Woodenware and Paper Wanted, More Than Canada Can Supply

Says the Toronto Star: Day after day for the last year, and especially since the preferential clause in the tariff was announced, officials have been in receipt of letters from prominent merchants in Great Britain asking for information about certain businesses in Canada. These merchants want to be supplied with certain kinds of goods. They ask only two questions: How much can you send us, and how well can you do? But the leading question is: "How much can you send us?" A large firm of manufacturers last week communicated with the clerk of the forestry regarding the manufacturers of wooden pails and woodenware. Mr. Southworth made a very careful inquiry, and finds that the amount that this one firm asks for is larger than the manufacturers in Ontario can supply. A few weeks ago inquiry was made for packing wood, and here again the quantity required was in excess of that which all the manufacturers could sup-

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS. Algiers, Jan. 24.—Anti-Jewish riots were renewed here yesterday. The mob invaded the Jewish quarters and pillaged the shops in the Rue Babazoum, driving the Jewish merchants into the streets. A squadron of chasseurs were ordered to the scene, and charged the mob with drawn swords, but the mob reformed further on, cheering for the army. Revolvers and daggers were freely used. At 10 o'clock last evening some Jewish flour stores were pillaged, and their contents thrown into the streets. The zouaves charged the crowd with fixed bayonets and dispersed it, many persons being injured. At 11 o'clock the rioters reassembled on the quays and set fire to the Jewish spirit stores. Troops are being hurried to the spot. Already there have been 150 arrests. The maintenance of order has been intrusted to the military.

London, Jan.24.—In spite of the statement of the foreign office, there is reason to believe that the withdrawal of the British warships from Port Arthur is due to the great irritation in Russia at their presence, and to the strong re-presentations of the Russian government on the subject. Glimpses of the Prince of Wales' Official and Private Life.

Highness That Has Been Given to the Public.

London, Jan. 24.—The desire of the English people to know all the details of the official and private life of their royal family will be partially appeased by the publication in London this week of the first complete biography of the Prince of Wales. Singularly enough, no complete record of the remarkably active and diversified career of the heir to the throne has been given to the world before. Attempts in this direction have been discouraged by the subject himself, and the present book furnishes international evidence that it was not compiled under the royal sanction. Two quotations from its reference to royalty will, however, give the keynote of this spirit. Concerning the prince the writer says: "He is familiar with an almost bewildering variety of subjects, and possesses a wonderful faculty for almost in-stinctively grasping the important features of the really essential points of any matter under discussion." THE AUTHOR OF THE WORK. The authority for the new book is concealed from the public, but the Associated Press learns that it is the work of a journalist well known in London, Mary Belloc (Mrs. Lowndes), formerly on Mr. Stead's paper. It will be issued in the United States next month by Appleton. In pictorial embellishments it is particularly rich. Most of the historical chapters of the book deal with matters already published.

HIS TOUR IN AMERICA. In describing the tour of the prince through America in his youth, it reveals the interesting fact that before he was launched upon his journey his father, the prince consort, supplied him with memoranda to be used in replying to the addresses which would be made to him during his progress. It explains that "the best proof of the prince consort's wisdom is to be found in the fact that every one of these notes afterward turned out to be simply invaluable, owing to their peculiar aptness, as they had been framed to suit the circumstances of each locality where an address was likely to be received."

The royal progress through India in 1895, it appears, cost the government about £200,000, but, by way of compensation, presents were received by the prince from Indian potentates which aggregated in value £250,000. It it pointed out as an evidence of the great personal popularity of the prince that all the politicians who advised the people to ignore his presence in Ireland in 1885 insisted upon absti-

The book describes at length royal routine at Mariborough House. The prince works at an old-fashioned pedestal table, and locks its drawers with a gold key, which he carries on his watch-chain. Almost every hour's duties are mapped out for him, and the reception of deputations often begins before luncheon, while attending to correspondence absorbs most of the grapher says: "The political emanci-pation of the Jews in England evidently had the Prince of Wales' warm sympathy. It now seems a long time ago since the presence of his royal highness at the marriage of Leopold De Rothschild caused much satisfaction and some sensation in Jewish circles, for no British prince had visited continent, and among his intimates was the late Baron Hirsch, with whom he stayed in Austria, notwithstanding that intense anti-Semitic feeling obtained at the Austrian court. Prince of Wales has thoroughly studied the question of the Russian Jews, and has interested himself on their behalf in such a way as should earn for him the gratitude of every Jew in Europe and America." HIS CORRESPONDENCE. The racing, the shooting, and the Masonic ceremonials, which are fads with the prince, are written of at length. Much of his money is said to be given in charity, while his correspondence absorbs the attention of Sir Francis Knollys and a corps of secretaries, because "no bona fide epistle is ever sent to Marlborough House without being answered, often with marvelous celerity, and even with the greatest courtesy and kindness." People were at one time fond of saying that the prince was up to the neck in debt, but on the question being direcly asked, Sir Francis Knollys (the private secretary of the Prince of Wales) replied that the prince had no debts worth speaking of, and that he could pay any moment every far-thing he owed; also that there was not a word of truth in the oftrepeated tales of a mortgage on Sandringham, and that the whole story was a fabrication, and was on a par with similar tales representing the prince as being assisted by financiers of more or less doubtful honesty. From this out the game was very bitterly contested, and both sides indulged in very rough play. In the first half the L. C. In the second half, after five minutes' play, the Collegiate scored another goal. C. McLaren captured the puck at the center of the rink, and after a brilliant rush, unassisted, scored the first goal for South London. Two minutes later the same player repeat-ed this act, but Gibbons knocked the goal post down, and the goal did not count. For this act, Referee Lind ruled him off the ice for three minutes. South London again got the puck near the L. C. I. goal, and again the post was knocked down. At this point a riot nearly ensued. One of the South London players struck Gibbons, and this started a free-for-all fight, nearly every one in the rink coming on the ice. After peace was restored the referee ruled Gibbons off the ice for the rest of the game. In the encounter Peel was struck in the head with a plece of scantling, but pluckily played through the game. After play was resumed the Collegiate added two more als to their score, and when time was called the score stood 6 to 2 in the Collegiate's favor.

The officials of the rink had their hands full in trying to keep order. When the same was over and the players retired to the dressing-room another mix-up was narrowly averted. Mr. Smith, the donator of the cup, is very much displeased over the game of Saturday evening, but says he will the boys settle it among themselves. South London talks of protesting the game. A meeting of the executive committee is called for tomorrow night, and no doubt a reason-able settlement will be arrived at.

Denial of Reports That Food Is Short in the Klondike.

The Strife for Something to Eat Is Already Distressing.

And the Suffering Is Likely to Increase -Still the Rush for the Gold Regions Goes On.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—The reports that have been coming to the war department recently, indicating that there is no scarcity of food in the Klondike country, have now taken another turn, and the last reports go to show that there is already great scarcity there, with prospects of worse to come. Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn has received a report from Gen. Merriam, at Vancouver barracks, which makes this fact appear, while incidentally explaining the erroneous re-port from Portland, Ore., to the effect that the government relief expedition has been abandoned. Gen. Merriam says: "Opinions are not quite unanisays: "Opinions are not quite unanimous on the food conditions at Dawson. The following from a private letter, written by Rev. S. H. Young, Presbyerian missionary, dated at Dawson, Dec. 1, has been furnished me by John T. Ross, of Portland, and different the opinions expressed by differs from the opinions expressed by persons recently arriving in the east, both as to food supplies and good order: "The strife for something to eat is already distressing. Thieving is frequent, and no man's place is safe when he is away from it. The suffering for want of food is likely to be very great before spring. When we got here short of supplies, as so many others are, we found flour selling at from $1 25 to $1 50 per pound and other things in proportion, and not to be had at all at the stores. Only sugar could be bought, and that soon ran out." Several restaurants have a sign something like this on the door: "Closed till next boat arrives. No Portland, Oregon, Jan. 24. - The

The demand for lumber in Alaska is enormous, but steamships refuse to carry it, preferring to take less bulky freight leaving the lumber for sailing vessels. Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 24.-A large

TRADE IN ONTARIO

As Reported By Bradstreet's-The Out Clook Bright.

Toronto, Jan. 24.-Orders for spring goods are coming in very freely, considering the unfavorable weather last week, and the fact that January is about the dullest month in the year. An early spring is expected, and this, together with the general desire of importers and traders to be prepared for the rush to the gold fields and the demands incidental to it, have induced many to stock up liberally. Bank clear- phus Noah, Samuel Plain, Joseph Wadings show a large increase of business over last year. Values of all staple products are very firm, with some lines tending upward. Canadian mill men refuse to book orders at prices obtained earlier in the season, and will only make contracts for the coming season to any advance that may take place. There is an effort-making among drygoods people to shorten credits, the health condition of trade being more favorable to such a movement. Hides are scarce and firm, and leather is for exporting their products are good, cents for wheat, oats, peas, and the than it was three weeks ago. GAS IN THE TUNNEL

From Suffocation. Sarnia Observer: Tunnel Conductor James Way had a close call from being suffocated by gas in the St. Clair Tunnel yesterday afternoon. About 1:15 o'clock a heavily loaded freight train was being brought through from Port Huron, and while climbing the grade on this side the train parted, the rear portion sliding back into the tunnel. The engine went back into the big hole for the train, but was unable to get up the grade with it, the rails being slippery from the damp weather. The engine and crew went into the tunnel four times before the train was brought out, and then it was brought out in sections, and took over an hour to complete the work. Conductor Way while in the tunnel was badly overcome by the gas and had to be carried out. Medical aid was summoned, and after time Mr. Way regained consciousness although the effects of the gas left him in a very weak state.

The Fine Private Collection To Be Sold

at Auction. New York, Jan. 24.—The art collection of Charles A. Dana will be sold at auction next month. Mr. Dana's chief hobby was the collection and study of oriental porcelain, and it is generally conceded by connoisseurs that the 600 or 700 objects which he brought together form one of the two finest private collections in America. The reason of the sale is that no member of Mr. Dana's family is so situated as to give the articles the HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and festored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.

So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard rheumatism, catarrh, and all other discusses originating in or promoted by impure blood and low state of the system.

The New Senator.

Mr. R. Dandurand, of Montreal, who has been appointed to the Dominion Senate, was during the last four general elections one of the chief organizers of the Liberal party in the district of Montreal. He is one of the youngest Senators, having been born in 1861. He is author of a work on "Criminal Law," and a "Manual for Justices of the Peace," and was president of the Club National in 1885. In 1891 he was decorated a knight of the Legion of Honor of France. Mrs. Dandurand, his wife (nee Josephine Marchand), is an esteemed authoress and vice-president of the National Council of Women. She is a daughter of Premier Marchand of Quebec.

Fair Play for Premier Hardy.

There is a strong feeling throughout the Province that it is only a matter of fair play that Premier Hardy and his Government should be sustained in the ensuing contest.

Mr. Hardy has represented the constituency of South Brant continuously for a quarter of a century. Again and again opposition has been organized against him. At one time a Conservative has been put up, than an "independent," and then some other stamp of opponent; but never once has the honorable gentleman been defeated. Where he is best known his sterling qualities as a man and as a statesman have been most fully recognized, and in the present contest it is asserted with confidence that his majority will be larger than ever.

Though he was one of Sir Oliver Mowat's most trusted lieutenants, an able and hard-working administrator of several departments, a worker for the advancement of the interests of his native Province at all times, the deviser of some of the best laws on the statute book, Hon. A. S. Hardy has been Premier for but eighteen months. In that capacity he has certainly begun well. Political friend and foe alike concede it. Therefore it seems just that he should be given a longer trial, for his many estimable qualities as a leader, as a promoter of means to advance the interests of this fair Province, which has been so well governed by the Ministries of which he has been a member.

Commercial Travelers and the Prospects. A Conservative contemporary gives currency to the statement that certain commercial travelers are reporting that the outlook for the Opposition in the coming Ontario elections is brighter than for the Government. No doubt such reports are put in circulation, but if they are viewed in the proper spirit can do no harm, as they are ill-founded. Our readers will remember that these commercial travelers who are now predicting the defeat of the Ontario Government were just as certain that the 'hot wave'; all sickness that the doc-Liberals would be hopelessly defeated tors cannot understand is attributed to ers, like other sections of the community, are divided politically, and The Advertiser representatives have found the majority of travelers returning from the rural constituencies ready to acknowledge belief that the Government will be sustained by a handsome majority in the ensuing contest. That Traveler Wm. The balance sheet now published shows a balance of $372,172 over expenditure. Comment on our part is needless.

CAUSE FOR SATISFACTION.

[Ottawa Free Press.] The London Advertiser not unreasonably refers in a jubilant tone to the fact that for the first time in the history of the city there were no suburban elections this year. The last of them had come in and formed a greater London. It may reasonably be hoped that the same will ere long be recorded of Ottawa. A necklace of village municipalities carries with it elements of public danger from the sanitary standpoint, as well as injustice. These suburbs benefit by the advantages offered by the city without any of the responsibilities and cost.

Sheriff Her, of Essex, billed the county council for $1,150 as fees for taking care of persons committed to jail to await examination as to sanity. No provision is made by the government for payment in such cases. The bill covered a period of fourteen years. but as all charges prior to six years ago are outlawed, the sheriff was induced to settle for $400.

A young boy named Sholtz, went into the electric light station at Wiarton recently, and backed up against the switch-board. His coat was damp, and he received a shock that rendered him unconscious, and threw him to the other side of the room. The boy has several burns on his back. Every light connected with the circuit was put out by the contact.

The Essex county council will build wo steel bridges this year at a cost of 1,800 each—one over the Canard River and the other at the county line. Kent county will pay half the cost of the latter. Radway & Co.:

Dear Sirs—I have been keeping in the house your Radway's Ready Relief for the last six years. I have used it in every way, and found it to be the best on earth. Six years ago I was sick; I tried all kinds of medicines, but they did me no good. My father saw the advertisement in the paper; he told me to try a bottle. I did so, and by using it three days I was able to be out. I have kert it on hand ever since, and have told my neighbors about it. My wife has been troubled with toothache. I gave a trial of the medicine and it cured her pain instantly. I was gathering corn and got my hand caught between the wagon bed and standayd and mashed it badly. I ran to the house and poured on a let of Radway's Ready Relief and had of more pain. I tied my hand up with a piece of flannel, poured on more Radway's Ready Relief, and in an hour I was ready to take hold of my work again. I cannot be thankful enough. I could write a great deal more, but this paper would not hold half of what I could write. Yours truly,

Acute Rheumatism

Pains in the Foot and Limb-A Complete Cure Accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For a number of years I was afflicted with acute rheumatism in my left side and all the way down my limb into my foot. I live five blocks from my work and had to stop and rest several times in going and coming. I could get no relief from my trouble and was on the point of giving up my job when I happened to hear of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I purchased a bottle of this medicine and a vial of Hood's Pills | Rye.... and began taking them. Before I had half finished them I was relieved and it was not long before I was completely cured. I never lose an opportunity to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, for my cure meant a great deal to me, as I have a family and must always be at my post." WILLIAM HASKETT, yardman, Grand Trunk Railroad depot, Brantford, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the best-in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5.

Anyone With a Copper Wire May Obtain Light and Power. St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 24.—Bell Telephone Company operatives claim to have made one of the most important discoveries of recent years while testing new wires in this city. Anybody with a strand of copper wire may avail himself of the mighty force which propels the street cars. It can be taken from the earth into which it passes from the rails, and used again for light and power without the use of special electrical machinery. No dynamos and converters are necessary. General Manager Durant, of the Bell Company, said: "That the current from the street car ground wires remains in the earth, and travels underground, we have demonstrated beyond a doubt, and we are certain this force can be used again. We find that a single wire with the simplest kind of a connection will suffice to produce light from this earth current. I can see no reason why the current could not be carried through motors and dynamos in the same way. If the actual current as it comes from the earth were not sufficient it could first be gathered into storage batteries, and thus intensified."

The Celebrated Preacher, 66 Years of Age, Takes a Wife of 40.

Pittsburg, Jan. 24.—Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, the noted divine of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Elmore Mc-Cutcheon Collier, of Allegheny City, were united in marriage on Saturday at the McCutcheon residence, No. 47 Irwin avenue.

The wedding, which came as a great surprise to the friends of the couple, was on account of a recent death in the family, an extremely quiet affair. The only guest, outside of Mrs. Talmage's immediate relatives, was Dr. L. H. Willard, who was making a professional visit to the house, and remained to witness the ceremony. The bride was arrayed in her traveling gown, and when the ceremony was concluded the party sat down to a wedding breakfast, after which Mr. and Mrs. Talmage took the 2:37 p.m. train for Cleveland. Mrs. Talmage is the daughter of the late James M. McCutcheon. She was the widow of Charles W. Collier, only son of Judge F. H. Collier. She is 40 years old, while her husband celeyears old, while her husband cele-brated his 66th birthday several Mr. and Mrs. Talmage met during the past two summers at East Hampton, L. I., where the courtship, which culminated five months ago in a formal engagement, was carried on. The engagement was kept a profound seeret, and it was only within the last few days that Mrs. Talmage's most in-timate friends were apprised of the coming marriage.

A Just Principle Departed From-Messrs. Black and Hallam Replaced by Conservatives.

The political axe has fallen again at the city hall. The victims this time are Messrs. Archie Black and Fred Hallam. For the past few years they have been assistants to the assessors, Messrs. Grant, Westcott and Toll. There is only one complaint against them-they are Liberals.

They have been dismissed to make room for Wm. Peel and Wm. H. Brown. Peel, it will be remembered, was the Conservative deputy returning officer, at the last election, who tried to throw out a large number of Hyman votes on the ground that the initialing on them was a forgery! Judge Edward Elliott, however, ruled that the ballots were good. After the election Peel was given a sum of money by Mr. Beattie, M.P., to enable him to go to Michigan. After the inquiry, Peel returned to London. He has now his reward! When Mayor Little assumed office he laid down a just principle, which has now been departed from. He appointed one Conservative and one Liberal assessor-Messrs. Toll and Westcott respectively-to aid Commissioner Grant, and decided that each assessor should be accompanied by a clerk of opposite politics, in fairness to both parties, all the citizens being interested in placing the compilation of the assessment roll, which is also the basis of the municipal and provincial voters' lists, beyond the suspicion of political interference. Mr. Wm. Carrothers (Conservative) was clerk for Mr. Westcott, and Messrs. Black and Hallam for Messrs. Grant and Toll. True to the "piggery" policy of the party, the Conservative managers have gone the whole hog and appointed three of their own workers instead.

SMITH'S FOURTH.

The Latter Day Saints Leader Marries a Canadian Girl-Elder Evans Officiates. About six weeks ago Joseph Smith, son of the Mormon prophet, Joseph Smith, who was murdered in Carthage, Mo., 54 years ago, went to Toronto on a visit to the members of the sect there, and met Miss Rachael Clark, the daughter of Sandy Clark, of Waidemar village, Dufferin county. Although Smith is 66 years of age, white-beard-thrice married, he fell in love with the 22-year-oid, 200-pound Dufferin county sirl. The courtship was not long. Last girl. The courtship was not long. Debs has issued a plea to the public in behalf of Salter T. Worden, who is under sentence of death for train-wrecking near Sacramento, Cal., during the railroad strike of 1894. CARNAGE IN CUBA.

The Fierce Struggle Goes on With Terrible Results. Havana, Jan. 24.—The greater part of Camp No. 161/2 at the Jucaro extremity of the military trocha, in the Province of Santa Clara, has been blown up with dynamite by the insurgents. The barracks were destroyed and quite a number of lives were lost, while many persons were wounded. Details of the disaster have not been received. Nearly all of the im mense cane fields on the plantation Josefita, in the Havana province, have been burned. Four of the guerrilla force stationed at the plantation joined the insurgents, and it is believed that they set the fires which caused he destruction.

A private report from Puerto Principe confirms the report that Gen. Castellano has destroyed Esperanza (at the extreme west of the Sierra Cubitas), the headquarters of the insurgent government, which moved to Najasa, saving documents and files. When the insurgents retired 57 of their number were left dead on the field, but they carried away their wounded. The government troops lost 27 killed and 87 wounded.

The action of the government in searching certain mail matter before allowing it to be delivered is considered by persons well informed upon the subject a direct violation of the international postal union treaty. Many persons, including a number of loyal Montreal, Jan. 24.—Stocks of grain Spanish, such as Signor Francisco de Los Santos Guzman, ex-president of congress, and others of social standrye, ing in the city make complaint non-delivery of letters addressed to them. It is reported that in conse-quence of the government's action steps will be taken to expel Spain from the postal union. It is learned from passengers by the steamer Olivette, which arrived at Key West last night, that another outbreak in Havana is imminent, which, if it occurs, will probably be New York, Jan. 24.—The Lone Star Blanco, it is said, has concentrated directed against Americans. JUBILEE IN CALIFORNIA. San Francisco, Jan. 24.—California's jubilee festivities, which will last a week, began today. The city is gaily decorated with flags and buntings, and known citizens, was instantly killed by traits of James Marshall, who picked up the first gold nugget tin California in the year 1848. The city is crowded with visitors from all over the state. THE SAUSAGE-MAKER'S STORY. Chicago, Jan. 24.—When Luetgert took the stand he was apparently more composed, and answered the questions propounded him by his counsel in a firm voice. The most important feature of his recital was his explanation of the presence of the potash in the factory. He said it had been in his place of business for nearly two months before the day of his wife's disappearance; that it had not been concealed, and that he was to make soft soap of it. The prisoner also told of his sleeping in the factory, which he ex-plained was necessary because there many things to attend to at

Agitation in Algiers. | The British Ambassador

The Governor-General Jeered at by Masterful Diplomat Representing the Queen at Washington.

> Sir Julian Pauncefote Has the Highest Qualities for the Great Post-As Imperial Officer a Stickler for Precedence -As Man a Genial Gentleman.

(Special Correspondence.) Washington, D.C.—(Special.)—If Great Britain had ransacked the kingdom for a physical representation of John Bull to send to Brother Jonathan, she could not have found a better than Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador in Washington. Sir Julian might sit for a portrait of John Bull and all the world would recognize the likeness. He is a typical Englishman. He is British through and through. He is big of frame with a massive head and a ruddy face, suggestive of a beef eater. He looks the Briton and acts it. There is not a suggestion of democracy about him that is not British. He is affable and gracious, but with him rank is rank, and he is the personal representative of the Queen of reat Britain and Ireland. He might travel around the world and keep his mouth closed and no one would be decelved as to his nationality. He has Great Britain stamped on his every feature, his dress, his manners, and his speech. Wherever he should go he would down as an Englishman. When Sir Julian thousand people, who shouted, "Down with the Jews," "Resign," interminofficial business or at the Capitol or White House on ceremonial occasions he is John Bull himself.

It is not necessary to explain that as Ambassador he represents the person of gest that he is the guardian of the throne. and gentlemen-Great Britain. He is an Ambassador and an Englishman whether in the embassy on Connecticut avenue or on his lumbering tricycle on the streets of the national capital. No one would accuse Sir Julian of accentuating his importance or trying to impress this democratic capital with the nobility of his office. He can't help being just what he is. He and his office fit into each other. The rank of Ambassador was created for him and it rests gracefully on his shoul-

While Sir Julian's name is not to be found in the British peerage, his family is one of the oldest in England. There were Pauncefotes in the West of England when the "Doomsday Book" was written. Sir Julian is the third son of the late Sir George Pauncefore, Esq., of Preston Court, Gloucestershire, England. He was born at Munich, and will soon reach the age of 70 years, the age limit of British Ambassadors and Ministers. An education at Paris and Geneva gave him a knowledge of foreign languages and a lucky accident led him to change a military cadetship in Madras for the study of law. He was called to the bar of the Inner Temple in May, 1852. He was private secretary to the late Sir William Molesworth when the latter was Secretary of State for the Colonies. That was Sir Julian's introduction into politics and diplomacy. He practiced law as a conveyancer in London, and then went to Hong Kong to become attorney-general and draft a code of civil procedure in 1866. In 1874 he was appointed Chief Justice of the Leeward Islands, and was knighted in the same year. After putting the whole judicial administration in working order and giving the Leeward Islands a civil code, Sir Julian returned to England to succeed Lord Knutsford as the legal assistant to the Unda Secretary The Chief Justiceship of Ceylon could of State at the colonial office. not tempt him to return to the tropics, and in 1876 Lord Derby offered him the newly created legal assistant under-secretaryship at the foreign office. Lord Beaconsfield gave him the ribbons of the Bath and the Colonial Order, and Lord Granville selected him to succeed Lord Tenterden as the permanent under-secretary of state for foreign affairs. His work on the Suez canal international commission made him a G.C.M.G. His commission sat at Paris from March 30 to June and St. George on Dec. 1 of the same year. In June, 1888, he was made a Knight of the Bath, and the next year. with a liquid of pure constitution.

on April 12, 1889, he was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plentpotentiary to the United States. Four years later the rank of the diplomatic representative of Great Britain in Washington was raised from Minister to Ambassador, and Sir Julian presented his letters of credence as Ambssador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary on April 11, As Ambassador, the position of Sir Julian changed very materially as it related to social affairs and official functions. He performed the same official duties, but he became more punctilious about matters of official etiquette. As Ambassador, he represents the Queen of Great Britain, as well as the Government. He is the personal Ambassador of the Queen to the President of the United States, and his rank permits him to deal directly with the President, instead of conducting his negotiations through the State Department. In questions of etiquette, Sir Julian took his new rank very seriouslymore seriously than in matters of official business. He continued to conduct his official business with the Secretary of State, but in social affairs he could not recognize any one except the President as taking precedence to himself. As Ambassador of the Queen he represents the Queen, and demanded the recognition that would be given to the Queen if she should visit the American capital. He does not know the Vice-President, and cannot recognize him as the heir apparent to the Presidency. ulian is a spekler for form and more than a John Bull characteristic. It is not personal pride or egotism, for in all affairs where there is no formality Sir Julian is a big-hearted and affable Englishman. He will ride on the street cars when necessary and trundle about on his tricycle, asking no favors from the other cyclers who are on the road at the same He does not have outriders for his age as a British Ambassador is entitled to by his rank, and he walks about the shops and old book stores like any ordinary English tourist looking for bargains. He does not put on airs when he mingles with the crowd on the street, for he is one of the people. In that he is cosmopolitan and democratic. He has a weakness for the old book stores, and may often be seen picking over old volimes for rare literary products. He has a wealth of such treasures which nas picked up in Loncon, Paris, and all 3/er Europe and Asia where he has traveled. But when the Secretary of State carelessly addressed an invitation to Sir Julian and Mrs. Pauncefote it was returned because it was not addressed to Sir Julian and Lady Pauncefote. His wife might be Mrs. Pauncefote to another who met her on the street, but she must be Lady Pauncefote to those who met her in society where she went with Sir Julian as the Ambassador of Great Britain.

rank. It is not regarded here as anything

As a diplomat, however, Sir Julian takes high rank. Lord Salisbury made no mistake when he selected an undersecretary from the colonial office as the diplomatic representative of Great Britain to the United States. In the colonial office and in Horg Kong and the Leeward Islands Sir Julian had studied the intricacies of law, and the relations of Great Britain to many countries. He has been the legal adviser to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and he knew all the ins and outs of the British foreign policy. His diplomacy is of the highly practical order, and he is as capable of dealing with questions at issue between Great Britain and the United States as are Lord Salisbury and his advisers in London. He is alert, able, and learned in international law. He was a match for Secres tary Olney in treaty making, and it has been generally believed that he got the better of President Cleveland's shrewd Secretary of State in more than one treaty. In the arbitration treaty the Sene ate came to the conclusion that Sir Julian had carried all the points, and it refused to ratify that treaty. In all other affairs of the kind Sir Julian is recognized as among the ablest men who have represented Great Britain in Washington. The British Prime Minister recognized his worth and work by making another exception in his favor. Sir Julian came into the diplomatic service by an exception to the rule, and he will remain in Washing. ton another year by an exception to the rule of the British Foreign Office. He has reached the age limit of 70 years, when British diplomats are retired on a pension, but it is understood that Sir Julian, who is one of the best preserved Britons for his years, will be allowed to remain another year in Washington. This is a recognition of the fact that he is a remarkable man, and has a remarkable grasp on the important questions at issue between the United States and Great Britan, for Lord Salisbury does not want to dispense with his services while arbitration, the sealing, and other great questions remain unsettled. He wants Sir ulian to remain here because he needs

Sir Julian has an interesting family. Judy Pauncefote is a daughter of the Norfolk branch of the house of Cubitt. Her father was Major Cubitt of the Indian army, who was also military secretary to the Government of Calcutta. She was educated in Brussels and Dresden, and was married to Sir Julian in the late ter city. She is conversant with the ways of the world, of courts and castles at home and abroad. The eldest daughter, Miss Maud Pauncefote, was born in 30, 1885, and he was admitted to the sented at court. She is fond of books and outdoor exercise.

CHAPTER XXXVII. Three weeks had passed since sir Philip Somerson had brought Honore the tiding that Royden Keith had gone home to Westleigh Towers on the day after her ball, and was confined there by ill-health. Sir Philip and Lady Somerson were now abroad, and Hon-ore had heard nothing more. The time was drawing near for the closing of the mansion in Kensington, and the adjournment of the youg mistress to Abbotsmoor. But who could foresee what lay between that day and this July afternoon, when Honore Craven, as she sat reading to Marie, was astonished by receiving the card of Mr. Bickerton "Where is the forgery?" cried Law- to see her on the most important pri-Slimp, on which was penned a request vate business.

East Middlesex Liberals Flock to the City in Hundreds.

Patron Convention-Rousing Speeches by Leading Liberals.

The East Middlesex Liberal convention in this city on Saturday was without doubt the largest ever held by the party in the riding. Not only were all the accredited delegates, with one or two exceptions, present, but nondelegated Liberals from the remotest parts of London, Westminster, Dorchester and Nissouri townships, came in such numbers that the Liberai Club rooms were wholly inadequate to afford them even standing room. At 1:30, when President McConnell took the chair, the hall was so crowded and so many were unable to gain admittance that it was impossible to proceed with business. Secretary Laidlaw hurriedly went in search of larger quarters. The only available place was the Grand Opera House-

J. Henderson, Nissouri; Dr. Routledge, Lambeth; John Gilson, London township; E. Rathburn, Glison, London township; E. Rathburn, Nissouri; Joseph Wheaton, Nissouri; A. Hunt, Westminster; R. W. Jackson, London township; E. Ironside, liderton; George Elliott, Westminster; Wm. Scatcherd, Nissouri; J. C. Coughlin, Westminster; Charles Trebilcock, The Grove; Adam Nichol, Westminster; B. Gorwell, London township; M. Crupnia. Gorwell, London township; M. Crunnican, London township; John Cameron, Ex-Ald. Parnell, and E. R. Cameron, London; and Alex. Smith, of Toronto, the Liberal organizer.

The unexpected size of the gathering caused a little confusion. This was not displeasing, since it was the outcome of the splendid enthusiasm throughout the riding, which was heightened at the convention by the inspiration of numbers, the presence of the leading Liberals of East Middlesex and the confidence of all in the success in the ensuing campaign. The time. action of the Patrons in deciding to hold a convention on Tuesday vas not foreseen when Saturday's meeting was called. It was, therefore, felt advisable to await the decision of the Patrons before making a definite choice, and to this end a strong committee was appointed by the delegates, with instructions to consider the situation and submit their report to a convention to be summoned later. In the meantime those present wanted something for their enthusiasm to work upon, and to reward them for their long journey. A motion to proceed with nominations so as to afford the nominees the opportunity of speaking, was put and unanimously carried. The following gentlemen were quickly proposed: John Gilson, Dr. Routledge, A. M. Hunt, Dr. McWilliams, T. H. Purdom, S. B. Gorwell, E. Ironside, W. R.

Jackson, E. R. Cameron, John T. Coughlin, John H. Elliott and E. Par-Prior to these being called upon, Mr. Alex. Smith, the Liberal organizer, made a brief address, full of practical hints to the delegates. Mr. Smith pointed out that there were 37 threecornered contests in the last election. At this election the conditions were changed-it was one army against another, and Liberals did not fear the result. (Applause.) The third party had supported the government almost entirely in the house—a proof that the government's conduct commanded the support of men of independent views. Its majority had increased from 16 to The speaker could see by the enthusiasm and judgment displayed at this convention that with wise methods another opposition candidate would be left at home. (Applause.) Mr. S. B. Gorwell said that with the exception of himself, everyone of the nominees would be a credit to the riding. He hoped the delegates would unite on the man most likely to carry the Liberal banner to success. If ever Liberals should work it was now, when one the one side they had a government with a record of 25 years faithful service, and on the other side, a party whose platform was a poor innocent little pig on the banks of the Humber. (Laughter.) Dr. Routledge said he had been approached by many friends who asked him to stand, but circumstances preroad in the world. Detailed information will be gladly furnished by any railroad agent, or J. A. Richardson, northeast corner King and Yonge standard-bearer of the Liberal party. standard-bearer of the Liberal party. Mr. John H. Elliott, of Westminster spoke well of the Patrons, whose principles, he said, were in accord with the Liberal party. The speaker thanked his mover and seconder, but declined the nomination.

Mr. John T. Coughlin said he was not a candidate, but would heartily support the nominee of the conven-

Mr. E. R. Cameron said that when he saw the enthusiasm of the convention, and when the hall which sufficed for their meetings for years proved insufficient today, he felt Justified in telling Mr. Smith that their candidate would be a winner. (Applause.) That candidate would be the supporter of a government whose record was without parallel in any other country. Every man whose mind was not biased must approve of the legislation of that government. There was a time when members of the opposition could criticise the government in a statesman-like way, but the present critics of the government had descended to something that was simply beneath contempt. One was surprised that any opposition worthy of the name would devote itself to such paltry matters. (Applause.) Its denunciation was as sensible as criticising the farmer for the way in which his hired man clean ed out the stable, or a lawyer for the manner in which his office boy licked postage stamps. (Laughter and ap-

Mr. R. W. Jackson said the advice of Mr. Smith some time ago had borne fruit, and this convention was an evidence of it. Mr. Jackson said it was not a difficult thing to organize the riding, and he urged the delegates to Suez Canal than German, Italian or even Dutch.

Tiding, and he urged the delegates to begin the work at once. He was pleased to see that the breach made in the Liberal ranks at the last general election was being healed, and the brighter.

Mr. E. Ironside congratulated the Liberals of East Middlesex on this splendid convention, which was an in-

Coation of the entiousiesm in every pair of the riding. The opposition were trying with the courage of despair to turn the electors from those who had so wisely administered the affairs of the province. The electors should realize that in supporting the present government they were not working solely in the interests of the Liberal party, but of the country. (Applause) party, but of the country. the Liberal candidate for East Middlesex this year would not have half the difficulties of the last election. The Patrons had had a strong contingent in the house, but showed that they had no reasonable objection to the Ontario Government. They realized that the government was legislating in the the government was legislating in the interests of the farmers as much as they desired. (Applause.) Mr. Pur-dom said he had the kindliest recollection of the time when he himself was a candidate, and of the friend-ships then formed. It would be a calamity if the Ontarjo Government were overturned. That government had not only managed the affairs of Ontario well, but had practically made the province what it was by defending it from the attacks of the Conservative Government. The mining interests thus saved to Ontario would avert direct taxation for many years to come. Mr. John Gilson, who was warmly received, said he was not afraid of the issue of the contest in this riding. It was not worth while berating the opposition, because there was so little opposition to berate. (Laughter.) He would always be a supporter of Liberal principles, which ever made for good government. The Patrons were an element that had fallen away from the Liberal party, but not away from Liberal principles. The Patrons meet on Tuesday next to consider the situation, and it would be well for the convention to guide itself accordingly. Mr. Gilson heartily thanked the Liberals of the east riding for the sup-port they gave him at the last Dominion election. Mr. A. Hunt said he appreciated the honor of nomination, which was unsolicited. Many had asked him to allow his name to go before the convention, but his home and business relations would not permit him to stand. The opposition, said Mr. Hunt, were simply finding fault with the government, but could not tell what they would do instead, or enunciate any policy. Dr. McWilliams was not present, but Mr. J. Henderson, of Nissouri, said he was informed that the doctor would take the nomination if tendered to

There was some discussion as to the method of procedure. It was finally decided unanimously to appoint a committee, consisting of the vice-presidents of the various townships and the executive to consider the candidacy and submit suitable names to a convention to be called by the secretary.

It will be held next Saturday if the committee complete their work in Motormen like to run slow when they cannot see ahead clearly. Yesterday morning the mercury, which the night before hovered a little above freezing point, registered about 26 degrees higher than zero and the "beautiful" unmixed was falling. Pools of slush were neatly covered over with layers of apparently trustworthy snow, and the few pedestrians who ventured out later in the day were lucky if fate guided their footsteps safely over these dangerous places. Razor-backed drifts were stretched across the sidewalks by the heavy wind, and walking was made difficult.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon considerable damage was done by the gale. A fierce gust caught the walls of an unfinished brick building on the south side of King street, and laid two of them low, causing a loss to the contractor, Mr. A. Callahan, of $300 or $400. The building, which is owned by Mr. James Thompson, carriage manufacturer, is a double house, stories high, and was ready for the roof. The middle wall stood a few feet higher than the others, and this yielded first to the force of the gale. As it fell, it carried a large part of the east wall with it, and it is probable that both will have to be rebuilt almost from the ground. On all the railway lines trains came through completely covered with snow, but no dangerous drifts were reported and little delay caused. Last night about 9 o'clock the street railway company's sweeper was sent over the system to clear off the slush before it could freeze on the rails, and at intervals during the night cars were sent out as an additional precaution.

A RICHMOND STREET FIRE.

A Hot Blaze Over Thompson's Stove Shop-Household Effects Destroyed. There was a hot blaze last night about 7 o'clock at 424 Richmond street, over Mr. James Thompson's stove and tin establishment, the two upper stories being occupied by Mr. Thompson for residential purposes. The family were at First Congregational Church at the time, but the smoke pouring out of the windows attracted attention and the alarm was turned in. No. 1 brigade was soon on hand, and No. 2 and No. 3 followed in quick order. A hose line was attached to the hydrant at the corner of Richmond and Carling streets. but the hydrant was twisted or out of order in some form, and the water would not flow. A few minutes were lost in transferring the hose to the hydrant at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. The blaze was very fierce, and the firemen say they have seldom been in a hotter place. Fntrance was effected through the store, and a line of hose carried up the stairway. A stream was also poured in at the front window. After subduing the flames in the second story the fire in the third story was also attacked suc-cessfully and quickly extinguished. Fortunately the thick brick walls prevented the fire from spreading through the adjoining buildings, including The Advertiser office, which were filled with smoke. The contents of a sittingroom, four bedrooms, kitchen and office were almost destroyed. The dripping of the water slightly damaged the stock in the store. The cause of the blaze is supposed to have been woodwork ignited by a hot stove. The entire loss is about $1,300. Mr.
Thompson's household effects were in-Lendy Island, in the British Channel, has been provided with two new and powerful lights.

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never come.

Inditipated and the loss on the building, which is owned by Mr Samuel Stewart, is also covered Anniversary Services at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Pastor Refuses an Increase of Salary-A Liberal Offertory-Rev. A. L. Russell on Temperance and the Bible-Church

Notes.

The anniversary services yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church were exceedingly well attended, when one recollects the state of the weather. Rev. Prof. Ballantyne, of Knox College, preached morning and evening, delivering two very able sermons. A considerable number of the reverend gentieman's former parishioners from south London came over to hear him, notwithstanding the blinding storm. The services were rendered even more enjoyable by the fact that Mrs. Cooper, formerly leading soprano of the congregation, was in the city on a brief visit, and assisted in the anthems, singing a solo on each occasion. As has been usual of late years, a statement of the finances of the church and of any recommendations to come before the annual meeting on the Wednesday following was distributed in the pews. One of these motions was to the effect that an increase of $300 be made to the salary of the pastor, Rev. W. J. Clark. This falling under the eye of Mr. Clark, was promptly nipped in the bud by his stating at the morning service that he had observed the motion, and while deeply grateful, he must, under the circumstances of the church, the desirability of reducing the church debt as soon as possible, and his strong wish that all the funds, including those for missions, should be kept up to the highest standard, decline at present any increased remuneration.

For several years past the congregation has been asked for a special plate contribution of $1,000 towards the reduction of the church building debt. It must have been gratifying to the pastor and the officials of the church to find, when the plates were counted, that the amount totaled $1,005, despite the unpropitious weather which doubtless kept many at home. On Wednes-day of this week the annual congregational meeting will be held, preceded by a tea from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The Drink Question. Rev. A. L. Russell, pastor of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, told his people last evening what he be-A wind storm that amounted almost lieved was the proper attitude to asto a blizzard raged in the city yester-day, and in consequence many yester-the outset he gave as his chief reasons day, and in consequence many people for preaching along this line at the W. C. T. U., which institution, in view of the plebiscite campaign, is now seeking to increase its numbers. The C. T. U., he said, was one of the bearing a mixed cargo of sleet, snow great institutions of the day-a mighty instrument in God's hands to better the condition of the world. If it ever had a political tinge, as some have said, he knew nothing about that and did not believe it was so. He hoped the time would never come when it could be justly said that it was partisan society. Mr. Russell considered the subject particularly appropriate for another reason also. Not long ago he had heard a prominent minister in a prominent position advocate temperance, but at the same time say he was not a teetotaller, and throw slurs on the signing of pledges and the wearing of badges. Mr. Russell dealt logically with his subject, starting with a text that had been selected for him by a man who was fond of drink-Deuteronomy xiv., 26: "And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or for whatsoever thy soul desireth, and thou shalt rejoice, thou and thine household." This established the speaker's first proposition, viz.: The Bible permits the use of intoxicating liquor. Other texts— Numbers vi., 10, Ecclesiastes ix., 7were cited in support of this. The reverend gentleman then eloquently told of the quarrel that he and the bottle had had 38 years ago. He had not been a slave to it, though they were friends, but he had put it from him when told "of the homes that were wrecked, the families broken up, the marriage vows trampled under foot, the horrible treatment of wives and children by drunken husbands, of the blood that flowed like rivers here and there all over the world because of that bottle." Again referring to the proposition that the Bible permits the use of strong drink, he said there could be no contradiction. Truth never contradicted itself. Then he considered the possibility of legitimate limitations. Most emphatically there was a limitation as to quantity. Then was it right for a man to drink whisky, but wrong if whisky makes him drunk? There were limitations which amounted to a distinct and positive prohibition against the use of liquor at all. "It is not for kings to drink wine," and Christians are all kings. Not for priests, and Christians are all priests unto God. Not for the Nazarite during his vow, and the Christians' vow of consecration is for their whole lives. Further, Christians may do nothing that would jeopardize in any way the eternal welfare of others. In conclusion, Mr. Russell said: "God permitted men to

The women's mission circles connected with the local Baptist churches hold their quarterly union meeting in the Talbot Street Church Thursday afternoon, followed by a public meeting in the evening, when interesting addresses by some of the local pastors are promised.

Rev. Robert Johnston, of St. Andrew's Church, in his sermon Sunday morning, referred to the choir, saying it was not there as a drawing-card, or an amusement, but as an instrument, and one form of worship, to inspire others to worship with song. If it were merely to entertain and please people, the sooner it was abolished, the better, and he would be one of the first to take a hand in its abolition. The collection will in future not be taken up while the choir is singing. Yesterday was missionary Sunday

Thomas Wilson and Rev. Gleo. Fowler exchanged pulpits yesterday morning. By special request, Rev. Mr. Fowler will give a resume of his discoveries on the Book of Jonah at the Auditorium next Sunday afternoon Rev. A. G. Harris, of West London, referred to the city hall disaster yesterday. It had been said that it was a Times. judgment on the city, but the reverend gentleman did not agree with that view. God gave certain properties to all material things. Timber of a given size and quality was of a certain strength, and if it broke it was because God's haw in regard to that timber had been violated or disregarded. At the First Methodist Church vesterday, Rev. Dr. Daniel preached, and excellent music was furnished by the choir, led by Organist Wolcott. In the morning the anthem, "The King of Love" (Shelley) was sung, the solo parts being taken by Mrs. Harvey and Mr.A. Brown, with marked effect. Mrs. Harvey also sang "The Lord Is Mindful of His Own," and in the evening Mr. E. W. Knowles, of Toronto, formerly of this city, sang "O Happy Day."

DO NOT TELL THE TRUTH

We Are Much Better Looking than Our Mirrors Tell Us We Are.

No doubt the human race would consider it little short of a universal tragedy if there were no looking-glass-Yet, in spite of their widespread use, it is an astonishing fact that none of us have ever seen ourselves as others see us. In the first place, the reflection in the mirror does not portray our likeness with any attempt at accuracy. The hair is wrong in tone, the eyes are not correct in color, and our complexions are hopelessly libeled by this specious household deceiver. It is certain that if the looking-glasses spoke the truth the sale of various complexion washes would decrease to half, for any fair skin looks gray and pallid in the glass, and numbers of women who have splendid complexions ruin them by trying to improve them because they look bad in the mirror. You may be certain, however plain you face seems, it is by no means so plain as it appears in the tell-tale mirror. Secondly, you cannot assume your natural expression while peering in the lookingglass. The eyes must be in a certain position before you can see it at all, and the eye, so far as the expression is concerned, governs the face. The consequence is that you can only see one of your expressions in the glass and that expression is one of attentive examination. All the other expressions by which your friends know you, favorable or unfavorable, you have never seen, and never will see .- Philadelphia

A traveler in Florida says that on being asked how far a certain place was, a native replied: "Wall, I reckon hit's 'bout two whoops. P'raps hit may be some furder," he continued, reflect-ively, "but I 'low hit ain't mor'n two whoops an' a holler." In Arkansas they will tell you it is two looks and a goby, meaning you are to pass two houses and find your destination just beyond the next. In other parts of the west, it is said, the natives measure distances in "chaws" of plug, and will tell you your destination is about "two chaws" away. The Scottish way is to say, "It's a far cry," meaning it is about as far as one can shout, while in many cases distance is measured in time, the German "stunde" doubtless having its ori-
