WHITNEY ISSUES PRE-ELECTION ADDRESS TO PEOPLE OF ONTARIO

Hydro-Electric Commission To Be Superseded by Minister of Power—Government May Use Expropriation to Solve Power Problem in Central and Eastern Ontario—G.T.R. To Be Granted Running Rights Over T. & N. O.—Federal Aid to Northern Ontario Immigration.

PREMIER MAKES NO MENTION OF BILINGUAL SCHOOL QUESTION

Mr. James Whitney last night announced that the Provincial elections are to be held on Monday, Dec. 11, the nominations on the previous Monday, the 4th.

The new legislature will be the thirteenth since 1867, and may be counted upon for some ill-luck for one side of the house or the other. The legislature dissolved on May 2, 1908, had endured for three years and a summer; the present legislature has already exceeded that term by about two months.

Formal dissolution of the house and the issue of the writs for the new legislature will take place shortly, the delay being intended to give the municipal officers the longest possible time for the preparation of the polling lists.

This duty should have been undertaken during the summer, but, as usual, was generally allowed to go by default.

Mr. James gave the following statement to the press on making the announcement:

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO:

Gentlemen: Nearly seven years have elapsed since you entrusted the government of the province to my colleagues and myself, and in June, 1908, you signified, by an overwhelmingly majority, your approval of the record we had made up to that time.

Shortly stated, we had, in a little more than three years:

- Abolished the numbered ballot.
- Taken the first step towards the creation of agricultural schools by appointing district representatives in agriculture, and largely increased the expenditure for agricultural purposes.
- Reconstructed the administration and financial resources of the provincial university.
- Revised the mining laws and taken a cabinet minister from New Ontario.
- Restored the old law relating to county councils.
- Imposed taxation upon the railways, one-half of which goes to the municipalities.
- Put an end to the granting of subsidies to railways.
- Created a railway and municipal board.
- Reduced the price of school books by one-half and destroyed the school book ring.
- Revised the public school system, created a consultative council, to which the teachers elect representatives, and provided for large grants in aid of payment of teachers' salaries.
- Honestly and successfully enforced the Liquor License Law.
- Extended the government railway.
- Brought the Hydro-Electric scheme forward and in sight of completion.
- Increased the expenditure for the construction of colonization roads and encouraged the development of New Ontario.
- Put the provincial finances on a sound and stable footing, doubled the provincial revenue, and put upon the statute book a large amount of important and constructive legislation.

Increased Revenue.

Since then we have gone on endeavoring to discharge our duties with an eye solely to the best interests of the people, and, among the results of our policy and our administration of the finances of the province are the following:

The amount payable towards the salaries of teachers in public schools has been increased until this year each will amount to about $475.00.

We have devised a system for industrial training in the urban schools liberally aided by money grants.

A course in agriculture for public school teachers has been established in the Agricultural College at Guelph.

The amount to be paid to the University of Toronto this year will reach to about the sum of $488,000.

The amount appropriated this year for the construction of colonization roads is $582,000.

The amount of revenue collected by each department of the government has largely increased.

Great success has attended the work done by the district representatives in agriculture attached to a number of our collegiate institutes and high schools. In several instances municipal councils have increased their remuneration and there is a general demand for them from all sections of the province.

The commissioner appointed to collect information regarding legislation affecting the compensation for injuries to workmen and to report a bill in that behalf has made good progress with the very important matter he has in charge.

The erection of the new Central Prison buildings at Guelph has been commenced. A large part of the work has been done by the prisoners and the results fully justify the experiment tried by the provincial secretary of treating the prisoners as not unworthy of trust, rather than as ordinary convicts.

The board of parole instituted by the provincial secretary has proved to be an unqualified success, and great good has already resulted from the operation of it.

Railway Progress.

The main line of the Ontario Government Railway has been completed to Cochrane on the G. T. P. Railway, a distance of 253 miles, and the Portcupine branch it is expected will be completed to Mattagami River before the end of the present year. Before the end of the present year, the railway, with branches, will have about 380 miles in operation. Surveys for a possible extension of the line have been made as far north as James Bay, in case it is decided to continue the line to that point.

An engagement has been entered into with the Grand Trunk Railway for running rights of its trains over the line, in consideration of which the company assumes an equitable share of the general maintenance of the road and pays the sum of $300,000 per annum as rental for such running rights, this sum representing one-half of the interest on the total cost of construction of the railway.

Minister of Power.

The great scheme for the utilization of electric power has, after many vicissitudes and in the face of bitter and relentless opposition, been accomplished and is now in operation and practically within reach of the farmers and other residents in the villages and rural districts, and I am glad to say that the cost of construction has been $85,000.00 less than the estimated cost. It should not be forgotten that this policy of the government contemplates the furnishing of electric power at cost to all sections of the province, but great efforts have been made by interested individuals to hamper and prevent the carrying out of the intentions of the government in the central and

Whitney's Look Ahead

Premier Whitney gives as the more important questions upon which the people of the province should have an opportunity of pronouncing:

(1) As to the advisability of further provincial appropriations if necessary to any scheme of development by reason of the financial aid to be given by the Dominion Government, and also of any statutory enactment which may be found to be necessary under the circumstances.

(2) Whether the government of the province shall continue to urge upon the Dominion Government the payment of a bonus or subsidy on account of the construction of the T. & N. O. Railway.

(3) Whether a department of government shall be created, with a cabinet minister at its head, to take over and carry on the work heretofore done by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

The question of the opening up of Northern Ontario is said to be obviously of great importance and should be dealt with without delay. The only result of the addition to population in the newer districts is to increase the provincial expenditure, while the Dominion derives an increased income from the greater consumption of goods paying tariff duties. The Provincial Government, therefore, notes with satisfaction Mr. Borden's announcement that he would favor the giving of financial aid by the Dominion to the province in the work of immigration to Northern Ontario; the construction of permanent highways for the province, and for providing practical instruction in agriculture. Legislation to provide for the disposition of any sums voted by the Dominion for these purposes is contemplated and mentioned as "the enactment of statutory provisions of a very important character."

The T. & N. O. Railway policy is the most aggressive feature of the address. An engagement has been entered into with the Grand Trunk Railway for running rights of its trains over the line, in consideration of which the company assumes an equitable share of the general maintenance of the road, and pays the sum of $300,000 per annum as rental for such running rights, this sum representing one-half of the interest on the total cost of construction of the railway.

Sir James refers to the "bitter and relentless opposition" to the Hydro-Electric power scheme, which is intended to furnish power at cost to all sections of Ontario, and the great efforts which "have been made by interested individuals to hamper and prevent the carrying out of the intentions of the government in the central and eastern parts of the province. So far have these efforts gone that in all probability we shall be compelled," says Sir James, "to use the powers given us by statute with reference to expropriation."

Sir James refers to the "very patriotic and unselfish exertions of Hon. Adam Beck, Hon. J. S. Hendrie and Mr. W. K. McNaught to the commission, and announces the discontinuance of the commission and the establishment of a new power department with a cabinet minister at its head.

LEAPED TO DEATH FROM MOTOR CAR

Melrose Morrison, Accountant of Dovercourt Land Company, Fractured Skull on North Dufferin Street.

Jumping from a motor car in which he was riding with four other persons between Eglinton and St. Clair, in Dufferin-street, Melrose F. Morrison, chief accountant of the Dovercourt Land and Savings Co., was fatally injured at 7 o'clock last night. His companions picked him up unconscious, but still breathing and rushed him in the car to the office of Dr. Walter McCowen, College-street, only to find upon their arrival that their speedy trip had been in vain, for the young man was dead.

The story of the accident told by the others in the car is that the car was running swiftly down Dufferin-street with its four passengers when it swerved alarmingly upon striking a stone or knoll in the roadway. The car careened, and Mr. Morrison seems to have believed that it was going to overturn, for he jumped headlong from the car. His skull was fractured, and the doctor believes that death must have been almost instantaneous. The body was removed to the morgue.

Mr. Morrison was riding in the company's car at the time, and an incident which may well have prompted his unfortunate jump, was the death of Henry Langworthy, chauffeur, who was killed at Hog's Hollow, Sept. 23, while the Robins Limited car, which he was driving back from a trip to show real estate north of the city, turned turtle, while the other three passengers of the car, who were thrown clear of it, escaped with minor injuries.

Struck a Knoll.

William Stewart, 584 Brock-avenue, says that he was walking south in Dufferin-street when he was overtaken by the car. Just as it came abreast of him it seemed to strike a knoll in the roadway and swerved so that it mounted a bank at the side of the road. He

CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT FOR CHINA

Imperial Edict Issued According to Demand of National Assembly—Nobles to Be Excluded From Cabinet—Pardon to Those Compelled to Join Revolution.

PEKING, Oct. 30.—The demand of the national assembly for a complete constitutional government has been acceded to by the throne. An imperial edict was issued to-day, apologizing for the past neglect of the throne, and granting an immediate constitution with a cabinet, from which nobles shall be excluded. A second edict grants pardon to political offenders connected with the revolution of 1898 and subsequent revolutions, and to those compelled to join in the present rebellion.

The imperial edict, which is from the hand of the emperor, Hsuan-Tung, says: "I have reigned three years and have always acted conscientiously in the interests of the people. But I have not employed men properly, as I am without political skill. I have employed too many nobles in political position, which contravenes constitutionalism."

"On railway matters one whom I trusted deceived me. Hence public opinion was antagonized. When I urge reform, officials and the gentry seize the opportunity to embezzle. Much of the people's money has been taken, but nothing to benefit the people has been achieved."

"On several occasions edicts have promulgated laws, but none of them has been obeyed. The people are grumbling, yet I do not know. Disasters loom ahead, but I do not see."

After referring to the uprisings in various places, the edict continues:

Swears to Reform.

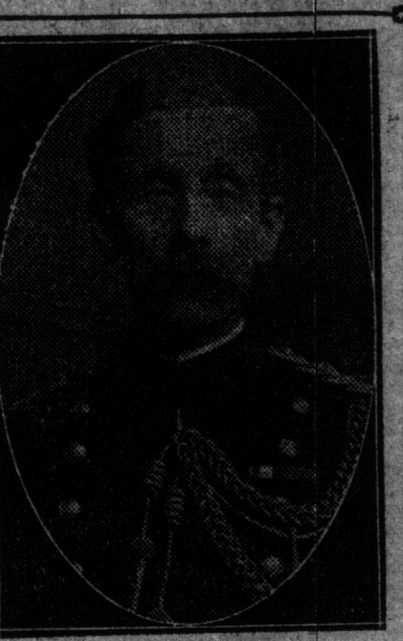

"The whole empire is seething. The spirits of our nine deceased emperors are unable to enjoy the sacrifices properly, while it is feared that the people will suffer grievously."

"All these things are my own fault, and I hereby announce to the world that I swear to reform, and with our soldiers and people, to carry out the constitution faithfully, modifying legislation, promoting the interests of the people and abolishing their hardships, all in accordance with their wishes and interests. The old laws that are unsuitable will be abolished. The union of the Manchus and Chinese, mentioned by the late emperor, I shall carry out now. Finance and diplomacy have reached bedrock."

"Even if all unite, I still fear that we may fail. If the empire's subjects do not regard and do not honor fate, and are easily misled by outlaws, then the future of China is unthinkable. I am most anxious day and night. My

TORONTO TROOPS FAILED TO REPEL INVASION OF ALLIES

JUDGE IN CONFLICT WITH COUNSEL FOR DEFENCE

Refused Privilege of Challenge—Attorney Takes Exception to Rulings of Court.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Judge Walter Bordwell accused the defence in the McNamara murder case to-day of trying to circumvent his rulings and rejected two challenges against talesmen, their challenges having formed the basis of his accusation.

He also refused to the defence the privilege of challenge against a juror who said he would not convict a prisoner in a capital case on circumstantial evidence alone, holding that this challenge was available only to the state.

Under these rulings the jury box contained at the close of court to-night, three men passed for cause by both sides in addition to the four previously qualified.

To both of the court's main rulings, Attorney Clarence S. Darrow took exception in behalf of his client James E. McNamara, who is on trial for the murder of Charles J. Hawerty, a victim of the Los Angeles Times' explosion a year ago.

For the first time since the trial began, the defence brought into court one of its investigators to confront a talesman, R. H. Fitzgerald, an attorney, took the stand after George W. Johnson, a retired superintendent of an iron and brass foundry, had said he had not told anyone it was his belief that the Times was blown up by union men and had not talked to anyone about the case. Fitzgerald testified that he visited Johnson to obtain some statistical information, and later talked to him about the explosion.

Challenges against A. C. Winter and Walter N. Prumpton on the ground that they would not convict on circumstantial evidence were also denied, but these men met the disapproval of the court, as being intended to circumvent a previous ruling that the men were not disqualified because of their expressed opinions that James E. McNamara was guilty of murder. Both men had contradicted themselves under examination by opposing counsel, the court pointed out.

Despite Prodigies of Valor on Part of Defence, Attacking Host, Double in Numbers, Won Battle of Dundas Valley—Many Stirring Incidents of Day's Warfare.

"It was a famous victory." Unfortunately, it seems that the result of the sham battle fought between Toronto's doughty troops and the soldiery of this city and environs was in favor of the men of Hamilton. The object, in a nutshell, was for the troops of Hamilton to gain entrance to the Town of Dundas, about five miles west of Hamilton, and it seems that they did it, notwithstanding the wonderful defence of the position by the Toronto men. However, there is the consolation that Canadians won the victory of Thanksgiving Day, adding another wreath to their long string.

Since the fall of Troy it is not likely that such courage in defence and attack have been seen as that displayed. Whole battalions were wiped out by the fire of the enemy, only to rise again and press onward, the full of bullets. Such unflinching bravery is surely worthy of a monument in the Hall of Fame.

The manoeuvres were carried on under the watchful eyes of Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia; General Otter, inspector-general of the forces of Canada, and Major-Gen. Mackenzie, chief of the general staff, who was chief umpire.

Following composed the red force: Toronto brigade of infantry, field battery, and Mississauga Horse, Governor-General's Body Guard, field company of Canadian engineers, Army Medical Corps, Toronto.

The greys were as follows: Two brigades infantry, 13th, Hamilton; 18th, St. Catharines; 25th, Brantford; 31st, Hamilton; 1th, London; 2nd, Woodstock; 14th, Chatham; 20th, Wellington Rifles.

Heavy With Forties.

It was indeed a day of tragedy. The sun rose bloody red, a fearsome augury. Heading it not, the light-hearted soldiery went singing to their doom, and the gay officers, thinking pleasant thoughts of their lady loves, tripped merrily along with them. From the first, all omens looked the men of Toronto in the eye, but the men of Toronto laughed at fate and continued blithely on their way.

The troop trains were late, but that had no effect on the sturdy spirits of the men. What cared they? If by their lateness the enemy would gain ground they would take it from them even at heavy loss of life. With their souls filled with hope they advanced, little recking that they would go down amid awful slaughter to defeat. But it was not inglorious defeat. Their deeds of valor in the face of countless odds covered them with glory.

The beaten from a military point of view they were victors—victors who will, the few who are left, go to their graves, honored of their enemies, for they showed not the white feather, but met their fate like heroes.

The Carnage Started.

The valley was covered with mist when the defenders of the thriving Town of Dundas arrived on the scene. Singing the songs of soldierdom they spread thruout the country, forming lines of defence round about the threatened village. Then they waited until the stealthy foe in vast numbers poured down upon them.

But very little firing was done before one o'clock. Not until then did the battle really commence. Until that time the only shots heard were those of the pickets and the outposts. The forces of the defence, made up of the men of Toronto, held the best positions available. It was not an ideal place for combat, for it was all hills, dunes, rivers and hedges. The defending force was too small for such a task. Arrayed against them were two brigades of infantry, a section of artillery and some cavalry, in all about two thousand men. The defenders amounted to only about 1000.

When at around 1 o'clock the two

Fashionable Fall Hat for Men.

You know the Velour, Alpine shape, hat for men, but do you know the real Austrian Velour? It is of very attractive design, and in material is full fine texture and very quiet, but rich in coloring. The Dinsen Company received on Saturday morning last some fifty dozen of these hats direct from Vienna, Austria. These include the latest tints, such as London tan, golden brown, deep moss green, elephant grey and silver grey. These Velour hats are the stylish head-gear for well groomed men the world over. It is distinctly a fall, winter or spring hat.

World's Typewriting Championship

again won, with record-breaking speed and accuracy, on the Underwood Typewriter

ONCE each year for six consecutive years at the Annual Business Show, Madison Square Garden, New York City, the world's fastest typists have competed for the World's Championship and $1,000 trophy. Every contest, every year, in every class, has been won on the Underwood Typewriter. Following are the World's Championship Records for one hour's writing from unfamiliar matter, after five words were deducted for every error:—

Year	Winner	Net Words Per Min.	Machine Used
November 1st, 1906	Rose L. Fritz	82	Underwood
October 17th, 1907	"	87	Underwood
October 22nd, 1908	"	87	Underwood
September 30th, 1909	"	95	Underwood
October 27th, 1910	H. O. Blaisdell	109	Underwood

The official record of the Underwood for one hour's work is 23 words a minute better than the best record of any competing machine. The winning operator may change, but the winning machine is always the Underwood.

The Underwood Typewriter plant is 50% larger than any other. More Underwood Typewriters are manufactured and sold than any other writing machine in the world. It is "the machine you will eventually buy."

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS

At the Princess

Marie Doro in "A Butterfly on the Wheel."

One tremendous scene is sufficient to make the fortune of any play, and the third act of "A Butterfly on the Wheel" not only furnishes this sensation, but tells an absorbing story in the other three acts in a clever and amusing and impressive way. A capricious audience at the Princess last night watched the development of the plot, in which the coils gradually tighten around a silly young wife until the divorce court grants a decree to her husband on the damning evidence, which is yet insufficient to convince him after all. The play was magnificently acted and the staging was perfect. Those who are curious about the interior of the English divorce court during the proceedings in a fashionable divorce case have an opportunity to witness an absolutely life-like section of the enthralling drama laid bare to them in this absorbing scene. Of course the authors, Edward G. Hemmings and Francis Nulton, have constructed their play around the great scene, but it comes in as a perfectly natural development in the course of the story. Only the trial could convince the husband of his wife's innocence, whatever the lawyers might think, and this is its dramatic warrant to the audience.

Roderick Collingwood, known as "Colly" (Charles Quartermaine), has long loved Peggy (Marie Doro). Geo. Adamston's wife, who is devoted to her clever but treacherous husband, and let much alone, amuses herself with the devotion of "Colly." Lady Adair, or Alice (Olive Temple), has admitted Adamston also. She and Lord Eldridge (Ferdinand Gottschalk) are intimate with Peggy and "Colly," and plan a trip to Switzerland. At Boulogne Peggy and "Colly" get on the wrong train and arrive in Paris. "Colly" has really planned the mishap, but Peggy suspects nothing. The play opens in the hotel at Paris. Peggy in distress is at the telephone when the door opens and Dolly enters her room. She orders him out, but he tempts her to stay by smoking a cigarette. She lets him stay to smoke a cigarette. The telephone rings again and Coffey answers it to find Adamston on the wire. Coffey advises Peggy not to speak and the first coil is wound. Coffey is a passionate outburst, which she is unable to resist, kisses Peggy, who is horrified and frightened rings for her maid and dismisses him. The next morning Lady Adair and Eldridge arrive and in order to ally suspicion invent a story that they had all missed the train and all stayed in Paris. Adamston arrives and has little difficulty in showing up the deception. The divorce scene follows, and the last act clears up the one mystery of the play. Lord Eldridge is capitally done. The vacant-headed fatuous peer was drolly done by Mr. Gottschalk. Mr. Quartermaine makes the best of a thankless part, and manages to show the best, still shining thru the worst. A little of the god enters into the heart. Charles Millward as George Adamston was dignified and strong as the reserved and preoccupied man of affairs, who left his wife to be entertained by others. The court scene with its legal trappings was perfect. Wigs and gowns were but the least part of the abundance of detail which went to the reproduction of the famous background of outraged British virtue. Sir Robert Fyfe, K.C., M.P., the leading counsel, was a likable legal study by Sidney Valentine. The veracity of this picture should attract every lawyer in the city. Marie Doro herself is the centre of everything, whether as a wearer of gowns, a charming ingenue, a cruelly tortured woman who cannot understand the unbelief of those who love her, or in the mingled innocence and defiance and despair of the court room scene when in a burst of magnificent passion she denounces the man-made laws that are loaded against her sex. "No man will ever believe that the opportunity for wrong is not the same as the actual doing of it." Marie Doro was strong through, and her versatility in smiles and tears, in broken grief and in dignified remonstrance were finely climaxed in the yearning, yielding happiness of the finale. She grips the audience by her humanity, her womanly variety and inconsequence, and the reality of it is finer than mere acting. She clearly feels it.

At the Royal Alexandra

Grace George in "Just to Get Married"

Humor and pathos, laughter and tears are near allied and never or long separated. So indeed the crowded audiences at the Royal Alexandra, both afternoon and evening, found the delightful comedy selected for this week's engagement of Miss Grace George and the New York Play House Company. Written by Cicely Hamilton it had a remarkably successful run of over three hundred nights in London, a record which of itself sufficiently discloses its high quality. Certainly the three acts of "Just to Get Married" provide not only a story of deep human interest, but characters with real individuality and a series of situations growing naturally out of each other, yet all subservient to the dominant theme of the play. This is genuine dramatic art and it comes as a relief from the mechanical construction only too prevalent in the work of modern playwrights. The problem of the poor relation in society has been treated many times and in diverse manners. When the poor relation happens to be a charming girl, whose aunt has married a baronet and is determined to have her settled in life in the only way which does not conflict with the pride of the family, the situation has its humor and may have its tragedy. Such is the lot of Emeline Vicary, who at the age of 29 is still unwedded. Unfortunately for her, she is at heart a rebel against the conventional code to which she must conform, and the dramatist succeeds in suggesting this in the opening moments of the comedy. It says much for the skillful construction of "Just to Get Married" that the audience, even before they are aware, get firm hold of the key of the maze, with the natural result that every line of the clever dialog has an irresistible appeal. They are not puzzled over the mystery. Knowing how the persons of the drama stand, they enjoy to the full the evolution of their relationship.

Into the circle of the Grays comes Adam Lankester, a Canadian who has roughed it, but is clean grit all through. Wealthy at last by bequest, he is irresistibly attracted by Emeline Vicary, whom he endows with every perfection his imagination can conceive. At first accepting the role which she knows she must fulfill, she plays her part with all her woman's skill, but not without revealing her inward protest. But her wiles succeed. Adam proposes and is accepted and forthwith develops an idolization which jars every fibre of her soul. The kinder and more generous he becomes the more her better nature clamors for acknowledgment, until on the eve of the wedding day and inspired by latest offering at her shrine, she confesses all her duplicity. Voices her sorrow and breaks off her engagement. Adam misunderstands and with a man's dullness cannot see that it is the real love he has awakened that has compelled her renunciation. It needs her flight from her aunt's house, her misadventures on her four miles tramp and then accidental meeting at the railway station to teach him that he has really gained the wife he wanted chaste and refined by the fires of her trial.

Patetic and with its touch of tragedy it must not be thought that the story is not relieved by the humor which comes without effort from its more sordid side. The first act is one of fine comedy, admirably interpreted by Miss George as Emeline and Lyn Harding as Adam Lankester. The feminine artifices of the one were thrown into effective contrast with the shy timidity of the lover. Time and time again he seemed about to take the plunge, only to retreat. When all else was exhausted, it needed her hand on the handle of the door to bring his declaration, to be followed immediately by his ecstatic demonstrations of joy at the wonderful happiness vouchsafed to him. All this was genuine comedy, most cleverly and sympathetically acted. He kept the audience not only amused, but charmed, and followed as this was by the deeper notes struck in the succeeding acts, relieved those were by the equally humorous touches introduced thru the sudden demolition of the family hopes.

Miss George is an actress seen to very great advantage in a play of this class. Delightful and vivacious in her comedy, she can without effort portray with no less skill the general awakening of the true woman, and realize the struggle thru which the heroine passes. Yesterday's audience followed her presentation of Emeline Vicary with an attention that was the highest compliment to her dramatic genius. Mr. Harding gave her splendid support, playing with an ease that never transgressed the bounds of high art. Nor did the remainder of the company fall below the standard of excellence set them. Miss Jane Corcoran as Mrs. Macartney, Miss Alda Cortelyou as Frances Mellish and Miss Mona Morgan as Bertha Graye gave excellent characterizations. P. Owen Baxter cleverly depicted the henpecked baronet and Ernest Chester acceptably filled the role of Tom Graye. The comedy was beautifully staged and was enthusiastically received. It will be presented during the week, with a matinee on Saturday only.

At the Grand

Billy B. Van in "A Lucky Hoodoo"

Billy B. Van, the distinctive comedian and local favorite, who is known as the original Patsy Bolivar, is at the Grand this week with "A Lucky Hoodoo." Van says his company were greeted by capacity houses at both performances yesterday, and the show was a bit from start to finish. As a fun-maker Billy B. Van is without a peer, and he has the brand of humor that makes universal appeal. The supporting company seems anxious to follow the lead of the star, and the satisfactory result is one of the smoothest and snappiest performances imaginable.

"A Lucky Hoodoo" is best described as a scream of laughter in two big whoops. The performance is full of ginger. It overflows with liveliness and fairly bubbles with activity. The first act represents the stage of the Gaiety Theatre on Mon. by one & 1/2 ready for rehearsal. The troupe of Steve Gall, the property man, are very amusing and the audience fairly yelled with the running fire of jokes and sallies.

The second act shows Madam Holdemidgie's parlor of palimony. Steve, following the close of the Gaiety Theatre, is forced to seek a new "hang-out" and obtained a position as office boy in the palimony parlor. His attempts at telling fortunes brought forth bursts of applause, which at times shook the theatre.

There are 21 musical numbers sung by the company, which numbers 50. Among those which made the biggest hits are "Oh, You Frogs," "Loving Moon," "The I'm Pim Man" and "Highlanders on Parade."

It is a rollicking comedy and the audience was hilariously noisy. Mr. Van had the big company of girls laughing as much as the audience. The whole cast seemed to be enjoying the performance as much as those across the footlights from them.

At the Star

"The Cherry Blossoms"

"Cherry Blossoms" is the title of the burlesque at the Star Theatre this week. Two brilliant and side-splitting comedies, "What Happened to McGurk" and "Widow McCarthy's Boarders" keep the audience in a laughing mood for two solid hours at both performances yesterday.

The burlesque is not only above the average, because of its many well-known comedians, but also because of its exquisite scenery and Parisian model costumes. The play was written especially for this company by John H. Perry, and has met with grand success in every city where it has been staged.

At the Gayety

"Painting the Town"

One of the brightest burlesque shows of the season is "Painting the Town," which opened at the Gayety yesterday, playing to crowded houses.

Jack Singer, Pete Curley and Will Hilday are among the artists appearing in the show. Jack Singer made a plot to ruin his rival in the affections of a young lady by using his police and political pull to weave the net of a false prosecution around him. This is thwarted by a plucky ruse worked out by the girl and a funny, merry-go-round of young lawyers, aided by a newspaperman, and at the last moment by a young thief, who rather foolishly lets himself in for a six instead of a three year sentence in states prison, and his woman. Incidentally are introduced a couple of fighting Irishmen, a female shoplifter and a dope fiend. There is this to be said, that if newspapermen have ever misunderstood or been hard upon actor Billy, the cult got a good deal more than even when they set out to portray a newspaper man, but I suppose that the real newspaper man is much too humdrum a person to make good melodramatic material. It is a good sketch, well staged and true enough to get by.

One of the neatest animal acts, and one which is calculated to convulse the kiddies, as it did their elders last night, is McLaughlin's Dope. These clever little fellows do some clever work, rolling spheres up and down a spiral track and finish with a screamingly accurate aerobical stunt, which yesterday made even the dogs grin in appreciation of the fun.

Lee White and George Perry sing some rollicking songs and get away with a generally entertaining line of comedy. McGinnis Bros. dance much better than most. One imitates Eddie Leonard, while the other does a moderate imitation of Mille de Leon. Leo Carillo tells some funny stories and has very funny. The Four Bards are excellent gymnasts.

Marie Dressler's Return. The coming back home of Canada's most popular and famous comedienne, Marie Dressler, will certainly be welcome news to Toronto theatregoers. It will be remembered that when Miss Dressler was here last season, many hundreds of her admirers were much disappointed at not being able to see her on account of the theatre being packed at every performance. Miss Dressler returns week of Nov. 6 to the Royal Alexandra in her great success of last season, "Tillie's Nightmare," the terrific laugh prepared for her by Edgar Smith and A. Baldwin Squire.

Miss Dressler has been surrounded by a company of most excellent merit, such favorites as Eleanor Kent, Ethel Fairbanks, Nellie de Grasse, May Howard, Lottie Gorman, John E. Gorman, Jack Hallahan, Jack Kennedy, Jr., Frank Smiley, Gordon and Harper, and Lew Field's dancing girls.

Louis Mann Coming. Verba and Luescher, managers of "The Spring Maid," "Little Miss Fix-it," and other notable New York successes, will present Louis Mann, the well-known character comedian, at the Princess, the week of November 6, in a new play by Clara Lipman and Samuel Shipman, entitled "Elevating a Husband." "Elevating a Husband" is a comedy, built around a story of genuine heart interest. The role of the husband, Charles Sample, is played by Mr. Mann, and it has enabled him to add another to his long list of remarkable stage creations. The admirable company that is offered in Mr. Mann's support includes Emily Ann Wellman, Charles Halton, Marie Howe, Jessie Carter, Edward See, Edward E. Horton, Sterling H. Chesedine, Marion Holcombe and Wm. L. Gibson.

Harry Lauder Tickets. It is evident that the people of Toronto and surrounding country have a great desire to both see and hear the great Scotch comedian, Harry Lauder, who comes supported by a strong company of vaudeville artists at Massey Hall on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and 4, afternoon and evening. As was expected, there has been a great rush for tickets, but there are a number of good seats left. All who have sent in telephone orders are asked to take them up at once, or they will be placed on sale. The plan is now open at Massey Hall box office.

LAKE CHAMPLAIN PULLED OFF. MONTREAL, Oct. 30.—The Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Lake Champlain, which had lain stranded on the south side of the channel, opposite Laurier Pier for three days, was pulled off safely into deep water to-day by the united efforts of ten tugs and her own steam, and now lies at her wharf. Divers will make an examination of the vessel to-morrow.

Seventy-five Cents a Week Buys a Piano. The small sum of seventy-five cents a week will put a good square piano in your home. The old firm of Heintzman & Co., Ltd., 193-195 Yonge-st., Toronto, are clearing some thirty square pianos of makers like Chickering, Steinway, Miller and others, the prices ranging from fifty dollars to one hundred and fifty dollars.

Boxing Final Bouts

Rugby Argonauts 12 T.A.A.C. 8

Athletics New Records at Montreal

Note and Comment

The clearest bout between evenly matched big men ever given Toronto was the verdict of those who saw Frank Black, the middleweight champion of Scotland, and Percy Treacy of St. Mary's, in the city tournament final last night in the Repository. Black not only produced the right hand, but used splendid judgment, getting inside the swings of his adversary, and then was also there with the right hand wallop. The Scot, besides, effectively blocked the body blows, and never failed to follow up an advantage.

When Treacy faced Bill Hanna in the heavyweight final, the Ontario man showed considerable fatigue, but nevertheless, the Britisher had the upper hand until the referee stopped it in the third. Hanna has improved greatly since his appearance against Gage in the Canadian championship.

British United landed the lion's share of the prizes, viz., three firsts and two seconds, the other five prizes going to St. Mary's, West End, and the right-hand blow Beach. I.C.A.C. won two firsts, Brantford one and Woodbine one.

The fact that two classes went to novices demonstrates the progress of amateur boxing locally. Treacy and Hanna had to beat a pair of seasoned boys to win the 26-pound and 145-pound finals.

Controller Ward, president of the City Boxing Association, presented the prizes at the conclusion of the last bout.

The work of the officials should not be overlooked. Messrs. W. A. Hewitt referee, and Jos. Wright and J. P. Fitzgerald, judges, arriving at the Repository every time, even if both sides were not always satisfied.

The holiday Rugby fixture attracted a good-sized crowd to Rosedale, and it was the match was in spots, the play was even throughout. T.A.A.C. made a good impression on the field, and many were of the opinion that but for their list of casualties the Argonauts would have suffered defeat. The Argonauts, however, were not some of the best men, and, mindful of union games ahead, just marshaled a sufficient force to win.

Motor-cycle racing is the thing. How the people thronged to Exhibition Park to see the races! The show was well conducted, without a serious accident, the one machine performed an acrobatic stunt without injury to the passengers.

Had Baker missed his two home runs and Athletics lost the world's championship, Giants would have missed their proposed trip to Cuba. Perhaps contrary to popular opinion that New York played below form. The team now announce the acceptance of the offer to visit Cuba for a series of games with the teams of the Cuban League. The offer had been held in abeyance pending the result of the world's series. The National Commission, having passed a rule that the team winning the world's championship should not be allowed to take part in any exhibition games after the post-season series, the offer was the result of the visit of the Athletics to Cuba last fall, when, with several of their best men of the team, they were beaten in series by the Cubans. The team will leave on Nov. 10. The players who will make the trip are: Matthews, Marquard and Willie, pitchers; Wilson and Hartley, catchers; Ladd, first base; Deane, second base; and Paddock, outfielders. The team will receive a good salary, and the games played by the promoter of the games.

Gov.'s Brief In Tobacco Case Not As Caustic As Expected

Removal of the Uncertainty Gives Strong Tone to Market

Filing of Brief in Tobacco Case a Bull Card on Wall Street—Canadian Exchanges Take a Holiday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Stock market operators were positively buoyant today, but not recovered from the effect of the U. S. Steel dissolution suit and the discussion in court of the American Tobacco reorganization plan added to its nervousness. That stocks advanced despite these conditions was due chiefly to short coverings. Stocks were in small supply and prices advanced whenever any material demand appeared.

The American Tobacco Co., hearing the case of the interest and opinions as to the significance of today's events were varied. Some disappointment was expressed at the possibility of a long delay before final acceptance of any reorganization plan, as suggested in the attorney-general's proposal for a preliminary period of five years. Some operators even placed a bullish construction upon the attorney-general's attitude on the ground that he had not opposed the plan in its entirety and that it might be adopted with modifications. In line with this theory points on the curb, although it lost part of its gain later.

U. S. Steel Continues Recovery. United States Steel continued the recovery which began last week. After a point early in the day, it rose steadily until it was 1-2 points above Saturday's close. Late in the day it was ascribed to the expectation that an unfavorable showing would be made by the quarterly report of the Steel Corporation due to-morrow.

The market as a whole was well above Saturday's final range most of the day. Union Pacific, Erie preferred, Northern Pacific and Missouri Pacific, the standard railers, were conspicuous for their strength, and a number of the industrials made good gains. The market eased off quite generally toward the close, but advances were not entirely lost.

American Smelting was especially weak. It yielded readily on bear attacks and broke to below 90, a loss of over 3 points. Reports from the west told of a somewhat better feeling in business circles, although railroad tonnage is recording a decline. Prices from the Steel trade were a little changed, with prices at the lowest. The production of steel this week is expected to show a shrinkage of between 5 and 10 per cent. from last month.

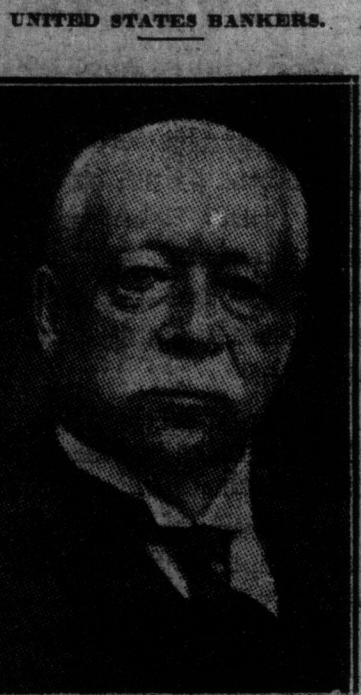

ON WALL STREET. Erickson Perkins & Co. (J. G. Beatty) wired: The removal of the mystery which has been hanging over the market. The actual bringing of a suit against the United States Steel Corporation, which had long been anticipated, but was still a source of uncertainty, and the doubts surrounding the government's attitude toward the American Tobacco reorganization plan have given a more cheerful feeling when Mr. Wickham's brief in the tobacco case was filed today.

Mr. Wickham's brief was so satisfactory that many expected, and it would appear that he is willing the company should continue to do business under modified circumstances. People are expecting more anti-trust suits, and aimed but American Smelting and Refining as perhaps the next one to fall under the government's displeasure. This conclusion was drawn from the fall in the stock today. We anticipate that future suits will attract less attention than the steel suit did. In view of business uncertainties, we advise continuing the trading position in stocks. A part of today's movement was due to a move against shorts. Wait for another day before buying back.

Chas. Head & Co. to R. R. Bongard: There was a slightly higher opening to our market this morning, induced by a better range of quotations from London, but selling orders put in an appearance and prices soon broke. Money continues to flow into the banks of the eastern reserve centres, and rates are expected to remain low, if not lower, than at present. Steel conditions are unchanged, with prices at lowest. London did little, not over 5000 shares were traded. Prices were somewhat below highest, but with a firm tone to the railroads. Smelters closed down 3 points. We still adhere to our preference for the better class of railroads and consider them a purchase on all recessions for turns.

On the Operating Table. The country is in the hands of the surgeons. Whether the operations are wise or not, time will tell. If there is any encouragement, it is that each day brings us nearer to the end of readjustment, however painful the process may be. The enduring business life of the country is guaranteed by a great population and inexhaustible resources. The industries will probably suffer further as uncertain developments as to which the next elected for dissolution. Selections for investment should be made in the railroads.—J. S. Bach & Co.

Missouri Pacific Financing. NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The amount of equipment notes which the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. directors will authorize at their meeting to-morrow will be $5,000,000 to $6,000,000.

WILLIAM A. NASH.
Chairman of the board of directors of the American Tobacco Company.

A SIGH OF RELIEF. Wall-street heaved a high of relief yesterday with the filing of Attorney-General Wickham's brief in the Tobacco Trust case. Sentiment was undoubtedly brightened by reason of the removal of the uncertainty in this respect, and also by a kindred influence in relation to the Steel suit. Prices generally made small advances, the market showing an all-round buoyancy. In the face of recent developments this was somewhat surprising, but was set down as a tentative effect only. The situation is still fraught with considerable uncertainty, and sentiment may take a sharp turn at any moment.

Money Movements. NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The sub-treasury gained $400,000 from the banks Saturday, and since Friday gained $1,100,000.

Copper Reports. NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The following copper company reports were issued today: Utah Copper, for quarter ended Sept. 30, shows net $1,150,524, increase for quarter $204,499.

Hill and Wanamaker. NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The following opinions from Hill and Wanamaker are characteristic of their authors: J. J. Hill commends President Taft's action in Steel suit and says he is not worried about cancellation of ore contract.

John Wanamaker predicts readjustment of trusts and then good times.

London Market Weak. LONDON, Oct. 30.—The securities markets closed weak. In the official session, gilt-edged investments failed to rally and home rails closed flat at the lowest prices. This turn was attributable to the reviving discount in labor circles. American railroad shares were strong, the curb and Canadian Pacific retained buoyancy, Paris was quiet and Berlin firm.

Foreign Skies Clearer. The financial situation abroad, which received such a severe shock from the Moroccan question, shows decided improvement. Confidence is rising in both Berlin and Paris, the chief points of unsettlement; and London too is displaying a more confident undertone.—Henry Clews.

No Cause for Alarm. Henry Clews, the New York broker, comments as follows on the steel case: It will be difficult for the government to prove that the Steel Corporation is a monopoly, and the drastic charges made in the petition not only serve no useful purpose, but are unquestionably disturbing and will cause more or less distress until settled. There is, however, no occasion for being unduly frightened. The supreme court is not going to sanction any confiscation of property, and the Steel Corporation is likely to continue in business in spite of government suits and tariff changes.

Personal. Among the passengers sailing on the express Kaiser Wilhelm II. of the North German Lloyd Line, from New York to Bremen, via Plymouth, a-d Cherbourg, to-day, are Mr. W. F. Dineen and Mrs. W. F. Dineen of Toronto.

Here's Comfort From the Simpson Store Against November's Chill

Look Upon This Picture and Rejoice
That you may wear just as fetching a suit as the young woman depicted here for the small sum of

$8.79

Just two hundred suits offered at this price for to-morrow. The materials are English serges, French Venetians, imported tweeds and diagonals. Coats have notched or rounded collar, tailored, velvet or novelty trimmed, single or double-breasted, with slash or patch pockets. Skirts are made in gored, pleated or panel effects.

You'll find suits in this collection formerly ticketed $17.50. But the price, as you see, has been practically cut in two. It's hardly possible to be disappointed in these suits; colors navy, brown, green, black. $8.79 in tweed effects. Wednesday

Some Interesting Lingerie Waists From New York

A very smart waist of fine white mull, dainty tucking, has new yoke effect extending over shoulder, and outlined with pretty German val. lace; front is finished with new floss trim, lace trimmed; 3/4 sleeve, kimono shape. Wednesday 3.95

An exclusive model in fine cotton voile, short kimono sleeve; front, back, shoulders and sleeves are trimmed in a most effective design, with real cluny lace insertion and small crocheted buttons. Special value 4.50

Another attractive style is made of fine cotton voile, new set-in sleeve, plain shoulder effect, whole front of beautiful hand-embroidered work, full length sleeve; collar and trimming of dainty Maltese lace insertion. Special price 5.50

A dainty lingerie waist, front is beautifully worked in the new Filipino embroidery, short sleeves, shoulders, collar and back; finished in a very effective style with fine French val. lace, back fastens visibly with small crocheted buttons. Price 5.50

Taffeta Silk Petticoats $3.95

"SIMPSON'S SPECIAL" Petticoat, of heavy taffeta silk, black, navy, Copenhagen, grey, tan, brown or "Paddy," also in shot effects, stitched tailored flounce with taffeta underpiece and frill; lengths 36 to 42. Wednesday 3.95

Tea Gowns of All-wool Cashmere, attractively designed with kimono sleeve, yoke front and back, piped with silk and trimmed with silk covered buttons; navy, cardinal or black; sizes 34 to 44. Wednesday 5.00

A Millinery Clearance

2,000 HATS AT $1.00 EACH.

Hundreds of this season's best styles and colors. Worth $1.50, $2.00 to $3.00. Wednesday 1.00

Silks and Wash Goods

There are, broadly speaking, two classes of women who buy all their silks, dress and wash goods at Simpson's. First, those who really know values, and have learned by experience that the greatest values are here.

Second, those who know nothing of values, but who have learned to trust this Store, and have never been disappointed.

Women of both these classes will be down bright and early Wednesday morning for the following:

Rich Black Satin Paillettes, heavy skeined silk, with a soft, lustrous finish, 36 and 40 in. wide. Per yard 1.19

Rich Black Mousseline Duchesse Satin, a beautiful heavy satin, bright, soft, lustrous finish, guaranteed quality. Lyons dyed and finished, 40 in. wide. Per yard 1.48

C. J. Bonnet's Rich Black Peau de Soie Dress Silk, an extra heavy double-faced quality for coats, suits or dresses; every yard guaranteed by this world-famous maker, deep rich dye, 40 in. wide. Per yd. 1.95

Rich Black Chiffon Velveteen, beautiful dress or suit quality, guaranteed fast pile and dye, 42 inches wide. Per yard 3.00

Do You Remember a Little Bed

That was always warm and cosy and comfortable? You didn't think to analyze the reason then, but maybe you'd give a good deal now for such comfort a-bed as you enjoyed when you were a child.

Let us suggest a change of mattress for this winter. Here are a few for sale on the fifth floor that make the experiment worth while—and besides, we assure you, it'll not be an experiment—these are sure-comfort mattresses, despite the low prices.

Mattresses, well filled with seagrass centre and heavy layer of jute on top and bottom, made in all standard sizes. Wednesday 2.49

Mattresses, filled with combination of fibre and felt, tufted and covered with good strong ticking. Wednesday 4.95

Mattresses, well filled with pure white cotton, made durable and comfortably covered with blue art ticking. Wednesday 7.40

Mattresses, built with alternate layers of hair and felt, and covered with heavy ticking, and can be had in all standard sizes. A high grade Mattress reasonably priced. Wednesday 13.50

And after you get the mattress, go to the second floor, and see what low-priced comfort awaits you there. Here are a few details:

DOUBLE BED BLANKETS, $3.98 PAIR.

100 pairs of Warm Unshrinkable Wool Blankets, closely woven, good washing and wearing blanket, 8 lbs. 68x88. Regular $4.75. Wednesday, pair 3.98

DOWN COMFORTERS, $5.95.

A beautiful range of Sateen Comforters with a pure down filling in pretty colorings of pink, blue and greens. Wednesday 5.95

DOUBLE DAMASK CLOTHS, $3.00.

BEDROOM TOWELS.

High Class Huck Towels, with damask borders, some with all over patterns. Regular $1.75. Wednesday, pair 1.25

Phone Lines Dept., 2nd Floor.

Where's His Overcoat?

If the boy hasn't been asking about it himself, it's high time his parents were attending to the matter. Many a lad prides himself on the length of time he can go without an overcoat, but this sort of foolhardiness is often paid for in doctor's bills or worse.

And while you're about it, get him a good coat—one that will see him through this winter and two or three following. They're not expensive, as this list will show:—

A SMART FANCY OVERCOAT FOR LITTLE FELLOWS.

Cut in a fancy double chest style, black velvet collar fitting close to the neck, outside breast pocket and tab on sleeve. The linings are wool cheviot with heavy inter-trimmings making a warm and comfortable overcoat. Sizes 21 to 27, Wednesday 3.75

BOYS' WINTER WEIGHT ULSTERS.

Wednesday we offer a special in a winter overcoat made from an English heavy weight tweed lined with a fancy mohair lining and cut in two styles. Single breasted with college collar and double-breasted with convertible collar. Sizes 25 to 28, Wednesday 6.75

Sizes 29 to 32, Wednesday 7.00

FASHIONABLE TWO-PIECE SUITS FOR BOYS.

We admire the little chap's taste when he comes into our store and points to a smart looking black and grey Scotch tweed suit. We base our buying on what he likes and Wednesday we have a complete range of this particular suit, cut on a neat double-breasted model, with bloomer trousers. Smartly tailored and trimmed. Sizes 26 to 33. Wednesday 7.00

"OLD DARBY"

—BY—

Rosa Bonheur

This famous original is now on view on our sixth floor, where one of the galleries has been specially prepared to exhibit it.

Art critics and laymen the world over have united in declaring that in "Old Darby," Rosa Bonheur produced one of the most marvelous pieces of realism ever put on canvas—this wonderful painting, size 7 x 9 feet, painted by Rosa Bonheur at her home in Fontainebleau in 1884, was not sold until after her death, at which time "Old Darby," with other paintings and bric-a-brac, went to Rosa Bonheur's favorite niece, Eugenie Bonheur.

During 1900 the picture was finally acquired from the niece by E. M. Thalis, formerly of Boston. It is now the property of the Thalis estate and exhibited purely from an educational standpoint.

No attempt was made by the artist to picture a beautiful horse. On the contrary, "Old Darby" was a poor old fellow who had outlived his age of usefulness, but unfortunately was still forced to work for his master—an old fisherman at Havre, France. His humble mission was to drag the fish nets up out of the water. Rosa Bonheur was particularly fond of animals. Seeing "Old Darby" at his work one day she quickly realized that he was the typical old white horse that every one of us have seen some time during our life. He touched her heart. She admired him and she pitied him. So that he would no longer have to work she bought him and sent him to Fontainebleau where she used him for several motives.

On this picture you see "Old Darby" on the "pension list."

Next to the "Horse Fair," the property of the Metropolitan Museum, New York, the picture is the most pretentious of Bonheur's works. Few of her paintings bear the same broad technique that makes "Old Darby" one of her greatest achievements.

"Old Darby" is a labor of love. The artist was passionately fond of horses. She loved them as a mother loves her children, and it was this love that inspired in her that almost superhuman talent in their portrayal—a talent which stamped her as the greatest painter of horses in the world.

Study not only the horse, but the surroundings. How true to life they are! The old broken handled shovel, the rusty milk can, the piece of string used to fasten the door, the weeds growing along the side of the barn, the initial A someone had carved in one of the boards—truly, every detail is perfect.
