G. L. BOSWORTH & CO.,

Whiting St. Building
Holyoke, Mass.,
North River Blue Stone Flooring

Especially adapted for DYE HOUSES and PAPER MILLS, where it is wet, as the Stone does not absorb water or chemicals, or acids do not affect it, as it has been thoroughly tested in the many mills where it is used at present. It does not become slippery with wear; it is always clean. Another feature is its crushing strength; where heavy trucking is done the BLUE STONE shows its superiority over any other material. We have floors laid where trucks weighing from one to three tons are constantly going over them and no perceptible wear is noticed, and we never had a stone break.

The following parties are using these stones, to whom we respectfully refer:—
Whiting Paper Co., Nos. 1 and 2, Holyoke, Mass. | Byron Weston Paper Mill Co., Dalton, Mass.
Parsons Paper Co., Nos. 1 and 2, Holyoke, Mass. | Worcester B. and D. Works, Worcester, Mass.

Commercial Summary.

Merchants, manufacturers and other business men should bear in mind that the "Journal of Commerce" will not accept advertisements through any agents not specially in its employ. Its circulation—extending to all parts of the Dominion—renders it the best advertising medium in Canada—equal to all others combined, while its rates do not include heavy commissions.

New Westminster, B.C., has just inaugurated an electric street railway system, and is preparing to put in water works at a cost of $500,000.

A fire at Metcalfe on 14th, damaged the Stringer tannery to extent of $5000 and Robston's lumber shed $700. No insurance in either case.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have started work on their new workshops, which are to be located at Outremont.

It is expected that in a month or so the yards will be ready for use. Over a hundred men and several construction trains are now engaged in the work.

ENGLISH shipping experts condemn the "whaleback" vessels as unfit for ocean traffic. They regard them as only suited for such canals as the new one from Liverpool to Manchester.

ELIZABETH KIEFFER and Edward Larue, carrying on business in coal and wood in this city, under the style of E. Larue & Co., have assigned at the demand of a relative. They owe $1,500.

THE average receipts at the Toronto Fair were over $4,000 per day. Over 1100 horses, and 600 cattle were shown, a number of them as fine specimens of their breeds as exist. The Fair has been a magnificent success.

AT Moncton, N.B., on 12th, a school house, two dwellings and a sausage factory were destroyed by fire, loss $5000, insurance $1800, an incendiary is suspected. At Delhi on same day Gray's cheese factory was burnt, loss $1000, insurance $700.

A CHICAGO paper says a type founders' trust will be organized in a day or two, taking in all the type foundries of any consequence in America with the exception of two or three. The trust will represent $18,000,000 and will, it is said, squeeze smaller concerns.

J. MONGIN & Co., dealers in coal and wood in this city, have assigned. Mongin is believed to have left town and the remaining partner, Marianne Roberge, claims to know nothing of the firm's position. She places their liabilities at $1,700.

THE Lancashire Insurance Co., is defending a suit brought by Mr. Stott, one of its policyholders, who claims that he was only insured for one year when he believed he held a three years policy. The company's agent claims that he was misled by Stott.

JOS. MASSE, machinist of Granby, has assigned. He has been in business there some seventeen years, and as he was kept full of work by the rubber and electric light works he should have done well. Unfortunately he does not seem to have been a good manager.

THE Jackson Tea Co., a small tea business started in London east, in the fall of last year, has assigned. Jackson attended to the store while his sons peddled tea through the country. The concern was always a weak one, and the account was closely watched by their suppliers. They have not got ahead, so an assignment has been made with liabilities of $1,500.

TORONTO, ONT.

Mrs. A. LEGAULT, who has run a small grocery and liquor business in Ottawa for some years past, has assigned. The concern was always a weak one.—M. Symes, an elderly man, doing a small butchering business in the west end of Woodstock, Ont., is in difficulties.

DAVIDSON AND ELLIS, undertakers of Paisley, succeeded Stovel and Ellis last December, Davidson buying out Stovel's interest. They then claimed a joint capital of $1,500. The business proved a small one, and not sufficient to support two families, and the result has been an assignment inside of nine months.

MISS MARY MAJON has been seventeen or eighteen years a milliner and dressmaker in Quebec. She did a small French Canadian business which brought her in a fair living; but of late trade seems to have deserted her, and we now hear of her assignment with liabilities of $2,200.

At Calgary on 8th inst., Mr. Van Horne said there would be four big cities west of Superior—Fort William, Winnipeg, Calgary, and Vancouver. One of Mr. Van Horne's party said the time was near when direct water communication between Liverpool and Port Arthur would be established.

BROWN AND BAKER, dry goods merchants, of Brantford, started in business March 1889, with a few thousand dollars capital. They put in a stock of about $15,000, but from the start the firm never seemed to make any headway. They were much in the hands of one wholesale house, and as there were two partners to live out of the business, they have gradually run behind until an assignment has become unavoidable.

J. A. DUBUC & Co., grocers of Sherbrooke, have assigned. This is the fourth time that Dubuc has failed in business. His three previous assignments kept his credit low, and as he had practically no capital, and was not over-burdened with business ability, his present failure was a foregone conclusion.

JAMES KELLY, clothier of St John, N. B., is endeavoring to effect a settlement with his creditors at 33 1/2 cents in the dollar, unsecured, and payable over 12 months. He owes $12,000, and shows assets valued at $7,000 only. Very little capital and too large a stock are given as the causes of his difficulties.

David J. HATFIELD, clothier of St. John, N. B., has been in business in a limited way for a number of years, during which he has failed twice. He is not credited with much push or ability, and his account has always been considered a weak one, in fact his present failure has been more or less anticipated by those interested.

JOSEPH E. TROTTER is supposed to own a farm near Norman-din valued at $2,400. He is engaged in a law-suit with Isidore Belleau, a Quebec lawyer, who claims to be the real owner of the land. Under these circumstances he is not considered a mark for credit, and as a consequence he has been forced to make an assignment.

FIRES are reported on 9th inst., at Clinton, where a livery stable and brick building were burned, the latter not insured; at Niagara, where the ball room of the Queens' Royal Hotel was damaged; at Belleville where a business block on Front St. was badly injured, loss $4,000, covered by insurance. fire took place at Quebec on 12th, by which large numbers were rendered homeless. The fire was incendiary, but would have been easily checked had the fire service been efficient.

R. LAURENOR, who succeeded the insolvent firm of M. A. Graham in the gents' furnishing business, has assigned. He bought the stock, valued at $3,000, for 58½ cents in the dollar and paid cash for it. The stand was a good one and he was looked upon as a bright and energetic young fellow. And yet he has not proved a success.

BENJAMIN SAVAGE, jeweller of Guelph, succeeded on the death of his father in 1874 to a business which had then been twenty-six years in existence. However in his hands it did not prove profitable. He never made more than a bare living, and as he fell into the error of overstocking himself, he soon got into difficulties which have culminated in an assignment.

A. CHOUINARD, leather dealer of this city, who went into voluntary liquidation, under the supervision of two creditors, at the beginning of the month, has assigned. He succeeded the insolvent firm of M. H. Galarneau last May, but was cramped from the outset by want of capital. He shows liabilities of $2,000 and assets of $1,700.

It is stated that the water attempted to be thrown on the flames at Quebec reached hardly ten feet from the nozzle. This is accounted for by the fact that along Champlain street there is only a six-inch pipe, and for 700 feet, including the whole of the burned district, there is only a four-inch pipe. These pipes were laid 25 years ago and are now so corroded that there is hardly any passage left for water. Another difficulty arose from there being no one to work a second engine sent from St. Sauveur. What is the trouble with the people of Quebec? Are they waiting to be cleaned out as badly as Chicago before they organize a thoroughly efficient fire service? They will be some day, if they do not arouse themselves.

L. BLANCHET, tailor of this city, held a meeting of his creditors on the 10th ulto. at which he endeavored to effect a settlement on the basis of 50 cents in the dollar. This offer was refused; but the creditors expressed their willingness to accept 75 cents in the dollar, spread over 12 months, if adequate security was available. His liabilities will reach $8,500 and he claims a nominal surplus of $3,000.

SCOTT & PARTNER, general storekeepers of Mount Forest, have assigned. Robt. E. Scott was the sole proprietor of the firm, the title having been assumed to avoid confusion with the other Scotts doing business in that locality. He appeared to do a nice little trade, but his capital was all locked up in property. He had but few available means, and the result is that he has not been able to meet his paper and has consequently had to assign.

R. F. BLACK, jr., drove a street car in Halifax for a year, and with the commercial knowledge and capital thus acquired, went to Pugwash, N. S. and started a grocery store. He did not prove a success. The business remained small, and his prospects grew more and more dubious. Finally he has assigned with liabilities of $2,200, and assets valued at only half that sum. It is doubtful if the estate will realize sufficient to cover the bills of sale.

WM. PATTON, in his quality as curator to Thos. McIntosh, sole partner in the firm of John McIntosh & Son, blacksmiths, of this city, has made an assignment. This firm's difficulties have already been fully reported in these columns. On the 30th July last Thos. McIntosh was interdicted, as he was suffering from softening of the brain, and Mr. Patton, who is his father-in-law, as well as a large creditor of the firm, was appointed curator to him.

THOMAS G A WILSON, boot and shoe dealer of Halifax, bought the stock of Robert Taylor early in March 1889, paying down only a small percentage, and owing Taylor from $5,000 to $7,000. With this mill-stone round his neck, he was never likely to succeed, and no one is surprised to hear that he cannot meet his engagements. He offers his creditors 50 cents in the dollar, payable in three months. Of Taylor's claim of $7,000, $5,000 is preferred, and must be paid in full. On the remaining $2,000 he will accept the same composition as the other creditors whose claims amount to $2,000 in all.

ROBERT DOUGLAS, tanner of Teeswater, was burned out in 1889, and, as he carried no insurance, he lost about $3,000. It was then discovered that he was heavily in debt, principally for borrowed money, and that he owed nearly $5,700. He made an offer of 25 cents in the dollar, payable in one year, and without interest. This was, perforce, accepted by the creditors, but it cost Douglas his credit. He resumed business, but has not done well since. In fact, his present assignment has been looked for some time past.

The firm of C. A. Dugal & Co., general storekeepers of Masson, which started in business in May 1890, was composed of the C. P. R. station agent and his brother-in-law who managed the Ross lumber yards at that place. It was hoped that the position of the latter would induce the men to do their trading at the store. Unfortunately he was transferred to Buckingham and consequently withdrew from the firm, and Dugal was left to his own resources. He was not popular. His store did little or no business, and the result has been his assignment with liabilities of $3,100. He claims assets worth nominally $4,100.

J. E. Bourque, dry goods merchant of St. Johns, bought the estate of the late W. Larocque in the spring of 1888 paying, it is said, a rather steep price for it. He had very little capital, and not being over-attentive to his business, he soon lost ground. In March of 1890 he succeeded in settling with his creditors at 50 cents in the dollar, secured, and payable in 4, 8 and 12 months. He then owed $12,000. This injured his credit, and, as he continued to neglect his business at times, he has run behind until, this time, he is compelled to make an assignment with liabilities of $8,000.

The movement to erect a building for the Board of Trade in this city is now well under weigh. Of the necessity for some structure more worthy of our mercantile position no one doubts. buildings at three or more times those of any other city in Canada. Our City Hall and Court House are each noble structures to which we point strangers with just pride. Several of our banks, and buildings devoted to insurance, and to groups of offices, are highly imposing edifices. The residences of our leading merchants, and other distinguished citizens, are not wanting in magnificence. In a large number of cases our private dwellings are costly, dignified, and significant evidences of wealth and prosperity. As a rule all our dwellings are more substantially and expensively built than can be found elsewhere in Canada. We have two splendid railway stations, and a hotel worthy of any metropolis. When however the merchant princes of other lands who visit us, ask for the home of the Board of Trade, the question has to be avoided, or their attention drawn to another subject. It is not pleasant to have this weak spot exposed, nor is it creditable that in so important a matter we are behind cities and towns of moderate pretensions. The Board of Trade, Toronto, has set us a noble example. We give the statistics of their enterprise :

Number of members of Board of Trade....	922
Annual subscription.....	$10
Cost of land for building.....	$ 75,000
Cost of new building.....	390,000
Total cost.....	$465,000
Bonds issued to cover cost :

Total bonds issued.....	$450,000

Estimated receipts for rentals .....	$29,425
Rental to be appropriated annually by Board of Trade to be applied as a sinking fund. }	$5,000

It needs not to be argued that if Toronto can float bonds amongst its own people for $450,000 to accommodate a Board of Trade with 922 members, that Montreal with a population fully 25 per cent larger, can provide its Board of Trade with a suitable building to cost $500,000. The circulars issued by the Board state that the $500,000 will be raised by a first mortgage for half the amount, and 2nd mortgage debentures maturing in 30 years, to bear 5 percent interest. The denominations of these bonds will be $100, $500, and $1,000, to be redeemable either by purchase, or by drawing, if by drawing, to be redeemed at $110. Twenty per cent is to be paid on subscribing for the bonds, and the balance in ten monthly, four quarterly, or in one payment, as elected, deposits to bear interest from date of payment. An approximate estimate of revenue and expenses shows a revenue looked for of $52,650 and working expenses $15,200, leaving a surplus annually of $37,450. Another statement is for the first three years of occupancy of the new building when all the offices may not be rented.

Revenue.....	$27,500
Surplus from members' fees...	8,500

Interest on bonds, $500,000 at 5 p.c..	$36,000	25,000
---	----------	--------

Surplus revenue per annum.....$11,000

The calculation of a surplus from fees is based on the following figures :

	Revenue.	Expenditure.	Surplus.
1889.....	$11,131.48	$7,745.97	$3,385.51
1890.....	11,203.06	7,812.21	3,390.85
1893.....	16,000.00	7,500.00	8,500.00

The large addition to surplus is anticipated from additional members and an increase in membership fees. We should advise however that the figure be made sufficiently moderate to attract a very large increase of members. It is understood that the two railways would be tenants of the new building, each paying a considerable rental. The plan shows that besides the Board of Trade rooms, and a large Restaurant, there would be about 40 offices for rental, of good size and well lighted. The Board would enjoy an Exchange Hall 50 ft x 30 ft, 23 ft high, a Reading Room 33ft x 37 ft., a Council Chamber, 23 ft x 32, a Wareroom 72 ft x 105 ft, with offices for secretary, etc.

Already the leading banks have subscribed for bonds, a strong evidence of their being not only good as a security, but also of the building being demanded in the interests of the city. One feature, however, we regret, we should have preferred the selection of a Canadian architect. We would submit also, with every deference to the architect, that the sky line of so large a structure should not be so level as it is the proposed design; the facade would be greatly improved by some addition that would break-up the long straight lines of the upper storey. We very strongly urge upon all classes of our citizens to take prompt and active interest in this commendable enterprise by subscribing for bonds. The building proposed will not only add another feature of enrichment to our street architecture, to the manifestation of our cities' prosperity and dignity, but will tend materially to the welfare of the citizens by providing a centre around which may cluster those material, mercantile, and municipal forces which are being constantly needed to protect and to advance the interests of this great community.

CONDESCENDING ON PARTICULARS.

The reports of the investigation committee at Ottawa have been so voluminous that they have not been read by a large number of persons. We give below a few extracts from the evidence which will enable those who have not had the time or patience to read the long daily reports to judge for themselves.

Mr. Bourcier, an Ottawa storekeeper, swore that five accounts made out in his name were for goods supplied by Mr. C. Larose who said, as he was a Liberal, he could not get his bills passed. The examination proceeded thus:

Mr. Somerville—"Were you paid anything for the use of your name?"

Mr. Bourcier.—"Sometime after Larose passed me about $20. He did not mention what it was for but merely smiled and I smiled too."

Mr. Somerville.—"The goods were not purchased from you?"

Mr. Bourcier.—"No sir, they were not."

Which proves three things, that there was no check kept on goods ordered and goods supplied, that the prices paid were so high as to allow of one trader paying another for the mere use of his name, and that politics were pushed so far as to cause trouble to a Liberal tradesman to get his bills paid, because of his being a liberal. Mr. Charlebois, a book keeper for Larose,

"identified various accounts paid by the Public Works Department. In reality the items were incorrect. Both H. Talbot and E. Dionne, employed in that department, ran accounts at his store. They made various purchases, as likewise did their wives. On one occasion Talbot got a new suit. Whenever the firm wanted money it made out an account itemizing it incorrectly and receiving pay from the Public Works Department."

Mr. Larose testified that sheeting charged to the Government was sent to the house of E. Dionne who brought government cheques in payment of his private accounts, as did also another clerk named Talbot. He admitted that "invoices sent in to the Department were bogus." All of which severely reflects on the Auditor-General's want of system. On being asked "Was any requisition signed by the deputy minister for these goods?" Mr. Talbot replied, "I think there was," clearly showing that goods might be supplied without a requisition, as if they could not, there was no reason to "think" about it. The following dialogue took place after Mr. Larose had sworn that goods paid by government cheques were sent to houses of civil service clerks.

Mr. Coatsworth—"You know you were defrauding the government?"

Mr. Larose—"It was the only way I could get paid."

Mr. Coatsworth—"And you assisted them? Why did you not deliver the goods until you were paid?"

Mr. Larose—"I was not going to deliver the goods until I saw if their trick succeeded." (Laughter). Talbot and Dionne told me that they were doing extra work in the department and this was the only way they could get paid.

Mr. Talbot—"You swear positively that the goods mentioned in the account were delivered at my house?"

Mr. Larose—"My goodness! when you got an overcoat and a suit of clothes they were delivered there. The goods were delivered there every day in the week.

Mr. Talbot—"If the government cheques covered the goods bought from you, then you were robbing the government." (Loud laughter.)

In which last remark this official spoke the truth, only he might have added "just as we were robbing it." That was in Sir Hector Langevin's department. Now we turn to the Printing Bureau for a few illustrations of the business methods prevailing therein. Mr. Morgan, 20 years traveller for Buntin, Reid & Co., Toronto, testified, that,

In 1890, he sold the Bureau over 60 tons of mill-board for book-binding at a cost of about $3,000. Half a ton to a ton would be a good order. The goods were sold to Mr. Senecal. When the sale was about concluded, Senecal told him he had some payments to make and needed money badly. He asked for between $200 and $300. Witness told him it was not customary for his firm to pay money in that way but he would try. He asked the book-keeper for money. He objected at first but finally agreed to give $200. The cheque was made out in his (witnesses) name and he, witness, got the money from the bank and gave it to Senecal.

Pressed by Mr. Lister and assured there was nothing to fear, Mr. Morgan admitted that it was likely if he had not paid the money to Senecal he would not have got the order.

Mr. Lister asked Mr. Scott, book-keeper of the firm, if the Dominion type foundry contributed to the general election fund. The chairman ruled the question out of order, as being improper.

Sir Richard Cartwright held that if firms doing business with the government were paying to government election funds the country should know it.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau objected to this question, and said that if it could be shown that the government had paid higher prices than necessary as a result of such subscriptions it would be all right to enquire into the matter, but there was no evidence that any of the firms had been paid unusually high prices.

Which remark is amongst the things Mr. Chapleau had better left unsaid. But the urgency of it came out a little later, when Mr. Scott swore that,

In January, 1888, they were preparing to ship the type ordered by Senecal, when a letter came from Mr. Chapleau stating that Mr. Senecal had no authority to give the order in question and refusing to honor the order. About three months later the order was honored and the type shipped. He did not know exactly how it came about, but the firm had a demand made upon them to pay $1,500 to F. Benoit, secretary of the Conservative association, Montreal, as a donation to the election fund and shortly after that the order was honored. Mr. Scott said he regarded the $1,500 paid to the election funds as "good money." After this money was paid everything went smoothly between the firm and the government, "except when Senecal got hungry." (Laughter).

Mr. Blackhall, a machinery agent, Mr. Polson, engine builder, Mr. Montgomery, belting maker, Mr. Johnston, type founder, each swore that they had paid Mr. Senecal, Superintendent of the Printing Bureau, sums respectively of $2,000, $520, $1,500, even $27; for Mr. Senecal had not either a high, or a delicate stomach. Other commissions were paid this Civil Service shark, to extent of, it is estimated, probably $40,000. Another superintendent in same Bureau played the same game. Yet we are told by a Minister of the Crown and a servant of the people, with a coolness that amounts even to effrontery, a coolness that insults every business man in the country, that these commissions did not add one cent to the cost of goods supplied the government, and that therefore, the country has no business to enquire into such matters! Well, the enquiry has been made, and in the balances, the Printing Bureau has been found wanting in business methods, in honour, and in proper supervision by the Minister responsible for this department. Another thing has also been proved, which we foreshadowed some time ago. A broker swore that he received $200 from a firm for securing for them the political influence of certain M.P.'s when bidding for a contract. That broker lives by the business of selling such influence, yet he is utterly devoid of any power by speech, or pen, of giving in return to members any service as an equivalent. What then induces those M.P.'s to give him their influence to sell? Only one reason is conceivable, which is, that they share the gains of his business, just as a well known class at Washington, peddle Senatorial votes which those political brokers or agents buy to sell again.

The finding of the Senate Committee in regard to Baie des Chaleurs affair, is summed up in the following statement as to the uses made of the money voted by the Quebec Government as a subsidy to that railway.

$5,000 went to Mr. Mercier in the form of a bill of exchange upon Paris. The proceeds of the letters-of-credit, amounting to $175,000, were applied as follows:—

Paid to the promoters of old company.....	$ 71,750 00
Paid C. N. Armstrong.....	111 64
Paid James Cooper.....	2,260 00
Paid Honore Mercier and E. Pacaud, and in retiring personal obligations of Honore Mercier, C. A. P. Pelletier, Charles Langelier, Francois Langelier, J. I. Tarte, Ernest Pacaud, and others.....	54,700 00
Bank discount.....	1,435 76
Drawn from the banks in addition, by cheques of Ernest Pacaud.....	44,752 00
Total.....	$175,000 00

Your committee find that out of the said sum of $28,000 voted as a subsidy, the company was illegally deprived of the sum of $175,000, which was appropriated and disposed of as above stated, and that the assets of the company applicable to the payment of its debts and the completion of the railway have been improperly and illegally diminished to the extent of the said sum of $175,000.

Evidence to prove payments in several departments to fictitious persons, to clerks while resident abroad, to clerks whose services were personal to the Minister, not official, has been overwhelming. The evil has been shown to be radical, the corruption seems to be a case of political blood poisoning. The reform and the remedy must therefore be radical, and the first necessity is for the public service to be purged of those elements which have bred the mischief. The whole nation has been scandalised by disorders in the establishment under the direct control of the Crown. The people demand that the representatives of the Queen shall discipline the offenders. Clarendon tells us that nothing in his days was so hateful to Englishmen as a Prime Minister. Any supineness on the part of their part at this crisis, will make the Governor-General, and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province directly affected, hateful to Canadians. The plea that the Quebec Ministers are not responsible to any authority other than the House which they control, is virtually a plea that the Province of Quebec is independent of the Crown. Such a contention is inspired by the same fears as the placing of technical obstructions in the way of a thorough investigation of the scandals at Ottawa. It is a confession that the charges endorsed by the Senate, as to the illegal misappropriations of money by Mr. Mercier, and his Pacaud group of satellites, are true.

The Conservative majority of the investigation committee has exonerated Sir Hector Langevin from blame in regard to the scandals in the administration of his Department and fixed the guilt upon Messrs. McGreevy, Perley, and Boyd. The Liberal Ministry has sent in a report declaring that Sir Hector is guilty of the grave charges made against him; that he shared in the boodling gains of contractors, etc. It is utterly impossible for a certain number of men of one party to find that certain evidence means so and so, and a certain number of an opposite party that it means the contrary, if they all acted on independent conviction.

But partizanship overrides conscience on both sides, and the moral result is, two verdicts, neither of which could possibly have been arrived at apart from party prejudices and interests.

LT.-GOV. ANGERS' LETTER.

The letter sent by Lt.-Gov. Angers to the Governor General will be a relief to the country. The claim made, that there is no power in Canada authorised to investigate, to punish, or to prevent, such scandalous official irregularities as the diversion of a railway subsidy towards election funds, if sustained, would have necessitated a change in the constitution. Lt.-Gov. Angers informs the Governor General that, "before the Railways, Telegraphs and Canals Committee of the Senate, which had charge of examining a bill presented before the Parliament of Canada by the Baie des Chaleurs Railway Company, certain disclosures with respect to certain acts of administration of my advisors have been made by witnesses under oath. The said disclosures have caused alarm and created great public sensation." He therefore thinks it his duty to say what he has done in the matter. He states that as Mr. Garneau had informed him that he was inclined to resign rather than submit to pressure from Mr. Mercier in the Baie des Chaleurs affair, he told Mr. G., "your duty is to resist and to act wholly in conformity with the law." He then at length narrates the history of the case and appends a copy of his letter to Mr. Mercier in which occur the following passages:

"The mode of raising funds by letters of credit without the sanction of the representative of the Crown is not recognised by law. In this manner in the present case the Government has drawn on the treasury the sum of $175,000 without having recourse to the sanction of the Lt.-Governor required by law. It must be noticed that in this instance no order-in-council was ever passed authorizing the Provincial Treasurer to draw any sum for the treasury. I find that the system of drawing on the finances of the Province by the means of letters of credit without the sanction of the representative of the Crown, is prejudicial to the public credit. The above is clearly shown by the steps that had to be taken to utilize the letters of credit issued by the Government and the checks given by the representatives. The Union Bank refused to discount the letter of credit of $100,000 and only consented to undertake to collect it. At the Banque du Peuple a note of Mr. Valliere had to be attached to the check of the Government commissioner and a promise had to be made by Charles Langelier that the deposit of $50,000 would be made out of the loan of $10,000,000 as stated in evidence of Mr. Dumoulin, manager of Banque Nationale, in order to obtain the discount of sum of $20,000. At the Banque Nationale, a note made by Mr. Pacaud, endorsed by Mr. Valliere, had to be annexed to the check of Government commissioner in order to obtain the discount of a further sum of $20,000. It seems that the Government in paying the sum of $175,000 to Mr. Armstrong has made a payment to a person to whom the Government owed nothing, and to whom the Baie des Chaleurs Railway Co., owed nothing but debentures; that, knowing the intention of the Act 54 Vic., Chap. 88, and according to your declarations to the House, the Government, even with the consent of the reorganized company, should have paid to Mr. Armstrong no part of the $280,000 before the company could have exacted the payment thereof, on account of the works to be done. Mr. Armstrong's pretensions were not of the category of the debts, the settlement of which the statute did not authorize before the works had earned the subsidy; that in any event the sum of $100,000 which went to Mr. Pacaud has derived to that amount, a public enterprise of its subvention voted by the Legislation. It would seem that there exists between the Government and creditors of the province a gate at which tribute must be paid before justice is done to those who are claimants for justice."

He proceeds to give the names of Judges Jette, Baby, and Davidson as Royal Commissioners to enquire into and report on the scandal, and, a most significant action, he adds, "I also call on you to limit the action of the Government to urgent acts of administration," and the Lt.-Gov. assumes the sole authority to sign orders on the Treasury.

OUR NICKEL TREASURES.

The enormous extent and value of the deposits of nickel ore in the North of Ontario render all legislation in regard to them of serious importance. Nickel has for some time been in use for plating, alloying coinage, and making magnetic needles, and scientific instruments, for which its non-ability to rust renders it valuable. The metal is made chiefly valuable, and the prospective demand for it large, owing to its giving to steel when alloyed with it, certain qualities which enhance the strength of plates for ship armouring purposes made of nickel-steel. The fusion and manufacture of these metals unfortunately cannot be carried on at the same spot as the one is mined in, and the other smelted. The transportation of both metals to the most economical point for their treatment, is necessary, and as this point is not in the district where nickel abounds, it has to be taken to a considerable distance before the blending can be done.

The establishment of steel melting furnaces near our nickel mines is spoken of by some as the proper course to be pursued, and not a little rhetoric has been wasted in urging this policy on grounds of patriotism. But capital is not imbued with patriotic sentiment; it is governed by a law which forces it into such positions as ensure a profitable return. If we place an embargo on the exportation of nickel in order to keep it with us until a conjunction of its mines and roasting furnaces with the apparatus for steel smelting takes place, the probability seems to be that the treasures of nickel we possess will remain unavailable, and therefore of no practical value. As then, the mountain, steel, will not go to the prophet, nickel, there is no resource left but for the prophet to go to the mountain. We have to export nickel in order to realise upon its market value where it is wanted.

We are informed that Mr. Duncan McIntyre, who, with his wealthy friends and connections, is very largely interested in the nickel deposits at Sudbury, interviewed the Premier this week in reference to the policy of the government as it may effect their properties. From certain proposals they are considering, they found it necessary to have some assurance from the government that an export duty on nickel, in its exportable form, would not be imposed for five years. This Mr. Abbott would not give, at least until he had had time to consider the question more fully than his present troubles allowed him. Probably too he felt that the uncertainty of the present government remaining in power, as now constituted, did not justify him giving such an assurance. It might be that he is keeping this power in hand until the reciprocity negotiations with the States are settled, or postponed sine die. Under any circumstance there is much urgency for a definite policy being decided upon in regard to nickel exports. The very nature of the metal and its uses demand considerable outlay by those utilizing it, and they will not put their capital into the enterprise until they can make contracts at fixed prices, for a supply of nickel extending over at least five years. No such contracts can be made by owners of nickel mines and furnaces, until they know whether an export duty will or will not be imposed on their product. The capitalists alluded to have now over 100 men employed at the Sudbury mines, and could find work for 300, if all was clear as to our fiscal policy.

This is only one illustration of the embarrassments to trade caused by the unsettled state of affairs at Ottawa. The sooner the crisis that is booming up at Ottawa comes to a head, and a permanent settlement made, the better for the country. But no such settlement can be satisfactory, without changes in the personnel of the Ministry. Meanwhile Mr. McIntyre and his friends and connections must learn to labour for what their enterprise needs, and to wait patiently for their treasures of nickel getting to market without an export impost.

THIS YEAR'S HOP CROP.

Statistics as to the hop crop in Canada are not only difficult to get, but, as they are of necessity derived from interested sources, they are usually unreliable. Still enough is known from the testimony of buyers to show that the Canadian hop crop of 1891 is not only a larger one than that of its predecessor but that it is also brighter, cleaner and superior in quality. Unfortunately prices rule comparatively low. The season opened briskly enough; the first bale selling on this market at 32 cents. Since then, however, the course of prices has been steadily downward until, this week, offers of 15 cents, free on board in the West, have been gladly accepted by growers.

In the United States very similar crop conditions prevail; but the yield, although much larger than that of last year, will still fall 15 to 18 per cent below a full one. In Wisconsin, whose crop is generally an important factor in the hop market, very few will be harvested this year, as the yards were all over-run with lice; but in New York State, despite the claims of damage by vermin, mould, etc., the crop will evidently be four-fifths of a full one as against a three-quarter crop last year. In Maine, Massachusetts, and Vermont, the number of yards is decreasing. In the Eastern States as in Eastern Canada, hop culture is dying out, and year by year it becomes more confined to the West. Very few Canadian hops are now grown east of Prescott while, on the other hand, British Columbia is this year credited with a crop of 1000 bales. Possibly 60 per cent of a full crop is all that has been secured in the East.

On the Pacific coast, however, the yield will be a good one, and during the year the acreage has increased from 10,998 to 12,190 acres since the corresponding period of 1890. At present experts figure on an increase of 16,000 bales in the crop made up the following manner:—

	Washington.	Oregon.	California.	British Columbia.	Totals.
1891.....	50,000	25,000	40,000	1,000	116,000
1890.....	50,000	20,000	30,000	.....	100,000
1889.....	35,000	17,000	35,230	.....	87,230
1888.....	38,000	18,500	35,000	.....	91,500

What price these crops will bring is now the question of the moment. In Canada, as we have shown, 15 to 16 cents will probably be the ruling figure, and in the United States from 15 to 20 cents for new, and 15 to 18 cents for old, may be looked upon as the range. Small lots of new crop have been contracted for both in New York and on the Pacific coast at these figures although growers are inclined to hold out for a limit of 20 cents. In England, it must be remembered, the crop is only fair; while in Germany whence 85 per cent of the hops used on this continent are imported, the harvest is not yet out of danger. Even a partial failure there would mean a bound in prices here, and, as it is hardly likely that prices will go much lower in this market at the moment, hop growers generally are likely to hold their crops until the future of the European harvest is finally decided.

INSURANCE COMPANIES BUYING RIVAL AGENTS.

The business of life and fire insurance is the highest manifestation of credit the world has ever seen. It has been the universal custom of writers on economical questions to regard the arrangements in connection with banks, and other financial institutions of that order, as occupying this position. More especially has the general acceptance of paper money, and such documents as bills of exchange, promissory notes, and the like, been adduced as evidences of the power, the utility, the capacity and the value of credit. But as an illustration of the degree to which confidence has been developed in modern life, even the vast transactions of ordinary commerce and banking, that are based upon credit as a foundation, and draw from it life and sustenance, as a tree from its roots, are less, striking, than the faith shown in the stability of insurance companies. A bank note for instance, the most familiar, and useful symbol of credit, demands only a very temporary exercise of trust, as the holder can redeem it in a few hours. A bill or promissory note has only a limited life. Its very terms imply that it must be cancelled by payments in a few months, and it is also by its very terms, a merely written undertaking to pay in a short and stated period, for value already received. The deposits placed in our banks, or elsewhere, are withdrawable on demand, or after a short notice of requirement by the owner. Now contrast these conditions of limitations with the absolute trust reposed by those who insure their properties or their lives. In the latter case, the policyholder goes on year after year placing his money with a company with no other security than their promise, that, after he is dead, they will pay a certain sum to his heirs. He cannot withdraw that money, as in the case of deposits, nor redeem it, as in that of a banker's note promises, nor can he at any time enforce payment, as with a promissory note, or bill of exchange, or any ordinary debt. By the very terms of this engagement he never can know of, or do anything to expedite the fulfilment of that promise for which he has paid his yearly premiums, yet to that promise he commits the welfare of his family after his death. In the case of a fire insurance policy he is in much the same position. The insurer has no power to recall his money, and the great majority of policyholders keep on paying premiums until death, without receiving any return beyond a promise from the company to fulfil a certain engagement, if a contingency arise which each insurer hopes never will occur. To fire insurance companies are committed the entire fortunes of their policyholders. Of course there are understood arrangements by which a percentage of policies may be renewed on their surrender, but these do not affect the general principle of our argument.

Such a degree of trust in their stability and honour being enjoyed by those companies, they are under special obligations to justify this extraordinary display of public confidence in their worthiness of the credit which is their very life blood. We draw attention then to a policy being adopted by some of these companies, which cannot but seriously lower this confidence of the public, and so do infinite damage to the vast interests of insurance. To give more directness to this appeal we state the facts of one case. An insurance company, doing business here, but having its head quarters in England, has recently made a dead set at the agents of a more successful Canadian institution, in order to bribe them away from their employers, and to thus secure connections built up by the enterprise and skill of a rival concern. The terms of this business of seduction are so high as prove that it is not merely that these agents, as agents, are wanted, but as agents who have acquired connections that are coveted, and sought to be diverted from the owners. Now, although those agents have doubtless done much to make the connections so coveted by a rival company, they did so as the confidential officers of the institution they represented. They have no proprietary rights in such connections, they brought that business to the company for certain rewards, which they agreed to accept as an equivalent for such services. When then a rival company bribes one of such agents to get possession of the business he has drawn towards his employers, it is seeking to obtain the property of another without giving for it any value. That is a dishonorable course, a course which in its case, does not justify the public entrusting such a company with that absolute confidence so characteristic of, and so essential to the prosperity of insurance business. Agents so bribed away, are known to cast discredit upon the companies they have left. It is indeed impossible for them to do what their new employers have seduced them away for, that is, transfer business from the company they lately represented to the new one they serve, without damaging the credit of the company they have left. And they could not inflict such damage of credit on such company, without injury also to the general interests of insurance. If that policy were to prevail, the companies would be continually at war, and this war would mean that the public would distrust all companies, as they would see the credit of many disparaged by those in the same business. In the instance we allude to, the company attacked is not only financially, but personally very strong; its chief officer is one of the ablest and most prominent of Canadians. Should it be provoked into reprisals, the company that has sought to raid its business by buying off its agents, will learn that it has the power to strike back with damaging blows upon its own position. But all interested in insurance must deprecate a contest of this nature. More especially is it then the duty of Underwriters Associations to take such steps as will stamp out this mean, dishonorable, and dangerous policy of one company seeking by bribes to seduce the agents of a rival. If the Insurance Companies do not protect the rights of each other from honour, they will have to do so from self interest, in order to avoid suffering severely from a withdrawal of public confidence. If they do not hang together, they run the risk of being suspended separately.

THE APPLE HARVEST.

It is still early to ascertain definitely the position of the apple crop, but the general opinion seems to be that it is a very large one, and buyers all agree that the fruit is unusually clean and bright. During the year there has been a considerable increase in the area devoted to apple culture. New orchards have been planted, and old ones extended, and as the weather during the summer has been exceptionally favorable for fruit, it seems certain that the yield will be fully up to the average of such seasons as 1888-9 in quantity, and probably a good deal above it in quality.

Naturally this encouraging outlook for growers has rendered exporters cautious, and some of the largest shipping houses are not disposed to operate at existing prices. One dollar per barrel on the tree, which has been paid in the West, means practically $1.50 to $1.65 barrelled and on the cars. To this we must add from 37½ to 45 cents for freight to this port, which brings the cost of the apples on shipboard up to $2, or the equivalent of 8s sterling. Add 3s for ocean freight, and 1s 6d for selling charges in England, and the prime cost of the apples to the shipper is 12s 6d per barrel in Liverpool. Now the question is, is this a safe price? Perhaps a comparison of the following figures may prove some criterion:—

Year.	Shipment in barrels.	Lowest Price.	Highest Price.
1886-7.....	481,000	13s	25s
1887-8.....	375,000	15s	21s
1888-9.....	841,000	9s 6d	14s
1889-90.....	424,000	15s 6d	33s
1890-1.....	253,000	20s 6d	30s

These prices are not averages, but represent the cost of sound No. 1 stock. The crop conditions under which these prices ruled were as follows:—

- 1886-7—English crop total failure. Continental small.
- 1887-8—English crop above average. Continental crop small.
- 1888-9—Both English and Continental crops small.
- 1889-90—English crop total failure. Continental crop very small.
- 1890-91—English crop under average. Continental crop over average.

This year the prediction is that the English crop will be half an average, the Continental crop a fair one, and the Canadian crop a very large one. The conditions therefore very closely resemble those of the season of 1888-89 when apples fell to their lowest point of value in the English market; a fact that should render apple-shippers cautious as to the price they pay on the tree.

In the United States it is evident that the crop will also be a large one. It is true that in New York State the crop is only a moderate one, but in Michigan there has been an enormous yield, and so certain are New York shippers that the supply will be abundant that they are already writing on to Montreal merchants asking them if they can handle consignments here. This is a tolerably significant sign that they anticipate an overstock in their own market. The enormous crop of plums and the full yield of pears and peaches are both factors in the situation. Preserving has been in full swing this year, and with an abundance of jams and preserves in the cupboards the demand for apples will naturally suffer.

One thing seems certain. If the volume of shipments during the coming three months approximates to that of 1888-9 prices will rule a good deal lower than 12s 6d. The English market could not absorb anything like 800,000 barrels this year without a serious fall in values, and although the domestic demand is a good one, our main outlet for apples is to England. It would look, then, as if the present price of $1 per barrel on the tree were too high for safety, and as if those shippers who are now paying it would stand a strong chance of repenting before the season is out. This year, in every branch of farm produce, the competition of buyers has forced values up beyond the profitable export limit. This has been especially noticeable in cheese and butter, and it bids fair to be equally the case with apples. No doubt the farmer and the factoryman have reaped the advantage, but the fact remains that there are more than one firm of holders in this city whose prospects of profit are growing more dubious day by day, while there are others who have already made the best of a bad bargain.

SENATOR MACINNES ON THE CIVIL SERVICE.

When moving recently in the Senate for information as to the intentions of the Government in regard to "irregularities and violations of the Civil Service Act recently discovered," Senator MacInnes said: "It is my opinion, that the want of a permanent Civil Service Commission is the cardinal defect in our system, and that the problem would be solved by the appointment of a permanent Civil Service Commission, composed of men selected from both political parties, to whom would be deputed, under certain restrictions, the control of all appointments to the service, and who would frame rules and regulations from time to time as the needs of the Service required, and to make annual or semi-annual reports to Parliament as to the condition of all branches of the service, both inside and outside. Should the Government deem it necessary to appoint a commission to make a full and painstaking enquiry into the present condition of both the inside and outside services, I would suggest that the members composing that commission should be selected from the best men on both sides of politics, so that whatever recommendations the commission might make would have greater weight and inspire more confidence in the public mind. There is, I believe, a consensus of opinion, both in England and the United States, amongst those who have made the question a study, in favour of the abolition of political influence in the Civil Service." It will be seen that the worthy Senator's views are those advocated for some time past in this journal, more especially in regard to the necessity for the abolition of political influence in the Civil Service, which we have declared to be the "tap root," of the scandals exposed. As Senator MacInnes is on the spot, and has the ear of Parliament, we trust he will devote his well known energy to a persistent enforcement of these views, as their adoption is essential to a thoroughly effective reform. At the risk of repeating our own words we affirm that, politics and business do not mix well, and as the Civil Service is the business side of public affairs, as it is organised to do the strictly business work of the country, it must be made a business institution, and worked on business principles. As a field for patronage it is not suited. If the service of the country is to be done as efficiently and economically as it should be, and as it must be to satisfy the public demand for a thorough reform, the Civil Service staff must be selected, organised and governed, strictly on the same principles and by the same methods, as the staff of extensive mercantile establishments.

EXTENSION OF INSURANCE BUSINESS.

Authority has been given by an English Court to an Employers Liability Assurance Company to enlarge its business on the following lines:—To grant, make, effect or procure insurances against or upon the contingency of the bodily sickness or illness old age, or bodily infirmity, whether temporary or permanent, of clerks, servants, workmen and other employes; against or upon the contingency of the enforced or voluntary retirement of any such persons, and by way of periodical allowances or otherwise; To grant, make, effect or procure any such insurance aforesaid to or for the clerks, servants, workmen or other employes themselves, or to or for their respective employers or principals; or to or for any other persons, principals, companies or corporations having any interest in the continuance of the health or employment of such clerks, servants, workmen and other employes, and to contribute towards and to insure sick, accident and super-annuation funds. This business cuts directly into the work done by the various benevolent and sick benefit societies, which however it extends in a novel and wholly untried path. The statistics relating to sickness of the class for whom this insurance is to be provided are very extensive, and furnish reliable data for such business. But for the sections relating to "enforced or voluntary retirement," there is nothing to go upon beyond speculation, nor is there any data available in regard to "continuance of the employment" of "clerks, servants, workmen and other employes." Indeed these terms are exceedingly vague, and it will be necessary to examine the prospectus of the company engaging in this new business before passing judgment on its chances of success. There are difficulties in the way which to us seem almost insurmountable arising from the non-permanence of the connection of any such employes with the firm or locality they are with when first insured. The provision of superannuation is found in a large number of cases to work injustice to the employed, owing to their death or withdrawal before the age is reached at which it is available. It is found also to discourage habits of saving in many, who, in reliance upon superannuation, spare themselves the sacrifices necessary to provide a fund for old age. We shall watch the progress of this new departure with much interest, and as the objects are, on the whole, desirable, wish the experiment to be such as to justify its repetition here. But it will be prudent to let the English company obtain some experience as a guide—as this is usually a costly process.

A SOUND PRINCIPLE.

The Treasury Department, Washington, has just decided that a gentleman who recently purchased a fur-lined garment in Canada as a present for his wife cannot import it into the United States free of duty as wearing apparel. In order that this may be done the garment must come with the wearer and at such a season as to make it a proper article of wear. A fur-lined wrap in July is thought to be over-doing the matter, and the duty must be paid or the lady get along next winter with something less fashionable. The decision seems reasonable. If it were acted upon in Canada it would add a considerable sum to the Customs revenue, as there is great laxity in passing the baggage of travellers returning from Europe, who bring with them all kinds of clothing, and dry goods; to last until their next visit to Europe. That a large proportion of such goods are smuggled is certain, as the clause in the Customs law relating to non-liability of personal effects to duty, was not intended, and in fact does not include new articles for future wear. The passage of such goods is a most unfair discrimination against the poor, and all who cannot buy in Europe, as well as being a most unjust withdrawal of business from our own tradesmen, and of wages from several classes of our work people. We have no hesitation in saying that numbers of our richest citizens never wear a Canadian made garment. They pay a large part of their expenses abroad by laying in stocks of clothing, made by the pauper labor of Europe, as well as millinery, gloves, laces, and toilet requisites. The traffic is utterly indefensible, and being a flagrant violation of the law should be dealt with and punished as firmly as smuggling by those whose poverty is at least a colorable excuse. Our Custom Houses ought not to be so constructed as to be capable of being opened outwards by golden keys, before imported goods have been examined, assessed and passed on duties being paid.

SOCIAL RANK AN INSURANCE FACTOR.

What will seem to those who imagine that social ranks are not legally recognised in the U. S., a very strange case, is that of Taylor vs. The National Accident Society of New York. The Baltimore Underwriter states that, "Mrs. Taylor's husband was insured in the society as a gentleman farmer. The risk on a gentleman farmer is supposed to be less than on a working farmer. One day, while repairing a bridge across a creek on his farm, he fell into the water and was drowned. The society refused to pay the sum guaranteed to the heirs of Mr. Taylor as a gentleman farmer, but were willing to pay the benefit that would have been due on the death of a working farmer, as it held he was. The amount was $3,000 in the one case, and $2,000 in the other." The decision is humorous, as bridge repairing is properly no part of a farmer's business, gentleman or not, and just as likely to be undertaken by one class as the other. We are glad to find the race of "gentleman farmer," survives in the land of equality, for this class is almost extinct in England.

THE CATTLE TRADE.

The government has at last decided not to allow the importation and slaughter of cattle from abroad is first proposed. Although we believe that this might have been so arranged as to be utterly without risk to our cattle, and to be the means of building up a large industry, still we must regard the natural fears of the trade here and in England, and, as in the judgment the proposal was attended with danger, and imaginary fears are often as dangerous as justifiable ones, "it is better to be safe than sorry."

LORD AND LADY ABERDEEN.

The presence of Lord and Lady Aberdeen in this city early this week was made the occasion of a visit by a number of representative Irishmen, who wished to express to that nobleman their appreciation of the stand which for years past he has taken in respect of what is understood as "justice to Ireland." Mr. B. J. Coghlin, the well known wholesale iron merchant, is credited with originating the idea of waiting upon the distinguished visitors, and no sooner was it broached to Mayor McShane than the practical, the irrepressible, chief magistrate, set to work to carry it out. A letter to his Lordship elicited the prompt reply that he would be pleased to receive them at either of two hours named. Accordingly at about 8.30 Tuesday evening, some twenty or thirty of the leading Irishmen of Montreal gathered in the rotunda of the Windsor, whence they were ushered into the presence of Lord and Lady Aberdeen and Lady Bertha Wilbraham in an adjoining room where they were duly presented by the Mayor. Brief addresses were made by the Mayor, Messrs. B. J. Coghlin, Wm. Clendinning, M.P., J. E. Mullin, F. B. McNamee, Ald. Cunningham and others. His Lordship replied at some length on behalf of himself and Lady Aberdeen, whose practical interest in the condition of the laboring poor of Ireland had been referred to in terms of high appreciation in the course of the addresses. He referred to the despatches concerning the occupation of Mitylene (Lesbos) one of the Grecian islands, and hoped whatever significance it had, Englishmen, Irishmen, and Scotchmen all over the Empire would stand shoulder to shoulder in assisting to maintain the integrity of their great heritage. In bidding them good-bye, the distinguished nobleman and his lady freely conversed for some time with their visitors, and the meeting separated after giving three hearty cheers for Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

PRINCIPAL GRANT CORRECTED.

Principal Grant's allusions to history are generally accurate, but he recently made an assertion which is wide of the truth. He stated that the scandals at Ottawa and Quebec were incidental to democratic government. The learned Principal forgot, for the moment, that the period when the people of ancient Rome were under the most crushing despotism probably ever experienced, the corruption in public life was excessive. He also overlooked the condition of affairs in England soon after the Restoration and Revolution, to which we recently drew attention, as affording a revolting parallel to those of Canada as recently exposed. He also failed to call to mind the state of public life to-day in Russia, where corruption has been reduced to a system, and bribery is looked upon by all public officials as a regular part of their income. If corruption is really a necessary incident of democracy, a vast and valuable literature of speeches and pamphlets, is made not only useless, but even absurdly false, as the control of the people's affairs by the people, has been long and eloquently enforced, as the great antidote to official corruption. We beg then to correct Dr. Grant in this matter, though we imagine he has already seen the error of his ways in making Democracy the mother of Corruption—a foul and dirty child she repudiates—at any rate in Canada.

AN ADDRESS TO THE QUEEN.

An address to the Queen is about to be submitted to both Houses at Ottawa for their approval and signature. The address recites that certain treaties existing between Great Britain and other countries, place the parties to them under the favoured nation clause, but exclude Canada from the privilege. It affirms that the business done by the Empire within itself, exceeds that with foreign nations, that the diversity of products of the Empire is so great as to make this internal trade capable of great expansion, and that Canada has products and manufactures that if given the same position in foreign markets as enjoyed by England under the treaties named, the commerce of the Dominion would be largely enhanced. It declares that owing to the States and Canada having so much in common, that expansion in that direction is not so hopeful as with other countries. For these reasons it asks that all discriminations against Canada, in treaties, be denounced and abolished. The address puts in practical form the suggestions, and enforces the arguments of our recent article on trade with the West Indies. We trust it will pass without a division.

CROMWELLIAN CITIZENS.

The citizens of Kansas have set an example which, if followed up, where needed, would render Aldermanic life not a happy one. The city council reported the plant of a local electric light company as worth to buy $340,000 and recommended the purchase. The Taxpayer's league employed, says the Oregonian, competent electricians to estimate the value of the plant, who assessed its value at $60,000. Suspicion of a steal at once arose. The suspicion of "crookedness" was strengthened by the desire of the company to sell the plant, although it claims it to be a paying property. The taxpayers' league had been a little slow and the ordinance was passed before they could do more than protest. A meeting was held the same night the council met, which resolved itself into a sort of vigilance committee that marched to the city hall and drove the mayor and councilmen, hatless and coatless, out of the council chamber, without the formality of an adjournment. The meeting then adjourned until the day of the next council meeting, after determining forcibly to prevent further city legislation until the objectionable ordinance is repealed. Meanwhile members of the council will be indicted for corruption and malfeasance in office. A taxpayer's league would find a wide sphere of usefulness in this city.

MR. ABBOTT AND IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

The Premier recently declared his inability to say whether or not he approved of Imperial Federation, as "he had never heard it defined so clearly as to enable him to form an opinion." If this had been the attitude of Canadian statesmen prior to Confederation, we should never have been confederated. The first point in such movements is to get a principle approved and the basal principle of Imperial Federation is that the several parts of the Empire should be more intimately allied, and the bonds between her various dependencies and the mother country drawn closer and strengthened. Surely that is the conviction and feeling of every Canadian, except those who favor annexation to the States, or who dream of Canada being independent of both Great Britain and America. As neither of these ideas are in favor with the Premier, we must count him as an Imperial Federationist in sympathy. So far that movement has not gone beyond the affirmation and advocacy of the great principle of which it is the embodiment and expression. This principle is in itself a power that every statesman in the Empire must recognize, as a force that will more and more make its influence felt wherever the flag of Britain floats, or wherever a gun is pointed at any interest she holds dear.

HONOUR TO WHOM IT IS DUE.

The conduct of the Caledonian Assurance Company in making so liberal an allowance to its officers on leaving their service is worthy of much praise. It forms a striking contrast to the miserable parsimony of another company in its treatment a short time ago of an official in this city, who had for a length of time, done it such great service as will be helpful to its interests for many years to come. To Mr. Lees, is we believe, due the honour of the Caledonian's action in this matter, which redounds highly to the credit of his sound judgment, as well as his liberality of spirit.

PRE-EMPTION DUES OVERDUE.

The Minister of the Interior stated on the 8th inst., that $3,000,000 was owing to the government for pre-emption dues, but he expected the good crops this year would cause them to be all paid up. This is much too large a sum to be left uncollected. If these dues are beyond the means of settlers, they should be reduced, but we are not satisfied that this is so, the delay arises rather from defective arrangements than from the lack of means of settlers.

A BOOM IN MINK.

Some time ago we chronicled a keen demand for good grades of mink in the United States. The boom has apparently reached this market now, for we hear of a sale of 500 skins prime dark mink at $3, which have been for some time in stock. The buyers are still looking around eagerly for mink and those of our readers who have mink skins on hand can rely upon it that they are good property just now.

A WIDE MARGIN.

A correspondent in the Ancient Capital, noting our reference to the manner in which "boodling" is made easy, cites as an example the curbstones surrounding the Parliament Houses in that city, about 5,000 feet in all, which are shown to have cost $30 per lineal foot. Sometime after the job was finished, a well-known quarryman and contractor being on the spot, and asked what he would undertake to do similar work for, duly inspected it, and though below danger from frost, he said it could be done at a fair profit for $5 to $6 per lineal foot.

A MARKED CONTRAST.—The arrangements entered into between the Caledonian Insurance Company and its long time general agents in Montreal (represented latterly by Mr. James W. Taylor) on their resignation of the agency, appears to have been highly satisfactory to both sides. Had certain co-operative companies exercised but a portion of the good sense which has characterized this latest change of management—and they were not wanting in examples—we should not have to witness an isolation heretofore unknown in the fraternity. A company or companies may manage for a while without so important a functionary as an inspector, but it is doubtful whether their interests, immediate or prospective, can be promoted by a recluse, one not in touch with the insurance fraternity, and the people from whom they derive their support. If this be merely preparatory to a withdrawal from the field, well and good. If not, shareholders and proprietors should know the reason why. It would seem to be a misplacing of excellent qualities—the right man in the wrong place.

THE London Organ Company is a new enterprise about to be started in that city. The promoters are Messrs. Tiernan, J. G. Graham, Thos. C. Allardice, and Geo. Gray. The instrument they propose manufacturing is a reed and pipe organ combined, and the company have the exclusive right to manufacture the instruments in Canada and Great Britain. G. W. Scribner, of Chatham, is the inventor, having taken out his patents this year. We advise the promoters to go slowly, the problem this patent is said to solve, has been worked at for years, and several solutions of a very costly kind offered, but without commercial success, which is a totally different thing to artistic. Still we wish them and the inventor prosperity.

OUR Hamilton friends are much delighted at the visit of the deputation they sent to the Postmaster General having been partially successful. Word has been received from Ottawa that it has been decided to appoint an assistant postal inspector at Hamilton. This will probably give all the facilities that are required. Our contemporary, the Hamilton Spectator, deserves a pat on the back for its independence in opposing the Government in this business. These are not times for ignoring constituencies like Hamilton, or papers like the Spectator.

THE Caledonian has scored a mark in securing as manager the gentleman tendered the position just rendered vacant by the retirement of the Messrs. Taylor Bros., referred to elsewhere. The many friends of this well-trained and rising young underwriter will congratulate him on this unsolicited recognition of his merit, and hope he will prove himself worthy of such a company. Mr. Lees and his directors are no less to be congratulated on securing so desirable a connection for the company in Canada.

MR. W. W. JOHNSON, who for the past twenty years has been manager for Dun Wiman & Co.'s Mercantile Agency in this city, has decided to sever his connection with that company in order to embark in business for himself. His position will be filled by Mr. Matthews, the present manager at New Haven, Ct. Mr. Matthews is a brother of the efficient manager at Toronto, and doubtless will prove an able successor to Mr. Johnson and equally popular in mercantile circles.

QUEBROERS have been visited by another fire, and as usual, there was something wrong with the water supply or the service pipes. They will now go to work to put things in order again, to wake up after another period and learn a further lesson in constant watchfulness.

Mr. MORRISSETTE, has repented going over to the Lancashire, and returned to his old love.

SCIENCE AS AN AID TO COMFORT AND HEALTH.

In the old land where "the rain it raineth every day," the constitution becomes inured to exposure owing to the moistness of the climate. A wet skin in our dry atmosphere means a variety of those ills to which flesh is heir when its covering has been soaked by rain. Up to the mackintosh era all attempts to provide a waterproof garment had failed. One device to give cloth this invaluable quality by destroying its porosity, is the saturation of it with deadly poisons, but the effect is a temporary and delusive sham. Goods styled "waterproof," are made so by closing up the air spaces of the material. The wearers of such air-tight garments, so far as bodily ventilation goes, might as well be soldered up in a tin case, like canned meats. As an ordinary waterproof shuts out the atmosphere, the body becomes bathed in its own noxious exhalations, which a covering of this class confines under its impervious folds. Thus the blood becomes poisoned by absorbing what nature has thrown off, just in the same way as it is by breathing the foul air of an ill ventilated room. The oppressive odor and unhealthy effects caused by these air-tight coverings are well known to all wearers of waterproofs, who, to avoid the danger of a wetting by rain, run as great a risk of being injured in health by closing themselves up in a bath of foul air. All these methods of making clothing rain proof, by choking the interstices with poisonous drugs, or coating them with material such as is used, and is best adapted for alighting roadways to make them waterproof, are set aside by the new process styled "Melissa," which keeps out water, without obstructing air, or leaving any sign of its presence which any one of the senses can detect. It retains this quality also in spite of washing, or wear, or any variations in temperature to which it may be exposed. Garments treated by the Melissa process after being exposed for some time to the spray of water driven at 50 lbs pressure, are found perfectly dry inside. Jupiter Pluvius may pour his heaviest showers on a Melissa garment without the wearer knowing that it rains, except by sight or sound. Even canvass tents, horse cloths, carriage rugs may be made to repel water. The inventor claims that there is no material used for clothing, made of wool, silk, cotton, etc., which cannot be made rain proof, and without leaving a trace of its action, which in the slightest degree damages the finish of the goods, or in any way attracts attention. This result is produced by the use of vegetable chemicals instead of mineral. The durability of the goods is also enhanced by the process, as it stops shrinkage, and defies moths. The demand for Melissa in the U. S. is so great that in Chicago there is now being built a factory of 4 flats, 150 feet by 50 ft. to carry on the process. In Canada the comfort and health protection experienced from the use of these articles will soon develop this new industry to large proportions. We may add that this achievement is the result of scientific experiments. "Melissa" is a chemical triumph by which rain as a perpetual cause of discomfort, and one of the most common and dangerous causes of sickness, has been vanquished. The saying, "Dry as a lime burner's shoe," may now be displaced by, "Dry as the wearer of a Melissa garment," for from its surface the rain flows as water runs off a duck's back.

ELECTRICAL PROGRESS.

A table has been compiled showing the extent to which electric lighting is used supplied by central stations on this side the Atlantic. These statistics cover only a portion of the industry, as there many thousands of lights in all parts of the country supplied by such local power as does not need a central station.

From this table in Electrical Industries, we select a few items.

In the United States the figures are:
Capital stock engaged.....	$155,202,850
Number of arc lamps.....	183,500
" incandescent lights.....	2,436,374
In Canada:
Capital stock.....	7,203,000
Number of arc lamps.....	10,181
" incandescent lights.....	63,664

The total amount of capital employed in the U. S., Canada, Mexico and Cuba in electrical works is $163,066,350. Total lights 2,707,092, horse power of engines 483,785.

RAILWAYS OF THE DOMINION.

Canada's first railway was the Champlain and St. Lawrence line, about fifteen miles in length, connecting Laprairie and St. John's, Quebec. The charter for its construction was obtained in 1832, and it was first opened for traffic on July 23, 1836, by Lord Gosford. A return of its operations for 1842 shows that in that year it carried 27,041 passengers and 7,716 tons of freight, and that its earnings were $13,650 and its working expenses $10,744. How great the progress of the country has been in the half century that has since almost elapsed is strikingly shown by the railway statistics recently submitted to Parliament. In the year ended June 30, 1890, there were 13,256 miles of road in operation; the number of passengers carried was 12,821,262; of tons of freight, 20,787,469; and the total earnings were $46,843,826; and the total working expenses, $32,913,350. This is a record of advance of which Canada may well be proud. The return above mentioned shows that the number of miles of completed railway in Canada is 14,004, and of sidings, 1,679. In the construction of this great iron network a vast sum of money has been expended. The paid-up capital of the various systems aggregates $786,447,811, or $56,174 per mile. From first to last the governments of the country have granted aid in the shape of loans, bonuses and subscriptions to shares or bonds to railways completed and under construction, as follows:

Dominion Government.....	$145,446,323.02
Ontario.....	6,097,007.52
Quebec.....	13,177,453.02
New Brunswick.....	4,517,346.81
Nova Scotia.....	2,138,995.87
Manitoba.....	2,478,300.00
British Columbia.....	37,500.00

Total..... $173,888,926.24
In addition to this the various governments have granted about 32,750,000 acres of land to railways, not including the grant to the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay road. Municipal

MELISSA.

What is Melissa?

MELISSA is a new and wonderful discovery, whereby suitable Textile Fabrics can be rendered thoroughly rainproof without the application of the process being apparent. It does not in the slightest degree affect the porosity of the material on which it is used, and prevents shrinkage. It is adapted for coatings, suitings, ladies' mantles and wraps, cloth or duck shoe uppers, stockings, tents, horse covers, carriage rugs; in short it can be applied to cloth of every kind that may be used as a covering to protect from rain or snow. It preserves the material on which it is used, renders it moth proof, and increases its wearing capacity by fully twenty-five per cent. Melissa is the outcome of years of patient scientific research, and its properties when applied to textile fabrics only require to be known to bring it into universal use. Melissa is now being placed in the hands of the trade of Canada, and will be for sale everywhere.

aid has been given by way of bonus to the amount of $10,594,915, in loans $2,902,000, and in subscriptions to shares or bonds $2,245,6000. By provinces the assistance rendered by the municipalities is as follows:

In Ontario.....	$10,344,551.78
In Quebec.....	4,253,274.00
In New Brunswick.....	316,500.00
In Nova Scotia.....	250,000.00

In British Columbia.....	37,500.00
In Northwest Territories.....	35,000.00

Total..... $15,832,415.78

The greater portion of the Canadian railway system is now either owned or controlled by two companies, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific. The former operates 3,122 miles of line and the latter 5,085 miles. The four government railways aggregate 1,352 miles.

The traffic returns of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending Sept. 12th, 1891, show a decrease of $11,482 over the corresponding week of 1890.

Financial.

MONTREAL, Thursday Evening,

Sept. 17th, 1891.

Money continues easy in Great Britain, the quotation in London, on the street, being only from 1½@2 per cent, with the Bank rate unchanged at 2½ per cent. The meagre harvest in England has caused less demand for circulation to move crops in the interior than was anticipated, and the expected outflow of gold to this continent to pay for the wheat England will be compelled to buy here, as well as for the American securities now being again purchased in large volume, has not yet assumed sufficient proportions to cause any stiffening in rates. In the States the tendency is in the direction of a seasonable hardening in rates which would be justified, even without the continuance of the steady flow of funds to the West by the increasing demand for speculative purposes. In spite of the large disbursements of the U. S. Treasury for bond redemption the cash holdings and surplus reserves of the banks show steady decreases and a succession of falling bank averages is to be expected. Locally we have no change to report. Call loans can still be secured at 4 per cent, and mercantile paper is discounted at 6 @7 per cent. The sterling exchange market rules easy and lower in face of abundant offerings. We quote sixties at 8½@½ between banks and 8½@½ over the counter. Demand 8 11.16@13-16 and 9 to ½. Cables 9½. Posted rates in New York are 4.82 and 4.84½. Actual rates are 4.80½ to 4.81 and 4.83½ to ½. Cables 4.83½ to 4.84. Commercial bills 4.78. Documentary 4.77. Continental exchange is quiet. Francs are quoted at 5.26½ for long and 5.23½ for short; reichsmarks at 94½ and 95½, and guilders at 40 and 40½. New York funds rule at 1-16 dis to par between banks and 1-16 prem. to ½ over the counter. On the Stock Exchange the event of the week was the listing of Grand Trunk preference stocks upon our exchange for the first time. This is looked upon as an earnest of the desire of the road to identify itself more thoroughly with Canadian enterprise and is another outcome of the policy inaugurated by the election of a Canadian millionaire to the directorate. The new stock found favor from the start, and 1st preferences were largely dealt in—gaining one point in two days. Second preferences however, were handled cautiously, as the amount of them is so small that a corner could be easily manipulated. In all the other stocks on the general list a similar upward tendency was manifest and the market closed strong and bullish. Commercial Cable shot up from 116½ to 123. Bell Telephone reached 146, or 7 points above the previous top-notch. Pacific closes at 90½ and most of the other stocks are similarly buoyant. Good crop reports and a abundance of money seeking investment have stimulated speculation and the "street" presents to-day an active market with upward tendencies. Another feature of the week was the unloading of a large parcel of Jacques Cartier Bank stock which has long been held by a local syndicate and which has hitherto acted as a damper on all speculation in that stock. The bank has succeeded in selling its coal mine in Sydney, O.B., to the Bank of Montreal for $200,000 and this enabled the syndicate to sell out without weakening the market. Indeed it is predicted that Jacques Cartier Bank stock will sell much higher before long.

 Dry Goods.—Country trade has been dull and inactive throughout the week. The number of exhibitions now being held renders retailers in the West too busy to look at samples and in consequence a number of travellers are now in town for the week, finding it useless to remain on the road. Farmers, too, are all busy in the fields and until the crops are harvested, the county fairs over, and people settle down once more to business, but little will be done. In this city, trade has been exceedingly good. Retailers speak well of the volume of their overturn, and the short cold snap had a marked effect upon the movement

MONTREAL WHOLESALE MARKETS.
 MONTREAL, THURSDAY EVENING, }
 Sept. 17th, 1891. }

Owing to the farmers being all occupied in the fields, and retail merchants being busy selling goods to the visitors attracted by the various Exhibitions now in progress, business in wholesale lines has been very quiet during the past week. In fact we are just passing through the usual lull which precedes the opening of the fall trade in earnest. From agricultural sections nothing but good is heard. The weather has been most propitious, and threshers report the wheat crop turning out above the average. It is also certain that the apple harvest will be a bountiful one, and that the proportion of bright, clean, sound No. 1 stock will be unusually large. In fact the lines of the Canadian farmer have fallen in prosperous places this year, and, as a consequence, wholesale merchants look for a large fall trade. There is no doubt that retail stocks throughout the country are now in very compact shape. In certain lines the shelves are almost bare. When the fall demand, therefore, sets in in earnest, a large distributing trade is confidently looked for. In the meantime the situation may be described as a waiting one. In the dry goods trade many travellers are at home waiting until the exhibitions are over and retailers settle down to business again. In groceries a similar lull prevails at the moment with the promise of increased activity to come. Iron and the heavy metals are quiet but firm, with every prospect of a rise. Cement is dull and the market overstocked. Fish and fruit are fairly active, and apple buyers are already on their grounds. Hides and skins are unchanged. Oils are quiet, but the movement in paints shows signs of improvement. Wool is moving out fairly well in the higher grades although fleece is still neglected. Canada plates are scarce and higher, and the increased activity in petroleum is keeping the refineries busy from dawn to dark.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.—The market is firm and fairly active, considering the strong position of holders, many of whom hold August creamery for a fraction over 21 cents. Anything at 21 cents, or a fraction under, would be eagerly taken up, and one creamery sold its August at this shading. For selected Western dairy 16 cents has been paid, and some export lots of ordinary have changed hands at 14½ cents. A dull and dragging market is all that can be reported for cheese, owing to the high figures asked by factory men. It is a ten cent market, for although some lots have sold under that figure, they were not finest. Even for them 9½ cents was paid, and for a lot of 1000 boxes extra fine Brockville 10½c was offered. At Belleville, all the balance of the season's make has been contracted for, and factory-men ask 10½c August, 10½c September, and 10½c October. At Ingersoll 840 boxes sold at 10c. At Woodstock 1,085 boxes sold at 10 cents. In the Townships, too, there has been some extensive buying, and it is rumoured that two sections have been completely cleared of their August and first half September make. In England the cable clings obstinately to 46s, and houses are not willing to do business except on a basis below a profitable figure here. This checks shipments and renders the market difficult to outline. Exports for the week from New York embrace 14,527 boxes to Liverpool, 5,731 to London, 1,383 to Glasgow, 3,809 to Bristol, and 2,200 to Hull. Total, 27,860 boxes.

COAL.—There has been an advance in coal by the combination of 25 cents per ton. Stove and nut are now $6 per ton, and furnace and egg $5.75 per ton. Scotch grate remains at $6, and Lower Ports grate at $5.75 per ton. In New York the coal companies have ordered prices advanced 10 to 25 cents per of fall goods. In the suburbs merchants are doing well and their sales are reported considerably in excess of those of last year and the year before. Local manufacturers are fairly busy, some on repeats for fall and winter goods and others on orders for next spring. English buyers are now all on the wing for the other side, and it is to be hoped that they will bear in mind that this year's good crop will not warrant them in buying any way largely. One swallow does not make a summer, and it will take more than one good harvest to fill up all the holes.

FISH—New York shell oysters are in town. They are prime hand-picked Blue Points and Narrows, but as they have to come by express, they are held at $10 per barrel as yet. Salmon is stiff and moves out freely at 15 @ 16c. Haddock and cod, 5c. Salmon-trout and white fish, 7 @ 8c. Sturgeon and pike, 6c. Halibut, 12 @ 13c. Dore is scarce and sells at 10c. Bluefish, 10 @ 12c. Black bass, 10c. Sea bass, 10c. Striped bass, 15 @ 16c. Boiled lobsters, 13 @ 14c, per lb. Live lobsters, 12 @ 13c. Green cod, very scarce. Finnan haddies now coming in at 7 1/2 @ 8c. per lb. Bulk oysters dearer at $1.60 for standards and $1.80 for selects. Salt fish, unchanged, British Columbia salmon in barrels, $12, in half barrels, $6.25. Labrador, $15 in barrels, $8 in half barrels. Mackerel, $20 per barrel, $10 in half barrel, $1.50 per kit. No 1 Labrador herring, $4.50 per brl., $2.50 per half brl. Halibut, $5 in half brls. Salmon trout, $4.50 in half brls. White fish, $5. Haddock, $5. Canned finnan haddies are selling at $1.40 per dozen and $5.50 per case. Smoked herrings, 16 1/2 @ 17c per box. Boneless cod, 6c @ 6 1/2c in 14 lb. boxes and 6 1/2 @ 7c in 5 lb. boxes. Boneless fish, 4 @ 5c per lb. in boxes same size.

FAIR—An active distributing trade can be reported in fruit and in spite of the liberal supply coming in prices are well maintained and, in some instances, have advanced. Apples, which bid fair to be plentiful, run at from $1 @ $2.50 per barrel. Ordinary pears rule at from $3 @ $4.50 per barrel and some very choice Bartlett's have brought as high as $7. Plums are in heavy supply but are well taken up for preserving at 50 @ 60 cents per basket. Peaches are abundant at 75c @ $1.25 per barrel. Grapes are now coming in freely. We quote 35 cents per small basket for Congress, 65 cents per 10 lb basket for Rogers, 65 @ 75 cents for Niagaras and 10c per lb for Delawares. Oranges are in light supply. Jamaica in barrels cost $7.50. Lemons are easy with the colder weather at $3.50 @ $4. Canadian onions sell at $2.25 @ $2.50 per barrel and Egyptian at $2.50 per bag. Water-melons 20 cents each.

GROCERIES—The number of exhibitions now going on throughout the country has checked the movement of groceries. Retailers are too busy to look at goods just now, and many travellers are laying off for the week. When the fall trade does start up however, it is expected that the distribution will be a very large one, as the country stocks are in very small compass. In sugar no change can be reported. Granulated still runs at 4 1/2c, and lowest yellows are at 3 1/2-16c nominally, but to a buyer of granulated, 3 1/2c would be granted. Teas are inactive, and will continue so until after the annual trade sale next Wednesday, at which 4,027 packages Japans, 1985 packages China, and 123 half chests Ceylon and Indian teas will be offered. This sale is without reserve, and will fix the future current of values. Molasses are in an anomalous condition. No one is buying in quantities, and no one is anxious to sell. For a round lot 38 1/2 cents would be asked, but there is a feeling that prices will rise with colder weather. New crop dried fruit are attracting some attention, and off stalk are quoted at 6 1/2 cents, as against 4 @ 4 1/2 cents for old, and new crop layer at 8 1/2 cents as against 6 1/2 cents for old. New crops currants will not reach here before the first week in October. They are quoted at 5 1/2c for barrels, 5 1/2c for half barrels, and 6 @ 6 1/2c for cases. Vostizza 8 @ 8 1/2 cents. The cold weather has caused a stronger feeling in canned tomatoes, and the pack is well sold ahead. From 98 1/2 to $1 is the prevailing figure. From New York it is reported that buyers are in negotiation for the purchase of the entire unsold balance of this season's pack of British Columbia salmon. The quantity is estimated at about 75,000 cases. Should the deal be completed, there may be a livelier export interest in Columbia river and Alaska fish. At the annual meeting of the British Columbia Canning company, limited, it was announced that an additional establishment had been purchased at Rivers Inlet. This has rendered canned salmon very strong in this market, and the present prices of $1 @ $1.45, according to brand, may be raised before long. Canned lobsters are steady at from $7.75 for poor stock, up to $9.50 for best. In rice there is no change. The mills still quote $3.70 for ordinary, $4.50 for Patna, and $4.25 for best Burmese. Caudied peel is dearer, and prices of lemon are 15 per cent higher than last year.

HEAVY CHEMICALS—The advance of 5s per ton in soda ash and 10c per 100 lbs in soda crystals, noted last week, are firmly maintained. There is more enquiry for coppers and blue vitriol, and brimstone continues stiff; but consumers will not buy ahead or even up to the full limit of their wants. They appear to regard present prices with suspicion and although the Leblanc and Salt Unions are now working hand-in-hand, consumers are reluctant to purchase a single drum over their requirements at the moment.

HIDES—There is no change in the position of hides. The quantity coming in is small and moves out readily, even with the present sluggish demand. Prices are unchanged and in view of the present position of tanners, any attempt at an advance would be stoutly resisted. No sheepskins in market. Lambskins rule firm at 60 @ 65c. Calfskins are dull at 7c. Tallow is quiet at about 5 1/2c per prime cake. Rough is neglected.

GRAIN AND FLOUR—The local grain market continues very quiet and only a jobbing trade at unchanged prices can be reported. Peas are slightly lower at 80c @ 82c. We quote No. 2 hard Manitoba $1.05 @ $1.07; No. 3 do, 97c; No. 2 Northern, $1.04; peas, 80c per 63 pounds in store; 82c afloat; oats, 35c @ 36c per 34 pounds; corn, 80c @ 82c duty paid; feed barley, 50c; good malting do, nominal. The flour market continues dull, and the reduction of 25 cents in spring patents and city strong bakers does not seem to have encouraged buyers to operate. A steady jobbing trade is the best that can be reported. From England the reports as to the outlook for grain are somewhat contradictory. The annual estimate of the Times gives the condition of English wheat as 92 against 97 1/2 on August 3. The crop has been seriously damaged, and the wheat of a bad color. On the other hand the Mark Lane Express says: New English wheat is liberally offered. Reds are quoted at 37s, and Whites at 40s. Foreign have fallen heavy-ily. At Liverpool prices have fallen 4d per cental and at London 1s 6d per quarter. Large arrivals of Indian, Russian and American have helped the depression. Red winter and California cargoes declined 2s. Corn is weak and prices have fallen 9d both for near and future delivery. Barley and oats are quiet. At today's markets the prices of wheat were still in buyers' favor. New red English wheats were quoted at from 34s@38s and whites at from 37s @ 43s. Foreign wheats were steadier. Flour was down 6d per sack. In Chicago wheat has ruled quiet as all the news is bearish. The war scare has done its work and subsided, while the available supply shows an increase of 4,200,000 bushels. Unless an English demand springs up there will be a further fall in values, as the heavy receipts point to a rapid accumulation at primary points.

IRON AND HARDWARE—No transactions in pig iron have been made during the past week, although one or two round lots are now under negotiation. Still the situation looks better. The stock in yard is very small and freights have risen 1s@2s per ton, which will raise the price of low grade irons. No. 3 Middlesboro has gained 75c during the week, partly due to the increase in freight and partly to a rise in maker's prices. This grade and Cambroes have been far too low and as soon as trade springs up they must advance. During the week some American sellers have been in this city endeavoring to sell pig, but they could not meet our prices as it costs $2 per ton more to land it here than it does in Toronto, and at present, at all events, they must confine their operations to the west. Scrap iron is very firm. Even a lot of 150 tons could not be secured under $18. Russia sheet iron is scarce and higher. There is hardly any in the market, and nothing under 10½@11c would be looked at. Canada plates are also scarce, and the lot which sold at $2.35 last week could not be duplicated to-day. $2.75 is the lowest price, and an order for a 1,000 boxes could not be filled under $2.80. There is no change in tin-plate, and we still quote $3.65 for cokes and $4.25 for charcoals. Wrought iron pipe is quiet at 62½ per cent. off for ¼@2 inch sizes and 60 per cent. off for larger. Bar iron jobs at $2, and we do not hear of any cutting even in large lots, as $1.85 is the lowest mill price. Latest London prices are as follows: Spot tin £91 5s; three months, £91 15s; G M B, copper, spot, £53; futures, £53 10s; Scotch warrants in Glasgow, 48s 1d; No. 3 Middlesborough iron, 41s 1½d; soft Spanish lead, £12 5s.

LEATHER—A quiet jobbing trade is all that can be reported in leather. No one is inclined to buy ahead, and even a sharp reduction would not induce the sale of a round lot. Shoemen report plenty of orders. Indeed some of them are engaged to their full capacity already, and will not send their men out on a sorting trip at all. But they are buying only for immediate wants, and laying in no stock ahead. The English market shows some improvement and there is a better demand for Canadian leather there.

PAINTS, OILS AND GLASS.—There is not much change to note in the oils. An attempt is being made to boom seal oil and in large lots it is certainly stiffer, but it still jobs at 47½ cents to the trade. Cod oil is scarce and firmly held at 40 cents as the inside figure. Castor oil continues strong in sympathy with the English market. Linseed oil is unchanged at 60@63 cents for raw and 64@66 cents for boiled. Turpentine is a little stronger in tone,

WANTED.

A steady, active, capable man for Market Reports, &c.

JOURNAL OF COMMERCE.

Glass is dull and neglected. We quote $1.35 for first break in 100 case lots and $1.40 in an ordinary way. Paints continue in active. Users are not buying freely and what trade is doing is simply for immediate requirements.

PETROLEUM—The demand for coal oil is very active, and refineries are working from dawn to dark in order to keep abreast of the requirements. Prices are unchanged and probably will not advance before the end of the month. Canadian may be quoted at 12@12½c in Petrolia, 14c car loads here, and 15c in single barrels. American, 20½c in car lots, 21½c in 10 barrel lots, and 23c for single barrels, 2 per cent. off for cash; American benzine, 22c@26c, and Canadian 14½@15c. Crude remains firm at $1.35.

PROVISIONS AND EGGS—Pork continues to move out actively under a good demand, and the enquiry for smoked meats shows signs of improvement. Lard however, is quiet and dull of sale. In Chicago, provisions closed dull. The statement of exports for August showed 3,000,000 pounds less bacon, and 25,000,000 less lard shipped abroad than during August last year. At the close pork showed a decline of about 20c, and lard and ribs of 12½c from the beginning of the week. In Liverpool there was also a decline in pork, the closing prices being: Pork, 55s, lard, 25s 9d, bacon, 40s, tallow, 26s 3d. The Chicago hog market ruled strong, closing at the following: Light mixed, $4.40@5.25; mixed packing, $4.50@5.50; heavy shipping, $4.60@5.45; rough grades, $4.60@5.85. The local egg market is slow, and there is still an overstock of inferior eggs in the city. In fact, shippers find it difficult to secure good eggs for foreign consignment. We quote, culls, 8@9c, ordinary, 11@12c, and candled 12½@13c. Partridges are coming in more freely but are all picked up at once, mostly for cold storage. Prices are a little lower, firsts bringing 60c per brace and seconds 30@35c.

WOOL.—The London sales run quiet with fine wools holding their own fairly and merinos stiff. Faulty wools, however, are from

Our New Fruit and Preserve Jar, Patented July 4th, 1891.

This cut represents our New Fruit and Preserve Jar, which we are now introducing to the Canadian Trade, and, in doing so, desire to draw your attention to the advantages it possesses over those made of glass and other materials.

The Jars are manufactured from a mixture of English and Pennsylvania clays, making a stronger and better article than can be produced from any other combination.

We only use a pure Bristol Stoneware Glaze, which is free from Lead or other Metallic substances, readily attacked by all acids. We guarantee the body to be thoroughly vitrified, and absolutely acid proof.

These Jars will be found superior to all other articles in use for the preservation of Fruits, etc. Being non-transparent, the action of light cannot fade the color or ferment fruits kept in them, as is the case where glass is used, and, being a non-conductor of heat, preserves are kept at a more uniform temperature than in either glass or tin, and will be free from the unpleasant metallic taste so frequently noticed where tin is used.

They are made in various sizes, and are for sale by all Crockerly and Grocery Dealers in Canada.

HOT-WATER HEATER

Can be attached to any Hot-Air Furnace.

It sets on top of the Firepot and does not in any way interfere with the heating surface of the Furnace, and increases the heating capacity at least two-thirds with one-half the fuel usually used in Hot-Air Furnaces. Another advantage of this Hot-Water Heater in a Hot-Air Furnace, is that you can heat exposed rooms and rooms at a distance that cannot be heated with Hot-air Pipes. Hot-Water Radiators placed in Drawing Rooms and Parlors do away with the dust from Hot-Air Registers. Those heaters are made in five sizes, to fit firepots from 18 to 30 inches in diameter.

The Accident Insurance Company of North America possesses a record for both reliability and liberality, one proof of which is that it has paid over nineteen thousand losses and has settled but eleven claims at law in 16 years for nearly one million dollars. It has ample financial resources, and has made the Special Deposit with the Insurance Department at Ottawa. It is, moreover, the only company whose capital and funds are solely applicable to Accident Insurance.

WORTH KNOWING

"It is the safest and fairest Policy I have ever seen,"

was the remark made by a prominent representative of one of the largest and best American Life Insurance Companies when he had carefully examined the ordinary Life Policy of The Temperance and General Life Assurance Co.

This is the only policy offered to the Canadian public that can neither lapse nor expire, as to its paid-up value, till death ensues, after three annual premiums have been paid on it.
