

British Fleet Is Rushing to Vera Cruz

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS ARE STEAMING TO VERA CRUZ TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS

West Indian Squadron Is Rushing From Barbadoes Following News That the Constitutionalists Are Advancing—All the Women and Children Are Leaving Mexico City.

[Canadian Press.]

Bridgetown, Barbadoes, Nov. 19.—The British cruiser squadron in West Indian waters last night received preliminary orders to proceed to Vera Cruz, and the vessels sailed at midnight.

The British cruiser squadron consists of the three armored cruisers Suffolk, Lancaster and Berwick, and is commanded by Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, whose flagship is the Suffolk. The three vessels are of the same type, displacing 9,800 tons. They each carry an armament of fourteen 6-inch, eight 12-pounders and three 3-pounder guns.

ALARMED AT REPORTS.

[Canadian Press.] London, Nov. 19.—Great Britain decided to send the warship to Mexico waters from Barbadoes in order to protect British subjects should the necessity arise. The decision was arrived at by the British foreign office as a result of the general news published in the press of the unsatisfactory conditions prevailing in Mexico and of the advance of the Constitutionalists in the vicinity of the Vera Cruz Railway.

No special information has been received by the Government here of any danger to its nationals, and it bases its change of policy on the accounts telephoned to English newspapers from American sources.

MANY ARE FLEEING.

[Canadian Press.] Vera Cruz, Nov. 19.—The exodus of American citizens from Mexico City continues, forty, mainly women and children, arriving here this morning by train. The fugitives report that comparatively few foreign women and children remain in the federal capital.

WILL STAY ALL WINTER.

[Canadian Press.] Texas City, Texas, Nov. 19.—Tents in the camp of the second division of the United States army were walled and reforested today, and the soldiers began work on a sewerage system to connect with the city mains. This was regarded as indicating that the division would remain here throughout the winter.

HAD A LONG CONFERENCE.

[Canadian Press.] London, Nov. 19.—Lord Cowdray, who possesses so many interests in Mexico, had a lengthy conference at his own request with United States Ambassador Dixon this afternoon. Lord Cowdray afterward declined to reveal the precise subject under discussion, but it is generally surmised that he desired to obtain information as to how far his Mexican interests were endangered and was wishful of emphasizing to the United States ambassador his denial of the report that he had given financial assistance to Provisional President Huerta.

CARRANZA OFF SOUTH.

[Canadian Press.] Nogales, Sonora, Nov. 19.—General Carranza, with his staff, will leave for the south at 2 p.m. It was announced today. Foreign Minister Escudero said he would announce the departure with effect this would have on the negotiations with President Wilson's envoy, William Bayard Hale. It was not known whether Escudero and other members of the Council would accompany him.

65,000 WORKMEN ARE NOW OUT ON STRIKE

Protest Against Trial of Men Who Quit Work Illegally.

[Canadian Press.] St. Petersburg, Nov. 19.—A general strike of factory hands in St. Petersburg and throughout Northern Russia started today, 65,000 laying down their tools. The movement is a protest by the workmen against the trial of some employees of the Ruchov works on a charge of illegally quitting their employment. The proceedings against them opened in the district court here today.

MR. ORDEN IS BETTER.

[Canadian Press.] Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Wagoner has been relieved from Virginia Hot Springs that Premier Borden has been greatly benefited in health by his outing there.

THIRTY PASSENGERS SAVED FROM A BURNING STEAMER

[Canadian Press.]

London, Nov. 19.—The British battleship Iron Duke effected a timely rescue of the 30 passengers and crew of the steamer Scotsdyke, while the steamer was burning, in the English Channel early today.

The steamer, bound from Mediterranean ports for Sunderland, caught fire off the Isle of Wight shortly after midnight. The blaze started in a deck cargo of grass and spread so rapidly through this inflammable material that the crew was unable to stay its progress, and it attacked the ship's bridge and a number of lifeboats, which were destroyed. Owing to the heavy sea it was impossible to launch the few remaining lifeboats. The panic-stricken passengers and the crew were forced to retire to the stern of the steamer. The battleship Iron Duke was fortunately carrying out trials in the channel during the night, and when the burning steamer was sighted, sailors from the warship put out in boats to the rescue. The forepart of the steamer was a mass of flames when the boats reached the scene and the helpless persons aboard were huddled together aft. The Iron Duke played her searchlights upon the stern of the doomed ship while the rescue crew took all hands safely off.

LEFT $100,000 TO HELP STUDENTS IN WESTERN ONTARIO

J. I. Carter Caved Almost All His Fortune For Educational Purposes.

REST GOES TO HOSPITAL

Provincial Treasurer To Look After the Administration of the Fund.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Nov. 19.—Mr. J. I. Carter, who died in Sarnia recently, had for a number of years past been deeply interested in the progress of education, and by his liberal benefactions in the way of Carter scholarships in five counties of Western Ontario, had done much to assist needy and ambitious students to attain their educational goal.

The purpose which he had at heart for several years past was being successfully attained and it was a matter of great satisfaction to Mr. Carter to learn from the students who had won his scholarships and from the principals of the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes that received the benefit of them, how much they were appreciated by the recipients, and how helpful the aid so given had been in many instances.

Encouraged by the success which had attended his efforts, Mr. Carter made provision in his will by which $100,000 of his estate will be paid over by his executors to the Provincial Treasurer for the purpose of being invested by him in Ontario Government stock as directed by section 42 of the statute law amendment act 1909, as amended by section 47 of the statute law amendment act 1910, and the whole of the interest thereon at five per cent per annum shall be applied yearly in perpetuity and payment of three scholarships in each of the counties in the province of Ontario enumerated in his will.

These three scholarships shall be given to competition in each of the named counties by all the pupils of all the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes in that county, including Continued on Page Four.

GENERAL REGRET AT DR. ROSS' DEATH

General regret at the death of Rev. Dr. Ross was expressed at the local pacific as a clergyman he was a frequent visitor at the jail, and frequently took charge of the Sunday services there. "There was no man seemed to know better along what lines to talk to the men than Dr. Ross," said Governor Carter this morning. "They all respected him, and he was a power for good among the prisoners."

The Late Dr. Ross Was Highest Type of Man

The following appreciation of the late Rev. Dr. Ross by Mr. T. H. Purdom, K. C., will express the feelings of many of St. Andrew's congregation, as well as many others who were in the habit of attending the services:

"I have attended St. Andrew's Church all my life, and have not missed when at home, a service, morning or evening, during the whole time of Dr. Ross' ministry. He was the highest type of man the world knows. To me his preaching was perfect. As Dr. McGillivray said, he was the finished article. His splendid personal appearance, with his deep rich voice, and perfect elocution, both when speaking and reading, made it a great pleasure to listen to him. Like many another member of the congregation, I have often wished when he read the first verse of a hymn that he would read the whole of it. Nothing could be more eloquent or touching than his references to the hills in the Highlands of Scotland, on a Sunday morning, when he could hear the church bells of four different parishes. I well remember a sermon in which he introduced the quotation: 'Oh, Absalom, Absalom, my son, Absalom.' Would God I had died for thee, Oh Absalom, my son.' I do not think any preacher in the world or any actor could have put more meaning into these words than he did. The only electioneering I ever heard of that I believe impossible, since he came to London he has grown in my estimation, and I regarded him as the best preacher I ever heard, either at home or away from home. The circumstances of his death are very sad. He will be mourned, not only by St. Andrew's congregation and the people of London, but by the whole Presbyterian Church in Canada. His death is a great loss to London, to the Presbyterian Church, and to Canada."

Likely Public Service Will Mark Funeral of Late Rev. Dr. Ross

Arrangements for the funeral of Dr. Ross have not yet been made. It is likely that a public service will be held in St. Andrew's Church, at which the London Presbytery will be largely represented, and at which leading clergymen of the Presbyterian and other churches will be present from a distance, as well as from the city. The local Presbyterian clergy will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. to make their arrangements. The elders of St. Andrew's Church met this morning, but on account of the inquest in New York being held today, it is not known for certain when the remains will be brought to London. If the inquest is a brief one, it is likely that the remains will arrive in this city at 11 o'clock on Thursday.

GOVERNMENT BACKS DOWN ON SHIPPING INVESTIGATION

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Nov. 19.—The Royal Life pauses served notice on the Government that their rates were not to be interfered with, and to show the Minister of Marine what they could do the mail steamers were withdrawn from St. John and assigned to Halifax exclusively. The consequence was an outbreak of indignation at St. John which culminated in some calls for Hon. M. Hazen to resign. Now the Government has made its peace with the steamship interests and partial peace with Hon. M. Hazen's constituents. The Royal George and the Royal Edward will run to St. John. The Government legislative program this session will not include a bill to control ocean freight rates.

REFRACTORY SAFE AT CITY HALL

The door is formed of alternate plates of hard and soft steel, each an inch in thickness. It required only an hour and a half for the drills to bite their way through the first "soft" layer, but as soon as the tempered plate was reached finely tempered steel drills began to screech and break. It was at 2:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon when the three experts from the safe works in Galt started their drills into the "hard" plate, and at 2:30 this afternoon—48 hours later—the drills were still working their way through the same plate. It will be several days at the earliest before the hole has been completed, and work can be started on "picking" the combination. Then after the hole has been recovered the door will be sent to the factory in Galt, where the hole will be welded up. Photo by Hine. — East London.

MORE WAGONS ARE NEEDED FOR GARBAGE SYSTEM

Complaints Over Service Have Been Pouring In From All Sections.

MANAGER EXPLAINS ALL

Says That the Trouble Is Due to the Recent Reorganization of Department.

Additions will have to be made to the equipment of the garbage department if ashes and refuse are to be handled properly. This statement was made to The Advertiser this morning by Supt. W. C. Dodd. Protests against the system, as at present in service, have been pouring in from all sections of the city for some time. With the present equipment no better service can be worked out, says the superintendent. An additional wagon was put into commission this morning, and the superintendent will recommend the purchase of still further equipment at the next meeting of the board of works. The superintendent blames the complaints on the reorganization of the system, made two weeks ago, when the 21 garbage routes were reorganized and made 24, three more wagons being pressed into commission. Still another wagon was added this morning, making 25 wagons in service altogether.

Mr. Dodd Explains. "It was the reorganization that caused the majority of the complaints," said Supt. Dodd. "When we added the other route it changed the days of call. The market, from which a number of complaints have come, was changed on Monday, as I doubled the number of wagons on that 'beat.' We are handling four times the amount of garbage than we did a month ago, and are giving the best service possible with our present equipment."

The fact that the garbage area is to be enlarged in the spring, and therefore the amount of refuse, will be handled by the increased in a like ratio. How it is to be handled with the equipment that has already proved insufficient is a problem that will have to be worked out by the council. In all likelihood the number of carts and wagons will have to be increased by approximately 50 per cent to adequately take care of a once-a-week collection. This is claimed to be insufficient, and many are agitating for a semi-weekly collection during the winter. If such a system were to be inaugurated the wagons would have to be doubled in number, at least.

REV. DR. ROSS WAS FATALLY INJURED IN NEW YORK CITY

Struck by Automobile, Pastor of St. Andrew's Church Died in Hospital.

STEPPED BEFORE MOTOR

Widespread Sorrow Shown at the Death of Well-Known Presbyterian Clergyman.

Word received Tuesday night from New York of the death there of Rev. Dr. James Ross, for the past nine years pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, shocked and saddened the entire city. Dr. Ross was struck by an automobile at Fourth avenue and Twenty-third street about 5:30 p.m., and died in Bellevue Hospital at 6:43 o'clock. He had gone to New York city in company with Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Jeffery, on business connected with the London Public Library, of which both Dr. Ross and Dr. Jeffery were directors. After arranging with a dealer regarding the purchase of some books, Dr. and Mrs. Jeffery left Dr. Ross at Madison avenue and Twenty-third street. Dr. Ross, who was interested in old and rare books, saying that he wished to visit an old book store in the neighborhood, and adding that he would meet them again at dinner at the Grand Union Hotel, where they were staying.

Hit by Automobile. While crossing Fourth avenue on Twenty-third street, it appears that Dr. Ross stepped from behind a street car directly in front of the automobile driven by Leon T. Stowe, of 307 West Twenty-first street. It was one of the busiest hours of the day at this important street intersection. Thrown to the pavement, Dr. Ross was carried unconscious into a nearby store, where immediate attendance was given him. He was then hurried to Bellevue Hospital, where he died a little more than an hour afterwards without regaining consciousness. Letters addressed to him found in his pocket and inquiry elicited the fact that he was registered at the Grand Union Hotel, where Dr. Jeffery was informed of his death.

A Distinguished Career. Rev. Dr. Ross came to Canada with his parents in 1853. He was born at Peterculter, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, in August, 1851. He was educated for the ministry at Queen's University, Kingston, of which he was a graduate distinguished both in arts and theology, obtaining his degree of B. A. with scholarships, in 1875; M. A. B. D., in 1881, and D. D. in 1898. In October, 1883, he married Agnes, a daughter of Daniel McNaughton, of Camilla, Ont. He was pastor of Knox Church, Perth, Ont., from 1881 to 1890; lecturer in church history at Queen's from 1890 to 1892, and professor of practical theology at the Presbyterian College, Montreal, 1892 to 1904. From that date till his death Dr. Ross was pastor of St. Andrew's Church, in London, Ont. He was a director of the Canada Bible Society, and president of the Western Ontario Bible Society, and active in all movements for the good of the city and country. He was the author of "Divine Worship in Connection With the Presbyterian Church in Canada." In the conspicuous pulpits which he held Dr. Ross was outstanding among preachers in Ontario. His scholarship was sound, his skill as a sermonizer was exquisite, exceptional, and with his evangelical message he kept in constant view the real human need. His predecessors were Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston, now in the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, and the late Revs. J. Allister Murray and Dr. John Scott.

Dr. Ross is survived by Mrs. Ross, three sons and one daughter, his father, two brothers and two sisters. The sons are David Ross, an electrical engineer, of Montreal; Dr. Allan Ross, of Fernie, B. C., and Gordon Ross, a graduate in arts at Queen's and now a student in medicine at Victoria University. Miss Marjorie Ross, his daughter, is attending the University of Toronto.

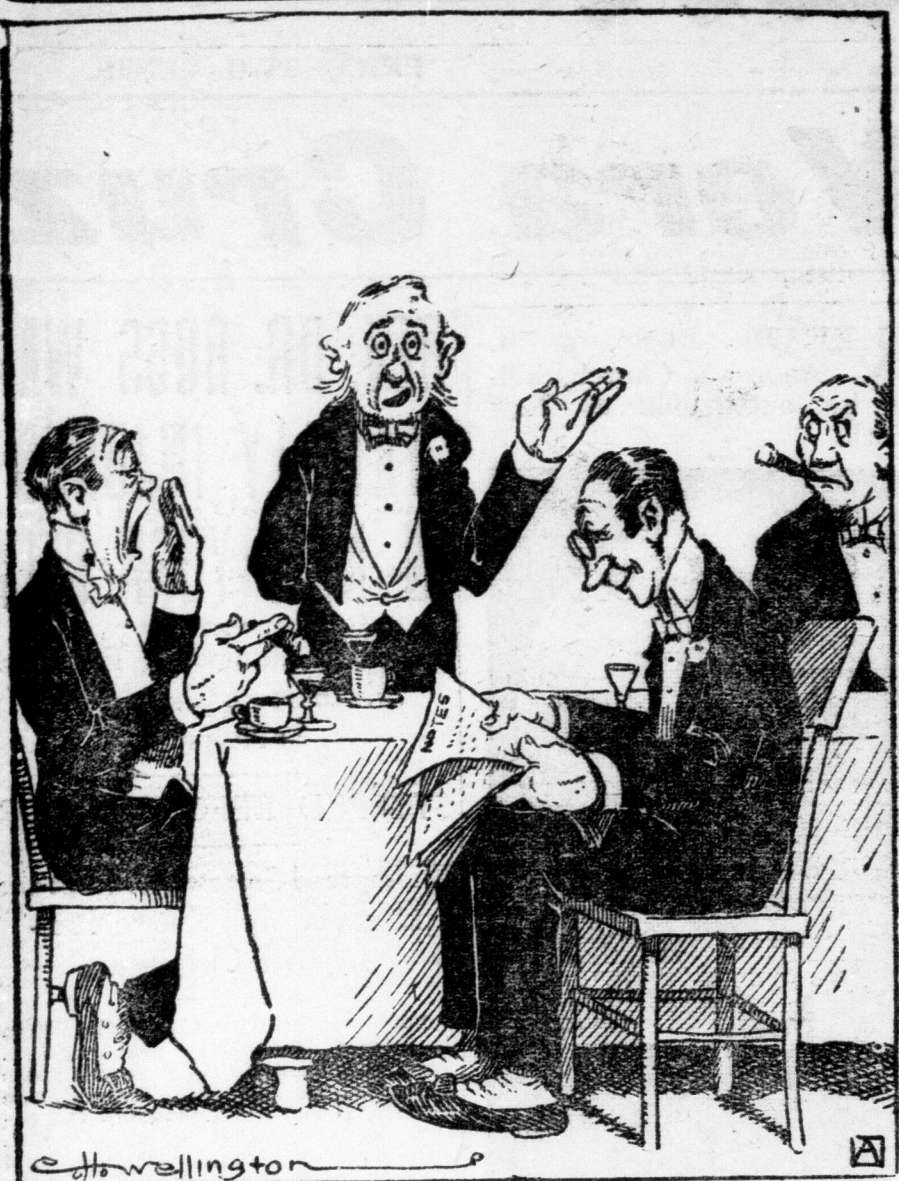

His father, James Ross, resides at 133 William street, which is the home of two brothers, Robert, Grand Trunk machinist, and George M. Grand Trunk engineer, and one sister, Miss Elizabeth. Another sister, Mrs. Christine Cummings, resides at Delaware. Other surviving relatives are a number of nephews and nieces in London and Delaware.

Member of Library Board. Dr. Ross was appointed to the London Public Library board by the board of education in February, 1909. On June 5 of this year he was nominated as moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly in Toronto, but withdrew in favor of Rev. Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie.

Numerous telegrams of sympathy were received at St. Andrew's manse this morning from leading clergymen and other prominent Canadians from coast to coast. One of the first messages received was from Rev. Dr. Douglas Fraser, of Toronto. Ministers of all local denominations and leading citizens in every walk of life were united this morning in their Continued on Page Ten.

E. J. Wilson Dead. Following an illness of but four days of pneumonia, the death occurred Tuesday in Hamilton of E. J. Wilson, one of Hamilton's most prominent businessmen. Mr. Wilson had for many years been manager of the Mason & Risch, Limited, Hamilton branch. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, at home, and one son, J. Ewart Wilson, a member of the Mason & Risch London branch. Out of respect to Mr. Wilson all Mason & Risch stores will remain closed tomorrow between 2 and 4 p.m.

ENGINEER'S DEPT.
HAS PUT THROUGH
BIG LOT OF WORK

Improvements in 1913 Reached a Total Sum of $214,705.08.

WORK DONE AT LOW COST

Much Preparatory Work This Winter in View of Operations in Spring.

London's engineering department put through $214,705.08 improvements during the year 1913, according to figures compiled by the department and submitted to Chairman B. W. Bennett, of the board of works, on Monday night. It is a record amount. The 1913 board of works has put through work that constitutes a record in magnitude. The year has been a record-breaker in other respects as well, for it shows the inauguration of the municipal contract system, all sidewalks, practically all the curbs and gutters and 1973 feet of concrete pavement having been laid departmentally.

A Record-Breaking Work.
City Engineer W. N. Ashplant, Assistant Engineer H. A. Brazier, and the entire engineering staff have combined in the record-breaking work. New systems have been inaugurated, and with the prospects of the big expenditures of the next few years to look forward to, these systems will work out well. The preparatory work—preparation of data and information during the winter months, so that the actual construction can be started immediately spring opens. The gathering of materials, data and estimates for next year's work is now in progress. By the end of March everything will be in readiness for the season's work.

At Low Cost.
A significant feature of the amount of work done during the year is the extremely low cost of the engineering department. The salaries for the engineering department staff, including office expenses for the eight months of "outside work," totals only $5,500. This is little better than 2½ per cent on the amount of work accomplished—$214,705. On a 5 per cent basis, which is considered a low one for engineering supervision and plans, the actual charges would have been $10,735.

The tabulated figures of the department, showing the work accomplished, are:

LIBRARY INSTITUTE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Durham, Nov. 18.—The fifth annual meeting of the Orangeville District Library Institute convened in this town yesterday, and are continuing the session today. There is a large attendance of delegates present. The address of welcome was tendered by Mr. C. Ramage, of the local board, and was followed by an address from the president, Rev. Dr. Farquharson, of Durham. Miss Spreeman, catalogue of the department of education, Toronto, gave an instructive address, as did also W. R. Nursey, inspector of public libraries. Others who gave addresses were M. M. Phalen, of Markdale; Inspector N. W. Campbell, and Mayor Black, of Durham. Brief and encouraging reports were read from each library in the district.

AMUSEMENTS

1 Marke Bros. at the Grand.
Laughs and thrills, light and shade, sterling melodrama and May Bell Marks, with her capable company of repertory players, were the magnets that drew so big an audience to the Grand last night that hundreds could not be accommodated, the standing-room sign being out before the curtain rose. The attraction was "Wife in Name Only," which has not been considered by the R. W. Marks players as the best of their drawing cards, but the big audience enjoyed it thoroughly.

The bill for this evening will be Miss Marks' favorite play, "Dora Thorne," in which she appears in the title role. It is the last of the successful engagement.

Classic Dancing.
Lady Constance Stewart-Richardson, who, in association with Mme. Polaire, is touring the country, and who comes here on Friday evening for one performance at the Grand, will offer for her only appearance here, among others, her own famous dancing classic, "Before Dancers," which is dedicated to those who love the open and portray nature an hour before dawn. The music of Lady Richardson's dances is taken from many well-known composers, Chopin, Grieg, Tchaikovsky, Debussy, Dvorak and others. The entire scenic equipment used by the titled dancer was brought to this country from the Palace Theatre, London.

The Dream Maiden.
Allen Lowe, the author of "The Dream Maiden," which is to play at the Grand, Saturday matinee and night, is an old resident of Canada, having been a sporting writer in the 'eighties, on the staff of the Toronto Mail and Montreal Gazette. His "Isle of Spices" and "The Defender" have been successful, and the former played ten successive seasons after its triumph in Chicago, New York and Boston. The present offering is more pretentious than anything he has written and the musical score is said to be by far the best of many years. It is the work of Bela Laszky, who wrote the great "L'Eccentric" and "Sly Countess." Philip Simmons, the English tenor, and a noted cast in the company, which carries its own augmented orchestra. Seat sale opens tomorrow. Special prices have been secured for the local production of this play.

BODY OF CAPT. GUTCH
FOUND NEAR AMBERLEY

Search for More of Those Lost in the Disaster Is Being Kept Up.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Goderich, Nov. 19.—The body of Captain Gutch, of the steamer Argus, was found Tuesday near Amberley, and identified by his wife. Although the remains were badly battered she recognized her husband at once. It is significant that the body of Captain Gutch did not have a life-belt on it when found. This makes the first body without a life-belt to be found, and it is taken as an indication that bodies without life-belts may be found during the next few days. This hope is keeping many relatives in the lake towns.

A list of the bodies recovered in Lake Huron is as follows:
Charles S. Price, found 8, unidentified, 2, at Sarnia.
John A. McGean, 7, unidentified 2, at Goderich.
James Carruthers, 16, unidentified 5, at Goderich.
Regina, 7, unidentified 1, at Sarnia.
Wexford, 7, all identified, with the exception of a body at Collingwood, supposed to be George Peere, which is not positive.
Argus, 11, unidentified 2, at Kincardine.
Hydrus, none.
Scott, none.

Not a body has yet been recovered from the steamers Isaac M. Scott, nor Hydrus, although there has been wreckage from both. The supposition is that in both cases the crew did not have sufficient warning to secure life-belts. Captain Whitney's theory regarding the Carruthers and Argus is that they collided, as watches on the bodies from both boats were stopped at the same time.

LUCAN.
Lucan, Nov. 19.—A number of the Lucanites intend going to Goderich on Wednesday evening to see the dance. Mrs. (Dr.) T. D. Orme went to London yesterday.
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fox are visiting the former's parents here.
Mr. Oakley Robinson spent Sunday in Goderich with his family.
Mr. Harold Stanley, of Stratford, spent Sunday with his parents here.
The young gentlemen of Lucan are giving a party at Sarnia.

strongly advocated the placing of hydrants in all the outlying districts, claiming that the residents there should be liberally dealt with.

The Young Ladies' Musical Club are (re)releasing the musical opera, "Sylvia," which they intend to present in the town hall in the course of a couple of weeks. The society has a large membership of the young ladies of musical talent, and it is expected the performance will be given a very creditable presentation.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO PUT IN NEW HYDRANT

Question Has Caused Much Discussion in Ingersoll for Some Time.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Nov. 19.—To give additional fire protection to residents in outlying districts, the council has decided to place a hydrant at the corner of Ingersoll and Mutual streets.

This has been a very contentious matter, as there has been opposition to placing hydrants, owing to the expense, at some of the outlying districts, where it has been argued but few persons get the protection.

Some of the councillors, however, have

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 19.

MR. LUCAS AT DORCHESTER.

Mr. Lucas' speech at Dorchester was from beginning to end a labored attempt to bamboozle the Orangemen on the bilingual question.

Excepting some airy persiflage, he avoided the temperance issue. He made no response to the challenge to inform the electors why the Government refused at the last session to implement its pledge to introduce anti-treating legislation, nor did he reply to the inquiry whether proposals for this purpose would be brought down at the next session. There was no comfort for temperance Conservatives in Mr. Lucas' address.

Mr. Lucas' evasiveness on this subject was matched by his artful dodging of the school question. The forerunner maxim, "Don't defend yourself, attack your opponent," on which Mr. Lucas acted, does not meet the case. What is the case? The Government issued a regulation requiring that all children in bilingual schools should receive instruction in English only, after the first form. Loud applause from the Orangemen in particular and a general disposition to give the Government credit for courage at least. Protests from the French-Canadians and in some bilingual school districts an open defiance of the rules. Result, the Government practically rescinds the regulation by permitting French to be taught beyond the first form. If the chief inspector gives his permission, it washes his hands of the business, and throws the responsibility upon an official. Its vaunted courage oozes through its finger tips at the first storm signal. It steers not straight course, but runs before the wind, blown first in one direction, then in another. From Mr. Lucas, a member of the Government, the charge of shuffling and dodging brought against Mr. Rowell comes with poor grace. Mr. Rowell has been straight-spoken on this issue. In the Legislature and so late as Oct. 29 last, in Peel, he outlined his position clearly and forcibly, reaffirming the stand he took in his first speech as leader.

"English is the language of this continent. It is the official language of this province. Our French-Canadian fellow-citizens will agree with us that any child in this province who does not acquire at school a good working knowledge of English is handicapped in the struggle for life, and has fewer avenues of advancement open to him than he otherwise would have. It is the duty of the state, therefore, to see that in every school of the province every child receives a thorough English education. But, on the other hand, we should not seek to prevent the children of our French-Canadian fellow-citizens retaining the use of their own mother tongue. What we are concerned about is that they should master English and not that they should be ignorant of French. The problem in its working out is largely one of teachers and administration, and it is in this view that we have adopted the following policy upon which we stand:

"To provide through adequate training schools a sufficient supply of competent teachers, and thus insure under proper regulations that pupils in every school in the province shall receive a thorough English education."

Here is a policy that should appeal to every Canadian irrespective of race and creed. The problem is difficult, but it has been made more difficult by the wobbling inconsistency of the Whitney Government, which has antagonized all sections. What moral force can there be behind the decrees of an Administration which does not know its own mind, which lays down a regulation today and cancels it tomorrow? Mr. Lucas' attack on Mr. Rowell is merely a cut-throat tactic to try to cover the Government's retreat, and hoodwink the Orangemen of East Middlesex, who have been betrayed.

STIRRING THE IMAGINATION.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, if reports be correct, has said that the presence of a Canadian regiment in old London, or in Delhi, or Cairo, would stir the imagination of people not only in the British Empire, but throughout the whole world. Possibly it would. But what would be the benefit to the British Empire or to Canada that would justify this expensive stirring of the imagination? If Britain wanted to parade the four continents, dragging some of its wearing material behind it, and daring the nations to tread on the tail of its coat, we might see some sense in it. But Britain is not in the habit of doing that sort of thing, and is not likely to begin now. And if the old cock could afford to spend his time in minding his own business and scratching up the barnyard for food, it is not necessary for the cockerel to be jumping up on the fence and making frantic attempts to crow. He is apt to make himself look silly if he tries it.

Sending regiments of soldiers all over the British dominions for show purposes would be a rather costly proceeding. No one would object to the expense if it were necessary. But no one has proved that it is necessary. Our men can find more useful and more profitable employment attending to their business at home. If they are needed anywhere to fight they will start out and do it as they did in South Africa. But to travel around to show off their regimentals and stir people's imagination can only stimulate the fears and jealousies of other nations and give an impetus to the insane rivalry in armaments. Colonel Hughes, with four and twenty colonels more, sailed to England, and then sailed back again. Something like the traditional king of France, who with twenty thousand men marched up the hill, and then marched down again. We must pay about $100,000 for Col. Hughes' little trip; probably much more than the French king paid for his mountain climbing. And that seems to be all we are to get for it. Let us give our imaginations a little rest, and not try to stir up other people's.

THE LATE DR. ROSS.

The loss of the pastor of St. Andrew's will be mourned by the whole city, by the Presbyterian Church of Canada, and by numbers of Canadians that will not be known. The crowded city has its perils hardly less than those of lake and sea. One so strong and so great a citizen is cut off as by a lightning flash from a career of incalculable usefulness and from the many who loved and revered him. Dr. Ross was a most unusual man, a distinction to the pulpits of this city, almost worshipped by his congregation. With exact scholarship he combined broad culture, generous sympathies, a notable dignity and charm. His was a majestic presence, the presence and force of a prophet. In his sermons and perhaps even more in his prayers there was a stately beauty of conception and phrase which impressed both the learned and the common man. Himself seemingly unmoved like a rock, he was capable all the more of swaying the emotions of an audience, though his sermons were philosophical in the main. Such sweetness came from his strength, such power of chaste pathos at times. He had known poverty and hard labor, he was a shepherd; he understood the tragic issues of life.

But in him many elements were finely mingled. Sober meditation was enlivened by a rich sense of humor, rising like his philosophy and rugged dignity out of a deep experience of life. Dr. Ross was a man of large humanity, both from his active work and from his studies. His ministrations to the sick will be remembered for the sunshine that came with him into many a saddened chamber.

A marked man in his actual career and achievements, he was even greater in potentiality of mind and character. Everything about him was big and solid. He was a magnificent man, and also one who bent to lowly duties with a Christian meekness. A death like his arouses a certain anger and rebellion in the mind. Why should such things be in an ordered world? There is some bitter sweetness in the thought that it was on an errand for popular education that he went to his death, and at the moment when fate took him, he was on his way to indulge his own scholar's fancy, for a spare hour, in an old book shop.

A DRIVE AT HANNA.

"Ontario does not want a corporation lawyer for premier,"—London Free Press.

Is this a sly way of starting to back Mr. Beck against Mr. Hanna for the reversion of the premiership?

It is well known that Mr. Hanna is ambitious and also that he is a "corporation lawyer" being solicitor for the Standard Oil Company. The Toronto counterpart of Mr. White, he particularly represents corporation interests in the Whitney cabinet. Has it not been publicly confessed by Messrs. Whitney and Hanna, that Mr. Hanna's special duties are financial, viz.: getting campaign funds out of his friends, the corporations?

It is understood that Mr. Hanna is managing the Government's present campaign in East Middlesex. He must feel that he has been wounded in the house of his friends.

So far the Alberta oil fever has developed more fever than oil.

Never put off till tomorrow the Christmas shopping you can do today.

Having betrayed the Orangemen on the bilingual question, the Government is now trying to bamboozle them.

A British-Indian poet has received the Nobel prize for poetry. Here's one region where there is no color line.

The Toronto News, Toronto World and other Conservative journals are now for reciprocity on the instalment plan.

There seems to be no ground for saying that Dr. Reaume will be brought to East Middlesex to discuss the bilingual question.

Mr. McFarlan stands by the Whitney Government on the temperance issue. So do the liquor interests. Ergo, Mr. McFarlan and the liquor interests stand together.

Mr. Lucas makes the curious complaint that banish-the-bar is the only temperance proposal made by the Liberal leader. What does he mean?

This temperance plank is so wide that it makes a whole platform.

The Children's Aid Society in Stratford has discovered shocking cases of parental depravity and child neglect. There are people who preach that all social problems should be left to the home, and who sneer at the activities of reformers. Unhappily all homes are not good training schools and there is need for other agencies.

"The Borden Club. If you want to have your adipose 'sausages in good shape you'd better join the same.'"—Brantford Courier.

Not a bad idea to advise the young men of Brantford, if they want to get fat to become Bordenites. Quite a few people are fattening themselves that way. But if they keep on the country will not have much fat left.

Mr. Borden says that nothing effective could be done in less than half a century. If the Australians are aware of these utterances of our Premier and his colleagues, what an opinion they must have of us!

STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY.

[Rocheester Post-Express.]
Curious it seems that in this most enlightened age of earth, after two thousand years of Christian teachings, and in the face of the consensus of civilization, they should be reduced to practice, the great powers are bankrupting themselves in a desperate rivalry of preparation for a struggle that may come any moment—a war, destructive beyond all precedent, which statesmanship confesses its powerlessness to prevent.

THE ODYSSEY.

[Andrew Lang.]

As one that for a weary space has lain Lulled by the song of Circe and her wiles

In gardens near the pale of Proserpine, Where the Aegaeon isle forgets the main,

And only the low mutes of love complain, And only shadows of wan lovers pine

As such an one were glad to know The brine

Salt on his lips, and the large air again—

So gladly from the songs of modern speech Men turn, and see the stars, and feel the free

Shrill wind beyond the close of heavy fowers, And through the music of the languid hours,

They hear like ocean on a western beach The surge and thunder of the Odyssey.

Ortie McManigal, whose "squawling" to the police brought about the conviction of the McNamara brothers in the Los Angeles dynamite outrages, is said to be fleeing for his life to Europe by way of Montreal. No doubt McManigal's work was supremely useful for the state, but we imagine, the majority of people would not worry very much if some of the friends of the convicted dynamiters were to catch him.

MURDERER SCHMIDT TO ENTER INSANITY PLEA

Trial of Anna Aumuller's Slayer Has Been Laid Over Until November 25.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Nov. 19.—After having been called for trial today, the case of Hans Schmidt, slayer of Anna Aumuller, was put over by consent of both sides until Nov. 25. The selection of a jury to try Hans Schmidt for the murder of Anna Aumuller was begun before Judge Foster in the court of general sessions. A special panel of 200 talesmen was on hand.

Notwithstanding his confession of the murder, Schmidt will make a fight for life, insanity being his defence. Portions of the murdered girl's body were found in the Hudson River early in September, but the greater part, including the head, has never been found. Schmidt, a priest, confessed that he slew the girl as she slept, dismembering her body and carrying it in parcels to the river, making five trips and dropping it into the water from a ferryboat.

The report of a special committee sent to Germany by the district attorney to obtain testimony concerning Schmidt's sanity, was due here. The district attorney's damning insanity. Schmidt was slain.

GLARE OF HEADLIGHT CONFUSED VICTIM

Accidental Death Was Verdict Returned in North Bay Case.

[Canadian Press.]

North Bay, Nov. 18.—The coroner's jury in the case of S. M. Archibald, of Brentwood, N. S., who was killed at North Bay station Monday evening, returned the verdict that death resulted from stepping in front of an express train. The general theory for the tragedy is that Archibald was standing too close to the approaching train, and that the glare of the electric headlight shining in his eyes confused and blinded him, so that he stepped by mistake in the wrong direction, which landed him directly in the front of the train, which was travelling at a speed of eight miles an hour. Archibald's body was shipped to his home in Nova Scotia last night.

ESCAPED OPERATION FOR PILES

It is most disheartening to be told by your physician that nothing short of an operation will cure you of piles. The expense, the suffering, the risk, is too great, and so you endure the misery of this wretched ailment.

But why not be cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Relief is prompt, cure certain and lasting, when you use persistently this great soothing, healing ointment.

Mr. J. Mawer, Roden, Man., writes: "Dr. Chase's Ointment is a wonderful preparation. I had itching piles for five or six years and though I tried two doctors' prescriptions and used many other preparations could not obtain much benefit. The doctor told me there was no cure for me, and that I would have to undergo an operation."

"I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and was completely cured in one week. As this was six months ago and there has been no return of the old trouble, I believe that the cure is a permanent one."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has a truly wonderful record of cures to back it up. Many cases of 10, 20, 30 years' standing have been cured by its use. 60 cents a box; all dealers. Sample box free, if you mention this paper. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

HUERTA'S MESSAGE.

[Canadian Press.]

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—Gen. Huerta planned today to submit to the members of his cabinet the message which he proposes to deliver to his newly convened congress tomorrow. The cabinet meeting was called for this afternoon, at which time it was expected that Gen. Huerta would ask his members to go over the message with him. The document is short, and it is said to review the most important acts of the Huerta administration dealing frankly with the dissolution of congress and calling attention to the strained relations with the United States.

Without Protest.

It is expected that congress will receive the message without protest, thereby giving Huerta a virtual ratification of his acts. It is said that the message will open a way to an immediate discussion by congress of the late presidential election, and it is a foregone conclusion that the congress will declare the election null.

2. Change water (which should be hard) at least once a week. Keep a bit of clean gravel at the bottom. Feed the fish on the patent food which is sold for the purpose.

3. Yes.

4. She is very foolish, to say the least.

5. Laugh at her when she tries to be superior. This will cure her quicker than anything.

6. Unfortunately, no.

Wedding Preparations.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly answer these few questions? I am a reader of your columns, and find them interesting and useful.

1. At a church wedding where a suit is worn, which would you consider best, black or tan kid gloves?

2. Should the bride wear hat, coat, and gloves on while she receives congratulations at her home after arriving from the church?

3. Where should the bride and groom stand to receive congratulations?

4. Should the bride's mother receive the guests as they arrive from the church?

5. Am short and dark; what color would you suggest for a pretty evening dress, and what kind of material?

6. If not asking too much, would you mind telling me the courses of a wedding dinner.

Yours sincerely, HELEN.

A-1. White kid would be more suitable for a bride.

2. No; she should remove her wraps as soon as she reaches the house.

3. They usually stand in the parlors. If possible in a floral bower made for the occasion.

4. Generally the ushers are in this capacity at the house as well as at the church. They receive guests at the door, and usher them to where the bride is receiving. The bride usually stands near the altar.

Dressing the Small Girl for School

The simpler the little girl's first school frocks, the better. At this time she will probably abandon the dainty white frocks of pique and embroidery heretofore worn all winter in the house, and will wear something darker and more serviceable for school-rooms soon reduce a white frock to unrepresentable condition. The frock pictured is of blue mohair, and the low, bloused waist, over a straight, knitted skirt, is an admirable style. Collar and cuffs are of red silk, trimmed with braid, the shield being of silver embroidery. White stockings are worn with buttoned boots.

crowns. What would be a suitable way to trim it?

5. Where should a girl of 14 be in school?

6. What are the meanings of Alma, Ruth, Mary, Victoria, Alfreda, Olive, and Ada?

7. Which penmanship do you consider the better, first or second?

Thanking you in advance for the space in your valuable column, and also the trouble of answering these perplexing questions, we remain, "BEST CHUMS."

A-1. The use of a good hair tonic, together with absolute cleanliness, regular brushing and massage, will in time improve the condition of the hair very materially. The reason why so many folks do not succeed in helping their tresses, is because they do not persevere in the treatment.

2. You weigh rather light for your height, but doubtless time will remedy this.

3. Put into a granite dish, two cups brown sugar, lump of butter, and the juice of a lemon, or 4 tablespoons of vinegar. (Some prefer less vinegar and a little cold water.) Stir until it begins to bubble over a moderate fire; then boil without stirring until it will harden when dropped into cold water. Pour quickly onto buttered tins, adding nut meats if desired.

4. Drape a piece of brown silk around the hair, and form into a wired bow at the back.

5. She should be either in the entrance class or in the first year at the High School.

6. Truth, beauty, unpleasant, victory, wise, an olive or emblem of peace, rich gift.

7. That on the second page is the best.

Frosting Wedding Cake.

Dear Miss Grey: Knowing how kindly you help everyone out of their difficulties, I take courage to tell you mine. My dearest friend is to be married some time near Christmas, and I am making her a wedding cake, and as we cannot afford to pay to have it iced, would you please tell me how the icing is made. I would like to have it look as nice as possible.

Thanking you in advance, I am yours truly, ANXIOUS.

A-1. I am very glad you have written to me, and I hope sincerely that your cake-making may be a grand success. It is first of all necessary to ice the cake with a foundation icing of icing sugar and milk, or unbeaten white of egg. If milk is used, let it be a little warm, stir in the sugar until a paste is formed, then spread on the cake. Have this icing quite thick. It may, in fact, be iced twice, if you wish.

In a day or so the cake will be ready for the almond icing. This is prepared by blanching one-half pound of almonds and pounding them finely in a mortar with a wineglassful of rose-water. It is a tiresome job, I forewarn you, but is well worth the trouble. Now add sufficient icing sugar to make a paste, and spread over the foundation icing.

When this has hardened, you may ornament the cake with a frosting made of white of egg beaten with sugar, and forced through a tiny opening in a cone made of letter-paper. This ornamentation is rather difficult to an unpracticed hand, and it might be well to try it on ordinary cakes before the time comes to decorate the wedding loaf. Good luck to your efforts.

Mrs. Newlywed's Dinner.

A-1. On the right side of the plate place two knives, a small fruit knife (if you have them), then soup spoon, one or two teaspoons, and a small dessert spoon. On the left of the plate, three forks, the one for the dessert being smaller than the others. Place this one farthest away from the plate.

2. It is preferable, I think, to address them to "Miss Blank," although good wishes may, of course, be expressed for both.

Many thanks for your kind wishes, which I heartily reciprocate.

A Post-Nuptial Reception.

Dear Miss Grey: When attending a post-nuptial reception, will you kindly give the correct rule regarding cards. Is it right to leave one's card on leaving the house, or not?

2. Should one call again after the bride returns calls, or not?

Thanking you in advance, A MATRON.

A-1. Yes; cards should be left, one of your own and two of your husband's.

2. No; the bride should return your call first.

They Are Chums.

Dear Miss Grey: Would you be so kind as to answer these questions:

1. What will make the hair thick and long?

2. I am 14 years old; am 4 feet 10 inches, and weigh 84 pounds. Do you think I am well proportioned?

3. Would you send me a good recipe for taffy?

4. I have a bread-rimmed hat, stiff felt, brown in color, and has a large bow.

In Port Arthur the ladies have a bowling club, and number of the members are becoming experts in the game.

A Victoria, B. C., ladies' swimming club has been formed this season. The members take a lesson every Monday morning in the Y. M. C. A. swimming baths, which have been placed at their disposal.

Miss Eleanor Smith, provincial "Y" secretary of Nova Scotia, gave an account of the Dominion W. C. T. U. convention recently held in London, at the annual meeting of Halifax Y. W. U. Union.

Members of the Lady Teachers Association, Regina, Sask., were addressed on Tuesday afternoon on the subject of "Religious Instruction in Schools."

The social science department of Montreal Woman's Club held its first meeting yesterday, when Professor Carrie Deville, M. A., addressed the members on biology and the women's movement.

"The Legal Status of Women" was the subject of an able address delivered before the Women's Canadian Club of Vancouver by Mr. Alex. Henderson, K. C., of that city.

The Girls' Bible Class of St. John's Church, Port Arthur, are dressing a number of dolls for the poor children of the parish.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

The Women's Institute which was held at the home of Mrs. Max. Kohl, was very successful. The meeting was opened with the National Anthem, after which Miss Ida Kimbol gave an instrumental. A very interesting reading was given by Miss Lillian Beattie, followed by a duet by the Misses Kohls.

Mrs. E. Hodgins gave a demonstration on embroidery. A solo was then rendered by Miss B. Grant, followed by Mrs. W. Hudson. The meeting was closed by singing God Save the King.

Milady's Mirror

It will be absolutely necessary for you to get a good rear view of your hat, as well as a front view. Don't count any minute wasted that is spent at the mirror when purchasing a hat. Look at it from every angle. You will gain much pleasure in wearing a hat that you know is just right and remember its good qualities long after you have forgotten the bill.

Cool baths suit some temperaments and hot baths bring the best results in others. Morning baths act as a tonic for some, and the evening tub is the most appropriate for others. The best thing to do is for each individual to experiment until she has found out which seems to have the best effect in her own case, and then abide by the rule. Don't make the rule an unbreakable one, however, or you will be laying up trouble for yourself.

If you once get the shower bath habit you will never give it up, so begin tomorrow morning. When using the regular shower, be sure to protect the hair with a rubber cap, use pure soap and warm water first; then, when all the soap is rinsed off, rub the body with a handful of sea salt. Shower again with cold water, and then rub with a pleasurable shock, rub briskly with a coarse towel and then spray the body with a lotion.

A Busy Woman's Social Duties

One busy woman has a unique method of attending to social duties without strain upon her time or energy. She gives a large share of credit to the telephone. When the evening paper comes in she scans the social columns for the names of friends. If one is mentioned as just returning from a long trip or a summer's sojourn, she goes straight to the phone and gives her a cordial greeting. Any event of importance in her friends' lives means a phone message from her, for she finds it less formal and quicker than writing a note, and has the appearance of more sincere interest. She does this early in the evening, when the call is not apt to be an interruption, and when people are more likely to be at home.

Another pretty practice of this woman is to send a long-stemmed, beautiful flower with her card, instead of making a call. Well, people love flowers as much as sick people do, and another advantage is that a lady doesn't have to be in afternoon dress to receive either the telephone or the flower greeting. This same woman remembers her friends' fads and tastes, and when reading a magazine or newspaper she reads with half an eye for them and half an eye for herself, and sends to a friend a magazine or newspaper with an article marked which she knows will appeal to her interest. Then she does wholesale calling in summer.

A Pretty Needlebook for Sister

A book in which to keep needles and thread is always appreciated by the woman who travels. It can be made of ribbon with leaves put inside of flannel. Make the cover double, with pockets at one side for small pieces of pasteboard wound with thread, both black and white. Tie to one corner a small pair of scissors.

How To Cook Sweet Potatoes

Fried Sweet Potatoes.

Weigh about two pounds of sweet potatoes, letting them be as near the same size as possible. Wash them well, using a scrubbing brush if necessary, but taking care not to break the skins. Put them into a saucepan of boiling water and cook them for about 20 minutes. When tried with a fork the centres should be slightly hard. Drain, then cover with a cloth, and leave for a few minutes on the side of the stove. Skin them and cut into rather thick slices and fry them in boiling fat until a nice golden brown.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve very hot.

Sweet Potatoes en Casserole.

Put three ounces of butter in a casserole with two tablespoonsful of sugar. When the butter is thoroughly hot put in a layer of uncooked sweet potatoes (sliced thickly). Sprinkle with salt and pepper and then put in another layer. Pour on sufficient boiling water to nearly cover the first layer of potatoes, then put on the lid and bake in a slow oven. When the bottom layer of potatoes is brown remove to the top, so that the other layer may get brown. By the time the potatoes are all browned and quite tender there will be very little water left, and the butter serves as a sauce. Arrange in neat layers on a hot dish, pour the butter over, and serve at once.

Sweet Potato Croquettes.

Choose as many sweet potatoes as are desired. Scrub them, and bake in the oven until soft. Then take out all the potato and rub it through a sieve. Measure, and to every pint of potato add three tablespoonsful of sweet almonds (previously pounded in a mortar), one egg, two ounces of butter, and salt to taste. Make into a paste with hot milk, then form into croquettes, dip into egg, roll in bread-crumbs, and fry in deep fat until brown.

Sweet Potatoes and Tomatoes.

Peel as many sweet potatoes as are required, and steam them until soft. Mash them with a fork, adding one ounce of butter, a spoonful or two of hot milk, and season with salt and pepper. Put some tomatoes in thick slices, put into egg saucepan with two ounces of butter, salt, and pepper, and bake until done, then spread the hot mashed potatoes over the top, smooth the surface, and mark with a fork. Then brush over with egg, sprinkle grated cheese on top, and brown in the oven or under the grid.

HOME HELPS.

A few drops of rosewater added to almonds will prevent their oiling when chopped.

Instead of adding bluing to water in which lace has been rinsed try making the final rinsing in milk; it gives a lovely creamy tone to the lace.

Soiled spots may be removed from white silk or satin by rubbing them with a fine flannel cloth dipped in a little alcohol or ether.

To make soap jelly, so often recommended in the cleaning of delicate things, melt any good laundry soap in water over a hot fire until it becomes liquid. When cold it will form a jelly, and should be molded in small jars for use at various times when required.

SOME OLD MOTTOES.

I was glancing through an old book of mottoes the other day, and I came upon three I liked extremely, says an English writer. One, the Duke of Portland's Craignez Honte—two simple words, which yet sum up the whole meaning of life, for if you "fear shame," you cannot go far wrong. Another, the motto of Lord Stourton and Mowbray, Loyal je serai durant ma vie. A fine motto this for a young crusader from Oxford to Cambridge, or a girl buckling on womanly armor—"I shall be loyal during my life." The third, the Duke of Richmond's, "I flourish as the rose." Dainty and fanciful, this last, and how charming besides! To flourish as the golden heart of a warm red rose, Titania herself could ask no more; and one can well understand her cushioned on its softness in a moment of pink aberration mistaking a donkey for a Prince Charming. Titania, by the way, is not the only member of her sex who has done that.

Signs of Company.

Company's coming, as sure as can be! Company's coming, and maybe to tea! Out of the front door and in at the side—

Company's coming, as sure as high tide!

Here are two chairs standing back unto back;

And, if you deem full assurance you lack,

Hear chattering on the doorstep crowd—

Company's coming, and maybe a crowd!

THROAT Troubles ARE Dangerous

because the swollen glands and inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and impair their healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion stands alone as nature's corrector of throat troubles; its cod liver oil is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue—the glycerine is curative and healing, while the combined emulsion up-builds the forces to avert the weakening influence which always follows throat troubles.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is best for three important reasons—it relieves the trouble; it prevents a relapse; it is not charged with alcohol or stupefying drugs.

Shun substitutes and insist on Scott's.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood, and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and you clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful and a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate of soda, and used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life-saver for regular meat-eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure, and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. W. T. Strong, druggist, agent, London.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully, and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. NATURAL GAS FOR LONDON CITIZENS BY APRIL FIRST Contract Signed Between City Gas Company and Southern Ontario Company.

EXIT THE ARTIFICIAL

A Sliding Scale of Prices Fixed, Depending Upon Season of the Year.

Natural gas for London by April 1 of next year has been promised in agreements signed on Tuesday between representatives of the City Gas Company and the Southern Ontario Gas Company that control a chain of gas wells in Tilbury district. Prices that will be charged the patrons of the City Gas Company have been fixed on a sliding scale, the price depending on the season.

During the summer (May, June, July, August, September and October), 50 cents per 1,000 feet. During the fall and winter months (November, December, January, February, March and April), 45 cents per 1,000 feet up to 4,000 feet per month. Above that amount 35 cents per 1,000 feet.

Discounts of 5 cents per 1,000 will be allowed in all cases, if bills are paid before the 20th of the month, making the net prices, 45, 40 and 30 cents, respectively.

Special rates will be given manufacturers.

Exit Artificial Gas.

The manufacture of artificial gas will cease as soon as the delivery of the natural commodity is made to London. The present plant of the gas company will be maintained as a "standby" in case of breaks in the pipe line between London and Tilbury. Otherwise every consumer on the lines of the gas company will be supplied with natural gas.

Copies of the agreement and prices fixed have been forwarded to the city council for its ratification. A special session will be called for this purpose.

Delivery by April. It is claimed by both the Southern Ontario Gas Company and the City Gas Company that delivery can be made by April. The pipe line of the former corporation is within a few miles of London at present. Work on a "supply" belt line for the local company, and the construction of regulating stations, where the pressure will be controlled, will be started immediately. Two lines will be built by the Natural Gas Company into the city. One will be run up Ridout street and the other up Egerton. The belt line of the local company will be laid on Egerton, Oxford and Ridout streets. It will be a ten-inch main.

The Southern Ontario Gas Company is to supply St. Thomas as well as London. It is claimed that there are 80,000,000 feet daily available for the supply of the two cities.

The contract between the two gas companies is for five years only.

Nothing is more exhausting than a persistent cough. Old folks and very young folks alike, find a bad cough most distressing. No need to go on suffering!

Peps will end the worst cough or cold. Peps contain the balsamic essences and fumes of the Pine tree, with other medicinal ingredients, so prepared, that as soon as a Peps is put into the mouth it dissolves and these medicinal fumes are liberated. They are then breathed down the throat, and direct to the lungs.

Ordinary cough mixtures go to the stomach. Peps go to the lungs—there's the great fundamental difference between the old-fashioned forms of treatment, and the Peps treatment.

Most cough mixtures contain opium and other poisons. Peps don't. Better for children!

The most stubborn cases of asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, tightness across the chest, cold, or winter cough, will yield to Peps treatment.

DETECTIVE SUICIDES RATHER THAN SURRENDER

Desperate Career of Man Who Killed His Baby Ends Unexpectedly.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Nov. 19.—The suicide of Pierre Picard, the former detective, who yesterday killed himself when the police, who had been dispatched to round him up for the murder of his foster child, which received a bullet intended for his wife, had surrounded him, came as a desperate end to a life which had been marked by bloodshed. Picard carried three or four bullets in his body, and received a couple of knife wounds while struggling along the river front some years ago.

Following his retirement from the police force, Picard did special duty. He was employed by the Thiel Detective Agency guarding the lumber mills at Buckingham during the strike there. Following the battle between the Thiel men and strikers, in which two or three of the strikers were killed, Picard received a bullet in the chest. It was thought at first that he was fatally wounded, and for a few days the physicians held out but slight hope for his recovery.

While he was supposed to be lying at the point of death a newspaper reporter, who had written something about him that he did not like, visited the ward of the hospital where he lay. When he caught sight of the reporter, Picard threw himself from his cot and attacked him. The physicians and nurses rescued the newspaperman from the savage attack. Before he had entirely recovered, Picard was placed under arrest on a charge of murder in connection with the death of one of the strikers, who had been shot during the riot in which he himself was wounded. The trial took place after the strike was over and everything had quieted down, and he was acquitted of the charge.

CANAL FILLS IN

Huge Quantities of Sand Were Brought in by Storm.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Nov. 19.—The canal north of Port Huron, which connects Lake Huron with Black River, and which was just completed a little over a year ago, is filled in from the lake to a distance of some 700 feet. The sheet piling, which runs out into the lake, as a protection, was merely a play-thing for the husky billows that climbed over it, and unloaded about seven thousand yards of sand in the canal.

Six feet below the level of the canal the action of the waves exposed a strata of earth, containing stumps, trees and branches, which geologists claim proves that a forest once flourished hundreds of years ago where now is but the lake shore.

FAVOR COMMISSION TO CONTROL POLICE

Matter Will Be Settled at the Next Council Meeting.

Sarnia, Nov. 19.—A number of the members of the town council would like to see the police department controlled by a police commission. Others

THAT IS NEWSBASEBALL CLUB INSPECTS
SIX SITES FOR NEW PARK

City Property Just West of Coves Regarded as Most Favorable One—New Ball Park
May Be Ready for Season of 1914.

[BY JINX.]
Five of the London Baseball Club directors and Manager King and Superintendent Hummiston, of the street railway company, together with a representative of the city council, made a tour of the city yesterday afternoon in a special car and looked over several properties with a view of building a new ball park in London. In all about six sites were visited, each within from ten to twelve minutes' ride of the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. When the trip of inspection was over, the local ball club directors were convinced that London has any amount of good sites for splendid ball parks, and the majority of them are just as satisfactory as Tecumseh Park.

One of the favorite spots.
One of the first sites visited, and one which made a favorable impression on all who made the trip, was the strip of city-owned land lying east of Woodland Cemetery, and almost adjoining the Coves. The land is level, and an ideal park could be constructed on it with little cost. The property is twice the size of Tecumseh Park, and it could be turned into a city park that would be more beautiful than the present Springbank Park. It lies on the south side of the Springbank trolley line, and would have excellent transportation facilities. It is backed on the extreme south by a high ridge which is practically a natural grand stand.

Plans To Be Submitted.
Nearly an hour was spent in looking over this land and mapping out an imaginary ball park, with stands and bleachers, etc. The street railway company will have some blue prints made of the site and the land will be surveyed and the measurements and plans submitted to the London club.

The party next went to East London, where three desirable locations in the vicinity of the new McCormick factory and the Empire brass factory were visited. A splendid ball park could be built on the land lying just west of the new McCormick building, but owing to the high price of land in this section, the cost of locating a ball park there would be well-nigh prohibitive.

Some Good Sites in North End.
Some vacant lots lying north of the C. P. R. tracks on Adelaide street, near Rattle street, were also inspected, and favorably commented upon, as was also a high and dry strip of property on the northeast corner of Oxford and Adelaide streets. These locations are within easy access of the car lines, and local fans could be whisked out to them in ten minutes from the downtown section.

Will Act Soon.
Present indications are that some definite action will be taken shortly in regard to building a ball park for the 1914 Canadian League season. If the construction cannot be made in time, Tecumseh Park will be used for another year, but in any case, London will host a new ball park before the season of 1915. The city council is willing to make some concessions to the baseball club in the way of establishing a public park which can be used for baseball and other sports.

Jerry Coughlin, who played a good game at centre for Peterboro Seniors last season, is residing in Ingersoll and will play with the team of that place this season.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Petrolia, Nov. 19.—Dr. C. O. Fairbank has received a letter from Harry Chapman, of the Regina football team, who plays and wins for the Regina team, champions of Western Canada. The letter was written before Petrolia lost the district title by being defeated by London, and it states that the Regina team intends to make a tour of Ontario to play football games and would play in Petrolia if the local team won its district. Since Regina won the district, it is not certain whether the game can be arranged now, although an effort will be made to have it. Last evening the fact that Petrolia was virtually the real champion of the district.

Offer Was Made.

Brantford, Nov. 18.—Matters in connection with the Brantford Canadian League Club franchise are in statu quo. Last evening was the time for the expiration of the option on the franchise held by outside magnates. No word was received by President T. J. Nelson exercising the option, and therefore expired. This leaves matters as they were, with nothing definite done either way in getting a new location for the club or a new manager.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Frank ("Shag") Shaughnessy, whose coaching has been responsible for the two intercollegiate football championships won by McGill, has signed up with the university as coach for another year.

Shaughnessy was pressed to sign a three-year contract, but declined, saying he was going out of sport next year to enter business in Ottawa, and would probably sell his interest in the Ottawa Baseball Club, the pennant winner in the Canadian League this year.

SARNIA PROTESTS
CAPITAL GAME

Tunnel Town Team Says It Was Robbed of a Touchdown by Referee.

OTHER CHARGES MADE

Some of Them Appear Ridiculous—
Claim That Signals Were Wise to Sarnia Signals.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Sarnia have protested their O. R. F. U. junior semi-final game played with Capitals at London last Saturday in which the local team was victorious by 9 to 2. The protest is based on three different counts. The first is that of several decisions of Referee Anglin, one of which, they claim, robbed them of a touchdown. The play in question happened in the last quarter, when Knowles kicked into his own scrimmage. The referee immediately blew his whistle, but regardless of that a Sarnia man picked the ball up and ran half the length of the field unmolested by several Capital players who could have tackled him. The second reason is the numerous changes made by the Capital team.

The third reason is a ridiculous one. The Tunnel Town team claim that Russell Richards and Bobbie Hewitson, who are both connected with the Capital club, the former an officer and the latter a player, had officiated in group games in which the Sarnia team had participated and had thereby become acquainted with the signals and used their knowledge to advantage in last Saturday's game. Hewitson only played the last few minutes of the game when Price was forced to retire with a dislocated shoulder.

New York, Nov. 18.—Wilbert Robinson is the new manager of the Brooklyn club. His engagement was announced at Ebbets Field this morning. Robinson has been John McGraw's right-hand man and the Giants' coach for the last five years. He was released by McGraw about a month ago. During his engagement with the New York National League Club, Robinson rendered valuable service in developing the pitchers. He received entire credit for making Rube Marquard and Jeff Tesreau display winning form.

From Windsor Exercise Boy to Emperor's Jockey, Burns' Record

Howard Pearson, writing in the Detroit Journal, gives an interesting history of the career of the late Tommy Burns, the famous Canadian jockey, who was killed last week in New York. The article is as follows:
Tommy Burns, who met a tragic death beneath an elevated railroad train in New York Friday, rose from an exercise boy at the Windsor track to the position of leading rider for the Emperor of Germany.

Burns came to Detroit in 1900 seeking employment, and soon after his arrival was put to work galloping horses for "Dear Tom" Hearn at the oval across the river.

He possessed a natural seat in the saddle, and within a year after he started, was riding races for Hearn. During the longest meeting ever held at the Windsor track ten years ago, Burns became the most popular rider at the track. He afterwards piloted many winners for Burns & Waterhouse on the Pacific coast tracks, and also on the historic Fair Grounds track in St. Louis.

An accident recalled by many Detroit racing votaries happened at Windsor and put him out of commission for several months. He was thrown while riding Uncle Jim and sustained a broken arm and internal injuries, his mother witnessing the accident which came near ending Tommy's life. His mother took him back to his old home in Chatham, Ont., where he was carefully nursed back into health.

When he resumed riding he became attached to Mike Daly's stable and rode that owner's Claude in all of the consistent thoroughbred's great races. Among Claude's victories was the

CANADIAN LEAGUE'S CHANCES OF

NEXT SEASON—DIFFICULTIES ARISE OVER
DIFFERENT FRANCHISES.

Lot of Trouble May Be Experienced in Putting Team in Pennsylvania City
Next Season—Difficulties Arise Over
Different Franchises.

The Canadian League may have a lot of trouble on its hands before it finally gets rid of the Erie franchise. The securing of the Erie franchise is now presenting a problem that is not easily solved. When President Fitzgerald first set about invading territory for the Canadian League, and if the present owners of the Erie club are able to place that city in a league other than the Canadian circuit, it looks as if the Erie club will still be represented in the Canadian circuit when the season of 1914 is started on its way.

A Mix-Up of Franchises.
There is bound to be some sort of difficulty, no matter which way it goes. The present Erie owners will not likely give up his franchise unless he either gets the Erie franchise or a price that is not likely to be paid. The present holders of the Erie franchise would likely enter the Canadian League proposition were it simply a matter of just placing a team in that city.

Leagues has another franchise to dispose of before it can locate in Erie, and unless the league itself purchases the Erie franchise and then makes the Erie men a present of it, all kinds of trouble-making situations are bound to crop up.

HAMILTON WILL HOLD A CHECKER TOURNAMENT

Several Good Prizes Have Been Put Up and Large Number Will Compete.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the executive of the Dominion Checker Association was held in Toronto, and arrangements were completed for what promises to be one of the best checker tournaments ever held on this continent. It is expected that the following prize money: first, $100; second, $75; third, $50; fourth, $25, will induce a large number from the sister provinces to compete for the Dominion championship. It was decided that the knockout system would be the rule play, six games to a series, all on the two-move ballot restriction, and losers in successive rounds would be placed in the consolation tournament with the third and fourth prizes at issue. How Tommy Burns Was Cured of a Bad Case of Cold Feet.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18.—The old Naud Junction boxing pavilion is being torn down. Within a day or two the famous old barn will be of the past.

Some of the most famous fights in the history of the ring have been staged there. Many of the world's greatest fighters won their spurs in that ring. The pavilion was erected in 1905 after the passage of a city ordinance forbidding boxing in the old Hazard's pavilion.

The first match held there was between Hugo Kelly and Tommy Burns for the midweight championship of the world. The last was between Jim Flynn and Sam Langford.

Tommy Burns also won the heavy-weight championship of the world from Marvin Hart at old Naud's. In which connection is told a characteristic story of Tommy's cold feet.

Burns didn't want to fight Hart. He was afraid of Tommy was at that time a middleweight just growing too heavy to make the weight. Hart was just a creaking avowed pugilist, but he felt sure Burns could beat him. But when he suggested the match to him, Tommy almost fainted.

"Fight that big guy," he snorted. "Not on your life. He's as big as a house." The pugilist, however, was not to be deterred. He went to the promoter and sent this message: "Burns accepts your terms for the match. Come at once."

A few days afterward Tommy Burns was at the boxing headquarters when Marvin Hart strode briskly in.

"What're you doing here?" demanded Tommy in a faint voice.

"I want you to make that big guy post a forfeit, so he won't run out on me. I'm going to knock him out sure, said Tommy."

"That's a bit of Naud Junction history that Tommy Burns doesn't know himself for, while he went into the ring and easily beat Marvin Hart, he never knew how it was that his courage had been bolstered up."

"What do you want, Tommy?" he inquired faintly.

"I want you to make that big guy post a forfeit, so he won't run out on me. I'm going to knock him out sure, said Tommy."

Pennsylvania Governor Will Succeed
Tom Lynch as National League
Head.

[Canadian Press.]
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—While Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, has given no public intimation as to what he intends to do, it is believed by those who know him best that he will accept the presidency of the National Baseball League, which was offered him here today by a majority of the club presidents of that organization. Every club in the league with the exception of St. Louis, whose president was unable to attend, were represented in the meeting at which the offer was made.

Before the club presidents met the governor it was said that the only questions to be settled were salary and the term of years. It was said the presidents had decided to ask the governor to accept the place for a term of either three or five years with a salary of $25,000, and that he take office at the expiration of the term of President Thomas J. Lynch, which will be this winter.

If Governor Tener decides to accept there is nothing to prevent him from holding both the governorship and the league presidency, according to his secretary, Walter H. Gathers. His term as governor will expire in fourteen months. The Pennsylvania Legislature will not meet again until about the time he retires from office, and consequently in the normal course of events the most trying part of his term is over.

They finally persuaded him, still vowing he would never step into the ring, to go into training. There was at that time a colored boy named Billy Woods boxing in Los Angeles, and he promised to become a champion, and the promoters installed him as "Tommy Burns" sparring partner.

Now Billy," they told him, "every time you get a poke go down as though you were knocked out." Faithful to his orders, Billy got in the way of one of Tommy's pokes the first day and went down like a log and was counted out. After he had repeated this two or three days, Tommy Burns paid another visit to the promoter's office.

McCarry says that his heart sank within him when he saw Tommy, supposing that he had come for the intention of withdrawing from the match.

"What do you want, Tommy?" he inquired faintly.

"I want you to make that big guy post a forfeit, so he won't run out on me. I'm going to knock him out sure, said Tommy."

THE DOG WAS GOING FAST.

A Maine man tells a story of a friend of his in the west who was induced by a stranger to buy the best wolf dog in the country. A few days later the man took his new purchase and started out early in the morning to try him out. The dog soon picked up the scent and started off, the man following on horseback. The dog was soon out of sight, but the man could hear him bark occasionally and followed on. About noon he met another man coming from the opposite direction and inquired if he had seen a wolf and a dog anywhere, to which the man replied that he had.

"And how were they going?" queried the man. "Was the dog nearly out of him?"

"Well," answered the other, "if I remember correctly the dog was just a trifle ahead."—Harper's Magazine.

FOR SALE—BEAUTIF

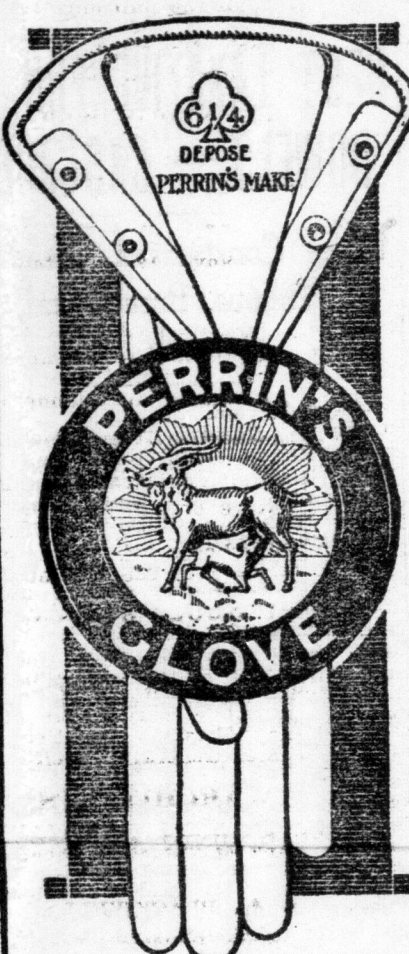

The Slim Woman Is Winning

The day of the slim woman's triumph has arrived. "The slimmer one is the more stylish," say the dressmakers. This would have been said now for the slim woman a year ago. She would have had to try dieting or exercise. Now, however, the woman who is too fat for the styles goes to a druggist and gets a box of Marmol's Prescription Tablets, one of which she takes after each meal and at bedtime, and so reduces her superfluous flesh quickly.

These tablets, being made in accordance with the famous prescription, are perfectly harmless, and they are, also, the most economical preparation a person can buy, for they cost only 15 cents a large box, one of which is frequently enough to start a person losing fat the rate of 15 to 24 ounces a day. Pretty nearly every druggist keeps this tablet in stock, but should yours be sold out, you can easily obtain a case by sending to the makers, the Marmol's Company, Farmacia Building, Detroit, Mich.

Do not be misled—Ask for "PERRIN'S" Gloves and look for the trade-mark.

Perrin's Gloves are famous for their Style, Fit and Finish.

Gloves that are NOT stamped with either the trade-mark or the name "Perrin's Make" are not the genuine.

AGRICULTURAL QUESTIONS GONE INTO THOROUGHLY AT ROUSING ILBERTON RALLY

Leader Rowell and Candidate John W. Laidlaw Were Given a Great Reception by Electors From All Over the District.

[By Our Own Man.]

Ilberton, Nov. 18.—Ilberton town hall was well filled tonight by a markedly attentive and favorable audience, which attended the Liberal rally in the interests of Mr. John W. Laidlaw, candidate for the Provincial Legislature, and stirring addresses were given by the Liberal leader, Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., M. P., Col. T. R. Mayberry, M. P., of Ingersoll, Mr. Laidlaw himself, and Mr. Bart Robson, who presided. About 175 people were present and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

Col. Mayberry said he believed the people desired the best men in character as well as in ability, to represent them in the Legislature, and, believing this, he was very glad to be able to speak in support of Mr. Laidlaw's candidature.

Importance of Temperance Issue. The temperance question at the present time was playing a very important part in Ontario politics, and it was a question that deeply touched the interests of all citizens. He was glad when he read that Mr. Laidlaw had adopted the stand on the temperance question that he was taking in the present contest. It was a manly thing for Mr. Laidlaw to do. He himself had always felt it his duty to do what he could to wipe out the evils of intemperance.

Referring to agricultural questions, he outlined the growth and development of the Ontario Agricultural College since its establishment, largely through the efforts of the late Hon. Mr. Dryden. It had done a great work in assisting the farmers, and its graduates in many counties were doing commendable work. But the Hon. Mr. Monteith, as minister of agriculture, had not been a man possessed of the ability to further the interests of the Ontario farmers to the greatest extent. In his selection of a deputy minister, for instance, he had passed over the graduates of the O. A. C., and had taken a man without any training in agriculture. The Ontario needed a minister of agriculture more of the type of the late Hon. John Dryden.

Discussed Needs of Agriculture.

Col. Mayberry also criticised the department of agriculture for not doing more to assist the farmers by encouraging the immigration of experienced farm laborers from Great Britain.

The Liberal party had in Mr. Rowell a leader who was ready and eager to support any measure for the benefit of the farmers, or of the province as a whole, whether the Government or his own party brought it forward.

Fine Reception for Candidate.

Mr. Laidlaw was received with applause. He explained his position as a fusion candidate. He had been nominated by the Temperance Alliance at its convention, and also by the Liberal party convention. He estimated it a high honor to be nominated by these two parties, whose position on the temperance platform was virtually the same. The barroom, he said, was detrimental to the health, happiness and well-being of the whole community in which it was allowed to exist.

Replied to False Charges.

Touching on the question of hydro power extension for the farmers, he replied to an article in the London Free Press, which alleged that he, as reeve of Westminster, had opposed the extension of power to the farmers of that township. On the advice of Mr. Beck, whom he had called on the telephone, he with others had circulated a petition asking for power for Lambeth and vicinity, but although it was sent to Toronto more than a year ago nothing further had been heard of it. No one more earnestly desired that the benefits of hydro-electric power should be extended to the farmers than he, but at the present time the cost was too great for the farmer. The commission should frame some scheme whereby the farmers could subscribe to hydro power at a reasonable cost.

Hearty Greeting for Mr. Rowell.

Colonel Robson, in introducing Mr. Rowell, stated that it was the third time within the last few years that he had spoken in Ilberton. Mr. Rowell was enthusiastically received, and in beginning his address said that the occasion afforded him a special pleasure in coming back to Ilberton and vicinity, which held for him many old associations, and which had been the home of his father for many years. In visiting Cumberland the past summer from which his father's people had come, he observed in the old parish churchyard at Stapleton many familiar names, the names of men whose descendants were known in the Ilberton vicinity. He was also very glad to speak in support of the candidature of Mr. Laidlaw. He referred to the late Robert Sutherland as a man of the highest character, and he appealed to the electors of the riding to give back to the Opposition another man of equally high character to take Mr. Sutherland's place.

To Replace Mr. Sutherland.

He pointed out the majority of the Ontario Government was already over-large and unwieldy, and it was greatly in the public interest and in the interest of good party government to elect a man like Mr. Laidlaw to strengthen the Liberal Opposition. Sir James Whitney did not need one more man to increase the Government majority. Sir James quite apparently believed he himself was capable of dictating the Government's policy himself. One more Conservative could not change Sir James' policy. To elect Mr. Laidlaw would increase the strength of the Opposition, which could more strongly criticise and keep a watchful eye on the Government's policy. Experience in all countries had shown that in party government, where the Opposition was unduly weak, there was a constant temptation and tendency on the part of the majority to misuse the power that their numbers gave them. If in the next two years, the electors of East Middlesex desired a voice in shaping the legislation of the province, they should elect Mr. Laidlaw, who as a member of the minority would exert a greater and more marked influence. A Government is not induced to change its course by having an additional supporter added to its ranks, but Governments are often induced to change their courses by having a constituency turn against them. Its action being to protest against the policy of the Government.

Referring to the extravagant expenditure of public funds by the Whitney Government, Mr. Rowell criticised the devotion of from $750,000 to $1,000,000 on Government House, the Lieutenant-Governor's new residence. In view of the fact that the expenditure on public accounts was already overrunning the estimates, he characterized it as a "wanton and reckless expenditure of public money."

Even if this amount was justifiable, as an expenditure on a residence for one man, the site was unsuitable and ill-chosen, situated in a remote corner of Rosedale, and overlooking the belching chimneys of the Don brick works. This he had cited only as one instance of the growing carelessness of the Government in handling public money. It was in the interests of Conservatives and Liberals alike to strengthen the Opposition and to insist that the Government should be more economical in its expenditure of the people's money.

Giving Away People's Land.

Criticizing the Government's administration of Ontario crown lands, Mr. Rowell declared that the time had come when a stop should be put to the policy of giving land grants to railways. Sir James, while in Opposition had strongly opposed the making of such land grants, yet on coming into power the Conservatives had to the surprise of all granted 2,000,000 acres of land of the rich clay belt of Northern Ontario to the Canadian Northern Railway, and even an extension of time had been granted, and they had voted down the amendment of the Liberal Opposition to require the Mackenzie & Nipigon railway to bring in settlers for the new territory.

Keep Land for Settlers.

Two townships, comprising 100,000 acres, had been sold for a dollar an acre, the syndicate merely being required to bring in 16 settlers a year. The policy of the Liberal Opposition was to keep the agricultural lands of New Ontario for the actual agricultural settlers.

Mr. Rowell strongly urged that the large corporations should not become the absolute controllers of the lives, destinies and interests of their employees, nor attain the power held of old the feudal lords and barons.

He was strongly applauded when he declared that the Opposition hoped to be able to have placed in the Statute Books of the province a law making it illegal for corporations to make contributions to the political funds of either party.

Public Campaign Contributions.

He also thought Government contractors should be included along with corporations under the restrictions of such a law. The need of a law requiring the publication of all campaign contributions was also urged. Men who contributed to party funds should not object to have their names published any more than when they contributed to the church or charitable purposes.

Regarding the temperance issue, Mr. Rowell said the question confronting the Ontario Legislature was, "What is the best method to deal with the problem of the liquor traffic?" Everyone knows that such a problem exists. Local option had worked with general satisfaction, but it would not get the liquor traffic out of the province, because the three-fifths requirement was such a handicap that local option could not be carried in the majority of the larger centres. Immigration into the cities of Ontario, people, who do not hold the same temperance ideals as the majority of Ontario people, was making the carrying of local option increasingly difficult every year. A wider measure of prohibition than local option was needed to remove the menace to the community of the open bar. The bar was not a necessary companion of hotelkeeping. The idea had been when it was thought impossible to keep a successful grocery store unless one sold liquor as well as groceries. The keeping of a house of public entertainment was no more dependent on having a bar in connection with it than the grocery or any other business. He believed that hotelkeepers and their wives and children in years to come would look back and bless the day that would separate the licensed bar from their business and remove the stigma which the bar cast on the honorable calling of hotelkeeping. The abolition of the bar was the issue on Nov. 27.

The Government had had a free hand to put the liquor traffic and abolish the bar. The Liberals were quite willing that the Government should have the credit for banishing the bar. But the Government had not sent him the opportunity. The Opposition members were waging the fight that the temperance people of both parties had asked them to fight. Were the temperance people ready to support the men who were fighting for what they had asked them to fight for? He believed they were. A reverse for the Whitney Government in a by-election would show the Government that the people were disgusted with the temperance policy. If each polling division in East Middlesex did its duty on Nov. 27, the liquor traffic of

Give Traffic Notice To Quit.

Ontario would receive notice to quit. He was willing to leave the question with the people for them to decide. "Fight for your brothers, your wives, your sons and your daughters, and your homes." In the words of Nehemiah, Mr. Rowell said he left this issue with the electors. He appealed to their love for home, for womanhood and for childhood to settle this great issue on Nov. 27 by voting against the licensed bar. It might be their weaker brother, or the wives and children of men who are cursed by drink that would profit most by the banishment of the bar. But, for the sake of their brothers, no less earnestly than if it were for their own welfare, they should vote the barroom out of existence.

Mr. Rowell's address was followed by enthusiastic applause.

LUCAS DODGES THE LIQUOR ISSUE AT DORCHESTER

Declines To Tell Why the Anti-Treating Proposals Were Dropped.

THE BILINGUAL QUESTION

Mr. Lucas Attempts To Hoodwink Orangemen by Attacking Mr. Rowell's Position.

[By Our Own Man.]

Dorchester, Nov. 19.—That the Conservative party is determined to evade the temperance issue in this campaign was clearly demonstrated last night, when every one of the three speakers who addressed the open-air meeting here side-stepped the question.

Especially noticeable was the failure of Hon. I. B. Lucas, provincial treasurer, to reply to the pointed inquiries of The Advertiser as to Sir James Whitney's still-born anti-treating proposals. The candidate, Mr. McFarlane, took refuge in the statement that he was "behind Whitney" so far as the liquor legislation was concerned, and Mr. Donald Sutherland, M. P., confined his argument to the stability of the three-fifths clause.

Both these stock arguments are, of course, no answer to the demand of the temperance people, for the speakers at the alliance meetings have clearly put before the electors the fact that the temperance people have reached the limit under the local option law. The temperance people are not satisfied with the stubborn refusal of the Whitney Government to break away from the liquor interests, and they are casting party affiliations aside to secure the province-wide measure of the abolition of the bar, which Mr. Laidlaw is pledged to support.

To be "behind Whitney" is, therefore, to be behind the liquor interests, and the temperance people are alive to that fact. Mr. McFarlane, therefore, did not strengthen his position by this declaration. More over to be "behind Whitney" would signify that he upheld the Premier for abandoning his promise of anti-treating legislation. The very fact that Sir James had proposed anti-treating legislation was an admission that the position of the temperance people was well taken, namely, that nothing more could be expected from the local option law.

That admission is being evaded by the Conservatives in East Middlesex, and the fact that Mr. Lucas was asked by The Advertiser why the Government had not brought down anti-treating legislation at the last session as promised and did not even mention the question at last night's meeting, was ample evidence that the temperance people were not deceived.

Wireless Phone Is Coming Shortly

[Canadian Press.]

London, Nov. 18.—Vocal sounds, but not actual words, words, have been transmitted by wireless telephone across the Atlantic Ocean from Clifden, Ireland, to Glace Bay, N. S., according to a statement made this afternoon by William Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy. Mr. Marconi declared that no conversation was held in the recent experiments made by him.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Nov. 19.—Ald. Thomas

Bulman is recovering from an operation for appendicitis performed at the Sarnia General Hospital yesterday.

Mr. Bulman was taken sick but a couple of days ago, and it is expected that he will soon be up and around again.

Whitney's Mistakes.

"A government should not be judged by its small mistakes," the speaker said. "Of course, the Whitney Government makes mistakes. Mistakes are only human. But judgment should only be passed on general issues—not individual and isolated instances."

He passed quickly over hydro power and good roads, which he declared were equally beneficial to the farmer, and discussed more vividly the schemes of the Whitney regime to "make certain interests in this province pay more revenue."

What these interests were, however, were not enumerated.

According to the speaker's arguments, supposed independence cannot exist long without an affiliation with either party. He asserted that an independent party will cast in their lot with the Liberals or Conservatives.

A New Type.

Mr. Lucas spoke of the new type of candidate—a fusionist. The name might appear to have a new significance, but not the hidden meaning he intimated. He challenged any Liberal in the audience to show that Mr. Rowell—apart from his policy of abolishing the bar—had developed any question pertinent to the province's welfare.

"Mr. Rowell is a distinctly different type of candidate from Sir James," he said. "He is an eloquent and subtle speaker, appearing to say what he does not say. At that he is an artist."

London Convention.

Speaking of the convention held in London, the speaker charged that Leader Rowell had not considered questions of importance, as, for instance, the bilingual schools. He asserted that Mr. Rowell had ignored the question, because the answer that would satisfy the electors would not please the supporting party. "A man should declare clearly where he stands."

The Whitney Government, according to the speaker, has laid down its attitude in black and white. What this attitude was, however, Mr. Lucas presumably forgot to mention in strong contrast, he asserted, the Liberal leader refused to state specifically his position, because he dare not.

Mr. Donald Sutherland, M. P., speaking of the Liberal platform, declared that abolition of taxation for the upkeep should receive equal distribution. The speaker did not favor the style of Mr. Laidlaw, but he considered somewhat self-assertive.

Highways Bill.

In discussing the highways bill, Mr. Sutherland expressed his opinion that the equal distribution of taxation for the upkeep should receive equal distribution. The speaker did not favor the style of Mr. Laidlaw, but he considered somewhat self-assertive.

Simple Home Treatment For Superfluous Hairs

[Beauty Culture.] A very effective and simple home treatment for superfluous hairs is as follows: Mix into a paste enough powdered talc and water to cover the hairy surface, apply, and after two or three minutes rub off with the skin and every trace of hair has disappeared. This method is devoid of pain or danger, and leaves the skin free from spot or blemish. Best results naturally follow when the talc is purchased in an original package because its strength and purity are then assured.—Adv.

Two Days Will Be Taken By Teams To Get Required Number.

Eminent speakers and musical and literary talent will be there in abundance. Never before has more than ever becoming a great social centre for the young men of the city. One only needs to visit the building of an evening and see the scores and sometimes the hundreds who are using its privileges. The social rooms, furnished with pianos and Edison's finest and latest phonographs is a great attraction; the reading room, billiard room, speakers' club, salesmanship, class, orchestra practices—all these are filled with young men, and go to not only pass away many young men's evenings, but they are putting the time to splendid account.

The directors this season have gone to considerable expense in making the gymnasium and bathing facilities most attractive, and the members appreciate them. Never before has the association seen such crowds of young men using its privileges.

Dr. Dehewlar, the physical examiner, has measured and given over two hundred physical examinations.
