Methodists of the Local District Are Gathering in St. Thomas for Annual Session-Church Union and Temperance To Be Discussed.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Thomas, June 3. — The annual are an unusually large number of resession of the London Methodist Conference opened here this afternoon. The first meeting held was that of the stationing committee, which met at 2 o'clock. They have a big task this year placing the various ministers in their charges, and it is expected that the meeting will last very late. Delegates are coming in by every train, and by night there will conference present. The lay delegates from some of the outlying districts are coming in, but the majority of them will not be on hand until Wednesday morning. The big questions to be debated will be church union and the temperance platform. Judging from present indications, the policy announced by Mr. N. W. Rowel, K. C. M. P. P., to banish the bar, will be heartily indorsed.

Contest for Presidency.

The contest for the presidency promises to be particularly keen. The fight will be between Rev. J. E. Ford, of Clinto, and Rev. W. G. H. McAllister, of Blenheim, with Rev. G. N. Hazen as the possible dark horse.

An agitation is on foot among the ministers to elect Rev. Dr. Manning, pastor of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, London, to the highest position in the gift of the London Con-ference. This will be his last year in this conference, and some of the ministers consider him entitled to the honor before he goes away. Stranger things have happeneed than that he will be chosen. Unless this movement gains great impetus before Wednesday morning it is expected that the battle will be among the firfst three

June: Pre-eminently the Month of Brides

London and surrounding districts will see a great many brides this June. June is pre-eminently the month of brides, just as it is the month of roses, and all the people interested in coming wedding festivities will be interested first in the store that is best equipped to provide the setting for the all-important event—dainty attire for the bride and groom, the bridesmaids and maids of honor. Then, too, the scores of guests who are on the hunt for suitable gifts are attracted to this store to our linen department with its abundant supply of dainty pieces and table sets and household supplies, and in the furniture department, with its great variety of exclusive odd bits of furniture that will fit in so admirably in the dainty new home. This store is prepared better than ever before to meet the demands of prospective brides, in wearing apparel, as well as suitable gifts for the bride, and furniture for the Lack of Searchlights Doomed Titanic.

[Canadian Press.]

The scientific journal Nature calls attention to the fact that the non-use of searchlights by merchant ships is due to the action of the British admiralty. The great value of searchlights for navigation was reported to the lords' commissioners of the admiralty by Admiral Sir Beauchamp Seymour in 1876. Dr. Henry White, F. R. LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 3. COLONEL MATHESON'S DUTY. It is a fair question to keep askins here the following letter went:

"June 18, 1908 Hon. A. J. Matheson, "Provincial Treasurer, Toronto: "My Dear Sir, A few weeks ago made some advances to the extent of $35,000 on the promise that $25, 000 would be deposited by you, which was requested by the friends of Dr. Beattle Nesbitt, and $10,000

Among Conservatives of Dr. Nesbitt's circle In Toronto the bank was not a symbol security and permanency, however more generously Mr. Fielding at long distance from that coterie may naturally have judged of the new concern. Col. Matheson was closer to that coterie than to Mr. Fielding and the federal heights. The World and Dr. Nesbitt's "friends" were very eager solicitors for the Farmers' Bank, bothering the life out of Col. Mathespn till they twitched the people's money from his fingers. At the clamorous instance of needy men who evidently wanted something for themselves in soliciting for the bank, the keeper of the public treasure parted with the money, the promise of which sent the Farmers' Bank to ruin. The latest sensation in the British investigation of the Titanic disaster has been the exposure of the negligence of the captain of the Californian. The American inquiry had already brought censure upon Captain Lord. Facts are now only more fully and clearly brought out. No doubt any longer remains that the officers and crew of the Titanic did see the lights of a steamer about five miles away, as they believed. The Californian was that steamer, lying to for the night in the floe, while Captain Smith plunged into the iceberg. Captain Lord was at any rate no fool, He looked well to the safety of his vessel and its occupants, and if that captain is the hero who brings his vessel safely to port, then there is something of the hero about Captain Lord. Passengers on the Californian may prefer to have been in his charge to someone else's. And yet it is most unfortunate for his reputation, to say the least, that he should have so ignored the Titanic's signals of distress during three awful hours. Testimony has been wrung bit by bit from Captain Lord himself, and from unwilling officers and men, to the effect that many a rocket was seen that night piercing the starry sky with agonized message, that all the rockets Having eyed a patent bottle with ly passed to leave the matter until great of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, were colored white, the color of dis- much curlosity for some time she ask- the next regular session.

In the midst of the rocket-firing Captain Lord went to bed and paid no attention, even when roused by one of his crew, who reported that the distress signals were still going on. Such callous indifference is hard to under-

However, the faults of Captain Lord or of Board of Trade regulations, or of naval architects, whatever they may be, need not draw away attention from the supreme moral of the King's plate. disaster. As Mr. Holt, the Liverpool shipowner said, no ingenuity of construction can save a ship that goes full speed against a hard resisting object, whether of land or of ice. The sson of the Titanic is the need of are in navigation, and of a stern prohibition of those risks which, ightly taken, brought the great ship to disaster. Unless this course is taken no provision of boats and no revision

f regulations will be adequate. Captain Lord may be given his due. He is a careful navigator, though between his carelessness for another and the Titanic's zeal for a record, the great ship was lost.

THE CONFERENCE AT MALTA.

The conference on Mediterranean policy which assembled at Malta from such distances Premier Asquith, Mr. Winston Churchill, Lord Kitchener and General Hamilton must be of the highest importance. There are at present clouds enough on the eastern sky to justify even anxious comment.

The Italians have been seizing island after island in the Aegean since taking Boggs wrote a book on gardening, a look into the Turkish guns on the Dardanelles, The Albanians are up for their usual spring rising, always dangerous to European peace, especially so at this time. Italy has always had an interest in Albania which has not diminished since the royal marriage with a Montenegrin princess. With Montenegro Russia has long had a particular sympathy. Trouble in the Albanian quarter may therefore at any time draw Italian or Russian intervention. Last year one of the Garibaldi family was engaged in the cause of the Albanian rebels. That was enough to electrify Italy. Just now, with Italy proceeding to closer grips with Turkey, the Albanian rising, if pursued, may at last have been timed to the psychological moment, and conceivably may bring about a general war. Is the Balkan volcano to explode?

It is reported that Italy and Russia bank manager to a cabinet minister in pean conference, in which Russia will recognize the annexation of Tripoli in one of Dr. Nesbitt's moval of the treaty barrier to Russian warships passing through the Bos-The facts of the case, so far as the phorus. Such an argument may unbalalliances, for France would almost Farmers' Bank needed money; certainly stand with Great Britain World and Dr. Nesbitt were against Russia's desire, So much for cooled, At the same time, closer rapprochement of Great Britain to France would result.

The Malecka affair is another thing which threatens to break down the unnatural Russo-British combination. Miss Kate Malecka, a lady born in England of a Polish exile and an English mother, claimed, therefore, as a citizen of Great Britain, has been arrested in Russia for a newspaper article, and sentenced to Siberia, Russia holds that she is a citizen of Russia, because her father was a citizen 50 years ago! Great pressure will no doubt be brought to bear upon the Czar for Miss Malecka's release, and in the meantime feeling in Great Britain runs high against the Russian Government.

In this affair it is understood that Germany is standing against Great Britain. This may not be true, though Maria, you can have my head for a footit would be in keeping with Bismarcklan traditions. One might fear, as the new alignment of European powers, the democratic west against the imperialistic centre and east, or money versus population. But against such an alignment there are two reasons—the German friendship for Turkey, which may disrelish the Italo-Russian plans, terious letter as quoted above. Is it and the coolness of Austria towards both Italy and Russia, in that she for-Matheson to account for the disapbade Italy to seize Salonika (which pearance of such a document, and so would have been a vital blow to Turcomplete the chain of facts in evikey), and herself annexed Bosnia-Herzegovina in the teeth of Russia's opposition. Russian Austro-Hungarian policies do not easily harmonize in the near east. However, the present situation is disquieting to both Great Britain and France. France is alarmed at the fresh increases in the German navy. Great Britain watches with anxiety the designs of Italy and Russia in the eastern Mediterranean. Plans are no doubt being laid at Malta with a view to a possible conference in the near future which shall be comparable to that of Berlin in 1878. Why not make the conference if it comes a grand clearing of grievances and grudges? Is not plan than that. I'll tell the girl." In our colleges the scientific investigators of history are turning over musty documents and sorting over the rubbish heap of the past trying to find stray pebbles of fact which London has had an aeroplane flight, have escaped the historians of the nineteenth century. This is dry work and does not stir the popular imagination. But the pageant is the thing in which to eatch the fancy of the plebs. England is witnessing just hats. The western hat was typical now the return of the pageant to the stage on a scale grander than has been. Last summer visitors to London were able to see the deeds of history rehearsed by gaily dressed actors at the Crystal Palace. So great was the interest displayed by the public being that another exhibition is planned for next summer, which will eclipse anything ever seen in the resurrection of the houses, habits and costumes of the past. Mrs. Cornwallis West is now busy organizing Elizabethan revels on behalf of the Shakespeare memorial fund. Arrangements are being made to rebuild the London of Shakespeare's day. If you happen to be in London this summer you will be able, for a consideration, to enter into a mimic city, with its Tower, its Cheapside, its London Bridge, its mansions and Houses of Parliament, just as they were in the days of Ben Johnson and Thomas Dekker. You will be able to walk down the narrow streets, where ou will see the lolling prentice boys and hear them cry their wares. If you wish, you will be able to go down to the banks of an imitation Thames, call out "Westward Ho!" and have a waterman call for you and row you across the river to the bankside, to the theatre district. There you will find the old Globe Theatre as large as life and twice as natural, specially called up from the vanished past for your pleasure. The flag will be flying from the roof and you will be able to enter into "the wooden 0," as Shakespeare once described his playreduplication of the Elizabethan stage correspondence. "Don't you think the coal mines ought dramas by Shakespeare, Jonson, Marlow, Beaumont and Fletcher and others. The music and dancing will also be the same as that which delighted the London ladies in the days of good Queen Bess and James I. They will dance for you a pavano, a galliard, or a coranto, and the haut boys will sound a flourish when the actor enters to speak the prologue. The Fortune Theatre will also be rebuilt, and there Morris dances will take place daily.

[Copyright: 1912.] The properties that we have been wondering at and labeling as almost miraculous in the new element radium are possessed in small but measurable degree by the internal organs of our own bodies. Our brains are especially radio-active, the heart less so, and the kidneys still less.

As our means of detecting radio-activity become more delicate, we are discovering it in more and more natural objects and substances. How do our organs acquire it? From the food we eat, or from the air we breathe? not know; but possibly the latter alternative is more robable, since the lungs are very radio-active." That is what science says about radium

Now, since science has spoken the word for the breath, perhaps the men and women who have given no heed to the voice of the seers will listen and learn the great fact. QUANTITY AND QUALITY.

A well-known physician said years ago "Excepting troubles resulting from physical violence, very physical trouble can be traced to the imperfection of blood supply of the body. Blood is the agent that gives life to every cell in the body, and the health of every individual cell depends on the quantity and quality of he blood that nourishes it.

"The quantity and quality of blood depends on the ood and on the air we breathe." Then the doctor (who is an eminent metaphysician as well as physician) urges us to drink two quarts of pure water daily, and to breathe, breathe, breathe often, deeply and long. Deep breathing acts as a massage for the internal organs. Too great stress cannot be laid on the important part the mind plays in s'imulating the organs of the body to perform their proper functions, he says

Here is a part of his mental formula: "I am breathing in the air; it is reaching every part of my lung cells. It is creating good, rich blood and supplying every part of my body. Health is my birthright. I am obtaining it from the life essentials, nutritious food, pure water and fresh air." The physician insists that this mental assertion, made with the deep breathing and partaking of pure food, will benefit every invalid and eventually cure any malady. Thought is a positive dynamic force that takes form in action.

"The body requires the life essentials-air, food, water-and all the But he adds: affirmations or auto suggestions offered by new thought will not cure unless the physical body is given proper attention."

And, first of all, comes breath as a life essential. HERE IS A GOOD RULE.

Here is a rule for deep breathing Take a full, long, deep breath that extends the chest and the abdomen. Then hold the chest distended and let the breath go out by drawing the abdomen in and up.

Repeat this exercise seven times, and not less than three times daily. This exercise, done while walking, is earnestly recommended: Breathe through the nostrils; and make the mental assertions of health and physical perfection with each breath.

Here is a Rosary to use in breathing. Say mentally This fresh air I am breathing in is radium.

It contains undreamed of power to rejuvenate, heal and strengthen. is filling my whole system; and driving out every undesirable condition. It the body. It is making my mind is bringing me health, quiet sleep and pure blood. clear, and enabling me to do, and have whatever I wish.

Think of your breathing exercises as scientific methods of obtaining and keeping health. GIVE DEEP BREATHING A TRIAL.

Remember science has declared that the human body is radio-active. And that the lungs must draw in the qualities in the atmosphere which produce the wonderful thing, radium, we know. The brain, which is the seat of radium, must be fed by the blood; and blood must be produced by air; and air must be pumped into the veins by Therefore, whatever your belief, or lack of belief, whatever your malady, or trouble, give deep breathing a trial. Take the exercises three times a day for one month, never missing one 1ay or one time.

Make your mental assertions while you breathe. And then take mental and physical stock of yourself at the end of that happiness.

A woman whose first thought is always of her husband and child: a sweet, quiet, motherly woman; a lover, unspoiled by fabulous home riches-

Such a woman is Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, lauded by her husband as the wife ideal. Able to wear the most gorgeous gowns the world can afford, she dresses simply; able to mingle in the highest society in America and with royalty in Europe, she clings to her home and a few friends. In the earlier years of her married life, when Andrew Carnegie was laying the foundations of his large fortunes, Mrs. Carnegle attended functions with him and was always by his side to counsel him. But in these latter years Mrs. Car-negle has retired to the seclusion of

ST. THOMAS HANDS FIRST SHUT-OUT MANAGER BOWERMAN'S INDIANS

St. Thomas Lad Was Invincible in the Pinches and Locals Failed to Score-Furssedon Pitched Great Ball, With Exception of Seventh Inning.

Young Mr. Howick, native son of St. Thomas, was too much to the thumping Tecumsehs on Saturday, handing them the first dose of kalsomine of the season. The spit-ball boy had his moist factory working in great shape, and won a real good game by the score of 2 to 0. There is only one reason for the defeat, and that is the work of Howick. Furssedon was pitcher for London, and pitched good enough to win 91 per cent of his games. Howick was just a little better, however, and got the decision.

The game was as interesting as all lightning contests are. Neither team waved the war club very effectively, the pitchers having the better of the deal all the way.

The Tecumsehs had chances to score, but they were thrown away. Both Furssedon and Brant were thrown out at the plate, when there was every chance for them to score. Four stingy hits were all that the Bowermanites got off Howick. No two of them came in the same inning, and there was no chance to bingle out a victory. Furssedon kept his hits well separated, with the exception of the seventh inning, when three healthy wallops gave the Saints the game. They came after plenty of time had been given to retire the side. That hurt some. There were many feature fielding plays. Brant scintillated, making some of the finest fielding ever shown on Tecumseh Park. He was all over the infield, taking some very hard chances. Lindeburn and Powell also showed

The Saints, as has been remarked before, are a hustling team, and show the best brand of ball exhibited by a visiting club in this town. They are sharp, snappy fielders, and work every minute. If their pitchers hold up they will be dangerous before the season is much farther advanced.

The game was won in the seventh inning. With two gone, Kopp laced a long fly to centre that Cocash lost in the sun, and the Saints' fielder got two bases on the drive. He tried to steal, third, and when Benny Speer's toss to Nicholls leaked through to left field, he scored. Johnston kept up the work by slamming a hit to centre, and Howick made a long-distance clout to centre that brought the second run across the platter.

That was the most active session of the afternoon, and was exactly where the Saints put the game on ice. Brant got to third on Johnston's error in the seventh, but was caught coming home. Fuzzy was also nabbed at the plate in the third.

It was a great game, and was well played, and deservedly won.

Georgia Peach Thinks He's a Nine. Pointed Star, Wants to Play All Positions, and Puts Jungle Crew Up in the Air for Fair.

Ty Cobb is so stuck on himself that he thinks he can play any position on the Detroit ball club.

He wants to play away from the outfield, so he can "show up" his teammates. And the trouble is he is so good he can get away with it. The result is the rest of the Tigers are sore, and the team is like a boiling tea kettle with the

This season Cobb has been making a habit, in practice, of playing at first or pitching. At first he "shows up" Del Gainor, the regular first sacker, with In the box he throws a spit-ball that breaks like a reed in a hurricane.
Sic Temper Tyranus Cobb is the best ball player in the world. He gets $7,000 a year, and he's worth it from one angle, because he draws a fortune in through the ball park gates every season. But he's busting up the Tiger team just the same. Detroit, thrice champion, doesn't ook a winner now-and the reason is Ty is a highbrov word for conceit. Exaggerated Ego is a disease that afflicts a lot of people. It makes a man so stuc! up that he thinks he knows it al, nobody knows any-thing but himself, and whatever he does is righ. Naturally a man with the Exaggrated Ego isn't popular. All his associates get sore at him, and that's the trouble between Ty Cobb and the rest of the Detroit for Detroit.

The chances are Cobb could have been suited, but Cobb is apt to demand, instead of request, and this clerk had an ego of his own. Cobb wanted Jennings to take the team away from the hotel, but agility Cobb might be a star at first, just to take the team away from the hotel, but the manager refused, so Cobb left. The official explanation is that Cobb wanted to consult his physician. The truth is, Cobb was wounded in the ego.

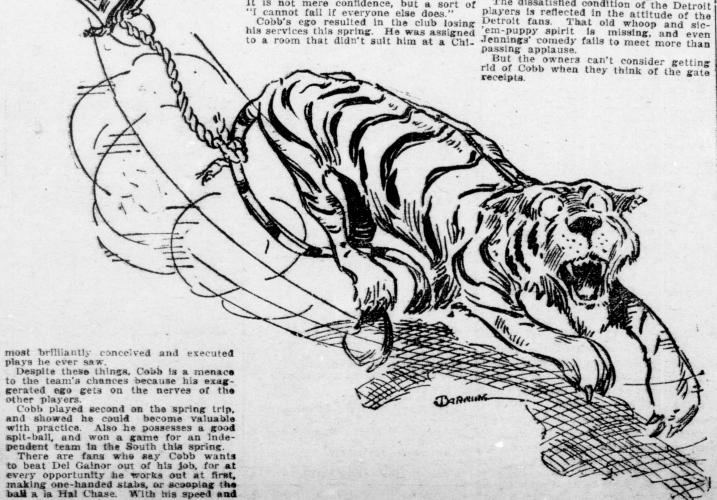

The dissatisfied condition of the Detroit players is reflected in the attitude of the Detroit fans. That old whoop and sich company spirit is missing, and even T. Oke as he might become another Lajoie at second, or a Walsh on the mound. In Ty's mind there is no question that he would be a wonder in any position. It is not mere confidence, but a sort of passing applause.

In Which We Come to the End.

I was lying between white sheets in a rather wide berth when I came again to consciousness, a yellow glow of sunlight streaming in through an open port, and the clanking sound of machinery in my ears. I closed my eyes again wearily, my head reeling yet from the delusions of the past. No, this was real—a steamer, rising and falling on the swell, but pushing steadily forward to the rapid revolutions of the screw. I could hear the tramping of feet on deck, even the slush of the sea without. I opened my eyes again, watching a curtain wave to the fresh air rushing in through the port, and then I turned my head on the pillow. Doris sat on a low stool, gazing out through the aperture on the sea, her face partially turned away. She looked pale, careworn, her eyes heavy and sad. Suddenly she turned her glance in my direction, and sprang up with a glad cry.

"Oh look you have been lying there"

I looked away from him, out through the open port at the open port at the gray vista of sea.
"That was it, Mr. Marsden," I said, my voice shaking to the memory of it. "It was the hell of the great ocean—it broke our hearts."

while I was sitting up and partially dressed that evening, Marsden, the chief mate, came in, and told me briefly the story of our rescue.

"We were considerably to the west of our course," he said gravely, "because we had met head winds and a heavy sea all the way down the coast. It was just at daybreak when we sighted your boat in longitude 78 degrees west and latitude in longitude 78 degrees west and la

IS BEING CULTIVATED

Dr. H. S. Curtis, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., who is conducting a campaign for playgrounds in this city, spoke in the Askin Street Methodist Church Sunday morning in the interests of the movement, Mr. Curtis said there were two great ideals in Christ's religion, the fatherhood of God, which demands worship, and the brotherhood of man, which demands service. The largest portion of Christ's life was devoted to man, and in the middle ages the other ideal was the more prevalent. But now we are developing a new ideal, that of responsi-

I lay there looking at her, striving vallantly to put all these horrors away, and to face the present and the future, the work that it may be centuries before it is realized.

A new social sense, that of social welfare, is being cultivated at the present time, and to one person interested people now, and the number is continually growing. A man is a part of society; influence him and you influence his environment. The playgrounds movement is not for the cities alone, but for the country as well, and would perhaps be a means and found wanting or found faith-

THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the hod carrier-from milady in the auto to the woman with the scrubbing brushthe accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishments of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best that is in him. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling.

To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body.

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food eaten. With this assistance, the digestive organs regain their tone, and soon the use of the tablets is no longer necessary.

Rev. Richard Whiting's Sermon - Addresses Delivered in Other Churches on Sabbath.

Sunday morning an old people's serice was held in Talbot Street Bapwhom were brought to the church in onveyances. The subject of Rev. H. H. Bingham's address was from Isaiah, lxvi., 4: "And old age I am He; and even to hoary hairs I will carry you; I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and deliver you. "One aged should not be judged merely by hoary head, but rather the age of the heart. A hoary head s surely a crown of glory if found in he ways of righteousness, and such an old age is but the childhood of immortality." Rev. Mr. Bingham emphasized hree points in his sermon, divine credivine constancy and divine

At the close of the morning service communion service was held, for which many of the old people waited. The pulpit was occupied in the evening by Rev. J. S. Williamson, D.D., of Niagara Falls, the father-in-law of a spade and cut his own throat with a the pastor, and he preached on "The Love of God." Rev. Dr. Williamson returned this morning to the conference at Woodstock.

"Summertime of the Soul." Rev. Richard Whiting, of the First A person is born into this world without any powers of locomotion, mental thought and soul thought, said the pastor. The immediate problem was to learn to use these faculties in the right way. The use of each faculty such as the eye, ear, bedily hand, foot and mouth, has to be learnt by itself. In the highest realm, that is the spiritual, it wasn't a question of each faculty looking after itself, but it was a case of one faculty, being supreme, and as soon as the soul learned to put love on the throne the task would become easy, the growth rapid, goodness would be natural, and the summertime of the soul would have been reached. Some people place conscience, in stead of love, on the throne, but those who do are always in distress, because conscience is at best only mother who can teach hard lessons out will not put a comforting arm around a person. Conscience is a detective who is constantly shadowing man and making life miserable. The man who lives by conscience is unhappy, but the man that lives by love is always sunny.

A Musical Treat. Last night before the evening service, Dr. Peace, the organist of New St. James' Presbyterian Church, gave twenty-minute organ recital, which was very much appreciated by the congregation. These recitals, which are given once a month, are greatly enjoyed by the members of the church, and are looked forward to with great anticipation.

Human Nature. Sunday morning, Rev. Dr. Manning, of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, preached on "Human Nature," and said that the worst people were those that were surrounded by the best chances and prospects. The sermon at the evening service was of a patriotic nature, and was entitled,

'Honor the King." He compared the two styles of gov. roment that are common today, that by a president and by a king, iffustrated by reference to States and Great Britain. During every presidential election in the States business is tied up and the country stands still for a time. The royal rulers seem to have the welfare of the country more at heart than do the presidents, and the steady progress is not retarded every four years.

on the Contest Comes Up.

Chicago, June 2. - Friends of Con Roosevelt announced today that the first real test of strength between their candidate and President Taft will come Thursday, when R. B. Howell, of Omahai national Republican committeeman-elect from Nebraska, will demand to be seated as the successor of Victor Rosewater acting chairman of the national Republican committee, prior to the hearing of contests by that body.

The Roosevelt managers are prepared to make a determined fight to have Mr. Howell seated, and if they succeed they will demand that Borden D. Whiting, of New Jersey, Thomas K. Neidringhaus of Missouri, and other national committeemen-elect chosen either by primary or state conventions, be seated. By this means they may succeed in controlling the national committee and decide whether Senator Elihu Root, of New York, shall be recommended as temporary chairmen of the convention.

New Hists "No Seat."

Harry S. New, chairman of the subommittee on arangements for the convention, declined to discuss the plans of the Roosevelt leaders, but intimated that he believed the national committee would not seat Mr. Howell or any other ommitteemen-elect until after the adjournment of the convention. He also ex. pressed the opinion that the national committee would approve of the selection of Senator Root as temporary chairman and indorse the plan adopted for the distribution of convention tickets.

R. B. Howell, national committemanelect from Nebraska, arrived here today, armed with a certificate signed by Gov. Aldrich, of Nebraska, and the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney, did not deal extensively in public general of that state, setting forth that he was regularly elected to the office, April 19, 1912.
