Enthusiastic Scenes When Opposition Delegates Name Candidates for Contest.

SPEECHES CHARGE GROSS EXTRAVAGANCE

Orgy of Expenditure of the Government Reviewed by the Leaders.

Special to The Standard
Hampton, Sept. 24.—The electors of Kings County, over a hundred strong, who are in opposition to the Provincial Government, gathered here today to discuss policy and name its ticket for the ballot on October 9th.

It was pleasing to party leaders to observe that the great majority of those present were the captains of the soil.

They gathered in force despite the fact that the day was such as farmers needed for attending to their fields.

The sound sense of ability who recognize the state of government affairs today, came to hear and to be heard on economic questions affecting this Province. They are not blind to what is going on about them and they expressed themselves as fully realizing the inefficiency of the Government.

The Convention Organizes

The convention organized with Councillor Keith as chairman and Ralph St. J. Freeze as secretary. In a trim little speech the chairman thanked the convention for the honor it had conferred upon him, and pledged his support to the aims and policies of the party they represented.

H. V. Dickson, member of the last Legislature, spoke to the gathering, thanking the electors for their patronage in the past and pledging himself to feel free and easy in the selecting of candidates.

"You are not bound," he said, "to take me on your ticket. We want freedom of action. If there is anyone else you want in my place, I shall work for his success at the polls. I shall do all in my power for the ticket you name. We have a work to do and we should all enter upon that task united, and with determination to win a victory and save this Province from bankruptcy."

Mr. G. B. Jones

G. B. Jones, Mr. Dickson's colleague in the Legislature, spoke much in the same line. He said he had served Kings County thirteen years and was glad to say he had successfully passed the unlucky number "31" here. "To serve you if I wanted, if not desired as a candidate, I am willing to go into the fight and devote my whole time and energy to send to Fredericton any other whom you may wish. This matter is yours and I am with you in anything you may direct or ask."

"JUST FOOLING" IS PLEA BUT JUDGE DOESN'T SEE JOKE

Now York, Sept. 24.—Magistrate Brown in Brooklyn police court today made it plain he intended to show leniency to "practical jokers" issuing fake warnings of bomb plots.

When a man giving the name of Harry Rabonwitz was arraigned, on a charge of having written a circular letter of elevated station, "this station will be blown up Friday at 9 p.m.," the magistrate held him in $500 bail on a charge of committing a nuisance, despite his explanation that he was "only fooling."

Kenneth Durand, a bank clerk, said he had discovered the young man at his task and then seized him. An excited crowd gathered and there were cries of "shoot him" until he was rescued by the police.

PRODUCE LESS TO SEND PRICES HIGHER

London, Sept. 24.—In order to raise the price of raw rubber, drastic steps are contemplated by the rubber growers' association, which represents about one-third of the owners of the three million acres of rubber under cultivation. The association suggests to members and to other plantations owners that they should reduce their tapings of rubber trees so as to effect a reduction in the output of 25 per cent.

N. S. HIGHWAY BOARD REMAINS IN OFFICE

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 24.—The Provincial Highway Board of Nova Scotia will continue for the present to discharge their duties, resignation investigations which they had already instituted, and employ an independent engineer to investigate expenditures on certain contracts, all of which is in accordance with the letter of Premier Murray under date of September 9, accepted to the board declining to accept their resignation and asking that they continue in the discharge of their duties and to conduct the investigation which they had suggested. This was announced by a statement issued by the board yesterday afternoon after their adjournment.

MILLION DOLLARS MORE PAID ALREADY ON FREIGHT RATES

Winnipeg Will Spend $5,000 in Fight to Secure More Favorable Terms.

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—With what is estimated as more than a million dollars paid out already in the West in increased freight rates to the railways and with the wheat movement just getting underway, the Winnipeg Board of Trade, this afternoon, to concentrate its energy on the direction of a protest to be made against the award of the railway commission. The members will be asked to vote $5,000 for the purpose of carrying out the protest. The council of the board can vote no more than $1,000 for any specific purpose.

MacSWINEY IS MUCH WEAKER SISTER SAYS

Family Complains English Press is Not Giving Hunger Striker a Fair Report.

London, Sept. 24.—A statement issued today over the signature of members of the family of Terence MacSwiney charges the British press with distorting reports concerning the Lord Mayor's condition. It asserts that the Government asked the newspapers Proprietors' Association that if certain information should come to publication the MacSwiney family will cease to give to the British press any statements concerning the Lord Mayor. Frequent bulletins, however, still will be issued to foreign press representatives in London.

It was stated at the offices of the Newspaper Proprietors' Association today that no communication had been received from the Government concerning Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

Complains of Press

"At the commencement of the struggle at Brixton prison" says the statement issued by the MacSwiney family, "the English press treated the matter as fairly as could be expected, but as the liberat of the public of England became stirred by the press reports, the Government became apprehensive and issued a note to the newspaper association and after that to the family and Father Dominic (the Lord Mayor's chaplain) saying 'we have all been victims of this campaign of falsehood.'"

Claims Misleading Statements

The family then charges the Home Office with issuing statements, "which, while not false, are purposefully misleading." Details made at the Home Office that the Government has made any attempt to influence the newspapers. Mary MacSwiney after visiting her brother this afternoon, stated he was very much weaker.

The report issued by the Home Office this morning said that his condition was virtually unchanged.

Very Much Weaker.

London, Sept. 24.—Tonight's bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League said Lord Mayor MacSwiney was extremely exhausted and suffering from severe pains in the head. He still was conscious.

Firing in Cork.

Cork, Sept. 24.—An automobile containing three or four men in civilian clothes coming down Patrick street hit from the direction of the military barracks was fired on this evening by nine or ten men with revolvers. The occupants of the automobile reported this fire. Neither the police nor the military are able to confirm the report that General Strickland, commander of the Cork troops, was in the automobile. A woman witness to the shooting said that one of the occupants of the automobile fell back in the tonneau as if struck by a bullet. A 16 year old boy, bystander, received a flesh wound in the arm.

Attacked General Strickland

Dublin, Sept. 24.—Official announcement is made of an attempt to assassinate Major General Strickland, commander of Southern Ireland while the general was motoring through the streets of Cork this evening. He was not injured. The general returned the fire, it is believed with effect.

POSTPONE AIR FLIGHT

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Owing to some alterations in the arrangements of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the date of the proposed trans-Canada flight has been postponed for about one week by the Air Board.

WILSON REFUSES TO ACT

Washington, Sept. 24.—President Wilson has declined to take steps to terminate certain commercial treaties as directed by Congress in the Merchant Marine Act holding that "such a course would be wholly irreconcilable with the historical respect which the United States has shown for its international engagements."

OPPOSING THE GOVERNMENT

HON. DR. H. I. TAYLOR
Opposition Candidate chosen at St. Stephen convention.

MR. SCOTT GUPHILL
Opposition Farmer Candidate named at St. Stephen.

Apples and Prunes Made N. B. Farmer Some Near "Scotch"

Inland Revenue Officer Uncerthly Ten Illicit Stills in Trip Through Province.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—How, with fresh apples and dried prunes as ingredients, a New Brunswick farmer of Saint Isidore, concocted a mixture which, in aroma, resembled Scotch whiskey, is told by J. Alfred Mason, chief preventive officer of inland revenue, who has just returned from an expedition through Gloucester county, N. B., in search of illicit stills. Ten stills in all were discovered at Carquet, St. Isidore, Shippegan, Inkerman, Pokemouche and Petite Lamee, in Gloucester county.

HIGH COST OF LIVING TAKES BIG TUMBLE

Wool, Lumber, Motors and Sugars Show Substantial Declines in Many Places.

New York, Sept. 24.—A decline in food prices and a gradual reduction in prices charged by restaurants throughout the United States was predicted here today by August Janssen, president of the society of restaurateurs. In New York, he said, prices will drop as a result of the cooperative purchasing plan under which a number of restaurants have combined to buy their food stuffs. Janssen said commission merchants were aiding the plan.

CLAIMS CAPTAIN GOT BANK ACCOUNT BY FRAUD METHODS

Montreal, Sept. 24.—A unique case of false pretences came before Judge Cusson in Quebec court today, in which A. Rothwell, formerly a captain in the Canadian army, is accused of obtaining money from a returned man named John W. Amos by means of using the Superior Court. It was stated in court that while Amos was out of the country, action was taken against him by Rothwell, and by means of false representations in an affidavit made in that case a judgment of seizure was issued against the bank account of Amos, and the amount of $322 seized to satisfy the judgment.

GAME WARDEN GUILTY OF ASSAULT

Special to The Standard
Albert, Sept. 24.—Walter H. Irving, local game warden for the Parish of Hillsboro, was adjudged guilty of assault today by Magistrate Bryerman. Irving was charged with assaulting a man in the case, and one upon whom the assault was made, is Chester Peck, a prominent citizen of the village of Albert. The alleged assault took place several months ago and grew out of an argument arising over the shipment of a moose.

SHIP FROM ICELAND COMING TO MONTREAL

Montreal, Sept. 24.—The steamer Lagerfos, from Iceland, is due to dock here tomorrow, carrying thirty-four first-class, and thirty-nine second-class passengers. She is the first steamer from Iceland to Canada, and the passengers are mostly booked through to Winnipeg.

DUBLIN GENERAL POST OFFICE SAFE BLOWN AND ROBBED

Dublin, Sept. 24.—The general post office was robbed and blown by armed men last night. The miscreants blew open the safe and decamped with several thousand pounds in money, carrying the wages and bonus of the post office staff.

THANKSGIVING OCT. 18

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—An order-in-council gazetted this week formally names Monday, October 18, as Thanksgiving Day, and urges all Canadians to observe that day as one of special thanksgiving.

CHARLOTTE READY FOR THE BATTLE

Hon. Dr. Taylor and John M. Flewelling Are Opposition Candidates Chosen.

FARMERS WORKING WITH THE OPPOSITION

Scott L. Guphill and Chauncey R. Pollard Run as Opposition Farmers.

Special to The Standard
St. Stephen, N. B., Sept. 24.—The Opposition convention held here this afternoon was one of the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of the party. In the gathering were some who had always been Liberals, but can no longer follow that party. It. W. Grimmer occupied the chair.

Mr. Grimmer and Mr. Smith, recent members, expressed regret that business engagements made it impossible to continue longer in political life, but pledged their utmost support to the candidates that might be chosen and expressed full confidence in the return of the full Opposition ticket and the overturn of the Foster government.

The Candidates

A nominating committee composed of A. D. Ganong, of St. Stephen; W. Smith, of Milltown; M. E. Baldwin, of St. George; Frank Thomas, of Wawoit; Wm. Hyslop, of Tower Hill; W. McQuoid, of St. Andrews; H. Emerson, of Dumbarton; Jas. Monahan, of Binsville, and John Webber, of Dufferin, was appointed and subsequently reported recommending Scott L. Guphill, of Grand Manan, and Chauncey R. Pollard, of Tower Hill, the two candidates chosen by the United Farmers for place on the Opposition ticket. Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor, of St. George, and John M. Flewelling, of St. Stephen, the secretary of the Conservative Association for a number of years. The nomination was confirmed by unanimous vote.

The Past Careers

Dr. Taylor and Mr. Guphill were members of the last house. Mr. Pollard is a prosperous young farmer and a member of the municipal council. He holds a first-class teacher's license and taught school successfully for some years before taking up the management of a large farm on the death of his father a few years ago.

Mr. Flewelling is one of the best known and most enterprising young citizens of St. Stephen. He is secretary of the Board of Trade, and a member of the board of school trustees of the town. He does a large insurance business and takes a prominent part in all public undertakings.

Enthusiastic addresses were made by the candidates present, by M. N. Cookburn, S. J. Wilson, of the Farmers' Union; D. A. MacNeil, D. A. Nesbitt, H. W. Smith, R. W. Grimmer, Mayor Johnson and others.

PARTIES CONTROL THE WAR VETERANS' PAPERS

Washington, Sept. 23.—The Stars and Stripes, a soldier publication, is controlled by the Democratic National Committee. Joseph L. Hoffmann, Secretary-Treasurer of the Stars and Stripes Publishing Company, testified today before the Senate campaign investigating committee.

IN ST. JOHN CO.

MR. THOS. B. CARSON.
Opposition candidate chosen to be standard bearer with Hon. John B. Baxter.

HON. MR. BAXTER AND T. B. CARSON IN ST. JOHN CO.

Reports from All Districts Show Opposition in Vigorous Fighting Spirit.

The Opposition committee for St. John county was held last evening at the Seaman's Institute, Dr. J. H. Barton being in the chair. Every parish was represented, and the gathering was enthusiastic. H. Marshall Stout was elected secretary.

Hon. John B. M. Baxter was nominated by Lancaster, and Thos. B. Carson by Frank E. Josselyn, of East St. John.

No other names were proposed. Addresses were made by the candidates and by W. H. Moran, Councillor Wm. Golding, Andrew R. Moore, F. J. Murray, Fred Stephenson, Jas. K. McCord, Geo. Maxwell, Walter Drake, D. H. MacSwiney, G. Earle Logan, Jas. McAfee and Frank Josselyn.

LEWIS SMITH AND JOHN L. PECK ARE CHOSEN IN ALBERT

Albert, Sept. 24.—The Opposition electors of Albert County met in convention at Hillsboro today. There was a large attendance of those who are opposed to the Government. The electors named their ticket, composed of J. L. Peck and Lewis Smith, for the election of October 9th.

There is a row on in the Government camp, and it looks now as though there would be many bolters. That the opposition ticket will win a walk is admitted even by the rank and file of critics.

LABOR SPLIT ON COAL MINE STRIKE

London, Sept. 24.—The miners' decision today to suspend the threatened strike afforded a ray of hope for peace in an otherwise gloomy situation. A meeting of the Triple Alliance, comprising representatives of the miners, railwaymen and transport workers, also was held today, but the results of its proceedings were not announced.

ANGLICANS DENY CATHOLIC RULE ON MIXED MARRIAGES

Montreal, Sept. 24.—The Rt. Rev. John Farthing, Anglican Bishop of Montreal, providing tonight at a meeting of the executive of the diocese of Montreal, issuing with the unanimous endorsement of the executive a pronouncement on the mixed marriage question in this province, with special reference to the annulment of such marriages by the Roman Catholic church authorities.

WAR WITH BULGARIA OTHER

The province of Alberta and Saskatchewan is officially at an end. A proclamation published in this week's issue of the Canada Gazette orders that August 31 shall be treated as the date of the termination of war between His Majesty and Bulgaria.

FLYNN SURE EXPLOSION IS RED OUTRAGE

Expert Detective Loathe to Accept Theory That Wall St. Tragedy Was Accidental.

TWO ARRESTS ARE MADE IN NEW YORK

Investigating Jury Will be Told Clues Indicate a Deliberate Outrage.

New York, Sept. 24.—The cause of the Wall street explosion tonight was as unknown to the police and federal authorities as it was when it occurred nine days ago.

The theory that an accident—probably a collision—caused the explosion was reported today to have been cast aside by the September Grand Jury, hereafter the jurors will concentrate their attention on the bomb plot theory, it was said.

In this they follow the lead of William J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, who from the start had thought the last of sinister cause. The police as yet have not announced abandonment of any of their many theories.

Two Arrests Made

Police Department men arrested two persons whom they thought were profiting illegally from the public's interest in the disaster. A pedlar was charged with selling fake explosion souvenirs, and a woman was charged with using a partially forged subscription list to raise funds, which she said were to be used for explosion sufferers.

An official effort to raise funds for the dependents of explosion victims had been started earlier in the day by Mayor Hylan, who appointed a committee of financial district business men to carry on the work.

Late this afternoon Edwin P. Fischer, tennis player, who sent warnings of the explosion from Toronto, was committed to Bellevue Hospital for further psychopathic examination after the legal period for detaining him there had expired.

Suspects Were Peddlers.

The three suspicious-looking men reported to have been seen running from the scene of the explosion shortly before it occurred have been traced and found to be these peddlers, George F. Lamb, district superintendent of the department of justice said tonight. Apparently they have no connection with the disaster, he added.

Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, said tonight that the investigators have not given up. "We still have a few leads left to follow," he declared. "It may be that a single shred of evidence will solve the affair and place the responsibility."

FATE OF TWIN'S MOTHER HANGS ON THE CABINET

Plea May be Made for Delay in Death Sentence to Aid the Babes.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The cabinet council had under consideration today the capital case of Mrs. Mary Hoodie Cagney, now a sentence of death at Quebec, next Friday. A decision will be announced within a day or two. This is the case of the woman convicted of the murder of her ten-year-old step-child by a slow process of terrible tortures.

Since her conviction the woman has given birth to twins. On her behalf the organization opposing all capital punishment and some others, have made representations, but the petitions for clemency are much fewer than usual.

May Delay Execution.

It is reported, but no official advice has been received, that application is being made to the courts for a four months' respite on the ground that the woman's life should be spared to nurse her children.

PENITENTIARY LANDS MAKE GOVERNMENT A $1,000,000 PROFIT

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The Dominion of Canada is expected to profit handsomely by the sale of the Edmonton penitentiary reserve, which contains valuable coal mining property, and which, it is stated, is soon to be offered for sale. An order-in-council gazetted this week gives formal notice that the tract of land established as a penitentiary in Alberta on July 29, 1906, shall cease to be a penitentiary from and after September 1, 1920.

The penitentiary property at Prince Albert, Sask., becomes the property of the province of Alberta and Saskatchewan and shall continue to be designated as the Saskatchewan penitentiary. The lands contained in the Alberta tract are in the hands of the city of Edmonton, and a valuation of more than one million dollars has been placed upon them.

REMORSE FOR TRAITOR CAUSE OF RESIGNATION

Deschanel Never Believed in Capital Punishment and Duties Required Course.

Paris, Sept. 24.—Melancholia, induced by an extraordinary sensitive conscience, was responsible for the tragic end of the Presidency of Paul Deschanel, according to an executive article in the Journal Du Peuple.

"President Deschanel's illness," it said, "was directly caused by his noble, rigid conception of justice. Never believing in capital punishment he felt the blood of an executed person to be on his own head, where executive clemency had been refused to a man alleging himself innocent."

Death Sentence Gain. "Shortly after his election, the President was petitioned to extend clemency to M. Touge, former Colonial administrator, condemned to death for treason. During the trial he protested that he was innocent. Deschanel desired to grant a pardon, but was prevented by an administration that insisted on the execution as a matter of principle. Deschanel gave in, and M. Touge was executed."

"After his death, the attorney of Touge gave the President a memorandum presenting proofs of the executed man's innocence. Remorse for the monstrous judicial error seized Deschanel, who lost his appetite, his sleep and his desire to live."

Dead Men Can Kill. "The matter proved on his nerves until he became the victim of dangerous melancholia. His falling from a train four months ago was not an accident, but an attempt at suicide. Sometime later, the President, who had outdistanced his friends in a country tour, was found drowning in a lake. A week before his resignation he was hauled out of a canal."

Nemologists say the "mysterious illness" was simply the pangs of conscience, while the entire episode is merely another proof that dead men can kill.

SIXTEEN UNDER ARREST FOR TRYING TO LYNCH McNEAL

St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 24.—The sixteenth arrest in connection with the riots following McNeal Walls' preliminary hearing at Thorold on August 16, was made late last night when Albert Howman, of Merriton, was taken into custody. As in the case of Edward Hackett, of Thorold, who was arrested early last evening, the charge of attempted arson has been laid in addition to that of unlawful assembly.

David McNeal Walls is the correct name of the man who is in Welland jail awaiting trial on the charge of murdering four-year-old Margaret Boncock, of Thorold, "David McNeal" is the name under which he was married and served overseas in the Canadian army.

Miss Alice E. Roney returned yesterday from Lower Millstream where she had been the guest of Miss H. Musgrove while attending the annual meeting of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Aid Societies of the New Brunswick Association.

MURRAY, JONES AND DICKSON IN KINGS CO.

Enthusiastic Scenes When Opposition Delegates Name Candidates for Contest.

(Continued from page one.) The Hon. Mr. Murray spoke of his resignation as Party Leader which move, he said, was made because he had not the time or money required to run a party. "Because I have resigned the leadership does not mean I have quit the party and am to retire from the campaign. So long as a Government such as the Province has today continues its orgy of extravagance you will find me fighting it to the end. I was brought up in the party and I shall stay in it if you want me to be your candidate, then all is well. If no, I shall continue the party, but shall throw all my energies into the fight for the success of the ticket you nominate."

Candidates Named. The convention quickly got down to business and the work of naming a ticket was commenced. It was an easy task. It was the work of but a few moments and Hon. J. A. Murray, Geo. B. Jones and H. V. Dickson were the unanimous choice of the convention. After the nominations had been proclaimed there were calls of "speech," "speech," from all sections of the room.

He Shots Delivered. The former leader of the party, Hon. J. A. Murray, was given a grand reception when he arose to address the convention. The ovation continued for some time and here contrasting testimony to the confidence and faith of the electors in their candidate.

Mr. Murray said in part: "Gentlemen of Kings. This is the fourth time I have been your candidate, and I regard the honor given me as an expression of confidence. I love Kings County and its people and I wish to express my thanks for the many kindnesses shown me in the face of rank criticisms leveled against me to which I could not reply. I am pleased to say my bitterest opponent does not accuse me of getting any money from public life. When they had 'sacked everything' with the intention of getting me, a Government member said on the floor of the House that I had not made one cent out of politics. While admitting mistakes, I can look every man in the face and say I have not deprived the Government of one cent."

Mr. Murray then launched into a review of the inconsistencies of the Government, and its mal-administration of the people's business. He recited the fifth plank of the Government's platform, which promised to reduce the revenue, reduce the cost of administration and to do all things to avoid the necessity of direct taxation.

What Have They Done? He then pertinently asked: "What have they done?" "The Government," said Mr. Murray, "pledged to reduce and economize in two years and seven months, has increased the capital liability $5,262,280. Of the amount over $3,000,000 was expended on roads and bridges. Can you see where any part of that amount has been expended to our advantage or profit in this county? Some of the roads about Sussex are in such a condition it is dangerous to ride over them in an automobile. Queens County is begging for roads that people can travel over with some degree of safety."

A Few Statistics. "Going back on all pre-election pledges the Government started in on a campaign of reckless expenditure. In 1917 they produced a deficit of $200,000. In 1918 a drop of $134,656, and in 1919 the grand sum of $327,659 making a total expenditure over ordinary revenue of $392,000.

"And why should they call on us election now? Here is the reason: there is no doubt but the deficit for 1920 will show a stunning total. To bring on an election after the fiscal report is out would be sure death to the Government and they think they might stand a chance of survival for another term before the extravagances of 1920 are brought to light."

An Extravagant Party. "They are squandering the public monies in a crazy manner. Government has always acted under Legislative authority. No so with the present Government. They have an utter disregard for the Legislature. In 1919 there was expended on public roads $946,512.94 for which Mr. Veniot had no authority. Again in 1918 $268,825.15 were scattered over roads without authority. This kind of work is going on continuously and the public suffers."

The speaker then referred to the new system of bookkeeping introduced by the Government at an expense of $5,000. He thought it must be a wonderful system, as so one had been able to figure it out. It is twisted into all sorts of shapes, and even the banking wizard, Hon. Robert Murray, Secretary-Treasurer, is unable to explain the figures shown by the auditor or what they stand for.

The Agricultural Department. In the Agricultural Department the speaker showed up the shortcomings. It costs many more thousands to run the department than it did when the former Government retired. Not one new policy has been adopted by the present head of the department. He has followed out the policies and plans laid down by the previous administration.

The only change, thought Mr. Murray, that can be seen is the addition of numerous clerks, who have a hard job to keep out of each other's way, and for this the people are paying a tremendous sum.

POLES OFFER STIFF PEACE TERMS TO REDS

Must Recognize Full Sovereignty of Poland and Pay Own War Bills.

Riga, Sept. 24.—Following the presentation of the Soviet peace proposals at today's session of the Russo-Polish peace conference, M. Dumbalski, Polish Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs, presented the preliminary Polish terms which had been prepared before M. Joffe's offer. They were in no sense a reply to the new Soviet proposals.

M. Dumbalski's suggestions were based on peace preliminaries and included, first, mutual recognition of the sovereignty of Poland by Soviet Russia, and no interference in domestic affairs; second, the determination of boundaries, not in a spirit of historical revenge, but on a basis of just conciliation of vital interests; third, that the contracting parties grant a free choice of Russian or Polish citizenship to all persons affected by the treaty; fourth, that both powers agree to free cultural, linguistic and religious development, and fifth, renunciation of restitution in any form by Poland and of the expenses of the Polish-Soviet war.

NO FARMER TO RUN IN ALBERT

Albert, Sept. 24.—At a largely attended meeting of the United Farmers today a warm discussion took place regarding the placing of candidates in the field for the Provincial elections. After the question had been thoroughly threshed out, the convention voted not to pack candidates. A large number of farmers were here tonight to hear a speaker from Ontario, but he failed to put in an appearance.

He expressed himself as well pleased with the candidates put in nomination, saying they were men who had always acted fearlessly for what they believed was right. They are worthy of any man's support, he said, and would surely be elected.

Other departments were touched upon, and the same reckless expenditure type down. The speaker dealt with facts and figures, all of which proved the Government's inefficiency and inability to carry on.

Case of Immigration. The Immigration policy was taken up, and it was shown that nothing had been done to bring settlers here. The activities of E. S. Carter, the man of many titles, were referred to. If the Government goes on, Mr. Carter would have a job, and all could understand why he was such a hustler today.

Mr. Dickson Speaks. Mr. Dickson said he had very little to add to what Mr. Murray had said. Later on he proposed to discuss with them, more in detail, the issues of the campaign. He thought those present were familiar with the miserable administration being given. "You are needed on the farm, to-day, and I do not wish to detain you. You have sacrificed farm duties to come here. These questions confronting us will be thrashed out in the next few days, and our position on them cannot be contradicted. The Government has railroaded everything through, and the time has come for a showdown. The state throwing the province to the dogs, and now is the time to step in and save it. That is our work. I shall do my best to further the interests of the country when the Opposition comes into power."

Great Reception. The last speaker, Geo. B. Jones, was given a most hearty reception. The applause greeting him was long and loud and left no doubt as to his standing in the hearts of the people. He briefly reviewed the efforts of the Government "to get him," and of the various tricks and crooked methods employed to injure his reputation and character. He said he was glad to come back and await the verdict of those who knew him best and among whom he had gone in and out for years. He thanked all who had honored him and said he had no extended remarks to make. He was sorry there were only ten days in which to conduct the campaign, but that every parish would be visited and the issues of the day honestly and fearlessly discussed. "We shall show," said Mr. Jones, "where the Government has been a failure. The Government was declared the business man's Government. You would not conduct your business as the Government business has been conducted by the Foster-Veniot-Carter Company. Their extravagances are enormous and have brought us to the brink of bankruptcy. One has but to view the scenes along some of the highways and see about forty foremen watching as many men shovelling dirt. The waste of monies in the Public Works Department are enough to congeal one's blood."

Mr. Jones went exhaustively into the straggling rate question, showing it to be the one supreme source of revenue. It is the source from which great revenues should come, but the Government has not the courage to raise the rate because the lumbermen have a stranglehold on them.

Mr. Jones went into other of the department, reviewing briefly their shortcomings and promising to tell more on the stump.

He was again cheered as he took his seat. The work of organization was then taken up.

FARMER RANKS SOLID AGAINST LIBERAL PARTY

Rural Residents Like Class of Candidates and Policy of the Opposition.

Special to The Standard. Hampton, Sept. 24.—Politics is the chief topic of discussion here today. With a Government convention Thursday and an Opposition convention today there has been plenty of opinion and expression over things political to start discussion.

The convention today brought out many farmers who are apparently aroused over the reckless extravagance practised by the government, and seem to think the time has come to make a change. One of them expressed himself freely to The Standard representative after today's convention.

He said: "I am a believer in the Farmers' party in so far as it helps the farmer to get rid of the middlemen and helps us to deliver our goods direct to consumer. That is the chief function of the organization. It cannot be effective as a political organization. Many of us here are opposed to entering the political field. When we do that our usefulness as an organization is gone."

Against Present Government. "We are, as a class, solidly opposed to the present administration in the province. We realize its incompetency, and its utter disregard of the people's rights. I and many others are determined to register our disapproval of their methods, and cast our ballots for the Opposition ticket. I have therefore been a Liberal in politics, but I cannot endorse the administration now at Fredericton, and I know I voice the opinion of hundreds of others in this county. By going with the Opposition I feel we can accomplish much and that is why I take this position."

Likes the Candidates. He expressed himself as well pleased with the candidates put in nomination, saying they were men who had always acted fearlessly for what they believed was right. They are worthy of any man's support, he said, and would surely be elected.

Police Constable Thomas, deskman at the Central Police Station leaves tomorrow for Grand Falls where he will spend his vacation the guest of his daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. J. D. B. MacKenzie of Chatham is at the Royal.

One of the motor parties to arrive in the city yesterday consisted of Mrs. John White, Amherst, Mrs. E. O. McSweeney, London, England, Mrs. E. A. McSweeney, Moncton, Miss White and Miss Helen White, Amherst.

THE BIRDS OF PARADISE

Will Be Very Busy This September!

It is now that the serious minded young couples' thoughts turn to a happy home. And home is just what you make it. If home is properly furnished it will breed congeniality, while a shabby or poorly furnished house drives men to clubs or other places of amusement.

Let us help you select furnishings that will make your home a palace of happiness, no matter how much or how little you plan to spend. We have the best selected stock of fine and medium priced furniture in St. John, and therefore best prepared to furnish your home in the way it should be furnished to bring lasting happiness. Don't make the mistake so many young couples make in starting out in life—Built for permanent happiness through the home.

NO WORK IN TORONTO FOR 5,000 EX-SOLDIERS

Toronto, Sept. 24.—A soldier's employment bureau, manned by ex-servicemen, is wanted by the G. W. V. A. in this city, and approaches were made to Premier Drury and Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister of Labor, here this afternoon by representatives of the District Command G. W. V. A. There is dissatisfaction among the returned men because of an announcement by the provincial labor bureau that ex-soldiers, could get employment if they would go outside of the city. The ministers were informed by the delegation that there were 5,000 returned men out of work here.

SEAMEN ACCEPT TEN DOLLAR RAISE

Port Arthur, Sept. 24.—The striking seamen today accepted the offer of the Canada Steamship Lines of a ten dollar a month increase in wages and no recognition of the seamen's union. This was the decision arrived at after a number of the strikers had interviewed the officials of the steamship company this morning. The original demands were for an increase of twenty dollars a month all around. The steamers Haggarty, Matthews and Sarlian will leave for the east tonight, together with the Northern Navigation steamer Harmonic, which has been swinging at anchor in the harbor since late yesterday afternoon.

B. C. LUMBERMEN WANT NO CHANGE IN TARIFF LAW

Commission is Told That Annual Pay Roll of $39,000,000 in Province at Stake.

PROTECTION GIVES BETTER COTTONS

Only One Friend of Free Trade Appeared to Warn Ministers of Dangers of Protection.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 24—Before the Dominion Tariff Commission, lumber manufacturers of British Columbia this morning presented their case for a retention of the present customs duty, which affords protection on thirty per cent. of the manufactured product of the mills of the province.

James D. McCormack, vice-president of the British Columbia Lumber Manufacturers' Association, said the annual payroll of the lumber industry in the province amounted to over $39,000,000, and that 28,000 men were employed, and urged that the present protection afforded by the tariff be maintained. He expressed the opinion that protection should be extended to cover grades of lumber not now protected and then reviewed the competition of United States mills, met with by British Columbia manufacturers. Mr. McCormack, in answer to the chairman, declared that western farmers were under a misapprehension when they thought they could not get lumber from British Columbia. There is no scarcity of demand in some markets.

No Unfair Treatment

Mr. McCormack affirmed that there was plenty of lumber in the hands of retail lumbermen in the Western Provinces, and intimated that British Columbia manufacturers are not shipping lumber to the United States in preference to the Middle West market.

Cotton Trade Better

H. A. Stone, chairman of the Dry Goods section of the Board of Trade, in submitting samples and prices of cotton goods, informed the commissioners that during the last two or three years, Canadian cotton manufacturing firms had supplied the trade with an article of superior grade and at lower prices than foreign made cotton goods.

John Robertson, Vancouver, announced himself as a free-trader, contending high customs tariffs led to friction between nations and the up-keep of navies and armies.

F. Arnold, of Chilliwack, representing Fraser Valley apple growers, asked that no change be made in the present customs duty on apples.

Preparing in Montreal

Montreal, Sept. 24—Plans are being made by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here to present to the tariff commission, when it arrives here about the end of October, a full and carefully prepared thesis for every branch of trade, the most comprehensive and exact that the commission has received anywhere in Canada. The preservation of the status quo will be the slogan of manufacturers here.

EXTEND SUMMER TIME

London, Sept. 24—The government has decided to extend the operation of summer or daylight saving time until October 2.

SEATTLE HAS FLEET OF 139 STEAMERS

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)

Seattle, Sept. 24—A fleet of 134 ocean carriers totalling 1,003,200 weight tons in cargo capacity and manned by crews totalling more than 8,000 men, is operating from Seattle on the trade lanes of the seven seas. This fleet is more than double the number of ships in service here in 1914, and the cargo capacity also is double that of six years ago. In August, 1914, the overseas lines numbered 11, today they total 24, and this fleet of Seattle is to have for the first time in its history a direct line of American-owned passenger steamships between this part and the Orient.

How Will Labor Vote?

Labor is torn by conflicting feelings as it prepares to vote in the approaching Presidential election, if we may judge by the papers that claim to speak for it. It is told by Mr. Gompers that Mr. Cox is labor's true friend; it is told by Republican leaders that Harding's election will mean prosperity and the "full dinner-pail," and is assured by more radical advisers that Debs or Christensen is the only true apostle of freedom. Any one who can poll all or even a large part of the labor vote would, of course, win hands down, but how the worker will vote after all this contrary advice nobody seems to know. No one, at least, is predicting the election of Christensen or Debs, so the choice narrows down to the two journalists from Ohio. An interesting omission is the absence of any appeal to the workers to vote for this or that candidate to restore the workman's beer.

Telegrams sent by THE LITERARY DIGEST to the Labor press, for light on the probable complexion of labor's vote this year, bring replies that give an impression of cross currents and confusion. However, at this stage of the campaign, it is undoubtedly the only line that the public can get upon the probable attitude of organized labor in the coming election.

The leading article in THE DIGEST this week, September 25th, presents the subject in an interesting and comprehensive form. It will be read with interest by hundreds of thousands of men and women.

THE INEVITABLE HAS HAPPENED

The Provincial Government having gone the limit in its extravagant expenditures, and compelled by dissention among its own members, has decided, before the worst becomes known, to ask the people of this Province to endorse its programme of the last three years.

In the year 1919, according to the report of the Minister of Public Works, more than $2,000,000.00 was spent on the roads of this Province.

Have You Got Value for Your Money?

On the By-Roads of New Brunswick can you find any evidence to justify such expenditure?

A judicious expenditure of our public money should have produced all that we now have and also provided a substantial sum for repairs to our by-roads.

One of them skirts the south shore of Cuban elongated submarine valley.

IRELAND'S REAL MENACE NOW IS CIVIL WARFARE

Hatred of British Insignificant to Breach Between North and South.

By C. H. BRETHERTON. (Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger)

Paris, Sept. 24.—For the last week Dublin has been in a peace that passes journalistic understanding. An expectant quiescence pervades Sackville street. "Sharrup" the convicted cent tank tetcher in Castle yard, wears an expression of ineffable boredom. Even the Irish bullfinch seems to have lost its dash. Its propagandist crows utter a note that looks about as soft as the footsteps of a kitten in a snowdrift. What has brought this about? This quietude? Do not think it is more than a whispur from the remote woods of innocuous desuetude. The martyrdom of Mayor MacSwiney, blown to bits by the punctual explosion and by the punctual belows of Sinn Fein propagandists and the uneasy lungs of gun-slinging Unlones, has lost its sting as well as its victory.

Water is Motionless. The water would be motionless and the absolute silence unbroken by any sound of the sea. To add to the unpleasantness, the cold would be severe. For the temperature at such depths never exceeds 40 degrees. The water, cooled at the poles spreads over the sea-floor even to the tropic. The darkness can literally be felt; for the pressure in the depths is tremendous—several tons to the square inch. If you were exposed to it, you would be instantly crushed to a jelly. But the fishes and other animals dwelling there have bodies adapted to bear such water (even their bones being soft and cartilaginous) that they experience no inconvenience. When captured and drawn to the surface, they are apt to burst open, owing to the sudden removal of the pressure.

THE OPPOSITION CAMPAIGN.

From the amount of attention that the press supporting the Government has devoted to the prospects of the Opposition in the present campaign, it is evident that they do not like the outlook. "There is a reason." It is a recognized fact that all old campaigners will testify to, that before every election there is always perceptible a certain undercurrent of feeling, from which the probable results can be pretty accurately judged. In 1896 it was felt that the Laurier party was in a bad way, and the same feeling was apparent in each succeeding year till 1914, when the general impression was that it would be ousted. In 1908, although the Hon. Provincial Government partly felt themselves safe, public opinion indicated that the time had come for change, and a change there was. In 1912 it was felt that the Provincial Opposition had no chance at all, and the result of the polling bore this out very emphatically. In 1917 the feeling in the province was about equally divided, and the results again proved the accuracy of the forecast. This time there is an unmistakable feeling abroad that the Foster Administration is doomed. It is to be met with in every part of the province. Mr. Foster and his colleagues are being measured by the public according to the standard they themselves set, and are being found wanting. A careful and exhaustive analysis of public opinion in the different constituencies indicates that the followers of Mr. Foster in the next Legislature will not exceed seventeen in number, the other thirty-one seats being divided between the Opposition and the Farmers, with labor perhaps claiming a couple. It is no wonder that the Premier and his friends are looking worried, and that his newspapers are decrying the Opposition chances. They know what the Government is "up against," and that the outlook is serious for them. Some of their oldest supporters are taking cover and will not be found running again. Dr. Smith, Mr. Sweeney and Mr. Lorne, of Westmorland, all gone; Mr. Dugal, from Madawaska, likewise; Mr. Robert Murray refused nomination in Northumberland, where the Government party dare not call a convention, because if they did they would be compelled to nominate him, which they are determined not to do. Mr. Currie, of Restigouche, Premier Foster's choice for Speaker, will not pass the muster again; and tried men in Albert refuse to come out, and so it goes. Every straw is showing which way the wind blows, and it is not blowing in a direction to suit the Government.

SOME FOSTER GOVERNMENT PRINCIPLES.

Constitutional Government as generally understood by the Foster Administration seems to consist of keeping seats in the Legislature which would in all probability be occupied by members politically opposed to them, empty, and filling those that would likely be occupied by members of their own party as soon as possible after a vacancy has occurred. For four sessions the County of Carleton was deprived of one-third of its proper representation, because the Government knew that if they made any attempt to fill it, a supporter of the Opposition would undoubtedly be returned. But as soon as Mr. Robert's seat became vacant, through his acceptance of a ministerial portfolio, a by-election was called without delay to give him his seat again. The denial of its proper representation to Carleton County is about as small a piece of business as it was possible for Premier Foster to be guilty of, and he lost the opportunity of his life to show that he could be a big man politically if occasion arose. The electors of Carleton will probably remember this little incident as a-forethought from today.

Then again there is the manner in which they have dealt with the voters' lists. These are prepared at the public expense, and should be as free and available to all parties alike. But when they came to be prepared for by the Opposition managers, it was found that there was not a single copy available for any one but Government agents, and the consequent result is that the Opposition party at their own expense have been compelled to have copies made by typewriter before their workers have been able to do anything at all. If this sort of business is in accord with Liberal principles, Liberalism must have changed very materially in recent times.

Liberalism as it is known and acted upon in England has been responsible for practically all the ills which afflict the franchise. In this province when the Opposition proposed to extend the franchise to women the Foster Government was the notable. The market ment's brand of Liberalism opposed it tooth and nail; and only when public opinion proved too strong for them to resist any longer, did they bring in a bill to give women votes. Perhaps they cannot be blamed for not wanting the women to vote, for it is the women who are going to put them out of power. The women want the importation of liquor into the province stopped; the Government refused to stop it, and the women are not forgetting this.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

Canadian Labor as an organized element of the community is well removed from ultra-radicalism, and anarchism finds very few sympathizers within its ranks. The dangerous doctrines that have penetrated to a varying extent the Labor bodies of other countries have not attracted any considerable sections of Canadian Labor. Those who, from observing Labor tendencies in the Old Country and elsewhere, may be inclined to fear that orderly government and established institutions in Canada require protection from Canadian Labor will find reassurance by following the policies and sentiments of the main Labor organizations.

Various questions were before the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress at Windsor last week which would have given extremists a chance to assert themselves had they been present in any force. But there were few of them, and what few efforts they did make received discouraging receptions. The proceedings of the Congress were reported closely by the press services, and there was little if anything in the reports to prejudice Labor in the eyes of the public. It was not possible for conservative people to agree with the course of the Congress on all questions, but that is never to be expected, but any who looked to find the convention flirting with One Big Union policies or communist doctrines were disappointed. On the other hand, there was more than a little evidence of the direct opposite of a class-selfish sentiment on one or two occasions during the debates on resolutions. The conservatism which prevails was illustrated by the lack of sympathy shown for the ill-considered proposal that the Trades and Labor Congress should depart from its established functions to enter politics. It was wisely determined that the Congress was not a political organization.

The Windsor convention was fairly representative of Canadian Labor. It showed Canadian Labor organizations to be sober, disciplined, foresighted, and even conservative in comparison with Labor movements in other lands.

"MILKING THE LIQUOR DEALERS."

The Times in one of its usual silly articles, makes the statement that "The new leader is much troubled over the Government's attitude on Prohibition, but it was during the old Government's regime that the liquor dealers were milked so handsomely." The less The Times say about "milking the liquor dealers" the better for its own cause. If it wants a story about milking the liquor dealers that will be found very interesting, there is one to hand. It is a pretty story, and shows some masterpieces of manipulation that put the timber limit incident into the shade. The Times may or may not be sufficiently trusted to be "in the know," but a gentleman very near to Government circles, who had charge of the "Kitty," can give it all the information it needs. The late Government enacted the Prohibitory law, which put the liquor dealers out of business. The latter would be likely to contribute funds to that Government under the circumstances, would they not? What has been the present administration's attitude towards Prohibition? When the test came, they took care to split even, and Mr. Robinson sat on the fence ready to drop down on whichever side circumstances should later indicate would be most advantageous. Why did they do it? The gentleman who had charge of the "Kitty" could perhaps give some information.

A DROP IN CARS.

The reduction in the price of Ford motor cars has been a sensation in the automobile world. The extent of the reduction, and the aggressive campaign it forecasts, have exceedingly important bearings on the making of cars. The Ford Company may be able to take off one-third, and yet pay the employees the usual wage, but if other companies making low-priced cars follow the lead, and the companies making higher-priced cars have to keep in line, the changes in the automobile industry before next year will be notable. The market for new cars, as a whole, has fallen away considerably. Some companies have large orders on hand, and propose keeping up their programs, but others have felt the slump considerably. This is only to be expected, because with gasoline so high, the initial cost of cars so high, and the increasing cost of demands for luxuries—the cost of a winner's heating is sufficient to shut off many luxuries—the absorptive capacity of the United States and Canada could not continue at two and a half million cars per annum. There are now in use one car for every three or four families, or nearly seven million altogether. Some automobile manufacturers claim that the saturation point cannot be reached, unless there are about thirty million cars on this Continent. That would be one for every family, and two or three for every. That talk is foolish. The cost of operating a car, allowing for depreciation, is $400 or $500 a year, at the very least, and the man with a growing family, in those days of enormous housing costs, clothing and food supplies, usually finds better use for the money. The sharp reduction in the price of the Ford recognizes the new conditions, and may be a lesson to other large producers. All sorts of commodities are being artificially held up in price to enable holders to liquidate without loss, before cheaper goods come along and compel reductions.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Those Brave Leaders.
 (Kitchener Record.)
 The elections in the Maritime Provinces were fought without the assistance of either Mr. King or Mr. Crevar.

Fine Business.
 (Hamilton Herald, Ind.)
 Board of Commerce is denounced by the Farmers' Sun for raising freight rates and also for questioning the right of milk producers to boost the price of milk. What the Sun should do is to start an agitation in favor of a law providing that none but farmers shall be allowed to demand more for things that people want to buy.

Ugly Villages.
 (Toronto Globe.)
 A discussion of the ugliness of Canadian village and small-town buildings may do a lot of good. There is plenty of room for improvement. But to pretend that there is beauty in British village buildings as a general rule is ridiculous. There is nothing uglier anywhere than the mining villages of the South of England and the South of Scotland.

A Sound Position.
 (Guelph Herald.)
 No fault can be found with the position adopted by Hon. Arthur Meighen on the tariff question, when he declares that he is in favor of such a degree of protection as will enable the countries industries to be successful, but that would not unduly enrich them at the expense of the Canadian people.

If the opponents of the Ottawa Government have any better proposal with regard to the tariff than that proposed by Premier Meighen they should come out with it. (Canadian generally cannot see where anything more reasonable can be suggested.)

The Individualists.
 (New York Globe.)
 If revolution ever comes in this country it will be over some tangible grievance, like the tax on tea or the slavery traffic, not for a general and comprehensive scheme to make the world better. We are not a revolting people. We care a lot about what hurts us, but we do not really care much about theories and institutions, except as they affect us particularly. We may talk for or against the constitution or the single tax, but what we really care about is whether or not the world treats us right according to the rules of the game that actually prevail.

A Poor Argument.

The usual crowd of loungers was standing around watching the process of execution for the new building. As the great steam shovel bit into the bank and then rose with its half cartload of earth, one of the onlookers remarked: "It makes me wild, looking at that thing taking the head out of good men's mouths. Why, it's filling up those wagons faster than a hundred men with picks and shovels could do it."
 "Shucks!" exclaimed another onlooker. "What kind of a fool argument is that? If it would be better to employ a hundred men with picks and shovels, why wouldn't it be better still, by your way of thinking, to employ a thousand men with forks and teaspoons?"

Benny's Note Book

Me and Mary Watkins was setting on her front steps and we started to have a argument, her starting it by saying, "Which do you think is the best, Nazimover or Charlie Chaplin?"
 Charlie Chaplin of course, I said, Charlie Chaplin is away better than Nazimover.
 Why, Benny Potts, I think you're perfectly horrid saying that, I think Nazimover is much, much better than Charlie Chaplin, Nazimover is a grate actress, and Mary Watkins.
 So in Charlie Chaplin, look how funny he is, he's away funnier than Nazimover, I said.
 Of course he is, because Nazimover inrent supposed to be funny, she's serious, she's much seriouser than Charlie Chaplin, and Mary Watkins.
 Certenly she is, Charlie Chaplin aint supposed to be serious, G. wizz, holy anowka, Charlie Chaplin is away better than Nazimover, I said.
 Q. is she? Very well, then good by, and Mary Watkins. And she quick got up and started to walk in the house proud, me quick saying, "No he aint, no he aint, I take it back, Nazimover is away better than Charlie Chaplin, she's as funny as every thing, she's funnier than anything, and rather see her than Charlie Chaplin any day."
 I accept your apology, why didnt you say so in the first place? and Mary Watkins, setting down agen.
 I didnt think of it, I said. And we started to talk about other different things such as the advantages of having long legs when you run and weather a middle name is any use.
 Proving its easy for a perl to win a argument weather she's rite or not.

BIG GAME MEAT OFFERED FOR SALE

Moose, Venison and Bear Selling in the City Market.

Moose, venison and bear meat were offered for sale in the City Market yesterday. Dealers state that venison is coming in quite as plentifully as in former years although the supply of moose meat is more limited. The moose and venison sold for forty-five cents a pound in steaks and forty in roasts. There are evidently not many epicures in the city as the bear meat went begging and was sold at from ten to fifteen cents per pound. The exodus of hunters to the woods, the lakes and rivers, may be noted each day by the pointers and setters going through the town in leathery coats. Ducks are plentiful and some good bags have been made. It is too early yet for geese, but neither bird may be sold, as pot hunting has been banned by law.

WEDDINGS.

Jones-Dickie.
The home of the Misses Dickie was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday morning, when, in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends, the Rev. H. H. Gyles, Rector of Cambridge, and in marriage Miss Gladys Burley Dickie, daughter of the late John W. Dickie, and Maggie E. Jones, of Gagetown, and Charles Harold Jones, of Cambridge. The ceremony, which took place in the large double parlors, was a simple but beautifully arranged one, the rooms being decorated with white and rose-colored asters and asparagus fern, and the mantel, in front of which the ceremony took place, was banked with hydrangeas, asters and ferns.

At 11 o'clock the bride entered on the arm of her brother, Edward A. Dickie, of St. John, by whom she was given away. She wore a charming gown of white crepe de chene, with bodice of shadow lace, and carried a sheaf of pale pink chrysanthemums. Little Misses Mary and Marjorie Belyea were flower-girls and carried baskets of rose-colored snapdragon and asparagus fern. Miss Grace Gilbert rendered the bridal chorus from Lohengrin at the beginning of the ceremony and as the bridal party left the room, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served, after which the happy couple left by the express for a wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec, the bride wearing a tattered suit of navy blue serge, with dark red velvet hat trimmed with white, and a veil cape. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside at Gagetown. Many handsome and useful gifts in silver, cut glass, china and linen, as well as a large number of cheques, were received. The groom's presents to the bride was a cheque, and to the little flower girls, pretty pearl and sapphire pendants. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jones of Cambridge, Miss S. A. Jones of Ottawa, and Edward A. Dickie of St. John. Keith-Bourne.

A quiet wedding took place at the Rectory, Petikodiac, on Wednesday, September 22nd, when Miss F. Gertrude Bourne, of Petikodiac, and Mr. Elmer F. Keith, of Moncton, and formerly of Corn Hill, were the contracting parties. The Rev. G. Mason performed the ceremony. Only immediate relatives attended, the bride's brother, Evans and his wife being chief witnesses. Another brother, Hugh, gave the bride away. The couple left on the afternoon train for Moncton where they will in future make their home. Mr. Keith having taken up business there. The groom is a returned soldier, and served three years in the great war. A large circle of friends here wish them a very happy and prosperous married life.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

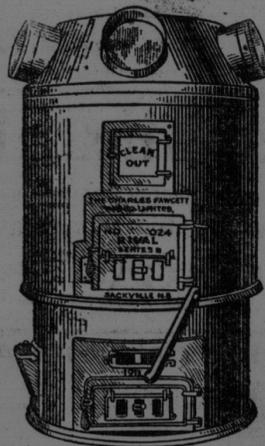

New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite, you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches, and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can properly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to nervous illness. They know the difference between good red blood makes in the system of womanly health, and the listlessness, every grasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicines or by mail, postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EVERYTHING DOWN SEVERAL POINTS ON MONTREAL MARKET

Biggest Smash is 8 1/2 Points on Waygamack But Asbestos is 6 1/2 Lower.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—The reactionary price movement started on the local stock exchange this week, gained momentum today when an urgent selling loss of from fractions to 8 1/2 points were experienced. At closing not a single issue dealt in was able to register a net gain although several finished unchanged. The slump is attributed to the price cutting war that is now existing and also to the utter lack of money for fresh market commitments.

The paper stocks led in the decline. Brompton recoiled to 77 1/2 and closed a fraction higher, down 3 3/4 points. Abitibi lost 2 points by closing 125 1/2. Spanish preferred was down 2 points at 124 and the common was off 1 1/2 at 120. Riordan declined 2 to 2 1/2 and Laurentide was offered down to 1 1/2, losing a point. Waygamack slumped 5 1/2 points to 155 in a moderate aggregate of dealings.

Asbestos followed suit. Asbestos preferred receded 5 1/2 points to par with the common off 2 points at 35. Atlantic Sugar common dropped to 133, three points down. Steel of Canada was one of the weakest features of the list sagging over a point to 65 3/8 in the last transaction, after touching 65, a new low for the year. Dominion Steel common also recorded a new low for 1920 by falling to 54, recovering a small fraction in the closing transaction. Breweries common was in some prominence through the day, opening at 64 1/2 and rising to 65 3/8, after which it receded to 62 3/4 and closed at the low, down 1 3/4 points from yesterday.

Total sales, were listed, 14,507; bonds $21,400.

COMMODITY PRICE CUTTING IS SENDING WALL STREET DOWN

Declines Registered in Steel, Coppers, Tobaccos, Leather and Paper on the Exchange

New York, Sept. 24.—Trading in stocks again today was influenced to an extraordinary extent by the campaign against commodity prices which are likely to be affected by the movement recorded further severe declines on lack of support.

The reaction was materially accelerated by heavy short selling, that element evidently on the assumption that lower price schedules necessary to forestall further reduction or suspension of dividends.

Price Cutting Hits Market. Liquidation or sales for the long account originated in large part, according to reports from Western and other remote sections of the country, where extensive price cutting of many leading staples is in full swing.

Stocks Carried Down. Steel, equipments, coppers, tobaccos, leather and paper issues were carried down in the general recession, losing one to almost five points, but rails were very irregular, some of the cheaper eastern, western and south western shares rising while others of the same groups fell back.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA (FRANCE)

PARIS—28 Rue du Quatre Septembre.

NEW OFFERING OF 8 PER CENT. STOCK

An exceptional opportunity to become a shareholder in one of Canada's most progressive and successful industries is afforded by the new offering of Allen Theatres, Ltd., 8 per cent. preferred stock.

1. Assets securing the Preferred Shares are valued at more than $7,500,000, or over three times the total amount of issue.

2. Earnings of the company for 1919 represented 18 per cent. on the Preferred Shares, and current fiscal year earnings are estimated at more than 28 per cent., or three and one-half times dividend requirements.

3. The management and control of the company is in the hands of Messrs. Jule and J. J. Allen, whose record of achievement and success is unsurpassed.

4. The craving for amusement comes first in the list of human wants and commercialised under efficient management, represents an industry of the most permanent type.

Probably no business is less affected through through labor conditions or hard times; it thrives amidst chaos and prosperity, and is still in the development stage. When one considers that in a comparatively short period of time this industry has become the 16th greatest in the world, one cannot help but appreciate its future possibilities.

An investment in the 8 per cent. Preferred Shares of Allen Theatres, Ltd. made now in the infancy of this company, and carrying a substantial free bonus of common stock, will likely prove more than ordinarily profitable. We have purchased this security for our own account and after most careful investigation, and for those having funds available, or in anticipation, we recommend these shares for investment.

FOR WOMEN

A MUSEMENTS

Bright Trimming On Street Dresses

Skirts Are Narrow and Long—Low Girdles Popular—Short Sleeves for Dancing.

The new winter models in street and afternoon dresses show the straight silhouette, which is so popular with many women with the low waistline. Skirts are still slightly narrow, but are a little longer and the sleeves are invariably short. Girdles worn around the hips are also in favor. Materials are mostly dull, faced with very bright trimmings. For the street, dull-colored materials are earnest black being worn extensively in Paris.

The tailored street dress is straight, low-waisted and is made of drapery or drapery in dull material with bright trimming at the neck and hips. The afternoon frocks are almost invariably of some soft material such as chambray or tulle, and follow the straight, dull-colored materials are earnest black being worn extensively in Paris.

Black is being worn extensively in Paris, but on this side, brown, rust and other warm shades are favored. Copper, beige and brown are worn a great deal in hats, which frequently harmonize with the trimming on a dress. Black, turquoise, saffron, green and navy will be used in evening clothes. In materials, velvet is preferred to tulle for early fall for both frocks and wraps. Fur and other dull surfaced materials will be used for both dresses and suits, especially for one-piece dresses, which are worn nowadays under a fur coat, make a very good-looking costume. Dresses and hats, are often made of the same material.

Still slightly narrow, skirts will be a trifle longer, although women here have never worn skirts quite as short as their French sisters. Sleeves will also be longer in general, but many short sleeved afternoon dresses will be worn for dancing. Long velvet hats worn with these frocks will be very smart, and have given way to the beloved small turban which has been so much in evidence during the past few years. The large hats are also made of drapery and tulle, sometimes trimmed with feathers or with flowers of an unusual material. Although small hats are passing, small feather toques will be popular.

The high collar is making a strong bid for favor and it has been accepted by some of the smartly dressed women. It is no longer made each ear, as in former days, but lies softly around the throat.

Vacation is Over.

Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged.

The little girl that a short time ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red, you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already had something of the appearance of health.

Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may prevent much serious trouble. No other is so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation. It aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Equally good as a medicinal preparation are Hood's Pills, which are so well adapted for both children and adults. In small doses they are a gentle laxative, in larger doses an active cathartic.

Canadian Women's Hostel Committee

Executive Took up Matters in Connection With the Annual Meeting.

An interesting meeting of the executive of the Canadian Women's Hostel Committee was held last evening at the Hostel, British street. The President, Mrs. H. A. Powell, presided and matters in connection with the annual meeting to be held shortly were discussed. At this meeting a report of the work accomplished in St. John will be made. The account will be a very complete one as, on its being approved by members at the annual meeting, it will be forwarded to Ottawa where it will be presented to the Canadian Council of Immigration of Women for Household Service.

The annual meeting of this council is to take place in Ottawa on October 6th, when Mrs. H. Lawrence, provincial representative will attend. It will be a surprise to many persons to learn how much splendid work has been accomplished by the Hostel at St. John, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of members. Officers and delegates at the annual meeting of the committee will be elected from the various organizations which form the Hostel Committee.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—Arthur Elreuant, notary and former member of parliament, recently acquitted on a charge of conspiracy, but incarcerated on an indictment for obtaining money under false pretences, was granted bail yesterday afternoon by Judge Bazin. Bail, in the form of mortgages to the amount of $20,000, was furnished by Dr. Georges Piche, 287 St. Denis street. The case will be heard at the next session of the King's bench court, criminal division.

AS A WOMAN THINKETH

By HELEN ROWLAND

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

If the good fairies should grant the average girl just one wish, in all the world.

She would wish for a retrouse nose—a cute little turned-up bit of a baby nose!

At least, she would, if she were WISE. Did you ever stop to think what a girl with that kind of a nose can get away with?

Whew! That philosopher, who says that a woman can be judged by her nose, doesn't know the half of it!

A horse-race isn't the only thing that is "won by a nose"—most husbands are won that way.

A woman's fate, figuratively speaking, hangs on her profile—and the girl with a "classic nose" starts with a terrible handicap.

Mine's "classic"—and I know what I'm talking about! The dear little thing of forty summers with a turned-up nose, can wear girly-girly skirts that stop just below her knees, and a bathing-suit that ends just as you thought it had started.

And everybody will say, "How cute!"

But if any other woman did that sort of thing, the angels, themselves would be moved to tears—or laughter.

SHE can fluff around in a baby-blue slip-over with shorty-short sleeves, and a big, baby-blue picture hat or a naughty little "tam"—

But the "stately, classic-nosed" girl must go in for clinging black or stiff tailor-mades, or mauve draperies and "mystery."

The retrouse-nosed woman can skip into a room—but the rest of us must "sift" in.

She can babble the stupidest inanities, and pass for "clever"—but we must say something brilliant or scintillating, in order to get any man to listen to us.

SHE can laugh at a man's silliest jokes and giggle at his puns—but we must merely smile and look "intelligent."

She can chatter babytalk to every man she meets—but if a "class-ic-nosed" woman merely gazes up at a man and tries to "coo."

All the rest of the women hastily snatch him away and whisper "Vampi!"

In short, the only thing that a girl with anything but a tip-tilled nose, CAN do, is to be "dignified!"

And "ladylike!"

Oh, well!

Those "classic beauties," that the poets rave about, and the sculptors have immortalized, MAY have been ravishing.

But they missed half the joy in life!

If Venus really resembled her statues, it's no wonder that she never got anything but a tame blacksmith for a husband.

And, no matter what History says, I'm willing to wager my last drop of scented talcum, that Helen of Troy and Delilah and Cleopatra were born with half-partion noses and a baby-stare.

And as for ME!

I'd rather be snub-nosed and "cute"—than the prize-beauty at an artists' ball!

Because, every woman spends her whole life living up—or down—to her nose.

And it's SO much easier to live down to a "jag," than to live up to a "Greek!"

But then,

Did you ever know a woman who was perfectly satisfied with her NOSE?

I never did!

by the director and a physician are to be required of each pupil in order that her work may be properly directed.

The classes to be held will include senior school girls, business girls beginners, senior advanced, ladies' morning class, special C. G. I. T. classes, Juniors from 8 to 10 years of age, babies 8 years and under.

Winter Activities. The list of winter activities as given to the meeting yesterday contains the following entertainments: A fall rally in October; Halloween party in November; Christmas party in December; Valentine party in February; Irish frolic in March, and a gymnasium exhibition in May.

Miss Littlefield intends to invite girls to join the clubs formed and to tell them of the following advantages in which they may share—Parties, hikes, picnics, practical talks, Bible studies and educational classes. As outlined by the secretary the purpose of the organization is to promote the spiritual, social, intellectual and physical well-being of the girls and thus make the Y. W. C. A. in co-operation with the churches a social factor in the extension of God's kingdom.

Arrangements in connection with the campaign for funds to be undertaken shortly by a committee were completed yesterday afternoon by the directors.

WHERE THEY ARE.

Madge Bellamy, who has just arrived from New York, where she supported William Gillette in "Dear Brutus," will be leading woman for Douglas MacLean in "One Minute."

James Kirkwood, Marcia Manon and Helen Jerome Eddy play the principal roles in Allan Dwan's picture, "The Forbidden Thing."

"The Flame in the Dark" is the working title of Mary Pickford's new play, begun this week at Brunton, from an original story by Frances Marion, who will also direct.

Director Scott Emami has begun production on the Frank L. Packard story, "The Iron Rider," with William Russell as star, at the Fox plant.

Lila Lee plays an important role in "Easy Street," a famous Players-Lasker production starring Thomas Meighan.

Victor Schertzinger has begun work on "The Concert" at Goldwyn, with Lewis S. Stone, Myrtle Stedman, Raymond Hatton, Gertrude Aster and Frances Hall in the cast.

House Peters and Florence Vidor will play the leading roles in an ince special called "The Magic Life," to be directed by John Gray Wherry.

Scott Owen plays the leading role in "Lavender and Old Lace," the Myrtle Reed novel that is being filmed by the Rencoc Film Company.

Benito Barriosolo has completed her newest production, "The Broken Gate," for release by Robertson-Cole.

Annual Meeting At Lower Millstream

United Baptist Women's Missionary Aid Societies of the New Brunswick Assn.

The annual meeting of the Women's M. A. Societies of the United Baptist church of the N. B. Association convened with the Lower Millstream, Kings County church, Sunday, September 18th. The morning session was devoted to reports from delegates, and the annual report of the corresponding secretary, Miss Agusta Slipp.

Mrs. D. J. MacPherson, Sussex, presided at the afternoon session in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. G. Clarke, Fredericton. Devotional exercises by Mrs. J. M. Johnston, Hampton, and Mrs. Eveleigh, Sussex, Miss Flora Clarke of Viasanagram, India, returned missionary, in a very eloquent and thrilling address, outlined her work among the native preachers and teachers on the field. The great need was ten missionary families and twenty lady missionaries. An address on the Canadian Branch of the "World Wide Guild" was given by Mrs. Nesbitt, Sussex. A hearty welcome was extended to Rev. Mr. Glendenning, returned missionary of India. Delegates from St. John: Mrs. T. N. Robinson, Miss Alice E. Esay, Miss Fullerton, Miss Hamilton. The officers of the association were re-elected.

SMASHES FURNITURE.

One of the most dramatic situations ever photographed for the screen is to be found in the film version of "Iris," Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's famous play, which Robertson-Cole will release shortly with Pauline Frederick as star. The scene comes late in the play when the villain ejects the heroine from the sumptuous apartment he has established for her in London. He then smashes all the costly furniture. Although the scene took place less than three minutes to photograph, Willard Louis, the villain, did his job so thoroughly that more than $3,000 worth of furniture was wrecked.

She'd Learned. The puppy had been punished and was sulking in a corner. To him came the small daughter of the house to administer, not comfort, but advice. "You may just as well be good first as last, Spot," she administered. "Everybody that belongs to mother has got to mind. I've been through it all and I know."

Pity the Poor Husband. Whow (engaging man servant)—Yes, I want a person who will do any kind of labor in or about the house—run errands, work in the garden—in short, a man who will immediately and without objections do what I tell him to do.

"Ah, lady, it isn't a servant you need. Only by marrying again will you find what you want."

Less Meat If Back And Kidneys Hurt
Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you.
Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.
The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder discomforts.
Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, they soothe aching kidney disease.

DANIEL
London House -:- Head of King Street

Society has returned from the country, and through the week, events for and informal have taken place, for the most part, in honor of brides-to-be and visitors within our gates. The summerlike days of late September are always suggestive of the out-of-door, and as in former years, picnic luncheons and dinners have been a favorite amusement, at the various charming lakeside club houses within easy distance of the city.

Mrs. Harold C. Schofield and Mrs. Helmer Vroman entertained a few friends at dinner at Bay's Lake on Saturday evening. After dinner bridge was enjoyed by the guests.

A number of ladies enjoyed an informal picnic luncheon at Grosseau Lake on Tuesday. Those present included Mrs. George K. McLeod, Mrs. Bosky, Mrs. Silvan Jones, Mrs. Helmer Vroman, Mrs. Walker Foster, Mrs. Leonard Shiley, Mrs. H. B. Robinson, Mrs. Sherwood Skinner, Mrs. Wilder, (Park, Ont.), Mrs. Philip Robinson, (Liverpool, N. S.), Mrs. P. E. Sayre, Mrs. A. W. Adams, Miss Sydney Smith and Miss Ethel Sydney Smith.

Mrs. Arthur W. Adams entertained at luncheon and bridge at the Golf Club on Monday in honor of Mrs. E. M. Adams of Calgary. Those present at luncheon were Mrs. Adams, Mrs. McCutney, Mrs. Rouse, Mrs. Helmer Vroman and Mrs. Alexander Fowler. After bridge and afternoon tea additional guests were Mrs. Malcolm MacKay, Mrs. Stewart Skinner, the Misses Sydney Smith, Mrs. F. E. Sayre, Mrs. C. W. deForest, Mrs. McLeod and Miss Yasky.

Miss Thomas Guy received for the first time since her marriage at her residence, 724 street, on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons this week. The artistically furnished drawing-rooms, like other parts of the house were bright with late summer flowers and ferns. HAVE BEAUTY WITHOUT EFFORT

Let Stuart's Calcium Waters do the Work to Rid Your Face of Pimples and Such Blemishes. In stead of those futile efforts of steaming the face, massage, creams, lotions, etc. that have brought only disappointment, suppose you leave it to the wonderful action of calcium. There is but one way to remove pimples, blackheads, and such blemishes—through the blood and skin. In Stuart's Calcium Waters, taken at meals, the wonderful calcium serves to supply the blood with one of the most remarkable actions known to science. This is its activity in keeping the tiny fibres that compose every such minute molecule as those which control the slightest change of complexion. It is this substance which acts upon the skin, keeps it healthy and drives away impurities. Get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Calcium Waters and enjoy their effects.

Home, Mrs. Claude Cassidy, Miss Greeney, Mrs. J. D. Marr, Mrs. Harold Coleman, Mrs. Henry McCullough, Mrs. Peters, Miss Travers, Miss Alice Fairweather, Miss Biederman, Miss Sarah Hayward, Miss Edith Shaw, Miss McCullough and the Misses Lynch.

Mr. and Mrs. Lake Appleby, of Fredericton, are spending a few days with friends here and at Upper Gagetown. Mrs. Harry Wesson and children are here from Magalloway Lake, visiting Mr. and Mrs. David Moore. The annual picnic for the scholars of St. John's Sunday school, which has been discontinued since early in the war, was held on Saturday afternoon. Owing to the disagreeable weather, the original plan of taking the children to Hart's Lake by auto had to be given up, and the affair was held on the school grounds. The young people took part in games and races, for which prizes were given, and despite the heavy rain, had a happy afternoon. At five, a beautiful supper was served in the Guild Hall, a feature which the children thoroughly enjoyed, and bags of candy and nuts, a generous donation to the affair, were distributed by Miss Peters. Those assisting Miss Peters, superintendent of the Sunday school, were Rev. H. T. Buckland, Mrs. Buckland, Miss Pearl Peters, Mrs. Wm. C. Belyea, Mrs. D. A. Adamson, Miss Molly Oty, Misses Geraldine Corey, Nellie McKinney, Marguerite McKenna. At the conclusion three cheers for Miss Peters and those who assisted, led by Mr. Buckland, were heartily given. During the past two weeks there has scarcely been a dry day, and the harvesting situation looks desperate along the river. Grain cut over two weeks ago, and a considerable quantity of hay is still on the ground, and much grain remains uncut. The ground is now so soaked with rain that it is as if it would never dry out, and the intervals between the rains are so few, as the water in the river has risen three feet since the rain began. Flooding some of the fields. From all districts complaints are heard about the bad effect of the weather on the potato crop.

Weekly Chat

Dear Citizens— How many of you boys and girls read the daily newspapers, and understand clearly what an election really means? This week we in St. John, Albert County and the people of Oromocto County in Nova Scotia, have passed through what are known as federal by-elections. Federal, of course, is the term applied to anything connected with the Dominion Government, while the word "Provincial" means something belonging to one or more provinces. And a by-election is just an incidental election which occurs when a vacancy in the Dominion at one time. Now these two federal by-elections were made necessary for this reason, that when a member of parliament in Ottawa or in a provincial legislature, who has been elected merely to represent his people without pay, accepts a position in the government, or the small body of executive ministers is called— and receives a salary in that position, he is compelled to secure from his country a vote of approval of his course. This is his own people must by their vote declare their willingness to have him continue to represent them for pay. Thus Mr. Wignam in St. John, Albert, and Mr. McArthur in Colebrook, who have recently become members of the federal government, and who have just been elected as ministers, are now legally entitled to accept salaries for work performed in their respective departments. It is just possible that next year we may have a federal election in a Dominion—general election. But for the present our interests centre in the Provincial general election, which has been fixed for Saturday, October 9th, two weeks from today. Members of our legislature are elected for terms not exceeding five years, but whether the full term shall be taken or elections called on at an earlier date, is the privilege of the prime minister or premier, who with the consent of his cabinet, may fix the date for such an election at the time which best suits his purposes. The present provincial legislature has another year to run, but the leader of the government has decided that it would be better to appeal to the people now, than to wait until next year when perhaps less favorable conditions might obtain. So on his request, the Lieutenant Governor of the province ordered the legislature dissolved, just as some of the old British kings had a habit of doing, but not in such an abrupt manner. And now, since this has been done, and we have no legal body in control of the affairs of New Brunswick, it becomes necessary to elect a new legislature. Meanwhile, until this is done, the Government carries on the business of the province, which is quite the proper thing. In this connection there will be several new features of interest. The farmers of New Brunswick are taking a more active part than ever before in political affairs and are endeavoring to elect their own representatives. So the temperance workers anxious to promote sobriety among our people by the aid of advanced legislation will be several. A powerful influence in most counties in some of the towns, labor, which works through its unions and has attained great power in certain districts, will demand recognition of its claims. The present government has been very largely supported by the Arcadian vote, but whether this will remain firm against the onslaught of farmers, labor, and temperance workers is a problem. In the present government, many differences of opinion have arisen in a few counties which may affect the result. On the opposition side there will perhaps be changes among the leaders and other changes among the candidates. In fact so much has happened during the past three or four years that it is difficult to judge how the new legislature will be made up. Which is all the more reason why the boys and girls of New Brunswick should closely watch the daily development of affairs. For without becoming politicians, all should know how the business of the country is carried on, how laws are made, where the money comes from and where it goes, who are members of the government, what they are doing to improve the lives of our people, and in short, know everything possible about our methods and work of government. The old members of the C. C. should read this over carefully and advise how they will then know many things which they have often heard about, but never understood. Our youngest friends will pardon our Chat this week for not being about something they are interested in, but their turn often comes. With love to all, UNCLE DICK.

Answers To Letters

FRIBD G.—Your letter was rather late to be answered in last week's issue, so hope you were not disappointed. Your trip to the woods must have been very interesting and what a lot of the forest folk you did see. They were probably not used to visitors and that would account for their fright. Enjoy your letter and hope to hear again soon.

CERTITUDE B.—What a very nice letter you are, your letter was most attractive. Hope your nice little dog is better, am sure he will be after the very kind care you gave him.

MILDRED L.—You will be a very busy girl next week with the apples to be gathered and the pickles to be made, but think of what a help you are in the preparations for winter time. The little pigs are quite pretty as that age, compared with the way they look after several months aren't they?

ANNIE E. O.—You are indeed very welcome to our Corner and we are pleased to count you among the new friends. Perhaps you can write more plainly next time and tell us more about yourself and your doings.

EDNA M. O.—I found your writing rather dull too, and hard to read, so hope you will use a softer pencil or ink next time you write. We are also very pleased to have you join our happy club and hope you continue to enjoy the C. C.

DAIREL S.—You are indeed a big strapper but it was glad to hear you have been having so many good times during the holidays. You will be able to study well after such a jolly holiday. Hope the boys and girls whose are starting will be a great success, and of course I shall be glad to help you in any way possible.

MAY F.—You are a very fortunate and lucky little girl I think, to have had such a lovely birthday party made for you and to get so many nice gifts. The rainy days will be easily spent with such a lot of new dolls to play with.

ISABEL B.—You must not feel discouraged over your new studies for it always takes a while to feel at home with the new subjects. Just try your best, and perhaps your teacher can explain some of the things you do not understand some day after school hours. I know you will do alright, so cheer up.

GEORGE M.—Too bad you have not been able to start your school work. Of course it is a busy time and a matter of getting ahead of Jack Frost before he does his mischief to the growing etables. I believe you could improve the writing during the long evenings anyway.

MARIE S.—You sent me a very neat little letter this week, but it wasn't quite long enough. You are well equipped with pets, aren't you and must have great fun playing with them. Write again.

WILBUR P.—Many thanks for the very nice scrap book you sent. It is splendid and must have cost a lot of your time well spent. Think of the pleasure though you will be able to give through it. Hope to get a letter too from you before very long.

BY GOLLY! I DON'T WANT TO HAVE LOTS OF GOOD LUCK FROM NOW ON!

WILBUR has a garden in the back of his house and early every morning and at night when he comes home from business he can be found hard at work there attending to the vegetables he's planted. This morning while he was at work with a he struck something and picking it up found it long and thin which is supposed to be a symbol of good luck. Follow both sets of dots and you'll see what Wilbur was using in the garden and also what it uncovered.

THE WESTMONT BOYS' CLUB STORIES

The Pool of Mystery

CHAPTER III
Jimmy Comes to Life.

Arriving at the pool late in the afternoon, the men commenced getting their equipment ready for dragging it, when a voice seemingly out of the air cried wrathfully, "Hey, what's the matter with you."

With a start the group looked toward the cliff.

"Jimmy" almost shrieked Larry, his eyes staring out of his head, "Why I thought you were drowned."

"Say, what do you call this anyway, a put up job?" one of the men exclaimed angrily, "I thought you said the kid was drowned."

"Why all of us boys saw him disappear under the water and he didn't come up again," Larry said helplessly. "I can't understand it."

Jimmy, for Jimmy it was, came up shivering slightly for the sun had now gone down, and he was eagerly plied with questions as to how he had managed to escape.

Seeing that he was not only cold but weak and faint, Clancy the policeman stepped forward, saying, "Here we'll let the story wait until we get the lad home." Then taking of his long uniform coat, he wrapped the boy in it, and carrying him in his arms, he started back to town, the others trailing after.

That night the boys turned their steps toward Jimmy's home, and finding him his old self again, they dragged him out on the porch, and made him tell his story.

"Well boys," Jimmy began disposing himself comfortably on the steps, "when I saw Tubby getting too close for comfort, I knew it was up to me to do something, so I took a header over the cliff as the best means of getting rid of him. I dove down as far as I could, and then started swimming under water for the other side of the pool. I swam along until it seemed I couldn't hold my breath any longer, and I began to wonder why I hadn't struck the face of the cliff on that side I started to come to the surface, when all of a sudden I received a hard bump on the head."

"Yes, yes, go on," urged Tubby Jimmy wound up, trying vainly to suppress a yawn.

Just then the screen door opened, and Mrs. Scott came out, her face showing only faint signs of the shock she had received that afternoon.

"You will have to excuse Jimmy now boys," she said, "I am going to send him off to bed, so he will be alright in the morning. He's still feeling the effects of what he went through this afternoon, and a good sleep will be the best thing for him."

After Jimmy had gone in the house the other boys moved to the gate.

"I say boys," declared Larry as he looked back at the house, "what do you say if we give Jimmy three cheers to send him to bed happy?"

These were given with a will, and the next minute the boys had disappeared around the corner.

(The End.)

HONORING THE WAR DOGS.

In the hedge-bordered, flower-decked cemetery for dogs and other pets at Harscocks, N. Y., where more than 2,000 animals, principally dogs, are laid away, it is proposed to erect a memorial to the American dogs that went to war and acquitted themselves with remarkable bravery in the army and relief service. It is fitting to pay recognition to the service rendered by the war dogs and to mark the courage and fidelity of the dumb partners of man into whatever service he calls them. Many a deed of heroism was done by them which, if done by men, would have merited the award of the D. S. O. medal.

It is announced that the proposed memorial is to stand in the center of the cemetery at Harscocks, which is now being enlarged, and is to consist of a tall obelisk rising out of a broad square base. On each side of the base will be a figure of a dog, standing on its hind legs, the back against the wall and its fore feet placed well forward.

On the wall of the cemetery office there is this inscription, which records the achievement of a single dog. Who shall say that such a life record of usefulness is not deserving of notice or publication?

—From "Our Dumb Friends."

Ex-President Taft told at a literary dinner a story about a negro.

A negro, he said, "knocked at Mr. Brown's back door and asked for a job of work."

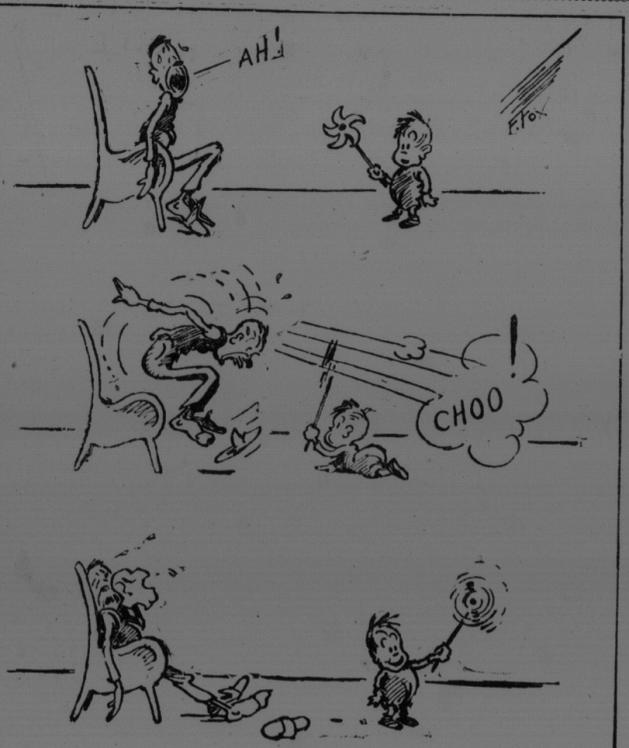

"What your name?" Mrs. Brown asked, for the black fellow's looks.

"Ma name," Poe, ma'am," he answered.

"Poe, eh?" said Mrs. Brown. "I suppose some of your family once worked for Edgar Allan Poe—did they?"

The negro's eyes bulged, and he struck himself a responding whack on the chest.

"Why, ma'am," he said, "Ah is Edgar Allen Poe."—Los Angeles Times.

Richard Brave Heart

"I am not afraid of anything," said Richard, "not of a policeman nor a motor-bus nor anything in all the world." could easily go to Uncle John's in the country alone with Ruf. Ruf's not frightened either."

"It is nice to know that I have a big brave son, and such a small brave dog," said Richard's mother, "but I think I'd like to take you to the country, Dickie, for I haven't been there for a long, long time."

"Oh, well!" said Richard, "I will take you then."

So he took his mother, and they went together in the train, and Ruf sat between them on the seat, and felt quite proud of his dog tricks, and barked at the porters. But he didn't like the porters, and he howled when they came to them, and even Richard held his mother's hand, though he said afterwards that was because he wanted to take care of her.

Well, they reached the country, and the Uncle John. He had a lovely farmhouse, with hayricks about it, and all sorts of animals. Richard and Ruf set out to see them all. First they went into the stables where the horses were, and then they went into the byres with the cows, and then they saw the pigs—ten baby ones—and then—they went a little farther, and they met the geese.

Ruf ran to them and barked, and the geese turned round and barked. Ruf was so frightened that he put his little tail down between his legs and ran to Richard.

Richard picked him up, and looked once more to the geese, and then he was afraid too. He ran straight back into the farmhouse, and he put the puppy on his mother's lap, and then he climbed up after it.

"Mother!" he said, "the goose!"

"I thought my little brave-heart was afraid of nothing," Mother said. Richard hung his head.

"I was," he said, "I was afraid." Then he clenched his hands, hard, "I'll never be afraid again," he said.

Now there was one other thing which rather frightened Richard, that was the dark. In the middle of the night he woke up suddenly. It was not really dark then in his room, because a funny light shone in the window. Richard got up to see what caused it, and then he found that one of the hayricks was on fire.

"I must tell them," Richard thought.

He went to his bedroom door and opened it, but the passage was awful dark, and Uncle John's room was right up the stairs.

Richard held his breath.

"I mustn't be afraid," he said, "I've got to go!"

He ran on the long, dark staircase. Uncle John!" he cried, "The rick's on fire. Wake up, quick!"

Five minutes later, all the farm boys were throwing water on the rick, and presently they put the fire out. Richard, in his mother's arms, with Ruf snuggled up beside him, had watched them from the window.

Richard brave-heart, you have saved the rick!" his mother whispered.

FAT MEN IN HISTORY.

The general idea seems to be that fat men are no good.

This is probably accounted for by the fact that those of large bulk are inclined to be easy going and therefore lacking in that push which is needed to bring a man to the fore. The only great statesman one can recall who was really a fat man was Charles James Fox, as can be seen even by his effigy in the Palace of Westminster where he would make three of his great rival, Pitt the younger.

The Spaniards probably the only really fat poet. He was a confidant of the lady, seventy men of whom it is related that he would eat peaches off the wall, not taking the trouble to take his hands out of his pockets to place them. Yet despite his lazy disposition he managed to write one of the greatest of English poems, as well as "The Castle of Indolence"—a castle in which he habitually dwelt.

In the literature, one of the stoutest of living nations, has on several occasions made up in the character of the Sage of Fleet Street, with excellent success. It is a little remarkable too, that on one of his closest friends, Hilarie Belloc, is almost as noted for his bulk as he is for his criticism of military operations, his poetry, his history and his fiction.—Pit-Bits.

A new work on Russia by Mr. John Masfield has been printed by the boys of Bombridge School on their own press. One hundred and fifty copies have been printed and the type distributed, and the proceeds of the publication are to be given aid of the local museum.

Ring Lardner's Weekly Letter

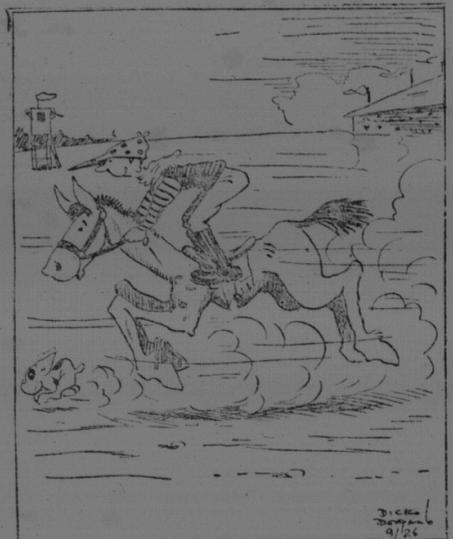

By RING W. LARDNER.

To the Editor.—
 Who I realize that most parents has picked out a place for their daughter to go to school this year all ready, still and all they may be a few mothers with a brain in their head last year either been to college themselves and seen how futile it is or else read the ads in the different magazines about girls schools and the different courses and advantages they got to offer and won't fall for no such a line of bunk. For the benefit of those mothers I want to make an announcement through your columns, namely, that I have decided to open up a school for girls, namely, the Ring School for Girls and it won't be no preparatory school for college or it won't be no regular college, but it will learn girls how to be what they were meant to be, namely, a wife.

It is perhaps unnecessary to state that most of my female acquaintances of the fair sex is college girls on acct. of my position in society. Well, after reading the ads in the magazines and they don't mean nothing, I finally decided to get some 1st. hand information about what a gal really does learn in college so I asked the one that happened to be nearest to me here is what I found out. This gal went to a A No. 1 college and here is what they give her: College algebra, logarithms, spherical geometry, Latin, German, English, U. S. history, ancient history, English history, U. S. gov't, art, music, sociology and economics, literature, criticism, horse back riding and basketball. Well, back riding and basketball, what most of them does, namely, she married a bird that can pretty near support her and she don't half to do no work and don't.

What She Learned at College.
 Well, friends, leave us overlook this matter and try to find out what good it all done her. In the 1st. place take the mathematical course. I seen around the house a good deal where this gal lives and I never seen a case give you a outline of it in a few wds. The school is situated in my house and lot which is 12 acres. Gals that can't stand the cold can sleep in the garage and the more rugged or ages will have their dormitories out doors and as our yard is a series of terraces, why they will be a reduction in room rent for the gas that sleep in the upper.

The only horseback riding that gets you anything is a jockey out of Belmont or somewhere.

As I said a while ago, the objects of the school is to fit gals to become a wife and with that end in view the courses will be as follows: Cautious drinking, drinking, betting and distilling, poker, profanity, music, art, barbering, cleaning and pressing, shoe shining, chamber madding and mathematics.

Guiding is not only a good thing for economy sake, but when a wife has got a education along these lines she is more likely to see her husband come in a wife and maybe get him to come home and visit. The object of the smoking course is to learn women to have enough ash trays in the house. The drinking classes won't be conducted with the aim of making gals acquire a taste for alcohol, but as she can take a couple cocktails or something without busting out in peels of laughter. They's no need to point out the advantage of the brewing and distilling course, a specialty the brewing as I think most people will agree that a knowledge of lager beer is a whole lot more help around the house than a knowledge of logarithms.

Some of Ring's Courses.
 The professors of poker will try and hammer into their pupils brains the a dollar bet on the part of a man is not necessarily mean that he has got something and also that goes up can sometimes be thrown into the ash can even if they do look pretty. The music course will include lessons on the different instruments which different people has give me and which I have just naturally mastered including the saxophone, clarinet, accordion and whistie. In respects to the barbering, etc., classes, what man would ever think of deserting a wife that shaved him and cut his hair if any and pressed his clothes and shined his shoes and don't even half to tip her let alone pay a $2.00 check. The chamber madding course will be very simple, the object being to learn prospective house wives to put clean towels in the bathroom the same time they take soiled towels out and not make the man of the house wipe his hands and face on a handkerchief washday mornings. The mathematics course will be designed to learn women to write the same amt. in their tube that they wrote on the checks and the art classes will consist of painting the bars, fence and screens in oil. A thorough knowledge of up to date profanity will enable the women for a to talk on even terms with the up to date hired gal and maybe scare the last named into giving up her reading long enough to wash a couple dishes.

The Ring School, beautifully situated on a bay on Long's Island, provides people with salt water bathing if you don't mind it being kind of dirty, so say nothing about digging for crabs. Other out door sports in addition to those is working, swiming, fly swatting, pushing a go cart and trying to use the telephone. The fall term will open up on the 1 of Oct. and the annual tuition including bed and board will amt. to $105.67 in round numbers including the luxury tax. Write to

It doesn't keep her from getting the juice in her eye like anybody else. where she would've been up against it only for her knowledge of logarithms and college algebra and as for spherical geometry the only sphere she ever sets is a orange and though she passed with honors in that course, it don't keep her from getting the juice in her eyes like anybody else. Now take the languages. They don't nobody dare talk German no more even if they could remember it which they can't and as for Latin why if the Ciceros was to drop in tomorrow night and begin knocking Cataline in their native tongue with spinach, why this summa would think they was talking about Wm. Wrigley's island off of California. In respects to English, she was born and dragged up in a home where they didn't speak nothing else and had a good working knowledge of the lingo before she ever seen school and besides I never met a gal yet that didn't know enough English words to keep her going every minute she was awake and a lot of times when she went.

That brings us to history which she took a whole 2 yrs. of it and all as she's sure of is the 1 of July because she has got to order 2 days worth of groceries on the 2nd. As for art, she took a course in drawing, but all I ever seen her draw was 2 spades to 3 hearts trying to fill a flush vs. a bird that had raised the pot and was bluffing just with a new ball. YOUR BEST.
 When you hear somebody mutter that a slight task will do, Or some careless toiler tries to show an easier way to you, Pay no heed unto his counsel, spurn his plea to stop and rest, Nothing's good enough, remember, if you haven't done your best.

If a little more effort and a little extra care Would improve the task you're doing, give it promptly then and there; Take the longer route to splendor, take the harder road to fame, For a duty that is slighted is a blight upon your name.

Never leave a thing you've started till you know you've done it well, It's your honor, and your courage that your finished work will tell; There are sometimes when toil is irksome, and perfection seems afar, But remember, by your labor men shall know you as you are.

Heed no man who counsels shirking! Here the course of duty's plain, By the pathway of indifference one shall never worth attain, Face the world erect in honor, fit to meet the sternest test, Good enough will lead to failure—succeed requires your best!

CHILDHOOD.
 Childhood is a brief but happy period in life which is very similar to a good digestion—it is never appreciated until it is gone.

When a man or woman reaches middle age, and is kept busy dodging such high explosives as current bills or slight drafts or the baby's stomach teeth or the hired girl's resignation on wash day, we are prone to look back upon Childhood and wonder why it had to come to an abrupt and painful close. When we remember that in Childhood there were no doors to scrub or dishes to wash or coal to buy or meat bills to meet, we would like to be back in that land with dimples on our knees and a mild as free of care as a son-in-law who married into a chunk of unearned increment.

Childhood is the only time in life when the mind is able to run without friction. It is a great thing to be a baby and not have to worry about where the meals are coming from. When we see a bright-eyed, double-chinned baby sitting on its mother's lap and trying to digest its right fist, without a thought of the Sunday dinner or the difficulty of securing fresh eggs, we are inclined to wonder why babies ever cry and have to be fed hot water and peccan in equal quantities.

When a man who has five or six children under ten years of age comes home from his work at night and sees them at their play, with a couple of first teeth missing and corn silk cigarettes, he would like to sit down on the grass and shrink back into boyhood. It is hard to understand why people have to grow up and contract stomach troubles and debts and lodge dues and infamable wisdom teeth, instead of remaining in the stage of Childhood and having nothing to worry about except an occasional stone bruise. This teaches us that a mistake has been made somewhere.

Maurice Tourneur, making "The Last of the Mohicans," is using a bunch of stalwart "redskins" to play Indian roles in J. Fenimore Cooper's story.

One night on location he told his assistant to call in the braves, and this is what he megaphoned: "Hey there—Murphy, Dugan, O'Brien, Donlin, O'Shaughnessy—come on up here."

Hearing the name of his husky Indian players called in this rotation, Mr. Tourneur held his head with quivering palm and moaned, "My goodness, how on earth are these Indians going to be introduced on the screen?"

THE LURE OF THE HIGHEST.
 Truth, highest truth, is of such a nature that it allure to itself the allegiance of all noble souls. Wise men follow stars, even the newest stars. Humanity's hope lies in the tremendous truth that so many choiced spirits are born with the supreme ambition to "follow the gleam." The attractive power of the best is one of God's laws of spiritual gravity. Wherever on earth there shines a star of hope and promise, men rise to pursue it. Be it a newly-discovered truth, or a mere device for the world's service, or a useful phant or other, it will draw to itself the attention of the world-wide dissemination of soap and of the automobile.

Away down in Mesopotamia, near old Babylon, dwelt the star-gazing "Magi"; and they followed the new light until they came to Bethlehem, where their quest was satisfied by a Babe! The picture is a preaching one. It reminds us that our eager search for good times, for good clothes, for comfortable living, for leisure and for money, may distract our attention from the higher quest of all.

Nothing—literally nothing—should hinder us from pursuit of the Kingdom of Heaven and its King. They who are wise keep the soul's finer perceptions keen and sensitive, that their eyes may behold and their feet may follow every beckoning beacon of God.

When Autocrats Tremble.
 Truth is the most troublesome force in the universe. It is forever upsetting the old order, disturbing ancient complacencies, and dashing to earth sparkling goblets of pleasure. Just as Jesus in a manger—unwelcomed in the inn—imperialist proud Herod on his throne, and all his dynasty, so truth, though seemingly but a cradled infant, holds in its frail hand the destruction of all outward errors and systems.

We are perceiving today that the Allied War aims, formulated by President Wilson, have wrought more mightily in the world at large than even the heroic armies in France. The principles therein enunciated are literally making over the map of the earth. The truths which they contained have been grasped by entire nations and races; and they are setting men free. So it is safe to say that the allied cause has wrought more mightily than the

NEWS, GREAT AND SMALL

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.
 The International Sunday School Lesson for October 3 is "The Birth and Childhood of Jesus."—Matt. 2:1-18.

News! News! News! What a part it plays in everybody's life—news exchanged over the fence between neighbors; news wherever folk gather; news in every mast; news in over-whelming and strangely assorted volume from the press; big news and little news; fresh news and old news; good news and sad news. Here in one mail I have this afternoon messages from friends whose wives have passed on to await them in the land of no partings; news of a friend who has taken a bride from afar; and news of another friend who has done a deed of heroism and derring-do in Bible lands. Most news is of passing, trivial interest. Other news transforms life. Some news has come down the centuries, exercising more power than armies or autocrats. Such is the news assigned as today's Sunday School Lesson, the "Good News" which is "good tidings of great joy." For the Sunday Schools now enter upon a course in the Life of Christ, the story of the Gospel of the Kingdom. That is what everybody wants to hear now—good news of a social order that is today desperately perurbed. The world was never readier for tidings of the kingdom than now.

The Cry of the Babe.
 Around newspaper offices and hotels and clubs, and the usual haunts of city men, there are no babies. Perhaps that is one reason why so much of our writing and discussion is out of perspective and aside from the mark. The fact of the existence of all the babies are to be seen there.

This Summer I have been experiencing a great renaissance; for I have been travelling from small town to small town over the land where the babies abound. Hundreds of them have been in my audience, but even when they cry I am not disturbed for they have helped me see a present problem in a new and brighter light. The fact of the existence of all the countless babies of the world is good news—good news in the large, even as it is good news to individual family circles.

Here is the old, old idea that has suddenly been made new to me; that God inaugurates a better day for the world by the birth of the babe. Even as the Kingdom of Heaven dawned at the manger of the Bethlehem Child, so the new social order is primarily assured by the needs of every child and the love it calls forth. Man-kind is not going to run wild, despite the fears of the timorous, because of the primal instinct of every man to make a safe and comfortable home for his children, and their mother.

There is no other stabilizing influence on earth to equal the touch of a hand upon the heart of a strong man.

Who has not watched young people, who were but yesterday heedless boys and girls, become engrossed in a wee pink bit of humanity as if it were a new wonder and king of the world? As indeed it is. For that child makes a man and woman of its parents, and squares their shoulders to the responsibilities of life. In the Christ, the land of Jesus' birth, the greatest of sorrows to a man or a woman is not to become the parent of a son. There is no shirking the cares of parenthood in the oldest part of the world. Nobody ever thought of every man to make a safe and comfortable home for his children, and their mother.

One of the most heartening sights of the Holy Land to me last year was the daily pilgrimage of British soldiers from all parts of the Empire, to the Church of the Nativity at Bethlehem, where, at this hour a British soldier stands guard at the grotto wherein Jesus was born.

alled armies. And much of the disturbance in the old world is due to temporary recency to those ideals which were blazoned on our war banners.

Herod doubted Herod undertook to plot and fight against a star. Probably he did not recall that "the stars in their courses fought against Sisera;" not yet did he realize the serenity or fatality of taking up a gage of battle against the portents and plans of God. When we pause to consider it, his course was the embodiment of stupidity and vanity; for he thought he could out-manoeuvre this heavenly light that the Wise-men were following.

Down into Egypt.
 Once again the newspaper dispatches fit into an old Bible story, Joseph—strong, resourceful, quiet, gentleman Joseph—was warned in a dream to flee to Egypt with the Babe. Picture and preaching have made the flight familiar, as the Holy Family took its obscure way over the long and bitter desert trail to Egypt. A venerable old lady who studies her Bible closely reminds me that, unlike the Old Testament prophets, Jesus has no word of condemnation for Egypt, the land that gave Him refuge. Recent cablegrams tell us that, Egypt, after more than a year of bitter insurrection, has been promised her independence. Old Egypt is to share in the changed order which is doubtably owes its origin to the Child born in Bethlehem and safeguarded in Egypt. But we dare not enter here upon present outworkings and out-reachings of the power of the lowly-born King, whose kingdom is steadily coming by means of, as well as despite of, the overturnings and upheavals among the nations.

Answer, the Babe of Bethlehem is this old world's hope. When the wise men of earth become wise enough to go back to Bethlehem we shall find the peace on earth which the angels declared is possible only "among men of good will."

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.
 In taking revenge a man is but even with his enemy; but in passing it over he is superior; for it is a prince's part to pardon.—Bacon.

The epochs of our life are not in the visible facts, but in the silent thoughts by the wayside as we walk.—Anon.

Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before.—St. Paul.

I would be true, for there are those who trust me; I would be pure, for there are those who care; I would be strong, for there is much to suffer; I would be brave, for there is much to dare.—Anon.

METHODIST WOMEN WILL VISIT CHINA
 The Methodist Women's Missionary Society will send representatives to Chung Tu, China, for the purpose of attending the conference of the society which will be held there in January, 1921, says the Winnipeg Telegram. A large party will leave Winnipeg this month, enroute for China. Representatives of the Manitoba branch will include Mrs. G. N. Jackson, presiding. While in China, she will visit the missionary stations in western China, which are connected under the Methodist board. Mrs. Jackson will also act as a delegate representing the Methodist branch of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society at the great international Sunday school convention, which is to be held in Japan shortly.

DOWN EAST.
 Warrier Oland, who is one of the most popular screen actors featured in current melodrama, having completed with Junius Hanson the serial, "The Phantom Foot," was motored to the old farm, "down east," for a brief vacation. Here it is expected that his naturally placid nature will be restored after many weeks of uninterrupted professional "rough house."

Edgar Lewis is finishing his forthcoming "The Special," "A Beggar in Purple," which is a screen adaptation of a story which enjoyed great popularity.

HOW TO MOUNT FISH.
 Take a sharp knife and, commencing at the head, cut down through it, severing it in half. Continue the cut along the back, through the skin only, to the tail and forward beneath to the head again. Keep the dorsal fin and tail on the side to be saved. Remove the skin by peeling with a dull knife, then place it on a board with the inside up and scrape away all particles of flesh. Clean out the head and remove gills and eye. Wipe dry and rub powdered arsenic on the inside of skin. Place it flat side up on the mounting board (the lighter the color of wood, the better), and stretch it to the correct shape, fastening it with little tacks or small pins. Take care to stretch the fins also. Allow a day or so for it to dry, then give two coats of varnish, doing the board at the same time. Tack or nail a strip of birch around the board for a frame. A little padding of paper under the skin, to round it out, sometimes improves the appearance.

"TO A BOY."
 Come, a little frocked kid, Let us go together a lane again, Smilin' as the weather.

Take me to yer swimming hole— Lemme have my ruther— Don't forget 't dry our hair— Mothers will be mothers!

Take me home again at night, When the cricket's crickin'— Lemme go today with you An' I'll take the tickin'.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER. There were few who did not appreciate yesterday's glorious sunlight and a temperature which was altogether ideal and almost as a day in summer. The beautiful balmy and moonlit evening that followed seemed the fitting sequel of the day. The benches in Kings Square were crowded throughout the day and a great many also took advantage of them for an evening's airing. It was the first night for some time that the weather permitted such an indulgence.

CURLERS FAIR. The attractiveness of the Curlers' Fair is increasing nightly, and another large crowd was in attendance last evening. The different games and amusements were running in full swing, and there was a form of entertainment to suit every fancy. The following were the winners of the prizes offered: Door prize, A. Howard, load of wood; excel-lor, A. B. Copp, silver spoons; air-run, Emerson, umbrella; ten-pins, P. Emerson, casserole. The curlers expect a record crowd in attendance this evening.

Inquest In Death Of William Estey

Aged Resident of Harding Street, Fairville, Hanged Himself Yesterday.

The coroner's jury empanelled to enquire into the death of William Estey, an aged resident of Harding street, Fairville, which took place yesterday morning, returned a verdict which virtually amounted to one of suicide at the inquest which was held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The shocking tragedy occurred at the home of the unfortunate man's brother, with whom he lived. The deceased had placed a rope around his neck and fastening it to a piece of scantling which supported the garden fence, hanged himself. Passers-by, noticing the attitude of the old man, first thought that he was sunning himself, but a closer inspection revealed the suspended rope. They rushed in and cut down the old man, whom they found on the point of death. Efforts were made to revive him, and Dr. Stevenson was called, but by the time he arrived Mr. Estey was dead.

Coroner Horace A. Porter, who was summoned, viewed the body and allowed its removal to the home. He ordered a jury to be sworn to view the body at 5 o'clock. The late Mr. Estey was a native of this city, and for many years followed the trade of ship-carpenter. He retired some time ago, and since then has made his home with his brother. He is also survived by one son, whose whereabouts is unknown, but who was last heard of in Italy. The body was moved to W. E. Brennan's undertaking rooms, west side, last evening, but no funeral arrangements have yet been made.

Pomeroy On Trial For Life

Former Resident of St. John Faces Capital Charge in Maine.

The trial of William Pomeroy, said to be a former resident of this city, and Jesse C. Scott, a Nova Scotian, indicted for the murder of Robert C. Moore, on March 13th last, at Greenville Junction, Me., has begun at Dover, Me.

Moore, otherwise known as Robert Cadmore, was born in Canada, West-land County, and lived at different times in Moncton and Point du Chene. He moved to the States several years ago, and at the time of his death was running a tavern at Greenville. His wife is also a native of this province, being formerly Mrs. Gallant, of Point du Chene.

County Attorney Hudson, in opening the State's case, said that the State would show that robbery was the motive of the shooting and that the accused had knowledge that the Moore kept a large amount of money in a trunk under their bed.

The tragic night. Several witnesses were heard, including Mrs. Moore, the dead man's wife, who described the incidents on the night of the murder. Father Poirier, of Greenville, testified to Moore's dying declaration that Billy Pomeroy had shot him, while another witness told of the capture of the two men on a C. P. R. freight train bound for Canada near the town of Jackman.

Machine For Cancelling Stamps

Collection of Sales and Luxury Taxes by Means of Stamps.

A special perfecting machine for cancelling the luxury stamps has arrived in the city and these will be furnished free to the dealers.

Collection of the sales and luxury taxes by means of stamps instead of the present method will be inaugurated on November first. The necessary arrangements are now being made and the stamps manufactured. Last month six million dollars of revenue was derived from the luxury tax, but this is not regarded as the probable maximum. In some cases investigation has shown the law not being complied with through ignorance of its provisions. In others there has been deliberate evasion and prosecutions in several score of cases are being initiated. The full penalty will be asked to the end that the effect be salutary. Inland revenue officers by visiting stores and making purchases have detected many cases of the act being evaded. A staff of thirty expert auditors distributed over the different inland revenue divisions have just been appointed to check up and see that the treasury is getting the revenue it is entitled to.

NO BONES BROKEN. The latest information from Fredrickson says that while Harry Warren of this city at present confined in Victoria Hospital, as a result of injuries received in an auto accident near Oromocto on Thursday afternoon, had no bones broken yet he was seriously and painfully injured and will be held in the hospital for several days.

May Use Schools For The Elections

Vote Comes on Saturday and Board of Education is Willing to Grant Use.

In view of the fact that this is the first Provincial election in which the women of the country are voters, the question of suitable accommodation and shelter, in case of a storm, for these new voters, has arisen in several localities. As election day falls on Saturday, when the school houses throughout the province are not being used, representations have been made to the Premier and other members of the Government, asking that, if possible, it be permitted the people to use all the school houses on that day. In consequence, the Board of Education suggests to the Board of School Trustees throughout the province that they may, in their judgment, permit the use of school houses by the people, irrespective of party, on election day in order to afford shelter to one of the chief duties of citizenship, the casting of the ballot.

Municipal Council Building Committee

Decided to Ask for Competitive Plans for Group of Municipal Buildings.

The buildings committee of the municipal council met yesterday afternoon and after a thorough discussion of new municipal buildings decided to ask for competitive plans for the proposed group of municipal buildings on a prospectus to be prepared by the technical adviser to the committee. The winner in this contest will receive a prize of $1,500. The plans asked for will be along the lines of those proposed by the Engineering Institute and include the entire block bounded by King Street East, Sydney, Leinster and Carmarthen streets. The first unit to be completed will probably be the court house, which will occupy the corner of King street East and Sydney street. It was decided to accept the offer of the St. John County Hospital of $100 for the old court house boiler. Those present at the meeting were: Commissioner Thornton, who is the chairman of the committee and has given a great deal of time and thought to this question, Mayor Schofield, Commissioners Jones and Bullock and Councillor Bentley.

Canada-France Parcel Post

Interrupted During the War is Now Resumed by C. P. O. S. Ltd.

According to information received by the postmaster yesterday the direct express of parcel post between Canada and France which was interrupted owing to difficulty of maintaining a regular service during the war, is now resumed. Arrangements have been made for the sea conveyance of these parcels from Canada by steamers of the C. P. O. S. Ltd., sailing direct to Havre and from France by steamers of Compagnie Generale Transatlantique and the C. P. O. S. Ltd. The first despatch from Canada was due to be made yesterday on the S.S. Scotian. The rates for this direct service is somewhat less than if the parcels were sent via England, but the sailings of steamers to and from the Havre are less frequent. The choice of the route desired is left to the senders. The regulations in regard to packing, customs, declarations, and prohibited articles are the same as those applying to parcel post via England.

THE POLICE COURT

A young lad from the West Side was before the justice court yesterday afternoon for driving a delivery wagon, being less than sixteen years of age. His case is being considered by the magistrate, James Leech and Alexander Watson, co-adjutors, who fined $2 each for soliciting fares while in the ralling at the Union Station. Dennis Connelly, charged with being drunk and also with having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling, was fined $5 or two months on the drunkenness charge and $50 or three months on the other. Six men, charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty and were each fined $5 or two months in jail.

Delegates Return From Conference

W. F. Burditt and R. E. Armstrong Attended Sessions of Chambers of Commerce.

W. F. Burditt, vice-president, and R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the St. John Board of Trade, returned from Toronto yesterday, where they were attending the sessions of the congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire. Speaking to The Standard last evening, Secretary Armstrong said that the congress, which concluded on Thursday, was very successful. It was most representative, as delegates were present from all the larger Chambers of Commerce in Great Britain, from the Boards of Trade of all the provinces of the Dominion, from Australia, New Zealand, India, Ceylon, Baden and other Imperial dominions in the Far East. Many matters of vital interest to the Empire as a whole were discussed. The delegates were kept busy, as there were over sixty resolutions on the agenda.

The Toronto Board of Trade proved royal hosts and arranged an elaborate programme of entertainment for the visiting delegates, including a banquet at which places were set for four hundred; a tour of Toronto and vicinity in automobiles, an inspection of Toronto harbor and the development work going on there, and a lacrosse match as a special attraction. In addition, motion pictures were filmed daily, showing views from all the provinces of the Dominion. At least they were supposed to do so, but it may be said that the Atlantic Provinces were somewhat slighted in these motion pictures. However, the overseas delegates were given an idea of the vast and varied resources of our country. At the conclusion of the congress several of the leading delegates from overseas went to Washington, where they will confer with the United States authorities regarding matters of commerce. The remainder of the delegates are making a tour of Quebec and Ontario. Mr. Armstrong has approached the visiting delegates with a view to having some of them visit the Maritime Provinces, but could get no definite promise of acceptance. The delegates from the turn home on account of the extremely unsettled conditions at home, which have been rendered more acute recently, and for this reason cancelled their trip to the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia. Mr. Armstrong said that he will present a full report of the congress at the meeting of the Board which takes place Monday, Oct. 4th.

Majority For Wigmore 4,055

Declaration Day Yesterday—Dr. Emery Gained Slightly But Lost His Deposit.

Declaration day came yesterday and Sheriff Wilson, who is the returning officer for the constituency, held his court at two o'clock for the purpose of officially announcing the result of the contest held on Monday last. The figures for St. John City and County show little change, but the official count gives Dr. Emery over one hundred votes more in Albert county. This was not enough, however, to save his deposit, and Hon. Mr. Wigmore has a clear majority of 4,055. The official figures as given out by the returning officer are:

Table with 3 columns: Constituency, Emery, Wigmore. Rows: St. John City (2064 vs 5154), St. John County (744 vs 1459), Advance Pulp (1 vs 9), Albert County (1161 vs 1403). Total: 3970 vs 8025.
