Crisis in Near East Exciting All Europe But War is Not Yet

Turkey Will Not Likely Force Bulgarians to Fight to Preserve Their Newly Proclaimed Independence.

AUSTRIAN ANNEXATION IS SOURCE OF DANGER

BULGARIA AN INDEPENDENT KINGDOM.
 SOFIA, Oct. 5.—The proclamation of Bulgaria as an independent kingdom was formally made at Tirnova today. Prince Ferdinand and his ministers were at Tirnova when independence was proclaimed, having reached there last evening.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—In the ancient capital of Tirnova the independence of Bulgaria was proclaimed today with the czar of the Bulgarians as ruler. Czar of the Bulgarians is recognized to mean more than czar of Bulgaria, because it is a distinct intimation that he regards his country as having sovereignty over all people of that land in the near east.

Within a day or two Austria-Hungary, which has been working with Prince Ferdinand in this preconcerted plan, will proclaim the new status of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The question, which has been stirring the whole of Europe more deeply than any similar question in the memory of the present generation, is, DOES IT MEAN WAR?

From all the capitals to-night come reports indicating that it means, first of all, a European congress of the signers of the treaty of Berlin to consider the situation and probably revise the treaty. Turkey, victim in a moment of weakness, is the cause of this situation, and while some international animosities have been stirred up, probably no power is willing to make war. Reports from the emancipated Turkish press to London indicate that the "Young Turks" will swallow this bitter pill as best they can and, if they do not naturally the Bulgarians, while willing and eager for war, will have no cause on which to base the beginning of hostilities.

Surprise Britain.
 From the British standpoint the whole affair has been a surprise, and more than a surprise, because for the first time in years, the British Government felt itself, with apparently a perfect understanding with France and Russia, and complete friendship with Italy, to be in a position where it dominated European politics, reserving out of this consideration the almost open enmity between itself and Germany.

Probably never in the history of Europe have politics taken such amazing kaleidoscopic revolutions as during the past week. An untangling will come when the signatories of the Berlin treaty meet to consider what action shall be taken regarding the violations of the treaty. Great Britain to-night served notice that it does not recognize the right of any of the parties to this treaty to violate its provisions without consulting the others, but English diplomats know that the conference will resolve into a scramble among the powers to get what is termed in European politics "compensating advantages" which Austria, backed by Germany, has already obtained.

The official statement issued by the British foreign office this evening says: "His majesty's government cannot admit the right of any power to alter an international treaty without the consent of the other parties to it, and it therefore refuses to sanction any infringement of the Berlin treaty and declines to recognize what has been done until the views of the other powers are known, especially those of Turkey, which is more directly concerned than any one else."

The chances of war between Bulgaria and Turkey are being minimized by Great Britain and France, who

LAURIER'S FINEST WELCOME IN QUEBEC

Constituents Receive Him With Open Arms and 6000 Crowd to Hear Him—Among His Old Friends.

QUEBEC, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Whatever may have been the receptions accorded Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his present campaign tour, the demonstration given in his honor this evening by the electors of Quebec East shows that at least his adopted riding is still faithful to him.

He was welcomed by more people, as well as with more enthusiasm, than at any place since his tour was opened at Sorel. Sir Wilfrid was presented with a large volume bound in red leather and faced with a golden plate duly inscribed. Inside the volume was an address couched in the most ornately eulogistic terms, and a requisition to the premier signed by over 2000 voters of Quebec East asking him to again become their candidate. Sir Wilfrid consented to run once more in Quebec East, despite his engagements at Ottawa, and kissed two happy young ladies who presented him with huge bouquets.

A striking feature of the demonstration was the absence of banners and the other stock in trade of machine-made enthusiasm. But artificial aids to elections were replaced by the people of the riding, who turned out en masse to welcome Sir Wilfrid, and made really a natural outburst of enthusiasm. From the time the premier entered the riding until he left it he was greeted with acclamation that was a strong tribute to his popularity in the constituency he has represented since his defeat in Arthabaskville in 1877.

The streets were lined with people and several times during Sir Wilfrid's progress to the hall his carriage was so surrounded by people that he had to rise and bow his thanks before he could go any further. Most of the way the premier was drawn by a pair of horses, but when his carriage had reached a convenient proximity to the hall they were taken out and the carriage was dragged by his friends. The procession was half a mile long and headed by 300 students.

The hall was packed to the doors, fully 6000 people being present. The enthusiasm was intense, especially when Sir Wilfrid reached a convenient proximity to the hall they were taken out and the carriage was dragged by his friends. The procession was half a mile long and headed by 300 students.

Speaking in reply to the address presented to him, the premier said that he had come to Quebec thirty years ago as a comparatively young man, and now he was among his Quebec friends a white-haired old man. He was profuse in his expressions of thanks to his old friends, and said that the present demonstration was a signal proof of the continued confidence which they reposed in him. Much of the premier's speech had reference to local conditions. He told his friends that Messrs. Power and Lachance could be trusted to look after the interests of Quebec at Ottawa, and said that votes for them meant votes for himself. He dealt with the policy of his government on general lines, repeating exactly what he had said at his previous meetings in English elsewhere. Not a single new declaration was made by him.

Messrs. Goun, Demenx, Bureau and Taschereau were the other speakers, the meeting winding up with an eloquent pleading by a clever young local orator named Laferte, a student of Laval University, whom Sir Wilfrid with others, applauded heartily. The meeting lasted till close upon midnight, when Sir Wilfrid assured it of the outcome of his victory on polling day, amid loud applause.

IS STRIKE REALLY OFF? LOCAL MEN CAN'T SAY

They Haven't Been Officially Informed That They Are to Go Back to Work.

Does the C.P.R. strike really at an end? The men affected locally say it is not. Not one applied for work yesterday, and the sentiment seemed to be general that they would not go back on the award of the national campaign.

The only notification they have had, except thru the newspapers, has been a telegram received from J. H. McVety in Winnipeg. It was beautifully brief. "Strike called off" was all it said.

(1) Married men will all be taken back.
 (2) Competent strikebreakers will be retained in the employ of the company.
 (3) Incompetent strikebreakers will be summarily dismissed.
 (4) Competent unarmored hands employed before will be taken back as there are vacancies to fill.

A Winnipeg special says: "After a stormy meeting in the Trades' Hall this morning at which both Mr. McVety and Bell Hardy spoke, the meeting has been learned of the trend of the addresses, it is believed that the men expressed their dissatisfaction with the result of the strike and the terms. Both Mr. McVety and Bell Hardy, it is said, were severely criticized."

It was stated in West Toronto last night that a telegram had been received from Mr. Somerville, of the machinists, now in Montreal, that the strike was not at an end.
 A Montreal special last night said: "Up to midnight the C.P.R. strikers have received no word to go to work, and consequently only a solitary striker has gone into the Angus shops since morning. They believe that such order will be here before 8 o'clock to-morrow morning."

NO IMMIGRATION BONUS

Meeting of Charity Workers Last Night Decides to Petition Government.
 A second conference of the civic committee with charitable organizations concerning the unemployed problem, was held last night. It was the general opinion that the city should have a central bureau for relief and for the purpose of bringing the unemployed in touch with possible employers.
 There was much division of opinion over the point whether relief works should pay lower wages than ordinary work.
 It was generally agreed that the government should be memorialized to stop the bonus system to agents who send immigrants.

SUBURBAN SERVICE CON-FERENCE

The need of a suburban service for Toronto has been discussed and approved by the City of Toronto, by the Trades and Labor Council and by the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.
 The question has been taken up in the district outside Toronto with an enthusiasm that indicates how closely such a service affects the happiness and welfare of those living along the various branches radiating from the city.
 The conference at the city hall on Wednesday morning at 10.30, between representatives of the railroads, should be a history-making event in the records of the development of transportation interests of this community.

Interest in this question has not diminished even in the stress of a national campaign. The members of the committee have been entrusted with the interests of half a million people, and they do not have to be reminded what their duty is on this occasion.

ONTARIO GETS 15 PER CENT.

Settlement Reached With T. & H. B. Mining Company.
 A settlement has been arrived at by the government with the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Mining Co. by which the company will receive the patents for the disputed property on the condition of a payment of 15 per cent. of all proceeds of the mine as returned by the smelter.
 The government was not prepared to divulge the conditions until the negotiations had been absolutely completed, but the president of the company has published the news in his address to the annual meeting of shareholders.
 The matter was in charge of the attorney-general's department, and Chas. H. Ritchie, K.C., had charge of the negotiations.

T. H. S. NIGHT CLASSES.

"How I wish the city fathers or the board of education had been present at the school when the registration rush was on," said Principal R. H. Eldon last night when asked as to the enrollment of new students for the night classes at the technical high school. There were 800 registered last night, and it is expected 700 more will be added during the term. This is the extent of the accommodation.

OTTAWA GREET'S BORDEN WITH FERVOR

Immense Audience to Hear Him—French Conservative Candidate Has a Poser for the Premier.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Conservative rally at Ottawa to-night was characterized as one of the very best of the campaign. It was enthusiastic to a degree. There were over six thousand present, and R. L. Borden rose to an unusual pitch of eloquence. This was Hon. Mr. Hanna's first appearance before an Ottawa audience. He got a rousing reception.

P. D. Ross drew attention to the change in the candidature for Ottawa, and as to how A. W. Fraser and Dr. Chevrier had been pulled out of the fight. He imagined that the change was due to the growing and crushing conviction of public opinion that Fraser and Chevrier had been benefiting by government patronage. Mr. Ross pointed out that in Ottawa they had become accustomed to that class of men: Robert Stewart, the late member, had a son who had been benefiting by dredging contracts. They got Dr. Chevrier, another ex-M.P. for Ottawa, had benefited in connection with government concessions in the Yukon. Then there was the case of Hon. Mr. A. Belcourt, another ex-M.P. for Ottawa, had benefited in connection with government concessions in the Yukon. Then there was the case of Hon. Mr. A. Belcourt, another ex-M.P. for Ottawa, had benefited in connection with government concessions in the Yukon.

Now there were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was responsible on his own word for these things, and H. B. McGivern, who was also a beneficiary of the government. He had received $1000 for acting as a middleman in the purchase of an Ottawa property by the government. This was not for legal services, for A. W. Fraser provided these, but simply as a gift. There was no necessity for a middleman at all.

Dr. J. L. Chabot, the French-speaking candidate, congratulated himself that the Liberals had brought on their biggest and best against him. The bigger the game, the greater the honor. He challenged the government to a first occasion he spoke in Ottawa, whether, if he were returned for Ottawa, he would sit for the capital or Quebec East.

Talking of federal matters, R. L. Borden contrasted the report of the civil service commission this year regarding the marine and fisheries department with the investigation of the same department during 1892-3. This alone should be sufficient to drive the government from power; it would in the old country within a week of publication.

STEAL $1000 IN FURS FROM YONGE ST. SHOP

Carry Them Away in Broad Glare of the Electric Light—Soon Caught.
 What practically amounts to daylight robbery was perpetrated on Yonge-street between 7 and 9 o'clock last night, when in the full glare in front of the Crystal Palace Theatre two Jews, accompanied by a third, the theatre, forced the door of Abraham Levine's fur store at 181 Yonge-street, over the theatre, and carried out $1000 worth of furs, taking them to 39 Teraulay-street, where they were found by the police.

The entry and theft were reported to the detective department and Detectives Kennedy and Twigg went out on the job.
 They found Isidor Einhorn, 72 Chesnut-street, and also the furs. The other inmates of the house, two young men and two girls, were also taken to the Court-street station, where they were charged with vagrancy.
 The goods stolen were bulky, consisting of five men's fur-lined coats, one woman's coat, 200 mink skins and a number of muskrat skins.
 Einhorn, who is a furworker, had worked at the Yonge-street store for two days last week. He is about 25 years of age.

MRS. HAINS A WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION

Will Not Assist the Defence in the Forthcoming Trial of the Brothers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Altho counsel for Mrs. Peter C. Hains Jr. failed today to file an affidavit of specifications in support of her motion for alimony, counsel fees and the custody of her children in the suit for absolute divorce brought by her husband shortly before his shooting of William E. Annis, that fact, it appears, is not to entail a default by her in the proceedings.

Weldon C. Percy, attorney for Capt. Hains in the divorce action, was notified today that Mrs. Hains' affidavit would be filed in the King's County supreme court tomorrow. The omission to enter the affidavit to-day had given rise to a rumor that Mrs. Hains had decided to admit the truth of her husband's charges, and thus aid him in his forthcoming trial for the murder of Annis, but this was promptly set at naught by Mrs. Hains' active part in the murder trial.

"It will be as a witness for the prosecution and not for the defence," said Percy. The October grand jury, to which the Hains case will be presented, was sworn in today at Flushing.

Col. and Mrs. Rathburn, Deseronto, are in town for a visit to Mrs. Masten, Bedford-road.

The Rogers Brothers have belonged almost exclusively to New York and Chicago for so many theatrical seasons that Toronto students of green-room gossip had well-nigh begun to lose hope of the frolicking duo ever drifting to these shores. More than a mere flutter of interest was occasioned, then, by the long-deferred appearance of a local engagement, and a very large audience was at the Princess last night prepared to follow with interest their adventures and misadventures (mostly the latter) in Panama.

High expectations are not infrequently disappointed with regard to theatrical productions as with other things, but in this instance there did not appear to be any shattering illusions. The Rogers Brothers have funny, there can hardly be two opinions on that score. Their comedy work aims always at the production of broad and ludicrous effect, but it does not degenerate into vulgar travesty. It is nonsense, of course, and serves no other purpose than to amuse by a slapdash appeal to the risibilities, but it would be an aesthetic indeed who wouldn't succumb. They affect the Teutonic field of mirth manufacture, a by no means uncrowded one, but their methods are stamped with a certain originality, even if they do get entangled in the meshes of the King's English after the most approved style. They have more of the gifts of vocalism than the comedian is usually endowed with and won the audience's favor in this regard as well.

There is an all-round completeness about the production which stamps it as deserving the support of all lovers of musical comedy. The leading parts are all exceptionally well taken by a cast evidently selected with scrupulous care. The large chorus is provided with a dazzling array of costumes, giving to the full the wealth of color effect to which the Latin atmosphere lends itself. Seldom have more brilliant ensembles been seen in a Toronto theatre. The glittering splendor of the arena scene at the opening of the third and final act being especially noteworthy. The stage settings are lavish enough to vie with a Savage production, and musical numbers with a pleasing lilt are surprisingly numerous. It was a very busy night with the whistling gallery and recalls were demanded many times.

Marion Stanley in the leading feminine role of Rose Gay has an attractive personality, and sings with charming effect several dainty solo numbers. Other prominent parts are by Lillian Smalley, Sibil Brennan, Eileen Sheridan, Josephine Burrows, Tell Taylor, Phillip Leigh, Henry Lehmann, Wm. Edmund, Robinson Newbold, and Geo. Lydecker.

At the Alexandria.

An exceptionally humorous and most ably rendered comedy, "The Belle of New York," is being offered this week at the Royal Alexandria by the Imperial Opera Co., and in this charming play the musical and acting further and more convincing proof of the great ability of their cast. From start to finish "The Belle of New York" is alive with a continual fire of highly original and witty comedy, punctuated with sprightly and captivating musical numbers.

In these days when cheap doggerel and vulgar clowning interspersed with horseplay and low buffoonery, pass muster as "musical comedy and light opera," it is indeed a rare privilege of the playgoer to witness a masterpiece of serious operatic extravaganza, such as "Babes in Toyland," which opened an engagement at the Grand last night. The music is by that gifted composer, Victor Herbert, and the book by the talented librettist, Glen MacDonough. In "Babes in Toyland" a fanciful story is told, which relates the adventures that befall two orphan children, Alan and Jane, who are hated by a miserly old toad, who wishes to rob them out of the way in order that he may obtain possession of the fortune which rightfully belongs to them. Other characters to be seen in the extravaganza, and who are friends of Alan and Jane, are Tom Tom, the Piper's Son, Little Red Riding Hood, Bo Peep, Contrary Mary, and divers personages taken from children's story books, Alan and Jane, in order to escape the persecutions of their wicked old Uncle Barnaby, run away to a mythical country called Toyland, presided over by a wonderful genius known as the master Toy-maker, who is able to create the most marvelous toys. Either they are followed by all the other characters in the play, and all meet with the most mysterious adventures. A monster procession of wonderful toys is held, and Alan and Jane, in disguise, are made the leaders of this spectacle. The old toy-maker has discovered a secret whereby he is enabled to give life to his creatures, and they rise in rebellion to destroy him and make Alan their leader. Of course Uncle Barnaby has followed the children to Toyland, still seeking their destruction, but in the end he is outwitted and everything ends happily, as it always does in a fairy story. Eddie Redway, formerly with "The Gingerbread Man," has the role of Alan, and Anna Wilkes, the well-known musical artist, is the new Jane. Helen McLeod sings the role of Tom Tom, and Vera Blair Stanley is Contrary Mary. Joe Kearney plays Inspector Marmaduke, and Len May is the Toy-maker's apprentice. Grumo, the cast all thru is an exceptionally able one and the performance last night, with augmented orchestra, was a brilliant one. Anything that is said of "Babes in Toyland" would be incomplete without reference to the chorus. The girls sing well and showed careful study in the several numbers.

At the Majestic.

"THE CREOLE SLAVE'S REVENGE."

Dick Remington, a young lawyer from New York, Frank Angus Jim Mobley, a Southern planter from Louisiana, T. E. B. Henry Hiram Griffin, of Skowhegan, Maine, Harry Hughes Dan Larriner, an escaped convict not degenerate, Judson Angell Judge Shirley, a southern gentleman, Charles Bronnill Col. Henric Lorraine Alice Shirley, who lives alone..... Minnie Stanley Mary, a wanderer..... May Hillman Fanny, who was "brung up along the Levee"..... Mamie Lincoln Pixley

A new melodrama with a southern setting is "The Creole Slave's Revenge," which was presented for the first time in this city at the Majestic Theatre yesterday, and was witnessed by two large audiences. The story of the play deals with convict slavery, and vividly pictures the treatment the negro receives under the penonage system. Plenty of opportunity is given for dramatic situations, and sensational climax, and these have been taken advantage of. The stage pictures are filled out by a number of dancers and singers, who make merry in the plantation and levee scenes, reminding one of "The Creole Slave's Revenge." The cast is a large one, and the various characters are presented in a creditable manner. Miss Henrietta Lawrence, who plays the role of Fanny, has a splendid interpretation of the character and was given good support by Frank Angus in the role of Dick Remington. During the week a matinee will be given, and the management has arranged for a dancing contest on Friday evening, when local amateurs will compete for cash prizes.

At Shea's.

A lengthy, diversified and all round excellent bill is that which pleased Shea audiences yesterday. The featured attraction is Mile. Adelaide, a dainty dancer, with four other pretty little misses. The act is more than ordinarily entertaining. The featured act is the Musical version of the Spring Song dance, when the quartet appear in drapes with limbs bared from the waist up, and their tresses encircled with flowers.

Another novel act is that of Jean Marcel, who provides living models of famous pieces of statuary. An amusing incident occurred at the matinee, when the cow used to give realism to the milkmaid scene chewed reality at the skirts of the impassive girl.

W. E. Whittle's ventriloquial efforts pleased immensely. He makes up as Roosevelt. Stuart Barnes tells funny stories, and Eleanor Falke is a comedienne who makes people laugh. The Majestic Musical Comedy is a number of new instruments. Bellong Bros. have a good acrobatic stunt, and Clement and Company have an amusing offering in "Too Much Symphony." The new picture kinetograph pictures to close the show.

At the Star.

The Sam Devere show at the Star this week is a hummer all the way thru and lives up to its old reputation as an inducer of much laughter and solid enjoyment. Both burlesques are good. Let us run with a few heads due to the excellent work of the chorus girls, for it is not often that such fier singers are gathered together on a burlesque stage. The old song, too. The four Banta Brothers do some clever instrumental work and sing and dance well. Brown and Bragg have some good parodies to offer and the Bartoletti Sisters pull off a clever dancing act, introducing many stunts entirely new to Toronto theatregoers. The old songs with Carl Anderson in descriptive and character songs. Gladys St. John and Sam Adams do clever work in the little skit "Tullion," a new departure in teaching methods. Sam Adams is excruciatingly funny.

At the Gayety.

The Casino Girls show at the Gayety is deserving of all the praise that the playgoer is capable of bestowing. The cloth of which the show is made is all wool and a yard wide, and fashioned into a design that gives delight. There is a happy absence of the same old thing—acrobats and German-Jew comedians.

It is a hand-picked combination of musical comedy and burlesque, carefully pruned, sandpapered and polished, and finally assembled into a creation that could not fail to please. It is a new departure in the same old thing—acrobats and German-Jew comedians. It opens with a rousing musical comedy in one act, "The Other Man's Wife," which is a new departure in the same old thing—acrobats and German-Jew comedians. As principals they do themselves and the splendid execution of the whole act, entitles the members of the cast to individual congratulations. The music is good, the lyrics are clever and the rendition swaggers. In the old Nick Long and Keleone Cotton have a dual act that is a sermon in itself, and it is the lady in the personality of a piebald wife that presses home the Adult Bible Classes to Have a Big Spread in November. A "thousand-men banquet" is being arranged for under the auspices of the Toronto Adult Bible Class Department, 114 West King-street, in directing the organization, and a general meeting will be held in the Metropolitan Sunday School on Thursday evening.

It is planned to hold the banquet in the Excelsior Link, College-street, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, with J. Camp-bell White of New York and Rev. Dr. Johnston of Montreal to give addresses.

The department is non-denominational and aims to organize the work of adult Bible classes in the city churches. In a year 215 classes have been placed on an organized basis and 30 per cent report increases in membership.

Succession Dues Increased. A total of $100,000 has been received in succession duties by the province up till the end of September. This will raise the triennial average upon which the university income is based. But while the increase is considerable, it is far from sufficient for university needs. Dr. John Hoskin, chairman of the board of governors, had an interview with Premier Whitney yesterday with a view to getting a sympathetic consideration for the new and necessary building plans in contemplation. DR. PALMER IN TEXAS. Dr. George L. Palmer, director of the Alexander Chert, has gone to Texas to assist Rev. Dr. Torrey in the revival meetings. He takes the place of Mr. Alexander, who has joined with Wilbur Chapman, evangelist, for a tour of the far east. In this age of agitation for pure clean foods, it is refreshing to know that "Salada" Tea is sold to the public in all its native freshness and fragrance, preserved in sealed air-tight packets, direct from the gardens to the consumer, insuring a cup of tea "in perfection" hitherto unknown.

New Canadian Record Made For 1-4 Miles by Craifonte

Steps Distance in 2.04 4-5 or 1-5 Second Better Than Old Mark Held by Inferno - Lockey Injured in Steeplechase.

The closing week of racing on the Canadian circuit for this year was begun at Hamilton yesterday, the feature being the last race, when that California horse, Chalfonte, 5, by Star shoot-Magna Charta, quoted as high as 9 to 1, hung up a new Canadian record for 1-4 miles, stepping the distance in 2:04 4-5, or 1-5 of a second lower than the mark held by Inferno, Chalfonte carried 103 yesterday, while Inferno had 117 up. Chalfonte was the best horse yesterday, taking the lead at the start, with Reimlore next, and it was how they finished, also Chalfonte Gilbert challenged in the stretch, but Musgrave, finding he couldn't get Reimlore, eased up, the result being that Miss Catesby, with a great stretch run, nipped Gilbert at the wire.

The second race, a gentleman's flat race, saw Thomond make the favorite, also he was carrying top weight, or 120 pounds, Henderson, on Thomond, was nearly unseated, as the barrier sprung, but he maintained his seat, taking the lead soon after and was never headed. Allen C., at 10 to 1, with 60 pounds less up than Thomond, was second, and with a good start, was only able to nip Racella, the long shot, for the place. Racella was the good thing in the race, but Hayes lost his stirrup on the first jump and was thus handicapped. At the jump opposite the paddock, Henry on Goldfever, had his kneecap knocked away back and on finishing had to be carried in to be weighed.

Claborne, quoted as high as 7 to 1, was the favorite in a driving finish from Elsa F. Maleon was third, while Racella, the favorite, and Hawksight were nowhere. In this race A. Martin, on Brown Tony, who had the outside position, cut across the field at the start, and for his anxiety was fined $25. Maud Sigsbee ran to form in the fifth race, Musgrave having only to let her roll.

The crowd, while good, was perhaps the smallest of the meet. Yet Toronto did her share, sending 12 well-armed coaches. The run was the best of the meet, Union Station being reached on the return at 6:30.

MUNICIPAL STREET RAILWAYS. At the annual conference of the British Municipal Tramways' Association, the president, Mr. J. Allworth, stated that its membership included over 120 chairmen and vice-chairmen of committees representing practically all the local authorities, operating their own street railways with about 100 general managers and chief officials. Local authorities in Britain have invested in these undertakings nearly $200,000,000. They operate 2500 miles of track, possess 8000 cars, employ 40,000 men and serve a population of 17 3/4 millions. Their total revenue last year amounted to $4,375,000, they carried 1886 million passengers, and the cars ran in all 135,000,000 miles. These figures sufficiently show the success that has attended the public ownership of street railways in the Great Britain.

When the manager of a municipal system of street railways speaks about the object of his undertaking, he does not descend on the amount of profits which he has been able to screw out of the citizens for the benefit of shareholders. His talk to his brother members is quite otherwise. In Mr. Allworth's words, "the common object which all these controlling tramway undertakings have in view is to provide safe, cheap, comfortable and expeditious means of transit by which the worker is enabled to live in more healthy and pleasant surroundings, away from the busy centres of industry, and the business and professional classes to move about freely in pursuit of their respective callings and to provide the public generally with traveling facilities to enable them to fulfil the most comfortable conditions under the most modern life."

How different are the considerations that actuate the responsible manager of a public undertaking from those presented to the servant of a private corporation! Outlining later a sound policy for municipal street railways he remarked that if modern improvements in the means of transit are to be utilized to the greatest advantage it follows that the undertakings must be maintained and controlled in an absolutely efficient and up to date manner. "It is essential," he said, "that the public should be given the best possible service and carried at the lowest fares justified by the returns, but not lower than will permit of the undertaking being conducted on sound commercial principles. "And referring to the occasional instances of loss in the working of some particular municipal system and the use made of them by the opponents of public ownership and operation, he remarked: "But how little is said or written about the companies who have never given and probably never will give any return on their shareholders' capital notwithstanding that, unlike municipal undertakings, they are not compelled to provide large annual sums for interest and sinking fund purposes." Yet with the latter handicaps the municipal undertakings of Britain show a larger net revenue and a lower average fare per passenger. These are important facts, but they are less important than the fact that public undertakings have only one thing to consider—the public interest.

TRouble IN THE NEAR EAST. Coming immediately after the recent pacific assurances given by Prince Von Buelow regarding Germany's foreign policy, the sudden resurrection of the new eastern difficulty will again tax the resources of European statesmanship. In one way it is remarkable that the disturbance should be directly associated with the aged emperor of Austria-Hungary, to whose interest it is undoubtedly to abstain from anticipating trouble for his dual realm. But as it is impossible that a step involving possibly momentous consequences would be taken without the knowledge and at least tacit approval of the predominant partner in the triple alliance, the announcement that Austria-Hungary proposes to absorb Bosnia and Herzegovina, which have been since 1878 occupied and administered by the dual monarchy, may well cause a flutter in the European chancelleries, involving as it does a reconsideration of the treaty of Berlin.

It is not unnatural that Bulgaria should seek to escape from the nonjambal bond that connects the state with Turkey. By the treaty of Berlin entered into 30 years ago Bulgaria was constituted an autonomous and tributary principality under the suzerainty of the Porte and in 1885 it was extended by the inclusion of Eastern Rumelia, the amount of tribute and the share of the Turkish debt to be assumed by Bulgaria being left to the decision of the European powers. The arrangement made by the treaty of Berlin was avowedly a compromise and left the Balkan provinces in a state of unrest, which has always held within it a menace to peace. Had it stood alone the action of Bulgaria in declaring complete independence would scarcely have set Europe by the ears. But taken in conjunction with the move attributed to Austria-Hungary and occurring at this time it assumes a significance it did not otherwise possess.

According to the Paris correspondent of The London Times the new development had been sanctioned by Russia, Germany and Italy and it is suggested that the latter has been drawn into the net by the promise of either a part of the Albanian coast, or a free hand in Tripoli or perhaps both. And the diplomatic point of the affair is the rehabilitation of the triple alliance, weakened as it was by the reservation on the part of Italy of a free hand in certain contingencies, and the virtual inclusion in it of Russia so far as the status of the Balkan provinces is concerned. This, if it be so, leaves Britain and France isolated so far as the near east is concerned, and threatens to affect the friendly understanding upon which Russia and Britain have been acting, and also the marked tendency shown by Italy to resume her former cordial relations with the two western nations.

The situation is graver than it would be had less distrust and suspicion existed between Britain and Germany. Strenuous efforts have been made to bring about a better understanding, and there was reason to believe that these were destined to bear fruit. This turn has led to more persistent endeavors to create and intensify the apprehension that Germany mediates a sudden attack on the British North Sea fleet in the hope of reducing the present disparity in naval force and challenging England's supremacy at sea and for the purpose of anticipating the similar attack which, it is represented, an unnamed "responsible" officer of the British admiralty had intimated it was the intention of England to deliver on the German navy. Those who are engaged in the dissemination of these alarmist propaganda, are doing great disservice to the cause of peace. Even if the British admiralty does not increase the already authorized additions to the fleet it will be some years before Germany could materially change her position of naval inferiority, and an unprovoked attack coming as a bolt from the blue would virtually read her out of the category of civilized nations.

CANADIAN RAILROAD ACCIDENTS. During the last five years no less than 2125 persons were killed and 10,855 injured thru accidents occurring on Canadian railroads. This is a frightful record, all the more so because it is contended with good reason that the great majority of these catastrophes were due to preventable causes. Although railroads in Canada are mostly single-track, and on that account more liable to accident, yet it is charged that, with a total mileage of 27,000, they are practically devoid of modern safety devices. But single-track systems above all others ought to be equipped with the best automatic protective mechanism that can be procured.

Canadian railroad officials are understood to have had the matter of railway accidents under deliberate consideration since the wreck at French River on May 29, for the purpose of devising means for their elimination. Whether their deliberations will result in any really effective voluntary action on the part of the railroad companies remains to be seen. But whether or not a serious effort is made to lessen the risk of railroad accident, there ought to be statutory requirements for the officials to live up to, and public enquiries into the causes of all accidents involving loss of life or injury. An interlocking system of signals would have prevented the recent tragedy at Mimico; and Canadian railroads should certainly be required to install it at all points on their main lines, if not thruout all their areas.

DESERTS THE LIBERALS. Mayor Morash of Lunenburg Was Once M.L.A. Too.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 5.—(Special.) Mayor Morash of Lunenburg, ex-Liberal M.L.A., well known in this province, at a public meeting in that town to-night, formally joined the Conservative party. He stated that he could no longer remain a member of a party that had disgraced the name of Liberalism. He preferred to call them Laurierites rather than Liberals.

BACK FROM THE ISLAND. As the odd 50 carriages, carrying a burden of living freight, numbering approximately 200 souls, headed up the hill to the Hospital for Sick Children yesterday, a man, in answer to a question by a passing stranger, said: "They are the children who, but a few weeks ago, were carried to the island on what we term the Paradise Limited; a boat conveying them to the island each season for recreation, healthful association and hope."

The stranger gazed, again, and, as a World reporter found him, he was writing a cheque to augment the hope of, and trust in, humanity's "humanity to man" for another season of outdoor life to the "kids."

Storm in Bermuda. HAVANA, Oct. 5.—Baracon, on the northeast coast, suffered severely on Saturday and Sunday from a heavy storm. The custom house, which was in the course of construction, and many other buildings were destroyed.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Oct. 5.—Heavy rains fell thruout Sunday and about midnight a whirlwind of considerable force struck Somerset Island, tearing up large trees and unroofing and otherwise damaging many buildings. No lives were lost.

TO-DAY'S LISTS.

Divisional Court. Fraser v. Pere Marquette. Jasperson v. Romney. Nafel v. Proctor. McVittie v. Brown. Whitley v. McPherson. Mercer v. C.P.R. Laramie v. Galt Art Metal Co. Lucas v. McFee. Court of Appeal. Hamilton v. Hamilton C. & P. Co. (continued). Peggall v. Durham. Rex v. Thomas Reed and Rex v. Ethel Irving. Rex v. Legross. Fairbanks v. London Machine and Tool Co. Provisional List Appeals. University of Toronto v. Conservatory of Music. C. P. R. v. Brown and City of Toronto.

Judgments. Justice Clute dismissed the application of P. Godden, hardware merchant, 154 East King-street, to restrain the City of Toronto from letting the St. Lawrence market out to horse shows, auto exhibits, etc. The judge finds that there has been at considerable expense in fitting up the property as a market site and has full discriminating powers. The grant allowing the use of the site for a market was not in the nature of a contract and its being applied to other than market purposes, and so long as the farmers were not denied adequate accommodation there was no cause for objection.

Chancellor Boyd has awarded P. J. Beyer, H. J. Crawford and T. B. Gregory, of the Pennsylvania, an order rescinding the agreement entered into between them and E. R. Clarkson of Hamilton for the sale of the plant of the Campbell Manufacturing Company of Hamilton at $25,000. Clarkson is directed to refund $5000 that was paid on the contract. Chief Justice Falconbridge has given judgment against the executors of the late John Hetherington in favor of Mrs. Margaret Pead of Shelburne, directing the reforming of a mortgage on lands in Mulmur Township. On condition that David Jamieson and A. S. Hunter give a bond for $7000 the Wilberforce Lumber Company obtained an order giving them possession of the timber lands and saw mills from which they were excluded pending the outcome of a suit brought against them by Thomas Beck.

Justice Anglin has dissolved the injunction obtained by the Mutual Steamship Co. against the Attkokan Mining Co. Sums for $5000. On account of injuries sustained in being thrown from his bicycle thru his hind wheel being caught in a rut next to the street car tracks on Yonge-st., near Buchanan, A. L. H. Robertson, chief accountant for the Imperial Loan and Savings Co., is suing the city for $5000 damages. The city contended that the fault lay with the Toronto Railway Co., and they are added as a third party to the suit.

OCEAN WAVES NOW USED TO GENERATE ELECTRICITY

Remarkable Invention in Motors Which Will Generate 5000 Horse Power.

"Generating electricity by the waves of the ocean" is a statement that few people would care to believe off-hand, in spite of all the mechanical contrivances that have come into existence during the past 25 years. Nevertheless just such a device has been invented, and is actually on exhibition, in model form, in Toronto at the present time. This remarkable machine, which is known as a wave motor, is the invention of one M. Wilson, a Californian engineer, and has been patented by the Marine Power and Electric Company of Los Angeles, Cal. In twelve countries, viz., Germany, France, Belgium, England, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Japan, Cape of Good Hope, Venezuela, Argentina, and Brazil. The company claim that the invention will revolutionize the price of electrical power, which apart from the novelty of the apparatus itself is a chief claim for public interest. "By means of this device we can put electricity on the market at a cent per kilowatt and pay bigger dividends than are now paid anywhere, with the prevailing prices. We can produce electricity 800 times cheaper than by other known means." Engineers from several countries who have examined the apparatus claim that it bids fair to be successful. In the construction of the device, the large theory is discarded entirely, the pontoon principle substituted and the whole is floated in a drydock when submerged. Between the drydock and the water level is a large flat boat or base, 110 feet by 90 feet. Two pontoons run the length of this, their decks 20 feet wide by 35 feet deep. By filling these pontoons with water the whole is submerged to the proper depth. The pontoons are held in position by four anchors, from which the pontoons parallel each other thirty feet apart. Between them is swung a large flat boat or base, 75 feet long by 25 feet wide and 8 ft. in depth. Chains attached to the base and six pitmans connected with as many crossheads keep it in place, at the same time allowing it perfect freedom with the waves. Besides getting the full force of the swell ordinarily the pontoons are slanted in such a pressure. The power when he concentrated direct to eighteen submerged hydraulic pumps. These, in turn, will water from the ocean to three immense receivers, from which it will connect with a dynamo and generate the electricity, which will be transmitted by submarine cables to its destination. The pontoons are constructed with pointed bows like those of a boat which will point seaward. The space between the pontoons at the bows will be sixty feet, and between the main bodies thirty feet. The effect is to enhance the

To-Day Teamsters' & Workingmen's Jackets

We're splendidly ready to clothe the men whose work keeps them out doors all winter, in garments that will stand coldest weather tests and heaviest wear; prepared to do it at very low prices.

We've pictured one garment, but there's a large selection—including duck, corduroy, leather, etc. —to meet the wants of each person.

The One Illustrated is of thick, brown duck; body lined with heavy sheepskin; sleeves with Kersey cloth. Notice the loose strip of sheepskin at one side of collar, running right down from collar: this is the "wind break"; laps over the chest—is overlapped by opposite side of coat-front, which, in turn, is overlapped by left side of coat front—a grand protection, indeed, in bleak, wintry winds. Front fastens with strong snap fasteners, stoutly riveted. Collar is of wombat fur, and extra high (7 inches). Pockets bound. Here's a coat that's worth your while coming in specially to examine. In sizes 36 to 46. Price... 6.50

—Extra light in weight— —The best of materials— —Unbeatable tailorwork.

A GARMENT THAT LOOKS LIKE EVERY CENT OF THE MONEY YOU PAY FOR IT.

Examine the shell: black beaver cloth of very close pile, and bright rich finish; extra light in weight, yet of wondrous WEARING quality. It gives a "first impression" that the coat is no ordinary garment.

The Fur Lining is NO. 1 SPRING MUSKRAT—SELECTED skins, chosen for their thickness and length of fur, evenness of "stripe," and full size. This lining has passed more than one examination by experts, so that no flaws can creep into it.

The Collar is of other—the nicest skins of a season's traps—the fur, thick, springy and shiny. Cut notch style, allowing the lapels to fold flat across the chest. Heavy canvas (every inch of it stitched and restitched to the beaver cloth back) holds the collar stiff when raised.

WE BELIEVE THIS IS A COAT THAT WILL SATISFY ANY MAN. It looks like it; is made that way. Strong heavy canvas runs down the front to keep it shapely; and also around the pockets. The silk barrel "buttons" are double stayed and firm. Note the broad shoulder effect and the looseness and fulness of skirt and body.

WRECKING SCOW UPSETS TWO MEN ARE DROWNED. Capt. Hunter of Sarnia Meets His Doom in Lake Superior in Early Morning Hours.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Two men, Capt. John Hunter of Sarnia and Fred Shields of Duluth, lost their lives near Whitefish at 2 o'clock this morning by the overturning of a scow of the Reid Wrecking Co. Capt. Reid had been engaged for some time endeavoring to save the machinery of the steamer Monarch, which went to pieces near Isle Royal a year ago. The machinery had been raised and the outfit was proceeding down the lake from Michipicoten. The scow which overturned was in tow of the schooner Kilderhouse, and the tug Salvoir, in close proximity in case of emergency. When 14 miles from Whitefish the scow turned turtle and went down without warning. It was loaded with derricks and other machinery. "The crew of the Salvoir immediately went to the spot and saw the scow, bottom upwards, and the crew of two men, and the machinery had disappeared."

The men were never seen again and the bodies are not yet recovered. The remainder of the outfit proceeded to the Soo this morning and tied up at the New Ontario dock. Capt. Reid was most affected by the loss of the men, stating that he would rather have lost the entire outfit than that the men should be lost. Hob. Mr. Aylesworth will address the following meetings: Brampton, Oct. 6; Picton, afternoon, Oct. 10, and Richmond Hill, Oct. 12.

European War Scares an Influence on Wall St.—Public Apathetic as to Local Stocks.

World Office, Monday Evening, Oct. 5. "Ignored" is the only expression that fully meets the situation...

Wall Street Features. Paris expects that Bulgaria will proclaim her independence of Turkey today...

Bank statement considered a bad one, but surplus is very large for this time of year.

The annual meeting of the Great Northern Railway Co. will be held this week, but contrary to the custom of several years back, it will take place in St. Paul instead of New York.

Washington: Interstate commerce commission received telegram late Sunday evening stating that California circuit court had reaffirmed its former decision on the amended petition of Southern Pacific and sought by the commission had power to regulate railroad rates.

Bullish operations are expected to continue in the stock market this week, but some transaction beneficial to all these companies is approaching maturity and it seems unlikely that the matter will be blown over as it has in the past.

Southern Pacific is being put forward as a strong bull proposition. Bull reports are now stronger on Amalgamated. The same may be said of Smelting.

Members of the Rock Island crowd say the Rock Island preferred stock will cross 50th this week.—Financial Bulletin.

Joseph says: The market will be feverish and erratic, but speculative gains in order. The spin repeats that the advance in the American Agricultural Chemical, Tennessee Copper, Virginia Chemical stocks in all probability betoken a change in ownership of the Tennessee Copper Co. International Pump will surely sell at 40. Bulgaria-Turkey war possibilities are adversely affecting European bourses.

A fresh decline began on receipt of news of continental panics, and the London market, at 2 p.m., showed a sharp decline, with the market closing at a loss of three points.

On Wall Street. Charles Head & Co. to R. R. Bondgard: After a weak opening in which decline of 1-2 to 2 points were shown in the leading issues, the stock market today developed decided strength, prices showing gains of 1-2 points in the active stocks.

London sold over 50,000 shares during the first half hour and reported all foreign markets weak under the influence of the unfavorable turn in the Balkan situation.

Outside of the London selling and some bear pressure, however, there was no liquidation of consequence, while the buying was of excellent character.

the effect that the British foreign investment on the Bulgarian situation. There was considerable hesitation displayed at the advance, however, and very little outside interest developed.

We shall for the present regard the danger of serious complications, growing out of the old Balkan dispute in Europe, as remote.

The market was treated to a surprise today in shape of genuinely serious developments in relations of Turkey and Bulgaria.

Despite a buoyant New York market to-day Toronto securities barely held their own.

Transactions were mainly for the account of public holders and the pools received very little support from the outside.

There was little enthusiasm in regard to any of the local securities and brokers had difficulty keeping off more selling orders.

The whole market was apathetic, and it was potent on the speculative issue that outside buyers were less than the similar class of sellers.

Trading in the investment issues was nominal, mainly because of the small amount of offerings.

The European war scare was no factor in the market.

THE TORONTO WORLD

NO COMBINE. That the farmers are being labeled as tricksters for withholding their milk from those city dealers who are seeking to set prices at both ends, is decidedly unfair.

Sheep are proving poor sellers this year on the Ontario farms. Especially is this true of the breeders of pure-bred sheep who look to their American consignees to buy in considerable numbers.

It might be well for the Ontario farmer to try feeding a few lambs this winter if he can get them right, and it looks no more than possible. Purchasing lambs that weigh about 60 pounds for $2.50 and feeding on rape or alfalfa till Christmas, and then on clover and grain with a few roots, he may do well next May on our local markets.

The shearer of Ontario must rise to the occasion and cultivate their interest in Canada. Last year Principal Cummings of Nova Scotia, did good work in inducing the Ontario sheep raisers in Nova Scotia.

The following order has been issued by the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture: "It is hereby ordered that from Nov. 2 to Dec. 5, 1908, Canadian sheep may be imported into the United States for exhibition purposes only."

Not since 1903 have western sheep been imported into the United States in such numbers as this season, says the Breeder's Gazette. When a few weeks ago buyers promised to appraise fat lambs at $2 per cwt. lower than a year ago.

The tuberculosis conference of cattlemen called by Dean Davenport of the Illinois College of Agriculture, will be held Oct. 13 at the College at Urbana. Our last issue presented a list of the members of the conference.

Gloomy reports continue concerning the sickness among swine in the corn belt, says the Breeder's Gazette. Many reports of cholera are read, but it is believed that the disease is more or less confined to the corn belt.

Man's supreme aim should be to make this world a little better than he left it. He can do this by his own efforts, and he can render that service quite as well from the ranks of agriculture as from any other profession.

The common white grub is very abundant this year, especially in old lands. He has wrought considerable damage to the potato and corn crop, and has even invaded gardens.

This is a slack time in the shipping industry. At the present time, 400 men have already been laid off and about 100 more will be without work in a week's time.

The city can borrow money cheaply now, and it would be providing work and making a good investment to order the dredges now. When the city is done with them they can be disposed of at a good price.

It is expected that after the election of a new government will be awarding contracts on public works already approved by parliament, and this will revive the building industry in Toronto.

ROBINETTE HOLDS A ROUSING RALLY

Liberal Candidate in Centre Toronto Speaks on the Rights of Labor.

A ringing cheer heralded the arrival of T. C. Robinette, Liberal candidate at the rousing rally held in his interest at Broadway Hall last night. The enthusiastic meeting opened with popular instrumental and vocal selections, the committee having arranged for musical features to enliven the program at all the Robinette meetings.

Chairman W. J. O'Reilly said that he had never felt so proud of being a Liberal as since the Hon. Mr. Fielding, the best finance minister Canada has ever had, on Thursday last placed the record of the Laurier government clearly before the Toronto public. He was equally proud of the candidate of the Liberal party who was in this contest, T. C. Robinette. When Mr. Robinette failed by a small margin to carry the division last time he did not cease in his public efforts; on the contrary, Mr. Robinette had devoted himself to securing justice for Toronto. His efforts had resulted in these days of consideration than during the whole eighteen years that the Conservatives were in power. Mr. Robinette had been prominent in securing $400,000 for harbor improvements, $250,000 for the armories, and $100,000 for the new observatory buildings. The voters of Centre Toronto had in these days secured proof of the capacity of Mr. Robinette to effectively safeguard their interests.

An encore was awarded the Robinette Quartet, which gave a spirited rendering of their campaign song, "Fall in Line."

Mr. T. Hearnson said he would ask a question: If Mr. Robinette put up such a magnificent fight against a man of the strength of the late Mr. E. F. Clarke, what will he not do to Edmund Bristol? He had not the slightest doubt in the world about Mr. Robinette being elected by a large majority on Oct. 26.

J. H. Huddleston said that he was doing all that he could, and intended to do all that he could, to secure the election of T. C. Robinette, who had proved himself to be a true friend of the wage-earners of Toronto.

Aubrey Bond assured the audience that Mr. Robinette was conducting a winning campaign. They had a grand candidate, a grand policy, and would achieve a grand victory on Oct. 26 by rescinding Centre Toronto in electing Mr. Robinette.

Three cheers and a vigor greeted the rising of the Liberty candidate. Mr. Robinette said that the contest was not one of personal hostility between himself and Mr. Bristol. They were fellow students at the university, and would continue to be good friends after the election. His mind turned to a pathetic incident the night before the last election. He met the late E. F. Clarke and W. F. Meade at the corner of Yonge and King-streets. "I wish you luck, Tom," said E. F. Clarke, "every day of the year, except to-morrow." "Same to you, Ned," was the reply. So in this campaign the contest in Centre Toronto will not be one of personalities but of great public issues. The Mr. Robinette's mind one of the greatest of these was the question of right legislation in regard to the rights of labor. Since 1886 the Laurier government has introduced legislation in regard to labor which would be a credit to any government. These were brought about as a result of the splendid work which had previously been done by the trades unions. For while the members of the unions work with their hands they are led by men whose brains are as bright as those of any in the land. This he personally knew by his association with labor leaders in connection with the Master Mechanics' Brotherhood and Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and Brotherhood of Trainmen. The Laurier government had found but little legislation favorable to labor. Under Hon. Mr. Mulock a labor department had been created, and under the conciliation board legislation nine great disputes had been amicably settled. He was sorry that the tenth, the C.P.R. trouble, had not been settled without a strike. Was it significant in connection with the settlement of the C.P.R. strike at this time that E. B. Oeler is a director of the C.P.R.?

Mr. Robinette said that his sympathy with labor was no mere sentimental one, for he knew what it was to work for a dollar a day to pay his way thru college, and to work at $10 a week down at the city hall during the holidays to pay his college expenses the next winter. He congratulated the "Printers' Union" in having an international technical course, so that the members of their union would be such experts that all intelligent employers would employ none other than union printers. He believed that other union members of Toronto University that the time was fast approaching when the university doors should be thrown open at night and professors be provided for those who could not take the regular college courses, especially for the sons of the wage-earners. YORK TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.

Council Takes Neutral Stand on Annexation.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, Oct. 5.—At this afternoon's meeting of the York Township Council G. J. McFarlane, chairman, presided. The agenda of the evening was the Belfast-avenue sewer matter. Solicitor Kyles stated that the agreement is being prepared at the office of the engineer, Reeve Henry suggested that they had better wait with the construction of a sewer till it is known whether annexation takes place or not.

The Toronto Cold Storage Association, owning 55 acres of land, and Justice MacLennan, who also is a large property owner in the eastern part of the township, are opposed to annexation, but Armour & McKie, their solicitors, appealed to the township council to lend their opposition in the matter. Reeve Henry and the members of the York Township Council have always taken a neutral attitude in this matter, preferring wisely to leave the question wholly with the ratepayers, and this was the course adopted to-day.

The secretary of the Tomdornen Ratepayers' Association asked for sewer water service on the Don Mills-road as far as Patterson's corner, also that a pound be established and a keeper appointed.

ELECTION MONDAY, 26 OCT.

THE METROPOLITAN RAILWAY SERVICE.

Editor World: Not only have the people of North Toronto town to pay two fares to get into the city, but they have to put up with a most inferior service. Sometimes we cannot even get standing-room in a car, let alone a seat. I know one of the agents of the Metropolitan are blocking the opening up of this new street. The Metropolitan naturally does not wish to see people get south by any other line than the Yonge-street, as we see "The Hidden Hand" working quietly but persistently to keep us in bondage to two fares and a poor service. I think I know one of the agents of "The Hidden Hand."

MURDER INQUEST BEGINNING

Evidence Taken in the Case Against the Negro.

STRATFORD, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The adjourned inquest into the death of Mrs. William Peake, who was found dead in the cellar of her home last Wednesday, was resumed to-night at the Arlington Hotel, Straburville, before Coroner Meiklejohn.

An immense crowd gathered, expecting that Rogmond, the negro accused of the murder, might be brought out from the county jail, but they were disappointed, the evidence being taken without his presence. Following is the jury: James Packham, John R. Schenck, David Ney, Jacob Frimmer, James Murphy, Henry Schellenberg, Michael Hoffmeyer, Thomas Smith, Frank Kastner, George Hoffman, William Campbell.

William Peake, husband of the murdered woman, gave evidence concerning the health of his wife previous to the tragedy. She had been troubled with weak heart, but had never been known to have a fainting spell. Witness had been absent at the time of the tragedy, did not arrive home until the negro had been taken away.

Lee Hobson, who was at work in a field near the railroad track on the day of the tragedy, gave evidence of having seen a negro resembling Rogmond, walking on the track. Witness thought the negro was drunk, but lost sight of him before he reached the corner turning off to the Peake home.

George Peake, son of the deceased, told of returning from the field when called by his brother, to see his mother dead in the cellar. He saw the negro stretched out, lying on his back and apparently asleep. A jackknife and pair of spectacles found beside his mother's body did not belong to the household.

John Peake, who found the body of his mother, gave evidence as to his flight from the field to get a drink of cider in the cellar. He stated positively that he heard the negro snoring when he made the discovery and immediately went for help and despatched his brother to Stratford for the police.
