New Brunswick Boys Thrilled the World

For weeks and weeks that seemed like years and years they trained in the mud of England, marched through the slime, and slept under blankets that never were dry and they did not murmur.

For weeks and weeks that seemed like years and years they lived in the trenches of France, stood in mud and water up to their waists, and waited. Yet they did not murmur.

And then their chance came. Over the top they went with a yell—those boys from the towns and farms of this Province—smashed their way through the picked troops of Germany and for all time coupled the names of Courcellette, Vimy Ridge, and Passchendaele with that of New Brunswick.

Show You Are Worthy The Name They Won

That feat thrilled the world. The fighting Twenty-Sixth won a name and fame second to none in the whole British Army. That name is now the proud heritage of the people at home. Show you are worthy of it. Place that name and those boys above party strife. Unite to maintain the New Brunswick units at the front and the name they have fought and bled to win.

Vote for Union Candidates

Vote for the Union Government Candidates because they are pledged to support your lads at the front. It is no longer a case of Liberal or Conservative, but you must choose between Union Government and supporting your own at the front or Laurier and the repeal of the Military Service Act.

CARVELL ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

J. E. Porter Decided to Withdraw and Hon. F. B. Carvell is Declared Elected.

James E. Porter, who was opposing Hon. F. B. Carvell in Victoria-Carleton, officially withdrew his nomination Monday afternoon. In accordance with the provisions of the election act, Sheriff Foster declared Frank B. Carvell elected.

At 1 o'clock, at the court house, Sheriff Foster, returning officer for Victoria-Carleton, with his clerk, T. C. L. Ketchum, received the official withdrawal of James E. Porter, of Andover, Laurier candidate in the federal election. In accordance with the provisions of the election law he declared Frank B. Carvell elected to represent Victoria-Carleton. Much satisfaction was expressed over Mr. Porter's action as even his staunchest friends felt he had no chance whatever of winning.

Following is the official document tendered by Mr. Porter: To Albion R. Foster, Returning Officer for the Electoral District of Victoria and Carleton:

I, James E. Porter of Andover, in the county of Victoria, farmer, a candidate nominated on the 19th day of November, A. D. 1917, in the election now being held of a member to represent the said electoral district in the House of Commons of Canada, do hereby notify you under the Provisions of Sec. 104 of the Dominion Elections Act and declare to you that I am desirous of withdrawing and do hereby withdraw from said election as a candidate and you may therefore proceed in such election as if my nomination papers had not been received by you.

Dated this 3rd day of December, A. D. 1917.

JAMES E. PORTER

Hon. Frank B. Carvell's meetings last week in Victoria county convinced Mr. Porter and his friends that it would be wise to retire from the contest. The Union organization was getting into action and with the women's organization working in conjunction the result was a foregone conclusion.

In handling the returning officer his notice of withdrawal, Mr. Porter accompanied it with the following letter:

Woodstock, N. B., Dec. 3, 1917.

Albion R. Foster, Esq., Returning Officer, Carleton-Victoria.

Dear Sir,—In handing you my withdrawal as a candidate in the pending election I desire to explain briefly my reasons for so doing. As a strong supporter of Sir Wilfrid I was very anxious to have a straight Liberal candidate nominated, and urged several prominent Liberals to run.

It was only when they would not consent to run that I accepted the candidature. The Conservative party in convention decided not to put up a contest. Later delegation after delegation persuaded me to withdraw for the best interests of the Liberal party. I still persisted until I am up against the fact on the best legal authority that my nomination is defective. My nomination paper was prepared at Grand Falls, and when I brought it to Woodstock I consulted a solicitor, who advised me that it was not in proper form. He prepared me another, but we had no time in which to get signatures. It was filed subject to objection. Since nomination day I had a friend get an opinion from another prominent solicitor and he advised that it was defective and irregular and pointed out in detail the reasons for his opinion.

I concluded the nomination paper was insufficient and it would be useless to continue a contest which only end in protest and defeat. For these reasons, I decided to withdraw and save my friends from further trouble. I very much regret to do this, as my friends are many and true, and I shall never be able to compensate them for their kindness to me and loyalty to Sir Wilfrid.

Yours faithfully,
JAMES E. PORTER.

F. A. MCCOLLOM IS PROMOTED

Is Now Commander of a Submarine Patrol Boat in British Navy

Good news comes from Lieut. Frank A. McCollom, for more than two years, now, attached to His Majesty's Naval Service. He has been given the command of the crew of a submarine patrol vessel, and is the first Canadian to receive such a commission.

At the out-break of the war Lieut. McCollom, only son of Postmaster J. E. McCollom of Hartland, was a clerk in the head office of the Bank of Montreal, having about 15 years ago entered the service with the local branch. Soon after things began to look serious in Europe he enlisted for service in the Royal Navy and for a long time has been in the patrol service off the coast of Ireland, doing duty on a submarine destroyer—a surface vessel of fast speed. He has had some bitter encounters with the undersea enemy, and has seen the decks of his vessel bespattered with shrapnel fragments from the air. Some of his experiences have been thrilling in the extreme, yet his letters home are full of good cheer and courage.

Lieut. McCollom's recent promotion came to him altogether as a surprise. He was summoned unexpectedly before the commanding officer, and says, in a letter, that he fully expected to be reprimanded for some unconscious misdemeanor, but was surprised and naturally gratified, to be told that he had been recommended for command and that his duties began at once.

William Parent.

Word has been received here of the sudden death of William Edwin Parent, of pneumonia and heart failure, at his home in Ypsilanti, Michigan, on Oct. 28. Mr. Parent was born in Centreville, Oct. 25, 1875. When about 14 years old he went to Michigan to join his father and has since resided there. By his ready sympathy and sunny disposition he has made hosts of friends who greatly mourn his early demise. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Howard, Albion, Nebraska; and Mrs. Albert G. Bell, Bellville, besides other relatives in St. John and York Co.

Taking to The Boats

By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1917, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

One hour after noon on the twelfth day of February, 1882, the brig Gull, bound from Liverpool to the Cape of Good Hope, and having forty-eight souls aboard, burned to the water's edge and sank, leaving us 350 miles off the African coast.

There was some confusion, of course, when we took to the boats, but we got away from the brig in good shape, with no one lost or hurt and with water and provisions enough to do us for a week. We were in charge of the boatswain, and, but for a terrible accident, I know we should have pulled through without mishap or suffering. He was an oldish man, a good sailor, and he had authority over all in the boat. Besides the crew, there were three young men and a woman and a girl. The woman was the girl's aunt.

It had come 9 o'clock or later, and some of the men were asleep, when the boatswain went forward and stood on the thwart with his arm around the mast to steady himself. I think he was looking about to see if he could find anything of the other boats. Just how it happened no one could tell, though three of us had our eyes on him when he suddenly pitched overboard. We were still pitching briskly about and perhaps it was a sharp drive of the boat which sent him to his death. If he rose to the surface he did not call out. He simply went right out of sight and never even called out.

Little or nothing was said that night as to who should command the boat, but morning had hardly dawned when there was a row about it. Being a lad not yet out of my apprenticeship, I was of course out of the question, but each of the other three sailors was determined to act as captain. From words they came to blows, and another horror fell upon us. The three young men were driven into the quarrel, and the six had a savage fight with such weapons as could be laid hold of. It was a dead calm, with the sea quieted down, and a couple of sharks were lying off our port quarter. No one had seen them, nor did any one see them until two of the young men were knocked overboard. It wasn't five seconds before both were seized and drawn under. This horrid climax to the row cooled the men off at once.

One of the sailors had been stabbed in the back, another badly hurt about the head, and the third young Englishman had his right arm broken.

The sailor who had been stabbed took command of the boat, and when things were settled down breakfast was served out. We had not to exceed two gallons of water and a dozen biscuits, and the day was hot and not a breath of air stirring.

The aunt, as I now heard called Mrs. Morton, took very sick, and we were terrified at our helplessness. She was soon in a high fever and raving.

About 9 o'clock the aunt sank into a stupor from which she never awakened, and all of us slept for some time. We were finally awakened by a wounded sailor getting up and calling for water. In his torment he caught sight of the man in the bow, and he rushed forward and seized him. I ran to pull him off, but before I could reach him both had gone overboard. The two other sailors sat up, asked me what happened and then fell back and slumbered as soundly as before.

It was sunrise when the sailors awoke. With a leader these men would have suffered and endured for a week and made no complaint. They no sooner saw that the calm still continued than they began cursing and threatening, and they looked at the girl so that she covered in terror. Presently they went forward and sat close together and talked in whispers, and the girl crept over to me and said: "I know what they are planning; they intend to kill me!"

I gave her one of the knives and told her I would protect her to the last. The men talked for an hour or so and then lay down and went to sleep again. I was half mad with hunger and thirst by that time, and I knew the poor girl was, if anything, worse off. We talked in low tones of the good things we had eaten and the springs we had drunk from, and we kept our heads constantly wet with the salt water to alleviate our thirst as far as it could. At 4 o'clock or soon after the men awoke and called to me. They wanted to kill the girl. I reasoned with them and told two or three deliberate falsehoods and finally prevailed upon them to wait another day. I felt they would do so and slept soundly that night. The sun came up next morning the same ball of fire, and any sailor could have told that the calm would last another day. What happened along toward noon I can never distinctly remember, for I had little reason left. There must have been a fight, but I remember none of the details. It is like trying to recall a dream of years ago. What I can remember back to was waking up in the cabin of the German steamer Bergen.

We were alone, and there were two living skeletons—the girl and I. We were alone, and there were two blood-stained knives in the bottom of the boat to deepen the mystery. The girl pulled through as well as myself, but there was no after romance. She thanked me over and over again with tears in her eyes, but there was no love. She was a lady bred and born, and I was only a poor sailor lad.

FROM THE UNDER DOG.

For him who isn't in the swim
The times are out of joint.
To errors in the government
He has an eye for joint.
The wild accounts of graft and grab,
Of plunder, crime and loot,
Are food for him, and if they fail
He makes up ones to suit.

Upon the scene political
No stars of hope appear.
Things are a long from bad to worse
With each succeeding year.
He knows that long it cannot last,
To smash the thing must go.
Then maybe he will shed a smile
And say, "I told you so."

You bet it is not much he thinks
Of what they do and say
In Washington, nor does he guess
That congress earns its pay.
In fact, if he possessed a dog
No brighter than a lot
Of senators of whom he knows
He'd have the creature shot.

When he is down and in the dumps
A bunch of things he sees
That are not quite so plain to those
Who live a life of ease.
But let him only scent success,
That stranger overdo.
And things that pass before his eyes
Don't look one-half so blue.

His View.

"Are you fond of country life?"
"Indeed I am."
"But you never go to the country."
"Never, I always stay in the city."
"Why deny yourself so?"
"It isn't denial at all. I am fond of country life, for it is a thing that I can sometimes manage to get people whom I don't like to take up."

Couldn't Collect.

"Brown keeps his house very warm."
"Yes, so warm that it affects his coal dealer."
"Affects him?"
"Yes."
"Oh, I see—good customer."
"Didn't mean that."
"What then?"
"Makes him hot."

Treating Him Right.

"Leave me car fare," pleaded the victim of the holdup man.
"No," replied the robber. "But I want to do the right thing. A distinguished person like you should not ride in street cars. Wait here and I will send my auto around to take you home."

His Desire.

"I feel the use of a greater education."
"Every one does."
"Yes, but there's one subject that I wish to expand to the depths."
"What is that?"
"I want to learn how to inherit money."

Willing.

Too many old codgers stand ready and willing.
In fact, in the case would make bold—
To take several buckets of sympathy spilling.

Women are vain, but as a general thing they let it go at that and seldom prove in vain.

Nerves of the Stomach

Were Weak and Inactive as Result of Nervous Prostration—Lost Twenty Pounds—Had to Take Sleeping Powders to Get Any Rest.

Many people never realize that the movement and action of every organ of the human body is dependent on the energy supplied by the nervous system.

When the nervous system gets run down there is weakness throughout the entire body. You feel tired and languid and your stomach and other digestive organs are similarly affected. Appetite fails, digestion is poor, you do not get the good of what you eat and gradually grow weaker and weaker.

This process can only be stopped by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which goes directly to create new nerve force and thereby to invigorate the whole human body.

Mrs. Geo. S. Ellis, 48 Davidson street, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My husband had an attack of nervous prostration, and, although he doctored for some time and tried different other medicines, he could not get relief. He had to resort to sleeping powders given him by the doctor to make him sleep. The greater part of the trouble seemed to be with the nerves of his stomach. He began to lose weight, and kept on going down until he had lost twenty pounds. We had read advertisements in the newspapers for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and noticed that it seemed to be doing a lot of good for people troubled with nervousness, so my husband decided to try it. He found benefit almost from the start, and continued this treatment until he had taken about twelve or thirteen boxes. The result was most satisfactory. He is now enjoying good health, sleeps well, and has gained back nearly all the weight he had lost. He also uses Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills occasionally, and thinks them an excellent remedy. I have also used this latter medicine for dizzy spells and liver trouble, and was completely cured of these complaints. We think a great deal of Dr. Chase's medicines, and cannot speak too highly of them."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers, or Remans, Rates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Not to be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.

Carleton Co. Girl Weds in West

A British Columbia correspondent sends the following which will interest many Carleton Co. people:

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at 6 o'clock, Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at the home of Mrs. E. A. Hallett, Edmonds, when their sister, Margaret Pearl Hamilton, youngest daughter of Hugh Hamilton, formerly of Woodstock, was married to John Charles Eekland Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glover, of Kerrisdale, formerly of Brighton, Sussex, England. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. F. Connor, in the presence of about thirty relatives and intimate friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, ivy and chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed under a canopy of maple leaves, ivy and chrysanthemums. The bride party standing under a white bell entwined with smilax. The bride entered the room as the "Bridal Chorus" from Johann Sebastian Bach was played by Miss Alice Jackson. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, who arrived from the east about a week ago, looked very pretty in a gown of white duchesse satin and nines, with crystal trimmings. She wore a long bridal veil of tulle arranged in a cap over hair under a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a lovely shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Hamilton, who wore a pretty gown of maize crepe-de-chene and nines and a corsage bouquet of pink and white carnations. She was also attended by a flower girl, her niece, Isabella Hallett, and a little ring-bearer, the groom's little niece, Esmie Stevens. The former wore a white silk frock and carried a pretty basket of pink and white chrysanthemums and the latter a white lingerie frock and carried the ring in a silver basket, twined with smilax and white ribbon. Leslie Cooper acted as groomsman. Following the ceremony a reception was held when the young couple received the congratulations of their friends. Later a wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for about forty. The table was centered with a three-tier cake in a bed of smilax. Smilax was wreathed about the table and white ribbon streamers were carried from the chandelier to the table, where they were caught under vases of chrysanthemums. White streamers, twisted with smilax, were brought from the chandelier to the corners of the rooms, which was profusely decorated with ivy and yellow chrysanthemums. After dinner a toast to the King was proposed by Mr. Knight, to the bride and groom by Rev. C. F. Connor, to the parents of the couple by Mr. Hards, responded to by Mr. Glover; to the host and hostess by the groom, responded to by Mrs. Hallett; toast to the bride's attendants by Mr. Cooper. Later in the evening the bride party, accompanied by almost the entire company of guests, motored to Vancouver and left on the midnight boat for a short trip to Victoria amid a shower of rice and confetti. On their return they will reside in Kerrisdale. The bride went away in a smart tailored suit of French serge, in crushed blackberry shade, with large black velvet hat, trimmed with golden flowers, and white furs. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome necklace of amethysts and pearls. To the bridesmaid he gave a sardonyx ring and little gold rings to the little flower girl and ring-bearer.

A convenient and simple form (to help tell whether the flock is paying or not) has been worked out by the Poultry Division, Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

This form, which may be hung up in the poultry house or the kitchen, provides space for marking down each day, the number of eggs laid. ## Good for the whole family

A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general.

While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The more powerful convulsive cough of a big man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a big man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the delicate tissues of the throat, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza and whooping cough.

Get it at once—Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Carleton Co. Girl Weds in the West

A British Columbia correspondent sends the following which will interest many Carleton Co. people:

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at 6 o'clock, Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at the home of Mrs. E. A. Hallett, Edmonds, when their sister, Margaret Pearl Hamilton, youngest daughter of Hugh Hamilton, formerly of Woodstock, was married to John Charles Eschard Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glover, of Kerriedale, formerly of Brighton, Sussex, England. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. F. Connor, in the presence of about thirty relatives and intimate friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, ivy and chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed under a canopy of maple leaves, ivy and chrysanthemums. The bride party standing under a white bell entwined with smilax. The bride party entered the room as the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played by Miss Alice Jackson. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, who arrived from the east about a week ago, looked very pretty in a gown of white duchesse satin and nixon, with crystal trimmings. She wore a long bridal veil of tulle arranged in a cap over hair under a coronet of orange-blossoms and carried a lovely shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Hamilton, who wore a pretty gown of maize crepe-de-chene and nixon and a corsage bouquet of pink and white carnations. She was also attended by a flower girl, her niece, Isabella Hallett, and a little ring-bearer, the groom's little niece, Esmie Stevens. The former wore a white silk frock and carried a pretty basket of pink and white chrysanthemums and the latter a white lingerie frock and carried the ring in a silver basket, twined with smilax and white ribbon. Leslie Cooper acted as groomsmen. Following the ceremony a reception was held when the young couple received the congratulations of their friends. Later a wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for about forty. The table was centered with a three-tier cake in a bed of smilax. Smilax was wreathed about the table and white ribbon streamers were carried from the chandelier to the table, where they were caught under vases of chrysanthemums. White streamers, twisted with smilax, were brought from the chandelier to the corners of the rooms, which was profusely decorated with ivy and yellow chrysanthemums. After dinner a toast to the King was proposed by Mr. Knight, to the bride and groom by Rev. C. F. Connor, to the parents of the couple by Mr. Hards, responded to by Mr. Glover; to the host and hostess by the groom, responded to by Mrs. Hallett; to the bride's attendants by Mr. Cooper. Later in the evening the bride party, accompanied by almost the entire company of guests, motored to Vancouver and left on the mid-night boat for a short trip to Victoria amid a shower of rice and confetti. On their return they will reside in Kerrisdale. The bride went away in a smart tailored suit of French serge, in crushed blackberry shade, with large black velvet hat, trimmed with golden flowers, and white furs. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome necklace of amethysts and pearls. To the bridesmaid he gave a sardonyx ring and little gold rings to the little flower girl and ring-bearer.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR—FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application dissolves the scum of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scum robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

River-Gillett.

A very quiet wedding took place at Andover on Tuesday Nov. 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gillett when their daughter Beatrice was united in marriage to Signaller Ivan Rivers, formerly local manager of the Western Union, now of the signalling corps, Ottawa, by the Rev. J. R. Belyea. The bride who was unattended was gowned in belgian blue satin and was given in marriage by her father. After a wedding luncheon the happy pair left on the afternoon train for a short visit with the groom's parents. Only the immediate relatives and a few friends were present at the ceremony.

Mr. Rivers leaves on Saturday for Ottawa and expects to go overseas very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rivers have the best wishes of many friends for happiness.

A convenient and simple form (to help tell whether the flock is paying or not) has been worked out by the Poultry Division, Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

This form, which may be hung up in the poultry house or the kitchen, provides space for marking down each day, the number of eggs laid. It also indicates space for recording the number of eggs and poultry sold or eaten; also space to note the feed bought or taken from the farm, and columns for entering cash receipts, expenditures and balances.

The form is a convenient place to keep your poultry account each month and may be had on

A WORD TO LIBERALS.

The most bitter complaint of Liberals against the old Borden government was that its administration was marked by partisanship and patronage. If the union government, which has abolished patronage, is defeated, what will we have? A partisan government and a cry for patronage from every province. Does anyone doubt the truth of this assertion? Among those most active in opposition to the government are patronage seekers. This is true in St. John, and it is equally true of every city and province. The supporters of union government have laid aside partisanship and dispensed with the patronage committee. By this action they have removed one great cause for criticism of the old government. But they have gone further and pledged themselves if returned to power to conscript wealth as well as men, and to mobilize all the resources of the country to aid in winning the war. Why question their sincerity and make common cause with Bourassa and the anti-British element which threatens the peace and unity of Canada? This is not a time for partisanship, but for unity of effort such as that to which the union government is pledged. Every sort of unfair and dishonest canvass is being made by some of those who are opposed to the government. Thoughtful Liberals cannot fail to see the drift of such appeals, and the danger that threatens Canada in this hour of her destiny. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not in league with the disloyal and mercenary elements, but they are determined to bend him to their will or usurp the leadership for themselves. No Liberal should be a party to such an outcome of the present campaign. Better that Sir Wilfrid should fall than succeed with such a following as he will get from Quebec province, and such a policy as would break faith with our sons in France and Flanders. When the war is over and matters of purely domestic policy again command attention, there will be a re-alignment of parties, and the men who fought in Europe will have a hand in the readjustment. Today those men should be the first consideration, with every Liberal and every Conservative, as supporters of the union government.—St. John Telegraph.

HON. F. B. CARVELL.

Hon. F. B. Carvell has given himself to public life, and public life is the gainer thereby. That he is big enough, in response to the call of conscience, to place country before party, even at the cost of the severance of cherished comradeships, proves his quality. That his motives would be questioned by rabid partisans and mercenary men was inevitable, but he is not alone in that regard. The people of his native province have marked his career with growing interest, recognizing that a man of his ability, fearlessness and capacity for honest work must rise to leadership among his fellows. Today he represents this province in the government of the Dominion, and the message he brings to the people of St. John is of vital importance. Alike regardless of disparagement and open attack, he stands firmly for the principles he has espoused, and asserts the great Liberal principle of independence when a partisan policy fails, to commend itself to his judgment and his conscience. A government of which he is a member may be relied on to remove abuses, remedy wrongs, and promote legislation for the public welfare. Above all, it may be relied on in this crisis to keep faith with the Empire and the men overseas. When the war is over, and the great task of reconstruction begins, the country will be fortunate if it has as leaders men of the courage and foresight and genuine patriotism of the Hon. F. B. Carvell.—St. John Times.

OVER 400 MILLION IN VICTORY BONDS

Carleton County Bought Over A Million Dollars' Worth

The campaign for Canada's Victory Loan ended Saturday night with total purchases throughout Canada of more than $400,000,000 worth. The bonds sold in Carleton county amounted to $1,300,000. At the outset this county was asked to take $400,000. Later the allotment was raised to $600,000, but the result of the sales totalled over a million. The parish of Brighton came second to Woodstock town and parish. The allotment at first was $35,000, then $60,000; and the magnificent total of $185,000 was reached.

The county committee at Woodstock discovered as the campaign drew to a close that they were short $30,000 to make the even million. The Woodstock town committee agreed to take $20,000 additional if the Hartland committee would take the ten thousand. This was agreed to, but it looked like some task. Every business man had taken every dollar that he could spare. To buy further would incur real hardships—yet the local men got together and went to it. Seven men each subscribed for an additional thousand on the chance that they may be able to resell for what they paid for the bonds. Therefore it is not too late to secure Victory Bonds if there are any who neglected to do so. Any person desiring to invest should immediately get in touch with A. L. Baird who has the disposal of the extra seven thousand.

Those who patriotically joined in the pool to take care of the extra apportionment are S. S. Miller, H. H. Hatfield, S. J. Hatfield, Dr. Curtis, A. W. Kyle, W. D. Keith.

The amounts sold in each parish are as follows:

Woodstock	383,300
Brighton	185,200
Richmond	68,950
Wicklow	62,000
Wilmot	84,760
Wakefield	48,950
Aberdeen	46,100
Kent	50,000
Simonds	29,550
Peel	25,000
Northampton	24,250

An Appeal for Sailors.

On December 8th an appeal will be made throughout the Dominion by the Navy League of Canada to raise funds for the relief of British and Canadian sailors and their dependents, and for the Sailors' Homes, Institutes and Hospitals in Canada and throughout the Empire. It is earnestly hoped that the appeal will meet with a generous response.

The Navy League of Canada is a branch of the Navy League of the Empire, and in addition to the object expressed in the appeal now being made, its works include the spreading of knowledge and inspiration regarding the British Navy and the British Mercantile Marine. It is supported by many of the most famous men and women in Great Britain, while its Canadian branch is under the patronage, and has the hearty sympathy of, the Duke of Devonshire.

The present war has brought home to everybody as never before the immense value, and indeed the absolute necessity of Britain's naval power. But for the British Navy the Canadian farmer would have his crops on his hands to-day, the Canadian manufacturer would have a closed shop and the Canadian business man would be almost without business to do. An appeal on behalf of the men of the navy, therefore, should and will be received with ready sympathy by the Canadian people, who now realize as never before that the foundation of the Empire's strength is in the Empire's ships.

But not less heroic—perhaps almost more heroic—than the work of the navy in the war has been the work of the sailors of the Mercantile Marine, who have risked their lives, and are risking them daily and nightly in order to keep the commerce of the Empire moving. These men have no Government separation allowance or Government pensions, and their family and dependents deserve the support of every citizen because of what the merchant sailors have done.

Branches of the Navy League are handling the appeal where such branches exist, but the Daughters of the Empire everywhere throughout Canada are also identified with it. Patriotic bodies of all kinds might well make a special effort for December 8th on behalf of the Empire's sailors.

Arthur Thornton is away down in Texas. At Toronto he was attached to the Royal Flying Corps and his squadron has been sent south where there is a more salubrious climate for flying than the frosty upper air of a Canadian winter. Arthur left Toronto on Saturday and arrived at Fort Worth on Monday.

Report from Andover states that in that town on Nov. 28 the mercury registered eight degrees below zero, the coldest November day on record there. On the same day at Hartland the lowest point registered was two below—which was plenty cold. Thursday morning at Grand Falls ten below was recorded.

F. T. Atkinson, for several years manager of the N. B. Telephone exchanges in this county, with headquarters at East Florenceville, has been promoted to the charge of the Fredericton exchanges. A host of friends, while congratulating him on his advance, will regret the departure of Mr. Atkinson who has been popular, always obliging, and a splendid citizen.

Austin Campbell of Peel died at Chipman Memorial Hospital, St. Stephen, a few days ago, after an operation for stomach trouble. He was about 45 years of age and unmarried. The ladies of the Church of England congregation will give their annual supper and sale of fancy and useful articles in the Armory on the evening of Dec. 14. Supper will commence at 5 o'clock and the charge will be 40 cents. These ladies have a reputation as public caterers and this annual event always proves one of the most interesting functions of the season. It affords a splendid opportunity to secure at moderate cost suitable articles for Christmas gifts.

The big advertisement of A. W. Phillips, one of Carleton county's foremost merchants, should prove valuable reading to people who live within trading distance of Bristol. By keeping strict faith with his customers Mr. Phillips has worked up a very large business, and this Christmas season he is making an extra effort to capture a big share of the trade. His splendidly appointed store is upstairs and down filled with a splendid array of goods that should have a strong appeal to the people, particularly as the prices are remarkably attractive.

The basket social held by the Women's Institute last Friday evening was an enjoyable affair and brought in a sum of $48 which the Institute will use for patriotic work.

If you want to sell anything—no matter what—advertise it in The Observer. The coal stove advertised last week went within twelve hours and another purchaser came for it a few minutes after it was sold. Another man advertised for ship knees and said he got enquiries from all over Carleton-Victoria and was surprised that he should get so many. Still another advertised for dressed pork and a few days after the ad appeared he phoned The Observer: "Stop my ad for goodness sake: I'm offered 10,000 pounds more pork than I can buy." The Observer is read by more people in Carleton-Victoria than any other paper.

PRODUCE PRICES

Today potatoes bring $2.50, turnips 50, oats 95, dressed pork 17-19, eggs and butter 40 to 42, chickens 18, buck wheat meal $5.00, loose hay $7.

Robinson-Watson

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, Andover was a pretty wedding on Nov. 28 when their daughter Hazel M. C. was united in marriage to Roy D. Robertson of the I. C. R. staff at Moncton. The ceremony took place in the drawing room which was tastefully decorated for the occasion in green and white, the bride party standing under a large white bell suspended from an arch of evergreen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gordon Pringle, of Kincairdine. The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a becoming gown of white satin with veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and carnations. Her attendant, Miss Cyrotha Watson was gowned in yellow crepe de chene. The groom was ably supported by Sanford Jamer. Mrs. Bertha Waite played the wedding march. After the ceremony and reception a wedding luncheon was served by the Misses Bird, Cora Moores, Agnes Robertson, Loveria James and Jessie Jamer to about forty guests. The decorations in the dining room were red and white. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson left on the afternoon train for Moncton where they will reside, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with feather hat and wolf turs, the latter being the groom's gift. The bride was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, and money. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Robert Watson of Devon; Mrs. Archie Robertson and Miss Agnes Robertson of St. John; Mrs. Archie Baker, of Korea; Misses Bird, of St. Leonard's, Loveria James, Mr. Alvan Jamer and Mr. and Mrs. F. Smith, Mr. and A. Smith, Mrs. Willett, Red Rapids; Miss Edith Larlee, Tobique and Cora Moores, Woodstock.

First Arrest for Violation Prohibitory Law

The first arrest under the Prohibitory Liquor Law in Carleton county was effected here yesterday when Sheriff Foster took into custody a fellow hailing from Houlton. He has, it is alleged, been receiving wet goods at this station, and taking them over to Houlton, disposing of his wares as he went along, so the story goes.

Before Police Magistrate Kelly he was fined $100.

The Kitchener Incident

Sir Robert Borden was refused a hearing in Kitchener, Ontario. The incident proves which side those who want Canada to withdraw from the war will support. The union government stands for prompt assistance for the Canadians at the front. The pro-Germans of Kitchener, some of them of German birth or descent, are opposed to the union government for that reason. Their attitude ought to determine also the attitude of all who sincerely desire that Canada shall do her full duty to herself and the Empire and the cause of civilization. It is quite safe to assume that any influence the friends of Germany in Canada or the United States can exert will be exerted to prevent if possible the sending of any more Canadians to the front. It is the misfortune of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he cannot prevent these people and the Nationalists of Quebec from supporting his candidates. They believe his policy is less likely to keep Canada represented on the western front than is the policy of the Union government. Their support is therefore a far more significant condemnation of his policy than any argument the Union candidates could present. Nothing could be more unfortunate than that they should have a strong representation in the next house of commons. Sir Wilfrid Laurier does not share their disloyal sentiments, but they do not care a fig though he repudiates or denounces them. They will still support his policy because they believe it will best serve their end. That being so, the duty of those who believe Canada would be dishonored by delay is clear. They should set aside partisanship and support the Union Government, and the policy which would give new courage and prompt assistance to the men who are defending the honor and the life of Canada. —Times

CARVELL, UNIONIST

Hon. F. B. Carvell's campaign in Carleton-Victoria for Union government has been carrying conviction by reason of his aggressiveness, his record as a fearless and able defender of public rights, and the earnestness and sincerity with which he espouses the Union cause. He will be welcome in any constituency he can find time to visit, and his presence in any riding should do much to steady opinion among old time Liberals, some of whom have been suspicious, or hostile to the Union movement. These Liberals know Mr. Carvell, and have followed with admiration his record as a militant Liberal leader for several years. Seeing him and hearing him they cannot but remind themselves how vicious and how unfounded are some of the reflections which have been made upon Mr. Carvell's motives in joining the Union ministry. Early in the campaign when Mr. Carvell was speaking in Ontario, someone in the audience suggested that Mr. Carvell was going to become a Tory. Before the New Brunswick leader could make denial of a statement so absurd, many of the old time Liberals in the audience laughed outright. They had recalled Mr. Carvell's fighting record for every cause which Canadian Liberals hold dear. The incident is worth keeping on the record because, on giving the matter thought, Liberals everywhere must recognize the sterling and resolute character of Mr. Carvell's Liberalism and must know that he will be high in the councils of any true Liberal party, giving effect to the real Liberal principles in this country after the war.

It should be said, also, that Mr. Carvell had several opportunities to join a reformed Borden government before the Union project took definite form. All of these early efforts Mr. Carvell rejected unhesitatingly. He agreed to the formation of a real union ministry when he had proof that eastern Canada as well as the West, was to be adequately represented by men of high standing, of ability, and whose faith in Liberal principles, like his own, had stood every test that comes in public life. And he became a Unionist only when he had proof that the official policy of the Liberal leader could not be accepted as satisfactory from the standpoint of those who know in their hearts that Canada's war effort must not be a matter of a referendum, or of academic debate but that it must quickly and directly and without equivocation or subterfuge provide for the steady and timely reinforcements of our divisions on the battlefield.

Such is Carvell the Unionist. The very presence of the man in every New Brunswick constituency he possibly can visit will not only give a great impetus to the Unionist cause, but will in itself serve to refute many of the foolish and unjust canvasses that are being spread about the province in the hope that Liberals may be deceived as to the merits and purposes of the Unionist movement. Union government is not a matter of party politics, but the reverse; it is a war measure, pure and simple, and the people who are supporting it have dropped party politics until after Germany has been beaten. Keep that always in mind.—Telegraph.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter, wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called frezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out. This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply absorbs up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of frezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

Opportunity for Dental Work

Dr. Manzer has returned to Woodstock and will resume his practice in dental surgery. For the past year Dr. Manzer has been serving as a Captain in the Canadian Army Dental Corps and this great experience has added more to his already long experience in dental work and head surgery. His experience in anaesthetics, especially gas, has been enormous, handling hundreds of patients monthly in the Army Hospitals. He is anxious to procure all the difficult cases possible. His equipment is of the most modern type and as in the past he guarantees all his work to be of the best. Gas and ether administered. His famous anaesthetic, "Idont-hurt" for the painless extraction of teeth and cement fillings inserted; Crown and bridge work.

His motto is quality and not quantity of work. Office at his residence, Chapel street, which faces the Post Office and is opposite the Turner House and Armoury, Woodstock, N.B.
