FOUR THOUSAND CHILDREN AT THE STAR'S SKATING PARTY

Immense Crowds Attended the Victoria and Queen's Rinks This Forenoon and Had a Fine Time

The success of the Star skating party this forenoon surpassed all expectations and it was almost a surprise to find that there were so many children in St. John as were gathered at the two rinks.

The fun began as early as half past eight when little chaps with skates over their shoulders could be seen hurrying through the streets to the skating rink on being there whenever the doors opened and enjoying every minute of the time at their disposal.

It is estimated that up till noon, although nobody took the trouble to make a particular count, almost four thousand children visited the rinks and enjoyed a skate.

THREE KILLED IN A REAR END COLLISION

Two Sections of St. Louis Train in a Bad Smash. A Dozen Persons Injured - Locomotive Tore Its Way Through a Parlor Car Killing the Occupants.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 23.-The rear end collision between the first and second sections of the St. Louis Express on the Penna. Railroad near Summerhill, west of here early today, caused the death of three men and the injuring of a dozen others.

The second section, bound for St. Louis, crashed into the parlor car of the first section and demolished it. There were only three persons in it.

All were killed. Each section had two engines. The first locomotive ploughed entirely through the parlor car and came to a standstill at the end of the next car, a sleeper. Several of the cars on the first train were derailed as were the two engines of the first two express cars of the second section.

BABY'S BODY FOUND ON BRUNSWICK ST. DUMP

About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a small, boy named Raymond McLeod and a companion found the remains of a baby on the dump at Brunswick street.

The body is that of an infant girl and was wrapped up in a woman's cloak. It is the opinion of the coroner that the infant died very soon after birth, but if there had been proper attendance by a physician the child might have lived.

ENGAGES EXPERT TO DO THE WORK

Valuation of West Side Property

At a meeting of the Common Council held recently the correspondence passing between the Minister of Public Works and his worthy Mayor Bullock relative to the valuation of the city property on the West Side of the harbor was discussed at some length and finally referred to a committee. Since then the matter has been considered in committee, and it is understood that arrangements have been made to have a proper estimate made of the value of the West Side properties to be taken over by the Dominion government.

In order to arrive at a basis of the value of the properties the committee having the matter in hand has directed Mr. McIntyre, the comptroller, to furnish statistics with a view to determining the price that the city should demand from the government for the property likely to be acquired. Mr. McIntyre, being exceptionally busy and unable to devote the necessary amount of time to the work, has called upon S. A. Corbett, a thoroughly practical accountant, to undertake it. Mr. Corbett has been for the past week actively engaged going over the books in which are recorded all the property in connection with the wharves owned by the city. It will probably be some weeks yet before he will be in a position to present the statistics that will be necessary in order to arrive at a proper valuation. The work demands accuracy and there is a considerable number of years to go back.

Mr. Corbett has taken a room on the upper floor of City Hall.

COBALT BOOM JUST STARTED

But District Has Already Greater Output Than United States

Professor William E. Hidden of New York, an eminent geologist and mineralogist, who has been identified with developments at Cobalt almost since the beginning of that wonderful strike, Eldorado, passing a few days in St. John and is staying at the Royal. Professor Hidden made one of the first reports upon the Nipissing mine three years ago, at a time when mineralogists were more or less at sea in their theories as to the occurrence and permanency of the ore deposits of the camp. The theory advanced by him at that time, that the deposit was a continuation to great depth and would be worked for many years has since been quite generally adopted. His theory appears to have been thoroughly sustained by the results of developments since then. The professor pointed out that there are reserves in the Cobalt camp some twenty-nine regular shippers while the dividend list embraces fourteen public companies and two close corporations. These mines produced in 1908, according to official records of shipments, upwards of $5,000,000 for the year. Since the opening of the camp four years ago almost $10,000,000 has been paid in dividends. The output is steadily increasing from year to year, and dividend payments for 1909 promise to reach much higher figures still.

Professor Hidden says that the development of the camp is still only in its initial stage. Two of the great companies of Cobalt, Nipissing and LaRoc, have this week distributed amongst their shareholders $400,000 for the last quarter of the year, while for the last six months their disbursement on this account amounted to nearly $1,000,000.

Canadians will be surprised to learn that Cobalt in 1908 produced more silver than all of 1897, though his countrymen, Arizona and California and more than the combined output of Colorado and Idaho the great silver states of the union.

The Sun learns that Professor Hidden's last visit was made to St. John in the panic year of 1897, though his consciousness of what occurred on that occasion is not now very keen. His last visit was made to St. John in 1908, when he accompanied the professor on his trip.

STATISTICS IN MEDICINE

OLD REMEDIES RETAIN THEIR POPULARITY.

Investigations of French Physicians Show that Large Quantity of Synthetic Medicines is Not Crowding out the Old Favorites.

A late despatch from Paris says: Prof. Grimbret presented a notable paper before the Academy of Medicine last night. Basing his figures on medicines furnished to 218 large asylums and hospitals by the State Pharmacy, he finds that the old-fashioned medicines retain their popularity.

An expert authority on being interviewed states that the tendencies of the medical profession in Canada are along the same lines. He gives the following old-fashioned vegetable mixture as the safest and best treatment for all stomach and liver troubles, constipation, disorder of the kidneys and bladder, and states that many of the leading physicians use these ingredients in some form, often by some fancy and expensive name—Purif. Ext. Cascara, 1 oz. Syrup Rhubarb, 1 oz. Carriana Compound, 5 oz. Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 5 oz. Take one teaspoonful after meal and at bedtime.

This acts in a pleasant way, and is free from odors and effects of strong purgatives and synthetics. We advise all our readers to cut this valuable formula out and use it. Any druggist can supply these ingredients at a small expense. You can mix them at home if you prefer.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

LIKELY LOST

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 22.—It is feared that the fishing schooner "Vesta," which left Halifax some time ago for the Grand Banks, was lost off the southern coast during the recent storm. Two broken boats with the name "Vesta" on them have drifted ashore. The "Vesta" carried a crew of six men, and if the schooner went down it is thought they would have little chance to escape.

INTERESTING BOWLING MATCHES LAST NIGHT

Inter-Society and Commercial Leagues Both Had Games On

Two interesting bowling matches were played on local alleys last evening.

In the alleys of the Victoria Athletic Club the inter-society league teams played a match. The Knights of Columbus and C. M. B. A. aggregations were the contestants, the former winning out by a score of 1,181 to 1,144. The winners captured three points and the C. M. B. A. one. Dever of the losers made the highest in one string, running up a score of one hundred and five. The other players also bowled good.

The standing is as follows:

Won. Lost. P.C.
St. Joseph's	3 1 75.0
K. O. C.	3 1 75.0
St. John's	2 2 50.0
I. L. B. A.	3 3 50.0
C. M. B. A.	1 2 33.3
St. J. Baptist	0 4 0.000

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

In the Commercial League on Wednesday night the Greens won all four points from the McAvity Pounding team. The final score was 1,145 to 1,117, after one of the most exciting matches seen in the league.

Mother Gave Her Child Away

Had Given up All Hope of Living. Heart Trouble was Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Andrew Savoy, Gratton, N.B., writes:—"In the year 1905 I was taken sick and did not think I could live any length of time. My trouble was with my heart and people told me that nothing could be done for a case like mine. I consulted the very best doctors but they could do me no good. For seven weeks I could hardly cross the floor. I had no pain, but was so weak nobody in the world could believe how I felt. I had given up all hopes of living and had given my little girl to my sister-in-law.

"I will never be without them in my home for God knows if it had not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I would not have been alive now."

Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NEW OFFICER IS WELCOMED

Brigadier Collier is New Secretary to Brigadier Turner

At a special meeting in the Mill street barracks last evening the local and provincial officers of the Salvation Army welcomed Brigadier Thomas Collier to the city. The new officer came here to take the position of general secretary to Colonel Turner, the provincial commander.

Last evening's service was conducted by Colonel Turner, Major McGillivray and the other officers of the city. The evening opened with a song by Colonel Turner. The colonel also introduced the different officers of the city corps, who spoke words of welcome to Brigadier Collier and his wife and children.

Major McGillivray also welcomed the new officer, as did Colonel Turner. Brigadier Turner's son made a brief reply, while Mr. Turner finished up with a splendid address, in which he thanked the officers for their kind words. He felt sure that he would be pleased with St. John.

Brigadier Collier has been an officer in the Army for about twenty-two years. He was one of the pioneer officers of Newfoundland and has held various commands. For some time he has been chief assistant to Colonel Sigmond in social work.

Brigadier Collier is accompanied by his wife and three children and will take up his residence at 218 Pitt street.

CAPITAL'S DEFEAT

ISLAND PLAYERS

FREDERICTON, Jan. 22.—The hockey match tonight between the Victorias of Charlottetown and a team composed of Fredericton and Marysville players resulted in a win for the home aggregation by a score of 3-2. The game was swift at times, while again it was rather slow and the old time vim was lacking. Musick, who played cover point for Charlottetown, was the best man on the ice.

LOOKING FORWARD TO MONDAY NIGHT'S GAME

Owing to the unfavorable weather of last evening the hockey match in the St. John Amateur League between the Neptunes and Victorias had to be postponed. However, a double header will take place in the league at the Queen's rink on Friday evening next. The great interest prevails in the match on Monday evening between the Charlottetown Victorias and the All St. John team. The Island boys are determined to retrieve their defeat of Thursday night. They intend to play the game of their lives. Music, who proved such a tower of strength in the last match, will again be with the team. The local will also present a formidable line-up. Players of the All St. John team are requested to attend the practice this evening at the Queen's rink at nine o'clock.

JUDGE CASSELL'S REPORT.

It is to be remembered in connection with Judge Cassell's report on the Marine Department that he has said the very worst that is possible. He began his investigation with the intention of discovering evils in the administration, and nothing that was straight and clean and honest was noticed by him. He had no time for explanations regarding incidents which he was pleased to look upon as doubtful. He reversed the honest principle of British justice which supposes a man innocent until he is proven guilty, and he assumed guilt wherever the least shadow of suspicion seemed to linger. Judge Cassell had been advised by the civil service commission that irregularities were to be discovered in the Marine Department. He undertook to discover irregularities and nothing else. He has failed to say a good word for the many officials whose conduct in office is above reproach, and by his condemnation of a few—most of whom were not permitted to speak in their own behalf—he has condemned unjustly practically the whole department. Thus it is evident that nothing worse exists than has been dealt with by the commissioner, and having probed to the full depth the weaknesses of the department, having discovered the exact extent of the trouble, the remedy may now be made as readily applied. No one ever attempted to argue that Judge Cassell would fail to find opportunity for reform. The Liberal government admitted this in appointing the civil service commission, and admitted it again in selecting Judge Cassell to make an investigation of that department to which attention was especially directed. And having learned, from one whose attitude toward departmental officials has certainly not been of a very friendly nature, just how deeply rooted are the evils of the existing system, the government has set about the work of reform. The Cassell report is an indictment of a system which has been handed down from one government to another since confederation. It is a condemnation of the conduct of a number of officials who have been passed along from the last Conservative administration. The Liberal government which had the courage to order this investigation, which expressed its determination to purify all public departments, has already set about the house cleaning and may be trusted to continue. The patronage list has already been abolished in several departments, proper purchasing systems have been introduced and under the amended civil service act it will be found that political influence will play a part smaller than ever in the working of the departments.

THE TOTAL VOTE.

The official returns of the voting in the recent general elections have been completed, and a statement issued by the Clerk of the Crown Chancery. This officer takes upon himself the task of classifying the voters, and his decisions do not always coincide with the opinions entertained by politicians who are in a better position to know the facts. From the report given out it is shown that in all Canada, 1,178,304 votes were cast. The clerk of the crown divides this into 556,533 Liberals, and 573,571 Conservatives, a plurality of 16,982. In making up this statement all the Socialist votes in British Columbia, and all those who supported Joseph Martin, are put in the Conservative column. In Manitoba the Socialist candidate is classed as Conservative with 2,000 votes. In Ontario, Russell, of East Toronto, with more than 4,000 votes, is put down as Liberal. Avary, who supported Mr. Borden in the last parliament, is in the Liberal column, and Mulhern, an Independent Liberal, is a Conservative according to this statement. In Quebec two Independents are classed as Conservatives, one Labor man as Liberal and one as Conservative. Taking into consideration the Independent vote as a separate sentiment, the figures by the different provinces in the election were as follows:—

Province	Lib. Conserv. pend.	Conserv.	Independ.
Ontario	223,501	225,259	2,730
Quebec	159,844	126,421	10,739
Nova Scotia	56,283	54,500	NIL
New Brunswick	43,718	34,945	NIL

MRS. CLARENCE MACKAY'S SANE APPEAL FOR SUFFRAGE

Women Should Vote, She Says, Because Woman and Not Man Constitutes Essentially the Moral Force in Civilization, Which Should be Allowed to Express Itself in Politics.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—More than 500 believers in woman suffrage from organizations representing the various points of view among the adherents of the movement, gathered at the Hotel Astor the other afternoon under the auspices of the Interurban Woman Suffrage League and listened with enthusiasm to a speech by Mrs. Clarence Mackay. Although she is the latest and most important acquisition to the ranks of the women who are striving to obtain the right to vote, she is not a stranger to the cause. She has been in the front line of the fight since she was a girl. She sat on the left of Mrs. Currier Chapman Catt, who presided at the banquet, the place of honor on the right being occupied by Miss Ethel Arnold, and it was the Hon. Anna Shaw's speech that came last in the programme. Mrs. Mackay professed to give only a "greeting," but she spoke for more than ten minutes in a low, earnest voice that carried distinctly to the most remote corners of the room and she treated her subject seriously. She was interrupted frequently by applause, and when she finished with an appeal to those present to leave no stone unturned to bring about the day when the mothers as well as the fathers would have something to say about the laws which affect the children of the country, the handclapping continued for three minutes and ceased in obedience to a signal made by Mrs. Catt.

A VITAL CAUSE. Mrs. Mackay began by expressing her appreciation of the honor which the Interurban Council had paid an oratorical amateur in inviting her to speak at this function, and she added that she would have hesitated about accepting it had she not felt that the cause of woman suffrage was so vital to the highest interests of the country that it would not be right for her to refrain from making her voice heard in her power to enlist the woman of New York State on its side. She told no funny stories, and permitted herself no sarcasm at the expense of the enfranchised sex. She did not talk of woman's rights, equated man and woman, and made no representation. Her plea was made simply, directly and boldly on the basis that woman and not man constitutes essentially the great moral force in civilization and that this force should be allowed to express itself in politics. "Government among men," she said, "is really in its infancy. People make a mistake in thinking that it is the world's old and cold. We are just beginning, hitherto the function of government has been a police function. A suffragette delegation interpolated a murmur of approval at this point and the rest of the audience applauded. "Man has been a fighting and governing animal," she went on, "keeping away with club and spear other fighting animals from the home. Little by little man has changed from government by brute force to government by thought and morality. Little by little man has allowed the good moral element to take its place in government, and he has always persistently kept the good moral element in the case, namely, women, from having any place in government at all. The process by which man has gradually allowed the good moral element to share in the government has been slow and reluctant."

SENATE HAS MONOPOLY OF LEGAL CHILD LABOR

Charge Brought by Committee—Twelve Year Old Pages Get $75 Per Month.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 22.—An assault on the child labor of the District of Columbia was a feature of today's session of the National Labor Committee. Isaac N. Seligman, of New York, presided. Owen R. Lovejoy, secretary of the committee, led in criticism of the law in the federal district. "The United States Senate," he declared, "has today a monopoly of child labor. In the Senate they are working boys for $75 a month, who are only twelve years of age. There is no law to prevent it. The bill went through the lower house in a form with which little if any fault could be found, but it took four years to get through the Senate. When that body got through with it, there had been inserted an amendment providing that orphans and children of widows could go to work at the age of twelve. Another one provided that house and child pages could be employed without exception. Mr. Lovejoy's assertion that no child under fourteen without exception, would be allowed to work, was applauded."

JAY GOULD GETS A JOB

Millionaire Tennis Champion Will Likely Serve as Probation Officer in a New York Police Court.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Jay Gould, champion amateur court tennis player of the world and son of the millionaire railroad director, George J. Gould, is likely to become a probation officer in a New York police court. He has indicated, through a friend, that he would like to fill this position in City Magistrate Penn's court and the magistrate wrote him a letter today saying it would afford him pleasure if Mr. Gould would take the position. The magistrate also asked him to meet and confer with him regarding the subject on Monday morning. The situation which led up to Mr. Gould's offer to serve was brought about by a deputy Magistrate Penn had with Police Commissioner Bingham. A paid policeman usually performs the duties of a probation officer but Magistrate Penn recently secured Commissioner Bingham in a public statement for an alleged affront to the court and the policeman detailed to the magistrate's court was withdrawn. Jay Gould heard of the magistrate's plight and his offer to serve performed gratuitously is the result.

BURGERS START FIRE IN DRY GOODS STORE

NORTH BAY, Jan. 22.—At 8:30 this morning fire was discovered in the store of Hegg Bros., dry goods merchants. An attempt had been made to burglarize the premises, a window having been forced. The intruders finding their way blocked with bars across the window, lighted matches to reconnoiter the interior. A lighted match dropped upon a pile of overalls and started the blaze on the line and not being able to extinguish it, the burglars decamped. Damage will amount to about $5,000, covered by insurance.

HOPEFUL VIEW OF THE NEAR EASTERN SITUATION LONDON, Jan. 22.—Addressing a political meeting at Colston town tonight, Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, spoke hopefully of the near Eastern situation. He said the sky had not entirely cleared, but that the cordial agreement between Austria and Turkey had materially improved the prospect of arriving at an agreement when the signature of the Berlin treaty again met in conference. Sir Edward declared that the great powers were working in the direction of peace and he trusted that the approaching visit of King Edward to Berlin would promote German confidence in Great Britain's good intentions and good will.

WORST SNOW STORM YET IN THE WEST WINNIPEG, Jan. 23.—What is reported to have been the worst snow storm of the season has been raging in Central Saskatchewan since yesterday, and the railways have had difficulty in maintaining their schedule. In Manitoba the weather is remarkably warm, so warm in fact that the new curling club cannot get started to play because there is not sufficient frost to make ice. It has been threatening rain today.

MILLION PEOPLE AFFECTED BY THE EARTHQUAKE

ROME, Jan. 22.—From official reports compiled here, it appears that the places affected by the earthquake in Calabria, Basilicata and small towns and villages number 184 with a population of over 1,000,000. Notwithstanding the great efforts that have been made to relieve distress some villages are still isolated or their populations have fled to the country or mountain districts and are difficult to reach.

THE DOG AND THE INNKEEPER. A ventriloquist and his dog entered the restaurant and ordered some lunch. "Bring me some also," said the dog. The innkeeper, quite an aged, kept looking at the dog, who repeated each order of the ventriloquist. The man was so bewildered that he wanted to buy the dog, intending to put out a sign "The Talking Dog Restaurant."

"Very well," said the ventriloquist, "you can have him for $20." The innkeeper enthusiastically put down the money, when the dog said:—"Now that you have sold me I will not talk any more."

Good Bye TO Overshoes

The story of this sale is a short one but full of interest. We always place our orders for Overshoes in the month of March, nine months before their sale for a single pair.

We anticipated regular Winter weather but it failed to come on time. We do not want to carry a big stock of Overshoes over during the hot summer months, so determined on giving the people an opportunity of obtaining some GENUINE BARGAINS. It will be a quick turning of Overshoes into cash. The cash we can use—the Overshoes we can do without.

PERFORMANCE MUST HAVE BEEN THE LIMIT BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 22.—Twenty policemen were necessary to quell a riot at the Mechanics Building tonight at a performance by Hebrew players of "The Abnormal Man." A couple of thousand spectators were in the hall and before the show had progressed far some of the audience began to protest that they did not see or hear well. They began to interrupt the players and the disturbance soon increased until some of the spectators began to throw things on the stage. The four policemen in the hall, unable to quell the trouble, sent a call for help, and a nearby police station responded with sixteen more officers. These escorted the players out of the building safely and cleared the hall. During the riot, it is claimed, that the proceeds of the show, amounting, it is claimed, to about $2,000, was stolen. No arrests were made and so far as could be learned, no one was seriously hurt.

JAPAN STRUGGLING WITH PLANS FOR ECONOMY

Financial Condition of the Country Makes This Unavoidable—Cutting Down War Appropriations.

TOKYO, Jan. 22.—The budget committee of the diet yesterday listened to statements from various members of the cabinet regarding the plans for economy. In accepting the suggestions that the premier had postponed expenditures amounting to 107,000,000 yen, Viscount Terachi, the secretary of war, said his department was endeavoring to decrease expenditures. "It is desirable to disburse the mind of the world that Japan is persisting in warlike preparations," he said. Vice Admiral Makoto said that decreases amounting to nearly nine million were made in the Department of Marine of which he is secretary. He asserted that it is absolutely necessary for Japan to maintain a standard navy but that the financial conditions of the country make the present economies unavoidable.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—"Stay in the game," was a message from the United Mine Workers of America, at Indianapolis to President Compers, of the American Federation of Labor today. The message referred to the fact that the Federation of Labor officials are making in the Bucks Stove and Range Company's contempt case, and against the sentences imposed on Messrs. Compers, Mitchell and Morrison, by Justice Wright, of the District Supreme Court. The telegram read: "1,350 delegates attending the thirtieth annual convention extend fraternal greetings, appropriated $2,500 for present needs, and instructed the executive board to furnish more when needed. SMASHUP AT WESTFIELD.

A heavy C. P. R. coal train collided into the rear of a freight at Westfield yesterday afternoon. The van was smashed and three empty cars were derailed. Engineer Lahey and his fireman of the coal train jumped from the cab and escaped injury, as did Conductor Kimble who was in the van. A local west bound freight was standing at Westfield station and a through west bound freight had drawn up in the rear, the van at the tail end being just inside the signal, nearly a quarter of a mile from the station. A short distance beyond the signal the line takes a sharp curve, that Driver Lahey was only a few hundred yards from the van when he saw the signal. Despite his efforts to stop the train it crashed into the van. Besides the destruction of the van, one of the box cars was so badly damaged that it is probable it will be buried at the scene of the wreck. The line was cleared about six p. m.

DECLARES WOMEN ARE MORE EVIL TODAY THAN ARE MEN

Lombroso, Celebrated Criminologist, Quotes Mme. Steinheil, Humbert Weber, Jolais and Others as Evidence of His Charge Against the Fair Sex.

TURIN, Italy, Jan. 22.—Strange indeed will seem this latter-day procession of great female criminals, such as Humbert, Weber, Jolais and Steinheil. But it is no longer strange for those who consider that modern progress ever draws the woman nearer to the man, for good or for evil, so that crimes committed by women, which a century ago stood in the proportion of from eight to ten for every 100 males, now stand at twenty to twenty-five for every 100 males, and in a certain class of cities, such as poisonings, premeditated acts of vengeance, even outnumber those of men. "What is known—and it is not a great deal," the criminologist fully confirms the conclusions come to long ago by criminal anthropology and gives in brief by means of the statistics of "Women Criminals."

STEINHEIL AS DEGENERATE.

First of all, Mme. Steinheil is an hereditary, hysterical degenerate, as are all born delinquents few though they be. She was born a patient who made a gross abuse of love and alcohol. Mme. Steinheil, who has the large jaw and cheek bones of the degenerate, suffered from a child from cholera and hysteria, eating worms and pills, and giving proofs of that strange psychosis found in a few sufferers from hysteria. She married at a very early age. There is mention of a child born earlier. She had, moreover, the prostrations of hysteria almost in an epidemic form which seized her periodically and which are evidenced in the violent outbursts, and above all, in the absurd falsehoods and illogical columns against Wolf, Couillard, her mother and her husband; columns and lies which became easier and more efficacious in consequence of her singular suggestive ability, as she ended by being in part persuaded of their authenticity herself.

STRANGE CONTRASTS SEEN.

But what is singular in the woman and what won her an entry in the best society and her love when she got there is the fact that she possessed great intellectual ability. She was and played delightfully, could talk with splendid vivacity, and possessed most charming manners and real access of sympathetic altruism in virtue of which she comforted the unhappy, the sick and the aged in a way that fostered the presumption that behind all there lay a soul of the most exquisite delicacy. "This, however, is peculiar to the better cases of insane woman—the women of the time of Louis XIV, to sisters of Greece as well as to those who decorate our remembrance with beautiful works of art and literature.

NORTHUMBERLAND COUNCIL LOOKING FOR REFORMS

Lumber Regulations, Prison Labor, Telephone Rates, Pulp Wood Export, Automobiles and Bridges all on Their List.

NEWCASTLE, N. B., Jan. 22.—Mrs. William Maller, daughter of the late Captain Ojerta, of Norway, died yesterday morning aged forty, after being ill fifteen months of lung trouble. She leaves a husband, who is a fishery warden, and three daughters. The county council resumed yesterday morning. Leave of absence was granted to the board president because of the death of his brother-in-law, Harvey Doak, of Doxdown. On motion the council appointed a committee of three to draw up a memorial and present the same to the legislature at its next session to have an act passed relating to scaling and lumber, there being now no law governing scaling lumber smaller than twelve feet long and eleven inches at top end. The committee to visit the jail recommended that the legislature be requested to grant the council power to construct the best of prisoners to work, even if only at breaking stone. This recommendation was adopted. On account of the new Brunswick Telephone Company's recent raise in rates the following resolution was passed: "That in the opinion of this council the present telephone rates are exorbitant and unreasonable, especially between Newcastle and Chatham, the rate being ten cents instead of five, and time reduced from five to three minutes that the service should be free to all subscribers in either town; that if rates are not reduced in three months and also charges for instruments used by the county the committee recommend that instruments be removed from the county buildings. Scott Act Inspector Tennant reported twenty five convictions during the year, eight cases dismissed and one warrant accepted. The sale of liquor decreasing. Council Lawrence Doyle refused to accept fifty dollars salary as secretary of the Board of Health, and instead that it be cut down to fifteen dollars, which was done. The council unanimously decided to demand of the legislature that all officers paid by the council should be appointed by them. The following was passed regarding pulp wood export: That the council request the provincial government to use all constitutional powers to prohibit or restrict the export of raw lumber for the maintenance of foreign pulp industries. That the Union of Municipalities be requested to memorialize both the provincial and dominion governments to take such measures as are within their respective powers to restrict or prohibit the export of pulp wood from the province. A motion passed asking legislature to prohibit running automobiles for profit on the highway. A motion to grant forty dollars towards lighting the Northwest bridge was lost, and one was passed asking the government to light all covered bridges. A motion to send a delegate to Ottawa to ask that the exhibition grant be given to Chatham was defeated.

DIAMOND CUTTERS

LOSE THEIR MONOPLY Important Discussion by the American Government

Will Allow Diamond Cutters to Enter—Only 235 in America While Holland Employs Over 20,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—By virtue of an important decision affecting the diamond-cutting and polishing industry of this country, rendered today by the Department of Commerce and Labor, eight Belgian diamond cutters, whom the Diamond Workers Protective Union of America succeeded in having detained at Ellis Island on the charge that they were brought to this country in violation of the contract labor law, are allowed to enter the United States. The decision holds that the Diamond Workers Union of this country is un-American in character in that it is composed almost exclusively of foreigners and this stringent rule practically prohibits Americans from becoming members by limiting the number of apprentices that can be taken into the trade to ten per cent. of the total membership. Although about ninety per cent. of the world's diamonds are sold in this country, according to evidence submitted, there are only 235 diamond workers here, all members of the American union, whereas there are about 20,000 in Antwerp and Amsterdam. The union, it was contended at the hearing, has succeeded in keeping others from coming in. "The union which has heretofore been invulnerable, will now cease to be a factor in controlling labor in this country and thousands of Americans will now learn the trade," said Milton C. Ahmberg, of New York, who represented the Belgian Government in the case. Baron Moncheur, the Belgian minister, when informed of the decision tonight, expressed his pleasure and declared that it would be the means of permitting hundreds of his countrymen, skilled diamond workers, to come to this country, where they could get better work and better wages. The eight Belgians have been held at Ellis Island since December 23. Five days later the board of immigrant commissioners held they could not be admitted. An appeal was made to the Department of Commerce and Labor, and there was a re-hearing of the case. The Belgian consul for New York State, through the Belgian minister in this country, appealed to the Belgian foreign office, which instructed them to take the necessary steps to secure the admission of the aliens. It was no necessary, however, to take the matter up with the state department, for the Department of Commerce and Labor rendered a favorable decision. "I do not believe," said Mr. Ahmberg tonight, "that there will be any further effort made by the union to keep diamond-cutters and polishers out. One large diamond-cutting firm in this country is ready to give employment to about 2,000 men. Now it will be able to get them. The gates have been thrown open to hundreds of young Americans who want to learn the trade."

WEST THREATENED WITH COAL FAMINE

Sudden Arrival of Very Cold Weather Caught Both Dealers and Consumers Unawares.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—The week's condensed reports of western conditions received from the agents of the department of the Interior show that: "The first two weeks of the new year have been very cold all over the western provinces and is pronounced the coldest of the season. As a natural consequence the fuel question has assumed an importance exceeding in interest the question of freight transportation. The change was so quick and to such extent that consumers and producers were caught unprepared. At Macleod it is reported that owing to the severe weather and extra demand for fuel coal is scarce, and not a pound to be had. At Calgary there is also a shortage, and prices have gone up. At Lacombe where the thermometer dropped to fifty eight degrees below zero fuel stocks went of course, depleted, but the arrival of fresh stock obviated all danger of a shortage. At Oids, in Alberta, the trouble seems to be increasing over the lack of cars, and dealers are advised not to expect cars for two weeks. At Sidskwil the supply of coal is running low and dealers are advised to get their coal as early as possible. At Strathcona the coal supply is running short also, and mine owners are short handed as self-protection against the working of the Workmen's Compensation Act of the Provincial Government recently brought into operation. The same condition has brought about a like result in Edmonton, where the shortage has caused a failure to fill orders for outside points. As a natural result the prices are quite firm, but the dealers claim the advance in price is not due to their desire to take advantage of the increased demand, but to protect themselves against loss through the operation of the Provincial Compensation Act above mentioned. At Lethbridge all mines are working double shifts and although the most pressing orders have been received from Montreal for coal, all such orders have been refused by the operator because of their desire to fill the demand from the Canadian West. "Contrary to information given out all winter by the coal dealers at Calgary the severe cold weather has brought to light in an uncomfortable manner the fact that a shortage exists and dealers have raised prices accordingly. Fuel is getting short at Regina, but large shipments are on the way, but delayed by snowstorm. "No complaints are received from the Province of Manitoba."

BEST DRINKING WATER.

Hadstock, in Essex, England, possesses what is probably a unique water supply to light in an uncomfortable manner the fact that a shortage exists and dealers have raised prices accordingly. Fuel is getting short at Regina, but large shipments are on the way, but delayed by snowstorm. "No complaints are received from the Province of Manitoba."

This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her after everything else had failed. Mrs. W. JOHN KELLY ACQUITTED OF WRONG-DOING

No Overcharges in St. John--Capt. Spain, Capt. Schmidt, J. F. Fraser and Others Condemned--Cassels Recommends Abolition of Patronage, Adequate Salaries for Good Officials, Capable Inspection and Establishment of Purchasing Commission for all Departments

OTTAWA, Jan. 22--The report of Judge Cassels giving the results of his investigation into charges against officials of the marine department, was laid on the table of the house today by Hon. Mr. Brodeur. The report, which covers 200 typewritten pages, gives a succinct summary of the fourteen large volumes of evidence covering the administration of the marine department as advised during the inquiry which began in May last and concluded last month.

Salient Features The salient features of the report, which has been looked forward to as being likely to provide one of the chief topics of debate for the coming session, are, in brief, as follows: On the evidence submitted Mr. Justice Cassels finds that nothing has been shown which would lead to the resignation or present ministers of the government. So far as was disclosed for the commission, nothing of the character of the late Hon. Messrs. Sutherland and Prefontaine, Hon. Mr. Brodeur or Hon. Mr. Brodeur, all of whom were concerned in transactions investigated.

Already Taken Action With regard to some of the abuses shown to have existed at Ottawa and the marine agencies at Quebec, Halifax and St. John, his lordship notes that Mr. Brodeur had already taken action to remedy them, namely, by the abolition of the patronage list and the creation of an adequate system of purchasing supplies, thereby effecting a saving of about a hundred thousand dollars a year in the department's expenditures. Practically the only recommendations in his report are that these two sweeping reforms should be applied to all the departments of the government. Other remedies he suggests are the appointment of capable and efficient officials who should be adequately remunerated and the awakening of the public conscience to the staid demand for the honest administration of all public moneys.

With regard to individual officials of the department in the main here he reports simply the facts of evidence, leaving the question of prosecution or dismissal to be dealt with later by the minister. Those who come in for the severest criticism are practically all appointees of a previous administration. Deputy Minister Gourdau, he says, must be held accountable for failures to remedy the conditions shown to have existed at Quebec, Halifax and St. John, and his evidence was in many cases declared to be unsatisfactory and contradictory.

West Severe Censure J. F. Fraser, commissioner of lights, comes in for most severe censure, it being shown that in direct disobedience to the minister's order he continued purchasing supplies from Merwin and Brooks and gave no satisfactory explanation of numerous circumstances. A clear case was held to have been made out against Commander Spain, Agent Gregory at Quebec, and more than a score of minor officials.

No wrong-doing was shown by the investigation to have occurred in connection with the St. John and Montreal agencies. Before taking action with regard to the officials implicated by the report, Mr. Brodeur will see carefully over the evidence, but it is certain that heads will fall.

MINISTERS EXONERATED. Judge Cassels in concluding his report says: "During the investigation the name of the late Hon. James Sutherland and that of the Hon. C. Sifton have been referred to. I think it only fair to the memory of Mr. Sutherland and also to Mr. Sifton to state that no evidence has been adduced before me casting reflections on the character of either of these gentlemen. The name of the late Minister, the Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, has also been referred to. I am not here to judge Mr. Prefontaine or his policy, of the manner in which his department was administered. There are but two places where I would consider any reflections are cast upon him, the one I have referred to in dealing with F. Frasier, the other a statement which was made by Mr. Gregory in his defense given at Quebec. He stated in reference to Mr. Prefontaine that he was a very friendly man who gave for a period of about eleven years to Mr. Gregory the sum of $200 per annum, that he was very friendly with him, and that he would not have given him any money out of those who can afford to pay it." He replied that the only honorable man he could trust himself with was Davie, and he would lend him the money he would take it." The judge proceeds:

RECEIVED IT FOR YEARS. "It has to be borne in mind that for years preceding this alleged interview and for a long time prior to Mr. Prefontaine's resignation, Gregory was receiving yearly sums from Davie, I think it would be very unjust to the memory of the deceased statesman to accept such evidence as that of Gregory or J. F. Fraser as casting any slur upon him, and I feel it my duty to state that I do not so accept it. "Nearly all the officials of the department have been examined before me. I do not name them individually, but I may state that any not named are free from any imputation or wrongdoing. Not that I desire to convey that those named are guilty of wrongdoing. I have reported on each and given my conclusions."

PUBLIC OPINION NECESSARY. "Before concluding I may be pardoned if I make a few observations. I am aware that what I am going to say is not within the scope of my duty as a judge. I am also aware that I have not the practical knowledge to guide me as to the feasibility of putting into practice my views. No harm, however, can come from my observations. In the first place the chief remedy for amelioration of the conditions I have sought to portray lies in the awakening of the public conscience. If the public generally could be brought to view with abhorrence graft and abuse of trust on the part of those administering the public moneys and property, the end of such abuses as have occurred in the past would be in sight."

ADEQUATE SALARIES. "Secondly--Capable and efficient officials should be adequately remunerated. Mr. Gregory, in the control of nearly one million dollars per annum, received a salary of $2,200 per annum. Mr. Harding, in the control of about $300,000 per annum, a salary of $1,800 per annum; Mr. Parsons, in the control of about $700,000 per annum, a salary of $1,600 per annum. It is an easy matter for those in affluent circumstances to hold up their hands in horror--they have not been in a position to be tempted. "Thirdly--The abolition of the patronage system in the department of Marine and Fisheries is a long step in the right direction. It is, however, important that while the purchasing of supplies, etc., should be controlled by an able man like Mr. Doutré, a thorough and systematic inspection of the agencies should periodically be made in order that the necessity of the requirements demanded should be quickly ascertained, and also with a view to ascertaining if the supplies reach their proper destination."

BIG SAVING WOULD RESULT. "According to the evidence a saving of about $100,000 per annum would be effected by the government which could be done by the change. Are there not other departments administered by the government which could be dealt with in the same manner? "Would it not be feasible to appoint a board of say three competent men, assisted by inspectors conversant with ruling market prices, to act as purchasing agents for all the departments?" "The office of the auditor general is a very valuable and necessary one, but to leave the matter with him alone is to leave the stable after the horse has been stolen." "Fifty pages of the report are devoted to a review of the Ottawa officials who came chiefly into prominence. The first of these is Deputy Minister Col. Gourdau, who applied for superannuation last April. The first point with which the judge deals is the complaint of the large amount of correspondence which Col. Gourdau was compelled to sign, and in this connection he points out the conflict of the colonel's evidence and declares "it is in direct conflict with the correspondence on the files." Proceeding, he says: "I think it unfortunate that the deputy minister, after the issue of the commission, should have had access to the files of the department. It appears that papers have been destroyed. It may be that the papers burned would throw no light on the matters investigated nevertheless I think it is a pity that the papers were destroyed rather than a perusal of the baskets full of papers of a semi-private character not destroyed."

DEPUTY'S RESPONSIBILITY. Next the judge comes to a discussion of the responsibility of the deputy minister, the condition of affairs at the various agencies, saying: "I cannot understand how the manner in which the affairs of the marine department were being conducted in Quebec, St. John and Halifax could have been unknown to the deputy minister. The inspectors did not do their duty. Continuous complaints were being made of excessive prices paid and so far as apparently there was no practical interference on the part of the deputy minister responsible for the proper management of the department." "The judge recalls the letter sent by Gourdau to Gregory at Quebec in 1905, in which he told him to pay no attention to the letters demanding economy as they were 'simply to save the department in the eyes of the finance minister,' and says, 'how it is an under the impression that if Fraser had not gone to New York matters might have turned out differently and the truth have been elicited. As it is, however, matters rest where they were.'"

THE PATRONAGE SYSTEM. Dealing with the patronage list, Judge Cassels quotes from the Col. Gourdau evidence that the system had caused a loss to the country of two hundred thousand dollars in three years. He notes that on May 14, 1908, Mr. Doutré was appointed purchasing and contract agent for the department. This new system, according to Mr. Doutré's estimate, would save from fifty to one hundred thousand dollars a week. On Nov. 24, 1908, Mr. Brodeur abolished the patronage system. The judge's comments are as follows: "The system seems to have been handed down from one administration to another since Confederation. In my mind the patronage and continuance of the system is absolutely wrong. "It is apparently based on the old maxim, 'to the victors belong the spoils,' utterly ignoring the fact that the money to be dispersed is money contributed by the people generally and not the money of the political followers of the party at the time being in power."

NEW DEPUTY EFFICIENT.

In regard to the present deputy minister, Mr. Desbarats, his lordship says that the evidence shows him to be a most capable and efficient officer. The only charge made is with regard to the unnecessary increase of the number of employees at the Halifax dockyard just prior to the last general election.

In the matter of Commander Spain's expense account and the charges made by the auditor general that they were not correct are dealt with at some length. It is possible, he says, that in the places where he alleges he was and in respect of which the charges were made. "For instance, he alleges, that he made a trip to Fort William and he was charged for the trip as of the wrong date. It would have been very easy to have brought evidence proving the truth of this contention. No such evidence was adduced, although the fullest latitude for the purpose has been allowed. It is impossible for me to believe him from the charges brought against him by the auditor general. With regard to the $500 received from Mr. Polson of Toronto, Justice Cassels says that there was nothing to prove any wrongdoing in connection therewith."

J. F. FRASER SCORED.

The most serious animadversions of the commission have relation to J. F. Fraser, the former commissioner of lights, and the purchases from Merwin and Brooks. The judge says that in the grave charge is made of tampering with public records. Regarding the deals with Merwin and Brooks, the report says: "It would appear that Fraser, in disobedience to the orders of the minister, had made purchases from Merwin and Brooks of notoriety." He quotes Gourdau's evidence as to these transactions and merely adds: "It seems to me impossible to acquit Fraser until the transactions with Merwin and Brooks are satisfactorily cleared up."

MR. HARDING'S CASE. Dealing with the St. John agency, Judge Cassels notes that J. Harding on a salary of $1,800 handled expenditures of between two and three hundred thousand dollars a year. Expressing a desire to be lenient with Mr. Harding and drawing attention to the fact that he was a member of the public accounts committee and had given his evidence before the committee in 1906 and in 1907, he says: "It is in my opinion that Mr. Harding's conduct in those having to do with the department were numerous, in the main they consisted of accommodation and cash advances to his friends, money advanced to him, his check accepted and cashed at such times as Mr. Harding's friends showed up on his door. "At the same time, while the transactions were numerous, in the main they consisted of accommodation and cash advances to his friends, money advanced to him, his check accepted and cashed at such times as Mr. Harding's friends showed up on his door. "At the same time, while the transactions were numerous, in the main they consisted of accommodation and cash advances to his friends, money advanced to him, his check accepted and cashed at such times as Mr. Harding's friends showed up on his door."

MR. BRODEUR'S DEFENSE. Mr. Brodeur's defense is dealt with in a few paragraphs. The judge says that Mr. Brodeur's evidence is satisfactory and that he is a capable and efficient officer. He also notes that Mr. Brodeur's department has been well managed and that the evidence against the officials named in the report is not sufficient to warrant their removal from office.

MR. GREGORY'S GRAFT. In dealing with the Quebec agency first place is given to the conduct of Agent Gregory. He notes that his salary was only $2,200 and that the expenditure at his agency was nearly one million dollars a year. Sometimes he had advanced money to his own order to pay wages, etc. On this point, after quoting a statement by Mr. Gregory that "they speculated on me and I speculated on the others," the report says: "Denuded of verbiage the fact is he has been exacting a toll of five per cent. on the amount due by the department to contractors and others who had the privilege of dealing with the department."

A summarized list of persons dealt with is as follows: Capt. McCough, $175, should be entitled to consideration. Capt. Chas. Keenig, $880, absolutely unjustifiable. Joseph Fontaine, $1,040, was frank, but must have had a pretty good idea that he did what was wrong. Capt. Volz, $70, little doubt that these sums were paid for the purpose of influencing his judgment. P. J. Gagne, $200, his money unquestionably was paid for the purpose of smoothing matters over and should both be considered and charged up. Paul Belue, $1,025, given to smooth matters over and improperly received. Capt. Geo. D. O'Farrell, $1,275, accusation accepted despite O'Farrell's denial as having received the sum. Gilbert Beauchemin, $1,075, charge proved.

CAPT. SCHMIDT BRIBED. C. Thompson Schmidt, $2,123. There is but one explanation of Mr. Schmidt's case. He received a bribe and he knew it to be a bribe. "Thos. McConkey, $200, not proven. James Ferguson, about $120, witness admitted it. "It seems to be apparent that these men took to most of the various witnesses were paid and received as bribes. Mr. Brodeur must have known that they were paid to them in consequence of their being in a position of trust and in order to smooth over matters in the way of settling the accounts of the government."

BORDEN ADMITS THAT TORIES WON BRITISH COLUMBIA BY A LIE

Laurier Exposes Bogus Telegram re Asiatic Exclusion Borden Bribes Whole Province, Declares Premier -- Makes Sensation Debate in House Leads to Bitter Recriminations-- Todd's Fine Effort

The Prime Minister was proceeding to comment upon the effects of such a pronouncement when Mr. Borden jumped to his feet with the statement: "I did not send that telegram." Taken somewhat aback by this denial, Mr. Borden replied that he had a copy of the telegram as it appeared in the Colonist, and that he would place it on the table. Moreover, he quoted from a report of a speech delivered by Mr. Cowan which showed that that member had read Mr. Borden's message at a meeting on the eve of election. "I don't care," testily retorted Mr. Borden, "that is not the telegram I sent."

CRUSHING REJOINDER. "Then," came the crushing rejoinder of Sir Wilfrid, "certain members in British Columbia obtained their seats on false pretense. I am sorry for the leader of the opposition, and sorry for his party in British Columbia that they should have resorted to lies to win an election. "This was too much for Mr. Borden, who again arose and explained that the message he had sent did not contain the contents of the absolutely untrue telegram of Asiatics." How it came to appear in the Colonist and to be freely quoted by his supporters in British Columbia he did not explain and the words were left to assume that the words had been added purposely, maliciously.

MR. TODD BEGINS. When the house met the Speaker announced that he had received a letter from William Sloan resigning his seat in Comox-Atlin and had issued the usual order for a writ of election. Then W. F. Todd, the new member for Charlton, N. B., who defeated Mr. Ganong, rose to move the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Taking the speech in hand, Mr. Todd enlarged upon it with a fluency that favorably impressed the house. He gave an illuminating and comprehensive review of Canada's recent progress as a nation, noting the increasing importance as a world power. He was followed by Mr. Turcotte of Quebec county, who, speaking in French, dwelt eloquently upon the forty-first anniversary of the Confederation.

Both mover and seconder were warmly complimented by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden on their excellent speeches. Mr. Borden followed Mr. Turcotte and quickly introduced a note of reprimand. Smarting under the rebuke sustained at the previous session, he labored effort to show that the system of representation was responsible for the government's return, and then he plunged into what was intended as an attack upon Liberals for the use they had made of a notorious "duty of hour" pamphlet. Mr. Borden had taken the advice of some of his friends he would have let sleeping dogs lie, but apparently that awful pamphlet, based on his confidence and he succeeded to deny in vigorous terms the statement that he had been misled by the Conservative party. "That statement is an absolute falsehood," he declared, and his party cheered. The disclaimer, however, was not allowed to pass unchallenged.

"Allow me to tell my honorable friend that the pamphlet was circulated in Pictou county by the Conservatives," said E. M. MacDonald. Thus cornered Mr. Borden cheerily accepted, passing on to deal with the suggestion that session of parliament should be shortened. Porging all about obstruction of his party he lamely endeavored to fix the responsibility for recent lengthy sessions upon the government, whom he charged with dilatoriness in bringing down legislation. He concluded with an allusion to the bill proposed to penalize secret commissions and gratuities which gave him a text for dilating on bribery of constituents.

EXPRESSED SURPRISE. Sir Wilfrid Laurier expressed surprise that Mr. Borden should have been so innocent as to methods by which "duty of hour" had been distributed. "It was distributed surreptitiously by the Conservative party," he declared, "and broadly and openly by the Liberal party." With this short description of what really happened Sir Wilfrid passed on to survey the results of the election. He pointed out that in the Maritime Provinces in Quebec even in Ontario the strength of government forces practically remained unchanged. They had suffered in Manitoba, but he had it from Mr. Sifton to whom he paid a warm tribute, that the success in that province had been obtained by methods which were not creditable to the Conservatives. In the province of British Columbia the situation had also changed, but it had changed because of the issue raised of a white British Columbia. At some length and with admirable restraint the prime minister proceeded to compare the policies of the two parties in regard to the exclusion of Asiatics and to show that the policy of restriction accepted by Japan and themselves was infinitely preferable to the policy of rigid and absolute exclusion advocated by the Conservatives.

DELIBERATE FABRICATION. British Columbia was won for the Tories not merely by false representation, but by a deliberate fabrication, admitted by the leader of the opposition in the House of Commons. That was the revelation which came unexpectedly to the House this afternoon, backed by irrefragable evidence and as already indicated by the admission of Mr. Borden himself. The facts brought out by Sir Wilfrid were truly these: On October 25, the day of election, there appeared in the Daily Colonist of Victoria what purported to be a fac simile of a telegram sent to the Conservative party of British Columbia by Mr. Borden. It read as follows: "You message received. Conservative party stands for a white Canada, absolute protection of white labor and absolute exclusion of Asiatics. This message was shown throughout the entire province of British Columbia as an official declaration by Mr. Borden of the Conservative party's policy and Sir Wilfrid Laurier was able to show that Conservative candidates, among others Mr. Cowan of Vancouver, quoted it as such.

Anty Drudge on Nightmares.

Mrs. Nevers—'Can't one have some awful nightmares, Anty. I did a big day's washing yesterday—it took me all day. And last night I dreamed I was on an island in the midst of a big lake of boiling, steaming, dirty clothes, and I had to wash every one of them. Mercy! What a headache it has given me.'

Anty Drudge—'No wonder it gives you a nightmare and headache, the way you do your washing, boiling and hard-rubbing all day. After this use Fels-Naptha in lukewarm water, without boiling or hard-rubbing, and you will be through so early that you'll forget it before night and won't have any nightmare or headache.'

Winter washdays cease to be a nightmare when the clothes are washed with Fels-Naptha in lukewarm water.

In the first place there's no boiling. Fels-Naptha makes the clothes cleaner and whiter and sweeter without it.

No hot water is used and there's no steam to fill the house and give your people colds.

You've no steaming suds to bend over; no noxious odors to inhale. Your hands are not reddened and chapped by putting them in hot water and then exposing them to cold air.

But, best of all, the work is made so much easier and doesn't take half as long. Washing with Fels-Naptha, you can begin after sun-up, even on the shortest winter day, and be done well before noon.

Use Fels-Naptha not only for the white clothes but for flannels, woollens, colored things.

Be sure to get the genuine Fels-Naptha—don't trust imitations. And follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

ROLLING WOMEN INTO SHAPE.

Directoire Figure Produced From Exercise on the Floor and Matron's Fat Made Slim and Comely.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—There is at least one woman in New York to whom the fashion of small hips is proving a gold mine. Twelve months ago she was a physical culture teacher, struggling to get enough pupils to pay her board and room rent. Today she is earning $5 and upward an hour by leading pupils in their homes and leading them to the many stunts necessary to get their figures to the required proportions and keep them there.

'The idea of visiting my pupils came to me because I found it simply impossible to keep my classes together,' she told the reporter. 'After the first few lessons my classes would dwindle so rapidly that often before the end of the allotted time I would find myself without any class at all. "Fading in advance" seemed to have the slightest effect. While some of the women appeared to consider themselves in duty bound to try to beat down my prices, once the money was paid they took not the slightest trouble to come to class and get their money's worth. "Last fall one of my former pupils who had grown very stout during the summer came to me in distress. She wanted to dress in the style, and her dressmaker had told her it was just impossible unless she reduced herself. "I told her I would guarantee to get her to whatever proportions her dressmaker wanted within two months, provided she would follow my directions. She didn't object to doing anything I named except coming to me. She said the effort of getting up in the morning to go out so early in the morning was too much for her.

'I was somewhat vexed by this admission, and I replied that I was perfectly willing to accept the challenge she paid me for it. If I hadn't been vexed, I don't believe I should ever have got up courage to name my price as $5 for every half-hour lesson, especially after feeling that she must take a lesson every day. "She didn't appear to consider the price of the smallest importance. I had guaranteed to reduce her figure within a given time and she was willing to pay me for it. That was all she wanted. She even offered to pay me in advance for the two months, but I declined. She said she would pay me one week at a time would be sufficient. I got $25 right there on the spot. "It seems a good price, but I had to work for it. Bright and early every morning I was at that woman's house at 7. For the first few days she had to get up at 5, do her hair, wash, work, but she kept at it until I began to tell her how much she was losing. Her enthusiasm began to lag then, and after her husband complimented her it was next to impossible to get her out of bed.

'She found everything too much trouble, and since she had lost so much, why could she not have a more method of making her lose the balance of her extra flesh? she asked. I did. I found another method. I gave her a dose of the most rubbing and scrubbing a woman ever had. She was glad enough after that to get up and do her hundred rolls on the floor. "Yes, that is the way to get rid of flesh around the neck and the body, both in men and women. I spread a sheet on the floor and make them lie down full length. The majority of women in New York feel that they are completely one hundred times.

'It sounds much easier than it really is. Just try it and see how soon you get tired. Roll over on your side, then turn and roll back. Three rolls are about all one can take without rolling off a double sheet.

'The best time is immediately after taking your cold bath in the morning. After the rolling process comes the rubbing on the neck with your hands held together above the head, bending forward and touching the floor with the tips of the fingers, all the while holding the feet together. "The next exercise is twisting the body with the hands on the hips and then with the arms extended full length. These three exercises, preserved in, will take the flesh off anybody, man or woman. "Perhaps the very best method for removing superfluous flesh is walking, but unhappily that takes more time and energy than the majority of women in New York feel that they can give. Where the woman is young—mean under 40—and in fairly good health these exercises should be taken every morning and without any rest between them until her weight is decidedly reduced, say ten pounds. "After this it must depend on the proportions of the body which one of the exercises is to be left off. If the stomach should have become sufficiently reduced then the rolling may be done only once or twice a week. If the ribs have begun to show and the joints in the spine have become visible, then drop the twisting of the body. All of this depends on the judgment of the teacher, and is easy compared with getting the woman to do the work. "The hardest part of my work is fighting the inertia of my pupils. There are many temptations in New York for the woman, with means to overeat and to take exercise. Many of them complain not only that walking takes up more time than they can spare, but that walking clothes are unbecoming as compared with the gowns and handsome wraps they can wear during.

'Five years ago when I first came to New York nearly all young women walked. It was quite the fashion. Now if they exercise at all it is in their bedrooms or at an occasional class. I mean during the season when they are in town. "Now, it is the elderly women who take their constitutional on Shank's mare. Their junoos know how attractive they look rolling back in their automobiles enveloped in fur and lace and they take advantage of it.

WOMEN GROWING COARSER.

'As it is, these habits together with the present fashion that has given me my profession, I shouldn't complain, but when one sees so many beautiful women growing coarser and unhandsome because of a superabundance of flesh which is so easily removed, it does make me a bit impatient. One of the most beautiful of my pupils is a woman who is only a half under six feet, she is beautifully proportioned now that I have got her back where she was twenty years ago when she married.

'When I began to go to her house she weighed considerably over 200; her waistline had disappeared and her neck had become so large that it almost seemed that her head was set directly on her shoulders. I believe every feature of her face was pulled out of shape by too much flesh, excepting her nose and her brows. They were still beautiful. "If I hadn't had her husband's assistance I think I would have failed with her. She not only ate sweets all the time, but she positively refused to take cold baths or to walk a step farther than she had to. She would be in her carriage or car. She had lost all ambition. "Yes, that often happens. Nothing will sap a woman's energy so completely as too much flesh. "It was next to impossible to get her out of bed to take her exercise, so I had to begin with massage. I rubbed off as much flesh as I could, and by and by she began to feel that she would like to try rolling. By the time she had dropped off twenty pounds her energy was revived and since then it has become a pleasure to teach her.

'It took three long months of work, and now, besides still working at shaping her hands and getting her ankles back to their normal slowness, I have as $5 for every half-hour lesson, especially after feeling that she must take a lesson every day. "She didn't appear to consider the price of the smallest importance. I had guaranteed to reduce her figure within a given time and she was willing to pay me for it. That was all she wanted. She even offered to pay me in advance for the two months, but I declined. She said she would pay me one week at a time would be sufficient. I got $25 right there on the spot. "It seems a good price, but I had to work for it. Bright and early every morning I was at that woman's house at 7. For the first few days she had to get up at 5, do her hair, wash, work, but she kept at it until I began to tell her how much she was losing. Her enthusiasm began to lag then, and after her husband complimented her it was next to impossible to get her out of bed.

'She found everything too much trouble, and since she had lost so much, why could she not have a more method of making her lose the balance of her extra flesh? she asked. I did. I found another method. I gave her a dose of the most rubbing and scrubbing a woman ever had. She was glad enough after that to get up and do her hundred rolls on the floor. "Yes, that is the way to get rid of flesh around the neck and the body, both in men and women. I spread a sheet on the floor and make them lie down full length. The majority of women in New York feel that they are completely one hundred times.

'It sounds much easier than it really is. Just try it and see how soon you get tired. Roll over on your side, then turn and roll back. Three rolls are about all one can take without rolling off a double sheet.

'The best time is immediately after taking your cold bath in the morning. After the rolling process comes the rubbing on the neck with your hands held together above the head, bending forward and touching the floor with the tips of the fingers, all the while holding the feet together. "The next exercise is twisting the body with the hands on the hips and then with the arms extended full length. These three exercises, preserved in, will take the flesh off anybody, man or woman. "Perhaps the very best method for removing superfluous flesh is walking, but unhappily that takes more time and energy than the majority of women in New York feel that they can give. Where the woman is young—mean under 40—and in fairly good health these exercises should be taken every morning and without any rest between them until her weight is decidedly reduced, say ten pounds. "After this it must depend on the proportions of the body which one of the exercises is to be left off. If the stomach should have become sufficiently reduced then the rolling may be done only once or twice a week. If the ribs have begun to show and the joints in the spine have become visible, then drop the twisting of the body. All of this depends on the judgment of the teacher, and is easy compared with getting the woman to do the work. "The hardest part of my work is fighting the inertia of my pupils. There are many temptations in New York for the woman, with means to overeat and to take exercise. Many of them complain not only that walking takes up more time than they can spare, but that walking clothes are unbecoming as compared with the gowns and handsome wraps they can wear during.

'Five years ago when I first came to New York nearly all young women walked. It was quite the fashion. Now if they exercise at all it is in their bedrooms or at an occasional class. I mean during the season when they are in town. "Now, it is the elderly women who take their constitutional on Shank's mare. Their junoos know how attractive they look rolling back in their automobiles enveloped in fur and lace and they take advantage of it.

Weak Men, Wake Up! WHY DO YOU WAIT?

Are you satisfied to turn the grindstone for the other fellow all your life? Are you content to be a plodder all your days? There's nothing in it, and you know it. Then why not begin to be a Man? Electricity as I apply it is the wonder in the world. I am making bustling, energetic men out of wrecks every day. In every walk of life you'll find these men—men whom I have saved from lives of wretchedness and despair—men who are making their mark in the world—men who are shaking the praises of my Dr. McLaughlin Belt—men who will tell you that their success in life dates from the time that they began the use of my great Electric Appliance—the only absolutely safe and sure remedy for a weak man—a broken-down man.

My remedy is an honest remedy, a logical remedy, a time-tried remedy. You have seen my advertisements for over twenty years, if you have been on earth that long, and if you'll write to or consult some of the men and women who have used my appliance or are using it, they'll tell you that it does all that I claim for it and even more. Then why do you wait? What's the use in bewailing your fate? You know you are not the man you ought to be. I can help you with Electricity as applied according to my method more than all the Doctors and Drugs in Christendom. It's fresh strength and energy you want, VIGOR, that's what I can give you, and you'll be long time getting anything like that out of drugs.

Mr. Maiden is an honest remedy, a logical remedy, a time-tried remedy. You have seen my advertisements for over twenty years, if you have been on earth that long, and if you'll write to or consult some of the men and women who have used my appliance or are using it, they'll tell you that it does all that I claim for it and even more. Then why do you wait? What's the use in bewailing your fate? You know you are not the man you ought to be. I can help you with Electricity as applied according to my method more than all the Doctors and Drugs in Christendom. It's fresh strength and energy you want, VIGOR, that's what I can give you, and you'll be long time getting anything like that out of drugs.

Dear Sir: I am glad to tell you that your Belt has proven good. I have never felt as strong and well in my life as I do now. The pains in my chest and back are gone, and I have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I can work every day, and do not feel the first symptoms of pain in my body. It is a pleasure to say that I have at last found a remedy that would cure me of my aches and pains. James Holt, Beech Hill, Lunenburg Co., N. S.

Call at my office this very day if you can; if you can't, then fill out this Coupon, send me your address and I'll mail you, closely sealed, my FREE 80-PAGE BOOK, elegantly illustrated. I have a book for Women. DON'T WAIT; DO IT NOW!

If your stomach don't work; refuses to digest your food; if your Bowels do not move regularly; if your Kidneys are weak; if your Liver is sluggish; if your Blood Circulation is poor and your Blood is full of Uric Acid or other impurities; if your powers of Manhood are weakening; if your body is full of Pains and Aches; if you suffer from Headaches, Debilitating Losses, Urinal Disorders, Irritability, Dependancy Sleeplessness, or any other signs of Nervous or Physical Breakdown, stop and THINK! Don't depend upon drugs to build you up, they never do it. Don't you know that all such symptoms are crying out the fact so loudly as they can that the nerve-cells of your body are robbed of their power—their vitality? Don't you know that it is nerve-power that operates every organ, every function of the body? Don't you know that the basis of nerve-power is Electricity? Don't you know that Electricity is Life? If you don't, then you should get my Book and read it. It will teach you facts you ought to know.

Let me treat your case in my own way. Let me apply a steady current of Galvanic Electricity to your weakened system with my Dr. McLaughlin Electric Belt. Wear this appliance night after night, for a few weeks and it will give you all those pains and aches; it will restore energy and equilibrium to your nervous system; it will fill your body with fresh strength and energy; it will give you back the powers of Manhood, and make you a Man among Men. Again I place before you my PROOF.

Dear Sir: I am glad to tell you that your Belt has proven good. I have never felt as strong and well in my life as I do now. The pains in my chest and back are gone, and I have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I can work every day, and do not feel the first symptoms of pain in my body. INTERNATIONAL MARRIAGES

Majority of American Wives are Happy in England.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The Granddaddy wedding in New York furnished the text for renewed discussion here of the advisability of international marriages. The Daily Mail devoted an editorial article to the problem as to whether they are or are not likely to be happy.

The Mail says: "That the vast majority of Anglo-American unions are happy will not be denied by those who have the good fortune to number among their friends American wives and British husbands, whose weddings have escaped the notice of the ubiquitous recorder of social events. The number of such marriages is much greater than many people are aware; for these happy marriages, like happy countries have no history, and they are to be explained for reasons other than the attractions of a dowry, for not all American brides are endowed with the wealth of Croesus, and the American women have other fascinations than the almighty dollar. Although essentially feminine, as is manifested by her taste and her personal adornment, she is, above all things, the comrade of the man who loves, making his interests, pursuits, and pleasures her own. This irrefragable attraction she owes to her early training, and herein lies the answer to the problem that baffles American men, who ask why beauty and dollars should cross the Atlantic never to return save as visitors. "The American man has attractions of his own. His chivalry toward women is unsurpassed, if not unequalled and his devotion to their comfort and pleasure is worthy of imitation; but business is too often his absorbing ambition and occupation and robs him of that romance and comradeship which every true woman, whether American or British, regards as the enduring basis of a happy marriage. The Earl of Dartmouth's house which the Earl of Granard has taken for twelve months is the largest and finest residence in Charles street, Berkeley Square. During their tenancy the Granards will look about for a house to suit them in London, and there is much speculation as to where they will finally take up their abode.

EXPERIENCE IS BETTER THAN ARGUMENT

The world-wide fame of Mother Seigel's Syrup is based on the evidence of men and women whom it has cured of indigestion, biliousness, constipation, nervous depression, anaemia, and other disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Compounded of roots, and herbs, Mother Seigel's Syrup contains digestive ferments and gentle tonics for the stomach, liver and kidneys. These qualities render it invaluable to all who, through unhealthy surroundings, sedentary occupation, worry, overwork, or climatic changes, lack the vitality which only good food, well digested, can supply. When you are tortured with indigestion, so that you can't eat, can't work, can't think, can't sleep, you should at once give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial. Tens of thousands of people testify to the curative qualities possessed by Mother Seigel's Syrup because it has cured them. Profit by their experience! Here is some proof:—Mr. Christy Battersow, Mabon, Inverness Co., N.S., writing on August 13th, 1908, says:—'About eighteen months ago I took a severe cold, while at work near Marble Mountain, C.B. Neglect brought on frequent headaches, a tickling cough and a sore side. While visiting a friend at Lake Umbagog, I was induced to take Mother Seigel's Syrup. In a short time my cough vanished and apart from obtaining a cure, I increased my weight by thirteen pounds.'

CHARCOAL PURIFIES ANY BREATH

And in Its Purest Form Has Long Been Known As the Greatest Gas Absorber

Pure willow charcoal will oxidize almost any odor and render it sweet and pure. A handful in a foul cellar absorbs one hundred times its volume in gas. The ancient knew the value of charcoal and advised its use in all cases of illness, especially pertaining to the stomach. In England today charcoal poultices are used for ulcers, boils, and abscesses. Some physicians in Europe claim to cure many skin diseases by covering the afflicted skin with charcoal.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges go into the mouth and transfer foul odors at once into oxygen, absorb noxious gases, and acids and when swallowed mix with the digestive juices and stop gas making, fermentation and decay. Since the above rule went into effect that amount given by a passenger has been announced about the conductors have taken delight in getting back at those who offend to them. They do not pay much attention to the regulation when a dime or a quarter is given them and never more than matter the amount to themselves; but the moment any one hands a conductor coppers in payment of fare he announces in a voice loud enough to be heard by every one in the car, 'Five pennies!' Then, attracting the desired attention, so that there shall be no mistake about the identity of the passenger he always asks him if he wants a transfer.

But passengers don't like copper cents any better than the conductor. A ticket agent on the Lexington avenue elevated line in Brooklyn had a curious experience last winter. A man pushed a dime through the window and five pennies were pushed back in change. The passenger absolutely refused to take them. The ticket seller made no reply, but tried to reach the next person in line, whereupon the man with the pennies blocked the way with his elbow and demanded a nickel in place of them. The ticket seller continued to ignore him utterly, and asked the next person in line 'How many?' but, finding the man insistent, he told him he would make no change, but tried to catch the next train. He made no reply to the man's remarks about the pennies which still lay there untouched.

The passenger became bolder in his demands, but the agent still refused to discuss the matter of the change in any way. He treated him as a transaction that lay absolutely in the past, but he became very imperative in his demand.

BORDEN ADMITS THAT BRITISH COLUMBIA WAS WON BY A LIE

THE DOCTORED TELEGRAM. Then came reference to Mr. Borden's message, and exposure of the doctored telegram, followed by a scathing criticism of Mr. Borden's professions of political purity. "In respect of bribery," said Sir Wilfrid, "the honorable gentleman is the most inveterate sinner in this House. He may not bribe constituents, but he bribes provinces."

Mr. Foster's contradiction, which came next, was a mixture of self-confessed perjury and invective. He had meant to say about election promises a liberal candidate, but carefully avoided any reference to Mr. Foster's promise of a tunnel to Prince Edward Island. In questionable taste Mr. Foster attacked Mr. Brodeur and charged the Prime Minister with having made a deal with Hon. Mr. Scott to obtain his resignation and with having made similar overtures to Sir John Carter. This elicited a prompt and emphatic denial from the Prime Minister, who stated that so far from having asked Sir Richard Cartwright to resign he was exceedingly glad to have him remain. "Never by correspondence or otherwise," he said, "have I made any such suggestions to Sir Richard Cartwright. "The debate afterwards drifted into the hands of Conservative members from British Columbia, who appeared to feel it incumbent upon them to explain away electoral tactics revealed by the Prime Minister.

Maiden speeches were made by Mr. Cowan of Vancouver, Mr. Barnard of Victoria and Mr. Burrell of Yale-Carleton and Mr. Brodeur vigorously and effectively replied to Mr. Foster's personal attacks. Then Mr. Lemieux gave an illuminating review of the question of Japanese immigration and uttered a warning against passing a policy of deprecatory criticism of that race. The Japanese authorities had lived up to their agreement with Canada and he was confident they would continue to do so. The debate will be resumed on Monday by Ralph Smith.

Lingering Punishment for Ticket Seller Who Gave Pennies in Change. (New York Sun)

The conductors on the Brooklyn trolley cars are now having their earnings in the matter of objecting to taking copper cents. They do not exactly refuse them, but they make it unpleasant for the passenger that gives them. Since the above rule went into effect that amount given by a passenger has been announced about the conductors have taken delight in getting back at those who offend to them. F. W. MORSE RESIGNS AS MANAGER TRANSCONTINENTAL

Sailed From New York Tuesday for the Mediterranean.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—Great surprise was expressed in railway circles this afternoon when it became known that Frank W. Morse, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, had resigned. Mr. Morse left here on Monday and sailed from New York on

FRANK MORSE.

Thursday on the Carmania on a trip to the Mediterranean. The official announcement contained nothing beyond the fact, and C. M. Hays, vice-president of the Grand Trunk and president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, declined to amplify it in any way, beyond stating he regretted that Mr. Morse was leaving and that he had performed magnificent work in the construction of the railway. Mr. Hays also stated that Mr. Morse's successor would probably not be named for some time.

THE ALDERMEN WILL BE KEPT BUSY NEXT WEEK

Many Important Matters Will be Considered Board of Control May Not be Discussed on Monday.

Next week is busy week at City Hall and from early Monday morning until late Friday night the city fathers will have occasion to be continually concerned in the discharge of their administrative duties. On Monday afternoon the Council meets in special session. On Monday night a meeting of the Safety Board will be held, while on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings the Board of Works, the Water and Sewerage, and the Treasury Board will convene.

Owing to Ald. Kelly's absence from the city it is thought that the report of the reorganization committee in the matter of a Board of Control will not be forthcoming at the meeting of the Common Council. There are other important matters to engage the attention of the aldermen, however, and the meeting will not, it is thought, be without results.

The recommendation of the Water and Sewerage Board for the repeal of the act making sewerage maintenance a charge upon water assessment will be disposed of. The bill to place the harbor under commission will also come up for disposal.

The safety board will deal chiefly with the proposal to increase the salaries at City Hall. The installation of an elevator is again up for consideration and will be discussed.

The board of works will have as the chief item on its monthly bill the problem of the unemployed. A solution has been eagerly awaited for some time and would be received with popular satisfaction.

The chief matter to come before the treasury board is the proposal to amend the assessment act so as to exempt the small incomes from taxation. A claim to bring about a more thorough system of collections is also on the tapis.

The ferry committee will hold forth possibly on Friday afternoon.

COLDER WEATHER GIVES THE CURLERS A CHANGE

St. Andrews and Thistles and Carleton and Hampton Play Today—West Side Club to Take a Trip.

The St. Andrews and Thistles curlers will play the second of their series of games this afternoon and evening. Fourteen rinks will be played. The Carleton curlers will play Hampton today. One rink will be played in the afternoon and two in the evening. A special meeting of the club will be held at the rink tonight. It is probable that the skips for friendly matches with the St. Andrews and Thistles will be selected at the meeting. There is some difference of opinion as to whether a trial should be ten or eight rinks played. In past seasons only six rinks have been played, but this year the Carleton club find they have attained sufficient strength to warrant them placing a larger number of rinks on the ice.

The West Side club expects to have the St. Stephen curlers here in the near future. They are also contemplating making a trial with likely play matches with Moncton, Amherst, Sackville and Campbellton. So far this season they have made a splendid showing.

MCCONNELL FIRED OUT, SORELY DISAPPOINTED

Could Not Persuade Police Magistrate to Provide Board for Him for the Winter.

A quartette of drunks were on the police bench this morning. Dennis Sullivan, an old offender, had been brought to the station on a sled. The magistrate said that the last time Sullivan was arrested he was allowed to go on the promise that he would stop drinking. His honor told the prisoner that he could not fool with the court in such a manner and sent him to jail with a probable sentence of six months without a fine.

One young man was remanded to jail to get sobered up, while another who claimed that he was only about half drunk, was fined four dollars.

Hugh McConnell, the man who was found lying in the old burying ground after being refused admittance to jail, was asked this morning to plead to drunkenness. He said he had partaken of a few drinks during the morning and had requested to be sent to jail with a probable sentence of six months without a fine.

Policeman Stevens told of the defendant stopping him on King street yesterday morning and requesting to be locked up, and of later finding him in the grave yard.

The magistrate told the defendant that there was a screw loose somewhere when a big healthy man could not get work and was hungry in St. John. He fined McConnell $8 or two months jail, but said that he would allow the sentence to hang over the defendant as the municipality had no right to feed big hungry lazy loafers.

He told McConnell to get out of us he was cold and hungry. He said he was born in Glasgow and had been out of work since November.

Policeman Stevens told of the defendant stopping him on King street yesterday morning and requesting to be locked up, and of later finding him in the grave yard.
