JEFFRIES S HOME, READY FOR RING

Will Fight Johnson, He Says and Wants to Sign at Once—Johnson's Manager Now Ready.

New York, Oct. 22.—The steamer Lusitania on which James J. Jeffries, the pugilist was a passenger, left quarantine for her dock at 7.10 a.m. today.

Jeffries said he would fight Johnson and had no doubt as to all winning. Replied to questions, Jeffries said he did not take much stock in the Johnson-Ketchel fight, and evidently considered Ketchel outclassed. "I am ready to fight Johnson tomorrow," said Jeffries. "My condition is tip-top. I want to sign at the right away and settle this matter. Jeffries never looked better. He weighs 225 pounds.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Jeffries can make his own terms in a bout with Johnson. All we want to do is to show that Jack is the better man."

This was the statement made yesterday by George Little, manager of Johnson, who will depart for the east today and meet Jeffries. Johnson was arrested again yesterday. Just before the parade, one of the celebrations of Portola Week was scheduled to march down Market street, the colored boxer whirled into sight in an automobile, and drove down street at high speed. A policeman jumped on the car as it slowed up at a crossing and informed the occupants that they were under arrest for speeding.

SELECTING MEN URGED DOCK SCHEME ON GOVERNMENT

Mayor, One Alderman, Messrs Foster, Estabrooks and Thorne and Dr. Daniel Likely to Go to Ottawa Monday—Reported Hitch in Durant Matter

A delegation consisting of two representatives each from the common council and board of trade will leave for Ottawa on Monday evening and will visit upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier to urge upon the government the necessity of dry docks in Canada. The promoter of the scheme, Mr. Durant, and the city committee having agreed on a site, but the property was not owned by the city. The idea was that the city would purchase the property and turn it over to the refinery company. Now, however, complications have arisen, as the owners of a portion of the property desired have refused, it is said, to put a price upon their land and say they do not want to sell. Just what the next move will be is hard to say.

Mr. Durant left this morning for Montreal, presumably to see L. C. R. officials regarding what arrangements could be made for the building of a spur track to the new refinery. He will return this afternoon.

MONACCELLI TAKE UP LINE TODAY

Securely handcuffed and closely guarded by Deputy-Sheriff Armstrong, of Woodstock, Sandy Monacelli, the Italian convicted of manslaughter in causing the death of Nicholas Legasia, passed through the city today to begin his life-long sentence in Dorchester penitentiary.

The two men attracted considerable attention in the depot this morning when they stepped off the Boston train to wait for the Point du Chene express, which was to carry them to their destination.

Monacelli is a pleasing looking Italian, about twenty-two years of age, with the customary dark features of his race. He is quite an intelligent looking young fellow, at times it gave quite an animated Deputy-Sheriff Armstrong said that Monacelli was very orderly and cheerful, but that it was necessary to keep him handcuffed on the Point du Chene express at noon.

TEACHERS TAKE UP PROJECT FOR PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICER HERE

Resolution to Be Heard This Afternoon—Musical Instructor Favored By Institute—Today's Business Matters

The St. John County Teachers' Institute resumed this morning in the High School at 8 o'clock. As a result of this year's meeting of the institute, recommendations will be made to the school board for the appointment of an instructor of music in the city schools, and also for the appointment of a public health officer. A resolution was made with reference to the former and a committee appointed, to be likely taken up at this afternoon's session.

Papers Read

Two very interesting papers were read, one by Miss E. G. Hannah on "The Best Books for Children," and one by Supt. Bridges on "Child Nature."

The first paper was full of interesting stories and valuable hints. Dr. Bridges' paper, which was quite lengthy, dealt with the more quiet understanding of children as essential to success as a teacher. It dwelt on method in teaching, pointing out that the temperament

THROUGH BUTT INTO SOLDIER

Accident at St. Mary's Rifle Range a Remarkable One—Bullet Pierced Eight Foot Earth Wall

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 22.—(Special) Private Charles Brousseau, of the Royal Regiment, who was shot through the body while marking at the St. Mary's rifle range yesterday, passed an uncomfortable night in the Victoria Hospital, but today his condition is more hopeful. The attending physician says that if no complications set in he will recover.

The bullet followed a straight course through his body, penetrating lung and liver, and there is no doubt that before striking him it passed through an eight-foot butt or embankment of some earth.

This is a most surprising feat in connection with the accident, and military men are at a loss to explain it.

The soldier who fired the shot used a Ross rifle and was at the 300 yard firing point. His aim seems to have been bad, as the bullet struck the butt six feet below the target. The butt is more than ten feet high and eight feet thick, and Brousseau was standing behind facing the target when shot. The bullet was 303 calibre steel jacketed. It passed right through the butt, making a clean wound, which bled inwardly.

The accident has caused quite a commotion among the men at the barracks, and target practice has been suspended pending an investigation. Today Lieut. Dudenham, accompanied by Sergt. Major Duncan and Sergt. Lavoie, was sent to the range to make an investigation.

The generally accepted theory is that the bullet struck its way through a crack in the earthwork caused by recent wet weather. The accident is said to be the first of its kind to occur in Canada since the militia adopted the high-power rifle.

A number of prominent W. M. C. A. workers, including Fraser G. Marshall, of New Glasgow, and M. A. McKinnon, arrived here today to attend the maritime convention, which will open this evening.

COOK IS PLEASED

Declares Rasmussen's Support is Particularly Valuable and Says Why

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 22.—That the statement of Knud Rasmussen is a valuable aid to the establishment of proof of the discovery of the North Pole, was in substance Dr. Frederick A. Cook's comment here today.

Rasmussen's statement is to the effect that Dr. Cook's claim is fully borne out by the information which the Danish explorer obtained among the Eskimos. Dr. Cook read the statement yesterday when he stopped in Toledo between trains on his way from Ann Arbor to Canton.

Rasmussen's opinion is particularly valuable because he is half Eskimo himself, speaks the Eskimo language perfectly, thoroughly understands the people, and is better able to secure correct information from them than any other scientist or explorer. Dr. Cook also pointed out the disinterested character of the statement.

"It is that of a man who had no occasion to defend me," he said. "He is not particularly a friend of mine and had no relation to our expedition. I first met him at North Star in 1897. He gathered his information from the Eskimos before he heard from me that I had discovered the North Pole. I saw him a few minutes early in August, last for a few minutes, when I first told him of the discovery, although he may have heard of it previously from the Danes."

GETS WEALTHY PASTORATE

Boston, Mass., Oct. 22.—(Special)—Rev. Geo. F. Bolster, of Fredericton, N. B., who completed his course at Bates College with high honors last June, has accepted the pastorate of the Randall Memorial Free Baptist church of Somerville.

Rev. Mr. Bolster will continue his studies at the Newton Theological Seminary. He is only 28 years of age.

His new pastorate is a wealthy one.

CONDUCTOR RESPONSIBLE AND SAYS SO

C. P. R. Man Assumes Blame For Collision at Melville Jct.—Vaudeville Singer Almost Stricken Blind on Stage

Toronto, Oct. 22.—(Special)—Conductor Wilson, who was in charge of the up-train, assumes the entire responsibility for the London passenger train collision which took place on the C. P. R. at Melville Junction on Wednesday evening, and in which a number of persons were shaken up.

The fact that three conductors' registers are all lying open on a desk together in the little Melville Junction station is advanced by the conductor, who is one of the most trusted and experienced men in the company's employ, as responsible for his mistake.

While singing in the Majestic Music Hall yesterday, Jules Kusnell was suddenly stricken with seeming blindness. With admirable courage he managed to finish his "turn," without alarming the audience. He then dropped to the floor prostrate. Kusnell is under a doctor's care, and is being gradually restored. Acute indications of the cause of the strange occurrence.

LAGER WAS SENT BY THE BREWERIES

Charge of Liquor Selling at Bartenders' Picnic is Dismissed

London, Ont., Oct. 22.—The charge of selling liquor without a license laid against William Bell, a bartender, arising out of a picnic, held by the bartenders on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 5, was dismissed yesterday by Magistrate Love.

The evidence failed to show the passing of money other than contributions towards expenses, lager being donated by brewers, and under the circumstances the magistrate said he must dismiss the case.

VESUVIUS LESS ACTIVE TODAY

Earthquakes and Eruption Have Spread Alarm in Messina

Naples, Oct. 22.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius, which became alarmingly active yesterday, appears to be decreasing today. The villages in the vicinity of the volcano are filled with strangers, mostly foreigners, who had hastened there to witness the phenomena.

Messina, Oct. 22.—Yesterday's earthquake in the vicinity of Mount Vesuvius, coincident with the recent activity of Mount Vesuvius, have caused much alarm here. The fact that such seismic disturbances have been predicted by Frank A. Perret, the scientist, formerly assistant director of the Royal Observatory, on Mount Vesuvius, does not lessen the uneasiness.

Mr. Perret was in this city during the last week of September, and at that time pointed out that September 29 would be a date most favorable for earthquakes and volcanic eruptions for the reason that at that time the sun, earth and moon would be in line, thus constituting a combination tending to produce a gravitational distortion of the earth's form. Mr. Perret added that if nothing out of the ordinary occurred, as proved to be the case, it would mean that the earth had resisted the unusual pressure, but that telltale convulsions would very likely be experienced in the latter part of October.

MURPHY FOR LONGER BIG LEAGUE SEASON

Chicago, Oct. 22.—President Murphy of the Cubs has put himself on record as favoring the longer play of baseball. The present season of 154 games lasts from April to the first of October, while the players are under contract from April 15th to October 15th.

"I can't say just how many games I would favor," he said, "but it seems to me that the season ought to be extended to cover the players' contracts."

BRIDE RECEIVES MILLION CHECK

Miss Elaine Whitney Hoff was married in Paris on Tuesday to Albert Eberstadt, a Parisian, in the American Church of Paris. The Rev. Dr. Goodrich officiating. Miss Hoff is the daughter of J. Whitney Hoff, formerly of Detroit, and now one of the wealthiest of the American colonies in Paris, and the bridegroom is the son of one of the most prominent bankers of Amsterdam.

The wedding was the most brilliant of the season. All the American colony of Paris, the decorations and the guests were very beautiful. The bride's colors, white and pink, were carried out in the floral display, and among a profusion of palm tree, banks of white and pink chrysanthemums were seen.

Preceding the ceremony an elaborate musical program was rendered. Guilmant, the celebrated organist, presided over the organ, with M. Marthes playing the cello. M. Franck, the harp and M. Muratore appearing as soloist.

The bride's gown was of magnificent white satin with a train of pearls and diamonds, and an enormous long square court train, richly embroidered. Falling from the head was a soft veil of white tulle period costumes, with large black hats trimmed with white feathers. The best man was Monsieur Jacques Labouchere, brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a breakfast was given and a reception held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hoff, No. 78 Avenue Du Bois De Boulogne. The house, like the church, was decorated in white and pink. During the afternoon the celebrated Touche Orchestra played.

The bride, who is very rich in her own right, is said to have received a check for $1,000,000 from her mother. Her father's gifts consisted of a superb diamond necklace, a set of priceless sapphires, a collection of rare old lace, valuable ancient tapestries and other furnishings and house decorations. The parents of the bridegroom gave her some handsome old family silver and many jewels. Other presents consisted of rare antiques, silver, fans, pictures and furniture. A great many handsome autumn toilets were seen at the reception and church. Mrs. Hoff wore a pale rose satin with cloak to match, elaborately trimmed in jet, with a black velvet hat bearing bird of paradise feathers.

LIVING WITH THREE STITCHES IN HEART

New York, Oct. 22.—The Sun has the following from London:

An extraordinary surgical operation has been performed at Constantinople, Algeria. A workman was stabbed in the heart and taken to the hospital apparently dying. The hospital surgeon, Dr. Martin, Du Bois De Boulogne, and having broken gave him chloroform, and having broken three ribs, cut into the heart's envelope and removed three and a half ounces of clotted blood.

Then, taking the heart in his left hand, the doctor pulled it out until he saw the wound. A pressure of his hand on the heart made it beat more strongly, but irregularly. Dr. Martin made three stitches, put the heart back again, and it beat feebly but irregularly. The man is still alive and there is hope of his recovery.

NO GREAT REFORM IN THE CONGO

Brussels, Oct. 22.—The programme of colonial reforms announced in vague and general terms at the beginning of the year has not touched upon the questions of forced labor or concessions in the Congo. It intimates that free trade will be established in the Lake Leopold district, with extension to the remainder of the Congo. The announcement declares there is no state within two years. The programme admits that the deficit indicates an early call for a loan of $20,000,000.

BLIND PIG VICTIM DEAD ON HIS KNEES

Cobalt, Oct. 22.—Against the wall of the Palace meat market, the dead body of William Sophy was found by some boys. The man was kneeling and the body was quite rigid when found.

Inquiries point to the fact that Sophy's two children are very ill with typhoid and that he has worried very much over these and other matters. He obtained whiskey at a blind pig, and, stupefied by liquor, he collapsed in the road and succumbed to the effects of exposure. Sophy was about forty years old and was married.

Note How Long It Lasts

A cake of Taylor's Infants' Delight Soap wears down thin as a wafer. The last bit lathers freely and is just as healing, mild and soothing as when the bar was first unwrapped.

It is expensive for us to make the soap this way. It means expensive machines, for each bar of Infants' Delight is subjected to a pressure of 60,000 pounds—thirty tons—to make sure that every bit of moisture is removed. By this expensive means alone can we produce the solid, compact bar which, beside being the safest and most soothing soap for baby's bath, is also the most lasting soap you can procure.

Infants' Delight Soap

is a favorite with mothers everywhere. It goes a long way toward keeping the little ones sweet tempered and sunny. Decide to get this cake of goodness today.

Jeanne of the Marshes

BY E. P. OPPENHEIM

"That," she said, "is because you have had so little experience of life, and you do not understand its practical necessities. Children like you seem to have the commonplace necessities of life drop into our laps as a matter of course, or that they are a sort of gift from Heaven to the deserving. As a matter of fact, the Princess continued, "nothing of the sort happens. Life is often a very cruel and a very difficult thing. We are given taste, and no means to gratify them. How could I, for instance, face life as a lodging-house keeper, or at best as a lodger, with a companion to some ill-tempered old haridan, who would probably only employ me to have someone to bully. You yourself, Jeanne, are fond of luxuries. She became suddenly thoughtful.

"I have noticed your tastes," the Princess continued, "and it will be very much worse for me, because I have been used to these things all my life. You may think me very brutal at having tried to help you toward the only means of escape for either of us, but I think, dear, you scarcely realize the alternative. It is not only what you condemn yourself to, remember that you inflict the same punishment on me."

"It is not I who do anything," Jeanne said. "It is you who have brought this upon both of us. All this money that has been spent upon luxuries, it was absurd. I think that it is not need that I was cruel."

The Princess produced a few inches of lace-bordered cambric, a glance at Jeanne's face showed her that the child had developed a new side to her character. There was something pitiless about the straightened mouth, and the cold questioning eyes.

"Jeanne," the Princess said, "you are a fool. Some day you will understand how great a one. I only trust that it may not be too late. The Comte de Bressault may not be everything that is to be desired in a husband, but the world is full of more attractive people who would be glad to become your slaves. You will live mostly abroad, and let me assure you that marriage there is the road to liberty. You have it in your power to save yourself and me from poverty. Make a little sacrifice, Jeanne, if indeed it is a sacrifice. Later on you will be glad of it. If you persist in this unreasonable attitude, I really do not know what will become of us."

Jeanne turned her head, but she did not respond in the least to the Princess's cold tone. There was a note of finality about her words, too. She spoke as one who had weighed this matter and made up her mind.

"If there was no other man in the world," she said, "or no other way of avoiding starvation, I would not marry the Comte de Bressault."

"Very well," she said, "that ends the matter of course. I hope you will always remember that it is you who are responsible for anything that may happen now. You had better," she continued, "leave off writing letters which will certainly never be posted, and yet your clothes together we shall go abroad at the latest tomorrow afternoon."

"Alas!" Jeanne repeated.

"Yes!" the Princess answered. "I suppose you have sense enough to see that."

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

Stately and dignified is this handsome gown of silver gray satin, which is in modified Empire style—always particularly charming in an evening costume. The bodice is of gray net, and both bodice and the tunic, which falls over the skirt, are embroidered with steel paillettes, which give a silvery effect in the finished pattern. The embroidery also borders the trailing skirt and trims the little net sleeve, which, like all evening sleeves, is very diminutive—in fact a mere apology for an arm covering.

Gray and Silver Dinner for a Matron

It was a very like a stern, rising and falling like. The boats heard it and turned back, but three of the Squire's men were set on, and a rare fight there was that night. There was broken heads to be mended, and no mistake. Mat Knowles here, the father of him who keeps the public house, he might forget to shut his man, and there it was open two hours past the lawful time, and all were drinking as though it were a great day of rejoicing instead of being one of sorrow for the De la Borne's. "I mind you were here a few weeks ago, miss. You know the two Mr. De la Borne's?"

"Yes!" Jeanne admitted. "I know them slightly."

"Mr. Andrew, he is one of the best," the man declared, "but Mr. Cecil we none of us can understand, nor his friends. What he is doing up there now with this man what's staying with him, there none can tell. Maybe they gamble at cards, maybe they just sit and look at one another, but 'tis a strange sort of life any way."

"I think it's a very interesting place to live in," Jeanne said, "but I don't know so far as I heard of it myself, and there's few 'as better cars."

"Mr. Andrew," he said, "is mortal afraid of strangers and such like, and there's photographers and newspaper men round in these parts just now, by reason of the disappearance of this young lord that you've heard tell on. Some say he was drowned, and I have heard folk whisper about a duel with the gentleman as is with Mr. Cecil now. THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION WORK

Chatham, N. B., Oct. 21.—The sessions of the N. B. and P. E. Island Sunday School Association this afternoon and evening were of much interest.

At the afternoon session the report of the executive committee. A resolution of condolence was adopted on the death of the late president, T. S. Simms, and the secretary was instructed to forward a copy to Mrs. Simms. The report on Adult Bible Class Work was read by Mr. Pearce, after which an able address on A Half Hour with the Word, was given by Rev. Mr. Kubring.

At the close of this session a supper was provided in St. John's church for the visiting delegates and interesting, especially the evening session opened with a half hour's song service led by Rev. George Wood, in which the choir and Sunday school scholars took part, the singing was especially praised by some of the visitors. A demonstration on how to organize a Bible class and the class in session was next on the programme under the able leadership of W. M. Kingston, and was very instructive and interesting, especially to the teachers.

The chairman, R. T. Hayes, then called on Rev. Mr. McPhee, the representative of the P. E. Island association, who gave an able address on Sunday School in P. E. Island. He spoke very highly of the work done by the field secretary and said it would be disastrous if the Sunday schools of the new department were to be abandoned.

Mr. Pearce, international Bible school superintendent, spoke on How to Bring Men and Women into the Bible Class and Hold Them. During the course of his very entertaining address he mentioned the different methods of organization and power and said one of the requisites of the Sabbath schools is advertising. One of the points brought out in his remarks was the social life wherein the churches must do something to provide some kind of social life for the young people or they would go elsewhere to get it.

A selection, The Lost Chord, by the mixed quartette, composed of Rev. Geo. Wood, John McFarlane, Miss Jessie McDonald and Miss Dickinson, was heartily enjoyed by all.

A telegram was read from Hugh Cork saying he would be with the convention tomorrow.

The day's session ended with the singing of a hymn composed by S. J. Dunan, entitled For the Man of Galilee, which was presented to Mr. Pearce as a contribution to the men's Bible class movement in North America.

This session probably will see but few hats in full.

Donaldson Sailings

The winter sailings of the Donaldson line between St. John and Glasgow, were announced yesterday. Under the schedule some fine steamers under the flag of that company will visit this port during the winter. The Christmas boat leaving here for the other side will be the Cassandra, one of the largest and best equipped liners on the Atlantic. She will sail from St. John Dec. 11, arriving at Glasgow several days before Christmas. It is expected that the Donaldson line will have nearly twenty-eight sailings from St. John this season, after announcements being made.

The schedule as prepared so far is as follows:

From St. John to Glasgow: Dec. 4, Nov. 20—Cassandra; Dec. 11, Nov. 27—Lakonia; Dec. 18, Dec. 4—Athens; Dec. 23, Dec. 11—Parthenia; Dec. 29, Dec. 18—Kastalia.

ARMED BANDITS ROB ANOTHER QUEBEC BANK

St. Aime, Que., Oct. 21.—Another bank burglary was pulled off in this province early this morning when a gang of armed bandits blew up the safe in the Banque Nationale branch here and secured $2,500, getting away with the loot.

The robbery was marked by the same old audacity which characterized the five or six bank robberies which this same gang has pulled off at various rural centres in the past few months. They had apparently lain all day in ambush near the village and shortly after midnight invaded the bank through a window.

A big Danish hound, kept as a watchdog by Manager Cadzow of the bank, was brought in by the burglars entered the bank through a window.

Three attended to the safe while two watched the side of the building and another was posted at the entrance.

The first intimation of their work was when their first charge of nitro-glycerine awakened Mr. Grant, who sleeps over the bank with his family. He seized his revolver, ran down and opened fire on the men whom he discovered preparing the second charge in the safe door. They at once returned the fire and Mr. Cadzow, outnumbered, retired, several bullets striking the doorway on either side of him.

In the meantime Madame Cadzow had called for help from the stairs' window and was fired on by the sentinels at the side, several bullets striking the window frame.

The firing awakened the villagers and a crowd soon gathered around. They were unfortunately, unarmed and after the guards had fired several shots they kept a respectful distance. The crowd had to stand idly by while several detonations showed that the burglars were getting in their work. For forty-five minutes this lasted, during which time the bandits blew the safe door off, wrecked the interior and leisurely examined all the papers. She remembered that particular scene of freedom, that first escape from her cramped surroundings, which had come to her walking upon the marches of Salthouse. She would go there again, if it was only for a day or two; find rooms somewhere in the village, and write to Monsieur Laplanche from there. Visitors she knew were not uncommon in the little seaside village, and she would easily be able to keep out of the way of Cecil, if he were still there. The idea seemed to her like an inspiration. She went up to the ticket office

Nature makes the cures after all. Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out. Things get started in the wrong direction. A CHEERFUL OUTLOOK

Today's news concerning the proposed dry dock and ship-repairing plant, as well as that relative to the proposed sugar refinery is particularly good news. Nothing could be more satisfactory than a union of Canadian shipping and railway interests with Harland & Wolff, to establish here a plant to which ultimately, no doubt, would be added one for steel shipbuilding.

A FINANCIAL VENTURE

The Sun this morning concludes an unusually violent tirade against the Intercolonial Railway management with the following paragraph: "Our present method of railway administration is temporary, experimental and wasteful, hindering in an intolerable degree the legitimate development of the country. It is not at all worthy of a great people. The method should be changed or the road passed over to a private company which would pursue a vigorous policy of internal development and progress."

AMATEUR SPORT

The opening of the football season in this province has raised again the vexed question of amateur and professional. This question would not be raised if there were not in St. John, and perhaps in some other places, professional promoters of sport, or sporting brokers, who view the whole question from the inside of the box-office. If by suspending or professionalizing a player today a few dollars can be made, it is done, and an appeal for reinstatement made tomorrow.

The line must be drawn. The definition of an amateur is clear enough. If it is to be changed it must be changed from within the controlling body. The way to do it is to affiliate and present satisfactory reasons. If it is necessary to have paid players to ensure good baseball, let the fact be admitted and the players remain frankly professional, and refrain from attempting to pose as amateurs.

DRILL FOR BOYS

On the King's birthday, Earl Grey will present colors to the cadet corps at Ottawa. The Citizen states that there are over a dozen cadet corps in Ottawa, and notes the fact that the movement is spreading throughout the empire, while boy scouts are also being organized in large numbers. The Citizen, in an article very strongly commending the drill and discipline received, and urging that every encouragement be given to the boys, makes some observations that are of general application and value.

Secretary W. W. Hubbard states that fifty per cent. of the potato crop of this province is ruined by rot, caused by the wet and warm weather of the late fall season.

If Quebec loses two shoe factories to Montreal because of labor troubles it will be a case of history repeating itself. Labor troubles sent a lot of profitable shipping business from Quebec to points farther up the St. Lawrence. Industrial peace is essential to industrial progress.

When a newspaper devotes a large amount of space to professions of its own disinterested desire to promote the public welfare, the public are very likely to ask why such professions are deemed necessary. In the conduct of a great public journal it should be expected that some things would be taken for granted.

SILENCED THE PRISONER

(Oliver Wendell Holmes.) Rudolph, professor of the headmaster's trade, Alike was famous for his arm and blade. One day a prisoner justice had to kill Knelt at the block to test the artist's skill. Bare armed, swart visaged, gaunt and shag-headed, the headman, rose above the crowd. His falchion lighted with a sudden gleam As the blow's arrow flashes in the stream. He absented his blade; he turned as if He held his snuffbox. "Now, then, if you please." The prisoner snuffed, and, with a crashing sneeze, Off he tumbled, bowled along the floor. Bounced down the steps—the prisoner said no more!

Ellen was going to take supper with a little friend. "Now, dear," said her mother, "when you are leaving, you must say 'good night' to your mother and tell her you have had a very pleasant time." ANCIENT POSTAL SERVICE Was Conducted by the State More Than 2,000 Years Ago

How the ancient Egyptians conducted a state postal service more than 2,150 years ago is shown by a papyrus on view at the Imperial Postal Museum in Berlin. It dates from the time of Ptolemy Philadelphus, who reigned from 283 to 247 B. C., when postal deliveries were confined to stations along the Nile. The papyrus is of the nature of a waybill and bears the signatures of five postal officials who would correspond to the present sorters, postmen and branch superintendents. The document reads somewhat as follows: On this, the 16th day... I, Alexander, received the following: For Apollonius of the Exchequer, 1 letter packet and 2 letters; for Antiochus the Cretan, 1 letter packet; for Memodorus, 1 letter packet. Delivered the above into the hands of Nicodemus, this 17th day... signed Alexander.

BROOMS TO GO UP

Price of the Broom Corn Raised Owing to Scarcity Toronto, Oct. 22.—Latest advices indicate that there is no sign of the weakening of the broom corn market, says the Canadian Grocer. The crop is short in many states from which the supply is secured by broom manufacturers, both in Canada and in the United States, and as a Chicago manufacturer puts it, the market is liable to go up to 15 and 20 cents per pound. This would bring the price of broom corn from $85 to $90 and $100 per ton. In Oklahoma state the crop was very short, being burnt up by excessive heat. In other states somewhat similar conditions exist, and the farmers who see the price soaring are naturally reluctant about selling. This has prevented manufacturers from getting hold of the supplies they require and has a tendency to force the smaller factories which have been accustomed to purchase in small quantities out of business—at least temporarily.

In connection with the procedure and system followed at board of trade inquiries, the Imperial Merchant Service Guild has addressed a letter to the board pointing out that at these inquiries, captains and officers labor under a great deal of inconvenience through the lack of convenient and proper facilities being given to them to do the necessary chart work. It has been pointed out to the board that no proper chart table is provided, nor are witnesses supplied with the requisite accessories.

DOCK AND SHIP REPAIR PLANT HERE ASSURED

Canadian Government, C. P. R., Allans and Harland & Wolff Behind the Project—Statement By Capt. Newton Carefully Worded But There is Good News From Other Sources

A CABLEGRAM FROM MESSRS. HARLAND & WOLFF

It is now known that the Federal Government, the C. P. R., and the Allan Line are all committed to the establishing of a dock and ship repair plant here, and that Harland & Wolff will do the work, after some arrangement with the Imperial Dry Dock Co. has been arrived at.

On Tuesday The Telegraph cabled to Harland & Wolff, Belfast, asking for a statement regarding the cablegrams in which it has been announced that they are to establish a dock and shipyard here. The reply arrived only yesterday. Here it is:

"Belfast, 'Daily Telegraph, St. John, N. B. 'Can say nothing definite. 'Harland.'"

It was scarcely to be expected that the firm would outline its plans at this time, but it is significant that Mr. Harland does not deny the news cabled from London that his firm is to establish a plant here.

News from several other sources makes it clear that St. John will have a dry dock and ship repair plant within a reasonable time, and that a ship building plant may be added.

In any event it seems certain that this city is about to enter upon a period of marked industrial expansion.

"I just came down here to look over the ground as Messrs. Harland and Wolff, who are acting in conjunction and co-operation with large shipping interests in Canada are thinking of establishing a drydock in St. John and I am arranging for a representative from St. John to join a deputation to wait on Sir Wilfrid Laurier next week to urge upon the government the necessity of drydocks in Canada."

To this extent did Captain D. O. C. Newton commit himself yesterday when asked as to the bearing his visit to St. John had upon the dock here of a certain firm.

It is now definitely assured that St. John will get the big drydock and ship repair plant which Harland and Wolff, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Allan Line Steamship Company and the federal government will be interested in establishing. The firm will be established will not be definitely known until the government makes announcement of its decision.

It is also hinted that the location here of drydock and ship repair plant will be directly in connection with the establishment of a mammoth steel shipbuilding plant—by far the greatest industry St. John ever had hope of securing.

That the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Allan Line Steamship Company and the federal government will be directly interested in the project, and that Harland and Wolff in the great industries is also definitely known.

While the most important information of the kind which has been published in St. John for a long time, Captain Newton arrived here from Montreal yesterday at noon, and during the afternoon he met President Foster and several of the representative members of the board of trade, George Robertson and Mayor Bullock. He had a conference with the mayor at the Royal hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when matters concerning his visit were discussed.

While the Canadian government's naval policy will undoubtedly have a bearing upon the success of any Canadian drydock proposition yet the various steamship companies now thoroughly realize the commercial value of a dock and ship repair plant at St. John and in addition the Dominion steamship line is also reported to have a large interest in the industry.

These reports were verified by The Telegram last night. There is absolutely no doubt that a drydock and ship repair plant second to none in America will be established here. The steel shipbuilding plant might naturally follow later but its consideration does not enter into the present project.

SUPERIOR PAINLESS DENTISTRY!

"There is a world wide cry against the dentists that they torture their patients. These of strong physique submit and endure the agony. With a second class this is simply impossible, and thousands of teeth are neglected and lost even though the patients may be able to pay for our most skillful services."

The greatest duty of our profession today is to discover and adopt a mode of painlessly performing our operations.

The famous Hale Method of Painless Dentistry, for which we are sole agents for Canada, is the best method on earth.

WILLIAM HANSON OF MILFORD DEAD

Well Known Lumberman and M. I. Mah—Built the Randolph & Baker Mill

A well-known citizen of Milford passed away last evening in the person of William Hanson, for many years connected with the lumbering and milling business in and about St. John. Mr. Hanson, who was seventy-seven years of age, had been ill for some time and during the past five or six weeks was confined to his bed with an attack of dropsy.

He was born in Bocabee, Charlotte county, and came to St. John when he was twenty-two years old, and until a few years ago, when his illness caused him to cease work, he was actively engaged in the lumbering and milling business. Lumbering was in its infancy when Mr. Hanson came here and he entered into the work and soon acquired a thorough knowledge of all its branches. He built the big mill at Randolph, for Randolph & Baker, and operated it for a number of years. He also worked in the old Rankin mill at Indian town, was in charge of the old Lingley mill, afterwards operated by S. T. King & Sons, and for several years ran a mill of his own at Spruce Lake, until it was destroyed by fire.

He leaves five sons and one daughter. The sons are: Albert O., William H., and Oscar D., of Fairville; Edgar P., of Tusket, N. S., and Harvey, at home. The daughter is Mrs. W. A. Nelson, of Fairville. Two sisters reside in Massachusetts—Mrs. Lottie Hanson and Mrs. Annie Chamberlain.

The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL THE COST OF IRVINE'S DRUNK

Judge Makes Example for "The Gang"—Leo Park's Story Not Accepted—Rob't Courtenay Charges Assault

In the police court this morning, Andrew Irvine, charged with being drunk in St. John street, was sentenced to six months in jail. He had been liberated only on Monday last after serving a two months' term on a charge of drunkenness.

He pleaded for a chance this morning to be allowed to get out of town, out Judge Ritchie scoffed at the idea. "You're too old an offender," said his honor, "I have an idea of what you would do if I let you go. I am going to make an example of you for the rest of the gang. I see you fellows hanging around the Marsh Bridge, Cooper's Corner and other places, and I hope your pals will take warning for I am going to sentence you to six months in jail, instead of asking you to pay the regular $8 fine."

Leo K. Parks, a young man neatly dressed, was in court this morning, charged with assaulting Robert Courtenay in Douglas avenue yesterday, and he pleaded not guilty.

Policeman Ira Perry testified that, having received a telephone call from north end, he went to Douglas Avenue, where the prisoner was given in charge by Mr. Courtenay on complaint of assaulting him. Parks had a bottle of gin, and while he was being taken to jail, asked his captor to let him have a drink, but his request was refused.

It developed this morning that Parks is on the interdiction list, and his honor tried to learn where he had secured the liquor. Parks told him that he had given a man, whose name he did not know, a $5 bill on the arrival of the steamer Champlain at Indiantown yesterday, and he had bought him the liquor.

His honor was not satisfied with the explanation and said so. Parks was remanded.

STORM LASHES THE WATERS; SEVEN SCOWS GO ADRIFT

Six Saved But One Goes Into the Bay—Rough in the Harbor

This is a day when craft that have no special business elsewhere are disposed to cling to their moorings. The gale has lashed the bay into great waves, that break in long lines of foam, and the view toward Partridge Island and deep water is decidedly stormy. The white caps are tossing under a sombre and misty sky, and any vessel outside must be experiencing heavy weather.

In the harbor front this morning it was very rough, with the wind from south-west. Seven scows moved alongside the steamership Manchester Corporation, at the Corporation pier, broke adrift about 9 o'clock. Several harbor tugs put out and saved all of them but one, and towed them into No. 7 berth at the west side.

There was a heavy sea running at the time and the one that was carried away filled and the men on board the tugs could not get a line to it and it drifted out to the eastward of Partridge Island and will probably go ashore along the coast. If the weather calms down a tug will go out to search for it.

The St. John schooner Chelita, Captain Brown, put in for a harbor from Wolfville, N. S., this morning. She is bound to Havana, with a cargo of potatoes.

The dredging working on the Beacon bar were having a hard time of it, on account of the high wind. The tugs with the mid scows going and coming from the dumping grounds encountered heavy seas.

A Mix-Up Over Outlaw Baseballists Taking Part in the Gridiron Contests

Those who made light of the wholesale suspensions of base ball players here, have, in the light of recent football protests, an opportunity to reflect. Those participants who for financial reasons or in utter indifference were wont to laugh at the M. P. A. A. action can, now that they want to figure in football, appreciate matters.

Differences of opinion as to methods and policy of the maritime body are aside from the question altogether. The point that must be borne in mind is that it is the body that governs and just so long as it is in control of amateur sport defiance must be paid to its wishes; as to otherwise would result in just such situations as now arise in inter-collegiate and civil football.

The trouble started when St. Francis Xavier went against Mount Allison and Arthur Mahoney, who pitched for St. Peter's ball team this season, appeared on the half line for the Antigonish college. Then, only yesterday, at Fredericton, there is an outcry against Captain Sweeney of the St. Joseph's college team, another baseball player in this city.

Now comes a mix up right here when Fred Mahoney and Johnny Dever are desirous of playing tomorrow with the Currie Business University against Carleton in the intermediate league games. Carleton has already started to protest.

Of course the game might be played untroubled, as was that at Fredericton, but that will but suffice for the time being. Some little attention at the first of the season to the warnings of those in charge of sport in these provinces would have prevented the present trouble. Of course, if those concerned are to throw everything else overboard for baseball, all is well and good but to attempt to remain in amateur sport at the same time is out of the question.

John Kenny, factory inspector, was in town Tuesday, and visited the Miramichi pulp and paper mill and other places with machinery in operation. He inspected the Dominion mill this morning and left for Douglastown, Newcastle and Nelson. He will go to Campbellton next.—Chatham World, Oct. 22.
