W. G. PARISH,

GEO. G. HUTCHESON & CO.

We want to engage your attention about our Dress Goods Stock. If you have any thought of buying a dress you ought to see it. We are told repeatedly that there is nothing like them in Brockville for style and value. Ladies are good judges, and when they pass judgment it is generally correct. We have all the new makes and styles in Dress Goods, and some lovely new patterns in Challies. We will show the stock with pleasure.

Our stock of Spring Carpets has all arrived. As usual it is the largest selection you will see in this section, probably twice as large as any other stock. It comprises all grades of Brussels, Tapestry, Wool, Union and Homp Carpets, also Velvet Carpets, Mattings, Carpet Squares with border all around, and Floor Oilcloths. Tapestry Carpets range from 80c. to $1.00 per yard. Brussels Carpets at 85c., 95c., $1.00, $1.10 to $1.25. Borders to match a great many patterns. Also Stair Carpets. Prices guaranteed as low or lower than the same quality of goods can be bought for, either in Brockville or in the city. We tell no fables about our goods; we guarantee them as represented or money refunded. We solicit the favor of a call of inspection, Carpeting and making attended to when desired.

COUNTY NEWS.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

A Budget of News and Gossip.—Personal Intelligence.—A Little of Everything Well Mixed up.
LYNDHURST.

Some of the low land crops have suffered from the wet, but the pastures and meadows are in fine condition.

Mr. Delbert Danby came home from Michigan to attend the funeral of his only child. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Danby in their sad bereavement.

The Members of Court Lyndhurst, I. O. F. were prepared to attend divine service at the Methodist Church, but they did not attend and prevented their going.

LYN.

MONDAY, July 4.—It is seldom I reply to anonymous communications, but will do so this time to reply to a letter in the Brockville Record, over the signature of "Fair Play." I cannot see what Fair Play has exception to, as neither of the Lyn correspondents found fault with the method of Mr. Horner's method of "converting" sinners. Calling the Athens Reporter and its correspondent names will be of no advantage to Mr. Horner, and will not advance the cause of christianity.

The impudence of Fair Play in dictating to the Recorder what items they are to copy from their exchanges surpasses the cheek of a cent. Mr. Horner, it appears, hypocrisied Fair Play. I only hope he will not lose his senses before the new asylum is built in Brockville. In concluding this letter I will only add this: that if Mr. Horner is a true servant of the Lord, from all such servants, good Lord, deliver us.

AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT

MONDAY, July 4.—Lively times at the Byre Mfg. Co. works—running over-time.

Recalling the memory of the oldest inhabitant was there so much water passing through Lyn on 1st of July as this year.

A large number took in the A. O. U. W. excursion to Newboro on Dominion Day, and had a pleasant time.

The wet weather makes the strawberry harvest very unpleasant. A large number of Indians are employed. Ojibway boys buy their own goods, making and selling baskets and bead-work. The Indians lounge around, some of them devising schemes to procure a supply of fire-water.

Typographical errors sometimes make quite a difference. In your rendering of my item in reference to the Horner matter two weeks ago you made me say, "When a man gets loaded up with self-righteousness, look out for your copper." It should be, queer capers.

OAK LEAF.

MONDAY, July 4.—This wonderful progress that is being made in this vicinity, especially in the educational line. One of the latest novelties is the teaching of Geography to the "birds of the air." To carry out this idea (we believe) Mr. Johnson has placed a large map in his corn field so that the crows, when picking out his corn may be improving their intellect by a careful scrutiny of the map. We are of the opinion that this idea was originated while Mr. Johnson was mastering classical in Athens high school. Our teacher spent last Tuesday morning in Athens, he having two pupils writing on the entrance examination, and during his absence the chair was ably filled and the roll was handled by Miss Maggie Johnson.

Building is booming, the structures varying in size from very large barns to small hen houses, but the latter are more represented by numbers. There was a solid decline in price of colored goods, equal to 1/2 of a cent per lb. White goods declined about 1-16 below that of last week. Buying was not general but solid in form among those wanting the goods. Every box offered could have changed hands at the prices paid. In a few cases the salesman refused to let their offerings go. We think, however, nearly every offering was closed out soon after adjournment of the board. President Singleton being absent, his chair was occupied by Professor Meech, vice-president. The sale moved nicely with the Professor as master of ceremonies. The offerings were: 3,196 colored, $3.84 white, a total of 6,290, which was about 2,000 short of actual sales. Ruling prices paid: 1-16. Below high and low points made. Cable, 45 shillings.

The make of cheese is said to be the largest and best in the history of the trade in Eastern Ontario, with fairly good prices for the goods. Comparing the market with the same date last year, and taking into consideration the shortness of the make at that time, a stronger tone is evident all around. Not only is the price higher, but there is also a certainty of a heavy make during the summer, which must be satisfactory to those interested in the production.

The members of Franklin Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters will hold a strawberry social in the grove of Mrs. Soper, Esq., on Thursday evening next. The inst. A interesting programme is being prepared.

DELTA.

MONDAY, July 4.—Mr. P. W. Strong was here last week looking after his cheese factory.

Mr. Davis, of Brockville, is the guest of Rev. W. F. Perley this week.

A number of men went to Lyndhurst to attend the Conservative meeting at the Agricultural Hall.

Fred Vanalstine of Kingston is visiting his parents here.

J. H. Monlon has moved his furniture and all other stock to his new place in Lyndhurst.

A large band of gypsies passed through here last week peddling tinware and lace.

We are pleased to hear of the recovery of Mr. Alvin Wilkes from his fatal illness. He is able to go around.

A number of ladies and gentlemen took in the A. O. U. W. excursion to Newboro last Friday and returned home in the evening. There were several cases of Delta people and they had an enjoyable time.

Miss Fannie Hazelton has gone to Saad Bay to visit her friends.

We had a heavy rain last Sunday. There are many floods around the village.

ADDITION.

From an occasional correspondent.

MONDAY, July 4.—In looking over the columns of the Reporter I see that most of the correspondents to your interesting journal are noting the progress of the several localities. I thought I would send you in a few items this week about our quiet little village.

Crops on the high lands are looking splendid, but with extra good. The new variety that the farmers of this section imported from Huron Co., known as the "Hybrid Mediterranean," is something extra. Meadows are going to be the heaviest, in many places.

The lodge nights of the A. O. U. W. and I. O. G. T. cause quite a stir in the village, as the meetings of both societies are largely attended.

The great cheese sale at Moffat & Scott's is making lively times in the village. The smiling countenance of Mr. Moffat tells that quick sales and small profits is the way to do business.

There is a rumor in the air that our ex-mayor is about to join the great army of Benedict. His frequent visit to the vicinity of the Rodan, gives color to the report.

BROCKVILLE CHEESE BOARD.

Special to the Reporter.

THURSDAY, June 30.—The market was well represented by gentlemen anxious to purchase and sell goods. There was a solid decline in price of colored goods, equal to 1/2 of a cent per lb. White goods declined about 1-16 below that of last week. Buying was not general but solid in form among those wanting the goods. Every box offered could have changed hands at the prices paid. In a few cases the salesman refused to let their offerings go. We think, however, nearly every offering was closed out soon after adjournment of the board. President Singleton being absent, his chair was occupied by Professor Meech, vice-president. The sale moved nicely with the Professor as master of ceremonies. Not only is the price higher, but there is also a certainty of a heavy make during the summer, which must be satisfactory to those interested in the production.

REDAK.

MONDAY, July 4.—I had a great number of interesting items relating to the good people of this place, but returning rather to my own case, my best girl, safely through the woods. I lost my way and my valuable memoranda—a private loss, a public calamity.

The English church is progressing as fast as possible in the unfavorable weather for building. This beautiful edifice will soon form one more adornment that will for generations grace and embellish this fine centre of morals and rural industry.

Mr. Wm. Harvey, a member of the firm McLaughlin Bros., Amport, during his annual business visit to the greater centres of the West and South, called at the home of his boyhood. He is a remarkable man and very genial. Mrs. Harvey, the guest of Mrs. Charlie Goff, is a merry-hearted lady of wealth and taste, but loves this locality more in its rustic simplicity than the most renowned summer resort.

Mr. Charlie Goff has the finest piece of spring wheat (a new variety) that we have seen, and the finest piece of potatoes between the river and the Rodan. Charlie has the ground to build a new house when the big storm is over. "It appears that the rain-makers at Washington have been tinkering with Nature's meteorological laboratory until they have got the machine off at a high rate, and they can't stop it. Why not let well enough alone? They ought to be arraigned at the bar of public opinion and punished for such extravagant conduct."

When Mr. Wm. Lee undertakes to move his building he looks off. He is regarded as an excellent hand at such work.

A very excellent young man from Greenbush has stormed the Rodan. The capture of this time is a fair daughter of a good farmer who lives near the old fort.

If any of the Brockville or Lyndhurst gentlemen in their rabbit haunts should find any memoranda we appeal to their honor not to reveal our notes on gossip, as they were not written for the public ear.

W. S. H.

A RELIC OF THE LONG AGO.

A few days ago a friend who went through the late negotiations between the Northern and Southern States, as a soldier attached to a Wisconsin regiment, handed us a letter that fell into his hands by the capture of a Confederate bearer of dispatches. While sorting out the contents of the letter, which being addressed to the captured man, and not possessing any value as a public document, was retained by him as a curiosity. The letter was written by the man's sweetheart, who, for her country's cause, was teaching school in one of the Confederate states. A few weeks after this, while raiding in the enemy's country, the company to which our friend belonged was billeted for dinner at a little village, and at the house to which our friend was assigned he met the young lady who wrote the letter. He drew her into conversation and to him she expressed the same love of country and principles and the same deadly hatred of the Northerners that she had expressed in such terse, bitter and eloquent lines in her letter. One time our friend thought he would produce the letter and explain the circumstances under which they came into his possession, but a look into the depths of those lustrous black eyes made him reconsider that discretion was the better part of valor and he wisely determined to retain the secret within his own breast. We give quotations from this letter simply to show the feelings that actuated the people of the South in their determination to keep and perpetuate their own peculiar institutions, and their hatred for those who wished (as they thought) to deprive them of the same. The language and the sentiments expressed are, from a Southern standpoint, grand, noble and expressive, and the mind that conceived and that wrote those sentiments did not belong to a plebeian Southerner. Following is the letter, minus the endearing and private portions:—

OAKLAND, MISS., May 8, 1865.

My Darling Jimmy,— * * * I have an opportunity of sending this across the river by a steamer, and I could not resist the pleasure it would afford me to talk with you awhile. And, too, I did not know when I would have another opportunity of writing to you, if it is true, as reported, that the Confederacy east of the Mississippi is surrendered to the enemy. The condition of things on this side is truly deplorable. Demoralization fills the mass. I am shocked at the acquiescence with which a majority, within my knowledge, yields to the thought of Yankee rule. To me the contemplation of the thought is horrible. Has God forsaken us? I will not think so, even though I know we deserve it. Has all the precious blood which has been spilled upon so many hard contested fields been for naught? Have the best and bravest of our Southern land fought, bled and died for the love of one at home to have Yankee masters? Great God! has honor, truth and patriotism sunk into utter oblivion? Shall it never more be "sweet to die for one's country"? If we are soon to have the enemy among us, may God destroy me forever if I ever prove faithless to our Southern home and our own brave, true, honorable soldiers—not those who have deserted, but the firm and faithful who had rather die than bow to the Yankee yoke of bondage. Such men I love, I honor, respect them, and would sacrifice any pleasure for their comfort. I hope the war will go in Texas. Go in? Yes, till not a vestige of a Yankee nation remains.

* * * What are you doing, Jimmy? Fighting the Yankees? God grant He may give you strength and bravery to fight them to the very last hour, until there is none left to fight. Stand by your country's banner, Jimmy, be firm, true and faithful. Let not despondency find admittance into your breast for a moment; drive it away as a viper whose very breath is death. Fight, Jimmy, be true, be faithful to God, your country and yourself. If you fall, fall honorably with your face to the foe. Posterity will award you a wreath of unfading glories. Never flinch from duty that leads to the salvation of your country, the independence of the Southern States, and the overthrow of the Yankee boot, and a half mile from Oakland. Love of occupation prompted me to it and patriotism urged me on. All the servants are with us still and faithful to labor. * * * Sister Anne is with us yet, loyal and true to her Southern home. She is as much an enthusiast as I am. Her husband has given a brave heart to the Yankee bullets. It is a deep and rankling wound, and I verily believe that were it not for Gasset (her boy), she would be tempted to don male attire and revenge the death of her husband. * * * The Yankees made a raid to Grenada New Year's day and burned the block of the Brown's Hotel; did not do much other damage. Ten Yankee transports have been to Grenada trading with the government. Bro. John wrote me that he did not even see the boats, much less trade with them. Cousin Lou received a long letter from Cousin Bod some time ago. He arrived home safely. He is still a cripple but able to ride horseback, and has joined a cavalry company. He says he will fight, play the fiddle and dance as long as there is any life left in him.

We want to engage your attention about our Dress Goods Stock. If you have any thought of buying a dress you ought to see it. We are told repeatedly that there is nothing like them in Brockville for style and value. Ladies are good judges, and when they pass judgment it is generally correct. We have all the new makes and styles in Dress Goods, and some lovely new patterns in Challies. We will show the stock with pleasure.

Our stock of Spring Carpets has all arrived. As usual it is the largest selection you will see in this section, probably twice as large as any other stock. It comprises all grades of Brussels, Tapestry, Wool, Union and Homp Carpets, also Velvet Carpets, Matting, Carpet Squares with border all around, Brussels Carpets at $5c. 50c. $1.00, $1.10 to $1.25. Borders to match a great many patterns. Also Stair Carpets. Prices guaranteed as low or lower than the same quality of goods can be bought for, either in Brockville or in the cities. We tell no fables about our goods; we guarantee them as represented or money refunded. We solicit the favor of a call of inspection. Call early and making attended to when desired.

COUNTY NEWS.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.
A Budget of News and Gossip—Personal Intelligence—A Little of Everything well Mixed up.
LYNDHURST.

Some of the low land crops have suffered from the wet, but the pastures and meadows are in fine condition.

Mr. Delbert Danby came home from Michigan to attend the funeral of his only child. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Danby in their sorrow and bereavement.

The members of Court Lyndhurst
I. O. F. were prepared to attend divine service at Forlar last Sunday, but the rain came down in torrents and prevented their going.

LYN.
MONDAY, July 4.—It is seldom I reply to anonymous communications, but will do so this time to reply to a letter in the Brockville Recorder of last week, concerning Mr. Horner, over the signature of "Fair Play." I cannot say what Fair Play has in exception to, as neither of the Lyn correspondents found fault with the Methodist Church, but they did find fault with Mr. Horner's method of "converting" sinners. Calling the Athens Reporter and its correspondent names will be of no advantage to Mr. Horner, and will not advance the cause of christianity.

The impudence of Fair Play in dictating to the Recorder what items they are to copy from their exchanges surpasses the cheek of a canal horse.
Mr. Horner, it appears, hypothesized Fair Play. I only hope he will not lose his senses before the new asylum is built in Brockville. In concluding this letter I will only add this that if Mr. Horner is a true servant of the Lord, from all such servants, good Lord, deliver us.

AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.
MONDAY, July 4.—Lively times at the Eyre Mfg. Co. works—running over-time.

Never in the memory of the oldest settler was there so much passing through Lyn on 1st of July as this year.

A large number took in the A. O.
U. W. excursion to Newboro on Dominion Day, and had a pleasant time.
The weather makes the strawberry harvest very unpleasant. A large number of indians are employed.
On wet days the squaws buy themselves making and selling baskets and other articles. The indians lounge around, some of them devising schemes to procure a supply of fire-water.

Typographical errors sometimes make quite a difference. In your reporting of my item in reference to the Horner matter two weeks ago you made me say, "When a man gets loaded up with self-righteousness, look out for your coppers." It should be queer coppers.

OAK LEAF.
MONDAY, July 4.—The wonderful progress that is being made in this vicinity, especially in the educational line. One of the latest novelties is the teaching of Geography to the "birds of the air."
To carry out this idea (we believe)
Mr. Johnson has placed a large map in his corn field so that the crows, when picking out the corn may be improving their intellect by a careful scrutiny of the map. We are of the opinion that this idea was originated while Mr. Johnson was mastering classics in Athens high school.
Our teacher spent last Tuesday morning in Athens, he having two pupils writing on the entrance examination, and during his absence the chair was ably filled by the red well handled by Miss Maggie Johnson.

Building is booming, the structures varying in size from very large barns to small hen houses, but the largest is a magnificent barn, being built by Mr. Godkin.

Crops look well, but a little too much rain.

Now that the holidays are at hand we advise any one who wishes to return rather than from seeing my cattle do not get within the school premises or the owner of such cattle shall be certainly called upon to clean the yard.

The school ground is the pride of this section, and we object to its being made a night pasture.

One of the funniest things we have seen for some time was witnessed last Wednesday evening, viz: our Waterville farmer cultivating potatoes with his twenty year old hired man riding the horse. If one were to compare the sizes of horse and rider, it would say "were better if the man would carry the horse."

REDAN.
MONDAY, July 4.—I had a great number of interesting items relating to the good people of this place, but returning rather than from seeing my best girl safely through the woods, I lost my way and my valuable memoranda—a private loss, a public calamity.

The English church is progressing as fast as possible in the unfavorable weather for building. This beautiful edifice will soon form one more adornment that will for generations grace and embellish this fine centre of moral and rural industry.

Mr. Wm. Harvey, a member of the firm McLaughlin Bros., Armory, during his annual business visits to the great lumber centres of the West and South, called at the home of his boyhood. He is a remarkable man and very genial. Mrs. Harvey, the guest of Mrs. Charlie Goff, is a mercy-hearted lady of wealth and taste, but loves this locality more in its rustic simplicity than the most renowned summer resorts.

Mr. Charlie Goff has the finest piece of spring wheat (a new variety) that we have seen, and the finest piece of potatoes between the River and the Redan. Charlie has the material on the ground to build a new house when the big storm is over.

It appears that the rain-makers at Washington have been tinkering with Nature's meteorological laboratory until they have got the machine off at a high rate and they can't stop it.
Why not let well enough alone? They ought to be arraigned at the bar of public opinion and punished for such extraneous conduct.

When Mr. Wm. Lee undertakes to move a building, it broils off. He is regarded as an excellent hand at such work.

A very excellent young man from Greenbush has stormed the Redan.
The capture this time is a fair daughter of a good farmer who lives near the old fort.

If any of the Brockville or Lyn gentlemen in their rabbit hunts should find our memoranda, we appeal to their honor not to reveal our notes on gossip, as they were not written for the public ear.

DELTA.
MONDAY, July 4.—Mr. P. W. Strong was here last week looking after his cheese factory.

Mr. Davis of Brockville, is the guest of Rev. W. F. Perley this week.

A number of men went to Lynd-hurst to attend the Conservative meeting at the Agricultural Hall.

Fred Vanarsdall of Kingston is visiting his parents here.

J. H. Montton has moved his furniture and all other stock to his new house.

A large band of gypsies passed through here last week peddling tinware and lace.

We are pleased to hear of the recovery of Mr. Alvin Wilton from his late illness. He is able to go around.

A number of ladies and gentlemen took in the A. O. U. W. excursion to Newboro last Friday and returned home in the evening. There were two car loads of Delta people and they had an enjoyable time.

Miss Fannie Hazelton has gone to Sand Bay to visit her friends.

We had a heavy rain last Sunday.
There are many floods around the village.

ADDITION.
From an occasional correspondent.
MONDAY, July 4.—In looking over the columns of the Reporter I see that most of the correspondents to your interesting journal are noting the progress of their several localities, and I thought I would send you in a few items this week about our quiet little village.

Crops on the high lands are looking splendid; fall wheat extra good.
The new variety that the farmers of this section imported from Huron Co., known as the "Hybrid Mediterranean," is something extra. Meadows are going to be the heaviest, in many years.

The lodge nights of the A. O. U. W. and I. O. G. T. cause quite a stir in the village, as the meetings of both societies are largely attended.

The great cheap sale at Moffatt & Scott's making lively times in the village. The smiling countenance of Mr. Moffatt tells that quick sales and small profits is the way to do business.

There is a rumor in the air that our ex-mayor is about to join the great army of Benedict. His frequent visit to the vicinity of the Redan, gives color to the report.

Brockville Cheese Board.
Special to the Reporter.
THURSDAY, June 30.—The market was well represented by gentlemen anxious to purchase and sell goods.
There was a solid decline in price of colored goods, equal to 1/2 of a cent per lb. White goods did not recede from a set-back, and about 1 1/2c below that of last week. Buying was not general but solid in form among those wanting the goods. Every box offered could have changed hands at the prices paid. In a few cases the salesman refused to let their offerings go. We think, however, nearly every offering was closed out soon after adjournment of the board. President Singleton being absent, his chair was occupied by Professor Meach, vice-president. The sale moved nicely with the Professor as master of ceremonies. The offerings were: 3,196 colored; 3,984 white, a total of 8,230, which was about 2,000 short of actual sales. Baling prices paid: colored, 8 1/2c.; white, 8 11/16c., only 1-16c. below high and low points made. Cable, 45 shillings.

The price of June cheese is said to be the largest and best in the history of the trade in Eastern Ontario, with fairly good prices for the goods.
Comparing the market with the same date last year, and taking into consideration the shortness of the make at that time, a stronger tone is evident all around. Not only is the price higher, but there is also a certainty of a heavy make during the summer, which must be satisfactory to those interested in the production.

The members of Frankville Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters will hold a strawberry social in the grove of Enos Soper, Esq., on Thursday evening next, 7th inst. An interesting programme is being prepared.

A RELIC OF THE LONG AGO.
A few days ago a friend who went through the late unpleasantness between the Northern and Southern States, as a soldier attached to a Wisconsin regiment, handed us a letter that fell into his hands by the capture of a Confederate bearer of dispatches. While sorting out the contraband matter he came across the letter, which being addressed to the author of this paper, and not possessing any value as a public document, was retained by him as a curiosity. The letter was written by the man's sweetheart, who, for her country's cause, was teaching school in one of the Confederate states. A few weeks after this, while raiding in the enemy's country, the company to which our friend belonged was billeted for dinner at a little village, and at the house to which our friend was assigned he met the young lady who wrote the letter.
He drew her into conversation and to him she expressed the same love of country and principles as the same deadly hated of the Northerners that she had expressed in such terse, bitter and eloquent lines in her letter. At one time our friend thought he would produce the letter and explain the circumstances under which they came into his possession, but a look into the depths of those lustrous black eyes made him conclude that discretion was the better part of valor and he wisely determined to retain the secret within his own breast. We give quotations from this letter simply to show the feelings that actuated the people of the South in their determination to keep and perpetuate their own peculiar institutions, and their hatred for those who wished (as they thought) to deprive them of them. The language and the sentiment expressed are from a Southern stand-point, grand, noble and expressive, and the mind that conceived and that wrote those sentiments did not belong to a plebeian Southerner. Following is the letter, minus the endearing and private portions:—
OAKLAND, Miss., May 8, 1863.

My Darling Jimmie,— * * * I have an opportunity of sending this across the river by a soldier, and I could not resist the pleasure it would afford me to tell with you awhile.
And, too, I did not know when I would have another opportunity of writing to you, if it is true, as reported, that the Confederacy east of the Mississippi is surrounded to the enemy. The condition of things on this side is truly deplorable. Demoralization fills the mass. I am shocked at the acquiescence with which a majority, within my knowledge, yield to the thought of Yankee rule. To me the contemplation of the thought is horrible. Has God forsaken us?
I will not think so, even though I know we deserve it. Has all the precious blood which has been spilled upon so many hard contested fields been for naught? Have the best and bravest of our Southern land fought, bled and died for the loved ones at home to have Yankee masters? Great God! has honor, truth and patriotism sunk into utter oblivion? Shall it never more be "sweet to die for one's country?" If we are soon to have the enemy among us, may God destroy me forever if I ever

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Within the past week we have had three papers returned, marked refused, by parties who get their mail at the Athens office. We have been considerate enough to allow these subscribers to run in arrears until the combined amounts exceed $15. Not one of these parties has called to make any arrangements for paying their arrears, before refusing the paper, and we now publicly give notice that unless the several amounts are paid within the next ten days, we will advertise the accounts for sale for two weeks in the Reporter, when, if they are not then paid or sold we will place them in the hands of the clerk of the Division Court for collection. We have no objection to parties refusing the paper if they are clear on our books, but we are bound to stop this wholesale robbery in some way.

ATHENS, JULY 5, 1892.

Business notices in local columns 10 cents per line each insertion.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

ATHENS AND NEIGHBORING LOCALITIES BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Events as Seen by Our Knight of the Pencil—Local Announcements—Belle's Right Down.

Thad W. H. Levitt and wife are at Cedar Park.

A good second-hand buggy for sale at A. James'.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cornell, of Wellington, Price Edward County, are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Carriages built to order, repairing and painting done in first class style at moderate prices.—A. James.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Beach spent Dominion Day at Union Park, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stevens at Clayton.

Machine oil at 60c. per gal., warranted not to gum a machine. Try it.—Morr & Robeson.

Rev. Mr. Murdoch will preach a special sermon to young people in the Baptist church, Athens, on Sunday evening.

Glen Buell public school is being kept open during the holidays, with Miss Annie McCallum as teacher. The prolonged illness of the former teacher made this course advisable.

A genuine coat price sale—goods costing $5 will be sold for $1. Mr. W. Dennis, China Hall, Brookville, will remove to Merrill Block Sept. 1st. All goods sold at cost previous to removal.

The excursionists on Dominion Day were well pleased with the speed made by the D. & W., but, nevertheless, an Athens horse left here the same time and trotted it a dead heat into the ambitious village.

Divine service will be held in Christ Church, Athens, on Sunday next at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. The Rev. John Osborne, Incumbent of Clayton, and formerly of Leeds and Lansdowne, is expected to preach and take part in the services.

Marsden Kemp, specialist in piano treatment and tuning, will be here in a short time. Persons will be careful as there are some tuners only who represent themselves as Mr. Kemp, who has had a thorough training in all the finer branches, besides tuning.

Mr. U. J. Flach with his friend, Mr. Ludwig, of Toronto, who had been on a fishing excursion to the back lakes, left for the west yesterday. A little bird informs us that Mr. F. will be accompanied by another friend on his return at the close of vacation.

NOTICE.—We purpose closing our books July 1st, after which we will sell for cash or produce only. To reduce stock before stock-taking for the next 30 days, we will give a 10 per cent discount to cash purchasers. All goods selling at big reductions.—WILLIAMS & McLAUGHLIN.

An Athens medical student explored the internal intricacies of a large turtle last week. Our reporter was privileged to witness the dissection, which was very interesting. The most curious part of the operation was the action of the heart, which continued to pulsate long after it had been removed from the body.

Election of Officers.
At the regular meeting of the Athens Lodge of I. O. O. F., held on Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected:
N. G. Lester Brown
V. G. Chas. Wilson
Per. Sec. H. H. Arnold
Rec. Sec. Geo. F. Downey
Trustee W. M. Stevens
A. M. Chasells will be J. P. G. for the ensuing term. Jas. Ross was elected representative to the grand lodge, which meets at Windsor on Aug. 10th.

Dr. W. H. Wainwright, throat and lung specialist of Toronto, will visit Athens again on Wednesday, July 13th, and will be consulting from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m. at the Grand Hotel. He is a specialist in all the diseases of the throat, larynx, trachea, and bronchi. He has been in New York on his arrival back in America should be sure to call on July 13th, as he will not return until about the last of August. The Dr. has consented to make his visit before his departure, because there were a good many who did not see him during his last visit and made a special request for his return before going to Europe.

Last evening a messenger hurriedly on Dr. Hartie to go to Willistown, to see Mr. Wellington Earl, who had been taken suddenly ill. Although all haste was made, he found that Mrs. Earl had expired a few minutes before his arrival. The grave is in the cemetery and the body was taken to the morgue. The deceased lady was in good health, having assisted to do the milking in the evening, and on coming to the house complained of a choking sensation in her throat and called for a glass of water. In a few moments she complained of feeling worse and a messenger at once went for the doctor. The funeral takes place this (Tuesday) afternoon to the Methodist church.

There were 81 pupils wrote for the entrance exam at the Athens high school last week.

Geo. P. Graham, proprietor of the Newburgh Hotel, has sold out to Messrs. Klatis and Warren.

Miss Lucy Kelly, assistant in the Newburgh public school is spending her vacation with friends here.

Rev. Mr. Harris of Montreal, will preach in the Methodist church morning and evening of Sabbath next.

We have to thank Geo. Johnson, formerly of Elbe Mills, now of Grand Forks, Dakota, for a large bundle of Western papers.

Charleston Lake was well patronized on July 1st, notwithstanding the counter attraction of the A. O. U. W. excursion to Newboro.

It is a very rare thing to see a drunken man on the streets of Athens, but three or four of the "blotchy" got on a slight jamboree on Dominion Day.

The promoters of the Smith's Falls railway say that the preliminary arrangements necessary before the construction work is begun are being made.

The lively business of N. C. Williams is rushed these days for all it is worth. Scarcely a day this summer but every horse and vehicle has been taken to the mill, and the mill is full. Now has first-class horses and rigs and his prices are reasonable; and his popularity with the public.

Dr. O. O. Stowell, a graduate of the Athens high school, who settled in Copenhagen, N. Y., when commencing practice, has sold out his practice to Dr. M. Taplin, also a graduate of Athens high school, from Addison. Dr. Stowell goes to Watertown.

The road commissioners request all residents of the village to cut down all burdock, thistles and obnoxious weeds in front of their lots. If not at once done, the overseer will employ some one to do the work and the parties will have to pay for it with their taxes.

According to Dr. Hoskins, three ounces of hellebore dissolved in three gallons of hot water will destroy onion and cabbage root maggots as soon as it touches them. Remove a portion of the soil and mix with the water and pour it to the roots. It can be poured in, but a syringe helps in its application; a gill or so to the hill or plant.

The following townships will be required to raise, as equivalent to government grants, the sums named: Bastard and Burgess, $972; North Crosby, $140; South Crosby, $215; Elizabethtown, $486; Kitley, $278; Front of Leeds and Lansdowne, $880; Rear of Leeds and Lansdowne, $270; Rear Yonge and Escott, $160; Front of Yonge and Escott, $312.

The country is in such a condition that it would require two weeks of hot sun and wind to carry off the surplus water. At the end of that time, with all this in its favor, in many places hay and clover would rot in the fields. It is a good idea for farmers who have silos to cut and draw the green hay at once into the silo, and trust to fair weather next fall to cure the corn in the shock? This plan will be the surest remedy out of his present dilemma.

The experience of the manufacturers of the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco is a lesson in political economy. Previous to their commencing this brand, the tobacco made of the finest Virginia leaf, was always held at fancy prices, and put up in the finest packages. It was a success. It was thought that only the rich would buy such tobacco, and at the old prices none but the rich could buy it. The makers of the "Myrtle Navy" resolved to strip the manufacturer of the profit of all his fancy cuts, and their profit at so low a rate, that no competitor could possibly undersell them with the same quality of article. From the very first, the success of their plan of profit was a uniform percentage upon the cost. It is their enormous sales which make their low rate of profit a satisfactory one in the aggregate, and also gives them their firm hold upon the market. Their success is an excellent lesson for manufacturers to study over.

The Athens Baseball Club came over to having a match with Brookville on 1st July. It happened in this way: The Athens club had by correspondence been endeavoring to arrange for a match with some club in the county, but being unsuccessful they at length inserted a formal challenge in the Recorder, stating their willingness to play any Brookville team on their own grounds at any time. In due course an equally formal note of acceptance was received from the secretary of a Brookville club, naming the date for July 1st. But at the last moment the Brookville team funked, and judging from the reasons assigned for the back down one would be led to think that the members thereof look to the woods at the bare thought of facing the Athens twister. Brace up, Brookville, take a roll in the sand and come out and have a little game.

The strawberry lawn social held under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, on the lawn of Dr. S. S. Cornell and B. Loverin, on Wednesday evening last, was well attended, considering the damp condition of the grounds, caused by the continuous rain of the past week. Comfortable seats were arranged on the lawn, where young men and maidens could sit in the shadow and watch the promenading throng. The ages and delicate found seats upon the veranda, where they could exchange pleasant greetings and look down upon the moving panorama, gliding amongst the trees or strolling in bold relief in the glare of the many lights hung from the branches of the trees. Strawberries and cakes were served to all and the ice cream and lemonade stands were well patronized. The Athens orchestra played a number of choice selections of music, and Messrs. Stewart, Fisher, Kerfoot and Bellamy sang several very fine choruses. The proceeds amounted to nearly $30. The ladies are to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements carried out at the entertainment, as all present seemed to have had an enjoyable evening.

In the Chicago post office 100,000 letters are sorted and bagged in thirty-five minutes by 217 men.

Miss Bertha Loverin left yesterday morning on a visit to friends at Chalk River and Ottawa.

Report says that the hop crop in the vicinity of Lynn and Matiland has the appearance of producing the largest crop in years.

A. E. Coolidge, at one time an employee in H. H. Arnold's store, now of Furlham, New York City is spending his holidays in this village.

Mr. Geo. Livingstone, of Ansonia, Conn., is in town visiting his sister, Miss Mary Livingstone. He leaves for home this (Tuesday) morning.

Mr. Kennedy informs us that the result of the entrance examinations will not be ready until the latter part of this week. It will appear in next issue.

Quite a large number went per B. & W. to attend the Ogdensburg celebration yesterday from along the line. About twenty-five got on at the Athens station.

The mines of the world produce twenty-five tons of gold every week, but the precious metal remains as rare as ever.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Wm. Brown has opened up a carriage plant shop over N. C. Williams' livery stable. We have no objection to a good work and prices to suit customers. Those having any new or second hand carriages to be painted would do well to give him a call.

A subscriber at Phillippsville, under date of July 1st, writes as follows: "I am your man regarding the fact that your letter by Wm. T. Stevens. We see nothing wonderful in the fact, as we now have several that are as sound as when picked from the vines, and of a most better flavor, for we have eradicated that peculiar flavor found in the citron when first gathered. It is a mistake to prepare them for the table immediately after taking them from the vines, as is the usual custom by the good house wife. A good rule to follow (and I have found it the only safe one) in keeping citrons and other members of that family, such as pumpkins, squash, &c., is to leave them on the vines as long as possible. Do not pick them on Friday night and taking care not to bruise them in gathering; then place them high and dry on the top shelf in the pantry, turning them over occasionally. On one weight, as I had several that would exceed that of Mr. Stevens' by several pounds. From present appearances, I am led to believe that I will be able to exhibit at the fair all the sound citrons of last fall's growth."

Blow Out at 14 lbs.
The big 60 horse power engine in the Bullis & Sherman factory was started for the first time a few days ago. The senior partner acted as chief engineer and a goodly crowd of citizens were gathered around the engine room to see the huge "manebot" make its trial trip. Amongst those present was the general proprietor of L. L. L., his worshipful brother, the chief engineer, the sub-contractor, and uncle Harvey, the owner of the noble north ward. The spectators, as was to be expected, all took a deep interest in the success of the work, and the chief engineer's time was fully occupied throwing broken rails, pieces of boards and scantling into the capacious maw of the furnace and answering the numerous and mostly questions put to him by his guests. He had just finished an eloquent peroration on how quickly he could get up steam, and was going to take, and had worked his way up to careful attention to his utterances, when all at once a sharp report on top of the boiler and a cloud of escaping steam threw the whole crowd into consternation. His workshoping his head and made a break through the doorway into the open air; L. L. L. grabbed his coat tails and made a rush in the direction of the B. & W. station, never once deigning to look over his shoulder until the lee side of the station was reached; Uncle Harvey wondered "what in all water was the matter with the pesky thing," and hid toward his own part of the town; while the chief engineer grasped his hat with one hand and the nap of the neck of his son and heir and made a "scoot" up the stairs and away on the track of the L. L. L. junior partner, who in exchange was busy in another portion of the building, heard the report and quickly divining the cause, jumped across the intervening space and shoved the ball on the handle of the safety valve to 50 lbs., and all danger was over.

W. C. T. U. Notes.
What is high license? Compromising with the devil on a cash basis, money paid into the public treasury to clear the blood stains from the hands of those who legalize the traffic. The price given in exchange for public morals—the highest made a absurd process of turning sober men into drunkards and then attempting to turn drunkards back again into sober men! Instead of shutting up the saloons, it is better to shut up the drink, and shut off the seller.

For my own part, the severest part of my missionary labor was performed without saying a word of kind. Moffitt is the speaker, alcohol is spoken of. Alcohol is said to prevent bodily waste. It does, but it prevents waste that is natural, retaining up, whose nature is that being retained for unhealthful flesh?

I say with all the emphasis of a conviction not hastily or rashly formed, that not only are our best agencies of money neutralized by the one vice of intemperance, but that all those agencies concentrated into such an effective vigor would do less, infinitely less good than would be done by the expulsion of their present, able cause of sin and misery—Farrar.

Drink is the champion friend which has done more than any other for coffins and graveyards, prisons and insane asylums.—Talmore.

Mr. Moody says: "If you find a man in the whiskey business for twenty years who has not a skeleton in his closet, I would like to see that man."

To the query, "What have women to do with politics?" the best answer is, "Politics have so much to do with women."

At a full board of the trustees of the high school held on Monday evening of last week, Mr. L. A. Kennedy was unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year, as was also Miss M. J. Harrison. Mr. Howard, who has won golden opinions from all classes, has also been re-engaged for one year. Mr. Flach, who was engaged at the first of the year, also retains his old position on the staff. In the public school Mr. Sharran and Miss Clow have been continued in their respective positions, while Miss Layton has tendered her resignation, to take effect at the close of the term.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Editor Reporter:
DEAR SIR,—It seems that the reference of your Lynn correspondent two weeks ago to Mr. Horner, and which item was copied in the Brookville Recorder, has raised the ire of one of Mr. Horner's converts, who proceeds to lecture the Recorder for so doing, and "goes" for your correspondents (there were two on this occasion) with both feet. The amount of scurrilous venom and falsehood displayed by Fair Play in his letter proves conclusively the utter fallacy of the Horner boliness creed, and that the Old Adam still lives and liable to lead the best of men astray. We are very sorry that the Recorder has got into trouble over this matter, and as a remedy against any future recurrence, would suggest that the writer of the Fair Play letter (he, she or it) be employed by the Recorder to select such clippings as may be thought suitable for a "clean sheet."

The A. O. U. W. Excursion.
The old saying that it pays to advertise was fully exemplified in the case of the A. O. U. W., excursion from Brookville to Newboro on Friday last. Every village along the line of the B. & W. was literally filled with posters and dodgers, while the outlying districts were not forgotten; consequently, the largest crowd of excursionists that ever went over the road was taken on Friday last, on the train leaving Brookville at eight o'clock and arriving at Newboro at ten o'clock.
