

FIRE DESTROYS CITY PLANT WITH $50,000 LOSS

Trained Farmers Urged For Vacant Western Ontario Land

IXL PLANT DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Fire at Spice Factory Causes Loss Estimated at Over $50,000.

WALL CRUMBLES

Firemen Have Narrow Escape—Bricks Fall on Roof of House.

Fire which swept the plant of the IXL Spice and Coffee Mills, 19 Marmora street, at an early hour this morning completely destroyed the rear portion of the building, ruined thousands of dollars worth of produce, and caused damage conservatively estimated at $50,000.

Three firemen had a narrow escape from death when the south wall of the building blew up and crumbled to the ground. Warning of the crash was given when the wall cracked slightly, and the firemen, carrying hoses, directly underneath, managed to dodge the falling stones. Part of the bricks fell on the roof of an adjacent house at 17 Marmora street, owned by Mrs. E. G. Ferguson, and caused considerable damage. The roof of the house was broken slightly and plaster on the inside was broken away.

According to D. H. Gwathmal, manager of the IXL Company, the loss to the building is covered by insurance.

Firemen were engaged in fighting the flames for more than four hours. The call was received at the central station at 4:25 o'clock this morning, and the fire was not completely out until 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Originated in Rear.
The blaze is believed to have originated in the rear of the building, when either a motor coil became overheated or a short circuit was caused. All of the machinery in this section of the structure was destroyed, entailing the greatest loss. The machinery used for blanching peanuts, grinding coffee, and in the preparation of spices, peppers and flavoring extracts.

Fire doors, leading from the rear of the building to the front, saved the whole structure from being consumed. When the blaze was first discovered it had gained great headway, and the whole of the southeast section of the city was brilliantly illuminated.

The IXL Spice and Coffee Mills company are manufacturers of Sweetheart brands of peanut butter, jelly powders, baking powders, flavoring extracts, peppers, coffee and spices. The firm has been manufacturing in London for more than sixteen years, and has occupied the building on Marmora street for thirteen years.

Will Rebuild.
Reconstruction work will commence at once, Mr. Gwathmal, the manager, stated this morning. Temporary quarters in a warehouse situated near the C. N. R. tracks nearby will be put into use while the burned Marmora street building is being rebuilt.

The loss has not been definitely ascertained yet. Neither Fire Chief Aitken nor Mr. Gwathmal could give a definite estimate this morning, but it is thought it will be well over $50,000.

Firemen did not leave the smoldering ruins until noon today, having been engaged in battering down a portion of the south wall which was on the verge of tottering over.

SCENE OF $50,000 FIRE EARLY THIS MORNING.

The Marmora street plant of the IXL Spice and Coffee Mills was gutted at 4 o'clock this morning, when a blaze, starting in the rear of the factory, swept the entire building, above an Advertiser photographer shows the rear of the building where the valuable machinery was destroyed. The greater part of the loss was suffered in this section.

FOX AND SANSONE APPEALS ENTERED

Papers Served This Afternoon on Crown Attorney Judd by Counsel.

Papers in connection with the appeals of Thomas Fox and Sylvanor Sansone, sentenced by Mr. Justice Riddell to long terms in Kintzton penitentiary with lashes, were served this afternoon on crown attorney Albert M. Judd by counsel for the young men, being held in Middlesex jail. Copies have also been forwarded to the attorney-general's department. Counsel is appealing (1) for leave to appeal to the court of appeal; (2) notice of appeal to the court of appeal, and an appeal for leave to appeal before the court of appeal against the sentences in both cases. Counsel expects to appear before an appeal court judge on Friday in the matter.

The prisoners claims that Mr. Justice Riddell erred in emphasizing the evidence for the crown in both cases and failed to call the attention of the jury to favorable evidence given in their behalf.

2. That the judge misdirected the jury on the evidence.

3. That the judge erred in admitting the evidence of a Mr. Fox, a witness called by the crown, and two police constables as to the apprehension which was irrelevant.

4. That the verdict of the jury was unreasonable and cannot be supported having regard to the evidence.

5. That the learned judge erred in refusing to allow cross-examination on the evidence taken at the preliminary hearing.

6. That the decision of the jury was against the evidence and the weight of evidence.

Both prisoners asked to be allowed to present their cases orally, and if a new trial is ordered that it should be by jury.

Sansone submitted that the judge had failed to point out to the jury that he could have been found guilty of common assault.

FRANCO-GERMAN TRADE TREATY PLANS DELAYED

Provisions of Dawes Agreement Inconsistent With Conditions of Commercial Pact.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Nov. 13.—A serious hitch has occurred in the Franco-German negotiations for a commercial treaty, caused by the difficulty of reconciling the stipulations of the treaty with the provisions of the Dawes plan as regards deliveries of reparations in kind.

Premier Herriot yesterday had a long conference on the subject with the chief German technical delegate, Dr. Trendelenburg, and the German ambassador, Leopold von Hoesch. The Germans, Le Matin says, did not appear inclined to make the concessions necessary to make the negotiations and the question, now out of the hands of the experts, is the subject of exchanging of views between the two governments.

These charges were laid after the opening session yesterday of the inquiry being conducted by Provincial Fire Marshal J. A. Rudland into the origin of the conflagration. Evidence was given to the effect that while the fire was in progress there was fighting between the local force and visiting firemen, who came to Windsor in response to pleas for help.

Relief operations were going forward satisfactorily yesterday, and a sum of money amounting to nearly five thousand dollars had been subscribed to help the needy.

J. W. PURDOM WILL APPEAL DECISION

Judgment Is Given by Mr. Justice Riddell in Recent Court Action.

J. M. McEvoy, K.C., who with J. W. Douglas acted as counsel for J. W. Purdom in his action against Gairdner, Clarke & Co. and the Northern Life Assurance Co. stated this afternoon that the decision of Mr. Justice Riddell would be appealed.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—Mr. Justice Riddell has given judgment in the London, Ont. action brought by J. W. Purdom against Gairdner, Clarke & Co. and the Northern Life Assurance Company of Canada. His lordship's endorsement on the record is "on and after 30 days I direct judgment to be entered for the plaintiff against the firm for $150 without costs, and for the insurance company dismissing the action, and for $290 on the counter-claim with costs, on the supreme court scale of defence and counter-claim."

In detail, the trial judge says: "There was a financial battle going on for the control of the Northern Life Assurance in London, Ont. In the employ of those in control in 1923 was the plaintiff. He was in possession of certain information which he believed would enable Gairdner, Clarke & Co., a financial firm of Toronto, the antagonists of the existing firm, to acquire it. He made a bargain with them to supply them with the crucial information, but knowing that those in control would discharge him, he contracted for benefits to himself.

"It is proper at this stage to say that the defendants do not raise the question of illegality, they do not contend that the contract, whatever it was, is void on the ground of public policy. It is not being a matter affecting the public, and there being no third parties, whose rights are derogated from the defendants can, as they do, admit that the contract was for good and valid consideration and binding upon the parties."

"I mention the point only to show that it has not been overlooked, and I say nothing as to the result had such a defence been raised."

"The plaintiff made a contract, the precise terms of which are of no importance because it is the common case that a new and substituted contract was made in May, 1924, and the old contract came to an end."

"The information was given, the Toronto firm obtained control of the insurance company, Gairdner became its president, and Clarke its vice-president, and the substituted contract was made by and between the plaintiff and Clarke. This contract, I hold, on the law and the facts, as proved by such parts of the evidence as I believe was material, and in his capacity as partner of the Toronto firm."

CONFIDENCE MEN ROB LONDONER

Mike Lickenoff "Invests" $800 With Two Strangers in Restaurant.

REWARD FOR SON

Bulgarians Tell of Service Done Them by Father of Victim.

Mike Lickenoff, a Bulgarian, employed in a local restaurant, is now out of pocket to the extent of $800 as the result of having fallen for a bold proposition which was advanced to him by two fellow countrymen.

The two confidence men are being sought by police, having succeeded in leaving the city with Lickenoff's life savings.

They arrived in London several days ago, went to the restaurant in which Lickenoff was employed, and introduced themselves. They told him of vast wealth they had accumulated in the western provinces. Lickenoff's father, they claimed, had been instrumental in their success, and they were now about to reward the son.

Hand Out Thousands.

They told Mike that they would like to give him several thousand dollars. They had intended starting up a restaurant in the city, and no better person than he could be found to fulfill the position of manager. They intimated that if Mike had some ready cash it would materially help their plans. He could throw in his small sum of $800 and together with their thousands, they could open a restaurant in the city in a short time.

Mike drew the money from the bank.

The following day the men returned, became more familiar than ever, and drew out several hundred dollars. Their future success would be, they drew from their pockets rolls of bills, five ones, police allege, but Mike suspected.

One of the men suggested Mike be custodian of the great sum of money. The other demurred, pointing out that if these days of lawlessness no one was safe with a sum of money on his person. It was suggested that Mike leave the money at his boarding house. This plan was agreed upon, but first a metal box was purchased to contain the money.

Deposited His $800.

Mike deposited his $800 and the other three rolls of bills. The box was locked and handed to Mike together with the key. The men then left.

Yesterday, when Lickenoff received no further word from his future business partners, he opened the box. In it was bound bundles of paper. The cash was gone.

Mike notified Lickenoff the men had exchanged the boxes, keeping the one which contained his $800 and substituting another similar in appearance.

BOARDS OF TRADE SEEKING VACANT FARMS SOLUTION

Seventh Annual Meeting of the Western Ontario Members Opens in City.

MARTIN IS PRESENT

Proposed Farm Plan Is Outlined by Colonel W. J. Brown.

One cure for the vacant land problem of Western Ontario, outlined by Colonel W. J. Brown, president of the Western Ontario boards of trade, at the opening session of the seventh annual meeting here today, was the drawing up of a plan "whereby men who have served on farms for a period of years under supervision and have saved a certain amount of money may come under the provisions of legislation similar to that administered by the soldiers' settlement board."

This means, if put into effect, that men with the necessary farming experience in Western Ontario, considered as deserving by the government, should be given the purchase of stock, buildings and equipment in settling on the land.

The plan, which is the outcome of several meetings of a long preliminary investigation of the situation on the part of the executive, formed the introduction to an interesting debate about the vacant land problem, to which Hon. J. S. Martin, minister of agriculture for Ontario, contributed an address.

Clauses in Plan.

Some of the more outstanding clauses in the proposed plan are as follows:

1. The formation of a Western Ontario association to be made up of representatives from the municipal councils of the fourteen counties of Western Ontario and especially the board of trustees of the settlement board.

2. The formation of a central committee composed of district agricultural representatives of each county and county representatives of the Western Ontario boards of trade, the chief function of which shall be: "To prepare for dissemination among the immigration, railway and the United States, literature in connection with Western Ontario and a list of specific rural opportunities."

3. "In the event of a host to (in cooperation with if possible the railways and the governments) selected parties of journalists, associations, interested in agriculture, and immigration."

"Compile and keep up to date with the aid of the tenants' bureau, accurate information of actual vacancies for farm labor, rural trades, houses for rent and farms for sale or rent."

Secure Executive.

"If funds permit to engage an expert, knowledge and necessary qualifications, to receive and compile information regarding the actual needs of Western Ontario to make periodical visits to Great Britain, Northern Europe or the United States to secure settlers or farm help suitable to Western Ontario."

" Endeavor to secure aid from the provincial government to carry on work of the association in proportion to the amount raised from other sources."

"Investigate and make known in Western Ontario legislation calculated to benefit the agricultural industry, including farm loan legislation, British and Canadian government aid for free transportation for Canadian farmers, and Canadian and British government for assisted settlement of lands reverting to the government through the soldiers' settlement board, etc."

"Work out and submit for approval to the government a plan whereby men who have served on the farms for a period of years under supervision and have saved a certain amount of money may come under the provisions of legislation similar to that administered by the soldiers' settlement board, whereby deserving men with the necessary experience might be assisted in the purchase of land, buildings, stock, and equipment for farming."

Remunerate Agents.

"Engage and suitably remunerate an executive officer and such other employees as are deemed necessary to carry out work for the objects of the association, and to remunerate official local agents on the basis to be approved of actual work done."

This is a synopsis of a plan which it has been the desire of the executive of the united boards of trade in Western Ontario to present for discussion at the annual meeting for some time. It is hoped that it will receive the approval of the association, and that it will be put into effect at the earliest possible time. It is the means suggested by the business organization of the fourteen counties to cope with a problem which has been supreme in the minds of experts and city and country men for some years.

PROBE OPENS INTO BOMB EXPLOSION

For Clues in Grand Rapids Blast.

THREE ARE KILLED

Premature Explosion Hurled Fragments of Building For Blocks.

Associated Press Despatch.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 13.—Postal inspectors from Chicago arrived early today to aid local inspectors in the investigation of the explosion which wrecked the loading deck and receiving room of the main postoffice here late yesterday, killing three men and injuring twelve others.

Herman Pettersch, a clerk, succumbed after having both legs blown off, and Ernest A. Roth, a truck driver, died three hours after the blast. A splinter was driven into Ruth's body by the force of the explosion.

Dale Newhouse died in a hospital this morning. He suffered a fractured skull.

The theory that the blast was caused by the premature explosion of a bomb which had been sent through the mails, was advanced by postal authorities, police and firemen, who worked all night by aid of searchlights, scouring the wreckage for clues. No fragment of a bomb or other explosive was found, however.

The explosion, which was felt all over the city and shattered windows for several blocks, hurled fragments of the loading platform a hundred feet into the air, threw a loading truck onto the federal building roof, and buried five automobiles in the debris.

Lorraine Yarrington, who was in an automobile across the road from the postoffice, escaped with minor bruises, but a dog in his automobile was killed.

The two men who were killed and Newhouse, who was seriously injured, were on the loading platform at the time of the explosion.—Newhouse was leaving the postoffice after purchasing some stamps.

MYSTERY MURDER BAFFLES POLICE

Cleveland Crime Creates Stir as Brothers-in-Law Are Shot Down.

SLAYERS ESCAPE

Associated Press Despatch.
Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Police today were confronted with the task of solving the mysterious murder of Louis Rosen, 29, and his brother-in-law, Adolph Adelson, of Philadelphia, who with his wife was visiting the Rosens. The men were shot and killed by different sized bullets early today in the rear of Rosen's home, in the East Boulevard district, off Rockefeller Park.

The first police theory was robbery. They also were puzzled over an anonymous telephone call received at police headquarters, telling them "if you get a report of a gang shooting their guns in East 97th street, don't pay any attention to it. The noise was their automobile exhaust."

The shooting occurred after Rosen and Adelson returned from a pinocle game. As they drove into Rosen's yard in his automobile, their wives, who are sisters, heard a "plop" and "plop" sound. They found their husbands lying face down in the grass outside the open garage. Their clothes were rumpled and the soot trampled.

Adelson was killed by two .32 calibre lead bullets, one of which pierced his throat and the other wound was above his heart, where a .38 calibre steel jacketed bullet had passed. No weapons were found in the yard or garage. Neighbors reported having seen three men drive away in an automobile shortly after the shooting.

The Adelsons arrived in Cleveland two days ago to visit the Rosens and to attend a wedding in the family. On the garage police found a slip of paper bearing a Columbus automobile license number and other numbers which they could not identify.

TAXES TREBLE IN TEN YEARS

Total Now $2,778,649 Compared With $962,993 in 1914.

In ten years London's total tax roll has increased three times over. The tax roll is twice as great this year as in 1918, and it has tripled since 1914. The year the war broke out the rolls showed a total of only $962,993.80. The 1924 rolls have been totaled to $2,778,649.24.

Various reasons are given for the climb in taxes. Other cities have witnessed similar increases and cost of labor and materials in other lines of business has gone up just as it has for the city of London.

MIKAY QUESTIONS DIFFERENCE IN PAY

Workmen at Fair Grounds Get 35 Cents an Hour and Sewer Workers 40 Cents.

A rate of 35 cents an hour is being paid workmen on city jobs at the Western fair grounds, while those who are working on city streets are getting 40 cents an hour. There has been no order issued by the council to differentiate between the wages of workmen, though last year a 35-cent rate was set for tree trimming work on an hour for sewer work.

"Tree trimming isn't the same as the fair grounds work," said Frank McKay, labor representative on the council, criticized today. "No order has been issued by the council to authorize the lowest rate, and I am going to have the authority named for the cut to these men."

Two 10 men shifts, working week about, are employed at the fair grounds tearing down old sheds and reconstructing them, so as to segregate work while others are taking all during fair week.

The council recently passed a recommendation asking authorization of the expenditure of $5,000 for relief work at the fair grounds, but rate of pay was not indicated in the resolution.

London Man Composes Symphony About Russia

Work of M. H. Solomons Is Played by Harry T. Dickinson in St. Paul's Yesterday.

HAS HIGH IDEAL

There are so-called writers of jazz scattered abroad over the continent. But there are few musicians who aspire to write such a big musical composition as a symphony. That does not mean that London has no such aspirant, for it has, in the person of M. H. Solomons, maker of volins.

During the past few years Mr. Solomons has completed several difficult musical scores, among them the symphony which he calls "Epitaph." It is an ambitious composition and has for its theme the recent revolution in Russia. Mr. Solomons, who was born in Yorkshire, was taken to Russia as a very small child, because his parents wished him to study music in that environment.

According to him the symphony describes the restless stirrings of Russia, where the high-ups were high and the low down very low. Running throughout the music are the faint rumblings of catastrophe, which finally break in the second movement of the symphony. The march following this movement is supposed to represent the Russian people entering into a new era.

The symphony, as it was played yesterday afternoon in St. Paul's Cathedral by Harry T. Dickinson, is an interesting example of what can be accomplished when the composer is an earnest student and lover of music.

Other compositions played yesterday by Mr. Dickinson for the composer were a value concert "Percell," "O. Brazza," and a fantasia.

Mr. Solomons, in his music, is attempting something more than the ordinary modern composer. He is not content to fill in with more chords which are harmonious. Those chords must express something of themselves, some mood, such as sadness or gladness, which will form a background for his melody.

The music, which is written by hand, is so neatly done that it might be printed. And the whole is beautifully bound. Mr. Solomons says that the symphony took him over a year to write. It was to give the composer an opportunity of hearing his own music on the beautiful pipe organ at St. Paul's Cathedral that Mr. Dickinson played it for him yesterday.

Miss Lily Slade was the hostess of a charming miscellaneous shower last week in honor of Mrs. George Slade, formerly Miss Mary Stevenson, whose marriage took place last Saturday, entertaining her girl friends at her home on Weston street. During the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, and the guest of honor was the recipient of some lovely and useful gifts.

There was much merry-making at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Leath on the evening of last Saturday night, when Mrs. Frank Pring, formerly Miss Flossie McDonald, was delightfully showered with miscellaneous gifts. The evening was spent in music and games, the feature of the program being several very delightful vocal numbers by Miss Dorothy Dodd, when she was accompanied by Miss Audrey Pring. At the close of the happy event a dainty buffet luncheon was served to the guests.

The home of Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Ridout street, was the scene of a happy gathering yesterday afternoon when she entertained the members of the "Victoria mothers' club" at the tea hour. About forty guests were present, the afternoon being spent in sewing for the new infants ward of the Victoria hospital. Among the guests present was Mrs. Isaac Marlatt, who invited the members to be present at the opening of the new ward on Tuesday afternoon. At the tea hour the hostess was assisted by her small daughter, Miss Lucile Morrison, and by little Miss Elizabeth Kerby. The

In honor of Mrs. George Slade, formerly Miss Mary Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Floyd recently entertained a number of friends at their home on Pipe Line road prior to her marriage on Saturday. The event took the form of a miscellaneous shower, the gifts being presented to Mrs. Slade from a dainty basket which centered one of the tables. The house was prettily decorated and the guests enjoyed games and music. At cards, which was a feature of the evening, Mrs. Peabody and Mr. Thompson won the prizes, and later dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. Slade and Mrs. J. Abel.

Guests with Mr. and Mrs. F. Corby at their home, "Hickory Lodge," Byron, for the holiday included: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Corby, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sloc, Mrs. L. White and Messrs. H. Sloc, Fred and Jack Corby and Clarence and John Hoy, of Windsor, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Joy and Messrs. Charles Wain and H. Cartwright of this city.

Mrs. J. S. Niven is expected home at the end of the week after having spent the past three weeks with Mrs. John McCrimmon in Kincardine. Mrs. Niven will have as her guests over the week-end, Mrs. J. S. Niven, Mrs. McCrimmon, and Major Kenneth McCrimmon of Rio de Janeiro, who have been spending some time with Mrs. McCrimmon's mother, Mrs. Kincardine.

Mrs. H. Penhale, Wilton Grove, was the guest of honor at an interesting event at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hodgson, prior to her marriage, when the members of the Glendale ladies' aid presented her with a lovely serving tray. On the same day the Inasmuch and Count-on-the classes of the Glendale Sunday school gave a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Penhale.

Mrs. Thomson Smith, Sheldon apartments, entertained a few friends on the afternoon of Thanksgiving in honor of Miss McAdam, formerly of Strathroy, now of London, England. Miss McAdam is a charming and interesting university woman and social service worker, who is touring Canada and the United States to gain pointers for her work. She left on the evening of the same day for Chicago.

City Manager Not Needed.

There are four questions going to the London ratepayers, all of them dealing with civic management. They are: (1) a reduction of the city council from 12 to 8 members; (2) election of a mayor annually as at present, and aldermen for two-year terms; (3) electing council by general vote instead of the ward system; (4) the appointment of a city manager.

On the first three questions The Advertiser believes the vote should be in the affirmative, but in the case of the fourth—the city manager plan—the vote should be a plain NO.

The reason The Advertiser is opposed to the city manager plan is that the conditions sought to be brought about by the creation of an extra official—certainly a well-paid one—can be secured at any time with the machinery we at present possess.

The proposed reorganization of the methods of the board of education contains a plan that can be just as effectively applied to the city council with the creation of a new office. In the board of education's system there is one man in charge of primary schools, another controls collegiates and a third the technical school.

These three departments—city clerk's office, financial and engineering. London has three competent officials at the head of these departments, City Clerk Baker, City Treasurer Bell and City Engineer Near. They are not experiments; they are tried officials who have proved their ability, and they know thoroughly the business of London.

Let the city council appoint its executive committee of five—place the entire responsibility for the work in the clerk's office on the clerk; for financial matters on the treasurer, and the engineering department on the engineer.

Eliminate the standing committees of council; the meetings could take place once a week in committee of the whole for the reception of reports, framing of new policies and considering such business as could be better dealt with by the council as a whole.

The Advertiser believes that good results could be secured from this method; that it is necessary to add to the cost of civic government by the creation of a new department. For these reasons, citizens should vote against the appointment of a city manager for London.

Guelph and Its Winter Fair.

Guelph has done well to keep its winter fair well to the forefront. This year, in order to keep it from being overshadowed by the winter fair at Toronto, it advanced the date, and the result has been a good exhibition, good attendance, and complete retention of the identity of the Guelph winter fair.

It was a good stroke of business, requiring courage and confidence in the worth of the exhibition, qualities which appear to be shared by exhibitors and the community from which the fair draws its support.

Guelph can be excused if it resents the efforts of others who seek to drive excursions into the winter fair business. That city made a success of the provincial fair idea in winter after it had been paraded in several other centers. It has gone ahead with poor buildings, crowded quarters, and attracted the best. It is still an honor to have stock, poultry or seed good enough to win at Guelph.

The Late Dr. Warner.

Wherever Alma Daughters are found there is the memory of the enduring influence of Dr. Warner, father of Alma college. Few men have left their impression so indelibly stamped on an institution or on those who passed through it. The death of Dr. Warner at St. Thomas, which had been anticipated for some days, carries with it a sense of personal loss to many of the graduates of the school over which he presided with such rare genius, and to the success of which he had made such an outstanding contribution.

Dr. Warner was an educationist in the best sense of the word. Quick to discern the worth while from that of less abiding value, he sought at all times to make Alma college accomplish the purpose for which it was begun, and the word "accomplishment" can truly be written at the end of his life's chapter.

U. S. Sunday School Papers.

A number of Sunday schools in this district use papers edited and printed in United States. On the front page of the one for Nov. 8 is an article, profusely illustrated with American flags, a story of Armistice day. A boy wanted a flag to carry because "Ted Powers has the flag his grandfather used at Bull Run, James Lucas has the silk tricolor of France, and there are lots of others." It is a patriotic appeal to American sentiment all through, but without using the words says very plainly that United States won the war.

Another paper, issued for boys by the same company in Chicago, and used in some of London's Sunday schools, has an illustrated feature about "The Man Who Makes Our National Coats of Arms." The opening paragraph says: "This is a story about one of the most famous army sergeants in the world—a man named Edward Kuhn, who designs all the insignia crests and coats of arms for Uncle Sam."

On the same page is another Americanism: "United States Far Ahead in Olympiad." This paper also carries a large amount of advertising, containing appeals from United States firms selling class pins, bicycles, Christmas cards, air rifles and other weapons, footballs, school bags, watches, etc.

Those who are responsible for placing this reading matter in the hands of Canadian Sunday school scholars have probably done so without giving the matter much thought. It cannot be claimed that the lesson for the day is taught any more effectively than by the use of papers less American in their make-up and contents, for there is only a little more than one column out of the entire thirty-two in the paper devoted to the lesson.

One does not care to be dogmatic in matters of this kind, but Canada and Britain have national ideals and historic traditions that can furnish all the necessary patriotic reading matter for papers used for distribution in Canadian Sunday schools.

Campaign Methods Up To Date.

Lady Terrington, former Liberal member in the British parliament, brought suit against the London Daily Mail for having described her as "a vain, frivolous and extravagant woman who is unfit to be a member of parliament."

The same paper, she claimed, had libeled her by using a cartoon which held her up to ridicule. Lord Darling, who heard the suit, held that the manner in which a woman clothed herself when attending sessions of parliament was a matter of public interest, and therefore could be used by a newspaper in discussing her fitness for the position.

The entry of women into public life has opened new doors for the political writer and he has not hesitated to enter in. If he considers that she has departed too far from cashmere and homespun raiment he tells the voters that she is a "vain, frivolous and extravagant woman," and in so doing he has selected a set of adjectives well calculated to send her to political oblivion. In the case of Lady Terrington that is exactly what happened, and she has no recourse in the eyes of the law.

Runnin' For Mayor

Joe Cowhide says he'll run for mayor if no one else will make a fight, Joe says he wants some help at once, he'll draw his platform up tonight.

When talkin' of the coming vote, Joe says he's got some things in mind, and him who runs against him now is goin' to be ten yards behind. "The first thing on my platform, sir," that's just how Joe he started in, "is fixin' up the city hall, the way she stands it's just plain sin. I'd buy a barrel of good red paint, I'd put it on two inches thick, and paste it on and daub it on to cover every ancient brick. I'd trim the doors and windows pink. I'd make the thing look trim and pretty, then pin a sign across the front. 'A Welcome to Our Hustlin' City.'"

"That's No. 1," says Joe Cowhide, "and after I got that all through, I'd take the square across the street to see just what things we could do. It's meant to hold a city hall, but we ain't got the money yet, and folks has set their hands against the city runnin' into debt. So for the present time I think when plannin' for that Fed'ral square, as how we might as well go on and stick some billboards up down there. There ain't enough to suit my taste, we ought to plant another row, and charge the people fifteen cents to go in there to see the show."

"Then No. 3 is somethin' else that I've been thinkin' of a spell, we ought to have new uniforms for Baker, Near and Jimmie Bell. Them men's officials of the place, they ought to have on city suits, and stripes upon their trouser leg a-reachin' down unto their boots. I'd have them with brass buttons on, gold braid sewed on around the neck, like when the skipper P. J. Watt was pacin' on his sail boat deck."

"Now No. 4 she has to do with taxes what the people pay, if they won't pay their stuff in June I'd let the bill stand 'til next May. And when next May had come around I'd say unto the people then, as how Joe Cowhide knew they was a lot of honest hard-pressed men, so I'd just take a dollar down, another dollar now and then."

"Another thing I'd like to see, it might make quite a decent row, I'd like to see these parks of ours make pasture for the poor man's sow. Buchanan he might make a kick and go a-ravin' to the powers above the cows what chewed his phlox and nibbled at his early flowers."

"There's seven other things," says Joe, "I want to put upon my state, but them what's here's enough to show I be the winning candidate."—ARK.

Dr. Frank Crane The Flaming Sword.

We are told that when our parents were driven out of the Garden of Eden they could not get back because of an angel at the gate who waved a flaming sword.

This is typical of the fact that the Golden Age is always ahead of us, it is never behind us. In former times men always believed that the age of beauty and chivalry and idealism lay far in the past, but the tendency of modern thought is to place this in the future.

Every man, at some time or other, has looked upon the swine, the cattle and the dogs, and envied them their low and careless existence. They seem so happy. They have nothing in the way of human worries to trouble them. We envy their contentment.

A man is so constituted that he can never go back. The modern Garden of Eden lies ahead of us, not behind us.

All the peace and comfort and beauty and glory of life is to be won by going on through struggle and not by going backwards. The iron law of progress is that the organism must struggle. Every obstacle is for us merely a challenge to our powers. In the exercise of those powers alone, and in their fruition, is found that happiness we desire.

It is useless for us to wish for the peace and contentment of the lower orders of life. We are compelled by our very superiority, to go forward and to find our joy in so doing.

The modern idea, which lies in placing the bliss of heaven before us, and not the Golden Age behind us, is responsible for the superiority and advancement of our modern civilization.

There is but one thing for the human being to do and that is to go forward. Relief, if it is to be found at all, is to be found in advancement and not in retreat.

After the Election

Henry Somerville, one of the foremost English correspondents, states that the belief in Britain now is that the famous Zinovieff letter, which turned the tide in British elections, was a plain forgery, and also that many men in the Labor party hold that Ramsay MacDonald was badly taken in by accepting it as being genuine.

When the news of the dissolution tickled through into the sub-editor's room of a great Liberal newspaper, the chief sub-editor, a lifelong Liberal, said half-angrily, half-humorously: "I object to annual general elections: I'm going to vote Conservative this time."

It is probable that hundreds of thousands of people voted Conservative simply because they wanted a government strong enough to last three or four years instead of being at the mercy of a parliamentary combination that could turn it out at any moment. There is general rejoicing among average citizens, who are not strongly attached to any party, that there is now a government with an independent majority. The British are a conservative people. The best they ask from a government is to be left alone. Mr. Bonar Law, when he had all the first-class brains of the country against him, won a majority by the blessed word "tranquillity."

Mr. Baldwin lost that majority when he asked the British people to reform their fiscal system. He has now redeemed the situation for his party by adopting as his slogan, "stability." This election has been won by "the silent voter." It is not the Laborists, and not many of the Liberals, who have been converted to Toryism. Though Labor candidates have been routed Labor voters have increased by a million. It suits the Conservative press to represent "the silent voter" as the citizen-patriot who is customarily above the vulgar game of politics, but who emerges from his quiet home at the moment of the nation's crisis and saves his country by voting for the party of the Union Jack against the red flag. The Labor Press, on the other hand, represents the silent voter as the apathetic and indifferent citizen who takes no interest in the country's government, and will not take the trouble to exercise his franchise except when he is scared and stampeded by some ridiculous booby like the red peril.

That Zinovieff Letter.

There can be no doubt that the election would have resulted very differently but for the Zinovieff letter. Instead of a very heavy poll we might have had a light poll. The present writer was moving about the country all during the election campaign. Every day he was in trains, restaurants and hotels, yet only twice did he hear the election discussed except when he introduced the subject himself.

No reasonable person can question the ability and integrity of the foreign office, yet the authenticity of the Zinovieff letter is disbelieved by the most impartial judges outside. The use of the misnomer "Third Communist International" and the signature of the English member MacDonald without an initial, and various other details in the letter, are regarded as sure evidence of forgery. Some impartial and competent judges, as I have said, believe the letter to be a forgery. They also believe, though it seems paradoxical, that it does not matter whether the letter is a forgery or not, Zinovieff is known to have made many public speeches during the last few months condemning Great Britain and Ramsay MacDonald as vigorously as he is represented as doing in the letter. These speeches have all been reported in the Russian papers. It is known to every Labor party member in this country that the Third International directs the policy of the Communist party of Great Britain. It is publicly asserted, and everywhere believed, that Moscow finances our Communist party, and this party never makes a secret of the fact that it is out for a revolution, and it endeavors to incite the army to mutiny, as was done in the famous "open letter" for which John Ross Campbell was prosecuted.

The "very secret" letter attributed to Zinovieff contained absolutely nothing that Communists are not printing in the Workers' Weekly every week. The British public, which laughs at the Communists when they rave about revolution from the housetops, takes the matter seriously when it overhears the same things whispered in a cellar.

If a forger has written the letter, he can truly plead that he has not misrepresented Zinovieff. He has merely made an artistic reconstruction in epistolary form of various public utterances of the Moscow propagandist. But the plea of artistic verisimilitude will not reconcile the Labor party to a charitable view of a forgery which has given the Conservative party in Great Britain the largest majority it has ever enjoyed since the democratic franchise was established in 1832. And if it is a forgery, the Labor party will direct a good deal of its wrath against Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who was so badly taken in.

FIRPO IS OUTPOINTED BY CHARLIE WEINERT

Newark Evades Luis Angel's Terrific Right Throughout Twelve Rounds.

NO KNOCKDOWNS

Associated Press Despatch. Newark, N.J., Nov. 12.—Charlie Weinert, Newark heavy-weight, outpointed Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavy-weight, in a 12-round no-decision bout here tonight, in the opinion of newspapermen at the ringside.

Frantically Firpo endeavored to counter with the terrific right which once beat Weinert in two rounds in Philadelphia before Firpo's fight with Dempsey, but Weinert evaded any issue with that right and tied up the Argentinian at every lead in which that blow was involved.

Weinert gained confidence as the fight progressed when he saw how his style confused Firpo.

Although Weinert's margin was wide, he absorbed considerable punishment himself, both fighters bleeding profusely when the final gong was sounded. In a thrilling semi-final match, Miguel Ferrara of Argentine, Firpo's heavy-weight sparring partner, knocked out Jack Showers, Elizabeth, N.J., negro, in the first round of a programmed ten-round affair. The end came after two minutes and 14 seconds of fighting.

The preliminaries with a lone exception, proved to be a series of knock-out exhibitions. In the first round, Joe Lewis of New York outpointed Harold Mays of Bayonne, N.J., in a ten-round no-decision affair, in the opinion of newspapermen. The men are light

SENIORS' ABILITY REACHES SURFACE

"Breaking" Practice Is New Wrinkle Introduced in Workouts.

The London seniors steamed through another hard practice last night, and every man in the squad was glad when they warped into the dressing room. First there was a mixer and then the squad was put under the whistle and got a "breaking" practice. This is a new wrinkle to the fans, and to some of the senior candidates as well. They start and stop—on slide—on every whistle, and the general idea is to start as if you were going somewhere in a hurry, and then through this means of pulling up sharply before you hit the brick wall.

This little piece has some of the lads who were taking four and five steps to break away now breaking the barrier in at least three.

Last night the '75 Brigade worked against the defence, Neville, Bellefeuille and Lowrey were the first combinations sent against Starks, Fournier and Reneau, Ltd. Unofficially the score was about one half of one per cent. Bellefeuille was pulled out, and Leamy was sent in at centre, and then finally Slater and Casey were shot in. Pretty soon they're all in and out of breath from the pace set.

There's good there, partners! There were outcroppings yesterday all over the place, and it's not so apparent last week is becoming very obvious and very much spread around the new, so that even the experts aren't the only ones who can look wise these evenings.

Workouts every night this week are slated and probably supplemented by some road work. Ice workouts give some measure of condition, but there is nothing that puts the condition there to stay like the odd five-mile jog.

Poke and Cross Checks
Hamilton Herald: Joe Malone, former Hamilton pro hockey star, has given his new twist to the Hamilton N. H. L. club's request that he come here and coach the yellow and black this winter.

It's "No." He cannot spare the time from business. He plans to referee some of the N. H. L. fixtures. Percy Hives, who is expected to be the Hamilton club, says he will make another attempt to get Malone to change his mind, but it appears as if this effort will be futile.

It was expected that "Shorty" Green, the lumberjack hockey player of the local club, would be here on Saturday to see the Tigers and Argos clash, but he failed to turn up in an automobile. He will be here later in the week.

All the local players are due to report here by Saturday.

Irvin Bailey, with Toronto St. Mary's last season, will play with Peterboro's intermediate O. H. A. team this winter. So will Bert McLeod, the Collingwood hockey player, who has just signed for last season, as each of the players now has a good line on the abilities of his mates, making for the kind of team work that wins games.

The Cougars. He showed every indication last year of developing into one of the greatest hockey players in the country.

Ty Arthur last year with the Saints is also to report to Victoria, which will give the Cougars another heady forward.

Halderson will give Lester a third defence man, something he has never had before and this will enable him to keep his defenders going at break-neck speed.

Harry Meeking, a very flashy skater and good goal-getter, will appear in a Cougar uniform.

There is a possibility that Jack Walker, the hook check wizard, formerly with Seattle, will be with Victoria, but that matter has not been settled yet.

The Cougars will train in Winapee this season instead of reporting at Victoria. Lester has sent out instructions for all his men to be there between November 15 and 25, and he will get them down to serious work good and early.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE
There is a possibility that Jack Walker, the hook check wizard, formerly with Seattle, will be with Victoria, but that matter has not been settled yet.

One of the greatest flaws in the Victoria team has been at right defence. For several years Lester has experimented with this side of the bulwarks, but he has abandoned the research work this year, and has named a man, tried and true.

Reed, a former player, who has starred with the Seattle Mets for the past two years, has been signed to do duty at right defence. He is a hurly-burly type of player, who checks hard and fights all the time.

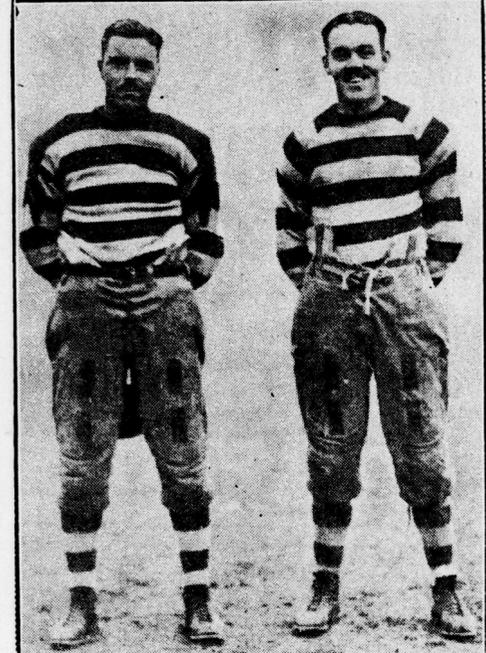

Fraser will start at right defence replacing "Slim" Halderson, who had a lamentable time last year, being at sea most of the route. Fraser's appearance in the blue and gold is expected to improve the play of Clem. Loughlin, skipper of the Cougars, who has played left defence for the past six years. He has always been a pillar of strength to the Cougars, but his work has to some degree been spoiled by a mental fear that he had to be looking after both sides of the defence, due to a weak sister being next to him.

Next in importance to the signing of Fraser has been the capture of "Happy" Holmes by Lester Patrick, Holmes, who has minded the cage for Seattle for the past five years is one of the best goalies in the business.

Lester figures that with Holmes, Loughlin and Fraser as the guardians of the coveted citadel that he is well fortified in this department and need not doff his bonnet to any other team in this respect.

On the forward line Lester will have a riot of class. Frank Fredrickson, blonde flash from Winnipeg, is coming back to play centre ice. Frank is always a stellar performer, although last year he was off color and did not get the number of goals that he usually does. However, his record is one small season followed by a young tornado the next, so it is Frank's turn to kick through with a flood of goals this year.

Finals In Wossa Begin Saturday

South C. I. Plays First Game in Walkerville.

Arrangements were completed last night for the local South C. I. soccer team, champions of the eastern Wossa district, to meet Walkerville high school on the latter's grounds this Saturday in the initial match of the home and home series to decide the school soccer championship for the season.

The return game will be played in London at either Thames or Tecumseh park a week from this Saturday. Goals will count on the round.

As the present South C. I. eleven is practically the same team which went through the Wossa series to the finals last year, the local students should have more than a good chance of bringing the title to this city this season, as each of the players now has a good line on the abilities of his mates, making for the kind of team work that wins games.

SIKI WILL REPLACE PAUL BERLENBACH

Senegalese To Meet Marullo in New York Friday Night.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Nov. 12.—Battling Siki, Senegalese heavy-weight, will face Young Marullo of New Orleans at Madison Square Garden Friday night in a 12-round fight, the garden management announced today. Siki replaces Paul Berlenbach, who suffered an injured wrist in training.

Augi Ratner, who fought Berlenbach to a draw in the milk fund bouts last summer, will meet Allentown Joe Gans in the twelve-round semi-final. Berlenbach injured his left hand so badly in training that he was forced to ask for a postponement of the bout. Tex Rickard, when convinced that Paul had really suffered an injury, called off the bout without waiting for the boxing commission to pass on the injured wrist. Berlenbach thought that a training siege without hurting his hands a bit. He hits so infernally hard that he can scarcely carry a heavy bag to his breadwinners. At that they are large and well paid. Siki is a former champion 600-pounder, pressure against a spar mate's skull something has got to crack up. The fans being the most brittle, has to go first.

HOT OFF THE GRID

This will be the third time that Queens and Tigers have clashed. Away back in 1923 a Hamilton team played at Kingston, but met defeat by a score of 27 to 10. Last year the Hamilton team played the Kingston final on the Kingston college grounds and met defeat by a score of 10 to 6. This was the only glory that the striped crew got out of the victory was the fact that they were the first to cross Queens' line last year. And they crossed in real heroic fashion, for they bucked and plunged the entire length of the field and finally worked their way over. But that was the only time that the Tigers looked dangerous for the Stanley-Batstone combination proved just as disastrous to the intercollegiate college teams in the intercollegiate race.

LOCAL JUNIOR CREW OUT IN FULL FORCE

Weaver of Glencoe Added To List of Candidates For Team.

The London O. H. A. Juniors were out in full force last night, and were as hard to steady down as on their first night on the ice. The youngsters practiced from 6 to 7, and put in a strenuous workout, though they were spelled off for rests from time to time. For all that, most of them are experienced, and know something of conditioning. The local gang who saw the work-out were still impetuous youths, and they'd apparently like three-hour drills instead of the usual one hour allotted.

The Juniors will work out tonight at the same hour.

Those whom the coach wants out for the drill this evening are as follows: Elyes, Gordon, Pritchard, Monahan, Wade, Ziegler, Lauder and Philmore.

ST. THOMAS HOCKEY PROSPECTS ARE SLIM

Willing Hands To Take Rudder Appear Lamentably Few.

PLENTY OF TALENT

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Thomas, Nov. 12.—"What about hockey?" is the question that has assailed the sporting fans in the flower city, or perhaps we should say St. Thomas, as flowers and hockey are not look well together in the same sentence.

Manager "Art" Barrett and his long suffering clan who have striven to give this city hockey during the past few years absolutely refuse to carry on another term, in fact they said they were not going to play hockey last winter. The question was put to the Elgin region that winter and again this fall, but no agreement has been arrived at so far. The regimental figures that junior ruffians all they care to undertake for a while.

It was rumored at one time that the local team behind the scenes had a club would take hockey under their wings, but the baseball club has good as washed its hands of the whole affair. At least no authentic word has ever been offered that it was considered the question. Another factor in favor of the baseball club undertaking the intermediate hockey proposition is argued by the fans lies in the fact that some of the players would be a great help in the winter.

The matter at times has assumed a humorous side. Every now and then the subject agrees that the woods is full of material, but no one will assume the responsibility of leading the game and working it into a winning outfit. No one doubts the fact that there is good hockey stuff willing to take the ice, but everyone lights shy of the responsibility, since by the winter St. Thomas will say good-bye to this branch of sport for the winter of 1924 and 1925.

LEONARD ROUSES RICKARD'S WRATH

Benny Offers Good Excuse For Decision To Do a Greeley.

Special To The Advertiser. New York, Nov. 12.—Tex Rickard, the well-known promoter, is all steamed up and fit to be tied. Rickard is thoroughly exercised over Benny Leonard's declaration that he is going to tear out where twelve-round bouts have recently been legalized. Benny's excuse is that he can't get any matches in the east.

The real answer is that the theatrical contract to which Benny is bound will carry him to the coast of California and that any publicity he can accumulate in the meanwhile will do him a lot of good. Tex Rickard exploded yesterday when he finally sized up the situation.

"If Leonard says he can't get a fight here and has to go to the coast to get one I can say that the lightweight champion is handing out the bunk," said Tex. "We have offered him a number of propositions, that would put many thousands of dollars in Leonard's pocket, but he has turned them all down."

Rickard, who knows plenty about the fistie game on the Pacific coast, raised a corrugated brow in deep scorn as he said:

All this talk of Leonard going to the coast to get a bout is nothing but the cheapest nonsense. Leonard has no more ideas of fighting on the coast than I have of making a round-the-world fight in an aeroplane. I know and Leonard knows, and you know that real dollars grow in the East. For every dollar that Benny Leonard could make in the West he could make ten here."

Mr. Rickard was obviously indignant. "I have three men willing to meet Benny Leonard for the world's lightweight championship tomorrow. They want Leonard to make the weight which the division calls for, namely, 125 pounds, but if he can't do it I will produce a challenger who will come in under that figure and overlook a few pounds that Benny might secure over it."

A NATIONAL ASSET.
As the greatest transportation company in the world, the Canadian Pacific Railway has maintained a national service in the Trans-Canada Limited which is second to none and on the conclusion of the summer schedule will be financed by such a national service that the veteran ball player is slated to manage a club in the Pacific Coast league.

EAST COLLEGIATE TO PLAY CHATHAM
Maple City Twelve Will Appear Here Nov. 22.

The London East collegiate rugby squad will journey to Chatham tomorrow afternoon to take on the Chatham C. I. in the first of a home and home exhibition series. On Saturday, Nov. 22, the Chatham team will play the return game here.

The locals will give the Maple City weight which represented Chatham in the senior Wossa, a good game. With Bill Wanless and Jack Bourke strengthening the eleven, and while the Maple City aggregation will prove as good as many senior Wossa teams, McKeefe, who starred during the past rugby series in junior Wossa, will do the booting for the locals.

Although the east and school failed to have a team in the senior series they believe they have as good a team as many that played in it.

The probable line-up for Friday's tilt is: Flying wing, Fitzmaurice; snap, Beggs; quarter, Burkes; halves, McKenzie, Wanless and Sinclair; inside, Mellen and Graham; middle, McCausland and Hendry; outside, Walker, McLeod; subs, Martin, Maynard, Wilson, Armstrong, Purdy and Stuart.

Canadian Pacific agents will gladly make you reservations and ship out with any information you require. They are fully qualified to offer a "second to none" service to the public.—Adv.

With C. S. G. WHAT'LL THEY DO?

W. O. McGeehan writes: "There seems to be a trend toward the suppression of college sports abroad. Latest reports from Heidelberg are to the effect that dueling has been prohibited within the limits of the Free State of Baden. This edict leaves the students of Old Heidelberg with only one sport, pinocle, for the beer-drinking contests do not count for much as no letters are awarded for proficiency in beer drinking even when points are scored in this sport against a rival university."

The townspeople are just as indignant over this abridgement of the students' rights as are the undergraduates. The Heidelberg duel which used to result in the snipping off of the noses and ears of the students has been a source of innocent merriment to the children of the town playing near the campus. In the height of the dueling season the little German children could be seen in their quaint costumes picking up the loose ears and noses to weave into garlands to hang in their nurseries.

The economic reactions of this edict also are depressing as far as the townspeople of Heidelberg are concerned. One of the leading industries of the town used to be the grinding of salars for the students. Statistics as to how many grinders have been thrown out of work are not yet available, but it looks like a very tough winter for the salar grinders of Heidelberg.

The pathetic part of it is the disappointment of the little children of Heidelberg. On the day that the edict became law a group of the artless little children came with their baskets to the Heidelberg campus to wait for the dueling to start. They had their little baskets and they were singing that quaint little German folk song which has been sung by the children of Heidelberg for centuries.

"Come, let us gather nosces." But Herr Professor August Herman Pretzelbender, the good old Dean of Heidelberg, said to them, "Yes, we have no nosces." For a while the children thought that the good old dean was jesting, but when they realized that he was in earnest their childish wails were heartrending."

RUGBY SPREADS.
Canadian rugby is spreading this year as it never has before in its history. Towns and villages which knew of the game only from reading the city dailies are taking up the pastime which has at times been attacked as even more brutal than prize fights.

The Wossa has added numerous towns to the rugby map, such as Owen Sound, Collingwood and Fergus, and provided the feature of the season by consolidating the game in Windsor, where formerly the athletes, at least those in the schools, had been toying for years with the American game.

North Bay, Huntsville and Sudbury played a series of games this year and apparently the game has gone big in the north where rugby has been found to give plenty of scope for the athletic urge.

Rugby is among the most expensive games, too, from the standpoint of equipment, which makes the development all the more marked.

Lack of Rain Causes River Grand Level To Drop Considerably.

PLOWING IS STOPPED

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Nov. 12.—The lack of rain is becoming a serious matter in this district, and generally speaking throughout Western Ontario. Farmers on heavy soils estimate that 12 hours steady rain will be necessary before the plow will turn the soil properly. Railroads are also suffering from the apparent interference of old Jupiter Pluvius. The water tank at Simcoe on the C. N. R. and Wabash is out of commission, and the water level of the Grand river is said to be below the intake pipe.

The regiment band and an armed party will participate. Widows, children and parents of soldier dead are to be accommodated in special cars. Ex-service men from a distance are urged to remain in the city for a smoker in the armories during the evening. Committees in charge: General Col. Pickering, chairman; G. Whitworth, secretary; Messrs. Watling, Gerrard, Stokes, Andrews, Chamberlain, Orrell, Neville, Lloyd, Foster, King and Rendle, publicity. Messrs. Warner, whose death took place Tuesday evening, will be held Friday at 2:30 o'clock, with service in Central Methodist church, in which edifice Dr. Warner worshipped for so many years. Londoner Wears Confident Smile As He Quits New Orleans Prison.

ARRIVES ON FRIDAY

By ALAN DOWLING.
Special to The Advertiser.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 12.—Wearing a confident smile, Frank Bamed, alias Van Stone, left New Orleans at 12:30 p.m. on the Panama Limited on his way across the continent to Niagara Falls, Canada, where he must stand trial for the murder of Smyle Muirhead. Bamed was in charge of Inspectors Greer and Ward of the Ontario provincial force, who came here Monday night to bring him back.

Bamed waived extradition, occasioning the officers no legal difficulty. The final formal objection was removed Wednesday forenoon, when Bamed signed papers before Federal Commissioner Browne. He previously had signed similar papers for local authorities, who were holding him as a fugitive from justice.

The journey from the historic old parish prison to the Union station was made in the traditional Black

Beer Scow Case Verdict Withheld

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Nov. 12.—Magistrate Henry Gorman reserved decision yesterday afternoon in the second charge of selling liquor preferred against Harry Loughhead, export agent. The defence maintained that two special officers from Toronto arrived at the beer scow on Oct. 14 in a car bearing an American license. It was testified that they said they came from Port Huron, that they hired a boat, took two cases of ale aboard and rowed away while Loughhead was in the act of making out customs clearance papers.

Maria. Bamed, who had been kept in close confinement since his arrest because of the seriousness of the charge, seemed to particularly enjoy the atmosphere of the warm, sunshiny day.

The prisoner was neatly attired in a well-fitting, light grey striped suit and felt hat to match. His modest brown cravat reposed on a salmon-colored silk shirt. He carried under one arm a package wrapped in newspaper which contained his effects. He had completed his toilet just before the arrival of the officers, and his countenance, although suffering somewhat from prison pallor, had a healthy tinge.

Bamed's demeanor was almost jaunty. "I am not worried," he said. "My conscience is clear, and, besides, I've got one of the best lawyers in Canada to handle my case. I realize now that my one mistake was to run away. I should have remained and stood trial at once. But I lost my head and left, and after I got away it was too late to return."

He blames his wife for the charge of murder. "She must have thought I was after her," Bamed said. "But she was wrong. She knows I love her and would not harm her. The affair was an accident, an unfortunate accident, and my only offence was in leaving."

URNS KING'S EVIDENCE BUT GETS NO LENIENCY

Court Decides O. T. A. Violators To Receive No Sympathy For Testimony.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 12.—That offenders against the Ontario temperance act who turn king's evidence to save themselves will be prosecuted here fully, was the decision given in police court, when Hal Burns, prosecuting that the charge of transporting liquor against William McLaughlin be withdrawn as McLaughlin had given the crown splendid assistance in the prosecution against Dr. William G. E. Austin for breach of the O.T.A.

"I can't grant your request," said Magistrate Howepell. "I will allow this charge to be withdrawn only on instructions of the attorney-general. I will lay the facts before him."

TWO RECEIVE WOUNDS IN DUEL WITH SABRES

Olympic Fencing Judge and Italian Seriously Hurt in Hour-Long Fight.

Associated Press Despatch.
Budapest, Nov. 12.—The Italian fencer, Senor Oreste Puliti, and M. Kovacs, the Hungarian fencing judge at the Olympic games, were both seriously wounded today in an hour-long sabre duel at Nagy-Kanizsa, on the Jugo-Slav border.

The seconds of the two duellists finally stopped the fight because of the adversaries' wounds and fatigue. Senor Puliti, who was the aggressor in the duel, offered his apologies to M. Kovacs, and a reconciliation was effected while the spectators cheered.

The encounter was the result of an exchange of cards at Paris when Senor Puliti blamed M. Kovacs for his expulsion from the Olympic fencing contests.

To-day! saw

"The hostess who serves no food!"

This, Miss Baxter laughingly confessed, is her title from coast to coast.

Miss Baxter is the Community Plate hostess. I followed the gleam of golden chrysanthemums to her dining table the other afternoon—and interviewed her.

There might have been a golden brown "drumstick" on one of those plates, a flanking of snowy potatoes, and an adornment of cranberry jelly—

But it didn't really matter, for I had a feast of the mind instead.

Miss Baxter knows simply everything about silverware! And when the interview was ended, I felt that not even the task of playing hostess to the Prince of Wales would affright me.

The Community hostess is a friendly sort of person, who loves to answer questions. Her table is wonderfully inviting with its shining array of silver and glass.

If you accepted its invitation, you'll enjoy meeting Miss Baxter, and you'll clear up for yourself all those knotty and sometimes embarrassing little problems about correct table appointment.
