MAY DEFY COMMISSION.

Park Board Members Talk of Forcing the Issue.

Children of Permanent Beach Residents Are Hit Hard.

Cost About $4.35 a Month to Send Them to School.

The attitude of the Beach Commission on the city's proposal to purchase property on the sand strip for a park, and the prospect of the scheme being defeated unless something is done at once, may result in the Parks Board forcing the issue. Parks Commissioner Lees, who is a warm advocate of a civic park on the Beach, was at the City Hall this morning with the patent for the Freed and Grossman properties.

Mr. Lees thinks that what the board should have done, when a majority was in favor of the scheme, was to have purchased the property, the same as was done with all the other park lands, and then applied for authority to issue debentures.

At present Mayor McLaren, Mr. Lees, Albert Pain and George Hope are the members of the board who favor the Beach park. Mr. Wild is not opposed to a park at the water's edge, but is advocating the purchase of Oaklands, because a park is already made there.

Secretary Foster explained to-day that the Board of Education's stand in refusing to give Beach pupils, attending the Public Schools, resident rates, was based on the ground that the department has more than it can do now to provide accommodation for resident pupils.

The Beach residents find themselves in a bad way through a mix-up. Their children cannot attend the Van Wagner school in Saltfleet, although it has room to spare. To come into the city will cost $2.50 a month fees and about $1.85 car fare, making a monthly charge of $4.35.

Chairman VanAllen, of the Beach Commission, when asked to-day if other accommodation would be provided for the Beach children, said that he had heard nothing officially from the Board of Education yet, but that as soon as he did the commission would take the matter up.

Chairman Allan plans to have the committee on good roads map out the plan for next year's work next week. The delay has been over street railway matters. Secretary Brennan, City Engineer Macallum and Traction Manager Coleman will check up the city's share of the cost of the concrete work on Monday, and the company will likely give its answer at once.

The waterworks department is being criticized for its delay in placing $35,000 construction debentures on the market. Secretary James began to-day to prepare the information for the Finance Committee. He explains that the delay has been because Engineer Macallum preferred knowing exactly how much the department required before issuing the debentures. It was impossible to ascertain this until most of the work was done.

Ald. Crerar has called the attention of the Board of Works to the condition of the Jolley Cut. The John street storekeepers say that people who used this route to come into the city now go down the east end incline and as a result they lose this business. They also point out that the city may be soaked (Continued on Page 12.)

$100 FOR Y. W. C. A.

Hamilton Retail Grocers' Association met last night and showed its appreciation of the good work being done by the Young Women's Christian Association by voting $100 to the building fund. The picnic Committee has few accounts yet to settle, but reported that it would have a small surplus.

CANNOT RUN FOR BOTH.

Candidate for Controller Cannot Stand for Alderman.

Law is Different in Ontario Than in Quebec.

Dominion Securities Company to Get the Debentures.

As a result of a fine point raised as to whether a man can run for controller and alderman, too, City Clerk Kent thought for a few minutes this morning he would have to arm the deputies with stop watches to avoid a mix-up. The statute says that a man nominated for both offices has until the following day to declare himself as to the one he desires to stand for, and failing in this, he shall be taken as a candidate for the office for which he is first nominated.

The Finance Committee yesterday afternoon practically decided to accept the tender of Aemilius Jarvis, of Toronto, for the $80,000 school debentures, but agreed to leave the matter over for a day or so. Mr. Jarvis bid $7,277 or $77,901.60. After the aldermen left the room City Clerk Kent discovered that Chairman Peregrine had overlooked one of the tenders, which proved to be the best of the lot, that of the Dominion Securities Company, of Toronto.

There is sure to be a warm debate in the Council on Monday night over the revision of the city into wards, as recommended by the Finance Committee. Nearly every alderman in the Council has different views, and there is no telling what a majority of the Council will decide on. City Clerk Kent says that if the city is to be divided into five wards he thinks the best arrangement will be to divide south of King street into two wards and north of King street into three wards.

Although some of the civic accounts are overdrawn the aldermen say they will undoubtedly make good their promise early in the year that the 1909 Council would finish up without an overdraft. There has been a lot of unlooked for expenditure, but the Finance Committee has everything well in hand.

Some Class. The aldermen say that notwithstanding the fact that some of the accounts are overdrawn, this year's Council will undoubtedly make good and get through the year without an overdraft.

Lawyer's Bill of $35,000 Is Being Disputed. The Divisional Court at Toronto yesterday heard argument and reserved decision on the appeal of W. N. Ferguson, on behalf of J. Walter Curry, K. C., from the judgment of Chief Justice Meredith in Chambers, dismissing his appeal from the order of the Master in Chambers, setting aside, on application of A. E. McLaren and E. E. Clark, an order obtained by Mr. Curry referring to the taxing officer for taxation of his bill of costs as solicitor against Alexander Ferguson MacLaren, ex-M. P., formerly of Stratford, now of Toronto; E. K. Clark, of Hamilton, and James Durry, of Toronto, as remuneration for services in connection with the purchase and sale of the Peterson Lake mining property.

Cook in Parade. St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer, headed the most impressive of the Centennial Week pageants to-day, the military, historical and educational parade. The greeting given the explorer was declared to have been the most enthusiastic he had experienced since his arrival at Copenhagen. Dr. Cook returned from Kansas City early to-day. He left for Chicago at noon.

The Man in Overalls.

Go round to-morrow morning and size up the market for yourself. Delightful weather. There should be no difficulty in getting signatures to the Mrs. Robinson petition.

Mr. Barker might call a meeting and tell his constituents what kind of a constructive policy he has for next session. Or is his policy always destructive? With water and sewerage, natural gas, electric light, sidewalks, fresh air and quietness and a scenic view unrivaled on the continent, the mountain top will soon be a highly favored residential section of the city.

Saturday's Times will contain one of Chantclair's clever, chatty letters from Paris. The kind the ladies like to read. A gentleman told me yesterday afternoon that not only did flushing water holes in the asphalt but it washed out in his dip for the mon. to finish the structure.

Seeing Toronto's abject failure to raise money to send Longboat to college, it is just as well that no attempt will be made to erect a monument to Mr. Goldwin Smith while he is alive. Were it to do so, Mr. Smith might have to go down in his dip for the mon. to finish the structure.

As a matter of fact does John Patterson intend or expect to build that road? I have no doubt. Some people think that if they could get the Herald to join the church it would be a fine idea. But that's been tried before.

FOREIGNERS. Methodist Missionaries Talk About How to Reach Them. The Methodist ministers of the city met yesterday in Centenary Church, for the exclusive purpose of forming a workable plan to do something for the education and moral uplift of the foreigners of the city.

Y. W. C. A. Business Men Meet to Discuss Campaign Plans. A number of business men were requested to meet in the Y.M.C.A. parlors to-day at noon for lunch and for the purpose of discussing arrangements for a canvass to secure funds for the Y.W.C.A.

Rowdy Students. Toronto, Oct. 8.—The five veterinary students charged with rowdiness as the result of hazing proceedings were remanded to-day in the police court, no evidence being taken. They are on bail.

BLACK HAND CASE STANDS.

Developments in Tagliero Case Change Matters.

And Prisoners' Lawyers Were Not Ready to Go On.

Judge Snider Not Willing to Accept Even $2,000 Bail.

The trial of the three alleged Black Hand agents, Samuel Wolfe, Carmelo Colombo, and Ernest Speranza, who are accused of having sent Salvatore Sanzone a threatening letter demanding money, which they endeavored to secure from him on the Dundas road on Sept. 7, which was to have taken place this morning before Judge Snider, was laid over until Thursday, Oct. 21, at the request of T. C. Robinette, K. C., who is acting for two of the prisoners.

Mr. Robinette, when asking that the prisoners be remanded, said his reason for doing so was that the circumstances of the case had been materially changed by certain evidence which had been given at the Police Court at the trial of John Tagliero, and he had only learned of the evidence of one of the witnesses, John Corto, yesterday. The evidence of Corto at the Police Court was to the effect that he had been invited to join in their scheme to obtain money from Sanzone, but refused to do so, and instead, notified Sanzone of the plot, so that Sanzone was aware of what was on foot.

Judge Snider said he saw no reason why the trial should not go on, as two days had elapsed since the preliminary trial of Tagliero, when Corto had given evidence, but Mr. Robinette said that it would be unsafe for him to go on with the case, as he had not expected such a change. He did not wish to delay the matter too long, and suggested Tuesday, Oct. 19, if it was suitable.

KUPITZ CASE. Aftermath of the Big Debauch a Month Ago. Beamsville, Oct. 8.—(Special)—Edward Kupitz, W. House, Coon Wilcox and Scott Marlett will appear in court to-morrow morning, before Magistrate Higgins, to answer to the charges of drunk and disorderly and indecent conduct. The cases are an aftermath of the hearing a couple of weeks ago, connected with the big debauch held over a month ago, near Kupitz's farm, in North Grimsby township. J. C. Robinette, K. C., will again appear for the defendants and A. C. Kingstone, of St. Catharines, will represent the Crown Attorney.

BURIED HERE. Mother of Rev. Father Willbee Died at Smithville. The funeral took place in this city to-day of Mrs. Willbee, mother of Rev. Father Willbee, of St. Paul, Minn., formerly of this city. Mrs. Willbee died at Smithville and the body was brought here for service in St. Lawrence Church. Father Willbee sang the mass. Rev. Fathers Brady, Coty, Englert, Cleary (Caledonia) and Cassidy were present. The pallbearers were six sons of the deceased. Mrs. Willbee was an estimable lady and her death is regretted by a large circle of friends. Interment took place at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Duckworth, of Dundas, Died at Her Work. About 11 o'clock this morning Mrs. Harry Duckworth, working in Grafton's Clothing Works, complained of pains in her left chest. She soon collapsed. Dr. Bretram was summoned and had her carried out into the corridor where she died in a few minutes. She leaves, besides her husband, four sons and one daughter. She had been working at Grafton's only a few days. Her husband worked in Bretram's, but is not in good health. Deceased was mother of Duckworth, the clever Dundas football player.

The North Pole Controversy Settled. And it is immaterial who discovered the pole. The mere fact that it has been discovered is enough. You should protect your health against the winter of its changes. Take Parke's Tasteless Cod Liver Oil Tonic; it's nice to take, and will keep you in perfect health.—Parke & Parke, druggists.

AN INQUEST.

Will be Held on Man Killed at Dundas.

The jurors elected J. F. Cummings foreman, and after viewing the body, adjourned until Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. In the meantime Dr. Lachland and Dr. Main will hold a post-mortem examination.

HAS FEARS OF SUICIDE. Stratford Thinks Wife May Have Done Away With Herself. Dundas Is to Have a Fall Fair Once More, To-morrow.

Dundas, Oct. 8.—(Special).—Mrs. Stratford, the woman who deserted her home on Saturday and was last seen, it is alleged, with Joseph and George Taylor (father and son), being served with drink by them, has not yet been found, and it is said, her husband fears that she has made away with herself. Before leaving her home she bathed her children and changed their under garments, and then left them alone, but clean and tidy. Up to the time of this happening she had the name of being an industrious and respectable woman, and her conduct is a mystery to her friends and acquaintances.

SAW THEM BREAKING IN,

But Paid Little Attention to What Was Going On

And Daylight Housebreakers Thus Got Off.

Only Minor Cases In Police Court This Morning.

It is doubtful if Oliver Fields, 15 Wood market, of African origin, could be persuaded by force of argument that Friday is an unlucky day. He was up this morning, charged with housebreaking and theft, but when all the evidence the Crown could get had been put in, it was not sufficient to warrant a conviction.

The goods alleged to have been stolen were one pair of shoes, a watch and some whiskey. Mary Logan, 152 Rebecca street, was the complainant. She said yesterday morning Fields called at her house to see George Workman, who boards there. The two men went out, and soon after she went up town to do some shopping. When she returned there was evidence that thieves had been at work for the contents of many drawers were turned out, and she discovered the aforementioned articles to be missing.

J. C. Conley, who keeps a store opposite Mrs. Logan's house, said he saw two men get through the window about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and one was colored, but he could not swear that defendant was the man. Other witnesses saw two men getting through the window of the house, but did not pay much attention to the incident.

P. C. Springer said he was called to arrest a drunk at the corner of Catharine and Rebecca streets about 11.45 yesterday morning, and was told that Fields had broken into the house in question, so he arrested him. Defendant pleaded not guilty, and his worship contended there was no evidence to prove that Fields was the thief, so he passed from the pen to be embraced by his wife and sweet liberty.

Katharine's Sacrifice

CHAPTER XXII
Gordon Smythe made no plans to circumvent Katharine in case she should take it into her head to leave Bressley, and so escape him. First of all, he knew she was in no condition to run away, her waning face and weakened strength told their own tale; and, secondly, he was more than aware that his threat of danger to Ormande would stay the girl, were she ten times as strong as she was.

And Barbara, hearing this, gazed after the tall, graceful figure with venomous jealousy ranking in her breast; but her frown soon changed into a smile as she noted which way Katharine had gone.
"Patience," she murmured to herself. "Patience; my time is coming."
Katharine walked through the August sunshine as pale as a statue, and almost as cold in her heart as though she had indeed been made of stone. Her feet moved mechanically away from the lawns, where all was bustle and confusion preparing for the arrival of the villagers in the afternoon, and all their festivities.
She neither asked nor puzzled herself as to what Gordon required of her now. The fact remained that he did want her, and she was obeying him for Ormande's sake. What was there on earth she would not have done for him?
The copious reached, Katharine stood and looked about for Gordon. There were no signs of him at first, but after a time she felt the scent of his cigar steal on the summer air, and in a moment he had sauntered around a corner, and was beside her.
"Punctual to the minute, Kathie," he said, with his most approved sneer. "See what it is to be so attractive. You fly to obey my smallest word!"
"You have sent for me. What do you want?"
Katharine's face was as hard and cold as her face had grown.

Gordon smiled on in silence for a moment.
"I leave here early to-morrow morning. You must accompany me!" was his abrupt reply.
Katharine shuddered, and her two hands met together convulsively. She was utterly unable to speak for an instant.
"I hope that plan will not inconvenience you, Kathie?"
She resisted the sudden inclination to strike him across his smooth, smiling face; her nerves were strung up to their highest pitch.
"Your hour!" she said in low, husky tones, still clasping her hands.
Gordon gave himself up for a moment to the enjoyment of his cigar, the sneering smile lingering on his lips.
"Really, this is quite pleasant. Ah! I can foresee a most delightful existence with you, my dear Kathie; and the dearest and most obedient wife in the wide world!"
"Your hour!" she broke in, fiercely. "Tell me—"

She had leaned against a tree; there was not a particle of color in her cheeks.
Gordon laughed softly, and was about to make some remark, when suddenly he threw away his half-smoked cigar, and, with one stride, was close beside her.
"Put it down, Patsy," he said, in a low voice. "I will try and eat it, but I am afraid it will be impossible. My head is still so bad."
Katharine pushed the hair back from her brows and supported her head in her two hands.
"Mrs. Parsons wouldn't have you disturbed on account?" Patsy explained, as Katharine uttered an exclamation of dismay when she learned the time. "She said as how you weren't wanted, and the sleep 'ud do you good, and now, miss, please, you're at this omelet—yes, every bit; the cook sent it up with her respectful duty, miss, and she'll be quite hurt if you don't like it."

Katharine pushed the hair back from her brows and supported her head in her two hands.
"Mrs. Parsons wouldn't have you disturbed on account?" Patsy explained, as Katharine uttered an exclamation of dismay when she learned the time. "She said as how you weren't wanted, and the sleep 'ud do you good, and now, miss, please, you're at this omelet—yes, every bit; the cook sent it up with her respectful duty, miss, and she'll be quite hurt if you don't like it."

"What is in moaning and wailing," she said, bitterly, to herself, as she sat down for one moment to rest from the fatigue of dressing. "I am free to face with the most hideous problem that ever came to mortal woman. He is sure of me; he knows his power. For myself I have no fear, no apprehension; it is through Ormande he strikes me." She shivered slightly. "His words are no idle boast. Have I not witnessed myself how horrible he can be in his wickedness and cruelty? Were I disposed to evil and set him at defiance a hundredfold, I have but to remember Craven Adair's fate, and I should be brought to my senses."
She rose wearily from her chair, and, picking up her hat, moved to the door. As she passed her father's picture she paused for one moment, then with a smothered exclamation quickened her steps and left the room.
Barbara was chatting with a number of people in the hall as the girl came down.
"Ah, Miss Brereton, you are better; that is good. I don't want anyone to be ill on my birthday. You are looking very pale, why not go into the air? It will be much better for you than sitting in the house. I see you have your hat."

"Barbara had gone back to the frank, semi-affectionate tone she had adopted to win her way with Katharine. She threw an extra little warmth into it now, as she wished to patronize the girl before the assembled guests.
Katharine murmured some conventional greeting and passed on. "That girl is simply too beautiful for words," was Lady Clara Leuzell's remark, as Katharine vanished.

Katharine knelt obediently on the ground, and Mrs. Trevanion pursued her conversation with the other lady.
"I assure you it is true," she said. "Of course not," the lady replied, "but I confess I am astonished, nevertheless. He is a most delightful man, and deserves a good wife. Do you know where the mysterious Mrs. Gordon Smythe is?"
"Oh, I fancy she is some disreputable person. Pray, what is the matter, Miss Brereton? I wish you would not start in that manner; it makes me so nervous."

The girl bent her face still lower over the refractory braid, but the scissors trembled in her hand so much that she could do nothing for the moment.
Mrs. Trevanion, after that rebuke, continued her conversation again. "Yes, I am quite sure she must be a person he is ashamed of. Barbara says she spoke as if his marriage were a great trial to him. Such a nice man, too; I had no idea he had a wife. It seems so bad that he should have got such a bad one, does it not?"
The lady assented most warmly. Gordon's handsome face had made a great impression on her, and then Mrs. Trevanion, perceiving that her skirt was all right again, moved on without so much as giving Katharine a word of thanks.
The girl stood with dazed, white face, as she was once more alone. She could not see what all this was leading to, but that Gordon had some distinct and definite plan in his mind was more than evident to her. One thing followed so quickly on another, she had no chance of battling against them; she must simply submit to circumstances, and to Gordon's evil, yet undoubted, power.

The brief look that had flashed a moment ago from Ormande's blue eyes would have given her heart in twain at any other time, but now she was plunged in such a sea of grief, misery, and dread, that the full bitterness of the sting was gone.
All she knew, all she thought of now was to get away from this place, to get Gordon Smythe away from the man she loved. She lived in one long agony while they were together. She cared not what sacrifice she made, so that Ormande was safe.

FOG AT DETROIT
Caused Several Street Car Collisions
—Boy Killed by Auto.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 7.—A dense fog that interrupted river navigation last night and caused several street car collisions early to-day resulted in the death of an unidentified boy about eight years old, who was run over by an automobile at Jefferson avenue and Chene streets.
Nearly a dozen people were cut and bruised in street car collisions on cross-town lines. None of them was fatally hurt.
The steamer Frank E. Kirby was compelled to anchor in the lower Detroit River all night, with a score of passengers from Put-in-Bay, and the steamer Tonista, of the Anchor Line, arrived twelve hours late after a cautious passage across Lake Erie from Buffalo.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, OCT. 8, 1909.

FINDING OUT.

When it was first proposed to bring power direct from the Hydro-Electric station at Dundas to the pumping station at the Beach at 13,200 volts and utilize it without transformation, the Times called attention to the wastefulness and disadvantage of the plan...

A PRODIGAL SCHEME.

The proposal to spend $20,000 on the purchase of a piece of marsh on the Beach, to be made into a park at a further cost of probably $50,000 or $75,000, has some peculiar features.

speaks of Fort William as having "temporarily, by the promise of heavy subsidies" the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern to that point...

But the lesson to be illustrated to Hamiltonians is none the less a good one. If we have not the lake port advantages which Fort William boasts...

Are we doing our whole duty toward Hamilton? Is the Greater Hamilton Association realizing the purpose that its founders had in view?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Tigers are off to Ottawa. Will it be a case of "The Tiger's Claws Clipped" or will it be "Look Within" to find the Rough Riders?

Toronto's city water shows a bacteriological count of 520 per cubic centimetre. Roughly speaking, there are 30 cubic centimetres in a fluid ounce.

The Waterloo Sentinel, of Waterloo, Ont., is a new weekly that is bidding for public favor. We do not know what its politics is, but it makes fair promises in various fields of human activity.

A press despatch informs us that Premier Hazen, in a speech at Sackville, N. B., foreshadows the provincial legislation of the next session which included "an export duty on pulpwood and other raw material."

If the 16-aldermen Council should be decided upon, the alderman of the future will not amount to much. If the Mayor and four controllers agree, they will need but to get three aldermen to join with them to enable them to do anything they like.

STILL WE ADVANCE!

The Times publishes in another column a brief letter from Dr. Russell, dated from Fort William, in which the great progress made in the last 10 years is held up as an example for the stimulation of the workers for Greater Hamilton.

Under the pretence of "preventing a continuance of the typhoid epidemic at Cobalt," a movement has been begun to have wine and beer licenses issued to that town.

The scheme of the British Unionists to bet the King to use his influence to have the budget withdrawn or modified does not seem to be succeeding to any extent.

The right of osteopaths to practise without license in this province the art of healing is to be submitted to the courts. The issue has been raised by a case brought up in the Toronto Police Court.

Mrs. Kathleen Blake Coleman's appeal to the women of Hamilton to sign the petitions for clemency to the unfortunate woman Mrs. Robinson, of Sudbury, sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 21, should meet with prompt and general response.

The cabinet is to-day discussing Canada's policy of naval defence. It is quite probable that within a few days the public will be informed as to the nature of the new burdens the people will be asked to assume in connection with the empire movement for co-operative defence.

The proposal of a contemporary to establish another market in the eastern part of the city, instead of enlarging the central market, is not one that will be likely to meet with general favor.

Still smarting from the well-deserved castigation given it by the Mayor for its disgraceful and unmanly conduct, the Herald seeks to relieve its choler by abuse of the Times. The Times does not worry about that. Abuse from such a source is a compliment.

power project? Both are striving to knowingly commit the city to a long contract for power at an unknown price, but a price at cheapest much dearer than the home company guarantee!

The results of the beneficent work of the Hamilton Milk Commission which are given to-day as reported to the Hamilton Medical Society are highly gratifying and should encourage the Commission to greater efforts next year.

The question of the constitutionality of Whitney's power legislation was argued before Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Minister of Public Works, yesterday, by Messrs. Chrysler, K. C., Moss, K. C., and German, K. C. Apart from the damaging effect of the provincial policy in its bad faith toward investors and the outrage which it perpetrates upon the people by denying them access to the courts, the arguments were purely legal.

A United States company has purchased from the Canadian Pacific Railway 54,000 acres of timber lands on Cowichan Lake, Vancouver Island, B. C. The timber, which consists largely of fir, is of an unusually large growth. Experts who were employed by the New York company reports that the timber averages more than 90,000 feet to the acre and that the tract contains to-day approximately 5,000,000,000 feet of merchantable lumber.

Bogota, Oct. 8.—The Chilean officers, who were brought to Bogota early this year to reorganize the Columbian army, have given up their task and will return home. The government refused to inaugurate a modern system of army supply and control and without this the Chileans argue nothing can be accomplished.

Burnside, Ky., Oct. 8.—Fire which started here early to-day is raging still and so far has caused a loss of $100,000. A large portion of the business section has been destroyed already.

Our Exchanges

IT COULDN'T. (London Free Press.) One English peer holds 1,358,515 acres. How how could a land tax be popular with him?

THE FAX. (Guelph Advertiser.) Men who will talk baseball all day think a woman feeble-minded because she is interested in bargain rushes.

POOR DOGGIE. (London Advertiser.) These narratives of oplat trips excite sympathy for the Eskimo dogs. Their function seems to be to work till the food gives out and then take its place.

CHANGED. (Pittsburg Times.) "Where's Smith?" "Over in Europe, taking the baths for his gout."

"Gee! And I remember when his mother had to lick him to make him wash his feet before he went to bed."

HOME LESSONS. (Toronto Star.) The matter should be put to the test. We have always been opposed to the giving of home work to pupils. Even in our school days we were opposed to it, and would like to see the practice brought to trial, and banished the country.

OF MORE INTEREST. (Montreal Herald.) "Papa," confided the pretty girl, shyly, "there is a rumor afloat that I am to be the wife of Count Bluffem."

"Bosh!" snorted the old man with a frown. "But—but, don't you know the rumor is gaining currency every day?" "H'm! What good are rumors. What I want to know—is the count gaining any currency?"

BLINDNESS. (Montreal Herald.) Blindness is preventable: in most cases it is the result of neglect at birth. Incompetent nurses or uncleanly midwives are responsible for the loss of sight of nearly all blind children. The born blind are so rare that one might almost say there are none. According to Dr. Darlington, head of the New York Board of Health, who was one of the visitors at the new Municipal Hospital here on Monday, there are 2,500 blind children under 5 in his city, "all of whom might have their sight to-day if properly attended to."

STAY AT HOME. (Dundas Banner.) Something ought to be done in the interest of the older provinces, and in the interests of thousands who might be more comfortable where they are, than to follow the moving throngs into primitive conditions where a few reverses would make their existence intolerable. We think it might be well in Ontario, the garden of the Dominion, and in Wentworth, the garden of Ontario, to organize a County Association to consider questions of county interest, and more particularly to deal with such questions as leaving this county to go to the west. The county needs double the number now on the farms, and many farmers' sons, and faithful employees, might succeed more profitably here, if a well-considered effort were made to prevent the depopulation of our home-steads.

A popular and esteemed young man of Elfrida, Edward Marshall, died this morning at his residence after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Marshall was in his usual health previous to three weeks ago but took a severe attack of appendicitis and all that medical aid could do was done. Deceased was born near Elfrida and has lived all his life in that neighborhood. He was 32 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children, as well as his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Marshall, of Elfrida, and two sisters, Mrs. Albert Feilker, Elfrida, and Mrs. R. H. Dewey, of Tweedside. The funeral will take place on Sunday, at one o'clock, from his late residence, Elfrida, to the Methodist Church, Tapleytown, for service and burial.

FRIENDS AGAIN. Washington, Oct. 8.—Prospects for a resumption of friendly relations between Argentina and Bolivia are improving, according to advices received at the International Bureau of American Republics, and the expectation now is that there will be a complete representation of all the American republics at the Pan-American congress to be held in Buenos Ayres in July next.

LYNCHED HIM. Negro Murderer Hanged and Shot by Louisiana Mob.

Greenburg, La., Oct. 8.—That Aps Ord, a negro, was lynched several miles from here on Tuesday night, became known to-day. Young Ard killed a planter several months ago. He was arrested early this week and was on his way here with a constable when a posse overtook him. He was hanged and shot.

FINED THEM. Sandwich Hotel Men Convicted—Record of Spotters.

Sandwich, Ont. Oct. 8.—The three hotel keepers charged with illegal selling put up a vigorous fight yesterday, the case lasting all day. J. J. McCarthy was acquitted, the evidence of the spotters in the case being discredited by that of six witnesses for the defence. Fred Forster was fined fifty dollars for a first offence, and Jacob Malloux one hundred dollars for a second offence. The spotters employed by the prosecution were guarded by three policemen all day. One of them, Judge, admitted having figured prominently in the Sifton murder near London a few years ago and that he served nearly a year in jail on conviction of furnishing liquor to Indians on the Munsey Reserve.

WARD SENTENCED. Man Who Killed Warwick Gets 12 Months at Kingston.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) NEW TOWN IN WILDERNESS.

Lord Northcliffe's Paper Enterprise in Newfoundland.

Spent Six Million Dollars in Pulpwood Industry.

Built Town With Churches, Schools, Hotels, Etc.

Grand Falls, N.F., Oct. 8.—An event, which, in the opinion of the residents of Newfoundland, means much for the commercial and industrial development of the colony was celebrated here today in the first of two days' festivities in connection with the formal opening of the Northcliffe Paper and Pulp Wood Manufacturing industries here. Although a corporation known as the Anglo-Newfoundland developing company is in charge of the enterprise the leading spirit is Lord Northcliffe, the proprietor of the London Daily Mail and numerous other daily, weekly and monthly publications.

In the development of the pulpwood and paper enterprise here Lord Northcliffe's company has spent more than six million dollars, and has established a plant that is excelled in size only by the paper mills at Millinocket, Maine. The new town at Grand Falls has sprung up in a wilderness in the centre of Newfoundland. It is situated on the Exploits River, a stream which has its source in a chain of lakes in the southwestern corner of the colony and flows in a northeasterly direction, emptying into Notre Dame Bay, on the northeast coast.

Work was then begun on the erection of a series of mill buildings. These are now completed and are equipped with the most modern machinery. Hundreds of men will be employed in the mills here, while thousands of lumber men will find work in the timber tracts in the vicinity of Millertown, owned by Lord Northcliffe and his associates.

To house these men and their families, comfortable and attractive dwellings have been built, churches, schools and a library are under construction, a hotel has been erected and a municipal water and sewerage system is being installed. Lord and Lady Northcliffe and a party of distinguished English and Newfoundland persons came here to attend the formal opening of the town.

DUFFIELD.

Annual Meeting of the Mission—Appeal to Public.

The annual meeting of the Duffield Flower Mission was held at the home of the president, Mrs. D. B. Pratt. The attendance was fairly good. The same ladies kindly consented to act again as officers. The reports were very satisfactory and showed the society to be in a good financial condition.

AN APPEAL.

The president and members of the Duffield Flower Mission come once before the citizens of Hamilton and vicinity to ask for gifts of fruit, preserved, canned or in its natural state, for the use of the patients at the City Hospital. This year, when the fruit has been even more than usually abundant, they hope for a generous supply, for it is greatly appreciated. The fruit and jam may be sent to the City Hospital, or to a room lent for the purpose in the City Hall, on to any of the various Sunday schools in the city, on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 13th and 14th, when ladies will be at the City Hall from 9 a. m. Persons desiring their bottles can have them by going to the City Hall on Tuesday afternoons, from 3 to 5.

BOND OF UNION.

Want A. F. of L. to Affiliate With World's Federation of Labor.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The importance and necessity of promoting a stronger bond of union between organized labor in Europe and the North American continent was discussed at some length at yesterday's session of the Amalgamated Association of Electric and Street Railway Men of America. The convention strongly endorsed the suggestions in this respect offered by President Gompers on his recent visit in Europe.

As all the conventions are still working upon reports, the elections of officers has been deferred till tomorrow. It is expected that the committees will conclude their deliberations this morning. Twenty-eight resolutions have already been laid before the convention, the bulk of which suggest numerous changes in the constitution of the organization.

The cities of St. Joseph, Missouri and Detroit are putting up a stiff fight for the next convention in 1911. "We are from Missouri, and you got to show us why Detroit should be selected for the next convention," is the plea set up by the delegates and their supporters from the Missouri city, while those from Detroit claim "Life is worth living in Detroit."

Last evening the delegates were banqueted. Mr. W. W. Mahon, the International President, presided, and the usual toasts were honored, the speakers being Controller Hocken, Ald. Graham, Ald. Maguire, Messrs. Magnus, Sinclair, C. O. Pratt, J. Keegan and William Glickling, President of the Dominion Trades Congress.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

To-night and Saturday will see a clean sweep of all remaining lines of fall hats left over from Treble's recent great sale in English and Canadian makes. In preparing for an event of such magnitude as this sale just closed, there must inevitably be a few lines here, and there overstocked.

The odd hats left from this huge purchase are marked at exactly half price, and will put dollars into the pockets of those who participate in this event. It follows that as this sale was the broadest and most far-reaching in Treble's stores' history, and they are giving the men of Hamilton the benefit of removing hats at half price. So you can buy $2.50 latest style hats for $1.25 to-night and Saturday.

See their ad. on back page of this issue.

Amusements

"A Knight for a Day," the merry musical comedy that was seen here last season, returns to the Grand to-night for three performances. The piece is much the same as last season, though there are several changes in the cast, which are possibly for the better. Hilda Thomas, who will be seen as Tilly Day, the servant lady, is a clever comedienne, while Geo. Orvie, who plays the part of Jonathan Joy, the waiter, is also good.

"A Knight for a Day" has proved itself a musical comedy of extraordinary merit. The opening scene of the play is laid in Evanston, Ill., and shows the campus of the Northwestern University in the foreground, while in the distance can be seen the college buildings. The second act takes place in the Island of Corsica. There is a good, intelligible plot running throughout the play, interspersed with good, wholesome comedy. There are fifty people employed in the production, including the famous American beauty chorus, and also the Kute Kittens, who are a lot of little dancers in the play.

"THE WITCHING HOUR."
During the long run of Augustus Thomas' great telegraphic play, "The Witching Hour," in New York a number of authorities maintained that one of the principal scenes of the drama is purely theatrical. The scene referred to shows Jack Brockfield, the gambler stopping Frank Hardmuth, the assistant district attorney, from shooting him, through the simple process of having made up his mind to the fact that the other man will not be able to pull the trigger." Mr. Thomas asserts that it is based on a real incident which happened in Kentucky about twenty years ago. "The Witching Hour" comes to the Grand next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and should be greeted with large audiences. The sale of seats opens to-morrow morning.

DESIGNED GIANT CAKE.
People who are interested in the giant wedding cake used at a big society function here some months ago, and which was the talk of the town as a result of the story sent out from Chicago, which described it as the biggest cake ever made for an occasion of this kind, will be interested in the appearance here next week of Luigi Marini. He is the man who made the cake. The cake, it will be recalled, stood about five feet high, and weighed about five hundred pounds. It was a pleasant surprise planned by a Chicago friend of the groom, Marini at that time was a chef in one of the big hotels there. It was under his supervision that the famous cake was decorated. Marini attracted so much prominence by his artistic work in this line that he was induced to go on the vaudeville stage and try his hand chiselling figures out of solid blocks of ice. The act made an immediate hit because it was a genuine novelty and a pretty one. Marini works with great rapidity, and has an attractive polar setting with his offering. With the English Mermaids, who will be seen in their spectacular swimming exhibition, next week's bill will certainly not lack novelty.

There has been a brisk advance sale for both performances to-morrow. The show this week promises to break all records this season for business.

Y. M. C. A. STAR COURSE.
The Y. M. C. A. star course still hangs in the balance for want of subscribers to tickets, but friends are telephoning their orders every day, and it is hoped that they will do so at once. All who are interested in providing a high moral grade of entertainment for Hamilton citizens should subscribe. The commonwealth Ladies' Orchestra, De Kovan, Hilda Quattrone and Sandall, Pitt Parker, crayon wizard, the Hinshaw Grand Opera Company, Durno, white house of magic, Ernest Thompson Seton.

Tickets may be ordered or information obtained by telephoning Nordheimer's music store or the Y. M. C. A. office.

PIGOTT CASE.
Plaintiff's Side About In—Two Weeks For Defence.
The suit of M. A. Pigott against the Guelph & Goderich Railway is still dragging its weary way before Mr. Justice Britton, at the Toronto, non-jury assizes. This is the third week that it has been running and Mr. Pigott's side of the case is now about all in. The case took on an added interest yesterday morning when an unusual exhibit was brought into court. It consisted of two plaster of paris moulds in the shape of semi circles, each about six feet long and resting on a wooden platform.

The moulds represent Attila bank, a bank about 125 feet high, which had to be levelled. Pigott, the contractor, maintains that he should be paid 80 cents a cubic foot for the excavation, while the railroad contends it should all be done at the contract price, 24 cents a foot.

Two blue lines run criss-cross along the moulds, one of them indicating where the steam shovel worked, the other suggesting the depth the contractor should have gone to complete the cut in two lifts.

Although there is $223,000 at stake and the legal battle is apt to continue for a couple of weeks more at least, as it will take that time to put in the defence.

BRITANNIA'S NORTH POLE.
All those interested in the controversy of the North Pole should visit the Britannia rink this evening—a side-splitting affair—and a barrel of fun in store. One way to see the now famous Pole, the ice bears. They will all be there, but beware of those Polar bears. They are very treacherous. During the evening they will throw out some of the words. Cook and Peary have said, for they have been handed in chunks—so cold up there, you know—that words do freeze as they are spoken. Ladies admitted free.

The average servant girl is out for the dust until she starts to clean a room.

MUM'S WORD.

Barrie's Friends Appeal to Newspapers to Keep Quiet.

Was the Novelist Too Thrifty to Suit His Actress Wife?

New York, Oct. 8.—A London despatch to the American about the divorce suit brought by James Mathew Barrie, the novelist and playwright, against Mrs. Barrie, says that the following circular has been sent to the London newspapers by those of Mr. Barrie's friends whose names are appended.

"The divorce suit of Barrie versus Barrie and Cannon is down for hearing at the Mchichmas term. The plaintiff in the suit was in early life a distinguished journalist. More recently his work in fiction and the drama has given pleasure of a high order to hundreds of thousands of readers and spectators wherever the English language is spoken. He is a man for whom the inevitable pain of those proceedings would be greatly increased by publicity.

"Therefore it is hoped that the press, as a mark of respect and gratitude to a writer of genius will unite in abstaining from any mention of the case beyond the briefest report of the hearing. The suit is undefended, and apart from the eminence of the plaintiff, rises no question of the slightest public interest."

Lord Esper, George Alexander, William Archer, Edmund Gosse, Maurice Hewlett, Henry James, A. E. Mason, Arthur Pinero, Beerbohm Tree, H. G. Wells.

The American's correspondent goes on to say that although many of the prominent friends of Mr. Barrie are doing their utmost to bring about a reconciliation between him and his wife, they have found the couple both eager to be separated by divorce.

Gilber Cannon, the man named by Mr. Barrie in his suit, according to report, was the suitor for the hand of Mary Ansell before she became Mrs. Barrie. He is a novelist, playwright and dramatic critic.

Mr. Barrie's friends, however, declare she is not the only one at fault, if either is at fault. They say Mr. Barrie's Scotch thrift caused the first rift in the lute. Mrs. Barrie had more liberal ideas of entertaining and spending money than her husband.

CONVENTION AT OAKVILLE.
W. C. T. U. of Two Counties Holds Two-Day Session.
The thirteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the counties of Wentworth and Halton opened in the Temperance Hall at Oakville yesterday. An unusually large number attended, and were cheered for their work by the splendid weather.

Mrs. Byron Smith, the County President, presided at the meetings. In the morning the Executive met at 10.30, and the minutes of the year, which told of a very successful work, the appointing of committees, the plan for the year's work, and the question of finance were taken up. At 12 o'clock Mrs. Cunnas, evangelist superintendent, gave the noonday prayer.

At 2 o'clock the first public meeting was held, and the roll call showed the following officers present: Mrs. Byron Smith; Mrs. Whalley, Dundas; Mrs. Merriam, Oakville; Mrs. Wickett; Mrs. Nichols; Mrs. E. Turnbull; Mrs. Boyle; Mrs. Thurston, Burlington; Mrs. Carson, Oakville; Mrs. Dent, Milton; Mrs. Evans, and Miss Marjorie Davis.

Mrs. Turnbull gave the report of the year's correspondence, and showed how much interest is taken in the work by outside unions. The report of the "Y" Secretary was very bright, showing what a great work the younger members are doing.

The department reports were read by the County Superintendents, and lively discussions followed. Eleven reports were given, the following comprising the bulk of the union work: Evangelistic, Mrs. Cunnas; Sabbath Observance, Mrs. Boyle; Legislation and Petition, Mrs. McLarn; Press, Mrs. Whalley; Scientific Temperance, Mrs. Turnbull; Flower Mission, Mrs. Elliott; Parlor Meetings, Mrs. Thurston; Franchise, Mrs. Nichols; Anti-Narcotic, Mrs. Montgomery; President's Address, Mrs. Byron Smith.

Mrs. Ashbury delighted the audience with a musical solo.

At 6.30 the Oakville ladies gave a "white ribbon tea," which was heartily enjoyed, they proving themselves ideal hostesses. Mrs. Carrigue and Mrs. Marcup gave addresses of welcome from the W. C. T. U. members and Women's Missionary Society, respectively, and Mrs. Moore, of Barrie, replied on their behalf, thanking them for their hospitality.

The evening meeting was principally devoted to an address by Mr. B. H. Spence, of Toronto. His talk was helpful and instructive. His subject was "local option," and much good is expected to result, in the campaign which will soon be in full swing.

Miss Snyder gave an instrumental solo and Mrs. Featherstone, Miss Robinson, and Messrs. Tuck and Jarvis a delightful quartette.

The evening session closed with the National Anthem, and the benediction, to be adjourned until this morning.

W. T. PIPES DEAD.
Attorney-General of Nova Scotia Dies Suddenly in Massachusetts.
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 7.—Hon. W. T. Pipes, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, died suddenly while visiting friends here to-day.

The late Mr. Pipes was born in 1850 and was educated at Amherst and Acadia Colleges.

GAS TRUST.

Company Trying to Buy Out Distributing Stations.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 7.—Arrangements are under way for the formation of a gigantic natural gas trust, to control the supply of natural gas in the western peninsula. The Volcanic Oil & Gas Company, said to be backed up by Standard Oil capital, has now got its main oil well completed at Windsor, Sarria, Blenheim and scores of intermediate places, as well as Chatham and Wallaceburg, and it is said it contemplates purchasing all the distributing stations at these places.

In Chatham, the Chatham Gas Co. has received a bid of $1.10 a share for their gas and electric light plant. The company refused the offer, and are holding out for $1.16. This is significant in view of the fact that Chatham gas stock sold a few years ago at 48 cents.

If the Volcanic Company could succeed in buying up the distributing stations, they would control the supply right up to the homes and factories of the consumers.

THEFT CHARGE.
Toronto Conductor Taken Off One of The Cars.
Company Suspects Men of Manipulating the Fare Box.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—With the arrest of Conductor Herbert Hood at noon yesterday on a charge of stealing money from a fare box, the Toronto Railway Company inaugurated a campaign against alleged dishonest practices amongst a few of their employees upon the cars. The railway officials would not say whether any more arrests would be made, but it is understood that several men suspected of manipulating the company's boxes will be quietly discharged within a few days.

Conductor Hood was taken from a Dundas car at the corner of Victoria and Richmond streets on a warrant by Detective Guthrie, and when searched at court street police station it is alleged that a marked coin put in his fare box by a "spotter" was found upon him. He is 23 years of age, is married and lives at 36 Columbus street. He was with the company for four years.

Hood continually loses a great deal of money by this fare-box manipulation," said an official yesterday, in talking of the arrest. "And when the loss assumes serious proportions we put on the brakes, that is all. We are hoping that this arrest will serve as a good example to other men. I cannot say that there will be any more arrests," he said, "but there are several other men suspected, and we will likely find means of letting them out quietly."

"We have several men travelling upon the cars all the time, whose duty it is to see that the company receives all the money that goes into the boxes. There are many ways of telling when a man becomes dishonest. A 'run' should return to us an average number of fares, but many times there are some startling discrepancies along this line. That is when a man is watched. Some of these men, as I understand it," he continued, "have become quite expert in getting the money out of the boxes. But I cannot say just how it is done."

FLAG INCIDENTS.
Irish Police Did Not Insult U. S. Flag—Harbin Trouble Settled.
London, Oct. 7.—In the House to-day Redmond Barry, the Solicitor-General for Ireland, replying to the protests of Irish members against the arrest at Clonmel of a saloonkeeper named McGrath, because he hung out an American flag and refused to remove it during the visit to that place of Captain Edward O'Meara, reiterated the statement of Prime Minister Asquith in a similar case at Castlebar. Mr. Barry said it was a breach of the Irish Licensing Act and the prosecution of McGrath was pending. The Solicitor-General said there was no desire whatever to insult the American flag.

John David Rees, Liberal member for the Montgomery district, asked if the American Embassy had made any representations on the matter to the Government.

"None whatever," replied the Solicitor-General.

CONSUL REMOVED AT HARBIN.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—The Foreign Office issued a statement to-day that the trouble at Harbin between Baumbuller, the German Consul there, and the Russian authorities had been settled. The Foreign Office says the Baumbuller company had no claim on German protection and the Consul had expected the German flag hauled down from the brewery building, where it had been raised by order of Baumbuller.

During the trouble over this affair it was alleged that the German Consul had thrashed a Russian official. Another Consul is to take charge of the Harbin office and proceedings have been begun against Germans who insulted the Russian officials.

GUARD MISSING TOO.
Three Prisoners Escape From the Mounted Police.
Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 7.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock last night three prisoners escaped from the R. N. W. M. P. barracks at Fort Saskatchewan. The guard in charge also disappeared, and as he is a recruit the theory is that he deserted with the men.

This belief has not been substantiated, however, and there is a possibility that he may have met with foul play from the men he had in charge. They were working in a field near the barracks, and their disappearance was not noticed for some time.

British Liberals Opposed to Any Compromise. Unionists Won't Appeal to People—The Irish Bill.

London, Oct. 7.—The King thus far has been unsuccessful in arranging a compromise in the budget controversy. His Majesty is still trying, however, to prevent a crisis, and to-day had another consultation with Premier Asquith, who prolonged his visit at Balmoral Castle.

As time passes the difficulties toward avoiding a conflict between the Commons and the Lords increases, the strong party men of both sides being eager for the fight. The Liberal members, who scattered to their constituencies when the debate on the finance bill adjourned, in their speeches contend that the concessions made since the bill was introduced should satisfy its opponents, and express themselves as strongly opposed to any compromise.

On the other hand, the Unionists, who have made all preparations for the election, are urging the leaders to do nothing that might prevent an immediate appeal to the people. They have seized on Mr. Redmond's statement that the last obstacle to home rule would have gone with the disappearance of the veto of the House of Lords and are declaring that a vote for the budget is a vote for home rule.

In the meantime the House of Lords is radically amending the Irish land bill. The landlords threw out the clauses providing for compulsory purchase, thus raising another issue between the two Houses. The Nationalists already have announced that they will insist upon restoring these clauses when the bill returns to the House of Commons.

NO DECISION YET AS TO THE FUTURE OF QUEEN'S.

Kingston, Oct. 7.—The question of the separation of Queen's University and the Presbyterian Church has once more been placed on the shelf. After conferring with the University Board of Trustees for the past two days the General Assembly Commission was unable to come to a final decision as to whether the constitution should be so changed as to eliminate control by the Church. The objections raised by those opposed to separation were effective, and insufficient material was at hand to reply satisfactorily to them.

Three Men Crushed to Pulp in Engine Cylinder. Master Mechanic a Raging Maniac in Hospital.

Canal Dover, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Three dead and one man at the Union Hospital is the awful result of an accident at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon at the plant of the Pennsylvania Iron & Coal Company.

The dead are: John Gerber, Wm. Lang and David Harry. The three victims of the accident were engaged with two other men in repairing a giant engine, which had a defective cylinder several feet in diameter. Gerber, Lang and Harry went inside the cylinder to assist in the repairs, while the two other men waited outside.

Although the responsibility for the awful fatality has not been fixed, it is believed that the engine was started by Wm. Dawson, master mechanic at the plant, who is raising to-night at the Union Hospital, where he was taken immediately after the accident.

KING ELI THROWS BOMB INTO CAMP.

Intimates That Parks Board Had Better Keep Out of Beach Park Business.

Finance Committee Recommends That City be Redivided Into Five Wards.

If the City Council on Monday night adopts the recommendation made by the Finance Committee, made yesterday afternoon, the city will be divided in five wards, with three aldermen from each for the next municipal elections. This can be done without submitting a by-law to the people.

The sub-committee, composed of Aldermen Farmer, Crear and Hopkins, to which the matter had been referred, held out strongly for eight wards, with two aldermen from each. They proposed to have all the wards with the exception of number 7, remain as at present and make Wentworth street the dividing line for the eighth ward. With sixteen aldermen, four controllers and the Mayor they pointed out the Council next year would be the same size as at present.

Ald. Lees suggested four wards with four aldermen from each, but City Clerk Stout explained this was impossible, even if endorsed by the people, unless the city had a special act of Parliament. This could not be secured before February next and would put the city to the expense of submitting a by-law later in the year. The municipal act permits the Council, with the sanction of the people, to reduce the number of aldermen from each ward, but not to increase them.

On motion of Ald. Lees, seconded by Ald. Cooper, it was decided to divide the city into five wards with three aldermen from each. Ald. Guy supported this and it was carried on the casting vote of Chairman Peregrine.

now has all it can do justies to in the properties it controls, said that he feared there might be some difficulty financing the scheme, and he did not think the property was worth what it was proposed to pay for it.

Mr. Lees had a different story. A majority of the Board, he said, agreed that the scheme could be financed. With all respect to Mr. VanAllen's views, Mr. Lees said that the property included the water lots, for which the owners held patents. He did not think there would be any difficulty getting the Government's consent to use that part of the shore controlled by them. Some of the park properties, he admitted, were a little neglected at present, but this was because the Board was eager to purchase property while it was reasonable. George Hope, a member of the Board, had agreed at any time within the next three years to give what the city paid for the property, if the Parks Board could not handle it.

Ald. Hopkins painted a rosy picture of what the Beach Commissioners were going to do in the way of establishing parks at the piers. He said the Commission was fighting on a twenty-acre park, with all necessary equipment for pleasure seekers. The property the city proposed purchasing would cost from $40,000 to $80,000 before it was in proper shape. It would be nothing but a frog pond for many years. "The Chairman of the Board has told us they can't finance it, and we have no business voting the people's money away," he added.

On the suggestion of Mayor McLaren, the Parks Board will confer with the Beach Commission and the Government to ascertain if the Government will give the city the use of its part of the bay shore in connection with anyone else who wants to use it.

SCHOOL DEBENTURES.
A dozen tenders were opened for the purchase of the $80,000, twenty-year, 4 per cent. school debentures offered for sale. The highest bid was from Aemilius Jarvis, of Toronto, who offered $7,377, or $77,901. The aldermen thought this was a very bad time of the year to sell the debentures, and it was suggested that the Board of Education be requested to permit the matter to stand over for a few months. A representative of the Wood-Gundy Company, who tendered, offered to take an option at a little better than 98, but the aldermen did not think they would be dealing fairly with the other tenderers to do this. It was agreed to consult with the Board of Education before Monday night.

An old account of $160 from Munro & Meade, who prepared plans for enlarging the jail, was ordered paid. In connection with this Chairman Peregrine announced that the miscellaneous fund was still in force. It was decided to transfer $4,000 from the contingency fund to the miscellaneous fund.

OPTIONAL TAXATION.
The committee decided to defer action on the request of the "Central Canada Citizen," asking that the City Council support a petition requesting that legislation be passed permitting municipalities to tax improvement values at a lower rate than land values. The aldermen thought it was best to wait until it is seen what changes the Government will make in the assessment act. City Solicitor Waddell was going to have a commission take the matter up.

The Mayor pointed out that there was a danger, if it was optional with municipalities to discriminate in assessing different properties, of it becoming a licensing evil, municipalities bidding against each other by lowering the assessment on certain business places as an inducement for them to locate. Chairman Peregrine doubted if the city, as a corporation, should interfere. A sub-committee will report on the offer of the Lepel Wireless System, a company which aims to traverse all the present telegraph lines in the Dominion with wireless stations. The company claims to have connection at present with many cities in Canada and the States and the inducement it holds out is an exceptionally low rate on messages. The company will be in the city to establish a station, at a cost of $2,500.

"I think it is a good thing, if we can get messages that cheap," said Ald. Lees.

Freeland Woman is Enveloped in Flames and Frightfully Burned.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Sophia Brown, a widow, who had resided in Freeland many years and who had three children, died in the Woman's Hospital here to-day from frightful burns she received when she spilled a can of kerosene over the kitchen range. The blazing oil enveloped the woman in a mass of flame from head to foot. Neighbors heard her screams and rushed to her assistance, saving her from cremation. She was, however, so badly burned that death came as a relief to her terrible suffering. The hair was burned entirely from her head and her body and face and neck were frightfully blistered.

Milk Commission's Work For Three Months.

Medical Society Hears Interesting Address.

The Hamilton Medical Society held its regular meeting this week and the members heard some very interesting reports on the work of the Hamilton Milk Commission, and an instructive address on the campaign that is being conducted for clean milk in Canada and the United States was given by Dr. Hastings, Toronto.

A few weeks ago some figures relative to infant mortality during July were published, and these showed that there had been but a slight decrease in the rate as compared with July of last year. The members of the Commission were not in the least disheartened by these figures, because clean milk had at that time been supplied to only a limited number for about half of that month.

The figures that were submitted for August and September told a very different tale, and were received with every indication of satisfaction by the members of the Medical Society. The most striking figures were with reference to cholera infantum. The larger part of the deaths among infants during the summer months is caused by this complaint, and it was shown that the number of deaths from it during the two months mentioned in this year was 30 per cent. less than the number for the corresponding months last year.

Wires and Wireless.

Prince Rupert to Have a Telephone Exchange.

Winnipeg, Oct. 7.—Mr. A. B. Smith, manager of telegraphs of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, left on Tuesday evening for Prince Rupert, and will also proceed eastward along the Skeena River to Hazelton. Under the general powers contained in the charter of the Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph Company, arrangements are now being completed for the establishment of a modern telephone exchange in Prince Rupert. The Dominion Government is also erecting in that city a wireless telegraph station.

given it increased in weight and improved greatly in health.

This report was supplemented by some mortuary statistics which seemed a convincing argument in favor of clean milk. During August and September of 1909, the total infant mortality from cholera infantum was 80, compared with 90 for those two months last year, and the total number of deaths from all causes was 91 compared with 126 last year.

The commission intends to continue the work next year on a larger scale than it was able to attempt this year, and the results will be closely watched by the medical fraternity. After these reports were presented Dr. Hastings gave an interesting address on the campaign for clean milk in Canada and the United States. He stated that the American Milk Commissions, of which there were 56 in the United States, were formed on a plan originated by Dr. H. L. Cott, of New Jersey. Up till the present time the work of the commission has been limited to certifying to the cleanliness of milk. Dr. Hastings here made the statement that only one-tenth of one per cent. of the milk supplied to the people of the United States came up to the standard set by the milk commissions, and he added that as a result of the educational campaign among milk producers in Toronto they were in a position to more than supply the demand for it, and he thought that there was plenty of room for educational work among the people. They did not care to pay 15 cents a quart for clean milk when they could get it ordinarily for 7 and 8 cents, because they did not appreciate the superiority of the certified milk.

Dr. Hastings then gave statistics of what had been accomplished in various parts of the world, but particularly in the United States and Germany, by the use of clean milk by infants during the summer months. In concluding he advised that all milk that did not reach the standard of certified milk, as "clean milk" is commonly called, be pasteurized under the supervision of the boards of health in the various municipalities, and that as soon as possible the entire milk supply of the Dominion be placed under the rigid inspection of the various health departments so that all milk, from producer to consumer, might be supplied clean and germ-free to all.

Saginaw Mother, Searching For Her Missing Child, Finds Tot Dead.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 8.—"Why, there's the little fellow, tangled up in the swing," exclaimed Mrs. Shepherd, a neighbor to Mrs. George H. Rambo, 236 Webster street, as they were searching for the latter's 18-month-old boy, Geo. Henry. But when they went to the swing in the yard between their homes and unwound the ropes, the boy's head fell limply to one side and it was discovered he was dead. The child had been playing with Mrs. Shepherd's children, and on the way home climbed into the swing. He accidentally fell out in such a manner that the rope twisted about his neck and strangled him to death. His tiny feet were just touching the ground, but he was powerless to extricate himself or cry out.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

At a dinner the other evening, Dr. Charles F. Aked—familiarly known as the pastor of Rockefeller's church—told the following story about a daughter of a fellow minister:
"It was the custom of the household to have dinner at noon on Sunday and to have a very light meal at night. One Sunday evening little Helen's father was absent and her mother said to her, 'Papa is away to-night. Suppose you say grace.'
"Helen was hungry. There was very little to eat on the table. Casting a sweeping glance over the board, she tilted back her head and said solemnly, 'For pity's sake! Amen.'—Leslie Weekly.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—"Pity the boy whose mother is a good housekeeper," said Mrs. A. F. Robinson, speaker of the afternoon, at the meeting of the mothers' council at the First Congregational Church at Oak Park yesterday.
"The boy who is forbidden the front door of his home will find some other front door of some less desirable home open to him," she continued.
"If your boy comes tramping through the house after it has been cleaned and tracks his dusty boots in on the carpet, don't run after him with a dustpan and make him feel that he wishes he were somewhere else."
"Good housekeepers are not good homemakers. The housekeeper's eternal war against dirt makes her a slave and makes misdeeds of her family. She has an idea that when she dies St. Peter will ask her how many pairs of socks she has ended and how many buttons she has sewed on. She does not know that it is better to be cheerful and sympathetic, the comforting homemaker, than to have kept the house in such immaculate order."

TARIFF WAR.

To Protect a Lot of Worn-Out Paper Mills U. S. is Facing

A Retaliatory Struggle in Which Canada Holds the Whip Hand.

The following has been issued by the committee on paper of the American Newspaper Publishers' association:

New York, Sept. 27, 1909.

To protect a combination of worn out paper mills, some of which have been abandoned for news print paper making purposes, the United States government has been forced into a tariff war with Canada, which promises to be far reaching in its scope. The Canadian authorities say they sell $90,000,000 to the United States and buy from it $100,000,000. If it comes to a tariff war, they claim, they have the whip hand, and while they regret the situation, they do not propose to be forced to terms.

The stages of the trade war thus far indicated are as follows:

1. A circular of the United States treasury department, dated Aug. 26, imposing a retaliatory duty of 22 per cent on print paper and 18.75 per cent on mechanically ground wood, made from wood cut from crown lands, in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario. This 22 per cent duty supplemented the duty of 3.75 per cent fixed by the Payne bill.
2. The announcement of Premier Gouin, Sept. 6, 1909, that the province of Quebec would join with the province of Ontario, and prohibit the exportation of unmanufactured wood cut from crown lands.
3. Beginning March 31, 1910, the Payne law imposing 25 per cent. ad valorem duty, or $10,500,000 additional duty on $42,000,000 worth of imports to the United States from the leading provinces of Canada.
4. Threat by Canada that if the maximum tariff of the Payne law is enforced Canada will retaliate by applying its surtax act of 1903 on binding one-tenth to duties on articles from any country which discriminates against Canada. This is equivalent to an addition of 77,500 duty on articles sent from the United States to Canada.
5. Canadian Manufacturers' Association, at Hamilton, Ontario, last week asked the Canadian Government to stop the exportation not merely of wood cut from crown lands, but of all unmanufactured wood, whether cut from crown lands or private lands, in all of the nine provinces of the dominion.
6. Threat by Canada to stop importations from the United States to Canada, which amount to $167,000,000 per annum.

Altogether the threatened war menaces interchanges of the two countries amounting to $300,000,000 per annum, and this has been brought about to bolster a combination of paper mills.

Exports from the United States to Canada which would be affected by such action were, for the year 1908, as follows:

DUTYABLE.	Value
Lumber	$19,856,844
Wood pulp	3,198,223
Coal	1,145,507
Copper	4,914,580
Fish	3,188,251
Total	$42,535,703
FREE.	Value
Pulp wood	$4,989,910
Nickel ore and nickel matter	2,389,924
Timber	1,245,095
Hides	1,269,538
Fish	1,573,638
Asbestos (unmanufactured)	1,065,744
Copper	1,158,804
Furs and fur skins	1,192,273
Total	$22,595,874

At the outset the Dominion declared that if the American paper mills wanted to obtain their supply of pulpwood from Canada free of any export charge, the American paper-makers should not object to a reasonable rate of duty on paper made in Canada from pulp wood.

A committee of the House of Representatives, after a ten months' study of the subject, approved that view, which was confirmed and ratified by the Ways and Means Committee, and by the House of Representatives. Senator Hale objected to such an arrangement, and the United States Senate, to please him, upset it and raised the rate above that passed by the House.

The provinces of Canada now declare that since the United States has refused to admit print paper upon reasonable terms they will protect Canadian interests by meeting retaliation with retaliation, and will force many of the American paper mills to move to Canada.

Canadian retaliation will strike American exports as varying as coal and cotton, iron and steel, fruit and automobiles, oil and live stock. But the most serious feature of the prospective war is that which affects wood products, valued at $30,000,000, brought into the United States from the Dominion.

Directly or indirectly, all the masses who read for amusement or instruction must pay a tax upon knowledge for the benefit of derelict paper mills, and trade between the two countries is to be paralyzed.

John Norris,
Chairman of Committee on Paper.

AUTO ACCIDENT.

Desota, Mo., Oct. 8.—Henry Steiner, head of a large contracting firm of Desota, and Henry Loew, of East St. Louis, Ill., were seriously injured here last night, when their auto overturned after a tire exploded. The machine was going at a high rate of speed when it was wrecked.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 8.—Three charred bodies were taken from a burning building at the corner of 8th avenue and Jefferson street, this city, at an early hour to-day.

AGED 94.

Father of Rev. Dr. Tovell Died at Eramosa.

The interment of the late Mr. Jonathan Tovell, of Eramosa, father of Rev. Isaac Tovell, D. D. of this city, took place from his late residence on Wednesday afternoon. The remains were laid in the Everton cemetery. The funeral was in charge of Mr. Alfred Tovell, of Guelph. At the home many friends, from the immediate neighborhood, as well as from distant places, gathered to show their respect for one who had lived so long in their midst. Being about the last of the old and sturdy stock of the original settlers in that part of the township, it was impressive to notice the presence of so many descendants.

A very interesting feature of the assemblage was the attendance of many nephews and nieces who joined the six sons and two daughters of the deceased in following to his resting place their aged relative. The service at the home was conducted by the minister of the Eramosa Methodist circuit, Rev. Mr. Woltz, who gave an appropriate address on the words, "And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him."

Rev. Amos Tovell, a nephew, and Rev. Dr. E. J. Tovell took part in the service. The latter on behalf of the family expressed appreciation of the sympathy and regret shown by so many friends.

The sons of the deceased: Messrs. Japhet, John, Henry, Irving, Rev. Dr. Isaac and Dr. Matthew Tovell, acted as pallbearers.

The late Mr. Tovell was a native of England, and was born in 1816, being 93 years and 4 months old. He was a remarkably sturdy man, never practically never requiring a physician, and retaining his mental faculties to the last.

THE LIBRARY.

Secretary to Get Information From Other Cities.

The monthly meeting of the Public Library Board was held yesterday afternoon. The reports of the various committees were received. It was decided that the secretary write to Ottawa and other cities to obtain particulars about their libraries, as some good suggestions for the new building here might be obtained by doing so.

The librarian's report of the main library showed that the number of books had been increased by 273. The number of books issued was 12,139, an increase of 139 over the corresponding month of last year. The cash on hand amounts to $124.44.

The Library Committee recommended that accounts aggregating $460.50 be paid and further recommended that 140 volumes be purchased, at an estimated cost of $210.

The report of the Building and Finance Committee recommended that accounts aggregating $1,270.23 be paid. Of the amount $101.70 was charged to the branch library.

The Barton Street Branch Library reported 338 borrowers cards now in circulation. The number of books issued was 1,846, which was an increase of 634 over the corresponding month for the previous year. The cash received for fines and cards amounted to $7.81.

WAKE UP, HAMILTON!

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—After an extended visit through the Dominion, I have reached Ft. Wilby, and have a copy of the London Daily Mail, Eng. of Sept. 8th, was placed in my hands, in which was a letter from its special commissioner, who has been on a visit to the west. I enclose his letter as a sample of municipal advertising up to date, to show the spirit of enterprise one meets everywhere in this western country. I hope the boomers of Greater Hamilton may read this letter and become infected with its spirit. I am glad to notice that the Bank of Hamilton has opened a branch here, for it is about the only evidence here that there is such a place as Hamilton. When I first visited this place, eight years ago, it was a combination of jungle and muskeg and the most unlikely place in the world for a great city, which it is destined to be. It is simply marvellous to witness the great train loads of grain pouring into here from the west, and convince one of Canada's enormous heritage. The bulk of which is still untouched by the plow.

Yours,
James Russell,
Fort William, Oct. 1st, 1909.

OLD DAN'S LAST FIRE

He stood dreaming in the sunshine that fell through the window of the engine house. The roar of the city throbbed in through the open door, but Dan did not hear it. The years rolled back their dim memories and he was a cack again, running beside his mother on the broad western prairie. He felt the tall grass brush his sides as it bent in waves under the summer winds and pressed closer to his mother as his little car caught the barking of the wolves beyond the hills.

He could remember when he used to lie at his mother's feet as the night came on, and how big and handsome she looked standing between him and the bright stars. And he caught something of his terror when his mother once led him, fast as his short legs could go, to a clump of cottonwoods to get out of the way of a great herd of buffalo moving farther west. From behind a tree he had seen the broken edges of the black, surging mass, and heard the tramp and bellowing as it swept by. Often as his mother dozed in the shade by some lonely stream, he had watched the weavers building their dam, and never tired of their queer snuffing and snorting as they towed the material along in the water.

The wild prairie, the stillness, the sluggish streams, the meadow lark and the red-winged blackbird, the wave and the swish of the grass—all this was a happy memory. But there came a sad day when he was five years old, and with many others, was locked in a gloomy freight car and started on the terrible journey of a thousand miles toward the east. The swaying of the car and the swift moving objects outside made him dizzy, and he strained his eyes through the narrow, barred windows hour after hour, day after day, hoping for a sight of the prairie. Only tows and fenced fields, cities and noisy freight yards, and the ceaseless creak and rattle and swaying of the car—nowhere a sight of the swaying of the car and the swift moving objects outside made him dizzy, and he strained his eyes through the narrow, barred windows hour after hour, day after day, hoping for a sight of the prairie. Only tows and fenced fields, cities and noisy freight yards, and the ceaseless creak and rattle and swaying of the car—nowhere a sight of the swaying of the car and the swift moving objects outside made him dizzy, and he strained his eyes through the narrow, barred windows hour after hour, day after day, hoping for a sight of the prairie.

He felt that he was growing old now. The wild gallopes to the fires tired him more than they used to, and his joints were getting stiff so that he could not spring to the engine shaft as quick as his mate, who was a dozen years younger. Still he felt that life as a fire-horse had not been an unhappy one. There was something in it that stirred his blood, as did the terrific roar and rush, and the awful sky-painting glare of the prairie fires of the west when he was young.

Dan's dream was broken into by the voices of the firemen lounging about the engine.

"Say, boys," said one—Dan's driver—"did you know that this is Old Dan's birthday."

"Was there ever a time when Dan didn't exist?" drawled another voice, "Why, he was old Dan when I came here, eight years ago."

"But he wasn't always old Dan, I can tell you. He's 25, but he's a better horse to-day than many a one half his age. And he's done more tough work than any other two horses in the service."

"That's so," broke in a gray-bearded veteran, a retired fireman, who hung about the engine room from a life habit. "Don't I remember when Dan and Wild Joe—dead ten years—used to drag heavy rickety old No. 1 about this neighborhood before there was a pavement in sight and the hills were as steep as a fire horse's hoof? Mud, rats, stones, steep hills, why a man could hardly hang to the engine. And when the team had made a mile run, even Dan was a good deal used up, and Joe would stand shaking all over like that leaf that never stays on the floor in the wind. That work killed Joe, but somehow Dan pulled through it. You

FOUGHT BURGLARS.

Dominion Police Exchange Shots With a Gang.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The Dominion police and a quartette of safe breakers who dynamited the safe in the Post Office at Wright, Que., early on Monday morning, met last night twenty miles north of Ottawa. Shots were exchanged, and one of the gang was captured. The other three took to the woods and are now being hunted by the police and the inhabitants of the district. The region is a wild one, and the men will have to come out or starve.

Sunday night the gang cracked a Post Office and store safe at Pickanoch, near Ottawa, and got away with some cash and stamps. Word was sent to Ottawa of four suspicious characters near Wakefield, Tuesday. A police party from Ottawa went up, and with the station master from North Wakefield, came upon the party at midnight among some lumber piles. Constable Foster got one, and the others took to the bush, firing on the police, who returned the fire.

The captured man was taken to Hull and locked up. He gave the name of Thomas Gorman, of Toronto, aged 37. Postage stamps and $203 in cash were found in his possession. He admitted having participated in the Wright safe blowing. He had an Intercolonial ticket and timetable, and it is thought he came from somewhere east of Montreal. The others have not yet been taken.

HAVE PARTED.

New York Society Dame and Husband Separate.

Prominent in Both Gotham and London Society Circles.

New York, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger-Chance, a member of the most exclusive society set in New York and her husband, Wade Chance, whom she married 17 months ago, have separated permanently. She is in London. He is now employed in a brokerage office in the financial district.

"There has been a separation," he said yesterday as he held a piece of tape from a stock ticker in the office of H. Content & Company. "But I have nothing to say. I hope that nothing will be published in this time."

Further than that Mr. Chance, who is a rather tall, well set man of 32, would not burden himself.

Mrs. Chance, whose marriage last May astonished her friends, was the wife of the late Col. Van Rensselaer Cruger, controller of the Trinity estate. She is a grandniece of Washington Irving, and is of the genuine old Knickerbocker stock.

Mr. Chance came to New York 12 years ago. He was employed in the office of Spencer Trask and at one time went to London in the interest of the firm. Later he was appointed administrator of the Picard estate, and subsequently became engaged to Mrs. Cruger.

On his return to America from London, where the couple lived at St. James Place, Mr. Chance engaged apartments at the Hotel St. Regis and again entered the brokerage business. Mrs. Chance will probably remain in London, where she has a home.

Mrs. Chance was presented at court last March by Ambassador Whitelaw Reid.

About 20 years ago, Mrs. Chance, under the pen name of "Julien Gordon" wrote a novel of society life, "Mrs. Clyde," and in it depicted a coterie of prominent society people. This book caused quite a stir and much interest was taken in the magazine stories subsequently written by "Julien Gordon."

Her stories were invariably gleaned from life and the characters were real persons who were given fictitious names.

It was after the death of Col. Cruger that Mrs. Cruger went from New York to Washington, where she established herself in an old Georgetown mansion. She tired of Washington life and went on a trip west. After a short sojourn in Goldfield, Nev., she returned to Washington and her marriage to Mr. Chance soon followed.

A resolution was adopted warning the Government that continued repression would rouse women to a more determined rebellion.

Fitzmaurice, chief dragoman of the Embassy, as guests at the Ramadan banquet at the residence of the Sheikh-Ul-Islam. The event is unprecedented.

WHO WILL WIN THE BIG GAME TO-MORROW?

From Here It Looks Like the Tigers—Yellow and Black Wing Line Should be Able to Demoralize Ottawa Backs.

Who will win the big game in the capital to-morrow? Will the Jungle Tigers fulfill expectations and beat the Rough Riders, or will the Ottawa bunch repeat the trick of former years and win out? This is a question that has been disturbing the minds of the football fans for some time past. Prospects are that the game will be a close one with the Tigers just a little the best. In reporting the game last Saturday between Montreal and Ottawa, the Ottawa papers were not very sanguine over the Ottawa propensities. If the Ottawa scribes say their team can't buck, you can take it from us, they can't. Such an admission is not necessary considering the big margin the Rough Riders had on the winged wheel team and the fact must have been painfully obvious for the Ottawa papers to comment on it. On the other hand the Tigers have one of the strongest wing lines in years, and when they start breaking through and nailing that much touted back division of the Ottawa it is just possible that they will suffer from an attack of nerves. At any rate they will be up against an altogether different proposition than last Saturday. This is not said with any intention of disparaging the Rough Riders, but with a view of showing that Hamilton has the best chance in this game. There can be no doubt that Ottawa has a strong team, but from here the yellow and black looks a little the best. The Tigers are in fine physical condition and should be able to go through the game and have something left at the finish.

The Tigers held their final practice yesterday afternoon at the Cricket Grounds. The whole team was out, and Captain Ben Simpson put them through two hours of real hard work. In every department of the game the Tigers are now about as perfect as any team can well be. Bucking, tackling, running, punting and trick plays were indulged in yesterday, and then the seniors lined up against a team picked from the intermediates, juniors and some of the Highfield boys. They put it all over the scrubs, and the big crowd of fans that were on hand to see the practice were delighted with the exhibition.

The team left this morning via the G. T. R., and the officers and supporters will leave this evening on the C. P. R. A big bunch is going along to help root for the team, and a special coach will be attached to the regular train for their accommodation. Glassford, Pottey, Vickley, George Smith and Bethune were taken along with the team as spares.

The Tiger Football Club yesterday presented Davy Tope with a cabinet of silver. The convivial knot will be tied on Wednesday afternoon.

"Kid" Smith has a bad leg, and there is a possibility that he will not be able to play to-morrow. In that case Geo. Smith will take his place.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ENDS--- HOW THE TEAMS STAND.

Pittsburg's Victory Predicted Since May 5, When the Team Assumed an Aggressive Lead—Chicago Stands Second.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—With the pennant floating securely over the Pittsburg clubhouse for another 12 months, the 1909 championship baseball season passed into history yesterday. Boston and Brooklyn won the final victories of the season, the former defeating Philadelphia and the latter New York. Pittsburg's victory has been widely predicted since May 1, when the team assumed an aggressive lead. Chicago has held an intimidating position all along, however, and the result was not clinched until Sept. 16. On that date the Illinois squad suffered defeat at the hands of Philadelphia, and, although Pittsburg came out with the little end of a game with New York, her hold on the pennant became none the less secure. Chicago is the first club in the National League to finish second with a record of more than 100 games won.

New York finished third with a record of 92 victories out of a total of 153 games played, and Cincinnati, under a new manager, came out fourth. The appointments of the year were the Brooklyn, St. Louis and Boston clubs. Brooklyn won 55 games—just half of the number of the league leaders—while Boston brought up the tail end of the procession with only 45 victories out of a possible 153.

Future decisions by the Board of Directors may affect slightly the present standing of the clubs somewhat. Pro-

ed games between Brooklyn and Chicago on Sept. 3 and Boston and St. Louis on Sept. 29 are still to be adjudicated. The first of these contests has been given to Chicago by President Heydler, but Brooklyn has five days to appeal from his decision. The St. Louis-Boston game has not yet been acted on because the St. Louis club has failed properly to file its answer. The final standing of the clubs follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE SCORES.
	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Pittsburg	110	42	.724
Chicago	104	49	.680
New York	92	61	.601
Cincinnati	77	76	.504
Philadelphia	74	79	.484
St. Louis	55	98	.359
Boston	45	108	.291

At Brooklyn—The Brooklyn team took the final game of the season after an uphill battle from New York. Score: R. H. E. New York..... 5 10 2 Brooklyn..... 7 11 1
Batteries—Daley and Wilson; McIntyre and Bell and Marshall.
At Philadelphia—Boston defeated Philadelphia in the closing game of the National League season here to-day. Sensational plays by Epps and Becker stopped promising rallies by the home players. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia..... 1 8 3 Boston..... 3 9 2
Batteries—Sparks and Dooin; Mattern and Raidiron.

PITTSBURG HAS GONE QUITE BASEBALL CRAZY.

Hundreds Are Sleeping on Cots at the Ticket Wickets Waiting For the Rush Sale—Tickets Sold For $50 Last Night.

PITTSBURG, P. A., Oct. 7.—Pittsburg is the most excited town on the map. A city gone mad this home of iron and steel all over baseball. The Detroit Tigers purred their way into town this morning and prowled about all day with claws sheathed temporarily, getting for the opening game wondrously, getting for the world's series to-morrow. The town is filled with visitors, and getting worse. It is estimated that 40,000 people will see the opening game at Forbes' Field to-morrow, and that more than 100,000 will try to see it.

To-night about 1,000 persons are camping about the gates at Forbes' Field ready to make the rush for the ticket window when it opens to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. There are at least 100 cots being occupied in the open area for those who are determined to get in to the line near the first, while scores of others have brought chairs. Many of the waiters have the game down to a system working in pairs, some in pairs. While one keeps watch, the other or others will stray away, and, returning to take the place of the watcher in line while he in turn takes the air. The formation of this line began at midnight Wednesday. Daybreak found scores in the line outside the main ticket office window and they are still holding their place, being relieved at intervals by friends. The police who tried to break up the line, got worsted, and promed for help. Headquarters told the officers to let the persons in line or thereabout remain, that they were harmless no one. There is every reason to believe that a portion of those in line are there for the purpose of selling out their place to the highest bidder when the ticket office windows are about to be opened to-morrow. Some of the waiters have come with great baskets of food prepared to camp the entire week in case it should be raining in the morning and the first game of the great series called off.

parent corner in ball tickets. The Pittsburg Club to-day appealed to the police and asked that a certain hotel which was filled with gamblers and speculators be raided, that they were arranging to throttle sports to-morrow by holding up the price of tickets which they were securing at prices already beyond reason. The police, however, could not see their way clear to raid the place. Late to-night the rumor gained ground that there had been wholesale forgery of tickets for the ball games, and there was much trouble for ticket brokers who have been reaping a harvest. There is good ground for the belief, too, that forgery has been committed—so much so that the police were closeted at midnight with a great bundle of the alleged forged tickets, comparing them with the known originals of Barney Dreyfuss. Late to-night two well-dressed men, known to Pittsburg sports, entered the Colonial Annex Hotel, where the Detroit ball team was stopping, and offered great bundles of the tickets were counterfeit. A rush was made for the ticket vendors, who managed to get away, but one of them dropped a bundle of the tickets, which were later turned over to the police. Reports from other hotels show that other pairs of ticket brokers entered them about the time the pair invaded the Detroit crowd at the Colonial Annex, and in each case many sales were made very quickly, the ticket men getting away with much money. To-night there are about one thousand holders of tickets—high-priced tickets—who are not at all sure that their tickets are genuine. If they are not genuine there will be much trouble at Forbes' Field to-morrow.

Tiger Intermediates and Dundas Play To-morrow.

An exhibition game will be played at the Cricket Grounds between the Tiger Intermediates and Dundas to-morrow afternoon. A league game was scheduled between the Capitals, of Toronto, and the local bunch, but as the last-named team gave out yesterday that they intended dropping out of the league, the executive got busy and arranged a game with Dundas. A game between these two teams is fully as good to watch as any senior game, as the rivalry between them keeps them at it all the time. The intermediates are handicapped by having some of their best men taken along to Ottawa to act as spares, but they will turn out a team to-morrow that can be counted on to take the husky Valley Town bunch in a can. The bunch has been installed at the Cricket Grounds, and the Ottawa scores will be announced at the end of each quarter.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Booby BERT is working hard to get together a good team for the coming year on Thanksgiving Day to compete there. Last year Bobby's team won the relay race and received a beautiful cup, which was to be won three years in succession before owned. This year a number of runners have turned out and have been working out at Britannia Park. The bunch is shaping up well and Bobby expects to turn out a winning team. A trial will be held this afternoon at the park, and the team will be picked. Any athletes wishing to try for a place on the team are requested to be at Britannia Park at 5 o'clock.

The accident to Big Bear yesterday in the steeplechase was unfortunate. The horse was going well, and would have undoubtedly finished in the money. Jim Hammond seems to be hoodooed when he breaks into the racing game.

De Vaudrey won the two-mile championship at St. Mary's last evening, breaking the record by 11 seconds.

As far as we are concerned hereabout the issue of the world's championship between Pittsburg and Detroit has been skinned to a mere incident. We have sufficient trouble of our own to absorb us. We have a little football world of our own hereabouts.

At Belmont Park yesterday, King's Daughter, carrying 117 pounds, came within two-fifths of a second of equalling the world's record of 1:37.2-5 for a mile over a track with a turn. King's Daughter, a 3 to 2 favorite, won in a gallop. From the moment the barrier was raised, King's Daughter made the pace, and came home on the bit, with five lengths to spare, in 1:37.4-5.

A writer in the New York Sun says it is the general opinion that the Pirates will not have a sweep of four victories in five games, which Chicago enjoyed a year ago. In fact, many students of diamond lore predict that it will require seven games to decide the ownership of the title, with Pittsburg taking the odd ball. It is by no means a 2 to 1 shot that Pittsburg wins the series, however, and wherever such odds are offered Detroit sympathizers are on the job with ready acceptances.

one qualification, and that is, he is somewhat of a slugger. He can fight, but whether he can run the league, is another proposition.

There are few boxers who lose a battle who will admit that they were beaten fairly or that they met a better man. They will always have some excuse to offer, no matter how trivial. Sometimes it is lack of condition; a broken hand; a slip, or, in fact, anything that will take away the sting of defeat; but a week ago at New Orleans a new one was sprung. Kid Sparks, who hails from Louisville, was on in a preliminary to the Bronson-McFarland bout with a fellow named Jack Dillon, from Indianapolis. Dillon put Sparks to sleep for ten seconds in the second round. About 20 minutes later Sparks wandered over to the press row and in a confidential manner said to the scribes: "Say, pals, of all the tough luck a fighter ever had, I got it to-day. Why, those dummies gave me stagnated water in the first round, and it was all off with me."

Late this afternoon a Mrs. Mary Meyers appealed to the police to pull her husband John out of the waiting line before the gates, saying he should be at work and had not the money to spare for baseball tickets. The police, however, refused to interfere and John is still in line.

The well intended efforts of the Pittsburg Ball Club and the National Commission to prevent tickets from getting into the hands of speculators appears to have gone wrong. There is evidence to-night that the speculators have pretty fair control of the tickets and they are boosting the price to the sky. At noon well-known sports and gamblers announced that they wanted 1,000 more tickets, and they would pay ten dollars a piece for them until that number was received. The standing of some people who gave up their $1.50 seats to the gamblers for a crisp $10 bill each, would create a sensation if printed. Late in the afternoon the speculators were announcing that there was a limited number of tickets for $20 each, and to those who protested against this price it was told that the same tickets would be selling at $50 before midnight, and at $100 to-morrow forenoon. Three reserved seat tickets in the first row of the big grand stand was sold for $100 to a broker.

It was discovered to-day that the Pittsburg Ball Club, at the last moment, fearing they had not been able to block the gamblers entirely, held back about one thousand tickets to sell to good friends of the club, who they feared might be squeezed by the gamblers. These tickets have been retailed out very judiciously at the usual rate of $1.50 apiece, and in this way the club has saved many friends, for there were at least 20,000 fans in and about Pittsburg who have been busily engaged in scoring the club and friends of the sp-

LACROSSE

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Tommy Doyle's Juveniles won the championship of the C. L. A. juvenile series yesterday at Scarborough Beach, when they put away Oscar Ely's Pets. The score was 11 to 4 in favor of the Newmarket, with the boys from the north always in the lead, they being ahead at quarter time 3 to 2, and at half time 5 to 3, while the third period saw them 7 to 4. Thus it will be seen that the last quarter was disastrous for the Hespeler boys.

The game, while only being played by kids, was a good exhibition, the youngsters showing that they knew how lacrosse ought to be played. Both defenses were stronger than their homes, with the Newmarket defence the stronger and heavier. In fact the Newmarket team were a decidedly heavier aggregation than their opponents.

Both teams had a host of supporters, about 300 witnessing the game and they were well repaid, as the juveniles gave a better exhibition than most of the juniors and intermediates would. There was very little fumbling, while the passing was always good and in a pinch the home crowd would wait for the odd man to come down.

Dr. P. L. Fisher, the organizer of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic League of the United States, was present, and made the necessary arrangements on behalf of the PIRATES ARE 2 TO 1 FAVORITES IN BETTING.

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—Detroit, the American League champions, and Pittsburg, the winners of the National League pennant, will meet here to-day in the opening game of the series which will decide the baseball championship of the world for 1909. It will be Detroit's third attempt in as many years to win the greatest of honors in organized baseball, while Pittsburg has not had the same opportunity since 1903, when it won the National League pennant and was defeated by the Boston Americans in the big series.
The local weather forecaster promises good weather, and a record-breaking crowd at Forbes' Field is certain. Every reserved seat of the 18,000 has been engaged, and thousands of enthusiasts are expected to engage in a wild scramble for the other spaces in the immense sulphite theatre. It is expected 35,000 persons will witness the games.
Both Managers Clarke and Jennings will send in their strongest pitchers. Jennings said he probably would use Mullin, while Clarke is planning to use Adams. Schmidt is scheduled to catch for Detroit, while Gibson will probably go behind the bat for Pittsburg. Frank O'Loughlin (American League) and J. E. Johnston (National League) will umpire.

Detroit put in a hard two hours of practice at Forbes' Field yesterday afternoon. Hugh Jennings spent most of the time in making them bat and run bases in earnest. Manager Clarke and the Pittsburg team put in a strenuous morning of practice at Forbes' Field. Jennings may place Davy Jones in left field in place of McIntyre. Outside of this position there is no doubt concerning the personnel of the two teams for the opening game. The game will start at 2 p. m. (eastern time).
The prevailing odds are 2 to 1, with Pittsburg the favorites, but little betting is done because of the absence of Detroit money. Many wagers are being made that Hans Wagner will outbat Ty Cobb, and this is considered an even-money proposition.
An important meeting of the National Commission is scheduled for to-day, and, according to Mr. Hermann, the Pfeffer case will be re-opened and some decisive action taken. In this case Chas. W. Murphy, the President of the Chicago Nationals, was fined $500 for alleged tampering with Pitcher Pfeffer, of the Toronto Eastern League Club. Murphy has asked for a re-opening of the case, and it will come before the Commission to-day.

Good Clothing as a Tonic.
Clothing, particularly new clothing, is a powerful mental and moral tonic, according to a medical specialist quoted in The Outfitter, of London. The specialist says that shabby or ill-fitting clothes are a source of constant worry, which tends to take the keener edge off the wits of the average man to "The mere fact of being smartly dressed," adds the doctor, "is a strong mental stimulant, and the man who is shabby and knows it is often less capable than his well-dressed mental inferior." "All this," comments The Outfitter, "is very comforting to the trade, and opens out an alluring vista of the possibilities of the future when the doctor tells his patient that his nerves are run down, and that he must get a new suit at once or the result may be serious. The trade will not then be dependent on the capricious weather. On the contrary, if we have a spell of bad weather the medical profession will send a large number of patients to be treated by the clothing cure."

PITCHER WM. DONOVAN.

A GREAT DAY AT FREELTON.

Twenty-Second Fall Fair Was a Great Success. A Record In Attendance and Number of Entries. Good Racing and Sports and a Magnificent Day.

The twenty-second annual exhibition of the West Flamboro Agricultural Society was held at Freelton on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The entries were far in excess of any previous year. The hall, wherein the exhibit of vegetables, flowers, fruit, ladies' work, paintings, home-made cookery, etc., were placed was filled as it has never been before.

The exhibit of canned fruit was not very large, but made up in quality for the lack in quantity. In the display of raw fruit there was a good showing of grapes, plums, pears and apples, and the judges found it difficult to award the prizes as there was not one poor or underserving exhibit in the lot.

Perhaps the largest exhibit was that of ladies' fancy and useful work. A space of over fifty feet was occupied by this department, and well filled with all the pretty articles belonging to needlework. The competition in this class was very strong, and some excellent work was shown.

The butter exhibit this year was greater and better than ever, and here again the judges were taxed to their utmost in the awarding of prizes. In the competition for the silver cup, donated by W. O. Sealey, M. P., the judges first awarded it to Mrs. B. Wye, but on account of her only being a ratepayer not a resident of West Flamboro, she was compelled to take second prize, although the judges stated that her exhibit was the best.

The shortest man on the grounds proved to be P. Gilne, who stood 4 feet 11 inches. The prize for the prettiest baby was awarded to Mrs. James A. Gray for her little daughter, Grace, who was well worthy of it. The best-looking couple on the grounds were Mr. Chas. Worthington and Miss Marion Harvey, who were awarded the prize.

The special events for the closing day, consisting of horse racing, foot races, etc., were of considerable interest and provided much pleasure for the society's patrons. The trials of speed resulted as follows:

- Trot or pace—E. Haley's Billy H. 1 1 1 A. Powell's Dolly 2 2 2 Wm. Hyde's Dynamite 3 3 3 The prize winners in the men's quick hitch-up were: L. Carey, first; D. Walker, second; James Stewart, third. Miss Walker, first, and Miss S. C. Clarke, second, were the winners of the ladies' quick hitch-up.

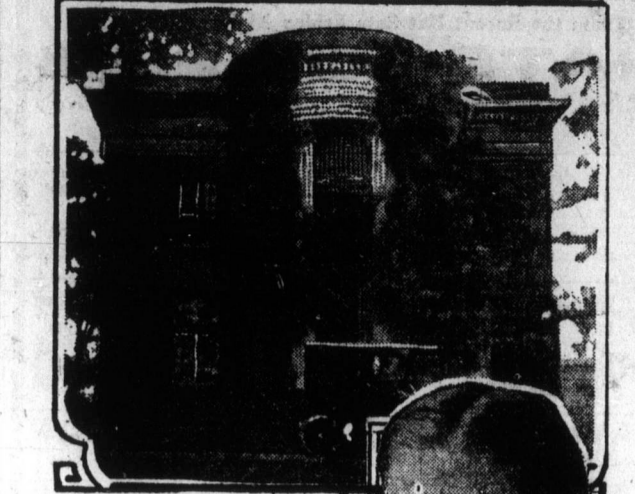

In the men's foot race the contest was very keen, and resulted as follows: J. Fletcher, first; C. Mitchell, second; G. Boucher, third. The directors wish to thank the many judges for the eminent manner in which they carried out their work. They were: Trials of speed—J. O'Connell, T. Elliot. Writing—Rev. A. I. Snyder. Painting—Miss M. Stewart, Mrs. L. Reid.

Ladies' fancy work—Mrs. T. Cox, Mrs. E. Moffat. Ladies' useful work—Mrs. M. Elliot, Mrs. C. Avis. Field races, etc.—J. Wilkinson, E. Hillborn. Road horses—Daniel Porter, R. Condy. Butter and cheese—Mr. and Mrs. Freeman. Fruit—J. Nicholson, F. Baker. Swine—J. Haw, W. Shields. Sheep—G. E. Gastle, R. J. Hamilton. Cattle—R. Paddock, J. Laking. Poultry—S. Plastow. Grain—J. The directors of the fair are fortunate in having such a capable and courteous secretary as James A. Gray. He deserves much credit for the excellent manner in which he carried out every feature of the exhibition, and for his untiring efforts to make the fair the great success it was. The staff of officers who assisted him was composed of: President—Malcolm McPherson. First Vice-President—William Emman. Second Vice-President—George Bickel. Superintendent—Robert Stewart. Ontario Government Asked to Either Veto the Legislation or to Allow of an Appeal Being Taken to the Supreme Court.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—A sub-committee of the Cabinet Council, composed of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Dr. Pugsley, heard to-day the arguments of Messrs. Chrysler, K. C., Moss, K. C., and German, M. P., K. C., respecting the alleged unconstitutionality of the electric power acts of the Ontario Legislature.

It was contended, first: That the acts were unconstitutional in purporting to give the Hydro-electric Power Commission power to provide electricity from water in the Niagara River, said to be controlled by the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park Commission, under the authority of an Ontario charter, when in fact the control of the river, as a navigable and boundary river, is vested exclusively in the Dominion Government. Secondly: That the acts were therefore unconstitutional and hence the assumption by the Province of Ontario of the power to start competition against the Electrical Development Company, in which millions of British capital are invested, was unconstitutional and invalid, and detrimental to the public credit of Canada as a whole.

Mr. German and Mr. Moss supported Mr. Chrysler's argument. Mr. German appeared also on behalf of a number of his constituents through whose property the Provincial power transmission lines run, and whose claims for compensation have not yet been settled by the Hydro-electric Power Commission. The legal points involved in the case were presented at considerable length, and the Government was asked either to veto the Ontario legislation on the grounds set forth, or else to allow of an appeal being taken to the Supreme Court to test its validity. The Attorney-General of the Province having refused a fiat to Major Murray to allow the case to come before the Ontario courts.

Sir Wilfrid and Dr. Pugsley promised that the arguments advanced by the Provincial power transmission lines, and whose claims for compensation are expected back in the capital from London to-morrow, and his opinion on the constitutional points at issue will be asked. The Federal Government, under the British North America Act, is allowed one year's time in which to veto any Provincial act deemed to be unconstitutional.

RUSTON ACQUITTED.

Jury, After One Hour, Free Him of Arson Charge.

Brampton, Oct. 7.—After exactly one hour's deliberation, the jury at 11 o'clock to-night returned a verdict of "not guilty" of the charge against Frank Ruston of burning his house for the insurance. The charge of Justice MacMahon was favorable to the prisoner on nearly all points.

Ruston, in his own behalf told the whole story of the fire, saying that when he was awakened the kitchen, parlor and hall were all on fire. He caught up his child, rolled her in quilts, and with one blow from a chair, smashed the window. The room was thick with smoke. The child was partly stupified. He carried her to a cutter, some distance from the house, returned to the room and gathered up the remainder of the bedding, the feather tick and mattress, together with his clothing and the valise which contained his child's clothes. He then rushed to a closet off the room, took out a box of 20 inches square, which was full of heavy china, and got it out. He said Dixon Rutherford was mistaken in saying that there was no cutter there, and that the child was seated on a mattress, and that he also was in error when he said Ruston told him he smashed in the cellar door and took china out that way.

Appointment and Adjustment of Salaries Made.

Crowded State of Schools Causes Some Comment.

At the meeting of the Internal Management Committee of the Board of Education last evening considerable time was taken up with the discussion of matters that have recently come to the front.

The applications for vacancies on the Public Schools' staffs were considered, and, incidentally, the old matter as to whether second class teachers should be employed when first class ones could not be had, came in for considerable discussion. It was finally explained that second class teachers started on a lower salary than first class. The teachers were to be filled by vacancies: Misses Kate A. Smith, C. Leitch, Ruth Macklin and J. M. McKenzie.

The advisability of appointing assistant teachers for kindergarten classes with more than fifty scholars in them was taken up, but no definite action was taken in the matter. Inspector Ballard explained that there were two very large classes by receiving over sixty kindergarten scholars and Pictou fifty-five.

Trustee Lee said his object in bringing up the matter of securing reports of the number of matriculation and entrance scholars, had been mistaken by some of the members, who apparently thought he was working against certain persons. In that they were entirely wrong, as his object was to make it possible to make comparisons, and, by so doing, secure improvements.

Principal Thompson, of the Collegiate, explained that such information was given in the Blue Book, which however would not be issued for some time. He further pointed out that such information would not be altogether reliable, as in many instances the scholars are put up for the express purpose of making the number of matriculation students greater. Of the total number of those in a class, thus doing away with all teachers, 27 per cent were successful.

A motion was carried that the Secretary secure the necessary information. Trustee Wm. Bell sprang a surprise when he stated that he had heard it said that when a student failed in examinations all that was necessary was for him to see the Chairman of the Board, and the word would be passed along to the Principal, who would "pass him."

Principal Thompson replied that such a statement would not have been made had the person known the exact manner in which the scholars are passed. He committed the matter to the whole-hearted advocacy of Canadian investments, and in my book entitled "Canada's Century" I was still more emphatic. I contended that nowhere in the world could capital reckon on better security against loss or confiscation than in Canada. I was supported by the Hon. Canada's Provincial loans within the scope of the Trustee Act, and I cited Ontario as par excellence the Province whose bonds were entitled to rank as gilt-edged securities! But now that the Government of Ontario has irked the good opinion of British investors, such improved status for Provincial loans in the London market no longer seems feasible. It is a fact, however, that, during the past three years—thanks to strenuous advocacy here—there has been an enormous increase in the flow of British capital to Canada; hence the great eagerness excited by the Ontario incident.

That incident is regarded as a test of Canada's probability of its claim to prime consideration from British capital. I doubt whether Sir James Whitney and his colleagues realize the surprise and mortification their action has excited here, when the approach of the ill-effects that may ensue. Well-wishers of Canada are grieved beyond measure that the British investor has been smitten in the house of a friend—that his reliance on Canadian integrity may seem to him a broken reed, that Canadian credit has been shaken in the Homeland's estimation. It is useless to argue that only one instance of seeming repudiation has occurred. The answer is that if the Government of a Province like Ontario violates and rides roughly over property rights, and declines to play the fair game, then anything may happen in the Ontario incident.

The whole Dominion of Canada is smirched in British estimation by the Ontario Government's treatment of the Electrical Development Co. The Ontario Government may be absolute in its own Province, and the Dominion Government, with its experience of the United States and other federal nations in mind, may conceivably shrink from raising the risky question of Federal vs. Provincial rights. I rather venture to suggest that a scheme of pacification should be devised—and that, in furtherance of such settlement, the friends co-operation or counsel of the Dominion authorities might be invaluable.

Unquestionably, till the Ontario province is closed, Canada as a whole will be prejudiced in this financial centre. It may be recalled that the prosperous Republic of Argentina, whose remarkable development has been fostered mainly by British capital, was ill-affected for years in European estimation because the Province of Buenos Ayres happened to be a contumelious defaulter. It was argued from Argentina that the federal republic was not responsible for the province's default. As I grow older I am beginning to think more of my fellow-man. I have worked hard because I like the doing of things. I have worked hard and work it out to a successful conclusion. That is about all there is in life for any of us. People seem to take more stock in a man who talks than in a man who acts. But this is a day devoted to isms and it will pass. I have always been too busy to think much about myself. The doctors are beginning to tell me that the other fellow ought to have a chance to do something.

A BRITISH VIEW.

A High Financial Authority on Whitney's Bad Faith.

The editor of the London, Eng. Financial and Bullionist, who has always taken a deep interest in things Canadian, has been giving some study to the statement made in the London Economist by Sir James Whitney, in defence of his power legislation and the breaches of faith which it involves toward British and Canadian investors and the public. His conclusion is that Sir James' course has been a serious detriment to Canada, and that his effort at defence "has not weakened the conviction that a grievously mistaken policy has been pursued and grave injustice done—that justice as well as equity has been strained to coerce and despoil those who backed Canadian development with their capital." And he continues:

Just because that belief is universal here, and there is serious risk of British sentiment being estranged, I venture to ask whether, even at the eleventh hour, a basis of agreement cannot be devised, a ranking sense of wrong assuaged, and the diversion of British capital averted? The Provincial Government has might if not right, on its side, and it may be impregnable to attack. It may ride roughshod over opposition; but it should not be impervious to reason, justice and expediency. Surely, if the most despotic powers of Europe shrink from repudiation or confiscation—if even Central American republics realize now that honesty is the best policy—it ill becomes the Government of a free, enlightened and progressive Province like Ontario to treat the British investor in ruthless and arbitrary fashion.

Sir James Whitney complains that "reputable financial and other journals" in London have condemned the policy of his Government, and he wishes to elicit all that might be said in its favor. Well, he has now been given the opportunity of presenting his own case, but the judicial instinct of the British public perceives that he has neither explained the motives of aggression nor justified the extraordinary action of his Government.

Is it surprising under the circumstances, that "reputable financial and other journals" in London condemn the action of the Ontario Government? That the incident is regarded as the most deplorable in recent financial history? That Canadian credit has suffered in the dominating money market of the world? That unpleasant comparisons are being made between Ontario and certain Latin-American republics, that are held in odium by the British investor?

Imagine how embarrassing it must be for anyone who, like myself, has been persistently commending Canada as a field for investment, to hear the reproaches of those who acted on such advice. As editor of The Financier & Bullionist, I made my first Canadian tour of investigation in the autumn of 1906. I was so impressed by what I saw that I committed the paper to the whole-hearted advocacy of Canadian investments, and in my book entitled "Canada's Century" I was still more emphatic. I contended that nowhere in the world could capital reckon on better security against loss or confiscation than in Canada. I was supported by the Hon. Canada's Provincial loans within the scope of the Trustee Act, and I cited Ontario as par excellence the Province whose bonds were entitled to rank as gilt-edged securities! expansion been reached? Or is not a very much larger proportion than hitherto of Britain's surplus wealth an absolute necessity if Canada is to fulfil her own great aims and the hopes of her most ardent friends? Or is it, scarcely seems wise or kindly to alienate the British investor by treatment he resents.

USED A HATCHET.

Woman Was Murdered in Her Home at Liberty, N. Y.

New York, Oct. 7.—A Liberty, New York, despatch to the World says that on returning from school at noon recess yesterday, young Horace Benton discovered his mother dead in an upper hallway of his home. The boy's shrieks brought the neighbors, who found him senseless beside his mother's body. In his grief and terror, Horace had fainted.

Every indication goes to prove that Mrs. Benton was murdered, and that her assailant's weapon was a hatchet. Her head bore several deep cuts, and her face was crushed by the blunt end of the weapon. The woman's husband, Cyrus Richard Benton, was arrested by order of District Attorney Baker, pending an inquiry by the coroner on Friday. Benton is prosperous and the proprietor of a large livery stable. His home is a fine one, on Upper Main street, in the best section of the town.

ALL ATE DURUM.

Scheme to Popularize the Grain in North Dakota.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 7.—In compliance with a proclamation of Governor Burke, North Dakotans to-day ate durum wheat only. The proclamation was issued in compliance with a request of the grain-growers of North and South Dakota and Minnesota for the purpose of establishing durum as a bread grain.

The day was observed throughout the State. All bread and wheat foods were made of durum, and the sales of that quality of flour in consequence were heavy. A widespread interest has been taken by the farmers in pushing the sale of durum, as with the price equal to that of other varieties of wheat the income from their land would be much increased. A test to-day showed it to be equal to standard hard varieties for bread and other food products.

WAITERS' SCHOOL.

Course of Instruction Not on the Chicago University's List.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—A school for waiters is the latest innovation at the University of Chicago. Here are some bits of instruction from its text book: "Avoid appearing to slam things down on the table. Most customers desire some part of their meal first. Do not scuffle, talk or drop trays. Never take in natural and leave the milk, for in such a case the customer cannot begin with his meal till you return. Always place a drink to the right of the customer. A waiter should never leave any customer after serving till he knows he has the necessary silverware to eat with. A cereal in the morning should be served right away, whether the rest of the order be ready or not. An egg with a broken yolk should not be served at all. Good scholarship will not make up for a deficiency in service. To be a good waiter it is essential that you should be quick, but also that you should not appear to hurry. Waiters should remove dirty dishes as soon as the customer is through, but be sure that he is through and avoid giving an impression that you are in a hurry for him to finish.

EDUCATIONAL COUNCIL.

Fifteen Candidates for Advisory Council Nominated.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Nominations closed on Wednesday for the advisory council of education and elections will take place two weeks hence. The following candidates were elected: By the public school inspectors—N. W. Campbell, Durham, inspector of South Grey, W. L. Cheholm, M. A. Kinardine, inspector West Bruce; W. H. B. Collins, Chatham, inspector of East Kent. By the high school teachers—C. L. Crasweller, M. A., Sarnia; Stephen Martin, M. A., St. Mary's; Gilbert A. Smith, M. A., Toronto (Jameson). By the public school teachers—Harriet Johnston, Toronto; A. A. Jordan, Kingston; Charlotte E. Lovick, Kingston; Thos. McJanet, Ottawa; J. W. Plewes, Chatham; Thos. Agnew Reid, Owen Sound.

John J. Rogers, M. A., has been elected representative of the separate school teachers. John Matheson, M. A., representative of Queen's University. Rev. W. J. Murphy, D. D., representative of Ottawa University. The elections will be held between October 20th and November 3rd. At the last polling there were over four thousand votes cast among the public school teachers. Only those with permanent certificates are eligible.

clergyman and he taught his boys to be earnest in everything they did. There are two things that menace the prosperity of this country—idle money and idle labor. The one is as mischievous as the other. It has always seemed wiser to me to sleep on the roof than in the basement. "Pull" can never carry a man far. It is hard work and application that count. Fifty years from now 5 per cent. return on capital will be considered as good as 10 per cent. now. But that need not worry you nor me. We have had monkey dinners and the idle and foolish vaporing and routs of society. Now is the time for less champagne and truffles and more roast beef and milk. The people have the get-rich-quick bacillus. It's a fearful disease. It's the only menace to this country. I truly believe that if wives were to take more interest in their husbands' affairs we would have a happier world. What sensible man doesn't believe in God? Religion saves and advances civilization. "How do you know those people are sincere lovers of music?" "By the fact," replied Miss Gurney, "that they compelled their youngest boy to stop tramping to learn the piano."—Washington Star.
