

FIFTH YEAR. THE CHOLERA IN EUROPE.

DEATHS ON THE INCREASE AT MARSEILLES AND TOLON.

Action to Prevent the Spread of the Plague—The Feeling at London—The Plague Extending Over the Continent.

LONDON, July 12.—It is estimated that 120,000 people have left Marseilles since the outbreak of cholera there, and the distress consequent upon such an abnormal exodus from that city and Toulon, particularly in the outlying districts, which depend almost solely for existence on their urban trade, is pitiful.

It is now feared that a similar panic in Paris is imminent, many of the wealthier families having already made arrangements to depart at the first sign of the disease.

Many prominent newspapers in Germany are urging the government to recall Dr. Koch so that he may be at hand to advise his own people in the hour of peril. Dr. Koch remains firm in his already expressed opinion that the cholera scourge must spread throughout Europe. It has taken so firm a hold in such centres of communication as Marseilles and Toulon that he believes it must run its course during the summer throughout continental Europe.

He says that America, if great vigilance is exercised in quarantine precautions, will probably escape, but holds out no hope for countries insulated simply by technical frontier lines.

In England great uneasiness is beginning to manifest itself in the large cities because of the negligence of the authorities in taking the necessary precautionary measures against the introduction of the plague. It is urged by prominent physicians and other scientists that the confidence resulting from England's insular position is misplaced, and that without the most perfect sanitary inspection some incoming vessel from a Mediterranean port will slip in and bring cholera with all its attendant horrors.

A furious newspaper war is raging in Paris as to the wisdom of celebrating the national fête on the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille on Monday next. It is feared by many that the great influx of visitors will surely bring with it the cholera germ, and that the present sanitary precautions will be entirely inadequate in the event of such a calamity.

The celebration if persisted in will undoubtedly cause. The balance of public opinion is certainly against the celebration, and in view of the terrible and rapid spread of the disease in the south, particularly at Marseilles, it will probably prevail.

There were sixty-five deaths from cholera at Marseilles during the past twenty-four hours. Seventeen deaths occurred at Toulon last night, and five this forenoon. Isolated cases of cholera are reported among the Toulouse refugees at Lyons and Figarnac. There was one case of cholera at Lyons to-day. The panic at Marseilles is extreme.

TAMMANY'S RETURN.

The Democratized Healers Take a Rest and a Dinner at Buffalo—Not the Gayest of Crowds.

BUFFALO, July 12.—When Tammany hall went through Buffalo yesterday it was to use a vivid metaphor—with its tail between its legs. No vast assemblage of the returning hosts on their way from Cleveland's home. The only reception committee to meet them at the station was provided by the police authorities, and consisted of all the detectives who could be relieved from other duties. It was feared that some unprincipled Blaine men might waylay the confiding Tammanys and deposit them of the wealth accumulated during long years of faithful service to the cause of pure politics.

At 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon one of the Tammany special trains with its grimy, bedraggled decorations, crawled into the New York Central station and vomited forth the worn looking gang that has come into Buffalo since the Indians burned the town. John Kelly was the most beautiful man in the party, and those who are familiar with his features will understand that this is no high compliment to his companions. As the train came to a standstill the crowd of Blaine men and restaurant and there ensued a carnival of voraciousness which has never been paralleled in the whole range of American history.

The most marked feature of the depuration was the small proportion of intellectuality to the large amount of muscle. Next came the universal presence of dirt. It looked as though the heaven had rained down a shower of filth upon the party. The party except Spinoza. Some of the shirts might have been white once, but nothing except a bath in strong acid could have brought them to a condition even approaching whiteness. The favorite garb of the pilgrims consisted of a mottled black silk cap, Chatham street trousers, stained by suspenders once gaudy but now grimy, and a flannel shirt running down the front from a good pair of red shoes.

At 2 o'clock the second Tammany train came in and was greeted with a salute which was a sort of a frat cousin to the "rebel yell." "Hello Mike," "How are you, bye," "I'm going over to see the doctor," and like expressions of fellowship were heard on every side, but there was a gloom over the crowd which chilled any display of enthusiasm.

ELL AND THE LILLIE.

Mrs. Langtry has a Wreath With the Magnificent Girl.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The Georgia woman, Miss Lulu Hurst, gave a private exhibition this afternoon on the stage of the Madison square theatre.

Francis Chabrier, who is associated with Edison, the electrician, was the first candidate for treatment at the hands of the wonder. She tried the umbrella trick on him. He held the stick firmly for some time, but finally he dropped over his head and looked as if it had been raised. It was not, however. He tried the feat over again, but she could not get the umbrella as she had done on other occasions. When he got through he said: "There is some muscular force employed, but I don't see the girl's power. I am not able to explain."

An exhibition was given afterwards for Mrs. Langtry. It developed into a wrestling match between her and Lulu Hurst. A billiard cue and a chair were used. Miss Hurst did all her tricks successfully and at the close of the struggle Mrs. Langtry had her dress slightly torn. When she got out on the sidewalk she exhibited her torn dress to her friends and said: "That is the result of wrestling with the Georgia wonder. She is a mystery to me. I don't think it is muscular force, and if these things are done by electricity I do not know it."

Mrs. Langtry was really badly bruised in her tussle with the wonder. Her lip was slightly cut, while her shoulders were bruised and her hands and arms had black and blue marks on them. She was feeling very sore and stiff at her home to-night.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

THE DOG SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIP SETTLED ON OXFORD-BOAT.

Snipe Beats Grouse—Toronto Hall Players Defeat Interesting New York Game—Fatisites on the Race Course.

That long looked for swimming match between W. Clov's pup Snipe and George Thomas' Grouse is off at last and the Colborne street dog wears the blue ribbon of success. Snipe did not have all his own way in covering the 500 yards, three yards in advance of Grouse. It rained hard during the race, but this did not prevent a large gathering of sporting gentlemen at the foot of Scott street, and who evinced the deepest interest in the race. Grouse had the best of it until near the finish, when Snipe put on a dexterous spurt and through the clever manipulation of his owner he passed the winning post three yards ahead of Grouse. Then there was rejoicing in Colborne street the rest of the day. In the evening Snipe and his famous mother, Jessie, were shown from the stage of the Theatre Royal, and created quite a furore in the audience. Joe Taylor of the Dog and Duck, acted as referee to the entire satisfaction of all. Tattling the match all round it was a game gathering, being composed of Snipe, Grouse, dog and duck, etc.

Exciting Races at Monmouth Park. NEW YORK, July 12.—The wildest racing excitement of the season occurred at Monmouth park to-day. A handicap steeplechase over the full course, with eight starters, was the feature. Response, Chipola, Wooster, Tom Naven, Kate Cronin and Bonairista leading. Suddenly Chipola gave a spurt and began a charging race. As she neared the last hurdle she suddenly reared over and fell, breaking her neck and fatally wounding her jockey, Guerin. He was carried from the track by a horse and died in a few minutes.

The Toronto V. Clippers at Hamilton. The match between the Toronto and the Clippers of Hamilton at Dundas park on Saturday attracted over 700 spectators. Dundas is a most excellent picnic ground, but is totally unfit for playing ball. The Toronto were aware of this, and were unwilling to play in a place where they could be no other ground in Hamilton could be procured, they finally consented, knowing well what disadvantage they were incurring by playing in a place where they were not acquainted with the hills and ravines of the ball ground at Dundas, every inch of which is perfectly level.

PROGRESS OF THE STRIKE.

THE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE MAIL PRINTERS FALL THROUGH.

How the Big Conservative Daily is to Get the Double Cross—Twenty Globe Men Return to Work.

The negotiations and conference between the Mail and its striking printers, which were kept up till late Saturday morning, terminated without any agreement being arrived at, and the breach is as wide as ever. Concessions were hinted at from both sides, but not agreed upon. Among the demands made by the Mail people was that their advertisements be set by the week if they continued to pay 33¢ cents for composition. This was not agreed to. The Mail also demanded that they have absolute control of their own composing room, independent of union rules, and they be allowed to employ whoever they saw fit. A telegram was received at the Mail office Saturday night from Rochester stating that nine men would come in from that city. This was supposed to be another case of a union walkout, and the Mail could not see it. One of the managers informed The World last night that there was a nice little scheme organized in Rochester to get the Mail the double cross last night. The office was to be filled to the extent of thirty presumably non-union men, and they were to walk out last night. Sunday night is the heaviest of the week, and this had been carried out the Mail Athletic club were to be sent to Rochester to get the Mail the double cross last night. THE BOND STREET PULPIT.

"DEEDS AND COVENANTS" DR. WILD'S SUBJECT LAST EVENING.

The Covenant of Abraham Comprises the Whole World—Race Distinctions of No Account—Christ's New Covenant.

Dr. Wild's sermon last evening, which was the subject of the "Deeds and Covenants" series, was a most interesting and timely discourse. He dealt with the covenant of Abraham, which he held to be the basis of the Christian religion. He argued that the covenant of Abraham was not a promise of land and wealth, but a promise of a spiritual inheritance. He said that the covenant of Abraham was a covenant of grace, and that it was a covenant that was made with all the world. He said that the covenant of Abraham was a covenant that was made with all the world, and that it was a covenant that was made with all the world.

MONTEAL NEWS.

A Gist in Sugar—In Favor of Mr. Doutré—The Ontario and Quebec.

MONTREAL, July 12.—The low price of sugar in this city at present is stated as being unprecedented. Best granulated is selling at wholesale for 62 cents, enabling some "cutting grocers" to retail it at seven cents. Hundreds of hogsheads are lying in stock, and yet ships continue arriving with it. The price at Havana to-day was some 13 cents per lb.

The privy council has dismissed the appeal of the dominion government, as announced by a cable received by Mr. Doutré this morning. The judgment condemning the crown to pay $8000 with interest since August, 1879, and costs, remains therefore unopposed and irrevocable.

Lieut. Colonel Oswald, president of the Canadian artillery association, has learnt by cablegram that the council of the English artillery association will send out three officers and twenty-two men to Canada to compete for the valuable prizes offered at the forthcoming meeting. They will arrive in Canada about the beginning of September.

The reductions of the harbor and canal dues have now been in force upwards of a month, but as yet there is a decided difference of opinion as to the success of the measure. Some are of the opinion that the reduction has been a great success, but there are others who are by no means satisfied, and regard the outlook as alarming.

It is now definitely settled that if no unforeseen event occurs the Ontario and Quebec railway running in connection with the Canadian Pacific will be opened for passenger traffic between Toronto and Montreal on Monday next. The general superintendent was in town a few days ago and was engaged in making arrangements regarding all connections, etc. He is expected to be in Montreal next Monday. There will be two trains each way every day between Montreal and Toronto and all railroads between Chicago and Montreal over the Canadian Pacific system will go into effect at the same time.

Andrew Stainberg, a sailor on the S.S. Barcelona of Dundee, was drowned yesterday.

NO FEEL. Judge Owen holds that sufficient evidence is in the case to-day. Judge Caron said the indictment of the grand jury in a foreign country was not sufficient. These indictments were simply appreciations by the grand jury of New York of facts proved before them, without reference to the laws of Canada. Because the grand jury of New York was of opinion ex parte that the accused should submit to trial before a petty jury, according to the laws of the United States, we were to conclude that this would justify a commitment here. Evidence must first be submitted according to the laws of Canada and no proof outside these laws could be admitted. Were the court to admit the evidence as prima facie proof of the guilt of the accused, the right which our statute gave him of proving that he had not committed a crime rendering him liable to extradition, would be illusory. How could he in that case, for instance, prove that the witnesses heard before the grand jury in New York were not true and worthy? How could he prove the contrary of these facts laid before the grand jury of New York? The judge offered numerous authorities to show that a foreign indictment was not sufficient. The indictments, even if accepted, did not cover for some of the charges. During a long forger in the second or third degree is not known in our laws. The judge ordered that the prisoner be released.

WEST WINDMILLERS, Dundas Co., July 12.—Beach's mills were totally destroyed by fire this morning. The first started by James Alexander's store, dwelling and grocery, to several smaller dwellings and to the piles of sawed lumber, and to Champlin's carriage shop. These were totally destroyed. The loss of property is roughly estimated at $200,000 and no insurance. The mills were equipped with the most improved machinery and doing a large business. Some fifty hands are thrown out of employment.
