Grand Old Man of Presbyterianism Goes to His Reward.

All Who Knew Eim-Thursday Night At S O'Clock He Passed Away After a Brief Illness From Attack of Influensa Which Seized Him Last Saturday

Toronto, Dec. 2.—Last night at 8 o'clock the Rev. William Caven, D. D., principal of Knox (Presbyterian) College, this city, died after an illness of exactly one week. On Friday last he attended a meeting at Guelph, Ont., where he delivered an address of two hours duration. While there he contracted influenza, afteraddress of two hours' duration. While there he contracted influenza, afterwards developing into pneumonia, which caused his death. The principal was approaching his 71st birthday, having been born on Dec. 26, 1830, and had therefore exceeded the Psalmist's limit, but his eye was not dim nor his natural force abated. His demise was, therefore, in a manner unexpected, and will come with a shock to the people of Canada, for

The obsequies will take place on Saturday, and a movement has already been made in the direction of public funeral, but this, as well as the place of interment, is meantime under consideration by the family.

A Grand Old Man of Canada.

Dr. Caven was not only the grand man of Canadian Presbyterian ism, but one of the grand old men of Canada. He was born in the par-ish of Kirkcolm, Wigtonshire, Scot-land, on Dec. 26, 1830, and sprang from a family whose name foremost in local counsels. whose names back in the days of the Scottish re-formation they were upholders of the Solemn League and Covenant, and

His father, John Caven, by profession a schoolmaster, was a man of exceptional ability and attainments and a member of the United Sessions Church, which, in 1840, united with the Relief Church, to form the United Presbyterian Church, which in United Presbyterian Church, which in ths turn united with the Free Church to form the present United Free Church of Scotland. John Caven left Wigtonshire for Canada in 1847, first residing at Galt, Ont., and removing shortly afterwards to the neighbor-hood of St. Mary's, where he resided till his death, in 1880. Studied Under His Father.

William Caven, the future principal began his education under his father at Kirkcolm, and proved himself to be a diligent and painstaking scho-lar, early displaying a strong bent towards the ministry, which he later adopted as his profession. His the logical studies were prosecuted under the late Rev. William Proudioot of London, and the Rev. Alexander Mac-kenzie of Goderich, members of the United Presbyterien Church in Canada. In 1850-51 he studied in Toronto, and after reading for another year, was licensed to preach in 1852 by the old Flamboro Presbytery. His first charge was in the parish of St. Mary's and Downie, to which he was inducted in October of the same

Spent a Year in Scotland.

During 1855-6 he spont a year in Scotland for the benefit of his health, still retaining his charge, and in 1865 the synod appointed him and Professor Gegg to fill alternately the chair of exigetical theology and Biblical criticism. In the following year he was made permanent professor and commenced his long period of devoted service to Knox College, succeeding to the principalship in 1870, on the resignation of Dr. Willis, his official title being thus chairman of the college board. When the building of the present college was mooted he and his colleague, Prof. Gegg devoted two summers to a tour through and his colleague. Prof. Gegg, devoted two summers to a tour through the Province of Ontario, and it was largely through their exertions that the necessary fund was raised. The corner-stone was laid in April, 1874; and the college was occupied for the first time during the academical year of 1875-76. Thenceforward the principal's life work and history is practically that of Knox College. And to his learning sacceity moderation

Active in Religious Work. Principal Caven, in addition to his college work, was a frequent preacher and an active member of the church courts. At an early period he earnestly advocated the union of the various Presbyterian bodies in Can-ada, and his church honored him by his election as moderator of the gen-eral assembly of 1875, when the un-ion was consummated. In 1892 he acted as moderator of the United acted as moderator of the United Church. Twenty years before this he received the D.D. degree from Queen's University. On Oct. 6, 1902, Dr. Caven, who had then completed fifty years' service in the ministry during twenty-nine of which he had been principal, was tendered a banquet by one hun-dred and fifty leaders of the Presby-terian Church in convocation hall of the college. In acknowledging the toast of his own health he dwelt toast of his own health he dwelt lovingly on the work of uniting the different Fresbyterian churches and on the prospect of a still greater union. "My humble hope," he said, "is that church union awaits us. We have spiritual union, we have the union of believers, but I long for the time when this inner union will work itself out into formal visible union. I am looking for that time." For this larger union Principal Caven thought no labor too grievous and he passed away on the eve of another meeting of the committee appointed to consider the proposed union of the Methodist. Congregational and Presbyterian Churches. But though his voice will no longer be heard in support of charity, of tolerance, and of brotherly love, the spirit he ceased not to inculcate will continue to move and inspire the cause for which he did so much. time when this inner union will work the word a model patriot and citizen. He was earnest in support of every good work, and advocate of all that made for the righteousness which exalteth a people, a wise counsellor, and as upholder of the principles of justice, truth and freedom. His tem-per was singularly sweet, his mind was Catholic, his judgment exhaus tive and accurate, his learning weighty and profound. Although not an orator in the ordinary acceptation of the term, he had the gift of ing the feeling, but by appeal to the heart and intellect. he was one of the most modest and unassuming of men, easily accesible and always courteous. leaves a void not easily filled but if his loss has to be deplored both his church and nation have reason to rejoice that it was given William Caven in the Providence of God so long a term of service nobly performed and of enduring value.

His Death a Nation's Less. Universal testimony Principal Caven's Christlike personal character, statesmanlike qualities of mind and to his worth as a great Canadian was borne in saddened appreciations by a "great cloud of witnesses" among the leading representatives of the Presbyterian and other denominations last night. Principal Gordon of Queen's, summed it up in the words, "His character and life shall remain as a treasure and an inspiration."

Splendid Meeting at Tilbury Last Evening-Clancy and Clements Entertained.

From The Planet Correspondent. Clements, M. P., and James C. Clancy a "smoker" in Palmer's Hall, last evening, which, in point of attendance and enthusiasm, exceeded anything ever held here. About 100 of the most prominent workers from the most prominent workers from the Liberal-Conservatives in the past feel that it is time for a change in the conduct of political affairs in this province. corner-stone was laid in April, 1874, and the college was occupied for the first time during the academical year of 1875-76. Thenceforward the principal's life work and history is practically that of Knox College. And to his learning, sagacity, moderation and urbanity, it owes its high place among theological halls of the country.

It has been said of Principal Caven, as an exegete, that his incumbency was noted for his great moderation and candor in stating the opinions which he felt it necessary to controvert, and not less for his firm adhesion to the views of Biblican interpretation, held by the evangelical churches, as well as in expounding those more peculiarly his own. The truth as he holds it, has had no more fearless and uncompromising de-

Charges Against Shibley Made By Friends He Left Behind.

Astenishment and Pain Caused By the Heteikeeper of Harrowsmith, Clafmi That Late Liberal Candidate in Fronteanc Is a Forger-Story On Which the Charge Is Based in Detail.

Kingston, Dec. 2.—When W. J. Shibley, Liberal candidate for Froatenac at the last elections, brought in bogus ballot boxes and then fled to the States, he seemed to have provided for himself a retreat safe from the arm of Canadian justice. from the arm of Canadian justice, for a bogus box manipulator commits a political crime and is free from the risk of extradition. But when a man commits a forgery in Canada and flees across the border, his journey has just begue, and so W. J. Shibley will probably find.

All heard with surprise, and many friends with pain, the new develop-ments. The charges now publicly made are these:

Forging Daniel Graves' name to a note for $50.

Accepting $15 from Alfred Cowdey in payment of a note which he himself had discounted at the bank. Failing to pay a note for $140 given to a Prince Edward County

"Shibley frequently borrowed money from me, and I had confidence in him, but a short time ago I met Mr. Bagshaw, manager of the newly-established Union Bank at Sydenham, and he told me that a note for $50, signed by me in favor of Shib-ley, had fallen due. I protested that I had not given him a note. When I saw the note I declared it was a forgery. The signature was "D. Graves," while I always write may full name and the D. and G. were different from mine. So I refused to pay. The manager threatened to put the bailiff in the hotel, but I didn't bother. Soon after I learned from the bank that the amount had been paid by Shibley's family. By this time he had skipped out."

The Men to Punish for the Frauds

A great many newspapers are dealing with the election frauds with a long pair of tongs. They talk of frauds and about them having been worked by outsiders, who go into a county where an election is being held, and they also mention something of a machine that directed these outsiders, and they say, as The Weekly Sun this week does, that the person who works these frauds ought to be prosecuted for treason; and others suggest all kinds of legal remedies in the way of new laws. That is all right as far as it goes, but there is just one way to stop the frauds, and that is to hold any government, any party, any member, absolutely responsible for the frauds which they as a party or an individual, profited by. We venture to say that hardly a single fraud has been committed, of which either a candidate, or an agent of his, or a government, or party, or organizer, did not have guilty kno wledge. But whether any of the individuals knew of the frauc's or not, something quick and final should be done, and that is to hold the candidate and the party to which he belongs, responsible for the fraud, punish the party, punish the government, punish the opposition that happens to be identified with the fraud, and there will soon be an end of it. But resolutions or acts of parliament, or newspaper articles or speeches will never stop the frauds.

Talking about laws, why not hold the attorney general of the province, the crown attorney under him, the minister of justice, all officials, responsible, and when they fail dismiss them and their party? We've got lots of law; additional laws will do no good when the chief criminals are protected by or really are the chief office s of the law themselves, or what is the same thing, have profited politically by the frauds. George W. Ross, above all men in Ontario, has profited by the electoral frauds that have been perpetrated in Ontario. And he is the first man that an outraged public ought to go after.

And, lastly, let the Globe newspaper tell us what it has to say of the lawyers and police who represented the department of justice, the minister of justice, the new attorney-general, the Belleville magistrate, who, one and all of them, allowed Lott and Shibley to flee the country. Is any one of them fit for office? Are crown officers appointed and paid to let criminals escape? If the people can't have the chief criminals to try, let us try the paid and sworn officials of the law who let them escape. Responsibility for every crime, and responsibility for every failure to secure punishment ought to be laid at the door of some one man, and that man punished by due course of law or dismissed from office. - Toronto World.

ABOUT "DEPLORING."

Major Clark, of the Kincardine Review, had, in advance of the Whitewashing convention, a pretty fair idea of what was to be done at that gathering. A day or two before the event Mr. Clark had this in his paper:

The convention which Premier Ross nothing more, it will "deplore" cor-Ross has "deplored" these things himelf individually and the convention will do it collectively. In the meantime Mr. Ross will remain premier by his convention "deplore."

Cap. Sullivan can say to Premier Ross as Tommy Atkins said to Fuzzy-Wuzzy, "If we 'adn't lost some messmates we would 'elp you to "deplore." One or two of the Cap's messmates have got into disgrace, but the Cap was given a timber berth for $250, which he resold for $9,000, and he can afford to join in the "deplore."

W. T. R. Preston engineered the machine tactics which made West Elgin a hissing and reproach and which wrung from Donald McN.sh a confession that ballot box stuffing was shamefully prevalent in that riding. While the convention is "deploring" that work Mr. Preston is enjoying an easy job at a high salary trouble lies not in lack of stringency over in England.

to buy perjured evidence with which as it stands. If the law is not to unseat Donald Sutherland in South Oxford. He paid $375 to one man for "evidence true or false" that would have that effect. He is now commercial agent for Canada at Leeds, England, and will be enjoying the fruits of his dirty work at the time that the convention is "deploring" it,

"Lack" Kennedy engineered the cruise of the Minnie M. by which a gang of aliens were taken to Helen Mine and Michipicoten to personate voters. He instructed them how to wote and gave them tickets bearing the names of the men they were to personate. He told them not to fear being sworn as the Bible to be used by the D. R. O. was a false one, only the cover being genuine. He gave them lots of whiskey and cigars and made them happy on the way. While the convention is "deploring" such actions, he is acting as timekeeper on the government railway, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario.

James Vance was reported for corrupt practises in North Waterloo. He had a hand in the West Elgin and West Huron bye-elections. It was he who sent Cap. Sullivan to West Huron and George Sutherland up to run the byc-election at the Soo. He will help the convention to "deplore" and then he will help them carry the byc-elections or the general, at so much per, for he is the paid organiser, and will remain so.

Hon. J. M. Gibson was informed of the purpose of the organizers at the will help the convention to "deplore" and then he will help them carry the bye-elections or the general, at so much per, for he is the paid organiser, and will remain so.

Hon. J. M. Gibson was informed of the purpose of the organizers at the Soo and the contemplated cruise of the Minnie M. and as attorney-general, was asked to stop it. He replied that he was not a policeman. He has since been notified that several persons who took part in that famuou or infamous trip were "reported" by the judges. He will attend the convention and "deplore" the crimes, but he will not prosecute the criminals.

Many of the delegates at the convention will deplore electoral crimes sincerely and honestly, but what will that avail? One prosecution is worth has called will'do one thing, if it does tons of "deplores," but there won't be one prosecution. The convention is rupt practices in elections. Premier met to keep in power the men whose agents committed those crimes and who hold office now by reason of those crimes. How can they be expected to punish the scoundrels who means of the practices which he and stole the goods and handed them over?

The fact is that these crimes must be, or the party cannot retain power. No one party can hold the reins for 32 years without falling into the hands of heelers and grafters. People naturally tire of having even a good government in power for so long a time and they vote against it. To make up for this, corrupt means are taken, and the result is the degradation of our vaunted province.

The convention's resolution may go further than deploring. It may rec ommend more stringent laws against bribery and corruption. That would look well in a resolution. But the in the laws against those offenses, J. B. Jackson got money in Toronto but in lack of enforcement of the law forced, what difference whether it is lax or rigid? The lack of prosecu-tion is the only defect and it arises from the fact that the men who con-trol the machinery of the law—the men who ought to prosecute offenders against the law-are the main beneficiaries of the crimes that have been committed.

alman Derails Freight to Prevent

Windsor, Dec. 1.-Owing to some misunderstanding, apparently, by the flagman at the Pelton crossing of the M. C. R. and Pere Marquette Rail-M. C. R. and Pere Marquette Railways, a freight train going east on the M.C.R. was thrown from the track. The train was a double-header, the first engine passing the switch all right, but the second engine and freight cars are piled in the ditch. Engineer Bruce Little, Fireman John Matthews and Brakeman Thomas Short, all of St. Thomas, were scalded, probably fatally. The signalman thought a M. C. R. freight and the Pere Marquette would collide and derailed the freight.

The jurors were also of the opinion that proper precautions had not been taken, and recommended the appointment of an inspector to supervise operations in inspector to supervise operations in sandpits.

Owen Sound, Dec. 1.—Hon. Mr. Mackay, Commissioner of Crown Lands, accompanied by Hon. Richard Harcourt, arrived by special train at 8 o'clock last night, the arrival being marked with the din of factory, steamboat and locomotive whistles. A procession was immediately formed, in which 50 torch-bearers, a half-dozen fireworks floats and the 31st Regiment and Markdale bands took part. The route of the procession was illuminated with fireworks, while paper balloons floated in the air. At the Town Hall speeches were delivered by F. W. Harrison, president

An address from the associa-tion was read by George A. Fergu-son, and Mr. Mackay's appearance was the signal for another demon-stration lasting for several minutes. Mr. Mackay referred only twice dur-

Mr. Mackay referred only twice during his speech to the prospective elections, and that most guardedly, leaving the impression, however, that the general contest was not an immediate probability. On one occasion he spoke of the election that "may take place in the course of a couple of years," and again, in outlining the labors of his department, he referred to the work which he would undertake during the remaining two years of his term of office.

Mr. Mackay made two important statements. He proposed forthwith to open local mining agencies at Sault Ste. Marie and other points, where the original prospector could settle his grievances and establish his claims without an appeal to Toronto. The other statement was an assurance that the reforestration of the timber lands would be undertaken at once.

as to eat one straw a day—the poor ass died.

He is an ass who starves himself to death—as thousands are doing, misled by foolish teachers—because their stomachs have become too weak, through neglect or disease, to do the work which nature has p ovided for their stomachs to do.

Because the engine is out of sear, would you consign it to the junk heap?

Why, no! Mend it!

Commit slow suicide because your digestive organs leak?.

Certainly not! Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

One thing is sure as shooting. You can never got a new stomach.
You must mend it, or it will lead you uiserable existence.

Tou must mend it, or it will tear you a miserable existence.

The only way to mend it is to take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

This has been practically and acientifically demonstrated by the many thousands whom Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have positively cured, after every other treatment of medicine, mineral waters, pills, and slow, suicidal starvation had failed.

These methods are all uuscientific—therefore false.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are scientific—therefore true and succe-sful.

Having cured so many thousands—many of whom doubtless have suffered more than

CITY LIABLE

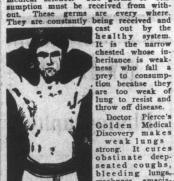

Yesterday the horse caught its foo in the space between the swing portion of the Fifth street bridge and the new cement key-stone put in a month ago. The space is just large enough to catch the cork on the shoes of the horses and the result is that when an animal gets caught thus it is thrown. Crowbars had to be used to extricate the horse. This is the third accident of this nature that has happened in a short time. It would cost but little to fix this treacherous spot, and this should be done before a serious accident oc-curs, for which the city would be clearly liable.

AN OPEN WINTER

Prospects of an open winter. This time last year the river was frozen over solid and good skating, consequently everything locked in with ice. At present boats are navigating freely in spite of the cold atmosphere. Capt. John Rourke, the hustling navigating freely. Gapt. John Rourke, the hustling navigator, left yesterday morning for Windsor to pilot the new tug "Fortune" to Chatham. This tug is a fine craft 70 feet in length, costing $10,-000, and is coming in for boiler repairs. The barge "Juno," of Windsor is also coming in for repairs. The beautiful steamer "Lincoln," of Pelee Island, is also coming in for boiler repairs. Park Bros. have all these contracts. The fall weather this year is an exception and affords the farmers a good opportunity to harvest. A few days ago a few robins were seen upon the green lawns of the Maple City. This goes to prove our beautiful season. "But look out, boys, its coming!" "What? Christmas," and not a green one, either.

A Sick Woman's Devotion to Duty is a Heroism which a Well Person Cannot Understand. How distressing to see a woman struggling with her daily round of household duties, when her back and head are aching, and every movement brings out a new pain.

One day the poor woman is wretched and utterly miserable; in a day or two she is better and laughs at her fears, thinking there is nothing much the matter after all; but before night the deadly backache reappears, the limbs tremble, the lips twitch — it seems as though all the imps of Satan were clutching her vitals; she

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAB Mrs. PINKHAM: - I have read of your medicine making so many cures, and have been advised to write to you, but I feel that it is of ne use. The doctor says that I have womb trouble, but he does not seem to help me a great deal. I have such a weak ness across me most of the time - have backache, am very nervous, and am troubled with leucorrhea. I am very weak, cannot walk any distance or stand long unless I ache all over. I would like to know if you think your medicine would do me any good."—Mrs. Samuel FRAKE, Prospect Plains, N. J.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years. The doctor said I had congestion of the womb, was troubled with my kidneys and bladder, my back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered with bearing-down feeling, could scarcely walk about to do my own housework. I stopped doctoring with the physician and took your medicine, and am now able to do my own work, have no more backache or weakness across me, and can do all my own work. I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all suffering women to try it."—Mrs. Samuel Frake, Prospect Plains, N.J.

only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.

The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smith-ville, N.S., says of them:—"I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and turned to dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet became bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had any trouble with it since.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR CROUP

(From the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe.Y

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolv-er is sure to be lost in case of burg-lars. There used to be an old-fashlars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It .eauses the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by All Druggists.

Chinese Official States Why Chinese Ask to Be Let Alene.

Twice within half a decade the spectacle has been presented of a primitive civilization rebelling against the intrusion of modern methods of thought and action. The Boers in 1899 fought primarily for their re-ligion and what it stands for in their social development. The Chi-nese arose in 1900 to expel innova-tors upon time honored extense and tors upon time honored customs and ideals. Pertinent to the Chineso question is the argument of a Chinese official residing in England during the Boxer war. It is significant as an eastern view of the west. The iter says:
Our civilization is the oldest

the world. It does not follow that it the world. It does not follow that it is the best, but neither, I submit, does it follow that it is the worst. On the contrary, such antiquity is, at any rate, a proof that our institutions have guaranteed to us a stability for which we search in vain among the nations of Europe. But not only is our civilization stable; it embodies, as we think, a moral orembodies, as we think, a moral or der, while in yours we detect only an economic chaos. Whether your religion be better than ours I do not at present dispute, but it is certain that it has less influence on your society. You profess Christianity, but your civilization has never been Christian, whereas ours is Confucian through and through. But to say that it is Confucian is to say that it is moral, or, at least, that moral relations are those which those which it primarily contemp-lates, whereas with you (so it seems to us) economic relations come first, and upon these you endeavor afterward to graft as much morality as they will admit.

The Chinese and English views of the family are then compared, in the one case the child being trained to individualism, to and competition, and in the other to continue lifelong in the relations to which he is born. The Chinese look which he is born. The Chinese look first to society, then to the individual. As a man begins so he ends, a member of his family group, and to this condition the whole theory and practice of his life conform. He is taught to worship his ancestors, to honor and they his parents and to prepare himself at an early age for the duties of husband and father.

Says the writer:

No man in China is isolated save by his own fault. If it is not so easy for him to grow rich as with you, neither is it so easy for him to starve; if he has not the motive to compete, neither has he the tempta-tion to cheat and oppress. Free at once from the torment and the ap-prehension of distress, he has leisure to spare from the acquisition of the means of living for life itself. He has both the instinct and the oppor-tunity to appreciate the gifts of nature, to cultivate manners and to ture, to cultivate manners and to enter into humane and disinterested relations with his fellows. The result is a type which we cannot but regard as superior, both morally and aesthetically, to the great bulk of your own citizens of Europe. Admitting that we are not what you call a progressive people, we yet perceive that progress may be bought too dear. We prefer our own moral to your material advantages, and we your material advantages, and we are determined to cling to institutions which, we believe, insure us the former even at the risk of excluding ourselves from the latter."

ourselves from the latter."

In the opinion of this writer western people subordinate life to wealth.
He says: "They are less cheerful, less contented, less industrious, less lawabiding; their occupations are more unhealthy both for body and mind; they are crowded into cities and fac-tories, divorced from nature and the ownership of the soil."

As to Government in China, we much as before. The law we obey is much as before. The law we obey is the law of our own nature. Come what may, the family remains, with all that involves: the attitude of the Confucianism, according to this writer, is the exponent of the ideal of work. "The duty of man is to labor, and primarily to labor on the soil is a fundamental postulate of soil is a fundamental postulate of our religion; hence the worship of Mother Earth, the source of all increase; hence the worship of heaven, the giver of light and rain."

Pictures of the Eyes.

A writer in the Connoisseur thinks that the fashion of painting the eyes in miniature is worth reviving. It affords opportunity for much skill, and an imitation of an eye, he says, is a delightful treasure to possess, and to cherish as a memorial of the and to cherish as a memorial of the person in whose beauty it was once a distinguishing feature. Richard Cosway is believed to have been the artist who introduced the idea of painting the eyes, and it is said that that the first work he executed was a commission from Mrs. Fitzherbert to paint her right eye as a present to paint her right eye as a present for the Prince Regent. In return for this gift the Prince had his eye painted and set into a ring, giving it as a birthday gift to Mrs. Fitz-

"Take care of the pennies and the pounds will take care of themselves." Large things are but an aggrega-tion of small things. If we take care Large things are but an aggregation of small things. If we take care of the small things we are in effect taking care of the large things which the small things combine to make.

Take care of what you eat, when you eat, and how you eat, and your stomach will take care of itself. But who takes care of such trivial things? That is why, some day, the majority of people have to take care of the stomach. When that day comes, there is no aid so effective in undoing the results of past careless ness as Dr. Pierse's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, and restores the organs of digestion and nutrition to a condition of healthy activity. It cures biliousness, heartburn, flatulence, indigention, papitation, dizziness, cold extremities and a score of other ailments which are but the symptoms of disorder in the stomach and its allied organs.

Ambition is the germ from which all the growth of nobleness proceeds.

Idaho erates rhysical and mental vigor and guarantees good health. Idaho has rapidly grown in popularity during the rast five years and settlers in its irrigated valeys have met with more than ordinary success. This fact has induced a large influx of eastern capital in the state, with the result that its growth has been rapid. If you have in mind a change for the general improvement of your condition in life, or if you are seeking a climate beneficial to health, Idaho will meet these requirements. The easiest—in fact the only direct route to Idaho points is via the Union Pacific. This road runs two trains daily from Omaha and two trains daily from Omaha and two trains daily from Chicago and Kansas City to all points in Idaho, Montana and the great Northwest. It has been reported in the city that on the third concession, Dover, a poor old horse has been turned out into the road and left to die. If this report be true every effort should be made to find the farmer who owes the poor animal and when should be made to find the farmer who owns the poor animal and when he is found he should be punished to the full extent of the law. The animal, no doubt, has been a faithful and hard working brute in days gone past and now when its days of usefulness are over it should not be abandoned and sent adrift in this cruel fashion.

The case is worthy of at least the inspection of the Humane Officer and if the poor brute is in such a condition that no remedy will cure it, a rifle shot would be the most humane way of ending its suffering.

The local "leaders" have definitely determined that, if Mr. Pardo adheres to his determination to pull out and the executive is anxious that such shall be the case, a city man must have the nomination.
