Russ Division Refuses To Fight

RUSS DIVISION QUITS POSITION BEFORE ENEMY IN GREAT DISORDER

Large Body of Troops Abandons Place On Rumania Front, Refusing To Face Huns—Leaders Tell Moscow Conference of Grave Situation.

Petrograd, Aug. 29.—A Russian division yesterday abandoned its positions in the region of Fokshani, on the Rumanian front, and fled in disorder, the war office announced today.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK, SAY RUSS LEADERS.

Moscow, Aug. 29.—At the third general sitting of the national conference railway representatives, including M. Froloff of the Engineers' Alliance, reported that there existed a state of utter disorganization of transportation, which, unless improved, would cease completely by November. The representatives gave warning that the consequence would be terrible both at home and on the front, and that the army might turn on the country and commit unexampled excesses.

Extreme Demands.

The extreme demands of the railway workers, the speakers said, played an important part in this disorganization. They called on all those engaged in the transport services to sacrifice personal interests for those of the country.

M. Grusenberg, speaking as the representative of the Jews, said they loved their country, notwithstanding their unprecedented persecution under the old regime, and had contributed greatly to the emancipation of the people and the defence against the enemy.

The Chief Problem.

Representatives of Ukraine and of western or white Russia said the people were ready to make any sacrifices for the good of the country. The spokesman for the Letts declared Courland would never belong to Germany. Delegates representing the Mussulman Alliance said all Mussulman citizens of Russia fully supported the Provisional Government.

Gen. Grouzinoff, former military governor of Moscow, told the delegates the chief problem was to save Russia from the enemy, and that to this end it was necessary to re-establish army discipline by eliminating politics, strengthening the authority of the leaders, limiting the power of soldiers' committees to economic functions, and giving the commander-in-chief opportunity to exercise unreserved authority.

Army in Two Camps.

Gen. Alexieff, former commander-in-chief, made a long address, in which he recounted the history of the Russians' military setbacks and their causes. He drew contrasts between the army of the old regime, poorly equipped with mechanical resources, but strong in warlike spirit and the present army, well supplied with food and arms, but completely poisoned and enfeebled by ill-interpreted and ill-applied doctrines which have been put forward, notably in the famous order of the day No. 1. These doctrines, he declared, had split the army into two opposite camps, officers and soldiers, which have become almost irreconcilable.

Fatal to Discipline.

Speaking of the committees elected by the soldiers of the various units, Gen. Alexieff said they were useful to the army from an economic standpoint, but were fatal to discipline of the troops. None the less subversive was the influence of Government commissaries whose appointment, he asserted, created an extremely dangerous duality of power.

The general maintained that after publication by the Government of the declaration of the rights of soldiers all respect toward leaders disappeared, the officers becoming veritable martyrs and having to pay very dearly for the offensive of August 1 and the subsequent retreat. The general cited some remarkable illustrations of this. On one occasion, he said, when an attack was being launched, the force which advanced was made up of 28 officers, 20 non-commissioned officers and two soldiers. All the others looked on coldly while these heroes perished.

The general declared it would be impossible to carry on the war to a victorious conclusion unless the strongest possible efforts were made by the Provisional Government and by the troops themselves to reanimate and regenerate the army.

SARNIA EXPLOSION CAUSES HIS DEATH

Remains of William Westhead Will Be Brought Here for Burial.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Aug. 29.—Burns received in a gas explosion at one of the pressure stills of the Imperial Oil Company yesterday proved fatal to William Westhead, aged 41, residing at 198 Maria street, who died at the Sarnia General Hospital at an early hour this morning. Besides a mother and two brothers, Frank and Harry, of London, Ont., he is survived by a wife and an adopted son. He had resided in this city for about one year. The remains were shipped to London for burial this afternoon.

W. C. Calderbank, who was also severely burned, is reported as making favorable progress, and will recover. The exact cause of the explosion is not known, but it is believed to have been caused by one of the men smoking a pipe or cigarette.

EARL GREY DEAD; ONCE GOVERNOR OF THE DOMINION

Succumbs To Long Illness At His Home In England.

London, Aug. 29.—Earl Grey, former governor-general of Canada, died at 6 o'clock this morning at Howick House, Northumberland, after a long illness. The funeral will be held at Howick on Saturday, when a memorial service will be held in London.

Statesman and Philanthropist.

Lord Strathcona described Earl Grey as "a statesman and a philanthropist in the best sense." His active career comprised not only the administration of the government of Rhodesia and representation of the British Government as governor-general of Canada, but industrial and financial operations in the development of South Africa. One of the most noted movements to which he gave his support and in which he was a leading spirit was the Public House Trust Company of England, an enterprise designed to supplant the ordinary saloons for the sale of intoxicating liquor by the establishment of well-conducted public houses, and to discourage the use of intoxicants by substitution of tea and coffee.

Born in 1851.

Born November 28, 1851, Alfred Henry George, the fourth Earl Grey, was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge. He married in 1877 Alice Holford of Westonbirt, England. Two daughters, Lady Evelyn Grey and Lady Sybil Grey, were the result of the union.

By profession Earl Grey was a lawyer. He was a member of Parliament from Northumberland for six years, beginning in 1880. On the death of his uncle, Gen. Sir Charles Grey, in 1894, he succeeded to the title and took his seat in the House of Lords. For two generations previously the Earl Greys had been prominent in the political affairs of the British Empire. His grandfather had been prime minister of England.

AMERICANS CAN TAKE BACK CANNED GOODS

U. S. Govt. Passes Special Ruling for Summer Visitors.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Americans returning from Canada may bring, free of duty, $100 worth of canned goods and other foodstuffs, under a ruling announced today by the treasury department. The ruling was designed especially to meet a situation which had resulted from the summer stay in Canada of numerous Americans, many of whom canned their winter supply of fruits and vegetables while there.

Canadians Fliers To Teach Americans at Fort North Schools

Students Will Be Got Ready Quickly for the Front.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 29.—The four-squadron flying school to be established at Fort Worth, Texas, the war department announced today, will be ready for American student aviators now under training at the Royal Flying School at Toronto, Canada, beginning about November 1.

Canadian and British instructors will come with the classes to aid the American officers in getting the men ready quickly for service on the western front.

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR HELPING BELGIANS; ESCAPE INTO HOLLAND

Amsterdam, Aug. 29.—The burgomaster of Hamont, Province of Limbourg, Belgium, has been sentenced to death by the German authorities on a charge of helping Belgians to escape into rHolland. The prior of the Hamont Monastery and Professor Ballings of Hamont have been sentenced to life imprisonment on the same charge, according to the Echo Belge.

Mme. Errera, wife of the director of the University of Brussels, the dispatch adds, has been arrested by Germans on a charge of espionage. She is also accused of having forged identification cards.

CHAMBERLIN ALSO OUT OF GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM; KELLEY NAMED FOR PLACE

Montreal, Aug. 29.—E. J. Chamberlin, who yesterday resigned as president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has now retired from the office of president of the Grand Trunk. He will be succeeded by Howard G. Kelley, who was yesterday appointed to the presidency of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

GREATER TAXATION OF WAR PROFITS BY STATES

Washington, Aug. 29.—To meet the radical movement for greater taxation of war profits, the Senate finance committee today agreed to amendments carrying war profits taxes of more than 33 per cent in place of the present provisions for 26 per cent. The amendments would increase the war profits tax yield from $562,000,000 to $1,060,000,000, in addition to the taxes under the present tax and yield a third of the bill's total taxes.

STRONG POSITION OF GERMANS CLEARED OUT BY THE BRITISH; HAIG WINS NIGHT FIGHTING

British Carry Out Successful Raids In Flanders And Drive Enemy From Point Near Langemarck.

London, Aug. 29.—"During the night we carried out successful raids northeast of Gouzeaucourt and Hulluch, and captured a few prisoners," says today's official announcement. "Southeast of Langemarck our troops cleared up a strong point in which an enemy party was holding out immediately in front of our new line."

GERMANS ATTACK IN STORM.

London, Aug. 29.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters reports the heaviest rain and furious wind is hampering operations. Notwithstanding the rain the Germans twice last night attacked our line astride the Ypres-Menin road, coming in big waves of assault through the Inverness Copse. Both attempts were broken up, and the attackers were heavily punished.

"We are getting plenty of evidence of the exhaustion of the enemy reserves in this area," says the correspondent.

DROVE OUT BRITISH?

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Via London.—German counter-attacks yesterday drove the British from the indentation they had made in the German positions northeast of Frezenberg on the Flanders front, army headquarters announced today.

"In the Oituz Valley region, on the Rumanian front, Teutonic forces stormed hill positions yesterday," says the announcement. "More than 600 prisoners were taken."

EXTREMELY HEAVY CASUALTIES THROUGH STRUGGLE FOR LENS, BUT FATALITIES ARE LIGHT

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—Extremely heavy casualty lists continue to pour in by cable to the record office, those announced from Saturday night to noon today numbering approximately 2,700. It is understood that the roll will be heavy for some days as a result of the prolonged severe fighting at Lens. That the percentage of fatalities is light, is illustrated by today's figures, the noon list of 386 containing but 14 fatalities.

SOUKHOMLINOFF GAVE WAR LITTLE THOUGHT, DECLARES ASSISTANT

Petrograd, Aug. 29.—Gen. Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war, scarcely gave any thought to the conduct of the war, Gen. A. P. Vernander, former assistant minister of war, declared yesterday at the trial of Gen. Soukhomlinoff for high treason. The war minister, Gen. Vernander said, paid no heed to the equipment of the army and gave no contracts to workshops and factories which manufactured munitions. As a result, he testified, the munition production progressed haltingly, and after 130 days of war the Russian army was without shells. Gen. Vernander succeeded Gen. Soukhomlinoff temporarily as minister of war.

CAN HAVE PEACE BY SPURNING OF KAISER'S CLIQUE

Wilson Opens Door, But the Germans Must Discard Wilhelm.

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent).
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Washington, Aug. 28.—Peace rests upon the decision of the German people not upon their ruler. The peace door is swung wide, but the Teutons must come through it without Kaiser Wilhelm as their leader. Else they must be pounded and pierced until sheer steel convinces them that the kaiser's militaristic yoke is impossible, either for themselves or for the safety of the world.

This epitomizes today President Wilson's answer to the pope's peace proffer, probably now in the hands of the pontiff. His rejection of peace at this time stands out in diplomatic minds as one of the most virile state papers of this war. Yet, it is tempered with another direct offer to Germany to get peace by spurning kaiserism with its horrors and insincerity.

BORDEN'S OFFER TO RESIGN REJECTED BY CONS. CAUCUS; PREMIER WILL HEAD HIS PARTY IN COMING GENERAL ELECTION

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—At a caucus of the Conservative party this morning the offer of Sir Robert Borden to resign was not accepted, and he will lead the party in the pending election.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—With the Canadian Northern purchase bill put through committee by closure and carried by 63 to 36 at 2 a.m., the Conservatives met in caucus at 11 o'clock this morning.

It was understood that Sir Robert Borden would make a report to his parliamentary followers on the negotiations he has been carrying on for Government reconstruction. As these negotiations resulted in Sir Robert Borden inviting Hon. J. A. Calder, Hon. Arthur Sifton and Mr. T. A. Crerar to come into the Government, and their reply practically was that the West would permit them to go in if Sir Robert would go out, it is understood that the prime minister proposed to lay this proposition before his followers with the offer of his resignation if they felt that there should be Government reconstruction, and that his presence at the head of the Conservative party prevented it being achieved.

Two Groups in Caucus.

The prime minister went into the caucus still determined to recommend to his followers a plan of government reconstruction that would include some Liberals in the administration. There went into the caucus a group determined to support Sir Robert through thick and thin. There also went in another group of considerable number which had made up its mind that a motion should be carried accepting the resignation of Sir Robert, not for the purpose of achieving union government but for the purpose of continuing the cabinet straight Conservative, and so that the coming election might be run on straight party lines. Last night it was stated that this group was prepared to accept the Hon. J. D, Hazen as successor to Sir Robert.

The sentiment of the caucus was found to be strongly against union government, and in favor of running the coming election on straight party lines.

The situation was considered so important that a committee was appointed with Col. J. D. Taylor chairman to prepare a statement for the press.

LIBERALS WANT FOSTER TO LEAD WITH BORDEN MEMBER

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—Sir Robert Borden will remain head of the Conservative party.

At a prolonged ministerial caucus today which lasted till 2 o'clock, the prime minister dealt with the recent negotiations for a union government, and stated that the western Liberals, with whom he had been negotiating, were willing to join a union government with himself as a member, but not as leader.

Sir George Foster was one of those suggested as the new leader. Sir Robert expressed his willingness to retire, but this met with no favor. Sir George Foster, who was present at the caucus, declined to accept the responsibility of leadership, and maintained that Sir Robert's continuance in the position was essential to the efficient conduct of the war.

The caucus unanimously approved Sir George's position, and pledged their loyalty to Sir Robert Borden and their co-operation in his efforts to bring about a government representing all elements favorable to a vigorous war policy.

RIOTS IN FINLAND

Civilians and Russian Soldiers in Fatal Clashes.

London, Aug. 29.—Serious rioting at Bjorneberg, Finland, is reported in a private telegram from Haparanda to Copenhagen, forwarded by the Central News to London. It is said fighting between Finns and soldiers of the Russian garrison lasted for several hours, and that a number of persons were killed or wounded.

This is the day set for reassembling of the Finnish Landtag in defiance of the dissolution order of the Provisional Government. In his address at the opening of the Moscow conference, Premier Kerensky gave warning that the Government would prevent by force reopening of the Diet and the carrying out of the plan for a separation of Finland from Russia.

RELIEF SHIP SUNK

Kongsti "Subbed" While En Route to the United States.

London, Aug. 29.—The Norwegian steamer Kongsti, from St. Nazaire, France, for the United States, has been sunk off the Spanish coast, according to a telegram received in Christiania from Santander, and forwarded by the MorningPost's correspondent.

The Maritime Register reports the Norwegian steamer Kongsti as a Belgian relief ship. She measured 3,663 tons net, and is last reported as arriving at Amsterdam on June 6.

The Kongsti was attacked by a submarine late last April. She was at first reported sunk, but was able to reach a British port. One-fourth of her cargo of relief supplies was lost and the second mate was killed.

A RECORD FLIGHT

Italian Aviator Covers 920 Miles Without a Stop.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Capt. Guilio Taureami, an aviator in the Italian army, has established new world's long distance flying record by flying more than 900 miles without stopping, according to a dispatch to the Temps from Milan. The Italian flew from Turin to Naples and returned, a distance of about 920 miles as the crow flies.

The captain used a new Sia machine with a flat motor. He left Turin at 10:07 a.m., reached Naples at 12:30 p.m., flew over that city, and was back in Turin at 8:40 p.m.

The previous long distance non-stop flight record was held by Second Lieut. Antoine Marchal, a French aviator. In June, 1916, Marchal flew from Nancy, France, to near Chelm, Russian Poland in a Nieuport machine. The distance covered was about 807 miles. During the flight Lieut. Marchal dropped proclamations on Berlin. He was made prisoner by the Austrians at Chelm, and was interned at Salzerbach.

AVIATOR ON RETURN JOURNEY PIERCES CLOUDS ABOVE CITY AND WINGS ON TO THE EAST

Lieut. Woods Passed Across and Through Skies Above London.

FOLLOWS LINE OF C. P. R.

Advertiser Notified of Arrival at Glencoe and Expected His Coming.

Visions of "Billy" Bishop, "Eddie" MacKay, "Bert" Perry, and other London aviators rose up in the minds of those Londoners who were fortunate enough to witness the flight of Lieut. J. C. Woods, the flyingman from Camp Borden, over London, about five minutes before noon today, and after seeing today's exhibition of a "birdman" gliding through the clouds, now visible, now invisible, it can be safely said that flying on a bright day does not begin to compare in interest with the same sport on a murky day, as far the spectator is concerned.

Flits Through Clouds.

The flyer was traveling at a moderate speed (for aviators) of about 60 miles an hour, and appeared to be about 1,000 feet above the ground. This is comparatively low flying, but, judging by the way in which he glided in and out of the clouds, it can be easily understood that even flying at a low altitude he would have difficulty in identifying landmarks, in order to keep to the right direction.

Black and graceful, and looking more like a huge hawk than anything else, the airship appeared to follow the C. P. R. tracks through the city, and occupied from one to two minutes in gliding from one end of the city to the other. Owing to the dullness of the day, few people on the downtown streets noticed the machine, although it passed at an hour when the streets were full of people. A number of citizens in the outer section of the city, however, saw it pass, among them Mrs. A. C. Joseph, who phoned The Advertiser a few moments later.

Get Word of Approach.

About 11:35 The Advertiser received word from Glencoe that the aeroplane had passed there at 11:25, and that it was following the C. P. R. tracks eastward. About a half an hour later the machine appeared over the northwest

LONDON GIRL IS IN FRANCE WITH AMERICAN BOYS

Miss Marion Beal Went Over With Johns Hopkins Unit.

IN TRENCHES THIS FALL

The Preparations To Receive Casualties Are Expected To Be Complete.

That the American troops are not expected to be in action on the western front until late in the fall is the opinion of C. J. Beal, 431 Waterloo street, after reading a letter which he recently received from his daughter, Miss Marion Beal, who left with the John Hopkins Hospital Unit shortly after the United States' declaration of war.

Miss Beal states that her unit has been moved to within 50 miles of front-line trenches, which trenches, it is anticipated will shortly be placed under the responsibility of American troops.

Quartered in Chateau.

They have for their quarters a beautiful French chateau of the eighteenth-century type. She says that the scenery is entrancing, and that every convenience is supplied for the medical occupants of the mansion by the French authorities.

Although arrangements have not been completed by the officers of the hospital for the reception of American wounded, and everything is in a state of unsettlement, good progress toward the equipping and maintenance of the hospital is being made.

Ready in Late Fall.

Miss Beal figures that the hospital will not be in a condition to receive the wounded until well on in the autumn. She, therefore, surmises that the American troops will not see active fighting until late in the fall, when American hospitals and ambulance corps are in a position to take care of casualties.

Miss Beal makes no mention of the rank she will receive when arrangements regarding rank, pay and duties have been made, but as she is a graduate nurse of one of the largest hospitals of the States, and has also had considerable experience, it is expected that she will be given the rank of captain.

HAS ALL THE OLD-TIME ENERGY AND VIGOR AGAIN

Had Tried Most Every Kind of Medicine.

NOTHING HELPED HIM

Wife Gets Tanlac for Him and He Has Been Picking Up Ever Since.

"I had been taking Tanlac only a few days when I began to feel that vim and vigor of years ago," said William Nicholson, a well-known citizen of Burlington, Ontario, employed by the Nicholson Lumber Company, while in Parke & Parke, Limited, at Hamilton, recently.

"For over a year," he continued, "I had been in a general rundown condition, weak and nervous and had no appetite. I was badly constipated, felt stupid and lifeless and was so restless at nights I could hardly sleep at all. I would get up in the mornings so tired and stiff I never felt like going to my work, and for some time just had to lay off. I had no desire for food of any kind, and just had to force down what I did eat. I had tried so many different kinds of medicines with no results that I had about turned against everything.

"But my wife had been keeping up with the Tanlac testimonials, so one day she came back from Hamilton with a bottle for me. She had a hard time getting me to take it, but you may know it's doing the work or I wouldn't be in here now buying more of it. Honestly, I believe the very first dose made me feel better, and I have been picking up right along ever since. Why I have an appetite that I can hardly satisfy and can eat three rousing meals a day and enjoy every one of them. I'm not constipated and nervous any more, I sleep good every night and get up in the mornings rested and ready for my work. All that tired, stiff, wornout feeling is gone, and I have all my old-time energy and vigor again. Tanlac has done more for me than everything else, and I'm obliged to think it the best medicine made."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

MUNICIPAL MEN URGE DOMINION TO NATIONALIZE BIG RAILWAYS

Union of Municipalities Delegates End Convention.

MAYOR HARDIE PRESIDENT

Practical Indorsation of the Conscription Measure.

That not only the Canadian Northern Railway, but the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Grand Trunk Railway itself, should be nationalized at once, along the lines suggested by the Drayton-Acworth commission report, and that they should be administered by a non-political board of trustees, was the substance of a resolution passed by the delegates to the Union of Canadian Municipalities at the closing session last night.

The taking over of the C. N. R., without including the other two roads, would, in the opinion of the meeting, defeat the objects of nationalization by continuing two inadequate systems, which would make economy impossible and render difficult the improvement of the present lamentable traffic conditions.

The resolution, which was moved by Mayor Buchanan of Ingersoll, and seconded by Mayor Hardie of Lethbridge, urged that the Dominion Government provide for the nationalization now of the three systems concerned.

Delegates Like London.

The convention was to have extended until today, but the program was hurried through, and the delegates are on their way home today. At the closing session, which was presided over by Mayor Stevenson, the delegates expressed the pleasure they had felt at the hospitality they had received in London, and resolutions of thanks to the mayor, the board of control and aldermen, the board of trade, and its secretary, Gordon Philip, the railway commission, and the citizens of London generally, were passed, and were responded to by Mayor Stevenson on behalf of the city.

Both the Dominion and Provincial Governments were referred to in a resolution, which, in view of the success of the hydro-electric railways, urged that the Dominion Government refuse to grant extensions of or new charters for the construction of electric railways through districts now surveyed and reported upon by the hydro-electric commission, and that the construction be left in the hands of the municipalities under the hydro-electric act. Similarly, the Provincial Legislature was commended for the policy of the last two sessions, and urged to continue it, by refusing extensions of charters in the province, particularly where the hydro-electric commission had made surveys and estimates. Ald. J. D. Denny of Ottawa and Ald. Robert Ryan of Three Rivers were the sponsors for the resolution.

Must Make Provision.

Mayor Hardie of Lethbridge, the newly-elected president of the union, in a rousing address, stated that there be adequate provision made for the relatives of the heroes who have given up their lives in the present conflict.

"Shall we raise monuments to the heroes, or place tablets in our churches?" asked Mr. Hardie. "The greatest monument that we can make is that we make it certain that they who die in France shall know that their fathers, mothers, wives and children shall be provided for." He predicted that those who were working on the battle front, as no men elsewhere are working, not for their own liberty, not for the Allies' liberty, but for the liberty of the world, and even of the enemy peoples, would not be forgotten.

Something approaching an indorsement of conscription was voiced, when, following his address, a resolution, moved by Mayors Bowlby of Brantford, and Burgoyne of St. Catharines, to the soldiers of Canada at the front, was passed, stating on behalf of the municipalities that "our hearts are with you, and we follow with deepest sympathy your struggles, your contests and your sacrifices for us; and we rejoice in your successes; we shall not fail to send you reinforcements and support; we pray that God may bless and sustain you to the end, and return you to places of lifelong honor in our midst."

Praises Women.

During a plea for all men to get together regardless of politics for the good of Canada, Mayor Buchanan of Ingersoll stated that "without conscription, the ladies of the country have turned to the wheel to provide comforts for the soldiers in a way that should make the men ashamed." Just dropped their prejudices and got together, so men should now cast aside their antipathies and bind Canada together by a national highway across the country, as a monument to 50 years of confederation. If the millions of dollars spent on dirt roads and on stone roads by men who had the desire to do well but did not know how, had been saved, it would easily build a permanent highway across Canada, said the speaker, who urged the use of concrete or other permanent material for roads.

Value of Roads.

Ald. Pierre of Point aux Trembles, another supporter of national highways, stated that the national highways of France had enabled that country to recover from the debts of the war in 1870, while Germany, with inferior roads, had not been so prosperous in this regard. He thought that the scheme of national highways would become a source of prosperity to this country if adopted. Fred Wright, editor of the Canadian Municipal Journal, stated that committees had been appointed in all the provinces, and were working toward obtaining a national highway.

T. J. Hannigan, Guelph, secretary of the Hydro Radial Association, outlined the history of the hydro-electric railway movement, and stated that they were waiting to see what the Dominion Government was going to do with regard to railways. They did not want to build lines that would duplicate the lines already built that could be electrified instead, and give better service.

Work for Soldiers.

Secretary Ed. Lance of the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, told of the work done for returned men, in finding employment and in providing vocational training for them. Of the 286 for whom work had been found in the past year, few were willing to go back to their former occupations. Cases had been noticed of some men who had been sent from England to be discharged, but on their arrival here were sent to the special service company, instead of being kept in the hospital, because of lack of accommodation there, and some of these men were unfit to serve in the special service company.

Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs Bayne, also dealt with the returned soldier problem, stating that it was doubtful if the plan of putting them on the land would be successful, as it was too secluded a life for men accustomed to excitement. Colonies of settlers might be possible, if the men desires to farm, but many would be unable to farm. Some had asked to be trained as municipal secretaries and treasurers, and had taken up such work as municipal accounting.

The members of the London Harmony Quartet excelled themselves in their excellent vocal numbers, and Chris Pink rendered a solo acceptably, during the programme. Before the close of the session, votes of thanks were passed in favor of executive of the Masonic Temple, the press, the outgoing president and executive, and Editor Wright of the Municipal Journal.

The Officers.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mayor W. D. L. Hardie, Lethbridge, Alta.; 1st Vice-President, Ald. Ryan, Three Rivers; 2nd Vice-President, Mayor Burgoyne, St. Catherines; 3rd Vice-President, Senator Planta, Nanaimo; Hon. Secretary, W. D. Lighthall, Montreal; Assistant Secretary, G. S. Wilson, Montreal.

The provincial Vice-Presidents are:

For Ontario: Controller J. W. Nelson, Ottawa; Mayor J. W. Bowlby, Brantford; Controller O'Neill, Toronto; Mayor Buchanan, Ingersoll, and Mayor T. J. Patton, North Bay.

For Quebec: Mayor Thurber, Outremont; Ald. Lariviere, Montreal; Ald. Pierre, Point aux Trembles; Ald. Sylvester, St. Hyacinthe; Mayor Lavigueur, Quebec.

For other provinces the vice-presidents remain the same as last year.

The convention got to work in a hurry in the afternoon, and passed several resolutions before the speech of Sir Adam Beck was delivered. The resolution calling for a close co-operation between the Government and the councils was passed.

The recommendation that a committee of citizens and aldermen should be appointed to confer to devise the best steps to meet after-the-war conditions was passed without much discussion.

Senator Planta, Nanaimo, wanted the act governing the distribution of the patriotic fund so amended that it will be clear that a beneficiary of the fund will not be penalized for earning money. The point was by no means clear, and the delegates were of the opinion that a woman who was industrious should not suffer on that account.

On Same Basis.

Mr. Planta also suggested that the Government put civilians on the same basis as soldiers in giving grants of land, to put them on the farms. He was of the opinion that few soldiers would go on to the farms for some time, but he was convinced that a large number of civilians would, if given encouragement. The great need of the day was production, and in this way the Government could stimulate produ-tion. The delegates were of the same opinion, and passed the resolution unanimously.

Mayor Thurber, Longueuil, Que., introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, the friendly relations hitherto existing between the provinces of the Dominion are now being jeopardized by certain immoderate statements and writings, be it resolved that this convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, expressing the desire of the people of Quebec, and of the people of the rest of Canada to mutually extend to each other the friendly hand, urges the citizens of Canada to refrain from utterances either oral or written which tend to divide into factions the people of this country, thus preventing them from working out the destiny of the Dominion."

Promote Good Feeling.

"I simply want to promote the good feeling that should exist between the provinces," said Mayor Thurber. "Let us discourage individuals and movements and editors from stirring up strife.

"The newspapers in Ontario are rubbing it into us, and creating a bitter feeling," said Ald. Kyle, also from Longueuil. "I have lived with the French-Canadian all my life, and he is not as black as he is painted."

"Hear, hear," said W. D. Lighthall.

"We have a few men who seek to take advantage of occasions," continued Mr. Kyle. "There are only about a dozen of them. If the bad editorials were eliminated, we would have no trouble."

"There are extremists in all provinces," said Mayor Prieur of Pte aux Trembles. "We do not judge the rest of Canada by the Calgary Eyeopener and the Hamilton Spectator. Uneducated people may not differentiate, but educated people do. There is a danger. Our feelings are all for union and loyalty."

The convention unanimously passed the resolution amid the greatest of enthusiasm.

Asks Co-operation.

Mrs. David Williams asked the co-operation of the municipalities in enforcing food regulations. There is no machinery at present for the proper enforcement of laws, and not sufficient law, but with the assistance of the municipalities this would be remedied. This assistance will be given, a resolution being passed unanimously.

Sir Adam Beck presented a lengthy paper on the "Hydro-Electric Movement." It will be printed in the official paper of the union, and distributed. It contains a history of the movement, the investment, the number of customers; in brief, all possible information on the subject.

Sir Adam spoke at some length, dealing with the growth in the use of power, and what it meant to the people. He uttered a threat that the exportation of power at Niagara Falls must cease. If the power companies did not submit gracefully, the amount of power required would be expropriated. He explained that the province needed 80,000 horsepower more to meet demands. At the present time, 140,000 horsepower was being exported, and Canada must have what was required.

"We have unlimited powers conferred on us by statute," said Sir Adam Beck. "We do not wish to use these powers, but we must use them if the power companies at the Falls do not act in a reasonable manner. We are exporting from the Falls 140,000 horsepower. We need 80,000 in Ontario to meet our needs. We are going to get it, if we have to expropriate."

T. J. Hannigan, Guelph, secretary of the Hydro Radial Association, spoke briefly on hydro radial matters.

BACK IN LONDON AFTER 36 YEARS

John D. Hunt, clerk of the Executive Council, Alberta, an old London boy, is in the city after an absence of 36 years. He attended the collegiate here in the '70's, and came down from the West to visit his aged father, who resides near St. Thomas. Mr. Hunt studied law with Sir Clifford Sifton and practiced in many parts of the West before going to Edmonton, where he is now located. He has recently published a book, "The Dawn of a New Patriotism," which is now in its second edition. It deals in a practical way as a training course in citizenship. Mr. Hunt is leaving for the West today.

STOLEN GOODS FOUND IN THAMESVILLE BARN

Through an error it was stated in yesterday's Advertiser that goods stolen by a juvenile thief at Thamesville had been found stored in a house belonging to Ed Henry. The goods in question were actually found in a barn, not a house, belonging to Mr. Henry. They had been placed in a wagon, and when the young thief went to take them from the cache he was arrested by the police.

BRIGHTER DAYS
ARE AHEAD FOR THE TEA OR COFFEE USER WHO CHANGES TO POSTUM

TRIBUNALS MAY BE READY FOR MEN IN 21 DAYS

But Proclamation Must Be Issued Calling Classes to Colors.

PENALTIES ARE PROVIDED

Imprisonment for Those Who Advise Men To Resist the Measure.

When Mr. Justice Duff, acting deputy governor-general, formally gives his assent to the military service bill in the Senate today, the measure becomes a law, and opposition to it becomes a punishable offence. His Excellency the Governor-General signed the bill at Toronto yesterday, and once it becomes law all its clauses become operative, except that the classes will not be called up for service until a proclamation is issued by the governor-in-council, which means until the cabinet which is directing the affairs of the country decides to do so.

Ready in Three Weeks.

The establishing of the tribunals will, it is stated, take about three weeks, and when the necessary regulations have been completed, all the machinery will be ready for the summoning of the first class comprising unmarried men and childless widowers between the ages of twenty and thirty-four years of age. A board of selection has yet to be appointed by joint resolution of the two houses of parliament, which in turn is to name one of the members of each of the local tribunals.

The other clauses of the act, including those which provide punishments for those who resist or incite others to resist the application of the act become operative today, however, and while they do not prohibit the people from criticizing conscription, they impose penalties on any person who advises men liable to serve to contravene the act or the regulations under it, who wilfully resists or impedes or attempts to resist or impede the operation of the act, or who persuades or induces or attempts to induce others to resist the operation of the act, or to refrain from making application for a certificate of exemption. A person guilty of these offences will be liable to imprisonment with hard labor for not less than one year and not more than five.

Where the Press Stands.

Provision is also made for the suppression of publications that may be convicted of publishing articles which have for their object the incitement of those subject to the military service act, to refuse obedience to its provisions, or impede its application in any way. Action against publications can only be taken with the approval of the central appeal judge.

When the governor-in-council, by proclamation, calls out for active service the classes required, any man who is called out, and who, without reasonable excuse, fails to report, may, on conviction, be subject to a term of imprisonment not exceeding five years with hard labor.

CITY FISH DEALERS UNABLE TO SECURE HERRING AT PORT

Price Quoted to Alderman Seemed To Change.

10 CENTS IS BEST PRICE

London Markets Immediately Tried To Buy Lake Product.

Notwithstanding the statement of Alderman Manness that fresh-water fish can be purchased by London fish dealers at from 5 to 6 cents per pound, local purveyors declare that they have not met with any success in their attempts to secure fish from Port Stanley at the values quoted by the alderman.

The prevalent price of herring is 10 cents a pound, and despite the efforts of local dealers it has been found impossible to lower this value.

Failed to Get Fish.

According to representatives of the Anderson Meat and Fish Market a considerable sum was spent wiring to Port Stanley in an attempt to buy cheap fish following the announcement of Alderman Manness that it could be bought at 6 cents.

Fishermen at Port Stanley state that they cannot sell at that figure, and much time has been spent and inconvenience suffered in the efforts of fishmen of the city to negotiate with them.

That the variety of fish from Port Stanley is infinitely superior to the kind imported from the eastern coast is the contention of local dealers.

They state that cod from the coast to London is not palatable, particularly to people who have been accustomed to eating fresh-water fish.

Sold to the States.

It is also claimed that Lake Erie fish are sold to American firms in preference to Canadians. A larger price is offered by the firms of the States, it is admitted, but the Canadian Government spends thousands annually on spawn to place in Lake Erie. This expenditure of the Government reaps little good when fish are sold to dealers across the border, it is pointed out.

1,600 CATTLE FROM CANADA ARRIVE AT BUFFALO IN DAY

James Howlett, well-known cattle buyer, just returned from a visit to Buffalo, states that he saw 65 carloads of Canadian cattle in the stockyards of the American city yesterday.

The average carload holds about 25 head of cattle, therefore the approximate total of beef offered on the Buffalo market in one day would be 1,600.

CAPT. MEL BROCK HOME ON FURLOUGH

Capt. Mel Brock, who went overseas with the Western University Hospital unit, arrived in the city yesterday on a ten weeks' furlough. He left in the afternoon for Hamilton, where his father died.

CALLS KERENSKY FALSE.

Amsterdam, Aug. 29. — The semi-official Nord Deusche Allgemeine Zeitung attacks Premier Kerensky for his remarks in reference to offers of a separate peace made before the Moscow conference on Sunday. The newspaper says:

"Premier Kerensky falsely attributed to us, without proof, efforts toward and offers of a separate peace. What Germany can do to pave the way to peace already has been done, but from Russia, where the peace movement originated, the echo came back dictated by Lloyd George, Poincare and President Wilson, destroying all the efforts of the Russian democracy.

"It is reported moreover, that the revolutionary Russian Government again is fixing its mind on the possession of Constantinople.

WILSON REJECTS POPE'S PROPOSAL FOR PEACE TALK

Says Cannot Take Word of the Present German Rulers.

MUST CRUSH WAR LORD

Declares Permanent Peace Must Be Based On Rights of Mankind.

Washington, Aug. 28.—President Wilson has rejected the pope's peace proposals.

In the note dispatched last night, and made public here tonight, the president says that while every heart not blinded and hardened by the terrible war must be touched by the moving appeal of his holiness, it would be folly to take the path of peace he points out, if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes.

To deal with such a power as the present rulers of Germany upon Pope Benedict's plan, declared the president, would involve a recuperation of the strength and renewal of the world's domination of that power, now balked but not defeated, after sweeping a continent with the blood of innocent women and children and the helpless poor, as well as soldiers.

Permanent peace must be based upon the faith of all the peoples, and upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind, he adds, and "we cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting."

It Would Be Folly.

The text of the note follows:

"August 27, 1917.

"To His Holiness, Benedictus XV, Pope:

"In acknowledgment of the communication of your holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated August 1, 1917, the president of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply:

"Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of His Holiness the Pope, must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes. Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This agony must not be gone through with again, and it must be a matter of very sober judgment what will insure us against it.

The Pope's Proposal.

"His holiness in substance proposes that we return to the status quo ante bellum, and that then there be a general condonation, disarmament, and a concert of nations, based upon an acceptance of the principle of arbitration; that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established; and that the territorial claims of France and Italy, the perplexing problems of the Balkan States, and the restitution of Poland be left to such conciliatory adjustments as may be possible in the new temper of such a peace, due regard being paid to the aspirations of the peoples, whose political fortunes and affiliations will be involved.

"It is manifest that no part of this program can be successfully carried out unless the restitution of the status quo ante furnishes a firm and satisfactory basis for it.

Ruthlessness Gone Mad.

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment, controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long-established practices and long-cherished principles of international action and honor; which chose its own time for the war; delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly; stopped at no barrier, either of law or mercy; swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless poor; and now stands balked but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world. This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. It is no business of ours how that great people came under its control or submitted with temporary zest to the domination of its purposes; but it is our business to see that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling.

Would Recuperate Power.

"With such a power by way of peace upon the plan proposed by His Holiness the Pope, would, so far as we can see involve a recuperation of its strength and a renewal of its policy; would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile combination of nations against the German people who are its instruments, and would result in abandoning the new-born Russia to the intrigue, the manifold subtle interference, and the certain counter-revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German Government has of late accustomed the world. Can peace be based upon a restitution of its power or upon any word of honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation?

"Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw before, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarrass others, upon vindictive action of any sort, or any kind of revenge or deliberate injury. The American people have suffered intolerable wrongs at the hands of the Imperial German Government, but they desire no reprisal upon the German people, who have themselves suffered all things in this war, which they did not choose. They believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of governments—the rights of peoples great or small, weak or powerful—the EQUAL right to freedom and security and self-government, and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities of the world—the German people, of course, included, if they will accept equality and not seek domination.

This Is the Test.

"The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this: Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved, or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing government, on the one hand, and of a group of free peoples on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter, and it is the test which must be applied.

"The purposes of the United States in this war are known to the whole world—to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. They do not need to be stated again. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that the intolerable wrongs done in this war by the furious and brutal power of the Imperial German Government ought to be repaired, but not at the expense of the sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty, both of those that are weak and those that are strong. Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness, and the common rights of mankind.

Cannot Take Their Word.

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves, as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting—without such guarantees, treaties of settlement, agreements for disarmaments, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitutions of small nations, if made with the German Government, no man, no nation, could now depend upon. We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the central powers. God grant it may be given soon, and in a way to restore the confidence of all peoples everywhere in the faith of nations, and the possibility of a covenanted peace.

"(Signed), ROBERT LANSING, Secretary of State of the United States of America."

LIFE-SAVING MEDALS PRESENTED TO SCOUTS

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—The Duke of Devonshire spent almost the entire day today at the exhibition and reviewed over a thousand boy scouts from Toronto and vicinity. When the review had been completed the scoutmasters lined up and were congratulated on the appearance of their commands. Silver life-saving medals were also presented to two scouts, Patrol Leader Ralph Brunnell, aged 16, and Frank Johnston, aged 14.

GERMANY BACKS DOWN TO ARGENTINA; WILL NOT SINK HER SHIPS

Willing To Modify Blockade of Enemy Coasts.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 28.—Germany's reply to Argentina's note embodying the demands in connection with the submarine campaign as affecting Argentine shipping, has been received.

In official circles it was stated that the reply was satisfactory. According to the newspaper La Razon, the German note meets all the demands of Argentina. The note says that Germany, "in order to maintain friendly relations with Argentina, is willing to modify her blockade of enemy coasts, allowing freedom of the seas to vessels under the Argentine flag carrying food."

The note also promises the payment of an indemnity for the sinking of the Argentine steamer Toro by a German submarine.

This indemnity is to be arranged by German and Argentine appraisers.

The note, which was received by the Government last night, consists of fifteen pages. The foreign minister and President Irigoyen spent this morning conferring concerning the note, which probably will be given out for publication officially tomorrow.

GARBAGE RESOLUTIONS GO BACK TO COUNCIL

The board of works had a brief session last evening, and transacted some minor business. The garbage regulations were sent back to the council without change.

City Engineer Brazier announced that the north end swimming pool had been opened and was being well patronized. He estimated that it would cost $146 to install drinking fountains at the south end bathing station. This will be done.

Some other matters were disposed of.

ILDERTON.

ILDERTON, Aug. 28. — The Birr Farmer's Institute will hold its monthly meeting on August 31, at the home of Miss Gertrude Stephens.

The Ladies' Aid of the Birr Methodist Church intends holding an ice cream social on Wednesday evening at the church. A good program has been procured.

A number of the boys of Birr will go to the Northwest on August 30.

British Casualties for Week Given as 14,349

LONDON, Aug. 28.—British casualties reported in the week ending today were as follows:

"Killed or died of wounds—Officers, 218; men, 2,421.

"Wounded—Officers, 790; men, 10,920."

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a lake trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible, flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.—Advt.

Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Lift a corn or callus right off without one bit of pain.

Yes! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened callouses on bottom of feet, without one bit of pain.

A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound, and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callous. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callous so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or callouses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callous ache twice.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM THE WEATHER FAIR AND COOL. SMALLMAN & INGRAM

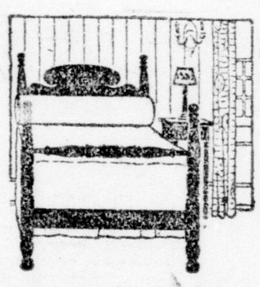
Prices range, per dress .... $25.00, $29.00 and $35.00

Thursday and Friday—The Last Days of August Furniture Sale from 10 to 50 Per Cent Saved on Every Purchase.



It is the very unusual event that continues to draw interest a whole month—a very unusual event, the August Furniture Sale. The secret is this—Smallman & Ingram when the sale opened had one of the most carefully selected stocks of furniture—everything was choice, there was no cream for early purchasers to remove. It was all cream. Furthermore, stocks have been constantly replenished by late arriving purchases. That is why the August Furniture Sale continues to draw interest, and with but two days more to run at these savings of 10 to 50 per cent from a so well assorted stock of the reliable kind of furniture, the kind that lasts, we suggest that you be not disappointed by letting this sale slip by without securing whatever you require in furniture. Talk it over with the furniture men on the Third Floor Thursday or Friday, the last days of the August Furniture Sale.

BOYS COACHED IN CRIMES BY LOCAL FAGIN?

Skill and Boldness of Thefts Indicates Training by Mature Mind.

LAD ENTERS TWO HOUSES

Attempts To Escape On a Motor Car When Policeman Attempts Arrest.

Notwithstanding every effort that has been put forth of late to reduce the increasing number of cases of juvenile delinquency in the city police court, records show that youthful crime continues unchecked.

As evidence of this, another boy, 12 years old, pleaded guilty in juvenile urt today to entering two homes on toria street and committing thefts ach. At the home of Miss E. on, which he entered by raising a nt window and coming up gh the cellar, he stole a gold ch, and at the residence of David where he effected entrance th a kitchen window, he secured currency.

Tried to Escape on Motor.

The crimes were committed yesterday afternoon. Patrolman Thomas Noonan caught the boy on Richmond street one hour after the cases were reported. When he approached, the boy in an effort to escape, jumped on the back of a motor car, and clung to the tire-holder. The driver's attention was attracted, whereupon he stopped, and the boy was then taken to the police station by the patrolman, where the missing money and watch was recovered.

The lad was remanded to the Children's Shelter for one week for sentence. While there, efforts will be made to obtain from him the way in which he secured his knowledge in effecting the entrance to each house. Whether these youthful offenders learn their own methods, or whether they have been schooled to commit these crimes, is a problem that the authorities are trying to solve.

Are Lads Schooled in Crime?

The idea prevails that something deeper may be behind the juvenile crimes than has yet been brought to light.

That a local school of Faginism may be in existence here is thought by some not to be improbable, and especial efforts are going to be directed along this line to see if such might be the case. The manner in which some of the juvenile crimes have been committed leads some to believe that the boys themselves were too young to conceive of the professional methods employed in a number of cases.

AVIATOR

part of the city, and rapidly passed by toward the east.

The return of the aviator was not unexpected, as a Chatham dispatch received this morning brought the news that J. C. Woods, an aviator from Camp Borden, had landed near there yesterday, after having lost his way in the cloudy weather. This explained the appearance of an aviator Tuesday morning flying in a westerly direction.

He landed near Kent Bridge, about five miles east of Chatham, according to a Chatham dispatch, about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He had lost his way, and had run out of gasoline, and was forced to make a landing, which he did successfully. As the weather is still murky, he remained at Chatham, awaiting orders from headquarters before attempting to fly back.

Started For Toronto.

He left Camp Borden about 6 o'clock to go to Toronto, and passed this city about ten minutes past eight. Before alighting, he must have flown for about four hours, and have traversed a distance of 190 or 200 miles.

It is evidently quite easy to get lost in the air, as no matter how well equipped with maps, the aviator is liable to become confused in cloudy weather, and if he does so, there are no road signs to set him right, as there are for the o driver on land.

Are Frequently Lost.

Camp Borden and Toronto avi- e frequently been lost this er. Not long ago, Cadet Thamer de an ascension at Camp Borden to st out his engine before breakfast, and owing to the cloudy weather he was unable to catch a glimpse of earth again, until he was on the edge of Lake Ontario. After passing over a part of the lake, he turned about, and in an effort to get back to Camp Borden, he landed at his home town, Kitchener. Newmarket, Whitby and other towns adjacent to Toronto and Camp Borden have been visited by straying fliers, but until yesterday none had come as far west as London or Chatham.

INGERSOLL SAW IT, TOO.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 28.—The flight of an airplane, afterwards reported at London, over North Oxford, shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, created no little astonishment. At one place threshing was in progress, but the throb of the engine of the flying machine could be distinctly heard above the noise of the threshing machine. The machine was finally observed at such a great height that it appeared only like a small speck.

LANDED NEAR KENT BRIDGE.

KENT BRIDGE, Aug. 28.—Great excitement prevailed in Kent Bridge this morning about 9 o'clock, when an airplane was plainly seen and heard, whirring overhead. It alighted near the C. P. R. station and was the centre of considerable attraction.

DORCHESTER, TOO.

DORCHESTER, Aug. 28.—An airplane passed over the village about 8:30 this morning. People were first attracted by the noise of the engine. The wings and tail of the machine were plainly visible. It was traveling to the west, but later turned in a northerly direction.

FORMER LONDONERS IN G. T. R. SERVICE MAY BE SELECTED FOR A RISE

The selection of Howard G. Kelley as president of the Grand Trunk is certain to bring about a number of changes in the operating staff, in which some former Londoners will figure.

According to rumors in circulation in railway circles, W. R. Davidson, Detroit, formerly superintendent here, will go to Chicago, to take charge of the Western lines. He will succeed U. E. Gillen, who was also in charge at London for some years. Mr. Gillen, according to the latest information will go to Montreal to assume one of the vice-presidencies.

So far as can be learned no changes are mooted for this district. It is possible that Mr. Davidson's successor for the Detroit post will come from Ontario, although no selection has been made as yet.

GIVES BEAUTIFUL TROWEL TO LAY CORNER-STONE

The laying of the cornerstone of the new hydro shop will take place on Monday morning next.

PTE. FRED EDWARDS AMONG CASUALTIES

Pte. Edwards of No. 2 Rathmine street, has been wounded by a gas shell. He has been buried three times by explosions. Before leaving the city he was employed at McClary's.

CITY BREVITIES

PERMIT FOR HOUSE.—A permit was issued this morning by Building Inspector Piper to M. J. Flood for a story and a half veneer house on McKinnon Place, to cost $1,600.

FINANCIERS WILL MEET.—The finance committee of the city council will meet this evening. There is not a great deal of business to be disposed of. Controller R. W. Shaw will probably recommend that the city embark in the fish business, purchasing Port Stanley fish.

CITY SENDS DELEGATES.—Mayor Stevenson will go to Toronto today to attend the annual convention of the Ontario Municipal Association. Ald. H. B. Ashplant has gone down, and Controller E. S. Little will probably go down on Thursday. City Clerk Sam Baker will probably attend.

DR. SHAW TO RUN.—It is rumored about the city that Controller R. W. Shaw is favored for the Conservative nomination for the city. According to the information received, Dr. Shaw is quite the likely man, and will undoubtedly accept. He has a strong following in the party at the present time.

RECEPTION TO MISSIONARY.—Miss Isabel Govenlock, B.A., missionary to Japan, is spending her furlough with her mother in Windsor avenue. The young ladies of the Askin Street Mission Circle are giving a reception in her honor Friday, August 31, afternoon and evening, at the parsonage, 82 Askin street. They cordially invite all ladies interested in missions as well as Miss Govenlock's own friends to call and welcome her home again.

TO BUILD APARTMENTS.—Ex-Ald. J. V. T. May, Toronto, has been appointed building supervisor of a syndicate intending to erect apartment houses in Toronto, Hamilton, London and other cities, according to a dispatch from Toronto. Nothing is known locally of the plans, but there have been rumors in circulation that next year a program of construction would be started here. According to the stories, possibly $200,000 will be expended on apartments here in 1918.

NO TRUCE WITH FOE SAYS STATES PRESS AS PRAISE WILSON'S REPLY TO VATICAN

American Newspapers Generally Strongly Indorse Rejection of Proposal.

New York, Aug. 29.—The newspapers generally, in their editorial comment this morning, applaud President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposals. It can be compressed into five words: "No peace with Prussian autocracy," says the New York World.

The New York Herald says:

President Wilson rejects the peace proposal of the pope, and in language that will ring around the world gives reasons. There can be no truce with Prussianism, no temporizing with evil. Peace cannot be based upon any such flimsy structure as the word of the present German Government. The president has answered from the great heart of the American people. It is an answer to the pope and, as well, to all advocates of a Prussian peace—in this country or any other.

Set Aside Mad Rulers.

The Washington Post comments:

President Wilson lays bare the inherent weaknesses of any proposal to make peace on any terms with the German Government, this weakness being the inability of that Government to give any pledge or promise that other nations would accept. The German Government, having destroyed its reputation for truth and honor, no one else can restore it. It is for Germany to seek peace from within, by setting aside the mad murderers who have run her toward ruin.

No Assurance.

The Cleveland Plaindealer declares:

The Hohenzollern Government of Prussia cannot give peace to the world. It can give no assurance and make no promise which civilization would be justified in accepting. The democracies cannot, therefore, discuss peace while the people of the central powers continue to be dominated by ruthless and faithless Prussianism. This, the substance of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposal, must be the substance of every reply made by the nations now leagued to uphold human rights against the brutal arrogance of autocracy.

The Providence Journal says the president's note is an epitome of the war aims of the nation; a reaffirmation of the solemn pledge the American people made with themselves when they entered the war; a renewal of their covenant with other peoples to see it through.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

ANOTHER VICTIM OF CHOLERA.

Cholera infantum took its second victim within the week, when little 10-months-old Dorothy Towle died at the residence of her parents, 763 Queen's avenue, last night after being ill ten days. She was the youngest daughter of Alex S. Towle, a member of the local police force.

The little daughter of Pte. William Cocker died on Monday from the same complaint.

PATRIOTIC INGERSOLL MAKE PREPARATIONS TO ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS

Warm Welcome Assured Men From London Military Hospital.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 28. — According to present plans nothing is being left undone to impress the returned soldiers who visit this town tomorrow from London, with the interest that citizens have a whole in their welfare. All the details are receiving the earnest attention of the Red Cross and Patriotic League and others who have readily given assistance. At the Central school grounds the soldiers will be formally welcomed by Mayor Buchanan, and at 5 o'clock supper will be served in the Baptist Church. The council has been invited to supper with the returned men.

The home of Mrs. F. N. Horton, Oxford street, was the scene of a merry gathering this evening, when a miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Edith Sinclair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair, Catharine street, by a number of her friends. Many pretty and useful gifts testified to the esteem in which Miss Sinclair is held, and with which were coupled the well wishes of the donors.

YELLOW MESSAGES CONTINUE TO COME TO HOMES OF CITY

Many Men Reported Wounded in Casualty List.

LIEUT. McGREGOR HIT

Second Time Wounded in One Month—Gas Shell Wounds Another.

London is receiving its share of the heavy casualties that have resulted from the intense fighting around Lens that has been going on during the past week, and each day the unwelcome lists contain the names of one or more Londoners among the list of those who have suffered wounds or death.

Lieut. Norman William McGregor, son of Mrs. Jane K. Gardiner, 474 Pall Mall street, is among the latest to be wounded. This wound, which is the second one he has received within a month, he sustained on August 20th. He left here with a Middlesex County battalion.

A nephew of Mrs. Gardiner, Corp. Colin Forsyth, was wounded on the same day, and is now in the Second Southern General Hospital, Bristol, England, suffering from multiple gunshot wounds.

Wounded in Thigh.

Another Londoner mentioned in today's list is Pte. John Stewart Moore, who was wounded in the right thigh on August 21st, according to word received by his father, James S. Moore, 7 Woodward avenue. He left here with a Middlesex battalion, and served with a famous Western Ontario battalion at the front.

Pte. Fred Edwards has also been wounded by a gas shell and admitted to the 4th Field Ambulance on August 17th. He has been in the trenches since February, and has been through the scraps at Vimy Ridge and Arras. On three occasions he was buried by shell explosions near him. Before he enlisted he was employed at McClary's Foundry, and resided at 2 Rathmine street. He left here with a Middlesex battalion.

Pte. Holcombe Wounded.

Pte. R. Holcombe has been wounded. He left here with a London battalion, and although his relatives live in England he resided in this city for some time before he enlisted.

Sergt. C. Hessey, whose wife lives at 365 Simcoe street, is named among the wounded. He left here with a Western Ontario battalion, and has been at the front almost two years. He worked for William Heaman & Son before he joined the army.

Three other Londoners are mentioned among those wounded in the press casualty list, M. L. Jackson, 836 Stedwell street; G. W. Rushmer (54321) and T. Johnson (124439), but the names of the two last mentioned do not appear in the directory.

UNEARTHS A RARE MASONIC SHIELD FROM HIS CELLAR

Ken. McCormick Finds Relic More Than 100 Years Old.

ON SITE OF OLD HALL

All Signs Known to Masonic Order Inscribed On Iron Cast.

While excavating recently in the basement of his store at 257 Wellington street, Ken McCormick, the well-known south end grocer, unearthed a flat piece of cast iron which, on closer inspection, has proved to be a shield bearing all manner of Masonic devices. Prominent Masons and authorities of Masonic affairs say that the shield is probably one hundred years old, and was likely used during the rituals held long before London was a city.

A Rare Piece of Work.

The shield was cast in one piece. This was probably quite a feat in those days, and likely this piece of work won a great reputation for the foundry that did the work. At the top are inscribed the letters "F. and A. M." This means that the casting was made before the order became "A., F. and A. M." Beneath this inscription are worked the signs of the order. Every sign known to Masons has been cast on the shield, and when new the casting was probably a splendid piece of work with the various symbols standing in bold relief on it.

Site of Old Hall.

Mr. McCormick's store now occupies the sight of the old Masonic Hall on Wellington street. This hall has long since been razed, and the shield likely was lost during the removal of the lodges to their next temple. Masons who have seen the shield, admire it immensely, and say that it is undoubtedly one of the most valuable Masonic curiosities in this district.

Mr. McCormick will have the shield mounted and will present it to the Masons of London.

For a few days it will be on exhibition in The Advertiser's window.

MICHAELIS CALLED DOUBLE-TONGUED IN SHARP ATTACK FROM GERMAN PROFESSOR

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—Attacks upon Imperial Chancellor Michaelis continue, and Professor Hans Delbrueck now asks the chancellor an embarrassing question concerning peace. In the Prussian year book Professor Delbrueck inquires of Dr. Michaelis why, if he really accepts the Reichstag resolution as the basis of his policy, he neglects to answer the inquiry made on July 26 in the British House of Commons by former Premier Asquith regarding Germany's readiness to evacuate and restore Belgium.

A Guilty Silence.

Professor Delbrueck, who openly questions the good faith of the chancellor in professing to agree with the terms of the Russians, asks whether his silence in the face of Mr. Asquith's summons does not show that those are right who insists that Dr. Michaelis takes another standpoint from that contained in the resolution.

"If the German Government is ready to conclude a peace upon the basis of no annexations and no indemnities," asks the professor, "why all this unprecedented apparatus of a joint committee of the Reichstag and Bundesrat to assist the chancellor in drawing up a simple answer to the pope's proposal of peace on that basis?"

Double-Tongued.

The truth is, says Professor Delbrueck, that Dr. Michaelis does not enjoy the confidence of the Reichstag. He could not possibly do so, the writer adds, after last week's events in the Reichstag main committee, and his tacit submission to the assertion that he is in reality opposed to the resolution. Neither the German nation nor the world knows what the chancellor's policy is. The Reichestag's resolution, Professor Delbrueck concludes, would have had a different effect if it was not believed abroad that the Reichstag is powerless and that the chancellor is double-tongued.

L.-CPL. WESTON LEFT ENGLAND JULY 20, TO COME HOME TO MOTHERLESS CHILDREN, AND HAS NEVER BEEN HEARD FROM SINCE

Husband of Woman Killed in Grand Trunk Yards Nine Weeks Ago Granted Furlough and Boarded Ship — Soldier Saw Him, But the Authorities Have No Trace of Him and No Word of Arrival.

Where is Lance-Corporal John Weston? He is supposed to have left England July 20, on twelve weeks' furlough. Since that date nothing more has been learned of his whereabouts.

Nine weeks ago his wife was killed by a train on the G. T. R. tracks near Bathurst street, and the two little children were left without either father or mother to care for them. Their grandmother came to their home to remain a few days until word could be sent to their father with the Army Service Corps in France, and arrangements made for his discharge or a lengthy furlough. The printed accounts of the death of Mrs. Weston were inclosed in a letter of condolence from Weston's mother, and were mailed to him about July 4. A few weeks ago the letter was returned unopened and with the address obliterated by pencil strokes.

NO WORD FROM FATHER.

The house at 695 Bathurst street is now empty, although all the furnishings remain there. The little children have been taken to the home of their grandmother, but never since the death of the mother has a letter from daddy reached them. One arrived shortly after the accident, but it had been written long before the tragedy occurred.

Efforts to secure Lance-Corporal Weston's discharge were unsuccessful, but a three months' furlough was arranged. Word of his wife's tragic death was cabled to him a few hours after the accident, and it is surmised that this is the only news of the tragedy which he received, because the letter from his mother was unopened.

Immediately after obtaining his furlough he went to the home of his wife's mother in England to break the sad news. He remained there for two days, and then visited an aunt three miles distant for a day. He returned to the home of his mother-in-law on July 19 and told her then that he would be sailing for Canada the next day, and asked her to notify his parents.

LEFT ENGLAND ON JULY 20.

The letter which his mother-in-law wrote was received by Mrs. John Weston, 649 Marshall street. The only reference to her son which it contained was the word that he said he would sail on the 20th of the month. Inquiring through military headquarters here Mrs. Weston has learned that her son left England on July 20, according to sailing records there. She cannot learn on what boat he sailed or from which port.

Inquiries have been made at the discharge depot, Quebec, but a reply telegraphed to Mrs. Weston last night says that there is no trace of her son, and that a search is being made. The fact that Lance-Corporal Weston is on furlough and was not being invalided, it is thought, might account for the absence of his name from the lists of those arriving. It is only occasionally that the names of men on furlough are included in the lists of men at the discharge depot. It is customary, however, for these men to be sent through to their destination immediately, that they may get the full benefit of their furlough, and if Lance-Corporal Weston had arrived it is almost certain that he would be in London by now.

RELATIVES ARE ALARMED.

Many fears are assailing his relatives here, and a dozen reasons for his disappearance have come into their minds. There are the darker and less hopeful ones, which suppose an accident, a fall overboard, or another sub outrage, although none has been reported recently. His parents are certain that he has left England, because of the confirming word received at headquarters here, but think it is possible that his boat may have been quarantined, although they had seen no news to this effect.

His father talked with a returned officer who came home on a boat which left England July 20. He told him that he remembered no man by the name of Weston aboard the boat.

Meanwhile the little children, Dorie, aged 6, and Johnnie, aged 4, are waiting anxiously for word of their daddy, who has been absent for three years. Their grandparents are caring for them without any Government assistance, and only six dollars a month from the patriotic fund. Since the death of Mrs. Weston, jun., neither separation allowance or assigned pay has reached Lance-Corporal Weston's parents.

ENTITLED TO ASSIGNED PAY.

"Of course I don't begrudge the children the money it costs to keep them or the money we had to pay for their mother's funeral, but I think they should have what is coming to them," said Mrs. Weston this morning. "Even if the separation allowance stopped with the death of the mother I don't see why they shouldn't receive their father's assigned pay. We received fifteen dollars from the patriotic fund the first month they were with us, but next month the allowance was cut down to six, and that is all we have been receiving since."

Mrs. Weston has not been in communication with her son since he went overseas. He wrote only to his wife, and she generally forwarded the letters to his mother.

Two brothers are with the British forces, Fred with the First Canadian Field Ambulance, and William with the navy, which he joined after receiving his discharge from the 33rd Battalion. Three brothers-in-law are also in khaki.

"FAITHLESS WIVES" CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED BY FEW RETURNED MEN

They are to be seen in a little group almost any fair day at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. They wear the unpressed and somewhat unconventional khaki that stands out at once as "having-been-there" khaki rather than khaki that hasn't been there. Most of them bear signs of their wounds, a limp, a stiff arm, crutches, a foot still covered with bandages. They have suffered in the cause and shed their blood.

But there is no outward physical evidence of the deepest wound they suffered. These nine or ten men have a common affliction, and the Hun did not cause it. Their most painful wounds were caused by someone nearer and supposed to be dearer to them than anyone else on earth. And these wounds were in the heart.

The Faithless Wives' Club.

These few returned men belong to the "Faithless Wives' Club." There was no one to meet them when they got home. While they were serving at the front, they were being supplanted in the affections of the shallow creatures left behind by someone who stayed at home in lucrative employment.

"My home was broken up while I was away by the most cringing slacker in the city," said one. "My children had to be taken away from the woman I had always trusted, but she continued to draw separation allowance and part of my pay, and wrote me sweet letters. I didn't know a thing about it until I found that she had run away with him just before I got back."

Worse Than Battle Wounds.

If you listen to them for a while you will hear home dreams of the trenches. The fireside and the children and the wife are more vital things when death is just over the parapet. The prospect of a return to the comfortable cottage was the greatest thing in life to these men. And when they returned to have the dream shattered and the whole of life given a cruel and bitter twist, they felt the stab worse than any wounds of battle.

They are a brotherhood, these returned men. Some of them are even ready to take their wives back to live, but find their wives sneering at all offers of forgiveness. They realize they are exceptions, and they have been drawn together by a common burden. Most of them want to shake the dust of the place from their feet. They want to get away from the picture. They saw many home walls smashed down by German shells in France. The tragedy here is of a different kind.

FOUR BANDS WILL SUPPLY MUSIC AT LABOR DAY OUTING

Ambitious Program Arranged by Local Council.

MILITARY EVENTS, TOO

Musical Ride and Bayonet Fighting Will Be Features of Celebration.

The trades and labor council has made arrangements for their annual outing at Queen's Park on Monday afternoon and evening.

The program is an ambitious one, and is certain to attract. There will be four bands in attendance, the First Hussars' Band, the Marconi Club Band, the London Juvenile Pipe Band, and McClary's Comedy Band. There will be no lack of music.

The First Hussars, under command of Major Baron Osborne, will give a musical ride at 2 o'clock. This is a great feature, and is well worth watching.

Then will follow a sports program. There will be all kinds of racing, even the fat men disporting themselves. There will be a baby show, Scotch, Irish and gypsy dances, bayonet fighting by a trained troop of men, under Sergt.-Major Green. Physical drill by another body of men under Sergt.-Major Green, an exhibition of fire fighting by the fire department, vaudeville acts, and many other events.

The evening program will also include a band concert, musical rides, physical drill, vaudeville, and other features.

It will be well attended.

WEDDING BELLS

BRIGHTON—GILLBANK.

The home of Mr. T. E. Little, 35 Emery street, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Monday, when Miss Violet, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late John Gillbank, 559 Piccadilly street, and John H., second son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Brighton of the O. K. Bakery, were united in wedlock.

The bride was given away by her brother, Sergt. Clifford Gillbank, and was unattended. Rev. Stanley Lloyd of Glencoe, performed the ceremony.

The young couple, after a dainty breakfast served by the groom's sister, Mrs. T. E. Little, left by C. P. R. for Calgary, where Mr. Brighton holds a position in the express office of the C. N. R.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brighton met at the depot and gave them a hearty send-off and extended to them their best wishes.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Thomas C. Benson and little daughter Helen of Wellington street have returned to town from Blenheim, where they have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Biggar.

MGR. KENNEDY DEAD.

Rome, Aug. 29.—Mgr. Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American College in Rome, is dead, after a long illness. He was a native of Pennsylvania, and had been in charge of the college since 1901.

THE KITCHENER MYTH

Two feminine war enthusiasts were discussing affairs in front of The Advertiser office. Somehow or other the name of the immortal "K. of K." came into the conversation.

"Poor dear, 'e was a prince among soldiers. Too bad 'e was taken hoff," said one.

"'E ain't dead," replied the other. "'E's only making believe 'es dead. 'E's a spy in Germany right now, that's what 'e is. And 'is sister says so, too."

COURT CASUALTIES

WOUNDED (IN THE POCKET).

R. E. Blackwell	$200 and costs
Joseph Malott	$200 and costs
James Quinn	$200 and costs
Charles Coursey	$200 and costs

(Second charge adjourned).

MISSING.

A. G. Bayliss, three charges	Warrant issued
Daniel Buchanan, two charges	Warrant issued
A. E. Kennard	Warrant issued

ADJOURNED.

John Coursey, two charges.

Out of eight persons summoned to appear in police court today each charged with unlawfully selling liquor two pleaded guilty, two were tried and convicted, one had his case adjourned until tomorrow, and three failed to appear, warrants being issued in each case for his arrest.

In all, thirteen charges were entered, all having been laid as the result of a campaign waged in the city for two weeks by special officers under the direction of A. E. Sarvis.

Four Are Convicted.

R. E. Blackwell, 511 Bathurst street, and Josephus Malott, colored barber, 14 Dundas street, pleaded guilty and were fined $200 and costs each. James Quinn, carpenter, 596 Waterloo, and Charles Coursey, barber, 76½ Dundas street, pleaded not guilty, but were convicted when tried, and each fined $200 and costs, making a total of $800 and costs imposed and collected at today's session. A second charge against Charles Coursey will be heard tomorrow, his counsel requesting the adjournment to permit him to summon three important witnesses.

John Coursey, 745 Grey street, against whom two charges were laid, had his hearing adjourned until tomorrow, and was granted bail on his own recognizance to appear then.

Don't Answer the Call.

A. J. Bayliss, 609 Hamilton road, a taxi driver, summoned on two charges; Buchanan, 262 Clarence street, three charges, and A. E. Kennard, 12 [illegible] Chelsea Green, failed to appear. Warrants were ordered issued in all cases for their arrest.

W. R. Meredith prosecuted in all cases and called to the stand the four special officers who collected the evidence.

Magistrate Graydon, in entering convictions in the two cases, pointed out that he must regard the special officers as truthful witnesses, as he could see no reason for them acting from any other motive than to perform the duties assigned to them by the license department.

Says He Bought Bottle.

James Quinn, carpenter, 596 Waterloo street, pleaded not guilty to the charge, when his name was called.

Samuel Cress, a special officer employed by the Ontario License Commission, testified that he had met Quinn at the Queen's Hotel on August 8. He had given him $5, and Quinn, after being away for some minutes, had returned with a bottle of whiskey. The bottle, still unsealed, was entered as exhibit A.

William Mitich, also a special officer, testified he had witnessed the transaction between Quinn and Cress in the Queen's Hotel. Quinn had handed over the bottle of whiskey to Cress, along with a one-dollar bill as return change, the understanding being that the whiskey was to cost $4.

Introduced by Drunk.

"How did you happen to meet Quinn first?" asked E. T. Essery, counsel for Quinn.

"I was introduced to Quinn by a drunken fellow," replied witness.

James Quinn, the defendant, in his own behalf, gave a flat denial to the story told by Cress and Mitich. He had never seen Cress before in his life that he could remember, but thought that Mitich was the man who had called at his home on the morning of August 9. Mitich had requested that he be sold a bottle of whiskey, but was informed that he could procure none, as witness had none for himself, let alone any to sell.

Archibald McMillan, a defence witness, testified he was with Quinn at the latter's house on the evening of August 8 from 8 o'clock to 10, and that during that time no liquor had been consumed.

E. T. Essery argued that the prosecution had failed to make out a case.

Sides With Prosecution.

Magistrate Graydon pointed out that he considered the evidence sufficient to warrant a conviction and imposed a fine of $200 and costs or, in default, three months in jail.

Charles Coursey, summoned on two charges, pleaded not guilty. He was tried first on a charge of selling unlawfully on July 29.

Truman Hinch, special officer, testified that he had gone with Coursey and three others to the home of John Coursey on 745 Grey street, and that Norman Jones, another special officer, had handed over five one-dollar bills and had received two quart bottles of whiskey for them.

Norman Jones, the special officer referred to by preceding witness, stated he had given Coursey $5, and had received the whiskey in exchange.

Charles Coursey, the defendant, denied the story told by the special officers, and said he had not sold whiskey to them or anyone else.

Coursey was convicted, the magistrate stating that he had no hesitation in believing the evidence of the special officers. He was fined $200 and costs or 3 months in jail.

FORGED MILITARY CHECKS PASSED

The military forger is at work again. This morning it was discovered by certain tellers of city banks that worthless military checks had been passed on them. Information regarding the name or description of the forger could not be obtained by bank officials, but it is certain that the man, whoever he is, receives money for his checks through the medium of civilians, who cash the checks with their private money, and subsequently apply for the worth of them from city banks.

The north-end branch of the Bank of Toronto had a worthless military check of $10 passed off on them by a civilian who received it from a soldier.

CHILD IS BORN UNDER UNUSUAL CIRCUMSTANCES

A north-end mother gave birth to a child yesterday afternoon in an outbuilding. The child was rescued by the janitor of a nearby school, and will probably live. The mother is recovering from the shock.

The incident caused quite a sensation in the locality.

12,000 Cheer as Wallacetown Man Gets Son's V. C.

Immense Throng at Toronto Sees Presentation of Medal Won by 18th Hero.

Toronto newspapers account of the presentation of the Victoria Cross won by the late Sergt. E. W. Sifton of the 18th Battalion to his father, J. J. Sifton, Wallacetown, say that a crowd of 12,000 cheered as the Duke of Devonshire handed the cross to the father of the dead hero. The presentation was made on the opening day of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. It was the first time that the Victoria Cross, emblematic of the highest award in the British Empire, was ever presented on Canadian soil.

After reading the letter from the King expressing His Majesty's regrets at Sergt. E. W. Sifton's untimely death, the duke read the official account of the action for which the 23-year-old Canadian was awarded the most coveted honor in the gift of the British Empire.

It was at Vimy Ridge on April 9 that Sergt. Sifton, while leading his men in an attack on the enemy's lines, captured a machine gun that was enfilading the Canadian ranks, and single-handed killed the crew. A small enemy party advanced down the trench, but he kept them off till the position was gained. In carrying out this gallant act he was killed. After reading the official account of the deed, the duke presented the cross to the dead soldier's father, J. J. Sifton of Wallacetown. Sergt. Sifton's mother is dead, but two uncles, two aunts and two cousins of the deceased were present to view the ceremony. Harry Sifton, Highgate, Ont., and Frank Sifton, St. Catharines, were the uncles of the young soldier.

125 RETURNED MEN ON TRIP TO INGERSOLL

Thirty automobiles, with 125 convalescent soldiers, left the city today for Ingersoll, where they will receive one of the biggest receptions yet tendered to returned men. R. J. Webster is in charge of the trip, and much of its success will be due to him. In spite of the fact that numerous trips have preceded this one, he has secured the necessary cars for the journey, which is a longer one than usual, and has arranged with residents of Ingersoll to give the men a good time from the moment they arrive until they depart.

Members of "The Three Thousand Club" will motor some distance from the city, and will escort the party to its destination, and aid in the demonstration which will be made there. A program of sports will occupy the afternoon, and after supper, which will be provided by the Red Cross Society, there will be a short concert program.

UNION DEMANDS OF WEST TOO SEVERE; ARE UNACCEPTABLE TO BORDEN ELEMENT

Party Fusion Movements Are, However, Reported Under Way At Some Points.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Tonight there is a blue feeling amongst those in Winnipeg who were looking forward to seeing national government. Indications are that the demands of the westerners were too severe and unacceptable to influences which dictate the policy of the Ottawa ministry.

Sir F. W. Haultain of the supreme court of Regina, former premier, was one of the names taken first by Premier Sifton as favored by the west for head of the Government. Westerners ardently demanded too high a price for their support, and did not take into consideration the strength of party feeling at Ottawa.

A Backward Influence.

South Winnipeg is one of the first constituencies to feel the backward influence of the failure to secure national government. The fusion of interests in an endeavor to unite on a win-the-war candidate is wavering. Isaac Pitblado, chairman of the Liberal committee, announced the postponement of tonight's meeting of the joint committee to discuss a candidate, and said no meeting would be held for a few days.

Bulman's View.

W. J. Bulman, president of the Manitoba Conservative Association and vice-president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, goes much further. Mr. Bulman claims no definite action in reference to the selection of union candidates by means of party fusion can be properly taken until Premier Borden has announced the results of the latest attempt to form a union government at Ottawa.

Fusion Under Way.

Party fusion movement, however, is now under way in every western province. Following the lead of South Winnipeg, Liberals and Conservatives in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia are showing a disposition to get together. Meetings have been held in numerous places throughout the west, especially in rural communities, and while individual efforts have not yet been co-related there appears to be a growing desire on the part of citizens to hold a big convention, at which all electors favoring "win the war" and conscription policy will be represented, has firm hold. In virtually every riding of the province pioneer work in the fusion of the two political parties has been accomplished.

Parties Confer.

Brandon Liberals have appointed special committee to confer with Conservatives. Portage la Prairie citizens have passed resolutions strongly favoring union government. At Morris a mass meeting has been called for Friday night to consider party fusion. The manifesto is signed jointly by presidents of Liberal and Conservative associations.

Centre Winnipeg Liberals this even ing passed a resolution favoring th new movement, despite some minor op position. Monday evening North Win nipeg Conservatives adopted a resolu tion favoring co-operation of all pa ties.

Selkirk Goes For.

Selkirk constituency has gone a st further than any other riding in th west—the two parties have alread united there. A special committee i now looking for a suitable candidate One man has been approached, but hi reply has not yet been made. At Regina Liberals are calling a mass meeting to discuss conscription and co-operation.

At Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver pioneer work is being done by army veterans' organizations. In Alberta, strong support has already been promised, and it is intimated that mass meetings openly advocating the principle will shortly be held in Calgary and Edmonton.

At Pincher Creek, delegates to the western Liberal convention are reported to be planning fusion movement with other conscriptionists irrespective of party.

BORDEN GOVT., BOUGHT AND PAID FOR IN 1911, IS SERVING MASTERS WELL IN C N. R. DEAL

The Canadian Government made a complete surrender to the Mackenzie-Mann interests and forced the C. N. R. bill upon the Canadian people by the most Prussian method known in the history of the country.

Here is a government that has been literally torn to pieces by the shots of criticism that were thrown from all sides. For three years it has played fast and loose with war administration, and now on the eve of appealing to the country, with the conscription flag at hand to wave, it presents a pair of bankrupt railroaders with $50,000,000 for stock that would not be worth a penny under ordinary business procedure.

The whole deal smells to high heaven and casts a dark blot upon the record of the present finance minister, who was hand in glove with the intense party enthusiasm for the bill which went so far as to apply the gag to all criticism.

The worst that should have happened was to take the railway and administer it, appropriating the stock at the same time. In the present state of affairs even that length may have been too great for any young country like Canada to go. We have the history of the Intercolonial Railway with its bad recent record to show what this country is likely to do with government operated railways. And when to this is added a great steal of millions, it is time for the whole country to question the motives of the present administration in any measure it may undertake.

In any ordinary times such a deal as the C. N. R. swindle would have set the country seething. It is to be hoped that the country will even now be aroused to the iniquity of it and will deal with its perpetrators as they deserve when the time has arrived.

Some day the "inside story" of the C. N. R. purchase may come to light. It will reek with the influence of the Toronto group of capitalists from which the present minister of finance sprung, the same group that has dominated the situation from the commencement of the present administration in 1911. The Borden Government was bought and paid for in 1911, and it has been serving its masters well.

A democratic country like Canada will not stand for the domination of this country by a few titled personages, who can give their orders for "immediate delivery" and have those orders obeyed. And it will not stand for the riding to power of such a class of "privilege" rulers on the patriotic horse. Scandals like the application of closure, the gagging of the voice of Canada's people in a deal which will not bear the light of publicity and involves millions of the people's money and the saddling of the country with a white elephant, will bring down the just wrath of the Canadian people when the opportunity comes at the polls.

THE CROP RESULTS.

REPORTS from all parts of this province tell of wonderfully fine grain crops, and of excellent yields per acre, and prospects for overcoming the threatened food shortage without enduring much hardship seem bright. But can all these reports be accepted as accurate? No doubt they are furnished in good faith, but have the compilers gone deeply enough into their subject to get the truth?

A tour through some farming districts is calculated to decrease the optimism to some extent, and cast doubt upon the more optimistic reports. In some parts, regarding which it has been officially stated the number of bushels f wheat and oats is so-and-so, one is struck by the fact that a great portion f the former crop has not been hreshed as yet, and much of the lat- r is still in the field, cut or uncut. ow, in the face of these facts, is the ield calculated? Threshers report wheat yielding as low as twelve bushels to the acre, while comparatively few crops are much over the 20-bushel mark, they say. All agree that oats in Western Ontario are certain to be far above the average of recent years.

Possibly it may be taken as true that reports of crops apply more to the good ones than the poor, and the news of the big yields is given prominence.

But there are smaller, yields, too, and the fact should not be ignored. There is a demand for 160,000,000 bushels more than usual this year from the American continent. The crops will not produce all this excess; that is almost certain. Economy and conservation will have to play a great part. These people who read of the fine crops and then decide that there is no special need of economy in wheat use this year, are making a mistake. If the need is to be met the nation must do its part to assist nature, and the food controller must help by sane, effective and timely orders.

PREMIER'S SHARP PRACTICE.

SHARP PRACTICE has been the stock-in-trade of some members of the Government for many years, but it has been hoped that Sir Robert Borden would manage to end his term as premier without exhibiting the defilement which comes from too close an association with pitch. The hope can no longer be entertained, as Sir Robert has sunk to the level of his colleagues, and has employed sharp, if not dishonorable, methods to gain his end.

Mr. Lapointe, M.P., of Kamouraska, made a suggestion concerning the C. N. R. purchase bill when the Government resolution was under discussion, but did not press his point at that time, because the premier assured him there would be ample opportunity for its consideration when the bill was before the committee. Mr. Lapointe courteously agreed to delay his argument, trusting to the premier's promise. He leaned on a weak staff. Instead of "ample" opportunity, he is prevented by the application of the closure from speaking for more than twenty minutes, and that allowance depends upon his luck in catching the eye of the chairman before the hour set for voting. It may be remarked that for a Liberal to catch Chairman Rainville's eye during the discussion of the C. N. R. question is no light task.

It is useless for Sir Robert Borden to say that the length of other speeches was to blame for Mr. Lapointe's disappointment. Mr. Lapointe could not control other members or the length of their deliverances. He trusted to the honor of the premier, and his trust was violated. The head of the Government apparently places as little value on his spoken word as does the kaiser on his written promise.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Just imagine the results if that aviator who flew over the city yesterday had dropped a score of bombs.

Equal pensions for all soldiers would be much fairer than the present system; of that there is no doubt.

Brute force is no argument, but it is the only substitute which the Ottawa Government can apply effectively.

The closure applied to push through C. N. R. bill. Let's see, isn't Canada fighting against Prussianism and for democracy?

Sir Adam Beck would like the Government to take over the G. T. R. Next he would expect it to remove any portions which compete with hydro-radials.

Rogers says his sole interests at present are the war and the returned soldier problem. Was it inadvertently he omitted the most important, the welfare of Hon. Robert Rogers?

The Mayor of Lethbridge, after hearing hydro-electric figures, declares London must be a city of conjurors. One can imagine what he would say after hearing some L. and P. S. R. reports.

There would be no fear of conscription if all Quebec families gave the same war service as the Delongchamps of Quebec. Four of them are "casualties" at the present time. And there will be few French-Canadians not secretly proud of them. Let the Delongchamp record be waved like a torch through the sister province.

AN ELEVATOR EPISODE.

[By Louise Oliver.]

"Hello, kiddo; how's the world going with you these days?"

Marion started. Undeniably, these words were addressed to her, as she was the only occupant of the elevator, besides its operator.

She looked up into a pair of very nice blue eyes, then at the thatch of maize-colored hair below a grey unvisored cap, and at the straight alert figure buttoned up to the chin in a jacket of severe military cut. There was nothing in particular to distinguish him from the eleven other young men who lifted or lowered the general public to the various floors of the Armsworth building, and Marion was at a loss at first just how to receive such an unaccustomed overture. But she was greatly amused and pleased. Lately she had felt rather old with the tax of overwork, but evidently the young man in the cab didn't think she looked so.

"Oh, pretty well," she answered with a smile. Marion's smile was very sweet. "How abtut you?"

"Same as usual. Too long hours and too small pay, but pretty good, at that."

The elevator slid down another floor, slow, stuck and started again. Then it slowed again and jerked to a standstill—between floors.

"Good gracious!" said Marion impatiently. "What's wrong?"

"Don't ask me. Power's off, I suppose."

"Can't you tell by the other elevators? Have they stopped, too?"

"Only me and No. 9's running. After 6 they only run two cars. Don't worry, though. I'll get word to the electrician. He'll fix it."

"But how long will he be? I'm in a hurry. I have important business to attend to that can't wait."

"Sorry, kiddo. Guess it'll have to."

Marion sat down on the narrow leather seat, glancing at her watch with dismayed resignation.

"It certainly is most annoying."

"Sorry. Got a date?"

"What?"

"Got a date—engagement."

Marion laughed in spite of herself. "No, it isn't that. I have some business to attend to for Mr. Marshall."

"John Marshall! Do you work for him? He's district attorney, ain't he?"

"Yes."

"Well, if he's as hard on his office people as he is on the poor people he's always persecuting he'd be a lemon to work for."

Marion decided this was too good to keep. She'd have to tell her brother John how he stood with the people.

"He's not so bad," she defended. "He has to do his duty."

"Yes—I 'spose. But say, do you think he's givin' that poor fellow Jewett a chance?"

"Chance! Of course."

"But nobody thinks he's guilty."

"Maybe he isn't. But that's for his attorneys to prove. You see," said Marian, "a district attorney has to appear severe. It's his business to try to prove people guilty. There—they're hammering downstairs. I suppose it will soon be fixed. I must get out of this."

"Ain't you having a good time?"

"Wonderful" smiled Marion, still amused that the young fellow's opinion of her had not changed. "I'll discard these beads and earings for work after this," she thought, "and wear another hat." Then she thought of the time and of her errand, and of Caruthers waiting impatiently at the station for the papers she carried, papers that were sure to convict this same Jewitt they were talking about. She looked down at her bag safely hanging on her arm.

"I knew a fellow once who knew Jewett," said the other.

"Did you?" exclaimed Marion, interested.

"Yep. He thinks there's something wrong. Thinks a pack of fellows used him. He was that kind. Do anything for anybody, Jim says."

"Well, it's too bad," declared Marion, "but the law's the law and somebody has to do the state's work. Besides—" she hesitated—"he really was guilty of treason you know. Why I have—"she looked at the bag, "right here, papers that are sufficient evidence to convict him."

Suddenly the young man said, "Say, would you mind holding this lever over this way—tight? I'll have to look at the switch under the seat. Better put your things down—it will take both hands."

Marion obligingly obeyed. After a minute the operator replaced the seat, relieved her of her task and pulled over a lever. The elevator slid downward to the first floor.

"Thanks for helpin'," said he young fellow, gratefully. "Sorry you're late."

"You're welcome," said Marion. "See you tomorrow," she added impulsively. She liked this friendly young chap in spite of his ridiculous hair. She walked quickly to the street, called a taxi, and found herself at the station in ten minutes, just in time to catch Caruthers before his train pulled out for New York.

"Here are the papers!" said Marion breathlessly, reaching into her bag. Then suddenly she went white. "Why—they're not here! They're gone! I put them here myself! They've been stolen! No, they're not here anywhere. But not a soul's been near me, the bag has not been away from me for a second ——" Then suddenly she thought of the elevator chap with the yellow hair who had a friend who knew Jewett.

* * * * * * *

That was the end of Marion's career in the secret service. The papers that would have convicted Edwin Jewett were lost through her carelessness.

One night several months later when Marion was dressing for dinner the maid brought her a card.

She hastily finished her toilet and went down. The man who rose when she entered the drawing-room looked familiar—yet she was uncertain. Where had she seen him?"

"Don't you remember the elevator boy," he smiled, "who stole your papers and disappeared?"

Marion flushed. "But your hair?" she puzzled.

"That was easily taken off. I often wish I had a little. I am afraid I'm getting bald. And I think yellow is becoming."

"I see," he said. "You haven't forgiven me. I came to tell you that even if Edwin were technically to blame he has expiated his sin. He died in the trenches fighting for America. I got word today. He was my younger brother."

"Oh, I'm sorry," exclaimed Marion.

"He was never to blame," said her visitor sadly. "He was a loyal patriot. I know it, and had to save him."

"You were right to do it, then," said Marion. "I'm very, very sorry about him."

"I'm lonely; there were just two of us," said the other sadly, "and we were great chums."

"I'd like to say something to comfort you," said Marion softly.

"Perhaps if you don't think too unkindly of me, some day you can," said the man.

"Perhaps," smiled Marion, humoring him as she had done the elevator boy months before.

Howard G. Kelley Is G. T. P. President, in Chamberlin's Place

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—At a meeting of the directors of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway held here today, with Alfred W. Smithers, chairman of the company, presiding, it was announced that E. J. Chamberlin, president, had tendered his resignation upon the expiration of his term.

It was accepted, and Howard G. Kelley was elected to succeed Mr. Chamberlin as president of the company. Mr. Chamberlain will remain a member of the board of directors. Mr. Kelley is vice-president of the Grand Trunk.

27 OF MAJORITY CLAMPS CLOSURE ON PARLIAMENT

Vigorous Protests Follow Call of "Time" as Speakers Are Gagged.

THIRD READING TODAY

W. E. Knowles Assails the Finance Minister's Tactics to Help M. & M.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—The twenty-minute speeches on the C.N.R. bill continued to the last minute. Mr. Lachance was the last speaker. At a minute before 2 o'clock Hon. Mr. Sevigny arose and spent the last minute asking a question. He passed the closure time and it was presumed that his purpose was to forestall an amendment from the Opposition side. There was none forthcoming, however. Mr. Lachance took five minutes beyond the closure hour answering Sevigny's question.

Then the first clause was adopted by 63 to 36, a majority of 27. Mr. Turriff and Mr. Champagne from the Liberal side voted with the Government. Sir George Foster stated that the Canadian Northern bill would be considered on third reading today. It was a more quiet ending than many had looked for.

Closure Is Carried.

The motion of the finance minister applying closure was made at the opening of the sitting, and was carried by 52 to 25—a Government majority of 27. J. G. Turriff voted with the Government. Dr. Michael Clark and R. B. Bennett were not in the chamber.

The motion limited the speeches of the remainder of the sitting to 20 minutes each, and provided that there should be no speaking after 2 o'clock in the morning. Then began the 20-minutes performances.

With nine hours to go and the speeches limited to three an hour, it became possible for 27 men to speak. The Government gave the Liberals the floor; Conservatives did not try to speak. As soon as one Liberal exhausted his minutes, another took his place. Most of the speeches were delivered in French, and nearly all of the Quebec members took a drive at Chairman Rainville for acting as suppressor of speech under the rule.

Speaking By the Watch.

The first man up was the Hon. Jacques Bureau. He took the full 20 minutes, and was notified by Chairman Rainville when his time was up. He got in another minute among a good deal of noise from the Government side. Then J. A. C. Ethier of Two Mountains treated the House to 20 fluent French minutes, and was retired by command of the chair.

W. E. Knowles of Moose Jaw declared that the finance minister had adopted the closure because he was afraid of an open discussion of the Canadian Northern deal. It was unfortunate that the finance minister should choke discussion of a proposal to hand more Canadian money to Mackenzie & Mann. He intimated that there had been connection between Sir Thomas White and some of the interests associated with Mackenzie & Mann. Sir William Meredith had been selected as valuator because he was Tory of the Tories.

Turriff for Deal.

J. G. Turriff did not believe that under fair arbitration MacKenzie & Mann would get much for their stock.

Pius Michaus of New Brunswick, produced a resolution protesting against the bargain.

O. Turgeon of New Brunswick, said that his electors were against the bill.

Roche Lanctot said that MacKenzie & Mann had not made a success of their railroad, but they had made a success of their personal financing and this bill was their latest and greatest success.

C. A. Wilson of Laval, expressed the opinion that the Conservative party treasurer would not be hurt by the passage of the bill no matter how deeply it touched the public treasury.

Looting the Treasury.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said he feared that Parliament was dealing with a group of millionaires banded together for the purpose of looting the Canadian treasury. He was half way through the reading of a letter from Sir Byron Walker of the Bank of Commence when his twenty minutes expired. Shouts of "Time, time," came from the Government side as Mr. Lemieux went on reading. The chairman motioned for him to sit down but Mr. Lemieux shouted: "Tighten your belt." These were the last words heard from him though he remained on his feet for a time with his lips moving. There was a solid and continuous roar from the Government benches until Mr. Lemieux sat down and Mr. German took the floor. The incident created a good deal of amusement on the Liberal side and Sir Wilfrid Laurier appeared to find a good deal of merriment in it.

HORSE AND BUGGY NOW FEATURE HAMILTON CASE

Driven Rapidly Away When Cries of Help Were Heard.

HAMILTON, Aug. 28. — Another sensational twist has been given to the MacRobbie case as the result of a report that on the night of the tragedy, and about the same time as the cries for help were heard, a buggy containing one or more persons was heard to drive rapidly away from the Crescent Oil Company's premises.

Of all overworked women probably the housewife is the hardest worked. She has so much to attend to, with very little help. Her work can be lightened if she knows the value of system, and she should try and take a short rest in the daytime. A physician who became famous almost around the world, Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the specialist in woman's diseases, for many years practiced medicine in a farming district. He there observed the lack of system in the planning of the work.

If it is a headache, a backache, a senuncontrollable nervousness, something uncontrollabel nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centres in the organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The disorder should be treated steadily and systematically with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

For diseases from which women suffer "Favorite Prescription" is a powerful restorative. During the last fifty years it has banished from the lives of tens of thousands of women the pain, worry, misery and distress caused by these diseases.

COMPULSORY MILITARY SERVICE IS MADE LAW FOR CANADA BY GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN TORONTO

Duke of Devonshire Affixes Signature in Government House, Rosedale, and Messenger Returns to Ottawa With Historic Document.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Conscription is now the law of the land.

As forecast in the London Advertiser this morning, the military service act of 1917 was signed by the Duke of Devonshire, governor-general, at Government House, Rosedale, at 5.30 o'clock this afternoon.

There had been many rumors as to what course would be taken, but in the end the urgency of the case apparently led to the dispatch of a messenger from the capital to Toronto with the bill for the signature.

The messenger arrived this morning and left for Ottawa with the bill again tonight.

Colonel Harold Henderson, the governor's military secretary, was present during the signing of the bill.

BORDEN AND SIFTON WOULD RUN HAWKES AGAINST A. B. M'COIG

British-Born Stumper of 1911 Slated for New Kent Seat.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Arthur Hawkes, who conducted the campaign among the British-born against Liberalism in 1911, and has been recently figuring in the Toronto win-the-war movement, reached Ottawa this morning. For some days past he has been in close conference with Premier Borden, Sir Clifford Sifton and Hon. Arthur Meighen, who, it is understood, have been trying to arrange a Conservative nomination for him.

It was rumored in parliamentary corridors this afternoon that the Conservatives planned to have Hawkes nominated in the new riding of Kent against Archie B. McCoig, the sitting member. When interviewed concerning the rumor Mr. Hawkes professed ignorance as to any definite arrangement, but did not confirm or deny it. He said he had "heard nothing of it," and subsequent developments would depend upon circumstances.

The rumor, however, persists that Hawkes is the nominee of Sir Clifford Sifton under a win-the-war auspices for candidature in the Kent constituency.

TO OPPOSE McCOIG.

CHATHAM, Aug. 28.—A largely signed petition, bearing the names of some of the most prominent members of both parties, is being circulated through this city and county, with a view to forming a win-the-war party, and bring out a candidate to oppose Archie McCoig, M.P. The petition has already the signatures of a great many Liberals who have split with the party on the conscription issue, and is headed by Mayor Kerr of this city, a lifelong Liberal, and a strong conscriptionist.

NO UNION GOVERNMENT; WEST ASKING TOO MUCH

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—A dispatch sent out to Government papers today says that prospects for a union cabinet are imperilled, if not destroyed, by conditions which the western Liberals seek to impose on the prime minister.

Among these conditions are said to be the retirement of the prime minister.

HANNA GIVES HINT COLD STORAGES MAY BE NATIONALIZED

May Be Built and Operated as Public Utilities.

MEAT MAY BE CHEAPER

Action of Lord Rhondda in Britain May Affect Canada.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—At the directors' luncheon at the exhibition today Food Controller Hon. W. J. Hanna made some important statements on the food situation. Cold storage, he said, was an essential to the proper distribution of commodities when properly administrated and organized, and added: "The day may come when these institutions will be listed among the great public utilities, and will be built and operated as such."

Regarding the price of bread, he said that they had not fixed the price of the loaf of bread because the investigation which has been conducted at Ottawa during the last six or eight months has shown that in the larger cities and towns the price of bread is not out of proportion to the price of flour. However, he hoped that with the utmost co-operation with the food controller at Washington, it would result in a fair regulation of the price of wheat, flour and bread.

Retain Flour Standard.

The question had been raised as to the advisability of insisting on whole wheat flour. They had had a meeting at Ottawa, at which the millers and the grain commission were present, and the conclusion come to was that it would be a wholly unnecessary sacrifice were Canada to lower the high standard of her flour output, and to lose the reputation which her flour has made in the markets of the world.

The killing of calves and lambs had also been strongly opposed in certain quarters. There were two sides to the question. The department had therefore appointed a committee of representative men to deal with the Canadian interests.

As to the prices of meat, cheaper meat after September, in England, had been promised by Lord Rhondda; it was expected that beef would be 12 cents a pound cheaper after Christmas.

"This action on the part of Lord Rhondda," he added, "very largely settles the price of these commodities in Canada and the United States."

For all who pay taxes

Every taxpayer is a roadbuilder. His money helps pay for the country's roads. Therefore, he has good reason to feel interested in the choice of the materials. It means much to him to know whether his money is going into the repair of never-to-be-finished roads, or into new mileage of

Permanent Highways of Concrete

There's a time coming—soon, let us hope—when peace will release enough men to make possible the completing of Canada's much-needed system of highways. It is for YOU and your neighbors to say what material shall be used in those highways. It is for you to decide NOW—and we can help you decide aright. If you will write us signifying an interest in the subject, we will send you the proofs that place the superiority of Concrete beyond all doubt. Durable as rock, and even as a floor, Concrete defies the attacks of time and traffic. In summer it makes no dust—in winter no mud—and all the year round you can use it, without interruption.

URGE ALL WOMEN TO SUPPORT MOVE FOR SAVING FOOD

Civic Luncheon Tendered the Wives of Delegates to Convention.

A civic luncheon in honor of the ladies who are attending with their husbands the convention of Canadian Municipalities was given Tuesday at the Hunt Club, the executive of the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire performing the duties of hostesses. Mrs. F. H. Harley extended a civic welcome, and Mrs. E. B. Smith, 1st vice-president of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., made a gracious little speech of welcome on behalf of the I.O.D.E.

Speaking on behalf of the recently-organized food conservation committee of London, Mrs. David Williams introduced a resolution, seconded by Mrs. John I. A. Hunt, for presentation to the Union of Canadian Municipalities in convention, asking the support of the municipalities for the women's organizations formed for the purpose of carrying out the plans of the food controller, and also bringing to the attention of the convention the admirable organization of each municipality for the enforcement of food regulations in public places, and suggesting that authority be obtained from the Government for the enforcement of said regulations by municipalities.

Resolution Carried.

The resolution was unanimously carried.

Called upon to say something of the work being done by the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire in the city, Mrs. A. A. Campbell, organizing secretary, briefly touched upon the splendid manner in which each of the sister chapters is doing its bit. An eloquent plea was made in closing on behalf of the returned soldiers, an appeal to hold them in constant remembrance for all they have given and done.

Mrs. Burgoyne of St. Catharines, replying to the addresses of welcome, told of the patriotic services being rendered by the women of St. Catharines, which she represents.

Splendid Work.

Applause followed her statement that the women, through their church organizations had canned some 22,000 jars of fruit for the soldiers in 1915, and in the neighborhood of 16,000 or 17,000 a year ago, only a portion of all that they have done for the men who are serving the colors.

Mrs. J. N. Bayne of Regina expressed her own thanks and that of other women convention visitors for hospitality extended, and stated that she was a member of the Forget Chapter, I.O.D.E., of Regina, one of the first chapters organized in the west.

Following the luncheon the guests of honor were taken for a drive around the city and out to the Byron Sanatorium.

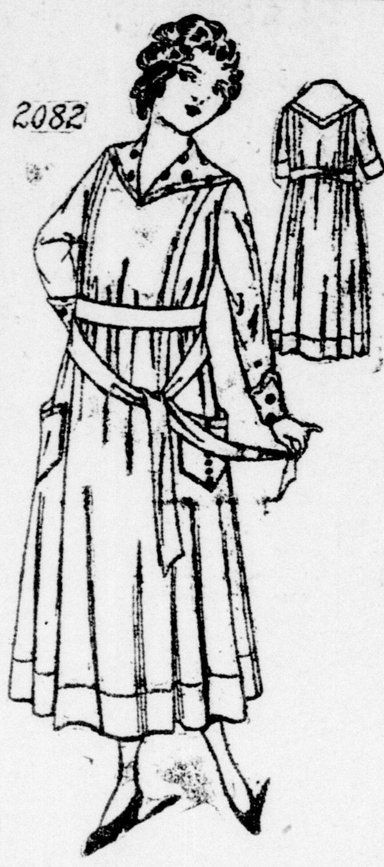
Advertiser Patterns



A Popular, Comfortable and Practical Style.

2082—One-Piece Dress for Misses and Small Women.

There is hardly any style so well adopted to slender figures as this one. It is easy to develop and good for any of the materials now in vogue. Broad panels, with plaits at the seams, are joined to the side fronts. A smart collar trims the V-neck edge. The sleeve may be in wrist or elbow length. The pattern is cut in three sizes, 16, 18 and 20 years. It requires 5¾ yards of 44-inch material for an 18-year size. The skirt measures about 2⅞ yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT.

Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below:

MAJESTIC.

"The Clodhopper" Stars Charles Ray.

Charles Ray, who demonstrated that he was no bush leaguer in "The Pinch Hitter," has further opportunity to show his ability in "The Clodhopper," which will be exhibited at the Majestic Theatre today and Thursday. In this new Triangle play by Monte M. Katterjohn, in which he is presented as star by Thomas H. Ince, he shows his versatility as a dancer by "stepping" his way to success in a Broadway musical revue.

Charles Ray, the Favorite of the Screen, in "The Clodhopper" at the Majestic Today and Thursday.

The scenes of the play are laid on a New England farm and in New York city. Many elaborate settings are used to represent the cabarets and the gay restaurants that go to make up New York's night life.

PATRICIA.

Mary Pickford, at the Patricia All This Week.

Santa Cruz is an industrious little town under the shadow of the big trees of California. It bustles along day after day, goes to the movies and strawberry socials at night and has a quiet, peaceful time.

Then, all of a sudden, who should appear right in the midst of things, where Main and First streets meet, but Mary herself.

A dynamite explosion under the City Hall would not have created more excitement.

Miss Pickford was sitting in an automobile waiting to go on location. Cecil B. De Mille, the director-general, was in the hotel hurrying up the rest of the company to film the exterior scenes of "A Romance of the Redwoods," the Artcraft picture showing all this week at the Patricia Theatre.

An urchin, standing on the curbing, spied the Artcraft star first and took one long, full, look. Then ran down the street, shrieking—"Mary's here! Mary's here!" No word of explanation was necessary; they came from all directions and stood about her car. Shy little girls stepped forth and thrust sweaty little bouquets into Miss Pickford's hands until her lap was full.

Arriving at the location the company went through every scene before the eyes of the vast throng. The crowd made no attempt to encroach upon the scenes, but stood or sat respectfully and feasted their eyes.

There is probably not a person within a radius of a hundred and fifty miles of Santa Cruz who did not see Miss Pickford in person. Even brother Jack Pickford, who was also in Santa Cruz, was pursued by an admiring throng of youngsters, no matter how he rambled.

UNIQUE.

Girl Turns Coming Out Ball Into Near Riot.

A young girl turns a coming-out ball in her honor into a near riot by poisoning all her numerous admirers with Brazilian nettles. She does this because she loathes the men and is angered when her aunt insists she pick her future husband from among them, offering her $10,000 cash as an incentive. This unusual and interesting story of the adventures of a country girl visiting her aunt in a great city is told in "Betty in the Lion's Den," the Favorite Film feature appearing in the Unique Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Betty finally escapes from her tormentors, aided by her country sweetheart, who comes to the city and gets a job as coachman for the aunt, who does not suspect his identity. The picture has an all-star cast, including Clara Kimball Young, Josie Sadler, Darwin Karr, James Lackaye, Donald Hall, Charles Wellesley and William Shea.

AILSA CRAIG

AILSA CRAIG, Aug. 28.—The "Ten Young Ladies' Club" sents its weekly shipment of eggs, fruit and flowers on Saturday to London for the returned soldiers in the hospitals and Byron Sanatorium.

Yesterday an auto, driven by a stranger in town, struck the gasoline tank at Yelfs' hardware store. No damage was done to the car, but the tank was put out of commission.

The Women's Institute made its regular monthly shipment of Red Cross supplies to Toronto last week, including 138 pairs of socks, 46 shirts, 3 suits pyjamas and 1 old sheet.

Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson gave an interesting address to the Women's Institute in the town hall on Monday afternoon on her experiences of war conditions overseas. A collection was taken in aid of the blind soldiers.

Rev. (Capt.) Graham of London is to be the chief speaker at the garden party at Lieury on Thursday evening, Aug. 30, under the auspices of the Help-on-a-Bit Circle in aid of the Red Cross. Capt. Graham will also give an address in the town hall here on Friday evening. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

DON'T be misled by the careless statement "Home preserving does not pay". Figure it out for yourself. Allowing six ounces of sugar to a can of peaches and adding the price of fruit and fuel you have less than half the cost of commercial canned peaches anywhere near the quality of your homemade product. With metals scarce and transportation problems becoming more and more acute the housewife who preserves her own peaches and other fruits is accomplishing a valuable personal economy and at the same time performing a patriotic duty.

USED CARS FOR SALE

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-grade tires can be purchased for, and are 20 per cent less than prevailing wholesale dealers' prices.

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation, which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

THERE ARE ABSOLUTELY NO SECONDS IN OUR STOCK

FLOUR

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Flour—Manitoba. Listed quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $12.90; second patents, $12.40; strong bakers, $12; Ontario winter, 90 per cent patents, $9.75, seaboard.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $36 per ton; shorts, $43 per ton on track, Toronto.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—There was a better demand for winter wheat flour, and quite a few carlots were sold of both old and new crop wheat, 90 per cent grades. In spring wheat grades the feeling is easier, and lower prices are expected in the near future. The demand was steady, small lots being wanted to fill actual wants. Millfeed was steady, with a fair trade passing in some lines. An unsettled feeling has developed in the market for rolled oats, and it is reported that prices in some cases have been cut to $3.60 per bag, but the leading mills have only reduced prices 10c per bag.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $13; seconds, $12.50; strong bakers, $12.30; winter patents, choice, $12.50; straight rollers, $12@12.30; do., bags, $5.80@5.95.

Rolled Oats—Barrels, $8.85@9; do., bags, 90 lbs., $4.30@4.40.

Bran—$35.
Shorts—$40.
Middlings—$48@50.
Moullie—$60@61.

Financial, Market and Commercial Section

THE LOCAL MARKET

Although the fruit yield of the district is not considered to be particularly good this year, a comparatively large offering of all seasonable varieties is anticipated by purchasers tomorrow.

The crop of peaches throughout the vicinity is fairly large, notwithstanding the reports that have been current to the contrary. The unfavorable reports of the peach crop which have been prevalent of late, is understood to have come from certain farmers who were unfortunate enough to nave had few peaches, while others managed to rear an abundance of them.

A peculiar feature of the fruit crops of the district is that some growers have managed to grow the usual good yield, while others have suffered a large falling off of their accustomed crop.

The quality of peaches is not as good as in former seasons. The flavor is poor, because of an exceptional quantity of juice, and the fruit is generally soft and inclined to be soggy. Peaches sold yesterday from 60c to 75c in 11-quart baskets.

Plums, which have not yet become ripe, are on the market in abundance at 75c to 90c per basket. The present is the best time to buy the green variety of plum, but it will be two weeks before the height of the plum season will be reached.

A good offering of pears was in fair demand yesterday at 75c to $1 by the basket. It was the first time pears made an appearance on the market this year, and many of them were unripe.

Thimbleberries will be particularly plentiful next week, and the value of the fruit will probably decline because of the expected abundance. Apples remained firm yesterday, showing no signs which would indicate a drop from the present high price.

Vegetables were plentiful, and no changes were shown. Potatoes remained stationary, growers anticipating neither a decline nor an increase in the price of spuds for the next few days.

Hay is very scarce and the demand increasingly large. A scramble took place among prospective hay buyers this morning, and the price of the fodder ascended, selling at $9 to $10.

Live hogs sold for the first time since the announcement of the big drop on Saturday. They brought about $16 a cwt., and were in good demand, notwithstanding the reduction of values.

Dairy produce is firm and scarce, the present comparatively cold weather not bringing down the price as was expected.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 29—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Selling of stocks was resumed at the active opening of the day's market today, most of the leaders adding fractions to their severe setback of the preceding session. United States Steel was forced down half a point to its recent low quotation of 118½, but immediately rallied to 119¼. Bethlehem Steel made a slight gain at the outset, but soon reacted with allied industrials. Rails and coppers were more steady with shippings, oils and motors. A firmer trend was shown at the end of the first half hour.

Noon.—After a brief pause the liquidating movement gathered fresh headway with another attack upon the motors. Studebaker fell 2⅛ to the new low point of 44¼. General Motors lost 2, and all gains elsewhere were cancelled. Equipments were equally heavy with shippings and metals, and the more speculative issues lost 2 to 5 points. Every rally of the first hour was succeeded by renewed offerings. Steels, coppers, rails and tobaccos led the 1 to 2 point recoveries at noon.

1:30 p.m.—Steel rebounded to 119⅞, and the support accorded other standard issues, including rails and shippings, served to sustain the rally during the mid-session. Dealings diminished to slender proportions, but changes were mainly toward higher levels.

IMPROVEMENT IN CASH BUSINESS

Winnipeg Market Has Fairly Active Demand for Wheat on Tuesday.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Compared with yesterday the situation today in the cash market showed considerable improvement, the demand being fairly active. All offerings of the better grades were quickly absorbed. Prices, however, were weaker. Offerings of cash oats were fairly liberal, and the situation was not changed much. Barley was dull, and prices were unchanged. There were transactions in cash flax at 5c over the October price. Only a few cars were sold. The prospects of frost in the west which gave considerable strength to yesterday's oats market were offset today by rumors of Austria having made new peace proposals, and prices sagged after the opening. Only the October and December options were traded in, and the business done was of moderate volume. October flax opened at the previous close, but declined 8c to 16c during the session. The trade was light in barley. October wheat opened 1c higher, but fell back a couple of cents when rumors began to circulate. October wheat closed 2c lower. October oats were ⅝c down; December ½c, and May 1⅛c lower. October flax closed 1c down; November 8c, and December 16c lower. Barley closed unchanged.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.38; No. 3 northern, $2.33½; No. 4, $2.22; No. 5, $1.97; No. 6, $1.71; feed, $1.50.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 62¾c; No. 3 Canadian western, 61⅜c; extra No. 1 feed, 61⅞c; No. 1 feed, 59⅜c; No. 2 feed, 58⅝c.

Barley—No. 3, $1.18; No. 4, $1.14; rejected, $1.10; feed, $1.10.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3.49; No. 2 Canadian western, $3.40; No. 3 do., $3.30.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.15 @2.22, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.38; No. 3 northern, $2.33½.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 62⅞c, in store, Fort William.

Barley—$1.20@1.22, outside for malting.

ON FACING FATE.

Far be it from me to suggest you keep grinning
When Fate has bestraddled your neck;
Or to say to you—"Smile"—when the other man's winning
And you are three-fourths of a wreck;
The system, or style, is a personal matter,
With which I have nothing to do,
Smile on, if you will—or get mad as a hatter,
But don't let the charge break through.

"The man who can smile" has come in for the praises
Of more than one dealer in junk;
Perhaps I am wrong, but I hold that the phrase is
A meaningless muster of bunk;
For smiling or cursing won't carry you through it,
When Fate begins driving at you,
There's only one answer—there's nothing else to it,
Don't let the assault break through.

Was the ancient prophet referring to the draft when he remarked: "Many are called, but few are chosen."

The Red Sox motto has generally been as follows: "Stick around and they'll come back to you; if they don't, go get 'em."

FREAK INCIDENTS.

Dear Sir.—In calling your attention to the record of the Birmingham club, which scored three runs in three days and won three games, another record was overlooked. Some years ago Cincinnati journeyed to St. Louis, and in a four-game series scored but one run, while St. Louis scored eleven, yet the Reds got an even break on the series. The scores were: St. Louis 11, Cincinnati 0; Cincinnati 1, St. Louis 0; Cincinnati 0, St. Louis 0; Cincinnati 0, St. Louis 0.

Here are a few other odd achievements I gather from my eight volumes of dope:

Bender one year pitched one ball in a game—and lost it; Bluejacket, with the Brookfeds, did not make a single pitch, yet was officially credited with a victory. Here's another odd one: In a Scranton-Elmira game the bases were full; the Elmira pitcher threw to third and caught the runner off the bag; after considerable tossing back and forth the Elmira pitcher found himself three feet from third base, ball in hand, with three runners on first base. He lunged at the group, which scattered, and in the throwing which followed, after the smoke had cleared away, Scranton had her three runners back on first, second and third, without an error charged. EDWARD BIELE.

The freakiest golf shot we ever saw was a brassie shot, hooked out of bounds, that crossed a road, struck a telephone post, bounded back in on the green and dropped into the cup for a 2. The same being no part of a myth, fable or fabrication.

RIVAL INFIELDS.

A sedate bystander desires to know which has the better infield, the White Sox or Red Sox.

Hobby and Gainer make a stronger combination than Gandil at first; Collins has a shade on Barry, but only a shade; both are stars; Scott has something on Risberg at short—enough experience to count. Gardner and Weaver are about fifty-fifty—but Gardner knows more about third base play.

"Willard has lost twenty pounds since he bought out the circus in which he was formerly employed." Jess might add another ring and get down to fighting weight without training.

Matty started from the South Pole this season. He hasn't worked his way to the North Pole yet, but he passed the Equator, and has his Reds at last housed in the Temperate Zone. With a few additional supplies of pemmican and gumdrops he expects to push rapidly on next spring and anchor for the summer somewhere above Baffin's Bay, at least.

AFTER THE BIG FELLOW.

Fred Toney, the Tennessee Turmoil, or the Red Redoubt, will make a terrific effort to bag more victories this season than Alexander, who has led his circuit for a good many campaigns.

Alex. has been attaching 30 or more victories right along, but he is a trifle behind his old mark for late August. He is still within fairly close reach of the Red star, and the finish should be fairly well replete with fuzz. Toney, with 23 victories along the dotted line, expects to reach 30 by the finish. If he does, the Philly premier will need a fast drive through the stretch to regain his old camping ground on top of the pitching peak.

The Browns and Pirates are now in favor of the Government taking over the standing of the clubs and distributing the output to all alike. Why not?

"What good," asks the G. L. F., "will it do to teach our soldiers how to box? I never heard of the Chinese Boxers winning many wars. Or didn't they?"

BROOKLYN CLUB MUST PROVE ITS INNOCENCE

Judge Wants To Be "Shown" About That Sunday Ball Game.

New York, Aug. 28.—Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, and Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Robins, were on trial today in special sessions on a charge of violating the Sunday law. They are accused of holding a baseball game at Ebbets Field on Sunday, July 1, to which the public paid an admission fee.

The only witness called by counsel for the defendants was James D. Campbell, who testified that the proceeds of the entertainment arranged for that Sunday at Ebbets Field were for the benefit of the Militia of Mercy. Following this testimony Mr. York asked the court to dismiss the case against the defendants. Justice Salmon denied the motion and gave both sides until Friday to submit briefs.

"SHINE" BALL BARRED

Ban Johnson Issues Orders Against Use of "Shine" Ball in American League.

Cleveland, Aug. 28.—President Ban Johnson of the American League has issued orders against all types of "shine" balls.

Manager Fohl of the Indians today received the Johnson bulletin, which prohibits the use of tobacco, licorice, or any other substance for discoloring or shining the ball. The only thing the hurler is allowed to do with the ball is to rub it with enough sand to take the shine off.

Five-day suspensions for the offending pitchers are to take effect automatically when they are reported by umpires.

Cicotte and Williams of the White Sox are leading exponents of the "shine" ball.

VAUGHN'S PINCH WORK SHUT OUT THE DODGERS

BROOKLYN, Aug. 28.—Vaughn shut out Brooklyn 2 to 0 today by being effective in the pinches. Cadore also pulled himself out of several tight places, although the visitors reached him for eleven hits, including two doubles. Errors by Myers and Olson gave the visitors their first run, while the second was earned on hits by Mann and Zeider and a double steal.

MAY NOT RELEASE HARRY COVELESKIE

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—Plans of the Detroit American League baseball club to release Harry Coveleskie, left-handed pitcher, to Providence of the International League, have been abandoned, for the present at least, it was announced here late today, at the player's own request. Coveleskie will remain on the Detroit club's roster, but is not expected to pitch any more this season. He has not recovered his effectiveness since his arm went back on him last spring, and it was his desire to rest up, in the hope of being able to resume his work with Detroit next year, that caused the local club to change its plans.

GOLF AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Miss Lois Stumer of Ravisloe Country Club, Chicago, 16 years old, and Miss Frances Hadfield of Blue Mound Club, Milwaukee, 17 years old, were successful today in the first match round of the seventeenth annual championship of the Women's Western Golf Association. These young golfers overcame seasoned players by brilliant shots at various holes, Mrs. D. Gaul of Memphis losing to Miss Hadfield, two down, despite a medal score of 87, one under par. The Milwaukee girl covered the first nine holes in 40, and came home in 46 for an 86. Miss Stumer defeated Miss Ethel Chatfield of Sycamore, Ill., in nineteen holes.

The surprise of the day was the defeat of Miss Ernestine Pearce, who tied at 92 with Mrs. Samuel Kunstadter of Idlewild for low net in the qualifying round, by Miss Vida Llewellyn of La Grange, four and two. Mrs. Kunstadter barely escaped defeat, winning from Miss Louise Fergus of Glenview by only one up.

In the other five matches the results were: Mrs. Melvin Jones, Glen Oak, defeated Miss Marjorie Ford, Flossmoor, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Ralph Smalley, Windsor, defeated Miss Gladys Curtain, Windsor, 1 up.

Mrs. Frances Brundage, Olympia Fields, defeated Miss Florence Wykoff, Windsor, 2 and 1.

Mrs. F. S. Colburn, Glenview, defeated Mrs. W. McArthur, Flossmoor, 5 and 3.

Mrs. Chancey Martin, Flossmoor, defeated Mrs. Elliott Evans, Evanston, 1 up.

RATE IS STRUCK

Dorchester Council Fixes Levy for 1917.

DORCHESTER, Aug. 28.—At the council meeting held yesterday afternoon in the town hall the different tax rates for 1917 were struck. They are as follows: Township rate, 4 mills; county rate, 8 3-10 mills; statutory school tax, 1 3-10 mills, and Red Cross rate, 1 mill.

The Methodist Church of Nilestown will hold its annual garden party on the lawn of J. Knott Wednesday evening, August 29. The Harmonic Male Quartet of London, composed of C. J. Pink, Percy King, Bert Howcroft and Fred Dowling, will furnish the most of the program.

The Dorchester Mission Circle purposes holding a picnic on Friday at the home of Alberta George.

BIG ROWING CLUB TOURNAMENT TODAY

Twenty-four rinks will play today in the Rowing Club's big invitation tournament. The rinks on the greens will be representatives from the various bowling clubs in the city, and only the best bowlers have been chosen. The various skips who have been invited to play are allowed to pick their own rinks, and thus the best players will be in the game. The tourney has aroused much interest among local bowling enthusiasts, and a large turnout of spectators is likely. The games will start promptly at 2 o'clock, and four prizes will be given to the rinks finishing highest.

This is the final Wednesday matinee of the season at the Rowing Club. The draws and the greens on which the different rinks play:

J. Griffith plays F. G. Browne on green 1.

J. H. Vanstone plays A. M. Heaman on green 2.

A. Thrower plays Frank Brown on green 3.

C. K. Bluett plays Thomas Oke on green 4.

W. Turnbull plays W. J. Ashplant on green 5.

F. N. Allen plays H. Barrows on green 6.

R. Highway plays F. E. Silcox on green 7.

W. J. Snelgrove plays C. C. Gordon on green 8.

Israel Taylor plays R. D. Hillier on green 9.

George Nightingale plays C. E. Wheeler on green 10.

C. Speiran plays C. B. Hillier on green 11.

R. Kemp plays P. Fetterly on green 12.

NO GAME TODAY

Owing to unavoidable circumstances the Free Press baseball team will be unable to hook up with The 'Tiser Demons this afternoon at Queen's Park. The Demons are pleased to have an opportunity of returning the compliment to their prospective victims, and still entertain the hope that they will yet get the F. P. team on the diamond and administer the awful walloping that will be theirs when the game is played, and which has been withheld for so long.

SECOND INSTALLMENT

Ratepayers are reminded that the second installment of taxes is due August 31 instead of September 30 as in former years. 61k

WHITE SOX AGAIN DEFEAT YANKEES

Browns Win From Washington—Davenport's Good Work.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Chicago gained half a game on Boston today by defeating New York in the final game of the series, 4 to 3, making a clean sweep of the series, while Boston remained idle on account of rain at Detroit. Chicago now is 3 1-2 games ahead of Boston. The feature of the game was a triple play New York executed in the third inning, when, with the bases full, Jackson lined to Baker who touched the third base, doubling Leibold before he could get back to the bag, and threw to Gedeon, who touched second before McMullin could return. Score:

IMA JAY CAPTURES 2:11 TROT AND $3,000

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Ima Jay, the favorite, owned and driven by Harvey Ernest of Kamms, Ohio, today won the Poughkeepsie 2:11 trot for a purse of $3,000, the feature event of the opening day of the Grand Circuit meeting. After losing the first heat to Royal Mac, Ima Jay won the second and third heats in driving finishes.

Walter Cox's North Spur was picked to win the 2:21 trot, but Suldine had too much speed for him and won in straight heats.

The 2:13 trot went six heats before Jess Y., the popular choice, was returned a winner.

In the special pacing race between Butte Hale and Russell Boy, the latter horse won handily in 2:04 and 2:03. The summary:

O'DOWD GETS DECISION.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul was given a decision over Ted ("Kid") Lewis, world's welterweight champion, in a 12-round bout here tonight. Lewis does not lose his title, however, for the boxers entered the ring at catch-weights and the bout was not a championship affair. O'Dowd outpointed his opponent in every round, according to those at the ringside.

DONATE MEDAL FOR GOLF COMPETITION AT SARNIA

SARNIA, Aug. 23.—Dr. A. N. Hayes and S. L. McKay have donated to the Sarnia Golf Club for competition a medal to be competed for annually. A gold bar, bearing the winner's name will be attached to the medal each year, and the successful contestant shall be known as the champion for the year. The games committee of the club have announced that the qualifying round for the medal competition will be played this week, players to select their own partners, and declare themselves before starting that they are playing the qualifying round for the Hayes-McKay medal. The lowest 16-hole scores will be included in the draw for the medal match play. To stimulate interest among players who may not qualify, but who turn in scores, prizes will be given for this event, which will be worked down to the finals, under the same system of match play as the championship contest.
