ON TO WASHINGTON.

Remains of Late President McKinley Borne From Buffalo.

A Mournful Pageant—Roosevelt's Statesmanlike Utterance—Depew on Anarchy—Mrs. McKinley Bears Up Well.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Buffalo today became a city of mourners. The gay and flaming decorations of the Pan-American Exposition gave way to the symbol of sorrow. The black drapery of the city's streets, muffled the tolling bells of the churches. Bits of crepe appeared on every sleeve. The sorrow was apparent everywhere. In the morning a simple service took place at the residence on Delaware avenue, where the martyred president died. A hymn was sung and prayer was offered over the dead body. That was all. Only the immediate family and the friends and political associates of the late president were present. The scene there was pathetic in the extreme. Then the body was borne out to the waiting cortege on the heavy shoulders of eight soldiers and sailors. The cortege passed through the city with a military escort, and a grief-stricken to the city hall, where the body lay in state this afternoon.

There was a remarkable demonstration occurred which proved how close the president was to the hearts of the people. Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, at about 1.30 until about 5 o'clock. But the people were wedged into the streets for blocks. Two lines were formed. They extended literally for miles. When 5 o'clock came 40,000 people had already passed and the crowds waiting below in the streets seemed undiminished. It was decided to extend the time until midnight. Then for hours longer the air was dense with people and a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance into the hall and past the pier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that 80,000 people had viewed the remains. Mrs. McKinley, the president, the cabinet and relatives and friends of the dead president will accompany the remains. Mrs. McKinley bore up bravely today during the service at the Milburn residence, and Dr. Hixey, her physician, thinks she will be able to support her trying part in the funeral at Washington.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Buffalo awoke this morning, but early as its inhabitants awoke to get a vantage place from which to view the departure of the dead president, police and soldiers had anticipated them. At the Milburn mansion, where the family of the late president were still in the city hall, where the form of the dead man lay, guards formed early and the streets were kept clear.

The remains this morning, but the wind blew in strong gusts across the wind, dislodging drapings and raising clouds of dust. At the Milburn mansion the servants were astir early and there was much activity about the house. City hall saw a block here were transfer wagons and carriages drawn up at the corners near the house and those within were up and preparing for the journey to Washington.

Mrs. McKinley was not awakened until after 7 o'clock, when Dr. Hixey went to the room with one of her attendants. She had not slept well, despite the fact that she is almost thoroughly exhausted and that Dr. Hixey had given her a sleeping potion. The first thing she asked was a repetition of the query of the last two days, "When am I to see the Major?" Dr. Hixey told her that they were going to let her see him today and she then allowed her attendants to dress her and at 7.45 was ready for her light breakfast, which she took in her room alone.

Just after a solid struck he got into a carriage accompanied by Mr. Wilcox and by his secretary, William Loeb, and drove to the train. A few mounted police followed the carriage, and three or four detectives and secret service men kept near him.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S MOVEMENTS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by her children, nurse, and maid, reached this city by steamer from Albany yesterday morning. The party left Tawahas Club Saturday morning, going to Albany via Saratoga. After an early breakfast here the president's family, nurse and maid were driven to the 84th street ferry. They left Long Island city soon after for Oyster Bay, where they spent a few hours at the home of James A. Roosevelt, whence she proceeded to Sagamore Hill, the Roosevelt home.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Roosevelt arrived in this city at 8.40 o'clock this morning from Oyster Bay and went at once to the Pennsylvania railroad station, where she boarded the 10 o'clock train for Washington.

DEPEW ON ANARCHY.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Senator Depew, discussing the problem of what is to be done to suppress the growth of anarchy, is quoted as saying:—"We must begin at the fountain head and stop the reservoirs of European anarchy pouring into our country. Such certification of immigrants must be had as will establish a proper environment and association abroad before they pass our immigrant inspectors. In supplementing this, there should be under proper safeguard the power lodged somewhere to expel known enemies of our laws and country. Legislation also should be adopted that will take unscrupulous attempts upon the life of the president out of the category of mere assassinations and make such crimes adequately punished."

The slow and stately progress of the president's body from the city hall to the railroad station afforded the people an opportunity to pay tribute to the memory of the lamented executive. At the appointed hour, 7.45, the escort was in perfect readiness. Shortly after, from the doors of the city hall came four soldiers and four sailors, bearing high on their sturdy shoulders the casket containing President McKinley's body. The casket, wrapped in an American flag and bearing a sheaf of wheat, was pushed gently into the hearse and the doors were closed. The troops came to the front, wheeled into line and moved down Franklin street. The band took up Chopin's funeral march, accompanied by the tolling of the church bells. Behind the troops moved the carriages of the officers of the cabinet. Then came the hearse, and following were the comrades of the Grand Army, with a company of local militia bringing up the rear. The cortege passed the Church street and around past St. Paul's church into Main street. Down this thoroughfare the procession moved between masses of bareheaded people, and on to the depot. The train that bore the president from the city hall met his death was a solid Pullman of seven cars, drawn by two crepe-draped locomotives, 408 and 37. Fifteen minutes before the train was scheduled to leave, engine 134 sped out through the yards with orders to precede the train by fifteen minutes and keep the track clear.

Shortly after 8.30 it was announced that everything was in readiness, and at 8.31 the train pulled slowly out, four minutes later that the schedule.

GANGRENE CAUSED DEATH.
MILBURN HOUSE, Buffalo, Sept. 15.—The following report of the autopsy on the remains of President McKinley was issued yesterday at 8 o'clock:—"The bullet which struck over the breast bone did not pass through the skin and did little harm. The other bullet passed through both walls of the stomach near its lower border. Both holes were found to be perfectly closed by the stitches, but the tissue around each hole had become gangrenous. After passing through the stomach the bullet passed into the back walls of the abdomen, hitting and tearing the upper end of the kidneys. The portion of the bullet track was also gangrenous, the gangrene involving the pancreas. The bullet has not yet been found. There was no sign of peritonitis or disease of the other organs. The heart walls were very thin. There was no evidence of any attempt at repair on the part of nature, and death resulted from the gangrene which affected the stomach around the further course of the bullet. Death was unavoidable in any surgical or medical treatment. It was the direct result of the bullet wound."

ROOSEVELT TAKES THE OATH.
BUFFALO, Sept. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt was sworn in as president at 3.15 yesterday afternoon in the library of Ansley Wilcox. Judge Hazel of the United States district court administered the oath. With the deep solemnity of the occasion fell upon him he announced to those present that his aim would be to be William McKinley's successor in deed as well as in name. Deliberately he proclaimed it in these words: "In this hour of deep and terrible national bereavement I wish to state that it shall be my aim to continue absolutely without variance the policy of President McKinley for the peace and prosperity and honor of our beloved country." Such an appeal was not to be resisted, and every member of the cabinet, including Secretary of State Hay and Secretary of Treasury Gage, who were communicated with in Washington, have agreed for the present at least to retain their portfolios.

MCKINLEY'S WILL.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—That President McKinley expected to live for many years and had every reason for so thinking, is evident from the insurance he carried on his life in favor of his wife. Only a few weeks ago, it can be said on good authority, he had changed a straight life insurance policy of $50,000 for a 20 year endowment plan policy. It was announced by another insurance company today that its agents had paid by check on Saturday to Mrs. McKinley, a policy claim for $15,000. Experts yesterday placed the total amount of insurance carried by the president as not more than $75,000.

President McKinley has left a will. The instrument was executed some time before the shooting, and at no time during his final suffering was there any wish on occasion to revise it or to frame a codicil. It leaves the bulk of his property to Mrs. McKinley. How much the estate is worth cannot be stated by those most familiar with the late president's business affairs, but it is believed to be a goodly sum, although not amounting to a large fortune.

THE ANARCHISTS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Leon Czolgosz was arrested six years ago at Duquesne, Pa., charged with an attempt to blow up the house of a Polish Catholic priest, according to a special from Scranton, Pa., to the World. Many sticks of dynamite, with caps and wires, were found in his trunk. The same special says: "When the news of President McKinley's death was reported the anarchists held a big justification meeting."

DEATH DEALING CYCLONE.
HUNTINGTON, Conn., Sept. 15.—A cyclone of terrific force struck the northern part of this town during the morning's thunder storm. The house of John Frawley was completely overturned and Frawley and his wife, both aged people, were asleep within and were taken out by neighbors in a dying condition. Many barns were unroofed and the roads in several directions made impassable by falling trees.

THE CZAR SAILS.
KIEV, Russia, Sept. 16.—The czar and empress, with the other members of the Russian imperial party, sailed for France today on the imperial yacht Standart.

Rev. Mr. McPherson has leased the residence of Mrs. Wiband at Riverside and moved his family in this week. Chief Alex. AT QUEBEC.

The Duke and Duchess Are on Canadian Soil. They Landed a Few Minutes After Noon Today—A Great Demonstration.

QUEBEC, Sept. 16.—The Ophir and her escort of men-of-war, which anchored over night 20 miles below the city arrived at their anchorage about 9 o'clock this morning. Every point of vantage was lined with spectators. The war vessels as they dropped anchor fired a salute to the Ophir, which was taken up by the Citadel at 9.15.

His excellency the governor general and the premier, accompanied by an escort, drove out of the citadel and were taken aboard the Ophir, where they greeted his Royal Highness and made arrangements for landing.

At 11 o'clock the police cleared the streets and the soldiers lined them, confining the crowd to the sidewalks. The weather is beautiful, though showers threatened and Quebec has excellent weather. The Duke and his party landed at 12.30 o'clock and were greeted by a fresh salute of 21 guns, followed by enthusiastic cheering from the immense crowds.

Since an early hour Saturday strangers have been flocking into the city from all directions by steam and rail and it is calculated that in addition to the military force—between 5,000 and 3,500—there must be at least 50,000 people in town, with more coming by every train.

The first detachment of the military force arrived from Sherbrooke Saturday night, and the troops from Montreal came in by the I. C. R., C. P. R. and steamboats Sunday morning. The headquarters of the Canadian militia has been transferred from Ottawa to this city and practically all the heads are here.

The Roman Catholic section of the various regiments paraded yesterday morning to the Seminary chapel, where mass was celebrated, thousands of persons lining the streets through which the soldiers passed, while in the afternoon a somewhat curtailed service of the Church of England took place on the historic Plains of Abraham. There was a surplined choir, and Bishop DuRoi, assisted by Rev. R. Scott and several other clergy, assisted in the service. The hundreds of troops joined in singing Nearer, My God, to Thee, Onward Christian Soldiers and God Save the King.

The Duke and Duchess, who were accompanied by several other gentlemen, were met at night will be ablaze with electricity. This afternoon at 4 o'clock his royal highness will receive an honorary degree at Laval university and, in passing through the streets, will be met in Laval university by the professors and pupils of the university and seminary.

At 7 p. m. will be an official dinner at the Hotel de la Reine, at which the chief naval officers and distinguished passengers in the city have been invited. In addition to the above, there will be music on the terrace by bands, also fireworks and illuminations in which the half dozen war vessels in the harbor will assist.

SENSATION IN SUSSEX. Bertha Lake's House Had Many Visitors Last Night. There was wild excitement at Sussex last evening. Rev. B. H. Nobles, Nelson Eveleigh and an officer went down to the house kept by Bertha Lake to remove a young woman. It was just after church service, but evidently everybody had been to church, for fully a score of gentlemen were found in the house of Miss Lake. It is said that never in the history of Kings County was there such a scramble for cover as was made within the walls of this house.

Known contentions of the constable appeared inside the door. Some rushed for the windows, which, unfortunately, were fastened down, as many as a crowd in a clothes press, while all of them strenuously endeavored to hide their blushing faces. No arrests were made, however. The young woman went willingly away and the panic-stricken crowd scattered as fast as their feet could carry them. There is a couple of weeks to get away, but it is said she must now go at once.

PERSONAL. The Rev. Dr. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate, and perhaps the most eminent man in American Methodism, was a visitor to the preachers' meeting this morning.

James Malcolm will leave tomorrow for Halifax, to resume his work at Dalhousie. A. A. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will leave this afternoon on a trip to Montreal and Buffalo.

Hazen J. Dick and Mrs. Dick, John Vanwart and Mrs. Vanwart are members of a party that leaves tomorrow evening for the Pan-American. Miss Winnie Smith, Inglis street, left this week for St. John, to be present at the marriage of her friend, Miss Vaughan—Halifax Recorder.

H. F. Dickens, K. C., son of the world-famed novelist, accompanied by his daughters, Misses O. and E. Dickens, is visiting Canada. Miss Harriet Wilson of St. John, N. B., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGready of Brewer, Me., for a few weeks.

Mr. Casseley leaves three daughters and one son in East Boston, and one daughter, Mrs. Cain, in Minneapolis, and another, Mrs. McLean, in Bridgeport, Conn. His wife died a year or two since. Mr. Casseley will be well remembered by all the old time shipping men. A report of his death was circulated here several years ago, but was not true.

POLICE COURT. Weary William Craig Was Allowed to Travel On. At the police court this morning one drunk was fined eight dollars. Geo. Durant, of Carleton, was charged with kicking Edna Lane, a youngster of eight or nine summers, on Union street, West End. Durant admitted the charge, but pleaded that the kick was a very mild and inoffensive one. He was remanded for sentence.

William Craig was then called. He is a hoary headed vagrant, who wears a look of unutterable sadness and a pair of bicycle boots, with a variety of other clothes. He was found wandering on Prince William street yesterday morning at three o'clock, a destitute man with no place to lay his head. He said in defence that he was a stranger in a strange land, that some short time ago he had come down from Boston, of which place he is a citizen, with money in his pocket and a desire to enjoy himself. His money went quickly, and part of it he claims was stolen. He is sorry he came and now wishes to leave this far country and return to the bosom of his family there to be at rest. The Boston steamer would, he felt, be proud to have him as a passenger, and if not, the walking was good. He will be given a chance to measure the distance between here and the hub.

W. Nairn and Alex. Robenian were charged with fighting on Brussels street. From the evidence it appeared that Nairn laid heavy hands on Robenian, who is a young Armenian with a look of trust and an insufficient knowledge of English, without cause. He explained that he had been drinking to drown a sorrow. Twenty dollars or two months with hard labor was imposed on Nairn, and Robenian went free.

The case against M. D. McCutcheon will come up this afternoon. COUNT MALONEY'S BREAKFAST. The Unfortunate Escapes of a Nobleman of Local Repute.

"It is better to be born lucky than rich," says the old proverb, and so truly must have been said a distinguished member of our local aristocracy the other day, when in the course of his morning rambles, with that absent-mindedness so characteristic of great minds, he wandered down to the rear of a residence not far from King square. The nobleman, for such he was, it may be here remarked, labored under the under the inconvenience so common to many of his brethren in society, viz. that of possessing only the empty title, all the real estate he possesses being easily carried with him. His meditations were pleasantly interrupted by the vision of a comfortable kitchen separated from him only by a screen and a very appetizing little luncheon laid out on the kitchen table, which the lady of the house, having had a very busy morning and a very early breakfast, had prepared for herself, but had been called to another part of the house. The nobleman, also being out of the way, he entered, and doubtless being under the impression that he belonged to the distinguished suite accompanying the Duke and Duchess of York, and that this entertainment was just one prepared in little in advance, he did full justice to the excellent fare before him, and not having his visiting cards about him, left a small token of his regard by spreading the butter dish with its contents upside down on the floor, and trying to write his name with the same commodity on the screen door on his way out. But alas! at this juncture a neighbor, seeing the gentleman emerge and not understanding the state of affairs, did take out a nobleman for a common thief, and ordered him off the premises; and moreover, to accelerate his progress, set the dog on him, when he, awaking to the stern reality of the situation, and knowing that it would be quite useless to attempt explaining matters to common minds, retired, with as much of the dignity belonging to his station as was possible under the circumstances, was then the man arrested on the scene, and quickly made her mistress acquainted with the state of affairs, and mentioned the name of the distinguished gentleman whom she had unconsciously seen the means of entertaining, when, strange to say, she received the news with the greatest indignation and vowed that if ever Count Maloney entered that door again she would take summary vengeance on him; in fact spoke of him as a vagrant. But let the count console himself, he is not the only great man who has been misunderstood.

FUNERAL OF DR. MORRISON. The funeral of the late Dr. Joseph H. Morrison took place this afternoon from his late residence, Germain street. The members of the St. John District L. O. L. and St. John's Lodge, F. and A. M., attended in a body. The Royal Black Knights of Ireland formed a guard of honor, while six past grand masters of the Masonic lodge acted as pallbearers. A large number of citizens were in the procession. Rev. D. Fraser conducted the funeral service. Interment was made at Fernhill.

A large number of wreaths and flowers were sent to the house. Among these was a wreath and bar of red and white roses from the Grand Loyal Orange Association of New Brunswick; and a wreath of pink and white flowers from the St. John District Loyal Orange Lodge.

AN UNLOOKED FOR HONOR. Two young ministers of the N. B. and P. E. Island conference of the Methodist, now on a holiday tour in the motherland, have been called to fill vacancies in the Canadian section of the Ecumenical Council, at present in session in London. The gentlemen in question are the Rev. G. M. Young and J. W. McConnell, son of Robert McConnell of the north end.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

We have been raising public anticipations with reference to the READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING, of which we have procured the sole selling control in St. John.

WE ARE NOW in a position to have them realize their expectations. Our formal opening will not occur until TUESDAY EVENING, when we purpose having an orchestra in attendance and giving the public an opportunity of seeing our new store and inspecting our stock, without being expected to buy, as business hours end at 7 p. m. Our delay in opening has doubtless tested the patience of many who are waiting to see our goods, but if they call now they will be amply rewarded.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. THE ABODE OF SMELLS. To the Editor of the Star: Sir,—I like your way of dealing with local matters, and giving correspondents a chance to point out abuses, past, present and prospective, in the city.

The other day a communication appeared with regard to the depreciation of property that would inevitably follow the erection of a large Catholic school at the corner of Orange and Carmarthen streets. Permit me to call attention to a greater factor in real estate depreciation. That is the livery stables which infest Princess street, between Charlotte and Sydney streets. I am not interested in property there, but I have been by these disgusting smell producing factories many times a week and therefore know what the residents thereabouts must suffer.

Germain street has become one of the sweetest residential streets of the city. Why? Because it has neither stables nor any kindred nuisance. Yours, OLD RESIDENT.

PREACHERS' MEETING. At the Methodist preachers' meeting this morning Rev. G. M. Campbell presided, and there were present Rev. Dr. Steel, Rev. Dr. Wilson and Rev. Messrs. Shenton, Selous, Weddall, Deinstadt, Clark and Marr. Rev. H. E. Thomas of Campbellton and Rev. Dr. Buckley, chief editor of the New York Christian Advocate, were present as visitors. The regular business was dispensed with to hear Dr. Buckley, who is an eminent member of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States. He gave a very interesting address, and Rev. Mr. Thomas also spoke. Reports from the city churches were heard, but the consideration of Rev. Mr. Weddall's paper was postponed till next week.

SIXTEEN CENTS A DOZEN. At the custom house today one thousand and eighty dozen tumblers were sold by auction. They formed part of the cargo left here by the Canada, and were abandoned by the underwriters of that vessel for duty. The stock was bid in by W. H. Hayward for sixteen cents a dozen.

CIRCUIT COURT. The Cases Against James Crawford and Fred Morrison to Come Up Wednesday. When the circuit court opened this morning Dr. Stockton, one of the counsel for the plaintiff in Morrison v. St. John Railway Co., said that it had become his painful duty to announce to the court that the plaintiff, Dr. J. H. Morrison had died, and therefore it was impossible to proceed further.

Judge Gregory, in addressing the jury, said that it was a very sad occurrence that led to the tragic termination of this case. The disability and strain under which the plaintiff suffered was evident, but no one can pretend to say that death resulted from any fault of the defendant company. Ah! must feel impressed with a strong sense of sadness at the occurrence, and there is a strong feeling of sympathy with the widow in her affliction. The jury was discharged from further attendance.

The case against James Crawford and Fred Morrison were called. Dr. Pugsley said that in the case against Mr. Morrison it could hardly be expected that he would attend today, and if it would meet with his honor's approval, he would suggest that the matter stand over until Wednesday, when Judge Gregory would be here on other business. Referring to the death of Mr. Morrison, Dr. Pugsley said that it was the first time in his recollection that a case had come to such a tragic end.

James Crawford, who had been summoned to appear, said that he was not guilty of the charge brought against him, and he would like the matter proceeded with, as his character had been smirched by the accusation. Dr. Stockton said that Fred Morrison had spoken to him this morning and expressed the wish that he might not be asked to appear today, and his honor agreed that the matter be deferred until after Dr. Morrison's funeral. He thought explanations might be made and the matter dropped.

Adjournment was then made until Wednesday morning at ten. The case of Mayes v. Connolly will be taken up Wednesday.

For 75 cents cash in advance the Semi-Weekly Sun will be sent to your address for one year.
