Miss Margaret Anglin, one of the most famous actresses that Canada has ever produced, is visiting her...

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

A Storm at Sea—Text, "Master, Carest Thou Not That We Perish?" (Mark iv, 38.)

MID OCEAN, S.S. Mauretania, June 6.—Pastor C. T. Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle and associates are on board returning from London Bible Students' Convention.

In our text we have the despairing cry of the apostles to the Lord, in the midst of what must have been a remarkably severe storm on the Sea of Galilee.

The Master arose and rebuked the wind, saying, "Peace, be still." And there was a great calm.

This expression constitutes one of the great lessons of the Master to His pupils, His disciples.

In our judgment the Lord was not specially condemning the apostles for fearing the storm and awakening Him to quell it.

What we have applied individually to the Lord's people may also be applied to the people as a whole.

What we have applied individually to the Lord's people may also be applied to the people as a whole.

All the circumstances and affairs of life, its storms and its calms, its joys and its sorrows, its pleasures and its pains, are so ordered of the Father's providence as to give these "peculiar people" the lessons they most need.

Whoever, therefore, is ready for the storm, and is ready to be rebuked, let him be ready to be rebuked.

The meeting, from a social and racing standpoint, too, makes a new high-water mark. The O. J. C. entered the best...

We make the approximation with a view to induce the O. J. C. to add another $5000 to the Toronto Cup money, for the King James or whichever is the best runner on the continent this time next year, may not come again.

Those interested in racing locally are content with the present method of legal bookmaking, while the casual observer at Woodbine Park of the above-mentioned scheme is generally disgusted that they get longer odds than satisfied.

The truth of the matter is that there is only one form of public speculation that should be tolerated, and that is the one which will eliminate altogether the hungry, hood-headed gang that come spring and fall with their crews for their semi-annual gorge.

A dozen machines are capable of turning out sufficient tickets for all the business on King's Plate on Victoria Day at better prices than ever before, and these machines are no ten-dollar-a-day ticket-writers, or runners, or alleged chasers, to jostle on a wrangle with the public, less the cost for operation, or possibly a percentage to the government, that is according to the figures guessed at, as above.

Racing as conducted in Toronto is too good a pastime to lose, and as the present agitation may cause the loss of the present system, it is suggested that the change for the better, could be made in time in working the influence in that direction at Ottawa, that along with changing its former method, the alleged boss gambler of Toronto.

NOTHING TO MONTREAL KELLOGG WILD ON SUNDAY

Pitcher Savidge Has Toronto guessing at all Stages Before Record Crowd—Scores and Records.

MONTREAL, June 6.—(Special.)—Ralph Savidge, late of the Cincinnati Reds, pitched his first game for Montreal before the home crowd to-day, when he held Toronto down to four hits and one run, while Montreal got eight off Kellogg...

Three more runs came in the seventh, Yeager started with his hit, and Vandercook, and by the time it had been sacrificed left both runners safe. Jones sacrificed both runners along. Cockill put out.

FIGHT GOSSIP. NEW YORK, June 6.-Many sporting men went up to Woodlawn to-day to see Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion of the world, who is getting ready to meet Jack O'Brien in what may be a sensational six-round bout in Philadelphia next Wednesday night.

Ketchel intends to adopt different tactics this time. He says he is going to meet Ketchel, but he does not fear the Quaker's blows.

O'Brien believes that he will score a knockout, and he bases this belief on the fact that in the bout with Ketchel in this city two months ago he had the Michigan Lion tottering around the ring, getting a greater part of the first six or seven rounds.

Jaffres is much on the subject of a fight of ten or fifteen rounds with some second-rater, with a $10,000 guarantee made for some time.

HAMILTON'S CHOICE.

To-day is the fateful day for Hamilton, whose citizens have a final opportunity to free themselves once and for all from corporation bondage. By casting a decisive vote for hydro-electric power they can secure for themselves a supply of Niagara white coal available both for commercial purposes and to individual consumers at a price conditioned only by the real cost of the undertaking and the proper charges of management. By committing themselves again to the Cataract Power Company they will have to rely upon a contract that apparently offers to supply electric power for city purposes at a lower price than that of the public scheme, but which leaves the individual consumer—in other words the citizens who want electric power, light and heat—at the mercy of the Cataract Power Company.

Not only so, but as the special article in the Sunday World showed with absolute clarity, the contract submitted for acceptance is full of "jokers," which simply mean that the city will have to fight for its nominal rights at every turn. By laying itself again under the yoke of a public service corporation that has shown itself without conscience or scruple, Hamilton will certainly repent when it is too late to retrieve the error. Contrast the position with that which the city will occupy under the public scheme. The hydro-electric commission is a trustee for the municipalities, and the municipalities receiving power at cost will in turn distribute to the citizens without the disturbing influence of private profit. There can in that way be only one object, one determination, to give the community and every citizen the cheapest possible supply of this greatest of public boons. No man possessed of common sense can hesitate as to which of the alternatives promises most for Hamilton, its inhabitants and industries.

QUEEN'S AND THE NATIONAL LIFE.

It is unlikely that a careful report by a competent commission after a full consideration of all the circumstances involved, will be set aside by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church next year. The resolution to refer the status of Queen's University to a commission must, therefore, be regarded as a wise and practical one. It removes many vexed issues from an arena which, even the distinguished, as few are, for its moderation and calm sense, is not adapted for the examination and discussion of such detail as the university problem involves.

There will be no question of the trust and confidence reposed in the commission, nor of the faithfulness with which it will observe the responsibility laid upon it.

Great things depend upon the universities of Canada, and among them Queen's stands in a place of special eminence, inspired as it is with the ideals of an historic church, whose standards of upright dealing, high-minded and magnanimous thinking, and spiritual stability, have happily tinged Canadian character.

The union of such characteristics with the high types of scholarship associated with the traditions of Queen's is something of national importance, and the preservation of these ideals evidently underlies the movement for expansion.

Those who hold the nationality of Canada dear will rejoice at the existence of so strong, and effective a factor in the national life as that evidenced in the determined and progressive scholarship cultivated by Grant and now fostered by Gordon.

OPEN AIR HORSE PARADE.

Only one public function of any account has proved really successful on Dominion Day. The cause is not far to seek, for all the other functions, excepting only the open air horse parade and show, held now annually for six or seven years on the morning of the national holiday, have been largely devoted to speech-making and have been killed by exuberant verbosity. People are in no mind to listen to long-winded speeches and hot air on holidays in midsummer unless the occasion is a very special one and an election is near at hand, when participation can be depended upon for success. For a general trumpeting of themselves and their country by speakers whose chief aim is their own exaltation, citizens have no particular liking. Hence the lack of popular esteem for the general run of demonstrations on Dominion Day.

The open-air horse parade and show is a very different matter. Even at the presentation of medals, at which the mayor of the year usually officiates, there is no speech-making, no ostentatious handing out of bouquets, but everything is done in a quiet becoming manner. The people provide the fun to finish are philanthropic, patriotic and humane. The people provide the staves of war, by subscriptions and by grants, and the people, the promoters and managers bend all their efforts to please. They give all their services free, they make everything else free, they charge for nothing, not even for entry, to any one of the 45 or 50 classes, and not even for the parade and show, in which usually eight or nine hundred riders or drivers participate, principally of the commercial or work horse classes, the four military bands of the city, a section of the Queen's Own Bugle Band, and the Royal Dragoon Trumpeters, contribute to the enjoyment of the occasion. The Hunt Club, too, generally handsomely shows its sympathy by sending the hounds and the huntmen with their horns to grace the affair.

During the judging of the horses the quartet of bands play in different parts of the grounds and during the parade they give a massed band concert, at which national and imperial airs form the staple of the program. Altogether, it is a very gay occasion, and everything is given to the people absolutely free. It is not necessary to dwell upon the profit that accrues to trade from such an affair as this, nor to the good that comes to the horse by the encouragement of better care, nor to the principles of humanity and zeal that are developed in the men—all these must be palpable, but it is necessary to urge citizens by their liberality and generosity to manifest their appreciation. The cost is somewhere between twenty-five and twenty-six hundred dollars annually, all of which has to be raised by subscription, fourteen or fifteen hundred from individuals. To-morrow, Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the King Edward Hotel, a meeting of those interested will be held, when it is to be hoped there will be a large and enthusiastic attendance. Judges and marshals will be chosen and other preliminaries settled. Everyone interested in the welfare of the community should make it a point to be present.

SEA WALL OR VIADUCT?

Controller Ward has an opportunity now to judge of the effect of ward politics carried into the government of a city as large as Toronto. Everyone who knows anything about it knows that the sea-wall is a desirable city improvement, and one that must be carried out sooner or later. Everyone who knows anything about it is also aware of the prime importance to the city generally and to the east end in particular of the Bloor-street viaduct across the Don. Controller Ward, however, if he has not cold-shouldered this latter project, has been decidedly lukewarm about it. The east enders have treated Controller Ward's pet project as he treated theirs. Of course, all city projects should be decided on their merits, and on a regular January election day, no doubt, the citizens would so consider them. But it is too much to expect from human nature that the east end, which has by no means been the recipient of lavish generosity, should vote what it regards as a luxury for the west end, while it is refused even the chance to get a hearing about what is a necessary project for the Riverdale section. The Bloor-street viaduct is at least as necessary as the sea-wall, and when Controller Ward recognizes this he will get more support from the wise men in the east for his own pet improvement.

DEER PARK HILL.

Referring to the condition of Deer Park Hill Mayor Oliver writes "The hill in question is in very bad shape. We made some slight repairs to this roadway quite recently, but inasmuch as we were about to construct a sewer on Yonge-street, we refrained from making extensive improvements. We have now let the contract for the sewer, and just as soon as it is finished we will see that something of a more permanent character in the way of an improved roadway is constructed. My attention to this matter."

250 PULP MILLS IN U.S. NEED CANADIAN SPRUCE

Extent of the Pulp Industry Across the Line Shown in an Official Report

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Two hundred and fifty-one pulp mills in the United States used 3,246,109 cords of wood, and made 2,347 tons of pulp last year. Spruce has always been the leading pulp wood, and it furnished sixty per cent. of the total quantity used.

The rapid development of the wood pulp industry in the last ten years has rendered the supply of spruce insufficient to meet the demands upon it, and consequently importations from Canada have been heavy. In 1908 our pulp mills consumed nearly one and one-half million cords of domestic spruce, and over 670,000 cords of imported spruce, making the imports of spruce forty per cent. of the domestic supply.

Next to spruce, the most important pulp wood is hemlock. Fifty per cent. of it was converted into pulp last year. All the hemlock used was of domestic origin, and most of it was produced in the lake states and Pennsylvania. In the lake states it is less quantities than spruce and hemlock, poplar has long been a standard pulpwood. A small quantity of poplar is imported, but by far the larger portion of the more than 300,000 cords used last year was cut from domestic timber.

The high price of wood is making the manufacturers be constantly on the lookout for cheaper raw material, and one of the most encouraging developments has been the increased use of slab wood and other saw mill waste. This drift in the industry is clearly indicated by the fact that 193,234 cords of mill waste were reported as consumed in pulp manufacture during 1907, while 252,986 cords, an increase of 30 per cent., were used in 1908.

It treats of the domestic and public life of a judge of the United States, who is called upon to decide in a case against a wealthy corporation in which his own son is interested.

A meeting in the interests of the annual Dominion Day horse parade and show will be held in Room F, King Edward Hotel, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The features of last week's bill have, at the request of patrons, most notable come, been retained for another week. They are Mile Omega, the slack wire performer, whose feats have attracted wide attention, and the Box Animal Circus, which is the best children's attraction that Scarbore Beach ever offered.

Blunoz-Canadian Serge is Not an "Imported" Cloth.

Blunoz Serge is not always blue serge. You can get black Blunoz Serge as well. It is as "dressy" as black chevot, with twice the wear value—a good service suit. Blunoz Serge is not an imported cloth. It is "made in Canada."

Blunoz-Canadian Serge is its proud hyphenated full name. It is the best product of the best Canadian woollen mill—and the whole output of this serge is bought by the Semi-ready Company for their famous Blunoz Serge Suits at $22.

Not an English, Irish or Scotch mill can produce a better serge than Blunoz—they admit it—and they have all tried it. Blunoz Business Suits—in black or in navy blue, $22—the same price here and everywhere in Canada.

SEEK FISHER'S DOWNFALL THRU FAKE DISCLOSURES

Private Admiralty Reports by Mr. Bellairs Are Being Magnified Into "Amazing Revelations."

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Herald's naval correspondent in London writes: The discussion in the house of commons on the two power standard...

Neither party would, therefore, exclude America from the calculation, but the government is of opinion that any power out of Europe is counted, then when the standard is applied...

In these circumstances the reservations and qualifications which Mr. Asquith advanced in the discussion have, as Mr. Balfour said, been regarded and become the situation—a situation which, as I reported last week, can only be cleared up by definite pronouncement upon the subject of the four contingents was ships in this year's building program.

The general uneasiness has been increased by the efforts of the anti-Fisher faction, who have sought by the ordinary Times calls "a branch of the ordinary courtesies of public life" to attract the attention of the country to a personal matter by putting upon it a construction which is wholly mischievous and misleading.

In the course of his sermon last evening Dr. Garrison, speaking from the text, "Seek first the Kingdom of God," sought to prove by outstanding facts, that the kingdom of God had already come into the world.

Confidential, But—The facts of the case and its explanation are simple. The letters which Sir George Armstrong has made public were written about three years ago when the standing of the navy league was being established.

But the letters were not published in any ordinary sense of the term; they were unmistakably official and confidential documents, and would have been forgotten and harmless had they not been unearthed to serve their present purpose.

It Pays to Be on the Safe Side Prompt attention to the first signs of any defect in your eyesight will prevent any chance of aggravated complications at a later date.

F. E. LUKE Refracting Optician. Issuer of Marriage Licenses. 159 YONGE STREET (Opposite Simpson's).

man, and his methods, or some of them, are unquestionable. But the real question at issue is what has been done for his country, not how has he done it. This trumping incident of the letter will not blind any sound-minded man to the value, the inestimable value, of the services which he has rendered to the navy and the nation.

Those who seek his overthrow also seek to upset the policy with which he is identified, a policy which has been approved by public opinion and which has admittedly placed this country in a position of more assured strength and greater readiness for war than was ever the case in all its previous history.

It is unlikely, therefore, that the petty personalities upon which such a petty and unbecoming attention has been bestowed will have any permanent effect either upon the great reputation of Sir John Fisher or upon the Dreadnought, with the result of which the people of England will shortly have a personal opportunity of making acquaintance at the great naval review which are to be held at Spithead and Southend in June and July.

DISCIPLES' CONVENTION

M. N. Stephens of Glencairn President of Governing Body. The annual convention of the "Disciples of Christ Church, which opened in the Cecil-street Church last Wednesday morning, will come to a close this morning with an address by G. F. Chapman of St. Thomas.

Special services were held both morning and evening yesterday in the Cecil-street Church, which were addressed by J. H. Garrison of St. Louis, editor of the Christian Evangelist. The afternoon meeting was conducted by Rev. M. B. Ryan of Selkirk.

On Saturday evening the mission board held a general meeting, at which a number of resolutions were adopted, over and above the usual collections for this cause. A progressive policy in home mission work was formulated.

GERMANY'S NAVAL PLANS

Fleet is Needed to Assure Peace, Says Prince Henry. KIEL, June 6.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representing his brother, Emperor William, spoke as follows Saturday at the annual meeting of the navy league, held here under the presidency of Grand Admiral Von Keester.

"Everyone is glad that a good understanding of the navy league once more has been established. This organization should devote itself to the furtherance and the carrying out of the naval program. In addition to a powerful army we need a fleet in order to assure peace."

Summer Essentials in the Furniture Department

WHAT in the world did people do before ice was invented? Of course, country people could set their butter in the well, and cellars were perhaps cooler in those days than they seem to be now. But ice is one of the real summer necessities in the city to-day, and how to keep it longest and to best advantage is a live problem. Refrigerators, lined with galvanized steel. Less expensive ones are painted with white enamel paint. People do like enamel, it's so easily cleaned. Prices $6.00 to $21.50.

And Then the Verandah

The Verandah ranks as the chief summer room of your house. The sooner you make your verandah comfortable the longer and more enjoyable will your summer prove. Needn't go to any great expense. We are showing a great variety of inexpensive goods for the Verandah this summer. Chairs and Rockers, 90c to $3.50. Settees and Swings, $5.50 to $15.00. Come to the Furniture Department and see the display.

WHETHER you wear a two-piece suit or a three-piece suit, you want it to fit you nicely at the shoulders. Try on one of our $15.00 Suits.
