COUNCIL TAKES FIRST STEP IN DEAL

Will Engage Experts to Value Street Railway and Toronto Electric Light Company's Property—Mayor Hocken Says an Agreement With Sir William May Be Reached in a Day or Two.

The city council has empowered the board of control to engage experts to value the Toronto Railway Co. and Toronto Electric Light Co. properties for the purpose of purchasing. Controller O'Neill and Ald. Anderson introduced the motion, and it carried when amended by Ald. Wickett to fix the maximum cost at $5,000. The vote was as follows:

Yeas—McBride, Dunn, Weston, Anderson, May, Spence, Wessles, Robbins, Rawlinson, Risk, Wickett, Meredith, Rydning, McCarthy, O'Neill, Hocken—16. Nays—Church, Foster, McBrien, Maybee, Walton, Burgess, Hubbard—7. "We hope to reach an agreement with Sir William Mackenzie in a day or two," said Mayor Hocken, "and to avoid unnecessary delay we need the valuations at work. For instance, we have to know if the contracts for power are too onerous for us to take over. Our assessment commissioner will value the real estate, but we must have other experts on electric power and railroading to value the franchises, and also the radials within the city limits. Then Adam Beck is leaving for England on June 1st and will be away five weeks. We want to submit the bargain to him before he leaves. My plan is to make the agreement, submit it to the provincial hydro-electric commissioners, then have council pass a by-law, then have Sir William submit the agreement to the shareholders, and finally send the matter to the ratifiers."

"No one is more in favor of getting possession of the street railway than I am," declared Controller O'Neill, "but I'm not in favor of buying until experts have valued the property."

Attacks The World. Controller Church reiterated an editorial in The Telegram; then lamented over being excluded from the negotiations with Sir William Mackenzie; then lambasted the negotiations, and then lambasted The World.

"Do you want the matter to go to the people before the properties are valued?" Ald. McBride interrogated.

"I refuse to answer you," Controller Church replied.

"Controller Church has exceeded his time limit," Ald. McBrien declared, while the controller was warming to his incoherency.

"Question! Question!" was cried around the circle, and Controller Church sat down.

"No man living could understand what Controller Church is driving at," said Ald. Dunn. "The whole question is whether the properties can be bought at their true value. If they can, the ratifiers will vote for it by an overwhelming majority."

Ald. Hubbard excited himself over the enormity of employing Yankee valuers, and Ald. McBride assured him that he did not know what he was talking about. Ald. Foster worried thru a stunt in pessimism and Ald. Maybee talked like the suspicious man from Missouri.

Ald. McBrien gave notice of motion that a plebiscite be taken on a commission form of government for Toronto.

Dunn submitted a detailed report upon his inspection of city streets in the northwestern part of the city and had Controller Church read as a wet hen over being so superseded for a second time.

The council meets again this afternoon.

SHE PAYS HIGHLY FOR HER PRIVACY

But Miss Stokes Has Lots of Money and Can Afford It. Special to The Toronto World. REIDLANDS, Cal., May 19.—Miss Olivia Eggleston Phelps Stokes of New York, widely known for her gifts to Yale and Columbia, and for other public benefactions, has a strong desire for privacy. Four years ago she paid $200 to cross the country in a private car and tomorrow she goes east in one. She will be accompanied by her retinue of servants. Miss Stokes has just won a fight to keep her winter estate at Oakland exclusive. A real estate firm, it is reported, bought an adjoining tract and laid out a bungalow townsite at $600 a lot. Miss Stokes got busy, but the price of lots advanced to $1100, it is said, before she had bought the last one, and thus secured the privacy so much prized. She will spend the summer on her summer estate at Sharon and return in the fall to southern California for the winter.

MILK FOR THE BABY? NO, GIVE HER STEAK

She is Only One Day Old, But Was Born With Two Fine Teeth.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, May 19.—(Special.)—There arrived in New York today a young lady, it being the first time she had arrived anywhere, and the attending physician, Dr. Abraham A. Levy, looked at her in astonishment when she opened her mouth to speak her first piece on earth—a good, big, healthy howl.

For the doctor saw that here was a baby born with teeth. There they plainly were, and almost half grown—the two milk white bits of ivory incisors in the front of baby's lower jaw. She is the daughter of E. Axler of No. 82 Clinton street, Manhattan, and probably will be named Fannie after her mother.

"I have been in practice many years," said Dr. Levy to a reporter for The World, "but I never before saw a baby born with teeth. Nor have I ever heard of one. I intend to look up the records at the Academy of Medicine tomorrow to see if there is a case parallel to this. Miss Axler is a ten-pounder, by the way."

PEACE RESTORED BY BABY'S BIRTH

Aged Contractor Who Married Young Girl, Proud Father of a Boy.

Special to The Toronto World. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 19.—A lusty twelve-pound baby boy blessed the home of Leo Quadenfeld, the 70-year-old contractor who was married last August to Marie Di Giacomo, a little fifteen-year-old Italian girl who had been reared by his first wife. The wedding was solemnly interlarded with neighbors, who mobbed the contractor's home. The contractor's wealth was the bone of contention, his other children seeking to have him declared incompetent. The birth of the baby was the signal for a reconciliation, and led by the daughter of his first marriage, the neighborhood held a celebration, and little Alexander Hamilton Quadenfeld was much toasted this afternoon.

CLOSED HIS SALOON TO MOURN A CAT

"Scotty" May Be Surprised When "Nigger" Returns From His Wanderings.

Special to The Toronto World. CINCINNATI, May 19.—Closed on account of the loss of Scotty, the cat. This sign on the door of Scotty's saloon at Ninth and Elm streets all day today caused much comment. Several days ago the cat disappeared. Two days passed and the cat did not put in an appearance, so Scotty hung out a sign draped in green tissue paper and bordered by carnations to tell customers that he had closed the saloon in mourning for the cat.

PEERESS WRITES AGAINST DANCES

Society Leader Says the Tango, Turkey Trot and Others Should Be Prohibited. Special Cable to The World. (Copyright.)—The Times gives prominence this morning to a letter from "A Peeress," in which the writer bitterly complains of the introduction of the Turkey Trot and other debatable dances into fashionable London ball rooms. Describing the matter as one of "grave propriety," she says: "I am one of the many matrons upon whom devolves the task of guiding a girl thru the mazes of a London season, and am face to face with a state of affairs in most, but not all of the ball rooms calling for immediate attention. My grandmother has often told me of the shock she experienced on first beholding the polka, but I wonder what she would have said had she been asked to introduce a well brought up girl of 18 years into the scandalous travesties of dancing which are for the first time in my recollection bringing more young men to parties than are needed."

MANY DELEGATIONS FROM OUT OF TOWN

Among the delegations from the various Conservative associations thruout the province that were present at last night's meeting were from Aurora and Newmarket, headed by Herb Leno, M.L.A.; 899 from Woodbridge and Bolton, accompanied by the Woodbridge brass band and headed by Capt. Tom Wallace, M.P.; 100 from Sarnia and parties of about 100 each from Kingston, London and Cannington. Good-sized delegations from Hamilton, Smith's Falls, Welland, Goderich, St. Catharines and practically all the towns in this portion of the province were in evidence.

TOOK AN OVERDOSE.

Hyphosphates are said to be a good spring tonic, but when taken in overdoses the arsenic—if there is arsenic in hyphosphates—is apt to bring about a quiet and everlasting sleep. William Carr, 1111 Dundas street, almost found this out last night when he took an overdose of the remedy just before bedtime. After drinking the tonic Mr. Carr began to feel rather queer, instead of going to bed, he went out on the street to take a short walk. While out he was overcome and fell to the street. The police ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the General Hospital, where his stomach was pumped out at midnight. There is no danger that he will die.

GIRL WAS INJURED.

While playing in the yard with her little brother, Winnie Heilker, the six-year-old daughter of Joseph Heilker of 255 Markham street, fell from a box to the ground and broke her right leg just above the knee. The little girl was taken to the hospital for Sick Children.

HYDRO LINEMEN ALMOST SURE TO STRIKE

They Have Decided to Accept a Temporary Increase of 10 Per Cent. and Will Work Until Thursday Week, When a Definite Settlement Will Be Made.

Speedy corroboration to the announcement published exclusively in The World on Monday, that the linemen of the Hydro-Electric Commission would strike for higher pay came last evening when R. G. Black, consulting engineer of the commission, announced that a conference held with the men had failed in its purpose, and that a strike was unavoidable. The conference took place in Mr. Black's office, the men being represented by H. Lowe, president of the union; R. E. Bennett, W. Lucy, E. A. Piner and R. C. Grave. Yesterday saw the expiry of the present wage agreement, by which the men were graded as follows: Class A, 331-3 cents an hour; class B, 301-3 cents, and class C, 271-3 cents. The scale asked for by the linemen is for class A, 40 cents; class B, 37 cents, and class C, 34 cents, and a general increase of 20 per cent. for all other employes. They also ask that they be paid for Saturday afternoons and holidays.

"The trouble is that the men will not agree to our proposal to have all grievances settled by arbitration," said Mr. Black in discussing the situation with The World. "They say, 'Give us all a certain raise immediately or we will go out.' We agree that they should get a raise."

STATE PRISONER IN DEEPER WOE

Miller Must Explain Where Money Went or Pay Sum to Company.

MONTREAL, May 19.—(Can. Press.)—R. C. Miller, Canada's state prisoner, was presented with an alternative by the court of appeals today, that he either may give an accounting for the $41,000 which he claims to have paid in order to secure government business, or he will have to make good this amount to the Diamond Light and Heating Co.—the concern of which he was president. This was the majority ruling of the court. Justice Gervais dissented from the finding. Justice Tremblay, who handed down the judgment, spoke without notes, and in a lengthy review of the case maintained that the general term "sundries," as used by Miller, in explaining the destination of the amount involved, was wholly insufficient, and that hence it was incumbent upon him to give a detailed accounting of what had been done with the money he had received from the coffers of the company, with a view to securing government business.

OC TOGETHER AGAIN CUTS EIGHT MOLARS

Remarkable Experience of Mrs. Holmes Crawford of Pape Avenue, Who in Her Eighty-Eighth Year, Has Just Acquired a New Set of Wisdom Teeth.

To live to the age of 88 years and then out her wisdom teeth is the unusual experience of Mrs. Holmes Crawford, a well-known resident of the east end, who within the past few weeks has had no less than eight molars cut. Despite her advanced years, Mrs. Crawford feels little the worse for her experience, she states that her eyesight has been a little affected, none the less she has never used glasses.

When The World called at her home, 245 Pape avenue, yesterday, the aged lady was quite ready to tell about her recent dental acquisitions, she was at a loss to explain the phenomenon which probably has no parallel in local records. She stated that her health had in no way suffered, and her sprightliness of demeanor fully corroborated her statements.

GREATEST POLITICAL RALLY IN THE HISTORY OF TORONTO HELD IN HONOR OF PREMIER

Thousands of People Were Unable to Get Near the Arena to Hear Right Hon. R. L. Borden State His Position—Other Speakers as Warmly Welcomed

Like King Saul of old, Robert Laird Borden, first citizen of all Canada, stood head and shoulders above his countrymen last evening. The thunderous welcome accorded him as he stood before the largest audience ever assembled beneath a Canadian roof, the applause rolling up as a great cloud from below him, the demonstration of thousands of clamorous admirers literally carried away by enthusiastic admiration, must have borne home to him the vast loneliness and responsibility of his position. His appearance above the red cross in the great Union Jack draped about the platform precipitated a spectacle of emotion seldom witnessed. The arena was transformed in a moment into a gigantic beehive; the thousands of its occupants into a huge living swarm, the every voice of which merged into a great drone, driving with deafening resonance against the dome. The waving of a thousand miniature flags in the hands of the populace made a vast undulating sea of red, and the first articulate sounds of the prime minister were whirled to the roof with the volume of sound. Back and forth, as if driven with the gusts of enthusiasm, eight great ensigns waved slowly. "One Flag, One Fleet, One Empire" started from the speaker in huge black letters; massed bands burst into strains of patriotic melodies in the intervals, and people intoxicated with imperialistic sentiment and the strong desire for a handclasp across the sea that should never loosen let themselves run free to great lengths of demonstration. The thin murmurs of women shrilled above the din; small boys clinging but-like to the rafters split the air with whistles; grizzled farmers from the outland, delegates from the city and citizens one and all shouted and pounded till exhausted. "We want Borden and three dreadnoughts" was the slogan of the day, and it rang loud and strong, in spite of occasional Liberal interruptions.

Both the Dominion and Ontario houses were represented by members. Speaker Hoyle and members of the cabinet, and a score of outside representatives, and Hon. Frank Cook, H. H. Stevens of Vancouver, Hon. Thos. Crothers, Claude Macdonell, Tom Walton and other M.P.'s rubbed shoulders in the front seats.

On the platform with the speakers sat Chairman Mark Irish and W. H. Price, vice-president of the central executive.

When the figure of Sir James Whitney, styled by the chairman "the father of good government," rose before the audience a mighty roar of approval went up. Round after round of applause prevented his preliminary remarks, and when the noise had subsided the speaker was the object of his subject, driving home in characteristic style his summary of the naval situation. A proud man he was to introduce the Premier in Canada, the first of the overseas dominions.

"We here in Canada are all proud of Mr. Robert Laird Borden, and he belongs to us," he declared in hearty fashion.

"The value of the work and deeds of reports which Mr. Borden had done he would not deal with in detail but, or three, referring especially to the public life he would give to the people of Canada, whose welfare he had been, and, please God, will ever be.

"He has represented Canada as it never was represented before." (Cheers.)

"A few years ago," he continued, "one had said that he believed that the tie of Canada to the old country was weak, and that Canada was at the parting of the ways. It had followed with a bold attempt to sever it."

"The then prime minister of Canada, Sir Wilfrid Laurier," began the premier, but was interrupted by a burst of cheering mingled with groans and hisses.

"We are now witnessing, good people, the expression of those who disapprove of the naval contribution," continued Sir James expertly, to the delight of the audience.

"The then prime minister of Canada was willing and anxious to follow President Taft," he said. "Thank God that President Taft and Sir Wilfrid Laurier failed in their attempt." (Applause.) And the people of Canada under the leadership of our esteemed friend here, rose practically as one man, and in tones heard round this world declared they were in favor of and would stand by British institutions and their permanence in America."

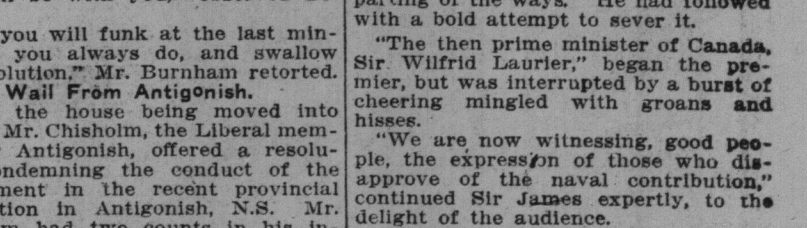

They Stood Firm. Voicing their opinion by way of Sir John Macdonald's last manifesto of his loving regard for Canada, "A British subject I was born, and a British subject I will die," they had stood firm. "With my utmost effort and my latest breath will I oppose the velle treason and mercenary project which tends to lure our people from their allegiance," thundered Sir James vigorously.

Referring then to the trip of Mr. Borden to Britain, he showed that he had credentials and a mandate to act for the people of Canada. Times were critical and the political atmosphere had been heavily charged with electricity. It was now recognized that Mr. Borden had conducted his business with rare tact, skill and dignity, and all had claimed his actions most commendable. He had kept himself free from party entanglements and had come back with the stamp of a great publicist upon him.

"Let there be no mistake," said the speaker. "The great majority of both political parties stand together united"

LEAD BOUNTIES TO BE AGAIN RENEWED

OTTAWA, May 19.—(Special.)—There was a thin house today in the absence of the prime minister and the big contingent of Conservative members at Toronto. The first half of the day was taken up by Mr. White's resolution extending the lead bounties for another five-year period. He explained that $2,500,000 had been appropriated for lead bounties in 1908, and in 1908 a considerable portion of them being still unexpended the Laurier government had extended the bounties until 1913. There being still $600,000 of the original vote unearned, the resolution today proposes to distribute that if the requirements of the law are complied with in another five years. The resolution was finally passed and the bill founded upon it was introduced and read a first time.

ESCAPED AFTER EXCITING TIME

Americans Sentenced as Spies in Mexican Rebellion Crossed State Border in a Hurry.

Special to The Toronto World. DOMEA, Tex., May 19.—D. J. Crockett, son of David Crockett of Bay City, Tex., and great grandson of the historical Davy Crockett, has escaped to this side of the Rio Grande after facing a firing squad at Rio Bravos, six miles from here.

He and two other Americans, along with six Mexicans, were made prisoners a few days ago while watching the battle between the Constitutionalists and Huerta followers at Rio Bravos. They were charged by the Constitutionalists with being spies, were court-martialed and sentenced to death.

Three Americans and six Mexicans were placed in line against a stone wall and confronted with a firing squad of soldiers. At the command to fire, the Mexicans dropped under a hail of bullets. The Americans were unscathed, secret directions having been given the executioners not to shoot them.

Young Crockett and the other two Americans were permitted to escape, and they lost no time getting to this side of the river.

BOTH BROTHERS PLEADED GUILTY

William Cozens and his brother George pleaded guilty before Judge Morgan yesterday to the charge of counterfeiting and were remanded until the end of the sessions for sentence. The prisoners, who live in Hamilton, were arrested in a Queen street store after they had changed a bogus ten-dollar bill. According to Crown Attorney Greer the men had negotiated a number of the counterfeit notes in Brantford and other cities in Western Ontario. George Cozens, who gave his age as 31, is married, with three children. His brother is twelve years his junior.

BIG DRYDOCK IS WHITE ELEPHANT

Steamship Companies Make Little Use of Facilities Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 19.—(Can. Press)—That the $2,000,000 floating drydock placed here last fall is likely to prove to be a white elephant is confessed by shipping authorities. It was thought that shipowners would use the dock for all repairs needed by vessels, but it has been found that no company will put a ship in the dock while there is the slightest chance of sending it to British ports for repairs.

A case in point is that of the Elder Dempster steamer Benguela, which will get a much-needed scraping when she gets to South Africa, where the work can be done by cheap labor.

As the shipping companies are getting cheaper insurance by reason of the dock being here, it is suggested that while they will not use it, they are not entitled to the advantage and that it should be taken to Quebec.

TRIED TO MURDER BY USING GERMS

But Wife Didn't Succumb and Hopf Wrote Peevish Letter.

NOW HE IS ARRESTED

Record of Two Previous Marriages Is a Sinister One.

Special Cable to The World. FRANKFURT, Germany, May 19.—(Copyright.)—Carl Hopf has confessed to the police that he is guilty of having attempted to kill his third wife—a Frankfurt girl whom he married in London—by administering to her cholera and typhus germs. He confessed the germs, he says, in minced-meat.

The authorities say that Hopf was so daring and determined in his plot to get rid of his third spouse that when he found she was not to be ended her life, he actually wrote to the laboratory where he procured the germs, complaining that he had been cheated into getting bacilli under the required standard of strength—they were not of the "proper quality."

Student of Black Art. Hopf is a druggist and a student of black magic, and was an officer of the reserve and a champion fencer. He once lived in India.

His first wife died soon after her child was born. Following was suspected, but Hopf won a libel suit against his accuser and collected a large sum of insurance on his wife's life.

His second wife fell ill with poison symptoms. She recovered and divorced Hopf. Then he passed through bankruptcy. His third wife he insured for $20,000. When she was taken to a hospital he was arrested.

The police found bottles of cholera and typhus germs in his rooms, also arsenic and other deadly drugs, besides books on magic and poisons.

Controllers in Favor of Expropriating Property for Park Driveway.

"We're decidedly in favor of expropriating the upper Don ravines for our park driveway system," said Controllers Church and O'Neill after an inspection of the civic works in the eastern section of the city. "Those ravines are most beautiful, and we certainly must have them."

Development of the park driveway system in Toronto is making necessary the acquisition of the Don ravines, even for several miles beyond the present city limits.

Popular Cunard Steamers.

There are probably no steamers of any line crossing the Atlantic today that are more popular than those of the Cunard Line. Two years ago the company put on the Boston service, the two fine, new steamers, Franconia and Laconia, 18,000 tons, to run between that city and Liverpool calling at Queenstown, and their popularity has been so great that it is difficult to get accommodation unless application is made a long time in advance. The Laconia will sail on her next trip on the 27th of May and land in Liverpool June 3rd. Passengers for this steamer may leave Toronto at 5:20 p.m., May 26th, and arrive in Boston next morning without change of cars. A. F. Webster & Co., King and Yonge streets, will be very glad to give any information about these steamers and to supply plans, etc.

FRENCH AVIATORS TO BE LICENSED

And Only Those of Good Character Need Apply.

WILL NUMBER PLANES

Several Drastic Reforms Outlined in New Aeroplane Bill.

Special Cable to The World. PARIS, May 19.—(Copyright.)—There are now more than 1800 aeroplanes in regular and active service in France. Each of them, under a bill introduced in the chamber of deputies by Minister of Public Works Thiery, must bear a distinguishing number like a taxicab, and every aeroplane must be subject to inspection at any time as to its airworthiness.

There are also now in France more than ninety aviators with a license. These licenses in the Thiery bill are to be issued only to persons over 18 years old, and of good character. Aviators are to be made legally responsible for all damages. The carrying of explosives, arms, carrier pigeons, cameras and wireless equipment is forbidden.

Keep Official Log. A log is to be kept of every flight with passengers and the names of passengers' inspectors.

The aeroplanes of foreign governments must not fly over France or her colonies. Rules as to foreign planes landing in France will be drawn up by executive officials, so that the government will be free to act as it pleases, without restriction of precedent or previous legislation.

The penalties range from $2.40 to $200, with or without imprisonment from one day to a month, with six years' suspension of license in case of a grave offence.

RANGERS LEAVE ON SUMMER WORK

Three Hundred Men Will Guard Northern Woods From Fire.

Laden with tote-bags and grubstake for months of sojourn in the wilds of Northern Ontario, the annual force of provincial fire-rangers has gone forth to patrol waterways and forest districts and guard crown preserves from illicit practice or fire danger. In evidence of the intention of the government to exert the utmost care in protecting this form of natural resources, only experienced men have been engaged this year and in no case was the application of one who had not served in the capacity before considered by the minister.

In all 300 men have been sent out to the different chief rangers for distribution among the organized regions, and these for the greater part are gathered from woodmen and lumbermen who are well used to the woods and can swing an ax on occasion. This latter feature has become a recognized part of the ranger's duties, the debris and slashings which often choke channels and portages proving very susceptible to conflagration.

HIGH PRAISE FOR CANADIAN WOMEN

Thomas O'Hagan Pays De-served Tribute to Well Known Writers.

CALLS THEM "SINGERS"

Article is Illustrated by Selections From Best Canadian Writings.

In the March issue of The Magnificent, a magazine published in Montreal, New Hampshire, is an article entitled "Some Canadian Women Writers of Today," by Thomas O'Hagan, Ph.D., whose work as an essayist and poet have made him known throughout Canada.

After a brief summary of the writers who date back twenty years or more: Mrs. Hoodie, Mrs. Leppin, Isabella Vancuy Crawford, Mrs. Lawson, Louise Murray, Catherine Parr Trail, Mrs. Sadler and Mrs. Curson, the writer passes on to those of later date. Of these he says: "The marked characteristic of the Canadian literary woman of today is her versatility. She touches many things and adorns them all. Her work, however, may be broadly divided into fiction, poetry and biography."

And then Dr. O'Hagan claims that the best work done in the past few years has been in the domain of poetry. Miss Pickthall, Miss Wetherald and Mrs. McKay, all familiar names, are given first place. In the realm of prose, Miss Marshall Saunders of Halifax, Nova Scotia, and her story of "Beautiful Joe," and Mrs. McLaughlin, who in the past 18 months, receive admiring notice. The books of Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. McDonald, are all sympathetically and enthusiastically treated.

Canadian women singers are headed by Mrs. Ecolostone Mackay, Miss Wetherald, Miss Helena Coleman and Miss Marjorie Pickthall. The productions of these poetic children of Canada are illustrated by selections from their poems and an analysis of each is given. "I am not sure," Dr. O'Hagan tells us, "but that in the choir of Canadian women singers of today, Mrs. Marjorie Pickthall of Ontario, Miss Coleman's 'Songs and City' is referred to as having 'distinctly marked upon its every page.' The last writer noted is Miss Katherine Hughes, whose poetry is so well known in the Black Robe 'Voyager' woke up one morning in the 'domestic' fame."

"Canadian women of letters today," concludes the article, "are doing splendid work. Their work is not only of high activity, are adding thru their pens lustre and grace to the beautiful work of womanhood."

WOMEN WRITERS WILL TOUR WEST

Canadian Women's Press Club Will Meet Soon in Edmonton.

BUSINESS TO BE DONE

Delegates Will Be Kept Busy—Side Trips and Social Events.

Arrangements are about completed for the general meeting of the Canadian Women's Press Club to take place in Edmonton on June 9 and 10. The party, which will find its largest visiting contingent in the Toronto branch with its half a hundred or so members, will travel by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and every effort is being put forth to make the traveling as comfortable and pleasurable as possible.

A large and enthusiastic meeting is anticipated, as the press association of women has now strong forces in Edmonton, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Port Arthur and Port William and other points and all will send the most numerous representation possible.

While the objects of the congress will deal largely with the business side of things, including election of national officers, the social side will be a factor of no small moment. Reports of the good things preparing by the west for the entertainment of their guests have already reached those for whom the medical hospital is intended. The Edmonton branch has arranged with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway for an outing to Jasper Park. The Calgary Women's Press Club and the Canadian Pacific Railway will entertain the visitors for a day in Calgary. Regina will do the same for the party which will be going and return trips Winnipeg will have the press members for a few hours as their guests.

Some of the company hope to make the coast before returning, the opportunity of doing this being so much increased by the proximity of the place of the June meeting. It is probable that the party will start from Toronto on June 5th and even those who go as far as Vancouver may be back, if they so wish it, at the end of three weeks.

Busy here also. While echoes reach us from time to time of the spirit and energy of the great members of the great and stirring west, the most active branches too have been awake and doing things since the formation of the organization a few years ago.

The national president, Miss MacMurchy, is, as everyone knows, a woman, so, too, are Mrs. Margaret L. Fairbairn, the national corresponding secretary, and Miss Jane Wells Fraser, who looks after the western sections. The beautiful courtesies that followed a beautiful typical of the broad ideals of assistance to the other, and of the national development to which all effort is directed.

Apart from the routine business of the trip, there is the educational factor, which is by no means the least of the things to accrue to those taking part in the tour. The opportunity of seeing even the west, which in its wonderful development has made the whole world stare. Never before in the history of nations have so many wheatfields plenteous, and the golden harvests of the world, and the big centres which have sprung up within the rapidly advancing west, which in its wonderful development has made the whole world stare. EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

An Illustrated Dill Pickle

I WAS asked yesterday to tell something about "a Dutch lunch," but for once I was unequal to the occasion.

However, I saved the day by asking my inquisitor to tell me about her "Dutch lunches," and now I know all about the subject. It seems that only cold foods are served at these affairs and that dill sandwiches are much favored.

One sandwich that was called "Illustrated dill pickle" seemed to be original and sounded good enough to eat at any lunch.

A very thin slice of rye, or Bohemian bread, is placed on an individual serving plate. On this a leaf of crisp lettuce is laid. Next come very thin slices of dill pickle and then a slice of Westphalian ham cut in strips.

The ham is spread with home-made mustard dressing, or each strip may be dipped in the dressing, if it is not too sharp, before it is laid over the pickle. Swiss cheese is put on the ham and then comes another slice of salami, or sage sausage, and chopped cress. Finish with another slice of rye bread.

This same sandwich is varied by using veal. Here are directions for this filling: White bread one day old is toasted until lightly browned and then buttered generously. Remove the crusts and spread the slices with snappy, sharp cheese, lay on a leaf of lettuce, then a large thin slice of baked veal dressed with French salad dressing and chopped nut meats, give this layer lightly with celery salt, which I know from experience gives a delightful flavor to veal in any form.

Top this sandwich off with sliced pickle, or with what I think is still finer, a handsome slice of ripe tomato.

Kaffee Klatches are, it seems, the feminine of the Dutch lunch. Here coffee is the preferred beverage, and the ladies nibble little cakes, wafers and sandwiches and play cards or sew.

This program is variable so long as coffee is served in some form or another.

As the weather is now very warm for coffee drinking, Ranhofer's "virgin coffee" will be enjoyed.

Make a strong decoction of black coffee, draw off and cool in a covered porcelain or china vessel.

When ready to serve, half fill tall thin tumblers with crushed ice and heavy sweet cream. Finish filling to the brim with strong cold coffee. Cafe Grace is a new refreshment this season. Ice cream is made with coffee flavoring and when it is served, a spoonful of very strong sweetened black coffee is poured over it.

Better than this is cafe a la creme: After dinner coffee served demitasse accompanied by smooth, vanilla flavored Philadelphia ice cream and coffee cakes. The first time I ever saw this satisfying combination was in a small public parlour in Indianapolis many years ago.

The sensation of alternately freezing and then scorching the larynx and the esophagus is delightful, as I have proved many summers since. The last few years it has become quite common to see very hot drinks served with ice.

"Day dreams" are a fancy, little cake that ladies like: Bake sponge cake in cup cake form, cool and remove the centres, leaving a well. Fill this with sweetened whipped coffee flavored cream and ice over the top with firm frosting. Ornament with nuts or decorations so they do not show their centres have been filled.

THE BEAUTY SEEKER.

I once heard a woman say: "The best way to treat wrinkles is to avoid getting them." This may sound absurd, but it is true. Wrinkles are caused by bad facial habits.

Laughing, crying, frowning, or smiling will not make you wrinkled, unless you do one or the other habitually, then the face becomes "set." To keep the muscles of the face exercised will not give you wrinkles. Scowling and wrinkling the forehead when reading or studying, or when conversing will, if continued persistently, soon show deep wrinkles in the forehead, and about the eyes. You can check yourself of these habits, and thus avoid acquiring wrinkles.

If the eyes are weak, or overstrained, it is easy to fall into the habit of drawing the forehead down in wrinkles about the eyes, thus giving yourself a cross look, that you probably do not deserve. Pressing gently the nerves around the eyes, and stopping now and then to close the eyes is very restful to them. If your spine is hurt.

Spine Injured By Fall.

William Bolton, 39 Acott street, employed at Hanlan's Point tearing down some old structures, fell from the ladder on which he was standing and sustained such severe injuries to his back that he had to be taken to St. Michael's Hospital. It is believed that his spine is hurt.

PREMIERE PERFORMANCE OF "DEBORAH" TONIGHT

Carlotta Nilsson Returns in Stirring Dramatic Story Written by W. Legrand-Howland.

GOOD CROWD SAW "MAN FROM HOME"

Booth Tarkington's Story Well Portrayed by the Bonstelle Players.

EASY, FINISHED ACTING

The Bonstelle Players are giving Booth Tarkington's "The Man From Home" at Shea's this week and last night's performance drew a good crowd.

The view of the English aristocracy in a seecider condition is presumable even in a yellow back, with a Russian grand duke of such noble and exalted and wital democratic sentiments, shaking hands in the friendliest way with Hoosier lawyers or anybody in distress, that one feels that there is some hope for the aristocracy yet, so long as they are not English. Daniel Hoosier Pike is the centre of the play. He has been left "guaranteed" to a boy and girl who have gone abroad to Europe and picked up some rather queer notions.

An escaped Russian convict comes into the picture, but in the twentieth row back it was not possible to hear just how he got into Italy. He had been in Siberia and the English aristocracy stole his money and hid it with his wife. The Russian aristocracy felt that something was due to him and did the handsome by him. He assisted to work up the denouement in the third act when Pike has a good scene with all the villains unmasked. Another act enables the girl, Ethel Granger Simpson, to make up her mind that there are worse places than Kokomo and worse songs than "Sweet Genevieve." Edward H. Robins was excellent as Pike, with his resonant drawl and his cool inelegance. Fuller Mellish as the grand duke was dignified and easy and finished. Most of the others were merely pantomimic in the twentieth row, and even Miss Kathleen MacDonald was barely audible, the charmingly graceful. The play is full of good things which kept the people in the front rows laughing. Mr. Robins sent them further along as "When you're crossing your Rubicon cross it, don't wade out into the middle and stand there, or you'll get hell from both banks."

Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition midway splendors and lunch counter operators are afforded a practical course in peculiar finance by Blanche Baird's Big English Burlesque Stock Co. at the Star Theatre this week. This is the second week of Miss Baird's engagement at the Star, and from the applause and encores which greeted her yesterday it is easily seen that she is gaining in popularity. Two playlets were presented yesterday, and in the second one, entitled "The Toronto Exhibition," the company made a decided hit. In this amusing piece a whole midway may be seen. And just as at the Ek, visitors provide the graft for the wise ones. "When you're crossing your Rubicon cross it, don't wade out into the middle and stand there, or you'll get hell from both banks."

WHY SHE WROTE PLAYS

It Sounds as Simple as a-b-c as She Tells It

It is a blow to the believer in the importance of early influences to find that Lady Gregory, whose sparkling comedies have proved such diverting slices of a certain phase of life, not only did not write plays, but had no marked interest in things theatrical, until she had passed the age when many people rest upon their oars, and consider that they are justified in drifting for the rest of their days.

"Plays were needed," she says, "so I wrote plays." It sounds as simple as a, b, c.

When asked if she had had the passion for play-acting in her early youth as so many children have, she smiled, and said:

"No, it wasn't allowed, but we didn't really care. In those days every one was doing charades, both in the drawing-room and the nursery. We children once had an idea that we should like to act the story of "Whittington and the Cat," making a little play of it, something more elaborate than a charade. I believe I was to impersonate the cat, and practised meowing with great industry. Our mother was very doubtful when she heard of the project, but I think we should have won her over if she had not consulted our family friend, the archdeacon. What was a solemn conclave, and no reasons were given to us children, but there was a very definite embargo on "Whittington and the Cat." For, as I said, we didn't care much, and turned to something else. And I practically thought no more of plays until they were needed for our Irish Players, and I seemed to have just the right material from my knowledge of the past, so I just sat down and wrote them."

Yes, it sounds as simple as a, b, c. In future ages, when our present civilization is practically forgotten, a certain document may be found, and become the subject of learned speculation. And if the character of Lady Gregory is reconstructed from this evidence, she would doubtless be quite unrecognizable to us. For in this document, which is her charter as lessee of the Abbey Theatre, "Lady Gregory is forbidden to hang women and children from the trees. What a picture it calls up, a tyrant of such tendencies that a special clause is required, enjoining her from her cruel and inhuman practices. And her benign smile as she reads it, for his humor does not escape the author of "Spreading the News."

At the Gayety. - In "The Three Dukes," at the Gayety this week, the Trocadero Burlesquers present one of the most successful musical comedies ever seen in local burlesque houses. Frank Finney, the author of the book, is just as clever in his acting as he is in his writing, and his lady, Miss Edith Shaver, is a wonderful impersonation of Harry Lauder and the same can be said of his song hits. "The Plagues" with Finney comes John P. Griffith, a top-notch comedian, who can "yodel" for further orders.

The chorus girls are exceptional beauties and seem to have as much ginger as if it were the beginning of the season. Their dancing of the Highland fling, and the waltz in kilts, and the minuet in the sword dance were features of the entertainment. Miss Frankie Bailey, the leading lady, is a wonderful impersonation of Harry Lauder and the same can be said of his song hits. "The Plagues" with Finney comes John P. Griffith, a top-notch comedian, who can "yodel" for further orders.

The pupils of Mrs. J. W. Bradley gave a highly successful vocal recital at the Toronto Conservatory of Music last night, which was attended by an overflow audience who much enjoyed the splendid program of songs, duets and trios, by some of the cleverest singers yet heard at the conservatory this season. Mrs. Bradley deserves the highest credit for the choice of songs on this occasion, and also for the excellent manner in which the program was carried out by the large and accomplished cast she had under her at present. The Misses Gilbert, Puddy, Roder, Gray, Hammel, Hunt, Shaver, and Mrs. Whitehead, and Mr. Barton, Mrs. Young (a daughter of Mrs. Bradley), Mr. John L. Young, Mr. Russell, Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Ralph Green, were the talented and pleasing vocalists, and Miss Marie White, violin, pupil of Mrs. Drechsler, Adamson, supplied a delightful obbligato. Mr. G. D. Adams was the organ in the Ave Maria, and altogether this recital was extremely brilliant and successful.

ATZTEC LIFE IN "THE INDIAN'S SECRET"

A director is now producing Lincoln J. Carter's "The Indian's Secret" in two reels. It is going to make a corking good picture, full of exciting incidents and heart interest. One of the most interesting features of the play is the finding of an old Aztec temple, in which is a man who has gone mad through the massacre of his family by Indians. He sleeps and in a vision sees the Aztec mummies come gradually to life, and perform one of their religious ceremonies. Old books have been consulted regarding the Aztec costumes and the features of the temple, and national interest as well as forerunning a distinct novelty.

ELSIE ALBERT A PIONEER PHOTOPLAYER.

Since her recent success in "Snow White," produced by the Powers company, Miss Elsie Albert has been the recipient of many favorable notices in photoplay magazines and newspapers. The writers of these articles who predict a bright future for her, have made the mistake that Miss Albert is new to the picture game. On the contrary, she has been acting in motion pictures for some time, and her record of leading roles has won for her many capital notices. She is a pretty girl, with a remarkably engaging screen presence, clever at her work and conscientious to a degree. Her natural modesty prevents her from advertising herself, but she is deserving of all the nice things that lately have been said about her.

GREEN AND WHITE LUNCHEON

For This Month's Bride and Her Bridesmaids

In preparing the table, fit the top with a covering of delicate green satin with an eighteen-inch fall of lace from the edge of the table, finishing on the edge of the table with a close, narrow wreath of fern leaves, using a large centerpiece, plate and glass dolies to match. Use the green and white china, and for place cards painted green and white butterflies poised on the rims of the water glasses. For a girly centerpiece use a gilt Louis XV basket filled with white lilies, which form a fringe about the edge, and white narcissus, on the handle tie a large feathery bow of silk illusion.

In the lace-edged serviettes tuck the luncheon roll, and in tiny gilt baskets like the centre one put the salted almonds. In dry gold paper napkins hold the crystallized mint leaves at either end of the table; the ruffles all find place in the cut-glass ramblesh dish.

Above the table swings a wedding bell made of white lilies, the floral clapper of white narcissus, and the bride's place at table, where with a gentle pull she may release the bell, which is a shower bouquet that separates into a bunch of flowers for each girl guest.

The menu should follow the color scheme of green and white as far as possible, in the way of coloring the bread, the vegetable dishes, the sauces, and if a fruit cup is served thru the meal, it may have the green cherries and the mint leaves in it by way of garnish coloring.

A decorative salad is made of white grapes and the green cherries, halved and stoned, with chopped olives and white cherry. Use heavy mayonnaise, colored a delicate green, and serve the salad in green pepper shells on white lettuce leaves. The pistachio cream is attractive served in the candy white lilies surrounded by their green leaves.

Rose Vases.

With the rose season coming fast, the display of rose vases in the stores is most appropriate. The heavy glass and silver in style, are as artistic as any to be had, and when the plain glass ones are bought, are a medium between the two in cost, and have the virtue of not breaking. However, if the lacquer finish is marred, the matter of polishing is a labor that must be considered.

In selecting vases of any kind, remember that the flaring top is the style most graceful for flowers of any kind. Also get vases which have a base sufficiently heavy. The metal flower holders, pebbles or sand placed in the bottom of the vase will counteract top-heaviness, but it will not run any danger of accident.

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D. ANSWERS.

Mrs. W. R. - Plant every tiniest piece of your roots of forget-me-not. Do you know that each little speck, if properly looked after - which means very little - will take root and in a few weeks will flower? From my own experience, I have found that out. Starting with a few small clumps the size of the palm of my hand, last spring, I planted all the faded and yellowed sprigs left over from my house bouquets, in every odd corner and behind or under other flowers, until they rooted.

This spring - well, you should just see my stock! I have bordered many beds with thick, thick clumps. Nothing, nothing will give prettier borders than forget-me-not. After they have finished flowering and grown ragged and ugly, take the shears and clip the plants down to within an inch from the roots. In three weeks at least, there you are, a perfectly brand new, fresh border of lovely pale blue.

"Whittington and the Cat" makes a little play of it, something more elaborate than a charade. I believe I was to impersonate the cat, and practised meowing with great industry. NO OTHER WAY much longer. Anyhow, see to your boat. The policeman moved away. It was possible that he was somewhat tired, and that his limbs had stiffened. He seemed as if he might stumble over a tree root, and a dry branch cracked under his feet. Instantly an ear-splitting screech came from some point in the dark, and above their heads a screech hidely unexpected and appallingly near that the blood seemed to freeze in Clancy's veins.

By GORDON HOLMES

It reached Mrs. Delamar's ears, too; indeed, it could hardly fail to do that, since it must have been audible far out on the surface of the sea channel. She sprang to her feet, her face twisted with horror and uncertainty; but, with rare courage, rushed to a window, threw it open, and peered out.

"Who is there?" she said, and Clancy, despite his own sweat of fear and total lack of recognition of the source of that unerving din, felt a subconscious admiration for the dauntless spirit of a woman who dared even enquire into its cause.

The policeman, who had not gone a yard, remained stock still, and so did Clancy. The silence was profound, the only sounds being the diminished snorts of the tug's exhaust, and these served rather to enhance the absolute stillness that reigned in the grounds of "The Rosary." Then there was the creak of a latch, and the door of the gardener came out at the side of the house; she shut off from sight of the lawn by one of the many tall hedges that converted the place into a lacy maze.

Gaining confidence from the nearness of the servants, Mrs. Delamar advanced a few paces into the open. "Hopkins," she began, "did you hear?"

Then something swooped at her out of the void, and she was attacked so fiercely that she was always the dressed in quick terror and covered to the earth.

"Oh, heaven have mercy!" she sobbed. "Help! Help! Ah, have pity! I am not fit to die!"

Someone crashed thru the laurels, and a man's form appeared. He carried a heavy stick, and smote fiercely at an object that whirled and whirled above the woman's head. With one blow, which got home, the assailant was vanquished.

"Don't you be scared, ma'am," he cried. "It's an owl, that's what it is. I hope it hasn't hurt you."

There was no answer; Mrs. Delamar had fainted.

Between them, they carried Mrs. Delamar into the house, and Clancy, as he eyed her, decided on his own account to drop a good way down, and to push off into deep water; for the craft was not quite afloat, owing to the fall of the tide.

They managed to reach the boatshed without arousing any other inhabitants of the trees, and the policeman, who was skilled in the management of a boat, used the leverage of an oar to push off into deep water; for the craft was not quite afloat, owing to the fall of the tide.

"Where are you?" he whispered, halting in front of the black wall of foliage, and a hand was stretched forth to guide him.

"I have seldom known a queerer," agreed Clancy. "Just because that blessed owl flew at her, she said she wasn't fit to die, went on the other in a few tones. 'People often say that she isn't fit to live,' said Clancy, and the policeman, glancing over his shoulder to ascertain his direction, remarked that some folk were queer, they were."

Many times did the writer harp on "the narrow escape," the "luck" of it.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 20

BETTER AND WORSE INVESTMENTS.

Sir Robert Perks is a man of observation, if one may judge from his comments on the purchase of real estate in Canada, as compared with the absence of such a branch of commercial activity in Great Britain. There, he says, the people put their money into gambling and liquor. In Canada, where they abstain from these pursuits, they can afford to put money into real estate at good prices and not suffer. The average man in Great Britain never dreams of owning a house and lot. There is very little freehold land to be had. In cities, like Belfast, where freehold property is purchasable, the artisan classes go in to a large extent for owning their homes. The man who drinks or gambles thinks very little of spending a pound a week in this way. A sum of $250 a year invested in real estate soon mounts into money. This greater thriftiness of Canadians as compared with old country people, coupled with the higher scale of wages, tends to establish a higher standard of living, and the higher cost accompanies the general increase. The Canadian has his house and lot, or perhaps two or three lots, as the result of his investment. At the end of ten or twelve years the old countryman may have three or four thousand dollars' worth of smoke or drink or betting excitement behind him, but it is doubtful if he gets as much fun for his money as the Canadian with his house and lot.

TORONTO'S LOSS.

Toronto is unfortunate in being unable to retain men like Rev. George Jackson and Rev. Dr. McFadyen, whose scholarship, piety and largeness of mind commend themselves wherever such qualities are valued. Toronto still possesses a narrow-minded element which makes the struggle to live for such men worth less than the advantages the city can offer. Dr. Jackson has been well beloved by those who know his gentle heart and faithful soul, and he will have some pleasant memories to bear away in spite of sundry misrepresentations and attacks. It is a great loss to Toronto that such a man cannot continue here. But he has left his mark behind him, and in the classes he has conducted, the young men whom he has brought to the steps of the pulpit, and the congregations he has gathered he leaves much seed behind which will bear the harvest of rejoicing in due course.

ARE THEY DITTO?

The "Two Tommies" and Ald. Burgess, Hubbard, McBrien, Maybee and Walton voted against the proposal to appoint valuers in connection with the proposed purchase of the Street Railway and the Toronto Electric Light Co. The Two Tommies are, of course, merely obstructive, but is this the object of the other gentlemen, or do they wish to buy the properties without any clue to their value?

BEATING THE AIR.

Controller Church making a speech reminds one of a cook making an omelette, hoping to compensate for the quality of the eggs by the assiduity with which she beats them. He spoke on the proposal to appoint actuaries to value the Toronto Electric Light Co. yesterday, and while all he did say might have been said in five minutes, he repeated himself over and over, emphasized the same points, and kept beating away till what was intended for an omelette was only fit for trifle, and poor trifle at that.

MAINTAIN RACIAL TRADITIONS.

There is a growing need for the cultivation of some elementary principles of honesty among the new generation. At a big public school in the city the pupils do not think it at all blameable to "swipe" each other's property should they happen to need it. Wearing apparel, books, sporting accessories, it is all the same.
 On the street cars very respectable people thing nothing of "beating" their fares. A young fellow got on a car the other evening. He had two transfers and he offered one to a man who had his ticket ready to put in the box. The man refused the transfer and said something about "a square deal," but the young man evidently thought he was a fool.
 The departmental stores say that if a parcel is delivered at the wrong address they rarely hear of it again. We know of a parcel of books which was misdelivered a few days ago. The address was on the parcel, but the people who got it were not honest enough either to return it to the store or send it to the right address.

 These are very elementary instances where honesty should not be a difficult thing to practise. If people grow up with the idea that they can "swipe," or "beat," or keep what is not theirs, there is no knowing to what extent the tendency may develop. These actions are all "stealing," whatever slang terms may be applied to them, and those who blunt their moral sense by committing them may find no moral strength left to withstand greater temptations when they come along. Some people think the foreign element has been responsible for lowering the code, but if this be so, there is all the more necessity for the Canadian and British born to maintain that reputation for integrity and honesty associated with racial traditions.

BRITAIN'S RISING TRADE.

Mr. Lloyd George was so hopeful of the continuing prosperity of British trade that he refused to increase the figure of taxation which faced with a deficit of $30,000,000 at the end of the current fiscal year. This he expressed his confident anticipation would be met by an expanding revenue and a corresponding advance in taxation returns. The month of April has given solid ground for his optimistic outlook, exports having increased by over $50,000,000 over those of the corresponding month of 1912.

Of that increase the chief amount was due to larger exports of manufactured goods. This goes far to discount the constant assertion made in the United States, and to a lesser extent in Canada, that Britain is a declining factor. United States manufacturers cannot have it in opposing ways at the same time. When blowing their own horns they appeal to the greater efficiency of their workmen and their lower cost of production. When opposing any lowering of their extensive protection they represent that they cannot meet the lower cost of production in Europe. These arguments are self-destructive.

THE RIGHT OF CITIZENSHIP.

The force of the Japanese contention against the Californian land law has been considerably weakened by the fact that no alien can own land in Japan. Japan could not in reason object to any other nation imposing the same restriction, nor does it seem that its government could validly object to the allowance of exceptions. No alien has an abstract right, enforceable by international law, to demand equality of treatment with native citizens or with preferred aliens.
 As the London Times has forcibly pointed out, the issue that Japan has raised is not confined to the United States. It involves the right of each particular nation to regulate who may become citizens and to whom the right of land ownership is to be given. Japan refuses the right of land ownership to every alien and if that is justifiable so must be the restriction of that right to certain classes of aliens. That, no doubt, is the reason why Japan is basing her claim on the matter of national honor. But no nation will resign its right to define the conditions of its own citizenship.

CANADA INTERESTS GUINNESS' BREWERY.

Mr. Arthur T. Shand, who is now at the Queen's Hotel, is the special representative of the Guinness Brewery, Ireland, makers of the famous Guinness' Stout. His mission is to study the causes that have brought such a phenomenal demand for Guinness' Stout in the Dominion, and to report in the most exhaustive manner what the future development and growth of the Dominion will be, as seen from personal contact, and student observation of the Guinness business, and trade conditions throughout every section of Canada. There seems to be a mutual bond of interest between the Dominion and the Guinness concern, both being able to show unprecedented records in the way of increasing prosperity and trade expansion. The figures of the Guinness business read like a tax budget while the demand and consumption of the product lead the world's output by three to one of the largest brewery in the United States.

PUTTING LID ON GAMBLING.

PARIS, May 19.—(Can. Press)—The gambling question again came up for consideration in the chamber of deputies today. After a lengthy discussion an amendment to the gambling law of 1907, proposed by M. Georges Berry, adopted by a vote of 454 to 55. This law prohibits the suppression of gambling within 100 kilometers (62 miles) of Paris.

The Philosopher of Folly
 By Sherwood Hart
 THE EARLY MYSTERY.

Some bright and warm May morning when starting out from home without the slightest warning a thought will pierce our souls—we'll note some fellow sporting a lid of summer straw, where'll we start coveting and shouting "Hip-hooraw!" On seeing him parading our weary heart will leap; our derby, old and fading, will scuttle on the heap of bottles, bones and ashes against our backyard fence, where all the winter trash is, behind our residence—the something in my tells us 'tis best to travel slow, while summer thus impels us to treat our cady so. Re-entering our portal, we'll head us for the shelf, where we deluded mortal, over found a lid, which we'll hand twelfth of last November—saw it snowing day—how well we can remember our putting it away! With what joy we'll see the snow in the closet door, our treasured lid concealing, but it is there no more! It's vanished altogether and been and gone and gone, our snow in summer weather or money paid for rent, washed down with great dejection we search each nail and hook; thru all our quarter-section we get a thoro look. We ask a hundred questions while on our wild-goose chase; our folks hand our suggestions and then vanishes the place. Our search is unavailing—who ever found when fall winds were wailing he carefully had hid. The sun is somewhere streaming on straws of yester-year, but only when we're dreaming their shadows reap-pear—thin shadows, dark and dim, and weighted down with woe, from out that bourne abyssal where house-cleansed discards go.

PUBLIC SCHOOL DEFECTS.

Editor World: My attention has just been called to the criticism of Mayor Hooker by James L. Hughes regarding some of the proposals that the mayor made concerning the increased expenditure of our public school system. I am not prepared to discuss this feature of our public school system because it would take some time and thought to make comparisons as to how our system compares with that of other cities. This is a subject that I think it would be very interesting to me if it was taken up and reported on, and what I am interested in, however, is that I believe that with the enormous amount of money being expended on our public school system, we are turning out a host of boys and girls who are unprepared for commercial life because of their inability to spell common ordinary words, and their handwriting of the majority of them is a disgrace. And before many of them can secure a good job, they have to be taught how to write and to spell, and in this way they are held in either private enterprise or we must turn our efforts into kindergarten schools to teach them.
 If any one has any doubt as to the truthfulness of these statements, simply place an advertisement in the press for either an office or a typographer and test them out, and you will find that the writing and spelling of ninety-five out of every one hundred would not begin to compare with the similar boys and girls who were taught in the schools under the supervision of Ernest Potvin, who years ago in Toronto when the school expenditure was very much less than it is now.
 I believe that Mayor Hooker has put his finger on a very important spot in our public expenditures, and I hope that every business man and every taxpayer will ascertain an answer to the following questions: Are we securing the results that we are paying for from the enormous expenditure we are making in our public school system? and if not, how can we be being burdened down with a host of unnecessary subjects at the expense of the essentials, viz: good reading, clear, legible writing and proper spelling. Then it is that some of these unnecessary subjects should be dispensed with.

NOT MILITANTS THIS TIME.

KINGSTON, May 19.—(Special)—The fine brick residence owned by D. A. Cays, unoccupied, on the outskirts of the city, was totally destroyed by fire. Fire bugs are blamed. A motor boat owned by Ernest Potvin was also totally destroyed while laid up at Kingston Mills.

When Appetite Fails And Digestion is Bad

There is Danger Ahead for the Man That Neglects Nature's Warning.
 Dyspepsia Tendencis Are Serious and Should Be Treated Accordingly.

There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum of Pleasant street, Dartmouth, N.S. Like thousands of people, he was falling in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away; he was losing ground every day.
 "I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave tone and strength to my stomach. The vital forces of my system seemed certainly to be slipping away. I was losing weight, I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins, my eyes and my nerves are cured, and I feel every day that my system is being restored. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have mastered the secret of curing the sick, everyone in failing or lost health use this grand remedy."
 Dr. Williams' Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable and are sold by all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid by the Cattaraugus Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

KINGSTON STILL HAS HOPE.

KINGSTON, May 19.—(Special)—Kingston is still hammering away to have the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway brought into the heart of the city.
 Leading citizens are still optimistic over it. A. W. Wheatley, managing director of the Canadian Locomotive Works, had a conversation with E. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk, and stated that the new branch of the railway company was in favor of carrying its main line further into the city. He stated that other officials must be convinced, but that other officials must be required to swing the main line of the company from the project would warrant such expenditure.

POLO, TENNIS AND GOLF

Movements in These Games to Be Reproduced on Stage.

Special Cable to The World. PARIS, May 19.—(Copyright)—Nijinski, the famous Russian dancer, has arrived for a season at the new theatre. He says he has plans for revolutionizing the ballet by introducing modern life and contemporary clothing into the dance. He got his idea from observing that each age produces its characteristic gestures, noting the wide difference between the thirteenth century monk studying a manuscript, and the eighteenth century beau dancing the minuet, and a man of the present day dancing the tango and the turkey trot. He has read a newspaper, he has closely observed the movements of polo, tennis, and golf players, all of which he finds beautiful and expressive of modern life. Already he has worked out an elaborate dance for four tennis players—two ladies and two men—all in white and light rackets, searching a moonlit lawn for a ball lost in the last game just before sunset. He will introduce such modern, unconventional features as Claude De Bussy's new ballet, "Les Jeux," which is to be produced tomorrow night for the first time.

EARL GREY PROJECT IS REJECTED BY B. C.

Province Will Not Erect Building on Aldwych Crescent Site.

LONDON, May 19.—The old Continental Hotel at Lower Regent and Charles streets, one of London's best known landmarks and famous for many years as a rendezvous for supper parties, has been sold to British Columbia and will be torn down, with three adjoining buildings, to make way for a big office building, to be the London headquarters of the Canadian Province.
 The decision to go to Regent street is a severe blow to Earl Grey, who has been trying to make Aldwych crescent the centre for the colonial government buildings.

Bodily Health Affects Character
 Character, as well as success in life, depends very largely on the condition of the health. You cannot imagine a sufferer from indigestion being cheerful in disposition. Nor do you expect a person with exhausted nerves to be other than nervous, irritable, easily excited and short-tempered.
 There was formerly much guesswork in the treatment of exhausted nerves, but since Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven so successful in restoring worn-out nerves, there is no necessity for experimenting. Some experiments are necessary for the advancement of science, but they need not be at your expense or your risk.

JOHNSON ASSAILED BY TOKIO PAPER

Stand Illiberal, Unjust and Anti-Japanese is Complaint

TOKIO, May 19.—(Can. Press.)—A section of the press bitterly denounces Gov. Johnson's reply to President Wilson as illiberal and unjust, declaring that it is strongly anti-Japanese and that Gov. Johnson is seeking to evade his own responsibility under cover of the national law.

It is pointed out that the Japanese have not acquired land by violence, and it is urged that they are no more objectionable than Europeans who acquire citizenship, amass wealth and return to their fatherland.

The Yordzu considers Gov. Johnson's attitude as an intolerable insult to Japan, which, it says, has always manifested good will and has voluntarily restricted emigration.

HYDRO LINEMEN SURE TO STRIKE

but we think that any body of men should be willing to leave the question to a board of arbitration. We have promised that we will abide by whatever decision is reached by arbitration, and that we will pay the men their increases from this present date.

Hydro Will Fight

Mr. Black states that if a strike is declared between 200 and 250 men will be affected. He also states that if the men go out the hydro-electric will fight them, no matter if the strike ties up all their work.

"Mayor Hoeken and Mr. Ellis are anxious to avoid all friction with the men, but they feel that if they are to guard the interests of the citizens they should not be submitted by the men to any intimidation," he said.

At the conference held yesterday Mr. Black stated that he was willing to recommend, and he was sure that the commission would accept any one of the following recommendations:

(a) That the men enter into a temporary agreement with the commission lasting from three months to one year, at an increase of 10 per cent. above what their wages were in February of 1912. This to cover linemen, patrolmen, station operators and station construction men.

(b) That the matter be left to arbitration, two men to be appointed by the commission, two men to be appointed by the employees, and one finding so arranged by this commission, to be dated back to May 20, 1913.

(c) That the matter be left to arbitration, two men to be appointed by the commission, two men to be appointed by the employees, and these four men to choose to select an Ontario judge to act as chairman of the arbitration board, and to be the fifth member of same. Any finding so decided on by this board to date back to May 20, 1913.

The linemen held a meeting last night to discuss the dispute with the commission regarding wages. The less aggressive members of the union had a hard time keeping the more militant section from calling a strike right away.

The commission has promised to give a final decision on Thursday week, and a committee was appointed to meet them on that date. If the decision is adverse it is evident from the tone of the meeting that a strike will be called. In the meantime the men are working on a 10 per cent. increase until Thursday week.

The men want 40 cents per hour for high-paid linemen and 34 cents per hour as the minimum wage. At present the best wage paid by the Hydro is $3 per day for nine hours, against $3.60 for an eight-hour day in Chicago and $4.90 per day in Calgary.

"You see," said one man to The World last night, "linemen's work is dangerous. There are more linemen and men in any other trade you can mention. As rents are now, and as the cost of living is high, we don't think our demands are unreasonable."

Engaged in Hamilton.

Fifty men were engaged by an employment agency at Hamilton yesterday to come to Toronto and take the places of linemen of the Toronto Hydro-Electric Commission in case a strike should break out. These men were to be given $3.50 per day and board, including their railway fares to Toronto.

Exquisite Summer Lamps.

While the shops show many attractive lamps for summer use, especially for the porch, there is none that is so thoroughly in keeping with the season of warm weather as those in which wicker plays an important part. Some of the bowls are of pottery, wicker covered, while the lamps for electric lights have simple standards of wood, in artistic design, painted and enameled either in white, brown, or green. The wicker is woven in a sufficiently open pattern to disclose the coloring of the creton lining beneath.

Perhaps daintier, and so more especially suited for the boudoir, is the lamp which has a shade of creton, finished with a fringe of beads. The design of the creton is chosen so that each panel of the shade is a finished unit. There are several attractive shapes in the frames used for this purpose.

Met Mr. Borden.

Mr. Grlpton of St. Catharines, the writer of the articles "Don't Let Laurier Mortgage Our Homes" and "Save the Canadian Beaver from the American Eagle" which appeared in many of the Conservative papers before the general election, was in the city yesterday to welcome Premier Borden.

G. SMITH AND J. WILLARD FIGHT TODAY AT FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—If Gunboat Smith wins tomorrow's battle with Jess Willard, there will be two claimants of the white heavyweight title, with little chance of bringing them together, according to Jim Buckley, manager for Smith.

"If Willard wins, McCarty will box him," said Buckley, "but if my man wins, watch Luther stay in the tall timbers."

ST. JAMES' GATE BREWERY.

The soul must take off its interest- edness as the body must remove its vestments. Passions of any kind, cravings, and all heats are against sleep. One is very fortunate who has a habit of prayer, for there is nothing can still the soul like purging the conscience before God; and cares, pricking annoyances, dreads, and all mental tensions can be remedied in no way more satisfactorily than by letting the consciousness of God wash the soul. A sense of friendliness and peace toward the Infinite is the surest medicine for sleep.—Dr. Frank Crane, in Woman's World.

Woodbine More Platers In Good Trials

KING'S PLATE CANDIDATES SHOWING CLASS IN TRIALS

Mausolus Goes the Distance in a Mere Practice Slower Than Hearts of Oak—Seagram and Dymont Horses Also Show Speed in Training.

The early morning work of the Seagram King's Plate candidates, Voivode and Maid of Frome, when they ran the full Plate distance, one mile and a quarter, in 2:15 2-5, with the track far from being in first-class form Sunday, further establishes the fact that the president of the O.J.C. again has a strong card to play this year, and selecting the ultimate winner was made more difficult yesterday morning when the good three-year-old Mausolus, owned by Messrs. Roberts and Pratt, at Eddie Gleason's stable, worked the distance in the open and before a large number of interested spectators, in 2:14 1-4.

Previous to the work of Mausolus the Giddings pair, Hearts of Oak and Ondramida (the latter a three-year-old filly that was a winner last year), worked three-quarters in 1:15 2-5, with the colt a couple of lengths in front at the finish. In this work Hearts of Oak showed a surprising turn of speed as he ran the first quarter in 34 seconds, the three-eighths in 1:01, and the half in 1:15 4-5; five-eighths in 1:31, and the full furlong, as stated. The filly Ondramida also surprised the natives by being right up all the way and she was going the faster of the two at the end of six furlongs. There, to further complicate matters, Trainer Eddie Whyte sent Col. Hendrie's candidate, the 4-year-old Rockspring, at a sprint of three furlongs, from the barrier in 35 4-5 seconds. This turn of speed brings Rockspring in the list of probable winners of the Ontario Jockey Club's classic event, which will be raced on Saturday.

Trainer Eddie Whyte has confined his efforts with this horse in trying to get him in shape to go the distance, as the horse was big and slow to get into condition, and now that he has shown he can keep up with the procession, in the early stages of the big race Rockspring is regarded as a dangerous rival for the other starters.

The Dymont pair, Cystawaga and Elfaun, were also worked the complete distance yesterday, and while they did nothing sensational, their first mile in 1:47

NEW INTERPROVINCIAL ROWING ASSOCIATION

Hamilton Organizes the Body and Will Hold Regatta—The Argos Practice.

Hamilton has organized the new Interprovincial Rowing Association, which proposes to hold a championship regatta each year, but unlike the Royal Canadian Henley to be held in a different city each year. Mr. McAllister, the organizer, has communicated with all the clubs in Eastern Canada, and the replies were gratifying. The Argonauts, Don and Toronto Clubs of Toronto, Ottawa and St. Catharines Rowing Clubs have already expressed a willingness to join the new association and enter crews in the first regatta at Hamilton, July 16. The representatives appointed are as follows: Argos—W. G. Greer and P. E. Boyd. Dons—Wm. Crawford and T. A. Murphy. St. Kitts—P. L. Schran and W. W. Butler. Ottawa—E. H. Purford and S. N. Nagle. Hamilton—R. T. Steele and J. W. McAllister.

The Argos senior eight are practicing hard every evening for their trip to England, and the boys are just about in the pink of condition now. The one vacant position at No. 2 has not been finally settled on, but there are several candidates and Coach Wright will not decide until the end of the week. The fours are showing considerable interest in the forthcoming Dominion Day regatta, and will try hard to capture several events.

The Necessity of Well-Fitting Clothes

An Excellent Assortment of Two-Piece Summer Suits

CLOTHES ARE AN INDEX to the man, and just as a well-kept garden and lawns and a generous use of paint on the outside augurs a well-kept and well-managed house, so does a well-groomed, smartly-dressed exterior hint to the casual observer of a man's personality. Thus, it is merely common-sense for any man to be careful of his appearance, and to procure the best clothes that he can afford for all occasions, hence a light weight Summer or Outing Suit should be chosen just as carefully as a Dress Suit.

In the Men's Wear Department he will find selection easy, for here is a greater assortment of well-cut, carefully-tailored, two-piece Outing Suits than we have ever before displayed. The materials are excellent, and will prove very satisfactory in wear, and all are fashionably cut in the new form-fitting styles.

A large variety of hairline-striped, pencil-striped materials, fancy mixtures and tropical weight worsteds, in light shades, superbly tailored and finished with natural shoulders and closely-fitting collars, is procurable at $16.50 $18.00 and $20.00.

Smart Suits, composed of light fawn homespun and light gray chevot, with a fine twill, are single-breasted and designed and tailored so that they are particularly soft and light. They are quarter lined and possess patch pockets. The trousers are provided with belt loops and have cuff bottoms. Price $15.00.

Useful Outing Suits in cassimere-finished materials, in new weaves and striped designs, are obtainable in light grays and fawns. The coats are single-breasted, half lined with lustre to match, and are extremely well tailored, the inside seams being taped. Price $12.50.

A splendid selection is procurable at $11.50. For instance, a navy blue twill serge, a plain fawn homespun, navy chevot with a gray thread stripe and a plain homespun in a medium gray shade are included in the group. They are made as soft and light as possible, the coats being single-breasted and half lined only. Trousers have cuff bottoms and loops for belt. Price $11.50.

A chevot-finished material in Oxford gray with silver thread stripes 7/8-inch apart, makes a very stylish, cool suit for Summer. This possesses a single-breasted, half-lined coat, the price being $10.00.

The fashionable Connemara homespun tweed—a fawn ground with a sprinkling of gray and golden brown, composes a suit that will give good service and lasting wear. The single-breasted coat is half lined with lustre, and the trousers are cut in correct outing style, with cuff bottoms and belt loops. Sizes 34 to 44. Price $8.50.

New Players Seen At Indians' Workout

W. Lighthead and Harris Arrive—Several Coming Today—Coast Teams Ready.

The Tecumsehs held their second practice last night at the island and several new faces put in their appearance. Lawson Whitehead arrived from the States where he has been coaching Swarthmore College, but Jimmy Collins did not come with him as was expected. He will most likely get home today. Hattie of St. Catharines was out and looks to be good, altho he has still to take off a lot of weight. He is big and strong. McTear failed to report, but he will be on hand tomorrow. It is most likely that train connections or something was that detained him. Winners, the Landsdowne man, displayed a lot of clever stick handling and speed and will be most likely carried as a spare if he does not make a regular practice. Guy Smith worked hard and kept going the whole of the night, most of the time. Grant in goal is a good amateur, but he lacks the only asset of the pro, net-tender, and that is he does not get out of his goal. He scoops them out, but that kind of clearing will never get by in the pro ranks, as it tires the defence out too much. There are two other goal tenders in the game that catch the ball, but they are the only possible solution to save a slow defence from a fast home. A goal net is expected to take the ball out or pass it out, and save the defence men all he can. Bun Clark, Holmes, Kinsman and, possibly one or two others, are the only ones who do this. With Querrie doing the coaching; Grant and Torpey, Davidson, McGreggor, Harris, Yeaman, Whitehead, Rowland, Guy Smith, Feller, Winsay, Carmichael, McKenzie and Stevenson, Graydon has decided that the salary is not too small after all and will be out tonight again.

Sunderland gave another brilliant display on Saturday, beating C.N.R. by 4 goals to 0. The visitors' half-back line was unable to hold the opposing forwards, who scored two goals in each half. C.N.R. made some dangerous attacks and were unlucky not to score on more than one occasion. Their full-backs were steady under very heavy pressure, and the goalkeeper, Sutherland, kept a very brilliant goal, all the scoring shots being unstopable. Sutherland's claims to represent Toronto are becoming very strong.
