LONDON, March 29.—While the Germans suffered the repulse of three of their counter attacks which they launched this afternoon to regain the redoubt which had been captured from them in the Avocourt wood this morning, they succeeded in gaining a footing in an advanced work and in occupying two houses in Malancourt village in the course of an attack with heavy effectives today.

Cable Sent to Minister of Militia Calls For Statement in Reply to Kyte Charges and, Rumor Says, Contains Peremptory Command For His Return—Sir Robert Borden Cancels New York Engagement of Long Standing—Twenty Conservative Members in Open Revolt Against the Government.

OTTAWA, March 29.—There were few members in the chamber of the house of commons today and by common consent political controversy has been avoided.

By a Staff Reporter. TONIGHT there are at least 20 Conservative members of Parliament in a state of more or less open revolt against the government.

The actual news of the day may thus be summarized: 1.—Sir Robert Borden has cancelled his engagement to speak in New York City tomorrow night.

The demands of the so-called insurgents are pretty well known. They were thus stated tonight by a prominent member of the Ontario delegation.

"We have the highest respect," he said, "for the prime minister and unshaken confidence in the rectitude of his intentions. We believe that he will do what is best for the party and the country; the trouble is that he does not realize as we do what our constituents are saying. This fuse scandal has involved a committee for which our government may not be responsible.

Looking back over the occurrences last night it is fairly evident that Mr. Kyte by a speech merely touched off the bomb that was about due to explode in any event.

Had it not been for the Kyte speech, however, the situation might have been bridged over until another session of parliament. The charges made last night in the house came as a sudden surprise to the rank and file of the government supporters.

The minister of finance was not able to meet the charges. He spoke under a severe strain to a silent house. One by one the members behind him left the chamber. Several members of the government were summoned to a conference and finally an ultimatum was sent to the prime minister.

The disaffection is pretty widespread and its spirit is fairly well expressed by the interview given to the papers this evening by Hon. Andrew Broder.

Hon. Andrew Broder, W. F. Nickle and W. B. Northrup, are prominently mentioned among those who feel that some investigation is necessary. Other Ontario Conservative members said to be in sympathy with them include Col. John A. Currie, Donald Sutherland and Mr. Wilson, of Wentworth.

THREE STEAMERS SUNK ANOTHER WAS ATTACKED

Two British and One Dutch Vessel Are Reported Lost.

LONDON, March 29.—Three more steamers were today reported sunk, while a fourth was attacked.

The British steamer Lavinia Westall struck a mine Tuesday afternoon and foundered, but the crew was saved.

The last report of the Lavinia Westall shows that she sailed from Savona, Italy, March 9 for Almeria, Spain.

The British steamer Kilbride was sunk by an enemy submarine March 27, says an announcement made by Lloyd's this evening.

The Kilbride was a vessel of 3712 tons. She was built in 1901 and owned by Connell Bros., Limited, of Glasgow.

Another Dutch steamship, the Duveland, 1297 tons, has been sunk. All the crew were saved.

MARSHES ARE FLOODED Melting of Snow on Roads Makes Bringing Up of Forces Difficult.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, March 29.—Owing to the commencement of the spring thaw along the entire Russian front from south to north, the marshes and lake regions are inundated and the roads are being rendered extraordinarily difficult for the moving of troops and artillery.

The intelligence that the Russians have dislodged the Germans from the southern portion of the wood south of Mokritza, west of Lake Narocz, and by their fire they repulsed counter attacks launched later.

The Berwindvale, a vessel of 5232 tons, sailed from Galveston Feb. 24 for Avonmouth, according to available shipping records.

Another Dutch steamship, the Duveland, 1297 tons, has been sunk. All the crew were saved.

MANY WORKERS FREED

Measures Taken to Conciliate Married Men Do Not Satisfy Critics.

LONDON, March 29.—An important pronouncement from the government on the vexed question of the enlistment of married men was expected in the house of commons today.

As, however, Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Grey, War Secretary Kitchener and Minister of Munitions David Lloyd George, have not yet returned from Paris, where they took part in the conference of the allies, this was not possible, and the settlement of the question as to whether it will be possible to avoid resort to obligatory service for married as well as single men, was necessarily postponed.

GASOLINE AND OAKUM FOUND IN BURNING HOUSE

Seven Cans of Explosive, With Scheme to Spread Flames, on Brunswick Avenue.

POLICE WORKING ON CASE

Fire Chief Corbett Never Saw More Deliberate Attempt to Burn a Building.

One of the most deliberate attempts to burn a house ever made in Toronto was discovered at an early hour this morning by firemen who answered a call for an alarm of fire in a vacant house at 45 Brunswick avenue.

The owner of the house is unknown, but the Bannan estate are the agents handling the property.

District Chief Corbett and his men arrived at the scene of the fire a few minutes after the alarm was rung in, as they had to go only from College street fire hall, one block away.

The damage done to the house was only $1500, but the fact that the firemen arrived on the scene so quickly probably saved an entire block of houses.

The police were notified and several detectives started to work on the case this morning.

WASHINGTON PREPARING CASE AGAINST GERMANY

Formidable Indictment Promised Unless Berlin Answers Queries Satisfactorily.

TABULATION OF FACTS

Entire Subject is Likely to be Brought to Clear-Cut Issue.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The accumulation of circumstantial evidence indicating that Germany has engaged upon a campaign of submarine warfare which has no regard for the rights of American citizens traveling on merchant ships of belligerent nationality, the administrations has considered one of the most serious situations which has confronted the U. S. since the beginning of the war in Europe.

Every agency open to the state department tonight was being employed in an effort to gather an unimpeachable array of facts regarding the explosion which damaged the British channel steamer Sussex, the sinking of the British ships Manchester Engineer, Englishman, Eagle Point and the Dutch steamer Tubantia, and the alleged firing of a torpedo at the French passenger ship Patria.

All of these ships carried American citizens, and all apparently were attacked in violation of Germany's recently renewed assurance to the U. S. Strong Arrangement.

The next step of the U. S. is said authoritatively to have been determined upon. Unless Germany, in reply to the inquiries made by the U. S. thru Ambassador Gerard, makes some statement to cause the state department to change its present intention, it is understood that all the recent aggravating incidents will be combined into one general formidable indictment which will bring the entire subject to a clear-cut issue.

COMMITTEE TO CARE FOR GRAVES OF SOLDIERS

Permanent Memorials Will Not Be Erected While the War Continues.

LONDON, March 29.—A national committee has been appointed by the government for the making of permanent provision for the care of graves of officers and men who have fallen in France and Belgium.

The Prince of Wales, the president, decided that no permanent memorials would be erected in any British military cemetery during the continuance of hostilities or until the military situation should appear to justify the giving of the necessary sanction.

All requests for information regarding the graves of officers and men who have fallen in France and Belgium should continue to be addressed to the director of graves registration, British general headquarters.

MINNEAPOLIS NOT SUNK WHEN HIT BY TORPEDO

Malta Reports Efforts Are Being Made to Tow Liner Into Port.

LONDON, March 29.—The British steamer Minneapolis, which was torpedoed without warning in the Mediterranean last Wednesday, remained afloat according to a Reuter despatch from Malta, and attempts were being made to tow her into port.

About 200 of the crew of the Minneapolis were landed at Malta and 10 men are missing.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

ABOUT one-quarter of the 500 miles of front in France is now held by the British army, according to Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters. The French were recently relieved from the holding of a great stretch of line, and secured the release of large forces which were of great value in "another area."

The British line now extends unbroken from the Yser to the Somme, as was deducible from the official communique of the war office issued several days ago. The new dispositions, says the correspondent, were carried out with great skill and secrecy.

Confident in their superiority of men and munitions, the British and the French do not propose to allow themselves to be drawn out in a premature disclosure of what the Germans would like to know of their coming intentions.

British headquarters at the western front announced last night (Continued on Page 2, Columns 2 and 3.)

Concerning the Splendid Values in a Huge Display of Suits for Women at $30.00, $32.50 and $47.50

And Some of the Reasons Why

THESE REASONS can be given in a nutshell—long experience in buying and immense buying power, on a cash basis, but these signify currents and cross-currents innumerable in the river of merchandise.

To begin with, half the struggle lies in knowing where to go to secure the best styles, the best cloths, the best assortment and the best values, and this taken for granted, our principle of buying as we sell for cash gives us such advantages in the importation of suits as cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The little gray showrooms are overflowing with suits at these quite moderate prices, which portray all that is new and smart in the season's modes, and include not only the suits cut for average proportions, but suits specially designed for stout figures.

The variety is wonderfully good and while every suit shows the fashionable flaring skirt and jaunty rippling coat, the devices for the attainment of these lines are as picturesque and distinctive as they are varied, and the trimmings are perfectly charming.

The height of the mode is seen in a silica grey and white checked suit, the coat given the fashionable spring by little pointed godet panels, and finished with a cape collar of Shantung stitched with black, and a long black taffeta tie.

A simple suit of navy whipcord has a rippling belted coat with box peaked back, is trimmed and fastened with white bone buttons and white silk piped buttonholes, carrying out the tone of the white collar, the skirt being finished with a belt yoke, which is pointed on the hips.

Showing a new version of the box coat is a suit of rookie brown gabardine. Its peaked back is embroidered with braid, matching the ornaments in front, the little round peacock blue collar supplies just the right touch of color, and the skirt is gathered beneath a belt.

For Example:

A very smart suit of navy serge has a wide collar, cuffs on the full sleeves, and a strap-like belt above the umbrella basque, all piped with Nattier blue.

Veritable Visions of Delight Are These New Frocks for Misses

Taffeta and Georgette Being the Most Popular Materials

PICTURESQUE IN MODE, as in material, they show all that quaintness which is associated with the swirling, billowing skirts and the closely fitting, figure-moulding little bodices of 1830 and their forerunners of the styles of Louis XV.

Gayer of the gay is a frock of cherry and white checked taffeta with quaint little buttoned jacket bodice, pointed back and front, and having a cape collar of Oriental lace.

Just as pretty is a dress with very wide skirt of navy blue Georgette striped with white, broken by checked blocks of orange. This has a navy taffeta jacket bodice slashed to show gleams of the Georgette, the lower part of the full sleeves being of Georgette, and the pretty frilled collar and front of white silk net.

A lovely little frock of checked green and gold taffeta is simply made, the bodice buttoning up the front, having a cape collar, cuffs and a little frill beneath the belt, of ecru organdie, and the full skirt adorned with a series of frills at the sides.

In jade green is a smart combination of taffeta and Georgette, the former material used for bands on the skirt, long revers, girdle and cuffs, the collar and vest being made of white Georgette.

A dear little frock of taffeta has a full skirt, corded and stitched with white above the hem, on the girdle and cuffs, and possesses crescent shaped pockets, piped with silvery white on both bodice and skirt.

Misses' Spring Suits, Special Value, $16.75

A very large selection in men's wear serges, gabardines and poplins, including a very pretty model obtainable in all three materials. The coat has a wide belt, Russian front and new pointed collar, with satin de Chine lining, the flare skirt being belted at the back.

Coats for Juniors and Misses at $8.75—In junior sizes only, is a pretty model with loose fitting, flaring back and strappings of taffeta around cuffs on the convertible collar and fancy patch pockets.

Misses' Taffeta Skirts, wide and flaring, show the new cascade drapery at the sides, a loose belt back and front with gathers at the back. Colors, navy, black, and gray. Sizes 22 to 25 waist, 31 to 38 length. Price, $6.75.

Here he was met by a vaudeville man who urged Mr. Primrose to go out on the road again.

WOULD STOP PAYING TEACHERS WHO ENLIST

Lively Discussion Follows Motion of Trustee Shaw at Management Meeting.

IDEA WAS THROWN OUT

Recommendations Go in Regular Way Until Policy is Decided Upon.

Trustee W. H. Shaw precipitated a lively discussion at the meeting of the management committee of the board of education yesterday by moving that the requests of six teachers for leave of absence that they might enlist to serve in the war with a recommendation that leave be granted on the understanding that they would not get the difference between their regular salaries as teachers, but that their positions would be open for them upon their return.

The committee, however, thought that this would be unfair until a definite policy had been decided upon by the board, and sent the names on under the usual conditions; that they be allowed the difference between their war pay and pay as teachers, this amendment being moved by Trustee Hopkins.

Chairman Houston declared that the war was rapidly rushing to a crisis and that the more forces the empire threw into these last days would bring about the greatest victory in history. He was against any slacking up at this time.

Talks of Mistakes. Trustee Shaw: "Because we made a mistake and put a premium on the young men leaving this service over ordinary young men is no reason why we should perpetuate that mistake, and that is the reason why I move that we send on these applications with the understanding that only their positions will be kept open for them. Their patriotism will be put to the test. We should not penalize the public and put a premium on our teachers who join regiments."

Trustee McTaggart: "I think this committee can only recommend leave of absence, and the basis on which they must be decided by the finance committee."

Trustee Shaw: "But we have a perfect right to make a recommendation. I think we should be very foolish to send on this recommendation."

Trustee Hopkins: "I think Trustee Shaw is wrong in saying that we are putting a premium on our teachers going to the front. We made this recommendation, and now without notice we want to chop them right off. It isn't justice; we should give them up our own money it would be a different thing if we were using the citizens' money in a way that we ought not to."

Trustee McTaggart: "The points we are taking in favor of our recommendation, if you were cutting off the pay of those now enlisting it would be different, but they are going with the money."

Chairman Houston: "I am in favor of cutting off the pay, but I think it would be wrong to cut those off who are enlisting before the board announces its policy."

The teachers who have applied for leave of absence are: Joseph E. Gray, McMurrich School; H. J. Goodyear, Regal Road; James H. Watt, John Fisher School; O. K. Carruthers, Manning Avenue; William J. Mackay, Avenue, and George Muir, Sackville Street.

It was decided to recommend against the taking of collection in the schools in aid of the creches through the city.

The reports favorably upon the holding of special exercises in the schools on April 20 for the purpose of celebrating the centenary of the death of Shakespeare.

Empire Day Parade. A special committee, composed of Trustees Hopkins, Hunter, C. A. B. Brown, Shaw, Steeple and Houston, was appointed to make arrangements for the Empire Day parade.

On motion of Trustee Shaw it was decided to have Col. Thompson and Chief Inspector Cowley confer with a view to giving military training to any of the teachers who may desire it.

T. A. Stevenson, representing Toronto District Labor Council, came before the committee to ask that the recommendations in regard to physical culture and military training in the schools be laid over until that body had an opportunity to consider the same. It was decided to lay them over until the next meeting of the committee.

A recommendation from the chief inspector that the annual public school games be omitted this year owing to the absence of many assistant masters was adopted.

Recommendations regarding the extension of manual training and household science were allowed to stand for further consideration.

It was decided to recommend that "little mothers" leagues be organized in the following schools: King, Edward, Lansdowne, Church, Roden, Duke of Connaught, Essex, Bolton, Queen Alexandra, Earl Grey, Strathcona, Leslie, Brock, Shirley, Hughes, Carlton, Alexander Muir, Kimbley, Balm Beach, Clinton, Cottingham, Jesse Ketchum, Huron, Grace, Withrow, Pope, Franklin, Williamson Road, New Beach, Kent and Pauline Avenue.

THE "PENITENT CONVICT" HAVING BRAIN EXAMINED

Charged with vagrancy, Walter Burns, member of the American Legion, who told the police a strange story of killing a man in Texas and of escaping from jail when sentenced to three years for manslaughter, came up in the police court yesterday. In reply to a wire sent by Inspector Kennedy to Huntsville, Texas, the authorities there state that they have knowledge of such an escape by any man of that name. Burns was removed to the Detention Hospital to have his brain examined.

TRAVELERS ANXIOUS ABOUT ACCOMMODATION

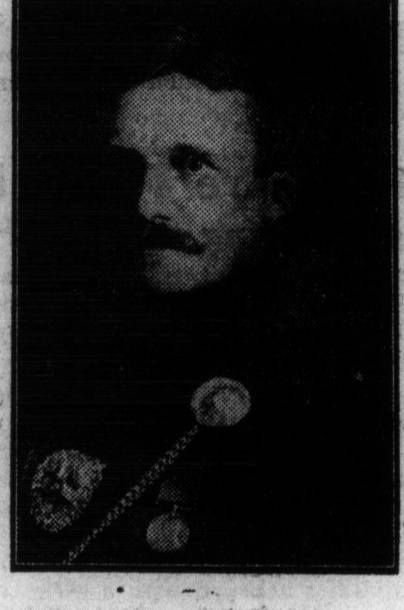

Assured by Premier That Necessary Provisions Will Have to Be Maintained.

Commercial travelers throughout Ontario are exhibiting some anxiety as to how the prohibition bill will affect hotel accommodation. Yesterday deputations from the Canadian Commercial Travelers' Association waited on the government to ask for assurances that the accommodation would be kept equally as good as at present. A member of the deputations stated that there were 20,000 traveling men in the province, and it was suggested that the prohibitionists be made responsible for the providing of good hotel accommodation. The premier told the visitors that the necessary accommodation would have to be maintained, and in answer to a suggestion that the temperance hotels be licensed, Hon. W. J. Hanna stated that the government intended bringing in a bill having this for its object.

G. A. WARBURTON SPOKE TO ONTARIO ALLIANCE

Told Why Committee of Hundred Entered the Temperance Arena.

FORM "DRY" BATTALION

Convention Passed Resolution Commending Efforts of Col. Hagarty.

Chairman G. A. Warburton of the Committee of One Hundred told the Ontario Alliance convention yesterday afternoon why his organization had entered the provincial temperance arena and organized a prohibition campaign. His speech was diplomatic in matter and whole-hearted in tone, but definite regarding plan.

Mr. Warburton credited the Ontario Alliance and other temperance societies with creating the public sentiment rendering the success of the Committee of One Hundred possible. His reason for the organization of the committee was that it "could apprehend the question from a different viewpoint and without suspicion of political partisanship." The committee recognized the new social situation facing Ontario, and in meeting the new conditions the alliance could play an important part.

The convention will hold two business sessions today, and close with a mass meeting tonight, addressed by prohibition members of the Dominion Parliament.

Dr. C. W. Walker Brings Action Against College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Judgment was reserved by the appellate division at Osgoode Hall yesterday in the action of Dr. C. W. Walker, proprietor of the Ontario Medical Institute, brought against the College of Physicians and Surgeons to decide whether the college council had the right to take the action they did in striking the doctor's name from the roll.

The discipline committee of the medical council took action against the doctor on the ground of unprofessional conduct by employing as his assistant an unqualified practitioner. The assistant was qualified to practice in a foreign country, but had not been licensed in Canada.

Dr. Walker had violated the Medical Act there was nothing in what he had done to warrant his name being erased and his practice being taken away from him. H. S. Oster, K.C., appeared for the medical council and averred that the action taken was for the protection of the public.

The following is today's list for the second divisional appellate court: Brown v. Cormery, Bessette v. Roy.

CLUBS BEING FORMED BY "BIKE" ENTHUSIASTS

Noteworthy Development in Renewed Interest Which for a Time Has Been Divided.

It is many years since the demand for bicycles was as great as it is at the present, and there is no doubt that it is regaining the popularity of a few years back. Dealers have had more enquiries about the 1916 models than they have had for years, and there is no doubt that the bicycle will be used for pleasure as well as business to a large extent this year.

A noteworthy development is the interest which is being shown by women. Many women's and girls' clubs have been formed, and afternoon runs will be popular. In the parks and on the pavements they will be seen, and even in the country it will be no longer unusual to meet a party of happy girls pedaling along with every evidence of the old-time enthusiasm that the veterans are so fond of telling about.

As the bicycle has been compelled to divide public attention with the automobile and motorcycle, it has seemed to some that not so many were being ridden as formerly. But the bicycle has been very much alive. There are probably as many being ridden now as some years ago when the "good old days," as they are commonly referred to, were here.

Dugal, M.L.A., opposition member, read at length from the royal commissioner's report and gave this notice of motion: "Resolved, that the said A. J. H. MUCH MORE PLEASANT THAN HANGING TO STRAP

For the Man, Woman, Boy and Girl Bicycle Has Many Advantages.

Students are fast discovering the advantages of using a bicycle for getting to and from school. Whether for the young man or young woman, boy or girl student or teacher, the advantages are many. The reasons given below for the use of the bicycle by the man going to work apply with equal force to the student going to school. In addition, the exercise will harden the muscles, the fresh air will be especially good for the lungs after the close confinement of the stuffy schoolroom. Guiding the machine thru the traffic is a splendid exercise in self-control.

For Riding to Work.
Riding a bicycle is not only easier and quicker than walking, but is cheaper and more pleasant than waiting for a crowded street car. The man who owns a bicycle can get up later in the morning, chew his breakfast before swallowing it and still get to work in plenty of time. At noon he can often run home to a good hot dinner when the other fellow has to carry a cold lunch or accept what a lunch room or restaurant has to offer.

Some Facts Concerning "Dunlop"

The story back of the "Two Hands" trade-mark—the phenomenal expansion of the business, the widespread character of the demand—will appeal to every Canadian from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

While the name "Dunlop" in every part of the civilized world is associated with tires, the Dunlop Company manufactures practically everything compounded of rubber, and has a special experimental department devoted to the perfecting of established lines and to the creating of new ones.

The Dunlop Company is a thoroughly Canadian institution, controlled by Canadians and financed entirely by Canadian capital. For approximately one-quarter of a century this company has successfully carried on the business of rubber goods manufacturing.

Some conception of how the Dunlop idea, applied to general rubber-made goods, has been popularized can be gleaned from this statement: "The factory additions for 1912 were alone nearly as great as the entire floor area of seven years previous; and in 1915 the additions were just double those of 1912."

Though the head office and factories of the company are located in Toronto, branches, carrying complete stocks, are situated in the following cities: Victoria, Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina, Winnipeg, London, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, St. John, Halifax.

Following along the best established custom for obtaining the most accurate estimate of Canadian conditions, the branch managers of the company, from coast to coast, assemble at the head office periodically, and there in concave present their viewpoints.

Officers of the company regularly make tours of inspection from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Thus, while the company is essentially eastern, each branch, with its efficient staff, is a connecting link with the people of the different territories, an assurance that the Dunlop business is continental in its scope and national in its character.

GOOD ROADS HELPING SALES OF BICYCLES

This is Strong Foundation for Optimism Which Has Grippped Manufacturers and Others.

Bicycle manufacturers the country over are looking forward to a banner year. And this optimism is not the result of a "hunch." It is based on facts. The conditions that go to make a big market are more favorable than for many years. Many agencies are at work helping to create a demand for them. Good roads go hand-in-hand with pocketbooks in making way for bicycle demand.

The activity of the past season in building better roads and paving miles of old roadways has been followed by an increase in bicycle sales. Sections where bicycling has formerly been a mud-churning performance are now seeing more cyclists on the roads, thus providing a strong foundation for increased sales in 1916.

Probably no one feature has served to bring the bicycle more prominently before the public than the great renewal of racing which broke out last summer. Not for many years has the public been so interested in racing. In all parts of the country the entries have been numerous and the attendance large.

EXPECT BIG DEMAND FOR MORE BICYCLES

Orders Larger Than Usual and Appearances Indicate Greater Popularity Than Ever.

"From all appearances, the present year will surpass 1915 in the demand for bicycles, although the past year was the biggest since the banner years of 1900 to 1906," says a representative of the Canada Cycle and Motor Co. "Orders throughout Canada are much larger than usual, and enquiries received daily are a convincing proof of the large number of bicycles that will be required to take care of the demand in Canada this year. Deliveries have started a good deal earlier this season and dealers are all anxious to get their supplies early so as to be ready for the opening of the season."

"Our extensive factories at West Toronto are working day and night to increase their output, so as to be in a position to take care of the large demand for C.O.M. 'Made in Canada' bicycles. We have also made extensive preparations to handle this increased business at all the different branches in Canada. C.O.M. bicycles are known from coast to coast; among the most popular are the 'Cleveland,' 'Massey,' 'Brantford,' 'Perfect,' 'Gendron' and 'Columbia.'"

CHEAP AND HANDY FOR COLLECTING ACCOUNTS

The Cost of Upkeep, Including the Repairs, Comparatively Small.

Many business men might use a bicycle for collecting local accounts, who are not doing so at the present time. The following figures, published by Sydney's Magazine of Business, September, 1915, number, were compiled by the credit department of a large installment furniture house. They are practical, and not guesswork. They demonstrate that a bicycle is not only a convenient means for making collections, but is also the cheapest possible method.

Walking, a collector will make perhaps 40 collections per day. On a bicycle, he will make about 100 calls a day, if he works his territory systematically, and he will always be neat and clean. He will have no expense for gasoline, oil, etc. The cost of his machine is very low as compared with either the motorcycle or motor car. The cost of upkeep of the bicycle, including repairs, will also be very small indeed.

Letters of collection, including stationery and stamps, cost nearly 10c each on an average, and sometimes more than that, so that the saving by means of the bicycle is at once apparent.

One of Inspector Buser's party carried the letters five hundred miles by dog sled to Fort Norman, where it was again relayed on its way to Regina. The inspector reached his winter quarters September 8. From there he was to leave for the Arctic coast on the 15th of the present month, according to the letter.

BICYCLE AND CARRIER IS GOOD COMBINATION

Cheap and Satisfactory Method of Handling Small Rush Order.

For quick delivery of small parcels—and large ones, too, sometimes—the bicycle with the carrier basket is a hard combination to beat. Often in cases where delivery rigs must be used for the main bulk of traffic, the dealer who sells the bicycle which can be handled more economically and satisfactorily by means of a smart boy on a bicycle.

Besides being quicker, this method has the added advantage of economy, as the wages of even a good boy are not high, and there is no expensive maintenance, as in the case of horse or motor power. If a really good bicycle is used the cost of repairs will be a very small item indeed, practically negligible.

The cost of the machine is not high, and even this small amount may be divided over several years, as a good bicycle will give service for that length of time.

In many cases an enterprising boy might profitably buy his own bicycle and get a good job or work up a nice little business delivering small parcels. The dealer who sells the bicycle can supply several styles of delivery baskets, easily attached to the machine, and suitable for this work. The cost of the very best of them is not high.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 30. Up to Sir Robert Borden

The disclosures at Ottawa in regard to the shell committee have started the country. There may be an explanation of the transactions of J. Wesley Allison and associates, but we can imagine none; and Sir Sam Hughes in his speeches in parliament went out of his way to couple himself up with Allison; the two, therefore, must go together in the conclusions reached by the public. Nor will the people take long to pass judgment.

In the meantime Sir Robert Borden can save the people a lot of suspense by making a quick investigation of the charges himself, and thereupon acting on his own responsibility.

Air Warfare From what has transpired in the British House of Commons it is clear that some kind of a zeppelin raid occurred on March 19 in England. Nothing was heard about it at the time, for which the censorship is responsible. Nor did the Germans say anything about it, which leads to the conclusion that there was nothing to say which would be creditable to them.

They do not like to tell their own people of the evil things that befell them, and our wise old rulers include them in this whim, but for entirely different reasons. They get no satisfaction about the fate of the missing units. The uncertainty gets on the nerves of the men who are expected to go out on the next raid. The suspense worries the staff. The people have to put up with the absence of news as best they can.

There is one curious feature about the suppression of the news of the raid. It consists in the fact that a few days later a British raid was instituted on British lines against the German zeppelin headquarters in Schleswig, behind the island of Sylt. It is impossible not to form the impression that the knowledge of the existence of this zeppelin depot was obtained in some way connected with or as the result of the zeppelin raid of the few days previously. If zeppelins were brought down and captured, and if information was gained from them or from prisoners then taken, which the British Government had not previously in its possession, then we may surmise that the raid on Sylt was the result of a quick decision made after this discovery.

It is pleasant to think that Britain plays the game in all these raids, and is not tempted into breaking the rules, however dirty the Germans behave. Attacks are not directed against civilian towns and houses. Only fortified places or camps or such structures are given over to the shelter of military materials or flying machines are assailed. The Greeks have had a taste of the German policy in the raid on Saloniki, when a large number of innocent civilians were killed by the indiscriminate method in which the Germans distribute their bombs.

If Britain had a sufficient air equipment, both as to men and machines, this feature of the warfare now going on would be more satisfactory for the allies. It should not be forgotten in Canada that the most effective assistance we can give to the allies at the present time is by the training of air men and the making of aeroplanes. It is the more remarkable and the more regrettable that the government continues to act as tho the war were being conducted on the lines of the Boer campaign of 1899.

GERMAN TRADE AFTER THE WAR. Editor World: The British Empire, deceived by false pretensions of friendliness, was caught unprepared for war, and profiting by the knowledge we have gained since the outbreak of hostilities as revealed in the many exhibitions of the true character of the Teuton, let us at least be prepared for peace, and spare no effort to prevent the revival of German commerce to the exclusion of increased trading within the empire.

The strength of the producing power of Great Britain and her overseas dominions has been shown in no uncertain manner since the advent of the world war, and were we to neglect the commercial advantages to be derived from the successful issue of the present struggle, then indeed would our future generations have cause to regret the lack of foresight on the part of their grandparents.

Every effort should be made to impress upon the minds of the people the paramount duty of every loyal subject to spend not one single cent upon any article "made in Germany" since it is conclusively proven that the necessities of this life are as equally well, or even better, produced within the British Empire.

It is not necessary to urge upon Canadians when making purchases to be certain the goods they require are produced, first, in Canada, or secondly, in some other part of the empire. The movement, Great Britain, Belgium, Australia and South Africa known as the Anti-German League, the members of which have adopted as their program, "No German Goods, No German Labor," is a movement that has attained instant recognition amongst all ranks of the community.

When peace is proclaimed it is unthinkable that our money should pass into the hands of the German to assist him in recovering the trade he has wantonly lost. Prevention is better than cure. There is indisputable authority for stating that Germans are already making preparations, as far as they are able, to flood the world markets with their accumulated stocks of manufactured goods. Let there be no buyers in Canada. Too many Canadian homes have been wrecked through German frightfulness, and the women folk of this country at least, should see that none of their hard-earned money finds its way into the pockets of the Hun. Chas. H. Blackmore, Winchester Apartments, March 29th, 1916.

When Sir Sam Hughes returns to Ottawa, as he ought to do as speedily as possible, we hope he will be able to over-throw the shell committee, and the house who have been linking his name with certain transactions that have charged the government, and are alleged to have entered into with parties in the United States, in connection with duties abroad are of so urgent a character as to call for his attention before anything else, which, in such a time as this, may well be the case—he ought to take passage on the first vessel leaving Britain for a North American port.

EDITORIAL COMMENT ON THE KYTE CHARGES

BEFOULING CANADA'S GOOD NAME.

Toronto Globe. The lid is off at Ottawa. Further pretence that the revelations made do not warrant an inquiry into the operations of the shell committee will be received with indignation by the Canadian people.

The excuse that the committee was responsible to the Imperial government, and that any investigation must be made by authority of Mr. Lloyd George, can no longer be advanced without bringing Sir Robert Borden's ministry into contempt.

Documents have been produced and read in the house of commons showing that one of the most scandalous transactions ever carried out by a group of high finance bandits was formally endorsed and ratified in the following terms:

"I, Major-General the Hon. S. Hughes, minister of militia and defence of the Dominion of Canada, in accordance with authority duly conferred upon me by his Britannic Majesty's Government, hereby certify that the committee, consisting of J. Wesley Allison and associates, hereinafter named, in pursuance of a contract entered into between the American Ammunition Company, incorporated, and the shell committee, dated at Ottawa, Canada, this 19th day of June, A.D. 1915."

What was this agreement so unreservedly ratified and confirmed by the "Canadian House of Commons" in the defence? The American Ammunition Co. was a make-believe company, organized by dummy directors and controlled by the laws of the State of Virginia three weeks before the agreement was made between Sir Sam Hughes and the American Ammunition Company.

Its authorized capital was a million dollars, but only $100,000 was subscribed. The company, without plant, or factory, or assets, or any means of carrying on business, was awarded a contract by Sir Robert Borden and the shell committee, for the approval of General Hughes, for 8,656,600 rounds of projectiles for $14,400,000, and $33,334 time fuses at $4.50 each.

On this huge contract, involving almost ten and a half million dollars, a cash advance of $1,041,000 was made on the day the contract was signed, and another cash advance of $500,000 was made four months afterwards. These sums should have been sufficient to build and equip at least four up-to-date fuse factories of large capacity. There was the most urgent need of projectiles, for at that time the Russians were being driven out of Poland for lack of shells, and the Canadian factories were piling up shells that were useless without fuses. Yet, more than a month after the contract was made the American Ammunition Co. had not delivered a single one of the 83,334 time fuses had ordered, and only 180,000 of the grass fuses.

Under such circumstances a contract was entered into with another munition concern, the International Arms & Ammunition Co., and this organization two weeks ago had delivered only 6000 fuses out of a total of 2,500,000 contracted for, and upon which a cash advance of $1,875,000 had been made by the shell committee.

Why this criminal delay? Who was behind the scenes influencing the shell committee to contract with a concern for irresponsible middlemen without means to manufacture the articles they had contracted to supply? The name of Col. J. Wesley Allison, the confidential friend of the minister of militia, is seen in the background. E. F. Youkum, who secured a take-off of $175,000 for negotiating the contract with the shell committee, "out of a total of a million dollars divided between the middlemen involved." A partner of Col. Wesley Allison, and documented evidence showing that this partnership agreement, was entitled to receive a portion of the take-off on the American Ammunition Company's contract.

That commission paid to Allison and to Youkum out of the cash advances made to the company which should have been spent on the purchase of material and the equipment of factories for the manufacture of urgently-required munitions. That question must be answered. If Sir Robert Borden does not permit an inquiry by a properly constituted court or some other competent tribunal, he and his government should be forced to go before the electors to defend their record. Canada's honor is involved in the case.

A group of Canadians appointed by Mr. Lloyd George on the nomination of the Government of Canada, to manage the manufacture of munitions in Canada refused to take steps looking to the making of fuses in the Dominion, and, with the approval of the minister of militia, advanced over three millions to a group of American middlemen to aid in the speedy turning out of fuses in the United States. Documents available appear to point to the division among these middlemen—some of whom were the confidential friend of the minister of militia—of a take-off amounting to a million dollars, before arrangements were completed for the manufacture of the fuses.

From the minister's confidential friend to the minister is but a step. No one has charged Sir Sam Hughes with participation in this orgy of war contracts. That question must be answered. He is content with negative explication. They expect General Hughes to take the stand before a properly constituted court of enquiry and declare on oath that he was not a party to Allison's exploitation and obtained no advantage from it. They expect also that he will disavow any knowledge of the million-dollar take-off and of the bogus nature of the companies which, on a joint capital of $400,000, secured contracts, approved by Sir Sam Hughes, for twenty-two millions. Only by the most explicit disavowals before a tribunal charged with the investigation of the whole subject will General Hughes be able to dissociate himself from the mess that is befouling Canada's good name. The government must act, and act speedily.

MR KYTE'S CHARGES.

Mail and Empire. Naturally, there was long delay. Although the real cause of the long delay in the delivery of ammunition from Canadian factories, Col. Allison, it is charged, worked in combination with the queer middleman companies, and arranged for take-offs amounting to about $1,600,000. For some mysterious reason, he took as a partner an Italian fiddler named Lignanti, who played in a Montreal hotel, and this man sold out his one-third share in the enterprise for $50,000 cash.

There are many more details in the evening paper which are too long to repeat. Whether true or false, they reflect very seriously upon a member of the cabinet engaged by the shell committee. It is not known whether they are true or false. Whether true or false, they reflect very seriously upon a member of the cabinet engaged by the shell committee.

According to our despatches there is a tense situation in Ottawa. For many weeks there have been disturbing rumors about the shell committee. Sir Sam Allison with contracts for munitions. These rumors have had additional significance from the fact that Sir Sam Allison, who is a member of the cabinet, has relations which exist between Allison and the shell committee, or as to any other matter covered by the speeches of those who have been mentioned in this power for bringing out the facts.

Throughout, the Borden government has refused to disclose the names of the public contractors or the public works. He has sacrificed Conservative members of the cabinet to the interests of the shell committee. It is necessary in the public interest to disclose the names of the contractors and the public works. The man, he is private citizen or public contractor, who is in this crisis in the fortunes of the empire for his own advantage or carelessly ignores the interests of the public, or leniency can receive no consideration from the Canadian people.

SERIOUS CHARGES.

Hamilton Spectator. It is, of course, unnecessary to say that the premier and his colleagues were as surprised as anyone else at the allegations made by Mr. George W. Kyte of Richmond, Ont., in his speech last night. Mr. Kyte's story, in brief, was that the Hon. Col. J. Wesley Allison, who is a member of the cabinet, had unlimited confidence, made contracts amounting to $2,000,000 with two munition companies in the United States. He guaranteed that out of the proceeds of the contracts at least $1,000,000 would be used for the production of munitions in Canada, and that an interval of seven months elapsed before any of the goods were manufactured and supplied. It will be remembered that a year ago fuses were not made in Canada, and it was necessary, in order to complete the shells, to get fuses from concerns in the United States. Fuses are now being made in Canada, at prices somewhat under the American figures.

Strictly, Premier Borden and his ministry might properly treat these charges as they have treated all charges in relation to the doings of the old shell committee. They might say the matter is one with which the imperial government has more to do than the Canadian; that it is the imperial government that should take the initiative, and at least rear an enquiry, and that until the war ends it will be possible without injury to undertake immediately in hand, to make a proper investigation. We are inclined to think, however, in view of the directness and the magnitude of Mr. Kyte's bombshell, that the matter should not be maintained, and that technicalities should not be used to screen any real scandal or to screen any real villain. The government should be satisfied with the statement of Sir Robert Borden, who said: "Let no guilty man escape."

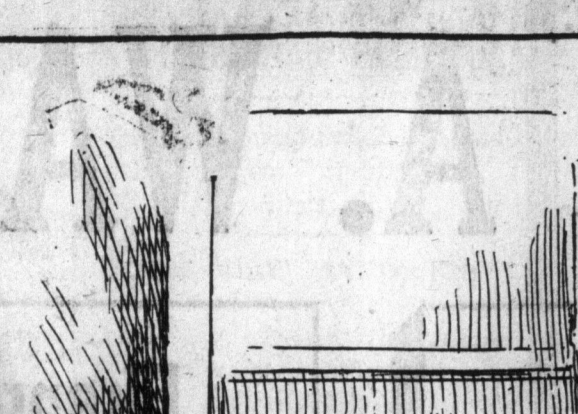

SERIOUS CHARGES.

Hamilton Herald. Up to the present The Herald has not favored the holding of an investigation into the doings of the Dominion shell committee, because that committee was appointed to do work for the imperial government, and the imperial authorities had expressed themselves as satisfied with its work. But the specific charges made yesterday by Mr. George W. Kyte, member for Richmond, N.S., put

THIRTY DEAD IN WRECK TORONTO MAN VICTIM

Three Trains Crashed Together in Fog Near Amherst, Ohio.

CAUSE IS UNCERTAIN "Twentieth Century" Plowed Into Wreckage, But Was Little Damaged.

CLEVELAND, March 29.—With a toll of at least 30 persons dead including David Fruchtman of Toronto, and 40 more injured, federal and state officials in Chicago today began an investigation into one of the worst wrecks in the history of the New York Central.

Three trains including the Twentieth Century Limited, westbound, and the New York Central's palatial flier, and two sections of No. 86, known as the Chicago-Pittsburgh Limited, eastbound, ran together in collision near Amherst, Ohio, thirty-seven miles west of Cleveland.

Reports generally credited were that the wreck occurred on the tracks between the first and second sections of No. 86, westward, and proceeded on its westward journey, its passengers uninjured except for a severe shaking up. A fall of fog from Lake Erie had settled down over north Ohio and the night was of almost ink darkness.

This with the alleged failure of a brakeman to do his duty under the rules was blamed by some of the railroad officials as the cause of the wreck. The towerman, it was said, was in the wrong position at the time Sunday night, his wife being ill and requiring his attention when he was not on duty.

Three trains in collision. The wreck was one of those rarest of railroad calamities—not one collision, but two, involving three trains, on two tracks, with the collision of the westward train with the eastward train following in the next "block" lies at the bottom of the wreckage. When the train called on Sunday night, his wife being ill and requiring his attention when he was not on duty.

Scenes of terrible confusion followed the catastrophe. Many of the injured were taken to the hospital. A bonfire was kindled to help unfortunates, half clad, quickly emerged from the wreckage. When the first train arrived, it was found that the wreckage had been brought to a stop by the collision of the westward train with the eastward train following in the next "block" lies at the bottom of the wreckage.

SCHILLMAN CAPTURES INDIVIDUAL EVENT

Wins A. B. C. Roll-Off With Cincinnati and Chicago Bowlers—The Score.

Special to The Toronto World. TOLEDO, Ohio, March 29.—Canada won the individual championship of the American Bowling Congress here tonight. Schillman, Toronto, gave the Dominion its first title. Ben Huesman of Cincinnati ran second, while Frank Shaw of Chicago ran third. The scores were as follows: Schillman, Toronto... 187 201 196—584 Huesman, Cincinnati... 171 185 184—540 Shaw, Chicago... 168 170 158—496 The winner, who is half Canadian (Chicago), rolled the gamest series of the three, also all three showed plenty of courage. New pins were put up and they showed a lot of "railroads." Schillman apparently lost his nerve in the opening game when three wide open "railroads" made him the low man. He got three strikes in the second game and a double in the last that helped him force to the front. Huesman played well and led at the end of the first game by three pins. A row of spares in the third game, along with a cherry pick, did not dishearten him, as he doubled towards the finish. Three spares and another cherry pick stopped him at the finish. Shaw had four bad railroads in the last game and he resigned towards the end, making his only two errors when he had no chance for even second place.

Leaflets Get Down To Work Monday

Manager Joe Birmingham is ready to whip his Leafs into shape. The squad will report at Jersey City on Monday, and the first workout will be held in the morning. Trainer Frank Carroll leaves for the Jersey town tonight with the uniforms, and will have everything in tip-top shape to start work on Monday. The New York Giants, who have been the Leafs' second-base manager, who played with Ottawa last year, but President McCaffery refused to let him come back to cover the middle station, the Leafs do not need the Ottawa youngster. Manager Birmingham has lines out for two good leavers, and expects them to report at Jersey City on Monday. One is Goodwin, who was with the Kansas City Feeds last year, was in good form to land the shortstop berth. Goodwin has also been clicking in the Western League club, and has likely signed with Topeka.

MORAN IS COUNTING ON GREAT ALEXANDER

Phillies Will Be in Good Shape to Start—Expect to Repeat.

TAMPA, Fla., March 29.—The Phillies refuse to be counted out of the 1916 National League race without a struggle. Pat Moran and his men are more optimistic over their chances for another opening season than they were last year by far, and it does not look at the present time as if they had any reason to be on their side. The fact that Grover Alexander will be able to take his place on the slab in as good shape as he ever was in his life is one big argument in favor of the chances for a repeat. It is also the fact that Catcher Bill Killifer is also shaping up in good enough style to warrant the belief that he will be in the lineup as strong as he was in 1914.

This star battery was thought to be out of it last fall by many of the fans who were ball junkies in the country. Alexander's arm was bad during the latter part of last fall. This was one of the alibis for the defeat of the National League in the big series. It was a year ago that he worked during the last half of the season and was not in a single game of world's series. He was out of the game for a year, according to some reports, but this has been disproved at the spring camp of the Phillies in St. Petersburg this year. Alexander is whizzing the ball over with as much speed as he ever had, and the few times he has tried to use his curves they have worked well. Alexander himself is giving the reports no concern at all, for he knows that he is right again. Moran has not asked him to do any of the early pitching jobs in the spring games because he did not want to force the prize arm too fast. He has not even insisted on Alex pitching in any of the practice games for the Phillies, but has allowed him to go along just as he has wanted. The catcher has not been allowed to use his right arm in throwing to the bases, but he has worked out with the pitchers right along so that he is satisfied that he can peg when it comes time to do so. The return of Killifer to the game this year is going to be a big asset for Moran. Last year he was somewhat handicapped by the loss of the star backstop, but Burns was able to come thru almost as well as Killifer could have done. In case of an emergency, however, the Phillies would have been in bad shape for a backstop. Adams is coming thru in good shape this spring, and he will likely be the regular second-string catcher in case Killifer does return. Burns and Killifer will likely divide up the work, because Moran will not want to work Killifer too hard on the start if his arm does come thru as well as it is expected to do at present.

With the return of Killifer and the addition of Bender to the pitching staff, the Phillies believe that they have strengthened as much as any team in the league and are willing to stand their ground without further effort to add to their fighting force. Wilbur Good will hardly get a chance to play on the regular outfield, for Whitted, Faskert and Cravath are sure of their jobs if they do not meet with accidents of some kind. Good will be valuable as a pinch-hitter, and as a substitute in case of some sort of injury.

The Tampa Bay Hotel is almost devoid of guests. The Cubs will be the last to leave, next Thursday. The hotel is to close on April 10, but it might as well shut the doors when the Cubs leave, for the tourists are hurrying north to get away from the summer heat here.

OSLER RECREATION CENTRE.

The midget class at the centre is proving rapidly to be one of the most popular taking part in the exercises last night. In the junior section, basketball has given way to indoor tennis. The older boys taking this splendid opportunity of getting into condition for their outdoor sport. The point competition, McCannion in the Junior, Daniels in the novice, and Bell in the midget will lead their respective groups.

THORNCLIFFE STRING MOVE TO WOODBINE

Twenty-Three Horses Under Charge of Trainer McDaniel—Thorncliffe Right Again.

So well have the Thorncliffe Stable horses wintered at the farm that Trainer Henry McDaniel decided to bring the twenty-three head that will sport the black and canary jacket on the Canadian circuit this season to their usual quarters at Woodbine Park this morning. Not a single case of sickness was recorded since the string went into winter quarters late last fall.

Mr. McDaniel expects, despite the death of Mr. Robert Davies, sr., to continue to race the string at Woodbine. Of the 23 that will arrive at the Woodbine here are 12 two-year-olds and 11 older horses. There will be 24 in the string, as Hampton Dame will be taken over by the Thorncliffe Stable.

All the horses are in the best of condition, and with good weather will, barring mishaps, be ready when the bugle is sounded.

The plain eligible, Thorncliffe, has got over his limber trouble after being fired this winter. He looks good and should be a much improved horse this year, also he does not fancy going a distance.

Fountain Fay, the bread winner of the stable, has rounded out well and looks just as hardy as ever. The maidens, Matt H. and Star Cross, have been schooled over the jumps and will be trained to go thru the field. Star Cross schooled well last fall and was regarded as the best green jumper over the hurdles.

All the eleven two-year-olds are Canuck-bred and showed good speed as yearlings last fall. No doubt there is a contender in the mix who will figure in the Coronation Stake.

The following is a list of the horses at the Woodbine: Fountain Fay, ch.f. (6), by McGee-White Plum; Recoil, b.f. (6), by Ogden-Hammers; Knights Offer, b.h. (3), by Knight of the Mist; Indreance, King Hamburg, b.c. (4), by Waterloo-Hamburg Belle; Pimp Sign, b.c. (Jumper); Canadian-bred two-year-olds—Love-Loek, b.f. by Orme Shore-Lou D.; Britannia, b.f. by Bannockburn-Minnie G.; Wisahway, b.f. by Detective-Whit; W. Hundley, b.c., by Bannockburn-Sula (brother to Hamilton); Torment, b.f. by Detective-Mischer; Victor, b.c. by Detective-Saydora. American-bred two-year-olds—Victoria, b.f. by Plaudt-Ogden Netherault; Grace, b.f. by Gloria-Pictur-esque; Easter Lily, b.f., by Glorifier-Belle Fleur; Inoc, b.f., by Ogden-Martie.

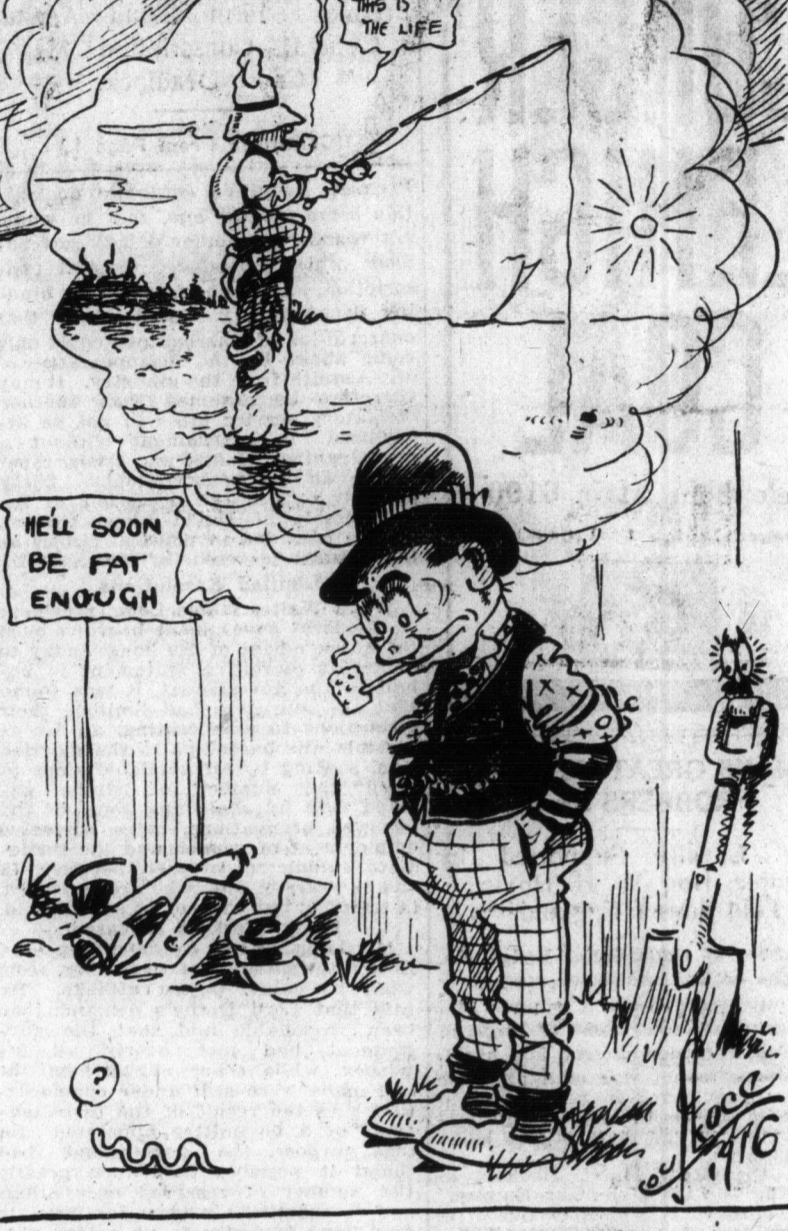

OTTAWA SOCCERITES DOING THEIR SHARE

OTTAWA, Ont., March 29.—Owing to the crowds that recruiting has made in the way of old countrymen in the capital, there will be no City Soccer League this season. A definite decision to this effect was arrived at by the few remaining soccer players in the city today.

Only three members of the Soccer Association remain in the city. Two or three soldier teams and one or two civilian teams will likely be picked up to play for the Russell Cup, McGivern Cup and the Clarke Shield.

SIGNS OF SPRING

OTTAWA WILL ORGANIZE N. L. U. LACROSSE CLUB

Application Has Been Made to Montreal for Franchise and Playing Dates.

OTTAWA, March 29.—The nothing official has yet been announced, it is understood that there is every probability of Ottawa placing a club in the National Lacrosse Union during the coming summer. Hundreds of local citizens, in view of the decision of the Canadian Lacrosse League to suspend, are clamoring for a lacrosse revival, and some of Ottawa's leading sportsmen are said to have been approached. There will be a meeting next week for the purpose of discussing the prospects.

At yesterday's meeting of the board of control, the Ottawa Lacrosse Club, City Lacrosse League, made application for the use of the athletic field at Lansdowne Park for ten dates during the coming summer, adding that it was the intention of the City League to cooperate with the new senior club, if the latter materialized. It is understood that the Ottawa Lacrosse Club, which was organized as certain-raiser for the senior matches, will be asked to divide the dates.

This step to secure the grounds was evidently a forerunner to the organization of the new Ottawa Lacrosse club.

Application for a new franchise in the National Lacrosse Union has already been made and the Montreal clubs are known to be favorable. The Shamrocks, Nationals, Cornwall and Montreal A.A.A. composed the N.L.U. last summer and the return of Ottawa to the fold would likely mean the restoration of the prosperous conditions that existed before the N.L.U. made the mistake of admitting Toronto clubs and boosting traveling expenses so high that the gate receipts were soon absorbed by the cost of operation. The N.L.U. ran on a semi-pro basis last year. The Montreal and Shamrock clubs did not pay a cent in salaries, while the Nationals and Cornwall handed out little. They all made money. At some of the games, Montreal there were as many as 6000 people in attendance. Of course it would take some time to restore its popularity in Ottawa, but there are plenty of local players, and, if necessary, a few men could be imported, now that the Big Four has gone out of business.

"We intend to run an amateur team if possible," said one of the Ottawa men interested in the club. "It is up to the players to say whether or not lacrosse shall come back. If they promise to turn out and help, we will agree to take the franchise and shoulder the responsibility. Otherwise, we shan't attempt it."

Benny Kauff, like Larry LaJole, does not believe in letting pitchers walk him intentionally if he can get hold of the ball. On Sunday, in the eighth inning, he came and hit with men at third and second base. He had made a home run already and Boehling and Baker decided to give him a pass this time.

The first pitch was wide and Kauff didn't try for it. The second was a slob ball only a few inches outside. Kauff reached for it and poked it to Daniel. He was thrown out, but a man from third scored. His action was rather ill-advised as it was almost impossible for him to get a good hold of the ball.

This comes from Philadelphia: The Baltimore Federal League Baseball Club today filed in the United States district court here a suit against organized baseball for $900,000 damages under the Sherman Anti-trust Act and Clayton violation of the federal anti-trust laws.

The Baltimore Federal League Club charges in the suit that the defendants have formed a conspiracy to buy, acquire or destroy the Baltimore Federal League Club and the Federal League, in Anti-trust Act.

Indicator: handlers of the minor leagues have formed what will be known as the National Association of Minor League Professional Umpires. Edward Eckman, Central League, and Harry Johnson, New York State League, were elected chairman and secretary, respectively.

The Northwest League directors, who have been in session at Seattle for three days arranging a playing schedule for the 1916 season, adjourned tonight after agreeing upon a schedule. President Robert Hewitt announced that the season would open on April 27, with the Seattle, Great Falls at Tacoma, and Vancouver at Spokane. He said the holiday games and closing date and other details of the schedule would not be made public until later.

HOWLEY GATHERING TEAM FOR ROYALS

Collecting Cast-Offs From Big League Camps—Baseball Gossip.

A Montreal despatch says: Three players come to the Royals as the result of a deal with the Vernon California Club of the Pacific Coast League, which was completed yesterday. Art Griggs, who played first base for the Royals two seasons ago and was with the Brookfield last summer, has been exchanged to Vernon for Billy Purcell, Ted Cather and Herb Moran. The last two named players are outfielders, both having been with the Braves for the better part of last season. Purcell was also with the Skeeters two seasons ago, playing shortstop and third base.

These are the first new players to sign up with the Royals thus far, but it is expected that more will be added before the end of the week, so that the training camp may start on April 3. Tommy Madden, Jack Cawley, Paul Smith, Charlie Fullerton and Bill Holden are those of last year's team who will be back again.

In Zeb Terry the White Sox have picked up a shortstop who looks as good as any who have been graduated in the majors since Donie Bush came up. Zeb is really a maverick. He has all the verification of the first twenty minutes. The play was replete with spectacular end-of-inning rushes and brilliant combination plays by both teams, the men taking every advantage with the western rules, under which there is no offence in the centre section of the ice. The game was won by Portland, not because they were the better team, but that better team had a lack of penalties to go down in their stride long before the scheduled sixty minutes. The exhibition of hockey played was, perhaps, the most brilliant ever witnessed in a local arena, while the pace forced by the players had been surpassed in any previous exhibition in Montreal.

There is further worry for the Giants regarding a group of players who are being held by the other day. Christy Mathewson split the little finger of his throwing hand, thereby setting at rest a report able to show his stuff for several days. Another worry for the Giants is that the Cardinal baseball team the years of 1911, '12, '13 and '14.

Two ex-Peds are with the Dallas Club of the Texas League. They are Pitcher Ben and Outfielder McChandless. The latter was considered the fleetest of the outlaw gardeners.

Manager Bill Donovan of the Yankees has appointed Beckinpugh as field captain, thereby setting at rest a report that Leo Magee would occupy the post.

Shuffling Phil Douglas, the ex-Cub pitcher, who found a wet spot in dry ground, was released by Manager Tucker before eating one breakfast at the club's expense, is having trouble with Mike Kelly of the St. Paul team. Phil's foot slipped the other day, but he came right back in an exhibition game and heaved a wonderful game of ball. Kelly has placed him on probation.

Manager Griffith of the Senators thinks he will have one of the best pitching staffs in the league, in addition to Walter Johnson, Boehling, Harper and Bentley are showing up well in training camp.

GODERICH RESIDENT DEAD. GODERICH, March 29.—Geo. Evans, a respected citizen of Goderich, and one of the best known men in his part of the county, is dead. His death came of a general shock to the citizens at large.

Benny Kauff, like Larry LaJole, does not believe in letting pitchers walk him intentionally if he can get hold of the ball. On Sunday, in the eighth inning, he came and hit with men at third and second base. He had made a home run already and Boehling and Baker decided to give him a pass this time.

INTERNATIONAL BOXING.
The international boxing tourney at the Arena under the auspices of the Riverside A.C. commences tomorrow night. Over 65 entries have been received, including 10 each from the 1st and 3rd Battalions, seven from the Sportmans (1890) and 21 from the 1st Battalions, including Williams (105 lbs.), Bull (115 lbs.), Dave Brown and Red Gallagher (125 lbs.), Barmer Platt (108 lbs., Canadian champion) and Joe Burke (heavyweight). Jack May (155 lbs.), Frank Pacey (115 lbs., ex-champion) and W. Pettie (105 lbs.) are the best known of the 1st Battalion representatives. The plan opened at Moody's yesterday and had a brisk sale.
The officials: Referee, W. A. Hewitt; judges, J. P. Fitzgerald, S. Leonard and J. P. McGarry; timers, Ed. Phair and Geo. Biggs; announcer, J. Bennett; clerk of scales, W. Smith, secretary A.A.U. of C.; medical examiner, Dr. H. Herford.

A Newark despatch says: If Alexander Schacht's decision is to stick to his resolution, the Bronx boy is out of professional baseball for this season at least. Schacht was offered a contract that called for a reduction of $50 a month. The Bronx hurler, who has been a member of the Tigers for three years, talked over the matter with Manager Tenney, but the pair reached no agreement. Schacht claims that he could have signed with the Brooklyn Tip Tops last fall, but that President Harrow promised to sell the player to a major league club. Schacht then passed up a chance to grab a bonus of $1000 and a fat contract. Schacht declared yesterday that he would play independent baseball this year. Manager Tenney announced that four players who have been training at Macon, Ga., with the Yankees, have been turned over to the Redskins. The quartet is made up of Cy Pieh, Plus Schwert, Hal Cable and Jimmy McGovern. Manager Tenney also announced that he had received the signed contract of "Doc" Cook, a New York youngster, who formerly played in the south.

The suit is directed against the National League, the American League and all the clubs within those organizations; August Herrmann, B. B. Johnson and John K. Tener, of the National Baseball Commission; James A. Gilmore, Charles E. Weighman and Harry Sinclair, formerly of the Federal League.

STRAWBERRIES HERE ARE FROM LOUISIANA

First of Season Arrived Yesterday, But Quality Was Very Poor. GOOD CAULIFLOWER IN Standard Has Been High, But Shipment Just Received Exceeds.

The first Louisiana strawberries for this season came yesterday, but some of them were very poor quality, others being fairly good. The Florida strawberries were much lower priced, selling at 45c and 50c per quart box.

The cauliflower we have been receiving this last winter, mostly from California, has generally been of choice quality, but White & Co. yesterday received a car from Oregon, which is, without exception, some of the finest ever on sale here. It is put up in cases containing only one row, which average 13 heads each, and sells at $3.25 per case.

White & Co. had a car of the Thomas J. Peters Florida tomatoes, selling at $2.75 to $3 per six-basket crate; a car of Florida cabbage, selling at $3.50 per case, and a car of Florida cauliflower, selling at $3.75 per case; also Louisiana strawberries at 15c per small box.

AT THE GAY CABARET

Glide Around and Bend Your Knees to Syncopated Melodies.

Tonight's the night for the midnight cabaret and the wonderful show to be given in the Arena by the 170th Battalion. This unit has created a record in providing novel entertainments of every kind, but tonight's affair will surpass everything it has so far attempted. It will be a case of "watch out" and the "Watch Your Step" company, now playing in Toronto, will be on hand to help the stragglers and the gay Torontonians execute the latest New York steps in real New York fashion. Mrs. Vernon Castle, whose husband is now a British aviator, will appear on the 170th's behalf immediately after the show at the Grand, and several of her dances will be auctioned off to local society leaders. Frank Tinney, one of the funniest black-faced comedians in the world, will be there, and along with him Bernard Granville, and between the two of them things should certainly "hum." Then there will be the chorus of the "Watch Your Step" show, which has been termed one of the prettiest choruses of the stage. The public dancing will start before 9, but time will be a consideration as all with so many other sources of amusement, and Mr. Fleming will have a good many ten-cent fares tomorrow morning.

MUSICAL RECITAL AIDS THE AMERICAN LEGION

Delightful Entertainment Given by the Misses Olive and Marjorie Brush.

Last night in the Toronto Conservatory of Music the Misses Olive and Marjorie Brush gave a most excellent and delightful musical recital before a large audience of friends of the 97th American Legion, C.E.F., who had assembled to enjoy the combined pleasure of aiding Col. Jolly's battalion and listening to these talented young artists.

Miss Olive Brush is one of Viggo Kibbi's star pupils, and with her sister, Miss Marjorie Brush, studying under Dr. Edward Broome made her debut as a professional last night. Miss Olive Brush opened the program with Beethoven's six variations, Op. 76 at once revealing excellent technique and thorough knowledge of her fascinating subject. She showed delicacy and appreciation in her execution of the next numbers, including Chopin. Considerable spirit was shown in the third portion of the program contributed by this accomplished young pianist, who will undoubtedly please many audiences. Miss Marjorie Brush possesses a soprano voice of sweetness and good range. Her higher notes are clear and confident and even in her opening numbers of quaint folk songs and lieder, the fine qualities were revealed. Later in a cycle of dainty tunes, "Depuis Le Jour" was very well sung. Her last numbers, four simple little songs, were enthusiastically received. Both artists received baskets and armfuls of beautiful flowers.

CROWDS SEE EXHIBIT INTEREST IS GROWING

Unique Display on Subject of Feeble-Mindedness Demonstrates Serious Problem.

WORK DONE MARVELOUS

Samples of Workmanship Show Possibilities of Correct Guidance and Help.

Interest in the National Welfare Exhibit, now in progress in 124 East Queen street, shows every sign of deepening day by day as the week as a whole progresses. Crowds continued to follow one another to the exhibit, and photographs together with the contrasting rooms, where life in the country and city homes of the feeble-minded is demonstrated, continued to have an absorbing grip for the spectators. Specimens of work shown from Toronto Haven have a lesson all their own as demonstrating what improvement may be produced thru encouragement and guidance. Miss Brookings, now of the Alexandra Industrial School, had charge of the Haven when the work in question was produced. Mending and darning were given the girls with the promise of reward. The specimens exhibited are in some cases marvels of neatness. An embroidered quilt made in blocks is also shown. These blocks were given to the girls who had shown their desire to improve, and the stitches used in embroidering the various figures of animals, scrolls and other designs are in some cases as well done as if expert workers had been the artists. Lesson of Patriotism. A scarf knitted from the ravelings of an old black woolen stocking carries a lesson of patriotism that many are reckoned to be far from feeble-minded might emulate. The knitter wished to knit for the soldiers, but with the necessary yarn. Determined to do her "bit" she unravelled the old stocking and started the scarf. A few dozen stitches here and there are the only evidence against the skill of her workmanship. Photos of the mentally deficient afford serious thought for the student and diagrams which trace the career of members of families with defective origin, point to the menace present in any community where these unfortunate are allowed freedom without care or guidance. "Mental Milestones" a play showing the impotency of a judge when he is not supported by having in mind the cues are allowed freedom without care or guidance. Moving pictures shown at intervals, under the direction of Dr. Hincks and by the courtesy of the Pathoscope Co., deal with subjects of an educational value. Yesterday's natural history, dealing with animal and vegetable life, was illustrated.

BRIDEGROOMS TO PAY FEE OF FIVE DOLLARS

It Will Cost More to Get Married in Ontario in Future, Says Bill.

LARGE AMOUNT FOR ROADS

Resolution Provides for Setting Aside of Million Dollars on Highways.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, has decided that betrothed bridegrooms must go deeper into their pockets before they can listen to the chime of wedding bells. By a bill brought down in the Ontario Legislature yesterday afternoon the fee for marriage licenses is increased from $2 to $5, and the province will, as the result of the raise, realize an additional revenue of $50,000. The provincial secretary opines that the $5 fee will not decrease the number of marriages in Ontario, and in justifying the new fee he points to the charge charged by other provinces for marriage licenses. The second important item in Mr. Hanna's amendment to the Marriage Act is the provision that in future contracting parties can be married after three weeks' residence in the province of which the bride's residence in the county in which the ceremony is to take place. Four or five years ago the laws of Ontario were so framed that the bride and groom, if they were to be married in the province, had to be in the province for three weeks in the county where the wedding was to take place, or one of both of the parties to the marriage. The clause is now changed so that the bride's residence in the province of one of the parties makes the marriage legal. The old regulation frequently resulted in hardships, said Mr. Hanna. In regard to the increase in the marriage license fee, he stated that the government had in the past allowed the license issuers $1.80 of the fee, and the remaining 32 cents had not paid the expenses of the registrar-general's department. The amendment the issuers would still be charged $2.00, while the government would get $3.00. In British Columbia the fee was $5; in New Brunswick $3.50, and in Nova Scotia $5. Manitoba charged $2.50, and the old fee in Ontario was the lowest of any of the provinces. Temperance Bill Today. The temperance bill did not reach the house in time for debate today. It will likely be taken up today. Hon. Finlay G. Macdormand, who won the Art Ross Cup by defeating Lachine on Monday night, was presented with the cup tonight.

WHY DAUGHTER SHOULD BE TAUGHT BEAUTY CULTURE

By LUCREZIA BORI

THE old-fashioned mother believed that it was her religious duty to teach her small daughter that she should be careful to care anything about her personal appearance. Books, such as "Vain Henrietta," were placed in her hand so that she could learn of the unimportance of the unimportant things that she could not control. The mother of today is a more sensible being, who realizes beauty is a blessing, and the Creator meant that every growing thing should reach as great perfection as conditions warrant. Therefore she encourages her small daughters to take an interest in their personal appearance. She desires that they grow lovelier with each advancing year so that they will suffer no handicap from lack of beauty when they reach young womanhood.

The growing girl should be taught how to exercise and to care for her body so that it will attain a healthy growth that will insure strength, vitality and beauty.

The time between the ages of 14 and 21 is the most important formative period in the growth of the body, and exercise will do a great deal toward bringing about perfection.

If you cannot interest your daughter in physical culture to have her devote a certain portion of each day to the exercising of her body send her to a gymnasium. Here beneath the guidance of a physical instructor she will grow as she should.

Dancing is a pleasant exercise every growing girl should enjoy. Besides the advantage of muscular development it imparts a grace and ease of carriage that will be an invaluable asset when she grows older. In fact, every child should be sent to dancing school at the age of 4 years.

Impress upon the mind of the growing girl how absolutely necessary it is to bathe frequently. To insure a beautiful complexion the pores of the skin must be kept free from dust and grime. Teach her the value of a night-cream and dry it will require a little water or boracic acid. This will nourish and the skin kept pliable and soft.

If your daughter happens to have luxuriant hair it will require a little more besides a semi-monthly shampoo and the daily brushing and airing. But should her hair be scraggy, lustreless and dry it will require massage treatment and the application of a reliable hair tonic so that its growth and health will be improved.

Provide the growing girl with a manicure set and a bottle of hand cream so that she can keep her hands and nails in a perfect condition. Her dressing table should be supplied with a small camel's hair brush so that she can shape her eyebrows. The eyes themselves should be bathed three times a week with a solution of salt water or boracic acid. This will strengthen the eyes, making them clear and brilliant.

Carefully instruct the growing girl in the care of her teeth so that she will escape many painful hours at the dentist's. Have a dentist recommend the tooth-paste and mouth wash that she should use, for what is good for one person might prove harmful to the tooth structure of another.

If you go about teaching your young daughter in the right way to take an interest in her personal appearance you need have no fear of her becoming vain.

THE PHANTOM LOVE

By Will Nies

There is love—REAL love, and there's love the phantom—the UNREAL. Between them lies the abyss that divides the false from the true. To know the difference one has but to heed the heart, to question the voice that never deceives. About real love there is NO doubt. Headless as Youth, thoughtless as Folly, strive those who pursue the phantom. Like those who chase the will-o'-the-wisp they strain to seize it, but empty is their grasp. And borne along with them go those who see not, neither do they hear, nor care—until they awaken from their dream. For with the awakening they KNOW—the phantom has gone in the light of clear seeing, and they find themselves alone.

GARDENS BIG and LITTLE

Where white are the birches
And kindred snow,
And a soft blue smoke
Diffuses the glow
Of the winter sun
In its sunlit trail
Thru the blue-gray sky,
Like a golden snail,
So cold,—

Stands a mountain lone
With a sky-worm crest,
Surrounded by hills
With abundance blest
Of evergreen trees
Of velvet green-blues,
And bare-branched trees
Of countless hues
Less bold.

Such is the state of the garden of nature, while the pans are being made ready for the seeds of the summer flowers for the gardens of men. We cannot see nature at work, the presently we will know that she must have been working with constant diligence, and if we would have natural and healthy results we must seek to follow her rules and instructions in all that we do, indoors and out.

Now, while the seeds are germinating and the plants are very small, they must be handled with the utmost care and precaution, for tiny and insignificant as the young seedling may appear, it is extremely sensitive to changes in temperature, too much or too little moisture, gas in the room, disease and all the things which sometimes even larger plants have not the strength to resist, and the little plants have less resistance.

With a background of winter gray one can imagine all the bright flower colors and green plant forms of our summer gardens—the mistakes as well as the splendid perfections, and the faults that might be found in midsummer can be anticipated and corrected now.

There are a few flowers that should be started in the seed pans; do not hesitate to name them, being not sure of where they would go in the garden. One is salvia, or scarlet sage. It is such a darling color that it must be planted with exceedingly good judgment—not prominently, for it will make itself seen in whatever distance or concealment it is placed—and not close to the porch of a red brick house, a mistake which is so frequently made, but it should be near blue flowers, for the contrasting colors. Salvia is one of the last flowers to bloom in the fall, but it is slow growing, and the seed must be started at once.

Verbenas are free-blooming and generally satisfactory, but they must be chosen carefully with regard to colors. Avoid the scarlet and other shades of red and purple, unless you know exactly where they will be placed and are sure that they will not clash with other things. The white is lovely in a small garden where there are already flowers of many colors.

It will please you later if you sow one pan of salpiglossia and any of the varieties with gold. The flowers are so beautifully veined they should be popular.

You should have snap-dragon or antirrhinum in the soft rose shades or yellows. Snap-dragon seedlings must be transplanted into another pan as soon as they can be handled, for they are watered cautiously, as they have a fatal habit of "damping off"—that is, the stem rots close to the ground, and a few seeds of cabage-scandens, the cup-and-saucer vine, may be started in a three or four-inch pot, and the strongest plant left to grow until it is time to plant up of doors.

"The purple perfume of petunias" may be remembered now in your plans—and the asters; but more about them later.

Nemesia and torenia are two dainty flowers not often seen in gardens, but delightful, as is also the little blue lobelia, the crystal palace compacta.

Sprouting Oats for Hens

There are several methods of sprouting oats. One of the least difficult is this: Fill or partly fill a pail, tub, box or half barrel, according to the amount of green feed likely to be needed, with well-selected oats. Over them pour sufficient warm water to cover them completely. The oats will rise in the container and float on top of the water. To settle the oats at the bottom mix them with your hands and press down. The oats should be left to soak for not less than twelve hours. When thoroughly soaked they should be lifted out with the hands or a dipper and spread evenly over the trays. Freshly filled trays should always be placed at the top of the tray holder. The temperature of the room should be about sixty degrees Fahrenheit.

The oats in the trays or boxes should be stirred twice daily, either with the hands or with a wooden-toothed rake.

This stirring should mix the oats thoroughly. When the sprouts have made a growth of half an inch they should not be stirred, or the sprouts will be broken off and the germs will die.

Oats should be placed in the trays about two inches deep. After twelve hours the oats must be watered morning and evening. The water used should be neither cold nor hot, but lukewarm. It should be changed daily. Watering should be continued until the sprouted oats are ready for feeding. Sufficient water should be used each time to soak them thru. After the fourth day the water used for sprinkling should be cooler, until about two inches in depth. The best time to feed sprouted oats is when the sprouts are not more than two inches long.

Oats may be sprouted outdoors on the ground during spring and summer months. A sufficient space should be

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By Annie Laurie

To All My Readers: There have been so many requests for information regarding the correspondent who signed himself "A Lonely Soldier" that it is necessary for me to inform you all that it is impossible to disclose the identity or to give the address of anyone who writes me. This rule can never be violated. My correspondents write to me in confidence and I respect their confidence.

If all those who are particularly interested in "A Lonely Soldier" will go to someone of the headquarters of the organizations working in the interests of the soldiers, they will have ample opportunity to aid not only this one particular lonely soldier but many who have not written and who are just as worthy.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a lonesome little girl, and in doubt, I am seventeen years old. I love a boy very much who is two years my senior. I meet him pretty often. I am sure he returns my affection. I never seem to make much of his acquaintances. Would you kindly tell me how I could let him know that I do care for him without being forward? I am with his cousin very much, and as they are very good friends, I sometimes think that is why he never comes to my place. Do you think I should write to him, as I shortly will be away?

Troubled Dark Eyes.

YOU DO NOT think I would write you if I did not think I had never spoken to me of love. You are only seventeen, all your life is before you, and some day there will come to you the man whom you can love with all your heart, and who will ask you to become his wife. Then, I am sure, you will be glad that you have never written another man offering a love for which he had not asked.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: We are two strange boys, and there are two girls we would like to go with. They do not mind it, but they like very much to go with the other fellows also. Every time we go to see them they say they like us best, but we have our doubts. Now would you please tell us what to do?

Two Heart-Broken Billies.

WHEN YOU have asked these young girls to marry you, it will be plenty of time for you to insist upon their having you two only as friends. In the meantime, why should they not have other men friends, and why should you not have other girl friends, too?

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am eighteen, and I belong to a certain club. Besides our regular meetings we have dances every two weeks. There is one boy who takes me around quite a lot, but at the dances he wants to fill my card with his initials. The other boys want dances, too. Now, is it correct for me to let him have all the dances when the others want them, too?

Rose.

ROSE: If I were you I would permit the young man to have his choice of three or four dances, perhaps, then I certainly would permit the other young men to dance with me.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am eighteen; I have blue eyes and dark hair, and my home is in the country, but I live with my married sister. I have a friend who comes up once a week. Do you think he cares for me when he only comes up once a week to see me? I do not know many people here, but I go to dances. Do you think it would be wrong to meet someone at a dance on a short acquaintance? Please do tell me?

Dollie Dimple.

DOLLIE DIMPLE: The young man must like you or he would not call to see you at all. But there is a big difference between "liking" and "love." I would make the acquaintance of any young man save thru a formal introduction given by someone who vouches for him. If you are properly introduced to a young man, it does not matter whether you meet him at the home of a friend or in a public dance hall. The point of the whole matter is that you, of course, want to know just what sort of young man it is who makes your acquaintance.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: We are two girl friends and would like your advice in the following matter. We have known two very nice boys for about 18 months. We used to go

"Haste makes waste," is an old saying that has a good deal of truth in it, and seed that is sown in a desire to get the start of your neighbors with early plants often disappoints the sower and makes it necessary to buy a new supply of seed. Therefore, don't be in too great a hurry to get your garden started.

Provide yourself with some good garden tools. You should have a hoe—a V-shaped one, if you can get it—and a spade, an iron-toothed rake, and a wheelbarrow. Also a weeding hook—

The Amateur Gardener

MISCELLANEOUS SUGGESTIONS REGARDING GARDEN WORK.

DO NOT put any seed into the ground until it is warm, and you are reasonably sure that all danger from frost is over. Seed sown in a cold, wet soil often fails to germinate. Even if it grows, you will get no earlier results from your seedlings than you will from later sowing, as tender plants cannot be expected to make healthy development under such discouraging conditions.

"Haste makes waste," is an old saying that has a good deal of truth in it, and seed that is sown in a desire to get the start of your neighbors with early plants often disappoints the sower and makes it necessary to buy a new supply of seed. Therefore, don't be in too great a hurry to get your garden started.

Provide yourself with some good garden tools. You should have a hoe—a V-shaped one, if you can get it—and a spade, an iron-toothed rake, and a wheelbarrow. Also a weeding hook—a tool that will cost you only 10 or 15 cents, and which you will find one of the most useful saving utensils ever made for use in the garden. With a little claw-shaped fingers more weeds can be torn up in an hour than you could pull by hand in a day.

It leaves the ground about the plants in fine condition, thus making the use of the hoe unnecessary at weeding time. If I could have but one tool for garden use, it should be a weeding hook. You will find use for it every day during the entire season.

Begin weeding as soon as it is possible to tell the difference between weeds and the plants you have attempted to grow. Be thorough in this phase of garden work. Root up every weed before it has a chance to make use of the plant food, which should be held in reserve for your vegetables. If you are wise, you will not allow a single weed to ripen seed, for one plant will furnish enough to supply your entire garden.

If seedlings are too thick, thin them out promptly. Crowded plants will never develop satisfactorily.

RECIPES FOR THE CARD INDEX COOK BOOK

London Pudding

INGREDIENTS
4 ounces lady fingers.
2 eggs.
1/2-pint milk.
1 ounce butter.
1 ounce flour.
Grated rind of 1 lemon.
A little strawberry jam.
1 teaspoonful powdered sugar.
1 tablespoonful granulated sugar.

METHOD
Arrange the lady fingers in a well-greased dish, putting dabs of jam between. Melt the butter and flour and blend well over the fire; add the milk very slowly, stirring all the time. Keep stirring until it boils and then add the lemon rind and sugar. Remove from the fire and stir in the lady fingers, then pour over the lady fingers. Leave one-half hour to soak, then put in a moderate oven to bake for 10 minutes. Whip the whites of the eggs quite stiff and add one-half of the powdered sugar; pile roughly on top of the pudding; dust with the rest of the sugar and put in the oven to color a delicate brown.

THE IRON CLAW WILL GRIP YOU!

It's a work-a-day world we live in, but the love of romance and adventure never grows old. In "The Iron Claw," a great story by Arthur Stringer, the elements of suspense thrill and hazardous happening exceed the bounds of ordinary imagination, without descending to the realm of the improbable.
