BRANTFORD MEMBER MAKES GREAT SPEECH

Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M. P., in Dealing With the Budget Declares That Canada is the Most Prosperous of Nations—Other Speeches.

OTTAWA, May 22.—The budget debate, one of the chief events of a session of Parliament, has fallen from its high estate. When Canada had a revenue of twenty or thirty millions there was a budget speech of six or seven days. To-day, with a revenue of $168,000,000, the finance minister sums up the financial condition of the Dominion in a couple of hours and the whole debate lasts only a couple of days.

Finde No Flaw. Mr. McLean spoke about two hours. Then, without even moving an amendment, he took his seat. Possibly never before has an Opposition thus acknowledged itself unable to pick a distinct flaw in the Government's financial record.

Mr. H. B. Ames, of Montreal, followed, and confessed that he could only enlarge upon the speech of the finance minister, for in the speech of the Opposition critics he could find no declaration of Liberal policy that he might discuss. He was inclined to doubt if the Liberals really had any policy. Mr. McLean argued that too much taxation was being taken from the people, but he did not indicate where he would proceed to cut the tariff. With a budgetary revenue the workingmen were more and more looking to Ottawa for assistance in their projects. In addition Canada was preparing to make a heavy expenditure on account of her own defense. He did not refer to the Budget, but to the proposal, announced by the premier a few days ago, that Canada should undertake drydocks, naval bases, training schools, extension of the fisheries protection service, etc.

Tariff Revision Likely. An interesting point of Mr. Ames' speech was his statement that it was likely there would be a very general revision of the tariff at no distant date. Alphonse Verville followed in a lengthy speech, which he read carefully from manuscript, and which dealt almost entirely with the cost of living. He made lengthy comparisons of the cost of foods in Montreal, Chicago and New York, his conclusion being that the prices were very much lower in the American cities than in Montreal.

Mr. Cockshutt, of Brantford, followed Mr. Verville. He questioned very much the multitude of figures submitted by Mr. Verville, and he pointed out by the facts. Would any sensible man believe the statement that the cost of living in Montreal was 100 per cent. higher than in New York, or 80 per cent. higher than in Chicago? Mr. Cockshutt held that Canadian workingmen were thrifty, prosperous and contented, not restless and discontented as Mr. Verville alleged. This was borne out by the record of their labor troubles, not only during the last year, but during the last ten years.

MINISTERS ARE THREATENED

British Cabinet Ministers are Running Risk of Injury From Militants

CARDIFF, Wales, May 22.—The British Cabinet Ministers are exposed to such risks of being mauled by militants at public meetings that hereafter they are likely to refuse to attend unless those in charge of the meetings are prepared to guarantee their personal safety.

Because such assurances could not be given him, the Home Secretary, the Rt. Hon. Reginald McKenna, did not appear at the Welsh Disestablishment and Free Church conference yesterday afternoon, although he was understood to be in the city.

Good-bye. OTTAWA, May 2.—It is expected that the Senate Liberal majority will vote solidly for amendment to submit the navy bill to the people, and that in this the Opposition will have a strong Nationalist support, as the result of a conference between Armand Lavergne and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is announced in Conservative circles that there will be no election, and there is persistent talk of Senate reform if the bill is so amended. The bill will be up for second reading early next week, not this afternoon as expected.

Settlement Made. The Water Commissioners will receive $6,500 from the Lake Erie and Northern Company for the latter's right of way. The sum of $7,000 was asked and $6,000 offered, and the difference was split without the necessity of legal arbitration.

FOOTBALL COUNCIL MET LAST NIGHT

Tutela Club Protest Laid Over For One Week—Other Notes.

At the council meeting of football last night the following business was transacted. Protest from Tutela laid over for one week. Mr. Lord of the 25th Dragoons and Maycock, Holmedale, are suspended from playing in the two following games, May 24th and 31st for disorderly conduct. R. Richards, Dragoons, is not eligible for next Saturday. His name not being in the council's hands next. G. Baker, H. Ellis, and F. Rickes, Y. M. C. A.; J. Walley, J. Osborne, T. Hurst, A. Little, All Scots; I. Riley, Cockshutt United; G. Crouch, Dufferin Rifles; Garonby from Tutela to Dragoons; Harrison from Dufferin to Dragoons. Chambers reinstated for Tutela. All players will be sorry to hear that Mr. E. Goarty, the well known referee has left the city to reside in Edmonton.

Don't forget the John Hill Cup game on Saturday next at 6 p.m. at Agricultural Park. Dragoons vs. Y. M. C. A. The President and vice-president will take up the collection and hope to beat the previous record for collection made on the Tutela Park. The Dragoons band will probably turn out with the teams on Saturday. The referee for this game is Mr. C. Smith.

Good-bye. OTTAWA, May 2.—It is expected that the Senate Liberal majority will vote solidly for amendment to submit the navy bill to the people, and that in this the Opposition will have a strong Nationalist support, as the result of a conference between Armand Lavergne and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. ARE PLANNING REAL INVASION

Alliance Forces Will Invade the North—Program Mapped Out.

(Mail and Empire). A campaign which, if successful, will make Brant County the first "dry" county in Ontario is to be undertaken at once as the result of a meeting held in Brantford on Tuesday evening in connection with the work of the Dominion Alliance. Brantford and Paris are the only municipalities in the county still under license and local option campaigns will be started in both places immediately.

A local option by-law was voted upon in Brantford in 1910 and received a majority of 811 in its favor, but did not get the requisite three-fifths to carry. This attempt was followed by a license reduction campaign which was successful in having half the licenses canceled. The intention of the present campaign leaders is to have a vote taken next January at the time of the municipal elections, and as Brantford is the largest city which has yet voted upon local option, the result is awaited by the Alliance workers with considerable interest.

New Ontario is probably to witness an aggressive campaign against the liquor traffic in the near future, the Ontario secretary for the Dominion Alliance, having left last night to attend conventions in Parry Sound, Thessalon and Sudbury. There is talk of an attempt to have the whole of the districts of Algoma, Parry Sound and Sudbury brought under the operation of the Canada Temperance Act, as there are unorganized districts in them at present which cannot be reached by the ordinary local option law, and which would constitute a menace to the districts which had adopted the by-law.

Settlement Made. The Water Commissioners will receive $6,500 from the Lake Erie and Northern Company for the latter's right of way. The sum of $7,000 was asked and $6,000 offered, and the difference was split without the necessity of legal arbitration.

Last Tuesday evening, May 19th, the officers of the Sunday School and the Bible class gathered at the home of Wm. H. Overholt and gave him a surprise party. Mr. Overholt has been teaching the Bible Class about 40 years, and resigned his position in May, when the school was re-organized. In appreciation of his work in the class, the members of the class presented him with a gold headed cane. After some time spent in conversation, Isaac Wilcox, asked Mr. Overholt to have a chair near the centre of the room, and asked everyone to come together, when he explained to Mr. Overholt the nature of the gathering, and asked R. J. Thomas to read the address from the class and officers, prepared by the pastor. After the address the cane was presented by the Superintendent of the school, Morgan VanLoon. Mr. Overholt made a neat touching reply which we all can follow the suggestion given. Pastor Hagen gave a short talk, followed by a present of the book "Lives of Great Preachers." The ladies then prepared a light lunch which was thoroughly enjoyed, after which we all went home.

The Address. To Mr. Wm. H. Overholt, on his resigning as teacher of the Bible Class. Dear Deacon Overholt: It was with great regret that the members of the bible class heard of your intention to resign the presidency of

The centre front, of white net with large open work designs, carries out the bizarre color scheme. The hat worn with it has the popular satin covered crown, with a very full aigrette at the back. Beads shaded from white to a steel gray are used on a very original evening gown. These beads are looped up in shaped festoons over the white satin foundation. A lovely Watteau effect is obtained by turning back the deep gray satin folds interspersed between the lower

THE details of the new fashions are full of interest, for they point, with their delightful eccentricities, toward decided fashion changes in the autumn. Varied, numerous, striking the eye by their audacity of line or color, their collective appearance equalizes the individual note that is creeping into fashion as well as the determined effort of the designers toward something new and different. When fashion is in this transition state, however, it often savors of the bizarre, for it takes time to modify and perfect the new ideas that are to relegate the older and conservative fashions.

For those who are able to ignore a fashion that is not becoming there is a great deal of amusement in experimenting with these oddities in dress, and often a model will be found in this way that will transform a little mouse of a woman into a striking beauty. In the struggle for novelty even the futurists and cubists have been leveled upon for possible material. Sometimes it must be confessed, with not much more success than has been meted to some of the followers of that new and curious art. It is leaving a delightful trace, however, in the gay juxtaposition of hues that are found in silk trimmings and coat linings, resulting in striking gay color schemes.

The result of drapery on dresses, because of the way it has been handled, has been to tighten gowns about the feet. It has yet to act as a medium for widening the gown, though more material is used. The use of drapery has also become a reason for an uneven foot line, and a photograph of one of the most recent models is shown here. The skirt is drawn into drapery folds to the centre of the belt, making it decidedly shorter in front. It litters in front, the edges crossing a little unevenly. The skirt is of blue tussor silk, and a very small part of the bodice, a bib-like portion at the front and back, fashioned into bretelles, is of this material. The rest of the waist is of the same color, but of chiffon posed over white mousseline de soie. Duchesse point lace laid in flat, soft folds fills the deep yoke and makes an original cuff, for part of the lace turns up under the filmy sleeve showing dimly through and the other falls in a scant ruffle over the hand. A tiny narrow bias blue band is placed over the seam.

Broad soft silk with crisp, canton or satin background is being used to drape the figure, with perfect disregard as to style lines. Such a gown is portrayed here, making the wearer look like a Tansy creature very unusual results are obtained, as in the bordered gowns presented here. The wide border of blue, brocaded silk in one of the new weaves flowered with a large but indistinct pattern is apparently laid over the figure and fitted by the few soft folds into which the material drops naturally by the contours of the figure. A flash makes walking possible, and the upper part falls into the lines of the new grille of disproportionate size that is appearing on many new Paris models. A collar of black chiffon is fitted in deeply laid folds, with curved outline accented by round dull black buttons. Transparent sleeves of the chiffon draped into a bishop shaped cuff veil the arms, and the neck, slightly décolleté, reveals a touch of white. The small black straw hat is wreathed with uncurled plumes, and two standing ornaments made of these plumes rise at the back.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAD EXCELLENT MEETING

Reports of Brantford Woman's Missionary Society - Annual Gathering Was Held at Brant Ave. Church.

At the afternoon session of the annual convention of the Brantford District Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. George Chrysler was again elected organizer by a majority of 59 votes, and Mrs. A. Shultis was appointed secretary.

A dainty luncheon was served by the ladies of the church 12.30 p.m. After dinner, speeches were made by Rev. Snyder, Rev. Holling, Rev. Lavell, Rev. Hamilton and Rev. Liddy.

The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises by Mrs. Samuel Pearson, Cainsville, assisted by members of the St. George Auxiliary.

Rev. A. E. Lavell, the pastor of the church, gave an address of welcome to the delegates, which was replied to by Miss L. Neville of Lynden.

The Rev. J. J. Liddy rendered a sacred solo, which was well received.

Gleanings From Executive Meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Baker, the President of the branch, gave some very interesting information in regard to the business which was transacted at that meeting.

Mrs. Clark, of Troy, took up the subject "Discouragements of a Country Auxiliary." During her address, the speaker stated the lack of interest taken in the association and poor attendance at meetings were two very discouraging features which not only they but city societies had to contend with.

In the country where members had to drive miles to attend a meeting, was another drawback. The officers naturally felt discouraged when the members did not give them their hearty support.

A piano solo by Rev. Mrs. Abbott of Troy enlivened the proceedings.

"Our Responsibility to Do Our Best." This subject was handled in a very capable manner by Mrs. Robert Reid.

Mrs. F. Leeming delighted the audience by rendering a sacred solo. Mrs. Leeming was in excellent voice.

"Do we Mother Our Children enough?" Mrs. Kerruish of Paris handled this subject in a very motherly way, and made a very deep impression upon her hearers. Her address was one of the best given at the meeting, and those present gave her an attentive hearing.

Mrs. Kerruish laid great stress on mother's love for their children. The speaker said that mother's should give their children their personal attention, and not absent themselves at evening prayers.

Women who sacrificed their presence with their little ones for society events came in for some severe criticism. The speakers told her hearers that the little tots could tell the appearance from love for society and love for them.

Mrs. H. B. Beckett gave a very pleasing and instructive recitation. The Japanese duff by little Nona Lavell and Isabelle Brewster, was very cute and the little girls were loudly applauded.

The Question Drawer.

Mrs. Jones of Lynden was called upon to solve some pretty hard questions, but she managed to explain them all satisfactorily to all present.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. S. G. Read spoke on temperance, and during the course of her remarks, touched on the coming local option campaign. She asked her hearers to unite and do all in their power to have the by-law carried.

Miss McLeod, of the Training School of the W. C. T. U. in Chicago, also gave an address on temperance. She alluded to the evil effects of the liquor traffic.

The Organizer, Mrs. George Chrysler, then read her report, which appeared in yesterday's issue of The Courier.

During the time the ballots were being passed for the election of organizer, the Sydneyham St. Methodist Church Ladies Quartette sang.

When the ballots were counted, it was found that Mrs. George Chrysler was again elected by a majority of 59 votes.

Mrs. Chrysler asked that some one else should act, but her words fell on deaf ears, and she was re-elected.

The close of one of the most successful meetings in the history of the organization was brought to a close when prayer was offered by members of the Mt. Pleasant branch of the order.

At Rest

The Late Mrs. Atkins.

One of the most widely known and highly respected persons of this neighborhood, the late Jane Howey, beloved wife of George Atkins, passed quietly away on Saturday, May 17th, in her eighty-first year. The deceased was born in Ganning, Ont., on July 23rd, 1832. They were married in Paris, Ont., on April 29th, 1851, and lived for a period of 59 years in this immediate neighborhood. They were blessed with a family of 11 children, six having pre-deceased her. Two years ago the aged couple celebrated the diamond anniversary of their wedding. The deceased lady enjoyed good health until about a year ago, when she began to go into a decline. She united with a Methodist church in Brantford and remained a lifelong member of the same. She attended Bethel church, in the vicinity of which she lived. Her home, a centre of religious interest, warmly received the ministers of the church and many others who felt the touch of her kindly spirit. The secret of her strength of character lay in her quiet prayer-life. Her patience and fortitude through life testified to the genuineness of her faith.

The funeral took place from her late residence, on the first concession of the Township of Brantford, on Monday, May 19th, at Mount Hope Cemetery. Impressive services were conducted both at the house and grave by Rev. Mr. Morrow of Cainsville, who had frequently visited her.

A Christian mother and a faithful friend, she leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Sylvia of Ford City, Mich., and Annat at home, who tenderly cared for her mother; and three sons, George of Fowlerville, Mich., Alfred of Howell, Mich., and Anson of Ellettsworth, Wis., besides a host of friends.

The pallbearers were James Pate, H. W. Williams, Wm. McIrvine, Jesse Coulbeck, John Morduc and L. Stewart. The floral tributes were beautiful, including: Pillow, sisters; Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. T. Cox and Mrs. E. J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fitzgerald; sheaf, Miss Edith L. Kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Gillin.

Montreal Gazette: There is evident risk that the business will be overdone by those Liberal newspapers which are exploiting Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his talkative colleagues of the House of Commons as martyrs of the cause of free speech. It is only a few weeks since in the House of Commons the boast was made that the liberal leader and not the Prime Minister of Canada controlled Parliament, and the foolishness was repeated and exploited in the friendly press as a masterpiece of oratory. Now the people are asked to believe that everything has been changed, and that the magnificent Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the unsanded Mr. Pugsley and the smart Mr. Garham, and the persuasive Mr. Carvell, and the magnetic Mr. Kite, and the sonorous Mr. Devlin, and the discursive Mr. Emmerson, and the untamed Mr. Oliver, and all the other mighty ones have been circumvented and rounded up and thrown and gagged, and made into a spectacle of Parliamentary capacity. And the perpetrator of this outrage was, of all men, the new Mr. Borden, who has been made known to the country by the Liberal press as a man of some talent, perhaps, and even of some good purpose, but who is not, and never was, a politician, such as were the giants of the Taft-Fielding reciprocity agreement, and the Quebec Bridge bargain and collapse, and the National Trans-continental Railway mistake, etc. The attention in tone even by those who think they can admire the quick change political artist of the Manitoba school, occasion shuffle. The talkers about "the gag" will make people think that the Borden Government must have something in it.

HAIR TURNING GRAY OR FALLING? JUST MIX SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

A large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, itching scalp, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can positively tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly, says a well-known down-town druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.

Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get How Four Brothers Climbed the Ladder of Success Without Waiting for the Elevator.

The Late Mrs. Atkins.

This is a practical story of Western success that ought to encourage every red-blooded young man who wants to make something of himself. It's the front and back pages from the business history of four sons of an Ontario farmer, who have made good in the West. The centre of this history is the gigantic land business of these young men, represented by fifteen offices in Canada, Great Britain and the United States.

Ten years ago four industrious young men with heads were making the Jimson woods look sick on their father's farm near Shelburne, Ont. Under their sire's careful direction on every working day each year these youths chopped wood, plowed, sowed, reaped, did myriad chores and thereby secured diplomas from the University of Work. In the rural school they studied the four R's: reading, rithm, rithmetic and rassin', and out of school they alternated in digging into the soil and into the realms of literature. In this wholesome rural environment they became possessed of principles of thrift, industry and honesty, which they have served them well in their business careers.

The hard daily toil of these young men on the farm was assuaged by the thought that the "brand new rope ladder of success" dangles very close to every farm house roof. They got this encouraging idea by reading with great zest stories relating to the rise from the farm of such successful Canadians as James J. Hill, Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann, the railroad kings; James Ashdown, the hardware king; J. R. Booth, the lumber king, and many other undieded monarchs of the commercial and industrial world.

Ambition first beckoned the eldest son, David S. McCutcheon, away from the farm to enter into a course of study in the Ontario College of Pharmacy in Toronto. He received the degree of Ph.M.B. in 1904, and then went to Grand Valley near his home town, where he opened a drug store, which he conducted until 1905.

McCutcheon away to his first step in his life's success. In 1907 the young druggist arrived at Calgary, and soon after, in partnership with a college mate, W. P. McGill, he opened a drug store in the Allan block. Shortly after, this pathfinder of the four brothers had got settled in the drug business. He sent back to the farm home for his ambitious kinsmen, G. D., and C. M. McCutcheon then joined their brother in Calgary, and upon their arrival the firm of McCutcheon Bros. sprang into existence. In 1911 the fourth brother, J. H. McCutcheon, was taken into the firm and also Mr. W. D. Spence, then City Clerk of Calgary. The firm was incorporated as McCutcheon Bros., Limited. This was the genesis of the present real estate business that is now international in its scope.

MEXICO MISREPRESENTED. SAYS MR. DE LA BARRA

SEÑOR DON FRANCISCO DE LA BARRA

SEÑOR DON FRANCISCO DE LA BARRA

SEÑOR DON FRANCISCO DE LA BARRA, Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, has published a statement to the effect that American newspapers have published statements concerning conditions in Mexico which are erroneous and that he expected to draw attention to facts in connection with the situation which are not known and which will greatly change certain opinions on certain subjects. In connection with this he says:—

"The false impressions prevailing abroad, even in the popular view of the Mexican people, unjustly wound a nation which merits better treatment because of its very misfortunes. The fact that the greater part of Mexican territory is unacquainted with the convulsions of war is not considered abroad. It is believed abroad that the Zaparistas dominate the entire country and that the insurrection is general. No one consults the statistics of production in Mexico. Few recognize the solidity of the business element, which for two and one-half years has successfully resisted all commotion."

Guelph Mercury: When the newspaper in London, England, called upon to warn their readers who are touring Canada, to beware of Toronto city water, it is about time that Hogtown thought the matter over seriously. They might much better spend their energies in securing a fit supply of drinking water than trying to kill Guelph's Winter Fair.

Five Killed When Liner Struck Bomb

SMYRNA, Asia Minor, May 22.—The French liner Senegal, which struck a mine as she was leaving port yesterday was at once run ashore by her captain to prevent her foundering. Five persons were killed by the explosion and six others severely injured. The explosion tore out one side of the Senegal at the forward end. The machinery, however, escaped injury and owing to this the engineers were able to beach the vessel and as a result in all probability saved the lives of most of those on board. The steamer was driven on shore near the fort, and all the uninjured members of the crew and passengers were landed in small boats.

Sailor Drowned.

SARNIA, Ont., May 22.—Charles van Valkenberg of Sarnia, a sailor on the Northern Navigation Company's steamer Harmonie, was drowned off the vessel on her way down the lake this morning. The man fell overboard somewhere near Presque Isle, and although the steamer put back him, he had disappeared. The Harmonie and a boat was lowered to search for the body, but it was not recovered, bringing the first news of the accident.

The machinery, however, escaped injury and owing to this the engineers were able to beach the vessel and as a result in all probability saved the lives of most of those on board. A Vacant Lot

It Remained For Thirty Years Without an Owner
By MARJORIE CLOUGH

More than fifty years ago, when the city of Chicago was springing up out of the prairie—or, rather, out of the mud—there were dwellings right in the region which is now occupied solely for business purposes. And right in among some of these dwellings was a lot of which the owner proposed to erect a store building. Those who owned homes in the vicinity objected to a store building being erected near them and clubbed together to buy the lot. The owner asked the exorbitant price of $1,000, but it was thought best to pay it and keep the ground free from what would mar it for residences. There were four persons who chipped in to buy the property, but since one owner was deemed more advisable than four, three of them proposed to play a game of freecell and the winner to receive a deed for the lot. But one of the four, being a deacon in the church and averse to card playing, suggested that they make over the lot to a trustee, to be deeded to the oldest grandchild of any one of the owners in ten years from the day the game was made. The men were all between the ages of twenty-seven and forty years, and no one of them had a grandchild. One was not even married. Nevertheless, he assented to the plan; the document was drawn up and signed and placed in the hands of the trustee. In ten years from that time two of the men interested in the lot were dead. The dwellings in the district where the property stood were much run down, being occupied for saloons and small shops. In ten years more the other two owners had passed away and the trustee had been named. A successor had been appointed by the court. The immediate vicinity of the lot had been steadily deteriorating and was now the worst location in the city. But handsome office buildings were being erected two or three blocks distant. Since it was probable that that part of the city would eventually become valuable, the adjoining property was now held at a high figure. Inquiries were made for the lot in question, but it soon came to be known that there was a reason why it could not be sold, and in time it was dropped out as a possible purchase.

When forty-nine of the fifty years of the trust had passed Edward Ellison, the man who held the trusteeship at that time, one day, looking over some papers in his safe, came upon the deed of trust and saw that about a year from that time it would be his duty to turn over the lot mentioned to the oldest living grandchild of any one of the men who had made the deed. It therefore behooved him to take measures to discover the person entitled to the property. The first step he took in the matter was to learn the value of the lot, and he found that to the opinions of real estate men it was valued at two or three hundred thousand dollars. He next made inquiries as to the descendants of the original owners of the property and found that while one family had remained in Chicago the others had drifted to other places. He found also that none of them knew of the lot in question, and he deemed it advisable to say nothing about it until he had learned to whom the law would compel him to deed it. He succeeded in learning the whereabouts of the children of three of the parties to the agreement, and there were given the second generation and twenty-eight grandchildren. As to the fourth man, William Brown, who had been unmarried when the agreement was made, the trustee could learn nothing about him. An advertisement in the Chicago newspapers failed to bring any response.

Some time before the expiration of the deed of trust Ellison called a meeting of all the descendants of the four men who had owned the property he had been able to reach. Twelve persons attended and got all the information he could from those who were present, including their ages. Ellison disclaimed them and wrote to the others who had written him, asking their ages. Of the twenty-eight grandchildren he had heard of he now had the names, addresses and ages of twenty-one. Of the others he had no information whatever.

However, a week before the fifty year period expired Ellison had narrowed down the probable ownership to one person. Edith Moore, a girl of nineteen, the oldest daughter of a son of one of the four original owners of the lot. The trustee had proof that she was the rightful owner unless the unmarried member of the quartet had married and had left a grandchild older than Miss Moore.

Edith Moore was an orphan in very poor circumstances. She lived in Chicago and was endeavoring to support herself and her younger brothers and sisters by her needle. Ellison did not like to inform her that she was probably heir to a fortune until she felt warranted in turning it over to her. But the matter by this time had become generally known, and she heard of it through other means. There was an unfortunate for until it was definitely proved that the fourth man of the quartet had left no grandchildren the trustee could not deliver the property.

One day Edith Moore received a note from a Mrs. Brown, a lady living on one of the dwelling streets of Chicago, stating that she had been recommended for an engagement that might extend over some time. Edith had heard of her probable heirship, but since there was many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip she made no change whatever in her style of living. She therefore called on Mrs. Brown and was engaged to come to the house every day to sew.

Mrs. Brown was a widow, with one son, a young man of twenty-three, the son of a young man who had come from Colorado Springs, where they had been living. They seemed to have the means to live handsomely, and the son had been educated for a physician. He had located in Chicago to take up the study of his profession. Mrs. Brown was a motherly person and treated Edith as a companion as well as a hireling. It was not long before Edith told the lady of the position she occupied as a probable heiress and of the recommendation that she should be found who was entitled to the property.

Mrs. Brown listened to the story with evident interest and said what she could to give the girl hope that she would receive the inheritance. Meanwhile she invited Edith to remain for dinner and for the evening. In this way David Brown, the son, came to know Edith and offered her the same sympathy as his mother concerning the fortune she hoped for. As time went on the girl became more and more necessary to Mrs. Brown's comfort, and by and by Edith noticed that occasionally when she had been invited to spend an evening in the house the hostess, pleading indisposition, would leave her son and the seamstress together.

David Brown was sufficiently attractive to win most any girl not otherwise interested, and he had very little trouble in attracting Edith to himself. The girl was puzzled, for the Browns seemed to have plenty of money and hardly wanted to get her into the family for her fortune, even if she possessed it, which she did not and quite possibly would not. But matters concerning the lot finally came to a crisis by a note Edith received from Mr. Brown stating that he had learned that the unmarried member of the owners of the lot had married and had had one or more children. But he did not know if either of the children was living.

This was a bitter disappointment to Edith, but she went to her work at Mrs. Brown's as usual, and so great was her self control that she had been in the house an hour before Mrs. Brown asked her if anything unfortunate had happened to her. Then she told the lady of the information she had received.
Mrs. Brown embraced her, saying at the same time that she was a wonder to be able to keep up under such a setback and that evening kept her for dinner. David Brown on learning of this information she had received was also sympathetic and when left alone with her by his mother was more lovelike than usual. This was a great comfort even to Edith, since it indicated that she was not courted for her expectations.
The case another note from the trustee informing Edith that he had received more definite information that Parkinson had been married soon after the trust deed had been executed and had had two children, born to him and that the oldest of these children was living.

Edith found it impossible to bear this blow with the same fortitude as before, and arriving at the house where she worked, finding the widow and her son together, on communicating the news to them she burst into tears. The mother put her arms about her and soothed her, then left her with David. Taking her hand, he said to her: "I have a story to tell you. My mother and I while living in Colorado heard on the vacant lot and, having known of it from my father, concluded to come east and look into the matter, I being the grandson of one of the makers of the trust deed. Besides, I desired to settle here to practice my profession. My mother, however, insisted that the matter of the lot and bearing that you were expecting to be the owner of it, in order to learn something of you brought you here to sew. But before doing so she had proved my claim to the lot. She did not tell me how she was to tell you, but she had some time, having taken a fancy to you and being desirous to give you an interest in the property through me. In this she has succeeded by your loveliness. My father was interested in mines in Colorado and left us a fortune on receiving this lot I shall at once deed it to you. And if you will at the same time deed yourself to me you will make me a happy man."

Edith sat looking at the man who had revealed this little plot to her with too much astonishment to reply at once. Had he not come to love her possibly he might have estimated somewhat correctly the emotions under which she was moved. With lover-like impatience he expected her to see at once what he had been planning for months and interpreted what he saw in her expression for an inability to surrender her heart with herself.

"I am disappointed," he said. "My mother and I, having already all the income we need, simply brought you into the house to learn if you were worthy, and if you were we intended to offer to resign this additional fortune to you. Then I discovered that I wanted you, I needed you, and I was in hopes that—"

She interrupted him, but not with words. There were no words to express what she felt. He caught her in his arms.

CAT WAS SATISFIED BUT POLLY IS GONE

A Few Feathers and a Beak All That Was Left of Parrot.
CHICAGO, May 22.—"Polly," the $300 parrot that has for ten years been a lively inmate of the home of the Rev. J. W. Libbertson, pastor of the Sacramento Boulevard Church, met an unusual finish yesterday. She flew out of a window and with a shriek, "I should worry!" entered the home of Mrs. C. F. Hall, some distance off. A large brindle cat was in the room when Polly landed. The parrot's yells could be heard above the yowls of the cat. Mrs. Hall ran for the police and met Mrs. Libbertson.

"There's a ghost in my house," she said. "It cries like a child, but it flies around like a spirit and hollers, 'I should worry!'"
"It's not a ghost," said Mrs. Libbertson; "it's my Polly." She burst in the door. The large brindle cat occupied the immediate foreground. There was an expression of deep and abiding satisfaction on the cat's countenance.
There were a few feathers and a beak on the carpet.

Many a man's estate left to the management of individuals has through gross mismanagement dwindled to nothing. This is one of the chief reasons why the legal profession and the courts heartily endorse the appointment of trust companies to act as Executor and Guardian in connection with estates. Hon. Sam Is Boss.
KINGSTON, Ont., May 22.—That friction with the Minister of Militia, the Hon. Sam Hughes, is the cause of the retirement of Col. J. H. V. Crowe, the commandant at the Royal Military College, as well as that of General MacKenzie, is the rumor going the rounds here. Colonel Crowe's term expires in the fall, but it was fully expected that he would be given an extension of time as the head of the college. When the announcement was made of his transfer to India, it was stated that he had refused the offer of an extension of his term. Now report says the Minister of Militia would not recommend such an extension.

"Nothing Too Much"

By RUTH CAMERON

THERE is nothing more certain about the tastes and desires of the average human being than their uncertainty. Fickleness is the eternal law of human desire. Satiety spoils more happiness than any other cause.

Now it doesn't take a philosopher to appreciate these facts. You know them and I know them. Every grown man or woman has been taught them many times by his or her own experience. Why, then, don't more of us live by them? Why don't we learn to regulate our pleasures with a view to prolonging them; in other words, why aren't we more careful not to get tired of the things we enjoy?

When I was in college I once learned a new game of cards just a few days before the semester examinations. It was a very interesting game, and my roommate and I were fascinated by it and devoted every spare moment to it. But as anyone who has ever prepared for an important examination can imagine, those spare moments were few. Through the long dull hours of grinding we looked forward to a half-hour before bedtime in which we could play a few hands of our new game. And each time we rose reluctantly from the card table we would say defiantly, "Well, the day after examinations are over we will play all day long if we want to."

At last examinations were really over and we carried out our threat. All one rainy day and half the next we played and played and played. Something else claimed our attention the second afternoon, but after dinner that evening we took up the cards for our daily half hour, and, behold, the charm had gone!

We didn't play that game again for weeks, and we never cared so much for it again. Half its charm had been the fact that circumstances kept us from getting too much of it. Once we ran it into the ground the spell was broken.

I heard a business woman enthusiastically praise a certain delightful little luncheon place which she had discovered, and was therefore surprised when I saw her coming out of another restaurant one noon.

"How happens it that you didn't go to your favorite place?" I asked.

"Oh, I don't go there every day," she explained, "I like it too well to let myself get tired of it."

Wisdom like that is rare. Most of us spoil half our pleasures by running them into the ground. They say that if a horse gets at the food bin he will eat until he kills himself. Human beings don't often do that, but when the feed bin of any pleasure is left open to them, they frequently eat until they kill their desire for it.

"Nothing too much" was the motto of the most balanced and happiest nation the world ever knew. Self-restraint even in the matter of harmless pleasures is always its own reward.

GERMANY IS ALL EXCITED

This Time it is a Royal Wedding—Magnificent Ceremony Arranged.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
BERLIN, May 22.—Garlands, flags and decorations of all sorts adorn the Unter Den Linden and all the streets and avenues through which next Saturday's wedding procession will proceed. The official program for the three days' festivities has just been issued. It enumerates a series of luncheons and dinners to the foreign sovereigns and members of the princely families related to the Kaiser and the prospective bridegroom Prince Ernst August of Cumberland, and receptions to the ambassadors and delegates from the German states, duchies, and colonies. After the great state banquet on Friday night there will be a visit to the opera house by three emperors and a distinguished group of visitors. This will undoubtedly be the most magnificent of the public functions. Earlier on Friday the gifts from Hanover, Brunswick and other states and cities will be presented.

The civil marriage is timed for 4.30 p.m., on Saturday in the great hall of state at Schloss. The grand marshal, Count Eulenberg, will officiate. As soon as the civil ceremony is concluded the procession to the palace chapel will start. The Rev. Dr. Dryander will conduct the church wedding.

Then will come the great parade through Berlin, a spectacle which bids fair to be more magnificent than any living Berliner has been privileged ed to see before. And while Berlin is en fete ablaze with illuminations, crowds parading the parks and streets, the banquet at the Schloss will be served and the toast to the newly wedded couple proposed by Emperor William in a speech which will be cabled around the world.

Officers of the First Dragon Guards, whose colonel is King George of England, have arranged a "high breakfast." Berlin style, for the British monarch and their regimental commander, to be given on Sunday morning. Not to be outdone, the officers of the Czar Alexander regiment of Imperial German Grenadier Guards whose colonel is Czar Nicholas, will give a breakfast, Russian style, to the Russian emperor at the officers' club on the same day and hour.

The Senate

May Split Up on Voting on the Naval Bill.

OTTAWA, May 22.—The Naval Bill made its appearance in the Senate yesterday, being formally introduced by Senator Loughheed. Government leader. It will be taken up on Thursday. In the meantime the Senate Liberals will hold a caucus, at which the action of the party in the Upper House will be discussed. This caucus is scheduled for this morning.

It is expected that the conference will reveal a division in the ranks of the Liberal Senators, the French-Canadians being strong for the killing of the bill. Half a dozen or more, mostly from Ontario and the Maritime provinces are anxious to pass the bill, and there are indications that the break will be wide enough to allow the adoption of the measure by a narrow majority.

DEFEATED BY DR. HAMILTON

In no way is health so menaced as by constipation. It leads to indigestion, insomnia, anaemia and a hundred ills. Ordinary remedies fail—they relieve—don't cure. The worst case is defeated and cured quickly by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which cleanse the entire intestinal tract, stimulate kidneys and liver, keeps the pores of the skin open. You'll never have stomach trouble, yellow complexion or headaches if you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are a perfect system tonic, 25c. at all dealers.

Woodbine Very Fast

TORONTO, May 22.—The Woodbine track was very fast this morning, although a cold, raw wind made it miserable for every one. Trainer Giddings' pair, Hearts of Oak, Monday up, and Odrumida, Harry Gray in the saddle and the full journey was made in 2.12. This was the record time of the year and will be hard to beat. The Seagram pair were timed for the plate distance in 2:15 with Maid of Promise lengths in front; Crystawago and Elfain, the Lymont candidates, in 2:16. Many other thoroughbreds were given fast trials in charge of the recently arrived jockeys.

ITALIAN REPENTANT BEFORE HIS DEATH

He Kissed the Crucifix Before He Was Executed at Sing Sing.

[Canadian Press Despatch]

AUBURN, N.Y., May 22.—Raffaele Ciavarelli, convicted of the murder of Robert Lockeridge of Oswego, was executed in Auburn prison to-day. He was resigned to his fate and went to the chair-praying loudly and emotionally kissing the crucifix that was used in the final service. Within the past year he has embraced religion with great fervor and for the past three weeks has been constantly on his knees on the hard floor of his cell. Two contacts of unusually high voltage were necessary to cause death.

HAVE BEEN AN UNTOLD BLESSING

New Brunswick Woman Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Suffered for Four Years, and the Doctor Could Not Help Her, but Dodd's Kidney Pills Gave Her a New Lease of Life.

PORTON, Carleton Co., N.B., May 20.—(Special)—"I find Dodd's Kidney Pills the best kidney medicine I have ever used. They have been of untold benefit to me."

The speaker is Mrs. John S. Dickinson of this place. She is enthusiastic in her praises of the great Canadian kidney remedy, and not without reason.

"I suffered from kidney trouble that started in a cold," she continues. "And for four years I was never free of it. I was treated by a doctor, but he did not seem to be able to do me much good."

"I had rheumatism and neuralgia, and my joints were stiff; my muscles cramped and I was always tired and nervous. I pertion. I was depressed and low spirited, my limbs swelled and I had a dragging sensation across the loins."

"Nine boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new woman of me."

Are not Mrs. Dickinson's symptoms those of any run-down worn-out woman? They are also the symptoms of kidney disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills give new life, to run-down women by curing their kidneys.

Mr. Beck's Holiday.

TORONTO, May 22.—Hon. Adam Beck leaves immediately for a five weeks' rest in Europe. The by-law to submit a scheme of electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railroad to the ratepayers of the Forest City will not come up until the return of the power minister.

Prescribed by many specialists and used by thousands ever day. 25c and $1.00 at all dealers.

A Message Picked Up.

GODERICH, Ont., May 22.—A slip of paper picked up by two boys on the shore of Lake Huron near the Point Clark lighthouse contains the following words written in pencil: "October 8th, 1912—Gasoline launch Anna Bell of Sarnia sinking middle of Lake Huron. John Archie, and brother Tom A. A. A. Tell father, good-bye." The paper was in a tightly corked bottle.

PREVENT TAKING COLD

Often you come home cold and shivering—feet are wet, throat is raw and chest a little sore. A bad cold is just beginning. Put Nerviline Porus Plaster on your chest, rub your throat with Nerviline, and take a stiff dose of Nerviline in hot water. This prevents a chill and checks the cold instantly. No remedies so useful in the home, so sure to prevent slight illness as Nerviline and Nerviline Plasters. Sold by all dealers 25c each, but be sure you get the genuine and refuse any substitute.

---too old to work

Maybe there's an old fellow working beside you—the house keeps him on—his sort of pensioner. His productive years are gone. While he was a producer he never saved. If you could analyze that old fellow's thoughts, you'd find him sadly rueing the years when he spent all he made. Instead of being able to retire to a comfortable, independent old age, he is working for a mere pittance, keeping body and soul together.

Man! Don't let yourself come to that! Provide for your declining years by means of an Imperial Endowment Policy.

A small amount invested annually in this way will put you on "easy street" in a few years. Yet, if you should die within a month, we'll pay your wife or heirs the full sum of your Endowment. Write for particulars.

No Timber "Crop"
St. Thomas Times: It is a mistake to speak of Canada's timber as a "crop." In our lack of system of reforestation, when a tree is cut down there is no other to take its place. Canada can take off $12,000,000 worth of wheat from practically the same soil every year. If she wants $160,000,000 worth of timber every year she must keep on denuding forest preserves. The denudation is proceeding so fast that Canada's timber supply will soon be exhausted, while wheat-growing can go on forever.

A most successful and largely attended "Talent Tea" was held at the residence of Mrs. George Watt, St. Paul's Avenue yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of Zion Presbyterian Church—the goodly sum of between fifteen and twenty dollars being realized from the sale of various articles. Afternoon tea was also provided and much enjoyed.

In commemoration of the Brantford soldiers who lost their lives in South Africa, the Dufferin Rifles Empire day for decorating the Soldiers' Monument at Jubilee Terrace, the ceremony to take place at 3 p.m. and an invitation to all citizens is extended as well as to the school children to be present on that occasion.

A million dollars twelve storey building to be tenanted exclusively by women's organizations is to be erected in the vicinity of Fifth Avenue and Forty-fourth street in New York city by the League for Political Education.

"The plan is to lease the different floors to women's clubs, social, political or charitable," said Miss Mary Cleveland of the League. "It will be a great convenience to have women's work centralized under one roof."

"There will be a general dining room, a roof garden, gymnasium and swimming pool and a library. The rooms of each society will have special catering facilities for luncheons and banquets."

In the riding and driving at the Horse Show in Ottawa last Saturday, much admiration was excited by the very fine performance of Miss Galt of Winnipeg, who won first place in no less than four of the events, including the championship cup offered by Mr. F. R. McNeill for the best boy or girl rider under fifteen years.

Miss Galt won this splendidly with "Lion" Critchley's horse Bob.

In addition she won the event for ponies under saddle, not exceeding 14 1/2 hands, open to boy or girl riders under 17; also the pony jumping contest over jumps three feet high, and finally the pony tandem driving competition. Miss Galt is a daughter of George F. Galt, one of the leading business men of Winnipeg, and a granddaughter of Sir Thomas Galt, of Toronto, formerly chief justice of Ontario.

Nearly allied to hats are all sorts of ruches, stoles and collars to be worn with outside coats and wraps. There are many new models in these, most of them attractive and just heavy enough to provide the necessary warmth when furs have been discarded. Some of the prettiest are made of marabout, about twelve inches wide and long enough to pass around the throat and fall down over the shoulder or in the back to the waist line.

Whatever may be the color of the hat, the same should be seen in the ruche, and so one sees them in red, deep blue, purple or black, as the case may be. The newest show the ends of all tipped with a contrasting color, which adds greatly to their smartness—red tipped in white, black with purple, blue with black, and so on. These colored ends are eight or nine inches long, and there is generally a ribbon bow which fastens the ruche about the throat, which is of the same shade as the ends.

The following programme has been arranged for the dance being given at the Armories on Friday evening, May, the 23rd, under the auspices of the Dufferin Rifles Chapter, I.O.D.E., the hours being given from 8 to 12 p.m., and the dancing commencing at 8.30 sharp:

- 12. Lancers.

God Save the King.

The talent tea under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Alexandra Church, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edwin Wilson, Sarah Street, was in every particular a decided success, an abundance of good things were contributed for sale and found generous buyers. A splendid programme was presented. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Barton and Miss Elsie Senn. Instrumental duets by Mrs. Geo. Cromar and Miss Birkett; piano solos by Miss Gordon, Miss McFarland, Doris Cooper and Lilian Wilson. A large number were present, and the ladies are to be congratulated on the result. A substantial sum was realized. The affair was in charge of the members residing south of Colborne street.

Laid At Rest

The Late Mrs. Jackson. Anna M. Jackson, widow of the late Robert George Jackson, passed away at her residence, 144 Market street on the morning of May 19th. Mrs. Jackson was born near Auburn, New York, October 14, 1846. During the year 1842 her parents sent her to Brantford to attend school, making her home with her uncle, Thomas Hawkey. At that time Robert G. Jackson was apprenticed to Tupper & Haney, wagon makers. An attachment grew between the young people which ripened into love, and on May 16, 1843, they were married by the Rev. James C. Usher. From this union seven sons and one daughter, were born, of whom five sons and daughter survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson always resided in Brantford, their home, having resided the greater portion of their lives in the neighborhood of Market and Chatham streets. Mr. Jackson passed away on May 20, 1891.

Mrs. Jackson was laid away yesterday afternoon in Greenwood, the Ven. Archdeacon G. C. Mackenzie officiating. Of the surviving children there were home Frank F. Jackson, Brantford; Andrew S. Jackson, Duluth; James B. Jackson, Chicago; and Mrs. Anna M. Fradenburg, Toronto.

The funeral was private, only the children, grandchildren and close personal friends of the family being present.

The bearers were Messrs Arthur Burnley, Jas. Spence, H. Howie, J. Robert Ryerson, A. E. Harley, and Harry Weeks.

With The Police

It was about a pair of shoes, value $1.50 and it took about $20 worth of time. Mr. Fred Littich brought an action against Mr. Wm. Spedding for conversion of a pair of children's shoes. It appears that little Miss Littich took a pair of shoes to Mr. Spedding and from that moment they disappeared. Whether Mr. Spedding or little Miss Littich was responsible for the disappearance, was the bone of contention. There were subdivisions arising from the original trouble.

Barnum's Fat Lady Dies --Weighed 600 Pounds

CHICAGO, May 22—Mrs. Mary Peters, weight 600 pounds, who for 20 years was exhibited as a freak, died last night at the county hospital, following an operation for the removal of growth, which itself weighed 150 pounds. No bed in the institution was strong enough to hold her and the patient was laid crosswise on two beds which were reinforced by chairs.

A special coffin must be made for the body.

The late P. T. Barnum gave Mrs. Peters her first engagement and for several years she was an attraction in his side show. She is survived by three children, who reside in Philadelphia. All are of normal size.

Policemen on bicycles and automobiles chased the animal after bringing several times at it, with their revolvers managed to shoot the beast.
