Austrians Routed; Lose 45,000 Prisoners and Much Equipment

Enormous Amount of War Material Captured by Victorious Italians

Fleeing Enemy Abandoning Guns—Attacking at Dawn on Sunday, Italy's Troops Swept Forward All Along Line—Paris Believes There Will Be Serious Effect Upon the People of Dual Monarchy—"Best News in Many Months," Says London

Washington, June 24—Capture of 45,000 prisoners and enormous stores of war material by the Italians in their counter offensive, which has driven the Austrians across the Piave River, is announced in an official cablegram received today by the Italian embassy from Rome.

Paris, June 23—The Austrian offensive appears to have ended in a rout, according to the view taken by the Paris press as summarized today by the Havas Agency. Believing that under such conditions as the news indicates the enemy will be compelled to give up important booty in material and prisoners to the victorious Italians, the newspapers predict that the unquestionable defeat will react seriously upon the population of the dual monarchy, so sorely tried by hunger.

Italian Army Headquarters, Sunday, June 23—(Evening by the Associated Press)—The great retreat by the Austrians along the Piave front began under cover of darkness on Saturday night. The retreating troops left their cannon behind them.

Italian detachments are pursuing the enemy east of the Piave. Austrian troops left to cover the retreat used their machine guns to set up a barrage fire.

When it was observed that the Austrians had begun a retrograde movement, on the north, well towards the mouth of the river, the attack was quickly prepared and became more intense, accompanied by violent artillery fire. The number of guns left behind by the Austrians as they retreated has not been computed, but is said to be very great.

OLD POSITIONS RE-TAKEN. Rome, June 23—(By the Associated Press)—Italian troops have crossed the channel of the Piave River, west of the main stream, and recaptured several of their old positions there, according to a semi-official announcement tonight from Capo Sile, other detachments are advancing toward the main stream of the river.

The Italians have thrown numerous bombing detachments across the main stream, where the artillery and aircraft are hammering the enemy.

The Italian attack began at dawn on Sunday, with the Montello on the left flank, the attack was carried out all along the line through Candelo to San Dona Di Piave.

South of the Zenson bend the Austrians are fighting rear guard actions to cover the retreat of their main body over the two bridges they have left at San Dona and Cisolera, three and a half miles from the Adriatic.

The Italians have taken large numbers of prisoners, great quantities of munitions and other booty since the Austrian retreat began.

The Austrians are advancing from their bridgehead at Capo Sile, according to news received in London this afternoon, the Italians are making bridgeheads at Falze and Nervasa. The Austrians met with little resistance.

The retreating Austrians crossed the Piave by the only bridge remaining to the north of Zenson.

New York, June 24—The Aero Club of America announced here last night that it had notified John D. STOCKS STRONG ON GOOD NEWS FROM ITALY

New York, June 24—(Wall Street)—Stocks were decidedly strong at the opening of the market today, the advance being accelerated by further advice concerning the successful Italian offensive. Equipments led the rise, United States Steel and Baldwin Locomotive gaining one and two points respectively. Other car shares, motors, oil, tobacco and shipbuilding participated in moderate measure, but rails were dull and little changed. Sentiment was moderate and reactions followed the end of the first half hour. Liberty bonds were steady.

Activity slackened toward noon, but trading assumed wider proportions, embracing additional industrials and equipments, coppers and related metals, also minor war issues and specialties. Aside from leading investment rails continued to hold back, but last week's inquiry for secondary transactions was resumed. Royal Dutch Oil at a further decline of five points and moderate reactions in Brooklyn Transit and American Telephone were the few exceptions to the sustained strength of the general list.

London, June 24—Preliminary negotiations, presumably regarding the Dobruja, have begun between Bulgaria and Turkey and Germany learned of them only through its espionage service, so the Daily Mail correspondent at The Hague says he is informed. Austria probably will participate in these espionage negotiations in the course of a few days.

It is added that a recent speech of Dr. Van Kerssem, the foreign secretary, in the Reichstag, resulted from conversations between Bulgaria and Turkey which were begun on the initiative of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria.

M. Malinoff, the new Bulgarian premier, is said to agree entirely with the plan of King Ferdinand to exact fulfillment of Bulgaria's demands at whatever cost.

Base Switzerland, June 24—The Turkish newspaper Akt, in an article in which it lays emphasis on the statement that Turkey's intervention in the war probably has prevented the Central Powers from being crushed, formulates conditions as representing public opinion as to what Turkey's peace terms should be.

The terms, the newspaper says, embrace the restoration of the Balkans, the re-establishment of Turkish supremacy in Egypt, the independence of Persia, to be secured by the expulsion of the British; the Black Sea to become Turkish, with a Turkish prince in the Crimea; a German prince in Georgia; an Austrian archduke in Armenia; Bulgaria to hold northern Dobruja, but not to be secured by the expulsion of the Greeks; Austria not to evacuate northern Italy until Turkey has recovered Cyprus, and Turkey to recover Crete.

The executive have failed to enforce discipline in the constituencies and are weakly surrendering the position to the reckless elements. If the resolution is passed the executive candidates and candidates against the government which they are represented by Mr. Barner and his colleagues. Behind this situation is a deep-seated cleavage between two sections of the party—trades union and socialist.

Dartmouth, N. S., June 24—Dr. H. O. Simpson, a local practitioner, appeared before Judge Foster this morning on the charge of wrongfully issuing prescriptions for the purchase of intoxicating liquors. James M. Power, one of the city vendors, testified that in April he had received 805 doctors' prescriptions, in May, 1917, and up to June 14, 1918. Of this number, Doctor Simpson had issued 288 in April, 428 in May and 191 up to June 14.

GERMANY AND POWER

The Old Spirit and The New Devil This is No. 1 of a Series of Ten Articles Written For The Times By W. Frank Hatheway

When in 1870 Prince Bismarck falsified the telegram and stretching out his hand over Europe said "Now we will have war" very few at that time thought that the gospel of blood and iron would permeate German minds to the exclusion of sympathy, kindness, justice and the other attributes of Christianity.

The progress of republican France, the power of the United States, the rising spirit of liberty in Europe in 1848 and also the revolutions in Italy in 1848 to 1860, all influenced the German people to ask for a broader constitution. The Hohenzollerns saw plainly that a great and powerful force, an army absolutely under crown control, must be formed so as to hold the republican spirit in check.

The government was always for the crown, not for the constitution and the people. The progress of republican France, the power of the United States, the rising spirit of liberty in Europe in 1848 and also the revolutions in Italy in 1848 to 1860, all influenced the German people to ask for a broader constitution.

From that day the German people, by their Prussian and other leaders, began to learn the gospel of blood and iron, began to set the power of the state as an ultimate goal. Their education, especially military, demanded that every individual should give up all for the state.

BRITISH USE TANKS IN RAID

First Time and They Do Work Well

German Attempt Against Our High Ground East of Strazeele a Complete Failure

With the British Army in France, June 23—(By the Associated Press)—An enemy attempt to capture some British positions on the high ground east of Strazeele this morning met with a complete reverse. The attack was a local one and was preceded by a heavy bombardment that began about 6 o'clock and was maintained with great intensity for a considerable time.

During the night the British conducted a raid near Bucquoy with the tanks, which had never been used for raiding purposes before. The big engines went over the top a little before midnight, followed by infantry. The riflemen met with strong opposition and were held up by a heavy machine gun fire, but the tanks proceeded on their way, capturing eight Germans, who were brought back.

On the Belgian sector King Albert's troops carried out a raid northwest of St. Julien that resulted in the capture of a strong concrete block house. The Belgians stormed this position and cleared it out, capturing eight Germans, who appeared to be the men left alive in the fort.

DUTCH SAILORS IN LINE WITH BRITISH TO PUNISH THE HUN

London, June 23—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Havelock Wilson, president of the Seaman's Union, in a speech in London, said he had received a cablegram from Rotterdam, stating that the Dutch sailors had refused to sail with the pro-German Dutch Socialist leader Troetschi, who wished to attend the labor conference in London. Mr. Wilson emphasized that the refusal was another example of the policy of ally and neutral seamen to punish the Hun for his diabolical crimes at sea.

GERMANY NEEDS MORE MONEY FOR THE WAR

American, June 24—The Reichstag this week will be asked to pass a new bill of credit for 15,000,000,000 marks, according to the Berliner Tageblatt. This will raise Germany's war debt to 180,000,000,000 marks.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE

The Great War Veterans who have deemed it necessary to protest so sharply against the suggestion that our soldiers are debauched or degraded in England and France will extend their fervent thanks to Irvin S. Cobb, the distinguished American writer who knows the conditions at the front because he has been there so much and with such exceptional facilities for learning all there is to tell. Mr. Cobb, in last week's Saturday Evening Post, speaks for the American people, but adds that the same applies with equal force and truth to the Canadian; and he does not mince words when it comes to giving expression to what he thinks of any who, whether in ignorance or otherwise, traduce the character of our fighting men.

Mr. Cobb testifies that in England and in France he has seen soldiers, sailors and marines in all sorts of surroundings and under all sorts of circumstances. Altogether he saw perhaps twenty men slightly under the influence of liquor, but never one who was really drunk. He adds that this had been the common experience of the men of his profession, who had similar opportunities to observe the conduct of the soldiers. And then he says:—

"As for their morals, I am firmly committed to the belief, as a result of what I have seen and heard, that man for man soldiers have a higher moral standard than the men of any army of any other nation engaged in this war; and when in this connection I speak of our soldiers I mean the soldiers of Canada as well as the soldiers of the United States. Any man who tells you the contrary is a liar, and the truth is not in him. This is not an offhand alibi; statistics compiled by our own surgeons from the truth of it; and any man who stands up anywhere as a deliberate and unprovoked slanderer against North American manhood should entitle him to a suit of tar-and-feather underwear and a free ride on a rail out of any community."

This is sufficiently explicit and forcible to leave no doubt in any mind of the views of a man who has had exceptional opportunities to learn the truth. And in the same article, which deserves to be widely read, Cobb unsparingly ridicules the war-tourist and the incompetent, whether men or women, who are permitted to go to France with passports and a mission, but who on arrival become a nuisance to the men and women who are doing the real work of the war. He deals in caustic fashion with certain types, and counsels the government at Washington to refuse passports and transportation to such non-meaning but useless people who consume food that is kept for the soldiers and the short-rationed people of France.

France today is no place for amateur philanthropists and untrained war-workers. The only people who should be permitted to take up space in a steamship or at food in a country where supplies are short are those who can do the kind of work that is needed. The soldiers are not in need of chaperones. They have C. A. and the Salvation Army. They have the native manhood that was developed in them in a free Christian country. They have before them the example of immorality and coarse brutality revealed by the enemy who are fighting against them and they will not descend to that level.

Let the community spirit grow and flourish. If it is centred now on playgrounds for boys it will go on and express itself later in regard to other community problems. And there are plenty of them that call for united action.

SAVING THE BABIES.

A clinic for babies was held in Ottawa last week. The Journal-Press observes that its need was demonstrated by the appalling infant mortality in Ottawa last year, when the infant death rate was 220 per 1,000. At the clinic last week more than three hundred babies were examined, and the Journal-Press report says:—

"When the baby under examination did not measure up to the standard of health required, the mother was recommended to go to her physician with the child's history sheet. Ottawa doctors, nurses from the Victorian Order, the milk depots, the three hospitals, and a number of others assisted in the clinic. The nurses as a rule measured and weighed the children, while the doctors examined for adenoids, diseased tonsils, defective teeth, tested heart and lungs, and inspected for any abnormalities. As president of the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club, and also of the Victorian Order of Nurses, Lady Foster has been untiring in her efforts at the exhibit."

In some English cities, notably Manchester, infant welfare centres are established where mothers may take their babies to be examined at any time, and also to get advice as to the care of the little ones. So many young mothers among the poorer classes need instruction in relation to maternity problems that the establishment of these welfare centres is of the greatest value in reducing infant mortality. And to reduce infant mortality is to do the highest service to the state.

Touching the matter of teachers' salaries east and west, it must not be overlooked that the Dominion government gave the western provinces their school lands, and they gave them a great and unfair advantage. The maritime provinces helped to buy the northwest and ought also to be considered. They must have an equivalent in cash, and they are now seeking it. So far as the Foster government is concerned, it may be better to take this matter up in due time, just as it is taking up all other matters affecting the public interest.

Despatches today state that Germany insisted on the Austrian drive in order to relieve the western front and restore Austria in the favor of the German public. Austria feared the attempt as failure might mean revolution of a people already aroused over the lack of food. Now that the offensive appears to have proven a failure, there are grave fears in both Berlin and Vienna. The day of the Hun draws to a close. The sun is sinking and he has yet to find his place in it.

Complaint is made that there are too many escapes from the Boys' Industrial Home. It is not time we stopped codding that institution and put it on a proper basis? It is said to be understaffed, there is one large dormitory for the boys—the 8th and the worse—and as there are no fences the way of escape is easy. A porting out of the bad and the worse, in regard both to quarters and treatment, is usually found necessary in reformatory institutions.

There will be a meeting of the provincial committee on vocational training in St. John this week. This would be a good time for citizens interested in providing St. John with facilities for vocational training.

Let the community spirit grow and flourish. If it is centred now on playgrounds for boys it will go on and express itself later in regard to other community problems. And there are plenty of them that call for united action.

TURKISH OUTRAGE MAY BE SIGNAL FOR U. S. DECLARATION

Washington, June 22—Attack by Turkish troops on the American consulate at Tabriz, Persia, and the looting of an American missionary hospital in that city, reported to the state department today, was believed in some quarters here to present the long-anticipated declaration of the existence of a state of war between the United States and the Ottoman Empire.

Diplomatic relations between the two governments have been suspended since April 20, 1917, when Turkey withdrew Abdul Hak Hussein Bey, who had been acting as charge of the Turkish embassy here to present the long-anticipated declaration of the existence of a state of war between the United States and the Ottoman Empire.

Recently there have been vigorous demands in congress for a declaration of a state of war between the United States and Turkey, but President Wilson and the state department have not regarded this step as necessary or desirable, since there has been no actual collision between American and Turkish and Bulgarian troops.

MADMAN KILLS CLERK AND SHOTS PURSUER

Relative's Say Brooklyn Youth Had Been Studying and Reading Radical Books

New York, June 20—One man was killed and another was seriously wounded in Brooklyn today, when a madman shot a clerk in a hardware store at 276 Christopher avenue, who had been a student of radical social and political doctrine.

Orenbach went into the grocery store on the street floor of the apartment house where he lived and told Benjamin Kusacher, the clerk, that he was going to shoot him. Kusacher laughed and told him that he was joking.

Sir Henry Wilson Supreme Soldier

New Chief of British Imperial General Staff Hailed as War Genius

From Warrior Family — Helped Establish Versailles War Council — France Applauds His Promotion — Rose Like Kitchener

"In appearance he is like a Scotch University professor with a low golf handicap," remarked an intimate friend of Sir Henry Wilson recently. A man of retiring disposition, with an inherent dislike to publicity in any shape or form, the General is as little like the population conception of a great military commander as was the "Little Corporal" himself.

"Ugly" Henry strolling through Piccadilly in possession of a loose limb, almost ungainly in stride, with a languish head and his strong, almost whimsical nose ever over about a large rather rakish looking brier pipe, would be recognized by the passerby as anything but the descendant of a race of great Irish soldiers. The first of the family landed in Carrickfergus in the army of William III, and was a native of the county settled down at Currygrane, Edgeworthstown—home of Maria Edgeworth and all the great names since Queen Becca's time—to carve with his own hands above the stone portals of the great doorway the family motto: "We are the State."

The last of the Wilsons has sprung into prominence as the leading figure in the present crisis in British military history. His promotion to the position of chief of the Imperial General Staff in army palace and ever about a large room in Whitehall, London, The C. I. G. S. himself is military adviser to the War Cabinet and has always been important in the whole British army.

The former chiefs, whose office was founded in 1899, include such names as Gen Sir William Nicholson, now Field Marshal, who was first to hold the office of Chief of the Imperial General Staff in 1914, and held the position until his death in October, 1915. Gen. Sir William Robertson was appointed in December, 1915, following Sir Archibald Murray.

What, then, is the explanation of this unexpected appointment? The answer lies in the fact that Sir Henry Wilson is a man who always believed in seeing things for himself. He not only speaks the foreign language, he speaks the foreign mind. He is a great military scholar, and his war experience dates from the Boer campaign thirty years ago.

He is well known in the highest circles of the day. He has been in the forefront of the great war in the Balkans, and he has been in the forefront of the great war in the Balkans, and he has been in the forefront of the great war in the Balkans.

Both belonged to a group which all unconsciously was trained in the highest circles of the day. He has been in the forefront of the great war in the Balkans, and he has been in the forefront of the great war in the Balkans.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of John Campbell Stephenson, aged eighteen years, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stephenson, occurred on Sunday in the General Public Hospital. For several months he had not been well and he entered the hospital a fortnight ago for treatment. His condition was not regarded as serious until the last, when his death occurred suddenly. Mr. Stephenson came to St. John about a year ago with his parents, who had assumed the management of the local office of the Gouyouy Tire and Rubber Company. For a time he was employed in the office until ill health made it necessary for him to discontinue. Since coming to the city he had met many friends who will sincerely regret his death, and in their bereavement his parents will have the sincere sympathy of the community. Besides his parents, one sister, Miss Margaret, survives. The funeral will be held from his parents' residence, 182 Mount Pleasant avenue, on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

RECENT WEDDINGS

The wedding of Harry Wilbur Wallace, superintendent of the machine department of the Sussex Manufacturing Company, to Miss Mary Agnes Henan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henan of Fredericton Junction, took place in Sussex on Saturday. The bride has been accounted for the R. D. Robinson and Maritime Publishing Company, a member of the Empire orchestra, president of a Red Cross auxiliary and had been active in various forms of patriotic work.

War Garden Bulletin
PRACTICAL DAILY GUIDE FOR VACANT LOT AND BACK-YARD GARDENERS ENLISTED IN GREAT PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN
Issued by the Canada Food Board in Collaboration With Experts on the Staff of the Dominion Experimental Farm

IN AT THE FINISH.
This week gives you about your last chance to have a real war garden. It is rather wonderful to think that you can begin even at this late hour, plant your seeds as late as July 1 and still have vegetables as good as the forehanded gardeners, if not as early.
You can plant beans as late as July 1 and 15; beets, June 25, July 5, 15 and 25; carrots, July 5 and 15; corn, July 5 and 15.
It should be kept in mind that some vegetables have absolutely no tolerance for warm weather and planting them is waste. Peas and spinach will not thrive during July and August; neither will cress, endive, mustard nor turnips.
On the other hand vegetables that thrive in summer heat are beans, cucumbers, sweet corn, eggplants, melons, pepper, pumpkins, squashes and tomatoes. Those least likely to be affected by drought are beans, eggplants, pepper and tomatoes.
Those that need plenty of moisture to do well are corn, cucumber, melons, pumpkins and squashes. None of them, however, should have the water applied to the vines or plants.

TWENTY-FIVE CANNIERIES IN ONE ONTARIO COUNTY

Well on to 1,000 Cars of Canned Goods Produced in One Season

A neat little booklet, prepared by District Representative MacVannell and published by The Petion Times, puts in a nutshell the agricultural position of Prince Edward county, Ontario. And that position is one of which the county has good reason to be proud.
The agricultural output of Prince Edward for 1917 was valued in this booklet at eight and a quarter million dollars. The value of grain produced is put at one and three-quarter millions, of which $100,000 is credited to peas produced for seed. The second largest item is cheese and butter, $1,600,000. Of course some of these items are duplicates, as the grains and fodder are planted raw materials for the production of cattle, dairy goods and hogs, which latter are credited with an out-turn of $600,000.
Marvelous Expansion Since 1882.
The canning industry of Prince Edward county deserves special mention. The output of this industry last year was estimated, as stated, at one and a quarter millions, but this figure would have been doubled had not 1917 been a poor truck year.
The pioneer in this industry was Wellington Boulter, a hale old veteran, who beyond four score years, but would pass for ten, or even twenty years younger. Mr. Boulter established the first canning factory in the east of Toronto, in 1882, and at that time he thought he was doing well when he turned out eight to ten thousand cans of tomatoes in a day. Before he retired from business ten years ago he was turning out 60,000 cans of tomatoes and 60,000 of corn in the same time. Today there are twenty-five canning factories in Prince Edward, and all of Prince Edward's factories will this year run full blast. If there is a good crop a new record in production will be established.
In one line there is likely to be a falling off, as sweet corn is showing very poor germination. Tomatoes, however, have been very largely planted all through the Bay of Quinte district, and although there has not been much growth as yet, the plants are vigorous, and if we get warm weather they will go ahead with a rush. Peas, another important truck crop, show unusual vigor, and are being very largely grown.

W. C. T. U. REPLY TO G. W. V. A. CRITICISM

Ottawa, June 23.—The executive of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union have issued the following statement in reference to the criticisms made by Colonel Pidgeon, president of the Ottawa branch of the Great War Veterans Association:
"The executive of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union desire to correct the impression which Colonel Pidgeon's statement is evidently intended to convey to the public. Unfortunately, the statements credited to Mrs. Wright are so fragmentary as to give no correct idea of what she really said, and some of the accusations are entirely without foundation. The address, as given, was enthusiastically endorsed by the whole convention and the record of the past efforts of this organization, together with a perusal of its plans for the future, will at least give it a right to claim a place second to none, not only as a patriotic organization, but as one actually supporting our men at the front."
"This magnificent address will soon be published in full and the secretary will be pleased to forward a copy to any who may be interested in knowing just what it actually contained."
"We regret that any personal reference should have been made to our president, as it only shows how utterly unacquainted with the facts of the case the author of the statement must have been. Mrs. Wright needs no introduction to the people of Canada and her past history as a woman of outstanding ability and public spirit is one of which all women, as well as those of the W. C. T. U., have reason to be proud."
"And perhaps few mothers in the Dominion of Canada have given to their country three sons with as enviable records as the three sons of our Dominion president have made in France."
The statement is signed by Louise C. McKinney, and A. C. Gordon, its president; Mary L. Brown, recording secretary, and Sara E. Mabson, treasurer.

entucky Legislature Provides Penalties That Should Prodig the Loaster
Frankfort, Ky., June 24.—No abed-odded male resident of Kentucky between the ages of sixteen and sixty may until six months after peace is declared. He must, according to a bill passed by the legislature, work for at least thirty-six hours a week. Otherwise he shall be held a vagrant and fined not less than $20 nor more than $100 for each offense.
Apparently the idler may not pay his fine, escape exertion and relapse into idleness. As a part of his punishment he must work not exceeding sixty days upon public roads or streets, or some other public work.
Possession of riches will be no bar to prosecution and no claims of inability to obtain employment for either rich or poor may be pleaded as a defense. Lapses into idleness will not be tolerated because each week of idleness constitutes a separate offense.
A vagrant is defined as an habitual loafer, one habitually intoxicated, addicted to the use of narcotic drugs, a professional gambler, or an able-bodied person supported in whole or in part by the labor of any woman or child.
Any peace officer who fails to enforce the act is subject to prosecution for non-performance of duty and removal from office.

Voluntary Beef Limit Asked of The Public

Orono, Me., June 24.—To meet the needs of the American and Allied armies and the civilian populations of France, Great Britain and Italy, the American people have been asked by the food administration to place themselves on a limited beef allowance from now until next Sept. 15.
Householders are requested "under any circumstances" not to buy more than one and one-quarter pounds of clear beef weekly, or one and one-half pounds, including the bone, for each person in the household.
Hotels and public eating places are instructed not to serve banded beef more than two meals weekly, beefsteak more than one meal weekly and roast beef more than one meal weekly.
"The demands for beef for our army, the armies of the Allies and their civilian populations for this summer," said the food administration announcement, "are beyond our present surplus. On the other hand, we have enough increased supply of pork this summer to permit economical expansion in its use. It, however, will be a direct service to our armies and the Allies, if our people will in some degree substitute fresh pork, bacon, ham and sausage for beef products."
The public will realize that the changing conditions of production from season to season, the changing situation in shipping, and, therefore, of the markets available to the Allies, and the increasing demands of our growing army in France, all make it impossible to determine policies for a long period in advance. We have recently asked for economy in all meat consumption; we wish to emphasize further reduction of beef by the substitution of pork. It is anticipated that this programme will

STIGMA GAST ON FARMERS

Donald Sutherland, M. P., Says Delegation Was Not Representative
Ingersoll, Ont., June 22.—At the annual meeting of the South Oxford Conservative Association, held at Mount Elgin, Donald Sutherland, M. P., made the declaration that the organizers of the United Farmers of Ontario, who were behind the recent demonstration against the Military Service Act, did not represent the whole agricultural industry of Ontario. The farmers of the country had a right to resent the use that had been made of the delegation which went to Ottawa. The delegation had been formed for the purpose of appealing to the government for relief in cases of extreme hardship. When they got to Ottawa they found it was being used by Laurier Liberals and those who sought justification for Quebec's attitude by pointing to this gathering from Ontario.
"There would have been no need for conscription in Canada," said Mr. Sutherland, "if the province of Quebec had done its duty under the voluntary system."
One of the weaknesses of the administration of the Military Service Act, he went on, was the granting by Sir Robert Borden to Sir Wilfrid Laurier of the right to nominate one-half the members of the exemption tribunals. "That is why the act is a farce," he commented. "I want to say," added the member for South Oxford, "as a man who has been connected with agriculture all his life, that I resent the stigma that has been cast on the farmers of Ontario by these so-called representatives. I want to say—and say it emphatically—that the men who were in charge of that organization, who have been in Ottawa, do not show that they are sincere; they were misleading the farmers of this country that they were endeavoring to accomplish something that they actually did not want to accomplish."
Farmers Not Shirking Obligations.
Replying to the charge that the government had broken faith with the farmers, Mr. Sutherland said that the Military Service Act would have to be enforced having regard to the need for reinforcements. The government would, he was sure, grant exemption in cases of hardship, but there was no sign that the farmers of Ontario as a body were anxious to step aside from their obligations. He had received only one resolution from the farmers' organizations of the riding with reference to military service, and that was from the United Farmers of Colborne, who placed themselves "on record as opposed to the sending of any delegates to Ottawa in connection with the M. S. A., and wish most emphatically to deny the statements made at a so-called meeting of the farmers of Oxford, held at Woodstock on Monday, April 29, to the effect that sending operations were at a standstill." The resolution strongly objected to representations being made in opposition to the facts, and approved of the efforts being put forth to secure men for the front.
"We are not gardening now to make money, but to eat," says E. Buck, assistant dominion horticulturist. "Now is the time," he says, "to get on the cheering side, which is the production side."

Speech by Premier Borden in London

London, June 22—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Sir Robert Borden, replied to the toast "Our cabinet colleagues from the dominions" at the parliamentary supper in connection with presentation of the Black Rod to the Canadian parliament. The Canadian premier said that extreme peril had indeed been passed, thanks to the splendid work of the navy, but what had the dominions done for the supreme importance of sea power?

The Canadian premier appreciatively referred to the manner in which the United States had worked in sympathy and co-ordination with Canada in legislative enactments. He dealt with the importance of the very great step in the exceptional development of the empire by the summoning of overseas premiers to the imperial war cabinet, where they met on terms of equality, as the prime ministers of self-governing nations.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Military Service Act, 1917. Men 19 and 20 Years of Age. Harvest Leave. Leave of Absence on Ground of Extreme Hardship. Procedure to Obtain Leave of Absence.

Men Nineteen and Twenty Years of Age. It has come to the attention of the Government that there is a widespread impression that young men of nineteen years, and those who became twenty since October 13, 1917, as well as those who may become nineteen from time to time and who have been or will be called upon to register under the Military Service Act, are to be immediately called to the colours.

Leave of Absence on Grounds of Extreme Hardship. It is desired that the Regulations respecting leave of absence in cases of hardship should be widely known and fully understood. Such leave will be granted in two cases:— (a) where extreme hardship arises by reason of the fact that the man concerned is either the only son capable of earning a livelihood, of a father killed or disabled on service or presently in service overseas, or in training for such service, or under treatment after returning from overseas; or the only remaining of two or more brothers capable of earning a livelihood (the other brother or brothers having been killed or disabled on service, or being presently in service overseas); or in training for overseas or under treatment after his or their return from overseas); or brothers married before 4th August, 1914, living in separate establishments and having a child or children not to be counted, in determining the fact that the man is the "only" remaining son or brother; where extreme hardship arises by reason of exceptional circumstances such as the fact that the man concerned is the sole support of a widowed mother, an invalid father or other helpless dependents.

Procedure to obtain leave of absence. A simple system for dealing with these cases has been adopted. Forms of application have been supplied to every Depot Battalion and an officer of each battalion has been detailed whose duty it is to give them immediate attention. The man concerned should on reporting to his unit state that he desires to apply for leave of absence on one or more of the grounds mentioned and his application form will then be filled out and forwarded to Militia Headquarters, Ottawa.

A double header was played in the Patriotic Baseball League Saturday afternoon at the Barrack Square. The first game was between the Canadian Garment Regiment team and a nine from the Barrack Square. The former team won by a score of 14 to 5, but as the last of the inning had not been completed it reverted back to the end of the first inning. The second game was between the Y. M. C. I. and the Depot team and resulted in a score of 30 to 9 in favor of the Y. M. C. I. team. Its game lacked interest and was so sided that many of the spectators left the grounds before it had progressed more than two innings. The battalion overplayed hard enough, but they were against a superior team and in addition their pitchers were off, in all probability due to a strong cold wind which swept across the diamond. On Tuesday evening the Acadia will see their first appearance in the league when they will meet the Military Headquarters team. This should prove quite an attraction as the teams should be evenly matched. Gates Closed In Invaders' Face

Heroic Deed of British Cyclists On Italian Front—Ran Into Austrian Force Italian Headquarters, June 22.—Montello, the oval-shaped chain of hills which the British have occupied for several months by the British, who came to Italy under Gen. Pianner. A British division occupied the south-western ridges of the Asago plateau, with the French on their right. The British, after reconquering the advanced positions, momentarily abandoned on Saturday morning with a view of strengthening the line, not only resisted all Austrian attempts, but gallantly counter-attacked in a fashion that caused an Italian superior officer to remark: "They are slanting the gates of Italy in the face of the invader." A detachment of British cyclists accomplished heroic deeds. They were changing position, and moving along a sunken road parallel to the front. Suddenly they ran into a superior Austrian contingent barring the way. Instead of fleeing, they dismounted and advanced with fixed bayonets. Simultaneously the Austrians were ordered to charge, and the two waves of bayonets clashed. A terrific fight ensued at the splendid physique and undaunted courage of the British cyclists proved too much for the Austrians, who fled, discarding their rifles, the British pursuing and capturing many rifles and prisoners. Handling of Reserves. One of the most successful features of the organization of the Italian army consists in the wise distribution and rapid handling of reserves, which is illustrated by the brilliant feat of a certain position were ordered to retire, with a view to straightening the salient. A small detachment was left on the crest of a hill 3,000 feet high, to cover the withdrawal. The Austrians, who immediately received the operation, tried to overtake the detachment, but the latter, although almost completely surrounded and outnumbered tenfold, succeeded in holding the enemy at bay. The commander of an Alpine detachment on the left of the British detachment, decided on his own initiative to attempt to rescue the British. The question was whether the Alpine would be able to arrive in time to find the defenders alive. The commander of the Alpine said: "We would be too late if any but the British bulldogs were defending the position and if any but the Alpine Chamois were rushing to their rescue." The Italian Alpine thereupon dashed forward and were received by the British with cheers for Italy. The Austrians were taken aback by this unexpected onslaught that they wavered, whereupon the commander of the British detachment leaped to the top of the trench and ordered a charge. The Austrians were forced to withdraw in face of the attack, both in the front and on the flank.

LEARNING TO FIGHT THE GOTHA IN THE DARK

British Airmen Acquire Facility in Combating German Airmen at Night London, May 22.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The activity of British airmen in connection with recent raids on London indicates that they are learning rapidly the art of fighting the Gotha in the dark. Until a few months ago there was little air fighting at night, even in France, and raiding craft enjoyed a marked advantage because their object was solely to avoid attacks while dropping their bombs. It is evident that they are able no longer to avoid attack. For one thing, the British pilots have learned to see in the dark as a result of numerous night flights in search of enemy machines. Now they are able to spot Gothas at distances which would have been considered impossible in the early stages of night raids. They have learned also how to take the best positions for combating the enemy, and how to keep those positions. The Gotha, being an extremely heavy machine, is adept at slipping away. By a sudden plunge in front of the attacking plane it can create a "backwash" and

British men; their blood will have paid dearly for its freedom and to thousands of British men and women it will be holy ground forever. PIMPLES AND RUNNING SORES Would Hold Head Down Face Was Such a Sight Pimples are caused by the blood being out of order. Those festering and running sores appear on the forehead, on the nose, on the chin and other parts of the body, and although they are not a dangerous trouble they are very unattractive to both you and your friends. There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and this is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. This steaming remedy has been on the market for over forty years, during which time we have received thousands of testimonials as to its curative powers over all skin diseases. North Bedford, Sask., writes: "I used Burdock Blood Bitters when I was about eleven. I was so bad with pimples and running sores, that when I went down town, I would hold my head down when I would see anyone coming, my face was such a sight. I got two bottles, and my face began to clear, so I kept on using it and I had a beautiful complexion. I have recommended it to everyone who is in a run down condition, as it builds up the blood, and when the blood is all the face is clear." Manufactured only by The T. WAR-TIME CLOTHES FOR THE WOMEN

(From Women's Section, Office of Director of Public Information.) All women engaged in official war work should be aware of the fact that their performance does not remove them from the general body of women. The question of what to wear is, however, a most important one. The great consideration is to secure suitable, moderate, climate-appropriate, and comfortable clothing. The one-piece frock is most satisfactory. If one must have blouses the recommendation is for dark ones with dainty guimpes which can be renewed easily and frequently, suffer comparatively little from their visit to the laundry and always look dainty and fresh. Both time and money are saved by using guimpes. Linen or lawn of good quality is the preferred material. Underwear has likewise been chosen with the same ideas in view. Frills are practically banished. All of these points recommend themselves because they emphasize most attractively the things that are most desirable to a woman—daintiness for every day and immaculate freshness. A long tulle offering a war-time one-piece dress which has many attractive features. The design is patented and all royalties go to the British Red Cross. The frock is a "slipover" and by means of a clever combination of collar, stole and belt the fullness is adjusted about the waist and one frock may be made to appear different each time it is worn provided the "trains" as it is called, is made up in various colors or materials. The same model can be made up for morning, afternoon and evening wear. A woman might design and patent a dress, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross. A Good Spender. "Has your wife registered for war work?" "Yes." "What branch of service would she be best at?" "I don't know just what it is she volunteered to do, but if there's a vacancy in the purchasing department she'd be a right-at-home there."

Mr. and Mrs. Stone will make their home in Fredericton.

BOYS IN TROUBLE
A case against three boys, held in custody on suspicion of having entered the premises of McPherson Bros. and J. Callinan & Sons' in Union street on last Saturday night and having stolen money and wearing apparel, will be heard in the police court tomorrow morning. It is said that some of the missing goods were found on the boys when arrested.

FOUR DRUNKENNESS CASES
Four men, who were arrested Saturday night on charges of drunkenness, faced Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning. One had taken an overdose of flavoring extract, while the others had procured liquor from friends. A $400 fine was levied, and an endeavor will be made to find out where they got the liquor.

AN AUTOMOBILE CASE
Ottie McIntyre appeared in the police court this morning to answer a charge of violating one of the street traffic by-laws by leaving his automobile standing in Sydney street near the corner of Union from 2 a.m. until 6 a.m. on June 7 with out having his lights displayed. He acknowledged that such was the case, explaining that his automobile had broken down and he had removed it to the first thing in the morning. He said that the spot was well illuminated, and he did not think it necessary to have lights displayed. He was told that he was liable to a fine of $200, and was ordered to pay $10.

KILEY-KIERVIN.
The wedding of Urban H. Kiley to Miss Helen Kiervin, both of this city, was solemnized with nuptial high mass at five o'clock this morning in St. Peter's church, North End. The bride was given away by her father, Patrick Kiervin, who wore a suit of brown silk and large picture hat and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was unattended. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 6 Spar Cove Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Kiley left for their train for Boston and New York. A large number of presents testified to the popularity of the young couple. The gifts, including a fine chest of silver from the St. John letter carriers, of which start the bridegroom is a popular member.

MOOSE VISIT CITY.
Two fine specimens of the lordly moose were visitors to the city early this morning. They attracted but little attention, but those who did see them were quite enthusiastic over their appearance. They were quite leisurely in their movements, and the looks of the water perhaps discouraged them from attempting a swim. At all events whatever was the reason, they did not linger long at the Ballast Wharf, but turned quickly and went back round the extension to the woods once again. At the sugar refinery the night watchman was given a start by the arrival of the visitors.

WHEN SUMMER SLIPPED A COG

Temperature Below Sixty and Woodpile a Joy to the Suburbanite—Notes Along the River

With a high wind and a clouded sky, threatening rain, the cold mists lifting and falling on the horizon, and a temperature well below sixty degrees, yesterday was not like a summer day at Public Landing. The daisies and buttercups were there, and blue flags by the roadside, and all the crops flourishing, but the warmth of a stove was not to be thrust aside for these other delights. The sun made a brave effort to break through the clouds at noon, but failed completely. But there was one consolation—the frost of last week had not visited the Landing and the cucumbers and beans were thriving mightily. Also one enjoys radishes and lettuce from the garden, and one adventurous boy in rubber boots found some native strawberries in the meadow.

Sunday's weather, moreover, was merely continued from the day before. Saturday afternoon saw Grand Bay raked by a wind that heaped up white-capped rollers and streaked the surface with long lines of white foam. When the Ocean crossed a yacht was coming out from one of the coves, racing full down with her deck at an angle that drew cries of apprehension from timid onlookers. It was not a day for motor boats, nor was yesterday, and very few were to be seen. One that had planned to come down last evening waited until this morning.

Seen through a window, however, from a comfortable room, the aggressive green of the landscape charmed the eye no less than when it is bathed in sunlight. And the fields were absorbing moisture after a night of rain that will be of special value in the warmer weeks to come.

Rev. C. W. Nichols administered the rite of baptism in the Anglican church at the Landing yesterday, and a confirmation service will be held a little later. The rector yesterday counselled his people to observe the regulations of the Food Board and do their part at home in the task of winning the war.

There is one sign of activity on the Valley Railway at the Landing. Two or three men are constructing a trestle where short lift is needed between the new railway station and the wharf. The work at the Nerepis and Woodman's point is also being continued, but for work to be done all along the line the men are not yet available.

The Ocean had a good passenger list down this morning. A few cultivated strawberries are now coming down from Wickham and a fairly good crop of pumpkins. When the Ocean was passing Harding's Point this morning the passengers were admiring a wild duck floating on the surface of the river. It proved to be a diver, and gave a fine exhibition of submarine tactics for the benefit of the onlookers. At Sand Point a gentleman commanded his dog to lie down and stay ashore. He lay perfectly still, the plank was pulled in and the steamer was moving. Then with one leap it was ashore. For that foxy trick it had to learn ashore.

Ottawa, June 24—Today's list of fifty-five casualties includes one accidentally killed, six died of wounds, four died, six presumed to have died, five prisoners of war, repatriated, twenty-eight wounded, one gassed and three ill. Maritime provinces names are:
