DRESS SUIT CASE VICTIM WAS A CHORUS GIRL.

Her Name Was Susan Geary, and Her Mother Recognized the Rings Found on Her Hand

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—The dress suit case mystery and the disappearance of the 10th last of Miss Susan Geary of Cambridge, a member of the Shepherd King Theatrical Company, where she was known as Ethel Durrell, was partially cleared today by identification of the victim's rings. The police are thoroughly satisfied that it was Miss Geary's body which was dismembered and placed in two dress suit cases and thrown in the harbor. They are still unable, however, to discover any satisfactory clue to the author of the dismemberment of the body.

The identification was made today by the mother of the girl, Mrs. Catherine Geary of 685 Main street, Cambridge, while the confirmation of Miss Geary's disappearance from the Shepherd King company on Sept. 10th came from Morris Nathan, secretary to the manager of the company, and to whom Miss Geary was engaged. Mr. Nathan is in Pittsburg, Pa. Miss Geary parted from him on the boat of terms on Sept. 10th, the day after the company closed its engagement in this city, and he supposed that he should see her at the performance in Lowell on the following day. Instead, however, a message was received from "Mr. A. Smith of Boston," who signed himself as a physician, and who stated that "Miss Durrell was suffering from brain trouble and would be unable to work for several days."

Miss Geary dropped out of sight after that, and so far as the police are concerned, they have been unable to discover anyone who knew her or communicated with the girl.

Ten days later, on Sept. 21st, a dress suit case, in which was the torso of a young woman, was found floating in the harbor near the Winthrop Yacht Club, about three miles below the city, and on Friday last another suit case, containing the arms and legs of the victim, was discovered in the water off the city docks, near the mouth of the Charles River. On the fingers of the right hand were three rings, which gave the police the first tangible clue in the case. It remained, however, for a persevering newspaper man to outstrip the police and find in Mrs. Geary a person who had a missing daughter. Mrs. Geary described the rings, communication with Nathan was established, and one of the most baffling cases of identification with which

CARLETON'S POSTMASTER GIVES UP POSITION.

James R. Reed Ends Half a Century of Good Service—Carleton Office May Be a Branch.

After nearly half a century of faithful and satisfactory service as postmaster on the west side, James R. Reed on Saturday handed in his resignation with the request that it become effective at once. Mr. Reed for some little time had been talking of resigning, and on Saturday as he felt unwell, his wishes were complied with, and he was relieved from his duties without further formality.

Deputy Inspector Whittaker went over to Carleton and after settling up the business of the office placed James S. Clarke of the city staff in charge for the time being.

Postmaster Reed is known to every man, woman and child in the west end. For almost forty-seven years he has been postmaster. He was in the prime of life when he was first given the position, and he is now over eighty years of age. For some time past he has been a sufferer from rheumatism, and this, with his increasing years, compelled him to give up his work. He is a native of Albert county, but has resided in St. John for practically his whole life. Mr. Reed for some time has been enjoying good health, and they two live alone. One daughter, their only child now living, is in Washington, D. C. Their only son died some three or four years ago. Mr. Reed has had long hours during his term as postmaster. Every morning except Sundays he had to be up by four o'clock and at the office before five, in order to have the mail sent across by the first boat. He had no assistant, and so had to remain duty at the time, or until eight o'clock in the evenings. He thought that sixteen hours a day was a little too much for a man over eighty years of age.

Many people in Carleton are exercised over the possibility, almost amounting to a probability, that the Carleton post office will in the near future cease to exist as a separate institution and will become merely a sub office controlled from St. John. It is well known that George Ross, chief post office superintendent, believes that offices should be centralized as much as possible, and that expense can be greatly reduced while a good service is maintained by this plan. He has been here, and it is reported around Carleton that he wants to make the west side office a sub-office. This is why the people there are up in arms. The change would mean that most of the work would be done from St. John. At present mail is sent from the east side and distributed along with letters posted in Carleton by three carriers. There is also a post office delivery, a registry office, money order office, savings bank department, all of which do a good business. If the change were made the Carleton office would receive mail, but not deliver any, the work all being done from this side. The office would then be located in some shop, and the postmaster receive an annual salary of $150 instead of $700 as at present. Much inconvenience, it is said, would be caused by the change.

PLATTSBURG, N.Y., Oct. 29.—A daring and sensational escape was made last night by Allan Shasen, a Turk and resident of Montreal, from the custody of Deputy United States Marshal Brewster, who was bringing him to this city on a charge of smuggling two emigrants into the United States. Shasen is well known to the United States customs officials, and is badly wanted by them.

WAR MEMORIAL UNVEILED IN TRINITY CHURCH.

Tablet in Memory of Soldiers Who Died in South Africa—A Splendid Church Parade.

Yesterday's church parade was one of the best ever held in St. John, and greater crowds of people gathered on the streets than have been seen for some years. The general interest was due largely to the appearance of the bluejackets and marines from the warships Cornwall and Berwick, but a parade at any time will draw out crowds in St. John. From the barracks square to Trinity church the streets were so densely packed that scarcely enough room was left for the passage of the militia.

CORPL. F. W. WITHERS.

About two o'clock the various units assembled at their respective armories, and those scattered about the city marched to the barracks square. The 2nd Regt. Band accompanied the South African veterans, of whom there were over sixty in line. At the barracks fully two thousand spectators gathered to watch the companies form up. This was done shortly after three o'clock, and the men were inspected by Lt. Col. G. R. White, D. O. C. The men from the warships were given the post of honor at the head of the column, following the staff, then came the Hussars, Artillery, Cadet companies attached to the Artillery, South African, 2nd Regt. with attached cadets, Ordnance Corps, Army Service Corps, Signaling Corps, Army Service Corps, and the Bear Company.

After the inspection Col. White assumed command, and the line of march was formed. The parade was a very lengthy one, there being upwards of one thousand men in line, with four bands. The route followed was Carleton Place, Broad, Charlotte, King and Cornwall streets, ending at the barracks square. The route followed was Carleton Place, Broad, Charlotte, King and Cornwall streets, ending at the barracks square.

The service was conducted by the rector, Canon Richardson, and Rev. Herbert Brown, chaplain of the Cornwall. The order of service was as follows:

Processional hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers."
 Exhortation, Absolution.
 Psalm 46.

After the unveiling Chaplain Brown delivered a brief sermon, basing his remarks on "Those who fell in the late South African war."

Chaplain Brown's address was listened to with close attention. At the close of the service it was announced that the collection would be devoted to the mission funds of Trinity church.

The service ended shortly after five o'clock, and the different companies, after forming up in German street, marched back to their respective quarters.

PRINCE LOUIS EXPLAINS NAVAL REORGANIZATION.

Enlarges in an Interview Some Points on Which He Touched in His Thursday's Speech Here.

Prince Louis of Battenberg, who passed through the city on Saturday evening on his return from a visit to St. Andrews, where he was the guest of Sir Wm. Van Horne, accorded the Sun an interview, in which he explained the statement which he made at the mayor's luncheon concerning naval matters. The admiral said: "On reading over my remarks made at the mayor's luncheon, as reported in the press, I found that in my desire to be brief, I had perhaps conveyed a wrong impression on one or two points where they are likely to be of use. It is quite obvious that a fleet requires powerfully equipped dock yards containing dock repairing plant, a great variety of stores of all kinds, including spare parts and everything in shore which will keep the fighting ships efficient for war, and of course such a naval base must be suitably placed by gun defenses, submarine mines or submarine boats."

"With I referred to naval bases I meant the smaller auxiliary ones. It is a common error to think that the mere possession of such minor naval bases materially adds to the naval strength of a country. To be of use they must be placed geographically in such a position that they can be of use. It is customary to give any naval base gun protection in proportion to its importance and the consequences of its capture. One frequently hears the expression that a certain naval base commands a certain area of sea. As a matter of fact it does nothing of the sort. All it can do is to fire at a hostile ship which enters within the range of its guns, and it can no more have any effect beyond this very limited area than a watch dog who barks at the corner of a garden can be said to protect the whole ground. Obviously all the gun can do is to bite anyone who enters within range of its chain. The only thing which can command a given area of sea is a superior fleet operating from a suitably placed naval base. If the base which has been permanently established at great cost in too far from the theatre of operations the admiral, like Admiral Togo, must establish a flying base elsewhere."

"As regards Halifax, one of the reasons why it was so expensive was that during the winter half year the ships on the station cruised in the north, and consequently had no use for it."

"In making the remark that the essence of strategy was concentration, it should have been added that faulty strategic disposition consists in detaching from the main body permanent or temporary units in isolated and exposed positions."

Before terminating the interview his highness said that his visit as Sir Wm. Van Horne's guest was most enjoyable. The admiral and his private secretary, Lieut. Sowbury, arrived in the city about eleven o'clock on Saturday evening by a special train consisting of the private car Saskatchewan, and a light engine. This car was attached to the Boston express and the admiral left at 11.35 for Halifax, where he will join his squadron, which sails this week for Annapolis, Maryland.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 29.—Prince Louis of Battenberg returned from St. John this morning, bringing with him a fine mouse head, which had been presented to him in New Brunswick. He attended service in St. George's round church, a building designed by the Duke of Kent, father of the late Queen Victoria. In the afternoon he was for a few minutes at a tea at Government House, then going aboard his flagship. The squadron sails at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning for Annapolis, Mr.

REV. W. J. ARNOLD WINS FROM MEDICAL SOCIETY

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 29.—The Provincial Medical Board of Nova Scotia instituted a suit against Rev. W. J. Arnold, a well known Anglican minister at Margaree's Bay, for illegal practice of medicine. The medical board in their lawsuit relied particularly on the specific case of midwifery, which they alleged was attended by the rev. gentleman. His defense was that anything he had done had been done gratuitously and without hope of reward. The jury brought in a verdict for the defendant.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. WILFRED FENWICK

Mrs. Fenwick, wife of Wilfred Fenwick of 105 Waterloo street, passed away very suddenly at her home about noon yesterday. Mrs. Fenwick had been in rather poor health for some time, but her death was totally unexpected and came as a great shock to her friends. She had been about as usual on Thursday, but later was compelled to take to her bed, though seemingly no worse than had been the case on previous occasions. However, on Sunday forenoon she became weaker and gradually sank. Mrs. Fenwick was the daughter of Rev. Edward Weyman and was a native of Millstream, though she had for some years made her home at Apohaqui. She leaves, besides her husband, one son, Roy, and one daughter, Mary, both living at home, and three brothers, Robert and C. W. Weyman at Apohaqui, and Edward, in California. Mrs. Fenwick was a member of Waterloo street Baptist church. Funeral service will be conducted at eight o'clock this evening at her late home by Rev. A. J. Prosser, and the body will be taken by the noon train tomorrow to Millstream.

THE LION'S PEARL

(Salt Lake Herald.)

—Little Johnny had been gazing thoughtfully at his book of animal pictures, when he suddenly called out
"Say, pa, does it cost much to feed
a lion?"

"How much?"

"Oh, a lot of money."

"A wolf would make a good meal for a lion, wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes, I guess so."

"And a fox would be enough for the wolf, wouldn't it?"

"Yes, yes."

"And a fox could make a meal off a hawk, eh, pa?"

"I suppose so."

"And the hawk would be satisfied with a sparrow?"

"Of course."

"And a big spider would be a good meal for the sparrow, wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes, yes."

"And a fly would be enough for the spider?"

"Sure."

"And a drop of molasses would be all that the fly would want, wouldn't it?"

"Oh, stop your chatter."

"But wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes."

"Well, pa, couldn't a man keep a lion more'n a year on a pint of molasses?"

But just at this point it was discovered that it was time for little Johnny to go to bed.

A SNAKE IN IRELAND.

(London News.)

The discovery of snakes in Ireland is becoming painfully frequent of late for all good and true believers in the famous legend, pictorially represented in thousands of Irish homes, of St. Patrick banishing the reptiles from Crough Patrick into the Atlantic Ocean. Of course, the four-foot wriggler found in Wicklow is only a miserable reptile compared to the full-bodied, hissing monsters which are represented in the high-colored prints portraying the banishment ceremony. Still the Wicklow snake, albeit he was on for-bidden ground, showed considerable vitality. At all events, it took Mr. J. J.
Horn's big stick to knock the life out of him. It is not every "snake in the grass" that could be got rid of so easily.

But, dead or alive, those Irish snakes that have been turning up of late should have the effect of producing a slump in the sale of prints already referred to, especially when they are being retailed among the Irish peasantry by Jewish hawkers.

NEWS OF SPORT.

Considerable Interest Being Shown in Tonight's Bout Between Gardner and Littlejohn—Some Good Football Games Saturday

THE RING

TONIGHT'S BOXING BOUT.

Great interest has been manifested in the boxing contest which takes place in the Queen's rink this evening. Both men are said to be in the pink of condition, and each is confident of being able to outpoint the other.

Littlejohn says: "I feel that I can win. If I lose it will not be because I have not worked faithfully. I am in good shape and ready to go the battle of my life."

Gardner says: "I am in better shape than ever before, and will have no knock coming if I lose. I realize that Littlejohn is a tough proposition, but am confident of being able to outpoint him."

Cap. O'Regan and Fred Northrup will put up a brief preliminary.

ATHLETIC.

Wasmarteau, the Champion Weight Thrower, Dead.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—Policeman Wasmarteau, holder of the world's record throwing the 56 pound weight for height, died here tonight after an illness of two months from typhoid fever. Wasmarteau also won the championship for weight throwing in the Olympic games at World's Fair, St. Louis. Two years ago at Travers Island he defeated Jim Mitchell and other crackshots. He was the champion athlete of the Montreal police force and was always a prominent figure at the athletic championships.

FOOTBALL.

THREE GAMES SATURDAY.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather Saturday afternoon, three interesting games of football were played on the Victoria grounds, and the games were witnessed by a fair sized crowd. It is not often that association football is seen in St. John, and the game between teams representing the warships Herby and Cornwall, was of unusual interest. The Herby men won with a score of 2 to 1. The score at the end of the first half stood 1 to 1. Both teams displayed great skill in dribbling and it was amusing to see the players butt the ball with their heads. One of their own men refereed.

Neptunes, 8; Fairville, 3.

The second game was between the Neptunes and Fairville, and was won by the former team with a score of 3 to 1. Fairville had the kick off and in the numerous scrimmages which followed, seemed to have the advantage. For ten minutes the ball was kept well within Neptunes' territory, but the latter gradually worked it down to Fairville's 25-yard line, shortly after Thomson made a try, which was converted into a goal by Ellis.

When the ball was again in play Fairville worked it down to Neptunes' 25 yard line and were given a free kick, the ball going prettily between the goal posts.

In the second half the ball was for the most part kept well within Fairville's territory and the sensational play was made by Ellis, who got in a long run and scored. No goal was kicked.

The line up was as follows:

Neptunes. Full-back. Fairville. Fairweather. (Capt.) Masson. Townsend. Howard. Miller. Allingham. Thomson. Compton. Quarters. Patterson. Baker. Ledingham. Carten.

TWO FATALLY SCALDED ON S. S. TYRIAN.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 29.—The government cable steamer Tyrian arrived at Sydney last night with the news of a fatal explosion that occurred on the steamer while off Cape North early Saturday morning. A plug in one of the boiler tubes blew out, filling the engine and boiler rooms with steam and gas. Fireman Patrick Purcell and Trimmer Patrick McGrath were engaged in cleaning out the fire at the time of the blow-out, and before leaping to the deck were horribly scalded. After consuming about seven hours in making temporary repairs to the boiler, Capt. O'Leary headed the steamer for Sydney at full speed. Purcell succumbed while the steamer was coming into dock and McGrath died this morning. Purcell was sixty years old and McGrath forty. Both were Halifax men.

WEDDING AT SACKVILLE.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fromm, on last Wednesday evening, when their daughter Ethel was united in marriage to Heber Oulton, of Yarmouth. Rev. Chas. Flemington performed the ceremony, in the presence of 100 guests. The bride looked charming in a dress of cream cashmere and lace trimmings. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Fromm, who wore a gown of white. Irvin Tingley supported the wedding march. After the ceremony, a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents. A beautiful wedding supper was served. Many valuable and useful presents testified to the esteem in which the bride is held. The groom presented the bride with a handsome brooch, and the bridesmaid with a pretty pearl ring.

POINT DE BUTE POST.

MASTERS DEAD. SACKVILLE, Oct. 28.—Geo. R. Dixon passed away at his home, Point de Bute, yesterday, after an illness of some months, resulting from an attack of a gripe. Mr. Dixon held the office of postmaster at Point de Bute for a number of years. He was well and favorably known. Deceased was sixty-five years old. A widow, two sons and four daughters survive him. The sons are Elmore, at home; Leonard, of Boston. The daughters are Mrs. Judson Tingley, Point de Bute; Mrs. Lawlor, of New Hampshire, and Margaret and Clara, at home. Funeral takes place tomorrow. Rev. Dr. Steele and Rev. C. Flemington will officiate.

NO TARIFF REVISION THIS YEAR.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 29.—It does not seem likely now that there will be any tariff revision this year, and the way the tariff commission has been delaying in the west lands color to the report. They found the west unprepared to discuss the tariff matters and had therefore to go straight out to British Columbia. Since meeting at Vancouver the commission has been lost, strayed or stolen, and wandering around in Southern California. Instead of going to British Columbia first they should have commenced with the Maritime provinces and by this time in the seven weeks the east would have been completed. Tariff revision at the coming session would mean another all summer session, of which members on both sides are sick.

FIVE BYE ELECTIONS SOON.

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—The writs for bye-elections will be issued very soon. They will in all probability take place on Wednesday, Nov. 22. There are three vacancies in Ontario—Wentworth, West Lambton and North York; one in Quebec—Gaspé, and one in Nova Scotia—Antigonish, making five vacancies in eastern Canada. There are two vacancies in the Northwest, but it is not likely they will be ready for the 22nd. All the others will

CRANE WRECKED BRIDGE SPAN.

A big I. C. R. working crane, with a heavy side span for a bridge, toppled over the bank, about two miles east of Sussex, near Plumewep bridge, the crane was engaged in moving a side span of the Plumewep bridge to a siding near by to load on cars, but when it had gone about half the distance the crane and span toppled over, the crane falling on the span, bending it considerably and breaking telegraph poles, which badly mixed the wires. Considerable damage was done to the crane. The two engineers in charge had a narrow escape, jumping just in time to save themselves. The cause of the accident is supposed to be the carrying of too much weight on one side, which caused the sleepers to break. The crane itself weighs 95 tons, and the span it was carrying weighed twenty-five tons, and was one hundred feet in length. Very little damage was done to the track, except the bending of a few rails, and the breaking of the sleepers. The wreck had been cleared at five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

THE O'DELLS AND DUGAN BANISHED FROM TOWN.

Participants in Disgraceful North End Row Are Going Away to Live on a Farm.

At the police court this morning Jas. Burns, arrested for being drunk and profane in a yard off Duke street, was allowed to go with a suspended sentence of seventy days imprisonment against him. Burns pleaded to be given a chance and on promising the court that he would not touch liquor until next May he was given his liberty. The case against Mrs. O'Dell, Dugan and McCann for fighting was resumed. Mrs. O'Dell and her brother Dugan were remanded to jail again and McCann was allowed to go under a suspended sentence of a fine of twenty dollars. Mrs. Shea, McCann's sister promised to give the prisoner money to take him to farm at Johnville and on McCann promising to leave the city and go on the farm he was allowed his liberty.

Mr. O'Dell, the husband of the woman remanded appeared in court and was asked about his using bad language in his house on the Strait Shore on the night of the fight. He explained that he was excited at the time. He was then charged with using profane and obscene language on a street car on Wednesday afternoon. He said he had been drinking and did not remember the occurrence. He was then given a seat on the prisoners' bench, when the evidence of the motorist and conductor of the car was taken.

O'Dell was fined $20 or two months in jail. He pleaded to be given a chance and if allowed to go he would leave the city within four days and go on a farm.

Mrs. O'Dell was again brought into court, and she said that if given her liberty she would go away from the city with her husband. Her request was granted after the fine of $20 or two months had been made. There was only one more left, Mrs. O'Dell's brother, Dugan. He said he would also leave the city and go to a farm with his sister. He was also fined $20, and they all left court to make arrangements to emigrate to the farming district.

HARDSHIP AND MUTINY ON BRITISH BARK.

Crew of the Dundee Rebelled Against Officers and Were Subdued—Claim They Were Badly Treated.

SEATTLE, Oct. 29.—The British bark Dundee, Captain James S. Stephens, arrived yesterday. The vessel sailed from Bremen on March 4, bound for Seattle. When she reached Cape Horn, in June, ten of her crew of fourteen were sick and went out. Heavy seas forced the ship back, and after beating about the Cape for a week with only three able-bodied men, the other sailors made the captain put about and run for Cape Town.

Before reaching that port the sailors recovered to some extent, and the captain refused to land. In the Straits of Sunday, on July 5, the crew mutinied, and forced the officers to seek protection in their cabins. There they secured and subdued the sailors, taking their knives from them. The men refused to work the ship, and it had a narrow escape from drifting on the rocks. In Batavia the crew was placed in irons and a crew of coolies navigated the vessel to Singapore, where the sailors were tried for mutiny. Part of the number were sentenced to eleven weeks' imprisonment, and the rest to nine weeks at hard labor. The men contended that poor food and the brutal treatment of the officers had forced them to mutiny. On the way to this port, a topsail yard was lost in a heavy gale that compelled the vessel to lay to for ten days.

ST. JOHN MAN SHOT FOR A DEER.

Tragic Death of Joseph Denaco in Maine—His Slayer Is Under Arrest—Relatives Live Here.

Joseph Denaco, who was born in St. John in 1884, met death while hunting in the Maine woods some days ago. The shot that killed Denaco was fired by Charles Philpot, a nineteen-year-old lad, who resides near Orneville, Me. It was a little dark at the time and the members of the party say that it was quite natural that Philpot would shoot as in the poor light the man emerging from the woods greatly resembled a deer. Physicians weep at once summoned but could do nothing for the injured man, who lived but a few days.

Deceased leaves a wife and one child. Mrs. Denaco is a native of Brownville. Two sisters survive, both living in St. John, Mrs. John McGorman and Miss Louise Denaco.

A coroner's jury, which sat at Brownville, returned a verdict that the shooting was careless and negligent. A warrant for the arrest of Philpot has been issued.
