STOP, WOMAN!

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman — a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge. Many women ? auffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it 'I do not believe it will help me.

Plays Clever Sardou Comedy Before a Large-Sized Audience.

Miss Virginia Harned, who, by the way, is Mrs. Edward Sothern, made her nitial appearance before a London audience last night, presenting Victorien Sardou's "The Love Letter." While Miss Harned proved most acceptable to the large-sized audience present, it is to be regretted that the play was not of sufficient weight to bring out her undoubted talents. Miss Harned has undoubted talents. Miss Harned has for long been associated with the highly emotional stage types, and her role i "The Love Letter" must be the merest pastime. As Florence Revillon, unjustly under the suspicion of her jealousy naddened second husband, which same places her in all sorts of awkward and ludicrous positions, she extracted all that was possible from the part.

Sardou, whose productions are generally melodramatic, has in this piece tal jealousy and misunderstanding.
