POPULAR ECONOMY

SALES MAY BE BROUGHT HERE

Plan Tried in Washington and Elsewhere with the Greatest Success.

A movement is on foot by a few local retailers to promote the economy sales which has been so successful in other cities. The principle of the proposition is co-operation in advertising to promote each other's goods, and to give good honest value for the money, even in cases where the price, retail and wholesale, does not permit shaving of profits. Three or four merchants have already started the campaign, and are merely winding up the many details and waiting on one or two others; it is understood the economy sales will be run simultaneously by about six dealers for a period of about one week.

As there will be no competitors in the alliance, the offerings will probably stand a good chance of being appreciated by the public without the usual strain of salt which seems necessary in reading great many of the ambitious solicitations for business at present.

Winnipeg Car Men Sever Their Connection with International Union.

Winnipeg, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press despatch)—Carmen of the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company have severed their allegiance with the international union and formed a new independent union unattached to any other union or organization, but it is understood that it will affiliate with the One Big Union provided that organization alters its charter and becomes less radical in its objectives. Objection to dues being "paid across the border line" determined the action of the men, officials said. This money, they said, will be used only for local improvements. Funds already paid into the international for insurance amounting to $100,000, will be lost to the members, however. Eleven hundred men are employed by the car company; 850 votes were cast, of which 550 were in favor of seceding. It is believed that a majority will remain with the international.

HON. T. A. CRERAR TO WESTERN FARMERS

Wants Many Farmers and Fifteen or Twenty Labor Men in Next Parliament Against Militarism.

Brandon, Man., Jan. 9.—(By Canadian Press Limited)—The most urgent problems facing the farmers' independent political party in Canada are in the federal House of Commons. Hon. T. A. Crerar last night told the convention of the United Farmers of Manitoba. The former cabinet minister talked for more than an hour in the evening, and outlined federal problems, tariff, naval and military expenditures and imperial relations.

"The only way to escape the vast financial burdens which rest on us, is by the practice of drastic taxations and rigid economy," said Mr. Crerar. He urged the importance of the supremacy of parliament over cabinet and advised the federal government to remove all restrictions on personal liberties and restore all the liberties enjoyed before the war.

Mr. Crerar said he had little doubt that there would be a good representation of farmers in the next parliament and he would like to see fifteen or twenty labor men there too. The farmers would meet heavy opposition since special privileges died hard. Mr. Crerar expressed his belief in the principle of direct taxation and denounced the existing tariff system.

"I am," he continued, "unalterably opposed to the building up of any spirit of militarism in Canada. "He has some in Canada who would tie this country up to a military system. I am not prepared to say what our naval system should be, but I am unalterably opposed to any naval scheme which involves an initial expenditure of fifty or sixty million dollars and then millions annually for maintenance." He thought after thorough discussion the sober sense of the Canadian people would be against an extensive military and naval organization. "This country should not be committed," continued Mr. Crerar, "to any form of imperial parliament or cabinet council without the fullest and freest discussion by the Canadian people."

THE BOLSHIEVIKI

Memorandum from State Department at Washington

Russian Communist Programme is Declared to Be Dictatorship of Proletariat, With Aim of Revolution Throughout World.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—Of peculiar timeliness is the memorandum made public by the Department of State, on which specialists in the Russian division have been at work for months, and through which Americans may learn officially for the first time what the Bolsheviks are doing and what they propose to do, and why. In transmitting the memorandum to the State Foreign Relations Committee, Robert Lansing, secretary of state, said:

"Since the overthrow of the autocracy in March, 1917, the Department of State has studied developments in Russia with the sympathy which America has traditionally shown toward all movements for political and social betterment. The study which has been made of the Bolshevik movement, some of the results of which are furnished herewith, shows conclusively that the purpose of the Bolsheviks is to subvert the existing principles of government and society in all the countries in which democratic institutions are already established. They have built up a political machine which, by the concentration of power in the hands of a few and the ruthlessness of its methods, suggests the Asiatic depot of the early Tsars. The results of their exercise of power, as shown by the documents presented in the accompanying memorandum, have been demoralization, civil war, and economic collapse. I commend to your careful consideration the detailed information which the memorandum contains.

Details of Memorandum.

The details of the memorandum fall under three heads: The character of the Bolshevik rule, the economic results of Bolshevik control, and the Bolshevik programme of world revolution. Of the last, the United States is having first-hand information through the documents and other evidence in recent raids.

The section of the memorandum dealing with the Bolshevik programme of world revolution discusses practically the Communist International established by the Bolsheviks in Moscow in March, 1919. "It is of the essence of the Bolshevik movement that it is international and not national in character," the memorandum says, "That the Bolsheviks

THE JUVENILE COURT.

A year ago the municipal council was asked to provide for a juvenile court. When the funds are provided the provincial government will appoint the judge and the court will be established.

Who are asking for the juvenile court? The business interests of the city as represented by the council of the Board of Trade and the Rotary Club; the womanhood of St. John, as represented by the Council of Women, Women's Canadian Club, W. C. T. U., Daughters of the Empire and other organizations; the workmen of St. John, as represented by the Trades and Labor Council; the religious interests, as represented by the Evangelical Alliance and others; the educational interests, as represented by those who have to deal with the truancy problem; the Y. M. C. A., the S. P. C., Associated Charities, Children's Aid and many other benevolent organizations.

Is not that enough? Do not these people—all the people—know what they want? Last year three members of the city council voted for the court. If any others or any members of the municipal council doubted whether there was really a public desire for a juvenile court, that doubt has been removed. Surely it is up to the people's representatives to do what the people ask. The municipal authorities cannot get the appointment of the judge and that is not essential. The provincial government may be relied on, and the premier has given assurance that he and his colleagues will co-operate to make the court a success. All that is necessary is to provide the funds, and surely the boy and girl life of the city and county is not less worthy of consideration than other things for which money is generously expended.

FARMERS AND EDUCATION.

Premier Drury of Ontario has been represented as rather out of sympathy with modern educational policies and methods, but it is made clear that he believes in good schools. The Farmers Magazine recalls the fact that in the pages of that journal in January, 1914, he advocated better treatment for rural schools. His proposals then were for the creation of a township board that would have the power to place schools, hire teachers and direct to a certain extent the courses of study. He advocated at that time the paying of $1,000 to rural teachers. The Farmers Magazine points out that it would take $1,500 today to be equivalent to $1,000 in 1914, and adds:

"Such a salary and a residence for the teacher would lead to more men making this profession their life work. And under such a desired end, the rural life of our country would develop wonderfully. It is next to impossible to keep up high ideals with our schools manned by girls in their teens. One of the great reasons for the decline of rural independence and for the lowering of the tone of the old neighborhoods has been the lack of preparation for citizenship afforded by our rural schools. Boys and girls have been trained to pass an entrance examination and leave school. They drift out to become the moulders of public opinion, with just enough education to make them dangerous. Had they been trained to think, the next twenty years of their life would have been a growing period of progress and enlightenment, along which they would have carried their neighborhoods."

If the Drury government subscribes to this doctrine there is no danger of a decline in education in the province of Ontario.

THE ROOT PROBLEM.

J. W. Alexander, United States secretary of commerce, urges the stamping out of profiteering and reduction of the cost of necessities to consumers. He says: "In no other way than by a substantial reduction of the present high cost of living can we avert the demand for higher wages in all branches of industry and transportation and cure the present social unrest. Increase of wages to the laboring man means nothing if the increase is to be absorbed in the increased cost of living, for the laboring man if left to himself would not be able to do so. It is to be hoped that some just basis for the settlement of the controversies between employers and employes in industry and transportation may be worked out by the industrial commission recently appointed by President Wilson that will be acceptable to both."

That labor itself must accept a share of the responsibility for the continuance of high prices is contended by a writer in the Toronto Globe, who says: "Most manufacturers agree in placing the efficiency of their employes at 75 per cent. of normal, and that skilled labor has been affected to a lesser degree than unskilled. From a wide variety of sources there comes the information that shorter hours have not had the effect of increasing the efficiency of workmen, but rather, the reverse. It has been stated that there has been no inclination on the part of labor to make good in the shorter working day the output of the longer day. As a matter of fact, the efficiency of labor appears to be growing less and less, and this is also a big factor in the continually increasing cost of production. This writer adds, however, that Canada appears to have a brighter prospect for the co-operation of employer and employe than any other country, although he does not see how manufacturing costs can be reduced if wages go higher and hours of labor are shortened. Of conditions in the United States the professor of economics in Princeton University says:

"I do not expect any radical change in the labor controversy during 1920. Strikes will probably be frequent, particularly in those lines of work, of which there are many, in which wages have not increased anything like as rapidly as has the cost of living. Collective bargaining will gain in favor, and become more strongly entrenched. Laboring men through their own organizations, will be given an increasing participation in the management of the industries in which they labor. The ultra-radical labor leader and the ultra-conservative and reactionary employer will both lose influence. The public will become increasingly intolerant of both. They will be left behind, loudly calling each other names, as the procession moves forward."

From the expressed views of a number of prominent Americans on the general subject of the relations between capital and labor, one gathers that while some denounce capital and some the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, who says:

"I expect a steady progress towards a reasonable degree of co-operation on the part of the employed in the management of the affairs of the employer, particularly with respect to the conditions of employment. I believe on the other hand, that labor will recognize in a growing degree that prosperity of employer and both may look forward to conditions of efficiency only on a basis of increasing efficiency, and not of decreased productivity."

The fact that the action of radical labor leaders has brought the third party, the public into the field of action is regarded as a most hopeful development, since it will have a salutary influence upon both of the other parties to any controversy affecting the interests of the public. In every discussion of the question of progress in 1920 there is this reservation as to the possible effect of labor disputes, not only in relation to the cost of living but to the increased production necessary to build up a profitable export trade. It is the big question mark in every country.

The following is an extract from a recent speech by the Prince of Wales: "Our duty now is to show the world that we can work out our social, economic and industrial problems with general fairness and sympathy, striving wholeheartedly towards one goal. That goal is happier conditions of life, and to ensure that every man and woman in the country may enjoy the largest proceeds of their labor, and that every child born into the country may have a fair sporting chance. Our present problems will never be solved by cruelty or by violence. They can only be solved by common-sense and, above all, by goodwill. The world is feeling rather lost at the present time; and it is up to us—the British nation—and to all the nations of the Empire, to show the way. I feel sure that we can show that way and that we will."

Discussing the Irish question in Aberdeen last Saturday, says a cable to the Toronto Telegram, "Chief Secretary Macpherson gave a plain hint to the Americans to mind their own business, and not interfere with British home politics. He said that if the United States were determined to spend their last man and their last cent to fight secession, the determination and strength of Great Britain in a similar situation would certainly not be found any less. He blamed the present state of affairs on the misgovernment of Asquith."

SAYS THAT DENIKE MUST NOW SURRENDER.

London, Jan. 9.—Bolshevik cavalry has captured the town of Berdianak, on the north shore of the sea of Azov, one of the most excellent ports on the sea. A Moscow wireless says the capture of Berdianak gives the Soviets mastery of the sea of Azov and means the definite surrender of the forces of General Denike, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia. The dispatch adds that the Reds are continuing their irresistible march and that the fall of Rostov-on-Don and Novocherkassk is expected shortly. The wireless gives a report from Rome that a delegation of Italian deputies is going to Russia to study the situation.

Vancouver Elections.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 9.—Returns in the civic election here give Mayor Gale a majority of 1356 over Alderman Kirk. Indications point to proportional representation being carried. Mayor Gale's vote was 6246; Alderman Kirk 4710; majority 1356. Gale is elected for the third successive term. Execution in Sing Sing. Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Vicenzo Esposito was put to death in the electric chair in Sing Sing last night for the murder of a man and his wife in Schenectady.

HAPPINESS.

When all the nations, mad and scrappy, were plying sword and wielding gun, we thought we would be blithe and happy, if ever that fierce war were done. We'd all get busy at our knitting, with quiet minds and hearts serene, and when arrived the time for quitting, we'd burn a little gasoline. To old time ways in peace returning, we'd soon forget the fields of gore, and by the lamp at evening burning, we'd delve again in helpful lore. So far our hopes have all been broken, and he has reigned where love should dwell; the words of hatred still are spoken, and still the crazed disturbers yell. But now, methinks, the clouds are breaking, this new year bids us hope again; and pretty soon we'll all be waking to peace on earth, good will to men. We've had enough of wild emotions, that shook and jarred us to the soul, of eloquence in frothing oceans, that bore us to no useful goal. So let us one and all determine to be as happy as we can, avoid vain strife, forget the German, and each one help the other man.

Dominion Happenings of Other Days

A FATAL LACROSSE GAME.

Strange deeds and terrible often characterized the warfare of the early Indians. The capture of Fort Mackinac was one of the most unusual. Situated on Lake Michigan, where the city of Mackinac stands now, the Indians wanted to possess it because of its natural beauty and the wonderful possibilities of the fur trade that they saw. On June 4, 1763, the birthday of the King of England, the warriors proposed to the commandant of the fort that the event should be celebrated by a great lacrosse match—the Indian sport—between the Sacs and the Saulteux. Although he had been warned that the Indians would be the victors, the commandant readily assented to the apparently innocent proposal. By 8 o'clock in the morning several hundred Indians were ranged on the field before the fort where the game was to be played. The doors of the fort were wide open and the weather was splendid. All enjoyed the game to the utmost with the Indians seeming greatly concerned with the game. The struggle was fast and furious with the ball frequently falling near the pallisades. Suddenly, about 12 o'clock, a stronger throw than usual landed the ball near the main gate where the fort commander and his followers were standing. A wild rush of Indians followed; they poured through the gate into the fort followed by swarms of squaws. Immediately the shouts of the sport gave way to the shrieks of the tomahawks hidden beneath the blankets of the women were at work and buried in the heads of the trapped soldiers. Most of the defenders were killed before they had a chance to defend themselves. Then they turned their attention to the fire-water in the fort and themselves drank. By doing so the few survivors had a chance to escape into the forest. A lacrosse match had won the fort.

HENRY FORD, PROPHET.

(Canadian Finance.)

Henry Ford is not considered to be an authority upon many things other than the automobile industry. His memorable Peace Ship and his recent libel action against a very clearly that ever a Ford has a limit beyond which it is unwise to go. Notwithstanding all this, the average man is ready to concede that Henry Ford is well versed in transportation affairs and his opinions upon such matters are worthy of mature consideration.

Some weeks back the Toledo Street Railway Company had a little difference of opinion with the civic authorities, as a result of which the people of Toledo arose one morning to find their city without street cars. During the previous night the street car company had transported all the street cars away from the city. Henry Ford arrived in town a few days later and, after considering the situation, he made the following statement: "It looks to me as though the big interests had picked Toledo as a small city to see what can be done. There is no doubt at all that the trolley companies want to unload. . . . They know we are just entering upon a new epoch in transportation."

It is in cities where the winter is not so severe as in Western Canada, it is quite within the range of possibility that street cars may eventually be entirely superseded by motor bus systems, but which Western Canada can look forward to any such change for a long time to come is a very doubtful matter.

It has been suggested that the street car company should be sold to the municipal ownership. This scheme provides for the fixing of fares upon a basis which will yield sufficient returns to the street railway company to provide for a reasonable income on their investment over and above all other proper charges against earnings. The idea is worthy of investigation.

AS THE FARMER SEES IT.

(Farmer Magazine.) Farm life is on the up grade. Keep your eye on the politicians! Let us get back to the country model school.

Party government always prefers party to good government.

A NEW HOPE FOR IRELAND.

(Toronto Globe.)

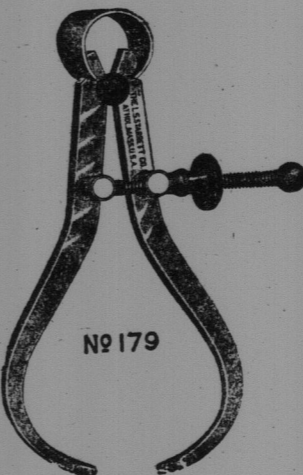

There is a more hopeful strain in the dispatches from Ireland. Submerged by the wave of Sinn Feinism that swept the greater part of the country at the last general election, the Nationalist party, which had fought so long and so gallantly for home rule, is showing signs of recrudescence. It is said that thousands of men have returned to the fold, and their support on the very eve of attainment of home rule by constitutional methods now realize their error and grieve for the terrorism that is being substituted for legal political action. They are urging John Dillon, Joseph Devlin and other leading Nationalists to reorganize their forces and begin anew a sanely conducted battle for self-government.

It is refreshing to hear that these requests are coming from many bodies of Nationalist sympathizers in various municipalities. That probably indicates a widespread revival of feeling against the tactics of an organization that cannot succeed. No one knows better than De Valera and his chief supporters that they cannot cover the British Empire into allowing them to form and control an Irish republic, or persuade some other country to declare war on the empire in the attempt to bring that about.

Premier Lloyd George has expressed the determination of his cabinet supporters that to proceed with the measure of home rule now before parliament. If the Nationalist party can regain any of its old-time strength, it will be of immense assistance in giving the measure a fair trial.

WHAT PUSSYFOOT TELLS ENGLAND.

(London Chronicle.)

A crowd filled the Stratford, England, Central Hall recently to listen to W. E. Johnson—"Pussyfoot"—Councillor R. Atherton president, and it was interesting to note the presence of several publicans. Mr. Johnson said that in America they had been engaged in looking after the weak of every kind; they had provided for those with weak intellects; they had provided for those who had weak bodies; and in their latest action they had provided for those with weak wills. There was some misunderstanding as to what they had prohibited. They had not prohibited alcohol as a medicine or for medicinal use. They had simply prohibited the selling of alcohol to those to whom it did mischief. It was not by any means a rushed business. When it was proposed to the national legislature to make it the law for the United States, they had, by a measure of local option, obtained prohibition in 2,600 out of 3,000 counties in thirty-two states and two territories. With reference to the territories, one of these was Alaska, almost wholly in the Arctic circle. Here they had been accustomed to drink because it was so cold, and they thought that the drink would keep them warm. They had discovered their mistake, and before prohibition became the law of the land they had a measure of local option, which banished it from their territory.

The other was right at the other extreme south, on the borders of Mexico. Here they had been accustomed to drink in order to keep themselves cool. They had discovered their error, and had become a fact, and by tabulated results from many a city and county, it was proved that, so far from prohibition being in any sense a menace and a loss, it had meant tremendous saving, domestic and political. Mr. Johnson closed with a strong plea for human liberty.

HOW MAMMOTH CAVE BREATHES.

Mammoth Cave breathes once a year, that is to say, in summer when the temperature of the external air is above that of the cave. The cave is about 100 feet deep, and in fact the cave is the entire summer making an expiration.

On the other hand, when the order is reversed or the outer atmosphere is below 44 degrees the cave makes an inspiration, or draws in its breath. This is accomplished during the winter. Hence it is frequently observed in the spring months, where there is no variation of air in either direction at the mouth of the cave. In summer, when the temperature is near 100 degrees the air rushes out at the entrance to the cave with such force as frequently to extinguish lanterns carried by visitors. This condition prevails, however, for only a few yards; a distance of about half a mile from the entrance the motion of air is hardly perceptible at any time from the fact that the main avenue enlarges so rapidly that it plays the part of a reservoir, where a current of air from any direction speedily is neutralized.

A DEFINITE SPLIT
 It Came at the Jackson Dinner
 Over the Question of Making the Peace Treaty
 an Issue in the Elections.
 (Canadian Press Despatch.)
 Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—A split between President Wilson and William Jennings Bryan over whether the League of Nations should be made an issue at the coming election topped off the Jackson day deliberations of the Democratic party chiefs.
 It came at the Jackson dinner, as the climax of a day in which San Francisco had been chosen as the meeting place of the Democratic national committee in June, and it charged the air with political electricity.
 President Wilson, in his message read to the diners, assembled in two separate halls, declared that "the clear and single way out" was to submit the question to the voters as "a great and solemn referendum."
 Mr. Bryan, showing all the old-time vigor with which he led the fight for the president's nomination at Baltimore in 1912, declared that the Democratic party could not go before the country on that issue, because it involved a delay only if the Democrats captured a two-thirds majority of the senate. The party, Mr. Bryan declared, must secure such compromise as was possible.
 The disagreement between the president and his former secretary of state, the first in public view since Mr. Bryan left the cabinet because he did not agree with the president's course in the diplomatic negotiations with Germany, was thus disclosed as a fact, although it has been rumored and reported in the underground currents of national politics. In the opinion of the political leaders it crystallized an issue.
 President Wilson in his message said nothing whatever about a third term for himself, and neither did he make any formal announcement of his intended retirement to private life as some had forecast he would. Mr. Bryan said nothing bearing on any ambitions toward a fourth presidential nomination, although it variously had been predicted he would.
 Mr. Bryan, in his prepared address, said nothing toward a fourth presidential nomination, but before reading his manuscript he said he had nothing to ask and that therefore the diners would not listen to him with the thought that they were listening to a candidate.
 There were a dozen or more other speakers at the dinner, and their views on whether the league should be made a campaign issue were either divided, in favor of the president's or Mr. Bryan's, or else they did not touch on the subject at all.
 Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, declared in a statement last night that he feared President Wilson's Jackson day message had made impossible the hope "that in the senate we might have come together and ratified the treaty protected by the principles set forth in the fourteen resolutions."

BROWN-PHEASANT.
On New Year's day at the Baptist parsonage, Fredericton Junction, Rev. Mr. Wetmore united in marriage Miss Amy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Pheasant, to Everett Earl Brown, of St. John. Miss Ethel O'Connor, of St. John, acted as bridesmaid, while William Pheasant, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The bride was attired in a traveling suit of brown broadcloth, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of roses and maiden hair fern. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful set of racoon. The groom enlisted with the 140th Battalion, and served in France with the Princess Pats. He was wounded in the arm and side, and returned in October, 1918. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were the recipients of many beautiful presents, among which were cut glass preserve dishes from H. L. McGowan, with whom the groom is employed, and a silver butter dish and cake basket from the staff.

COMMISSION FOR HARBOR IS DEAD FOR PRESENT

Appeal to Ottawa for Large Expenditure

Extend Breakwater, Provide More Berths, Give Us Wireless Station—Mr. Bullock's Proposal

Preliminary steps were taken this morning towards prevailing on the dominion government for the development of the port of St. John. At a meeting held in the bay this morning the matter was talked over by His Worship and the city commissioners, the harbor committee from the board of trade, R. W. Wigmore, M. P., and the general superintendent of the New Brunswick district, Canadian Pacific Railway.

After considerable discussion it was decided to memorialize the government at the next session to commence as soon as possible the extension of the Negro Point breakwater to Partridge Island, the erection of additional steamer accommodation on the west side and the equipment of berth 14 and 15 with grain conveyors. The addition of grain conveyors to berth 15 has already been provided for.

The installation of a wireless station was also dealt with and this matter will be included in the programme of development asked for. It was pointed out that the provision of wireless communication in the port would facilitate the entry of steamers which have hitherto been held up in the bay by vapors of bad weather. One instance cited was that of the steamer Empress of France, which was delayed forty-eight hours in the mouth of the bay on her first trip to St. John by unfavorable weather. With the proper wireless apparatus here, it is said, this ship would have been able to ascertain her exact position and course and to have come into port under almost any weather conditions.

Commissioner Bullock said after the meeting that the matter of harbor commission would be held in abeyance for the present. He presented a scheme of purchase by the city of all private wharves and the leasing of the government facilities in order to do away with the dual control of the harbor which exists at present.

MORE LUMBERING IN KING'S COUNTY THAN EVER BEFORE

(Sussex Record.)
All lumbermen say it is a great winter for the woods. You can take it to see solid and you can snag out big loads. More lumbering is being carried on in the vicinity of Sussex this winter than ever before, and the coming season will see more lumber shipped from here than ever in the history of the town. Hauling has already commenced and many "deal teams" have been in evidence since the snow came and made good roads.

In the course of a couple of weeks it is expected that not fewer than 100 double teams will be engaged in the work of carrying deals and other products from the portable mills which stud the country around in all directions, bringing same to Sussex for shipment by the C. N. R.

The S. E. White Co., expect this year to get out about four million feet. This concern has portable mills now operating at Markhamville, Shepody Road and Porsyth's, the cut from which will be hauled to Sussex, and a cut of about a million feet on Smith's Creek will be attended to by a mill that is to be located on the John Morrow farm. This cut will also come to Sussex for shipment.

The H. White Co. propose getting out about 1,800,000 at Elm Valley and in the vicinity of 800,000 on the Parlee Brook. These cuts will be stream driven in the immediate vicinity of the mill at Rockville dam.

Among other operators whose lumber will come to Sussex is that of William Quirk, whose mill is situated at Jeffries Corner. He estimates his cut at 1,000,000 feet.
Joseph Trott is cutting on the Jerry Murphy property at Mount Pisgah, and expects to get out a million feet.
Edward Connelly is operating at Elm Valley, and his cut will be in the vicinity of a million and a half.
King McFarlane will get out from Shepody Road and elsewhere about half a million, and Andrew L. Floyd, who is operating on the McFarlane farm, Sussex Corner, will cut between six and seven hundred thousand.
E. G. Titus will probably cut about 600,000 feet on his property at Roachville.
Joe Devine at Jeffries Corner will get out quite a cut.
Harry Manning who is quite extensively engaged in lumbering at Newburg, will stream drive his logs to the mouth of the Smith's Creek, where a portable mill will take care of them.
All the lumber mentioned will be hauled to Sussex for shipment. The lumber operations mentioned only refer to what is being carried on in the immediate vicinity of the town of Sussex, and give but a slight idea of the extent of the lumber industry of Kings County.
Jones Bros. of Aponahque are large operators, whose output each season is several million feet, and this year will be larger than ever.
John E. McAuley, Millstream, lumbers extensively.
His Worship Mayor Hanford Price of Moncton, has large lumber interests at Havelock, as also has James Carson and others. Many mills are in operation in Upland, Hammond and other parts, in fact there is not a parish in the county where lumbering is not being more or less carried on.

This is Important Only if You Are Interested in Extraordinary Furniture Service

The growth of our business has been extraordinary—but not surprising. It was founded on a few simple ideas—in fact so simple that they are a great many times overlooked by merchants who are interested only in quick commercial success. We have never been interested in a quick success one-half as much as we have been interested in a permanent success.

In other words, we have not been as interested in sales as we have been in customers. That is why we feel we are not employed to sell furniture, but solely to show it, and to offer helpful suggestions when necessary—a broad statement, but just as true as it is broad. And—the service that goes with every sale is as unusual as the furniture itself. It is a service in the customer's interest first—and in the interest of Everett's ultimately, of course, but our profit must result, if at all, from the continued satisfaction and patronage of the people of St. John.

Everett's has long been the first choice of those who seek quality and style in furniture—while many buy here because of economy alone.

All who buy furniture here, whether it be one piece or the furnishings for a complete home, are sure of one thing—that they are buying guaranteed merchandise, chosen first of all because of its high standard of quality, and at less expense than in any other store.

HOOVER COMMENTS ON EUROPE'S NEEDS

Takes Exception to Opinions of European Propagandists—Neutrals' Duty.

New York, Jan. 9.—Herbert Hoover, on his way east in connection with relief work in Europe, yesterday telegraphed to his headquarters in this city a statement in which he took emphatic exception to opinions of "European propagandists," both concerning the volume of Europe's financial needs from the United States and the contention that the great bulk of those needs cannot be met by ordinary commercial credits. Asserting that, "with our taxes 600 per cent, over previous rates," there is no need for drawing on the United States treasury for further loans, Mr. Hoover states that "aside from some secondary measures by our government, the problem is one of ratification of peace and ordinary business processes." He adds that "by secondary measures, I mean that some dozen cities in Central and Southern Europe need breadstuffs on credit from the grain corporation, to prevent actual starvation and that the Allies are asking for temporary delay in paying interest on our government loans to them."

Outside of temporarily deferring interest, Mr. Hoover continues, Americans' task is reduced to helping out the bread supply of less than five per cent of the population of Europe; that no such situation exists as that which confronted America last year at this time, that there is no ground for hysteria on either side of the Atlantic.

Neutrals Should Aid.

Speaking of Europe as a whole and asserting that "the 70,000,000 people of prosperous nations who have not suffered in the war should also aid in European

Horlick's the Original Malted Milk—Avoid Imitations & Substitutes

Mr. Hoover admits that the position of Italy is difficult and that some of her larger cities may need breadstuffs assistance beyond the ability of commercial credits. Germany, he says, could obtain commercial credits if the reparations commission would allow her to use her domestic resources and unpledged foreign assets until she gets further on her feet.

After asserting that the East Baltic States have enough food except milk for their children, Mr. Hoover says Bulgaria, Greater Serbia, Roumania, South Russia and Turkey, except Armenia, have a surplus of food this year, while Hungary could feed herself if Roumania would return cattle and grain abstracted last summer.

"We are, therefore, left with Finland, Belgium, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria to consider," says Mr. Hoover. "Austria is the sorest point in Europe. In the food matter, the five last countries mentioned will take care of their agricultural and small town populations out of the crops of last year, leaving crowded centres to be provided for. These dozen or so large cities, including Italy's deficiency, affect populations aggregating say, fifteen or twenty million people."

adds Mr. Hoover, who asserts that she has ample unpledged foreign assets to cover her needs, as has France. Italy's Position Difficult.

TALK OF A PARTY TO SAVE TARIFF

It Would Be Made Up of Unionists, Conservatives and Protectionist Liberals, "Safe and Sane."

(Ottawa Correspondent Toronto Telegram.)

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Parliament will be summoned to meet at the end of February and when it does and the Unionist caucus subsequently considers matters relating to "the good and welfare of the order," suggestions may be made for a new alignment and the evolution of a new party.

Some of those interested are now discussing the formation. In 1917, when the Unionist party was formed, it had with it the war as its impelling force. The war is won and a new slogan and a new policy have to be adopted.

Meanwhile there have been developments in the body politic. The Farmers' Party evidently has arrived and the success in Ontario operates as a stimulus to it. Every day new plans are being unfolded to tackle the closed at Ottawa. The Liberals, likewise have had a national convention and, if they intend to practice what they preach their fiscal policy, while not going so far as that of the Farmers, is headed in the same direction. Low tariffs and, in many instances no tariff at all, would replace the protective system.

The Farmers' Party has drawn from the Conservatives, especially in the rural parts, but, on the other hand the rank and file of the Liberals are not a unit on the fiscal issue, a good sized wing believing still in a moderate tariff, and, in some instances, in the application of the principle of protection.

The argument now advanced is on one side a definite alignment of Unionists and Liberals and Conservatives, who believe in the tariff as an essential to Canadian industry, and, on the other, of those recruited from the old parties, who are demanding tariff reform and the wiping out of the last vestige of protection.

The plan in other words would be to mobilize the "safe and sane" moderates in one camp and those of a more radical tendency in the other in place of running a chance of having half a dozen groups in parliament with the intrinsic and instability which, assuredly would develop. While the project is only in the incubator and not vested with official form it is being discussed and its accomplishment is by no means impossible.

HUGE PROFITS IN LIQUOR SALES

One Wholesaler Has Half Million Stock Under One Roof—Orders Still Piling in Fast and Heavy.

Montreal, Jan. 6.—The price demanded for liquor is one that kills. The worries and vexations of the whole business will shorten the lives of the ten wholesalers who are here trying to meet a "dominion-wide demand," said one of the most prominent liquor wholesalers to the Toronto Telegram.

The demand from the western and far eastern provinces is exceptionally heavy. Wholesalers are doing their utmost to meet the requirements, but are very hard pressed. At present an effort is being made to give first attention to the vendors, and stored advance orders will be filled as soon as possible.

Quotations are being requested from one case to ten cartloads. Wholesalers are by no means in full swing. Legal difficulties and requirements have hampered them considerably, and some of the wholesalers are at least temporarily tied up.

Express companies, who had made elaborate arrangements for handling what they thought was going to be a heavy traffic from Montreal to Ontario points, are greatly disappointed at the prevailing conditions. Contrary to the general expectation very little stuff is being shipped.

No Estimate Possible.

Orders have piled in so fast and heavily upon the wholesalers that it is simply out of the question to try and figure if the stocks available will meet all the demands. It is reported that the wholesalers are freighting assorted orders in cartloads. It is absolutely impossible to give consumers exactly what they order. Substitution, according to one of those very closely in touch with the situation, is and must be resorted to.

Fabulous profits are reported to have been made over liquor transactions during the past few days. One thousand cases of Dewar's whiskey changed hands on the ocean at a profit of $5,000, and was resold within fifteen minutes at a further profit of $4,000.

Half Million Stock.

"I saw an order today for over seven cartloads," said James A. Bleakley of Toronto to the Telegram. "Things are humming. Under one roof one wholesaler has half a million stock of cases of quality Scotch. It's a case of paying the price to get what you want if you are particular."

HUMAN BONES FOUND IN HOUSE LANDRU OCCUPIED

Skull in Good Shape of Preservation is Part of the Discovery

Paris, Jan. 9.—Police officials investigating charges against Henri Landru, the alleged "bluebeard," who is accused of slaying a number of women and destroying their bodies, claim to have found about fifteen pounds of human bones in a house where Landru lived. Among the bones was a skull in a good state of preservation. Some of the bones had been cut with a saw, the teeth of which left peculiar marks which were easily recognizable.

It is said the saw with which the mark was done has been found and marks made by its teeth coincide with those found on the bone fragments. Inquiry as to the alleged operations of Landru's wife, says the Eclair, shows she was a "devoted accomplice" of her husband and "knew of everything he did." It is positing of property secured by Landru in the course of his alleged crimes.

MRS. HENWOOD
GAINED 20 POUNDS

Was All Run-Down From Flu - In Perfect Health Since Tanlac Built Her up.

According to the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have used it there is nothing more invigorating than Tanlac to persons suffering from the after effects of the grippe, influenza, pneumonia and typhoid fever, and bronchitis troubles, or who are in a run-down condition from any cause.

Among the many hundreds of New Brunswick people who have realized the powers of the medicine is Mrs. Agnes Henwood, residing at 61 Marsh Road, St. John. In relating her remarkable experience with Tanlac Mrs. Henwood states that she has not only gotten rid of all the after effects of influenza, but that she has also gained twenty pounds in weight. But let Mrs. Henwood tell her own story. Here is her statement:

"I had feared that my health would be ruined by the influenza which I contracted in the fall of 1918. I was so weak that I could not walk. My appetite was gone and I was so sick at the stomach all the time that I could scarcely retain a mouthful of food. My nerves were so completely shattered that the closing of a door or just a little noise would upset me. I had fearful headaches with the worst kind of dizzy spells and my condition was most serious and distressing.

"One day my husband got after me to try Tanlac, saying that other people were getting good from it, so I began taking it and the very first bottle did me a world of good. My appetite soon returned. I got so I could eat without having that nauseated feeling, and then I commenced to get back my lost weight and strength. I have taken six bottles of Tanlac now and my headaches as well as all my other miserable feelings are gone. I have also gained twenty pounds in weight and am feeling stronger and better than I did for years, even before I had the flu. So, now that I have found Tanlac I can conscientiously recommend it to others who are wanting something to relieve their suffering and build them up. It is the only thing that ever helped me and I believe it will help anyone in a run-down condition like I was.

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative—(Advt.)

SLIGHT DECLINE IN EMPLOYMENT

Report of Labor Department for Week Ending Dec. 18 Shows This Condition.

COCONUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better. It cleanses the scalp, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, sandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR BOYS.
It was fine last night and coasting was not yet there were about twenty sleds tied outside the room in which the Boys' Club holds its meetings in the City Road. No greater praise for the work of the Boys' Club organizers could be found or more sure evidence that the boys appreciate their club. On Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week the boys have a short course of physical drill and, commencing with last night, they will follow up with a special short programme, instructive and entertaining. Last night the entertainment took the form of a musical programme under the supervision of George Bernard Shaw, as Mr. Shaw is in Dr. Spangler's estimation. The address was original and most amusing and Dr. Spangler, most heartily thanked by the club. It was decided that the February meeting should be a Valentine one and the executive formally announced that it had been decided to give any one whose name appeared on the honor roll in the high school to become a member of the alumnae.

Through sunshine and sorrow, Through laughter and tears, The great safeguard of homes, More than one hundred years, Johnson's Anodyne Lincture

A prophecy come true. This famous doctor's prescription for internal and external use has over 100 years of success in treatments of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Cramps, Chills, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Sprains, Strains, etc. Soothing—healing—satisfying.

Don't Cough at Night
Don't let that irritating tickling in the throat keep you coughing most of the night. Don't let it annoy you during the day. Stop it—stop it completely with NADRUCO Syrup of Tar with Cod Liver Oil Compound. Sold by all good Druggists. It breaks up the cold; heals the inflamed membranes of the throat; relieves and soothes. It's wonderful how much better even a few doses will make you feel. Very pleasant to the taste; even children like it. Keep a bottle always in the house. None genuine except in a Red Package bearing the trademark Na-Dru-Co. Manufactured by National Drug and Chemical Company of Canada, Limited.

Women! Keep It On Dresser! Never Let Corns Ache Twice
Instantly! Few drops stop corn-softness, then corns and calluses shrivel, loosen and lift out with fingers—No pain!
The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered frezoline. Tiny bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this frezoline upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shrivelled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying frezoline or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh. For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of feet without any pain. Ladies! Keep it on the dresser.

The Malays and Bataks of Sumatra have solved their labor problem in a unique way. An important part of their food is the cocconut, and this also forms an important part of their commerce. They have trained monkeys to pick nuts, in which they show great dexterity. Carl D. La Rue, of Sumatra, writes to Science saying that trained cocconut picking monkeys sell at from $8 to $20, according to their skill. He adds that they are very savage, and will inflict a serious bite whenever they get a chance.

Something new and better for tea

TOMORROW for tea—try Grapelade. Serve it with toast, wafers or muffins—or make tarts if you like—but try the new taste of Grapelade. You'll like it—and so will everybody else. The true flavor of the full fresh grapes—rich in taste and color—smooth as velvet—and just tart-sweet enough. Grapelade is a spread for bread or for scones, a filling for pastry, a sauce for meats, with practically no end to the many tasty ways in which it may be used. Grapelade is just choice grapes and pure sugar—real "honey of grapes". Seeds, skins and acid crystals are removed. Try Grapelade today. In glass jars and enamel-lined tins—from your grocer. Write for a folder of splendid recipes.

WANTS WINNER TO GET $300,000 AND LOSER $100,000

Promoter Hopes to Make $1,500,000—Will Build Large Arena for Bout.

Replying to the big heavy weight championship bout to be staged between Carpentier and Dempsey, Promoter Coffroth said: "I feel that there should be a winner's and loser's end of the purse, and believe $300,000 to the winner and $100,000 to the loser is fair. Descamps wants the purse split 50-50, maintaining that Carpentier is as good a drawing card as Dempsey. That may be, but whether or not he is as good a fighter is the question. "The French people are good sports. Now let Carpentier and Descamps take a sportsman's chance; but the splitting of the purse will not hold up the fight. "Dempsey and Carpentier will split the moving picture money, 50-50. Moving pictures of the show will be valuable on account of the international aspect. "Tia Juana is across the international boundary below San Diego, Lower California, Mexico. The town itself is a village supported largely by tourists in search of curios and games of chance. Coffroth has a race track there. Two railroad lines and an automobile road lead into Tia Juana from the United States. Coffroth has announced he probably will build an arena for the fight. Persons familiar with Mexican customs and law believe Governor Estacantu, of Low-

California, will not interfere with the fight. Referring to participation in the negotiation by Charles Harvey, his representative in Paris, Coffroth said the only instructions given to Harvey were to offer the best terms possible to Carpentier's manager. "Until I hear from Harvey or Des-camps," he said, "I shall be more or less in the dark, of course, but it will not take long to start operations here when we hear from the other side. I am sure I am not over sanguine when I say I hope for an attendance which will total $1,500,000. "There will be no trouble in getting the crowd here. San Diego now has a direct railroad to the east which passes through Tia Juana. Those coming from the north will take other lines or steamships or automobiles. "That it will be the greatest match the world has known, at least in point of interest, is certain. It is more than national; it is more than racial; everyone knows of Carpentier, particularly from his war fame; everyone has a good idea of what Dempsey can do. The whole world will be interested in the outcome. "Sniffins boasts that he is a self-made man." "Then why did he make a fool of himself?"

The Biggest Value in Popular Priced Tailored-to-Measure Suits and Overcoats in the British Empire.

Your Every Dollar Has The Purchasing Power Of 100 Cents When You Order Our Tailored-To-Measure Clothes

WHENEVER we show a suiting or overcoating at any price in our standard range, we know beyond question or quibble that we offer a value that will stand the test of comparison or competition,—that no other concern can excel us in value-giving.

There is no "jockeying" as to price—a plain-figure tag states it clearly—the price that every patron pays—favoritism is no part of our policy. This standardization of values and service has been a distinct asset in the success of this establishment.

Suits and Overcoats Tailored-To-Your-Measure

SELECT at random any of the many materials in our range, and you will be getting a garment tailored to your measure that you would pay any other good tailor half again as much to duplicate—comparison will prove this to be a very conservative estimate.

Buy as good a suit or overcoat in any ready-made store, and you will be asked decidedly more for it. We hazard the guess that a year hence you would not accept for it the purchase price of your English & Scotch Woolen Co. tailored-to-measure suit or overcoat, even after it had seen an entire Jalayan winter's service. Jalayan General Manager for Canada.

Sidelights On Sport

Woodstock horsemen are completing arrangements for a big meet on the ice. A track has been prepared on the river and fifteen or more horses will be started in the winter races. It is expected that some of the St. John horsemen will arrange for a meet.

The Red Cap Snow Shoe Club of Halifax has again sprung to life and a committee is energetically working with a view to reviving interest in the sport. The club has arranged the following programme: Jan. 10, old-time sleigh drive; Jan. 17, long race, Dartmouth Common to Bedford; Jan. 24, mouth Common to Bedford.

Emilio De Gogorza America's Greatest Baritone
Best seats are going quickly. Tickets now on sale at Box Office, Imperial Theatre. Box seats, $2.50; orchestra and first two rows of first balcony, $2.00; remainder of first balcony, $1.50; rear balcony, $1.00. 107238-1-16 tramp to Colpitt Lake; Jan. 31, short race; Feb. 7, tramp, route to be announced later; Feb. 14, to be announced; Feb. 21, tramp. There is no reason why a similar club should not be organized in St. John. Snow shoeing is a wholesome and good sport and combined with races, sleigh drives, etc., should become a popular pastime.

The interest being manifested by local speed skaters augurs well for some great meets this winter. The boys are training faithfully and the fight for premier honors should be very interesting. St. John should be represented this year at the championship meet at Lake Placid, N. Y. Some good scores are being hung up in the bowling alleys throughout the city this year. Recently Noel Jenkins made 878 for a three-string total on the Y. M. C. I. alleys, while Tom Wilson and others have been shattering season records on Black's. Bowling is one of the most popular winter pastimes in this city.

There is a rumor that a hockey team is to be organized here and will take a trip to the States to meet some of the crack amateur organizations. Without rink to practice on, it will be a hard fight for the boys to round into shape. However, they could work out on Lily Lake or the Mill Dam.

Incentives.
"The two great incentives to effort," says a writer, "are fear of punishment and hope of reward." In our humble opinion, necessity is a poorer incentive than either.

OVER THE OCEAN

New Project for Flight Across Atlantic

Although Aeroplane and Airship Have Crossed from North America to Britain, Future is Thought to Lie in Air-Boats.

London, Jan. 8.—The announcement that another attempt may soon be made to fly across the Atlantic, this time with a Bergey aeroplane, again revives interest as to what type of aerial craft will finally come into common use for crossing by air from Europe to the United States. The great, but decidedly sporting achievements, which have already taken place, may mean nothing at all as regards the development of air-craft. We knew before the war that an aeroplane could maintain flight for more than 20 hours; 24 hours had been exceeded on one occasion. We knew that exceptional pilots could endure even that prolonged strain.

Nor was it necessary to fly the Atlantic in order to prove that aircraft can be accurately navigated out of sight of land. Directional wireless makes that possible; and it is in use every day. But apart from that, there are instruments and methods now available (although quite lately said to be impossible) which enable the aerial navigator to make a close estimate of the "drift" even when no fixed landmarks are in sight.

Previous Tests Neglected.

The astonishing thing about the trans-Atlantic project was that none of the entrants made sure beforehand that he possessed the physical capability. Some of them had made 10 and even 12-hour flights; but there is a great deal of difference between such flights, made with in reach of home, and 18 or 20 hours' piloting under circumstances which will inevitably give intense anxiety. However, there is the inducement of the honor to be won; and, men being what they are, the present phase was just as inevitable as was that during which Louis Bleriot, 10 years ago, flew the Straits of Dover on a frail monoplane driven by a 25-horsepower Anzani engine, in circumstances that neither he nor any other pilot would dream of repeating today.

Success with a two-seater does not mean that the Atlantic could be flown again except under favorable conditions and with great good fortune; whereas a crossing by a big airboat or an airship such as the R-34 could easily be repeated.

The small seaplane which was entered, the single-engine Fairley, a float machine, was no more a trans-Atlantic type than were the other two-seaters. In the event of a forced descent, the floats might save the machine for an hour or two; equally, they might not; they are not an ocean-going proposition. By the way, the description of this machine as a variable-wing type possibly conveys a wrong impression of variable wing-area; merely it is possible to lower the trailing edge of the main planes, thus increasing the lift at the expense of speed.

Adequate Harborage Needed.

Before airships can make the crossing with reasonable safety it will be necessary to provide adequate harborage at intervals along both coasts. A fairly regular service could then be established. Airships have the advantage that if on the out journey they fail to make land, they can return homeward with engines almost, if not quite idle; or starting out on a favorable wind, they can save their fuel for the return journey. For them a strong cross wind is perhaps the worst condition.

One result of the Atlantic competition may well be the establishment of the big air-boat in public confidence. It is a class of comparatively recent development; and the public would be surprised if they knew of all the labor that has been bestowed upon it, and the intricate difficulties that have been overcome. It may be stated, generally that

CENSUS DIRECTOR ROGERS DECIDES "SIAMESE" TWINS ARE TWO PERSONS

Washington, Jan. 9.—Director of the Census Rogers gave what he called a "saddleback opinion," yesterday, on the case of the "Siamese Twins," who, because they are physically joined, made the census enumerator scratch his head and bite his pencil several times when he undertook to list them. He did not know whether "they" were one or two.

"My idea," declared Mr. Rogers, when asked for his view of the matter, "that they are two—two lives, two souls. I have not had the case before me, but that is why it strikes me offhand—just a saddleback opinion, you know."

The twins, Lucia and Simplicio Gordini, are natives of the Philippine Islands, and eleven years old. They are living with Commissioner Yango, who is giving them an education.

Mr. Yango said the twins are undoubtedly two persons, although they are joined. "They are healthy, full of play, and very intelligent!" The twins attended the part while he was speaking in his office. Simplicio came in, accompanied by Lucia, who acquiesced in his brother's move and asked permission to attend a dinner. It was granted. Lucia took the initiative and went to the telephone. "This is the twins," he said into the receiver.

the system of providing ordinary land wheeled carriage is rapidly going out of favor. The building of a satisfactory air-boat of great size awaited the solution of the problem of the multiple-engine machine. That having been solved, the air-boat has gone ahead. There remains much to be done as regards the construction of the boat itself. The engines, too, offered their own special difficulties. For example, contrary to popular belief, the shaking and jolting to which an air-boat's engines are subjected are far greater than in the case of land machines; and certain types of engine will not endure taxying even on small waves, which, at high speed, seem as hard as concrete. Thus, the Rolls engine, admirable as it is for so many purposes, is not suitable in this department.

Lightness of Air-Boat.

Now the advantages, again contrary to what was at one time almost universally held, begin in the aerodynamics of the air-boat. Actually, the boat is lighter and offers less air-resistance than the wheeled undercarriage. This advantage can be used for greater petrol capacity and for higher speed, although the latter is less important; and it is greatly increased by the fact that there is no reason why the air-boat should be given a high altitude capacity. For all purposes, until we reach the stage when we can make intelligent use of upper currents of the air that will one day be accurately charted, the air-boat can safely fly at low altitudes, which in overland flying would more often than not be dangerous from the point of view of forced landings, besides being an annoyance to the people below.

Another advantage of the air-boat is its independence of specially equipped landing-places. It can come down anywhere on the water, and for that reason alone is likely in the long run to present a smaller bill of costs for repairs. Commercially, it will have the advantage of being in competition with comparatively slow traffic, whereas in many parts the aeroplane will at first be ruled out by superior railway facilities.

What has been said must not be taken as an argument in favor of the exclusive use of sea aeroplanes, or as indicating any paralyzing defect of land machines; quite the contrary, each division will have its sphere. The two-seater aeroplane, which was the first to fly direct across the Atlantic, is utterly unsuited to that class of work; and it will be one's duty to make that perfectly plain when the time comes. Yet the two-seater has its definite place in the aeronautical scheme; and that place cannot be encroached upon either by the air-boat or by the big airship.
