In the neglect and bad conduct of intemperate parents, and that the said official owns the pole of the parents, and which has been enlarged and now flourishes as the Bay View Hotel.

That some of the good people of that town do not think that it is wise on the part of the government to keep at the head of an institution requiring the exercise of the highest moral qualities a man who is a largely interested in the liquor traffic, he having hotel properties both in Toronto and Penetanguishene, if not elsewhere, licenses being granted them by reason of the aforesaid "human nature." Mayor Clarke is not should give him an extensive knowledge of the discussion of the aforesaid "human nature."

What are the City Members Being?

The World understands that the three city members in the Ontario Government and License Commissioners here and elsewhere. There is no popular desire except on the part of the most fanatical prohibition agittaors to make the life of the hotel and saloon keeper miserable, or to place him in such a position that he can be made the victim of official sympathies with hotel-lace in a very familiar acquaintance with the ins and outs of granting liquor licenses—certainly Mr. Leys does. Mr. H. E. Clarke, is an old to contribute to the incomes of men who have the family of the properties both in Toronto and Penetanguishene, if not elsewhere, licenses being granted them by reason of the aforesaid "human nature."

The World hopes Mayor Clarke is not so overburdened with his municipal duties as to overburd commissioners of both places.

These are only a tithe of what The World has established. It has many more things yet to bring forth, and will do so as

The Object of the Petition.
Mr. Doherty and King Bob, assisted were around with their petition on Saturday, setting forth that the agners were never opered into subscribing to the License Guarantee Fund (the Reform Club), that they were never compelled to buy beer from any particular brewer, grog from the political grogster, cigars from the party cigar maker, and that The World's charges are untruthful. The object of this petition is quite plain. The hotel men who sign this paper, it is figured out by King Bob and Cigar Gharley, will be unable to give evidence at an investigation, should the Legislature order an inquiry. The men who have signed the petition did so under the same pressure and intimidation that compelled them to deal with the political brewer and grogster and contributed to the party blackmail.

It is just as well for the hotel men and exhotel men to remember that the law does not recognize a statement, written or oral, that was obtained by coercion, intimidation, or promisss of pardon by those whe have no authority to grant them.

I used to buy my beer from Copland and another brewer whom I will not mention at present. Now I buy elsewhere for the very reason that The World has already stated over and over again. I got the wink and had to take it.

"But I can make the statement without fear of contradiction that if there was no intimidation or winking about where we should buy our beer, the Millett Boys (John and Jim) would sell more beer than all she other city travelers put together. I merely mention this to prove how the thing works."

A commission man who was standing near by while the conversation was going on, and who seemed to understand a guod deal about the "terror," slapped his hand down on the counter and exclaimed: "By Sa. Patrick, that is true."

The Toronto World, having used of astacking the Commercial Unionists, is now out in defence of the saloon-keepers of Toronto. It is hardly clear what defence is needed. The saloon-keepers are being gradually pushed to is hardly clear what defence is needed. The saloon-keepers are being gradually pushed to the wall in Toronto, not by the government or by the Crooks Ads, but by the steady growth of the temperance sentiment. The Queen City now boasts of fewer saloons than any other city of equal size in the English speaking world. Seeing this, it seems impertionent for any one journal to attack the government on this account. The giast of The World's articles, however, lies in the sharge that the president of The Globe Company is making large pecuniary profits out of a liquor firm from which the saloon keepers are compelled too buy their whisky. This may be a listle hard on The Globe as a temperance organ, but as far as the saloon keepers are concerned they can't have much to complain of while they get their whisky as cliently from I Jaffray as from anybody else. But if true, what a salo commentary, on human strength: The newspaper through which George Brown tory years controlled Ontario, sunk so far that its unfluence is used as a leyer for making money out of whisky for its president.
