

U.S. BUSILY ENGAGED IN WAR MEASURES British Forces Penetrate German Lines on Wide Front

UNITED STATES ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY AGAINST JAPAN

German Press After Its Usual Fashion Maligns Latest Enemy Arrayed Against the Despotism of Prussia

Amsterdam, via London, April 9.—Under the caption "The bitter bit" Sunday's Koelnische Volks-Zeitung prints an article under a Berlin date, which purports to explain America's plans in the Far East. It says: "The antagonism between American and Japan arose over China, but Washington proved craftier than Tokio and forced China to break with Germany by which action Japan, like Esau, was cheated of its rights as the first born. President Wilson realized the importance of Chinese and Japanese questions better than any of his predecessors and adopted a strong policy in support of the prestige of the United States, a policy which also became anti-German."

"It would be wrong to attribute this policy to pro-Britishism. During the war President Wilson pursued an American policy above all, to which is ascribable America's huge development in the production of armaments—every child knows that no one in Germany ever thought of the possibility of a German-American war. President Wilson himself hardly seriously contemplated a German danger, but did contemplate a Japanese danger. This is also fully understood in Tokio."

The article says that on the surface nothing is more natural than America should equip a giant army and fleet. It continues: "They are not for use however in this war during which they will practically not fire a shot, but for use afterward against Japan. Thus our enemies play with their own allies, the game of 'the bitter bit' with Japan acting in the leading part."

WASTE PAPER COLLECTION TO BE BEGUN

Under Auspices of Thrift League Work Commences To-morrow

Everything is now in readiness for the first collection of waste paper, etc., in connection with the conservation work of the Brantford Thrift League. Teamsters will start to-morrow, Tuesday morning, from West and Colborne Sts., working east, west and south as far as territory as possible will be covered each day. For the convenience of persons who have considerable waste which they are anxious to dispose of at once, a telephone has been installed at the storehouse and calls will be answered promptly. The response to this effort of the Thrift League has been most encouraging and it is felt that few citizens will neglect to have their waste ready for the collectors. Cards have been prepared, showing a list of wastes the Committee need, and these will be left by the drivers of the collecting wagons. The committee would ask that these cards be kept for reference, and would ask every citizen to phone 2443 when waste is needed for. This will help to lighten the work of the committee and will make a better and more satisfactory system of collection.

Tuesday—Fair with a little higher temperature.

BRAZIL IS CALLING FOR WAR

The Nation Aroused by Torpedoing of Steamer Parana

TO ACT DECISIVELY
When Full Information Upon Sinking is Received

Rio Janeiro, April 8.—Up to six o'clock this evening, the foreign office was without information from the Paris legation in regard to the sinking of the Parana. The German minister had a fifty minute conference with President Brant and Foreign Minister Laurio Muller. The newspaper, A Noite, says that the conference caused no change in the attitude of the government. The Estado de Sao Paulo demands that Brazil range itself on the side of the United States, "for the defense of the rights of neutral peoples who are temperamentally opposed to action because they understand nothing of their destiny."

Patriotic demonstrations were continued throughout the day, but there was no disorder. It is understood that government action only awaits the arrival of the official reports from Paris and Cherbourg. In official circles no doubt is expressed that the government will act decisively in accordance with its warning to Germany when unrestricted submarine warfare was declared.

Action Wanted
Rio Janeiro, April 8.—Some of the papers express impatience at the slowness of the chancellery to take action. The Gazeta de Noticias says: "There is no reason to hesitate. Brazil is at war with Germany, and the government ought to recognize that situation. The Brazilian nation should be represented in the tribunal which will judge the crimes of Germany."

The Journal do Brazil demands an immediate breach of relations, and the turning over of Brazilian interests in Germany to Switzerland. The Correo do Mana says that the time for diplomatic temporizings is past, and that no suspension can be accepted from Germany less than immediate suspension of the submarine blockade. The paper expresses astonishment that the Brazilian government has not yet made any move, and demands immediate action. It is reported in political circles that President Brant intends to issue an urgent call for a special session of Congress.

Stirring Easter Victory Descends Upon British Arms; Advance Made by the Forces of Gen. Haig Along the Entire Line of Arras-Lens; Fresnoy-le-Petit Falls to the British

By Courier Leased Wire
Bulletin, London, April 9.—1:45 p.m.—British troops to-day penetrated the German lines all along a wide front from Arras to Lens, the war office announces.

Bulletin, London, April 9.—1:46 p.m.—The statement says that in the direction of Cambrai the British have stormed the villages of Hermis and Boursies and penetrated Havrincourt wood.

In the direction of St. Quentin, the British took Fresnoy le Petit and advanced their line southeast of Le Verguier. No estimate of the number of Germans captured can yet be given, but the statement says that the number is considerable. Referring to the attack on the front between Arras and Lens, the statement says:

"We are making satisfactory progress at all points."

The Statement

The statement, which is timed 11:25 a.m., is as follows: "We attacked at 5:30 o'clock this morning on a wide front from south of Arras to south of Lens. Our troops have everywhere penetrated the enemy's lines and are making satisfactory progress at all points."

"In the direction of Cambrai we stormed the villages of Hermis and Boursies and have penetrated into Havrincourt wood."

"In the direction of St. Quentin we captured Fresnoy le Petit and advanced our line southeast of Le Verguier."

"No estimate of the prisoners taken can yet be given, but considerable numbers are reported captured."

"AMERICA AS AN OPEN ENEMY WILL HURT US LESS THAN BEFORE"

—Privy Councillor Kirdoff

Entry of U. S. Into the War and Side Issues Devolving There From, Discussed by Leading Men in German Industrial World—Unrestricted Sub Warfare Could Not be Bought Too Dearly

Amsterdam, via London, April 9.—Three questions in regard to America's entrance into the war have been put to leading German manufacturers by The Rheinische-Westfalische Gazette of Essen, an important industrial organ. The paper asks: "First, whether unrestricted submarine warfare has been bought too dearly at the price of war with America; second, what will be the economic consequences; third, is it possible to make Germany economically independent of America?"

Dr. Beukenberg, after pointing out in detail that American exports to Germany were two and a half times bigger than German exports to America, says: "After the war America will not want to cut off her German customers. It would harm us grievously if America were to refuse to us later a large loan to help us over our difficulties. We would then have to make our stocks last much longer, although eventually able to return to a sound basis."

After calling attention to the huge increase in America's financial strength, Dr. Beukenberg says in answer to the third question: "Germany cannot become wholly independent, under the most favorable circumstances, it would take decades to meet our needs from our colonies or Asia Minor. To a certain extent we can be independent if we live sparingly and use all our available substitutes, but a large part of German imports are raw materials which are exported as manufactured goods. This increases in the difficulties of importing would hit us badly. This, however, applies equally to the United States. Americans do not grow cotton for nothing and they will welcome their old customer back again. After all the submarine war spells victory and if we are to dictate peace, adequate guarantees may be negotiated. Now that America is an open enemy we no longer have our hands tied and there is no longer the fear that we might have to make an undignified peace through exhaustion. The slogan is now victory or death with honor."

Dr. Hasslacher of The Rheinische Steel Works of Duesburg answering the question, laid stress on the declaration that nothing must interfere with ruthless submarine warfare. He says:

"This is the only way to impose on Americans respect for Germany's political and economic existence. Peace will ensure our quick economic revival and enable us to find our own way in the world in spite of America."

Privy Councillor Kirdoff of the Geisenkirchen Mining Company, says:

"America as an open enemy will hurt us less than before."

AUSTRIA SEVERS DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES

By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, April 9.—Austria-Hungary, under the pressure of Germany, has severed diplomatic relations with the United States.

Baron Erich Ziwedinek, charge d'affaires of the Austro-Hungarian embassy here, called at the State Department today and asked for passports for himself and embassy staff. Almost at the same time a despatch was received from American Minister Stovall at Bern saying the dual monarchy had broken off diplomatic relations with the United States in Vienna yesterday. It is presumed this was done by handing passports to American Charge Grew. Ambassador Penfield, who had left Vienna on Saturday, probably did not know of the government's action. Austria-Hungary has asked Sweden to take over her interests in the United States. By pre-arrangement, Spain will take over the diplomatic and consular interests of the United States in Austria-Hungary. All Austrian consular agents will depart from the United States with the diplomatic mission, as was the case with Germany.

Up to the time Charge Ziwedinek asked for his passports no similar action had been taken by Bulgaria and Turkey—Germany's two other allies and the representatives disclaimed having any knowledge of the intention of their governments. It is expected here they will follow by breaking diplomatic relations. Austria's break with the United States undoubtedly is the prelude to a declaration of a state of war.

KAISER'S EASTER MESSAGE ON ELECTORAL REFORM IMPORTANT

LT.-COL. T. P. JONES.
Mrs. Terence Jones, Brant Avenue, has received a cable from her son, Lt.-Col. T. P. Jones, commanding the 4th Battalion, to the effect that he has received a staff appointment. Of the three Brantford officers with the original 4th Battalion, all now hold staff positions, Lt.-Col. Colquhoun, Lt.-Col. Jones and Capt. F. Miller.

Newspapers of Berlin Unite in Approval of the Reforms Proposed; Right Way at the Right Time

Amsterdam, via London, April 9.—The Emperor's Easter message on electoral reform addressed to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, is treated by the Berlin press as of the highest importance. The only paper which expresses dissatisfaction is The Kreuz-Zeitung, which finds little consolation in the fact that the execution of the reform proposed is postponed until after the war as it believes the chancellor should not now halt on the path of complete democratization of Prussia and Germany.

The Lokal Anzeiger thinks that the message will have a useful effect abroad. "No one can interfere with our affairs," says this paper, "while we have a strong and self-conscious monarch, who finds the right way at the right time."

The Vossische Zeitung says that the message must be regarded as a state act by the Prussian crown, which also binds the Emperor's successors.

The Vorwaerts comments under article headed, "Prussia's resurrection." It believes that the Emperor's proclamation cannot sink into nothing, "considering the solemn seriousness of the time at which it is made and the inner spirit it breathes."

The Tageblatt says it is essential that Prussia should have equal voting, abolishing the present bad plural system. It reminds the Emperor that Prussian franchise reform is only one of numerous reforms needed by Germany and that the whole imperial institution needs remodeling.

CONGRESS UPON WAR MEASURES

America United in Spirit, Resolutely Faces the New Issues

FOOD SUPPLIES TAKEN
From German Steamers in Port at New York

By Courier Leased Wire.

Washington, April 9.—Early action in the Administration's war legislative program was forecast upon the assembling of Congress today. Chief among these are measures to authorize issuance of bonds for billions of dollars and for raising a big army. Opposition to both measures is looked for, but is not expected to seriously threaten their passage.

On the House side, Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee were preparing to introduce either today or tomorrow, the resolution for bond issue and the military committee heard representatives of the war department explain its plan for raising an army.

The House also is expected to agree promptly to a Senate amendment to the general deficiency bill giving the President an emergency war fund of 100,000,000.

New York, April 9.—Great quantities of food have been removed by the federal authorities from the German steamships Vaterland and President Lincoln and sent to the migrant station at Ellis Island. The removal was made necessary by the drawing of the fires of these vessels which put the refrigerator plants out of service.

The food stuffs include 2,000 pounds of meat and 1,000 pounds of vegetables. If the government inspectors find them fit for consumption, it is probable that they will be fed to the German officers and men now at Ellis Island and the German steamship lines, will be reimbursed by the United States.

Chicago, April 9.—Under plans now to be completed, the United States naval training station at Lake Bluff will soon have 30,000 naval recruits quartered in the barracks and in tents for training preliminary to their being sent East to join the fleet. There are now about 9,000 recruits at the station and new men are arriving rapidly. The average for the last week was approximately 150 a day, Saturday leading for the week with 178. Captain W. A. Moffett, commandant at the station expects this number to be doubled by the end of April.

Many men are already being housed in tents and an additional plot of 157 acres has been secured on which tents will be erected.

DEPARTURE OF THE 215th THIS WEEK

No Word of Battalion's Trip Overseas Being Cancelled

PREPARATIONS MADE
And Unit Will be Prepared To Go on Wednesday

The last leave of the members of the 215th Battalion terminated this morning, and the men all reported with the exception of a few who were unable to make suitable train connection in order to arrive back. By tonight it is expected that the unit will be again up to strength preparatory to their leaving for points east. Various rumors regarding the possible date of the departure of the battalion have been current over the week-end, the opinion that the date for departure might possibly be delayed, having gained some credence, but no further instructions in this connection have been received from headquarters since the order that was given out early last week authorizing Lt.-Col. H. E. Snider to prepare the battalion to leave the city on Wednesday. The unofficial statement was issued this morning from one quarter that a special train had been chartered for the use of the 215th to-morrow, but this could not be confirmed today. Lt.-Col. McLaren, officer commanding the 3rd Brigade, was at the Armories to-day, and when questioned replied that nothing further than the original time set for the departure of the unit, had come to his notice. The effects and equipment are all packed in readiness, and should it be necessary to leave earlier than was originally intended, the battalion will not be caught unaware.

The battalion paraded this afternoon at two o'clock in order to sign the pay roll and allotment cards, and the final medical examination will take place to-morrow, a medical board detailed from headquarters. Continued on page three.

MAKES WAR ON HUN

Four Interned German Ships Seized

Havana, April 9.—Cuba, not yet out of her teens as a republic, is at war with Germany—the first of the Latin-American countries to range herself alongside the United States and the Entente Allies.

The joint committees appointed Friday by the Senate and House agreed early yesterday afternoon upon the phraseology of the resolution to be presented, and the stage was set for quick action before either branch of Congress convened.

Following the reading of the joint resolution Representative Alfredo Betancourt, speaking for the Conservatives, made an impassioned speech in favor of its adoption.

Jose M. Cortina addressed the House for the Liberal side, in support of the resolution.

Then by a rising vote the House unanimously adopted the resolution. Four interned German vessels in Havana harbor were later seized.

The Churches and Social Needs

By J. S. WORDSWORTH, Director, Bureau of Social Research of the Three Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta

CHANGED social conditions in Canada demand changes in church organization and methods. A quarter of a century ago the population of Canada was largely homogeneous, agricultural and rural.

Under modern conditions even the country demands co-operative effort. The farmers are realizing this and have organized extensive financial and social co-operative enterprises.

Especially is this true of Western Canada, where the population is composed of such diverse elements. Even interdenominational co-operation as now attempted does not meet the case. We think of a town in Northern Manitoba with a population of some five hundred, consisting mainly of Canadians, Old Country English, Half-Breeds, Iowlanders, Ruthenians and Poles.

The various denominations may have been admirably fitted to meet the needs of the countries which gave them birth or the needs of an earlier day in this country. We submit that they do not adequately meet the needs of Canada to-day. The Church Union Movement is, at bottom, a reaching out toward an organization which will save Canada.

THE SITUATION

On the Western front the British have advanced some three thousand yards in the neighborhood of the Bapaume-Cambrai road, thus greatly strengthening their position in that region. On the Belgian front, the French penetrated German positions at two points.

British seaplanes dropped bombs on Zeebrugge, the German submarine base on the Belgian coast. Off the same place and by the same method, one German destroyer was sunk and another badly damaged.

With improved weather, aerial activities have become much more marked, and the British have shown beyond any question their superiority. Her aviators by the hundred have recently flown over the German lines, in one instance for fifty miles, and many hundreds of valuable photographs were taken. It is officially reported that forty-six enemy machines were brought down, while twenty-eight of the British are recorded as "missing."

Cuba has declared a state of war with Germany, and has seized four German ships interned in Havana harbor. The little republic of Panama has also sided with United States action.

Our neighbors, now that they have taken the plunge, are acting with vigor. One of their proposals is to let the Allies have three billion dollars at a low rate of interest, and they are speeding up matters regarding their own part in the war with commendable vim. In New York, there is a lively hunt with regard to Hun suspects, and the members of Tammany Hall are proving themselves good scouts in this regard.

The sinking without warning of still another ship with relief supplies for the starving Belgians is but one more illustration of the devilish ruthlessness of the Huns with regard to a people whom they have so foully and murderously wronged. Announcement is made of the safe arrival in England of over eight thousand more Canadian troops.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE SESSION

The Ontario House held one of the shortest sessions on record this year, but much business was accomplished.

First and foremost was the extension of the franchise to women for both municipal and provincial purposes. It was generally felt that the fair sex had earned the right to this recognition more especially because of their splendid work and co-operation during these critical times. In any event even without such an impetus public feeling was more and more trending that way.

Other important matters dealt with included the increased taxation of the nickel industry.

The extension of the powers of the Ontario License Board, including the right to inspect the books of all express companies in the province in the work of running down "blind pigs" and the right to limit or even abolish all forms of liquor solicitation, including advertising in newspapers.

The extension of wide powers to the Hydro Electric Commission.

The redemption of all Ontario Government bonds and debentures held in England as a means of helping the Motherland to finance the war.

The creation of a department of municipal affairs.

Establishment of a plan of settlement for returned soldiers and sailors on land in Northern Ontario.

Superannuation system under government control for the school teachers of Ontario.

Agriculture loans at low rates to the farmers of the province for permanent improvements.

By agreement with the Opposition leader, Premier Hearst announced that there would be no bye elections until the war ended, in those constituency where a member had been removed by death.

AN INDUSTRIAL CENSUS.

The government has decided to take an industrial census of Canada this fall. A postal census of manufacturers for the year 1915 was taken last year, forms being mailed to over 50,000 names. This census showed that the total product of manufacturers in 1915 was $1,392,516,953, compared with $718,353,603 in 1905.

The industrial census that will be taken will, of course, be much more thorough and elaborate. At present an industrial census is taken at the same time as the census of population, etc., is tabulated. This has proved in the past unsatisfactory and incomplete. The chief reason is that the census enumerators have too much work and too many forms to fill out and are not men especially trained for taking an industrial census. It has therefore been decided to divide the census work. The regular census of population, origins of the people, etc., along with the agricultural census, will take place as in the past, every ten years, the next census being due in 1921. The industrial census will be taken by special enumerators mid-way of the ordinary census. This will have the advantage of not throwing all the work of a decade on the branch at one time. In addition to the decennial industrial census there will likewise be an annual postal census so as to keep the figures reasonably up-to-date.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE.

It is the fashion of Canadian Liberal papers to depict Premier Borden as a weak man in his handling of Canadian affairs during the war crisis.

The statement is not based upon the facts, but arises from a pique and jaundiced desire to belittle and hamper a political opponent, whose proved bigness and capacity, simply serves to accentuate the pettiness of those snarling critics.

The undoubted truth of the matter is that in the minds of all unprejudiced and many observers Sir Robert is rightly classed as having handled the tremendous extra duties placed upon him in a most efficient way. Dr. Michael Clarke, the Liberal member for Red Deer, during the last session of the Dominion House, voluntarily paid a handsome tribute to his efficiency and "clear-eyed purpose" and myriads of other Canadians, without regard to party, abundantly realize that it was indeed fortunate for Canada that such a man held the position of first Minister during these days of Empire crisis.

United States papers have been exceedingly frank also in their tributes of approval and in a recent issue of the London Times, recognized as the foremost paper in the world, had this to say:—

"The time which Sir Robert Borden will have before the serious business of the Conference begins will not be wasted and it is sound judgment on his part to have come so soon. His last visit was during the summer of 1915, and a very valuable visit it was, not only for the sake of his own country, but for the sake of the British Empire and the Dominion which he has led in the difficult pathway of war with such straight determination and unsparring labor."

In view of such tributes, the Premier can very well afford to ignore with contempt, as he has done, the would be stings of the gnat tribe.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Charlie Chaplin has some $200,000 invested in the various Empire war loans. All of which goes to show that it pays to make people laugh.

The blowers that bloob id the sprig are habing a bloobig cold dime.

Little countries like Cuba coming into the war against Germany, is not of much importance except as an indication of the fact that the entire world is commencing to realize that Prussianism must be strangled.

The test of the true Easter spirit was to be found in the case of the woman who returned home from church and hadn't noticed whether Mrs. Thingumbob had on a new hat.

Money talks in war as well as in just about everything else mundane, and the proposed three billions from Uncle Sam to the Allies makes a welcome note.

As for the Crown Prince, his loot has been silent for quite a while.

(From Our Own Correspondent) Paris, April 9.—After a faithful pastorate of over thirty-three years Rev. Robert Pettigrew, has retired from the Presbyterian Church at Glen Morris, and, we understand will shortly leave with his wife and family for Toronto, where he will engage in missionary work. The other afternoon there was a large gathering at the church in the "Glen," when a farewell dinner was tendered to the Rev. gentleman and his family by the parishioners and friends of that section. There were about fifteen ministers present who were of the same class as Rev. Pettigrew at college, and among them was Rev. E. G. Goringham, a former esteemed pastor of Paris. After the dinner a few hours were spent in music and addresses, the former program being supplied by Messrs. Galt and Goringham, the latter by John P. McCammon. The entire trend of the addresses bore evidence of the quiet, conscientious christian life led by Rev. Pettigrew, as also his unselfish devotion to his duty as pastor and adviser to his congregation and the community at large. Galt Ministerial Association was represented by Rev. Mr. McDonald of that city, who paid a warm tribute to the pastor's worth. During the evening Rev. Mr. Pettigrew was presented with a purse of $475.00 in gold, and Mrs. Pettigrew with a beautiful bouquet of roses by the ladies. Miss M. Pettigrew who for some years had presided at the organ was presented with a purse of $50.00 in gold. Rev. Pettigrew who was visibly affected, thanked all for the kind words and gifts to his family and himself and said they would always carry with them the warmest thoughts of the good days all had spent in the Master's service in that neighborhood, and hoped God's blessing would follow the same.

SPLENDID CONCERT AT PARK CHURCH
Entertainment of the Highest Order Given by Church Choir

ASSISTED BY OTHERS
Notable Singers From Hamilton Took Part in Event

One of the finest entertainments enjoyed by the people of Brantford for some time was given on Good Friday evening in Park Baptist Church, by the choir of the church and a few friends outside who kindly joined with the choir in providing a rich musical treat which was greatly enjoyed by a large audience of the best of our citizens. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Thresher the capable and genial organist of the church for making it possible for our citizens to enjoy such a pleasant and profitable evening. The program throughout was wonderfully suitable to the occasion of a Good Friday evening concert, and the talent, particularly was of the highest order. Besides the choir of about fifty voices, the congregation was favored with the presence and mastery skill of Mr. Clifford Higgin, the very able and young organist of Brant Avenue Methodist Church, and the following mentioned distinguished musical visitors from the city of Hamilton: Mr. Roy McIntosh, Bass; Mr. Hamilton Robinson, Tenor; Master Cyril Rice, Boy Soprano.

These visitors, and Prof. Higgin will be gladly welcomed by Park Church upon other occasions, we trust in the not distant future. All performed their separate parts in a most excellent manner, and young Master Cyril Rice, for a boy singer is a marvel.

The concert opened with singing the first and last verses of the beautiful hymn No. 73, "Abide With Me" after which the pastor and the Rev. Mr. Wright offered up prayer. It will be a long time before the assembled congregation will forget the very fine singing of their Hamilton friends, Messrs. Hamilton Robinson, Roy McIntosh and Cyril Rice, and the splendid instrumental selections by Professor Clifford Higgin. The Park Church choir did excellently in No. 3 "Evening and Morning," and also in the cantata "The Story of Calvary" by Adams.

Mr. Thresher was in his very best form as conductor, and he is to be heartily congratulated for the good work he is doing for the choir and Park Church, and in such concerts as the one last night, for the citizens generally.

After the concert, a supper was given by the choir by the Musical Committee, in charge of Caterer Russell.

RECEPTION IMPOSSIBLE
Soldiers' Aid Commission Not Notified of Time Soldiers Returned

Because they were not definitely supplied with information regarding the return of two more soldiers from the field of battle, representatives of the Soldiers' Aid Commission could not arrange to meet Private D. C. Burrows and Private F. C. Roberts, who came back yesterday. The first notification of their expected arrival was received in the latter part of last week, stating that the men would arrive here on the 7.32 G.T.R. train from Toronto. Later a telephone message came in, saying that they had left Toronto at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. Later on in the afternoon, the authorities in Hamilton telephoned saying that the men would probably be delayed there for some time, instead of which they were allowed to proceed homeward, and took the easiest and quickest way of getting back to Brantford. Hence it was impossible to arrange for a reception, and the two returned heroes came home without the usual civic welcome.

United States Won Over Canada

An enjoyable evening was held in the school room of St. Andrew's church on Thursday evening when the St. Andrew's Debating Club met the Dufferin Debating Club in a debate. The subject was, Resolved that the products of Canada are of more value than those of United States. The speakers on the affirmative side were Walter Davies, Frank Read and Bob Leeming, and on the negative Ross Wilson, Melville Scriven and Ian Bowie.

The speeches on both sides were of a very high order, but the decision was finally awarded to the negative.

PRESENTATION MADE TO MISS URSULA WILLIS

Jackson Mission Circle of Sydenham St. Church Honors Member

The members of the Jackson Mission Circle of the Sydenham St. Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. McWebb, St. George Street Tuesday evening last. Miss Ursula Willis presiding.

It being the annual meeting the election of officers took place resulting as follows: President, Mrs. T. W. Jackson. Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Alderson. Re. Sec., Miss Mullen. Cor. Sec., Miss Ray Isaac. Christian Stewardship, Miss Huffman.

A short but interesting program was put through, and perhaps one of the most interesting items of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful Caserole to Miss Ursula Willis, the retiring president, on the eve of her approaching marriage, prior to her taking up her home in the great West.

Appended is the address read by Miss Ursula Willis: Dear Friend: We the members of the Jackson Mission Circle of the Sydenham St. Methodist Church, Brantford desire to express to you on the eve of your departure from among us, our appreciation of the help and inspiration we have received from your work in connection with our circle.

During the years you have spent with us we have always found you to be loyal to all the work of Christ, and always ready to take a leading part in any enterprise to advance the Kingdom.

As president of our Circle the zeal and ability you have shown your amiability of disposition and sweetness of character, have commanded our esteem and won our friendship and love.

We unite in prayer that God's choicest blessing may rest upon you as you go from us—that his hand may guide you in your life and that his love may crown your days with goodness.

And now as a tangible evidence of our great regard for you, we ask you to accept this gift, and we hope that as you use it in your new home, it will often remind you of the esteem and affection in which our hearts hold you.

Signed on behalf of the Jackson Mission Circle.

BRANT AVENUE BROTHERHOOD ANNIVERSARY
Celebrated by Special Meeting Held Yesterday

Yesterday was the 10th Anniversary of the organization of The Brotherhood of the Brant Avenue Methodist Church. This was made the occasion of a special celebration. The attendance was large, about one hundred being present. The minutes of the first meeting were read, showing that Mr. Thomas A. Noble had been appointed Treasurer and that he had occupied that position ever since. Dr. Watson then presented Mr. Noble with a Bible as a token of the esteem in which he was held by the members of the Brotherhood. Mr. Elliott who occupies the position of organist and has helped much in the musical services was made the recipient of another Bible. Major Sweet was present and it was probably the last occasion on which he would be present before going overseas. Mr. E. Preston could not refer to his going and on behalf of the Brotherhood to wish him God speed and a safe return. Major Sweet made a fitting reply. Reference was also made to the departure of Captain Dufferin Slemin and Sergt. Oldham. During the service Miss Hilda Hurley sang a solo most acceptably. The Brotherhood has since its existence done very good work and is one of the strongest organizations of the church. The meeting was closed by singing "Blessed be the tie that binds."

KNIGHTS OF MALTA MEET
Annual Convocation of the Chapter General of Canada HELD IN BRANTFORD

Large Number of Delegates in Attendance

With chivalric ceremony, and a civic welcome from Bro. A. L. Wylie, the annual convocation of the Chapter-General of Canada of the Ancient Illustrious and Military Order of Knights of Malta opened here last week. Grand Master, Thos. Jenkins, of Toronto, in his allocution, made patriotic reference to the members of the Order now overseas, upholding the old flag, the Empire, and civilization, detailed his official acts, visits and decisions, and made several important suggestions regarding the internal economy of the Order.

Grand Chancellor H. J. Bentley, presented his report dealing with the statistics of the Order, which was received and referred to the committee on the state of the Order. Grand Almoner A. Rowley officially reported the financial affairs to be in excellent shape; that over $8,000 had been invested in war bonds, and that the Extension, Beneficial and Mortuary Funds all showed handsome surpluses. This report, together with the Auditors' and Trustees, was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Past Grand Master John A. Cowan of Toronto, presented his credentials as the representative of the Chapter-General of the United States, near the Chapter-General of Canada, and was received with grand honors.

The morning and afternoon sessions took up consideration of the reports of the various standing committees, and several minor amendments were made to the Statutes of the Order. In the evening the officers of the Chapter-General conferred the Order of Knights of Justice on a class of twenty-five Brantford brethren. On adjournment a banquet was tendered the visitors by St. Elmo Commandery.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand Master—Thos. Jenkins, Toronto. Lt. G. Master—V. R. Cowtan, Brantford. G. Capt. of Guards—C. B. Wright, Brantford. Grand Prelate—W. R. Glocking, Toronto. G. Chancellor—H. J. Bentley, Toronto. G. Almoner—A. E. Rowley, Hamilton. G. Herald-at-Arms—Chas. Symons

ANOTHER BELGIAN RELIEF SHIP SUNK
Norse Steamer Camilla Topped; Survivors Suffered

London, April 9—The Norwegian steamer Camilla, with a cargo of corn for the Belgian Relief Commission, according to a Reuter despatch from Copenhagen, has been sunk without warning, with the loss of two lives. The vessel was sunk off the coast of Jaederon, south of Stavanger, Norway, and nine survivors and two dead have arrived at Skudensass, Norway. The survivors were 120 hours in a boat before they were picked up by a steamer. The Norwegian steamer Camilla, two lives. PUT ON FEW DROPS AND LIFT OUT CORN

Good things should be passed along. It is now said that a few drops of a drug called freezeone applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness and soothes the entire corn, root and all, can be lifted out without pain.

For little cost a quarter of an ounce of freezeone can be obtained from any drug store which is claimed to be sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This is a drug recently announced from Cincinnati. It is gummy but dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the healthy tissue or skin.

Cut this out and lay it on your wife's dresser.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

"A LITTLE BIT OF FLUFF"

An event of first importance to all lovers of pure fun will be the coming production at the Grand Opera House this Easter Monday, April 9th, of the great English laughing hit, "A Little Bit of Fluff," Albert Brown, who is unquestionably the most popular comedian in America today, in addition to being the most gifted, has secured the rights to this piece. It is only a little over a year since this play was first produced at the Criterion Theatre, London. It has since had upwards of 500 consecutive performances at that theatre and will run for another year at the very least. Three companies are presenting it in the British provinces, and others are touring Australia and South Africa—all with great financial rewards. Thus it has "surpassed the original runs of 'The Private Secretary' and 'Charley's Aunt.'" Like these pieces, it was constructed for laughing purposes only, and it has enabled over a million people in the British Empire to laugh their sorrows out of mind, for a night or two at least. Every critic in London has recommended it as a sure cure for the blues, and praised its rapid action, its ingenious and well-devised situations, its continuity of interest, its happy character touches and its witty dialogue.

Messrs. Herbert Jay and Anthony Ellis, the British producers, are confident that in Mr. Brown they have found the one actor on this continent capable of doing full justice to the humor of the piece, and have sent from London a production that in scenery and furnishings is an exact replica of that to be seen at the Criterion Theatre. This great comedian has never before been seen by the public of this country in such a role as that provided for him in this play. He has the part of a very good young man, not a fool, not effeminate, but one who walks circumspcctly, compelled to go through a series of adventures which force him to fall a victim to the feminine charms of "The Little Bit of Fluff," who gives the piece its title. It affords Mr. Brown an opportunity to show his skill and versatility such as any actor might envy, and a tremendous success for him is beyond question.

Miss Lane Drama
PAULINE IS VERSATILE
Those who have the screen destiny of Pauline Frederick in charge soon have upon having her alternate her motion picture characterization. She last appeared in the Famous Players Paramount adaptation.

tion of Daudet's "Sapho," and now she is announced for appearance in "Sleeping Fires," in which she will play a fond and devoted mother, who is willing to sacrifice life itself for her little son—quite a reverse of Sapho in its conception of character.

It will be remembered that after breaking up an otherwise peaceful home in "The Spider," Miss Frederick was the sweet and lovable child of the woods in the adaptation of Mary Johnston's novel, "Audrey," and that after starring as the insidious Bella Donna, Miss Frederick played another self-denying and sacrificial mother in "Lydia Gilmore."

Though she does not play comedy roles upon the screen, it is very evident that Miss Frederick does not wish to be classed simply as a "vampire," and is devoting her attention to various forms of dramatic interpretation.

Referees' War in Ireland.
The dispute between the Leinster Referees' Association and the Leinster Association is still as acute as ever. It will be remembered that the members of the former body decided not to referee matches in which the Bohemian and Strandville clubs were engaged, and at a subsequent meeting to reconsider the matter they confirmed their previous decision. The Association have replied to this by deciding to remove from the list of referees the names of those who are not prepared to act in all games.

FLOOD PREVENTION ALREADY TAKEN UP

Mayor Bowlby Writes to Municipalities on the Grand
WANTS ACTION TAKEN By Government to Hasten Decision in Matter

The following is a copy of letters which have been addressed by Mayor Bowlby to the Reeve of Caledonia, the Mayors of Kitchener, Galt and Elora, and to Mr. W. H. Breithaupt, city engineer of Kitchener:—

Brantford, April 7, 1917.

Dear Sir,—I hasten to inform you that I am in receipt of a communication from the Ontario Government in reference to flood prevention on the Grand river. The Premier enclosed to me a memo, addressed to the Minister of Public Works by R. P. Fairbairn, Deputy Minister of Public Works, in which, in substance he states that the engineers of the Hydro Electric Commission have taken up the question of the flood prevention and also of power on the different levels of the Grand River and they have made different reports in the years 1914, 1915 and 1916, the last report in 1916 having not as yet been published, that Mr. H. C. Acres, engineer for the power commission, with their engineers, are still actively employed in getting further information, that since 1912, there has been no damage done by floods, that they have completed the surveys of the 'storage' areas, and have decided upon the location of these dams, the work remaining to be done is to investigate the physical conditions of the foundations where dams are proposed to be constructed, and this they hope to have accomplished in the near future. You will see, in view of the circumstances stated above, it becomes unnecessary to have any commission appointed to investigate, that having already been accomplished, but the necessity still remains for getting from the Government the means of carrying the scheme into effect, and therefore we should put our house in order and obtain our appointment that we should be heard just the same. The matter has been dragging along for one half a life time already, and I want to live to see it "au fait accompli."

Now please answer as to your views on the subject matter. If desirable, I will obtain an appointment from the Premier.

I have the honor to be,
Yours truly,
J. W. BOWLBY,
Mayor.

THIS WOMAN TO THIS MAN

—BY— C. N. and A. M. Williamson (COPYRIGHT) Secured Exclusively for Publication in the Courier.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters. Annesley Grayle, companion to Mrs. Ellsworth, a selfish old hypochondriac, desperate at the grayness of her days, answers the advertisement of "Mr. N. Smith," who wants to meet a girl with a view to marriage. Keeping an appointment at the Savoy, in London, she is accosted by a man who asks her to protect him by posing as his wife. She does so, falls in love with him, and to save him from two dark-faced strangers, brings him home to Mrs. Ellsworth's. Ruthven Smith, agent for Van Vreck and Co., New York jewelers, and an occasional lodger, comes unexpectedly. As Annesley tries to warn her lover, a pistol-shot is heard up-stairs. Ruthven Smith has fired at the stranger. There is a row, and Annesley is ordered out of the house. "Smith" takes her to the Savoy, where the Countess de Santiago plays chaperon until they are married next day. He gives her pearls and a beautiful ring with a blue diamond. "Smith" has asked Annesley not to look at the register at the wedding, so she doesn't know her husband's real name. They go to Sidmouth for their honeymoon, and there "Knight," Annesley's name for her husband, manoeuvres for an acquaintance with the Annesley-Setons, poor but titled cousins of Annesley's. The girl gets a letter from Lady Annesley-Seton.

Continued From Saturday's Daily. Yet she loved it. Now, more than ever, she loved and admired it! The dinner ended with a discussion between Knight and Constance as to how the Countess de Santiago could be induced to pay a visit to Valley House, despite the fact that she had never met Lord and Lady Annesley-Seton. Like most women who had lived in Spanish countries, the Countess was rather a "stickler for etiquette," her friend Nelson Smith announced dubiously. Besides her experiences as an "amateur clairvoyant" made her quick to resent anything which had the air of patronage. One must go delicately to work to think out a scheme, if Lady Annesley-Seton were really in "dead earnest" about wanting her to come. At this point Knight reflected for a minute, while every one hung upon his silence; and at last he had an inspiration: "I'll tell you what we can do!" he exclaimed. "My wife and I—you're willing, aren't you, Anita?—can ask her down to stay over this week-end with us. I think she'll come, if she isn't engaged; and then we can invite you to meet her at dinner." "Oh, you must invite us all!" pleaded a pretty woman sitting next to Knight. "All of you who care to come, certainly," he agreed promptly. "Won't we, Anita?" "Oh, of course. It will be splendid if everybody will dine with us!" Knight saw, and was grateful. Constance saw also, and smiled to herself at what she fancied was the girl's jealousy of an old friend of the new husband—an old friend who was one of the most beautiful women whom the girl had ever seen. Annesley's almost imperceptible hesitation inclined Constance to be more interested than ever in the Countess de Santiago.

CHAPTER XIX. The Crystal. Motoring back from Valley House to the Knowle Hotel, Annesley was asking herself whether she might dare refer to the Monarchie, and mention the story she had read in the Morning Post. She burned to do so, yet stopped each time a question pressed forward to her lips, remembering the expression which Knight's eyes as he had looked at the Countess in the Savoy restaurant, the day before the wedding. Perhaps the wish would have conquered, if some imp had not whispered in her ear. "What about that purple envelope, addressed in a woman's handwriting? Maybe it was from her, wanting to see him again, and that is what has put this plan into his head. Perhaps he brought up the subject of the Countess, just on purpose to make them think she had been there!" This thought caused the Countess de Santiago to seem a mysterious and even powerful person, with an influence over Knight, though he had appeared not to care for her. Could it be that he wanted an excuse to have her near him? The very suggestion closed Annesley's mouth, by making her afraid that she was turning into a stupid, suspicious creature, like jealous brides she had read about. She determined to be silent as a self-punishment, if for no other reason, and firmly steered the Monarchie into a backwater of her thoughts, while Knight talked jokingly of the Valley House party and their credulous superstition. "Every man Jack and every woman Jilt of the lot believe in that crystal and clairvoyant nonsense!" he laughed. "I mentioned it for fun at first, but I'm afraid I went on simply to 'pull their legs.' I hope you don't mind having the Countess down, do you, child? Of course, I made it out to be quite a favor that so wonderful a being should consent to come at all. But between us, Anita, the poor woman will fall over herself with joy at the opportunity. She's a restless, lonely creature, who has drifted about the world without stopping anywhere long enough to make many friends, and I have a notion that her heart's desire is to 'get into society' in England. This will give her a chance, because all these good ladies and gentlemen who are dying to see what she's like, and persuade her to tell their rascals and futures, are up at the top of the tree. It's a cheap way for us to make her happy—and we can afford it." "Don't you believe she really is clairvoyant, and sees things in her crystal?" Annesley ventured. "It was then that Knight made her heart beat, by answering with a question. 'Didn't you read in the newspapers about the queer thing that happened on board the Monarchie?' " "Yes, I did read it," the girl said, in so stifled a voice that the reply became a confession. "Why didn't you tell me so?" "Because—on the day I heard you were on the Monarchie, I couldn't remember what I'd read. It was all vague in my mind." "No other reason?" "Only this—that I fancied—" "You fancied I didn't like to talk about the Monarchie?" "Well, when the Countess spoke of it, you looked a little cross. I was, though, but only with the way she spoke—as if she and I had come over together on purpose because we were pals. That's all. Though certainly I've every cause to hate the memory of that trip. Why did you remember what you had read in the newspapers?" "Only this evening." "I thought so! At dinner, I saw a look come over your face as if I didn't know you noticed me." "I'm always noticing you. And I was very proud of you to-night. Well, you remembered—" "About a man on board being robbed, and a lady—an amateur clairvoyant—seeing weird things in a crystal. I thought it must have been the Countess de Santiago." "It was, though her name was kept out of the papers, by her request. She's a little sensitive about the clairvoyance stuff; afraid people may consider her a professional, and with us, I think she'll come, if she isn't engaged; and then we can invite you to meet her at dinner." "Oh, you must invite us all!" pleaded a pretty woman sitting next to Knight. "All of you who care to come, certainly," he agreed promptly. "Won't we, Anita?" "Oh, of course. It will be splendid if everybody will dine with us!" Knight saw, and was grateful. Constance saw also, and smiled to herself at what she fancied was the girl's jealousy of an old friend of the new husband—an old friend who was one of the most beautiful women whom the girl had ever seen. Annesley's almost imperceptible hesitation inclined Constance to be more interested than ever in the Countess de Santiago.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers are counterfeits sold here, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet. Keep it handy, Mother! A little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies and children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup" any other fig syrup. They were disposed of, unless they were thrown overboard and picked up by someone in the plot, as the Countess said. Continued in Tuesday's Issue.

KING GEORGE IS MODEL LANDLORD

Administration of Estates on Duchy of Cornwall is Praised BY FAMOUS EUGENIST King Sets Example to be Followed by Others HOUSING AND HOMING Are Typified by the Two Systems

London, April 7 (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—King George, according to Dr. C. W. Saleby, the famous eugenist, is the model landlord in the country. "No one has observed the distinction between what I call respectively housing and homing," he writes, "except the King on the Duchy of Cornwall, in the South of London. Elsewhere all housing schemes are for the children. If you have a baby, you go as if you had committed a nuisance. "Everywhere we penalize, punish, prohibit the parenthood upon which the future of our Empire depends. Only the King has set an example to be commended to all other landlords in the provision of housing instead of merely housing, and in the adoption of an ingenious device for moving the partition between adjacent houses, according to the faith, a hard-headed old chap, Yatington, see, a yacht had been sighted the evening before the robbery, while the passengers were at dinner. It might have kept near, with lights out, for the Monarchie is one of the slow-moving giants, and the yacht might have been a regular little greyhound. It seems she didn't answer signals. The captain hadn't thought of that, because the yacht was a slight one, and she could have missed them. But it came back to him afterwards, and seemed to bear out the Countess's rigmorale. "Besides, there was the finding of the patent lock which she told the man Jedfield he ought to look for." "I don't remember that in the paper," he said. "It was in several, if not all, the 'saw' the missing lock—a thing that goes over a bolt and prevents it sliding back—in one of the life-boats up on the boat deck, caught in the netting of the expression 'Well, it was there! And there could be no suspicion of her putting the thing where it was found, so as to make herself seem like a true prophetess. She couldn't possibly have got to the place. "That's why people were so impressed with the rest of the visions. We're all inclined to be superstitious, I suppose. Even I was interested. Though I don't pin my faith in such things. I asked her to look into the crystal for me, and see if she could tell what had become of my gold repeater, which disappeared the same night. "Oh!" exclaimed Annesley. "So you had something stolen too?" "It looked like it. Anyhow, the watch went. And the Countess herself lost a ring, some time during the trip—a very valuable one, I believe. She couldn't see 'anything' for herself, but she got a glimpse of her repeater in the pocket of a red waistcoat. Nobody on board confessed to a red waistcoat. And in the searching of passengers' luggage—which I should have proposed myself, if I hadn't been among the robbed—nothing of the sort materialized. "However, that proved nothing. Jedfield's pearls and other trinkets must have been somewhere on board, in some one's possession, if the yacht-vision wasn't true. Yet the strictest search gave no sign of them. It really was a miracle how Morals, which promoted the Birth-Rate Commission is now preparing a petition to the Chancellor of the Exchequer A. Bonar Law, which is, in effect a plea for parenthood. In this petition many measures of financial relief for worthy parenthood are suggested, together with provision for education of children, especially the promising. The housing of the people is described as a "crising scandal." Mr. Bonar Law and the Government will be asked to act forthwith for 'the encouragement of the worthy parenthood upon which the future of our Empire depends.' The Old Apple Tree Come in and stop knocking," called the Apple Tree as some one kept rapping on the door.

"I see you have some vacant rooms," said Reddy Woodpecker, as he entered.

"There are several empty but I mean they shall stay that way. Last year when I let rooms to you birds it was all right until my fruit became ripe, then you thanked me by pecking great holes in the apples, so I decided to let them stand idle rather than entertain any birds again," replied the Apple Tree.

"I am sorry for I saw one room in the top which I like very much," said Reddy Woodpecker as he went away.

"It will teach them they must respect others' property," said the Apple Tree when the door had closed.

The Sun soon made the Apple buds swell and the Apple Tree awakened one morning to find her branches covered with beautiful pink and white blossoms. They unfolded and sent forth a wonderful perfume, and all the little birds for miles around asked about the vacant rooms, but the Apple Tree refused to rent them.

One evening the West Wind stopped to chat with her: "There is a band of grasshoppers on their way and they will make short work of your blossoms if you don't take care," the West Wind told her, and the old Apple Tree shook with fear.

"They will eat my blossoms and I will have no fruit," she wailed, and the West Wind blew to the other trees to spread the news, and the whole orchard was thrown into a state of excitement.

"What a silly thing I have been! What a few bites of an apple in comparison to losing all my fruit!" No blossoms, no fruit!" and the next morning a great "For Rent" sign hung from the Apple Tree.

But the birds who wanted to rent early in the spring, had settled in the rooms of her friend's and none came to live in hers.

"Oh dear, Oh dear what shall I do?" asked the Apple Tree of her blossoms, but they could give her no answer, and the band of Grasshoppers swooped down on the orchard and began their battle. But as fast as they lit on a tree the birds would chase them away.

At last they came to the old Apple Tree, she shook with fear, but the birds finding that the Grasshoppers were good to eat, flew into her branches and before long there was not a grasshopper in sight.

The Apple Tree shook with joy, and thanked the birds that saved her beautiful blossoms.

Before long every room in the Apple Tree's home was occupied and all through the summer the birds flitted about in her boughs. Once in a while they would take a bite of apple and the old Apple Tree had nothing to say. She was glad to give something in return for all they had given her.

SAVE YOUR WASTE

On Tuesday of next week, the Brantford Thrift League, through its conservation of waste committee, will inaugurate a campaign for the collection of waste materials of every nature, and will undertake a systematic house-to-house collection.

The waste materials to be collected will comprise not only paper of every description, but will include clean old rags, old rubbers, old boots, bottles (not medicine), iron, zinc, brass, copper, pewter, lead (including foil from tea and other packets) electric light bulbs, etc.

It is the intention of the league to go extensively into the work of conserving the waste materials, turning the proceeds from the sale of such materials over to patriotic and worthy purposes.

Every housewife and every business man is invited to assist. The work has met with unbounded success in other centres, the citizens joining heartily, in the movement. A central store house is being arranged for, and a strong committee has been appointed to look after the work.

Badges will be provided for collectors, and citizens who wish to further the best interests of the city, and who would assist the committee in this work, are requested to refuse their waste to any one not wearing a badge bearing the words, "Brantford Thrift League."

GIRLS' ONE-PIECE DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

The latest decree of fashion says that the junior girl must have a belted coat dress just like her elders, and she cannot help liking No. S194. The broad tucks over the shoulders are very becoming to the slight girlish figure, and the clever way that the belt is inserted through slots makes the dress quite distinctive. As if this were not enough attraction for one small dress, a U-shaped yoke and a smartly cut collar are featured. A row of tiny fancy buttons decorates the yoke, and a bow of the same color silk gives a finish to the collar. Both long and short sleeves are given in the pattern. The former are gathered into a straight cuff, and the latter are finished with a roll cuff.

Materials that are best suited to this type of dress are singham, chambray, percale, washable crepe, Scotch plaids, shepherd checks, poplin or serge.

The one-piece dress pattern No. S194 comes in four sizes—8, 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the 8-year size requires 3 1/2 yards 27-inch, 2 1/2 yards 36-inch, 2 1/4 yards 44-inch, with 3/4 yard 20-inch contrasting material and 3/4 yard 26-inch silk for belt.

All of one material, 3 1/2 yards 27-inch, 2 1/2 yards 36-inch, 2 1/4 yards 44-inch. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

HOMELY AND THEREFORE NICE.

"She's terribly homely, but she's nice," said Molly, the little stenographer lady.

"Why do you say 'but'?" said the Authorman.

"Well, why not?" said Molly. "I think 'and so' would be better."

"I think 'and so' would be better," said the Authorman. "She's homely, and so she has to be nice."

"Why 'has to be'?"

It's Not an Accident that Homely Girls Are Interesting

"To make people like her. Did you think it was by accident that homely girls are apt to be the most interesting and the best mannered and generally the nicest. The way I've doped it out is that they have to be if they want to be liked, and being human beings, they do."

Molly considered. "You mean that pretty girls are never interesting or nice and that homely girls are never disagreeable."

Of Course Some Cases of Homeliness Are Ingrowing

"Not at all," said the Authorman. "I said 'apt to be.' And I don't mean that the homely girl consciously thinks things out and says 'I've got to be amusing and interesting and tactful, if I'm going to be liked.' A few of them do, but the most of them just go in that direction unconsciously. Circumstances push them that way. Of course some of them don't have the sense to go where they're pushed. They're the kind whose homeliness grows in on them and sours them. As for pretty girls, now and then you find one who is naturally too sweet tempered or clever to be spoiled by her own prettiness, but the most of them think it's enough for them to be pretty and just lie back on it. That's why it isn't usually the pretty women who are the best at holding their husbands."

Pretty Girls Make the Cynic Tired.

"By George, you're right," broke in the Wants-to-be-Cynic. "There's nothing makes me so tired as one of those pretty girls who make a business of being pretty. They expect everybody to kneel down and worship them and they're about as interesting or unselfish as these little pink pigs that are being fattened for the market. When anyone tries to introduce me to one of them I always refuse. Prettiness is all right in itself, but it takes an exceptional girl, as you say, not to be spoiled by it."

"Something like the rich man and the eye of a needle," suggested Molly.

"I suppose masculine approval stands for Heaven in your simile," said the Authorman's Wife scornfully.

"I've usually found it so," said the Authorman quite undisturbed.

DIVIDENDS TO THE WORKMEN

France Takes Another Step Towards Making Laborer a Business Partner

(Associated Press.)

Paris, April 7.—Another step toward making the laborer a business partner, participating in both the profits and management of enterprises in which he is employed, is being taken in France. The senate has adopted the principle of a bill amending corporation laws so as to permit the allotment of shares to workmen collectively in any establishment to be held for all employees of one year's standing or more, for the distribution of the dividends among them.

In case of dissolution the capital stock will be shared between all the shareholders, those holding labor shares as well as capital shares. Wage earners under this measure also may participate in the management of the corporation.

The law provides exemptions in favor of corporations formed under this law which it is hoped may help solve the problem of conflicts between capital and labor and reduce the number of strikes which increase France from 261 in 1892 to 1073 in 1913.

This law, it is held, will make mining shares less risky. Capital now hesitates to invest in these shares because of the frequency of strikes. The bringing of capital and labor into closer co-operation in this way has been one of Premier Briand's favorite projects.

The law under discussion, of course, cannot make it obligatory upon all corporations to accept the participation of their employees; it only encourages it by offering advantages that other corporations do not enjoy.

WOMEN SILENTLY SUFFER

There are sufferings which only a woman knows and about one woman in every four goes about her household duties while suffering actual pain. If a man had to endure as much pain he would stay at home and let his work take care of itself. But there is nobody to do the work of a wife and mother. Her household work cannot be neglected, and so she works on and silently suffers.

In nearly every case her sufferings take the form of backaches and pains in the side. Her appetite is poor, and the least exertion leaves her breathless, and yet she heroically struggles on with her manifold daily tasks. The whole trouble lies in the blood, which is either scanty or impoverished, so that the food she does take does not carry nourishment to the nerves, the brain and the body. Anemic is the medical term for this condition, and unless steps are taken to increase the blood supply, the sufferer may pass into a hopeless decline. To enrich the blood and increase its supply there is no medicine equal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood, which fills the veins, strengthens the nerves, aids digestion and stimulates the whole body. Through the fair use of these pills, backaches and sideaches disappear, and the former sufferer has new energy and new interest in life.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by dealers in medicine everywhere, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Advertisers Are Not Pirates!

Here is a nut for every householder to crack: The price of commodities which are advertised for sale has risen much less than the price of things never advertised. If you haven't a hammer handy, we shall crack that nut for you. When any concern has spent thousands for advertising it cannot afford to throw away business in a species of piratical charges. Not so with the vendor of a head of cabbage or a bag of potatoes. He is restrained by nothing except the contents of your pocket.

It pays, therefore, to read advertisements in The Courier. "Brantford's Better Paper"

SUB. CHASERS ACT AND REAP A FINE HARVEST Submersibles

THE NEW YORK MIN No Casualties Vessel

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, April 10.—New Times this morning publishes following:

The British have been destroying U-boats at the average rate of one a day since February 1, and lately at an even higher rate, according to information brought to Washington by the German declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare. British ships sank thirty-two submarines. Since then the average number destroyed has risen to more than one a day. British naval officers assert that the methods in fighting the submarines are being improved constantly. A small motor boat, known as a "submarine chaser" following in the wake of destroyers dragging cables or chains between them has most of the U-boats with a new explosive bomb effective within a circumference of 200 yards. Airships are used also, while the practice of equipping merchant ships with forward, as well as aft, has caused the destruction of several U-boats. British officers say the German profess to be turning out a submarine a day, but they do not see how submarines, manned by competent crews can be sent to sea at this rate.

Under the terms of the American lines New York struck a mine 7.40 p.m. last night, five miles Liverpool bar. No casualties were reported. The vessel later proceeded to Liverpool.

Consul Washington at Liverpool reporting the incident to the State Department today said:

No Casualties. "The American liner New York struck a mine 7.40 p.m. last night five miles off Liverpool Bar. The company reports passengers landed at Liverpool except four who were still on the ship. No casualties. Vessel proceeded under own steam."

Now (one o'clock this morning) entering her dock.

New York, April 10.—The American Line Steamship New York, this port on March 29 with 58 passengers, cargo and mail. She carried a naval crew of gunners and armed. The ship's crew consisted of 314 men and was commanded by Captain W. J. Roberts.

The union of British Columbia municipalities committee adopted the proposal recommending to the Department of Agriculture for tuberculin testing of cattle and inspection of dairies be continued.
