BOMBARDMENT WAS HEAVY AT COUNCIL MEETING

London Alderman Hit Fellow Councillor on the Head with Tumbler.

ATTACKED ONE MADE DEFENCE.

As a Result Council Chamber Became a Very Dangerous Centre.

London, Aug. 15.—A most exciting and riotous scene took place at last night's meeting of the City Council. It brought proceedings to a riotous termination.

During an altercation as to the appointment of an auditor, Ald. Wilson charged Ald. Palmer with having made an attack upon him. Pointing at Palmer, he declared: "That man is a coward, the kind that sticks you in the back. He's the kind of man that went into a foundry to take other men's jobs during a strike. He scabbed it."

8-Hour Day for Railway Men, and Commission to Work Out Details.

STATEMENT FROM MR. TUMULTY.

Candid and Honest Discussion Had Taken Place on Whole Matter.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, Aug. 15.—After the committee of railroad managers had another conference with President Wilson early to-day, it became known that a proposal was under consideration by which the railroads would accept the principle of an eight hour day and leave the working out of its application to the Interstate Commission or some body formed for the purpose.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT

Lt. Col. H. F. Leonard received this morning a letter from Pte. S. H. Arbour of the Royal Canadian Dragoons: "I am always anxious to hear from home," he writes, "for I have not seen home for a long time, and do not expect that I will for a long time to come. The papers I have been getting stopped a few days ago, but I hope not for good. God be with you till we meet again."

8-Hour Day Wanted

The men take the stand that they principally want the eight hour day on conditions that it shall be enforced whenever possible. The railroads are said to believe it impossible to accept the eight hour day unless a workable system of application can be built up. Members of the managers' committee said they had no plans for the future and did not know whether they would be called to the White House again.

No Fixed Principle

"These and similar unforseen peculiarities made it impossible until the staff engaged had been largely increased and had become accustomed to them, to select on any fixed principle to search mail bags which, when all could not be examined without a reasonable period, should be forwarded without examination."

SPORT LINERS.

The Braves' pitching staff is doing most of the work for Stallings. His players are surprisingly weak at the bat.

The Reds are losing just as consistently under Matty's management as they did when Herzog led them. "Big Six" has a tremendous burden on his broad shoulders.

It is reported that Al. Manaus, the star pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, wants to become a member of the Giants, but President Dreyfuss, of Pittsburgh, refuses to consider a trade or sale.

The Boston Red Sox have recalled Outfielder Shorten from Newark, because of an injury to Henriksen. It is understood that a player will be sent to Newark to fill Shorten's place.

So badly tipped are the New York Yankees that they are reported to have made an offer of $10,000 for "Ping" Bodie, the former member of the Chicago White Sox, now with a Pacific Coast League team.

Tom Thomas, the veteran catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, has signed a contract to take charge of the baseball team at Williams College, Williamstown, for the next five years.

Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Dodgers, still thinks "Jimmy" Johnson, his young outfielder, is one of the best players in the game. Johnson is doing as much as any man on the team to keep the Dodgers in front.

Harry Donovan, a young pitcher, of the New Haven club, of the Eastern League, will be given a trial by Connie Mack of the Athletics.

Outfielder Larr, who was with Cincinnati for part of last season, and then drifted to Richmond, is being given a trial by the Cleveland Indians.

After helping the Yankees for a short time, Artie Hoffman, the veteran ex-Chicago player, has returned to his home in the Windy City. Hoffman was forced to quit on Wednesday, owing to springing a "Charley-horse."

Music and Drama

At the Commodore, the celebrated English actor, Louis Meredith and a large cast of important players will be seen in "An Enemy to Society," a five act dramatization of George Brown Howard's famous story of the same name at the Commodore on Tuesday and Wednesday.

In "An Enemy to Society," Mr. Revelle portrays a role that has a distinct appeal to the sympathies of his audience. As Stephen Adams, the kidnapped son of Stephen Janissary, a modern king of finance, he is taught by his captors that "steal is the height of right and justice. Balthazar Van Tromp, a man whom Stephen's father had ruined, is back of the plan to make a chief of the law in revenge for the loss of his fortune. How well he succeeds until through love of a beautiful woman, the young man is regenerated, learning at the same time his real identity, make a story that is thrilling in every detail. Louis Meredith, in the character of Declina Dures, the girl for whom the enemy to society renounces his manner of life, gives a piquant performance and is supremely satisfying.

TROLLEY RAN WILD; 25 PERSONS KILLED

Re-union of Families Ended in Disaster Near Johnstown, Pa. Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 15.—A crowded trolley car, running wild with its conductor frantically waving his arms to show he had lost control of it, sped past the Brookdale station at the rate of thirty miles an hour yesterday, causing employees of the Southern Cambria Traction Company hurriedly to shut off the power plant. A little distance farther, they knew, the car would go down the steep incline on the road between Brookdale and Echo, seven miles from here. It was too late to avert disaster.

A few minutes later the car crashed into another which was standing in the car barn at Echo, with the full impetus of the wild dash down the grade.

Twenty-five persons were killed, eighteen of them instantly, and sixty-three injured. The car which bore the brunt of the crash also was crowded. Most of the victims were members of the Dishong and Ribbett families, who were on the way to a re-union at Woodlawn Park. Darrell Dishong and his entire family were victims of the collision.

BROCKVILLE COUPLE BADLY HURT BY ASSAULT

Brockville, Aug. 15.—James Burns, a local character, and Frank Mitchell, of Jasper, were committed for trial after a hearing in the police court upon a charge of having assaulted Mrs. Robert A. Ferguson, occasioning grievous bodily harm. Burns and his companion attacked Ferguson while sitting on the veranda. Mrs. Ferguson went to the assistance of her husband, and while she was not so badly beaten, the shock necessitated a serious operation, the woman being in a delicate condition. Cries attracted neighbors and upon their appearance Burns and Mitchell escaped, only to be arrested later by the police. Ferguson was terribly cut and bruised about the head and face. His wife is still critically ill. Burns, it appears, had an old score to settle with Ferguson, and a man named Deloss Tennant swore that at the prisoner offered him $10,000 that day to assist in doing his job. Tennant refused, and Burns picked up Mitchell, who is a stranger to all the parties concerned.

EIGHT NEARLY KILLED AT GALT CROSSING

Council Will Appeal to Railway to Provide Protection Galt, Aug. 15.—Following an accident on Saturday at Main St. railway crossing, in which eight persons had a miraculous escape from death, Mayor Edwards announced that at a special meeting of the city council to be held Thursday night, the Grand Trunk Railway and the Lake Erie and Northern Railway will be asked to provide gates for better protection. As a result of the accident, Mrs. Merner, sr., New Hamburg, her daughter Tillie, and Clinton Zurbrig, of Philadelphia, Pa., were badly cut and bruised and other occupants of the motor car in which they were riding Edward Merner and Miss Sarah Merner, of New Hamburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Zurbrig and daughter Betty, were badly shaken up. Watchman Jas. Gilchrist was at the crossing when the car approached, but Edward Merner at the wheel did not understand he was flagging an oncoming freight train. A collision followed, but fortunately the slow pace of both car and train prevented a more serious accident.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. S. McCULLOUGH, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

TYPHOID FEVER is a severe disease coming on with headache, rise of temperature, diarrhoea, and abdominal distention. It always occurs as the result of taking into one's stomach food or drink contaminated with the body discharges. These discharges may enter one's mouth in water which has been polluted with sewage containing typhoid germs, with milk or food to which the germs have been carried by flies, by dirty hands, by dirty water, etc., or by direct contact with a person ill of typhoid fever. It is also distributed by "carriers," that is by persons who, though immune to the disease themselves, carry the germs of the disease in their intestines and transmit it to others through the discharges reaching food, etc. "Typhoid Mary," the New York cook who gave the disease to a large number of people before she was locked up, is a typhoid example of a typhoid carrier. People who have typhoid fever may carry the disease for a long time and be a source of danger to others, especially if they have anything to do with the preparation of food.

Typhoid fever is rather common about the farms especially if a single case has occurred in a neighborhood where there is any chance of the intestinal water supply, such as a spring, stream, or lake, receiving the intestinal discharges of the sick person. A typical example of this occurred in connection with an outbreak of the disease at Plymouth, Pa., in 1885. Plymouth is a mining town with a population at that time of about 8,000. Its water supply was obtained from a mountain stream, impounded in a series of four impounding reservoirs. THE SITUATION. The Russian drive towards Lemberg, the Galician capital, continues with irresistible force.

The Italians are continuing their smashing blows towards Trieste, but on this front also the Austrians, who have been reinforced, are offering a stiffer argument.

Bad weather has served to check the Somme operations, but all the evidence goes to show that the Hun defence is slowly weakening.

It is reported that Turkey offered to make a separate peace providing that she keep Constantinople and the Dardanelles.

TERRACE HILL REQUESTS. The ratepayers of Terrace Hill at the public gathering held on Friday night, certainly showed that they believe in speaking out in meeting.

They unquestionably have had much justification for their complaints, three in number—lack of times of sufficient water supply; the need for street railway connection and the opening of St. Paul's Ave.

As to the opening of St. Paul's Avenue, that also should be regarded as a work of absolute necessity.

The desirability of the extension of the street railway there has long been apparent, not alone as a matter of good faith to the residents, but also for the reason that the thing would undoubtedly prove a good investment.

As to the opening of St. Paul's Avenue, that also should be regarded as a work of absolute necessity.

Canada's Abounding Trade. The first few months of the war had an apprehensive effect on Canadian trade, but all misgivings speedily vanished and the figures, month by month, have been establishing new records.

The Trade and Commercial Department at Ottawa has just issued the record covering the twelve months ending with May last, totalling $1,563,230,512.

Exports totalled $820,000,000, as compared with $432,000,000 in 1915 and $359,000,000 in 1913.

The greatest increase was to Great Britain, mostly of war supplies and the figures read $518,000,000 as compared with $180,000,000.

Canadian produce leads with $820,000,000 as against $432,000,000 in 1915; $429,000,000 in 1914 and $352,000,000 in 1913.

There was a decrease in imports. Of these 74 per cent. came from the States, and only 14 per cent. from Great Britain.

more than likely to disappear at the close of hostilities.

DEWART ACCEPTS.

There is still another candidate in the southwest Toronto bye-election. The Grits of Ward Six having endorsed the candidature of Mr. G. Waldron (Liberal) who advocates the maintenance of the present bar system, some other Grits got together and tendered a nomination to Mr. H. Dewart, K.C.

With regard to the temperance issue, he did the acrobatic act, making the statement: "If in the future there is call for emergency action on the question I reserve the right to exercise my independent judgment as to what is right in every case."

He further declared that the fight did not include the issue, whereas the Toronto Globe has admitted that it does.

For the rest, Mr. Dewart had two planks. (1) Better control of the nickel export, a matter which is already receiving Government attention, and (2) the claim that Hydro Electric should not be mixed up with politics.

The grand scheme never has been. It was inaugurated by a Conservative Government on broad municipal lines, and it has been kept that way. Had Mr. Dewart's political friends remained in power, there would have been no such great project.

The Grit plan was to let private corporations tie matters up to their own profit.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CONFLICT

Our neighbors do not select an occupant for the White House until November, but already the country is seething with the excitement which usually attends that operation.

The thing is not done by a direct vote. Instead, according to population, each state chooses representatives to what is called an "Electoral College."

The total number for the 48 States is 531, and a candidate to be elected must get at least 266 of these. States practically certain for Wilson are:

Table listing states and their electoral votes: Alabama 12, Arkansas 12, Florida 12, Georgia 12, Louisiana 12, Mississippi 12, North Carolina 12, Oklahoma 12, South Carolina 12, Tennessee 12, Texas 12, Virginia 12.

Total 136. That is 130 short of election. The States which Republican authority will claim as fairly certain to give their electoral votes to Mr. Hughes are:

Table listing states and their electoral votes: California 29, Colorado 7, Idaho 4, Iowa 13, Kansas 10, Massachusetts 18, Michigan 15, Minnesota 12, Missouri 12, New Hampshire 4, New York 36, North Dakota 3, Ohio 24, Oregon 5, Pennsylvania 23, Rhode Island 4, South Dakota 3, Utah 4, Vermont 3, Washington 5, Wisconsin 13.

Total 240. That is twenty-six less than the number necessary to elect. There are fifteen States, however, with a total of 153 electoral votes, which by general consent will be put down as doubtful.

These are: Arizona 3, Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Indiana 11, Kentucky 15, Maryland 10, Missouri 12, Montana 3, Nebraska 4, Nevada 3, New Jersey 14, New Mexico 3, New York 36, North Carolina 12, West Virginia 12, Wyoming 7.

Total 155. It is out of this doubtful list that the winning votes must come. In that list the States with a Democratic inclination are Arizona, Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Wyoming, with seventy electoral votes altogether.

If Mr. Wilson should secure these he should still be sixty votes shy, unless he could make inroads in some normally Republican territory, like New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois.

His son won last time for the reason that Roosevelt, who was after Taft's scalp, split the Republican vote with his Progressive vote. This time he is backing Hughes, who, from all appearances will win.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. How do you get used to standard time yet?

Four men have been formally nominated to contest the Toronto bye-election. The quartette consists of Norris (Conservative), Dewart, (Liberal), Waldron (Liberal) in favor of keeping the bar as at present) and Conner (Social Democrat).

London city councillors seem to act with about as little restraint as some of the soldiers from that place did at Camp Borden.

Forest City aldermen after this had better go to meeting encased in armor or plate.

It is stated that the Kaiser is now in Picardy. He is commencing to find the way hard picking.

The death of Captain Fraser adds one more name to the list of brave Brantfordites who have given their lives for the cause. He did not pass away on the firing line, but none the less he gave his all for the Empire.

ESHER'S TRIBUTE TO KITCHENER

Illuminating and Striking Article on Character of the Sirdar.

WAS NEARLY INDIA'S VICEROY. But Was Often Shy in Manner, and Also Had Enemies.

Under the title of "Lord K." Viscount Escher contributes a striking article on the character of the late British Secretary of State for War, to the July number of the "National Review," from which we take the following extracts:

The aloofness of the desert places in which his youth had been spent was round about him in the council chamber. He refused to lay bare his inmost thoughts, and he sought to command when he was expected to discuss.

In argument he was a child before the thrusts of the keenly fashioned weapons wielded by his colleagues. He would retreat to a long Cabinet, drop into a chair at York House, so weary and undone that further labor seemed impossible.

Lord K.'s towering personality and forceful character were apt to sweep men off their feet. In later years, when age began to tell, his impressiveness varied according to his bodily vigor.

There was an occasion when he carried great weight. The Viceroyalty of India was under consideration. For administrative reasons that appealed strongly to the Secretary of State for India, objection was taken to the nomination of a soldier.

King Edward had been anxious for the appointment of Lord K., and the recollection of our dead Sovereign's wish carried great weight. The Secretary of State had never met Lord K. Circumstances had occurred that seemed to indicate me as the means of bringing about a meeting.

A dinner was arranged in a private room at the Savoy. Lord K. had that morning confided to me his keen desire to return to India as Viceroy, and his determination only to serve his country when he knew he could do so with all his powers, and could profit by his very special experience.

That morning he was at his best, and would have converted Athanasius. Later that same day he was at his worst, in his anxiety to make a favorable impression. A curious shyness took the form of rash speech, that became his undoing.

In 1911, many secret documents were composed, and many military publicists took pains to prove, beyond all reasonable doubt, that in that Great Britain could throw into the scale. This was his solvent for the desperate problem with which Europe was faced.

Until he saw his objective within reach, and the armies of which he dreamed materializing all over the Empire, his days were harassed and his nights sleepless.

He had much prejudice to contend against on the part of many who, although they feared him, resented his strong personality, and his ignorant of English political methods.

He showed no resentment, and bore no malice. But he felt deeply the want of loyalty, and above all, the lack of friendly regard on the part of those with whom he labored and associated.

In three hours he was to leave for Egypt and Gallipoli. His return to England, he had said a few moments before, was very problematic. The task of having to evacuate Gallipoli he dreaded and disliked with all the intensity of a nature accustomed to vanquish obstacles and to achieve success.

NEW WAITING ROOM

Application for the position of caretaker of the new public waiting room on the market square has been made by John Guilfoyle, of 9 Port St., in a letter to Ald. Having been a resident of the city for 50 years, and for 40 years employed by one man, he considers his references are satisfactory.

HOLIDAY BOWLING

Eight rinks were entered at the tournament yesterday held on the Dufferin Bowling Club green, open to Dufferin members only. Three games were played, each game of 7 ends, and then the survivors clashed in like manner. The final honors were won by Chas. Taylor's rink which consisted of Messrs. J. J. Hurley, W. F. Wilson, C. W. Poucher and Chas. Taylor.

THE BRANT

A motion picture series of exceptional interest to all is the "Who's Guilty?" series, the fourth episode of which is being shown at the Brant theatre for the first half of the week. Immense and deserved popularity is being won by this feature with every appearance, Peggy Hyland, is a film version of the celebrated story, "Saints and Sinners," presents one of the most charming characterizations ever seen on the screen in this city, and is supported with an excellent cast which renders the picture worthy of ranking with the best. A truly novel vaudeville feature, and one which is guaranteed to make a hit, is that starring Ebenezer, the Ham-tree mule, while a fine musical novelty act is capably presented by Seymour and Dupree.

THANKS FROM THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

To the Editor Courier:

It does not seem the proper thing not to acknowledge through the press the heartfelt thanks of our Institute for the general and cheerful response to the house to house canvass of those appointed to do the work. (For the benefit of those who do not know what the funds were solicited for, I might say.) The North Brant Women's Institute are endeavoring to present the 215th Battalion with a field kitchen and as the 215th band were unable to be present at a garden party we had planned to have to raise our share, we were compelled to turn our energies in another direction, and decided to visit our friends on Terrace Hill and Grand View, and it affords us great pleasure to say that the amount realized from our effort totalled one hundred dollars. We would be glad to have the women interested in institute work, join our society. Our meetings are interesting and instructive, and we are doing what we can for our country in this war time of need.

Much more might be said in favor of institute work, but will conclude by saying the motto adopted by the organization is "For home and country," and I am sure each institute are endeavoring to carry out the aim as far as lies in their power.

Hoping that those who contributed to help us respond to the appeal made will be more and more pleased that they have done something for "home and country."

Signed on behalf of the Institute, Mrs. A. McWebb, (Pres.), Miss Rose Dean (Sec. and Treas.).

SHOW WELL PATRONIZED

Con T. Kennedy Attraction Drew Large Crowds Yesterday.

The show grounds at the corner of Elgin and Clarence streets were yesterday the rendezvous of large crowds of pleasure seekers, drawn thither by the presence of the Con. T. Kennedy attraction, which opened their week's engagement in the afternoon and continued to show in the evening, patronized by large numbers. Bigger and better than any yet seen here, was the generally expressed opinion of the crowds yesterday, and it is undoubtedly correct, every attraction presented on the grounds being of the highest quality. Such old favorites as the motordrome, the Ferris wheel, the merry-go-round and others were all in evidence, while a number of the attractions are new and novel, having never appeared before in Brantford. The usual side-shows attracted large audiences, and the try-your-luck, try-your-skill exhibitions did a flourishing business during the afternoon and evening. Although in all of these the element of chance is largely predominant, all are fairly and honestly conducted, with no suspicion of gambling attached to them.

The only detriment to the perfect success of the opening day of the carnival was the thick dust prevalent both under foot and in the air.

CAPTAIN FRASER DIES FROM ILLNESS

Word Received Yesterday That He had Passed Away at Boulogne.

Yesterday morning the sad intelligence reached Mrs. R. I. Fraser, 45 Charlotte Street, that her son, Captain Findley D. Fraser, had died in hospital at Boulogne, following an operation for appendicitis. For some weeks Captain Fraser had been seriously ill, but there always was hope of recovery until the news of yesterday.

Captain Findley D. Fraser, who was 29 years of age, went overseas with Lt. Col. Ashton's 36th Battalion. For practically a year he was in England but about July 1st got a transfer to the firing line. He was only in the trenches a week when he was taken ill with the disease which eventually proved fatal.

Captain Fraser was a druggist by profession, learning the business at S. Tapscott and Co's. and working there after graduation, except for a year in Hamilton, until the time he enlisted. He always was a keen military man, being captain of the B.C. I. cadets, and later joining The Tanks of the Dufferin Rifles, working his way up to a captaincy.

Besides his mother there survives him a sister, Miss Elsie, and a brother, William, both of the city. A memorial service to the memory of the deceased captain will be held next Sunday evening in St. Andrew's church.

The sincere sympathy of the community will be extended to the bereaved. The dead officer was exceedingly popular with a large circle of friends.

ANCIENT GLORIES OF TRIPOLI LOST

The Wedge Into the Great Sahara, a Land of No Promise.

TWO INHABITANTS TO THE MILE. Causes that Conduced to the Ruin of Once Flourishing Country.

The reported recent successes of Turks over the Italians focuses the war news searchlight on Tripoli of Barbary, a section of Northern Africa, which is described as "a land of little" in a war geography bulletin issued by the National Geographical Society.

Tripolitania occupies the land along the Mediterranean Sea from the Tunisian frontier to the Gulf of Sidra. From the coast southward, with an average width of 40 miles, runs a plain called Jefara. At its southern border rises with a steep ascent a chain of mountains commonly called Jebel, of which the most famous part is called Gharion. This mountain range forms a part of tableland which slopes slightly southward till it reaches Hamada-el-Homra, a flat, rocky plateau of about 40,000 square miles, covered with little red stones, absolutely dry and arid. In the south of the Hamada is the land of Pezzan, a collection of oases in a country of dunes and desert. Pezzan forms a wedge of sparsely inhabited land into the great Sahara.

The coast of Tripoli, which extends over a length of 110 miles, offers few natural harbors. The harbor of Tripoli itself is dangerous, because of the many rocks which lie at the entrance. It is only on the eastern coast of Cyrenaica, which is sometimes called the Marmarica, that we find two harbors of the very best quality, Bomba and Tobruk, but as neither has a hinterland the value is more strategical than commercial. Tobruk is less than a hundred miles distant from the Egyptian frontier.

What is the population now inhabiting Tripolitania, that immense area of 400,000 square miles, more than half the size of the republic of Mexico? No exact census exists, but all competent observers agree that it hardly exceeds 800,000. That means about two inhabitants to the square mile. The settled population inhabits an area of 19,000 square miles—about one-twenty-first part of the whole island.

In Tripoli every native calls himself with pride an Arab. As a matter of fact, a certain number of Arabs came into the country with the Mohammedan conquest of North Africa in the sixth century A.D. But the peninsula of Arabia was never so densely populated that it would send away many emigrants. The Arabs conquered North Africa and converted its population to their religion. A few of the conquerors remained in the country, and these are still fairly pure representatives of their race; they live as nomads, or Bedouins, in tents, and move with the season from one camping ground to another. Their number is difficult to estimate, but it is about 50,000. The rest of the population, the settled part, are Berbers; their blood is mixed with that of the Arabs, and also of negroes. The negro element, which we find everywhere in Tripoli, has its origin in the slave traffic of former days, which brought thousands of Semites to the coast of the Mediterranean.

Agriculture and cattle-raising are the chief resources of Tripoli, but they flourish only in small patches; fertile land we find on a narrow strip along the coast, in the region of Jebel Gharion and in Cyrenaica. The product is barley, which in the last few years has superseded wheat; figs and vines. Barley is shipped mainly to England, but the crops are subject to great variations, owing to the uncertainty of rainfall.

Much has been said in the press by Italian political writers about the grandiose prospects of the country. These prospects are mainly based upon the supposition that

Tripolitania was, under the Roman Empire, a province of flourishing agriculture and enormous wealth. There can be doubt that Tripoli once saw better days, although the accounts of some of the ancient writers seem to be exaggerated. The causes of the decline are manifold and far from clear. The wild tribes of the desert, which had been kept down by force, took advantage of Rome's weakness and attacked the boundaries of the colony. The elaborate system of irrigation could only work when there was absolute security. When peace was no longer assured, the agriculturist was hindered in his work.

A second cause of the decline of the country—which is, however, still a point of controversy—is a change in the climatic condition of the region. There is probably some truth in this assertion. Every man who has seen, in the midst of the desert, the ruins of Roman castles and villas comes to the belief that some mighty power is responsible for such a change. A great tragedy had been enacted here.

A local tradition says that the bad behaviour of the women prevents the clouds from giving rain. Apart from the droughts, which are sometimes of five, seven and even a century's duration, we find in the invading sand dunes another great enemy of agriculture. Quite near to the palm gardens around the city of Tripoli one can see sand dunes rising to a height of about 70 feet.

Some fifty years ago Tripoli deserved with a certain right, the grandiose names of "the Key to Central Africa" and the "Queen of the Sahara." To-day these glories are of the past. Once Tripoli was the great emporium of the trans-Saharan trade. Not far from Europe, and by its situation in the Syrt near to the heart of Africa, it was the gateway of the trade with Central Africa. Large caravans moved laden with the goods of the Soudan and the Niger countries. These goods were ostrich feathers, ivory, skins, minerals and slaves. The slave traffic was the most remunerative article of that trade.

The decline of the trans-Saharan trade began when the representatives of European powers protested against the slave trade.

But more important than all these causes just mentioned was the advent of European control of the Niger countries and Hausaland. Shipping was started on the great rivers Niger and Benue, and the communications with the west coast of Africa were greatly improved. The new route, by ship and rail, is safer, cheaper and quicker than that of nearly 2,000 miles across the Sahara where water is scarce and robbers abundant.

THE WESTERN FAIR.
The management of the Western Fair Association have placed an order for a complete new outfit of the latest and most up-to-date self-registering turnstiles for both Dundas Street and King Street entrances. This year, instead of the public having to crowd for the purchase of tickets all that will be necessary is to provide yourself with a 25-cent Canadian coin and pass through the turnstiles. Instead of ticket sellers at the gates there will be a change booth for the accommodation of those requiring the necessary silver quarter as that is the only coin that will operate the machine.

The management hope by this new arrangement to save annoyance to their visitors which usually occurs in the crowding for tickets. There will be a separate gate provided for children and those holding admission tickets of any kind.

The dates for the big Exhibition this year are September 8th to 16th. Arrangements for space or concessions of any kind should be made with the Secretary at the general offices, rooms 217-218 Dominion Savings Building, at as early a date as possible.

DREADNOUGHT IS BLOWN UP

Italian War Vessel Caught Fire in Harbor—Can Be Refloated.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Paris, Aug. 15.—The Italian Dreadnought Leonardo Da Vinci caught fire and blew up in the harbor of Tartano, Italy, and 300 of her crew were drowned, says a Turin despatch to The Petit Journal. The date of the disaster is given only as a day in August.

The fire, says the dispatch, was discovered in the Dreadnought's kitchen and spread rapidly. The captain immediately ordered the magazine flooded and tried to beach the battleship, but one magazine exploded before this could be done. The vessel was turned over on her side and a large number of the crew were thrown into the sea.

It is believed that the battleship can be refloated.

The Leonardo Da Vinci was a sister ship of the Conte Di Cavour and of the Giulio Cesare and was launched in October, 1911. Her displacement was 22,000 tons and she was 575½ feet long, 91½ feet beam and carried a total company of 957 men. Her main battery consisted of thirteen 12-inch guns and her second battery to stand off torpedo attack was composed of eighteen 4.7-inch guns. HEAVY HITTING ON BOTH SIDES Game Featured Also Three Clever Double Plays.

A hard earned victory by the Cubs over the Alerts on Saturday afternoon put the two teams, now remain in the city league, on equal footing once more. The game was a closely fought contest, with the Cubs leading throughout, with the exception of a very brief period in the ninth, when they were coming to break the tie created by the Alerts in their half of the eighth. By a narrow margin the Cubs won, as they crossed a pair of tallies and then their opponents scoreless, the Alerts thus emerged triumphant from the fray.

Played on the Alerts' home ground at King George school, the game featured by heavy hitting on both sides, both Beckett and Mahler of the Cubs driving out three-sacks into left field, while McKay's drive to North Park street went down home, and would have been for four more bases had there not been a pair of tallies. Three double plays were brought off in the course of the game; the first in the eighth, the second in the ninth, and the third in the tenth. The third double play was executed by the Cubs in the ninth; with Judge on first, saucer's error, McDonald rolled the ball to the pitcher's box, where it was grabbed by Beckett, who then second ahead of Judge, and reached first in sufficient time to beat McDonald out.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—Philadelphia won its first double-header of the season at home yesterday, New York being the victim, 8 to 0, and 7 to 4. The home team hit Benton's delivery hard in the first game, which was Alexander's twelfth shut out of the season. In the second game both teams batted hard. Philadelphia scored four of its five runs in the second inning in an unusual manner.
 With one run in, two out and third and second occupied, Rixey swung at a wild pitch for a third strike. Bancroft and Killifer scored on this play, and two more runs were scored on Faskert's double and Niehoff's single.

 At Cincinnati, Wortmann's errors proved decidedly costly for Chicago yesterday and helped materially in Cincinnati's victory, 6 to 3. Both Toney and McConnell had one bad inning. Otherwise the hits of the local players were more timely and counted greater in the run column.

 ed Buffalo yesterday, 6 to 5. The Indians hit Tyson hard for three innings, after which Gaw held them runless for the balance of the game.
 Newark's lead was too great, however, for Buffalo to overcome, notwithstanding their strong rally in the seventh inning. The score:

SHOCKER'S PERFORMANCE CHEERED BY THOUSANDS

The New York Herald of Sunday says:—Judging from the brand of pitching exhibited by Urban Shocker someone connected with the official wife of the Yankees made a grave mistake in allowing the youngster to drift back to the minors. In his first start since being recalled from Toronto, Shocker held the Athletics to two hits in eight innings, and would not have been scored upon had not two misplays followed each other in rapid sequence and put a runner in position to tally. Shocker fanned seven batsmen, getting four in a row.
 He was tremendously cheered by the fans, who, to a man, acknowledged his mound artistry.

FOURTY-ONE YEARS IN THE NAVY

"I cannot close this despatch without recording the brilliant work of my Chief of the Staff, Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Madden. Throughout a period of twenty-one months of war his services have been of inestimable value. His good judgment, his long experience in fleets, special gift for organization, and his capacity for unlimited work have all been of the greatest assistance to me, and have relieved me of much of the anxiously inseparable from the conduct of the Fleet during the war. In the stages leading up to the Fleet action and during and after the action he was always on hand to assist, and his judgment was never at fault. I owe him more than I can say."

Both admirals married daughters of Sir Charles Cayzer, the shipping magnate.

Admiral Madden married in 1905, and has one son and three daughters while Admiral Jellicoe was married three years earlier and has four daughters.
 Sir Charles has been Chief of Staff to Jellicoe since the outbreak of war.
 He has been continuously employed since he entered the Navy forty-one years ago, a fact which shows how highly his abilities have been appreciated by the successive Boards of Admiralty.

BRITISH ARTILLERY IS STEADILY BATTERING THE HUN DEFENCES

Magnificent Fighting Qualities Shown by the British Troops - Australians, Regulars and Derby Recruits Make a Fine Combination

With the British Armies in the field, Aug. 14. (Delayed.) - There had been no sensational advances since the great day of July 14, when our men broke through the second German line...

It is most excellent, therefore, that last night our men were out to make a further "shove," as they call it, of nearly 400 yards in depth on a front of about a mile.

Men Show Fine Qualities. The men who have been fighting this uphill battle, for that is what it is, literally and morally, have been showing remarkable qualities.

An episode which happened a week ago shows the way in which they are sharing in the struggle. I have already written how the men of Kent went forward on August 4th and took them were the Sussex men, who were in touch with the Australians, and as they scrambled over the parapets at the time of the attacks these comrades on the right shouted out to them: "Hello, boys! what's up, where are you going?"

It was not discipline. The men had no orders to go, as far as I can make out, but some of them certainly did go in a friendly way and joined in the scrum up there. It was no joke.

Foe's Defences Less Strong. The advance last night when the Australian troops took an important line of rising ground is further proof that the enemy has not by any means consolidated his defensive positions so strongly that they make the same kind of barrier against us as those which had to be forced in the first attacks.

In Some Places Huns Have Deserted Villages for Underground Burrows.

Rottendam, Netherlands, Aug. 15. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.) - A correspondent who has just been permitted to visit the Belgian coast reports on the formidable defenses that have been raised there.

Here and there one comes across an enormous unexploded shell, hurled ashore by one of the big British warships, and which now forms the ornamental center of a flower garden.

No Question of Courage. The stories I have told about prisoners are characteristic of the morale of the German troops fighting over this appalling battlefield.

A Gradual Weakening. It is idle, in my opinion, to hope for a sudden and sensational collapse of the German war machine, or to expect to be scared by these reverses and organizing new lines of defence in case of need, shifting its guns, playing the old blood-and-iron game with cold, scientific brains that are not affected by the losses and agonies of men, except as they have an influence upon the operations.

Pepper Useful to Enemy. Amsterdam, Netherlands, Aug. 15. - Dutch smugglers on the Belgian border are reported to be getting as much as $4 a pound for what pepper they succeed in getting across the frontier into the hands of German soldiers.

CAMBRAI KNOWN IN FORMER WARS

Gave Its Name to One of the Most Formidable Alliances in History.

ITS FAMOUS TEXTILE FACTORIES.

Noted for Its Manufacture of Fine Linen and Muslin.

If, after Perrone, St. Quentin should be retaken by the French and English in their fierce offensive, Cambrai would be one of the important objectives in the line of advance. This town, 121 miles by rail north-east of Paris, is the subject of the following war geography bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society from its headquarters in Washington.

"Twenty miles south-east of Arras and about the same distance north of St. Quentin, Cambrai, which had a population approaching 30,000 before the war, is one of the most interesting towns in Northern France. Situated on the right bank of the River Scheldt, at its juncture with the St. Quentin Canal, the city enjoyed considerable commercial prosperity on account of its soap works, sugar mills and textile factories. Its importance to France now, however, is sentimental rather than strategic.

"The event connected with Cambrai which commended it to woman-kind throughout the western world was the invention here, in the 15th century, of the fine linen fabric which takes its name from the town of Cambrie. The name of Baptistie Couchemp, the weaver who is supposed to have made the first Cambrai is perpetuated on the muslin called Baptist.

Military Allowance
"One of the most formidable alliances of the middle ages was that which was effected here under the name of the League of Cambrai at the beginning of the sixteenth century. The members of the League were Pope Julius II, the Emperor Maximilian I, and the Kings of France and Spain. These four major powers brought together through the diplomacy of the Pope, had as their object the humbling of the great Republic of Venice. The avowed having been achieved, the victors began to quarrel over the spoils and the league soon ceased to exist.

"Cambrai is famous as the city where two royal women of magnificent power joined in a great diplomatic exchange of views resulting in the Peace of the Dames (Ladies' Peace), which brought to an end temporarily the destructive wars between Francis I of France, and the Emperor Charles V. This treaty, signed in 1529, caused an abandonment of the plans for a duel to which Francis had challenged Charles as a means of settling their quarrel single-handed.

"The two women, who negotiated the treaty were Louise of Savoy, devoted mother of the French King, and Margaret of Austria, who had been the guardian of her nephew, the future emperor, during his youth, and whose long regency of the Netherlands was distinguished by firmness and sagacity. It was Louise upon whom he had conferred the title of 'Madame,' after ascending the throne, that Francis wrote his famous letter following his defeat and capture at Pavia in Italy. 'Of all things,' he said, 'nothing remains but honor and life, which is safe.' From this we have derived the familiar 'All is lost save honor.'

Captured by Spain.
"In the closing years of the sixteenth century Cambrai was captured by the Spaniards, and it remained a part of the Flemish possessions of the southern kingdom for nearly 100 years, until Louis XIV, secured its return to France by the Treaty of Nimwegen. In 1793 the town successfully resisted the besieging forces of Austria, but it was not so happy in its resistance to the Duke of Wellington in 1815.

"Among the great names in French history which are associated with Cambrai are those of two churchmen—the scholarly and venerated archbishop Penelon, whose treatise on the education of girls, was a pioneer discussion of the problem of 'higher education' for women, and the Cardinal Dubois, described by a vitriolic contemporary historian as a little pitiful, wizened man in a flaxen wig, with a weazel's face brightened by some intelligence, a man in whom all the vices—perfidy, avarice, debauchery, ambition, flattery—fought for the mastery. Despite this disagreeable picture, it is to be remembered that as the virtual ruler of France while serving as Private Secretary to the regent, Dubois gave his country a longed-for era of peace which would have been fraught with even greater benefits to us than the 'Mississippi Bubble,' which burst, precipitating the nation over the brink of financial ruin.

Enguerrand de Monstrelet, whose chronicles of medieval France begin where Froissart's end, also belongs in Cambrai's hall of fame.

Owing to the presence of a new powder factory, Barkdale Township, Wisconsin, will have $18,000 tax money to spend, the coming year, where hitherto the entire expenses of running the township government, road building and all, have not exceeded $5,000.

SCOTTISH PRISONERS
London, Aug. 15.—The report on Prisons in Scotland for 1915, just issued, reveals a remarkable decrease in the number of criminals dealt with, the lowest since 1869, notwithstanding the fact that the population of the country has increased since then by 45 per cent. The decrease is attributed chiefly to the growth of the temperance movement, increased facility for finding employment, and the recent mobilization.

The number of criminals tabulated in 1915 was 27,340, a decrease of 11.25 as compared with the total of the preceding year.

Have Returned

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 16.—Six members of the Canadian Arctic Expedition under Vilhjalmur Stefansson who arrived here yesterday on power schooner Alaska to-day related their experiences in the Peary region during the last three years.

Dr. Stefansson, who remained in the Arctic to continue his work of exploring newly discovered north of Prince Patrick Land, probably would not return to civilization during the present season.

The party aboard the Alaska, under Dr. Rudolph Anderson, Stefansson's chief subordinate, who has been exploring and charting the coast line bordering Union and the Gulf Straits and the Coronation Gulf region, far east of the mouth of the Mackenzie River.

One Man Died
All of the party which left on the Alaska July 15, 1913, returned with the exception of Dan Blue, engineer, who died at Barrow in May, 1915. The member of the party here are:

Dr. Anderson, J. J. O'Neill, geologist; John R. Cox, surveyor; Dr. Neess, anthropologist; J. J. Johnson, oceanographer, and entomologist; and George Wilkins, photographer. The schooner was under the command of Captain Sweeney, who led the expedition while it was in Arctic waters. The entire party pressed themselves as having enjoyed their long experience in the Arctic, despite the many hardships encountered in a land so remote from civilization.

In Little Known Section
Most of the time since the spring of 1914, the party has been in the eastern part of the Mackenzie River, one of the least known sections of the habitable earth.

The last member of the party, Stefansson, was the photographer, Wilkins, who was one of the first to depart from the vessel shortly before the vessel was carried away in the grip of a blizzard.
