A Delicate Operation. BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Prof. Kraus, a surgeon-in-chief of a hospital, has just performed successfully one of the most remarkable operations of the time. A patient who had suffered from chronic neuritis was the subject. The surgeon made an opening in the skull and separated the diseased nerve from the coating of the skull, and then placed the segment in the middle of the week, related on its recovery.

A Sunday Scrimmage. LONDON, Dec. 11.—While returning to Emsay to-day from an election meeting Emma M. Healy and other members of Parliament were attacked with stones and other missiles. The carriage windows were smashed and the woodwork was broken. P. A. Chance, M. P., was injured.

The Financial Pulse. LONDON, Dec. 11.—A great weakening of discount rates was apparent last week. The final quotations were: Three months, 5 per cent. Silver became a trifle steadier after a relapse in the middle of the week. There is now apparent a general conviction that the Brussels conference will close without arriving at any practical arrangement. American railway securities, after advancing until the middle of the week, related on its recovery.

The Panama Canal Scandal. PARIS, Dec. 11.—The Panama Canal investigation committee yesterday examined Backer Oosterloo. He states that he had received in commission over 2,000,000 francs for arranging the lottery issue. He had also received 1,500,000 francs for joining the guarantee syndicate. He had no written contract with the Panama Canal Company, but a record of the transactions could be found in the company's books. He refused to explain how he employed the money he received.

dwarf all preceding wars in the magnitude of the forces engaged and of the issues to be decided. It was imperative that every man in Germany able to bear arms should be ready to respond when called. The bill was a measure of supreme necessity, and demanded no sacrifice that the patriotism of the nation should not be willing to grant, and no sacrifice greater than what other nations were making in preparation for the mighty struggle that might at any time begin. It was in obedience to the supreme need of Germany for that struggle that the bill had been prepared, and the Government hoped and expected that it would receive the support of everyone interested in maintaining the integrity of the fatherland and in defending those advantages which it had cost so much of German blood and German energy to obtain.

The tenor of the speeches from the Opposition disclosed no uncompromising hostility to the measure. Major Von Hoininger-Huene, member of the Center party announced that the Centerists were willing to concede the reduction of a year in the term of service, but were not prepared to increase the strength of the standing army. He admitted that the measure would be hailed by the country as adding to the defensive strength of the empire and probably even as leading to an alleviation of the economic situation.

Herr Richter said that the Freisinnige party would grant whatever funds were necessary for the introduction of a system of two years service but the Chancellor would have to apply to a more compliant Reichstag than the present to obtain demands beyond it.

The Chancellor's response to the speeches against the bill was mainly directed at Herr Richter. He styled Herr Richter an able political statistician, but said he was scarcely in a position to give a right opinion on the details of a military bill system.

On this subject views that were authoritative in the highest military circles must have the most weight. "I am convinced," said the Chancellor, "of the necessity of the bill for the continued existence of Germany that if the Reichstag wished to throw upon me its own responsibility I would tranquilly accept it." This statement was greeted with cheers. The Chancellor said that under the provisions of the bill 60,000 young men would be yearly added to the army, so that in a few years 450,000 more men would be ready to take the field against a hostile army. This statement elicited cheers. The Chancellor appealed to the Honors not to throw the country into confusion by opposing the measure.

The general opinion in the lobby after the House adjourned was that the bill would pass its first reading by a good majority.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—The papers consider that Major Hoininger-Huene's object in refusing to support the provision in the Army Bill increasing the peace effective and insisting that the two years' system be fixed by statute, is to prevent a compact between the Centerist and the Government, upon the terms headed "Shipwreck," now so far as to say that the fate of the bill has already been decided.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times says the conciliating form of Major Hoininger-Huene's ultimatum failed to dispel the threatening substance. It all depends, however, upon the treatment the bill receives in committee.

The News and Telegraph correspondents at Berlin do not regard the major's speech as being very serious. They think the Centerist opposition will prove less stubborn than it had been previously.

English Pilgrims. LONDON, Dec. 12.—Archbishop Vaughan's pastoral letter inviting as many Catholics as can do so to join the jubilee pilgrimages to Rome was read to-day in all the Roman Catholic churches. The letter also enjoined the collection of Peter's pence. The pilgrims will be led by the Duke of Norfolk, and are expected to arrive in Rome next Feb. 17.

Vast Slaughter of Game. LONDON, Dec. 12.—The sickening success of the hunters at Witley Court, the Earl of Dudley's estate, has evoked expressions of indignation and disgust from all classes. The three days' slaughter was concluded on Saturday. During the hunt the Earl of Dudley, the Earl of Cadogan and five others killed 1,000 head of game. The birds were killed off like hens in a coop. Most of them were some of the most beautiful that were seen in the air to-day.

Sportsmen throughout the country are protesting against the murderous hunting. The leaders of the unemployed intend to make capital of the hunt in their Tower Hill speeches, and to make a demand upon the titled sportsmen that the sports be divided at once among the starving Londoners.

Seal-Poaching. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 11.—A secret sealing commission has been here gathering evidence to be used for the Canadian and English seals of the Bering Sea controversy. The commission consisted of Messrs. Sherwood and McPherson, who were appointed by the Premier of Canada. They have collected evidence from a large number of men engaged in seal-poaching as well as in legitimate sealing. They left yesterday.

Almost Over the Falls. NIAGARA FALLS, Dec. 12.—A stone-laden scow, with a man on board, became jammed in Niagara River above the American rapids, and was floating down to destruction when a rescue was made. The scow was used in dredging the canal, and the loads of stone were dumped up the river, the steam yacht Ella H. being used to tow the scow. While rounding Port Day, Edward Carney, who was on the scow, lost the rope and the scow started down toward the rapids. Frank Wright and Fred Robinson launched a skiff and pulled out to the scow. Carney jumped toward the shore, some 40 feet, when it grounded on a ledge just above the rapids. It was snubbed to the shore, lightened of its load, and towed out of danger.

The Terror of Dynamite Fiends Again Invades London.

Hundreds of Detectives Guarding the Public Buildings.

Professional Beggars Have a Newspaper Organ.

Labourers' Plan for Reducing Big Fortunes—A Royal Heir on the Auction Block—Startling Franks of an Alligator.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Now it is London's turn to be put under the terror of dynamite fiends. A gigantic plot is on the march, and the utmost energies of the Government are being exerted to avert the catastrophe. The police know that the Anarchists have planned a frightful revenge for the extradition of their comrade Francois, but they do not know just where the blow is to fall. The results in that Westminister, Covent Garden, and other public buildings are guarded day and night by an army of detectives. The explosion was expected to take place Friday night. Three hundred men from Scotland Yard guarded the Parliament building also. A detective stood in front of every door, every window and at every corner and angle. The residences of the detectives who arrested Francois, and the magistrates who heard his case, and the courts and jail where he was confined were similarly guarded. The fact that nothing happened does not prove the alarm to be baseless. The system of spying upon the enemies of society in England and France is very complete. The information which the agents of Scotland Yard gained a few days ago among the anarchists had been an ample supply of dynamite and nitro-glycerine. They lacked only reliable detonator or exploding apparatus. This their confederates in Paris agreed to supply. The strictest watch has been maintained ever since at Dover, Folkestone, and other transit points to detect the device in transit if possible. It has not been discovered, and the detectives are presumably ignorant whether it has yet been delivered. Several Anarchists in London are under suspicion, but the location of the incriminating explosives is unknown no arrests have yet been made. As soon as the investigation has progressed a further it is said to be the plan to throw out a drag net suddenly and arrest many suspected dynamiters in London. Meantime the policy of maintaining a special guard of Government buildings will be continued. It is learned that the police made one attempt last week to capture the conspirators but failed. They surrounded a house in Fitzroy square one night, searched it from cellar to garret, and found nothing. They arrested two well known French Anarchists, who were set at liberty a few hours later.

AN ALLIGATOR'S FRANKS. A large alligator on exhibition in a music hall at Portsmouth escaped on Saturday and made a great noise, apparently by devouring the solitary musician who had been torturing the audience with Tar-ra-boom-dee.

The musician did not wait for the alligator, but bolted, and the alligator followed him into the audience. The latter was read to-day in all the Roman Catholic churches. The letter also enjoined the collection of Peter's pence. The pilgrims will be led by the Duke of Norfolk, and are expected to arrive in Rome next Feb. 17.

POSTER FOR PATENT MEDICINE MEN. Patent medicine advertisers who offer to bank on the virtues of their remedies can be compelled to redeem their promises in the English courts. A test case decided this week by the Court of Appeals establishes an interesting precedent for America as well. A year ago, when the influenza was prevalent, the Carbolic Smoke Ball Company, in an advertisement, guaranteed immunity from the disease to everybody who used the remedy three times daily for two weeks, and then the epidemic seized her. She sent in her claim for £100, but the money wasn't paid. All sorts of excuses were offered. It was argued that the offer was a mere device to attract attention, a wager against the terms, that there was not a complete contract, because Mrs. Carhill did not notify the company of her acceptance of the offer. All these excuses have been brushed aside by the courts in which Mrs. Carhill brought suit. Lord Justice Bowen, in the decision, likens the case to the offer of a reward for a lost dog. People do not write letters to the advertiser accepting his offer, but they look for the dog. It is safe to say that the decision will work a sweeping modification of the claims made on behalf of the thousand and one cure-alls in the public prints.

LABOURERS ON JAY GOULD. The English papers of last week teemed with anecdotes about Jay Gould, and comments on his career. The verdict upon him in many cases has been one of unfeeling condemnation. Ingenious and unfeeling in some of the measures suggested for dissipating the power which it is represented to be wrongfully possessed by vast fortunes. Mr. Labouchere's is worth mentioning.

"Were I an American," he says, "I should meet this tenacity by a progressive death duty on all bequests. What I mean is that the duty would not progress on the sum total left by the individual, but on the sum inherited by him. Suppose that a man left £1,000,000, and that my progressive duty should be £100,000 on every £500,000 inherited by any of his heirs. My plan would work in this way. If the duty on the first £500,000 were 5 per cent., should he leave one person £1,000,000 the sum of £75,000 would have to be paid, £125,000 by any one getting £1,000,000, and so on, until the effect of leaving an excessive amount to one individual would be that the State would become the sole heir. This would prevent the perpetuation of accumulations and oblige a millionaire to spread his money over his children, and into the hands of individuals who would not profit by it."

THE QUEEN TO HOLD A DRAWING-ROOM. The first drawing-room of the London season will be held by the Queen during the third week in March and already fashionable dames are worrying about the awkwardness of Lord Rosebery's plan. The Queen's wife to present the ladies in the diplomatic circle, but some one else will now have to be charged with the duty unless Lord Rosebery should marry again, which is not probable, and his selection will doubtless cause a good deal of heart-burning.

THE RIVIERA. The coming season in the Riviera promises to be one of the most brilliant on record, although for some reason the American contingent of visitors is expected to be remarkably inferior to that of last year. Minor royalties by the dozen have already hired villas, and the Prince of Wales and an assortment of Russian imperial grand dukes are due next month.

PADEREWSKI'S BRITISH TOUR. Paderewski has completed a short provincial tour in England at Brighton, and a great send-off; but the enthusiasm at Brighton was as nothing compared to that displayed at his London farewell performance in St. James' Hall on Tuesday, which was a great success. He is now on his way back to his native Poland.

THE MISSING WORD. The missing word was reached by the Stock Exchange. The brokers made up pool guesses on the missing word in the sentence: "Moses Abraham's is a black—". It happens that Mr. Abraham is a Hebrew member of the Exchange who does not enjoy a high degree of popularity among the members. There were 1,740 guesses filed, and to the astonishment of the whole board nobody won. The correct word was "gentleman." The craze continues to increase among the people at large. The text case against the publishers has been postponed till to-morrow.

The Situation in California. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 12.—It is stated that the California Legislature, which meets Jan. 2, will be unable to elect a United States Senator to succeed Senator Felton. The People's Party from the Felton holds the balance of power and it is said that its eight representatives in the Assembly will vote as a unit for the Populist candidate. This will leave to Gov. Markham, a Republican, the duty of filling the vacancy until the Legislature meets again in 1893.

IN LABOR'S FIELD. A Canadian Board of Arbitration Suggested—Districts in Homestead—Other Matters.

At the Social Reform Conference in Toronto on Saturday night, Mr. Jos. Tait, M. P., announced that at the next session of the Legislature he would bring in a bill to establish a board of arbitration in labor disputes.

Nearly 1,000 persons in Homestead, embraced in 217 families, are in immediate need of food, fire and clothing. The Citizens Relief Association of Homestead has issued a formal plea for aid for the unfortunate, who are victims directly or indirectly of the great strike just ended.

The New York Central engineers are still restless as to their plans, but the Arthur ridicules the idea of a strike. The engineers expect a settlement early next week.

A Pittsburgh Sunday paper publishes a startling story of a conspiracy to poison by wholesale the non-union men at the Carnegie steel plant in Homestead. Several persons identified in the article are under arrest, and the charges are less serious charges, but really for the purpose of averting suspicion until all those who are claimed to be in the conspiracy, have been secured. At Homestead the story was pronounced ridiculous.

A. P. Beck, counsel for the Carnegie Steel Company, confirms the story of the poisoning conspiracy. He gave as information that at last six deaths had resulted from poisoning. A Homestead druggist and physician are implicated. The powder was given to a dog and it died in a few minutes. Poison was administered in food cooked for the Carnegie men.

A Topka, Kan., telegram says the strike of the Rock Island telegraphers, so far as it concerns the Chicago, Kansas City and Nebraska Railway or the Rock Island in Kansas, is not very effective. At all the stations the railway people state that either the old men have gone back or that new men have been engaged to take the strikers' places. Many small stations in Kansas on the roads, however, have been selected, it being difficult to find vacant men to take the place of the strikers. Most of the telegraphers arriving here were on time, but the effect upon the telegraph business was serious.

TWELVE TO ELEVEN Was the Vote by Which Women Were Given the Privilege of Practising Law in Ontario.

TORONTO, Dec. 11.—There were 34 members present, including the chairman, Mr. Hamilton Irving, Q.C., at Friday's meeting of the members of the Ontario Law Society when it was decided that women should be admitted as solicitors to the practice of law in Ontario.

The debate was long and animated, many of those present expressing strong convictions on the subject. The most forcible arguments possible were used by those opposed to the extension of the privilege, but on the other hand those who favored the resolution were firm in their contention that the society had no right to raise against the progressive tendency of the age.

The discussion lasted until after 1 o'clock, at which time the question was submitted to a vote. The result was 12 in favor and 11 against. Attorney-General Mowat, by his presence and vote, was the means of securing the privilege to women of taking up the practice of law as solicitors. The fuller privilege of acting as a barrister was not granted.

To Miss Clara Brett Martin the women of Ontario who believe in their right to enter the legal profession owe largely the victory that has just been gained.

The question was introduced into the Local Legislature at its last session by the Attorney-General, who was in sympathy with the movement, and proposed legislation to give women the privilege of practicing law, and the vote at Friday's meeting in the sequel to that legislation.

As the matter stands at present Miss Martin will shortly be legally privileged as a solicitor, but there is considerable feeling among a section of the legal profession, and these who are opposed to "women lawyers," as they term them, express their intention of fighting the question again before its final passage.

Miss Martin is the only young lady in the Province who is qualified to enter upon the work, but doubtless there will be many inspired by her example to enter the new sphere. Ontario leads the Dominion on this question, no other Province being mentioned so far.

Seven O'Clock Closing. To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: The council having agreed to allow a ballot to be taken at the next election on the question whether or not the bars shall be closed every night of the week at 7 o'clock, the same as on Saturday night, I will you kindly allow me space to explain to the public some points bearing on the question. First, it should be understood that the council have no power to compel early closing—that rests solely with the license commission; so the vote could do one or the other whatever. It would be merely an expression of public opinion, and surely no good citizen should be afraid of that. In taking the action the liquor dealers assume a serious responsibility. To stop the people from expressing a simple opinion at the polls is surely a serious step to take, and many opposed to early closing are indignant at this bold attempt to choke the voice of the people. Again, I wish to explain that the principal object the temperance people had in view was to save the boys, the hope of our country, from becoming too fond of drink.

A number of innocent boys are out for a stroll after their day's work is done. They enter a saloon, and there, under the influence of mirth and company, are led to still they cannot do without the drink and the company they find in the saloon. Is there a man in this city, having no money interest in the business, so hard-hearted that he is willing to allow the liquor seller to make money in this way? I cannot think that there is a single intelligent individual so utterly regardless of the welfare of our city as to desire this to go on.

Is not this the first attempt that the saloon-keepers have made to upset the wishes of the people. A year ago it cost the city a good sum to defend the restriction of ten, of which almost everyone readily approves. The liberty of expressing our views at the polls is the very basis of good government and the dearest right of a free people. Those who attempt to deprive us of any portion of that right under any pretext whatever, show a contempt for the public opinion and are the enemies of civil liberty. Yours, etc., London, Dec. 12. LIBERTY.

Ward Seven Hoard From. A meeting of the ratepayers of ward 7—London West at present—was held Saturday evening in James' hall, at which Deputy Reeve Scarrow presided. The object was the discussion of amalgamation, and the sentiment was entirely favorable to the scheme. Mr. W. H. Bartram, the clerk, read and explained the terms of the proposed agreement, pointing out wherein they were favorable to the village. Councilor John Chapman commended the scheme, and showed how the interests of the village in its present condition were militated against by the fact that city industries were generally required to have their employees reside within the city limits. Amalgamation would help London West in this respect. They would have police and fire protection and the taxes would not be increased for ten years. Mr. W. W. Fitzgerald supported amalgamation heartily. The village treasurer, Mr. W. Nichol, thought the terms fair and honorable. Mr. John Reidy held up both hands for the scheme. Mr. Allenby and the chairman also considered it advantageous. The breakerwater and the sewage questions were discussed and the opinion expressed that the city would do well to accept it.

For the Relief of Sufferers. An excellent work is being accomplished."

London, Ont. Monday, Dec. 12.

LONDON, CANADA.

London and suburbs have a population of 35,000 persons.

London is situated in the garden of Canada, midway between the Niagara and the Detroit Rivers.

London is the center of nine different lines of railway, giving easy access to the whole continent, and to the lakes and seaboard.

London has direct connection with the three great Canadian lines of railway—the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Pacific, and the Michigan Central.

London controls a line of railway from the city to Port Stanley, on Lake Erie.

Each day more trains arrive at and depart from London than arrive at and depart from any other Canadian city in the same time.

London's public water supply is obtained from never-falling pure springs four miles from the city. Their yield is practically unlimited. London has the best drinking water on the continent.

London is an excellent health resort, as it has a lower death rate than any city of its size on the continent, and it has magnificent white sulphur baths within its limits.

London has 1 opera house and 4 public halls.

London has 13 public schools (and a number are under contract), not including kindergarten; 3 R. C. separate schools, 2 ladies' colleges, and 1 collegiate institute.

London has 1 university and 1 medical school.

London has 2 public libraries.

London is an excellent center for manufacturing and commercial enterprises.

There are already established wholesale houses for groceries, hardware, drygoods, small wares, boots and shoes, drugs, crockeryware, etc. There are one or more manufacturers of furniture, engines, boilers, stoves, furnaces, iron and brass foundries, carriages, burial caskets, agricultural implements, stamped tinware, railway cars, oil refining, leather, barrels, machine tools, clothing, cigars, office and school furniture, biscuits and confectionery, mirrors and beveled plate-glass, etc.

London has two daily newspapers (morning and evening editions).

London has two public parks.

London has six banks and eight loan and investment associations.

London has six charitable institutions, two hospitals and seven public buildings.

London has a good street railway, which will be much extended in the next year.

London's rate of taxation is 18 mills, which includes all school rates, etc.

London's civic assets are $2,547,798 34, and the balance of assets over all liabilities is $422,861 19. The total assessment is $15,333,097.

London has 44 churches, almost every religious denomination of any importance being represented.

London has markets three times weekly, the best in the west. The great Western Fair is held for ten days in September.

Further particulars about the city may be obtained by applying to the mayor, the city clerk, the secretary of the Board of Trade, or the ADVERTISER.

THE IMPERIAL FEDERATION FAD.

When we speak of the Imperial Federation fad, we mean no disrespect to those who honestly hold the view indicated. But it will not make headway. The discussion may nevertheless be useful in directing attention to other possible futures for Canada. The Toronto Week sums up the subject as follows: "The two great wants of Canada to-day are the national status which will enable her to compete on even terms with her powerful neighbor for her share in the influx of men and money which have enabled that neighbor to develop her resources with unexampled rapidity; and a free continental market for such of her products as cannot be profitably sent abroad. Will Imperial Federation give her either of these things? Of what real, practical benefit to her in the first named respect would any such representation as could conceivably be given her in the proposed Imperial Council really be? How much of either the consciousness or the prestige of nationality would result? Would not the position of her people be still regarded everywhere as one of inferiority, of virtual colonial subordination? And in respect to the second great need—it is no compliment to our republican neighbors to say it, but we are in search of truth—can it be doubted by anyone who knows the situation that our closer connection with Great Britain would make its attainment more rather than less difficult? We cannot pursue the inquiry further, else it might not be difficult to show that Imperial Federation would be equally ineffective in creating that national spirit among the masses of our citizens which may be truthfully described as our third great need."

HELP FORWARD THE CITY.

Toronto has overdone the land boom enterprise and is now forming a new organization to promote the industrial and commercial development of the city. Promote the latter, and land values will look after themselves. A great deal can be done utterly independent of all tariff considerations, on the principle of one enterprise bringing another. London might well think these things over. We don't want a land boom; but there are a dozen ways in which inhabitants a city like London could join hands and make the Forest City the wide-awake center of the garden of the continent.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the motion at the meeting of the Benchers of the Ontario Law Society, which admits women to practice as solicitors at the Ontario bar. In assuming this progressive attitude, the Ontario Premier has shown that he is no mossback.

THANKS, NOT ANY!

The eloquent Mr. Parkin is giving the death blow to Imperial Federation by his frank avowal that Canada would be expected to contribute to Britain's naval and military armaments. The little object lesson of present European armaments does not stir up the enthusiasm of imitation in the breasts of Canadians. The New York Sun gives some interesting figures. This year the French army has risen to 2,500,000; the Russian to 2,451,000; the German to 2,417,000; the Italian, which now occupies the fourth place, to 1,514,000; the Austrian to 1,050,000; the Swiss to 212,000, and the Belgian to 128,000. In most of these countries the expenditure for military purposes has more than doubled since 1869, and in Switzerland the increase has been much greater. Viewed collectively, Europe now spends more than a thousand millions of dollars annually on her fighting force, which already amounts to 12,500,000. Such figures, however, give but an imperfect idea of the state of things which will presently exist as soon as the new military laws shall have come into full effect. Then the German army will comprise 5,000,000 men; the French, 4,350,000; the Russian, 4,000,000; the Italian, 2,236,000; the Austrian, 1,900,000; the Swiss, 489,000, and the Belgian, 258,000. Altogether Europe will be able to dispose of not less than 22,000,000 soldiers, or 15,000,000 more than she had in 1869.

Thanks; not any! Canada is not thirsting for either military glory or military glory. We have our Col. Denison. Quantum sufficit.

WOMEN TO BE ADMITTED AS ONTARIO SOLICITORS.

Miss Clara Brett Martin, of Toronto, studied law, then presented her diploma to the Benchers, a board of representative lawyers who sit at Toronto and manage the affairs of the profession. The Benchers refused her permission to practice. The matter came up at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, when a majority vote favored allowing women who were properly qualified and who desired to do so to enter upon the practice of the legal profession. The Benchers were "empowered" to admit women. Not exactly a mandate, but coming from a Parliament, a pretty broad hint. Yesterday the Benchers sat in state on the question at Osgoode Hall. Premier and Attorney-General Mowat was present, and moved that the required permission be duly and formally recorded. The vote stood twelve in favor to eleven against.

To Attorney-General Mowat's influence and presence and vote the credit of this forward step must therefore be given.

Congratulations to Attorney-General Mowat!

Congratulations to Miss Clara Brett Martin, the pioneer!

The first public exhibition of the telephone was given the other night at Buffalo by the inventor. The telephone is an instrument by which ships can converse at sea, officers direct their troops, or anyone hold communication at long distance over unimpeded territory, as a plain or water surface. The inventor is C. V. Broughton. The instrument consists of a series of wires and electrical apparatus, operated by a keyboard similar to that of a typewriter. There are 106 electric lights operated by a keyboard and contained in a shaft 27 feet long, which may be taken apart and reduced to compact form. The large number of lamps is required to regulate the spaces between the letters in relative proportions. The lights flash the characters of the Morse alphabet. The dots are represented by two lamps and the dashes by twelve lamps. The experiments were successful. The lights could be seen ten miles out on the lake. A complete machine will be built and packed at the disposal of the Government, to be exhibited on the model of the warship Chicago at the World's Fair.

LONDON'S ICE SUPPLY.

The recent report on the ice supply of this city must command public attention. Ice dealers obtain their ice chiefly from the north and south branches of the Thames and from the Cova. The medical men who have examined ice harvested in all three localities find it, to a greater or less extent, impure. It has long been suspected that this was the case, but as no one complained, and the ice was chiefly used for cooling purposes, no action was taken. The report now made emphasizes the necessity for stipulating that all ice harvested from the river or inlets to it shall be used for cooling purposes only, until such time as the stream shall regain its old-time cleanliness. That this is necessary no one who has studied the question can deny. There was a time when it was thought that so soon as water was frozen the animalcules contained in it were rendered perfectly harmless. It has been proved, however, that the danger arising from drinking impure water is not minimized by the action of frost, and that the danger of drinking impure ice water is just as great as if the water were consumed in a non-frozen condition.

If people must drink ice water, therefore, it ought to be obtained from some source removed from the contaminated river. So long as the ice is used for cooling purposes only and is not mixed with either food or drink, not much harm can come from the use of river ice. As for the necessity for ice water in London at any season of the year, it simply does not exist. We obtain our water supply from ever-flowing springs. It comes to our homes and to places of public resort cool and refreshing in the warmest day of the year. There may be those who prefer ice water, with all its risks, to the unadulterated article, but we cannot admire their taste. The drinking of ice-cold water when the thermometers reach the eighties is always dangerous.

THE THOMPSONIAN SPARROW. (Ottawa Free Press.)

In addition to his essay upon hogs Mr. Carling may issue a bulletin upon "sparrows." He considers the Thompsonian Sparrow, who recently drove him out of the Department of Agriculture and away from the experimental farms, the greatest pest that ever afflicted the country have yet encountered.

WHOSE MONEY?

Mr. H. A. Massey has just given away $100,000. A few years ago Mr. Massey was owner of an implement factory at Newcastle. In 1878 the N. P. was put in operation. It enabled Mr. Massey to charge $40 more for an implement than it could be bought for in the States. Now Mr. Massey can give away an immense sum of money which was improperly wrung from the people.

THE ROMANIAN VERSION. (From the London Figaro.)

It is really rather funny to see that wonderful but now almost forgotten song in the Roumanian tongue. This is how it runs:

Un tamar mandru, blond, frumos, Si cu Sima no carita, jo, Deabia necepariva giugului, El de asotire a vorbi Si de care surata, O septemana a durat Pe-oareza locat in manzaria Si cu glas discolat, (drageste si pasionat), Ta-ra-ra, etc.

ONTARIO WEAK IN THE NEW CABINET. (Halifax Chronicle.)

It is difficult to see how Ontario can be satisfied with her representation in the Cabinet. Taken as a whole, it is inferior to that of Quebec or the Maritime Provinces, so far as ability is concerned. She has only three Ministers, while Quebec has four—two if Mr. Cuyler, the Solicitor-General, is to have a Cabinet seat—and to make up for this disparity she is allowed two of the subordinate offices—control of customs and inland revenue. When the Conservatives of Ontario look back upon the former able and experienced men who served the province in the Government, they will be very apt to conclude that the "grand old party" has fallen into its decadence and that "Ishabod" is written upon its banners.

A GOOD EXAMPLE. (Hamilton Times.)

Hon. David Mills keeps up the good old custom of from time to time giving an account of his stewardship to his constituents, taking them into his confidence, giving them the reasons for his votes and actions in Parliament, discussing the condition of the country, and enlightening them on public questions. This is a much better plan than waiting until the excitement of a general election is on when the public mind is inflamed and a dispassionate presentation of the truth is hard to get. It would be to the advantage of the public were Mr. Mills' plan generally adopted by members of Parliament. The people would get better acquainted with their representatives, and would have much more confidence in them than they now have.

"August Flower"

What is it For?

This is the query perpetually on your little boy's lips. And he is no worse than the bigger, older, balder-headed boys. Life is an interrogation point. "What is it for?" we continually cry from the cradle to the grave. So with this little introductory sermon we turn and ask: "What is August Flower for?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this trifling. We believe August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. Twenty years ago it started in a small country town. To-day it has an honored place in every city and country store, possesses curative plants in the country and sells everywhere. Why is this? The reason is as simple as a child's thought. It is honest, does one thing, and does it right along—it cures Dyspepsia.

IN THE SPORTING WORLD.

Probable Future of the Baseball Profession. The War Against Pool Rooms—A Fugitive "Go" Without a Purse.

BASEBALL.

PROSPECTS OF THE POPULAR PASTIME. The Philadelphia Bulletin thinks that baseball will continue to live and perhaps regain its old popularity, and a writer for that paper sums up the situation in the following concise manner: "Baseball, as we know it, must waste and lose its pre-eminence, just as surely as the next few years come and go. Already has it enjoyed a reign quite beyond that of other games, and this only because of qualities which, while they made it immensely popular in a very short time, it now must make its decline the more rapid."

THE TURF.

The New York Legislature when it assembled will have at least a couple of matters of vital importance to racing people to pass upon. One of them will be securing some sort of a law that will put an end to the pool room nuisance in New York city which flourishes. Just what form the bill will take cannot be learned as yet, but one is now being framed which it is expected will put an end to city book-making establishments, while it will not interfere with the speculation on the race tracks. There is a tough problem for the lawyers to solve in this matter, and they have a hard crowd to fight in the associated pool room proprietors. But the Jockey Club people believe that they will be able to find a way in which to get what they want.

A FIGHT WITHOUT A PURSE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Like Weir, the Belfast "Spider," and Martin Murphy, the San Francisco, Joe Lewis, of Boston, Geo. Siddons, the feather-weight, and his backer, a well-known New York man, called at the office of a sporting paper yesterday afternoon. There they met Johnny Griffin and his manager, James F. Carroll. Weir has been trying hard to arrange a fight with Griffin for some time, and the latter has expressed his willingness to meet the "Spider." Weir, soon after he was in the room, began to pick Griffin's record to pieces. The two men wrangled for half an hour. Jimmy Carroll, who had sat quietly listening to the wrangling, told Weir that he was a "quitter." "You're a liar," said the "Spider." "I never quit." "If you say that again I'll punch you," said Carroll. Weir repeated his offensive remark and got a blow in the mouth from Carroll's right hand. There was a scramble and a crash, and tables, chairs and desks fell in a pile on the floor. Editor Lumley grabbed Carroll by the shoulder, to pull him off and a sporting reporter pulled Weir away. When the men were separated Carroll apologized to Mr. Lumley, and then left the office with Griffin. Weir issued a challenge.

FOOTBALL.

THE RUGBY UNION MEETING. The Rugby Union meeting at the Rossin House, Toronto, Saturday, was absent owing to a brother's sickness. The principal topic of the evening was the proposed reduction of the number of players from fifteen to eleven a side. The amendment was discussed and then withdrawn. The question of introducing a third competition mentioned as the intermediate championship was discussed. Mr. Marsh, of London, had given notice thereof, also for the addition of a junior. The matter was referred to the executive committee to fall power. The amendment to alter the scoring for a penalty kick from four to two points was defeated. James P. Smellie, Osgoode Hall, was elected president. Of the eleven clubs which were elected were: The University of Toronto, Trinity University, Hamilton, Toronto University and Ottawa College one each.

NEWSPAPER TELEGRAPHY.

The Early Days of the Special Correspondent in Canada. Speaking of the early days of newspaper telegraphy in this city that veteran operator and manager, Mr. Robert Eason, of the Great Northwestern Company, in the Monetary Times says:

"To the Toronto Globe belongs the honor of being the first newspaper in Canada to receive special reports from 'Our Own Correspondent.' At first these specials came from Montreal only. The late Thomas Sellars, elder brother of Robert Sellars, now the influential editor of the Huntingdon Gleaner, was, at the time of which I write, the Montreal correspondent of the Globe. Thomas Sellars, familiarly known as 'Tom Sellars,' who also published the Montreal Echo, was a clever and popular newspaperman. The special dispatches were very brief at first, containing perhaps 50 or 75 words, but they gradually increased in length, and as the importance of the innovation became apparent, the Toronto Leader, too, in the course of time appointed its special correspondent at Montreal. Mr. Sellars took credit to himself for being the first man in the country to send special news by telegraph to a large Canadian daily, and often referred to the matter with pardonable pride.

"Among the noted events, though of comparatively late occurrence, which I remember copying when I was alone in Toronto office late at night receiving telegrams, with only a messenger boy to keep my company, are the shooting of President Lincoln in the theater at Washington by Wilkes Booth, and the shooting of D'Arcy McGee at the door of his boarding house at Ottawa by James Whelan. At this time the night work in the telegraph office here was light, and one operator could manage it easily. The news of President Lincoln's assassination was received in Toronto at 11 p.m., and it need scarcely be said, created a great sensation. The New York Associated Press supplied a long and graphic account of the shocking affair; but promptly as the report came along it did not come fast enough to suit newspapermen, who left the editorial sanctum and crowded into the operating room in the old Exchange Building (now the Imperial Bank buildings, Leader lane) to hear the latest particulars of the dreadful event as the came over the wire. The Toronto Leader was the only paper in Canada, outside of Ottawa, to contain, on the morning after the murder, an account of the shooting of D'Arcy McGee. Many will remember George Gregg, who then represented the Leader at Ottawa. He was regarded as the best-equipped newspaperman in the country, and could do anything about a newspaper office from setting type to writing an editorial. Parliament was in session at the time, and on the evening of the assassination we telegraphers had got the signal "99," meaning "Good-night," from Ottawa on the Globe and Leader reports, when a few minutes later, and just as I was going out of the office door, Ottawa hurriedly called me up—it was then between 2 and 3 in the morning—and sent 200 or 300 words of a dispatch to the Leader giving a succinct account of the murder that started the whole country. It happened that direction from the Parliament Buildings as that of D'Arcy McGee, and on his way home he gathered sufficient particulars of the tragedy which had just taken place to make a very readable story, and hurrying back to the Ottawa telegraph office had it forwarded to his paper. All the other reporters at the capital representing outside journals missed this sensational piece of news."

LILLIAN RUSSELL, JUN.

CHURCH OPENING.

Walkerville Methodist Worship in Their New Edifice.

WALKERVILLE, Ont., Dec. 11.—For some time the Methodists here have been working hard to raise funds for a new church that would be a credit to this fast-growing town. Rev. J. P. Rice, the pastor, and Rev. Livingston, of Woodville, have been over most of Western Ontario soliciting subscriptions for that purpose, and the handsome and commodious edifice which was opened to-day is a fitting monument of their success. Rev. Alexander Sutherland, D.D., missionary secretary of the General Conference, preached an eloquent opening sermon in the morning. Rev. George Jackson, of Leamington, was to have preached at the afternoon service, but as he was unable to be present, Rev. Rice, the pastor occupied the pulpit. The evening service was conducted by Dr. Sutherland, who again preached a forcible and scholarly sermon. The church was filled to overflowing, many being unable to gain admittance. The collections for the day amounted to over $200. A tea meeting in aid of the building fund is to be held tomorrow evening and on Sunday the 18th the dedicatory services will be conducted by Rev. Geo. E. Sanderson, D. D., of London.

TIDINGS FROM TORONTO.

Arrest of an Alleged Murderer—The Diphtheria Record—An Electric Car Accident.

TORONTO, Dec. 11.—Detectives this afternoon arrested an Italian named Domenico Derubbo on the charge of murder. The crime for which Derubbo is apprehended is alleged to have been committed at Elizabeth, N. J., on Sept. 25 last. Derubbo skipped out immediately afterwards. Chief Perry arrived here last night, and to-day, assisted by the detective department, placed his man.

The managers of the Infants' Home and Infirmary at Toronto acknowledge with thanks a check for $2,000 from four trustees of the estate of the late James Ketterson. During the past week the city clerk has registered 94 births, 21 marriages and 78 deaths. Of the deaths 13 were caused by diphtheria. New cases of diphtheria reported at the medical health office last week 23. There were 14 cases of scarlet fever and 12 of typhoid.

Mrs. Nichols, of Alie street, was run over by an electric car on Yonge street yesterday about noon. The wheels passed over her body, and it is doubtful if she can live.

AN EXCITING TIME.

At the Annual Meeting of Dominion Commercial Travelers' Association in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 11.—There was an exciting time at the annual meeting of the Dominion Commercial Travelers' Association which was held last evening. The election of president giving rise to one of the most exciting contests in the history of the association. The candidates were George L. Cairns, of S. Greenhields & Sons, liquor merchants, and Lawrence Wilson, liquor merchant. The voting has been proceeding for months and when the result was announced last night it was learned that Mr. Cairns had been elected by a good majority. The association is in a very flourishing condition and has now a membership of 2,349.

"THE WORLD WANTS IT."

President Harrison on the Nicaragua Canal Question—Uncle Sam May Guarantee $100,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The committee representing the National Nicaragua Convention, had an audience with the President yesterday. Mr. Harrison listened to the representations made by the committee and said, among other things, that the world was calling for the construction of the Nicaragua Canal, and he could not see how any one could possibly find grounds for objection to it. The absence of the canal route, he said, the progress of the world. It was the American natural coast line, and if the United States does not proceed England or some other country would, and that was something not to be permitted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Ex-Senator Warner Miller, president of the Nicaragua Canal Company, appeared before the Senate committee on foreign relations yesterday and told the committee about the condition of the company's affairs and the canal. It is probable that a bill will be framed on the line of last year's measure, in which it is provided that the United States guarantee $100,000,000 of bonds issued by the company for the construction of the enterprise.

HEADLIGHT FLASHES.

Meetings to finally adopt World's Fair passenger rates are held now every week. The rates have been finally fixed upon half a dozen times already.

The Erie will send its passenger men in squads to the World's Fair grounds in order that they may be thoroughly posted and able to answer all questions that ticket purchasers may happen to ask. The Washburn and the last of its $3,000,000 extension bonds of its Chicago-Detroit line. Of the 148 miles of new line required 139 have been built. It is thought the balance will be completed within two weeks.

A DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC.

Four Hundred Cases in Lima. Obnoxious Infected Items Quarantined. LIMA, Peru, Dec. 11.—Diphtheria is epidemic here, and there is said to be 400 cases in the town. One family has lost three children, and another is seriously ill. The mayor and health board have quarantined every infected house. Twenty sanitary policemen watches at the door of the house day and night, the police working eight-hour watches. Food and medicine are conveyed to the inmates by the sanitary police, who in turn must deny outsiders access to the house. Fifty special watchmen were sworn in last night. The board of health will provide food and medicine for the poor, and in cases where workmen are kept from their work by quarantine their wages will be paid by the board.

A Pugilist Convicted of Murder.

WACO, Texas, Dec. 11.—Tommy Warren, the feather-weight champion pugilist was convicted to-day of murder and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. He had killed a negro porter in a saloon while he was trying to get a shot at another man. Priscilla—Jack tried to kiss me last night, and, do you know, I believe he had been drinking. Argelina—He must have been.

Suicide of a Well-to-Do Farmer Near Madoc—Sad Death of a Young Girl at Hamilton.

The Windsor, Ont., Patent Brush Company has been incorporated with a capital of $25,000.

The Pembroke Observer says D. C. Chamberlain, of Pembroke, has been offered the accounts of the House of Commons. It is understood that J. Cameron will be the Liberal candidate when Mr. Hugh John Macdonald resigns the seat for Winnipeg.

The Greenway Government has issued a crop bulletin, showing an average yield for Manitoba of sixteen bushels.

George Haggerty, aged 45, a well-to-do farmer, residing about two miles from Madoc village, committed suicide on Saturday morning by cutting his throat. Despondency is the supposed cause.

About a week ago Charles Carr, night clerk of the British American Hotel, Windsor, cut his hand badly with an electric globe. Inflammation has now set in and on Saturday he was moved to the Hotel Dieu.

Another remarkable case of the waking of a long-dormant conscience has occurred at Belleville. A man who 40 years ago in 1875, committed the murder of Dr. Holden, has been made since the days of the crime.

While workmen were repairing the old postoffice store at Fort Erie they found a uniform, musket, cartridge box, belt and haversack, evidently the property of one of the Fenians who made the raid on Canadian territory in 1866.

Colin Coyle, of Windsor, an old man, fell on the street Saturday, striking his head on an iron grating and inflicting a wound on his head four inches long. When taken home he was very weak from loss of blood, and it was found that two arteries had been cut.

The body of a girl named Teenie Henderson, attired in night apparel was found on the north shore of Hamilton Bay, off Willow Point, Saturday morning at daylight. The bare feet of the body were in the water. The girl had evidently died of exposure. She has been somewhat demented for some time past.

The leader of St. Andrew's Church choir, Ottawa, visited Mr. Mara, of the Foresters' Theatrical Company, now playing an engagement in that city, to sing at the evening service, but it was intimated that the Kirk session had forbidden Mr. Mara to sing in the church. Mr. Mara is a nephew of the late Lord Macaulay.

NO FEES HAVE BEEN PAID.

One of Actor Curtis' Attorneys Withdraws from the Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The matter of setting a date for the trial of the case of M. B. Curtis for the murder of Policeman Grant came up in Judge Murphy's court yesterday, and Judge Murphy stated that he did not want to begin the trial, as he is not in good health, and expected to wind up his criminal business next week, and take civil cases only. The matter went over until next Monday. George A. Knight notified the court that he also would retire from the Curtis case. After Attorney Knight left the courtroom, he explained his reason for withdrawing from the case by saying he had a contract to be paid $1,500 for defending Curtis, and that his associate, W. Foote, had a similar contract, but he had not been informed that J. N. E. Wilson had a contract with Curtis to be paid $10,000 in case of the acquittal of Curtis. Knight thought Curtis had not acted in good faith. Mrs. Curtis is on the $50,000 bond of her husband, qualifying for nearly half the amount.

Two Engineers Killed.

WATERBURY, Conn., Dec. 11.—Two freight trains were wrecked on the New York and New England Railway between Southford and Penepagus Valley, Engineer Thompson and Engineer Beebe are reported killed.

Fell from the Fifteenth Floor!

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Chas. Chanter, a hotelier, employed in the horticultural department of the World's Fair, to-day fell from the fifteenth floor of the Masonic Temple to the basement. His body was mangled into jelly.

Whittier's Homestead Seized.

SALEM, Mass., Dec. 11.—A deed was recorded at the court house yesterday by James H. Currier, who recently purchased the Whittier homestead in Haverhill, conveying to a board of nine trustees the homestead, to be held in trust forever as a memorial to the poet and the man, to be at all times open to the public, subject to such conditions as the trustees may impose.

Legal Ruling on a Stock-Broking Deal.

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—The law regarding the recovering of debts incurred in stock-broking transactions was interpreted yesterday by Judge Doherty in the case of Perceval vs. Jackson. Defendant had been employed by plaintiff as a stock broker in various transactions on the Stock Exchange on margin. Plaintiff had placed a sum of money in defendant's hands, and having discontinued his operations, desired to have refunded the balance still in defendant's hands, alleging that the sum in question had been deposited as security against possible loss. Defendant contended that as the transactions were admitted of a gambling nature the law should not intervene. The judge gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount of claim, $1,500 33, with costs, holding that the defendant had no claim whatever upon the money.

Mrs. Morely and Her Cats.

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—A very amusing scene was witnessed yesterday in Judge Champagnon's court. A Mrs. Morely, who lives on St. August street, is the possessor of 87 cats, young and old. Some time since the good old lady was brought before the recorder by a neighbor, who complained that the air was not pure in the vicinity of Dame Morely's abode on the summit of Mount Royal. She got clear, however, but failed to pay her court, hence her reappearance. "I love my cats," the poor woman pleaded. "These little pets are my faithful friends, and when I give them a piece of bread, they do not, like some lawyers, bite the hand that feeds them. I hope you will give my dear little animals justice," concluded the defendant. "For you will have one day to answer for your present decision before the Sovereign Judge of us all."

"I notice you are in the habit of coming very late in the morning," said his superior, reprovingly, to Charles Kingsley, when the latter was in one of the East India Company's employ. "Ah, yes," replied Kingsley. "But then I leave very early in the afternoon."

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

The Canada Presbyterian advises the next General Assembly to take decided action in regard to Thanksgiving Day. If the day is to be one for sport, for military reviews, sham battles, football matches and the like, says our contemporary, the Supreme Court should instruct our ministers and people to stop mocking the Almighty by calling it a day of national thanksgiving.

The lively housewife is at all seasons of the year a busy-body—of course, we do not use the term in its meddling sense—and now that the whirl of Christmas and its festivities are so close upon us she will be work to do gastronomic justice to the holidays and no one knows it so well as herself—unless it be Table Talk. The magazine for this month is full of Christmas suggestions, recipes, menus, and apt hints that cannot fail to enlighten her vexations mistakes and doubts that sometimes interfere with the perfect success in the preparations of a feast. The magazine is published by the Table Talk Publishing Company, 1113 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, $1 a year, sample copy, 10 cents.

The payment of "Wroth silver," which was made to the Duke of Buccleuch as lord of the Hundred of Knighthill at sunrise on Friday week at Knighthill Hill, Warwickshire, England, is one of the most curious and ancient customs still surviving in the midland counties. The payment is believed to have been made since the days of Edward III., but even the origin of the custom is shrouded in the mists of the far-distant past. Dugdale attributes the payment to the more general one of ward money paid by tenants for military service in the middle ages. A Coveted Symptom.

"Did yez say yer health is bad Mr. Donovan?" "Yis. O'ye bin walking in me slaps." "Och, begorra, if O'ye don't only have done that same, O' wouldn't be off the force now."

After a Proposal.

He—You weep, macemaiselle; have I offended you? She—Oh, no, my dear; these are tears of joy. But yesterday morning mamma said to me: "You are so silly that not even an imbecile would marry you," and now, behold, you have asked me for my hand.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cathartic, and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

TO THE ELECTORS!

Shall All Saloons and Bars in London be Closed at Seven O'clock Every Night as at Present on Saturday Nights?

Twelve Good Reasons Why You Should Vote for Early Closing.

A Straightforward, Yet Moderate Proposal to Men and Women Who Possess the Responsibility of the Franchise.

We want an expression of your opinion by vote on the question of the closing of saloons and bars...

1. Because we believe Hon. W. E. Gladstone's statement—"Greater calamities are inflicted upon humanity by intemperance than the three historic scourges of war, pestilence and famine."

2. Because these licensed houses are the home of our young men, who are allured by the temptations of friendship and the attraction of good society...

3. Because the wages of the laborer and artisan, housewife and domestic, are often directed into the barroom and the beverage is hurried to keep those whom drink has made poor...

4. Because if you are a friend of the early closing movement you ought to give the bartender a chance to close early.

5. Because healthy men do not need liquor, and the sick man who practices it for himself has a fool for a patient.

6. Because beer only makes the constant drinker appear well when his senses are like sticks in a bag of water.

7. Because a large proportion of the liquor sold under high sounding names, is fraudulent and absolutely poisonous.

8. Because, as Rankin says, "The encouragement of drunkenness for the sake of the profit on the sale of drink is certainly one of the most criminal methods of assuaging the money-hungry adopted by the brewers of any country."

9. Because the public have to foot the bills! Who pay the jailers, turnkeys, and extra policemen, the witnesses and lawyers in criminal cases, three-fourths of which are caused by drink?

10. Because, if the Scripture be true, "The drunkard is excluded from the Kingdom of Heaven, his business not only keeps him, but it certainly prevents the seller from doing any genuinely religious work."

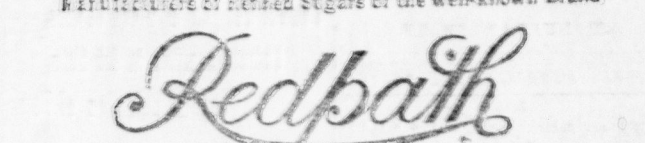

11. Because it is your duty to vote. Do you only vote in a Parliamentary election when you are sure your candidate will be elected?

12. Because it is important in every way that you should show where you stand. You remember the Master's statement, "He that is not with me is against me."
