A QUEEN UNCROWNED

THE STORY IN THE LONE INN.

CHAPTER XXIV.

"I will leave you alone," he said gently. "When this man comes I will send for you."

As he passed from the room, he met Norma ascending the stairs.

"Has anything happened? You sent for me?" she said, with a startled look. "Jacquetta—"

"Is quite well, but an important matter has come to light, in which you are closely concerned. Perhaps I had better tell you before you go in. Captain Tempest is dying in the next room, and it was he desired to see you."

"Captain Tempest! Oh, my lord! does he know—"

"No, he does not know your secret. But, my dear Norma, what will you say when I tell you that you and Jacquetta are sisters?"

"Sisters! How? What do you mean my lord?"

"That you had the same mother—Captain Tempest's wife. Do you know your mother's name, Norma?"

"It was Lella. I do not remember her; but I saw it written in one of her books. But, oh, Lord Earncliffe! what have you told me? Captain Tempest's wife!"

"You father was never married, Norma, and now you know why he would never speak of your mother. You and Jacquetta are sisters. A dying man affirms it. Do you doubt it, Norma?"

She covered her face with her hands, for a moment; and when she took them away she was deathly pale.

"No, my lord, strange as it seems, I yet do not doubt it. And this is why he wanted to see me? Oh, Alfred! I am glad—I am glad that I am Jacquetta's sister!"

"And so am I. Shall we go in now?" They entered together. Captain Nick still slept, but even the slight noise of their entrance aroused him; and as his eyes fell on Norma, he uttered a faint exclamation.

"Ah! you have come! Come close and let me look at you. Yes, yes; you are Lella's daughter. You look more like your dead mother than she does. Are you willing to acknowledge Nick Tempest's child as your sister, young lady?"

"Willingly, joyfully!" And the fervent clasp in which she held Jacquetta told how truly she spoke.

"Tell your father—tell Randall Macdonald—I forgive him at last. He was not so much to blame as the devil who forced them both to it. Will you shake hands, young lady, for your mother's sake?"

She laid both her white, delicate hands in his large, brown palms, and a bright tear fell with them.

"For me!" he said, with a look of wonder. "Ho! what noise is that? I ought to know that step."

A shuffling sound of feet was heard without. Disbrowe threw open the door, and old Till, in charge of a policeman, stalked doggedly in.

"Hello, old comrade!" said the captain. "Well met! You did not expect, when we parted this morning, to find me on the road to Davy's locker so soon. Where's the lady, Lella?"

Even as she spoke, Disbrowe entered with Augusta hanging, pale and trembling on his arm.

"She is here. Now, my man, what is it you know concerning this young lady?" said Disbrowe.

"You may as well make a clean breast of it Till, for I have told already," said the captain. "Out with it!"

Still Till scowled at them in dogged silence from under his villainous brows.

"Tell, and you shall go free and unharmed—I pledge you my word and honor. Refuse, and the walls of Newgate will hold you before an hour."

Old Till was, as Captain Nick said, a very white-livered hero, so he forthwith—rather sullenly, though—began the recital, adding that the father of young Durand was still alive, one of the wealthiest and most eminent lawyers in New York. And having made a deposition to that effect, and further informed them that he might be known by a peculiar tattooing in India ink on his arm, done when he was a child, he was allowed to take his departure.

Captain Nick was sinking fast. He had exerted himself to speak and listen while Till was present; but now he fell back exhausted on his pillow, a cold perspiration oozing over his face, a dark livid ring encircling his mouth. His eyes wandered slowly over the faces gathered around him, and rested at last on that of Jacquetta.

"Going!" he said, with a faint smile. "It is getting dark and cold, Lella. Don't cry so. I will bring you no more squirrels to play with, as I used to do long ago—you were a child then. Lella, now you are—"

"Father, father!" cried Jacquetta, through her fast-falling tears, as the hand she held grew cold, and a dull glaze crept over his eyes.

"My little Lella!" A strong shudder passed through his powerful frame, one arm was heft raised, and then dropped heavily by his side.

"Gone!" said Disbrowe, as he bent over him. "Come Jacquetta, let us go; all is over now!"

And now, reader—my dear reader—draw a long breath of relief, as I do, for our tale is at an end. Perhaps though, you would like one final peep behind the scene before the curtain descends to rise no more.

He had exerted himself to speak and listen while Till was present; but now he fell back exhausted on his pillow, a cold perspiration oozing over his face, a dark livid ring encircling his mouth. His eyes wandered slowly over the faces gathered around him, and rested at last on that of Jacquetta.

"Going!" he said, with a faint smile. "It is getting dark and cold, Lella. Don't cry so. I will bring you no more squirrels to play with, as I used to do long ago—you were a child then. Lella, now you are—"

"Father, father!" cried Jacquetta, through her fast-falling tears, as the hand she held grew cold, and a dull glaze crept over his eyes.

"My little Lella!" A strong shudder passed through his powerful frame, one arm was heft raised, and then dropped heavily by his side.

"Gone!" said Disbrowe, as he bent over him. "Come Jacquetta, let us go; all is over now!"

And now, reader—my dear reader—draw a long breath of relief, as I do, for our tale is at an end. Perhaps though, you would like one final peep behind the scene before the curtain descends to rise no more.

Without. Disbrowe threw open the door, and old Till, in charge of a policeman, stalked doggedly in.

Even as she spoke, Disbrowe entered with Augusta hanging, pale and trembling on his arm.

"She is here. Now, my man, what is it you know concerning this young lady?" said Disbrowe.

"You may as well make a clean breast of it Till, for I have told already," said the captain. "Out with it!"

Still Till scowled at them in dogged silence from under his villainous brows.

"Tell, and you shall go free and unharmed—I pledge you my word and honor. Refuse, and the walls of Newgate will hold you before an hour."

Old Till was, as Captain Nick said, a very white-livered hero, so he forthwith—rather sullenly, though—began the recital, adding that the father of young Durand was still alive, one of the wealthiest and most eminent lawyers in New York. And having made a deposition to that effect, and further informed them that he might be known by a peculiar tattooing in India ink on his arm, done when he was a child, he was allowed to take his departure.

Ramsay MacDonald Retains Leadership of Labour

Irish Free State Will Grant Amnesty to Political Offenders—Director of Home Bank Found Guilty—Baldwin's Cabinet Appointments Approved by the Press.

LABOUR LOYAL TO RAMSAY MACDONALD.

LONDON, Nov. 7. Ramsay MacDonald is to continue leader of the Labour Party. Any doubts as to this were set at rest last night when the Party gave a dinner in Mr. MacDonald's honour at the Central Hotel. Arthur Henderson, Home Secretary in the late Government, who presided, took occasion to declare that the Press "stunt" in connection with the question who would succeed Ramsay MacDonald as the Labour leader, could not be scotched too soon. Mr. MacDonald was received with cheers when he rose to speak. J. R. Clynes, late Lord Privy Seal and Deputy leader in the House said Ramsay MacDonald had no rival for leadership of the Labour Party.

CHAMBERLAIN TO STUDY HOUSING PROBLEM.

LONDON, Nov. 7. (Can. Press)—Sir Douglas Hogg, attorney-general in the Baldwin Government, in a speech at the opening of a new block of tenements at Marylebone to-day, stated that Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health in the new administration, had deliberately refused to accept the Chancellorship of the Exchequer, which office he had occupied in the former Baldwin Government, and had accepted the lower cabinet position in order to devote his great abilities and his unrivalled knowledge of municipal affairs to a solution of the housing problem.

AMNESTY FOR POLITICAL OFFENSES.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7. President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State announced in the Dail Eireann to-day the granting of amnesty for political offenses committed between December 6th, 1923, and May 12th, 1923.

CONFIDENCE VOTE.

PARIS, Nov. 7. Following a stormy session of the Chamber of Deputies to-day, Premier Herriot made it a question of confidence in demanding an indefinite adjournment of an interpellation by Deputy George Bonnetous regarding a levy on capital. The chamber voted the adjournment by 393 against 117.

FIRST SKATING FATALITY.

REGINA, Sask., Nov. 7. The first skating fatality of the season was reported to Provincial Police headquarters yesterday from Shellbrook in the north of the Province, when ten year old Johnny Hughes broke through the ice at Royal Lake and was drowned.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE MEETS IN JANUARY.

QUEBEC, Nov. 7. The Provincial legislature will convene for its 1925 session on Wednesday, January 7. A by-election to fill the only vacancy in the House, that of Temiscaming County, will be held on November 28th.

TEXAS LADY GOVERNOR.

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 7. The advice of her husband will be taken by Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson, Governor-elect of Texas, "just as I will take the advice of any citizen of Texas interested in the welfare of the State," she said at her home that more stability or tranquility will not suffice and they hint at the same time that in the distribution of the remaining Government posts some of the younger and more advanced representatives of the Conservative party should be chosen. To-day was a sort of moving day. After the Privy Council met this morning for the transfer of the seats of MacDonald's ministry, the retiring officials took leave of the members of their Department. All wrote the customary letters thanking their staffs for loyal assistance. The Prince of Wales was among those who attended the Privy Council. Winston Spencer Churchill, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, already has succeeded in making himself the central figure in public estimation and popular attraction. He will move into No. 11 Downing Street when John R. Clynes vacates the early part of next week. Number 10 and 11 Downing Street are compartment houses so that Premier Baldwin and Mr. Churchill always will be in intimate association. Mr. MacDonald and his family vacated No. 10 Downing Street to-night returning to their Hampstead residence.

A FORERUNNER OF DEFEAT.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Nov. 7. That the result of the bye-election in Yale was a forerunner of the defeat of the Liberal Government in Ottawa was a statement made by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen at a meeting held here last night.

TIMES MANAGER IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (Can. Press)—Sir Campbell Stuart, Manager of the London Times, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Ernest Stuart, arrived to-day on the steamer Maurelaine en route for Montreal. He plans to remain in Canada for several weeks.

DECREASE IN CANADA'S DEBT.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7. The net debt of Canada decreased by $9,087,776 during the month of October, in spite of the decrease of approximately 7 million dollars in ordinary revenue. The debt now stands at $2,373,349,275, as compared with $2,382,436,851 on Sept. 30th, last.

MAY ACQUIRE BY PURCHASE WHAT THEY LOST BY WAR.

LONDON, Nov. 7. Germans have a chance to buy back considerable areas of their lost Colony of Kameroun, in Western Africa, according to the Daily Mail, which says 50,000 acres of valuable plantations there are to be auctioned in London, on Nov. 24, by order of the new Government. It being stipulated that there shall be no restriction regarding the nationality of the purchaser. The Mail protests against this opportunity for Germans "to acquire vast estates in a British Colony with the future possibility of importing arms and equipping submarine bases."

BANK DIRECTOR FOUND GUILTY.

TORONTO, Nov. 7. Colonel Clarence F. Smith, of Montreal, one of the Directors of the Home Bank, was to-day found guilty by County Judge Costworth on the charge that he negligently did sign or approve of a false return to the Government in connection with the Home Bank, now in the hands of receivers. This is the first conviction against a Director of the Bank, although officials are awaiting sentence.

RAILWAY FATALITIES IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Nov. 7. Two persons were killed and six injured, last night, when the Paris-Havre express was derailed in a tunnel near Rouen. A freight train, coming in an opposite direction, struck the express. A French resident of Havre and a British citizen, living in Paris, were killed.

PHAFF ASKS IMMUNITY.

PARIS, Nov. 7. Max Jerome Phaff, who claims New York as his residence, and who was recently released in 5,000 francs bail from the Breast Naval Jail, where he had been held on a charge of complicity in piracy, appeared at the United States Embassy this morning, to ask about a passport visa and also regarding protection against prosecution for run running in the event of his return to the United States. Sheldon Whitehouse, Charge d'Affaires, was unable to promise Phaff immunity, but said he would put him in touch with United States District Attorney Hayward, of the southern district of New York, who was prepared to receive any evidence concerning run running. Phaff's case in the French Court had to do with the looting of the French steamer Mulhouse, of 36,000 cases of whiskey off the Canadian Coast last June. Admissions made by the defendant in his examination before the French magistrate were said to have made him anxious concerning his status in the United States courts.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

GLACE BAY, N.S., Nov. 7. Archie McDonald, 40, of Glace Bay, was instantly killed here to-night when he was run over by a train proceeding from Glace Bay to Caledonia. McDonald apparently was walking to his home at No. 11, when he attempted to board the van of the train at Park Street Crossing. He missed his footing and fell beneath the train.

FAVORABLE PRESS COMMENTS ON THE NEW CABINET.

LONDON, Nov. 7. The new Conservative Government assumed office to-day with customary ceremony at Buckingham Palace, when Stanley Baldwin and members of his Ministry thus far chosen took oath, received their seats of office, and complied with other necessary formalities. The new cabinet gets, on the whole, a very favorable reception from London morning newspapers, even the Opposition organ finding grounds for approval of many of the appointments. It is universally remarked that the Ministry is much stronger than Baldwin's last administration, although the Times, while admitting this, regrets the inclusion of so many former office holders, and says the public is looking with almost pathetic anxiety for the emergence of new leaders. The appointment of Winston Churchill to such a dominant post as that of Chancellor of the Exchequer, naturally attracts the main attention of commentators, who remark upon the courage and independence shown by the Premier in disregarding inevitable hostility which the selection will provoke among a considerable section of the Conservative ranks. The choice itself is nowhere condemned, and by several papers is variously described as welcome, sound, or excellent.

MILLERAND HEADS A NEW PARTY.

PARIS, Nov. 7. Alexandre Millerand, former President of France, to-day formally re-entered politics by launching, as the chairman of the Executive Committee of a new party, The National Republican League, a manifesto, in which he vigorously attacked the policy of the present Government and of the Radical Socialist Coalition. The manifesto declares that the Government is for peace only abroad, and seeks to revive division and conflicts at home. It points out as the consequences of the Coalition Government, the weakness of the franc, the decline in the value of French bonds, and the increase in the cost of living. Finally it calls upon the people to rally to the new party. The manifesto is interpreted as a preliminary step to the candidacy of M. Millerand for one of the vacant seats in the vacant seats in the Chamber of Deputies which must soon be filled by a special election.

FOREST FIRE THREATENS CRUDE OIL TANKS.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7. Two chains of mountains are ablaze with the most serious forest fire that has ever swept that section of the State, says a special despatch from Irvine, Estill County, to the Courier Journal. Flames are said to have reached within half a mile of 700 crude oil storage tanks.

SENATOR LODGE DANGEROUSLY ILL.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 6. Little hope was held out to-night for the recovery of Senator Cabot Lodge, by physicians, who have been in attendance at his bedside since he suffered a stroke yesterday. In a bulletin issued this evening the outlook for his recovery was pronounced most unfavorable. The Senator was still unconscious and his condition was said to be little changed.

TAX LEGISLATION TO BE REVISED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. It became apparent to-day that pressure will be brought on President Coolidge to call an extra session of the new Congress next spring to revise Tax Legislation. One section of the Republican Party it is said wants the Mellon Tax programme passed, and is anxious to have the publicity provision of the recent law repealed. It is reported that Mellon will be urged to remain in the Cabinet in order to put through his programme.

MANCHURIAN WAR LORD'S SPEC-TACULAR ARRIVAL IN TIENT-SIN.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 6. Troops of General Chang Tso Lin, the victorious Manchurian war lord, who has defeated the Armies of the Peking Government, arrived here last night. The train of forty cars which carried the Manchurian soldiers was preceded by a flat car with a sand-bagged platform, upon which a gun was mounted ready for action should the Manch drive the gun a remnant of the Peking troops, scattered along the Railroad. The three cars immediately behind the mounted gun carried two hundred Russians in the Army of General Chang. The Russian troops will be sent to Nanking and two train loads of Lin's Japanese troops (?) will follow. As nightfall approached the Chang Tso Lin troops arrived in Tientsin in a steady stream. They were under strict instructions to maintain order and are creating an excellent impression with the non-combatant public.

REPUBLICANS HAVE CONTROL.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. On the same tide which swept President Coolidge back into office, the Republicans have come into actual as well as nominal control of the next House of Representatives. Whether they all will have the whip hand in the Senate, still depends on the outcome of contests in several states. With a single house district still in doubt the Republicans have captured 246 seats in that body. On the face of unofficial returns this is an increase of twenty-one over their present strength and 28 above majority. Leaders of the Party regard this margin as sufficient to leave them in control, particularly as to the organization, even in the face of any coalition between La Follette insurgents and the Democrats such as tied the organization of the present House for many days, and successfully challenged a number of administration proposals.

A Pipeless Furnace

WHAT IS IT, YOU ASK?

The most modern and inexpensive heating appliance on the market. Thousands being sold throughout Canada and the United States.

HOW IS IT INSTALLED AND OPERATED?

In most cases can be installed in one day, causing no interruption or inconvenience in the house. It is placed in the basement immediately under the floor of the hall. It sends a flood of heat all up through the house, into every room and corner, and at the same time draws all the cold air back again from the house, heats it and sends it back into the house again. It is thus a circulating system, which re-heats the air four to five times an hour in an average house.

WE INSTALLED—

"Enterprise Pipeless Furnaces"

(Made of all Cast Iron)

In several homes in the city last year, and the owners speak in highest praise of the absolute comfort and dependability of having the house warm in the coldest weather. All of this with a minimum of fuel. Burns any kind of fuel, and simple to operate.

THE MAKERS' GUARANTEE—

These furnaces are guaranteed to be of finest manufacture, absolutely smoke and dust-proof, and when installed according to our approved specification, to give entire satisfaction in every respect.

All enquiries given prompt and courteous attention, and fuller explanation furnished from illustrated circular.

Also highly recommended for heating churches, halls, schools and stores. A size for every purpose.

The Strike Situation

Within the last forty-eight hours a situation has arisen in St. John's that is bound to have serious consequences upon the whole community, unless there is a prompt use made of common sense and reason by all parties concerned.

The closing down of work along the waterfront at this time of the year in particular, when every man can and should be actively employed, is nothing short of a calamity, and affects not only the city, but the whole country. Business is at a standstill; the outports are threatened with paralysis through lack of supplies for the autumn trade; business men are unable to fill pressing orders; people away from their homes are unable to return, and are put to needless hotel expense, and the workmen are losing the wages which their families urgently require.

The S.P.A. Secretary refers in his report to the delay caused by the strike in landing cattle from the Canadian Sapper. With this consideration for the animals we are in sympathy, as we feel certain are those who are responsible for the deadlock, but far stronger are the claims for sympathy of those people who are unable to return to their homes, and the families in the northern parts of the Island whose chances of receiving food supplies before navigation closes are imperilled.

If this state of affairs had been brought about by the whole body of men who are affected by the strike, they would have the full support and sympathy of the community, as it would be clear that they had real and justifiable grievances. Enquiries, however, seem to indicate that such is not the case, that many of the longshoremen are anxious to return to work, and that the strike has been precipitated by a minority.

It has further been suggested, with what degree of accuracy we are unable to ascertain, that agitators from abroad have been inciting the men to action. It sounds inconceivable, and we trust that it is untrue that a body of Newfoundlanders should allow adventures of this type to come in their midst and sow discontent, which can only result in the end in discomfort and misery for the workmen themselves.

The question of the terms for which the men work is one for the Union and the employers to settle between themselves, but the deadlock existing at present affects the interests of the general public to a very great extent, and long suffering as they generally are on such occasions, it is nevertheless imperative that they exercise the whole weight of their influence to bring this unnecessary state of affairs to an end. To this end we give expression to their views.

The importance of Unions is fully recognized all over the world. They form a means by which the grievances of the men can be voiced in a regular manner, and having received consideration by responsible representatives whose actions depend upon the wishes of the majority of the members, they can be taken up with the employers.

The Union thus forms the connecting link between the two parties, and has removed many of the misunderstandings which formerly existed. As the Union system has developed it has become apparent that the responsibility of the organization is of a twofold nature. It looks after the welfare of the workmen, and at the same time it safeguards the interests of the general public. Should it fail to give due consideration to the claims of the latter, it weakens its influence in the community, as it antagonizes those whose sympathy is essential to its success.

Labour has a perfect right to demand full recognition of its just claims, and where they are refused, to resort if necessary to a strike to gain that end; but it cannot expect public sympathy when the terms demanded would inflict a hardship on a great many others. In this particular case it appears that the demands, if conceded, might benefit one section of the 'Longshoremen, namely, the steamboat workers, but would make but little difference to the great number who are employed around the various fish premises, and particularly at this time of the year. Further, it has been emphatically stated by the steamship companies that if the terms are insisted upon they will immediately reduce their services. In that case the loss of employment will be a far more serious matter to those who work on the boats than the inconvenience complained of, or the problematical gain in wages.

The action taken by the Truckmen's Union in this dispute is hard to fathom. The members certainly have voiced no grievance; they have nothing to gain, and stand to be among the chief sufferers because of the tie-up in their business.

Already vessels have gone to other ports to finish loading, others have been diverted to other ports, and considerable employment has thus been lost. The number of similar disputes in recent years has tended to drive away to the outports more and more of the cargo boats which formerly made this their loading and discharging port, and the chief sufferers in consequence have been the longshoremen.

In commenting on this matter we wish to consider it first from the standpoint of the public, who are likely to be the chief sufferers, and in the second place, from the point of view of those directly concerned. We trust that nothing will be permitted to interfere with the good judgment which is characteristic of Newfoundlanders in the consideration of this serious matter, and that a full sense of the duty which is owing to the community will govern their actions.

Remembrance Day

CEREMONY AT THE NATIONAL WAR MEMORIAL.

On Tuesday morning, November 11th, Remembrance Day the Dominion Executive of the G.W.V.A. of Newfoundland will meet at 10.45 at the National War Memorial when the two Minutes Silence will be observed from 10.55 to 11 a.m. after which a short Ceremony will take place followed by the placing of wreaths.

It is earnestly requested that all ex-Service men, relatives and citizens will attend to pay a silent tribute to those who made the Supreme Sacrifice.

All ex-Service men are requested to wear uniforms if possible.

Supreme Court.

The King vs. James Whiteford McNeilly.

The prisoner is arraigned and pleads not guilty. Mr. Emerson for the Crown moves for a day and a special jury with an additional half panel. Mr. Dunfield for the accused consents.

It is ordered that the trial be set for Saturday next, the 15th instant, at 10 o'clock, with a special jury and an additional half panel.

Bail is renewed until Nov. 15th; the accused in the sum of $20,000, Henry Dickinson $10,000, Thomas Bates $10,000.

The music at the B.I.S. Dance Monday night will be supplied by the Prince's Orchestra. Nuff

CHILD WELFARE

HEALTHY BABIES.

"An ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure."

Food—We all know how we have to feed a fire or stove with coal or wood to keep it alive—and with bad coal or damp wood the fire burns badly, and sometimes goes out altogether. Our bodies are like fires which need good fuel to keep them well and healthy. Our Fuel is Food. Food is made up of five different food-stuffs—

1. Proteins—This is a food-stuff which builds up and repairs the body. We get it in milk, meat, beans, white of eggs, cheese, etc.

2. Fats—This is a very good "fuel" and gives heat and energy to the body. We get it in milk, fresh herrings, yolk of eggs, Cod Liver Oil, etc.

3. Carbohydrates—This again gives heat and energy. We get it in milk, sugar, potatoes, etc.

4. Vitamins—This is a food-stuff which we learn a good deal about during the war. If we do not get it our "fuel" is bad and our bodies suffer. We get it in milk, oranges, lemons, Cod Liver Oil, butter, etc.

5. Water—Three parts of our body weight is water, and therefore we want plenty of water to drink. We get water in all foods.

Do you notice that Milk is mentioned in every food-stuff? Milk is Nature's food for the young, and it has all the food-stuffs in it.

Give a little more thought to the food you eat, and remember it pays "to turn good fuel."

Good food does not mean expensive food, it means the right food.

Next week look out for a Menu for Sunday's meals.

The Strike Situation

WORK ON VARIOUS PREMISES PREVENTED.

The strike situation assumed a more serious phase yesterday afternoon when gangs of strikers visited the different waterfront premises where work was attempted and compelled every one to desist. Yesterday morning the work of discharging the Rosalind's cargo was begun by her officers and crew, and Harvey & Company's office staff, with a number of their permanent employees, but only the fruit on board had been landed when men appeared on the premises and work was ceased forthwith. The longshoremen were first agreeable to landing a ladder for the Fire Department, but refused to do so when it was found to be under a considerable quantity of freight which would have to be moved or landed first. From Harvey's they proceeded to Cashin and Company's where the crew of the Susu had started to load her in the morning. While some were held up by the police at the gate, others reached the wharf through Goodridge's premises and on their appearance work on the ship ceased also. Proceeding to the dock where the Prospero was being loaded for the northward by her own and the Sagona's crew and the dock labourers, they were again held up by the police. The strikers however beat the guards of the peace by making an entrance way from the Horwood Lumber Company's wharf to the rear of the Machine Shop. Work on the Prospero ceased on their approach. Last night Capt. Jesse Winsor visited the L.S.P.U. Hall with a view to making arrangements to have the ship loaded as it is necessary that the freight should be despatched without delay, but nothing resulted from his effort.

Ex-Pupil's Appeal to His Schoolboy Chums Abroad

Editor Evening Telegram,

Dear Sir,—With you usual kind permission may I appeal in your columns to all my fellow ex-pupils who are now residing in Canada and the United States, to remember that on the first Sunday in Advent, the 30th of this month, the annual collection on behalf of our good teachers, the Christian Brothers will again be held.

Among all our recollections there are none more vivid than those of schoolboy days, and when we dwell upon them as the years go by we cannot but be grateful impressed with the solicitude and devotion of those great teachers who fortified us so strongly with their devotional principles and excellent educational training. The recompense we were able to give them then was but slight indeed compared with the wealth of their labors on our behalf, consequently now that we are in a position to offer a more practical recompense let us keep up the good practice of contributing to the limit of our means, on the one Sunday only every year, that we are asked to do so.

We serve a two-fold purpose thus, for we not only display a measure of the gratitude we owe the Christian Brothers for the favours they conferred upon us in the past, but also materially help that great educational body of gentlemen to do for the boy generation of to-day that which they did for us when we attended school.

Forgiveness, however, is a trait too common to even the most kindly disposed and it is only too often that many of us realize our obligation of gratitude when the proper occasion for its display has passed. In the hope, therefore, that a gentle reminder may inspire our fellow ex-pupils abroad to join in with the old boys here to swell the annual collection I take the liberty of asking the Telegram to publish this, as I know from experience there are hundreds of the former pupils of the Christian Bros. in Canada and the United States who read your paper regularly and may thus be reminded in time to do the needful.

I am aware, of course, that there are quite a number of pupils abroad who never fail to respond annually, but there are others, I am sure, who are just as willing but because of a slight carelessness at the right moment allow their good intentions to evaporate. To guard against this I ask them as a great favour to act on the "do it now" principle by mailing right off a practical tribute of appreciation, little or much, in time for collection Sunday. A shower of five, two, or even one dollar bills from the companions of our youth who now dwell in other climes would make a "whale of a difference" when the count is on. It would bring joy to the hearts of us all and would demonstrate to the Christian Brothers that our boyhood chums abroad have not forgotten their good and noble teachers but think just as kindly and as gratefully of them as do those of us who still reside at home.

Yours truly,

EX-PUPIL.

St. John's, Nov. 7th, 1924.

Armistice Dance

The Armistice Dance which takes place in the Gaiety Hall on Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock promises to be a huge success. No effort has been spared to accomplish that desirable end. November 11th, six years ago was the occasion of great rejoicing when the Armistice concluded that gigantic struggle between millions of armed men, and brought peace to the world.

All over the Empire this particular day will be celebrated. Could you participate in a more befitting way than that of supporting the Armistice Dance in aid of the G.W.V.A. Funds?

Rev. R. Newton Powell

Much preparation has been made for the Thanksgiving Service to-morrow in Cochrane Street Centennial Church and there is no doubt that large congregations will attend. Special preparation has been made by the Choir and after the evening service a short recital of vocal and instrumental numbers will be given. In the anthems and unaccompanied pieces the Choir will uphold their reputation.

Great interest centers in the preacher for the occasion—an English Minister who has seen varied service and who is sought after as an eloquent and convincing preacher. Mr. Powell comes to us with the highest reputation and we feel sure that in his presentation of the truth to-morrow he will convince, enthuse and lift up those who attend upon his ministrations.

Members of the congregation are asked to be in their seats at least ten minutes before the hour for commencement of the service so that they will be able to accommodate visiting friends.

Tickets for B.I.S. Dance to be held from A. Doyle, E. Phelan, S. French, C. Merne and W. Skinner.—Nov. 8.11

Forty-Five Years in the Service of the Public—The Evening Telegram.

The "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street"

EXTENDS HER PREMISES.

The profits of the Bank of England for the six months ended August 31, amounted to £681,864, the highest profits the bank has earned since the corresponding period of 1914. According to advices received by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York from its English Information Service, for the half year ended Aug. 31, 1923, profits amounted to £674,195. For the fourth successive half year the dividend is 6%. Prior to 1922 the half-yearly distributions had remained on a 5% basis for many years. At the half-yearly general court of the proprietors, the governor of the bank, Mr. Montagu Norman, announced that by the end of the year a considerable part of the bank's building would have been emptied in preparation for rebuilding operations, during which period the bank is to occupy temporary quarters in Finsbury Circus. The work of rebuilding the present premises will begin shortly. While the existing walls of the famous building will be retained, the actual edifice will be reconstructed in such a manner as to increase greatly the accommodation, which owing to the expansion necessitated by the war has become quite inadequate for the bank's purposes.

Our Dumb Animals

Report Of The Chief Agent For Week Ending Nov. 7th, 1924.

Humanely put to death a horse owned by Mr. Williams, Goulds, which was suffering with shellbone and spavin. Mr. Williams promised to subscribe to the funds of the Society. I shot two dogs. One, a very old animal, Merrymeeting Road, and another on Pleasant Street. Received a report from an officer of the Society, about a horse in Cliff's Cove, which to all appearances was unfit for work. I saw the horse and found it was well cared for, but was suffering with some ailment in the fore feet. Dr. B. shop will examine the horse, and will make a report on it. Received another report of a horse (owned by an East End milkman) which is very lame. This will be attended to. Attended the landing from the Canadian Sapper of sixty head of cattle, three horses and thirty sheep. The ship was in port twenty-four hours before the cattle could be landed owing to the Longshoremen's strike, though some of the Longshoremen and Truckmen offered me their services to land the cattle if required. The cattle were afterwards landed by the captain and the crew of the steamer, assisted by Mr. Carey, Mr. Bates and T. and M. Kennedy, and all the office staff. Great care was taken by them, and it must be said they made an excellent job of landing the horses and cattle. Two of the horses and five special cows and calves, were owned by Mr. William Brennan. Two, were owned by Mr. Thomson, Cherry Hill Farm. The others were owned by the Abattoir Company, and were watered and fed on Thursday night. Attended the sale at the Abattoir Company, of horses and cattle and I heard several complaints about horses being out all night, and this was promptly attended to. The owners promised to keep them in. Twenty-five other calls have been given attention. I am glad to see that the Long Bridge has been made better for traffic. I must call attention to the slippery condition of streets due to the traffic. Cochrane Street, near Cover Street is as slippery as glass and some rough stone and tar should be placed there. Un- and tar should be placed there. Something must be done by those in authority to remedy this inconvenience. Both sections of the community must be given a square deal, and I hope the City Councillors will give this matter their attention. Phone all complaints to 653.

JONAS BARTER,
Chief Agent.

CONSERVATIVE RETURNED IN B.C. FEDERAL BY-ELECTION.

ERNON, B.C., Nov. 6.
Yale constituency remains in the Conservative column, G. Stirling, the Conservative having defeated Daniel W. Sutherland, his Liberal opponent in the Federal by-election to-day with all the main centres heard from and only eight small polls missing. At 9:30 p.m. Mr. Stirling had a majority of 419. One hundred and two polls out of 110 gave Stirling 6,600 and Sutherland, 6,186. In the last election the late J. A. Mackenzie defeated Mr. Sutherland by a majority of 542.

OLD CABINET RETIRE.

LONDON, Nov. 7.
King George to-day received the ministers of the former Government who handed over their seats of office at a brief ceremony which attracted little public attention. Later the King held council with Premier Stanley Baldwin and members of his Cabinet at which the custom of kissing the Sovereign's hand was carried out.

Regarding Municipal Tenders

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Permit me space in your valuable journal to bring to the notice of the public and the taxpayers particularly and for the benefit of a class of skilled workmen whom I represent, the doings of the Municipal Council with regard to certain city work which they put up for tender from time to time.

For some time past notices have appeared in the paper periodically calling for tenders for certain construction work in the form of retaining walls, etc., and in every case as is usual the Council do not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender, and an elaborate specification is drawn up setting forth the most binding conditions on the contractor. In due course one of our capable mechanics who earns his living exclusively at his trade as a builder submits an estimate for this work, and having the technique of his business every point is judiciously considered before a just figure for the faithful performance of the work is arrived at. After going to all this trouble quite naturally he expects that he is in the running for the award, when lo and behold when the tenders are opened "John Jones," a very handy man, is awarded the contract.

Now, sir, this class of man to whom I refer is at one time working on a road, at another time lining a fence and so on until finally he decides to try his hand at the building trade. Sometimes most important work is given to this class of man to perform, which to say the least is a gross injustice to the public, more particularly to the qualified builder.

I think it is about time that the Council should consider the qualifications of individuals to perform the work before making an award, or otherwise put at the foot of their advertisement cheap and handy men preferred, as it would save the capable and possibly expensive man a lot of

SYNOPSIS.

Rosita, a street singer in Toledo, Spain, is the idol of the people. With her guitar and songs she supports her parents, two small brothers and little sister.

The King of Spain rules with a high hand. Where women are concerned, however, his sternness turns to weakness, with the result that the Queen is always keeping a watchful eye on him.

The people of Toledo are holding their annual carnival. Rosita, singing in the public square, has captivated the revelers with the gaiety of her song. She is in high hopes of a large collection when a trumpeter appears, heralding the arrival of the King, who has been informed that the townspeople are indulging in debauchery. Taking this opportunity to escape the watchful eye of his Queen the King enters Toledo pretending that he intends to suppress the licentious conduct of the people, but secretly hoping to pursue his amorous adventures.

Rosita having been deserted by the crowd which rushes to view the King, returns home with empty purse. Piqued at being deprived of her collections, and knowing the King's weaknesses, she quickly conceives a song ridiculing joy and the people shower her with coins.

Diplomas Issued by Women's Hospital

The graduation of five nurses from the Women's Hospital for Montreal was celebrated in the Nurses' Home recently. Dr. H. L. Reddy addressed the class and presented diplomas to the Misses Amy Robinson, Gertrude, G. M. Cairns, New York; G. Laviolette, Montreal; N. Heany, Newfoundland, and Eva Pilon, Vercheres. P.Q. Medals were awarded by Miss E. F. French, R.N., Supt. of Nurses. A dance and reception brought the ceremony to a conclusion.—Montreal Star.

(Miss N. Heany, who is mentioned above, formerly lived on Barnes' Road.)

"Worth $100 to Me Relieved Eczema and Piles"

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Saltburn, Sask., writes:
"Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me—before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."

Whitewashing the Last Post

PRACTICAL JOKES PLAYED ON NEW RECRUITS.

It is an unwritten rule in the Army that every recruit—or "rookie"—must be called him—who joins must go through a number of practical jokes. Strangely enough, these jokes, which are really the tests that decide whether the new man shall be treated as a recruit or as a standard joke, are sprung on the "greenhorn" one after the other. Probably the best-known of these is the "Last Post" joke. On the first day almost of a recruit's Army life, the older hands in the barracks tell him that he has been told off for special fatigue that evening. "Why, you're to whitewash the last post." They offer to help all they can, and tell him that he will be able to get a full of whitewash from the quartermaster-sergeant, whose offices are in the canteen.

Wise Recruits Don't Mind.

Off goes the rookie. The quartermaster is up to the joke, and sends him to the orderly corporal. He is also up to this joke, however, and so everyone else, with the result that the poor chap is sent about from place to place and person to person, until at last decides to go back to barracks. Then he is told that the "Last Post" is a bugle call. If he is wise, he takes the joke. If he is not wise, he loses his temper, and regrets it afterwards.

That is the only joke played in connection with a bugle call, but there are another very similar one. "Oh," says one of his friends, "Corporal Brown wants the key of the barracks square." So off goes the rookie. He can't discover the key, but he does discover in the end that the barracks square is only a piece of ground upon which the men are drilled. At dinner time another special joke is brought out.

The N.C.O. in charge of the room is generally an old hand, who has been through the mill himself. So he calls to the rookie. "Hi!" he says, "it's your turn to go and get the defaulters' beer money!" Of course, such a thing is absurd, but the rookie, anxious to get himself liked, doesn't stop to think. Instead, he asks where he can get it, and rushes about from one place to another, before he finds he is the victim of a joke.

When he comes back his dinner has been "pinched," and so his plate is passed round, and the men "make him up" a dinner. One adds a potato, another a piece of meat, and so on. On the Look-out for "Sells."

By this time the "rookie" is beginning to get used to the tricks of the fellows, and is on the lookout for "sells." The last joke, however, is called the sentry-box joke, and has been in many a smart man. After he has been in the Army for a week or so, Corporal Brown tells the recruit that "he's to go to the regimental carpenter to be measured for a sentry-box, as he will soon have to start going on guard." Proud that he is making such good progress, the rookie goes in search of the man who is to measure him.

Raincoats Find Ready Market in Seathwaite

LONDON—A.P.—Seathwaite, in Borrowdale, has been picked out as the wettest place in wet England. The meteorological department has published a table of the average annual rainfall for the last 60 years, the prize falling to Seathwaite, which has recorded an average precipitation of 129.48 inches.

Seathwaite's actions in the matter of weather have been eccentric, even for the British Isles, and during the last half century this place has recorded an average 4.06 inches of rain in June, but in August there has been an average of 8 inches.

London can claim to be one of the driest spots of England, with only 23.5 inches as an annual average.

Tourist Business for the Maritimes

Ottawa—Efforts on the part of the Canadian National Railways to secure a larger volume of tourist traffic for the Maritime provinces appear to have been successful. It is understood that during the last summer nearly 70,000 tourists visited the province, and it is estimated that they left approximately $3,000,000, an amount almost equal to the provincial revenue.

The Maritime provinces as a whole have been urging the importance of this business both on the Canadian National Railways and the government, and with a measure of success. They see the state of Maine deriving possibly $100,000,000 a year from this business, and holding that the Maritime provinces have as much to show outsiders as Maine has, they think that they would get a great many more tourists, if they were energetically gone after.

From what can be learned, the whole country reaped a fine harvest from tourists this year. The St. Lawrence route had by far the heaviest patronage from Americans in its history. This has led to the making of even greater efforts for tourists next year.—Financial Post.

Paris Measures Road Distances From Tablet Near Notre Dame

PARIS, Oct. 17 (A.P.)—Henceforth when the tourist automobile round Paris sees that he is so many kilometers from the city, he will know that distance is measured to a bronze slab that has been placed on the open space in front of Notre Dame Cathedral.

This slab, weighing 176 pounds, is set flush with the paving and is inscribed with a diagram showing the points of the compass and the arms of Paris, a ship tossed by the waves with the device in Latin to the effect that she will forever float and never be submerged.

Barbados Market Report

(October 18, 1924.)

Heavy declines in all grades of codfish have taken place within the past few weeks, which no doubt have been caused by the recent heavy arrivals of interior and wet fish, by sailing vessels, as well as those by steamers via Halifax and New York.

The market on September 18th, was as follows: Large, $30.00, medium, $28.00, Haddock, $24.00. Today's prices are: Large, $20.00, medium, $18.00, Haddock, $15.00. Sales have been made at these prices for good quality Newfoundland fish, while Halifax fish, which is inferior in quality was sold below these prices.

Holders of fish to-day are asking any prices, as heavy stocks are in hand, and there is very little demand from the neighbouring islands. Further than this, news has come to hand that the schooners Jean Wakeley and Cyril T. are now on their way to this port with full cargoes.

A policy of caution from now on should be followed by all shippers, in not making heavy shipments, as it is the general opinion of all the dealers, that with further large shipments to follow, lower prices will continue for some time to come.

Taking the situation as a whole, I am inclined to believe that with present stocks, firmer prices could be maintained from now on, if consignees in the interests of shippers would co-operate and hold the new catch fish for a few weeks, until the wet and inferior quality has been consumed. Herrings and salmon are scarce and in demand, so that any small shipments would easily fetch $12.00 and $20.00 respectively duty paid.

Just Folks.

THE TOILER.

What is there to the task that holds me fast,
And where's the beauty in so bleak a place?
What do I serve and try to find at last?
Merely the magic of a little face.

I come unbidden to this dust and gloom,
There is no law can bind me to the wheel,
I could desert and go where roses bloom,
Yet she shall smile and bless my evening meal.

The tramp has tried it. He has turned away
From all that men deem dutiful and right,
Has scorned the irksome burdens of the day,
And yet no loved one welcomes him at night.

No little hands reach upward to his face,
No woman smiles to see him at the door;
His drab appearance tells his own disgrace,
He has his freedom, but not one thing more.

Day after day I see them growing strong,
For me at night I know they watch and wait,
And so I stand and do this all day long,
Glad for the love which keeps me going straight.

Fads and Fashions.

One of the most popular models for evening is straight, short, and beltless.

The boyish Peter Pan collar is too charmingly youthful for us to forsake it.

The large hat of sweeping lines claims a conspicuous place for afternoon wear.

The silhouette remains quite straight, in spite of tunics, godets, and flares.

Triangular patches of gray squirrel trim a small hat of black silk heavily.

The short, flaring peplum and the tunic blouse, very long and slim, share honors.

A motif of leopard is used high at the center front of a small hat of black silk.

The tunic may flare a little at the lower edge, and be finished with a band of fur.

Velvet, hatter's plush and felt are used for high-crowned, narrow-brimmed hats.

Several different shades of the same color are used for some delightful ensembles.

BUT DO YOU, REALLY?

Do you know when you are having a good time?
That sounds like a foolish question number 963. But here's 964. Do you, really?

A neighbor of mine who has his work so arranged that he works mornings and evenings but has his afternoons free, took up golf last year. He was very much interested in it at first and got into the habit of playing every afternoon except over the week-end when the links were crowded.

Last week on a lovely fall day, I was surprised to see him putting around his backyard at an hour when he is usually on the links.

I inquired "how come, and he laughed. At himself, as was presently proved.

A Flashlight Experience.

"Well, you know yesterday afternoon it looked like rain along about noon," he said, "and then it looked as if it were going to clear up, and say, all of a sudden, I caught myself hoping it would rain, so I wouldn't have to go over and play golf. You see I kind of got stale on the game without realizing it. But that was like a flashlight on the way I really felt. I'm going to do something else for awhile now until I find myself really wanting to have a game of golf again."

I wonder how often a flashlight experience like that would reveal to us that we are bored with things we think we like.

Are't You Sometimes Bored?
Bored with dashing around the country seeking some new place to eat and dance.

Bored with the social functions that after all the work and the money that have been put into them bring us less joy than a simple informal meeting of real friends.

Bored with some of the games we play not because we really have a taste for games but just because everyone else is playing them.

Bored with the long auto ride that we take, not because we shall see any new scenery or because there is any where we really want to go, but just because we have the instinct to keep moving. I think, by the way, there are women to whom motion in an automobile takes the place that rocking in a chair used to fill. Can that be why rocking chairs have largely disappeared—because their function has been usurped by the auto?

He Knows When He's Bored.

I have a friend who has a little boy of seven. One day when I was visiting her we were going on an auto trip and I deplored the fact that there would be no room for Bobby.

"Don't worry about Bobby," said she. "He's having a good time with the boys and he knows that an auto ride bores him after the first few minutes. He knows when he's enjoying himself and when he's bored, and he refuses to be bored if he can help it."

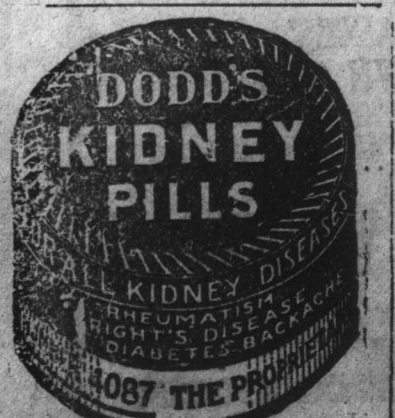

Lucky Bobby, if he keeps a firm hold on that knowledge all his life. Of course sometimes one has to submit to being bored as a concession to social conditions and to the desires of others. But I suspect we don't have to half as often as we think we do.

Death of a Woman Pioneer

WINNIPEG, Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press)—Closing a life which had been closely related with the historic pioneer development of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and the west, Mrs. Mary Wood, wife of John Wood, 76 years old, daughter of a British soldier serving with the Hudson's Bay Company, born in the district which is now the city of Winnipeg in 1848, died at Manitogogan recently.

Captured with her first husband, Roland Price Meade, a member of the staff of the "Northwest," whom she married at the old Red River settlement, Mrs. Wood was held prisoner by Louis Riel in the first rebellion. Later the couple made their escape with Governor Schultz to Fort Alexander on Lake Winnipeg, returning afterwards with the military expedition to Port Garry. Mr. Meade died and she married John Wood and settled in Manitogogan in the early eighties, residing there until the time of her death. Mrs. Wood is survived by five sons, three daughters and over 50 grand and great-grandchildren, many of whom attended her funeral.

A flock of black satin was yellow kasha for the lower part of the dress and a cunning vest effect.

WILL DEDICATE ITS FIRST SPAN OVER MISSOURI.

MOBRIDGE, S.D., Nov. 2 (A.P.)—All South Dakota will face toward this city in tribute November 12 when in the presence of a large official gathering the state will dedicate the first of a history-making series of five bridges over the Missouri river. The entire quintet of structures, is scheduled for completion by the close of next year—just two years after the start.

The bridges will redeem the western half of the state from a condition of practical isolation during a large part of the year. Heretofore there has not been a single highway bridge across the Missouri river over its course through the state.

Enthusiasm for the project brought rapid construction far surpassing original plans. The first step was taken in 1921 when a one mill bridge tax was levied "for bridge construction and maintenance." Two years later the project assumed definite form when proceeds of the one mill tax were diverted into a special fund to build five bridges.

Then, instead of waiting for the fund to accumulate, counties and cities over the state took advantage of a legislative provision and by issuing bonds and warrants subscribed amounts sufficient to place the whole project under way as rapidly as the plans could be formed and contracts let.

The bridges have a combined length of more than a mile and a half, and will contain a total of 26 spans and 31 piers, the deepest of which was sunk into bed rock 60 feet beneath the surface of the water.

The sleeveless, straight dinner or dance frock is apt to end at the bottom in a French puff.

Wedding Bells

MOORE-FROST.

The C. of E. Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday Nov. 4th, when Miss Dorothy Louise, second daughter of Mrs. Janet Moore, was united in matrimony to Mr. John Albert Victor Frost, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Frost of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Brinton. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her brother Mr. Harold Moore, and wore a dress of crepe-de-metor, with black picture hat and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and asparagus fern. The bridesmaids Miss Evelyn Moore, sister of the bride and Miss Marjorie Frost, sister of the groom were attired in dresses of blue tulle with black picture hats. The groom was attended by Mr. John Burridge. After the nuptial knot was tied, the couple motored to the home of the bride's parents, 18 Waldgrave Street, where refreshments were served, after which they left for Topsail to entrain for Heart's Content where the honeymoon will be spent. The grooms presents to the bridesmaids were ear rings and birthstone rings to the bridesmaid, gold cuff links. The bride and groom were the recipient of many valuable presents which shows the esteem in which they were held by their friends. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frost wish them every happiness over the sea of matrimony.

HAYWARD-SHEPPARD.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Holy Trinity Church on Sunday afternoon the 2nd, inst. when Miss Olive Blanche Hayward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hayward was united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony to Mr. John McFarlane Sheppard third son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Sheppard. The bride was very attractively attired in a handsome dress of white satin with overlace, and wore the customary white veil, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and asparagus fern. She was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister Miss Jean, who looked charming in a dress of tangerine crepe de chene with hat to match. The groom was assisted by his brother-in-law Mr. Nelson Hayward. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. K. Gardner, Rural Dean, and the church was filled to capacity, the whole town turning out for the occasion. At the conclusion of the ceremony the party motored to the home of the bride's parents where the wedding supper was served and the customary bride and groom honours. At 11:30 p.m. the newly wedded couple took the express for St. John's where the honeymoon will be spent, and on the 7th will reside on Beaumont Avenue.

WONDERS.

(Little cruller "fingers," "good-eating" but not too rich. The odd shape will amuse the children.)

3 eggs.
½ teaspoonful salt.
3 tablespoonfuls sugar.
3 tablespoonfuls melted Crisco.

Beat eggs very light. Add sugar, salt and melted Crisco. Then add enough flour to make hard enough to roll. Roll out very thin, cut in squares. Make three slits in each square up to one-half inch of the edge. Then drop in very hot Crisco. Fry until brown. Drain on paper. Dust with powdered sugar.

Several kinds of fur, combined in an interesting way, trim a long-length cloak of black satin.

CUTICURA HEALS PAINFUL PIMPLES

On Face and Shoulders. Itched and Burned.

"My trouble began with a rash of pimples on my face and shoulders. The pimples were hard and red and festered and scalded over. They were very painful and itched and burned so that I could not sleep nights. I was ashamed to go anywhere my face was so disfigured. The trouble lasted about four and a half years.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Myrtle A. Westover, Bolton Centre, Quebec.

Creator of Venus De Milo

BALKED AT GIVING HER ARMS.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—(A.P.)—It may be some consolation to art lovers throughout the world, who have wondered in what position were the missing arms of the famous Venus de Milo statue in the Louvre, to learn that even the ancients themselves were perplexed on this point.

Dr. Edde, a French physician, has just made known that during a recent visit to Egypt he came into possession of a small bronze statuette of the same period as the Venus de Milo. This statuette is an exact copy of the famous Venus, and like the original, it has no arms. Dr. Edde therefore concludes that the Venus de Milo never at any time had arms, and he believes that the sculptor, when he had carved out of the stone such a divine form, gave up all idea of adding arms.

When the Venus de Milo was discovered on the island of Milo a large reward was offered to anyone who could find the arms, but in spite of extensive search, nothing was discovered.

Tactful and Taxless

The task of being an ambassador is a very pleasant one indeed. This representative possesses some remarkable privileges, and ranks immediately after the Royal princes of the country in which he is residing. It might almost be said that an ambassador, like the king, can do no wrong, for he stands above the law of the country in which he is officiating.

The courts have no power over him or his servants, and even a criminal, if he were known to be residing in an embassy, could not be arrested without the permission of the ambassador. Another interesting fact about an ambassador is that the ground on which his residence stands belongs to the country from which he comes.

We all grumble nowadays about the amount of taxation we have to pay. This is where the ambassador again scores. Ambassadors do not have to pay a single penny in taxes.

Late Governor Writes on Election Issues

In the London Times of October 21 appears the following letter written by Sir C. Alexander Harris, the late Governor of Newfoundland:—

A BOLD TASK FOR LIBERALISM.

To the Editor of the Times.

Sir—With diffidence I send you, on the chance that you may admit them to your columns, a few thoughts on a policy for which many sane minds are at the moment inarticulately calling.

When I returned to this country I had hopes of bearing a hand in establishing a great national party, of which the Liberal Party seems to form the proper nucleus. But the time, I fear, is not yet. Meanwhile certain propositions, which it is difficult to controvert, may usefully be impressed on the electorate.

Such success as the present Government have had (and in some directions it is material) is due to Liberal tradition and their absorption of a substantial section of the former Liberal Party. To the Liberals as a party is due practically the whole of the sound and progressive development in the life of our State. So far as reforms may be credited to Conservatives, these are the inevitable and logical result of a progress which makes the Conservatives of one generation the Liberals of the next. Based on immutable principles, true Liberalism cannot die. It holds dear all those legitimate aims which the so-called "Labour" Party cherishes, but it pursues them with due regard to the interests of all sections of the community, and seeks to adjust these scientifically.

Yet at the present time, through reasons largely personal, the Liberal Party is actually struggling for its life. It may, as Viscount Grey says, be time the Liberals had their chance, but not in the way indicated, and not as the party stands. By an act of self-renewal the two party rival leaders can indeed serve the State. They may fall of office, they may even be misunderstood; but they have both of them arrived at such a pinnacle in the past that they can afford to sacrifice further personal triumph to the enduring reputation of having done the big thing at a critical moment.

The letter you published from Sir Bryan Donkin, and the decision to avoid fights in some divisions, point in the right direction; but something bolder is required. Assuming, as seems probable, that the balance of parties is not greatly changed by the new election, then let the Liberals determine that to save the country from ill-considered measures (however generous in their intention) they will consistently support a Conservative Ministry. So in the long run they will come into their own. "Coalition," some will cry. Yes, but all parties are in themselves coalitions. How easily the politician is frightened by a bugaboo? Your obedient servant.

C. ALEXANDER HARRIS.

Jackie Coogan's Greatest Screen Triumph

OPENING AT THE NICKEL THEATRE ON MONDAY.

With more than $400,000 spent on the construction of the sets alone, Jackie Coogan's latest picture, "Long Live the King," his first under the $1,500,000 Metro contract which was given him recently, ought to fulfill all the advance reports which were broadcast throughout the country at the time this picture was in the making in Hollywood.

That it is an unusually lavish and beautiful production is substantiated by the fact that it contains several exact duplications of famous European structures. One is of the famous castle of Neuschwanstein in Bavaria, a landmark in European architecture, another of the world-renowned opera house at Dresden, Germany, and still another of the beautiful Cathedral in Hvarogovina, the shrine of millions of European visitors. A special research staff sailed from Europe for Hollywood at the time production was begun with exact designs and plans for the duplication of these famous structures. "Long Live the King" is an adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's famous novel of the same name. It was directed by Victor Schertzinger from the continuity by C. Gardner Sullivan and Eve Unsell and photographed by Frank Good and Robert Marston. William Van Brunt was research expert and J. I. Hughes art director. The picture was produced for Metro under the personal supervision of Jackie Coogan, Sr.

High-priced hotels are crowded; there are theatre and opera openings almost nightly; various German commercial organizations are holding conventions and conferences; directors of various shipping companies are preparing for the extension of their activities and hotelmen have been encouraged to greater activity. Hotel lobbies are more brightly lighted and private dining rooms are again entertaining many parties. Berlin hotel keepers are especially jubilant over the dropping of the tax of 15 per cent, which the city has imposed on all foreigners occupying rooms in Berlin.

Berlin's leading hotels are taking on an especially international aspect, and celebrities from all parts of the world are again appearing here as to pre-war days. In the lobby of a single hotel Mrs. Katherine Tinsley, Greta Walska, Ossip Gabrilowitch, Isadora Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Davis, H. M. Robinson, Leo Slezak, Gerhard Hauptmann, Max Reinhardt, Mascagni, Maria Gay, Julia Culp, Fritz Massary and a score of other persons known to newspaper readers the world over were recently to be seen.

Child Welfare

The Quarterly Meeting of the C. W. A. was held at the Girl Guide Headquarters on Wednesday, November 5th, at 3.30. The following reports were read.

HOSPITAL REPORT.

During the month of August and early September, the high death rate among the infants of the city was brought to the notice of the C. W. A. Information showing that fifty children had succumbed to a prevailing epidemic of Cholera Infantum in the weeks brought energies and resources of the Association to the forefront of effort, with the result that an Emergency Meeting of the Executive on September 8th in co-operation with a small body of men a hospital was opened in three days in readiness to receive patients. This was made possible by the generosity of Sir Edgar Bowring in lending Waterford Hall to cope with the pressing need of the situation.

HOSPITAL STAFF.

The services of a visiting Doctor are being generously given by Dr. Fraser free of charge. The nursing staff consist of a Matron 1 trained night nurse in the beginning, 2 graduate nurses, later increased to 3, the number of patients grew. Finance—A small body of men in attendance at the meeting of September 8th, formed themselves into a Finance Committee with the objective of raising $2,500.00 to maintain the hospital for six or eight weeks. By a splendid response from all sources contributions up to October 30th, reached the sum of $387.57. Expenditure—The cost of maintenance up to October 30th, has been as follows:—Payroll, $729.50; Equipment, $120.00; Drugs, $28.62; Food, $134.42; Total $1112.73; with a cash discount of 5.55, leaves a balance of $2776.69.

Hospital Patients:—Total number of children admitted into Hospital, 36; out of which 6 deaths have occurred. This is a low average considering the extreme illness of the children and that all were practically hopeless cases on entrance. Of the 23 now in hospital great gain and benefit has been shown in their condition and the continued improvement is a splendid reward for this effort.

Voluntary Aids—The cost of running the Hospital has averaged a little over a dollar a day per child. This low cost has been made possible by a large amount of voluntary labor in the nature of cooks, housemaids and V. A. D.'s. By the loan of cars transportation has been practically free, and the expense of food and equipment has been considerably lessened by generous donations. This work has been organized by the working committees of the Executive of the C. W. A.

The pioneer movement inspired by the C. W. A. is closing on November 10th, with the hope and faith of the Association, that it is but a step to bigger things. In this small beginning we hope to open the eyes of the city to a great need to encourage it to a great endeavour that in a little while we shall have a permanent Hospital standing ready to give to the suffering children of the city life and health.

MARGARET DULEY,
Secretary Hospital.

QUARTERLY REPORT ENDING OCTOBER.

The report for this quarter is interesting because it is unusual. It might almost be called a "propaganda quarter," propaganda with a definite object and a good one. It was necessary for progress in our work to let the public know the conditions in the city with which we deal.

Our financial position largely depends upon the generosity and the good will of the public, and if they give us their money, they have a right to know what we are doing with it.

BABY WEEK.

Baby Week was held during this quarter and was a marked success. The opening by Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field and Lady Allardyce will not be forgotten for many a day. Now to deal with the activities separately:—

HOME VISITING.

We have visited 2,000 homes this quarter; 333 of these home visits were special treatments. The sickness in town has been abnormal and because of this our work has deviated from its normal channels. Our work in the city by visiting does a great deal of good and perhaps it is the major part of all our activities. But for progress and results we must have the co-operation of the mothers not only in the homes but by bringing baby to see us. This was most interestingly pointed out in Mrs. Hanahan's article in the daily News of October 11th, 1924.

WELFARE CENTRE.

We feel that there is more interest shown in our centre than ever before.

1.—Consultations. We have had 406 attendance, our October figure being the highest on record. The West End Centre is proving a success. If only we could have one in the middle of the Battery much could be accomplished.

2.—The Dental Clinic. Our hopes are very high with regard to Dental work. There is no question that there is a great deal to do in this direction. It interested me to hear that an eminent authority mentioned that the only hope for good teeth in coming generations is through treatment of the prospective mother.

3.—The Ante-natal Clinic. We have been collecting equipment for an ante-natal clinic and hope to begin this month. We shall be working under difficulties but nothing will be done if we just sit and wait for ideal conditions.

4.—Clothes. This is quite a flourishing side of our centre. We have many enquiries about the best clothes for baby which educationally is of great value. May we say "thank you" to the Ladies' Sewing Meeting which makes it possible for us to sell clothes at the cost of material. Mothers who have a hard time working for the family, and do not have time for sewing, appreciate this very greatly.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.
I cannot write a quarterly report without mentioning the Emergency Hospital at Waterford Hall. This was a big undertaking and quite apart from our Welfare work. It was decided that the conditions in September needed emergency measures, and therefore the situation was dealt with by our Association. The Hospital will shortly be closing and a full report will no doubt be issued then.

Farewell Banquet at Deer Lake

The cordial relations which exist between the American, Canadian and Newfoundland employees of Fraser Brace Limited, was given a practical demonstration when the Newfoundland employees tendered a dinner to their co-workers on last Saturday night. Nov. 1st. The affair took place in the Company's Dining Hall, which was very tastefully decorated, the Hallway decorations and the subdued lights, produced a striking effect, while the flags of the different countries draped around the hall added to the general appearance. The guests of honor were W. V. Murray, General Supt. of the construction work which is being carried on by Fraser Brace Limited, in Newfoundland, and G. G. Underhill, a director of the Company, who is at present visiting Deer Lake in connection with the Company's work.

The chairman, S. L. Sheppard, in a few well chosen remarks, welcomed the guests, after which a sumptuous repast was partaken of, and the following toast list taken up.

Owing to the absence of J. V. Martin, the office manager, on business, C. G. Macartney, the paymaster, was called upon to respond to the toast of the Office Staff.

The splendid manner in which the Newfoundland boys acquitted themselves in their speeches, won the admiration of all, whilst the responses of the guests dealing with the progress and different phases of the work proved both interesting and instructive. The musical programme, consisting of both instrumental and vocal selections, was contributed to by the following gentlemen:—

VOCAL—Messrs. W. S. Muir, W. D. Warren, C. G. Macartney, N. Ogilvie, J. B. Pryde, H. Jaquetmet, C. Gleeson, L. Charest, C. Wares, T. Molloy.

INSTRUMENTAL—Messrs. W. D. Warren, N. Gough, McDonald and R. O'Hanley, Stepdance.

Great credit is due to F. C. Connolly, for the capable manner in which he performed the duties of musical director.

The affair was concluded with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

REMORSE.

Within his cell of granite the speeder sits alone; upon this whirling planet no sadder sight is known; his bus was fast and nifty, and coppers, swift and shifty, observed him doing fifty, now we hear him groan. "I fear I acted dirty, in hitting up such speed; the limit being thirty, I doubted that; indeed; hereafter when I'm riding, in my old Lizzie gliding, they'll find me law-abiding, the statutes I will read. Of fall I've had a plenty, and when I leave this door I'll go as fast as twenty, and not a turling more; no more I'll madly hurtle along the roads with Myrtle, but, slower than a turtle I'll travel by the shore. No more with heavy brogan I'll step upon the gas; I'll chant my 'Safety' slogan while doty speed fans pass; the hearers will go by me, and slugs and snails defy me, and coppers who decry me will tip their lids of brass. I realize it's sinful to hit a frenzied gait when one may knock a skunkful of bones from some poor skate; so if I'm still surviving to see some furious driving, my high resolve still thriving, I will not challenge fate." Now, who is this kerwhopping along the dusty way? The sinner we saw drooping in jail the other day. The toiling cope pursue him and shudder as they view him; some day his car will strew him all o'er the fields of hay.

FEILDIAN HOCKEYISTS ELECT OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the Old Feildian Hockey Club was held last night when the election of officers took place, and matters in connection with the forthcoming season's games were talked over. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Captain—E. G. Ewins.
Vice-Captain—N. P. Hunt.
Secty.—Treas.—H. C. Hayward.
Manager—H. V. Hutchings.

It was decided to begin indoor training early next month and, for this purpose, it is hoped to secure the C. L. B. Armoury, where the team will be able to play basketball, and have the use of the Gymnasium. The Feildians won the championship last season, and they are determined to put up another strong bid for the Trophy the coming season. The Feildians will have practically the same team as last year.

There is now on exhibition in the store window of Mr. George Langmead, Watchmaker, a fine collection of silver cups and trophies, won by the M.G.C.A. The display, which consists of some twenty cups, is one of the finest ever seen here.

Whiteway Lodge Entertained

Following an emergency meeting last night of Whiteway Lodge, No. 2541 E.C., a very enjoyable evening was spent in the Banquet Hall by a large number of the members of the Lodge. In the absence of the Wor. Master Bro. Davies. The chair was occupied by Immediate Past Master Wor. Bro. B. E. S. Dunfield and the Master of Ceremonies was P.M. Wor. Bro. Cyril Tessier. In addition to the representatives of District Grand Lodge, several Past Masters were present at the Patriotic supper tendered to the members by the Officers and Past Officers and served in an excellent manner by the Starline Restaurant. Solos by Messrs. A. G. Williams and Tucker and choruses enlivened the programme, and the greatest enthusiasm was shown by everyone present in the arrangements outlined by the Worshipful Master in connection with the work of Whiteway during the coming months.

For Baby's Cold Take Barnes' Road Mother's Advice

St. John's Families are Delighted With New "Outside" Method Which Avoids Dosing the Stomach. You Just "Rub It On."

Mrs. A. J. Symonds of No. 102 Barnes' Road, St. John's, is another mother who has learned that it is no longer necessary to "dose" children who have colds. She says: "Since trying a sample of Vicks I have been a constant user and find it a wonderful remedy. My four months old baby had a bad head and chest cold and, after three applications, he was completely cured."

"Vicks is just the right home remedy I cannot say too much in favor of it and will advise everyone to use it."

A Boon to Mothers.

Millions of modern mothers now treat all cold troubles "externally" with Vicks Vapo-Rub. In the States, where Vicks originated, over 17 million jars are now used annually.

For a head cold you just melt a little Vicks in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the penetrating vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Thyme, Eucalyptus, etc. Also a little may be sniffed up each nostril.

For deep chest colds, croup or bronchitis, Vicks is rubbed over throat and chest and covered with warm flannel. When so applied it has a two-fold action, both direct: It is absorbed like a liniment and, at the same time, inhaled as a vapor.

If you miss the Irish Dance you'll be sorry afterwards when your friends tell you about it. nov8.14

Strike Situation

Unchanged

Nothing occurred to-day to alter the strike situation. The S. S. Prospero sailed at noon to-day for the northward taking mails, passengers and freight. The latter was loaded yesterday and this morning and although a certain quantity was placed on board some considerable remained over. Shortly before the ship sailed a number of the strikers crowded the dock wharf to prevent freight going aboard. Nothing of moment happened and the crowd dispersed as the ship left the pier. The S. S. Lisgar County which arrived from Montreal and Charlottetown yesterday evening hauled into Shea's premises this morning. She has a consignment of cattle on deck up to noon they had not been landed. The S. S. Stride-holm which was loading codfish at Shea's premises sailed last night for Harbor Grace. She arrived there at 7.30 a.m., when the work of completing her cargo began. The S. S. Susu delayed by the strike sails this evening on the Fogo Service. A three part cargo had been placed on board when the work was interfered with by the strikers yesterday about 5 p.m.
and loading had to cease. It is reported that should the strike not end when the Sackin arrives in port, that only her mails and passengers will be landed and she will proceed to Halifax.

WILL REMAIN OPEN UNTIL TUES-

DAY NEXT.

The Mercantile and Industrial Fair was the principal attraction yesterday afternoon and last night, and all who visited it spoke in the highest terms of the exhibit. It is estimated that three thousand people were present during the night. At times it was very difficult to move about. Last night the exhibitors decided to keep the booths open for a few days longer, and instead of closing to-night as at first intended, it will now remain open until Tuesday night next. His Excellency the Governor having expressed the wish that the children of the Orphanages should see the exhibition, the management decided to invite the orphans on Tuesday afternoon from 2.30 to 5 o'clock.

GO TO THE FAIR

MR. GRACE BOOT & SHOE, LTD.

The above firm has on display a fine assortment of Ladies', Men's and Children's footwear, of all shapes and sizes, manufactured at their plant, Le-Marchant Street, Mr. Grace, under the management of W. J. Parsons. This exhibit has been an eye-opener to all visitors during the past week, for nowhere can be found imported boots or shoes that look better or are more firmly constructed than these. The principal processes of stitching, lasting and finishing are shown to visitors and there is a fine display of the leather used. Practically all the leather, with the exception of fine colored kids is obtained locally. Included in the exhibit are men's heavy boots, three-quarter, laced, guaranteed waterproof, and a similar boot, unlaced, to be used in preference to the long rubber and adapted for the fishermen or seal skippers. One of the features of the exhibit is the samples of "Aero" shoes for ladies and gents. The Mr. Grace Shoe Company has a large factory, with a staff of fifty, who are kept constantly employed.

IMPERIAL OIL, LTD.

Messrs. The Imperial Oil Company, Ltd., have a space in which they have arranged some of the large stock carried by the firm, such as Mobila, Polartine, Gasolene Pumps, Oil Stores and other articles, such as Motor Grease, Harness Oil, Polish for Furniture and Liquid Glass. An oil tank of 50 gallon capacity is also on display. Other commodities for which the firm is agent, are also shown and the arrangement of the various articles enable visitors to gauge at a glance the extensive nature of the Company's business.

W. H. EWING & SON.

One of the most attractive displays of the whole Fair is that of Messrs. W. H. Ewing & Son. This booth is most original, and quite in keeping with the class of goods on display. The setting is an artistic arrangement of birch trees, decorated with various kinds of fully dressed furs, manufactured at the firm's factory in St. John's. The exhibit portrays the real wood life of the wild animal, and it certainly reflects great credit on the designer. Amongst the exhibits to be found are the furs of the Whitecoats and Polar bear. The remarkable collection of dressed furs of Newfoundland and Labrador origin, as well as those from other parts of the world are practical testimonials of the skill of the firm and of the development made by them in this industry.

AMERICAN AERATED WATER CO.

This booth is situated at the entrance to the Curving Rink where a very attractive display of drinks, Syrups and Vinegars is to be found. Here are to be found the popular drinks, such as Howdy, Lemonade, Root and Birch Beer, American Cream Soda, etc., all of which are in demand in the market, and all sold at reasonable prices.

WM. J. CLOUSTON, LTD.

The firm of Messrs. Wm. J. Clouston, Ltd., has a double booth, and much credit is due the firm for the splendid manner in which the display is arranged, and the quality of the various articles. On one side the firm is specializing in McClary's Stoves and Ranges, among which is the famous Kootenay Range, used in 350 houses in the city, and for which the firm is the sole agent. Other stoves which feature in the exhibit are, The Gloria Alcosta Range and the Royal Quebec for hall heating. This firm also handles enamelware of the highest grade, in 4 kinds, viz: Blue, White, Spotted, and Scotch Grey. A brass coal box is exhibited, which was made at the firm's shop in the city. It is a strong article and should last a decade. It is not only serviceable but reasonable in price. A feature of the exhibit, which attracted much attention, is the display of stoves manufactured by the Mfd. Consolidated Foundry, viz: "King Edward", "Our Own", "Fair Queen", "Silver Moon" (self feeder) and "Scorching". Included in the exhibit is a line of tinware made at the firm's factory, consisting of lumbermen's stoves and outlets, pipes, elbows, etc. This firm has carried on a successful business for the past 43 years, in the same premises on Water Street.

Four good paints!

VESTA READY MIXED PAINT

is the finest procurable. It is far superior to that usually supplied in small tin for household use. Suitable for inside and outside use, it is durable and easy to apply.

DURADIO GLOSS PAINT

has an exceptionally high gloss, enamel finish, is durable and will withstand all climatic conditions. Suitable for all passages, bathrooms, kitchens and sculleries.

WALPAMUR WATER PAINT is the most serviceable flat wall paint made and is perfectly sanitary and washable, having an oil medium which gives a smooth non-absorbent surface.

MIRABOL

THE SUPREME ENAMEL has a fine, hard gloss surface which makes it very durable. Its use is advised for all doors and interior woodwork, where a high gloss finish of a distinctive appearance is needed.

MADE IN ENGLAND.

JOE'S STORES, LTD.

Messrs. Joe's Stores, Ltd., have a booth divided into two sections. The corner booth is devoted to a display of the well known Goswages Soap and Carnation Milk, for which the firm is agent. Adjoining the above is a stall, where prominence is given to Raben Multi-Cord Tires and Tubes, etc., on which the firm is making a reduction in prices. There are also three motor engines in this stall, viz: Jumbo Stationary Engine, 1 3/4 to 12 h.p.; Lockwood Ash, 2 1/4 to 14 h.p.; and Bridgeport, 3 to 60 h.p. Other lines to be found in the exhibit are Belting, Circular Saws, General Motor Supplies, Water Pipes, Hoists, etc.

ST. JOHN'S NAIL MFG. CO., LTD.

Producing 11 varieties and 21 sizes of wire nails; and 3 varieties and 16 sizes of cut nails. The above company has arranged their products so skillfully that their booth has been the centre of attraction since the opening day. Particularly pleasing is the miniature fence, made of wire nails, which surrounds a cone into which some thousands of nails have been driven. There is a guessing competition in connection with the number of nails in this cone! A very interesting pamphlet, giving some facts about nails and other useful information, is distributed to visitors.

The spirit of the exhibition is well set forth in a foreword which is as follows: "One of the objects of this Exhibition is to promote a better appreciation of each other's activities; in other words let your neighbor know that you can knit his socks and weave his blankets; you can make his lines and twines; that you can grow his potatoes and make a stove to cook them; and you can build his house."

The local manufacturer hopes that this Exhibition will do this, and something more. We want you to know that we can supply your needs, but most important of all, we hope that you may come to realize, that most of the money paid for the local-made article, goes into the pocket of your next door neighbour and keeps him employed, whereas most of the money paid for the imported article goes into the pockets of the workmen in

PRINCE'S DANCE ORCHESTRA.
Every night since the opening of the Fair, visitors have been charmed by the splendid music discoursed by the Prince's Orchestra. Organized in 1922 by its present director, W. J. Darcy, it then consisted of six instruments. Since then it has been increased to its present standard of eight men. This orchestra plays at all the big functions and dances and during the visit of Sir Douglas Haig they played at the Officers' and Sergeants' messes. The applause they received every night at the Fair is ample testimony of their popularity. The personnel is as follows:—Mrs. J. H. Jarman, Piano; Jack Phelan, Violin and Banjo; J. W. Kouch, Violin; T. P. Hennessey, Alto-Saxophone; Clarnett; John Power, Tenor Saxophone and Flute; W. J. Fitzgerald, Cornet; W. J. Darcy, (Director), French Horn; F. Oliver, Drums and Effects.

DAINTY DISPLAY OF ARTIFICIAL FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

An interesting booth, illustrative of profitable and entertaining home work is that owned by Mrs. Chancey, Cookstown Road. It contains a charming display of such flowers as roses, poppies, chrysanthemums. Set in holders imbedded in a bank of moss, the flowers and fruits—several specimens of the latter are shown—are made of paper, are very close copies of nature and exhibit great artistic taste on the part of the maker.

A Word to the Ladies

In connection with the Three Flowers Perfume of which many ladies spoke so highly last night at the Exhibition, this odor can be obtained in Face Powder, Talcum, Vanishing Creams and other dainty toilet requisites. Three Flowers is undoubtedly the odor of discriminating ladies everywhere. Its refined appealing scent makes it the odor of cultured people. Nearly all drug and department stores now feature the Three Flowers goods for their best customers insist on having Three Flowers. Judging from the many favourable comments of those who received a spray of the Three Flowers at Gerald S. Doyle's booth at the Fair last night, this odor is certainly popular. So distinctive and pleasing is the Three Flowers odor that its presence was felt all over the rink and ladies came and stood in line in hundreds to get a spray of Three Flowers.

"To the Last Man," at the Majestic Monday

Lovers of movies will be delighted to learn that another exceptionally strong feature will be shown at the Majestic on Monday, when Zane Grey's most popular novel "To the Last Man," will be screened. Apart from the great story in itself, it is only sufficient to mention that three notable stars in the persons of Lois Wilson, Richard Dix and Noah Berry are in the cast with principal parts. "To the Last Man" has been read in every English speaking country in the world. It was afterwards featured in popular magazines. Full particulars of the subject will be set forth in Monday's Telegram. Read it, then see it.

"Everyone Likes Life Savers"

Judging from the enormous number of people requesting samples of Life Savers at the Exhibition, it can be taken as a true saying that "Everyone Likes Life Savers," for men and women as well as children all crowded around Gerald S. Doyle's booth where free samples of this famous confection were being given out last night. Greater interest than ever is now shown in this popular candy, which is stocked by practically all city stores.

A frock of black velvet, with decidedly Directorate tendencies, is trimmed with silver galon.

INTERNATIONAL MERCANTILE

(From Boston News Bureau, Oct. 20, 1924.)

MARINE.

N.Y.—International Mercantile Marine Co. will soon inquire for four to six vessels of moderate tonnage to replace boats whose usefulness in competitive business has been outlived. Placing of these contracts is expected to be the first of several steps within a few years to put its fleet in shape to compete for active shipping which will result as productive and consumptive capacity of Europe progresses.

Among courses to be adopted, aside from acquisition of new units, will be modernization of existing tonnage in its fleet of 70 freighters. A few are oil-burners, and many are in suitable condition to be converted into motorships. These plans tend to strengthen belief that dividend action on the preferred is distant, modernization being in the long run more to interest of stockholders.

ARRIVED AT LAST

by Montreal boat, a shipment consisting of nearly two thousand bottles of

Bricks Tasteless

Have same quantity following next week, and double the quantity the week after, making a total of over

7,000 Bottles

which will be here before the end of November.

BRICK'S TASTELESS is evidently come to stay, it is not one of those "come-to-day and gone-to-morrow" Patent Medicines. It is a good reliable tonic that does its work every time and people who have taken it always take it again when they need a good TONIC and BUILDER.

Dr. F. Stafford & Son

(Sole Agents for Newfoundland).

NOTE TO DEALERS:—Owing to the manufacturers of Brick's Tasteless having some difficulty in getting their supply of empty bottles in time, they were unable to make shipment to us till this week. The shipment just in will hardly be sufficient to fill all the orders we have on hand complete, but the greater portion of each order will be sent out in a day or two and the balance when other shipments arrive next week.

Dr. Draper's Address to Rotarians

Your Excellency and Gentlemen.—I am delighted to be here amongst old friends again. I cannot tell you, when the old "Rosalia" came into port, how delighted I was to see the place again, and to know what was waiting here, for I never can forget your hospitality to me here four years ago, and to Mrs. Draper and the children.

After this very flattering introduction, I must say that I approach this subject with very great diffidence. My friend, Dr. Mitchell, is a more accomplished speaker than I, and he can also tell a great many fairy stories. These are what he has told you to-day about my virtues. However, we have done a great deal of work, and I thought, so long as the Captain was so gracious as to get us in time, I would say something to you about this cure of insanity. Your Governor Sir William Allardice, was so gracious as to ask me to come, and I hope my visit will really result in doing something for you.

There are several different aspects of this work. Of course the first that will attract the men of the Rotary Club would be the humanitarian side of it. After all that is the real thing. But in addition to that there is the side which appeals to everybody, to all the taxpayers, and will also, I am sure, be one of the means through which you can appeal to your Legislative body; that is the financial side.

Now, I am just going to take a few moments, but I want to tell you something about the enormous size of the problem. It is really tremendous. Unfortunately, I understand that statistics are lacking in this Dominion as regards the increase of insanity. Now, of course, it will be impossible for me to give more than just a very sketchy outline of the subject, but I will go into it in more detail with the profession of the city to-morrow night, and from them you will be able to get any information that I may not be able to give you now.

Since 1880—we had statistics drawn up about four years ago of the increase of insanity in the United States—and between 1880 and 1920 the increase in people confined was four hundred and sixty-eight per cent., while the increase in the population was only one hundred and twelve per cent. You see that is slightly over four fold, which is a perfectly staggering thing to contemplate. That increase has taken place under a form of treatment known as psychomotor analysis, that was a metaphysical method of treating the sick, which has, perhaps, many advantages, to the profession at any rate. It has been a greater benefit perhaps to the profession than to the sick. Certainly, from the standpoint of any intelligent business, it would not be good to continue with a method of treatment, that has allowed of a four fold increase within the last forty years.

Insanity used to seem to me to be a very dreadful thing. It was a sort of a mystery. We were brought up as students to look upon it as a thing apart. It is all part of general medicine, and the insane are entitled to have the same care and attention that any other sick person has. If you give that sort of attention, it costs a little more in the beginning. For instance, in the State of New Jersey, where the administration of the Health Department is probably better than in any other state in the United States, we spend fifteen dollars per capita on the care of the insane, whereas in the entire state of New York, which adjoins us, they spend only two dollars per capita. I am mortified to say that I am a citizen of New York. This has all come about through the activities of a very modern and up-to-date Department of Health. The head of it is a specially trained business man. He is not a doctor, but he is a highly trained hygienist. He believes in publicity and spares no effort, and if any of you people finally decide to form some sort of a committee to study the whole problem, you will find that the whole thing is available for the public use.

As a result of six years' work in Trenton, my colleague and I are estimated, on very conservative grounds, to have saved the State of New Jersey in this one relatively small hospital, around one million dollars. According to that, and figuring that conditions here are the same, and they certainly are not better on account of climatic conditions, you should be able to save fifty thousand dollars a year. Your expenses ought not to be more than ten or fifteen thousand dollars; that is good business. We never have any difficulty in getting money from the Legislature, because in the vernacular of the somewhat illiterate gentlemen who control it, as they say, "youse men can have all the money you want, because we get it back."

Instead of going into the details of the treatment, which I am going to do to-morrow night with the gentlemen who are particularly trained along those lines, I am going to say a word to you about insanity in general. I am not an alienist. I know nothing about insanity, perhaps. From the standpoint of metaphysics I do not know anything about it, nor is my knowledge very much different from what yours would be, and certainly not any greater than that of my distinguished friend on my left. He has been to our institution, and Dr. Parsons has been there also. These gentlemen know how simple it is, and how easy to do it. There is plenty of ability in the profession here, and you do not need any help from outside, except perhaps with regard to some technical things, which can easily be learned by one of your doctors going away for a year.

Papers That Have Come and Gone

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—As a constant reader of the People's Paper since its earliest days I should like to congratulate the management and staff on the occasion of giving to the public a twenty page issue. I have watched the growth of the Telegram, and a reference to the early days recalled to my mind the many journals that have come and gone during that time. Perhaps some others of your readers may be interested in a list of them which if not complete is nearly so. I have jotted down the names just as they have come to my mind as follows:—Daily Chronicle, Semi-Weekly Chronicle, Tri-Weekly Chronicle, Patriot, Times, Newfoundland, Morning Star, Temperance Journal, Public Ledger, Constitution, Our Country, Advocate (published by J. English), Recorder, Register, Indicator, Wasp, Spectator, Mercury, Tribune, Colonist, Evening Star, Evening Reporter, Evening Herald, Daily Star, Plaindealer, Evening Chronicle, Saturday Night, Daily Mail, Commercial Journal, Comic Weekly, Morning Journal.

Wishing you every success in the future.

Yours truly,
