CHAPTER XV.

Of arches formed by the green willow trees beside it, of dark, cold, shadowy nooks, of laughing hillsides which glowed in the sun, of green fields, of white swans that sailed down it, of reeds and sedges through which the wind made music, of pretty rustic bridges that spanned it, of lovers that whispered sweet words on its banks—all of these the river seemed to murmur.

The ground of the mansion extended to the very banks of the river. There was a picturesque old boat-house, haunted, so rumor said, by the spirit of a jealous, unhappy lady who had drowned herself in the stream, and whose dead body had drifted into the cool, silent shadows of the boat-house, where it was found the next day.

The Brent woods were as beautiful as a dream—a fair, green kingdom, inhabited by the most musical of birds, by shy rabbits, by saucy squirrels, by a thousand living things known only to ardent students of Nature. There were avenues like great cathedral aisles, full of gleaming lights, half green, half gold; lovely shady "clearings," where the flowers grew so that they formed a carpet—butter-cups and daisies, meadow-sweet and celandine, wild hyacinths and blue-bells, flowers enough to send a poet or artist into raptures. Hidden in the woods, too, were numerous little brooks, tributaries of the river Brent.

As the mansion stood on the slope of a great green hill, its appearance was very striking. From the background there seemed to arise a forest of green; on either side stretched smiling woodlands, and in front the beautiful terraces and grounds sloped down to the brimming river.

The general had invited several guests to Brentwood, and the party promised to be a very pleasant one.

"At some future day you will be sole mistress of this beautiful place, Leah," said the duchess, as they were walking one morning on the great terrace.

"I suppose so," she replied; "but I never like to think of the time, I wish that my uncle could live as long as if not longer than, I shall." She seemed anxious not to continue the conversation, for soon afterward she clasped her hands in delight. "O, duchess!" she said, "what quantities of my favorite passion-flower! And what colors—purple, scarlet, and blue! What rich clusters! I must gather some; they are like the faces of old friends smiling at me."

"You have brought passion-flowers into fashion," the duchess said smiling; "I never saw you without them. Why do you like them better than any other flower, Leah?"

"I do not know. I think it is because they are mystical flowers; they are full of mystery and passion and sorrow."

"You ought to like red roses best," said the duchess; "they suit you."

"No," returned Leah; "give me scarlet passion-flowers; they seem to me choicest of all."

"I suppose," laughed the duchess, "that when the ideal 'he' comes it will be discovered that his favorite flower is the passion-flower?"

"I should not be surprised," replied Leah, gently.

"That will be one of the signs by which you will know him," said the duchess, mockingly; but afterward the words came back to her, and she marvelled at them.

What the duchess had said was true—Leah had brought the passion-flower into fashion. It was her favorite. If in a fashionable crowd one saw the gleam of scarlet passion-flowers, it was certain that beautiful Leah Hatton was there. This fancy of hers was well known when Millar, the great artist, painted her portrait—that year the loveliest picture on the walls of the Royal Academy. He carried out the poetic idea, he painted her, in all the pride of her girlish beauty, in a dress of superb black velvet, with scarlet passion-flowers in her dark hair, on her white breast, and shining like flame in her shapely hand. The picture created quite as great a sensation as the original had. People crowded to see it. The artist had named it "The Passion-flower," and those who saw it felt that there was some strange affinity between the beautiful face, with its dark eyes and wild-rose bloom, its ripe, scarlet lips, its dawn of passion, and the passion-flower. The critics all raved of it, society journals praised it, and it brought the mystical flower into fashion; and during the third season Miss Hatton spent in London she was known as the "Passion-flower."

"I have had an adventure this morning," said Sir Arthur, as they sat down to luncheon. "I find that the young master of Glen is expected home during the week. I lost my way in the woods, and came out quite close to the mansion; I have been all over it."

"Where and what is Glen?" asked the duchess.

And Sir Arthur smiled as he said: "I ought to be a poet to answer you; it is almost impossible to do so in prose. Glen is simply one of the most lovely spots I know in England."

"More beautiful than Brentwood, uncle?" asked Leah.

"Quite different, Leah. Glen was once the dower-house of a queen; three hundred years ago it came into possession of the Carltons, and has been theirs ever since. It is simply perfect. Your eyes are almost dazzled by the gleam of sunlight in the waters of the many fountains, and by the bright colors of the flowers. The surroundings, too, are most picturesque."

"I should like to see it," said the duchess.

"So, should I," added Leah.

"Fair ladies," cried Sir Arthur, "you shall see it whenever you will. The house itself looks so cheerful, no one would ever think that it had once been the scene of a tragedy."

"Was it?" asked the duchess. "Tell it to us."

"I am a new-comer," said the general, "and naturally enough, I know but little about it. But one of the gardeners at Glen spoke of the story this morning. I asked him how long the house had been closed, and he said fifteen years. Of course, I asked him how that was, and he said that Lady Carlton could never bear to enter it again, and that after the accident, she had taken her son, Sir Basil, to Italy, where she spent the remainder of her life, but that he, now that his mother was dead, was coming back to live here."

"What was the accident?" asked the duchess.

"A very horrible one. Lady Carlton was left a widow when she was very young. She had but two children—a girl and a boy; the daughter, Leah, was seven years older than the son. She was a very winning girl, the very joy of Lady Carlton's heart. She fell in love—I forget who the lover was—and everything was arranged for the wedding. She was then eighteen, and the young brother only eleven. On the night before the wedding Lady Carlton gave a grand ball, and Glen was filled with a gay crowd of guests; they danced until the very walls seemed to rock. The old man told me that the bride was like some lovely laughing fairy. Just as the ball was closing, and when the happiness and gaiety were greatest, a terrible cry was heard. It came from the supper-room, the grand old banquet-hall where kings and queens had feasted. The guests rushed out, only to witness a most horrible scene. The beautiful bride, with terrible cries, was seen flying across the hall, her bright gossamer robes all aflame. Her light, fluttering ball-dress had caught fire, and, the draught of air fanning the flames, they met over her head and enveloped her. For a moment every one was paralyzed; and then one of the guests, a gentleman, caught up a thick rug and rolled it round her. He was burned terribly, but he extinguished the flames. It was too late. When the hapless lover hastened to the hall, he saw the girl lying in her agony on the ground, her golden hair burned, her face distorted, her pretty dress of white lace and the white water-lilies all hanging in scorched shreds around her. She spoke a few words to him, and then they carried her upstairs to die."

"What a terrible story!" said the duchess.

"When Lady Carlton recovered from the shock," added Sir Arthur, "she went abroad, and took her son with her. She died at Naples last year, and the master, Sir Basil, is coming home."

"It will be a great trial to him to return to the scene of such a catastrophe," said the kindly duchess. "You must ask him here as often as you can."

"The house is so cheerful, so bright and beautiful, you would never think that a tragedy had happened there."

"There is a tragedy associated with most houses, but the world does not know it," said the duchess.

"I pray heaven," said the general, "that there will never be one in this."

CHAPTER XVI.

It was a lovely day in the first week of August. The laughing summer had taken full possession of the land; the yellow wheat and the glowing fruit had been kissed to ripeness by the warm sun. The sky was blue, without a cloud, and the fruitful earth fair to view. The river flowed calmly between the green banks, rustling through the reeds and sedges, stirring the great leaves of the lillies, rippling over the drooping boughs.

It was drawing near noon. Some of the men had sought the coolness of the billiard-room; some of the ladies had retired to the shade of the great cedar-tree, with books and work. Leah had gone to her favorite spot, the terrace, where the passion-flowers grew in such profusion. She had taken them under her special protection and visited them every day. She little knew what a beautiful picture she made while standing there. Her exquisite face, with its dainty color and sweet lips, was bent thoughtfully over the flowers. She wore a long trailing dress of pale amber. Her graceful line of her figure was seen to the greatest advantage; an artist who could have painted her as she stood there in the shade of the veranda, with the glorious coloring of sunlight and flowers about her, would have immortalized herself. She smiled as she gathered some of the passion-flowers, remembering the name given to her.

Sauce flavored with orange or pineapple juice should be served with guinea.

Bonbons of fondant colored red and flavored with cinnamon are attractive.

Plain dark gingham should be starched in very blue starch.

Next came the hour-glass, one form of which is still used to measure the three and a half minutes needed for boiling an egg. This was followed by the hour-candle, a "dip" divided into rings, each of which represented an hour's burning.

The Milk Your Baby Drinks

BABY'S milk must be safe milk—and above all else, Carnation Milk is safe milk. Produced in the heart of Canada's finest dairy sections, delivered fresh and pure to our condenseries, immediately evaporated, SEALED in bright, new containers and STERILIZED—what milk could be safer for your baby?

Carnation convenience is another advantage—you can keep a month's supply of it ahead. The Carnation Cook Book tells fully how safety, purity, and uniform quality are obtained in Carnation Milk.

Your doctor will be glad to prescribe Carnation Milk and tell you to what strength you should dilute it.

You'll value the Carnation book of 100 tested recipes. Write for a copy. Try this recipe.

BOILED SOFT CUSTARD.

2 eggs, 1 1/3 cups water, 2/3 cup Carnation Milk, 1/4 teaspoonful salt, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar, 1/2 teaspoonful vanilla. Beat egg yolks slightly, add sugar and salt, then add milk diluted with the water. Cook in double boiler and stir until mixture thickens and a coating is formed on spoon. Chill and flavor. Serve in sherbet glasses and place the stiffly beaten whites on top. This recipe serves six people.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs. Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness. He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39."

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

How Our Ancestors Told the Time.

Primitive man did not worry much about the time. He rose when daylight woke him, and went to bed at dark. For the rest he was content to know that the sun's highest point meant that the middle of the day had come, and that when it was sinking towards the horizon it was time for him to seek his cave.

Later he watched the moving shadow of his spear standing upright in the soil. From this shadow he conceived the idea of the oldest of all clocks, the sundial. But it had one serious disadvantage; it marked only the sunny hours, taking no account of those that passed by night.

NATURE HELPS INVENTORS.

His next idea was the water-clock, which has been in use among the peoples of the East for more than four thousand years. This consisted of a vessel filled with water upon whose surface was a float provided with a long peg. A hole in the bottom of the vessel allowed the water to escape gradually, lowering the peg as its level sank. The peg was marked off into divisions, each of which showed the distance fallen in one hour. A glance at the height of the peg above the rim of the vessel showed the exact time by day or night.

Next came the hour-glass, one form of which is still used to measure the three and a half minutes needed for boiling an egg. This was followed by the hour-candle, a "dip" divided into rings, each of which represented an hour's burning.

World's Radium.

The mechanical clock was suggested by the human pulse. If you know the rate of your pulse you can measure off a minute quite easily. Make an instrument that will swing, beat, or tick in the same consistent way, and the clock comes into being.

The problem was solved when someone got the idea of the pendulum by watching the rhythmic swing of a mason's plumb-line.

Six Ounces or £4,000,000 Worth Produced in Twenty-Six Years.

Where has all the radium gone that has been produced since the discovery of radium-activity in 1897? This point was raised by Sir Ernest Rutherford, director of the Cavendish Laboratory, Cambridge University, in a lecture delivered at the Royal Institution, Albemarle-street, W., when he stated that in all some 160 grams (nearly six ounces) of radium had been produced, the value being in the neighborhood of £4,000,000.

Large quantities were used during the war, and the bulk of it is undoubtedly in use in various hospitals all over the world. The scientists and men investigating radium and its power to effect the destruction of the atom and the transmutation of metals have only five or six grams in their joint possession, and this only through the generosity of the various radium producers.

The great bulk of radium to-day, said Sir Ernest, was produced from the mineral carnotite; 5,000 tons of this ore had to be hand-picked and sorted down to 500 tons, and this amount was treated to produce one gram of radium (about 15 1/2 grains).

If the amount of ore used in extraction were represented by the distance between London and Edinburgh (400 miles), the quantity of radium produced from it would be represented by four inches!

The great beauty of buying radium, he said, is that fraud is so easily prevented. By means of a special type of delicate electro-scope, which he showed in action, the amount of radium present in a bottle or tube can be measured with an accuracy of 1 in 200 without opening the bottle.

Monsters of the Air.

BIRDS THAT COULD LIFT MEN.

Recent scientific discoveries in various parts of the world go to prove that in times long gone by there were birds big enough to lift a man into the air without difficulty!

It is well known that an eagle with a five-foot spread of wings can lift a lamb weighing ten pounds, and that a bird can generally lift one half more than its own weight. Many of the enormous birds of ancient times weighed many hundreds of pounds, and some of them had a spread of wings which would cover a present-day tramcar.

Parrots Seven Feet High.

There once lived in the Rocky Mountains of America a race of parrots seven feet high! One nearly complete skeleton of this remarkable species has been preserved, and fragments of others have recently been dug up. Three parrots are supposed to have trodden the earth about 3,000,000 years ago.

Another amazing creature was a running bird of prey of the heron family. It had a head larger than that of a horse, with a huge sharp beak, and was 8 ft. high. Like the parrot, it could not fly to any height, as its wings were not large enough to support it.

In the island of Madagascar there used to be an enormous bird called the aepyornis. This creature was 10 ft. high and laid eggs 13 in. long and 8 ft. in circumference! It is supposed to have become extinct only little more than a century ago.

Although the aepyornis must have been a sufficiently awe-inspiring sight, the "giant moa" of New Zealand, which stood 14 ft. high and weighed at least half a ton, must have been even more so.

Kidney Trouble

Is Usually Due to Constipation

When you are constipated, there is not enough lubricant produced by your system to keep the food waste soft. Doctors prescribe Nujol because its action is so close to this natural lubricant.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

The Worm Will Turn.

When some nation of oppressed foreigners is in danger of persecution meetings are held in Trafalgar Square, London, to protest against the wrongs being done. Do such things ever happen as a protest against tobacco prices in which, truth to tell, the average Englishman is far more interested than in the sufferings of any other nation, however oppressed? Never. He cares too much. He thinks that it would be bad form. Somebody might twist him on his fondness for tobacco. It is a shrewdness of this kind that has given us our not wholly deserved reputation for national hypocrisy. Yet the price of tobacco remains, and the Briton is a heavy smoker. He is silent. But, like the parrot, he is a "devil in a suit."—London Daily Express.

Retreat for Men.

The Retreat for Men, which opened at the R. C. Cathedral and St. Patrick's Church last night, was largely attended, both churches being filled to capacity. At the Cathedral Rev. Fr. Oughlan preached an excellent sermon on "Why am I here?"

Diana's Prize Ticket.

Yesterday afternoon the prize for the Diana in the C.L.B. Sweepstake was drawn at the C.L.B. Armoury. Ticket 3836 to $840 was announced to be the winning one and the holder will receive a prize of $300.

Vote of Censure Turned Down in Commons.

Conservatives Hostile Toward Coalition—Great Britain Ready to Pay War Interest—Anglo-French Difficulty May Arise Over Question.

LLOYD GEORGE INTERVENES.
LONDON, April 5.—The employers' lockout of forty-seven engineering unions apart from the amalgamated engineers union, to have become effective to-night, has been suspended pending negotiations between the employers and representatives of the unions which will open on Monday. The new turn of events is said largely to be due to the mediation of Premier Lloyd George.

DIE-HARDS STILL ACTIVE.
LONDON, April 5.—A motion attacking the Coalition to be presented in the Commons to-night by Sir William Joynton Hicks, Unionist, has attracted considerable attention, but is not considered to cause serious trouble for the Government. The motion is, however, a clear indication of the continuing hostile attitude of a considerable section of Conservatives toward the Coalition.

COALITION AGAIN SUCCESSFUL.
LONDON, April 5.—Although a number of Laborites and Independent Liberals voted with the Die-hards, the motion of Sir William Joynton Hicks, censuring the Government was overwhelmingly defeated in the House of Commons to-night. Joynton Hicks disavowed any intention of personal attack upon the Premier or his principles to the Conservative policy. The perpetuation of the Coalition on present lines would result in revolution, he thought. Colonel Hurst, Manchester moved an amendment that "the lack of definite and coherent principle and policy in the Coalition Government is a myth engendered by misunderstanding and misrepresentation." Hurst said in view of the great danger of socialism and Bolshevism the Coalition was necessary. The amendment carried 288 to 95.

WAR DEBTS' INTEREST.
LONDON, April 5.—The British Government addressed a note to the Allies declaring that, owing to the fact that Great Britain has to pay interest on her debt to the United States, she reserves the right to call upon the Allies in turn to pay interest on their war debts to Great Britain. It is further pointed out that Great Britain is now fully prepared to pay the interest due the United States.

WILL NOT RENEW.
PARIS, April 5.—The French reply to the British note concerning the payment of interest on war loans is likely to be that the question is bound up with that of the Inter-Allied debts which must be dealt with as a whole, says the Echo de Paris. Piecemeal payments only hamper settlement, the reply will say. A British communication has notified France that the three years convention expiring at an early date would not be renewed.

CATTLE RAIDERS.
CARRICK-ON-SHANNON, April 5.—One hundred raiders drove off a large number of cattle from a ranch here to-day.

DISCUSSING BRITISH PERFERENCE.
OTTAWA, April 5.—Hance Logan, of Nova Scotia moved in the House to-day that the British customs preference be confined to goods entering Canada through Canadian ports. Lewis, a western Progressive, moved in amendment that British preference be increased 25 per cent. on all goods entering through Canadian ports. After a long discussion both resolution and amendment were withdrawn. Logan is speaking to the Finance Minister to deal with the question in the budget speech.

AGAINST WHEAT BOARD.
MONTREAL, April 5.—Emphatic disapproval of the proposed resurrection of the Canada Wheat Board was voiced in a resolution adopted at a special meeting of the Montreal Corn Exchange Association to-day. It was claimed the Government, to assure the effects desired by the Western grain growers, would have to guarantee a minimum price for wheat. This was considered an unsound proposition economically, working injustice to the rest of the community for the benefit of one class.

LAST SINN FEINERS RELEASED.
LONDON, April 5.—Fourteen Sinn Feiners were released from English prisons during the week end. They are believed to be the last of such prisoners convicted of offenses in this country.

STEAMSHIP RATE WAR IN PROGRESS.
WASHINGTON, April 5.—The prospect of an aggressive steamship rate war at Vancouver, B. C., affecting all commodities between Canada and the Orient is reported to the Department of Commerce by American Consul General Ryder at Vancouver.

PART WAY.
CAPE VERDE ISLANDS, April 5.—The two Portuguese aviators attempting a flight from Lisbon to Brazil, reached here to-day.

ROBBING TRAINS NOW.
MULLINGAR, IRELAND, April 5.—A freight train was held up here and a large quantity of foodstuffs and whiskey from Belfast carried off. The foodstuffs were distributed among the poor.

NEWSPAPERS AND MAIL DESTROYED.
DUNDALK, April 5.—Newspapers and mail from Belfast were taken off trains here to-day and burned.

Lord Halsbury's Will.

FAULTILY MADE ON HALF-SHEETS OF PAPER.

The Earl of Halsbury, of Ennismore-gardens, S.W., and of Pendrucombe, Cornwall, for 17 years Lord Chancellor of England, who died aged 98, left unsettled property of the gross value of £25,009 11s. 6d.

He left three wills, each made in his own hand on a sheet or half-sheet of notepaper. He directed that the Great Seals given to him by Queen Victoria and King Edward VII and the Giffard Ring should devolve as heirlooms with the title, and he left all his other property to his wife, stating that the absence of reference to his children was no reflection upon them but because he had already made such provision for them during his illness as his means would permit.

Like many other great lawyers, Lord Halsbury made his own will and did not do it satisfactorily. Affidavits from the witnesses were required before it could be admitted to probate. The list of eminent lawyers who made a muddle of drawing their own wills is a long one. Lord St. Heller, who, as Sir Francis Jeune, was for many years President of the Probate Division, left as a will a document which transgressed most of the rules and requirements for a valid will. Lord Grimthorpe left a series of testamentary documents which were the subject of litigation and whose intention it was impossible to ascertain, while two other great Chancellors, Lord Brougham and Lord Lyndhurst, left unsatisfactory wills.—English Paper.

Electrical Wizard's Rise.

Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, so-called electrical wizard, who has succeeded in producing and controlling an indoor thunderstorm, is credited with knowing more about electrical power than any other person in the world. Thirty years ago he landed in New York, a penniless emigrant from Germany. He knew no one and lacked even a knowledge of the language. For days the poor hunchback emigrant walked the streets of New York looking for a job. Finally he landed a place as a draughtsman that paid $12 a week. However, his rise was rapid. His wonderful genius forced recognition; within five years he had made a name for himself in the electrical world. To-day he is the chief consulting engineer of the General Electric Company, the greatest organization of his kind in the world.

Emblem of Satisfaction

For the fourth consecutive year Buick has been awarded first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This honor is conferred each year by the automobile manufacturers who are members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, upon the member having done the greatest volume of business during the previous year.

The figures on which the 1922 award was made proved Buick to be the largest builder of six-cylinder cars in the world.

We invite you to ask for a catalog of the new BUICK models, including the wonderful FOUR Cylinder Buick.

At Its Old Game.

The only section of the Government press featuring in St. John's to-day is that which also is the official organ of the Fishermen's Protective Union, and therefore must necessarily be opposed to any action taken by the commercial body of the Colony to protect their own and the people's interests from the assaults of political brigands, because the fixed policy of that delectable journal is to oppose tooth and nail anything which might be done to bring about a more equitable condition than obtains at present.

But it is a remarkable fact that the Advocate never argues a priori but always a posteriori. Cause and effect is an unknown quantity to the men whose minds are so steeped in party politics that they cannot see over the horizon of the future. They make a pretence of defending the Government, not because they are prepossessed in its favor, but because they have to. No matter how their consciences work, if they possess any, their motto is always to boost Mr. Coaker and the party that he dominates.

As a matter of fact the Advocate adopted the same sneering and jeering attitude toward the great demonstration in the spring of 1919; and again in its references to the fishermen's meeting of the fall of 1920, when only wise counsels saved its building from being torn from the foundations on which it stands by the insulted men of the North, who have not forgotten the insolence of that paper on that occasion.

day's gathering while called by the Board of Trade was not confined to that body alone. Men who were convinced that something should be done to save the country from the clutches of the vultures who are fighting over the carrion of public monies, were present and were prepared to back up the speakers who had sufficient courage to give vent to their convictions. Your true Newfoundlander has no use for "pussyfooters," and there are many of this kidney in the city of St. John's, who are pussy-footing over very thin ice, yet there is no mistaking their position. The present is no time for the finesse of fencing. Cut and thrust is the only method of attack, and the Board of Trade having taken up the fight in defence, not only of their rights but of all Newfoundland, should have the united support of all honest men, so long as they stick to the issue, and refuse to be turned aside by those who have not the inherent courage to call a spade a spade.

PREMIER DELIVERS BUDGET SPEECH - NO ATTEMPT AT ECONOMY-ADJOURNMENT TAKEN.

The Prime Minister delivered the Budget Speech yesterday afternoon, and following the rising of the committee, adjournment was taken until Monday. His Excellency the Governor attended in the Council Chamber at 5 p.m. and gave his assent to the Loan and other Bills. The Budget showed that no effort would be made to cut down expenditure by the Government. The Prime Minister, and possibly, some of his party, were all who were satisfied with it. His statement to the effect that "the conservative and business-like methods of the Government" had helped make both ends meet, was unintentionally humorous. The main features of the Budget are, as foreshadowed in the Telegram, an increase of one cent on foreign letter postage and a tax on newspapers of 1/2 cent a pound. The Prime Minister said the present financial condition was better than that anticipated in the Budget Speech of last year, which, by the way, did not foreshadow a $6,000,000 loan. He said also that the net results of the accounts for the present fiscal year 1921-22 were:

Estimated Revenue... $8,903,908.00
Estimated Expenditure... 8,879,492.00
Estimated Surplus... 24,316.00
The estimate for the next fiscal year 1922-23 is:

Estimated Revenue... $8,953,000.00
Estimated Expenditure... 8,844,464.18
Estimated Surplus... 108,535.82

There is a reference to the Tariff Commission but no changes in the tariff will be made this year! The Premier's statement that "Newfoundland has passed through many periods of severe depression, some much more depressing and severe than that of the past or present year" showed him to be possessed of an unbounded optimism, which, unfortunately, the condition of the country does not warrant. The Opposition will come down like wolves on the Government fold on Monday, when the debate opens, and they will not so easily be turned away as was Sennacherib.

First event to-night's Boxing Tournaments C. L. B. Armoury begins at 8.45.

Colony Loses $253,895.35

On Purchase Labrador Fish.

(Auditor General's Report.)

The closing of the account for the purchase of Labrador fish places me in a position to report definitely on that transaction. Of the amount authorized, i.e., $500,000, $415,206.42 was placed in the Bank and $409,162.53 was drawn against this credit. The balance of the warrant ($84,793.58) not being required, was dropped. The cash balance of $6,043.89 remaining in the Bank was refunded to the Treasury under the head of Miscellaneous Revenue, 1920-21. The net expenditure for the purchase of Labrador fish was therefore $409,162.53. Against this there has been received by the Department of Marine and Fisheries, for sales of fish, $155,267.18, which sum has been passed to the credit of Exchequer account, 1920-21. The Colony's account has thus lost $253,895.35 on this adventure, a sum it can ill afford to lose under present financial stress.

Trouble in Prospect.

UNEMPLOYED MAY CAUSE TURBANCE - THREATEN TO HOLD UP TRAIN.

Trouble seems to have developed at Seal Cove, where a number of men from the city are employed making repairs to the railway track. The men are taken out from here daily on a working train, but yesterday the train did not go out, although the men were at the station. It is said that the residents of the section object to having men sent from the city, to work in their locality, when themselves are in need of work. That the people along the shore are in a serious mood can be gleaned from the following message received by Dr. Jones, M.H.A. for Harbor Main: "Kelligrews—One hundred and fifty men working here were put off this morning. We want to know the trouble, as about thirty men are kept on. We intend holding up this morning's train to proceed to St. John's. If we don't get work there will be no one else work. Awaiting a reply. Signed on behalf of the men. DENIS DOYLE, JOHN HICKEY."

It is evident from the above message that other than St. John's men are working on the line and that practically all have been laid off. Dr. Jones wired the men this morning not to cause any trouble and he would make every attempt to have the matter adjusted. Through his efforts this morning arrangements were made to have a train take the men to their homes around the Bay. The shore train was due at Kelligrews at 1 p.m., but it could not be learned before press hour if it had been held up or not.

The Mounted Police.

STABLES BUILT YEARS AGO. The personnel of the mounted police patrol is as follows:—District Inspector Noseworthy, Constables Russell, McCue, Brazil, Noseworthy and Bishop. The addition of one constable will bring the patrol up to full strength. It is not generally known that in 1901, when the Bond Government decided to organize a mounted police, splendidly fitted stables were built near the Central Fire Hall, and until the re-organization of the force this year, were not used. There has been a vote of $1200 for forge in connection with the horses of the mounted police in the estimates for the past twenty years.

Kyle Jammed.

N.E. GALE IN GULF.

S.S. Kyle, which left Port aux Basques on Sunday for Louisburg, is jammed in heavy ice twelve miles from that port. A northeast gale packed the ice in the Gulf and it is not known how soon the Kyle will get through. In the meantime, mails are again held up. A foreign mail left for Port aux Basques by to-day's express, but may be considerably delayed in reaching its destination on account of the Kyle.

A Million a Minute.

RECORDED PASSAGE OF LOAN BILL. The Loan Bill which was up for discussion in the Legislative Council, on Wednesday, passed through all its stages in six minutes. The loan amounted to six million dollars, so that a record of a million a minute was reached.

Minard's Lintment for Burns, Etc.

The Tariff Commission

NOT REPRESENTATIVE. The Tariff Commission has now been appointed and will get down to work shortly. It does not appear to be a representative commission and much adverse comment has been expressed. The personnel is:—Chairman, Hon. H. J. Brownrigg; Secretary, Dr. H. M. Mosdell, and Messrs. F. W. Angel, C. P. Ayre, J. J. McKay, M. Greene, J. V. O'Dea, F. Harris and H. W. LeMessurier.

A Great Atonement.

WOULD LIE DOWN AND BE KICKED. That he offered to atone by lying down and letting the plaintiff kick him was the statement made by a fireman of a sealing steamer, who was charged before Judge Morris to-day with assault. The trouble arose over a barrel of flippers belonging to a sealer on the same ship. This barrel was missing when the steamer arrived in port and the sealer accused the fireman of throwing it overboard, and called him a "corner boy." This aroused the fighting spirit of the accused and he landed a punch on the accused's optic which closed that useful organ for a few days. His Honor could not accept the accused's offer of atonement as a settlement and fined him $5.

Young Sailor's Wanderings.

Vancouver, March 27.—Clad in overalls and minus underwear or overcoat, Leo Kersey, 18-year-old sailor, crossed Canada from coast to coast this winter, stealing rides on trans-continental trains. He reached Vancouver with a charge of vagrancy attached to him and now is in jail. Kersey was born in Murphy's Lane, St. John's, Nfld., and has followed the sea for eight years. When his sentence is finished the police authorities have promised him a steady job—if the wanderlust will permit him to hold it.—Montreal Gazette.

Party Meeting.

GOVERNMENT ON HORNS OF DILEMMA.

The Government is holding a party meeting this afternoon and among the several things which will come up for discussion, the question of fishery supplies is expected to be the most important. Many fishermen, incited by the dangerous precedent established last year, are demanding that the Government should give a further guarantee this year, but it is believed that the general consensus of opinion is against taking such action.

McMurdo's Store News.

THURSDAY, April 6. There seems to be a certain amount of grip or cold, if hardly "flu" knocking around, and a note of a convenient means of combating trouble of this sort may be needed. Our Laxative Bromide Tablets with Quinine is an outstanding remedy for these conditions, and the prompt use of them at the very beginning of an attack is important. So if you feel the first symptoms of a cold or chill, step in and get a box of these Tablets, and see how soon the trouble will disappear. Price 30 cents a box.

HIS DIARY.

April 5th.—A half holiday, so little work to be done. I to the Parliament House and hear the Prime Minister read the Budget speech, but it little to my liking, or, I think, to any man's. I sit with Mr. Morgan, the Railway man, and he much interested in the proceedings. After the reading of the speech, the commons did wait till the Governor came in and sent for them. And then the several bills were read, and the Governor assents and signs them in the proper terms, according to the nature of the Bills. So the Commons went to their own House and forthwith adjourned. I pay a visit to the Government rooms and discuss many things with Mr. Gosse, Mr. Cheeseman and Mr. Guppy. So home, and on my way, meeting Sir P. T. McGrath, he did bring me to his home and did give me an article about the library of the great Samuel, my ancestor. Going out at night, I met with Mr. Miller who cries out against the Budget and will have it that the Government are a pack of rogues. Whereat, I beseech him to be quiet and did remonstrate with him for his force of language.

Boxing Preliminaries.

EXCITING CONTESTS YESTERDAY.

For the first time in many years, the public was given an opportunity to see a boxing contest, when the preliminaries in the big Memorial Exhibition were run off yesterday in the C.L.B. Armoury. The wrestling bouts were also very interesting. The bouts will take place to-night. The meet is under the auspices of the I.A.A. and the winners will be champions in their various weights, of Newfoundland. The rules governing the tournament are adapted from those of the International Amateur Championships Committee, who conducted the interallied meet at Paris three years ago. After the contests had been weighed in by Messrs. V. Chesman, W. H. Jackson and Bert Colton, they were examined by Mr. John Grievie, the medical officer.

EXCITING WRESTLING.

The first preliminary was a wrestling bout between two featherweights, Ern Goodland and F. Stone. Goodland tipped the scales at 121½ lbs. and Stone at 123 lbs. The bout was to last no longer than 15 minutes and the first fall was to count as a win. The contestants struggled for the full time without either obtaining any definite advantage. A draw was declared by referee B. B. Stafford. Later, Goodland and Stone wrestled again, but no fall could be secured. In their final attempt Goodland was awarded the contest on points. Two excellent wrestlers, Fred Marshall, 135½ lbs. and Adams, 138 lbs. came to grips in the welterweight bout. Marshall won on points. The second welterweight bout between Hammond, 133½ lbs. and Diamond, 137 lbs. was won by the former with scissors hold in 4 minutes 13 secs.

FAST BOXING.

Mr. Jim Vincombe conducted the boxing bouts, with Messrs. F. F. Malone and Fred Marshall as judges, and Messrs. Arthur Johnson and W. Hamilton as official ring seconds. Messrs. Cyril Duley, C. Hall and Karl Farnell were timekeepers. The first bout was between Danny Delmar (114 lbs.) and J. M. Lee (112 lbs.) and consisted of four 2 minute rounds. Delmar's footwork was well worth seeing and he proved a more clever boxer than his opponent. He was awarded a win on points. In the next contest, Macklin 111 lbs. faced Duckworth, 112 lbs. The bout was very fast. Duckworth was on the offensive in the first round, but Macklin's footwork and good defence kept him off. In the second round Macklin had the advantage and in the third, honors were even. The last round was fast and exciting. It was won by Duckworth on points. The third bout was a bit tamer than the others. The contestants were F. Byrne and A. Martin. Byrne won on points, having led the attack for the whole time.

TO-NIGHT'S CONTESTS.

To-night's wrestling card will be: Hall (124) vs. E. Goodland (121); Hennebury (128) vs. C. Stone (121); Fred Marshall (135) vs. A. Hammond (133); F. Gontar (153) vs. Martin (153); and boxer, Delmar (14) vs. Duckworth (112); Parker (13) vs. R. H. Bunt (123); Ed. Mansfield (135) vs. A. Hood (134); F. Marshall (135) vs. Max O'Rourke (144); Spry (154) vs. Frank Byrne (154); W. Burns (138) vs. A. J. O'Rourke (165). The three crazy clown acts, Fitz and Stasia will also be on to-night and the C.L.B. Band under Capt. A. Morris, will render excellent music.

CLEARING WATER STREET.—A number of men were busy yesterday removing the ice and snow from Water Street. The Municipal motor truck was employed hauling the material to the cove and a considerable amount of work was done.

Obituary.

MRS. FRANCIS O'BRIEN.

"Leaves her time to fall
And flowers to wither at the North winds breath;
And stars to set—but all!
Thou hast all seasons for thine own
O Death."

True, all seasons and all ages must yield to the Grim Reaper. Again has it visited Holyrood, and carried off one of its most estimable old ladies in the person of Mrs. Francis O'Brien. For the past three years she had been suffering from rheumatism, but hopes of her recovery were always looked forward to by her children and friends. All that medical skill could do was not successful in prolonging her life, and on Wednesday night at 12:30 her generous soul winged its flight to a brighter home. Rev. Fr. Finn was in constant attendance during the last months of her illness, and administered spiritual strength and comfort. Her funeral took place on Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. P. Byrne, with whom she had resided the past year, to the Church of Holy Cross where Requiem Mass was solemnly performed by Rev. Fr. Finn, and thence to the South Side Cemetery, where burial took place in the family plot. The late Mrs. O'Brien leaves to mourn their sad loss four sons, Bartholomew at Level, Idaho; William at Seattle, Wash.; James at Butte, Mont.; Patrick at Detroit, Mich., and two daughters, Mrs. John Lacour and Mrs. Patrick Byrne at Holyrood. Three of the sons visited her two years ago. Of a simple, humble, unselfish, unassuming disposition, Mrs. O'Brien was also a good Catholic, and bore her long suffering with an undaunted soul. From the earnestness of her character and affability of manner, she was looked up to and loved as a mother and friend. To the dear ones left behind to mourn a void in the heart, and a vacant place in the home circle, our heartfelt sympathy goes out. But an all-wise Divinity who loves us knows what is best, and if He has chosen to take our friends, we must bear it with quiet resignation. R.L.P.—Com.

PADRE PRESENTS TROPHY.

Padre Nangle presented the trophy for the Memorial Inter-Club Billiard Tournament to the victorious Masonic team last night. The Padre complimented the winners upon their success, and Mr. D. McFarlane, President of the Masonic Club, briefly replied. The Lamb Medal for the highest break was won by T. Ryan (Star) who made 60. At the conclusion of the games the Padre thanked all who had helped towards the success of the tournament. In particular, he expressed his gratitude to the G.W.V.A. for the use of their table, Hon. M. G. Winter for the use of cushions, to the C.C.C. for the hall, to Mr. J. T. Lamb for his special medal, to the various players, to Messrs. J. Flynn and J. Maher for putting up the table and looking after it during the tournament, and to the many who had patronized the games. He also announced that Mr. John M. Tobin had generously donated a cue for the winner in the knockout championship games to be played. Three games were played last night. All were closely contested.

Edwards (C.E.L.) defeated McFarlane (Salata) by 10 points. He made an excellent break of 44, the highest for the night.

In the next game, Rabbits (Masonic) and Ryan (Star) gave a splendid exhibition. The latter won by the narrow margin of 4 points.

In the final game, Angel (Guards) defeated Carbery (T.A.) by 4 points. The standing of the clubs at the conclusion of the Tournament:—

Luxurious Italian Liner.

The last word in luxurious travel by sea is expressed in the Italian liner Conte Rosso, which has just left the Clyde on her maiden voyage to America.

Designed, constructed and engineered by William Beardmore and Company for the Lloyd Sabaudo, of Genoa, the Conte Rosso is said to be the finest combined freight and passenger steamer built since 1914 in any country. Money has been spent on the ship without stint the decorations alone costing $400,000.

The vessel is of the shelter deck type, and has accommodation for nearly 3,000 persons, all first-class.

The public rooms have been decorated by artists from Florence. The main entrance hall is in the style of the Italian Renaissance in oak and mahogany. Elaborated hand carvings, inlaid work, tapestry, stained glass, and oil paintings play a part in the general scheme.

The large music room is in Pompeian style. From the centre of the lanterned roof hangs a great crystal chandelier, shedding subdued light from a thousand electric lamps. But the gem of the state rooms is the library, a spacious room in the style of the Tuscan Renaissance. A finely carved and inlaid frieze runs round the sides and there are about 50 sea and landscape paintings embodied in the scheme. After the trip to New York the Conte Rosso will sail on a regular service between Genoa and South American ports.

Methuselah Himself.

The French press has been concerned with Djouro Chemdine, who is said to be 164 years old, says the New York Tribune.

"Is it possible?" Parisians ask, "to reach such an age?" The reason for believing it true is that Djouro Chemdine is a native of Turkey, where centenarians abound. Perhaps the Orientals owe this privilege to the filial respect which is one of their virtues and which most religions have always made a passport to long life.

Unfortunately, however, according to Le Journal Debats, this reason for believing is also a reason for doubting. Precisely because he is a Turk, Djouro Chemdine seems liable to a suspicion of imposture. The civil administration in his country differs from him himself in that it is still in its infancy, and the records are kept there with an irregularity which formerly must have been even worse than at present. The custom survives of referring to the age of individuals to the reign of the khalif under which they were born, a way of counting very indefinite when the khalif has ruled a dozen lustres or more. The same is true of all the peoples of the East. One day in Cairo, a traveller, who visited a mosque under the amiable approach of a learned official who spoke French as a Peshian, saw his guide approach a robust old man who wore a green turban and so fresh looking that one would not have thought him more than sixty-eight years of age.

"He is over 130 years old," said the obliging official to the tourist. "And how do you know?" "He recites from memory the list of sultans for the last one and a half centuries."

A Mediterranean Ireland

An island people with the most intense national sentiment, possessing a language and physical characteristics shared by no one else in the world, living under the British flag, yet heretofore jealous of their rights and privileges as a nation, the Maltese may be accounted the Irish of the Mediterranean.

Like the Irish also, they are fervent Roman Catholics and have always had a strong Nationalist Party. For many years their elected members refused to take their seats in the local Parliament and maintained a red-hot Nationalist Press.

A Maltese priest was once appointed to a charge in the west of Ireland. His friend from the larger island doubted whether he would even be able to acquire the native Erse, whereupon the Southerner rattled off a sentence in Maltese.

"Sure, if ye can get your tongue round that lingo," laughed his friend, "there's no language on earth that'll 'bate ye!'"

Further, the Maltese peasant, especially when aged, bears a striking facial resemblance to his Irish brother; and with his short duoden stuck in his mouth, looks as if he had come straight from Connemara, writes M. T. Mainasselin, R.A., author of "In The Northern Mists."

It is only among the laboring class that the pure-blooded Maltese are found. The upper classes pride themselves on descent from the old Knights; they speak Italian or English, and are rather ashamed of the native idiom.

But the original stock is Punio, and the language that of the ancient Phoenicians. Carthaginian names such as Mamillar are common in the islands, particularly in Gozo, where the race is purest.

At one end of the island there are wonderful ruins of a Phoenician temple, besides specimens of lesser importance scattered everywhere. Indeed, the whole island is a priceless treasure-house for the archaeologist, only waiting for his spade to turn the soil.

Although the islands cover scarcely more than a hundred square miles, the claim to the status of a nation is not extravagant. The inhabitants are more closely packed than in any other part of Europe excepting Belgium. There are innumerable towns and villages, each with its stately and beautiful church, and two large cities which divide the honor of being the capital—Yatetta, the seaport, and Citta Vecchia (which the sailor calls Shiverly Wick), connected with the modern city by the Government-railway, six miles long.

The Maltese are a sturdy and industrious people. It is a lazy man who is not at work by four in the morning. They are good seamen, and in the annual pulling race for Service cutters around a course of three miles the Maltese crew generally wins.

Local Census Statistics.

At the present time Messrs. Cohen Bulley and Darby are working at the Census Returns, compiling the required information from the figures sent in by the various takers. Later on, when the work of compilation has progressed somewhat, the usual Interim Report will be made by the Deputy Colonial Secretary. While it is too early yet to anticipate just what the statistics will reveal, it is an open secret that, according to the majority of the returns, and figuring on a most conservative basis, there are in the city of St. John's only two persons out of twenty over the age of thirty who did not see "Hazel Kirke" when it was played here about fifteen years ago. If you are one of those who did not have this privilege rectify your error by going during Easter Week.

Women Unfitted for Jury Work.

THEIR PLACE NOT IN THE COURT ROOM.

TRENTON, N.J. (Canadian Press.)—Judge Marshall in the Mercer circuit of the Common Pleas has excused Mrs. Anna Cunningham from further jury service after hearing that her experiences on two mixed juries within a week had convinced her women were not fitted for such duties. During this time she was locked up for all-night liberation and, she declares, she has not yet recovered from a threatened nervous prostration. Her views are endorsed by her husband, James. "The present illness of Mrs. Cunningham is the first at all serious in 16 years," he said, "I attribute it solely to the mental and nervous strain to which she has been subjected." Referring to her services on two juries each comprised of six men and six women, Mrs. Cunningham cited numerous reasons for reluctance further to participate in the administration of justice. Among these reasons are six which she considers the best in the world, five children and a husband. The children in age three to fourteen years. "My selection as a juror was unsolicited and I accepted only after considerable hesitation," Mrs. Cunningham declares, "I was actuated by the fact that I had lost a little boy early this year and thought that participation in court work would tend to occupy my mind and in a sense relieve my grief." "My first night away from home confirmed the already half-formed opinion that I had made a mistake. Imagine my feelings. My husband is employed at night. There were my five children alone.

Assault Upon Natural Modesty.

"The second experience was altogether needless to convince me that a woman's place is not in a court room, particularly if she is married and a mother. By some I may be termed old-fashioned in my views. To those who deem it a woman's duty to insist upon each and all of her recently acquired rights I have nothing to say other than to advise that they carefully consider all of the responsibilities that accompany the privilege. In other words, look before you leap. "I might say my personal opinion that the majority of women are temperamentally unfitted to pass judgment upon others. Many I have found addicted to preconceived verdicts, which argument or logic failed to change. Sympathy doubtless, was a factor with some, with others it seemed a reluctance to be guilty of changing their mind or appearing to admit that they might have been wrong in their first view."

"In a sense, I also consider that jury duty is an assault upon woman's natural modesty, refinement and reserve. Some cases which she is called upon to consider are of a nature so delicate that she shrinks from a frank discussion of evidence, and a just verdict is impossible otherwise. I am speaking from the first time since I accepted duty on a jury and am doing so that others may know what to expect if they accept the obligation."

Britain Salutes Egypt's King.

The proclamation of the Sultan, Ahmed Fudud Pasha, as King of Egypt, on March 15, was accompanied by the firing of salves of 101 guns in Cairo, Alexandria and Port Said, and of 21 guns in all the other provincial capitals. Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, hitherto the British High Commissioner, accompanied by members of his staff, called at the Royal palace at Cairo and congratulated King Fudud, whom he addressed as "Your Majesty." Through Premier Sarwat Pasha, the King addressed a letter to "our noble nation," in which he said in part:

"God has graciously permitted the independence of Egypt to be attained by our hands. We are grateful to God and hereby announce to the world that from to-day Egypt enjoys independence and sovereignty. We have taken for ourself the title His Majesty King of Egypt, in order to ensure the country's dignity and its international status. We ask God and the nation to bear witness that we shall endeavor to work for the welfare and happiness of our beloved country. We hope this day will inaugurate an era which will restore Egypt's grandeur."

To-Day's Sealing Report

VIKING HAS 17,500 ON BOARD.

A message received last night by Messrs. Bowring Bros. from the s.s. Viking, gave the ship's position as 40 miles south of Scatterie. Captain Bartlett reports having 17,500 seals on board with 1,200 on pens which are being picked up.

S.S. Ranger will likely get away this evening taking some 70 picked men. The ship may call at Pool's Island.

S.S. Thetis will finish discharging to-morrow at noon. It has not definitely been decided to send the ship out for a second trip.

Messrs. Baine, Johnston & Co. had not received word of the arrival of the s.s. Seal at Harbor Grace up to 11 p.m. to-day. The matter of going to that port or St. John's has been left to the captain's discretion. The ship may make a second trip.

Sarcastic at Expense of English Lecturers.

NO USE FOR TUFT HUNTERS IN UNITED STATES.

LONDON, (Associated Press).—The reception accorded in America to Mrs. Margot Asquith, and other English lecturers this winter has prompted some gentle sarcasm at the expense of Americans and of the lecturers. Mrs. Asquith's failure to identify Jane Adams evoked some pointed remarks from the New York correspondent of the London Star, who says that "if Jane Adams had lived in England Mrs. Woodrow Wilson would have known about her." "Interviewed Mrs. Asquith has been delightful," he continues. "Her view of the yellow press was that it must be read by the Chinese. Was Lloyd George as popular as ever? 'I wonder,' said Margot, with a smile through her cigarette smoke, which, by the way, is criminal in Kansas even for men." Of the audience, the Star correspondent says that instead of reading books for themselves they learn by ear. "The results must be shallow," he says; "but at least it means that in a very real sense this whole nation leaves school. It is always trying to pick up knowledge but most of the knowledge is and must be superficial."

Supreme Court.

(Before the Chief Justice.)
In the matter of the petition of Mendel Green of St. John's, merchant, alleging that Edwin R. Elliott of St. Jacques, general dealer is insolvent and praying that he may be so declared.

Mr. Curtis for alleged insolvent moves for an adjournment until Saturday, April 8th, at 10.30.

Mr. Fred Emerson for petitioner does not object. It is ordered accordingly.

Shipping Notes.

S.S. Rosalind left Halifax for this port on Tuesday at 11 a.m. and is due before midnight. The ship will sail again on Saturday.

S.S. Lukesfall, 16 days from a port in Scotland, arrived at A. H. Murray this morning with a cargo of coal.

Schr. Mona has sailed for Halifax from Fortune with 740 qts. codfish, shipped by B. & G. Spencer and Lake & Lake.

Schr. General Jacobs, 20 days from Oporto, sail laden, has arrived at St. Lawrence.

Schr. Flower Dew, Capt. W. Thornhill, has arrived at St. Lawrence from Philadelphia with a cargo of coal for St. John's.

Trees That Own Themselves.

There are at least two trees that own themselves and the ground on which they stand. One is an oak at Athens, Georgia, and the other a sycamore at Caney Creek, Kentucky. The oak stood on the land of Col. W. H. Jackson, who in his old age recorded a deed as follows: "I, W. H. Jackson, of the County of Clarke state of Georgia, of the one part, and this oak tree (giving the situation) of the County of Clarke, of the other part, witness that the said W. H. Jackson, for and in consideration of the great affection which he bears said tree, and his desire to see it protected, has conveyed and, by these presents, does convey unto the said tree entire possession of itself and the land within eight feet of it on all sides." The Psychology of Dreams.

DR. BROWN'S NOVEL THEORY.

LONDON (Associated Press).—Dr. William Brown, mental specialist and head of the department of psychology in King's College, University of London, has propounded a novel theory of dreams. He rejected the claim of the psycho-analysts that dreams are always significant, and that every part of them has a meaning, which must be looked for in primitive desires lurking in the subconscious mind. He gave them a much singular significance. "The function of a dream is to guard sleep," he said before the Institute of Hygiene. "In sleep desires, cravings, anxieties, the memories of earlier days, all of which are the lower and fundamental elements of the mind, well up and strive towards consciousness while the main personality is in abeyance. If they reach consciousness, sleep is at an end, but the dream, which is a sort of intermediary form, of consciousness, intervenes, and makes the impulse innocuous so that sleep persists. This theory covers the entire ground of all types of dreams."

THE ART OF CHEWING.

Your whole system depends for health and strength on the stomach. The stomach, in turn, depends on the teeth. The very foundation of health is the teeth laid as the first step food conversion—the act of chewing.

Food improperly chewed enters the stomach in a wrong condition, and brings about a wrong fermentation, which causes first, indigestion, and then, various ailments. The proper chewing of the food will prevent these things. Chew your food plentifully.

The laws of fashion all allow. It's stylish to save money now.—Dainty Dorothy.

And so it has come to pass that the thinking women of the country as well as serious minded men have come to the conclusion that the development of thrift is necessary to the development of national character. But if you are going to make last season's clothes do for a while it does not mean that you cannot have them dry cleaned and thoroughly refreshed, and that you must not change the shape or color of them. Our dyeing system is a perfect one.

THE ART OF CHEWING.

Your whole system depends for health and strength on the stomach. The stomach, in turn, depends on the teeth. The very foundation of health is the teeth laid as the first step food conversion—the act of chewing.

Food improperly chewed enters the stomach in a wrong condition, and brings about a wrong fermentation, which causes first, indigestion, and then, various ailments. The proper chewing of the food will prevent these things. Chew your food plentifully.

"The Civil Service Carnival."

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—There is one point raised at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Trade which being the "crux" of the whole awful mess that the country is in to-day, in receiving a thought from all discerning men who have the better affairs of their Island Home at heart; and that is the item which refers to the unnecessary expense of Government. Those most unnecessary expenses are many, too many, and too glaring in their extravagant progress, and why it is that a determined and honest effort (if there is such a thing as "honest effort" in the affairs of the Government) has not been made long ago to have such money-absorbing hobbies cut out, is to say the least of it, very, very strange. Why should a most casual enquiry will convince one and all of us, that there are most unnecessary additional expenses brought into being the last couple of years. We have been saddled with luxurious items in Government circles, and meaning to the Colony thousands of dollars that the over-taxed people have to pay for. Every branch in the Civil Service has had its "panacea"; every department is glutted with expensive surfeit in the way of ridiculous engines of work. It seems to have been a premeditated plan of the present Administration, to with wanton waste and utter disregard, and flagrant contempt of the people's "modus operandi" throw away the country's best wealth on expensive hobbies. Take for example the General Post Office. A most unnecessary item (at least just now) is the partly erected new wing. This could have been done without. The postal department does not, or will not handle enough of business for some time to come, to justify the building of this one hundred and fifty to one hundred and eighty thousand dollar mausoleum. The business of the Postal Telegraphs does not call for it. What a reckless involving is seen here, when finance should have been hoarded 'till a better day permits the adding of high class hobbies to the general of the general carnival with us under Government control. Again there is that joke—the Post Office vs. Family motor car, that sop to the Official Cerberus. For the last forty years the mails have been attended to, and attended to very properly by the old and reliable Coughlans van, and I cannot see the necessity of having introduced this new and expensive toy, called H.M. Mail car. The expense of running that car—when it is doing Government service—comes to something like $2,000.00 a year, and the thing does not earn (even if it is justifiable at all) quarter that sum. The Coughlans have to still the old reliable "mag," and to the one receptacle of mail that the motor-car will take, the Coughlan express will take ten. True, the car does good work in the joy-riding line, and it has been placed on the records that its speed has registered as much as five miles an hour. Well, the Government pays, or rather the people pay, so what's the odds? Again I have been informed that two or three of the officials up at the post office have had telephones placed in their homes, a little gift of the Government. Now, Sir, strange to tell, those very officials are the ones whose duties least require the installation of those 'phones in their houses, and on the face of it it is a decided show of Government favor, or personal party favor, or if you like it better, political discrimination, to have allowed this thing to be done. Where is this going to stop? It would seem to me that some of those additional expenses could have been done without. In my next letter, with your kindly permission to the use of your columns, I shall show up some extravagances in connection with the Custom's department.

Yours truly, with thanks,
SUPER TAXED.
April 5th, 1922.
(If our correspondent means the Custom's Department in connection with the G.P.O., well and good. If not—! The above letter is given space for the information of the Post Master General, that he may investigate the charges made therein. If they are correct immediate action should be taken. If not there is a means of redress at his disposal.—Editor)

Shrewd Woman Speculator.

BEAT WALL STREET TO A FRIZZE.
New York.—More evidence that Mrs. Sarah J. Wyckoff Bent, who died a few months ago in her home in the Bronx, well earned her title of "the shrewdest woman operator in Wall Street," has been unearthed. Temporary administrators of her estate, going to one of several safe deposit boxes rented by her, discovered more than a million dollars' worth of jewels and securities. This discovery led the administrators to estimate her entire fortune at more than $3,500,000. Although she was credited with being wealthy, even her most intimate friends did not know the amount she had piled up during her years on the street. During the panic of 1907 when steel dropped almost out of sight she bought heavily and made half a million dollars.

Betty Compson in "Prisoners of Love."

NICKEL PATRONS SEE GREAT HOLIDAY BILL.
The holiday program at the Nickel yesterday, was one not soon to be forgotten. The main attraction was, "Prisoners of Love" featuring the charming Betty Compson. In this picture there is a gradual and difficult reaction of character to surrounding circumstances. Miss Compson is consistent in such changes, strongest in the great climax. As shown to yesterday's large audiences at the Nickel the picture held absorbed attention when once under way and received an outburst of applause at the conclusion. The production is rich in settings, costumes and effects and much credit is of course due the director, Arthur Rosson and all other concerned in the visualization. Another subject of interest, that commanded the attention of spectators was the current episode of "A Double Adventure," which was as interesting in every way as the preceding chapter last week. The above is a program well worth seeing, and will be repeated to-night.

INSANE MAN THROWS HIMSELF FROM MOVING TRAIN—LEG FRACTURED.
A man named Chaffey, who was on his way to town to enter the Lunatic Asylum, jumped through a window of Tuesday's express, and badly fractured his leg. Chaffey was in the care of Constable Quinlan and gave considerable trouble. The train was passing Quarry at the time the mad leap was made. Brakes were immediately applied and after the train stopped Chaffey was found lying in a pool of blood. He was conscious but his leg was found to be fractured. Every possible attention was given the injured man and upon arrival in St. John's he was taken to the hospital.

How to Acquire A Clear Radiant Complexion In 14 Days

It seems almost impossible that pimples, blackheads, boils, etc., can be made to completely disappear within as short a time as 14 days. Yet thousands of IRONIZED YEAST users have proved to their complete satisfaction that it is not only easy to quickly acquire a clear, fresh complexion—but at the same time to build up weight, energy and general health to really an astonishing degree.

Free

Mail coupon below for the amazing Three-Day FREE Trial Treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. Take these pleasant-tasting tablets—two with each meal. Then watch the results!

The New Process

Everyone knows that iron is of great value in converting our food into living cells and tissue. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the remarkable process of ironization—the process which enables you to derive from yeast all of the splendid benefits it holds for you. Do not think, however, that any combination of yeast and iron will do. Yeast brings its best and quickest results only when it is treated through the process of ironization. And this process is embodied only in IRONIZED YEAST, the one scientifically correct yeast treatment.

Surprisingly Quick Results

The reason IRONIZED YEAST brings such remarkable results is because it embodies a new scientific process which enables yeast to bring its great benefits often in just half the usual time. Experiments prove that while yeast alone is good, it is not enough, in itself, to bring 100 per cent results. For while yeast contains certain vital elements which are essential to health, it is found that some other agent is needed to help convert these wonderful elements into health, strength and energy.

Results Guaranteed—or Money Back

If you are troubled with humiliating skin blemishes—if you are thin—or if you feel the need of more energy, you owe it to yourself to learn of the benefits IRONIZED YEAST holds for you. IRONIZED YEAST is sold at all druggists on a positive guarantee of satisfactory results from the first package, or your money instantly refunded. Thus, you run no risk whatever. Get IRONIZED YEAST from your dealer today!

IRONIZED YEAST Tablets

THE ONLY YEAST THAT IS GENUINELY IRONIZED

WARNING—IRONIZED YEAST is entirely different from anything on the market. Do not confuse it with ordinary "vitamin tablets," which in most cases are merely plain, inefficient mixtures of yeast and iron. IRONIZED YEAST is the only yeast which is treated through the remarkable process of ironization—the process which enables yeast to bring its splendid results just twice as quickly. Insist upon it always—for nothing else can be like it. Go to your dealer and get IRONIZED YEAST today. $1.00 a package.

Saving His Face.

A recent writer on the old-time merchant marine says that the first steamship to visit China was the Jamesina from Bombay. When she entered the Canton River and in accordance with old custom had taken on her Chinese pilot at Lintin she resumed her course, proceeding under steam against wind and tide. The pilot showed no curiosity and asked no questions. Soon in a perfectly matter-of-course manner he began to give directions to the helmsman, such directions as he would have given if the Jamesina had been a sailing vessel. That was too much for the British captain, and he called the pilot's attention to the fact that the ship was propelled not by wind but by steam.

"Oh," replied the Chinese coolly, "it is a method that is no secret in some parts of the empire; it was common once, but it has now for some time fallen into disuse!"

WEDNESDAY, April 5. The House opened at 4.30 p.m., and a few minutes afterwards Black Rod was sent to inform Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Assembly that their presence was required. His Excellency, who was unattended, took his seat and after the members had assembled at the Bar the following Bills read by the Clerk were assented to:—

- (1) "An Act to raise certain sums (six million dollars) on the credit of the Colony."
- (2) "An Act for the Disposal of Surplus Funds Collected for Hospital Cots."
- (3) "An Act to amend the Law Society Act."
- (4) "An Act respecting the Seal-fishery during the present year."
- (5) "An Act for the Encouragement of Shipbuilding."
- (6) "An Act to amend the Act Geo. V. Cap. 6, entitled "An Act to confirm a Contract between the Government and the St. Lawrence Timber, Pulp and Steamship Company, Ltd."
- (7) "An Act to amend Chapter 75 of the Consolidated Statutes entitled 'Of Sufferers from Marine Disasters.'"
- (8) "An Act to regulate the Importation, Sale and Use of Opium and other dangerous drugs."
- (9) "An Act to amend Chapter 22 of the Consolidated Statutes entitled 'Of the Customs.'"

After the departure of His Excellency, the President announced that all the business had been cleared off the Order Paper. The House adjourned at 5.20 until Monday next at 4 p.m.

AGE AND BOYHOOD.

When Age considers Roguish Twelve it ought to look through kindly eyes.

Is wisdom were the gift of youth, then little children would be wise.

They took him to a lecture hall, a healthy youngster twelve years old.

Just what to do and how to act the little fellow had been told.

Now lectures may be proper stuff to pour in grown-up people's ears.

But where's the boy of twelve who cares about "The Mystery of the Spheres?"

They sat him in a straight backed chair and soon the lecturer began:

Deep in the lore of ancient life the heavy-freighted discourse ran.

The youngster shifted in his seat, annoying people round about.

Then suddenly exclaimed aloud: "Gee whiz, I wish you'd take me out!"

He squirmed and twisted, moved his chair, and dropped his marbles on the floor.

He yawned at a healthy boyish yawn, and then they showed him to the door.

His parents followed, red with shame, and those who round about them sat.

Wondered what they were thinking of to let the boy behave like that.

But I maintain the lad was right, and good as twelve year old can be—

They ask too much who want a boy to be as grave as fifty-three.

The fault all lies with grim old Age, which is severe and stern and cold.

And look for grown-up conduct in a healthy boy just twelve years old.

"—and we are a healthy, happy family now"

—J. R. Cowell

TINGLING with abundant energy, appetites hearty, nerves strong and steady and their faces radiant with the glow of perfect health, the entire family of J. R. Cowell, well-known fruit grower, R. F. D. No. 1, Fruitland, near Hamilton, Ont., are an eloquent tribute to the powers of Tanlac, the greatest family medicine the world has ever known.

"I have put Tanlac to the test many times right in my own family and it hasn't failed me once," declared Mr. Cowell. "It not only overcame a case of stomach trouble and rheumatism of eight years' standing for me, but it keeps every member of my family healthy, happy and strong. We are delighted with it."

And the experience of this family is only typical of thousands of others whose statements are on file in the Tanlac office. Hardly a day passes that does not bring scores of such messages of praise from every part of Canada and the U.S. from families where mother, father, son and daughter have all found health, contentment and the joys of living through simply taking a course of Tanlac.

Take, for instance, the case of Mrs. Agnes Moorecroft, 60 Galt Ave., Toronto, Ont., who says: "Ever since Tanlac restored my health and built me up twenty pounds two years ago, it has been the family medicine at my house. It keeps us all so well and strong you would hardly find a healthier, happier family."

Or that of William H. Gibbons, 711 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, well-known passenger conductor on the Canadian Pacific R. R. He says: "We have all tried Tanlac several times, always with remarkable results. It keeps the entire family in the finest health and we think there's no medicine to equal it."

In Montreal, Mrs. Anabelle Wright, 23 LaSalle Road, writes: "We will never be without Tanlac in our house after the remarkable way it has built up my daughter and myself to where we are the very picture of health."

Representative of Nova Scotia is the case of Richard H. Weeks, 18

Cabot Place, Halifax. He says: "We are enthusiastic about Tanlac. The way it restored my own health and brought out my little boy who had been puny for years was simply wonderful. From now on Tanlac is the family medicine for me."

From far-away Providence, Rhode Island, U. S. A., comes this remarkable statement: "Nothing but the best medicine in the world could stand the four rigid tests we have put Tanlac through," says Louis Gingras, of 9 Harrison Ave. "My wife, my son, my daughter and myself have all been built up from a half sick run down, worn out set of people into a healthy, happy family, brimful of new life and energy."

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have found Tanlac such a fine family medicine that I want to help others find out about it," declares Mrs. Solomon Grenier, 1443 Logan Street, Montreal, P.Q.

And through the list, men, women and children from every part of Canada and the United States unhesitatingly come forward and tell in words ringing with sincerity of the wonderful benefits of health and happiness that Tanlac has brought into their homes that were formerly darkened by the gloom of sickness, suffering and despair.

And should you be one of those who are suffering from indigestion and stomach trouble, you have at your very door the means that will no doubt bring the sunshine of vigorous health back into their lives and yours, just as it has done in so many thousands of other cases. Do not delay. Get a bottle of Tanlac from your druggist to-day.

Would Eliminate Old Doctrine.

Mr. Justice Darling's decision upholding the old doctrine which presumes a crime when a woman concerned in a crime in the presence of her husband is legally held to have acted under his coercion, is expected to result in the enactment of new legislation. Women's organizations are moving in the matter, considering that this survival of ancient law is anomalous in modern days. Lady Astor, in an interview, said she thought the ancient law of coercion was perfectly ridiculous and out-of-date. She considered that if women demanded sex equality in the political and professional world they should also be prepared to accept the same treatment at law as men.

Preferential Tariff.

BETWEEN CANADA AND JAMAICA. Kingston, Jamaica.—Figures released by the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Kingston clearly indicate the influence of the Preferential Tariff existing between Canada and Jamaica.

In the last nine months of 1921, as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, Canadian imports of Jamaican hides and skins and spice doubled; imports of Jamaican coconuts, raw cocoa and coffee trebled; grape fruit quadrupled in value, and vegetable oils increased by fourteen times their previous bulk.

Shipments of raw sugar from this colony likewise increased by 4,000,000 pounds. These figures cover the first period during which the Canada-West Indies' trade agreement of 1920 was operative.

Secrets of Sight.

When we state that we "see" an object we believe that we actually see the thing itself, whereas all that our eye takes in is the light which is reflected from the object. This light, by reason of the varying shadows and strengths, gives us our impression of what the object looks like—which is the reason that the same thing will often appear to be different to a number of persons.

Because light is necessary to "sight," it follows that the absence of light will prevent sight and make the things which surround us totally invisible. Without light, our eyes are useless; and even the light itself is scarcely more necessary than reflection, as may be proved by looking into a mirror and then into a sheet of plain glass. The former, on account of the reflection obtained by the coating of mercury at the back, reflects the light. The latter reflects only a portion of it from its polished surface, and the image which we see is in the nature of a vision. If anyone could invent a scientifically perfect black paint which would absorb all light and reflect none, he would solve the riddle of invisibility, for it would be impossible to see such objects even in the brightest of sunlight.

Personal.

At the recent examinations at McGill University Mr. J. O. Fraser, son of Dr. Fraser, passed with honours in Physiological Chemistry and Bacteriology.

Colonel W. H. Franklin, C.B.E., D.S. O., was due in England at the end of March. Col. Franklin, who is Trade Commissioner at Nairobi, Kenya Colony, left his post on February 15th for an official visit to the United Kingdom.

A Geographical Mistake.

Every schoolboy knows that the name "America" refers to the explorer Americus Vesputi, but comparatively few know of the circumstances which led up to the bestowal of this name, rather than that of Columbus, upon the New World.

Major, the expert on the science of map-drawing, has shown that the appellation "America" first appeared on the map of the world drawn by no less an artist than Leonardo da Vinci, and he explains the circumstances which led up to its adoption as follows:—

"In May, 1507, just a year after the death of Columbus, a man named Martin Waldseemuller wrote a book to which was appended a Latin account of the four voyages of Vesputi. In this book Waldseemuller proposed that the name 'America' should be given to the New World in honour of Vesputi, whom he supposed was the discoverer of the continent."

"In 1508 the first engraved map containing the New World appeared in an edition of Ptolemy, printed at Rome; but this does not bear the name America. But in 1509 this name appears as it had been already accepted as a well-known denomination in an anonymous work entitled 'Globus Mundi,' published at Strasburg. The map of the world of Leonardo da Vinci, presumably issued in 1514, has the name America across the South American continent as well as the North—thus a Dutch author and an Italian artist contrived, possibly without malice, to rob Columbus of at least some of the fruits of his courage and perseverance."

Millionaire's Son Sent to Jail.

John Duval Dodge, only son of the late John Dodge, multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer, on March 18 was sentenced to five days in jail and to pay a fine of $100 for speeding.

Judge Bartlet, in imposing sentence, intimated that contempt proceedings may be instituted against the young millionaire for his failure to appear in court at 2 p.m., the time ordered in the warrant. Dodge, with his wife and attorney, arrived in Detroit at 4.30 p.m. from Kalamazoo, where he has been held in connection with a "fox-hunting" episode in which a young woman was injured when she leaped from his car in an effort to escape.

Dodge pleaded guilty to the charge against him. Hundreds of persons thronged the court room as sentence was passed. A remount from the young man's attorney that he be granted bail "in any amount" was curtly refused by Judge Bartlet, and in company with a score of other speed-law violators, Dodge was taken over to the county jail to begin his sentence.

Breaking It Gently.

A New York silk merchant went to the Bank to get his note renewed. "I am sorry," said the banker, "it will be absolutely impossible for us to renew your note."

The silk merchant's face paled at a moment of thought he looked at the banker and said:

"Were you ever in the silk business?"

"Why of course not," said the banker.

"Well, you're in it now," said the silk merchant as he picked up his hat and went out.—Cincinnati Enquirer

CROUP.

Mrs. W. Furniss, Hillside, Sask., writes:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Linseed & Turpentine with great benefit for my little boy, age three years. He was very sick with croup, so I sent for a large bottle of Dr. Chase's Linseed & Turpentine. The first few doses greatly eased the choking feeling, so I continued to give it to him, and before the first bottle was finished he was quite well again. I also have three other boys, all of them subject to croup, and I never give them anything except Dr. Chase's Linseed & Turpentine. I always keep a bottle in the house and would not be without it as we live so far from town and croup or cold come on so suddenly."

OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mirror and Metal Plating Business.

To Our Friends and General Public:— We have just opened a MIRROR and METAL PLATING business at the undernoted address. Included in our many processes for the manufacture of MIRRORS is the famous "FRENCH PLATE", which produces the very best mirror obtainable. We employ the latest methods for permanent PLATING and RE-PLATING in silver and nickel, which includes tableware, etc., and those who have seen our work speak very highly of it. We can do anything in these lines and guarantee absolute satisfaction. Send along your work to us. A trial will convince. Samples gladly submitted.

Yours for good work,

SERVED IN SILVER.

One lady writes: "It may be true that Blue Bird Orange Pekoe tastes best when made in an earthen or china tea pot."

"But such setting doesn't seem worthy of it. So I am weak enough to use a silver tea pot when pouring Blue Bird Tea."

We have written her that as a compromise she could make it an earthen pot and when sufficiently brewed heat the silver one and serve from it.
