Prophetable Savings.

Any friend of the Reform candidate for South Simcoe who felt anxious about the latter's prospects may now set his mind at rest. It is a matter of absolute certainty that Mr. Saunders is going to win. Why? Because of the following from Tuesday's Mail:—

"Mr. Boulton, we are glad to learn, is

"Mr. Boulton, we are glad to learn, is receiving a hearty welcome in every part of the riding, and his vigorous exposures of the short-comings and corruptions of the Government have a telling effect. His election by a large majority is confidently expected."

When the Mail announces that a candidate is going to win, the knowing ones immediately go and bet their boots on the other man. We did think that the Mail's recent experiences as a prophet, in re Lennox and West Toronto, might have discouraged it, but are delighted to see that it comes up as fresh as ever.

There are a larger number of sub-scribers to the Huntington dinner than were ever collected for such an object before.

The dead lock in the Court of Appeals at Montreal still continues, to the great detriment of legal business. It is stated that Bickford declines to shell out the funds to E. King Dodds and others, who expended money and made promises of money to others, and that Dodds is at a great discount in consequence.

money and made promises of money to others, and that Dodds is at a great discount in consequence.

Hon Mr. Ross, Minister of Milîtia, has been re-elected in Cape Breton by a good majority. The return of Mr. Ross completes the list of Ministerial re-elections.

Reports from Antigonish indicate the return of Mr. Molsaac, independent, by a majority of between three and four hundred over Mr Henry. Mr. Henry was a follower and colleague of Dr. Tupper, and only declared for the new Government at the last moment. The contest was more remoment. The contest was more re-ligious than political, McIsaac being a Catholic, as the great majority of the electors are.

A meeting of the electors of South Simcoe was held at Bradford on Tuesday, to hear some talk about the filling of Mr. Ferguson's vacant seat. Mr. T. Saunders, the Reform candidate, and Mr. T. D'Arcy Boulton, the Toyr candidate, were present. Mr. date, and Mr. T. D'Arcy Boulton, the Tory candidate, were present. Mr. Stevenson, Reeve of Bradford, presid-ed. The chief gladiators of the even-ing were Hon E. B. Wood and Mr. Lauder, M. P. P., whose speeches were listened to by 800 exceedingly well-conducted and intelligent elec-

Harriston Correspondence.

Harriston Correspondence.

A social entertainment in aid of St. George's Church, came off in Collison's Hall, on Wednesday evening the 11th inst., which was well patronized, the hall being densely crowded. The chair was occupied by George Freston. The musicians were entirely local. The vocal part of the programme was performed by J. B. Preston, Alex. Robertson, R. J. Williamson, John Henderson, J. K. Young, Mr. E. R. Bollert and Miss Gilhaly, Miss Nancy Chambers, Miss Blackwell and Miss Vitch. The instrumentalists were Miss Nancy Chambers and Miss Thompson. G. W. Willy sang two concise songs, playing his own accompainment, and was loudly encored each time. John Henderson gave one of his favorite readings. Mr. Nicoll also gave a good reading. Miss Hambly gave a beautiful recitation. H. Leighton and Miss Hambly went through a dialogue in good style. A very amusing charade was performed by G. R. Bollert, Miss G. Vitch, Miss Chambers, Miss C. Gilhuly, Miss Thompson, John Preston, A. Kent, J. R. Young, and W. Vitch; which was followed by a dialogue by E. R. Ballert, H. Kent and Miss Nancy Chambers. The assembly broke up about 10 o'clock by singing God Savethel Queen. The proceeds amounted to about $35; the admission fee was 15c.

Accident.—On Saturday of last week Duncan McAllister, of Minto, was repairing, his barn where it had been unroofed by the late storm, and was at the last row on the ridge. The place being slippery he by some meens lost hold and slid down the roof, and was precipitated over the eave to the ground a distance of about thirty feet, which gave him such a general racking that he was unable to move till assisted. Dr. Rutherford, of Harriston, and Dr. Henry, of Teviotdale, were at once summoned, and though no foods were broken, he was found to be seriously hurt. They rendered the necessary aid, but he is still in a precarious condition.

The T., G. & B. R. is doing a good freight business considering the short time they have been open and the disadvantages under which they labor without a station. The passenger traffic is second to nene.

ERRATUM.—The paragraph last week stating that the Mount Forest stage was taken off was incorrect. Arrangements have not yet been made for carrying the mail on the train. A. G. Markle and Thos. Macdonald have started a stage from here to Palmerston, leaving here on the arrival of the T., G. & B. R. and running in connection with the late train at Palmerston, so that people can get through to Harriston, in time if necessary to catch the T., G. & B. R. going down in the morning.

The sleighing has considerably increased business. The streets have again assumed their wonted briskness; a large amount of grain is being brought, in for which there is lively competition. The searcity of cars which has heretofore been a drawback no longer predominates. John Coulson entertained the Harriston and Minto Council to a complimentary supper on Monday evening, it being the last sitting of the old Council. A pleasant time was spent.

The Riva Clansmen

A Scottish Vendetta.

But before she could answer a wild cheer echoed through the Castle, followed by another and another.

The Chieftain turned with the door handle in his grasp, and said—

"The clausmen have received my message and are eager for the fray. As you say, young man, the cause is a good one, but your sister's fears may not be groundless. The Caters of Ben-a-Chrui are desperate men, and hard blows will be given and taken.

your sister's tears may not be groundess. The Caters of Ben.a.-Ohrui are desperate men, and hard blows will be given and taken.

"An' dae ye think I mind that? Na, na, I'll gang 'yout the loch wi' ye an' hae a hand in the shindie. Jeannie an' Miss Mangregor, here, can stay in the Castle until we return. They will be grand company for Miss M'Leed.

"I shall be dslighted to entertain them till the return of the clan," responded that lady.

"Then let us before you leave wish you God-speed in your enterprise," said Flora earnestly.

"Amen," said Jeannie and Miss M'-Leed together.

"Oome then," said M'Leed to Ned, "I will provide you with a weapon."

And shaking hands with the women, M'Leed and Gordon left the room, followed by the Witch of Ben-Lair.

When they arrived at the court of the Castle an exciting tand stirring soene was presented to their gaze. Clansmen were harrying hither and thither, speaking and muttering to each other in low excited tong, while an expression of eager determination sat upon each face. Claymores, dirks, targets, firearms, and other weapons were handed about, and appropriated by such as required and desired them.

When the Chief was seen approaching they flung their bonnets in the air, and the wild cry of "Macleod gu brath! Bas do namhatd!" (M'Luod for ever! Death to his enemies!) was raised.

The stern oldwarrior bowed as he heard the sound so welcome to his ears, and other grimly strode forward into the midst of the men, who, although just newly risen from their revels, were as cool and clear-headed as he could have desired them to be. But when the clansmen saw the Witch of Ben-Lair follow their Chief a strange look of superstitious fear crossed their featurs, and murmurs were heard here and there arising from their lips. The old woman was not slow to observe that she was the cause of the signs of discontent, and stepping before the Chief and addressing them said—"Fear not, my brave lads, for the Witch of Ben-Lair. Let me tell you tnis—Wee is to those whom she is against, and witchy i —Wee is to those whom she is against, and victory is with those whom she is. To-night I am with the brave M'Leeds, and will lead to the spot where their foe lies. But we must go steathly, and the voice of the bagpipe must be hushed—the slogan must not be heard." A ringing cheer from the lips of the clansmen told that their confidence had been restored, and several eagerly demanded to be ied on.
