HUBBY (with newspaper) — Listen to this, wifey. For every missionary sent

1,485 gallons of liquor. Wifey—Merciful goodness! Who'd ever think missionaries were such drinkers!

THE stores are advertising washable kid gloves these days. The average woman hesitates about buying them, though. The idea seems to be that these kids, like most kids, won't take kindly to washing.

A BUSINESS MAN is judged by the kind of stationery he uses. Nicely printed letter paper and envelopes create the feeling that the user is a good business man and desires to make a good impression on the customer. The man who makes out an account on a scrap of paper or a sheet of common pad is put down as a back number.

AFTER a short illness John Edwards passed away on Wednesday afternoon at a snug amount for a rainy day.

THE Village of Watford has a $4,450
sidewalk debenture for sale, bearing interest at 5 per cent., payable in

is an excellent investment for some local person who has money in the bank drawing only three per cent. W. S. Fuller, town clerk, will furnish full particulars.

THE meeting of the West Lambton
County Orange Lodge at Oil Springs, was the largest on record. Bro. Thomas Rose, of Petrolia, was elected County Master. It was decided to celebrate the 12th of July at Sarnia. The two Sarnia lodges and the Point Edward lodge applied for a new district which was granted to them. It will be known as District
No. 2, Sarnia.

AFTER the first day of May, 1913, there will be no liquor sold on the Island of Manitoulin. This state of affairs is the result of a vote taken under the Canada Temperance Act, which resulted in a decided win for the anti-liquor faction, and will mean the cutting off of twelve licenses in different parts of the island.

PERRY'S Peerless Players put on two performances in the Lyceum this week,
on Monday night the college comedy,
"The Little Co-Ed," and on Tuesday
"Anita, the Singing Girl." Both performances were first-class in every particular, but the audiences were not as large as the good acting warranted. The company carries a lot of scenery and other paraphernalia.

IN the House of Commons on Monday,
Mr. J. E. Armstrong, member for East Lambton, advocated the nationalization of express companies not only on the Intercolonial, but on all railways. He thought there was little hope of getting a reduction of rates from the companies that would amount to anything, and saw in Government control and operation the ultimate solution.

40 FANCY vests, sizes 34 to 38, light and dark shadings, half price. A big bargain.—SWIFT'S.

WITH the chartered banks declaring dividends of from ten to fourteen per cent., fat reserves being laid away, and borrowers warned of having higher rates
to pay for their loans, the depositors will naturally expect to see something doing
by the urbane clerk who marks the rate of interest on the margin of the little book in which the savings deposits are credited. Why not.

A PETITION signed by many of the Bell Telephone subscribers of Watford has been forwarded to the head office of the company asking for a continuous telephone service in town. Other places smaller and of less importance than Watford are receiving continuous service and some subscribers here claim that business is being hurt on account of the short hours now granted to the users of the phone in this place.

MR. JACOB TEMPLE spent a few days

the market in March when we don't want it.

home of Mrs. Lawrence, in aid of the Children's Hospital at Weston.—Sec.

GOOD WEIGHT wool sox, 3 pairs for 45
cents.—SWIFT'S Friday bargains.

MR. THOMAS CRONE, Winnipeg, was in town this week, calling on old friends and acquaintances. Over seventeen years ago Mr. Crone kept a furniture store in town, and since going west has done well.

THE Valentine tea given by the Daughters of the Empire at the home of Mrs.
Lawrence was an unqualified success and as a result the Chapter has $20 to buy a wheel chair for the free hospital for consumptive children at Weston. The tables were appropriately decorated with red hearts, red carnations, jellies, etc., and looked lovely. A table of homemade candies was presided over by the young daughters of the members and was well patronized.

PEOPLE whose habit it is to sign every petition placed before them should take warning by what has happened to some petitioners in Guelph. They signed a petition against the medical health office.
Now it turns out that the person who prepared the petition made a mistake, having intended to attack the sanitary inspector. The result is an action for libel brought by the medical health officer against all those petitioners.

EDITOR McDONALD of The Chesley Enterprise, has resigned the offices of clerk and treasurer of Chesley. We notice several other newspaper men who have been carrying a lot of offices are leaving. Running a printing office successfully is a serious business these days, and with the doubling in price of type and paper, publishers must give more thought and time to their own business if they wish to avoid the sheriff.—
Port Elgin Times.

GOLD and silver articles offered for sale
in Canada, if marked at all, will hereafter have to bear a trade mark, and in addition "a mark truly and correctly indicating the quality of gold and silver,"
or a British hall mark, or the correct
official mark of any foreign country correctly indicating the quality of gold or silver. An article cannot be marked as gold which is below nine karats in fineness. The bill stands for third reading in the senate, after which it will have to pass the House of Commons.

REV. F. L. FAREWELL, B.A., B.D., of Toronto Secretary of the Young Peoples' Department of the Methodist Church,
will address a mass meeting of the Sunday School and congregation in the Methodist church in this place next Sabbath morning at the usual hour of service, 11 o'clock. He will also preach in the evening at 7 o'clock. Mr.
Farewell is here in the interests of the circuit conventions being held at Uttoxeter, Arkona and Bethesda, the afternoon
and evening of the 20th, 21st and 24th,
i.e., Thursday and Friday of this week and Monday of next week. Everybody welcome both at the Sunday services and all the conventions.

WE regret to know that there are still some persons insane enough to forward
us items for publication, having no foundation. Last week we had a case when one of these idiots was so lacking in grey matter as to overstep the mark of propriety by reporting a birth in Dawn township, giving the name of the infant, date
of birth, etc., etc., which upon investigation were found to be incorrect, and also a couple of Warwick items which were false and slanderous. Why anyone should be guilty of such freakish nonsense is hard for us to understand, and we feel obliged to attribute it to the grossness of ignorance. We are glad to know, however, that the persons posses-ed of the mania for getting up such ab-surdities as these are few and far between.

THE new Anglican Church at Dorchester was opened for service last Sunday.
This church is built on similar plans to those of the new Trinity, Watford, the latest ideas in church architecture being used. The London Advertiser says:—
"The new church is a very handsome structure of white brick. The interior appointments, while plain, are of a simple elegance that makes them particularly attractive. The chancel window is very beautiful and the new pipe organ

is a great addition to the church. Mrs.
Sutton, the organist, delighted the congregation with a number of selections.
The collection for the day amounted to more than $300.

THE regular meeting of the Woman's Institute was held at the home of Mrs.
Humphries on Wednesday afternoon,
February 12th, President presiding.
Meeting opened by singing "The Maple Leaf." Roll call answered by a Valentine quotation. A letter received from the District President, asking all the East Lambton branches to help maintain a cot
for children in Weston Tubercular Hospital and this branch has decided to help in this worthy cause. After the usual business Miss A. Kingston gave a reading on the beauty of a bare and leafless tree. It was a good subject. Also received an invitation from the Kerwood Institute, asking the Watford members to meet with them on Friday, St. Valentine's Day. The entertainment was to take place in the Foresters' hall, and thirteen decided to go.
After the program all sat down to a dainty luncheon prepared by the Kerwood ladies. Meeting closed by singing
"God Save the King." Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Bambridge.—Sec'y.

Kelly, of Warwick.

two weeks with an attack of la grippe
and quinsy, we are pleased to state is route being changed and having the delivery from Alvinston, but the change is not favorable among the majority of farmers on the route.

The young ladies of St. James' church and vicinity tendered a miscellaneous
shower to Miss Ethel Kelly at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Watson, on

The East Brooke Farmer's Club held an oyster supper at the home of Mr.

singing God Save the King, all went home, hoping this would become an annual affair. Next meeting Tuesday,
Feb. 25th.

The Brooke Branch of the Women's Institute met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Geo. Campbell. Twenty-five members were present, and a fine program was given. The members responded to roll call by giving ideas for the different ideas for the saving of steps. The President read a letter from the secretary of the Children's Tubercular Hospital in Toronto, asking for aid in providing children's coats. After a short discussion the branch decided to help this worthy institution. Miss Minnie Willoughby gave a paper on "The Twentieth Century Boy" and Miss Nettie McEachern one on "The best methods of preparing fish." A recita-

Press and Presentation.

A pleasant time was spent on Friday evening, Feb. 5th, when the friends connected with the Walnut gathered at the home of Mrs. C.
to spend a social evening before the departure of her daughter, Mrs. Russell, for her new home.

The evening Mrs. Powell was before the gathering and presented her cake plate, biscuit jar and a box of preserves.

The following address was made by Mrs. John Hawes:— Russell Powell, —
I am
your friends of Walnut, have

turn will not be far away, and may God
in many ways, to lend you life
and health to the church and vicinity
as you are about to go.

ciation and a slight token of esteem, we
to accept these gifts, and with our best wishes to you and your family for a long and happy wedded life.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World—Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

Fox Creek, N. B.—"I have always had pains in the abdomen and a weakness there and often after meals a soreness in my stomach. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better and I can work with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM S. BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N. B.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

The silver coinage annually turned out from the Ottawa mint now amounts to about $1,500,000, while over one million cents are turned out. The new five cent pieces run close to the four million mark, and the ten cent pieces total some three millions annually. Dies for a Canadian silver dollar coin are on hand, but the finance department has not yet decided to coin any of the "cartwheels," believing that the dollar notes are more convenient and more popular. During the past fiscal year the Finance Department reported foreign silver coins, mostly to the United States, worth $1,791,187.

The desirability of establishing a system of old age pensions in Canada will be further enquired into at this session of the Dominion Parliament by a special committee of the House. It has organized, appointing J. H. Burnham as chairman, and arranged for the hearing of more witnesses.

Sixty years ago the widow of Sir John Franklin came to Canada in the vain search for traces of her husband, who was martyred to the northern snows. A similar pathos surrounds the widow of Capt. Scott. She is on her way to New Zealand in the joyful expectation of meeting him at the outpost of civilization on his way from the South Pole. Like Lady Franklin, she may never even find her husband's bones.

Nowadays the term "dime novel" does not designate a book that may be purchased for a dime. It has become a general term for a certain class of trashy books which gives an altogether exaggerated and unreal idea of life, and has a most pernicious effect on the mind—usually an unformed one—which feeds upon it. This class of "literature" may be had at any price that may happen to suit the purse of the reader. It may be the latest and best seller at the highest price or at a price to suit the person of very limited means. Germany is proposing to legislate against the "dime novel." But a law-made morality never amounts to very much. The root of an evil is never killed by legislation.

Newspaper publishers throughout the Dominion are deeply concerned over the proposal of the P. O. Department to raise the rates of postage on the papers mailed from the office of publication. At present each paper has a "free zone," but outside of that its issues are carried at a quarter of a cent per pound to all Canadian points. It is understood that the proposal is to raise, it may be, this rate to 4 cents per pound, a rate which, as admitted in a recent conference on the matter, would "put some papers out of business." Whatever the increase, it will undoubtedly mean an advance in the subscription rates of all newspapers, a matter which at once touches the pocket of every household. The publishers are doing their best to show why this serious increase should not take place, but are not hopeful of the Department being converted to their arguments.

Lenten Laws

Few people understand why eggs play so important a part in Easter celebrations. The reason is that the medieval law forbade eggs during Lent, and, hence, at Easter the hungry medieval populace returned to their favorite dish with rejoicing. With us to-day, when Lent no longer forbids eggs, there is no reason for featuring them upon our Easter Sunday breakfast menu. But we do so—it is the pretty survival of an obsolete custom.

In Elizabeth's time he who ate flesh during Lent was fined three pounds sterling. He who so much as had meat in his house was pilloried or set in the stocks.

But the rich, as usual, dodged the harsh Lenten laws, and they who could afford it bought licenses to eat meat in Lent. For these licenses a lord was charged 25 shillings, a knight 14 shillings and a commoner 7 shillings.

A Pittsburg woman says that four years is long enough to live with any man. That is a little above the average among the millionaires in the Smoky City.

NAVAL GUN TELESCOPES.

Device That Made Possible Accurate Long Range Firing.

It was about the year 1885 that the telescope was first tested in conjunction with the firing of a modern gun. The tremendous concussion broke the lens, however, so that in order to use it at all the telescope had to be detached from the gun before firing, thereby entailing a loss of several seconds in time after aim had been taken.

Later, to obviate this defect, the telescope was adjusted to the axis of the gun by a system of parallel arms moving up and down in unison with the gun, though detached from it. This of course was a great improvement, but there were still grave practical defects.

Well, along in the early nineties Henry O. Mustin, a young midshipman at Annapolis, lean faced and square of jaw, built like a medium sized Hercules, quiet mannered, but a bulldog in the football field, interested himself in the study of optics. Naturally enough, his thoughts were directed to the defective lenses of the gun telescopes. The lenses broke when the guns were fired; therefore it was necessary to invent a nonbreakable lens.

One day years later, while stationed in Washington, Mustin called a few of his brother officers to the window near his desk on the second floor of a building in the navy yards. He showed them a lens with a metal band "shrunk" around its circumference. Then he opened the window and deliberately threw the lens with all his might upon the brick pavement below. The others knew of his pet hobby and thought he had given it up in disgust and had taken this way of telling them so. But he put on his hat, lit a cigarette and bade them follow him. He led them down the stairs amid considerable joking and out to the spot where the lens lay on the pavement. The glass was unbroken. The one great defect of the telescope sight had been overcome, and Mustin had made possible the long range gunnery of the modern navy. The thud of the little glass disk with its metal collar upon the brick pavement was the signal for the nations to begin to build their Dreadnoughts.—American Magazine.

LONG HAired MEN.

They Caused a Vigorous Protest in Massachusetts in 1649.

The following protest signed by Joseph Endicott, governor; Thomas Dudley, deputy governor; Richard Bellingham, Richard Saltonstall, Increase Nowell, William Hibbins, Thomas Flint, Robert Bridges and Simon Bradstreet was published in Massachusetts in 1649:

"Protest, against wearing long hair, of the governor, etc., of Massachusetts:

"Forasmuch as the wearing of long hair, after the manner of Russians and barbarous Indians, has begun to invade New England, contrary to the rule of God's word, which says it is a shame for man to wear long hair, as also the commendable custom generally of all the godly of all our nation, until within these few years:

"We, the magistrates, who have signed this paper, for the shewing of our own innocency in this behalf, do declare and manifest our dislike and detestation against the wearing of such long hair, as against a thing unchristian and unmanly, whereby men do deform themselves and offend sober and modest men and do corrupt godly manners. We do therefore earnestly intreat all the elders of this jurisdiction, as often as they shall see cause, to manifest their zeal against it in their public administrations, and to take care that the members of their respective churches be not defiled therewith; that so, such as prove obstinate, and will not reforme themselves, may have God and man to witness against them. The third month 10th day, 1649."

The Stranger.

A stranger knocked at a man's door and told him of a fortune to be made.

"Um!" said the man. "It appears that considerable effort will be involved."

"Oh, yes," said the stranger; "you will pass many sleepless nights and toilsome days!"

"Um!" said the man. "And who are you?"

"I am called Opportunity."

"Um!" said the man. "You call yourself Opportunity, but you look like hard work to me."

And he slammed the door.—Pittsburgh Post.

Frenzied Arithmetic.

Three-year-old Amy, who had a very lively little brother, was being put through a lesson in arithmetic by her uncle. She had successfully added one and one, but stuck at two and one.

"Your mamma," said her uncle, "has two children. If she had one more what would that make?"

"Oh," cried Amy, "that would make my mamma crazy!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Poor Hans

Old Hans lay dying. His pastor sat by his bedside offering the last consolations. "Alas!" said old Hans, "life is small loss to me. I have never been anything but a poor wretch, bowed down with toil and pain. Where no one else wanted to go, there poor Hans had to go; and when others overturned the cart it was Hans that had to set it up again." "Rejoice then, my friend," said the pastor, "your sufferings will soon be over. Blessed are they who suffer for theirs is the kingdom of Heaven." "Ah!" cried old Hans, "I am sure beforehand that it will be just the same up there. Everyone will shout after me, 'Hans, light up the sun!' 'Hans, put out the moon!' 'Hans, let fly the thunder!' 'Hans, put the angels to bed!' " And without even heaving a sigh, poor Hans closed his eyes, folded his hands, and breathed his last.

Tops Covered the Rows.

William Pach, Lambeth, Ont., writes: "I used some of the Homestead Bean Fertilizer as a test which I purchased from H. Hamlyn. The results were wonderful. The ground between the rows was covered by the tops and the yield was extra good. I cannot see how anyone could fail to be greatly benefited by using Homestead Bean Fertilizer on his crops."

Homestead Fertilizers are manufactured and sold by the Michigan Carbon Works, Detroit, Michigan, who will send free to any farmer their book on fertilizers with a handsome calendar postage paid. They want agents where they are not now represented. Address, Michigan Carbon Works, Postoffice Drawer 314-A, Detroit, Michigan, asking for terms.

Mr. John Forbes and Jas. E. Smith of Plympton, have received cheques for $100 granted by the Dominion Government for service in the Fenian Raid, of 1870. They belonged to No. 1 Co., 27 Reg., and are also possessors of medals and 160 acres of land granted by the Government.

Chas. McDonald, who lived on lot 5, con. 4, Plympton township, died on Thursday last at the age of 68 years and 10 months. Uraemia was the cause of death. Mr. McDonald came to Plympton over 35 years ago and by hard work won a place among the leading men of the township. He is survived by a widow and five children, another child, John, having been killed about two years ago by falling out of a silo. The children are Misses Jean and Maggie, both teaching school, and Kate, May and Charles at home.

A PRIME DRESSING FOR WOUNDS.—In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh. There is no other Oil that has its curative qualities.

A Scottish minister was asked to pray for rain. He did so, and the rain came down in floods and destroyed the crops. "This comes o' intrustin' sic a request to a meenister who usna acquint w' agriculture!" growled one elder to another.

A man started in the livery business a few days ago, and the first thing he did was to have a sign painted representing himself holding a Missouri mule by the bridle. He was particularly proud of this stroke of business enterprise and asked of his wife: "Is that a good likeness of me?" "Yes," she replied, "a perfect picture of you but who is that fellow holding you by the bridle?"

DREAD OF ASTHMA makes countless thousands miserable. Night after night the attacks return and even when brief respite is given the mind is still in torment from continual anticipation. Dr. J. D. Relief comes, and at once, while future attacks are warded off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

Jos. Grant, a G. T. R. brakeman, residing in Sarnia, was instantly killed at Wyoming at noon Monday. He was wrapping a chain around a broken draw-bar on the way freight, when the train backed up, hurling him under the cans and cutting his body in two. He was 24 years of age and married.

Q. How can I breed a firm, smooth comb of uniform type on S. O. Brown Leghorn cockerels? A. Mate a male with a straight, firm, smooth, fine, five pointed comb to a hen with a straight,
 five pointed comb.

Q. Why are not more Aylesbury ducks bred in America? A. Because the Peking matures quicker, picks easier and has that yellow butter color so popular in this country.

If customers find prices for poultry
 and eggs higher a glance at market
 quotations will generally show feeds higher also. To make a reasonable profit the poultryman must adjust his prices according to the cost.

When an exploding incubator lamp set fire to her clothing Mrs. William

The idea that so many going into poultry will cause a glut in the market will never come true in a country whose population grows so fast and where the beef trust has the people by the throat. Chicken and eggs have largely taken the place of beef in many homes, and there is no healthier food especially when home raised.

It is claimed 70,000 chicks were killed in the shell by concussion from the twelve inch guns of the Delaware
 while practicing off the eastern shore near Norfolk, Va. The same reporter declared that the noise so scared the old hens and roosters that they shed
 all their feathers and ran to the tall timber for protection. Nuf ced.

A York (Pa.) citizen was tried in court because his bulldog "deliberately and with malice aforethought did wound and slay seven cats." The court ruled that it was natural for a dog to chase and kill cats, and the owner was not to blame. The cat protectors had to pay the costs.

The report of the Spring Creek Spar-

The Scott Tragedy

Capt. Robert F. Scott and his little band of heroic explorers after attaining the goal of their ambition perished on the way home, where honor and fame awaited them. To live to enjoy the fruits of victory was denied the men who carried the banner of England to the southern extremity of the earth.

The details of the tragedy are meagre, but the records found on the bodies of the dead men prove that the expedition had succeeded. Although a Norwegian had beaten them to the pole, the English party duplicated the feat of those who went before them and reached the hut which the Norwegians had erected and where they had placed the flag of their country as a witness to the success of their labors.

It is feared that C. C. Wright, the Toronto man who accompanied the expedition as chemist, is among the lost. Mr. Wright's friends in this country will not yet abandon hope for his safety and all Canadians will feel a pardonable pride in the fact that one of their number took a prominent part in a work so arduous even while they grieve that in the undertaking Canada's representative may have sacrificed his life.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Last year's Canadian beans are reported to be of an inferior grade and it is expected that a good deal of the crop will remain on holders' hands. The yield in Ontario last year was 1,182,132 bushels, against 898,212 bushels the year previous.

During the last few weeks the wholesale price of tea has advanced 1 1/2 cents per pound wholesale, and the retail price is soon to be raised. The chief cause of the jump in price is said by the importers to be a scarcity of supply. In the matter of total consumption of tea per annum, last year Canada got away with thirty-eight million pounds. Of this quantity, thirty million pounds were imported from Ceylon and India and the balance from China and Japan. But twenty years ago the latter countries were the chief lands exporting tea.

There are always more fires during a cold snap than at any other time of the year, due to householders piling on fuel before going to bed and leaving the drafts on to keep the house warm. The result is in many cases that chimneys become overheated, or defects in the stoves show up, and fire breaks out, often occasioning great loss of property and sometimes of life. Greatest care should be used in attending stoves at this time of the year. Again it has come to the notice of insurance adjusters that some people keep gasoline on their premises without going through the formalities of obtaining a permit, which invalidates the insurance. This should not be done.

In order to prevent misapprehensions that have sometimes caused disappointment and irritation, some modifications have been made this year by the Minister of Education and the universities concerned in the regulations governing the matriculation examinations to the end that the Minister of Education is not responsible for the examinations; but a Matriculation Board consisting of representatives of the universities of Toronto, Queen's and McMaster. It appoints the persons who set and read the papers, and it controls the results in all respects. As some misunderstanding exists on this last point, it has been thought well to make clear to candidates and others interested that appeals and other matters arising out of the examinations are decided by the Board and not by the Minister.

Too Many Agents

Judging from the number of travellers, canvassers and agents of all kinds that have been calling on Ridgetown business men recently, we have finally discovered the reason why labor is scarce and likewise the high cost of living. One-half the population of this fine country spends its time going about from place to place with a sample case or grip, riding in the best railway coaches and staying at the best hotels. The cost of this army of agents comes out of the consumers. From a set of books to the latest in floor mops the price is elevated to allow sufficient commission to support the well-dressed, glib-tongued army, not one of whom adds a dollar a year to the wealth of the country. We quite recognize that a certain number of men must be employed as salesmen to call on local business men, but the agents on the road for countless ordinary household articles are legion in number. They dress well, live well and must laugh well at the gullibility of their patrons. They would fly from real work as from a pest.—Ridgetown Dominion.

Experimental Farms Report

The report of the Experimental Farms for the year ending March 31st, 1912, is out. Of all the many publications issued from time to time by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa this annual report is by far the most comprehensive as it deals with practically every phase of Canadian agricultural activity ranging from the cultivation of fruits and ornamental plants to the growing and preserving of corn for stock food; from the hatching and rearing of fowls to the rearing and feeding of cattle, sheep and swine; from the management of bees to the protection of crops from insects and disease, and so on throughout the whole range of farming.

This report, which provides much useful matter for study during the winter months, is available to all who apply for copies to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and is now being sent to all those on the mailing list of the Experimental Farms.

PRESENTATION.—A very enjoyable event was celebrated at the Manse, Arkona, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 11th, when the members of the Presbyterian congregations of Arkona and West Adelaide assembled to do honor to the new bride. A splendid program of music was rendered, the following artists contributing—Miss Mabel Crawford, Miss Lena Oakes, Miss Reta Herrington, Mr. Wilbert McLeish, Mr. Albert Mayo and the Arkona choir. Mr. Hugh Davidson very ably filled the duties of chairman. After the program an address was read by Miss Augustina. The presentation was made by Miss Rheta Herrington.

"We, the congregations of the Arkona and Adelaide Presbyterian churches unite in extending to our our heartiest congratulations. You assure you, our pastor, it gives us great pleasure to feel that your sphere of usefulness in our midst is not diminished but augmented by the sympathy which undoubtedly will be vouchsafed to us by your much esteemed young wife. We therefore present to you this music cabinet and pedestal as a token of our good-will and voice the approval of your many friends in wishing you every blessing in your married life which God in His wisdom has chosen for you.—Signed, E. V. Thornicroft, Thos. Brown, O. J. Keyser, Joe Butler. After the presentation a very appetizing luncheon was served. The assemblage dispersed after singing that splendid hymn by J. E. Rankin, "God be with you, etc." Mrs. Hare was also the recipient of a handkerchief shower by the members of the girls' club.

PRESENTATION.

The employees of Messrs. Fuller Bros. of Arkona, invited those gentlemen to spend a social evening with them at the home of Mr. Fred Nelson on Feb. 5th. The invitation was cheerfully accepted and a very pleasant evening was spent. After partaking of oysters and other delicacies of the season, prepared by Mrs. Fred Nelson, Mr. Will Williams, on behalf of the staff, read the following address and presented Mr. J. L. Fuller, senior member of the firm, with a beautiful roan buff leather covered chair, and Mr. W. J. Fuller with a handsome club bag and silver-handled umbrella. After recovering from their surprise, both members of the firm made suitable replies, expressing their confidence in the ability, faithfulness and integrity of each one in their employ, which qualities combined and used in the interest of any firm always means success. Address:—

To Messrs. Fuller Bros.—
We, the employees of your firm, have met this evening for a two-fold purpose—to spend a social evening and also to present you with this short address. We desire to express in words our sincere appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us at all times. We are glad to know that the business year just closed has been satisfactory to yourselves and we realize that that success can be attributed mainly to the fact that your many patrons have implicit confidence in your fairness and uprightness as business men, and know that a square deal is assured to everyone. We hope the year 1913 may be as prosperous as the year just closed, and if your endeavors and our assistance can accomplish this, it shall be so. As a slight token of the respect and esteem in which you are severally held, we would present Mr. J. L. Fuller with this chair and to Mr. W. J. Fuller this club bag and umbrella, and we know they will be received in the same spirit as they are given. We would not have Mr. Fuller, or Mr. Fuller, think that he must go away back and sit down, nor that Mr. Wes. must pack his grip and take himself off to the tall timbers,—far from us be any such intentions. May health, strength and prosperity be yours for many years to come.

Signed by staff.

DON'T SCOLD BABY FOR BEING CROSS

Mothers, don't scold your little ones for being cross. A baby's nature is to be happy and if he is cross it is not his fault—crossness shows that he is unwell and needs a good medicine to bring him back to the healthy, happy state again. Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones to keep them happy and well. There is a smile in every dose. They cure constipation, indigestion, expel worms, break up colds and make teething easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Late Mr. Wm. Crone.

Mr. Wm. Crone, an old and highly respected resident of Sarnia Township, passed away on Sunday evening, in his 97th year, after a brief illness at his home on the 4th line. Mr. Crone was one of the best known farmers in West Lambton, having come to his homestead nearly forty years ago and through unremitting labor having vastly improved the property. He is survived by his widow and four children: James, living on the farm; Frank, in Alberta; Mrs. Wm. McKellar, and Mrs. Wm. Ingram, of Sarnia Township. A son, Daniel, lost his life in the South African war.

Declines A $12,000 Salary

(Toronto Globe, Monday)
Rev. W. A. Cameron has decided to remain in Toronto. This is the text of a message that the pastor of Bloor Street Baptist Church, Toronto, sent to Calvary Baptist Church, New York city. Calvary Church wanted Mr. Cameron to become its pastor at a salary of $12,000 a year, a secretary, an assistant pastor and a permanent organization of church workers. Bloor Street Baptist is paying him a salary of $3,000 a year, and he has an assistant pastor and a lady worker. The announcement, which brought much joy to the members of Bloor Street Baptist Church, was made at the service yesterday morning, and preceding the second hymn the Old Hundredth Psalm was sung by the congregation. At the Sunday School service in the afternoon the matter was referred to by the Superintendent, and the scholars broke into "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The evening service was marked by special rejoicing. Crowds had to be turned away from the church doors, and a majority of the congregation remained to the after meeting.
Rev. Mr. Cameron is a cousin of Mrs. T. G. Mitchell, of Watford.

Acute Dyspepsia

Restoration of Stomach Power Comes Quickly With the Right Medicine.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge, P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition, advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvelous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon gloved within me. I can now eat, sleep, and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are sure to do you good. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Cattaraugus Co., Kingston, Canada.

THE MAGIC HORN

Their Dreams Came True

By CLARISSA MACKIE

The road wound sinuously between tall hedges of blackberry and cat brier. Woodbine draped the young locusts along the fence, and in places the wild grape vines had flung tendrils across the intervening space until they formed a green arbor overhead. The sand yielded easily to the tread, and on either side of the road there was a hard beaten footpath. It was a road for slow moving country wagons or for pedestrians and had never known the arrogance of a motorcar.

Rose Lewis lingered under the grapevines where the sun filtered through and cast flickering shadows on her white hat and gown. Beneath the hat's brim her face looked forth as sweet as her namesakes, the wild roses of the hedge. Under her arm was a roll of music, for she had been giving a piano lesson to the smallest Jones girl, and the hour had been one of such exulting discords that Rose had sought the lane road, hoping that the song of a thrush might obliterate the inharmonious sounds that still rang in her head.

The thrush was singing on a tall wind bent chestnut tree, and as he swayed to and fro, thrilled with the ecstasy of his own song, Rose paused to watch him. When he had ceased and had winged his way to the woods beyond the girl still stood there enchanted by the bird notes from bough and thicket until from the highway that ran through the valley below there came the melody of a horn. Rose had heard it once before. Late at night it had sounded directly under her window, and she had seen the flash of passing lights and the crunch of automobile tires in the road as the machine whizzed past, and the sound had left its impression upon her.

Now she started again as it echoed through the valley, coming nearer, nearer. She knew that if she hurried to the end of the lane road she would see it pass, but she didn't want to see it. Rose Lewis was a dreamer of dreams, and she preferred to delude herself with the fairy tales of her childhood. Now she laughed as she told herself that it was the magic horn of the fairy prince who was coming to rescue her from a thicket of dangerous thorns. She certainly would not go to the end of the road and see her dream shattered by a mud splashed automobile filled with veiled and goggled forms.

The highway crossed the winding lane just below the tree where the thrush had sung. The horn sounded again, coming nearer, its musical chord trembling on the summer air. Then with a crackling rush something big and black invaded the winding road. Rose had barely time to flee into the thorny thicket when there was a loud explosion, and the big machine came to a standstill in front of her, making her a prisoner among the thorns.

From the red leather cushioned seat a solitary man sat and stared at her from behind big goggles until the truth of the situation burst upon him. Then he flung aside cap and goggles, tore off his linen duster and stepped down into the narrow path. His handsome face was wrinkled with concern as he addressed her.

"I'm afraid I nearly ran you down," he said courteously. "If you will allow me to assist you out of this mess of thorns—there, my knife will make it easier—why, your sleeve is torn, and I'm afraid the thorns have wounded you."

Rose was too startled by the suddenness of the accident to make a reply.

At last he cut an opening in the thicket and gently extricated her from the cruel briars that snatched her skirt and pressed against her rounded arms. Here and there on her sleeve was a red stain of blood.

"I hope you will let me administer some remedies. I have a little case in my pocket with everything to allay pain, and—there, if you will roll up your sleeve a little—now, that ought to give you some relief. Briars are nasty things." As he talked he was dabbing at the wounds with bits of absorbent cotton dipped in some antiseptic fluid produced from the medicine case; then he applied an ointment and deftly wound a strip of gauze down the arm to the slender wrist. When he had finished he looked regretfully at his completed work, very much as if he wished he could do it all over

"Thank you so much," said Rose shyly. "It could have waited until I reached home. One is often scratched by thorns in the country."

"But I drove you into the thicket, and I am responsible for your injuries," he protested, with a winning smile, as he snatched the little case together and returned it to his pocket. "I'm afraid I frightened you too."

"I was frightened for the moment. You see, one does not expect motorcars in the lane road."

"I should say not!" he ejaculated, as if suddenly aware of his predicament. "It's all the fault of my map. It was erased and broken, and I could not determine whether the road to Cliffden was the first or second turnoff to the left, so I tossed up a coin and took the first, and here I am with a punctured tire and almost lured deep in sand."

He gazed mournfully at the car, which quite filled the narrow roadway with its bulk.

"You will need assistance to get it out," suggested Rose. "Mr. Jansen, the blacksmith, does that sort of thing, I am sure."

"Thank you. It is very likely that he can help me put on another tire. I will look him up immediately if you will kindly direct me." He looked eagerly at Rose, hoping that the way to the blacksmith's shop would be her path also.

"You must go back to the highway, and you will find it at the corner of the Cliffden road, about a quarter of a mile beyond here. Oh, may I trouble you for my music roll?" She pointed to the thicket, where the forgotten music roll was half hidden among the weeds.

The stranger assisted her into the path, piloted her beyond the bulk of the machine and then returned to the thicket for the music roll. As he extricated it he could not forbear seeing the name engraved on a little silver plate under the strap.

He gave it to Rose and watched her as she went along the path away from the highroad, in which direction he must go. He did not know that the shorter route to the Lewis home would be to follow the directions she had given him and return to the highway. Rose wanted to be alone for awhile. She wanted to still the beating of her heart and to feel the telltale flush fade from her hot cheeks before she went home. She turned around for an instant, and then something happened that added to her confusion and embarrassment.

When the stranger had thrown away the bits of absorbent cotton they had clung to the blackberry bushes like tufts of snow. Now, as Rose turned she saw two birds—a yellow warbler and his soberly attired little mate—hover over the bushes and then dart down and away with the bits of cotton in their beaks.

Rose fairly ran until she reached a quiet wood road that would take her home. It had been the most exciting day she had ever known. It seemed as if every incident had borne some significance because of her foolish dreams of magic horns and princes.

The man, Neal Hayden, was not unmoved by what had happened. Once when he had been a little lad somebody had sent him a valentine. It pictured a little girl's sweet face peeping from a bower of wild roses, and the picture clung to him all through his boyhood and youth until he had come to believe that when he found his ideal girl she would have the face of his valentine, and she was always wreathed with roses.

The suddenness of seeing the lovely face of Rose Lewis framed in the pink bloom of wild roses had agitated him for the moment, and then to learn from the music roll that her name was Rose set him to dreaming dreams of his own as he slowly sought the services of the blacksmith. He, too, had reddened as the yellow birds had stolen the bits of cotton from the bushes. Every incident had its significance for him also.

The next day there came a big box of pink roses addressed to Rose Lewis, and inside was Hayden's card without an address. He expressed his hope that Rose had suffered no ill effects from her encounter with the thorns. Rose told the story to her mother, and the roses occupied a place of honor on the piano, where Rose found herself softly playing the plaintive minor chord that sounded from the horn of Hayden's automobile.

Often after that Rose heard the sound of the horn as the machine whirled past her home, but several months went by, and as she never saw Neal Hayden again she forbade herself to dream of fairy princes and magic horns and tried to forget the incident which at the time had seemed so astonishing to her. But now, instead of dreaming of imaginary princes, Rose found herself with a real flesh and blood hero, who invaded her dreams and refused to be banished.

Then came a day when she went with her cousins to the big county fair. Here were gathered many fashionable folks from the country estates near by, and here were many men from the city. Neal Hayden was there, too, and when he saw Rose with the Drake Lewises, her cousins, he fairly flew across the intervening space and claimed instant friendship with Drake Lewis, who had been his classmate at college.

After that it was only a question of time before Neal Hayden dared confess his love for Drake Lewis' little country cousin. All through that autumn, when the lane road was turning to a path of crimson and gold, Hayden was seeking for words in which to tell his love. Then one day when the wind was shaking the leaves down in golden showers, Rose walked in the lane road and saw Neal Hayden coming toward her.

She waited, looking lovelier than ever in her white knitted coat and white wool cap. Just before they met the same breeze that sent her golden hair in little wisps about her ears shook a dogwood tree, and from the branches there tumbled the cunningly woven nest of a yellow warbler. From it there fluttered bits of white cotton and shreds of the blue paper which Hayden had thrown away.

The empty nest fell to the ground between them, and their eyes met above it, and Neal suddenly was aware that he need not say anything. His eyes had asked the question, hers had answered it, and their dreams had come true.

I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength-creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol, aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of tonic iron, which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim.

AN ARCTIC ADVENTURE.

Nansen's Daring and Perilous Swim For His Drifting Boats.

Among the perilous adventures of the Nansen arctic expedition was the narrow escape of Nansen and Johansen on their return trip to the Fram after their unsuccessful dash for the pole. After many months of hardship a narrow channel opened in the ice, and they launched the two light kaiks for more than a year. A few days afterward disaster nearly put an end to the expedition. The incident is related in "The Sledge and Conquest of the North Pole," by Mr. George Bryce.

In the evening their legs felt stiff with sitting in the kaiks all day, and they landed on the edge of the ice so that they might stretch them a little. After the kaiks, which were lashed together, had been moored by means of one of the braces they ascended a hummock close by and had been standing there only a moment when Johansen raised the cry that the kaiks were adrift.

They ran to the edge of the ice, but the boats were already a little way off and were drifting quickly. The position was a terrible one, for all they possessed was on board. Nansen at once threw off some of his clothing, handed his watch to Johansen and sprang into the icy water. He knew that if the boats were lost it meant death to him and his companion. At first it seemed more than doubtful whether he could manage to regain them. When he got tired he turned over and swam on his back. At length he gained a little and redoubled his exertions.

By this time Nansen felt his limbs stiffening and losing all feeling. His strokes became more and more feeble, but the distance from the kaiks became shorter, and at last he was able to grasp a snowshoe that lay across the sterns. He now tried to pull himself up, but his body was so stiff with cold that he could not do so. After a little he managed to swing one leg up to the edge of the sledge that was lashed to the deck and then raised the rest of his body. They were saved!

With some difficulty he paddled the kaiks back to Johansen, who admitted that these were the worst moments he had ever lived through. Johansen now pulled off Nansen's wet clothes, put on the few dry ones they had in reserve, spread the sleeping bag upon the ice and covered Nansen with the sail and everything he could find to keep out the cold. The next day Nansen was all right again, and in the evening they pressed forward once more on the march that finally brought them out of the arctic.

A Chilly Forecast.
The earth is growing in bulk on account of the meteoric dust that falls on it. It has recently been estimated that 100 tons fall daily over the surface of the globe, and that millions of years hence this will have increased the thickness of the earth considerably. This would have a tendency to bring us closer to the sun. But centrifugal force is augmented at the same time in greater proportion and counteracts this tendency; consequently the earth would be swept away from the sun, with the result that its distance from that body would be considerably augmented. This is spoken of as having possibly happened to some of the larger outer planets, notably Jupiter, in the remote past.—Harper's.

Milk and Ministers.
Milk became a very important part of the food of families in the colonial days of the eighteenth century. In 1728 a discussion took place in the Boston newspapers as to the expense of keeping a family of "milk-drawing figures." These writers all named only bread and milk for breakfast and supper. As cows increased in number, milk, of course, became more frequently used. Rev. Mr. Higginson in 1639 wrote that milk cost in Salem but a penny a quart, while another minister, John Cotton, said that milk and ministers were the only things cheap in New England.—American Cultivator.

was fairly active, with a good all-round demand, particularly for the choicer cattle. For extra choice qualities prices were for anything a little stiffer than last week. An average medium to good butcher, a fair, steady market; a common butcher, a little slow. Sheep and lambs were not quite so firm and an imported lot of wethers and ewes went slowly.

Hogs were quoted about 10c lower, but transactions were slow at the decline, dealers in some cases holding for higher prices.

N. HERBERT, Clerk.

NAPIER.

Miss Flossie McCann, of Napier, who underwent an operation in Victoria Hospital Monday for appendicitis, is doing nicely.

Miss H. Hastings and Miss May Dodd, of St. Thomas, are the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. George A. Denning, this week.

Much regret is felt over the resignation as Sunday school superintendent of Mr. H. Lowe, who has held that position for a great many years, and did very faithful work during that time. Mr. Fred Gough has been appointed to take his place.

The Woman's Institute met in the town hall on Wednesday, February 12. A large number were present, considering ing the very severe weather. The ladies enjoyed very much the papers by Mrs. J. Brady and Miss McLean on "Dr. Drummond" and "A Day's Work on the Farm," also a solo from Miss Mabel McCaw. Luncheon was served at the close.

"The Valentine At Home" gathering under the auspices of the W.F.M.S. of St. Andrew's church, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Walker, was a great success. A splendid representation of the congregation was present. Musical selections and addresses were given, and many splendid games played. A free-will offering was taken up during the evening and almost $12 was received. The aim of the gathering was to increase interest in the society.

A MOTHER'S DUTY TO HER DAUGHTER

Requires That Her Blood Supply be Kept Rich and Pure

Every mother should call to mind her own girlhood. How urgently her daughter is likely to need help and strength during the years between school days and womanhood. It is then that growing girls droop and become fragile, bloodless and nervous. Nature is calling for more nourishment than the blood can supply and signs of distress are plainly evident in dull eyes, pallid cheeks, aching backs, a languid step, fits of depression, headaches and a dislike for food. These signs mean anaemia—that is bloodlessness.

The watchful mother takes prompt steps to give her girl the new, rich blood her system is thirsting for by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood and transform unhappy anaemic girls into robust, happy, bright-eyed young women. No other medicine has ever succeeded like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because no other medicine can make that new, rich, red blood which brings health and vitality to weak bloodless systems. Miss Mamie Krouse, Cope-town, Ont., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a blessing to me. I had been a sufferer for almost two years from anaemia, and seemed, no matter what I tried, to be growing worse. I was very pale and seemed bloodless, suffered from frequent headaches, the least exertion would leave me completely tired out, and I was very much discouraged and fretful. At last I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got a half dozen boxes, and by the time they were used I was feeling much better. A few more boxes fully restored my health and I have since been well and strong and able once more to enjoy life."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KERWOOD.

The Ladies' Parish Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. T. F. Mills on Wednesday, Feb. 26th, at 2 p.m.

The Kerwood branch of the Women's Institute held a most successful Valentine tea on Friday afternoon. Fourteen ladies from the Watford branch were present, also some from the Napier branch. The young ladies who had charge of the tables wore Valentine caps and aprons to match the table decorations. After the singing of "The Maple Leaf," the following program was rendered:—Solos by Mrs. T. Brady, Mrs. deGex, Mrs. Mills; paper, "What we gain by being a member of the Woman's Institute," by Mrs. Brison, of Watford, which was enjoyed by all; duets were sung by Irene and Walter Eastbrook, and Messrs. deGex and Mills; a trio, "The Maids of Te," by the Misses Waddell, Sullivan and deGex was the cause of much merriment; two choruses, by eight of the young ladies, "Away to St. Valentine," and the Cooks chorus. A special feature of the program was the selections played by the Merry Orchestra. A dainty luncheon was served, after which Mrs. Dodds, president of the Watford branch, gave a brief address, thanking the Kerwood ladies for their hospitality, then all joined hands and sang for Auld Lang Syne, after which the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

5000 Facts About Canada

The public will welcome the 1913 Edition of "5000 Facts About Canada," compiled by Frank Veigh, the acknowledged authority on things Canadian and the author of "Through the Heart of Canada." Ten thousand copies are now sold annually, which find their way all over Canada and the Empire, indeed the world.

"The Facts booklet is stuffed as full of information as a sausage is of meat," is the happy and true way an English Journal puts it, and the new issue, which includes many new features and improvements, such as a colored map of the Dominion, presents a striking story of the wonderful advance of Canada in a single year. We now talk in billions.

The booklet is issued at 25 cents a copy by the Canadian Facts Pub. Co., 588-Huron Street, Toronto, and is sold by all the leading newsdealers.
