

A FOUR MASTER DASHED TO PIECES, Captain's Wife Killed By a Huge Wave Which Stove In the Cabin.

HER BODY SWEEPED TO SEA. Master and Many of the Crew of the Schooner Washington B. Thomas Badly Injured Before Being Rescued on a Breches Buoy.

Portland, Me., June 14.—One life was lost by the wrecking of the magnificent new five-masted schooner, Washington B. Thomas, from Old Orchard, in Straton Island, four miles off Old Orchard, in the early part of Friday night, while bound with 4,000 tons of soft coal from Norfolk (Va.) for Portland. The wife of Captain (Wm.) J. Lemond, to whom he was married a year ago, was killed by the immense waves breaking in the cabin. Her body was washed away in the darkness and not recovered. Captain Lemond and the crew of 13 men were rescued today by a volunteer life saving crew. One seaman had a leg broken and the captain, brewer and four seamen were badly bruised. The Thomas was broken up and practically lost. Tons of wreckage were washed ashore at Old Orchard.

The Thomas was anchored Friday night off Straton Island and at midnight drifted from her anchorage on to the island. Without a second's warning, there came a crash as the schooner fore way over one rock to strike another a few moments later and then to drive hard and fast on the reef on the southern end of the outer side of Straton Island.

When the first shock came Mrs. Lemond, her stepson and the first mate's son were in the cabin. They felt the shock and heard above the din of the storm the shout of the captain. Instinctively they struggled towards the stern companion-way and up to the deck, where at first they took refuge on the roof of the house.

Mrs. Lemond was forward on the starboard side and clinging to the rail and ironwork on a corner of the forward deck. Her husband stood in front of her to protect her as much as possible. Great waves which swept the decks covered Mrs. Lemond and nearly bore her overboard. The little group fought their way to the wheel house farther aft. From this they were soon driven, after one of them young Bowdoin Lemond, had narrowly escaped being washed overboard. He was clinging to the lee of the house where he supposed he was safe, when another sea, rushing toward the stern picked him up and swept him almost to the mainmast. The waves were so high that the water ran from the decks.

Mrs. Lemond, the two boys and the other members of the cabin, hoping to find some stout enough to afford safety. It was a vain hope for they had been there but a few minutes when, with a sickening crash, a wave tore away the forward companionway, down was pushed a torrent of water. At this moment Mrs. Lemond was with her husband in their starboard side of the ship. As the tons of water struck the bulkhead, separating water from saloon, it knocked it down. The partition fell into the stateroom and struck Mrs. Lemond on the head, rendering her unconscious. Capt. Lemond grasped her in his arms and tried to drag her to the companionway. The water was rushing through the forward door and the skylight hatch and the narrow space where he stood was full of floating debris. As he slowly dragged her to the stairs he was struck across the face with such force that he was thrown backward and the unconscious woman was torn from his grasp. The water surged toward the bow again, carrying her overboard. The captain could not follow her; he could see nothing in the darkness and as the cabin filled in a twinkling he reached the deck just in time to escape the fate of his wife.

Driven from one place to another the officers and two boys climbed to the spunker boom which hung a few feet above the roof of the house where they remained five hours.

Then the party discovered that the house beneath them was beginning to break up. The sea staid its fury during the instant it took them to gain the bow. As they crept forward they supposed they would find the forward part of the vessel without tenants as they thought all on board had perished with the exception of themselves, but when they made their way to the forecastle they discovered the sea men had reached it soon after the schooner struck and were safely sheltered there.

In his bunk was Seaman Frank Eklund, who had managed to reach the place after his leg was broken. Finding the limb useless he had crept on hands and knees to the forecastle and improvised a splint which he secured with straps.

When the schooner ran on to the reef her bow was forced high in the air so the waves did not break over it and the sea boomed her about midships and made terrific onslaught on the after portions of the vessel. Much of the vessel was under water. The jigger mast, that one of

ORANGE GRAND LODGE ELECTS OFFICERS.

Liquor Manufacturers Barred from the Order—Grand Master Refers to James Kelly's Death.

Winnipeg, June 12.—(Special)—The Orange Grand Lodge today elected the following officers: Grand master, Dr. T. S. Sprule, M. P., Markdale; deputy grand master, Wm. Galbraith, Montreal; grand secretary, Wm. Lockhart, Alliston; grand treasurer, W. J. Perhill, Toronto; grand lecturer, Wm. Harper, Hamilton; grand chaplain, Rev. Wm. Walsh, Brampton; director of ceremonies, W. H. Code, Smiths Falls.

At Thursday's session, the constitution was changed to make it impossible for any manufacturer of liquor to become a member of the order. The motion was carried in a very full lobby by over three to one.

In his annual address, Grand Master Sprule said in part: "R. W. Bro. James Kelly, P. G. M., N. B., and W. Bro. George Forde were both present at our last annual meeting, and both were called in a short time thereafter. Bro. Forde was one of the active workers in the Ottawa Valley. He was a leading business man in that city, and devoted a good deal of attention to the order. R. W. Bro. Kelly was a P. G. M. of N. B., and has been a constant attendant at our meetings since 1887; also, R. W. Bro. William Caldwell, P. G. M., Nova Scotia, holding the position of G. M. for thirteen years, being first elected in 1890. Bro. Caldwell was a man of high character and high ability, who for twenty-eight years held the office of grand treasurer of Nova Scotia. He was not present at a recent meeting held by those of the higher councils of our order, were, nevertheless, active in their respective lodges, and were men who have during their life been more closely associated in the work."

FOR BAPTIST MINISTRY.

Three Nova Scotians Graduated on Thursday at Newton Theological Institution.

Boston, June 12.—Graduating exercises of the Newton Theological Institution were held Thursday in the Baptist meeting house at Newton Centre. There were in attendance a great many of the leading Baptist clergymen of Boston and its vicinity, and other friends of the institution. The presentation of diplomas was made by President Ward after which he addressed the graduates. Among the fifteen graduates were the following three from Nova Scotia:—

Simon Spidle, B. A. (Acadia University), Mahone Bay (N. S.); William Henry Dyer, B. A. (Acadia University), Pansboro (N. S.); Abner Foster Newcomb, B. A., M. A. (Acadia University), Amherst (N. S.). The candidates for the degree of bachelor of divinity are James Bruce Gillman and Simon Spidle.

At 1 o'clock the trustees gave a dinner in Bray's hall for the graduating class, the alumni, contributors to the support of the institution and other invited guests. The after-dinner exercises consisted of addresses by representatives of the board of trustees, the Alumni Association and other friends. A luncheon was served in the vestry of the church for the lady guests of the institution.

In addition to the students took place in the Hills library at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

St Croix Mills Started.

The first drive has arrived at the Milltown boom, and the lumbermen are once more happy. The heavy rains of the week have raised the streams and greatly aided the drivers in their work of getting the logs to the mills and the danger of further mass operations of manufacturing operations is averted for this season, at least. The mills of F. Eaton & Sons, James Murdoch & Sons, at Milltown, and the Todd mill at the union started up Friday morning and the season ends. The resumption of this industry means much to the merchants of the border towns whose business has been much affected this spring by the cotton mill strike and other unexpected happenings following a winter of unusual severity and industrial depression.

INVESTMENT BUYING LIFTS MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

Montreal, June 12.—(Special)—The recovery in stock values from the big slump of Wednesday, which began yesterday, continued today, and prices of the leading securities advanced sharply.

Dominion coal was a conspicuous feature in the advance, selling up on good buying orders from 7 1/2 to 8 and closing strong. The Dominion Steel issues were also strong, the common selling at 12 1/2 to 13, 1 1/2, and closing at 12 1/2, while the preferred sold at 30 1/2 to 31, Nova Scotia Steel, which had a sharp advance, selling up to 85. The traction all sold higher and the market under a heavy investment demand closed buoyant.

The general feeling is that the break of Wednesday was the culminating of the disastrous slump in values and that while there may be temporary reactions there should be a gradual improvement in the market.

Government House closed today for the summer season. Lieut-Governor Snowball left this afternoon for Charlottetown, where he and family will spend the summer. The hospitable home of Governor Snowball has been the scene of many happy social functions, and will be much missed.

Clement Anderson, who lives back of Campbelt Settlement, was quite a loss to the forest fire. His two splendid barns, including all his contents, including all kinds of modern farming machinery, were completely destroyed.

James E. Smith, a well-known resident of Geary, met with a heavy loss Tuesday night. He was absent from home, and his fourteen-year-old boy was with him and his older sons were at the Mitchell boom mill. His wife and daughter and Miss Till were at home the latter staying at the Smith house nights while Mr. Smith was away.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock, Mrs. Smith heard a roaring sound and, seeking the cause, found the wagon house, which connects with the main dwelling in flames. She gave the alarm to the nearest neighbors, and the fire spread rapidly. The dwelling was enveloped before the neighbors arrived. Miss Till and Miss Smith barely escaping with their clothing. The dwelling and wagon house, with all their contents, were reduced to ashes. The contents of the wagon house included a buggy, a light driving wagon, a mowing machine, two sleighs, two sets of harness and sixty bushels of oats and barley. In the cellar of the house there were sixty barrels of potatoes and thirty barrels of turnips, and there were six hundred dollars in cash in the house; also three watches and a bicycle.

All that was saved from the wreck were two pillows, three chairs, a Bible and an organ. The barns and sheds on the opposite side of the road were saved. Mr. Smith's loss is estimated at $2,000 with no insurance. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and Mr. Smith strongly suspects certain individuals who were seen near the burning of the Ben house. The Rev. W. S. Rainford, rector of St. George, took a New York church, told in Philadelphia on the day he preached the sermon that caused him to be charged with heresy of a snub at an old lady once gave him.

SOON TO START NEW!
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Subscribers to Fund Endorse Change in Plans.

COST WILL BE LESS.

To Abandon Idea of Expensive Site on Business Street With Stores for Rental; And Instead Build on Less Costly Lot, and Secure Revenue Under Dormitory Plan.

A most important meeting of the contributors to the new Y. M. C. A. building fund was held in the association rooms last evening. The object of the meeting was to decide upon a definite plan of procedure in regard to the new building. It was brought out during the discussion that the original plan was to renovate the building which the association now occupies, and at the same time enlarge it in the rear. It was found, however, after much consideration that it would not be wise to carry out this plan. A number of the understanding that the building should be demolished and a new one erected on a site found to be much more satisfactory.

By making this change in the building plans here, it is found that the total cost can be brought down to about $20,000, instead of $80,000.

The intention was to place the building in a prominent business street, and put stores on the ground floor to rent as a source of revenue.

It is found now, however, that the Young Men's Christian Associations all over the country, both in Canada and the United States, are leaving the business streets and placing their buildings on less expensive sites, and instead of stores as a source of revenue, are putting in dormitory rooms for young men, and that these are found to be much more satisfactory.

After a number had expressed their opinion at last night's meeting, the following resolution was unanimously carried: "Whereas the board of trustees of the Young Men's Christian Association have recommended that in the new association building the dormitory feature be adopted as a source of revenue, instead of the purchase of a site; therefore

"Resolved, that we, the subscribers to the building fund, approve of and confirm this action and recommend to the trustees the desirability of proceeding at an early date to the purchase of a site and the erection of the building."

Friends of the association will be pleased to know that in the near future a building will be erected which will be both a credit to the city and a great blessing to young men.

U. N. B. GRADUATE'S SUCCESS IN THE SOUTH.

Dr. Watson, a U. N. B. graduate and a former New Kincardine boy, is meeting with great success in the South. The following clipping was taken from the Charleston (W. Va.) Herald:

At 7:45 last evening Dr. Watson, who is conducting a meeting this week under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., opened his lecture on the steps of the court house. The chorus sang a selection followed by a short address by Dr. Watson, after which the assembly collected for the opera house where the services were continued. The house was comfortably filled.

Dr. Watson, surrounded on the platform by Prof. Johns' chorus and representatives of the ministry of the city, was an inspiration to the large audience which assembled at the opening of the week of special services to be conducted by the Y. M. C. A. Miss Catherine Lane, of New York city, a member of the Concert Company, who appeared at the Opera House Saturday night rendered quite beautifully "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Miss Lane, with Prof. Johns, sang a very pretty duet in which the audience joined in the chorus. Most of the time he was on my left side. I consulted a doctor but got no relief and was completely discouraged. I did not think I would live long and expected my friends would find me dead. A friend brought me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I took them to my good, I had not used half the box when I commenced to feel myself getting better and by the time I had taken two boxes I was completely cured and can recommend them to all sufferers from heart troubles.

THE CUP LIFTER.

Now that Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenger has reached New York and is ready to be groomed for the great contest...

The race is always thus ended in advance in the newspapers, and a fair sized ocean of ink is spilled before anyone really knows what the outlook really is.

While the experts are studying her and hurrying out language at one another, folk of British stock that would ever say, one and all, that Sir Thomas Lipton is a sportsman of courage and tact who deserves to win...

There is great faith in this last sloop from over sea-faith that runs from island to continent and continent to island, and so, passing from outpost to outpost of the Empire, belts the world.

The Aldermen and the Laborers. The Aldermen, having decided to look into the situation of the laborers employed by the city...

Interest in yachting here, already keen through Saturday's fine local contest, gets an additional impetus from the arrival of Shamrock III...

There is, of course, only one proper view. Shamrock III is the cup-lifter. May it be a decisive victory and may Boreas spare us any drifting matches.

LABOR AND CIVIC POLITICS.

The great activity in union labor circles which has been noticeable in St. John for some months past is not unlikely to have an enlightening effect upon civic politics.

As it stands the aldermen have evinced a desire to remedy any wrongs which may exist. They simply wish to know how this can best be accomplished without violating the recognized principles governing in such cases.

Following many and varying stories of the butchery of the king and queen of Servia, an account which apparently is the true one came to hand last evening.

led to do one thing and did another. What did they promise? What they will say when they brought to book remains to be seen.

The mass meeting Wednesday night should throw more light upon the present difference of opinion between the union men and certain members of the Common Council.

A REVOLUTION IN SMART SOCIETY

Those so-called "smart society" folk in the principal American centres who attract attention at times by feeding their cream to unfortunate people deep in fashionable restaurants...

It is impossible to learn what, if any, ornaments she will wear at the wedding, or to obtain a list of the presents.

It is worse than the Pennsylvania case, for if the precedent established in Cleveland be allowed to stand, brides may refuse to give out inventories of their underclothing.

THE ALDERMEN AND THE LABORERS.

The Aldermen, having decided to look into the situation of the laborers employed by the city, will probably do so as if no threat to strike had been made.

The Aldermen, it has been shown, are disposed to deal fairly with the men, but they cannot prevent a strike if the men insist upon striking, and if they do go out the loss of wages must fall upon persons who can ill-afford it.

As it stands the aldermen have evinced a desire to remedy any wrongs which may exist. They simply wish to know how this can best be accomplished without violating the recognized principles governing in such cases.

THE SERBIAN BUTCHERY.

Following many and varying stories of the butchery of the king and queen of Servia, an account which apparently is the true one came to hand last evening.

force to the old saying that a nation generally deserves the rulers it has. Bad as Alexander and the woman who ruled him may have been, the country the flower of whose army made a dambles of the palace...

And no prince whose authority springs from such a deed by such a people mounts a throne which can long endure. Had the people overthrown a foolish and evil ruler and put him away, they would be hope for them.

THE FLOOD WESTWARD.

Some of the critics of the Barr Colony idea, of Barr, and of the Barr colonies, overlook very important facts which must forever weigh in discussing the question of transplanting citizens.

These be the pains attending transplanting. If the incapacity of Rev. Mr. Barr be admitted, we are prepared to say that the pains were rendered unnecessarily acute by circumstances which it was within the range of human foresight to prevent.

But to say that the Barr incident has stayed the progress of the Anglo-Saxon move westward at this time is nonsense. The British traveler is not made of the stuff that is balked by such trifles.

When Drake went down to the Horn and England was crowned thereby, and, (England speaking):— I know that your god is mine; ye shall feel the power of the tyrod class, at the last great fight of Armageddon, at the last great fight of our House stand together and the pillars do not fall.

War of commerce or war of another weapon, the West, people in dominant preponderance by the power of the Empire, shall be strong there. The hope of all is that the Empire shall move on its course untroubled by differences with men of other breeds, but the West, we know, is to be British, and so must become a very bulwark of this nation.

NO 'E AND COMMENT.

Parliament may not be prorogued for more than six weeks yet. New York politicians say Devery will poll 26,000 votes when he runs for mayor.

King's, queens, and common folk, the Servian, all told are evidently not the most charming people on earth.

Organization is the one effective weapon of labor. Organization misdirected is union labor's greatest weakness.

The police insisted that one feature of the circus bill was unfit for publication. Who so fit to judge of these matters as the police?

Mr. Carnegie makes full retraction. He blames the reporter. He never intended to say a word that could hurt our pride— he says now.

Some of the men who have figured on a short session at Ottawa have not taken into account some of the important questions which are yet to be passed upon.

What will the aldermen do? The city laborers have issued an ultimatum. Will the aldermen say, like Davey Crockett's coon, "Don't shoot, I'll come down!"

A prominent New York physician attributes twenty per cent of the infant mortality in that city at present to eating green fruit.

Lord Rosebery expresses "pain and grief" that he feels unable to support Mr. Chamberlain, and credits the Colonial Secretary with an honest desire to benefit the Empire.

appreciate this verdict properly one must know that its author is a man whose eyes and nerves appear to have been influenced in a very marked degree by his change of political faith.

An editorial writer who recently saw the Premier at close range and who speaks with authority, says in the Toronto Telegraph (Con.):—

The observer who has seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Parliament at intervals of two and three years in the last decade, may be surprised at the comparatively few signs of wear and tear in his present appearance.

The nine years from 1894 to 1903, would leave their traces on a sterner man than Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It cannot be said of Sir Wilfrid that Time has written "no wrinkles on his brow."

This, from an admittedly hostile source, tells the story. Intuition, fine, plain—none of these has the Liberal Chieflain shown himself so strong as during the present session.

The Men Behind the Guns.

A cheer and salute for the Admiral, and here's to the captain bold, And never forget the drummer who beats when the drums of might are told!

And never fear when the foe is near to practice what they preach; But off with your hat and three times three for Columbia's true-blue sea!

Oh, light and merry of heart are they when they swing into port once more, When, with more than enough of the "green-backed" they start for their leave-o'-shore;

And you'll think, perhaps, that the blue-blooded chaps who roll along the street Are a gender bit, with salt on it, for some force "muscular" to eat—

The modest worth of the sailor boys—the lads who serve the guns.

Till the long deep roar grows more and more from the ships of "Tan" and "Don," Till over the deep the tempests sweep of fire and bursting shell;

And the very air is a mad Despair in the throes of a living hell; Then down, down, in the mighty ship, unseen by the midday sun, You'll find the chaps who are giving the rap—the men behind the guns!

Oh, well they know how the cyclone blow that they loose from their cloud of dust, And they know is heard the thunder-word their three ten-inchers utter!

The steel decks roll with the lightning shock, and shake with the great rattle, And the sea grows red with the blood of the dead and reaches for his spall— But not till the foe has gone below, or turns his prow and runs, Shall the voice of peace bring sweet release to the men behind the guns!

In the afternoon session the reports from the missions in the bounds of the district were read—readings of the annual report, containing the annual missionary report, Rev. Jabez A. Rogers and C. A. Sampson were elected to act with the chairman in visiting missions and churches in the district. The report of the list of missions having become semi-independent, a communication from E. B. Macdonald, missionary, St. John, was read and action taken. In the evening there was an open session when the report of the general conference was discussed, and able addresses delivered. The chairman introduced the subject of the "Year of the General Conference" touching this proposed celebration. The Rev. M. R. Knight and Rev. J. A. Rogers delivered stirring addresses, the latter delivered the closing prayer and looking into the future of the Methodist church. The following resolution was moved by Dr. J. W. The marriage of Miss Jennie D. Magee, of Yarmouth, and Alexander M. Magee, of St. John (N. B.) took place on Thursday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Barnham C. Doty, corner South East and Green streets, Yarmouth, says the Telegram. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with numerous flowers and plants. Rev. W. G. Lane, pastor of Providence Methodist church, performed the ceremony. The bride's dress was of grey silk with white and purple trimmings. Miss Margaret Doty, niece of the bride, was maid of honor, and the groom was supported by his brother, Rev. Wm. Young. The bride was accompanied by her father and mother, and the groom by his father and mother. After a sumptuous wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Magee took train en route for St. John, where they will reside.

The bride was for a number of years chief operator in the telephone exchange, and the business men of the town took this occasion to show their appreciation of her unflinching courtesy in that rather trying position by the presentation of an address and a well filled purse.

Coming to St. John. A special meeting of the Colerain Club of Charlottetown was held Friday evening, the occasion being the presentation of an address pronounced by a valuable address to Chairman Charles Webster, who is taking up his abode in St. John. The vice-president, Charles Campbell, presided. The address was read by the chairman of the committee, John McSwain, and the presentation made by the vice-president. Mr. Webster replied feelingly, thanking the club for their handsome gift. Short addresses highly eulogistic of Mr. Webster were delivered by Miss Mary Shanks, chief Daniel Stewart, and Mr. J. R. Pennington, Joseph

North Sydney, June 14.—(Special.)—Colonel Willard Glazier, the famous Labrador explorer, will leave Boston for the little known continent again about the first of July and will call at this port on his way north. The expedition party will be similar in its personnel to that of last year's, which contained besides the leader, Col. Glazier, Captain Ferrigo, Lieut. George H. Clark, who at one time served under Peary, and eleven others of whom ten were college students. The party will probably stay in Labrador about three months, and the journey from the coast to the interior will be made by way of Hamilton Inlet.

WATER SERVICE FOR ROTHESAY SOME TIME THIS WEEK.

System Being Installed by Company is Nearly Completed.

The water system being put in at Rothesay by The Rothesay Water & Improvement Company is nearly completed, and it is expected that the water will be turned on about Thursday of this week. The opportunity for obtaining a good supply could scarcely be surpassed. The reservoir is situated on the Taylor brook above the Silver Falls, and will give a head of about 120 feet. A substantial dam fourteen feet high has been constructed, which will flood an extensive basin and impound from ten to twelve million gallons, a supply sufficient for a larger town. The water is of excellent quality, and the system will be of great advantage to the growing suburb. Many of the residents are showing their appreciation of its advantages by putting in services. The main pipe is something more than a mile and half in length. The work of building the dam, clearing the land for the reservoir, digging the trench and pipe laying has involved employment of a good many men for several months. WORKED SWINDLING GAME IN ST. JOHN.

Worthless Check Went in One Place for $45, But It Failed in a King Street Clothing House—All Right as Worked by One Man, But Too Many Cooks Again Spotted the Broth—Police Now Searching for "Allan" and "Rubins."

Nathan H. Allan, who hails from New York, and George Rubins, who has been employed in the Union Club, are being searched for all over the country by the police on a charge of swindling. The game was a bold one, working the check book which has duped many persons here. While Allan was successful in getting cash from Charles Brown, the Drugist, corner of Sydney and Princess streets, both were tripped up at Greater Oak Hall and, as a result, are not to be found. About three months ago Allan, a slight, tall man with a heavy sandy mustache, rented, he told Mr. Brown Saturday, a furnished house from Mrs. McDonald, Elliott Row. Allan said he represented a large clothing house in Upper Canada and, with his wife and a couple of children, they made themselves at home in their new quarters. Also about three months ago, George Rubins, a smooth faced, medium sized and sharp looking fellow was employed at the Union Club as bar tender. Rubins, with his wife, boarded at a Sewell street boarding house where, it is said, they had no baggage when they came. Both Rubins and Allan were becoming quite well acquainted about the city. On Thursday last Rubins left the club and has not been seen about the place since. Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock Allan entered the drug store of Charles Brown on the corner of Princess and Sydney streets. He was very pleasant and started in to be a good customer. Business was brisk and Mr. Brown was happy when Allan made a purchase of $10 worth of goods. In payment he handed Mr. Brown a check on the Bank of New Brunswick for $45. He said it was all he had and that Mr. Brown could give the change, $35, and keep the $10 out of the check for the goods purchased. Mr. Brown, thinking Allan all right and having other business to do in a hurry, readily took the check, which was signed by N. H. Allan, handed over the $35 in cash and, with a pat on his shoulder, the deal was closed. Allan left the store with the good $35 and Mr. Brown placed the worthless check in his pocket and went on his way. "Thank you," said Allan, and with a pat on his shoulder, the deal was closed. THE TELEGRAPH'S PULPIT.

Rev. B. N. Nobles Draws Practical Lesson for Our Readers from the Text, "I Bear in My Body the Marks of the Lord Jesus."

Gal. 6:17—"I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus." Some manufacturers distinguished their wares by trade marks; others stamp their names upon their goods.

All men bear marks of one sort or another, and prominent among these are birth marks. It is an accepted fact of physiology that offspring inherit the physical and mental traits of parents.

Personal habits of body and mind leave their marks upon men also. His business career marks the merchant with knitted brow—her family cares, the mother's with furrowed deep.

Not alone habits of mind, but surroundings operate to this end also. Spartan courage was doubtless the result in part of the constant exposure of their city to enemies.

While all men bear marks of one sort and another, only some men bear the marks of the Lord Jesus. These which Paul refers to were borne upon his body.

And, brothers, do you not know that all whom Jesus claims as his have marks to distinguish them? They may lack many of the marks Paul had, for the day of bitter persecution and bodily torture is past in most lands.

But such marks of the apostle as were due to his communion and fellowship with Jesus, all our Lord's own have, more or less distinctly wrought in body and in soul.

But the marks which indicate nobility are seen especially in the souls of the individual. Let a poor, shabby, and unclean man, sitting in an alley, with no cover girl pressed along in the hurrying crowd, but soon turned back and quietly dropped a dime in the blind man's hand; then hurried on.

And now, before we part company for this time, may I ask you, brothers, without being accounted impertinent: What are the marks your habits of thought and life are leaving upon you?

BIG COAL DEAL CLOSED IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

The Cumberland Coals and Railway Company Purchases 31 Square Miles of Areas Near Springhill.

Amherst, June 12.—One of the most important transactions in coal areas which has taken place in this province for some years was made on Monday when the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company, through its manager, J. R. Cowan, purchased thirty-one square miles, being the areas in the immediate neighborhood of Springhill.

Considerable of the coal raised by this company is shipped to Parrarob, twenty-seven miles from the mines, and is carried from there to St. John, Portland and Bay of Fundy ports by means of seven barges and a powerful ocean tug, owned by the company.

A very large sum of money has been expended in improvements, consisting of eighty-pound rails, the most up-to-date rolling stock, two new hoisting engines, a water system by which the water is brought a distance of two miles, a telephone line, an up-to-date electric plant, etc.

Bile Beans.

She says: "I wish to add my testimony to the many others who have spoken so highly of the unfailing virtues of Bile Beans." I was all run down, had no appetite, lost all ambition, could not sleep much and had terrible headache and backache.

BATTLE OF WARSHIPS IN THE BAY OF FUNDY IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO.

Combat of English and French Deal With in Rev. W. O. Raymond's Historical Sketches of Early Days in Brunswick—Pestilence Attacked and Killed Many Indians—Charges Against Villebon and His Brother—John Alden, Son of Longfellow's Priscilla, Traded With the Indians.

W. O. RAYMOND, LL.D. CHAPTER V. KING WELLMAM'S WAR. (Continued.)

In spite of Villebon's energy and ability and of his zeal in the service of his country very serious complaints were made against him by some of the French people living on the St. John river.

Something in the Charges.

That there was some ground for the charges preferred against Villebon seems likely from the fact that most of the missionaries censured him and confirmed the reports of the inhabitants concerning the misconduct of his brothers.

Congratulations of Frontenac.

After engaging in some minor depredations Villebon proceeded to Montreal accompanied by several of the chiefs where they presented a string of English scalps to Frontenac as a token of their success and received his hearty congratulations.

The Halifax College.

The afternoon session was occupied with reports of colleges. The report of the board of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, showed receipts for the year $12,740; the expenditure $13,291, which leaves a deficit of $551.

Queen's University reports the appointment of Rev. Dr. Gordon as president in succession to the late Principal Grant.

The number of students last session in arts, theology, medicine and science was 330, an increase of 48 over the previous year. A slight deficit is shown in the financial statement of the year, and more endowment is necessary.

There was a strong debate in connection with the Montreal establishment. Prof. Campbell objected to power being given to the assembly to appoint principal and professors. It was tantamount to "moving the present professors."

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 17, 1903.

CIRCUS DANCE BARRED BY POLICE, BUT SHOW'S "A GO."

The Houchee-Kouchee Was a Trifle Overdone, the Chief Thought—The Rest of the Circus Was Accounted a Popular Success.

The circus was weighed in the scale of the ten commandments Monday and found wanting by the police. They decided that certain features of the show were a trifle—just a trifle—too gay for St. John.

There were two leading features of the circus here yesterday afternoon—one was advertised; the other was not. The advertised attraction was a dance, or rather the beginning of one, and the unadvertised was the interference of the chief of police, as he noted that the dance was calculated to offend the public morals.

So he instructed an officer to forbid this feature of the circus to continue. There was no inclination to demur or resist so the artist hastened to direct their peculiar talents toward feats of a more law abiding nature.

This dance enjoys a singular notoriety—it has delighted and disgusted—it has been criticized and condemned, but no matter when it comes to St. John, the public safety and the jealous guardians of untaught minds, why it must cry out for sanctification and abate and stay in hiding until the greatest show on earth has moved on.

However, this was the only objectionable feature to be found in the circus, for, as shown by, why nobody made a mistake in taking pains to witness what was offered.

There has preceded the circus stories of unimpeachable countrymen being done out of some ranging from $40 to $400 by the visible general post and shell man, but the police went down and interviewed the circus officials on this point, and there was no pea and shell business here. Officers in plain clothes were in various parts of the grounds and report that no one gave up any money yesterday that he didn't want.

Thousands went to the circus and came away feeling that the Pan-American in all its regal magnificence might have been there. And there was some inconvenience, and a little discomfort in being a patron, for the day was wet, and was everywhere, and the tent leaked, and you were crowded and pushed, but still, where was the man who would admit that he was sorry he came.

The side shows boomed, and once inside you reckoned to the frenzied playing of a wheezy band, and strove heroically to keep people from crumpling on your feet. What didn't they do by the side of the canvas stood a man, a woman and a large box. The man was stout, florid, clean shaven, had glowing grey eyes, an easy working jaw, a tireless tongue and brassy voice. The woman was plump, dark and serenely indifferent. The man suddenly stopped talking, the woman went toward the box, and seemed to be knocking about. Then she looped something about her neck and turned to the audience with a far-away stare.

Ugh—there was a snake resting on her shoulders—the coils seemed somewhat torpid, but the creature had life—plenty of it; she took its head and pressed it against her cheek—she fondled the loathsome scales—then unwound the coils from around her, and dropped the treasure back into the box. More kneeling, and more snake-carrying, but now the gentle man with the brassy voice recommended that everybody take advantage of beholding Professor So-and-So and his marvelously trained dogs.

Away over by the entrance sat the Albino man—he had a pasty complexion, had pink eyes, had silky white hair, was flashy and conspicuous; seemed as if given to philosophy—and was enjoying a chew. Just past the main entrance was the woman with the long hair, who, when she looked and his and walked peevishly behind the bars.

The lions, tigers and cubs were good specimens—the elderly lady ignorant, prying crowd with lortly contempt, and the cubs rolled back in the straw and curled one another.

In the main tent last evening fully 2,500 people must have gathered; there was tier upon tier of faces, and this long before 8 o'clock.

There were two rings, rigging for traps, gas lights, jaunty ring masters, flaring gas lamps, aluminum chains, hand music, and that circus smell—the odor of sawdust—fresh earth and sawdust—perfume.

The trapeze work was creditable—perhaps a more complimentary term would be more fitting. The bare-back riding was good, and also certain air feats, such as balancing on the knees in mid-air and swinging by the feet. And when each performer would finish and descend to the ring, what an exquisite salutation would be or she give. It suggested the throwing of a kiss—it breathed the "favored" and the "blessed" of all plagues and come and go.

BACK FROM TRINIDAD.

Amherst Man Tells of Improvements in Enterprise of Which Halifax Man is the Head.

Charles S. McKay, who is at the Victoria hotel, is just back after seven months spent in Trinidad (West Indies). Mr. McKay is an Amherst man, and was in Trinidad for the Robb Engineering Company, Ltd., of Amherst, setting up engines for an improved electrical system in Port au Spain, the Trinidad Electrical Company, which is composed of Canadian capitalists, headed by B. F. Pearson, of Halifax, operates street railway, street and house lighting plant in Port au Spain. There are some twenty-five miles of street railway, but up to seven months ago there were but two electric cars, the others being in operation, while the lighting has also been much improved.

Mr. McKay went down to Trinidad to complete the setting up of the engines and, having completed his work, is returning to Amherst. The Robb company supplied the engines, the generators were erected in Schelladellia (N. Y.), and the new street cars in Philadelphia.

Mr. McKay says there is need of a good steamship service to Canada from Trinidad, and merchants there several times so expressed themselves to him.

Irvine Atherton.

The death occurred Friday at the residence of Irvine Atherton, 51 Harrison street, of Irvine Atherton, aged three years and eight months, son of E. R. and Bessie T. Atherton, of Sandhill (B. C.). The deceased was a very bright young boy, and his little son was here on a visit to his brother, Mr. Irvine, and the saddest feature of the case is that the child's father never had a chance to see him again, which will take place tomorrow afternoon. Deep sympathy is felt for Mrs. Atherton in her great bereavement.

Mrs. Catherine Riley.

Mrs. Catherine Riley, widow of Patrick Riley, died yesterday morning at her daughter's residence, 103 Elm street. She was 80 years of age.

Julia Agnes Mackenzie.

Mrs. William Mackenzie, of this city, received a telegram Sunday, conveying the sad news of the death of her daughter, Julia Agnes, at Washington (D. C.), on Friday, June 12. Teasdale and Misses Florence, Beatrice and Julia. Mrs. Mackenzie is in Maclean street, and her brother, William Gordon, and James Donald.

The body will be interred today at Washington.

Mrs. David Lawson.

The death occurred on Saturday night of Mrs. David Lawson, at her home, 128 Brunel street. Mrs. Lawson had been ill for some time, and her death was caused by the death of her little grand-daughter, Mary A. Burgess, who was crushed to death last August by a pile of lumber around which she was playing. Mrs. Lawson was in her sixty-third year, and leaves besides her husband, one son, Robert, and one daughter, Mrs. Henry Burgess. Her death was due to heart trouble.

Mrs. John P. Esdale.

A Halifax despatch to the Telegraph Sunday night said: "On Friday the death occurred of Mrs. Esdale, wife of John P. Esdale, steamship inspector of the marine and harbor department. This sad news will be learned with much regret in St. John. Mr. Esdale was in Boston with Inspector Oliver on Saturday night to Halifax. He had received a telegram asking him to come home at once, and he did not know when he left St. John that his wife had passed away. She fell a victim to paralysis. Her husband has been engaged with Inspector Oliver since the death of his wife, and he will mourn with him in his great bereavement. His return to St. John to resume his duties will be necessarily delayed for a few days longer than was anticipated.
