GUELPH QUITS A LOSER.
Guelph, Sept. 22.—At a meeting of the directors of the Maple Leaf Baseball Club, held last night, a statement of the finances was presented. The club were able to meet all liabilities up to a month ago. The verdict of the greatest interest was taken were spoiled by rain, and the result was that the deciding games for the championship were played away from home, and the Guelph Club lost money. It is understood the management are several hundred dollars behind.

DID CRANE SUICIDE?
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The inquest to determine the cause of the death of Edward N. Crane, the pitcher of world-wide reputation, who was found dead in bed in his room at Congress Hall Hotel on Central avenue on Sunday morning, was held at the morgue yesterday. The verdict of the jury was as follows: "We, the jury, find that death resulted from an overdose of chloral, taken accidentally." There was no evidence of importance brought out at the inquest that would show that the man had in reality committed suicide. On the other hand, the testimony of several witnesses was taken to the effect that Crane had been troubled with sleeplessness, and was accustomed to walk about the city for hours in the night rather than go to his room and toss about upon the bed. The supposition was that Crane put the powder in a bottle, the same one that was later found on his dresser, and going to his room Saturday night, poured a quantity of the stuff out into a goblet and drank it down. Not seeing any effect from the first dose, he took a second, and fell into a deep sleep that ended in death.

FLYS.
Toronto has reserved the following players for 1897: John Dunn, Wm. Dinneen, Harry Staley, James Casey, Chas. Lutenburg, Frank Ward, Al. Wagner, Judson G. Smith, John Freeman, Stuart Sanford, and Jas. Dean. "Al" Strowger, late of the London Agents, will wear an Eastern League uniform next year.

Breitenstein has yet to receive his first fine from a league umpire. It is reported that the Philadelphia owners have placed a price on his entire outfit, franchise and all.

Comiskey says that next season he will have players on his St. Paul team who do not drink or carouse around at night. It is said that Anson has decided to go behind the bat next season, and allow Decker to take care of the initial tag.

Griffith, Chicago's winning pitcher, has made only one wild pitch while winning 24 of the 32 games he has played.

Billy Lush will not take part in another game with the Senators this season, owing to the advice of the club physician. His illness is only temporary, and he will appear in a Senators uniform next season.

With McMahon, Egan, Cummings, Pond, Nops, Corbett, Hoffer and Amole the Baltimore club has eight pitchers, three of them left-handers. Evidently this club is laying a price on the Chicago club, which does not propose to take back water from any club.

The Baltimore club will probably win the pennant with the highest average on record since 1886, when the Chicago club took the flag with .725. The highest finishing average in the National League is that of the Chicago club in 1876, the first year, when they ended at .738.

A Baltimore paper says that Soden and Freedman have been in a fishing trip. Between bites and baiting the hook the future of Amos Rusie, the thunderbolt pitcher, is discussed. It is reported that Rusie will be with the Bostonians next season—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Secretary Henry Pullam, of the Louisville Club, says, "I wish with all the poor work of the Colonels and the amount expended in getting new material and providing 'farms,' the owners will not lose any money on the season, although they won't need to hire any express wagons to cart off what they have made. It's a case of gutting about even, which speaks well for the town from which the tail-enders hail."

THE TURF.

CRICKET.

RECORDS IN ENGLAND.
Prince K. S. Ranjitsinhji, the Indian cricketer, heads the list of batsmen for the cricket season which has just come to an end in England, with a total of 2,730 runs, and an average of 51.44 runs per inning. His total is a record, beating that of 2,730 runs made by W. G. Grace in 1871. Dr. Grace and Abel, the Surrey professional, both made over 2,000 runs during the season, while 29 other Englishmen and 7 of the visiting Australians made over 1,000 runs, a larger number than ever before.

The number of first-class cricket matches, however, was greater than usual, owing to the presence in England of the Australian team. J. T. Hearne heads the list of bowlers, having taken 257 wickets, another record, for an average of 14.72 runs. Yorkshire, the winner of the county championship, made the largest score, 887, also a record, in its match with Warwickshire in May. The highest individual score of this year is Dr. Grace's, 301; there were twelve scores of 200 or over, and 138 other scores of 100 or over. Prince Ranjitsinhji made ten centuries, a feat previously accomplished only once, by W. G. Grace in 1876.

The Australians, when they left England, were said to have cleared $50,000 above their expenses during their English tour.

THE WHEEL.

SPOKES.
The customary method of locating a puncture is to immerse the wheel in a tub of water, and wherever bubbles show there will be found a puncture. On occasions, however, the air pressure is not sufficient to create bubbles. In such cases smear some thin soap lather over the tire, and a soap bubble will form over the puncture, no matter how small it is.

In France the tandems invariably carry the man on the front seat and his fair companion behind him. Here the woman rides in front, where she gets all the air and an unobstructed view, while the man on the rear saddle does all the work.

Louis Grimm, the 24 hour champion, rode ten miles on a five-lap track at Indianapolis on Thursday, in 22:12 5/8. He was paced by a "quint," "quad," and triplet teams.

A triple century journey in "quad," 50 minutes, a record just credited to S. M. Wams, of Maryland. This time included all stops.

ATHLETICS.

CORBETT WILL FIGHT.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—There has been a contest between the National and Europa Athletic Clubs, of this city, as to which shall handle the Corbett-Sharkey fight. The Europa Club offers $21,000 for the purse. The National Club had supposed its previous offer of $10,000 had been accepted. The National Club received a telegram today from Corbett stating that if the National Club would deposit $10,000 for a ten-round contest he would start at once for this city and would make no terms with any other club. The National Club replied at once that the $10,000 will be deposited.

Canada's Champion.

Jake Gaudaur Receives a Royal Welcome at Toronto.

Clasped by Thousands—Presented With $1,000 by the Mayor.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—The citizens of Toronto turned out in great force last night to welcome the champion of the world, Orilla, champion sculler of the world. The demonstration was a gigantic success. The weather was perfect, the crowds were in the numbers, enthusiastic and good-natured, and the champion himself is a proud and happy man, for not only has his fellow-citizens received him with a warm and friendly welcome, but by a curious and happy coincidence, Mrs. Gaudaur has given birth to a bouncing baby girl, the youngest in the proud family group to receive him home in Orilla today.

The reception began across the lake, the steamer "Clara" taking over some 300 prominent citizens and a band. The Corona on her return trip was late an hour in entering the bay at 8:50, and tying up at her wharf ten minutes later. Thousands had gathered along the water front, and as soon as the steamer was sighted entering the harbor, a shower of sky rockets, Roman candles and colored fire started in the wharves, and was kept up until the boat reached her mooring. On landing, the champion was escorted to a four-in-hand drag, and driven a couple of blocks to the string of illuminated electric cars in waiting. A detachment of the city fire brigade preceded the drag, carrying the skiff which had borne the hero to victory, and the excited crowds cheered themselves hoarse as these passed through the lines. When the procession had formed up, it consisted of some 30 brilliantly illuminated cars, 8 boats with Gaudaur and his boat, and nearly 2,000 bicyclists. The principal bodies represented in the cortege where the city council, headed by the mayor, the city clubs, rowing clubs and other sporting clubs. Several bands supplied the music, which was supplemented by tin horns innumerable. It was after 9 o'clock before the procession got fairly under way on its ten miles ride around the city, and as it sped along with its brilliant electric illuminations and innumerable fireworks from every car, it presented a spectacle at once unique and inspiring. At no point of the long route was there a break in the crowd of onlookers, and the cheering was one continuous ovation.

At 10:20 p.m. the band stand in the Queen's Park was reached, and here the more formal portion of the proceedings took place. Mayor Fleming extended the city's welcome to the champion, telling him how proudly all Canada had received the news of his splendid victory. The mayor concluded by presenting the champion with an address and purse containing $1,000, subscribed by the citizens of the Dominion.

Mr. Gaudaur replied briefly and modestly, and was cheered to the echo. Several other speakers followed, after which adjournment was made to the one of the leading city clubs, where the guest of the night was entertained by personal friends.

FIRE FLASHES.

Uxbridge, Ont., Sept. 23.—Last night the barn of Henry Madill, about three miles from here, was totally destroyed by fire with all the contents and farming implements of two farms. Loss, $30,000; insurance, $600. Cause of fire unknown.

What you want when you are ailing is a medicine that will cure you. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and be convinced of its merit.

The Same...
Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sarsaparilla as it was made and sold by Dr. J. C. Ayer 50 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. There modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. It has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla plant, we see no way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret chemical compound we might... But we're not. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and—it's Ayer's. (C)

The Glencoe Robbers

Discovered and Tackled by an East York Constable.

Four to One—The Thieves Escape but Leave Part of Their Booty.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—East York was Monday night the scene of a desperate encounter between a county constable and a quartet of rascals, who are also suspected of being four of a gang of burglars who have been engaged in a series of robberies in Western Ontario. On Friday night the store of William Tingles, Glencoe, was broken into and $200 in cash was secured. The same night the hardware store of W. S. Rogers & Son was entered and $100 worth of goods were carried off, the spoils comprising guns, revolvers, razors and other articles. The county constables and city police were notified, but until Monday no trace of the thieves was found.

About 7 o'clock County Constable Sanderson, of Little York, was walking along the town line, a couple of miles north of the village, when he met two suspicious-looking characters, who tried to avoid him. He noticed parcels in their pockets and arrested them, but he had no handcuffs. They walked quietly along, until two other men jumped the fence and grabbed Sanderson. The three men immediately, feeling one tramp with a whistle and tearing the clothes completely off another. Then the others attacked him with their knives, and he was forced to let go, and all four jumped the fence and ran toward the railway track, where they boarded a moving freight train and were carried east. Sanderson was badly used up, but was not wounded in any way.

In their flight the tramps dropped a number of parcels, and Sanderson found to be a portion of the spoils stolen from Rogers' hardware store. They consisted of ten table knives, six pocket-handled butter knives, and fifteen pen and jackknives. The scene of the encounter is within a few rods of where County Constable Sanderson had his sanguinary fight with tramps, in which pistols were used. On that occasion, as in the present, the tramps had committed a robbery at Glencoe, and all the circumstances of the two cases are almost identical.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER BURST

And the Enormous Engine Is Shattered—Terrific Force.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 23.—The boiler of a 90-ton ten-wheel locomotive on the Big Four Railroad, burst at Pekin last evening, hurling the enormous engine more than 100 feet, partially demolishing a large factory, killing the fireman and breaking nearly all the glass within a quarter of a mile of the scene of the remarkable accident. Pieces of the engine were picked up 1,000 feet away, and one of the big drive wheels, the main bicycle club's rowing club, James Long, the fireman, was thrown many feet in the air, had an iron bar driven through both legs above the knees, and was fatally wounded. He died in a few minutes. The engine was standing 100 feet from the Cummings header works when the explosion occurred, and 150 feet of the wall of the building was crushed. No one was at work in the building. The engineer says there was but 150 pounds pressure, the normal figure, and that there was plenty of water.

THE FALL FAIRS.

The Stephen and Osborne Show at Exeter Fairly Successful.

Exeter, Ont., Sept. 22.—The Stephen and Osborne Agricultural Fair held here yesterday and today was fairly successful. The horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry were first-class. The grain, roots and vegetables were good in quality, but not as much as was shown in other years. Fruit was the best ever shown here as to quantity and quality. The fancy work was very good. Carriages, buggies and implements were fair. The attendance was large as in previous years, the weather being cold and threatening to rain.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels, promotes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is the most becoming, the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Being Washed Away.

Mr. Thompson Wants the Water Commissioners to Protect His Property.

Blames It on the Dam—The Springfield Incline Railway Not Booming.

The regular meeting of the water commissioners was held yesterday afternoon, with the mayor, Chairman Judd, Commissioner Cowan, Engineer Moore and Secretary Ellwood present.

A claim that has been before the board a number of times since 1888 was again pressed. Mr. Richard Thompson, of this city, is the claimant. He owns 30 acres of land on the north side of the river at Springfield. Owing to the construction of the waterworks dam, he claims that a portion of his property has been washed away, and he wants the water commissioners to protect it by building a breakwater just below the dam. Mr. Thompson says this is what late Engineer Tracy advised.

No record of such report could be found in the minutes.

The chairman asked, "What will you make for your flats?"

Mr. Thompson said he would not sell them.

"Well, what is the land worth?" said Commissioner Cowan, and Mr. Thompson set the price of this 30 acres at $20 an acre.

The mayor has 43 acres near you, and he will take $6,000 for it, buildings and all," said Mr. Cowan.

"I will give it to him, and a good deal more," said Mr. Thompson.

The board will visit the place on Friday afternoon, together with Mr. Thompson.

Mr. John Fenson, of the Fenson Elevator Works, Toronto, wrote, regarding the proposed incline railway at Springfield. Since his return from London he has been confined to his house through illness, and is still laid up. He might not be around for two or three weeks, and would not wish to prevent the board making a contract with someone else. Mr. Fenson found very serious objection to the scheme, in the fact that counter-attractions are being offered further down the river by the railway company. The letter was filed.

The engineer's report showed 17,174,716 gallons pumped during the past week.

Queen Victoria's Father.

The Beautiful Woman Who Shared His Fortunes While He Was a Bachelor.

Canadian Reminiscences of the Duke of Kent.

Quebec, Sept. 23.—The celebration of the longest reign in British history has revived considerable interest in Canada, and the Canadian career of Queen Victoria's father, when, as a gay bachelor, his household, both at Halifax and at Quebec, was prospered by the beautiful and fascinating Mme. de St. Laurent. She was in reality Baronne Fortissou. She is described as a most charming and fascinating woman, and she accompanied the Duke to Canada in 1791, when he landed in Quebec as commander of the British forces. He immediately took up his residence at the Hotel de la Paix, at the Falls of Montmorency, the large manor house still visible to tourists on the west side of the falls. His town house, still standing, under the name of Kent House, upon St. Louis street in this city, nearly opposite the court house. At both these residences Mme. de St. Laurent was installed as mistress, as well as at his lodge near Halifax, which, out of compliment to her, he called "the cell of Paris Lawrence."

A wass of the correspondence of the Duke of Kent and his wife, which includes many letters from both the Duke of Kent and his mistress, Mme. de St. Laurent, and of whom commanded the Canadian forces at the battle of Chateauguay, lived at Beaufort, close to Montmorency, and it was there that he met this family from Halifax this postscript occurs:

"Madame St. Laurent has no time to write by this mail, being engaged in preparations for our journey. She proposes to make amends on our return."

Edward de Salaberry, who fell at the storming of Badajos in 1812, wrote to his Royal Highness just before the encounter that was destined to be fatal to him: "Believe me, sir, that my greatest moment shall be to wish you all the happiness which you, as well as Madame, eminently deserve."

The Duke was undoubtedly sincerely attached to "Madame," and she remained his companion until not very long before his death, the final cause of their separation having been the Duke's marriage to Queen Victoria.

It was in 1813 that the Duke was married to Queen Victoria's mother, who had then, as was stated in the letter to Col. De Salaberry from Kensington Palace after his return to England:

"I was, I believe, the only woman with me in best remembrance," and on Sept. 28 following he concluded another letter to the same correspondent as follows: "Thank you, we are both quite well. My life continues to be very domestic, and I see as little of the great world as possible, and having said this to you, I am sure you will be pleased to learn that what our life was when we were beside you, it has continued during the twenty years that have passed since we left Canada, and I love to think that twenty years hence it may be the same."

Little more than four years had elapsed when in March, 1819, the year following the Duke's marriage, and a few weeks only before the birth of his daughter, Queen Victoria, the Duke retired into a convent. The parents of many of the present generation of Quebecers, and of residents of Beaufort and Montmorency, have full recollections of the life in Canada of the Queen's father, and to them the picture was a familiar one, of the Duke and the beautiful Mme. de St. Laurent driving from the falls into the city every morning and back again every night, behind a pair of high-stepping ponies.

In Henry's time, being no saint, the Duke, in Canada, was somewhat of a martinet. Several of the Prince's regiment at Quebec plotted to seize him and his mistress, and unless they granted their requests, to kill them and escape across the lines. Draper, the ringleader, was sentenced to be shot, but his mistress's intercession was pardoned, but the alternative was 700 lashes.

DAIRMEN'S DOINGS.

A Representative Meeting in Heard's Hall—"Tick" Customers to be Looked After.

The Dairymen's Association had a lively meeting in Heard's Hall last night. J. W. Jarvis occupied the chair. The first discussion was relative to people who purchase milk on "tick." It was decided to keep a book in which the names of all people who do not pay their milk bills will be kept. It was the opinion of the meeting that some action should be taken by the association regarding the regulation laid down by the Board of Health. They think that a little dirt in a cow's milk does not in any way impair the health of the cow, and that this is bound to occur no matter how cleanly they are bedded or how well they are kept.

Some complaints have been made of large quantities of milk sold during the summer at a reduced rate. This has had a tendency to hurt the regular vendors, who take exception to this kind of thing. A deputation, consisting of J. W. Jarvis, Wm. Spettigue and Wm. Phoenix, was appointed to wait upon the Board of Health and request that the milk be tested all the year round, instead of only in spring and fall, as at present.

Another matter discussed was the peddling of milk on Sunday. Some members want the day to themselves, and the matter was left over until next meeting.

There are at present about 60 members on the list of the association, and they have decided to meet every second Tuesday in each month.

J. O'Brien, Wm. Foster and A. H. Ford were appointed an entertainment committee. They intend to give a series of concerts during the winter evenings to increase the funds of the association.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kydonie's "Great Cures" is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhea, cholera, and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

A Big Convention

Local Sunday School Workers Prepare to Receive Them—The Committee.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Sunday school workers, representing the various Sunday schools of the city, was held in Wesley Hall last night to arrange for the forthcoming Provincial convention, to be held in Dundas Center Methodist Church on Oct. 27, 28 and 29. A convention association was organized, with the following as an executive committee: W. M. Spencer, Harry Barty, D. A. McDermid, J. McQueen, C. H. Armstrong, Robert Robertson, Charles Cannon, T. W. Crawford, D. McKillop.

At a subsequent meeting W. M. Spencer was elected chairman, and H. Barty, secretary of the executive, and D. A. McDermid, chairman, and C. E. Cowley, secretary, of the billing committee. The convention promises to be a very interesting one. Among the distinguished workers from a distance will be Wm. Reynolds, international field superintendent, Peoria, Ill.; Mrs. Frances R. Ford, primary specialist, Troy, N. Y.; and Marion Lawrence, Toledo, Ohio. Besides these, there will be prominent Canadian workers, including Bishop Baldwin and Samuel Blakeley. About seven or eight hundred delegates are expected. The committee will at once commence active operations to make all necessary local arrangements.

POTTERSBURG'S NEW CHURCH.

The Results of a Flourishing Mission—The Money Nearly All Subscribed.

The people of Potteryburg are to be congratulated on the amount of success that is attending their efforts in connection with the new church in the district.

Some years ago the need of a building for Sunday school and church purposes was felt, and the people of all denominations in the district turned out and, having purchased material, erected a frame building with their own hands. In this a flourishing Sunday school was held for some time, which attained an average attendance of 60 scholars, and also an evening service was held, conducted by some clerical and lay workers of the city.

Last spring the building was destroyed by fire, and divine service, as well as Sunday school, had to be discontinued, as there is not a hall in the village in which a meeting could be held. The need for another building was greatly felt by all in the place, as there are upwards of 50 households in the district. St. Andrew's Church, under whose auspices the mission was placed by the vote of the people, gave the work into the charge of Rev. Geo. Gilmore, of the North End Mission, and authorized him to push the cause as rapidly as possible. The impetus received by the action of St. Andrew's congregation, the people of Potteryburg became enthusiastic, and soon a subscription list was opened, to which the people gladly put their names for handsome sums. Mr. Gilmore took up the canvass among the people of St. Andrew's, and found a ready response, so that the greater part of the money needed has been subscribed and a good percentage of it on hand.

The building is to be of brick, of the ornamental Gothic style, and is to cost between $2,500 and $3,000. The main part measures 50 by 50 feet, with a vestibule on the Dundas street front of 11 by 15 feet, and an addition behind for vestry and library, 15 by 20 feet. It is expected the building will be opened in the usual manner about Dec. 1. About $300 is yet needed in order that the building may be opened with only a small debt. It is believed that the Presbyterian church will come forward with the needed amount. Rev. Mr. Gilmore has been most untiring in his efforts for the success of the project. For more than four weeks he gave his time early and late to the work of collecting the amounts already subscribed. He is to be congratulated on the success his very enthusiastic efforts have been crowned with, and it is to be hoped that the highest expectations of the people will be realized.

NORTH GREY PROTEST.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, on behalf of Mr. Hoath, yesterday deposited $1,000 and filed a petition to void the election of the Hon. Mr. Patterson in North Grey. After making the usual allegations in election cases, the petition goes on to charge the Attorney-General for Ontario and the Hon. Wm. Mulock with undue influence, and Messrs. William Lount, James McMullen, James Lisgar, K. K. Cowan and others with bribery, treating, etc.

ROSSLAND NOTES.

Roseland, B. C., Sept. 23.—There has been another strike in St. Elmo. Mining transactions are brisk. There is considerable typhoid fever in the district.

A Victoria syndicate has offered $25,000 for Eclipse and Picnic on Deer Park Mountain.

Eastern capitalists have offered $25,000 for Tribby and the Prince of Wales. Strikes on the Evening Star assay $9 to the ton and Georgia $51 to the ton.

Pack trains are continually leaving for the outlying claims under development.

Serious Cured.

Dear Sirs.—After I had doctored for two years for scrofula all over my body, and received no benefit, I tried a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, which gave me relief very quickly, and after using six bottles I was completely cured. I can recommend B. B. B. very highly. Mrs. A. Ford Toronto, Ont.

Today at Ottawa.

Why Sir Charles Tupper Did Not Divide the House.

A Lively Time at Last Night's Sitting of the Commons.

Sir Richard Cartwright's Effective Reply to Mr. Foster.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen at Peterboro—Another Divorce Case—Herring Fishing Season Extended.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—In a three-hours' speech, largely of an historical character, Mr. Foster yesterday called upon the House to reaffirm that no revision of the tariff will be satisfactory which does not proceed upon the basis of an adequate and sufficient protection to the producing interests of the country. He called upon the Government to immediately relieve the uncertainty that he declared to be present in the public mind by disclosing the principle which will guide it in its treatment of the trade question.

Mr. Wood, of Hamilton, asked Mr. Foster to give the date of the conversion of the Conservative party, a question that the ex-Minister proceeded to answer by asking Mr. Wood if he ever was a protectionist.

Mr. Wood—I will answer that question. It was Feb. 26, 1876, when the honorable gentleman's leader came down to this House with a speech prepared, pitching into the Government for increasing the taxation of the people, and when the Finance Minister came down with his budget speech the honorable gentleman's leader looked at the clock, and, though it was only 5:30, he asked the Government to kindly call it 6 o'clock. At 8 o'clock he came back with a tirade against the Government for not taking into consideration the manufacturing industries of the country. (Ministerial applause.)

Sir Charles Tupper said the statement was utterly untrue.

Mr. Foster—On that point that is satisfactorily settled is this, that, according to the testimony of the honorable gentleman—

Dr. Landerkin—You are settled, anyway. (Laughter.)

Mr. Foster—Mr. Speaker, I shall have to ask your kind offices against impertinent interruptions. (Ministerial applause.)

Mr. Wood—He asked Mr. Foster: "Does my honorable friend object to conversions?"

Mr. Wood—Certainly not.

Mr. Foster said that they had testimony that in 1876 the Conservative party was soundly converted to protection. "Now," he added, "I might put a pertinent question to my honorable friend."

Dr. Landerkin—An impertinent question.

Mr. Foster—Now, if my honorable friend will be quiet—

Dr. Landerkin—All right, if you will be civil.

Mr. Foster—I will be civil if you will not be impertinent.

Mr. Foster proceeded to argue that Mr. Wood, of Hamilton, made a protectionist speech in 1876, when the Landerkin got in the word by remarking that it was John Wood, of Brockville, that he was talking about.

MR. WOOD'S REJOINER.

Mr. Wood, of Hamilton, stated that he had introduced a motion for a committee to inquire into the condition of the industries of the country, and that Sir Charles Tupper had opposed it because it meant a tariff measure. He said that Sir Charles Tupper to his feet again, and amid much tumult and disorder he cried: "Give an emphatic answer to that statement."

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed by influenza, and my lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believe I saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

to increase our population. But it has been successful in breeding the grossest corruption that this or any other country has ever seen. (Applause.)

A RECIPROCITY TREATY.

Proceeding, Sir Richard spoke of the chances of obtaining from the United States a reciprocity treaty. He declared his belief that despite what the late Government had done by its folly and worse, an honest attempt would result in an honest bargain being arrived at between the United States and Canada. Sir Richard said that the Government proposed to carry out its policy as enunciated, and to carefully redeem its solemn declaration that the Government would work no injury to any class in the country. As to the future, it had to be admitted that eighteen years of folly and fraud and falsehood had left many a deep taint upon the national heart and the national conscience, and he did not pretend to say that the mischief which was done to Canada in these eighteen years could be undone in an afternoon. Many glorious opportunities had been lost by the folly and incapacity of those honorable gentlemen who had been in the House, and well-nigh fooled a whole empire away from us, and they had not put enough money into the treasury to pay for the boundary stakes to mark it off. But for all that he did not take a pessimistic view of the subject as Mr. Foster did. He believed in Canada, in Canadian enterprise and Canadian energy; he believed that with a fair field Canadian manufacturers, farmers and producers of every class could and would hold their own. He believed that a better day was dawning upon us, perhaps not the least evidence of which was that all this senseless clamor on the part of these honorable gentlemen who would not learn to take their medicine quietly, was likely to fall utterly to produce the slightest impression on the popular mind outside of the House or inside of it.

Mr. Davin, in a long speech, delivered to an almost empty House, demanded immediate tariff legislation. The debate was adjourned.

AT PETERBOROUGH.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen went to Peterborough yesterday. They had a reception in which thousands of persons participated.

WHAT SIR CHARLES AVOIDED.

It has leaked out that if the Opposition had backed up Sir Charles Tupper last night in his attack on the Government, Mr. McCarthy would have followed, and moved a resolution indorsing the Government for assuming "the responsibility for action which prevented a grab of offices and a defiance of the will of the people. If Mr. McCarthy had moved such a resolution it would have revealed a considerable defection in the Conservative ranks on the division.

THE LATE SENATOR FERGUSON.

In the Senate yesterday afternoon Sir Iver Mowat, in referring to the death of Senator Ferguson, paid a high compliment to the abilities of the deceased Senator.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell had known Senator Ferguson ever since he had entered the House of Commons, and paid a fitting tribute to his ability and prominence as a public man. His untimely death, though not unexpected, was particularly sad.

Senator was one of the young members of the Senate, who but a few months ago was the picture of health and strength, and gave every promise of a long and useful life.

THE NORTHERNER DIVORCE.

The Senate committee on divorce today decided to report favorably upon the application of Mr. Albert Nordheimer, of Toronto, for a divorce from his wife. It was shown that Mrs. Nordheimer is now living in connection with one Wm. Cranston, Jun., as his wife. She had procured a divorce in North Dakota some months ago. The committee were unanimous in their finding.

NOTES.

The Department of Marine and Fisheries have granted permission to continue herring fishing through the month of November.

Mr. Rogers, Patron member for Frontenac, introduced a bill in the House of Commons yesterday to promote the acceptance of railway passes by members of Parliament.

Cards are out for the anniversary of the residence of Sir Charles Tupper and Lady Tupper on Oct. 8.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen intend visiting British Columbia, leaving here about Oct. 10.

THE FOUR CARDINAL POINTS

WHICH MARK THE SUPERIORITY OF SUGAR COATED BRISTOL'S VEGETABLE PILLS

Their absolute safety. They are suited to all ages and constitutions, can be taken at all seasons of the year and require no special precaution or departure from the normal diet or usual habit of life.

Their elegant and pleasing appearance which renders them easy to take and free from the objectionable, nauseating features generally present in most of the cathartic pills commonly used.

Their purity and skillful combination of their ingredients. Being purely vegetable they are free from the unpleasant and often dangerous after effects caused by mineral drugs such as Calomel etc.

Their mild and painless action. They are remarkably effective in cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and produce their results promptly and without griping, sickening or weakening.

Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Remember,

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills; easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

Finds She Can Sing.
Mrs. J. K. Emmett Hypnotized to Her Advantage.

The Actress Profits by the Suggestion in "Tribly."

New York, Sept. 22.—Mrs. J. K. Emmett, more widely known perhaps as Emily Lytton in the legitimate, is the first actress to profit by the suggestion given by Dr. Maurier in "Tribly." Mrs. Emmett has always had a sweet and flexible declamatory voice. It is one of her most marked charms in the dainty little skit, "A French Marriage," which she is now presenting. She, however, had never drawn much upon the singing qualities of her voice and rather concluded that none existed. Accordingly, she never attempted public singing, and confined herself to the unlyrical realm of the drama proper, where her genius called her.

About six weeks ago, however, while in Denver, she met a hypnotist of some real, and a good deal of make-believe powers. This professor asked Mrs. Emmett to let him examine her mouth, as he suspected something she did not dream of. She was obedient and the smiling gateway was opened for his inspection. "It is as I suspected; you can sing," said he. "The mouth, like an auditorium, has its acoustic properties, some better than others. If the instruments of the orchestra, which are the vocal chords, are good, and the chamber or mouth cavity, in which the tones mature, is properly constructed, music is there."

What the western hypnotist did was not so profoundly occult that it could not be as well performed by others, and a correspondent was shown the phenomenon in Mrs. Emmett's apartment under the conduct of Lawrence and Miss Hattie Joyce, both well known in the theater. Neither the gentleman nor the lady is a practicing hypnotist, but both have positive characters and are musical. Mr. Fair sat at the piano and began playing "Alice, Where Art Thou?"—an old and touching ballad. Mrs. Emmett seated herself at his side, Miss Joyce stood close to her, holding one of her hands between her own and humming the air. In these attitudes they remained for the better part of five minutes, Mr. Fair playing the tune over and over again, and the half dozen friends sitting silent about the room.

At last Mrs. Emmett arose, gently disengaging her hand from the clasp of Miss Joyce. The face of the actress was perfectly natural, smiling and intelligent, with nothing of that lost-to-the-world expression given to Miss O'Connell, nor did she practice that sweetly distracted little trick of brushing her fair hair from her face. She was apparently very wide awake, but fixed upon a purpose. When upon her next round, Mr. Fair began his melody, she sang, a fine, strong, soprano voice flowed from her lips and told the story of the pathetic search for Alice most affecting. When she finished she turned to her friends with a laugh and cried: "How is that?" "That's just it," said the class, and all present confessed their surprise that she could sing at all, not to say pretty nearly as well as Adeline Pattie.

Then Mrs. Emmett said: "I do not need a professional hypnotist. Some one to play the piano, contact with a musical friend, and concentrated attention to a bit of music already familiar to me are the requisites. I will publicly demonstrate my new talent next week when I give my new little travesty of 'Pantie' called 'Quotations.' There would be small wonder in it if I had been able to sing all my life, but this mysterious awakening of the faculty is to me certainly the real marvel of my singing. My opinion is that almost anyone can sing pleasantly if they submit to such conditions as you have seen."

BLAZE IN TORONTO.
Toronto, Sept. 23.—Chaney & Co.'s feather and mattress factory here was burned to the ground this morning. Loss will amount to $30,000; small insurance.

SOLD A RAILWAY.
Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—All assets of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, in the hands of the receivers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, not covered by the general mortgage bonds, were sold today to C. H. Koster, of the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., of New York, who represent the reorganization committee. The price paid was $4,500,000.

Chicago and Return.

City Police Court.

Unusual Occurrence in a City Hotel.

A Young Girl's Anxiety Over the Conduct of Her Erring Sister.

John Wilson, of Toronto, and Miss Cora Hudson, of this city, went to the O'Neill House last night and registered as man and wife, Wilson registering as John Smith, of Buffalo. They secured the room, and then went out to get "their other two valises," which Smith said were at the station. They returned shortly after without them, however, and went to their room, which they had engaged. About 11 o'clock Miss Sarah Hudson went to Mr. Collins, the proprietor of the hotel, and told him that her sister had gone there with a man. Mr. Collins went to the room, but no answer came, and the door was kicked in. Mr. Collins got P. C. Ralph, and he sent for the patrol, and had both Miss Hudson and Smith removed to the station, and charged them with disorderly conduct.

At the police court today Mr. Collins said that when they kicked in the door, Smith threatened to shoot him, and do several other things, also calling him a foul name.

Miss Sarah went into the box and said she had followed her sister for three days and three nights, and went to the hotel to take her sister away.

At this Miss Cora stood up, and said dramatically: "Excuse me, Mr. Parke; that man is a gentleman. He is more to me than anybody knows. We are promised in marriage."

"Yes, promised in marriage," said Chief Williams, "with the accent on 'promised.'"

The police magistrate ordered both of them to be released, but Miss Sarah thought this was not right. She accused Smith of leading her sister astray, and of being a married man.

"Isn't she of age?" asked the P. M.

"Yes, sir."

"Well, then, you or your father can have no jurisdiction over her."

"Excuse me," she said, with outstretched arms to make the remark emphatic, "he can do as he likes by her while she is content to remain in his home."

She then told the magistrate Wilson had acted improperly with her sister, and that she had fainted. He had threatened to shoot her if she gave him away.

"Are you willing to take your sister home?" was asked.

"Yes," she replied, "if you will let her go."

This settled it, and the magistrate called the whole affair off.

James Kelley is a man from Waterloo. He was arrested for drunkenness. He pleaded hard for liberty, as he had only just completed a term of six months in the Central Prison.

"What were you in the Central for?" asked the magistrate.

"Nothing," replied the prisoner.

"Well, then," said the magistrate, "I'll remand you for a week to enable me to ascertain who you are."

A TURN-TABLE

To be Built in Front of the New Round House, Corner Colborne and Bathurst Streets for the L. E. and D. R. R.

Superintendent Woodlatt and Engineer De Guse, of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, are in the city. This morning they conferred with City Engineer Grayson in reference to a turn-table to be built in front of the new roundhouse. Engineer Grayson will draw up the plans and get prices at once. The cost of construction will be about $1,800.

Work on the new roundhouse has been progressing rapidly. The walls have been completed, and a start was made at the roof today. The brick work of the freight shed is half way up to the roof. It is expected that both buildings will be completed before Nov. 1.

LIVED IN A GLASS HOUSE.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 23.—Charles Edward Upton Poinet, of Toronto, was applying for divorce from his wife for adultery and desertion. The case came up at the Senate divorce committee today. It was shown that Poinet was living with another woman, and consequently his own conduct was such as not to entitle him to divorce. He withdrew his application.

FIRE FLASHES.

Burke's Falls, Ont., Sept. 23.—Tait's shingle mill was burned to the ground this morning. Loss about $5,000. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary, as nobody had been employed in the building for six weeks.

At the Car Shops.

Everything Ready for the Excavating

The G. T. R. Overseer Not Yet Here—Keen Competition for Supplying the Bricks.

In the past two days the transformation in the scene at the car shops has been great indeed. Over one hundred have been steadily at work, and where the bleak dilapidated ruins of the old shops stood, busy workmen, chipping the mortar from the old bricks, and regular piles of cleaned brick all over the broad site—except at the west end, where a small portion of the wall still stands—greet the eye. Tomorrow night will see this work completed.

The G. T. R. clerk of the works, by whom the material must be excavated, has not yet arrived. "When he comes we will be working at the foundations in three hours," said Mr. Mills.

Teams will be put to work tomorrow cleaning away rubbish and excavating. L. Barritt has been awarded the contract for supplying the sand and gravel. It is not yet been decided who will supply the brick, but it is very probable that a local dealer will get the job. The competition from outside is keen. Toronto, Hamilton, Chatham and other places have been trying hard to secure the contract.

THE POPE'S DEPUTY

Interviewed in Dublin—Is on His Way to America.

Dublin, Sept. 23.—Archbishop Martinelli, the newly-appointed apostolic delegate from the Holy See to the United States, is here on his way to his new post of duty, and to a representative of the Associated Press who called upon him today, he talked quite frankly of his mission and something of his plans. The new delegate, who was invested by Cardinal Rampolla as titular Archbishop of Ephesus on Aug. 24 last, and at the same time he received his commission as papal delegate, has an agreeable presence and looks younger than his real age, which is 45 years. The distinguished prelate of dark complexion, medium height and thoroughly Italian in appearance. His manner is pleasant and cordial, though grave. The archbishop manifests a keen interest in all things American, to which he is not, however, altogether a stranger, as he paid a visit to the United States two or three years ago as papal delegate to the Augustines in the interests of that order, and inspected a number of Augustinian bodies in the United States. "I am," said the Archbishop, "Martinelli, 'as to the length of my stay in the United States. I go as any other delegate, except in the case of a temporary and express mission. I am to be there at the disposal of the Holy Father. There is no fixed term of office for a delegate."

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Mr. L. L. Decow spent Sunday in London, where his sister Nellie, and returned last evening.

Mr. Walter Mills, who has been visiting in London, is home again.

LAKE SHORE—BOSANQUET.

Lake Shore, Bosanquet, Sept. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Beatty and their youngest daughter are visiting Mrs. Beatty's mother, Mrs. Susan Johnson, of Lake Shore. Mr. Beatty is a resident of Detroit, and his sister, Mrs. Belle Tripp, of Forest, are visiting at the same place. Mr. and Mrs. Clemens, of Forest, also visited there one day this week.

Miss Annie Kent is re-engaged for 1897 by school section No. 7, Bosanquet. She is a dark-complexioned teacher, and the trustees know it, and so have made sure of her services for what will be her third year.

Miss Ella Foster is off for a holiday at the home of her cousin, Miss Varies, of London.

Rev. Hugh McPayden preached at Ebenezer, Lake Shore, Bosanquet, on Sunday evening, Sept. 23. And among his hearers was a nonconformist, in the person of Mr. Brand, who walked to church and home again, the distance being about half a mile.

Mrs. Howland, of Forest, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Hurlburt, of Mitchell. Her husband is not improving in health, and is still helpless and in bed.

Some lawless persons are guilty of shooting ducks on Sunday around here, but they are not residents of this locality. It is thought that they may be prosecuted if they continue.

SELF-STYLED PROFESSOR.

Philadelphia Record.
The train was about to leave the station, and a young man leaned over the seat, shook hands with the middle-aged gentleman, and said: "Good-by, professor."

A look at him stripes in his shirt bosom looked at him narrowly, and after the train started he said to himself: "Kin yo do any tricks with cards?"

"No; I never touched a card."

"Mebbe ye play the pianny."

"I know more of music except as a mathematical science."

"Well, ye ain't no boxer. I kin see 'No.'"

"Er shuffleboard?"

"I never heard of the game before."

"Well, say, I've guessed ye this time. It's funny I didn't think of it before. You're mesmerized."

"I'm nothing of the kind."

"Well, I'll give up. What is yer line? I know yer're in the biz. 'cause I heered that young feller call ye 'perfeffer.'"

"I'm an instructor in Greek, rhetoric and ancient history."

"An' yer can't do no tricks ner play mesmeric ner hypnotic?"

"Of course not."

The man turned and gazed out of the window on the opposite side of the car.

"An' he calls himself perfeffer," he said to himself.

X-RAYS FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

Tuberculosis is affected by the Roentgen ray, according to Lortet and Genoud's report to the Academie des Sciences. They inoculated eight guinea pigs with tuberculous virus, then exposed three of them for an hour daily to the rays during eight weeks. The five who were kept from the rays developed abscesses and their health was deranged. The three kept in good health and grew fat on the rays.

CLIMBING INTO THE CRATER.

Danger of Going Into a Burning Mountain Told by an Old Guide at Vesuvius.—A Frightful Experience.

Capt. Basil Hall tells one of those stories which are always coming up to prove that the man who knows to fear it least, and to neglect a salutary obedience toward those who have trodden a path before. The incident was narrated by an old guide at Vesuvius, says Youth's Companion. "A few years ago," says Salvatore, "I came up the mountain with a party of gentlemen, one of whom insisted on going not only around the cone, but actually into the crater, though I told him that such an adventure was attended with more danger than the thing was worth."

"Poor Pooh! Danger?" said the pig-headed gentleman. "What do I care for danger? Am I not a soldier? Why, man, I have faced the foe before now. Lead the way, I'll follow."

"I merely said that to face a human enemy and to face an active volcano were two very different things."

"Are you afraid to go?" he asked.

"I don't much admire it," I answered, "but as I think I know how to save the danger when it comes, I have been at the work for nearly half a century—I'll go into the crater if you are determined upon the adventure. Only I warn you again; the danger to an inexperienced person is very great."

"Well, well!" he called, impatiently. "Come along." And away he went, he flourishing his stick like a sword, while I only shrugged my shoulders.

Now, sir, I said to him, the only plan by which we could expect to accomplish this expedition in safety is to be perfectly steady, and if a shower of stones comes about our ears to startle us, we must collect as if nothing were happening. I hope we may not have any while we are in this awkward place, but if we should be so unfortunate, mind, your only chance is to stand fast and look forward. It requires good nerves, so brace them up!"

"Oh, nerves!" said he, skeptically. "Is that all?"

"So away we went, climbed the lip of the cup, descended into the fearful abyss, and, though half choked with the fumes of sulphur, we went on. We were on our return, when the mountain roared like thunder, the churning, a furious eruption took place, and myriads of stones were shot a thousand feet into the air."

"Now, signor mio," I called, "stand your ground, and make good use of your nerves. Look! Be steady, and you may yet escape."

"But the man who had faced mortal foes quailed before the powers of nature. He looked up, as he was bidding; but when he saw a cataract of fire falling on his head, the courage and incomitancy he felt."

"For my part, I was too much afraid to fly. I never saw such a shower of stones, and I wonder we were not both demolished. As it was, my companion had not run far before he was struck down by these missiles."

"One of them broke his leg and another stunned him, and I had enough to do to get him out of the cone on my shoulders. Much work we had to take him to Naples, where the hospitaliers and Italian doctors between them had the plucking of this precious pigeon for the next six months."

THREE BLESSINGS.

An old clergyman who formerly lived in a New Hampshire town, was remarkable for his eccentric modes of speech. His way of asking a blessing was so peculiar as to sometimes affect the ribbles of his guests, although he apparently was entirely unconscious of this fact.

When he seated himself at the breakfast table, and saw spread upon it a meal greatly to his liking, he said: "Lord, we thank thee for this excellent breakfast of which we are to partake."

A more simple meal, but one which he still regarded as comparatively satisfactory, would cause him to say: "Lord, we thank thee for this good breakfast set before us for this good day."

But when the minister's eye roamed over the table and saw there nothing which was especially to his taste, although the words in which he uttered his petition was not lacking in fervor, his sentiments were clearly to be discerned.

"Lord," he invariably said on these occasions, "fill our hearts with thankfulness, we beseech thee, for this meal set before us; for with thee all things are possible."

LITTLE CHANCE OF FRIENDSHIP

He (who has been refused)—Well, I hope we'll continue friends. She—I fear not. I'm going to be a stepmother to you.

ANOTHER GOOD TRADE GONE WRONG.
After the able-bodied citizen had captured the burglar he said: "If you will tell me what drove you to this business I will let you go." "Bicycles," said the conquered one, sullenly.

"In what way? Were you a horse dealer?" "I used to have one of the best 'beggin' routes in the city, but how is a feller goin' to have any chance to beg from a bloke what's wizen by at 30 miles an hour."

You should never cross a bridge before you come to it, even if you should succeed in finding out how the impossible thing can be done.

LETTERS TO THE "ADVERTISER."

THE VETERANS OF '66.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I beg the liberty of invoking the aid of your able journal for the purpose of informing the veteran officers and those interested in military history in progress to obtain from the Government some suitable recognition for those who performed military services during the years '66, '67 and '70 in repelling the Fenian invaders threatening at that time, that the Hon. Minister of Militia has been pleased to name Friday, the 25th inst., for receiving the deputation, which will be composed largely of members of the House of Commons at present at Ottawa, and such of the veteran officers as may find it convenient to attend, but it is desirable that the officers referred to will be kind enough to report themselves at the capital the day previous, in order that there may be concerted action with regard to the nature of the claims they desire placing before the Government.

It is my intention to leave here on Monday for the capital, arriving there by Tuesday. Yours sincerely,
J. P. MACMILLAN, on behalf of the Thirtieth Battalion of '66 and those interested.

Guelp. Sept. 18.

A Wife's Wanderings.

The Sad Story of a Boy Arrested as a Horse Thief.

An Orphan Lad and His Transactions in the Country.

Little Robert Moore, the 13-year-old boy who is in jail charged with stealing Charles J. Fitzgerald's horse a week ago, was visited last night by Mr. Sanders, humane inspector and officer of the Children's Aid Society. Mr. Sanders was seen by an Advertiser reporter soon after he came from the cell, and at that time the inspector had pictured in his face the sympathy he felt for the boy, and told the following story:

"I have just been down to the jail to see that little Moore boy. I can tell you, my heart ached for him when I saw him. He was seated at the long table in his cell poring over a picture book. As I went in, the boy, on seeing me, hung his head, for he had written me letters, and he felt ashamed. I went up to him and shook the cold little hand, and asked: 'Well, Robbie, don't you know me?'

"He began to cry, and said, 'Yes, sir.' 'I am sorry to see you in this plight. How did it come about? What did you take the horse for?'

At this the little fellow seemed pained, and he said he didn't know how he did it. He had no recollection of his parentage. He said his earliest recollections were those of a family named Johnson, with whom he lived until he was 10 years old. About three years ago these people went to California and left him adrift upon life's uncertain stream. After this he engaged to work for a farmer named Roots. Then he worked for Mr. Balseberry, and afterwards went to live with a man named McKay, near Mandaunin, a village on the Sarnia branch. The boy left there, because there was nothing for him to do, and went to live with Mr. Hudson in West Nissouri.

"What did you leave there for?" said Mr. Sanders.

"I liked Mr. Hudson, but I had to work hard."

"Where did you go when you left there?"

"I went to Mr. Fitzgerald's," and with these words he started to cry again.

"What did you leave Mr. Fitzgerald for?"

Mr. Sanders says that when this question was asked the little fellow cried bitterly, and told him that he had been shaken up and slapped on the face. He went out then and took the horse and drove away.

Mr. Sanders questioned him about where he went to, and the boys said he didn't know where he was going, but he had stopped with a man named Dave Cousins on Thursday night.

"What did he say to you?" asked Mr. Sanders.

"He didn't say anything. He traded horses with me, and gave me an old horse worth about $5, and if he hadn't done that I would have gone back home." And then he broke down again.

"Don't you know a good horse when you see it?" asked the humane inspector.

"Yes," said young Moore, "but the horse looked good and I didn't know the difference. He traded me collars and a new pair of tugs off my harness and put them on his. I didn't notice this until I got nearly to Mitchell."

"Did he give you any money?"

"No, sir, he only gave me the worst of everything, and if he had told me to go home I would have gone. He knew the horse wasn't mine. I worked the horse for my meals."

"Where did you go then, when you left Cousins?"

"I drove to Hibbert, and started to work for Ed. Roach, when Mr. Patrick made Cousins give up everything that he had taken from the boy, and also that Mr. Cousins had to pay Mr. Patrick $10 because the trade was not a square one."

Mr. Sanders says prosecution of some other parties will likely follow.

September Samples.

JUST A FEW samples from our September stock—a hint here and there that will help you in buying. To attempt to tell the whole story would be foolish. The goods are the very newest and best—and the price is the oil that makes the machinery of housekeeping run easily.

CARPETS.

Have you a new house to furnish? Are you getting a new carpet for the bedroom? Do you want a piece of oilcloth to put under the coal stove and save your carpet? If so, you will undoubtedly save your hard-earned dollars by remembering that Kingsmill has the largest carpet warehouse in Canada—and low prices go hand in hand with big buying.

TWEEDS.

The password of Fashion this season is "Tweeds." You will see them everywhere. And Kingsmill has now in stock the pick of the best looms of either continent. Good strong honest Canadian Tweeds at a quarter that a few years ago would have brought three times that price. And remember that we cut all cloth free of charge.

DRESS GOODS.

Forehandness for fall has placed on our shelves the most complete and stylish stock of Dress Goods ever shown in London; elegant costumes from France and the land of the heather. And with the goods we can give you hints on the styles for the coming season. Our buyers got the choicest choice from the finest mills, and the prices are such as only Kingsmill's methods can make.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious?

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease, or in those cases where the muscles are greatly reduced, the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the very well known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales, not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in 24 hours. Putnam's Corn Extractor is always certain, safe and painless. Try it.

A Real Summer Resort.

Kill two birds with one stone. Spend a pleasant summer holiday at Oakville and get rid of the liquor or morphine habit once and for all at the same time. It will cost you a little more than you go to an ordinary summer resort, but probably not half as much as you would spend on liquor in half the time. "Lakehurst," with its fine house, shady grounds, water front and excellent board, is preferable to most hotels, and you can leave your liquor course behind you forever when your holiday is over. ### SLEEPLESSNESS is due to nervous excitement.

The delicately constituted, the financier, the business man, and those whose occupation necessitates great mental strain or worry, all suffer less or more from it. Sleep is the great restorer of a worried brain, and to get sleep cleanse the stomach from all impurities with a few doses of Parmentier's Vegetable Pills, gelatine-coated, containing no mercury, and are guaranteed to give satisfaction or the money will be refunded.

The Merits of the Educational Exhibit at the Fair

Set Forth in a Letter to the Western Fair Board by Inspector Dearnness.

Inspector Dearnness has written the directors of the Western Fair Board expressing his satisfaction with the educational exhibit made at the Fair just closed. The predictions made to the main building committee at the time it agreed to enlarge the natural history department, to admit science work from the public and separate schools, has been more than fulfilled. The following schools contributed mounted and labeled collections of noxious weeds: Nos. 15 and 21, London township; Nos. 10 and 18, Westminster; Nos. 5 and 15, London and Nissouri; No. 10, McGillivray; Hyde Park school; Byron school; No. 21, Dorchester; No. 4, Delaware; No. 5, Biddulph, and London West school.

Mr. Dearnness estimates that children from nearly 300 families were interested in collecting for this exhibit, a fact that explained why it received so much attention from visitors. In quality as well as quantity these exhibits were satisfactory, four or five of them being so equally excellent that it was difficult for the judges to determine which should be shown preference.

Owing to the brevity of time since the notice was given, the exhibits in the class, "Life History of an Injurious Insect," were less numerous. "That of the life-history of the army worm, made by J. W. Atkinson, teacher, and the pupils of the Avon school, No. 14, Dorchester," writes Mr. Dearnness, "was the best thing of the kind I have ever seen. All the stages of this insect, from the egg through the larva and pupa to the imago, were represented in a graded series of well-mounted specimens, accompanied by exhibits of its work on various crops. The exhibit of squash or pumpkin bug from the Plover Mills school was also a very instructive one. These exhibits were not only interesting and instructive to visitors, but stimulated a healthy and practical exercise of the observing faculties of the children." In one school visited by the inspector the preceding week, he inquired how many children had assisted in preparing the exhibit and writing observations upon the specimens. Over 30 of them had done their share in the work of a kind that is most valuable to farmers' children. Mr. Dearnness concludes with a request for timely assurance of the continuance of this feature at the exhibition, if the board decide to continue it, so that he might announce it to the schools and also submit some suggestions calculated to extend its usefulness and to make the conditions of judgment upon the exhibits more definite.
