six valves are inclined at a 20-degree angle, which position increases power and contributes unusual quietness of operation.

Vibration is practically eliminated in the Light-Six due to the perfect engine balance secured through machining the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. The next car in price to do this sells for nearly $4000.

Light-Six pistons are cast iron, reinforced and very light. They carry heavy loads and the motor against loss of power.

A silent chain, running in a constant spray of oil, takes the place of the usual timing gears, and thereby contributes to the quietness of the Light-Six motor.

OLDSMOBILE

The Four-Cylinder Touring $1375

THE Oldsmobile Four-Cylinder Touring provides an almost unparalleled opportunity for shrewd car buying. Never before has such high quality been offered at so low a price. You must see and drive the Oldsmobile Four to gauge the extent of the value offered. Yet some appreciation of its unusual worth may be gained from a study of the following equipment:—Finest quality upholstery, walnut steering wheel and walnut finish instrument board, windshield wiper, etc. The remarkable price-quality combination offered in the Oldsmobile Four is possible because of Oldsmobile's affiliation with General Motors of Canada, Limited, with the tremendous engineering, manufacturing and purchasing facilities this affiliation affords.

We could write pages on the car's performance records, on the superiority of its forty-horse-power, four-cylinder engine, on the deep, seven-inch frame, on the standard all-metal, covered body—but you must see and test this car yourself to realize fully that it is one of the best price-value opportunities on the market today.

"DON'T MARRY!— Until You're Sure"

My Experiences as Queen of The Rum Runners
BY EDITH STEVENS

The High-Bred Beauty who Risked Her Good Name to be With Her Lover in His Rum-Running Expeditions—In This Startling Installment She Declares That the Ignorance of Girls is One of Their Great Stumbling Blocks—That They Have No Idea What They Are Getting Into When They Marry and No Idea of the Men They Marry—She Tells Her Own Story That She Would Never Consider Marrying Even Him Blindly—She Reviews Her Own Unsuccessful Marriage.

Two Characteristic Poses of Miss Edith Stevens

Still stunned by the shock of Antonio Casese's arrest—the first real tragedy that beset our adventurous path as rum runners—I sat at the table across from Antonio and thought of many things. He was out on bail, but we both felt rather than spoke our forebodings—felt the dread, unseen force that was drawing us on to disaster. Antonio, endeavoring to dispel my fears, attempted to jest.

Two Characteristic Poses of Miss Edith Stevens

not live outside, knowing that you lastly, "where might have a pretty matron in the jail, and I know she couldn't help falling in love with you."

"Foolish!" he exclaimed. "Don't you know that matrons take care of women prisoners, and not the men?"

"No, they will never beat me. Here is a match. No, it takes all the lawyers in the country to give me a battle, and even then I will win."

"You Are The One Man Who Could Make Me Happy!"

the most humdrum routine imaginable. Countless hours at an adding machine made me despondent. When this actor fell on court, I accepted him blindly. My father opposed him from the start.

"I truly think we were desperately in love with each other. I don't know exactly how the conversation began along this vein, but we began to discuss marriage."

SUN VARNISHES

Make Beautiful Home Interiors

On all interior or exterior woodwork (except floors) SUN VARNISH furnishes a brilliant lasting lustre that will maintain its beautiful gloss. Hot soapy water cannot mar the beauty of a Sun Varnished surface. For door fronts or porch ceilings it is particularly good because it withstands the ravages of the weather.

SUN FLOOR VARNISH is the most satisfactory finish for Hardwood Floors. Defacement and discolorations quickly vanish when SUN FLOOR VARNISH is applied. It dries out stone hard with a satiny beauty that will never crack, chip or show heel marks. Even if the radiators do leak or the rain drives through the window, your floor will be unharmed if SUN FLOOR VARNISH is used.

We carry a complete stock of SUN VARNISHES. Come in and let's talk about that particular job you have in mind. It will be a pleasure to furnish you with estimates and information.

Effective June 24 the Sunday trains, Nos. 48 and 50, will run between St. John and Moncton, and two additional suburban trains, Nos. 137 and 138, will be put on.

There is no change in the service on the Valley Railway. Through train for Quebec will run as usual on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, leaving at 4.40 p. m. (Atlantic Time).

Effective May 14 the steamer Prince Edward Island will make two round trips daily except Sunday. Connection for P. E. Island from St. John will be made by No. 13 leaving at 7.10 a. m. and by No. 14 leaving at 1 p. m.

LIFE INSURANCE FIRMS FOUND 1922 BEST

Wrote $10,500,000 Worth—Paid Out $1,006,931,734 to Policyholders.

New York, May 12—American life insurance companies wrote $10,500,000,000 of life insurance in 1922, a new high record, and for the first time in their history paid out more than $1,000,000,000 to policy holders.

The payments totalled $1,006,931,734. Of the $10,500,000,000 new business written, $8,400,000,000 was ordinary insurance, including group.

Of-Bitten Keeper Of London Zoo to Retire From Job

Introduced 'Open-Air Treatment' for Animals and Anaesthetics for Operations on Captives There.

London, March 30.—(By Mail)—After nineteen years as superintendent and curator of animals at the London Zoological Gardens, R. I. Pocock, F.R.S., the oft-bitten, is retiring, writes I. G. M. in "The London Daily Mail."

Chief among the changes which marked his term of office were the "open-air treatment" for animals and the adoption of anaesthetics for operations on the captives.

"I once saw a jaguar roared and hauled to the bars to have its claws cut."

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

Business Situation

(Business Bulletin, La Salle Extension University, Chicago)

Recent developments in commerce and industry have a most attractive surface appearance. Seemingly the country as a whole is forging ahead in good old American fashion. However, further examination of the present situation brings to light unmistakable signs of an approaching recession. In spite of all efforts to the contrary, business and economic forces are not keeping in the equilibrium that appeared relatively favorable a month ago.

Selling Pressure Resumed When Wall Street Market Opened—Dull in Montreal.

New York, May 12.—Prices continued to sag at the opening of today's stock market when selling pressure was resumed against the steel, equipment, oil and other speculative favorites. U. S. Steel common dropped 3/4 to 91 1/4, the lowest price since last July. Losses of one point each were recorded on Inland Sales by Corn Products, Producers and Refiners, Kelsey Wheel, Cuban American Sugar, Maxwell Motors "A" and Coca Cola.

are the best thing in the market to-day, if you want good interest return coupled with probability of appreciation in value.

INDUSTRIALS have not advanced as quickly as Government and Municipal Bonds. But the condition of business in Canada and the real scarcity of good industrial issues by the larger corporations point to higher prices and lower yields.

THE following, taken from our current list, afford ample scope for individual selection—

Hardly Believable So Much Gold Exists In Any One Area

"Who are behind it?" Isn't that one of the first questions you ask yourself before investing your money?

Do you realize what a big factor the board of directors play in any enterprise?

The reputation of a successful business man in any community is too valuable to permit him to associate himself with any but reputable companies.

No gold mining property has ever had on its board of directors a stronger group than that associated with the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited.

These men would never have allowed their names to appear as directors of the Company if they had not first convinced themselves that this Company had something more than a prospect.

How did they find this out?

By a comprehensive and intelligent program of development, comprising over 19,000 feet of surface trenching, shaft sinking, drifting and diamond drilling.

Seventy diamond drill holes were put down to an average depth of 250 feet. Every one of them showed the presence of gold, and payable values were maintained to a depth of 350 feet.

And the most striking result of this diamond drilling was the remarkable uniformity of the run of the ore, and all indications point to this, ore extending to great depth.

In only one or two cases was ore encountered which was not of commercial value.

The ore bodies were unusual, measuring in most cases many feet in width.

No other known mine in Northern Ontario at the same stage of development has shown such a quantity of profitable ore.

If you live in or near Toronto, it will be worth your while to visit our offices and see the results of the diamond drilling and records of other work.

It is hardly believable that so much gold exists all over any single area as has been encountered in the Matachewan Canadian Gold, Limited.

After you have examined the results of the diamond drilling, you will say, as so many others have, "This certainly looks like another Hollinger."

If it is not convenient for you to come to our office, why don't you write to-day for prospectus?

It gives you some facts about the results of the diamond drilling, and other work done, the names of the directors and other interesting information about this property.

We are now offering for public subscription 600,000 shares of the stock of the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited at $1.00 (par value) a share.

Already over $500,000 has been spent in acquiring and developing the property to its present stage, and it is to mine the ore and build a mill that the present offering is made.

OPINIONS ON THE STOCK MARKET

(McDougall & Cowans)

New York, May 12.—Itton & Co. "We are confident about the outcome of the pull in high-grade issues with ample earning power and the only danger, we think, is becoming too unreservedly bullish now when prices are strong."

Hornblower and Weeks: "We would hold stocks bought earlier this week or stocks carried through recent weakness."

Houseman: "We do not see how much can be accomplished by selling the oils at this level. A positive two sided market has developed."

SO INDIANS ALTER NAME

Washington, May 12.—The force of modern slang has changed the name of the Arlons reservation from Moqui to Hopi.

Moqui means "dead one" in the Indian tongue, and so much resentment has been aroused on the reservation by the frequent application of this translation that an order was issued today effecting the change. The new name means "People of Peace."

The yellow coloring matter of flour is carotin, the same thing which gives carrots their color.

CLAIMS WOMAN ALIENATED WIFE'S LOVE; ASKS $25,000

Boston, May 12.—William H. Fisher of Boston brought a $25,000 suit in the Suffolk superior court against Mary J. Fisher, of Brighton, for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Mary M. Fisher. He says the defendant won her affection and confidence and persuaded her to leave him so lost her comfort, aid, society and assistance and her affections.
