HAMILTON NEWS

THE LIABILITY OF TRUSTEES A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY.

An Important Deliverance Handed Down by Judge Snyder Yesterday.

ESTATE OF THE LATE ROBERT ROY.

The Heirs Were Not Satisfied With the Administration and Brought Suit-General News.

Hamilton, March 8.—(Special)—This morning Judge Snider handed down judgment in the case of Roy v. Harvey, which was referred to him by Justice Street at the last Assizes. He found in favor of the plaintiffs.

The late Robert Roy died in 1880, leaving considerable property, but no will. His heirs, his widow and children executed a trust deed to John Harvey and R. J. Young, transferring certain properties to them in trust, to pay the widow the interest and income during her life and at her death to divide the estate among the children. The trustees have managed the estate since 1881, and in their last statement to the heirs, alleged that only $5000 of the trust money remained and that it was all invested in a mortgage on the old Cruckshank planing mill property on Jackson-street. The heirs were not satisfied with this statement, and brought action, alleging that part of the trust money was and is invested in a Winnipeg mortgage bearing 6 per cent. interest, and from which money only 7 percent had been paid the estate during all these years; also that the trustees had taken possession of other funds and property not covered by the trust deed, and that the trustees had transferred some of these assets to themselves later on the insistence of Mrs. Roy Harvey and that these exceeded the amount admitted by the defendants.

The defense was that all the money of the estate had been accounted for, and were secured by mortgage. The defendants also set up the statute of limitations, holding that any claim at this date was out of time.

Trustees Must Give Account.

Judge Snider finds that all the property left by the late Mr. Roy must be accounted for, and that the trustees must proceed to make the defendants account for the whole property. He finds that the trustees invested $3000 of the Roy money in the Cruckshank planing mill property, and that the property left south of the Hamlet of Hamilton and which John Harvey claimed, was in reality part of the late estate, and that the trustees had an account of $8000 balance of purchase money, with interest; and after taking all the accounts the judge holds that the estate is entitled to $0,823,28, interest and expenses, and administrative expenses.

The judge denies the claim of outlay.

In conclusion, the judge found that although good business men, the trustees, Fred Taylor, George D. and John Laird, were arrested tonight, on a charge of stealing a steering lead pipe from El Howard.

Eliza Webster of Burlington, was arrested here this afternoon on a charge of being drunk.

Charles Schwenger, hotelkeeper, was fined $100 for allowing a minor to enter in his barroom.

Mike Coopers and Pat O'Brien, two hard men, were committed for trial for stealing tools.

Minor Matters.

The remains of the late Mrs. John Billings, who died in Los Angeles, arrived here today.

Joseph Kelley, a prominent member of Knox Church, requested Mayor Teetzel to day to prohibit "The Heart of Mary" and "San Francisco," during the next few weeks, the chief attraction. The cast is presented by a company of players especially from the West Coast, and talented representatives of the New York theatres. The sale of seats will begin to-morrow.

The Bands Room.

Massey Hall was attended yesterday afternoon and evening by much larger audiences than on the first day, though the attendance this evening was good, and was marked by a general expression of enthusiasm and beauty of coloring as on the first day. The immense volume of harpsichord music will be followed by a piano recital for the full power of his band. Mrs. Marshall Pease, the vocalist, displayed her remarkable voice in songs well selected and arranged. The easy-flowing rich contralto features are said to be of the highest order. A popular price matinee will be given on Saturday.

Rosenthal's Marvelous Playing.

The reappearance of Moritz Rosenthal has been awaited with much interest in New York. When he seated himself quietly at the piano, after acknowledging the welcoming applause of the audience, there followed the most astonishing exhibition of piano playing ever seen in the city. It showed only one side of the pianist, it is true, or at best two, for as a glance at the program will show the number of pieces selected to give every sense to display his mastery of technical difficulties. But such technique was beyond all experience. He could control physical power and master the mind involved with it perfectly clear, his touch is crisp and he has entire command of every degree of force. Rosenthal will appear here for the first time on Thursday next. The sale of seats begins at the Massey Hall box office on Monday morning.

GO EASY!

First be satisfied that the dentist is right before you are convinced that Crown and Bridge Work cannot be successfully applied in your case. Right or wrong—the fact remains that where it can be applied it is the best of methods of supplying artificial teeth. But it is most difficult work—the very fine art of dentistry—and it isn't every dentist who properly understands it or wants to be called upon to perform it. Our work has been a series of satisfying successes—that gives us confidence in advising or performing.

SIR WILFRID AND IRELAND.

The Irish Question Came Up in Discussing the Matter of Anglo-American Alliance.

THERE CAN BE NO REAL FRIENDSHIP

Until Something Has Been Done to Cure the Hurt Which Causes III-WILL.

The Catholic Register of this week prints Washington correspondence of The New York Freeman's Journal, which is interesting to Canadians in that it gives a conversation had with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The correspondent attributes the following to the Canadian Premier:

I have been much interested, he said to me some days ago, in discussing the Canadian question, "in the apparent friendly feeling which now exists between Great Britain and the United States. I almost said I had been exceedingly surprised, because when I was here last winter the very opposite feeling was manifest. But I have found that this expression does not extend to the majority of the American people; it is, in fact, confined to a very small number of us. I have been here three years now, and I have met many Americans who are still friendly toward us, but my own conviction, after writing and still often spoken, when discussing the future of our beloved Canada in its relation to its great neighbor to the south, is that there is still real friendship between this country and ours until a certain remedy has been applied to cure the hurt which causes III-WILL."

FOR THE JUVENILE PLATE.

Thirty-Eight Subscribers for 2-Year-Old Stake Event to Be Run on Opening Day.

FUTURE EVENTS ALL FILLED WELL

Fifty-Two Entries for the Stanley Produce Stakes, to Be Run in 1902.

As coming events cast their shadows before, so the subjoined list of entries gives wonderful promise of a capital week's sport at the coming spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club.

The Juvenile Plate, which has closed with 38 subscribers, four more than the excellent showing of last year, has been well supported by a number of enthusiastic patrons of the Canadian turf, nearly all of whom are familiar faces at Woodbine Park.

The entry is remarkable for its unusual point of view, representing a number of the best stallions and matrons to be found in the Stud Book, with the names of such tried sires as Hunter, Sir Redman, Prince, Hincapie, Caulfield, Mississauga, Inspector B., Oondaga, Bramble and Duke of Montrose, perhaps the best known.

The Breeders' Stake, to be run on April 20, is also a success, while the Maple Leaf Stakes, for fillies, in the same year, does not show a very large increase in numbers.

The Stanley Produce Stake, recently run off, was a remarkable one, although the entry (with the exception of Mr. George Hendry of Detroit) is made up entirely by Ontario sportsmen. Fifty-two entries for, and there were no accounts for, some like the number of thoroughbred foals which is hoped will see light for the first time in 1902. The Queen's Plate of course, is the most important race of the year, and we will be lacking for want of material.

Juvenile Plate, $500, for 2-year-olds, of which $100 is secondary entry and $5 additional to start; winners 5 lbs extra; midgets allowed 5 lbs; ¼ mile; run May 20.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

Ontario House Will Take Its Choice of Two Bills With the Same Object.

MR. HARDY BRINGS IN HIS BILL

Speaker's Decision on Street Rail-way Overcrowding Bill—Debate on Bonusing Industries.

Ontario's legislators were busy yesterday. Deputations were in evidence and much business was done in the House. Chief of interest was the Attorney-General's bill to amend the Workmen's Compensation for Injuries Act. It provides for a court of arbitration for more speedy and economical procedure. Until the bill is in the hands of members of the Opposition it will remain from criticism. Mr. Whitney, however, expressed his opinion that the bill of Mr. Crawford is on the whole better and more satisfactory than one contained in the Attorney-General's bill. The Speaker ruled Mr. Crawford's bill respecting overcrowding in street cars out of order. It is said he is a private member. Mr. German's bill, among the Ontario Veterinary Association's Act was read a second time on promise of amendments satisfactory to the committee. There was an interesting and unfinished discussion on Mr. Pattullo's bill respecting bonuses.

Mr. German's bill.

The Attorney General introduced the Government's bill to amend the Workmen's Compensation for Injuries Act. He said the working of the present Act had not been as satisfactory as could have been desired. The machinery was in several respects imperfect, and it entailed great expense. The legal expenses were high with the retaining of counsel and cost of witnesses, and the expense of operation was increased and reduced expense. The injured workman was by this amending bill given the option of a decision on claim by a tribunal. This was in accordance with the English Act, and this was a point where the Canadian law differed.

Economical System.

It was provided in the present bill that after one notice the plaintiff may decide whether he will have recourse to arbitration or proceed by ordinary process of law. If the judge in Chamber finds that there are no grounds as to law to have the action go to the arbitrator. The costs are fixed costs as in the County Court; and the decision of the court of arbitration is to be final. The bill also makes the proposed bill will be less than one-half of the ordinary costs in the law courts.

Present Dissatisfaction.

Many complaints came from the Attorney-General's office respecting the working of the present Act. These had been fully considered and proposals made to amend which had been composed of two parts. The movements of actions would be more expeditious and there would, he believed, be an absence of friction and unnecessary delay. The other economic working, were matters which he thought would command themselves to the favorable consideration of the House.

English Act on Trial.

Anticipating the objection why the Government had not brought in a bill on precisely the same lines as the English Act, the Attorney-General said that the bill was in the making, an experiment it had not long been in force, and the country had not yet made up its mind on its merits. Therefore the Government had adopted one amendment of that Act and incorporated it to a court of arbitration—and incorporated that in the present bill.

The Leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Whitney (Welland) said that he had considered the provisions of the bill he could not deal with it as fully as he might have occasion to do later. Neither he nor the House was unaware that Mr. Crawford's bill had been introduced. He had a bill before the House of a similar nature, though going further than the Government's bill. From the time of the introduction of the bill, the Attorney-General had concluded that Mr. Crawford's bill was broader and more desirable than the one now introduced by the House of the part of the Government.

A Good Feature.

I am glad, continued Mr. Whitney, to observe one good feature in both the Attorney-General—the simplifying of procedure for recovery of compensation for injuries. Then he added emphatically, I see no reason why we should not adopt such a successfully made to simplify all legal procedure. [Hear, hear.] He hoped the time was not distant when simplification would be adopted to the entire legal procedure of Ontario.

The bill was then formally read a first time.

Importation of Lunatics.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt, replying to Mr. Whitney, said that no patients had been admitted to Toronto Lunatic Asylum from other provinces of the Dominion or from the United States.

The Meagher Adoption Case.

Mr. C. B. Powell (Ottawa) obtained an order of the House for a return of correspondence in reference to the abduction of a child Ontario and the United States.

Before this was done there was some debate to whom the children contributed.

Mr. Whitney said he concluded that Mr. Crawford's bill was broader and more desirable than the one now introduced by the House of the part of the Government.

Bonusing by Municipalities.

Mr. McLaughlin (Stormont) stated that he had considered the provisions of the bill he could not deal with it as fully as he might have occasion to do later. Neither he nor the House was unaware that Mr. Crawford's bill had been introduced. He had a bill before the House of a similar nature, though going further than the Government's bill. From the time of the introduction of the bill, the Attorney-General had concluded that Mr. Crawford's bill was broader and more desirable than the one now introduced by the House of the part of the Government.

Gold in Madoc.

Bonusing by Municipalities.

Mr. W. M. German (Welland) considered that Mr. Pattullo's motion went too far. He considered that the exception clause in such manner as he may deem expedient.

The section which provides that property should not be made of the Minister of Justice as to the steps that had been taken. If, said Mr. Whitney, we took a leaf out of the Americans' book in such cases, we had better consult the interests of this country.

Assessment Amendment.

Mr. C. B. Powell (Ottawa) obtained an order of the House for a return of correspondence in reference to the abduction of a child Ontario and the United States.

THE ROBERT SIMPSON CO., LIMITED

Make a Display for Women in Millinery
That Equals any Store in America.

We would really see that the Toronto drygoods and millinery shops had conspired this year to drive women to distraction with the beauty and variety of the spring dress materials, and the daintiness and "chic" of the millinery. Each establishment seems to vie with the other in showing hats that fill women with envy and delight. As we traversed our way through the spacious and beautifully arranged millinery department of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, we wished that some ingenious individual would manufacture a few new adjectives, by means of which we could express adequately our admiration for the lovely creations that filled the large glass cases, and which are destined to crown the fair heads of many of Toronto's most fashionable dames and demimondes in the incoming spring and summer.

But before we looked at the hats, Mrs. Johnston, the capable and exceedingly amiable head of the millinery department of the Robert Simpson Company, led us to an immense glass case, where veritable marvels in Paris novelties were displayed. Outside of a wholsome idea it would be difficult to see such a varied and lovely display of trimming; gold embroidered crin for bandeaux and other trimmings, handsome jetted ruched bows knots in all sizes—smaller size would make a pretty finish for the hair—big lacey bows of white mousseuse de sole, edged with dainty ruchings of the mousseuse, pen feathers, made of exquisite creamy lace, fairy wings, made of crinkled mousseuse de sole and gold threads, with tiny roses at the points, smart little bunches of ruched cordling in every new shade, and an endless variety of gold, crystal and steel ornaments were there to suit the most fastidious taste.

There were also boniton lace squares for soft airy hat crowns, and some delicate filmy material to drop the brims of gracefully shaped leghorns; these scarfs are most effective, and additional charms are added by their being caught directly in front of the hats, at the two sides of the back, and handsomely crimped.

Other lovely crowns of fine French make, were of sheerest silk net, embroidered with gold thread, and decorated with crystal dewdrops.

A charming hat has the round crown of a series of shirred tulip wires; directly in front of the back, and handsomely crimped, with the way the wire is turned, the smaller size would make a pretty finish for the hair—big lacey bows of white mousseuse de sole, edged with dainty ruchings of the mousseuse, pen feathers, made of exquisite creamy lace, fairy wings, made of crinkled mousseuse de sole and gold threads, with tiny roses at the points, smart little bunches of ruched cordling in every new shade, and under the chin which tie in a big soft bow of the chiffon which tie in a big soft bow under the chin.

There were innumerable other hats and many exquisite little bonnets for elderly ladies, that came in for a share, and were of the prettiest, which must be seen to be appreciated, so ingeniously fetching and smart they are. We had intended, too, taking a peep at the jacked hats, and so did the millinery, but 6 o'clock boomed out at the moment of our resolution, and with hundreds of others we decided to postpone our admiration of the beauties, and return to a more serious task on view at the big store of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited.

The grandest class of girls at Varsity were having luncheon yesterday noon down in the lunch room. All the usual toasts were drunk with enthusiasm, and in addition to the girls' drama, "The School for the Plugs," "Our Future Husband," "Old Nell Serves," to the "Dear Depart-ed" and to the "Bachelors of (Hearts)." The speeches were very witty and the party was a little affair was much enjoyed by all present.

The annual general meeting of the Victoria Order of Nurses will be held in the Canadian Institute, 58 East Richmond-street, on Friday, 10th March, at 4 p.m. A large attendance of the members and friends of sympathy with the work is particularly expected.

Mr. G. W. Allan will be chairman of the program.

Mr. J. B. Mackenzie will read selections from his play, "Joseph Brant," this evening at Harbord-street Collegiate Institute.

MANY LAID TO REST.

Funerals in the City Yesterday, of Lamented Friends, Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Enright took place yesterday at St. Michael's Cemetery from her late home, 130 Bloor-street, Rev. Father L. H. Hale conducted the service.

On motion of Aid. Crane, the Veterans were granted $100 towards a monument.

Mrs. Mayers, the High Park enteress, was given $250 worth of pavilion for the lake front, opposite the south end gate, for which she is to pay $12.50 a year.

James E. Knott, well known in West End, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of the late Mrs. Jones, who passed away last week, in Forest Hill.

The funeral took place at St. Michael's Cemetery from his late residence, 1 Hackney-street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The casket was covered with a lining of lace and strewed with crystal dew-drops over a slim tulip.

The funeral took place yesterday morning at the residence of the late James Wells, who died at his late residence, 53 John-street, on Friday last.

High Mass was celebrated over the remains of the late Patrick Keeley, at St. Michael's Cemetery. The funeral had a very large number of friends.

The remains of the late Kate J. Bolander, wife of G. M. Bolander, were interred yesterday. The funeral was private.

A very smart Parisian hat was in hyacinth blue silk straw with a picturesque and becoming droop over the face. A tremendously smart bow of wide hyacinth blue straw, with a large bunch of hyacinths stuck high at the side, and round the crown was a lovely wreath of hyacinths; the hat was tilted a little forward and down, and resting on the hair at the side was a sprig of hyacinths, than which there can be no prettier hat in town.

The Works of Dr. Sanden. The first open meeting of the Toronto Free Medical Society was held yesterday at Louisi-st School, to take up a steve of excellent papers were read by Miss Duff and Miss Butterworth, which were listened to by a large and interested audience.

ESTIMATES FOR THE CITY PARKS

Jones and Knox Won't Get Royalities on the City Sweepers—City Hall Notes.

Mr. Henry R. Bruce, clerk in the Mayor's office, is severing his connection with the civic service. He handed in his resignation to Mayor Shaw yesterday to take effect April 1st. It was a case of freeze-out on the part of the Mayor, to make room for a friend.

Chambers' Estimates.

Park Commissioner Chambers is out with his estimates for the coming year. He asks a grant to look after parks of $67,679, as against the appropriation allowed for 1898 of $49,815, an increase of $17,864. There are no exceptional features, and therefore a more liberal estimate for band concerts:

Three Engineers' Associations Meet To-night to Discuss Ways and Means—May Unite.

An important session of representatives of the Marine Engineers' Association of Toronto, B.C., and St. John, N.B., will convene at the Canadian Hotel Building this evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting is called for the purpose of considering the advisability of amalgamating the two.

The Marine Engineers' Association are instituted only in three cities in Canada, and for the past six months efforts have been made to have them merge into one constitution. Numerous letters have been written, and at last a conference among representatives of the different societies has been arranged.

The St. John Association will be represented by President Foster, Past-President Bote and G. F. Blewett, secretary; and Vice-President, R.C.A., by President Brownlee.

Among the local members who will attend are Hon. President O. P. St. John, President of the Canadian Engineers, H. Miles. If it is decided to make one large organization it is likely that a new constitution will be agreed upon, officers elected and a grand lodge appointed.

WHEAT OFF CENT AND A HALF

Very Weak Market in Chicago Futures Yesterday.

Heavier Movements of Argentine and Russian Wheat to Western Europe Are Anticipated—Corn Markets Steadier—Parisian Quotations Lower—Notes and Gossip for the Day.

Wednesday Evening, March 8.

Liverpool wheat futures to-day closed 1/2 cent per cent below yesterday's close. Futures were to-day decided to 20 cents and four went off 15 cents.

Chicago wheat futures were 15 cent lower to-day over 10 a bushel below yesterday's final figures, and closed near the bottom price for the day. The feeling was that the market had bottomed out, coming large movements of Russian and Argentine wheat to Western Europe.

Liverpool maize futures of about 14d per cent were to-day 1/2 cent below yesterday, despite the weakness of wheat.

Exports at New York to-day: Flour 205 barrels and 1773 sacks; wheat 119,689 bushels.

Total shipments of wheat and flour to-day equaled 1,000 bushels, and of corn 463,000 bushels.

What receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth to-day 393 cars, against 334 the corresponding day last week.

Beechurst makes the European visible supply 61,700,000 bushels wheat, compared with 68,764,000 bushels in 1888. This is the first time since 1888 that the European visible supply has exceeded that of the same date last year.

The Chicago Daily Bulletin reports a cable message from Argentina saying that the wheat crop of 1889 is still in farmers' hands, and about 22 per cent. in farmers' hands in the Dakotas. Minneapolis makes the European visible supply 23,000,000 bushels wheat, compared with 25,333,000 bushels in 1888.

The Minneapolis Record estimates that the wheat crop of 1889 is still in farmers' hands, and about 22 per cent. in farmers' hands in the Dakotas. Minneapolis makes the European visible supply 23,000,000 bushels wheat, compared with 25,333,000 bushels in 1888.
