THE Watford High School Athletic Association purpose holding their annual field day on Wednesday, Oct. 15th. The officers of the association are endeavoring to make arrangements for a whole day's sport this year instead of the usual half day. A good program is being prepared.

THERE is a postoffice ruling which imposes a fine of $500 or a year's imprisonment on anyone who through carelessness or otherwise takes mail from the postoffice not belonging to him and fails to return it immediately. EVERY preparation is being made by the directors for a larger and better fair than ever. Mr. Taylor has long desired to see the West and is gratified that he has now seen a crop sowed, harvested and threshed up there.

DROP in and see us Fair Day.—T. DODDS & SON.

TAKE home a 20th Century overcoat or suit—something to be remembered after the Fair is forgotten.—A. BROWN & CO.

As one of the money making projects to keep the boy on the farm why not try the planting of trees that will yield edible nuts? Nuts are becoming a profitable sideline on many farms across the border. An acre of nut trees yielding pecans or walnuts is said to bring in from $200 to $500 a year. By the time your boy's boy is able to shake down nuts a tree planted now should be a good producer.

THE Redpath Lyceum Concert Course of four concerts will be put on again this season for the purpose of making money to improve the school grounds. This is the same course which has been run for the past two years and this season will see an entire change of program. These concerts are all high-class and should get the support of everybody. The date of the first concert is Friday, Oct. 17th. Particulars later.

THE Christmas turkey will be dear this year, and wholesalers hesitate to suggest what the probable price may be. Throughout the turkey districts there is a great scarcity of birds owing to the cold, wet spring. In one instance a farmer set seventy-two eggs, and his flock of turkey chicks numbered five for the season. This condition is found to prevail generally so far as turkeys are concerned. There are more ducks, geese and chickens than for some years past.—Exchange.

THE Harvest Thanksgiving Services at Trinity Church on Sunday last were well attended. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with flowers, fruit, etc., and appropriate sermons were delivered. In the morning the rector spoke to the young people from Lev. 19:9; and at the evening service Rev. D. W. Collins, rector of Exeter, preached an interesting thanksgiving sermon from the text, Deut. 8:7-10. The special music was very effectively rendered.

IRL R. HICKS predicts the weather for next week as follows: "A Reactionary Storm Period falls on the 6th, 7th and 8th, coincident with Moon's first quarter on the 6th. Falling barometer, softening, southerly winds, and return of general falling weather will be the natural order on and touching the 6th, 7th and 8th. Autumnal, chilly nights will come with the rising barometer from the northwest, progressively eastward and southward, on and about the 8th, 9th and 10th."

In a recently issued government blue book, dealing with the results obtained by the Agricultural Societies in the province last year, appears an extended report made by D. A. Graham, of Lobo township, one of the District Directors, who says in part: "There are two classes I would recommend societies adding to their prize lists: 1st, offer three prizes to boys under 18 years of age who can exhibit a horse or colt to the best advantage; 2nd, a class from which all exhibitors and exhibitors that had ever won a prize at any agricultural fair would be debarred. This would bring new blood into your show ring and help to make the society more prosperous in the future."

MESSRS. ANGUS MITCHELL, Dr. Hicks, Joseph Mitchell, Watford, and Samuel Mitchell, Strathroy, motored to Talbotville on Wednesday in Mr. Joseph Mitchell's handsome car. Talbotville is the place where Mr. Angus Mitchell was born, and his visit on Wednesday was the first in fifty years. He spent a very pleasant time viewing the old homestead and other scenes of his youth. Talbotville is about two miles from St. Thomas and in the old days was called Five Points, owing to five roads converging at that point. When a boy Mr. Mitchell has often walked from Five Points to London.

WATFORD and Warwick church pulpits were pretty well occupied by strangers on Sunday last speaking in the interests of the Dominion Alliance. Rev. Dr. Ross preached in the Presbyterian church in the evening, Mr. D. A. McDermid in the Methodist and Mr. A. R. Hassard in the Baptist. Mr. McDermid spoke in the Congregational church, in the morning. At Warwick Mr. H. A. Roche spoke in St. Mary's church morning and evening and at Wisbeach in the afternoon. Rev. R. Simpson spoke in the Main road Presbyterian church in the afternoon, Mr. McDermid at Zion Congregational, and Mr. Hassard in Calvary church. At Trinity church, Watford, Rev. D. W. Collins preached a harvest thanksgiving sermon at the evening service.

On Saturday last the new market at Sarnia was thrown open to the public. Among the heartiest supporters of the new enterprise are the merchants of the town, grocers and butchers included. Farmers from twenty miles around will come here to dispose of their wares for cash. The majority of this money will not leave town. It will be expended in purchases from the business men of the municipality. Money will be the means of exchange, not credit. Therefore money will be brought into circulation, a most important fact in itself. The citizen who made his purchases of produce at the grocer's, in nine cases out of ten, charged it up. The farmer who receives cash from the same citizen on the market will pay cash for the purchases he makes from the local merchants. This is one sound reason why the business men laud the market.

THE FAIR

With fine weather the Watford Fair is bound to be a big success. All indications point that way and the directors are looking forward to this year's fair surpassing any in the successful history of the Society. The management have been moving along quietly and making every possible arrangement for a big day, and a growing list of entries indicates interest on the part of exhibitors. The grounds are being cleaned up and the track is in good shape for the trials of speed for which liberal prizes are offered. All is ready, and with fine weather a very large crowd is expected.

A School Fair

Before holidays the pupils of the Public School were promised a Public School Fair, and earnest efforts were exerted by the children to obtain the requirements.

Prizes were offered in Drawing, Writing and Nature Study. At that time it was thought the Fair would be held at the Public School about the first week in October, but as the directors of the Agricultural Society offered room in the palace or in one of the tents on the fair grounds on Watford Fair day, the teachers thought it would be wise to exhibit there. Wool, bark, weeds, weed seeds, leaves, stones, shells, etc., have been collected as never before and the children are anxiously waiting to see the result of their efforts.

The Women's Institute and the Daughters of the Empire kindly gave contributions towards the prizes and these two contributions have been supplemented by the Board of Education. It is hoped the parents will be interested to the extent to see and examine the work of the children on Fair Day.

FAIR NIGHT CONCERTS

There will be two concerts Fair night, one in the Lyceum and one in the Music Hall, and both under the auspices of the Watford Concert Band. The band boys require new uniforms and take this method of raising the necessary funds. The admission has been placed at 50c and 35c without plan reservation. The talent provided is sure to give entire satisfaction and embraces well known entertainers. At the Lyceum will be the Jones Family, of London, all-round musicians; Sandy Drenan, of Toronto, in Irish and Scotch characters; Miss Ethel Thompson in Scotch and Irish dances, etc. At the Music Hall, Harry Bennett, the noted comedian and entertainer; W. H. Blythe, of London, tenor soloist; W. J. Hornley, late of Glasgow, Scotland, violinist, and others. Both entertainments will be first-class and no matter which you attend you will get your money's worth. Come early and get a good seat.

WATFORD, OCTOBER 3, 1913.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

When the prayer book is revised how would it do to include a petition for those who go up into the air in ships as well as for those who go down to the sea in them?

Premier Asquith has, like a true gallant, refused to prosecute the two suffragettes who assaulted him while he played at golf. As his daughter, who was present on the occasion, wreaked summary vengeance with her driver upon the assailants, Mr. Asquith probably concludes that no further punishment is required.

Brantford Courier:—Let young women who want husbands go in for the study of domestic economy. Let them dress as neatly as they please, but with due regard for propriety and the avoidance of reckless expense. Let them preserve at all times a strict regard for decorum in their conduct. The young men likely to make the best husbands are not inclined to ask frivolous and extravagant and incompetent young women to become their partners for life.

supply having been diverted into other channels, it is stated on good authority that a large number of cheese factories throughout Ontario have shut down and are going out of business. The reason given is that not only is the amount of milk being produced not keeping pace with the increase in population but it is being used more extensively in the manufacture of butter, condensed and evaporated milk and other kindred products. The export of cheese is rapidly coming to the minimum, it is said. The amount being manufactured is quickly decreasing and the amount being consumed is growing. The increase in the number of former English residents in the Ontario population is responsible for an increase in the amount of cheese eaten.

Uniform Naturalization in the Empire

The Canadian government has come to a satisfactory agreement with the British government over the question of imperial naturalization which has been a subject of long negotiations between the two countries and the bonds with the mother land are to be drawn still closer.

As matters stand at present the naturalization act of Great Britain requires five years' residence before naturalization is granted, while Canada has acquired only three. The United Kingdom as a result has refused to recognize Canadian naturalization laws. By the new agreement the British law will require five years' residence in the British Empire, only the last year to be spent in Great Britain.

Legislation to this effect will likely be passed at the next session of the British House, and Canada will pass concurrent legislation. The Canadian law will require also five years' residence in the Empire, the last to be spent in Canada. The practical effect will be that Great Britain will recognize the Canadian law and Canada will recognize the British law and the anomalous situation which was so long existed of a man being a British subject in Canada and not in Great Britain will be done away with.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

This here world, you can take it from me, it's not the same place that it once used to be. When I was a lad, in the happy old days, the people were better and so were their ways; man's life then was free from all worry and fret; the happy old times I can never forget. Yet back in the days that are over and o'er folks often for hours paraded the floor and worried and fretted and wept bitter tears and had disappointments and troubles and fears. They sweated and struggled and cheated and lied and gave way to anger and envy and pride; they sought to freeze on the slippery seeds in much the same way as the modern-day lads; so when on the past some old fellow descants we're wise if we figure it one-half romance.

As a rule we love the honey, and not the bee; the pie and not the pious; and the song and not the singer the booze and not the boozer; the joke and not the joker.

A CORRECTOR OF PULMONARY TROUBLES—Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in curing disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes as to other preparation can.

Little-Reycraft

Glencoe, Sept. 25.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Reycraft was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Thursday, Sept. 18, when their second daughter, Elizabeth C., was united in marriage to Mr. Percy R. Little, of Detroit.

At 4:30 the bridal party entered the drawing-room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the bride's sister, Miss Elena Reycraft, and took their places beneath an arch of evergreens banked with pink and white asters. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white satin, with pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of cream roses. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Gladys Little, of Wingham, dressed in pale blue messaline silk, with pearl trimmings, and carried pink and white asters.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for London, Denfield and Port Huron, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit and white hat. Out-of-town guests were present from London, Denfield, Watford, Wingham and Kincardine.

Mr. and Mrs. Little will be at home in Detroit to their many friends after November 15th.

John Pincombe Dead

Strathroy, Sept. 25.—The death occurred yesterday morning at Poplar Hill of John Pincombe, in his 80th year. Mr. Pincombe was one of the pioneer residents of this district. He was born in England, but emigrated to Canada with his parents while quite a small lad. They settled in Westminster Township, where he resided until grown to manhood. He then purchased a farm in Lobo Township, where he lived for over 60 years. He was an extensive cattle dealer in his younger days. He found it necessary to drive the export cattle to Kingston to load on the boats for Liverpool, and was universally respected and always contributed freely to charity. He was prominent in church work among the Disciples of Christ in Poplar Hill, having contributed several thousand dollars towards the erection of the new edifice in 1908, and laid the cornerstone. He leaves besides his wife five sons—William and John, of London; George, Richard, son and James, of Lobo, and one daughter, Mrs. Rich. Greary, of Adelaide. The funeral will be held on Friday at Poplar Hill Cemetery.

HIRING A SERVANT.

It Was Different Four Centuries Ago From What It Is Now.

A contract entered into in 1543 between a Professor Eicholz and a servant girl, Hilla von Hattingen, is recorded in a history of civilization by Herman Keussen. Eicholz, who was a wealthy man, expressly declares that the engagement was entered into in the presence of a female witness. She answered for it that Hilla would prove to be an honorable and dutiful servant. Hilla herself promised to be a good and true servant to her future lord and master.

He demands first and foremost that in spinning, marketing, and so forth, she shall do her very best and look after his interests, to see that they do not suffer and not allow herself to be felled by the shopkeepers and marketwomen. He cannot permit of her wearing silks and satins. She must take great care of his house in his absence and not permit her gossips and other good friends to run in and out, nor must she herself run off to other houses to gossip. If she is visited by a serious illness, "which may God in his great mercy prevent," she must leave the house and stay with friends. In that case she is not to receive a penny more wages than she has been getting.

The professor allows her so many kitchen aprons, but they remain his property. She must pay for her breakages when they are at all serious. If she refuses to agree to any of these conditions her master has a right to discharge her on a fortnight's notice. She hires herself out for a year from March 1 to March 1. Her wages are to be $2 a year, but in addition to this she is to receive a Christmas present of 50 cents, a dress as an inducement to ply her spinning wheel diligently, and a pair of shoes.

OUR TOUGHEST WOOD.

Osage Orange Is Stronger Than Hickory or Honey Locust.

The toughest American wood is that of the Osage orange, which is not an orange at all, but belongs to the nettle family. This has been proved by a series of tests made by the United States forest service, but the Indians knew it before the coming of the white man, and it was known to them as the bow tree, because they used it for making their finest bows.

Some idea of its strength may be had from a report made by the forest service, which shows that a block 30 inches long and 2 by 2 inches in cross section when bent breaks under a stress of 13,660 pounds, its nearest rival being a variety of the hickory called mockernut. When bent by the impact of a hundred pound hammer it stands a stress of 15,520 pounds, certain sugar maples and the honey locust being its nearest rivals. It exceeds the hickories, and its only rival in hardness, tested by the force required to imbed a .444 inch ball to one-half its diameter, is the honey locust—New York Wood.

Good Map Engravers Scarce.

No finer maps are made than the engraved topographic atlas sheets of the United States geological survey. In accuracy of detail as well as in quality of printing the survey asserts, with little fear of contradiction, that its maps lead all others, wherever printed. Great advances have been made in recent years in various phases of the printing art, but for fine map work, strange as it may seem, no process has yet been found equal to the original hand engraving, which is still essentially the same process that it was generations ago. The skilled copper plate engraver who cuts on his metal base the thin lines which reproduce the map is as necessary now as he was during the middle of the last century. Not every one can be a successful engraver. It requires a fine touch and a good eye.

Time Is Sometimes Kind.

Father Time is not always a hard parent and, though he carries for none of his children, often lays his hand lightly upon those who have used him well, making them old men and women inexorably enough, but leaving their hearts and spirits young and in full vigor. With such people the gray head is but the impression of the old fellow's hand in giving them his blessing and every wrinkle but a notch in the quiet calendar of a well spent life.—Barnaby Rudge.

A Roland For an Oliver.

Although no saying is in more common use than "Roland for an Oliver," yet few are acquainted with its origin. The expression signifies the giving of an equivalent. Roland and Oliver were two comrades who were famous knights in romance known in early French history for their valor. The wonderful achievements of the one can only be equalled by those of the other, and so we have the phrase, "Roland for an Oliver."

Mrs. Robert McIvreen entered peacefully into rest 6.30 a.m. Friday, Sept. 26th, at Bawlf, Alta., at the home of her son Frank. About five years ago while residing at Warwick, she had a stroke of paralysis and had not been strong since. While spending the summer at Banff, her strength had perceptibly and it was thought best that she should move to a lower altitude. Accordingly she returned to Bawlf, Alta., where two of her sons reside, but her days were numbered and on Thursday, the 18th, she received a stroke and did not regain consciousness during the eight days that elapsed prior to her death. Mrs. McIvreen was born in the township of Colborne, Huron County, 24th January, 1852, her maiden name being Elizabeth Butt. She was married Dec. 20th, 1876, after which she resided in Stanley township, Huron Co., for 20 years. She then moved to Warwick, remaining there for 10 years. Since then she has been with her children in the west, spending the summer months usually at Banff. All noted her patience and cheerfulness in bearing her physical weakness so many years. She was a noble wife and mother and her life was a benediction to all. Her Christian experience was bright and clear from her childhood to the end. She is survived by her husband and three sons:—Arthur and Frank, of Bawlf, Alta., and Lundy, of Bankhead, Alta. A memorial service was held at Bawlf Friday, Sept. 26th, and the burial at Banff Sunday, Sept. 28th, at the foot of the great mountains.

Kennedy, followed by two addresses, Mr. James Sullivan will speak on "The Pastor in the Sunday School." Another address will be given by Miss Laine. Crockery and Glassware

This is not the only store that sells crockery and glassware in this state, but it the only one that sells reliable crockery and glassware.

It may be news to you that a cup and saucer made of the same material, and finished in the same way, may have two grades—"firsts" and "seconds." This is caused in the making, firing and handling of the cup and saucer. The cups and saucers that come out of the process best are "firsts" and the next are "seconds." It is the same with glassware. We carry the best only.

But when we offer you the best crockery and glassware at this store, it is the best. Inspect our stock, compare our prices with those of any other store—then look at the quality.

(Lethbridge paper, Sept. 1st.)

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Munroe, 507 Twelfth St., A., N., was the scene of a very pretty wedding at four-thirty yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Eva, was joined in matrimony to Mr. Uriah George Williamson, of this city.

"Miss Simm was prettily gowned in embroidered white mull with touches of passementerie, while Miss McKenzie wore embroidered white voile with bebe Irish lace adornment.

"Mr. and Mrs. Williamson left on the six o'clock train for Banff and Laggan, the bride travelling in a suit of blue serge and grey toque with ostrich plume. On their return they will reside at 1224 Sixteenth St., N."

Watford Fair Will be a Hummer

Tuesday and Wednesday, October 7th and 8th

The Directors of the East Lambton Agricultural Society aim to make the County Fair at Watford this year one of the best in its history of successful fairs, and one that will give pleasure and satisfaction to all who attend.

$2,000 will be offered in prizes for stock, produce and other classes that go to make up a successful fair, and there will be a host of special attractions.

On Wednesday, October 8th, there will be two trials of speed—a 2.50 trot and an open race—with good cash prizes. A motor-cycle race will be an interesting event and good prizes are offered for lady drivers. As usual the baby show will be of interest to all mothers and many others. A fine platform program has been arranged which will include Irish and Scotch Dancing and many other pleasing features.

The Pipers Band of Sarnia, and the Watford Concert Band will furnish plenty of instrumental music. A good midway and other attractions for the grownups and merry-go-round and many other amusements for the children. Remember the date—Wednesday, Oct. 8th, and do not fail to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Brookes and son Leo, of Toronto, intend to move back to Strathroy shortly.

The Plympton Sunday School Convention will be held in the South Plympton Presbyterian Church, London Road, on Thursday, Oct. 9th. Two sessions will be held from 2 to 6 p. m. and from 6:46 to 9 p. m. An excellent program has been prepared, which will include interesting addresses by the local Clergy and Miss Lane, Provincial Officer. A free supper for delegates will be served at 5:45 and special music by the church choir, solos etc., rendered at the evening session. Those interested in Sabbath School work should attend.

At the Palace Inn

Where a Good Cook Scores a Success

By ALBERTA HARWOOD

Mrs. Bassett appeared in the doorway dressed in street costume. Her husband, smoking moodily in the glow of the evening lamp, looked at her inquiringly.

"I'm going now," she said coldly. "Going where?" he asked blankly. "I told you I was going away where my cooking would be appreciated. You just laugh at me," quivered his wife as she buttoned her glove.

"Lena!"

"You did laugh, and you were sarcastic. You said you couldn't understand why a woman should take up the responsibilities of housekeeping without the slightest knowledge of how to cook. You said I couldn't boil water without burning it!"

Without another glance at his stunned face she slipped out of the door and was soon walking down the three flights of stairs that led to the street door of the apartment house.

In the entrance she paused uncertainly and then, grasping her traveling bag more firmly, went to the corner and, hailing a car, rode to the railroad station. A half hour spent at the information bureau resulted in her boarding the 9:30 for the west, and soon Chicago was a city of fairy lights far behind. To Lena Bassett it was the city of disillusionment.

"I am so glad that I remembered Kitty Frake's address," she murmured to herself. "I can remember her letter word for word: 'If ever you are left alone come out to Red Gulch and help me run the Palace Inn. I am making piles of money. It's nothing like the old days in the department store.'"

The ticket to Red Gulch was in her purse, and in two days she would be

PAIN IN MY BACK IS ALL GONE

Since I Got a Box of Gin Pills

CHURCH ST., CORNWALLIS, N.S.
January 23rd.

"About a year ago, I was suffering so much with a dreadful Lame Back and Hips, that I could not stand up straight. I was informed by a friend about GIN PILLS. I got a box. It helped me immediately. I have taken about twelve boxes and the pain in my back and hips are all gone. I cannot speak too highly of the wonderful effects of your GIN PILLS!"

B. C. DAVID.
Liniments and plasters won't cure Lame Back - because they never reach the part that is causing the pain. The whole trouble is with the Kidneys, and you must cure the Kidneys in order to stop the pain. GIN PILLS cure weak, sick, strained Kidneys as nothing else will. GIN PILLS drive away the pain every time - or your money promptly refunded. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

gone to Frisco to spend it," replied Link curiously. "Any kin of theirs?"

"No. I thought they kept a hotel."

"Miss Frake did, but she sold out. This is at the end of the row, the Palace, Wilder Bassett's place."

"Bassett's?" The stranger picked up his ears. "A widow, did you say?" he demanded eagerly.

"Guess so. Don't know whether it's grass or sod though. She's a mighty good cook just the same. Her biscuits are that light that you'd think to heaven on 'em, sure thing!" exclaimed Link, with enthusiasm.

"I guess she's not the one I'm looking for," murmured the stranger in a disappointed tone.

"If you're looking for a widdler woman, why, there's the Wilder Catholican over to Cottonwood," suggested Link jocosely.

"No, thanks; merely looking for the Frakes. I thought they still lived here. You said the Palace Inn, didn't you?"

"Yep; at the end of the street."

"Thanks." The stranger went on down the straggling street to the red painted door of the Palace Inn. It was a pretentious title for such a warped and shabby old wooden structure, but the veranda was filled with comfortable chairs and scattered potted plants, and the window curtains were snowy white. There was the odor of baking cake from the kitchen in the rear.

The stranger went into the cobby-hole of an office and, finding it empty, walked through the long dining room to the hot kitchen. He stood there for five minutes watching Mrs. Bassett as she flew from one task to another, plump, rosy and pretty, but with a strained look in her dark eyes. She was directing the movements of a stupid looking German waiter and scolding a public stricken Chinese.

"Now, Carl, see that the table is properly set before you slug the bell, understand? Yesterday you forgot to put a bit of silverware out, and you lost a half hour running in and out after forks and spoons. Wah Lee, I will show you what to do in a moment. No, you can't do the cooking! If Sam Lee had not left me in such a hurry! Oh, dear, I would give anything for a cook that could broil a steak and!"

"He's here, ma'am," said the stranger calmly.

Mrs. Bassett whirled around and stared at the newcomer. Her rosy cheeks grew pale and then red, and her eyes were first flaming yellow and then dark brown. Her hands shook as she placed a newly baked pie on the kitchen table.

"You? What do you want?" she asked bluntly.

"A job, I can cook," said the other.

Lena Bassett hesitated. "Very well," she said suddenly. "My Chinaman left yesterday and there isn't a soul here can do a bit of cooking except myself. Wah Lee, take Mr. - what did you say your name was?" she asked.

"I didn't say, but it's Dick," said the stranger as he gave his suit case to the little Chinese.

"Well, Dick, suppose you get into one of Carl's white coats and aprons and make yourself a paper cap and get to work. This is the day we have beefsteak and it's got to be cooked right."

"I can do it," said the other grimly, and he set to work.

"HERE," SAID LENA, HOLDING OUT THE HANDFUL OF COINS.

in that Nevada Golconda where Kitty Frake was living with a brother.

It was a bitter disappointment to arrive in Red Gulch and discover that Kitty Frake had suddenly married and gone to San Francisco to live. The Palace Inn was waiting for another incompetent to come forward and offer food and lodging to hungry men.

So Lena Bassett met with a warm reception after all. Bob Frake put her in the way of getting hold of the Palace Inn and found her a good Chinese cook and two waitresses.

"The rest is up to you," he said.

Lena Bassett squared her shoulders, called pride to her aid and sent east for a box of cookbooks.

The train from the east sneaked out of Red Gulch leaving a long trail of smoke to settle in the sagebrush. The solitary passenger shouldered his rusty suit case and, avoiding the careening stage which flew past him empty, set his face toward the postoffice and hotel.

He was a tall, broad shouldered man with a pointed soft brown beard and mustache. His face was sunburned, and his hands showed signs of hard labor.

At the postoffice he stopped and spoke to Link Benson.

"Anybody name of Frake live in this town?" he asked anxiously.

"Nix. Bob Frake and his sister were here, but the girl got married and went away, and Bob he's struck it rich and

MAPLESS REGIONS

An Eighth of the World's Land Surface Still Unexplored.

AREAS WRAPPED IN MYSTERY.

"The Dwelling of the Void" in Arabia is supposed to be the most desolate waste on the globe—New Guinea has baffled countless expeditions.

It would seem as though this little world of ours should be pretty thoroughly known by this time, yet there are many unexplored territories which have yet to receive the impress of a human foot and which doubtless, like the north and south polar regions, will take their toll of heroic victims from the hardy explorers who first enter their closed portals.

On a rough estimate about 7,000,000 square miles, or one-eighth of the total land surface of the world, are waiting to be discovered. Some 200,000 square miles of this lie in the arctic regions of the north, but among the frozen tracts that form "antarctic" in the south, where Scott and his gallant followers were penetrating, nearly 3,000,000 square miles are relegated to the sole use of whales, seals, penguins, petrels and other animal and bird inhabitants of frozen homes.

It is true that human habitations could never be formed in such climes as these, but the scientific world is ever eager for the discoveries of explorers, and even among uninhabited districts their work is never wasted.

In Arabia there exists a tract of unexplored country nearly five times as large as Great Britain. It stretches from Mecca almost to the southeast coast and is called Dahkna, or "the Dwelling of the Void." Probably no more desolate waste is to be found in the globe, for not a single river is estimated to flow throughout its entire 400,000 square miles. Imagine Germany and France combined without river or stream and you will gain some idea of the parched condition of Dahkna. The Sahara is a blissful retreat by comparison.

Some authorities state that the whole desert is not worth the price of a good malacca cane. Others give credence to the legend that treasures and hidden cities lie in the heart of the sands.

Of quite a different character are the enormous mountain fastnesses of South America, which lie along the upper Amazon and in the districts of Colombia and Peru. The celebrated treasure of Cuzco lies secreted among the Peruvian heights. Impenetrable forests, mountain jungles and innumerable fever spreading rivers hold the most intrepid adventurers at bay, to say nothing of carnivorous ants, malignant snakes, water moccasins and those most deadly of serpents, anacondas. During recent years over a dozen expeditions have been either wholly or partially wiped out in their efforts to wrestle with these regions.

Although the famous El Dorado, which set the sixteenth century ablaze, has never been unearthed, the country generally might fittingly be called El Dorado, from the rich minerals and priceless stones emanating therefrom.

Strange, wild eyed men descend occasionally from the mountains, bringing wonderful fragments with them. But they refuse to act as guides to those who would accompany them back.

It is curious to realize that vast portions of the British empire have never been seen by British eyes or the eyes of any white men. Nearly a quarter of Australia is still unexplored, mainly in the west, where the population averages only one person in about every twenty square miles.

New Guinea has baffled countless expeditions, though many are still trying to fight their way inland from the coast. Despite the fact that the interior of this island is practically a geographical blank, it is neatly divided on the maps between Britain, Germany and Holland. Among its products are birds of paradise, spices and cannibals.

Another particularly interesting district which has so far defied civilization lies secreted among the Himalaya mountains. Rumor accounts that it is presided over by women, who are responsible for such rude laws as are necessary even in a lawless district, manage the affairs of state and live in a luxury of inverted Mormonism by possessing four or five husbands apiece. To the hill men are relegated all the rough tasks and menial labor. "Mere man" is of small account beside these Himalayan amazons. But we may assume that in due season the men will rise to claim their vote.

The foregoing selection does not exhaust by any means the list of geographical blanks waiting to be filled. Before the atlas complete can lie on our shelves we must penetrate the darker haunts of Borneo, North America, the Kongo basin, the 700 mile mountain range that stretches from Der Fur into the heart of Sahara and numerous other spaces.—London Answers.

Could Spot Him.
Yeast—So clear is the mountain atmosphere at Quito, under the equator in Ecuador, that persons dressed in white have been distinguished seventy miles away. Crimsonbeak—That's no place for a man to owe his tailor money.—Yonkers Statesman.

The barriers are not erected that can lay to aspring talents and industry, "thus far and no farther."—Beethoven.

Smut Diseases of Cultivated Plants

It is estimated by the Director of the Experimental Farms that smut diseases of cultivated plants cause an annual loss in Canada of at least fifteen million dollars. If these diseases were properly understood and the best known remedies applied at proper times much of this serious injury would be prevented.

In order to teach crop growers how best to protect their fields against damage by smuts there has been issued by the Department of Agriculture a comprehensive, plainly written treatise which is issued as bulletin No. 73, of the Experimental Farms. The author, Mr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist, has gone into the subject very thoroughly, not only describing the smuts, in their various stages, that affect wheat, barley, oats, corn and millet, but attention is given to methods of infection as well as the preventive measures and curative methods that have been found useful. The text which occupies about fifty pages is much helped by numerous illustrations. This work is being sent out free to all who apply for it to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Distribution of Pure Bred Live Stock

As announced early in the season, the Dominion Live Stock Branch has this year undertaken a distribution of pure bred male animals throughout Canada on a somewhat extensive scale. In inaugurating this policy the aim has been to aid sections where pure bred sires were lacking and to encourage new communities in following an intelligent system in breeding. This form of assistance has proven very popular and during the last few months a large number of bulls and several stallions have been placed in various parts of the country in the hands of local associations formed specially for the purpose of handling and maintaining them. All animals placed remain the property of the Department of Agriculture, the local associations assuming the responsibility for their maintenance and management under the general supervision of officers of the Live Stock Branch.

The distribution of bulls and stallions having been brought to a close for this year the opportunity is now open to deal with applications for boars and rams. Full information regarding the rules governing the distribution and the procedure to be followed in forming the necessary organization may be had upon application to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa.

As it is the intention to consider only such requests as are forwarded before October 20th, it will be necessary for districts desiring to take advantage of this offer to act promptly.

Ambition is but man's aim at the target; as man aims he should make his energy fire, thus day by day lifting his aspirations higher.

Every man would have a pretty fair reputation if people looked for his good qualities as carefully as they look for the good qualities of a dog.

He—"That's absurd. Do you think I'm as big a fool as I look?" She—"I think if you aren't you have a great deal to be thankful for."

STRANGLER WITH ASTHMA is the only expression that seems to convey what is endured from an attack of this trouble. The relief from Dr. J. D. Klogg's Asthma Remedy is beyond measure. Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely clear. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.

Courtesy is the eye which overlooks your friend's broken gateway, but sees the rose which blossoms in his garden.

After all, the kind of world one carries about within one's self is the important thing, and the world outside takes all its grace, color and value from that.

Old Gentleman—"Well, my little lad, are you going fishing or are you going to school?" Little lad—"I dunno yet, I'm just a-wrestling with my conscience."

Finding fault with your brother is but the heaping of abuse upon him; you can neither use nor abuse another for your own gain without becoming the worse for it.

The dyspeptic will find them a friend always and should carry them with him everywhere. They are made to withstand any climate and are warranted to keep their freshness and strength. Farming's Bright Future
(Pt. Rowan News).

It may be that in a few years the whole dairying business will be transferred to the cities. Milking machines can be more profitably employed where cows are kept in great herds in big stables and yards. Power for operating milkers, churns, washers and other dairy appliances can be more economically employed in the cities: inspection of cows and oversight of all the processes of manufacture can be more certainly undertaken in the populous centres, where things are done on a large scale. When dairying and cattle raising is transferred to the cities, the farmer will have nothing to do but grow feed for the city stables and haul fertilizer from the railway station. When the city man goes into the dairy business on a large scale he will soon have a machine for teaching calves to drink.

Thousands of mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, because they know from experience how useful it is.

"Thomas," said the mother severely, "some one has taken a big piece of gingerbread out of the pantry."

Tommy blushed guiltily.

"Oh, Thomas," she exclaimed, "I didn't think it was in you."

"It ain't all," replied Tommy, "part of it's in Sadie."

is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. The Forest Fair a Fine Success

Forest, Sept. 26.—The Forest Fair, held yesterday and to-day, was a big success. The exhibits in all classes were large, live stock and fruit making an extra good showing. The ideal weather brought out a big crowd to-day, and grounds and buildings were thronged. The receipts amounted to over $900, being considerably in excess of last year.

The Parkhill Fair

Parkhill, Sept. 26.—Between three and four thousand people visited the Parkhill Agricultural Society's fall exhibition to-day. The attendance undoubtedly would have been greater, but throughout the morning rain fell incessantly, and it was feared that the fair would be marred completely. But about 2 o'clock a strong and decided chilly north wind scattered the clouds and the sun and wind quickly dried the track and the roads making travel much easier than anticipated.

In consequence farmers for miles around assembled to make the occasion a red-letter day. From every standpoint the fair was a success.

Death of Mr. W. H. McMahon

WYOMING, Sept. 26.—The death of William H. McMahon, which occurred at his home here at 2 o'clock this morning, removes from Wyoming one of its most prominent residents.

Lambton County loses a citizen who had been connected with its municipal affairs for upwards of thirty years. The deceased was born near Kingston on April 21, 1840. In 1861 he removed to Enniskillen Township, and purchased 100 acres, now comprising the southeast corner of the town of Petrolia, which he cleared and devoted a part of his time teaming crude oil from Oil Springs to Wyoming, prior to the construction of the Petrolia branch of the G. T. R. He removed to Plympton in April, 1874, where he purchased the west half of lot 27, concession 3, and followed the occupation of stock dealer. Seven years ago he sold his farm and purchased the residence of Mr. J. B. Anderson, on London street, this village, where he has since resided as a retired gentleman, but devoted a part of his time to the buying of stock until a short time prior to his death. The deceased filled the position of reeve of Plympton for several years, and also warden of the county.

He was a life-long active Conservative in politics and opposed the late J. F. Lister as a candidate for the Dominion Parliament 33 years ago, but was defeated. He was a prominent member of the Masonic and Orange orders in the latter of which he had attained the (scarlet) degree, and was a charter member of Wainstead Lodge, L.O.J., and a past county master. He was a member of the Orange Order for about 50 years and a member of the Methodist church for 28 years. He was united in marriage 48 years ago to Mrs. Orson Armstrong, whose maiden name was Miss Mary Metcalfe, who, with her two children by her first husband, Orson Armstrong, of Sarnia, and Mrs. Angus Kerr, of Detroit, survive.

The funeral was held from the family residence on Sunday afternoon to the village cemetery, was one of the largest ever seen here. Services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Fring, pastor of the Methodist Church, and Rev. I. W. Reid, of Theodora, a former pastor and family friend. Four brothers and two cousins acted as pallbearers. An immense crowd of brother Orangemen and Masons, of which orders the deceased was a member for many years, attended. A special train was run from Sarnia to accommodate the brethren and friends from that town.

THE next sittings of the Court of Ontario for the County of Lambton will be held at the Courthouse, on Tuesday, the 14th of October, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon.
