

WONDERFUL RECONSTRUCTION OF BURNED FAIR BUILDINGS

ALL-NIGHT WORK CLEARS THE GROUND FOR THE BUILDER

Army of Workmen Spent Last Night Clearing Up Fire Debris at Western Fair, and Construction of Temporary Structure Has Commenced.

Phoenix-like the Western Fair rises from the ruins of the buildings destroyed in Friday morning's fire. Undeterred by wind and rain, a large force of city workmen labored through Friday night and this morning, the framework of one large wing of the machinery hall was in place, and up-rights were ready for siding on several others. Two hundred men or more were at work today, Friday afternoon and night the intrepid workers had gathered the debris of the burned buildings and piled it in great blackened piles to clear off the site required for new structures. Old boilers, machinery, shafting and other junk and debris raked from the ashes of Friday morning's blaze awaited the scrap dealer's coming.

Rebuilding Fence.
At an early hour this morning a considerable length of the 12-foot fence on Campbell street had been rebuilt and up-rights were in place for the entire length of the remainder. The sound of hammers and saws resounded from all sides, and the south side of Queen's Park which Friday morning was a mass of black, smoking ruins today was a veritable hive of industry.

Hydro-electric men erected poles and strung lights and wires Friday afternoon, and are still at work to provide lights for the night shifts of workmen. It is probable that the work will be continued on Sunday, although this had not been definitely decided this morning.

Message of Sympathy.

This morning Secretary Hunt received a message of sympathy from President Kent, of the Canadian National Exhibition, with an offer of any assistance which the Toronto Association could give. The Western Association replied, thanking President Kent and the National Association for their offer of help, but stating that none was needed, other than the Toronto Fair Board was asked to make it known to as many of their exhibitors as possible that there would be ample accommodation for them at the Western as soon as Toronto closes.

Entries Coming In.

Entries are coming in in greater numbers than ever, and some days earlier than they usually do. In horses, art and ladies' work the entries this year will show overwhelming increases in number over the entries of other years. There will be increases all around, judging by the entries already received.

NEW MOVE TO SECURE THAW'S DEPORTATION

Lawyers Were Completely Taken Off Their Guard By the Scheme.

Jerome Hopes That Thaw Will Be Sent Into Vermont Shortly.

[Canadian Press.]
Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 30.—Harry K. Thaw will be produced in court here again on Tuesday morning next on a writ of habeas corpus obtained today in behalf of Chief of Police Bureau, of Coaticook, who arrested him after his flight from Mattawan.

J. N. Greenhalgh, K. C., Thaw's chief counsel, chartered a special train at Montreal and began a dash here to head off the writ of habeas corpus if possible. Samuel Jacobs, for the New York forces, was still in conference with the judge at 11 o'clock, but no announcement as to whether the writ would be issued had been made. The immigration officers assembled in the court room waiting for the man they hoped to deport.

Superior Judge Hutchinson granted the writ on the application of Samuel Jacobs, chief counsel for the New York State interests. It was an eleven hour move taken to defeat Thaw's lawyers, who have succeeded in keeping him in jail, safe from the immigration authorities. Those of Thaw's lawyers who were in town, Charles D. White and Harry Fisher, bitterly opposed the application, but Judge Hutchinson said he would thrash the matter out in open court at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Thaw was ignorant of the day's developments. His lawyers even did not learn of it until a report of the contemplated move, sent out last night, was telegraphed back from Montreal. It was reported here that he had been chartered a special train at Montreal in the hope of checking the proceedings. The writ had been issued, however, before his arrival. Boudreau pleaded for the writ on the ground that, as the original captor of Thaw, he might be liable to damage should Thaw's arrest prove illegal.

William T. Jerome, who worked out this latest attack, hopes that the writ will be sustained, and that on Tuesday Thaw will be in the hands of the department of immigration for deportation to Vermont.

RISPIN HEIRS MAY BE LIVING IN OKLAHOMA

Solicitors Have Been Trying to Find Parties to Whom $7,000 Is Coming.

Search That Has Been Going On Several Years May Be Ended.

After a search of several years, Meredith & Meredith, solicitors, who have been looking for Charles Rowe or members of his family, who are beneficiaries to the extent of $7,000 in the will of the late Luke Rispin, of South London, think they have located the family in Nowatah, Oklahoma. A relative of the family saw an account in a newspaper of the search that was being made for Charles Rowe, and forwarded the paper to him. He in turn communicated with Meredith & Meredith, and is now trying to establish the family's relationship with the late Luke Rispin.

Mr. W. R. Meredith stated today that he thought the man was the one they have been searching for, but could not say for certain until further proof is obtained.

The search has been going on for several years, and at one time a number of the newspapers of the United States carried a big account of it.

Mr. David Crombie, who some time ago resigned from the position of general superintendent of transportation of the Grand Trunk, has been appointed to an important position with the Pere Marquette.

Since Mr. Crombie's resignation he has had several flattering offers from railroads in different parts of the country, but it is said that he has decided to accept the offer of the Pere Marquette, with headquarters in Detroit. It is expected that Mr. Crombie will start on his new duties the first of the month.

Mr. P. Price, who was formerly superintendent of passenger service on the Grand Trunk, and whose office was abolished by President Chamberlain about a month ago at the time Mr. David Crombie's office was abolished, has been reappointed superintendent of car service.

STORES ARE BURNING
British Bluejackets Rushing to Help Save Many Warehouses.

[Canadian Press.]
Queensdown, Ireland, Aug. 30.—The warehouses and stores of the British navy on the island of Haubowline, in Cork Harbor, caught fire today. Great quantities of oil and thousands of tons of coal are stored on the island, to which hundreds of bluejackets from the British fleet have been sent to assist the firemen in subduing the flames.

SEVEN KILLED SIX INJURED

Big Boilers on Tow-Boat on the Ohio River Exploded.

ALL OF CREW WERE HURT

[Canadian Press.]
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 30.—Captain Thomas Flaherty, pilot Harry Donaldson, and six of the crew of the tow-boat Alice, were killed today, and six other rivermen were injured, when the boilers of the Alice exploded in the Ohio River at Coraopolis, Pa.

Many of the crew were rivermen of the type whose names are seldom known to their companions or the officers of the boat, and for that reason it is feared some difficulty will be experienced in securing a complete list of the dead.

The Alice, a towboat, belonging to a sand company of Pittsburg, was towing a fleet of barges when the boilers let go. So quickly did the boat settle that within ten minutes nothing but her stacks were above water, and the survivors were struggling in the stream. Of the entire crew of fourteen men not one is known to have escaped death or injury.

WEBSTER IN SAME HOUSE AS THE LILEY GIRL

Charged by Wife With Failing to Provide for Her Maintenance.

Charles Webster, of Dorchester, with whom Carrie Liley, the girl who figured some time ago in court on a charge in connection with the death of her infant child, lived, appeared in police court this morning on a charge of a breach of the wife's maintenance act preferred by his wife, Jennie Webster.

Webster alleges that his wife left him of her own accord, and when the court asked him how much he was willing to pay towards her support, he replied that he would not pay a cent. "Oh, yes you will, or I'll commit you to jail," said the magistrate. "You are over in West London living with that Liley girl," continued the court. "You do not look after this wife of yours, and I am going to see if I cannot make you." Webster admitted that the girl was living in the same house as he was, in a boarder there the same as he is. After considerable arguing he agreed to pay $3.50 a week towards his wife's support. If he does not do so he will be brought up in court again and given a term in jail, according to the magistrate.

Lost in London

A Detroit exchange has the following:
At the recent meeting of the Detroit London Old Boys in London, Ont., a couple of the returned wanderers who had not visited the city some 18 or 20 years, undertook a trip to the northern part of the city on Sunday evening to visit some friends.
The return trip was made after nightfall, and the returned "Old Uns" hiked down Richmond street, heading for Dundas. To shorten the trip they cut through Victoria Park. Here is where their geographical knowledge of the city failed them. On reaching the centre of the park they turned north, out on Wellington, over to Waterloo, and straight ahead. After considerable walking they inquired of an old gentleman, who was cleaning the snow of his sidewalk, the whereabouts of Dundas street. "Turn around and go back 17 blocks!" was the reply. So the weary ones turned around and back they went.
To quote the words of Iroquois Jerry McDonald and ex-Alderman Bob Carrothers, "London is getting more like New York every day."

1,000 May Be Dead In Japanese Typhoon

Many Killed in Tidal Wave, Hundreds Drowned in Floods—Train Was Hurlled Into River When It Struck Washout—Thousands Are Homeless.

[Canadian Press.]
Tokio, Aug. 30.—Details of the typhoon, which has raged over Japan for several days past, show that it was more disastrous than first reported, and that the fatalities perhaps aggregate 1,000.

There was a tidal wave at Miyako, Northern Honshu, in which 20 persons were killed. One hundred others there are missing. Hundreds of houses were swept out to sea. One hundred persons were drowned in the floods or killed in landslides in other portions of Northern Honshu, and 2,000 are reported to be unaccounted for.

Great Damage Done.
Great damage was done at Kokkaido, where scores of fishermen were drowned, houses destroyed and railroad bridges inundated. A train was hurled into the river at a washout in the tracks, and seven persons were killed and forty injured. The inhabitants along the coast have fled to the hills, and thousands of them are homeless and suffering. At many points persons on shore admiring the high seas were caught by the waves and swept away. The monetary loss as a result of the storm will be very heavy.

George W. Guthrie, the new American ambassador to Japan, while motoring from Miyazoshita was stopped by waist-deep water outside of Yokohama. He was forced to walk to the railroad station, whence he proceeded by train to Tokio.

EAST MIDDLESEX CONSERVATIVES ARE IN FOR A WARM FIGHT AT NOMINATING CONVENTION

Ballot Battles of Fiercest Kind Expected for this Afternoon Owing to Split in West Nissouri and London Township Delegations—Half a Dozen Candidates, But R. M. Piper's Chances Appear Brightest.

With the delegates on the qui vive for the expected interesting developments of the race, the East Middlesex Conservatives were called to order at 2 p.m. by President John McFarlane, of West Nissouri.

Pre-convention talk placed the names of Ald. Frank S. Glass, of London, and ex-Warden R. M. Piper, of Westminster, in the running as the strongest candidates for the nomination as Conservative standard-bearer in the coming fight.

Followers of the different men in the running are naturally boosting their respective choices, but not even the most partisan is prepared to predict an easy victory for his man. Those whose names are to go before the delegates:

Ald. S. F. Glass, London.

Capt. Tom Robson, London.
Harry Siddie, Lobo Township.
Ex-Warden R. M. Piper, Westminster Township.
President John McFarlane, West Nissouri.

John Geary, London Township.
James Priddy, London Township.
Lieut.-Col. McEwen.
R. L. Guest, London Township.
Major Thomas Beattie, M. P. William Gray, of this city, and Geo. Neely, M. P. for the riding, were called to the platform.

The question whether a representative of The Advertiser would be allowed in the deliberations of the convention was decided in favor by those who said that The Advertiser was entitled to a report of the convention.

COLLEGIATE HEAD WILL BE ELECTED THIS AFTERNOON

Board of Education To Name Principal From Group of Applicants.

Six Well Qualified for Position, Coming Highly Recommended By Education Dept.

Appointment of a successor to F. W. C. McCutcheon as principal of the London Collegiate Institute will be made at a special meeting of the board of education this afternoon. The board meeting will follow a special meeting of No. 1 committee at the Alexandra school, when the ten applications for the principalship are to be considered.

Six Well Qualified.
Members of the committee and of the board profess entire ignorance of who will be the principal. It is asserted that six at least of the applicants are well qualified to assume the principal's chair at the local Collegiate, but just which one will be the choice of committee and board has not yet been determined.

Chairman E. R. Dennis, of the board, who yesterday went to Toronto with the applications, is said to have received the highest recommendations from the department for half a dozen. His report will be a confidential one, and it is expected that no names except that of the successful applicant will be given out for publication, the other applicants having been for the most part labelled "confidential."

No Local Applicants.
No local men are in the running for the principalship, though it is claimed that several former teachers at the local Collegiate have placed their applications before the school board and will very likely receive favorable consideration. Earlier in the Collegiate controversy it was asserted that bringing back any of these former teachers would be equivalent to opening up old sores in the Collegiate management, but this feeling has apparently died out, to a very considerable extent at any rate.

AUTO HITS MAN AT RIDOUT STREET; HURT SERIOUSLY

Ambulance Rushes Victim to Hospital in a Critical Condition.

Bystander Says Car Was Running on the Wrong Side of Road.

George Sisley, 24 Blackfriars street, a middle-aged man, was struck by an automobile delivery wagon at the corner of Ridout and Dundas streets at 2:25 o'clock this afternoon. He was rushed to Victoria Hospital, and his name had not been secured up to 2:45 o'clock.

Bystanders said the auto was going south, and that it struck the man as he passed a wagon. He was thrown down and run over. One man said the auto was on the wrong side.

The delivery auto was owned by Anderson, the butcher.

PLAN TO KEEP UNION MEN OUT OF THE MILITIA

Trades and Labor Council of Brandon Strongly Opposed to Militarism.

Time to Give Thirty Million Dollar Appropriation Its Death Blow.

[Canadian Press.]
Brandon, Aug. 30.—That the Brandon Trades and Labor Council has strong ideas on the question of militarism in Canada, has been shown by the following resolutions unanimously passed, and which it will have brought before the coming Trades Congress at Montreal:

"In view of recent events in Vancouver Island, where militia were used to coerce workers into submitting to conditions imposed upon them by mine owners, this council resolves that it is entirely opposed to militarism, and it requests the Trades Congress, at its convention in Montreal, to play itself on record as being opposed to union men joining militia and that it approves of action of certain international unions that forbids membership to members of militia."

Against Appropriation.
The above resolution was agreed to in a strong speech by W. R. Trotter, a well-known labor leader from Vancouver, B. C., who said the money sometimes asked where they could get an army once workers got wise. It was time for them in Canada to put the money on the $30,000,000 appropriation. International peace would only come through education of the workers. Mr. Trotter referred to the question of immigration to this country. This, he said, would be the biggest question that would be discussed at the Trades Congress.

"If the immigration laws at present on the statute books were observed, there would not be much to complain of," said Mr. Trotter. "But during the last two years, since the present Government have been in office, they have been practically dead letters."

SUNDAY WORK AT FAIR WILL LIKELY PROCEED

No Objection Likely To Be Offered by Lord's Day Alliance.

It is probable that the corporation workmen now employed in rebuilding the fair buildings destroyed in the Queen's Park fire on Friday morning will work right through both Sunday and Monday. An understanding has been effected with the Trades and Labor Council whereby that organization will not make any protest to members of allied unions working on Labor Day.

Rev. J. G. Stuart, president of the Lord's Day Alliance, stated, however, that that organization was not aware of the city's intention to keep men at work on Sunday. He was under the impression that the street railway company had secured permission from the magistrate to keep its men at work some time ago, when new switches on several streets were installed on the Sabbath.

Magistrate Judd, however, stated that no permission could be given by him to anybody to work on Sunday, but when a case came to trial his decision would depend on whether it was a work of necessity. He was of the opinion that the question should not be raised at the present time.

Mr. Stuart said he could not say in advance just how the Lord's Day Alliance would view the action of the city engineer's department in keeping its men at work on Sunday.

INSPECTION IS NECESSARY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Will Serve in Detecting Physical Defects and Various Diseases.

Great Educational Waste Is Caused by Decrease in Students' Vitality.

[Canadian Press.]

Buffalo, Aug. 29.—Dr. Ira S. Wile, a member of the New York City Board of Education, today read his second paper before the fourth International Congress on School Hygiene. His subject was medical inspection of schools as a community investment, and he spoke in part as follows:

"Originally medical inspection was instituted to detect contagious diseases in order to eliminate their spread by school children. Later the belief arose that retardation and deficiencies in studies were due to physical defects, particularly those of the sense organs. This caused an expansion of medical inspection to medical examination."

Today medical inspection virtually includes the discovery of contagious diseases and the determination of physical defects which interfere with ability to perform school work or the detection of physical abnormalities which if neglected will affect the future efficiency of the children.

A Double Function.

"Medical inspection extends in two directions: 1. The inspection of the environment, that is the site, the school buildings, and the various factors of health therein contained; 2. the child—with all its defects and diseases. The medical inspection should consider problems of hygiene, such as light, ventilation, heating, toilet facilities, etc., but primarily he must solve educational questions, such as the establishment of time schedules, the arrangement of recesses, the grouping and specialization of classes. Broadly speaking, the work of medical inspection covers two general fields of endeavor: the preventive and the remedial. With the existing physical defects, correction is the aim of the medical inspector. The more valuable field of effort is in the realm of prophylaxis. It is within his power to detect further defects, deformities and diseases during the period of school life so that deterioration may be prevented during the years of compulsory education. This forms the maximum hygiene benefit which makes medical inspection a valuable investment for the community."

Valuable Data.

"If medical inspection can establish the number of children suffering from malnutrition and then secure the co-operation necessary to restore the sufferers to a condition of normal vitality, the educational benefits will be enormous. The economic and educational value of nutrition has been partially understood from the fact that children with defective teeth take eight and a half years to go through eight grades of school, while children with enlarged glands require 9.2 years to go through the same grades. It is hardly necessary to comment upon the rate of illness as it occurs among children in the primary schools. A large factor in the retardation of children in the elementary schools is the absence of this ill health, and a large part of this ill health is due to malnutrition of the child. A starved mind requires physical as well as mental nourishment."

Educational Waste.

AGREED WITH BABY

This Mother Found The Right Food For Her Baby Girl.

Mrs. Arthur Prince of Meaford, Ont., writes on Sept. 12th, 1913: "Some time ago, you were good enough to send me a sample of Neave's Food. Baby liked it so well and it agreed with her, so I am using it right along and think it is excellent."

"I have a friend with a very delicate baby. She cannot tolerate any other food except Neave's Food. I can sincerely recommend it. Her next baby, which she expects in five months, will be fed on Neave's Food right from the start—she thinks it is so good."

Mother and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book "Hints About Baby" by writing Edwin Utley, 14 Front Street East, Toronto, who is the Agent for Canada. (Mention this paper.)

Neave's Food is sold in 1 lb. airtight tins by all Druggists in Canada.

UNIVERSAL PEACE WAS DREAM OF SIR W. CREMER

Andrew Carnegie Unveils Fine Memorial Bust at the Hague.

The Hague, Aug. 29.—The ceremony of the unveiling today by Andrew Carnegie of a bust of the late Sir William Randall Cremer in the Hall of Justice in the new peace palace was the occasion for a great demonstration in favor of the peace movement.

William Randall Cremer was the originator of the inter-parliamentary conferences, a winner of the Nobel peace prize, and for 37 years secretary of the International Arbitration League.

War's Horrors.

The hall was crowded for the ceremony. Among those in attendance were members of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the International Arbitration League and the Inter-Parliamentary Union.

Mr. Carnegie was loudly cheered as he entered the hall, and his speech was frequently punctuated with applause. The Right Hon. Thomas Burt, dean of the British House of Commons, replied to Mr. Carnegie. He said that all things pointed favorably to the realization of Cremer's dream of universal peace, despite the Balkan war. The barbaric horrors of this war, Mr. Burt added, would arouse a world-wide feeling of revulsion and bring the peace advocates nearer their objective.

Lord Weardale's Tribute.

Lord Weardale, president of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, eulogized Mr. Carnegie, who, he said, had provided Cremer with means which enabled him to accomplish so much in behalf of the peace movement.

Earlier in the day Sir Alan Johnston, British minister to the Netherlands, unveiled a bust of King Edward VII. He paid an eloquent tribute to the late British monarch for his work in behalf of the maintenance of peace abroad and for the submission to arbitration of disputes between capital and labor.

Diplomat and Wife Burned To Death

Spanish Consul's Home Caught When Cigar Was Being Lighted.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 29.—Thousands of curious gathered in many lands and stacked high in the apartments of Hipolito Uriarte, for fifty years a Spanish consul, fed a fire kindled in lighting a cigar early today, which blocked the way of the aged diplomat and his wife to safety.

Uriarte was found dead, leaning across a window-sill; his wife, Marie Louise, mistook a window looking out onto an air shaft for one opening on a fire escape, and plunged four stories to her death.

Uriarte was 82 years old. For 14 years he was Spanish consul-general in New York. His last service was in Canada. During his travels for his Government he had accumulated souvenirs and mementoes of every country in which he had lived. They crowded every nook and cranny of his apartments, and in the smoke resulting from the fire effectively cut him off from escape.

The fire was kindled, it is believed, when Uriarte lit a cigarette. He intended to smoke before going to bed. The aged couple had been up until a late hour celebrating the home-coming of their son, Louis, an accountant in Cuba.

WEDDING BELLS

LIBERSON—COPPERSMITH.

A most interesting ceremony occurred in the Richmond Synagogue on Wednesday, when Miss A. Coppersmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coppersmith, 431 Grey street, was united in marriage to Mr. S. Liberson, of Toronto, in the presence of a large number of guests.

The bride was handsomely attired in a white satin gown trimmed with pearls, and carried a bouquet of flowers. She was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Clara Uttal, of New York City, and her sisters, Misses Lily and Blanch Coppersmith. The maid of honor wore a pink satin gown, trimmed with pearls. Miss Lily Coppersmith wore a gold-colored satin, trimmed with rose buds, and Miss Blanch, pink silk, with chiffon trimming.

The groom was supported by Mr. Coppersmith, New York, and Messrs. M. Silverman, of Rochester, N.Y., and Karmazon, of New York City, acted as ushers.

The happy couple will remain in London for a fortnight, when they will leave for Toronto, where they will make their home.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Grey street.

A BUMPER WHEAT CROP.

Thousands of Men Required—This Year's Harvest Promises To Be the Largest in the History of Canada.

According to present indications the wheat crop of 1913 will be the greatest ever harvested in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, thus requiring the farm laborers of the east to assist in harvesting the world's greatest bread basket.

The Governments of the respective provinces state that many thousands men will be required for this year's harvest. These will have to be principally recruited from Ontario, and the prosperity of Canada depends on securing labor promptly. The Canadian Pacific, on which company will fall practically the entire task of transporting the men to the West, is already making special arrangements for this year. Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run and special trains operated, making the trip in about thirty-six hours and avoiding any change of cars or transfers. This will be a day shorter than any other route. Dates, rates and conditions will be announced in a few days. M. G. Murphy, district passenger agent Canadian Pacific Railway.

CLOSING DAY OF PLAYGROUNDS IN TWO PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Fine Programme of Sports and Games at Chesley and Victoria.

Girls and Boys in Snappy Cricket and Baseball Contests.

The kiddies of London, in two schools at least, on Friday were reminded that the holidays are nearly over, by the closing exercises held at Chesley avenue and Victoria playgrounds.

The young-uns, resolved to enjoy themselves to the last moment, assembled at the Chesley avenue grounds in the morning at 9 o'clock. An excellent and varied program of sports had been arranged, opening with a kite flying contest, in which there were 20 entries. Prizes for this event were won in the following order: F. Tull, P. McLean, C. Graham, Chester Graham, N. Ruddford, J. Welsh, and E. Gilbert.

Girls' Cricket Match.

The feature event of the morning was the girls' cricket match. The team captained by Dorothy Collier won an exciting game from Nellie Tull's team by a score of 27 to 20. The young ladies could teach many boys how to handle cricket bat, and when it comes to the delivery they have that characteristic side-arm swing that is so effective—sometimes.

The Afternoon Program.

The afternoon program opened with races. Mr. Wheable and Rev. W. C. Riddford, oklating as starters. The trials tried their skill first, giving the "professionals" time to warm up for the more strenuous events.

In the biscuit-eating contest for the girls, R. McLean, M. Waggon and H. Weavley won respectively, while for the boys, H. Parker, W. Jones, J. Coffey, were winners. The rules of the game provide that each contestant shall eat the biscuit and then whistle—no particular time specified. Whistling, with a dry mouth, full of dry biscuits, would be difficult even for a bird with a few grains of seed in its beak; and to say some of the attempts were ludicrous would be putting it mildly.

Snappy Baseball.

A snappy baseball game was played between the two Chesley Playground League leaders, the Aberdeens, champions, and the Ramblers, runners-up in the league. Some clever base-running was pulled off, and a fine assortment of curves "dished up" by the opposing pitcher, which the batters stood 4 to 3. The batteries were: James and McGeoch; Bennett and Keddie. Messrs. Wheable and Graham umpired the game satisfactorily.

For the forgotten was girls' baseball game, which was the evening glory of the day. Velma Wilson's hard-hitting team won from Frances Millard's nine by a 12 to 8 score. The winning team might challenge the losers to a game, with excellent chances of success.

A lunch was served about 6 o'clock. Supervisor Graham and his assistant, Miss Tull, are to be congratulated on the splendid work which the children were handled. Rev. W. C. Riddford, pastor of Egerton Street Baptist Church, also lent a willing hand to help make the day a happy and profitable one for the little folks.

Following is a list of races and prize winners:

Boys, under 5—1 E. Waggon, 2 M. Coin, 3 C. Mills.

Girls, under 5—1 H. Collier, 2 T. Nust, 3 E. Gardner.

Boys, under 6—1 E. Gardner, 2 M. Derick, 3 D. Langford.

Girls, under 6—1 N. Paulby, 2 G. Seife, 3 F. Fold.

Boys, under 7—1 T. Blackwell, 2 H. Sandby, 3 H. Griffith.

Girls, under 7—1 M. Collier, 2 M. Durkin, 3 H. Griffith.

Boys, under 8—1 C. Hartford, 2 C. Lewis, 3 G. Dudley.

Girls, under 8—1 S. Toll, 2 M. Durkin, 3 H. Griffith.

Boys, under 10—1 A. Tull, 2 H. Bradley, 3 N. Palmy.

Girls, under 10—1 G. Griffith, 2 H. Mitchell, 3 G. Young.

Boys, under 12—1 J. Hadfield, 2 G. Baskin, 3 D. Davis.

Girls, under 12—1 M. Shaw, 2 H. Meanley, 3 M. Malost.

Boys, under 14—1 C. Bacon, 3 J. McGeoch, 3 W. Howard.

Girls, under 14—1 C. Harris, 2 R. McLean, 3 C. Bradley.

Boys, under 16—1 M. Waggon, 2 E. Bourne, 3 G. Browning.

Girls, under 16—1 C. Hartford, 2 B. James, 3 J. Head.

Boys, under 18—1 C. Harris, 2 F. Tull, 3 M. Waggon, 3 E. Griffith.

High jump, boys—1 J. McGeoch 4 feet 9 inches; 2 T. Beaver, 4 feet 8 inches; 3 H. Parker, 4 feet 7 inches.

At Victoria's Closing.

At Victoria's closing, another large crowd of children and a good sprinkling of adults gathered for the festivities of the afternoon.

The Victorians and a picked Y. M. C. A. junior team clashed in a "fast" game of baseball, the home boys winning by a score of 9 to 1. The lads from the "Y." were not forthcoming with the hits when hits were needed, although they played courageously in the field. Batteries: Hallett and Smith; Gillis and Hughes.

A Barn-Dance.

A quaint barn-dance was given by Winnie Dobbin, Miss Goodridge, Kit White, Bessie Goodie, Marjorie White and Jean Maitland. The young ladies are very proficient in the graceful art, and much favorable comment was forthcoming from the spectators.

The weekly attendance averages 650, while the banner week for the summer months was 810.

Inspected by President.

Butter Makers Are Keeping the Law

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—A number of inspectors employed by the dairy and cold storage branch of the Department of Agriculture, of which Mr. J. A. Ruddick is commissioner, are now out on a tour of the country taking samples of butter in order to ascertain if the provisions of the dairy act are being complied with as regards moisture content.

Nearly one hundred samples have been taken in Eastern Ontario already, and the average water content, as determined by test, was 12.32 per cent, in which was well under the legal limit of 16 per cent.

Only three samples exceeded the moisture limit. The makers were warned, and more samples will be taken from time to time. Offenders are liable to a heavy fine for infractions of the act.

Last winter a number of dealers in Vancouver were heavily fined, it will be remembered, for reworking New Zealand butter and adding moisture to it.

MAY SPEND $500,000.

BOYS BROKE INTO CAR AND STOLE SOME BEER

Three Youths Plead Guilty to Offence, and Elect for Summary Trial.

Charged with breaking a seal on a Michigan Central car and stealing a number of bottles of beer, three youths, two of them 18 years of age, and one 17, appeared in police court this morning, and after electing summary trial, pleaded "guilty" to the offence.

Two of the boys have been in trouble before, one of them having spent term in Mimico. Of late he has been behaving himself and working every day to support his mother, who, the magistrate declares, is an excellent woman and burdened with considerable trouble caused by her family. Her husband, it is alleged, refuses to contribute anything to her support, and her only daughter was sent to the Alexandra School for Girls at Toronto some time ago.

Pleading For a Chance.
When the boy stood up in court this morning to answer to the charge, his eyes filled with tears, and he pleaded to be given another chance, saying that he would do better in future.

The other two lads, the older of whom looks to be about 21 years of age, were tried together with the first. A Grand Trunk freight last night, after they had been served with a summons to appear in court on the theft charge. Grand Trunk Constable Hughes was "on the job," however, and before they could board a freight, he arrested them on a charge of trespassing on private property. If it had not been for this fact they might have been allowed to go on bail this morning. The youngest one of the trio has been in the city for two months, having come here from Sheddin to visit an aunt. It is claimed that he refuses to work and is incorrigible.

The court decided to remand the two that tried to make their escape until Tuesday morning, and to accept bail for the other one in the sum of $50 to appear at the same time for sentence. It is likely that all three will be allowed to go, if someone will promise to look after them.

A fourth lad who was mixed up in the case escaped to the United States, but a warrant was sworn out for his arrest this morning.

LONDON BOY HONORED BY HIS ALMA MATER

Mr. Walter G. Wright Is Appointed Lecturer and Demonstrator at McGill.

Another great compliment has been paid Mr. Walter Gense Wright, son of ex-Alderman W. D. I. Wright, of this city, by his appointment as lecturer and demonstrator in the department of science at McGill University.

Mr. Wright graduated only this spring at McGill, taking the British association prize. It is an unusual honor for a graduate to be appointed to the staff of his alma mater immediately after taking his degree. Mr. Wright's undergraduate career has been brilliant.

DRAYMAN DEFIES G. T. R. REFUSES TO MOVE OFFICE

Carter Ordered to Vacate, But So Far He Has Not Complied.

Within the next few days the last relics of the old York street dray-stand, the old office of the draymen, which have been maintained at the rear of the Grand Trunk depot—will disappear if the Grand Trunk has any say in the matter.

The three offices were leased to the London Transfer Company, the City Dray Company, and to Messrs. Deer, Dean, Holding and Williamson for five years. Two of the leases expired on the 30th of June last, and the third will not expire until the 1st of December, 1914.

At the request of businessmen, the Grand Trunk officials conferred with the tenants of the offices, asking them to vacate the premises today. Two of them agreed to do this, but the third, Mr. Charles Wright, it is said, refused to vacate his office. The legal department of the company in Montreal was notified of this, and after making inquiries, sent orders to this city to the effect that he would have to leave today. This he refuses to do, and it is said that he has taken the necessary steps immediately to make him move.

Say London Man Refused to Help

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Aug. 30.—A Caradoc man, the second within a week, was today fined $40 and costs by Magistrate Patterson. There were two charges against him, one of creating a disturbance on a C. P. R. passenger train between Woodstock and Ingersoll on Monday, Aug. 25, and of being drunk in a local option town. He pleaded guilty to both charges, and the fine was promptly paid. Both men who have been called upon to pay the increased fine for drunkenness belong to Caradoc, and were employees of the C. P. R.

A London man who was charged by Detective Helling with refusing to assist a police officer in the discharge of his duty pleaded not guilty, and the case was adjourned for a week to allow the defendant to subpoena witnesses.

ORGANIZER OF THE FORCES FOR GOOD ARRIVES IN CITY

H. W. Lyons, B.A., Will Have Permanent Office in Dominion Savings Building.

Men's Federation, For Whom He Acts, Is the First of Its Kind in Dominion.

Mr. H. W. Lyons, B.A., recently appointed permanent secretary of the Men's Federation, arrived in the city from Woodstock this afternoon, and will take up his new duties Monday morning. He will occupy the pulpit of New St. James' Presbyterian Church at both services Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Thomas H. Mitchell, who will preach in Mount Pleasant.

Although still a young man, Mr. Lyons is well-qualified for the work he has undertaken in London. The Men's Federation was formed with the object of promoting social and moral reforms in the city, and a permanent secretary was deemed necessary to accomplish the work of organization and to keep in touch with all the various men's organizations in the city churches, which are united to form the federation.

An Office Secured.
Mr. Lyons' peculiar fitness for the position resulted in his appointment some time ago. An office has been engaged in the Dominion Savings Building, from whence he will be able to efficiently direct the work of the organization. He is a graduate of Knox College, Toronto, and has taken a special course in political science at Toronto University. Last year he held the prominent position of president of the Students' Missionary Society of Knox College. Mr. Lyons has also had five years' experience in the Woodstock Sentinel-Review. In a letter of appreciation of him a few weeks ago, the editor of that journal declared that he was an organizing genius, and that if he did not succeed in his work here it would not be altogether his fault.

First of Its Kind.
The work he comes to do is new, the organization being the first of its kind to be formed in Canada. There is a wide field for him in London, and the men of all churches who want to see the progress of righteousness in the city will give him a cordial welcome.

Mr. Lyons will present the work of the federation in some church of the city probably every Sunday, and will aim to bring the membership up to 1,000. At present it is about 300.

The federation will probably undertake a social survey of the city this fall.

MADE A GREAT HIT WITH THE LADIES.

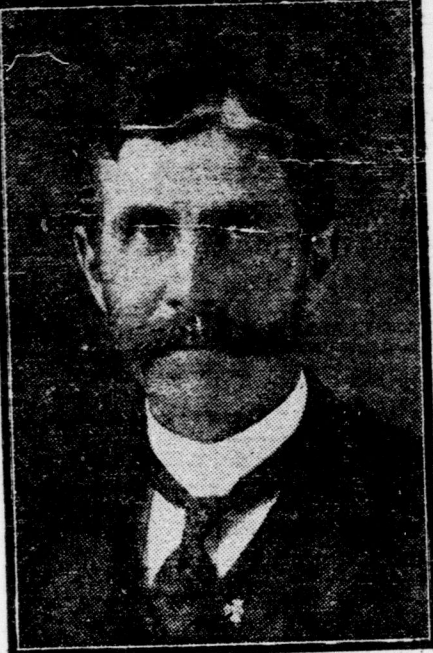

Imperial Patterns. Numerously Applied for at The Advertiser.

From early morning until late in the evening Saturday afternoon a stream of customers gravitated to the Embroidery Department of The Advertiser to secure one or more of the celebrated outfits of Imperial Patterns, which are embroidered transfers by a new process, an art that any girl may follow with profit and pleasure, in all the latest designs for the decoration of fabrics, linings, or any other articles that lend themselves to its application. Not only were young ladies in evidence as eager buyers, but young girls, old ladies and men of all ages. Hundreds of packets on Saturday's opening day were handed across the counter to satisfied purchasers who qualified by presenting six embroidery coupons clipped from The Advertiser, and a foregone conclusion to be expected from an offer so unique and advantageous to every lady in the land.

Out-of-town patrons are required to add 10 cents to pay postage for the mailing of their packet, but this extra does not appear to affect the demand, as mail orders are pouring in by the hundreds, no doubt largely caused by the fact that the opportunity may never occur again by which over $10 worth of latest style embroidery patterns can be obtained for 68 cents.

DIAZ SAYS HE IS CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

Lind Says He Will Not Return Without Invitation From Huerta.

France Is Behind States in Effort to Secure Peaceful Settlement.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Aug. 30.—I am now definitely a candidate for the office of president of Mexico," General Felix Diaz, who recently arrived here from Canada, told the Associated Press today.

"My friends in Mexico are working in my behalf," continued General Diaz. "Unfortunately at this distance I myself am unable to do much, but I am awaiting instructions which may simplify matters."

"Even if I am ordered to proceed to Japan, it is not certain that I shall go there. My action will depend upon coming events in Mexico."

General Felix Diaz apparently is pleased with the course of events in Mexico. He said that the contention that Victoriano Huerta's candidacy for the presidency was barred by the Mexican constitution was quite correct. He declared the fact that he was still an official representative of the Mexican Government, hebarred him from discussing President Wilson's message or the Mexican replies.

CAMACHO PROTESTS.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Aug. 30.—Senator Sebastian Camacho, president of the Mexican Senate, has sent a telegram to Jas. A. The message made public here today declares that the American colony

PROMISED ELECTION.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Aug. 30.—"I am now definitely a candidate for the office of president of Mexico," General Felix Diaz, who recently arrived here from Canada, told the Associated Press today.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, Aug. 30.—General Felix Diaz, interviewed by the London correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, is quoted as saying that there had been no discussion as to General Huerta's candidacy for president of Mexico.

"When our mission left Mexico," General Diaz said, "it was with the understanding that it was fair and open election would be arranged, and that I would be back in Mexico when it was held. I have the kindest feelings towards the United States."

WANTS AN INVITATION.

[Canadian Press.]
Vera Cruz, Aug. 30.—John Lind, president Wilson's personal representative, left today for Mexico City, where he will be interviewed by the Mexican press on special invitation of President Huerta. He probably will take passage for the United States on the next Ward Line steamer sailing from this port.

WILL HOLD ON.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Aug. 30.—The Economist, reviewing the Mexican situation, foresees the possibility of General Huerta holding the presidency indefinitely, because, it says, he is prohibited as provisional president from being a candidate for the office, and an election cannot take place constitutionally until peace is restored.

STRONG FOR PEACE.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, Aug. 30.—The attitude of the French Government on the situation between the United States and Mexico, says the Matin, is inspired by the traditional friendship toward the United States and a keen desire that all American questions be arranged in agreement with the Washington Government.

French representatives of the United States and Mexico, the Matin continues, "have been instructed to aid as much as possible in bringing about an understanding between the United States and Mexico. The foreign office is convinced that the United States has no other aim than to re-establish peace in Mexico, for which wishes prosperity and peace. Official circles praise the moderation and calmness exhibited in the attitude of President Wilson and the American people."

EASTERNERS ARE DISPLEASED AT PALMA CHOICE

Claim That Not a Man Was Taken From East of Ottawa.

Major Hart McHarg, of Vancouver, Won the Governor-General's Prize.

[Canadian Press.]
Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 30.—The men of the east are putting up a pretty strong kick at the D. R. A. over the selection of the first ten of the Palma trophy team, who were announced last night.

"There is not a man on that team east of Ottawa," pointed out one of the men from the Maritime Provinces. "What is the matter with the eastern shots? Look at the grand aggregate. You will find that there are eastern shots right near the top. Take the scores at the long ranges, figure it up any way you like, and you will find many from the east right up in the forefront. But on the team are fifteen chosen from Vancouver to Ottawa, and it stops there. No one has been selected from farther east."

Chose Two More.
The committee selected two more today, completing the twelve. They are Staff Sgt. A. Graham, of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, and Sgt. Major Dymond, of the R. C. I. P. who might be said to represent Halifax.

"We did not consider the men by provinces at all," said Lieut.-Col. Holmer. "There were no men from Quebec, or New Brunswick, or Prince Edward Island who made application to go on the team. There were only four from Nova Scotia, and after careful consideration it was decided that none of these should be chosen. In fact, when we were selecting the team, we did not consider the place the men came from at all. The list was not divided according to provinces or any other way."

Lieut. Steek, of the 75th Nova Scotia, was considered, but he has not been feeling well lately, and consequently was not selected.

Won First Prize.

Major Hart McHarg, of the Sixth D. C. O. R., Vancouver, wins the Governor-General's prize at the D. R. A., with a score of 202 out of a possible 210.

Gunner McCallum, Fifth C. G. A. Victoria, and Sgt. Denslow, 79th Winnipeg, are next with a total of 201.

Major Hart McHarg receives the Governor-General's gold medal and $200. The securing of the three first places in the blue ribbon event of the meet is a great victory for Western Canada.

Tyro Prizes.

CITY GUIDE NEEDED FOR MAZES AT NEW QUARTERS

Even the City Officials Themselves Do Not Know "Where They Are At."

There is room for another city official—to wit, a city guide. The temporary city hall quarters at the Spencer block are somewhat "queer" to the citizen who desires to visit the various city departments. In the absence of any sign posts or directory at the new city hall, a guide, attired in suitable uniform, would be a real necessity. The exact location of the different departments are unknown to the city officials themselves. City Building Inspector A. M. Piper is the only one who has got the "hang" of the buildings yet. It is to overcome this unfamiliarity with the geography, or topography, or floorography, of the buildings that the guide suggestion is made.

Between and Between.
Between and between is the city hall situation this morning. Part of the offices are at the Spencer Block, most of the furniture is there and part of the city officials are still on Richmond street. Besides a cash box and a few penholders, the city treasurer's office has been stripped. Treasurer Bell was holding the fort in his own office this morning with one stool and a desk. There wasn't even that much furniture in the office of the city clerk. The entire electrical and waterworks offices from the second floor of the city hall have been removed to the new quarters, and practically all of the engineering equipment and office furniture has gone likewise.

Tax Collector George Hayes was holding down the fort in the new hall today. Paper hangers were at work, and dust brick chips were inches deep, but the doctory major stuck to his guns—or his pen. It will be several weeks before his office, or indeed any of them, are fit for occupancy.

As yet the board of education offices have not yet been moved. There is a possibility that they may not be. The quarters in the new city hall are said to be unsuitable, and therefore may not be occupied by the officials of the board.

ORANGE LILY

Women's disorders always yield from the very beginning of the treatment to the mild but effective action of Orange Lily. Within two or three days after commencing its use the improvement becomes noticeable, and this improvement continues until the patient is completely cured. Orange Lily is an applied or local treatment, and acts directly on the womanly organ, removing the congestion, toning and strengthening the nerves, and restoring perfect circulation to the diseased parts. In order to convince all suffering women of the value of this remedy, I will send a 35-cent box, enough for ten days' treatment, absolutely FREE to each lady sending me her address. MRS. FRANCES E. LORD HALDANE.

The man, his office and his mission combine to give Lord Haldane's visit to the United States and Canada an international interest.Lord Haldane is a giant in intellect and exactly answers the definition of a statesman as a philosopher in action.
He could vary a thriving law practice with lectures on Hegel, and could turn from his books and the bar to administer the most difficult and effete department of the British Government, the war office, which he shook to pieces and rebuilt.As Lord Haldane holds the highest salaried position under the crown, and next to the prime minister's, the most exalted. He is the head of the legal profession of England, and presides over the House of Lords.
Around his office cluster the traditions of centuries. By all classes and parties in Great Britain it is admitted that Lord Haldane is worthy of the wool-sack, as a lawyer, a publicist and a scholar.As the first Lord high chancellor to leave his country during his term of office in over 400 years, he pays a significant compliment to his guests,
the American Bar Association. It is a testimony to the binding influence of the principles of jurisprudence. The republic made the British common law
the basis of its legal system, a tie which can never be broken and which was a subtle bond of unity in the unhappiest era of Anglo-American relations. The meeting of the association on Canadian soil is another happy expression of Anglo-Saxon unity.Canada bids her visitor welcome for his own sake, and for the sake of his office and his errand.

VEILED BRIBERY.

The Hon. Robert Rogers has been out west, and making speeches. Of course, he was glorifying the Government, and abusing the Liberals. That is apparently his principal business,
when he is not disposing of some land for the benefit of a party friend, or engineering an election. Speeches of that kind do not call for much attention, except from Conservative papers.
But we notice a paragraph in the Mail and Empire's report of a speech at Moose Jaw, which would seem to be characteristic of the man, not only of what he says, but of what he hints. He was condoning with the people because they did not have "responsible government." So far as we can make out the reason why they have not responsible government is because the power is in the hands of the Liberals in that province. They will not get it until they turn the Liberals out and put Conservatives in.Mr. Rogers went on to point out that one of the results of not having responsible government was that the people of the province do not control their own crown lands. Now the reason why the northwestern provinces do not control their crown lands is because when they were organized the population was small; the great need at that time was an active immigration of the best quality. They were not in a condition to establish an extensive immigration policy; they did not have the money to do it with. But the Dominion Government took charge of that matter, and spent Dominion money freely for the purpose. And if the Dominion Government was to use its money and influence to provide a population through its immigration department it was necessary that it should have the control of the vacant land upon which it wanted to settle its emigrants. That the time would come when the provinces would be able to look after this for themselves was admitted, and when they are able to do that their crown lands would be turned over to them just as is the case in the older provinces. Has that time come now? Mr. Rogers is very careful not to say so. Here is a quotation from the Mail and Empire's report:"Let us hope that the day is not far distant when through the action of your good citizens with the establishment of responsible government,
under British law, and British justice,
you will be able to take up with the Government of Canada the great question of the transfer from the Dominion to this province of your natural resources."If the time has come now to take up this question with the Government of which Mr. Rogers is a member, he could very well have said so. But he does not say that. He hopes they will be able to take this up with the Dominion authorities, "with the establishment of responsible government." Doubtless the more acute among his hearers recognized his meaning. "Get rid of the Liberal Government in the provinces, and establish responsible government. Then you will be able to take this matter up with the Dominion au-thorities." Veiled bribery, at the least.
And yet very cunningly worded. Because he does not say that even then Mr. Borden and his colleagues will transfer the crown lands to the province. It is the inference to be drawn from his speech. But he is careful to make no definite promise, for the very good reason that he is not anxious to surrender the opportunities that come to a corrupt politician through the control of large tracts of unoccupied land.
But he throws out the bait. Just turn out these Liberals; then come to us and see what we will do for you. All of which would seem to be very characteristic of Mr. Rogers.

PROVINCIAL REPRESENTATION.

When the premiers of the different provinces meet in consultation, as they propose doing, they will doubtless be asked by the Maritime Provinces to consider the question of representation in the Dominion Parliament. For they have felt for some years that they have had a grievance. Under the British America act, Quebec is made the standard for purposes of representation. It always has 65 members. After each census there is to be a redistribution of seats. The population of Quebec is divided by 65, and the resulting number is taken as the unit of representation for all constituencies in the Dominion. Thus, if Quebec shows 30,000 as the population of each riding, the other provinces are so divided that each riding will have the same number of voters. As a natural consequence, those provinces which have grown the most rapidly will have the greatest increase in representatives, while those that have not made progress will find their quota decreased.This rule has been working to the disadvantage of the Maritime Provinces. They lost several members after the last redistribution, while the Western Provinces had an increase.
Western result will follow from the next rearrangement of constituencies unless the law is changed. A strong protest was made ten years ago against this condition of affairs, and will be repeated now. The provincial premiers will probably content themselves with recommending the matter to the consideration of the Government; that is all they can do. Then Mr. Borden will have to wrestle with it.It is not a simple problem. The basis of representation in the Dominion House of Commons is equality of population. That is a cardinal principle of Confederation, not likely to be disregarded. Under any such system some provinces must have a larger representation than others. And if the population of any province increases faster than that of others, its representation must increase. Some effort was made to give a certain equality to the provinces, irrespective of population, by the constitution of the Senate on the principle adopted in the United States. But in this latter country the Second Chamber possesses far greater powers than ours, so that the greater proportionate strength of the Maritime Provinces in this body does not meet their grievance as to diminishing power in the popular House.We can sympathize with our eastern friends in their desire for some relief in this matter. At the same time, a violation of the basis of representation as fixed by the Confederation Act is not to be permitted without grave consideration. If it can be changed to suit the Maritime Provinces it may be changed some time to suit the west, or to suit Quebec. It is a dangerous precedent to establish. A better solution of the difficulty, and one that is largely in the hands of the people most interested, is for the eastern provinces to start a progressive campaign for their own development.
There is plenty of room for them to grow and increase their population. Of late, the tendency of immigration has been towards the west, because that is a new country. But the older east has opportunities for the settler; it has opportunities for its own people. If it wants its share of the Dominion's growth it must work for it. Prosperity does not usually come without effort made by someone. This applies to Ontario; and while the Government may encourage the best kind of immigrants, the municipalities and the people must do their share in retaining what we have. And if it applies to Ontario, it applies with greater force to the provinces down by the sea. They have not been growing as fast as they should. If they would not be quite as contented with the situation as they are, if they would bestir themselves in developing their own magnificent resources, encouraging their own people to greater activity, inducing immigrants to settle with them, they would have their full share of the national prosperity, and there would be no need to talk about amending the law, and securing themselves against any reduction in their parliamentary representation.Sam Hughes would serve the west better if he could devise a combination drill shed and grain elevator.
Congratulations to Mr. Fred. J.
Darch on his election as supreme secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters. He is an enterprising and capable citizen of London, and the I.

Ald. Richter's election as presidentof the Ontario Municipal Association is a merited tribute to a man whose aptitude for municipal affairs amounts to genius. The citizens of London have been fortunate in his services,
and should be glad to see them recognized by outsiders.Our local contemporary pays no compliment to local Conservative businessmen when it seeks to drive them cracking the party whip. The business community is going to be governed by business considerations. Almost to a man it is opposed to the electri-

ASSIMILABLE IMMIGRANTS.

[Buffalo Express.]
Canada is to be congratulated upon the character of its immigration in the last thirteen years. According to the figures just published by the Canadian Minister of the Interior, about 2,500,000 immigrants have reached the Dominion since July 1, 1900. Of these newcomers by far the greater number have been English-speaking people. The United States contributed a little more than 891,000 and the British Isles sent nearly 874,000. From countries where English is not spoken the immigration all told was about 658,000. This means that the bulk of the immigrants received by Canada have been of the easiest assimilable kind. More than 1,700,000 of the 2,500,000 newcomers spoke the language of the country which they entered and they were used to the institutions they found there.

folding their tent like the gypsy, and proved our wisdom.

cruiser New Zealand arrived here yesterday. Capt. Lionel Halsey and the tour of the canal today. Among the entertainments arranged in honor of the visitors are a reception by Sir

to be given by the members of the British and American colonies. The New Zealand will leave Panama Sept.
4. Among the officers on board the vessel is Lieut. Prince George of Battenberg, a cousin of King George.Four Drowned by Canoes Capsizing[Canadian Press.]

were drowned in Adirondack lakes yesterday by the capsizing of canoes. Miss Hannah Griffith, of New York, was teen-year-old William, of Rochester, was upset by rough water. Mrs. Wilson clung to the canoe and was rescued by a motor boat. Miss Griffith's body was not recovered.On Blue Mountain Lake, Mildred Hale, Lillian Gates and Oscar Hannah,

all young people who lived on the shore

ALDERMAN RICHTER
IS HIGHLY HONORED
BY MUNICIPAL ASSN.Elected President at Annual Convention Now Being Held at Toronto.Resolution Adopted Asking That Motors Be Limited To Ten
Miles in Hilly Country.Toronto, Aug. 30.—Alderman J. G.
Richter, of London, was elected president of the Ontario Municipal Association for the coming year at yesterday's session of that body at the city hall. The other officers elected were: First vice-president, Mayor E.
Lennox, of Owen Sound; second vice-president, A. K. Bunnell, Brantford;
third vice-president, W. C. Coughell, Yarmouth; fourth vice-president,
Mayor C. C. Cole, of Niagara Falls;
fifth vice-president, W. H. Cooper,
Hamilton; secretary-treasurer, F. S.
Spence, Toronto.Sewage Disposal.
Mr. E. Sherman Chase, of the Sewage Experimental Station, of New York, read a paper on sewage disposal, and Mr. F. S. Spence, chairman of the Toronto Harbor Commission, discussed the subject of transportation. He emphasized the importance of water communication in reducing the cost of freights and the cost of living. He also gave an interesting explanation of the plans for the improvement of Toronto harbor.A resolution was adopted asking that the act respecting the operation of motor vehicles be amended to limit the speed of automobiles on hilly or crooked roads to ten miles an hour.
"Could we not have a law passed which would make it illegal to manufacture a car that would run more than ten miles an hour?" asked a delegate. "This would stop all fines and most accidents." The suggestion was not taken up and the speaker was asked to bring it forward at a future meeting.Town Planning.
The association decided to second the Toronto Board of Trade when it appeared before the Provincial or Federal Government to discuss questions of town planning or municipal betterment. Another resolution proposed an amendment to the local improvement act for the purpose of relieving the municipalities of the necessity to pass a separate debenture bylaw to provide for the cost of every minor public work.

CITY HALL ALTERATIONS DELAYED BY THE FIRE

Every Available Carpenter in the City Busy at Fair Grounds.

Work on the city hall alterations—
that is alterations on the Spencer Block city hall have been rudely interrupted by the fire at the exhibition grounds yesterday. Every available carpenter was taken from the city hall work to the reconstruction now in progress in Queen's Park. There is considerable carpentry to be done around the temporary city offices yet, but this will have to await the completion of the temporary buildings at the fair grounds.

With the handicap occasioned by the transfer of the carpenters, the completion of the Spencer Block alterations has been thrown back more than a week. It is expected that it will be the end of September before the last of the carpenters, plumbers, paperhangers and painters are out of the city's new quarters.

In contrast to the city offices is the practically completed state of the water commission quarters. By Tuesday morning the offices of Secretary Elwood and of the hydro and waterworks department will be ready for business.
The last payments of water and light bills was made at the city hall on Richmond street, today. Hereafter it will be in the new quarters that the monthly light bills and the water rates are paid.

HIGH COURT OF FORESTERS CLOSES BIENNIAL SESSION

Active System of Organization Laid Out for Next Two Years.

With the adoption of the report of the executive council on organization, the high court of the Ancient Order of Foresters closed its 19th biennial session in the Dominion Savings building Friday afternoon. An active system of organization was laid out, embracing plans covering two years' operations. The report was unanimously adopted.

Grant for Juveniles. It was decided to make a grant of $400 to the juvenile branches in the furtherance of their work. It was also resolved to advertise in the leading papers in England, as a means of information regarding the order to settlers and others leaving the British Isles to make new homes in Canada.

Officers Installed. At the close of the convention the installation of the new officers elected for the next two years was held. Closing addresses were given by W. J. Vale, of Toronto; Dr. Secord, of Brantford; H. C. Wilson, of Toronto, and others. Tributes of appreciation were paid to the efforts of the superintendent of organization for the past two years, Mr. Fred G. Butt, of Toronto. Mr. Butt was unanimously re-elected to the same office to hold office for two years more.

RELATIONS WITH GERMANY WERE NEVER BETTER

Lord Haldane Says He Expects They Will Be Even Friendlier.

Favors Woman Suffrage, But Is Opposed To Militant Methods.

New York, Aug. 30.—The first Lord High Chancellor to leave Great Britain on a public mission since Cardinal Wolsey's time is sight-seeing in New York today.

Lord Haldane comes for five days, and primarily to address the American Bar Association at Montreal. He will return to this city Tuesday night and will sail for England on the Lusitania at 1 p.m. Wednesday. He goes to West Point today also, and thence to Albany and Montreal. Last night he was entertained at a dinner given in behalf of the association by C. A. Severance, of St. Paul.

Favors Suffrage. Lord Haldane freely discussed many questions of the day, declared he was in favor of woman suffrage, prophesied that a millennium of peace was far off, said that the relations between Germany and England were never better, and predicted home rule for Ireland would soon be an accomplished fact.

With a merry twinkle in his blue eyes, the Lord Chancellor joked and quipped with his interviewers between sections, remarks, and conceded that the American custom of interviewing distinguished visitors was "delightfully progressive."

Peace Far Off. "It would be a very sanguine person," he said, when asked his opinion of the influence of the Peace Palace at The Hague, "who can see the dawn of international peace. It is useless to look out the country. Many want a stricter divorce law, many want a much more liberal one—there is as great a difference of opinion as among your states."

"It is as important for me to meet you as for you to meet me," he went on. "I have been anxious to tell you how much I like your new methods and the vigor that I find, not only in your newspapers, but in your literature and most phases of American life. For years I have studied the opinions of your great Chief Justice Marshall, and I am convinced that the Harvard law school is a model for the world."

Contrast of Courts. Of English and American courts, and Lord Haldane said: "Of your courts and procedure I know something from study, but I had the pleasure of coming over with an old friend, Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States supreme court, and he posted me a great deal on the law and courts of your country."

"How is it in England?" he asked. "The pressure of coming over with an old friend, Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States supreme court, and he posted me a great deal on the law and courts of your country."

Great Seal Following. "Did you bring the great seal with you?" he was asked before the Cunard docked. "Ah, some marine monster was observed near the ship," replied Viscount Haldane. "Perhaps it was the great seal following."

His first word, once off the pier, was: "Where is Broadway?" He was keen to see an electric locomotive drawing a limited train, came swiftly to the Grand central station platform and stop; he wanted to see Delmonico's, and after that asked for the public library. He had not been at the hotel a half hour before a start was made at furthering his acquaintance. Lord Haldane was accompanied by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Haldane, and Sir Kenneth Muir-Mackenzie, clerk of the crown.

Opposes Militants. Although in favor of woman suffrage, Lord Haldane doesn't like militant methods. "You are fortunate to have no militant here," he said. "Personally, I am friendly to woman suffrage. But the methods of the English militant suffragettes have delayed their success for years. I hope your suffragettes won't become militant. There is no chance of suffrage being a Government measure. Our cabinet is hopelessly divided, and the same condition exists in the United States. Liberals are in favor of woman suffrage, half against; half the Conservatives in favor, half against."

Was Never Nearer. Of the prospects of home rule he remarked: "It has never been nearer remarked than it is today. The home rule bill needs to pass the Commons only once more, and I believe that next spring home rule will become an accomplished fact. There is a great problem, of course, the people there feel strongly on the religious prospects of home rule. But as for identity and union, it is futile today. You can't keep the hands of the clock from advancing."

Divorce Questions. He was asked about the controversy over a divorce law in England. "At this time I don't care to say anything about it," he replied. "The Government is not ready to take a position. A new divorce law may become a Government measure if an agreement can be reached on points for such a law. The royal commission was divided and made two reports. The division is general throughout the country. Many want a stricter divorce law, many want a much more liberal one—there is as great a difference of opinion as among your states."

"It is as important for me to meet you as for you to meet me," he went on. "I have been anxious to tell you how much I like your new methods and the vigor that I find, not only in your newspapers, but in your literature and most phases of American life. For years I have studied the opinions of your great Chief Justice Marshall, and I am convinced that the Harvard law school is a model for the world."

Contrast of Courts. Of English and American courts, and Lord Haldane said: "Of your courts and procedure I know something from study, but I had the pleasure of coming over with an old friend, Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States supreme court, and he posted me a great deal on the law and courts of your country."

"How is it in England?" he asked. "The pressure of coming over with an old friend, Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States supreme court, and he posted me a great deal on the law and courts of your country."

Great Seal Following. "Did you bring the great seal with you?" he was asked before the Cunard docked. "Ah, some marine monster was observed near the ship," replied Viscount Haldane. "Perhaps it was the great seal following."

His first word, once off the pier, was: "Where is Broadway?" He was keen to see an electric locomotive drawing a limited train, came swiftly to the Grand central station platform and stop; he wanted to see Delmonico's, and after that asked for the public library. He had not been at the hotel a half hour before a start was made at furthering his acquaintance. Lord Haldane was accompanied by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Haldane, and Sir Kenneth Muir-Mackenzie, clerk of the crown.

Opposes Militants. Although in favor of woman suffrage, Lord Haldane doesn't like militant methods. "You are fortunate to have no militant here," he said. "Personally, I am friendly to woman suffrage. But the methods of the English militant suffragettes have delayed their success for years. I hope your suffragettes won't become militant. There is no chance of suffrage being a Government measure. Our cabinet is hopelessly divided, and the same condition exists in the United States. Liberals are in favor of woman suffrage, half against; half the Conservatives in favor, half against."

Was Never Nearer. Of the prospects of home rule he remarked: "It has never been nearer remarked than it is today. The home rule bill needs to pass the Commons only once more, and I believe that next spring home rule will become an accomplished fact. There is a great problem, of course, the people there feel strongly on the religious prospects of home rule. But as for identity and union, it is futile today. You can't keep the hands of the clock from advancing."

Divorce Questions. He was asked about the controversy over a divorce law in England. "At this time I don't care to say anything about it," he replied. "The Government is not ready to take a position. A new divorce law may become a Government measure if an agreement can be reached on points for such a law. The royal commission was divided and made two reports. The division is general throughout

WESTERN FARMERS TO HAVE A NEW AGRICULTURAL BANK

Tired of Being Held Up By Present System They Plan To Follow Scheme Which Is Working Out Well in Germany.

[Canadian Press.]

Regina, Sask., Aug. 30.—Following investigations by the Provincial Government into the question of agricultural credits, both by the commission sent to Europe and the commission taking evidence in the province, it is possible that at no far distant date the first agricultural bank in Canada will be formed in Saskatchewan.

The bank proposed is modelled after the Landeskreditbank of Germany, which instead of being composed of lenders is constituted of borrowers, working on a co-operative basis. The bank's assets are the credits of each individual farmer of the province, who guarantees bonds issued by the agricultural bank by his own possessions. The fundamental principle is joint borrowing for individual benefit.

Funds From Europe. The bank will obtain its funds in Europe at the lowest rate of interest possible, and will re-lend money to its members at a slightly higher rate, the difference being sufficient to cover the actual operating costs of the organization. The bank will also call for the issue of coupon bonds, say at $1,000. Interest coupons are detached by the holder on maturity, and cashed at the bank headquarters, or by its London representative.

Money for the bonds is then placed at the disposal of the farmers, who borrow sufficient for their needs, giving personal guarantees. As they pay interest due on their individual loan, money becomes available for payment of the bond coupons on maturity.

First-Class Security. Bonds, which bear interest at 5 per cent are redeemable on six months' notice. European experience has proved that such bonds are first-class security ranking with governmental bonds.

Carried out in detail, the plans call for the establishment of local credit associations, each merged into the provincial whole, each member of which pledges himself for the credit of the association. Little outside help will be asked, the bank being self-sustaining. It is likely that if the plan comes to fruition, as many prominent farmers expect, the Provincial Government will be asked to pass legislation asking for the establishment of associations, and probably for a small sum of money for organization purposes. The provincial authorities will also be asked to supervise the issuing of bonds and perhaps at first to guarantee them until the bank is well established.

Chaufeur Killed When Car Upset

[Canadian Press.]

Montpelier, Vt., Aug. 29.—The automobile of Mrs. W. G. Ross, of Montpelier, plunged down an embankment and overturned near here today, causing the death of the chauffeur, Oliver Gendreau, and serious injury to Mrs. Ross and James Van Wagoner, of New York.

Mrs. Alice Ross, the other occupants of the car, were only slightly hurt. The party was bound from Burlington Woods, N. H., to Burlington, on their way to Montreal. It is believed that Gendreau, to avoid a ditch, turned the car over the embankment.

In its fall the automobile turned over twice and pinned the chauffeur under the wreckage.

Mrs. Ross and Mr. Van Wagoner were brought to a hospital here, the former with a broken leg and ankle and the latter with internal injuries, the extent of which have not been determined.

Thinks Holy Roller Cured Her Neuralgia

[Canadian Press.]

Framingham, Mass., Aug. 29.—In the trial of Maria Etter, a "Holy Roller" leader from Ohio, who was arrested here charged with fraud in leading a camp meeting and claiming to heal persons in all stages of disease, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Davis, of St. Thomas, Ont., testified in favor of the prisoner, saying that she suffered terribly with neuralgia and an ulcerated tooth and that "the Lord, through Mrs. Etter," cured her. "I believe Mrs. Etter a chosen child of God to do His work," she said.

Dozens of men and women prominent socially spoke in favor of the healer and many claimed they had been healed of terrible forms of disease and cured completely by her.

The police say she is a hypnotist.

Egan, of Brooklyn, who have been appointed by Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, as special commissioners to investigate the industrial disputes act of Canada, will arrive in Ottawa on Thursday for the purpose of consulting with officials of the labor department.

The two commissioners have been instructed to find out whether the Canadian industrial disputes act is a superior one to the Massachusetts act governing labor disputes. One subject in particular to be studied is the method of procedure when the trouble is in a public service corporation, and when in a private business.

In addition to conferring with the labor department officials the visitors will also meet some of the principals who have figured in recent industrial disputes in this country.

P. M. HEAD IN CITY GOES OVER LAKE LINE

Visit May Have Some Connection With Lease of the Road.

Mr. W. R. Hearst, general superintendent of the Pere Marquette, was in London for a short time Friday afternoon in the private car "Detroit." After spending a short time in conversation with several of the Grand Trunk officials he left for Port Stanley to inspect the line between this city and that place. He returned from Port Stanley this morning, and left St. Thomas this afternoon for Walkerville. The Grand Trunk officials with whom he conversed were reticent, and would say nothing about the nature of his business, but it is thought that it may have to do with the leasing of the line from the city of London.

DEAF MUTE ROBBED
Loses $23 While Riding on Train to Detroit.

While on a Grand Trunk train riding from Hamilton to Detroit, a deaf and dumb mute, whose home is in Hamilton, was robbed of $23, which was taken from his hip pocket.

He claims that the man who robbed him got on the train at London, and that he followed him through the train several times. When nearing Appleton the mute attempted to sit down, and the man whom he describes as being dark and lame in the right leg, put out his arm and shoved him out of the seat. Shortly after the man disappeared, and the mute noticed that his money was missing. He reported the theft to the Grand Trunk officials and to Detective Thomas Nickle, who is now working on the case.

BRITISH EXPORTS NEARLY REACHED THE RECORD MARK

Figures Show That Volume of Business for July Was Only Exceeded Once in History—Imports Also Show a Big Increase.

London, Aug. 30.—The trade and navigation returns for the United Kingdom for July, which were issued recently, show another large increase in the value of exports and imports. The figures for exports, in fact, almost constitute a record, the amount of the exports having only been exceeded once before, in October of last year.

Exports for July totalled £47,164,208, an increase of £4,327,640 over the figures for June, and of £5,177,848 over the figures for July, 1912, and of £12,556,572 over the figures for July, 1911. For the first seven months of 1913 exports totalled £304,220,016, an increase of £36,320,611 over the figure for the same period in 1912, and of £12,556,572 over the figures for July, 1911.

In exports articles wholly or mainly manufactured there was a large increase in the value of raw materials, coal improved by about £551,000.

The value of the imports during July was £61,786,752, an increase of £3,464,141 over the figure for June, of £2,487,253 over the figure for July, 1912, and of £10,748,571 over the figure for July, 1911. For the first seven months of the year the imports amounted to £410,565,569, an increase of £28,352,161 over the corresponding figure for 1912.

Imports of food, drink and tobacco increased by £1,637,104, grain and flour accounting for £566,000 and meat for £246,000. Timber imports showed a very large increase and imports of raw cotton went up by £238,000.

several occasions, and had used other abusive language towards her. The court found the defendant "guilty," but suspended sentence on her after binding her over to keep the peace for six months.

Robert McHenry, a man of 68 years, charged with an assault upon a 7-year-old girl a week ago today, and who was remanded from last Monday until today for sentence, was further remanded until Tuesday, when sentence for common assault will be imposed upon him.

One of the many technicalities of which the laws are full, was responsible for the chance of the charge against McHenry. The only witnesses who saw McHenry's act were two little girls—one seven years old and the other five. The law says that evidence of children of that age cannot be taken under oath, and requires that some corroboration of their story must be given before a conviction for indecent assault can be registered. The court informed McHenry of this fact, and told him that he could and did find him guilty of common assault, and that he would impose sentence on him on Thursday.

John Brown Goes a Marching On.
John Brown, who has the record in London for police court appearances on charges of breaches of the liquor license act, was up again this morning, and was fined the usual amount of $10, with the option of 21 days in jail.

EAST MIDDLESEX CONS.

"We have nothing to hide," said Major Beattie, in addressing the delegates. After a long reference to the late Peter Elson, President John McFarlane referred to the late Robert Sutherland, M. P. F., whose death he declared was regretted by the riding.

R. M. Piper was nominated by Dr. P. E. Doan, of Harlestoneville. T. E. Robinson was the second name nominated.

The other nominations in order were: S. F. Glass, Richard L. Guest (London Township), John Geary, H. W. Siddie (Lobo), James Priddis (London), John McFarlane (London), Lieut.-Col. McKewen (London).

R. M. Piper addressed the delegates. East Middlesex Conservatives are far from a united party over the selection of a successor to the late Peter Elson, M. P. for the riding. When the nominating convention was called to order by President John McFarlane, of Westminster Township, in the new Masonic Hall, this afternoon, one of the warmest fights in the history of the party was expected.

Half a Dozen Candidates.
Already there are half a dozen candidates for nomination in the field. The may be added this afternoon. Ballot-battles of the fiercest kind are anticipated. There is a possibility that the convention may be adjourned without any selection having been made. The Tories are, however, the fiercest of their choice, whoever he may be, going "state" before the election, and petitions are in circulation to have the nomination postponed until a month preceding the election. Thirty days is regarded as long enough for the candidate to whip his constituents into line and get the machine well oiled and running.

Piper Has Good Chance.
While forecasting a possible candidate is mere conjecture, it would seem that R. M. Piper, ex-warden of the county, and the first Conservative candidate from Westminster Township to attempt the contest of a Dominion seat, has the best chance of the contest. He is a well-known figure in the riding, and his record in the past is well known.

Split Four Ways.
London Township—strongest Conservative stronghold of the four, and largest in number of delegates—is split four ways. Ordinarily the London Township candidate is assured of nomination. This year, however, the different factions in the Conservatives have lined up behind John Geary, Ald. S. F. Glass and County Clerk Thos. Robinson. ex-M. P. P. Richard Guest, ex-president of the East Middlesex Conservative Association, is also in the running, though Glass and Robinson are the strongest, and the only two who will survive the preliminary ballots.

Piper is assured of several London Township votes, while some of the northern delegates from the township may be counted on to throw their vote for ex-Reeve John McFarlane, or Reeve R. Fitzgerald, of West Nisour Township. This still further handicaps the chances of a united London Township. Until a short time ago it seemed as if Glass would pull a majority of the delegates, but developments of the past few weeks have completely changed the complexion of affairs. Farmers of the township are opposed to anything but an agricultural candidate, and a petition will be presented from Hutton district, signed by every Conservative in the polling subdivision, pledging their support to none but an agriculturalist. Thus cuts Ald. Glass off from a considerable portion of the support that his friends expected to swing in behind his banner. Similar petitions to the Hideron one are in circulation in other portions of the township, and the strongest type of opposition has developed to the candidacy of Ald. Glass. The fact that the alderman is now a resident of the city is being used against his nomination possibilities by those who are opposed to having anything but a farmer member.

CHAPTER IX.

Husband and Wife.

Doris Waverton halted at the edge of the wood, and gazed wistfully across the smooth plateau of the park to the old world front of the house that Claude Waverton's father had built with treasure extracted from the mountains of Colorado. Lights were shining dimly in some of the windows, but the house stood too boldly from its background of tall trees, and the girl's eyes filled with tears as she looked at the mansion that had witnessed her homecoming as a happy bride, in which her child was born, and where her husband's devotedness had been converted into a long agony of utter wretchedness.

And during that pause, in the peace and solitude of the stately park, a doubt, a misgiving, which had peeped up in her secret soul at a certain momentous interview in the lawyer's office, and had troubled her actively since a letter from her husband came to hand a few hours ago, grew into a sort of unerring obsession.

Could the man who had written that letter have been so utterly vile and contemptible as her imagination had painted him? Had she striven, honestly and with single-mindedness, to reclaim him when they began to drift apart? Had she not been too ready to believe him with loving when he lured into her presence and outraged her delicacy with coarse jibes and crudely hateful innuendoes?

Poor girl! In the days of expanding maidenhood she had regarded marriage as the crown and desire of life, and it had proved to be little more than a sordid bondage, a slavery of convention hard and cruel as the yoke of servitude in some Arab-ridden village of Mid-Asia. Nevertheless, the influence of early training was stubborn. It had not been wholly obliterated even by her tears, and the spring of hope and faith took root in her heart when she learned that her husband's life had saved little Kathleen's life from a virginal plot with the reading of the letter sent to her at Narragansett Pier.

Stolidly moderate and impersonal in tone, it had carried her to the bedside of John Stratton Teale, it pretended to be dictated only by regard for her future, and it was a cold, almost austere, in tone. But there, again, her woman's heart argued that pride restrained her husband from revealing his intent. For that was the saddest feature of all her suffering. Despite the solemn pronouncement of her husband, and the presence of a second matrimonial venture, she was under the last and worst indignity of a marriage between Waverton and Mrs. Delamare.

The letter, it was true, forbade her emphatically either to write or to endeavor to seek an interview with "one who has gone out of your life forever," but, beneath a somewhat cryptic manner, Doris was essentially feminine and impulsive—a glowing little volcano of love and passion coated with the ice of reserve and shrouded, perhaps, under a thin veil of Puritanism.

And, finally, there was Kathleen, that engaging little who would soon be asking why, if other girls had fathers, she had none.

So, after a dispute with Mrs. Daint that approached perilousness near a rupture between two devoted sisters, Doris had taken her courage in both hands and hid her to Lake Champlain. And now here she was, a trespasser on her husband's estate, a woman eagerly scanning the features of the man who had been the cause of her exile, and who had been the cause of her exile, and who had been the cause of her exile.

Joe Brett, idler and village scapegrace, realized that Mrs. Waverton was waiting for someone. If so, it must be to his advantage if he could discover the object of this clandestine meeting, for by such means a poor man might put himself in the way of earning a dollar or two without undue exertion. Fearful of being seen against the luminous background of the lake, he nestled close to the foundation wall, and thus could not become aware, still retreat was impossible, that the party to the rendezvous was accompanied by a dog, a dog that might be old and blind, but whose nose was as keen as ever.

Waverton reached the path nearly two hundred yards from the boathouse, and the slow, firm tread of his approaching footsteps could be heard thenceforth in that silent air. He walked soberly by his side, disdaining the flurry of frightened water fowl or the quick plunge of a diving for safety. The two were abreast of the boathouse, when Doris emerged from its shadow, instantly the dog barked, and his quick intelligence told him that this was no stranger, but his mistress, his mistress's identity, he whined with delight, and capered stiffly up the few steps of the house to face her.

"Claude!" she said, and her voice was tremulous with excitement. "Claude, you must forgive me, but—"

Then she stopped, overwhelmed and distraught, for her husband's face, that amazement and distress she interpreted as alarm, gasped brokenly, "You! Mrs. Waverton! Why are you here?" She stepped out into the open, and they stood face to face, while the dog frisked to distinguish between the two. They were not to see each other plainly in the dusk, though the waning light enabled neither to distinguish between the two. They were not to see each other plainly in the dusk, though the waning light enabled neither to distinguish between the two.

Waverton raised a hand to his eyes in a gesture of pain that was new to his wife's gaze. "Oh, you should not have done this thing!" he muttered, and his face looked white and drawn; though during these latter days he had been in the opinion of his friends and others, that he was recovering his strength rapidly.

We mingled our pledges with prayers, that the horror past shall be forgotten, that we shall strive to help each other in the future, that, in sharing the love of our child, we shall strive to blot out memories of all the wrong and misery that have gone before. Oh, Claude, do listen to me! Don't turn away as if your heart was still hardened against me. If my words offend, then give no ear to their unstudied bluntness, but try to realize that they are coming from the depths of a woman's nature, a woman who is still your wife, and who must ever remain the mother of your child.

"Please, Waverton—Doris—do calm yourself!" he broke in, and his utterance was husky, as if he was fighting against some overpowering emotion. "I would have made any sacrifice rather than have this happen. You are distressing me unduly. I am quite unworthy of such civility on your part. You must remember what divided us. I was wholly to blame, and you would be mad to trust yourself again to a man who behaved so despicably, so outrageously."

"I am sober now, but I am back to the swine-trough—it is in my blood—and then I would have made any sacrifice to be with you. I am in possession of my senses for the hour; so let me apologize for my conduct, and let me regret the measure of my sin. It is in urging you to leave me now and for all time."

Though his wife was stung to a pitch of agitation that was almost unbearable, she caught some new cadence in his voice, some note of deep reverence and unavailing sorrow, that made divest music in her ears. Never before, even in the blithe days of wooing, had Claude spoken in that way. How he had changed! His manner with women, even at his best, was apt to be too tolerant, too merciful. What had caused this miracle? Had a soul sprung into being in one who had seemed to be devoid of all? His mother heart went out to him. She longed to take him in her arms and kiss away the needless fear that for him there was no forgiveness.

But she restrained herself, and was content to put a timid and this air. "We have at least taken a decisive step when we are ready to discuss our troubles," she said. "I will walk with you a little way. There is a seat yonder, hear the statue of Antinous, where we may sit a while, and talk over the wreck we have made of our lives. I am not hysterical, as you well know. But now I shall be calm. You need not dread the tears which you baste, as every man does, I suppose. But, candidly, I should like to be seated. I am somewhat tired. It has been a weary day, for my nerves, at any rate, and I am sure you will not drive me away now that I have told you what is in my mind. Come. Let me tell you first how deeply moved I was by the solicitude that breathed through every sentence in your letter. It was your right arm that was injured, was it not? So I can take this arm while you walk, and then I shall be able to lean with more confidence, since you cannot escape, as you did at Narragansett Pier, while I am holding you."

Doris was so sure of her ground now that she actually laughed, with the low, throaty laugh of a woman who has won an errand husband from the slough of sin and despair. But she felt that he was trembling, and her eager thought in this sign of physical weakness his doubt whether she could really mean what she was saying.

"Don't be so tongue-tied, dear," she murmured. "I have not come all this long way to annoy you. I am quite exhausted. If you—had something to eat, and went to your room—we could meet in the morning—and discuss matters more calmly."

Famous Fist Fight In British Commons Twenty Years Ago

[S. L. Hughes, M. P. ("Sub-Rosa") in London Daily News.]

Just twenty years ago, on Thursday, the 27th July, 1893, I witnessed what is known as "the fight on the floor" in the House of Commons—looking down on it from a safe and secure position in a gallery. I was thus enabled to see more of the fray than was seen by some of those who took part in it, and I wrote an account of the affair even as it was going on.

I think there should be some sort of celebration some gathering of surviving veterans, as has been the case with the Balaklava men and the defenders of Ladysmith. Two gentlemen who were prominently concerned with the beginning of the "trouble"—Hayes Fisher and Mr. Logan—are in the House today, though both have been absent for a time during the intervening twenty years. And there are one or two of the other men who were in the whirlwind and directed the storm who are still members of the Commons—but what a number have gone!

As I think of the scene, I can remember Mr. Elliot Ashmead-Bartlett leaning across the table and bawling at Mr. Gladstone, "This is your fault!"—and that reminds me that the charmingly reverential allusions made by Mr. Gladstone to the memory of Mr. Logan are in marked contrast to the ferocity of their attacks when that eminent man was alive and leading the House. Another incident also comes back to my memory—Dr. Tanner being held back by friends from rushing to glory or the grave. He reminded me of Laocoon, struggling with the serpents, and as he eyed the conflict his expressive face seemed to suggest the phrase, "What must it be to me?"

Nor am I likely to forget Mr. Tim Harrington's evidence given when Mr. Speaker Peel asked for information as to what had happened—the House having been in committee when the rumour began. Mr. Tim Harrington—a gentleman whose appearance suggested neither meanness nor mildness—explained that he had gone out of the House to vote. Hearing a noise he came back, and then, as he put it, "I saw the sergeant-at-arms attempting to quell a disturbance"—here he paused and then added with grim emphasis, "So I just went to his assistance." It was generally recognized that this accounted for much.

And, of course, no one who watched the performance in this wild scene will forget the provocation of Colonel Sanderson. Everyone is liable to error, and the gallant colonel admitted he had made a mistake, for though he aimed a blow at Mr. Crean he smote Mr. Austin. When a man smites a dead kitten on the face of Macaulay on the hustings, and then explained that he had meant to hit another gentleman, Macaulay replied, "I wish you had meant it for me, and hit him." Mr. Crean may have divined the colonel's intention, or he may have sensed the blow given to a worthy colleague—in any case, he let drive full in the face of the Ulster warrior. He gave him "one"—a blow that the experts would describe as a "hot" or a "thick" "un." I distinctly heard the crack of that blow, and later on

Colonel Sanderson was seen giving himself first aid by holding up a bunch of keys to his eye. It is said by the well-informed that by applying cold metal to the skin discoloration is reduced—and Colonel Sanderson had not gone through the raptures of many a 12th of July without knowing that. He has gone, but Mr. Crean is still a member of the House.

And so is the gifted and versatile T. P. O'Connor, who, together with Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, may be supposed to be indirectly connected with the outbreak. Mr. Chamberlain had pleasantly likened Mr. Gladstone to King Herod, who was eaten of worms—a further interesting reminder of how Mr. Gladstone was regarded by his opponents in his own day. It is just possible that this scriptural allusion aroused a feeling of emulation in Mr. T. P. O'Connor, and moved him to give a display of Biblical research. As if determined to know that Mr. Chamberlain was not the only man who could get useful similes from that source he called out "Judas, Judas"—and this was taken up as a chorus.

Then, as now, the Tories were very much shocked. If anyone paid them back in their own coin, it had been quite right, and perfectly in order, to liken Mr. Gladstone to an infamous character who was struck dead for his blasphemous arrogance—but they went wild with indignation when the other historical character was introduced by way of retort. And it was really because of these allusions to Herod and Judas that a few minutes later men were fighting furiously. Colonel Sanderson was aiming at Mr. Crean and hitting Mr. Austin; while Mr. Crean, having accepted the colonel's will for his deed, landed him one in the face, what time poor Dr. Tanner was being held back near the door of the House by friends.

That remarkable man, the late Sir Richard Temple, generally known as Dicky Temple, has put this fact on record in his little book on the House of Commons.

I happened to be sitting right in the centre of this parliamentary cyclone. I have no recollection of seeing him, and I regret this, as he would have made a fitting centre-piece for this scene of fury. And he declares in the same book in regard to the treatment of Mr. Logan.

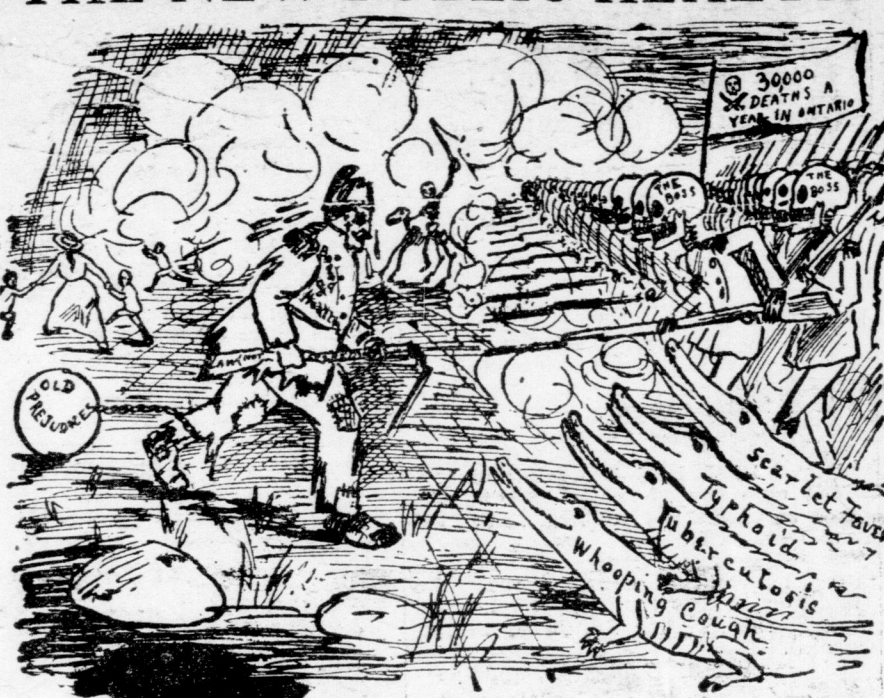

He was pushed away, very slightly, however.

This hardly agrees with the statement written at the time by Mr. Hayes-Fisher.

I immediately seized him by the neck and forcibly ejected him on to the floor of the House.

As I have said, I think the survivors should meet together from time to time and fight this battle over again—in a conversational manner only. And it would be interesting to know if Mr. Hayes-Fisher still entertains the view he committed to writing only a few hours after the affair in which he had taken a leading part—"In my opinion the responsibility for the disgraceful scene of last night rests even more with Mr. Gladstone than with Mr. Logan." It will be observed that Mr. Hayes-Fisher was too modest to claim any share in the responsibility himself.

lons of liquid per day. When the activity and considerable exposure to the extremes of heat are taken into account in this experience, which probably represents an approach to the limit of comfort, the fluid intake is not removed from the hypothetical estimate, based on the many data at hand.

In such extremes of dry heat any failure of perspiration must lead to instant and grave risk. This failure may result from an insufficiency of drinking water, or, as Dr. Hunt maintains, from slight malaria, or typhoid, or any other process by which heat regulation is upset. He adds that he has not come across any case of pure "heat-stroke" or sunstroke in a proved healthy person. A man might suffer from but slight fever while in-doors and might be unaware that he was ill; yet his whole regulation might completely fail if he were at work in the sun. To quote further:

"The main regulation of heat loss takes place by the control of the nervous system over the cutaneous circulation, and the sweat glands. When this fails, the temperature must steadily rise above the normal in these hot climates. General excitability is evinced and metabolism is stimulated so that a 'vicious circle' is established. There is not even any compensation by lessened heat production, in 'wet heat' the limit of safety is speedily reached. When the air is already more or less saturated with moisture, as indicated by high wet-bulb thermometer readings, evaporation is slow and inefficient, and danger ensues even during rest. The excess of sweat secreted and any increase in the amount of water consumed under such conditions merely increase discomfort rather than facilitate the proper heat regulation of the body.

"The large amount of water absolutely required and actually consumed by men in these hot climates has not been appreciated adequately in any quantitative sense. Experiments by Hunt have demonstrated that a healthy man carries in his body a large reserve of water mainly stored in muscle, and so readily available that the percentage of water in the blood is not appreciably diminished even when several liters of water have been lost by sweating. If, however, it is extensively drawn on, replacement seems to occupy many hours, and this delay is an important factor, forming a strong argument against any restriction of drinking, which would cause undue or needless use of the stored water of the human body."

A most disconcerting accident befell me in my room in a Yankee hotel, you know. My collar button dropped to the floor and despite my utmost effort I could not recover it. 'Pon my word, when I summoned a bell-boy he spoke as follows:

"Whadda yuh mean, mister? Yuh lost yer windpipe stud? Is it a real gold rubbering rivet? Just wait till I get down on the rug on my paws and my coconut knees, and I bet I'll glow it for you. Why, here it is! Right under the snoring barge. How much do I get for collaring it, mister?"

hard-working member of the community. But if it is said of him that he "has a demon" his is a very bad outlook, indeed.

An enemy in the village may say it to him, and he, poor fellow, superstitious to a degree, hardly knowing whether he is or is not possessed of a devil, worries himself almost to death. For days or weeks the poor man suffers, is ostracized by every one, even his own kin and kind, and at last, unable to bear it any longer, calls in a wizard to drive away the devil.

The wizard, pulling a long face, names a not very exorbitant figure—perhaps a quart or so of rice or a hundred coals of maize—suggests that there should be a feast to celebrate the occasion, and then sets about to get rid of the devil.

He takes the man, lays him flat on the ground, stands firmly on his back and pounds him all over with his feet, turns him over on his back, nearly drives the wind and life out of him in the same manner, and when his patient is almost dead with exhaustion the wizard declares his triumph over the spirit. The victim's friends stand by and applaud.

An animal is killed, much atrocious wine is brought out, the village congregates for the general spree, and after a thorough night's carousal one and all congratulate each other that the spirit should have been so successfully handled.

The wily wizard, gathering his spoils, muttering fervent incantations to invoke the blessings of the gods on his pulchre customers, departs with a wag of his wand, onward to the next victim.

or any part thereof to more beneficent uses of the good of the masses from time to time of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland."

It is estimated that Mr. Carnegie's public benefactions at the present time very nearly reach the amazing sum of $50,000,000. The Dunfermline trustees alone administer a sum of $3,000,000, from which the annual income amounts to $150,000. This includes, besides the $2,000,000 mentioned, $250,000 for the Carnegie Dunfermline Trust and $250,000 for the hero fund.

A Drop in the Ocean.
And this is only a drop in the ocean of Mr. Carnegie's far-flung benefactions. The millions he has handed over to the Washington Institute and the New York Carnegie Corporation, over $8,000,000 to the United States libraries, and several millions for schools.

An apostle of peace, though a fashioner in steel, this great Scotsman produced $2,000,000 for the establishment of the International Peace Foundation, and $250,000 for the erection and "endowment" of the Peace Temple at the Hague.

Mr. Carnegie is now spending much of his spare time in puzzling out schemes for further generosity—just humane, pacific, educational, and uncontroversial. Like Alexander, Andrew is already sighing for fresh worlds to conquer and glid.

NOT HER YOUNG MAN.

"Yes, ma'am," said Mary; "I'm going to leave you. I don't like that snip of a masher that calls on Miss Mabel."

"The idea!" exclaimed her mistress; "he doesn't call to see you, so what?"

"I know he don't, ma'am; but I'm afraid one of the neighbors might think he does."

Hot Weather Lessons From Burning India

Take Plenty of Liquid So As To Induce Sweating—Failure of Perspiration Must Lead to Grave Risk.

Hot-weather lessons from India, where the thermometer is not infrequently stands at 110 degrees in the shade, are obviously suggestive to Americans, who occasionally have to withstand temperatures not much lower than this. Interesting data showing how the human organism becomes adjusted to such high temperatures, are furnished by Dr. E. H. Hunt, medical officer to one of the Indian railway systems, in an and gone out of the Scientific American Supplement. Calculation shows, it seems, that perspiration alone must evaporate about six quarts of water daily to absorb the heat due to the combustion of the ordinary food supply besides the heat due to the weather. Such theoretical estimates have been compared by Dr. Hunt in India with actual observations made during an exceedingly hot and very dry period, when, for some hours at midday, the lowest temperature which could be secured in tents under trees was 109 degrees Fahrenheit.

"All dry objects were as hot as this or hotter and were uncomfortable to handle. The mercury in the thermometer fell at once when a hand was placed near it or it was breathed upon. Until midday the party of investigated healthy Europeans remained in the sun with no shade whatever, a considerable amount of physical exercise being taken. Such a life, we are told, is led by hundreds of Europeans in India, customarily with a gain rather than a loss of health. When health suffers it is usually through the incidence of infectious disease. None of the party, using strict moderation, consumed less than three gallons of liquid per day. When the activity and considerable exposure to the extremes of heat are taken into account in this experience, which probably represents an approach to the limit of comfort, the fluid intake is not removed from the hypothetical estimate, based on the many data at hand.

In such extremes of dry heat any failure of perspiration must lead to instant and grave risk. This failure may result from an insufficiency of drinking water, or, as Dr. Hunt maintains, from slight malaria, or typhoid, or any other process by which heat regulation is upset. He adds that he has not come across any case of pure "heat-stroke" or sunstroke in a proved healthy person. A man might suffer from but slight fever while in-doors and might be unaware that he was ill; yet his whole regulation might completely fail if he were at work in the sun. To quote further:

"The main regulation of heat loss takes place by the control of the nervous system over the cutaneous circulation, and the sweat glands. When this fails, the temperature must steadily rise above the normal in these hot climates. General excitability is evinced and metabolism is stimulated so that a 'vicious circle' is established. There is not even any compensation by lessened heat production, in 'wet heat' the limit of safety is speedily reached. When the air is already more or less saturated with moisture, as indicated by high wet-bulb thermometer readings, evaporation is slow and inefficient, and danger ensues even during rest. The excess of sweat secreted and any increase in the amount of water consumed under such conditions merely increase discomfort rather than facilitate the proper heat regulation of the body.

"The large amount of water absolutely required and actually consumed by men in these hot climates has not been appreciated adequately in any quantitative sense. Experiments by Hunt have demonstrated that a healthy man carries in his body a large reserve of water mainly stored in muscle, and so readily available that the percentage of water in the blood is not appreciably diminished even when several liters of water have been lost by sweating. If, however, it is extensively drawn on, replacement seems to occupy many hours, and this delay is an important factor, forming a strong argument against any restriction of drinking, which would cause undue or needless use of the stored water of the human body."

Back From Zurich.—Rev. J. C. Robertson, B. D., who is secretary of the General Assembly's Sabbath school committee, and who has lately returned from Zurich, where he was attending the Sunday school convention, is to preach in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday at both services.

Touring by Bicycles.—The young bicycle enthusiasts, who left the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday morning, on an extended bicycle tour to Niagara Falls, via Stratford, Guelph, Toronto and Hamilton, and back to London, are expected to return next Wednesday. The boys report excellent roads, which aid considerably in their progress. Last night was spent out-of-doors, when camp was pitched by the roadside. It was a novel experience for most of the party. The lads are in fine form and ready to face any kind of weather.

Heavy Loss in Storm.—Mr. Edward Curry, living on the Longwood road, a mile and a half west of Stratford, had a new barn completely burned in Thursday night's electrical storm. The former building had been wrecked by the hurricane on last Good Friday, and the new barn replacing it had just been completed last Thursday. In it was stored the season's crop, an unusually heavy harvest, and several new wagons. Mr. Curry was only able to save three horses from the burning building. His losses will be very heavy.

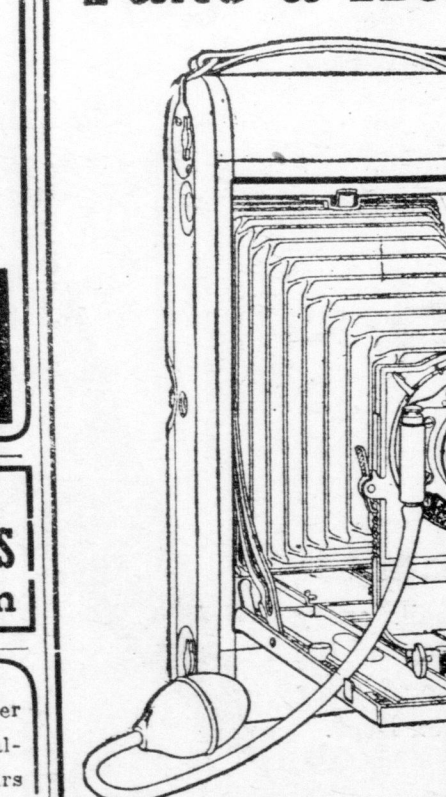

A Family Reunion.—What proved a very pleasant and happy afternoon at Komoka on Wednesday, Aug. 27, was the gathering of the remaining members of the late William Waters Searcliff's family, whose home was in Komoka. The members of the family remaining include: Mrs. Alice E. Kells and Mrs. Rebecca J. Smith, of Komoka; Mrs. Clara N. Smith, of London; and Wm. B. Searcliff, of St. John, N. B. The afternoon, after the family gathering, the afternoon, being spent in many talks of the loved ones now departed, it will always be a pleasant memory in the coming years to those now living, in having had the privilege of once more enjoying the family gathering. After snapshots had been taken, tea was greatly enjoyed at the residence of Mrs. Kells. The brother, being on a trip, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Searcliff will make a visit to Sarnia and Port Huron to the relatives of Mrs. Searcliff (formerly Miss Louisa Sheppard, of Sarnia), after which the different members will meet in London to bid good-bye to them, as they leave again for St. John, where Mr. Searcliff is the very popular superintendent of the London Life Insurance Company, at whose head office he has been visiting while in Ontario.

Sudden Swerve Saved Children

Little Ones Narrowly Escaped Being Hit By Runaway Horse.

Narrowly missing several small children, a horse and delivery rig belonging to A. J. Clarke raced down Regina street Friday afternoon, and, colliding with a telephone pole, smashed one of the front wheels and a shaft. After striking the pole it continued across Mulrind street, where it slipped on the curbing and fell, becoming entangled in the harness.

The horse was left standing in front of a house on Regina street with a heavy weight attached to its head. A man trundling a wheelbarrow passed by and frightened the animal, which started east on Regina street, dragging the heavy weight with it. Near the corner of Regina and Mulrind a number of children were playing, and before any warning could be given the horse was upon them. Just then one of the wheels struck the pole, causing the rig to swerve to one side, and it is due to this fact that some of the children were not injured.

The horse fell when the wagon struck the second time, and was easily captured.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Immigration officers today arrested Bert Gillette, a chauffeur, and a saloonkeeper named Murray, both of Utica, on a charge of smuggling five Chinamen into the interior in an automobile. Theresa, where the party was captured. The prisoners were taken to Watertown for a hearing.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION

Plan To Secure United Action on All Matters of Interest in Realities.

"The London Real Estate Association" was formed as the result of a meeting held in the board of trade rooms Friday evening, which was attended by a large number of the real estate men of the city. A great deal of enthusiasm was manifested, and it was announced that a majority of the real estate dealers had signed their intention of joining.

A constitution prepared by a special committee was adopted, it sets forth, as some of the aims of the association, an effort to secure united action on any or all matters pertaining to realty interests in the city of London and surrounding district; to promote harmony and good feeling among the members, thereby producing a spirit of mutual confidence; to enact rules for the protection of the members and the public at large from unscrupulous dealers; to encourage public improvements and urge equitable systems of taxation and assessment; to endeavor by all proper means to broaden, uplift and dignify the profession.

Meetings will be held on the evening of the first and third Tuesday of each month, with the exception of the months of July and August. Col. A. A. Campbell was elected president of the new association; F. Bernhart, vice-president; J. C. Speer, secretary, and J. P. Sangster, treasurer. A meeting is to be held Thursday evening next in the board of trade rooms to complete the work of organization. It is hoped to have included in the association every real estate man in the city.

Miss Anna Trenam, of Fort Wayne, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. R. Magee, of 455 Horton street.

Mr. A. MacQueen, principal of Victoria school, and his wife and daughter, have recently returned from an extended trip up the lakes to Sault Ste. Marie and various points of interest.

A very pretty silver wedding anniversary took place at 92 Rectory street on the 21st inst., when Mr. and Mrs. Chester entertained about sixty guests to dinner. The out-of-town guests were from Detroit, Walkerville and Toronto. The evening was very enjoyably spent in dancing, singing, etc. Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Chapman ably accompanied. The presents were both at costly and numerous.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Skinner, of Ottawa, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Edge, of Queen's avenue.

PRINCE GEORGE TOWNSITE.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway announce the sale by auction of the townsite of Prince George, situated at the confluence of the Fraser and Nechaco Rivers in Central British Columbia, 450 miles northeast of Vancouver, and 467 miles east of Prince Rupert, British Columbia, or midway between Prince Rupert and Edmonton, Alberta. By reason of its central location, Prince George will be the natural distributing point for the extensive territory comprised in the Pacific Province of the Dominion, and it has therefore long been the expectation of the general public that upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince George will early become a large and important centre. Having purchased what was known as the Fort George Indian Reserve, No. 1, for the purpose of locating a townsite, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company has caused the same to be surveyed and plotted, and will offer lots in this townsite for sale by public auction at Vancouver, British Columbia, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1913, and at Edmonton, Alberta, Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1913. The terms of the sale will be one-quarter cash, and the balance payable in one, two and three years, with six per cent. interest. All particulars and plans can be secured by applying to Q. T. Ryley, land commissioner, Grand Trunk Pacific, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Women Cab Drivers Are Disappearing

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Aug. 30.—Women cab drivers are fast disappearing from the streets of Paris. Six years ago they numbered fully 100; now there are only 6 or 7, and of these all but one will soon give up the calling.

The one who means to remain has given various reasons for the disfavor with which her sex regards cab-driving. At first men rushed for vehicles driven by women, and tipped generously, but that was when reviews and songs were advertising the new departure. One cabwoman says she makes not more than five or six francs a day, and out of that she has to pay a woman to look after her household.

Ancient Order of Foresters Give Many Advantages As a Fraternal Society

Many people do not know that the Ancient Order of Foresters, which held their 19th biennial session in this city, is the only legal fraternal society doing business under the 3 1/2 per cent. reserve basis in contract policies, under Dominion act of incorporation.

It issues to the people policies like a line company, a straight life, or a pay life, or an endowment, according to a person's requirements. It has all the privileges of loans, cash surrenders, paid-up insurance and extended terms, with the advantage that, being on the fraternal basis, it carries with it the benefits of the lodge system, and every policyholder being a shareholder, the participant procures it at cost price.

It is a practical sick benefit society. It provides medical attendance and medicine. It gives $4 per week for 52 weeks, it gives $2 per week further for 52 weeks, $100 insurance and $50 death of wife.

It gives a blanket protection for the home, for the husband, the wife, the boy and girl.

It is instituted on the broad principles of the brotherhood of man; no degrees, no creeds, color or nationality. Any man who has a good moral character and who is healthy when he joins is eligible for membership.
